Rambles
Over the County

J. W. L. COOK
The Leader's Rambling Editor

Claude H. Caperton

Our next visit was at the home of Claude H. Caperton, who lives just south of Dozier. Mr. Caperton needs no introduction to the people of Collingsworth County as he is well known all over the county. He was among the first settlers of the county, has lived here 32 years off and on, (mostly on). His home consists of 319 acres of land of which 240 acres are in cultivation. He has a large well finished modern built house, lighted with carbite gas. Their home is a beautiful place, set in a nice grove with good farm buildings, except the barn. He was preparing to build a good barn. He has taken the Leader since its first issue.

J. W. Sechrist

J. W. Sechrist, who ilves about one half mile north of Dozier has lived in the county seven years. Mr. Sechrist was born and raised in Erath County, Texas, and came from that county to Collingsworth. He has a good home. He has 160 acres of fine land, a comfortable house and a fine well of good soft water. Mr. Sechrist bought this place two years ago. The place has been settled about 30 years. A part of this place was sown in Johnson grass shortly after it was put in cultivation and this pest has taken the place. There had not been a real good feed or cotton crop raised on it in years until Mr. Sechrist bought it. Now it has a fine crop of both feed and cotton all over it and there is no Johnson grass on the place. We asked Mr. Sechrist how he managed to get rid of it. He said by main strength and continued cultivation. We take off our hat to a man that can clear a place covered with Johnson grass in two years. We ate dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Sechrist and enjoyed our visit with them. He is a neat farmer and has a fine crop. He said every row of his crop was good.

A. F. Wischkaemper

We visited at the home of A. F. Wischkaemper who lives about two miles south of Dozier. Mr. Wischkaemper owns 320 acres of land at his home place. He owns abut 900 acres in all in this county. They have a fine home, a large well built house lighted with a Delco electric plant. Mr. Wischkaemper owns one of the largest barns in the county, also other good outbuildings. The farm has good crops of both feed and cotton. Mr. Wischkaemper has been in this county over 15 years. He was born in Camel County, Texas, and raised in Dewitt County. Mrs. Wischkaemper was born in Dewitt. They have taken the Leader for years and extended the time while we were there.

H. Bergman

We made a short visit to the home of H. Bergman who lives about four miles northeast of Dozier on the Shamrock road. Mr. Bergman's home consists of 640 acres of land. He has a fine place, a large house, good farm buildings and orchard. Mr. Bergman came to this county 18 years ago and bought the land on which he has built his home. He came from Bell county, Texas. Mr. Bergman was born and raised in Germany but has been in Texas many years and citizen of the United States by naturalization since 1887. We did not get to talk to Mr. and Mrs. Bergman but a short while as they were just ready to go to a revival meeting at Lone Mound, which was being held by the Baptists of that community.

W. H. Lockhart

W. H. Lockhart, one mile north of Dozier has lived in this county about 12 years and has lived on his present home ten years. He has a good farm, has 320 acres of land, 270 acres in cultivation. He has a fairly good house and out buidings, a fine young orchard of several kinds of fruit. He has several trees of the golden beauty plum that is as full as they can bear and are sure enough beauties. The peaches were fine, some just ripe and being gathered. Mr. Lockhart has something else on his place that we will venture to say no one else in the county has. Mr. Lockhart has added to his other industries of the farm that of skunk raising. He told us to come and look at his pets. Not knowing just what we were going to find when he opened up the cage, we were pretty bold until we saw the contents. Well, we moved off a few steps for in the cage were five half grown skunks. They were beauties, but we could see as well as we wished several steps away, and when he reached down and dragged one up by its tail we put a few more steps between us. Mr. Lockhart came from Oklahoma to this county. He is a native of old Ala-

CATALOGS FOR FIFTH ANNUAL FAIR ARE OUT

Contains Complete Premium List and Rules Governing Awards to Entries

The catalogue for the fifth annual Collingsworth County Fair is now completed and is ready for circulation. The Leader Printing Company received the contract for this work and completed the catalogues eight days after the copy was received.

The catalogue is largely taken up with a detailed premium list and rules governing awards. The directors have probided even higher premiums to make this the best fair Collingsworth County has ever had.

One half, or every other page of the catalogue is filled with the advertisements of merchants from all over the county who are "putting their shoulders to the wheel" in helping to make this fair a big success.

Premiums on all poultry entries taking first places should have been $2.50 instead of $2. This catalogue will be found to contain premiums for many classes of products of agriculture, livestock and home economics, and is submitted for the approval of the citizens of Collingsworth County.

REV. L. L. GAINES ANNOUNCES SUBJECT FOR SUNDAY SERMON

Reverend L. L. Gaines, pastor of the Nazarene Church, announces that his regular Sunday night sermon will be on "Sanctification" and will be treated historically and biblically.

Rev. Gaines has been delivering some interesting sermons before congregations, and his Sunday night service is expected to be well attended. Rev. Gaines does his own thinking. He gives facts rather than 'talk' and his sermons are short and interesting.

FANCHER MOTOR CO. MOVE TO NEW E. C. SCOTT BUILDING

Fancher Motor Company announce their removal to the new E. C. Scott building on Ross Street south of the square.

At the Baptist Hospital Today

Whittington Meets Levine Monday

Coming Match Will Be Best of the Year, Says Manager John West

The best fight of the year will be held next Monday night at the American Legion Hall, according to John West, when Kid Whittington of Wellington meets George Levine of Vernon, California. Both of these men have a brilliant record behind them and they have each gone about as far as they can in the boxing world without meeting. It is a contest to see which of these fighters will go on. For that reason it is expected to be the hardest fight ever held in Wellington. All the fight fans are aroused over the proposed match.

Levine beat Fox of Oklahoma City about a year ago, and then Fox had beaten Whittington before that time.

As a result of his victory over Fox, Levine decided that he had it on Whittington and that he could lay him in the shade. Since that time he has been pouring it on for matches. He has one now and the supporters of Whittington, which includes all Wellington, says that he will get plenty. Levine does not know that Whittington met Fox in a return fight a few weeks after his first defeat and beat him.

Good preliminaries have been arranged. The boxing will start at 8:30 p. m. Kid Whittington reports that he is in good condition and he is expected to put up the best fight of his career. Manager West says that it will be a fight that will be well worth seeing.

The semi-finals is a match that will lead up right to the main bout. It will be staged between Sam Denney 165 pounds of Childress and Cowboy Johnson, 168 pounds of Wichita Falls. This match which will be eight rounds will be more than interesting. Plenty of other preliminary attractions have been arranged to provide fun while the crowd is gathering.

COTTON CROP IMPROVED BY COOL WEATHER

W. A. Johnson Receives $230 For Earliest Production Of Cotton

Collingsworth County's first bale of cotton of the 1925 season and also the first bale of cotton produced in the Panhandle brought $230 on the streets of Wellington Wednesday morning, according to W. A. Johnson, who produced the cotton on his farm three miles northwest of Plymouth.

This bale was ginned by the Davis Gin Company, which company also ginned the first bale last year. Leslie Wooldridge, local manager for the Davis Gin Company, bid 23 1-2 cents per pound on the bale, which was slightly over the market price. The bale was bought by the Hobbs Brothers Gin at 25 cents per pound.

Mr. Wooldridge donated the ginning and assisted Earl Koger in making up a premium of about $110 among 77 leading local merchants.

JUDGE NORDYKE OF LUBBOCK VISITS IN COLLINGSWORTH CO.

County Judge Chas. Nordyke of Lubbock County who was a visitor in Wellington Friday morning, states that the crime wave in Lubbock is becoming apalling, with youngsters noe yet in their teens banding themselves together for lawless acts.

He states that recently a band of about fifteen youngsters from eight to fifteen years of age were apprehended on theft charges. It seems that this group of boys, who called themselves "the Night Hawks," had pledged to steal—nothing in particular, but whatever they could.

Judge Nordyke states that he is handling the situation as best he can and is sending some of the offenders to the reformitories and training schools.

ATTORNEY BEVILLE WRITES LEADER IT'S DRY IN SOUTHWEST

He states that it is hot and dry there now, and adds that it is a pleasure to live in the Panhandle country.

PURSE RETURNED THROUGH WANT AD IN LEADER

Mrs. Wade Arnold came by Thursday afternoon and asked that her want ad regarding a lost purse be stopped as the purse had been returned as the result of this advertisement.

Many other people are finding the want ads of The Leader perform a real service in selling, finding and doing other work for them. And they perform this service at a cost that is less than the gasoline it would take you to drive over to the place where you might want to do business or get a certain article, but their greatest aid is in saving time and putting you in touch with people that you could not otherwise reach at all.

To Preach at Shamrock

REV. J. T. HICKS

COUNTY GETS FIRST BALE IN PANHANDLE

Light Showers Bring Cooler Days for County; Cotton Is Improved

Crops over the entire county are being greatly helped by the cool weather that has been prevailing for the past several days. Wellington was visited by a light shower Thursday afternoon, but the ertent of the rainfall was comparatively small. The resulting cooler weather, however, is proving a boon to the cotton crop especially.

Henry Guest states one of the heaviest rains of the season fell between Wellington and Memphis Thursday afternoon, but the rain fell only in spots. Farmers from various parts of the county declare the cool weather to be even better for the cotton than a rain would have been at this time.

Dave Worley who has lived in this county for many years, states that the crops near Plymouth and Lutie are being helped greatly by the cool weather.

DICKERSON OPENS "MACK'S CAFE"

CHAUTAUQUA AT RIALTO IN OCTOBER

Arrangements Have Been Made For Good Company

Henry Cocke, owner of the Rialto and Welltex Theatres, has been noted for giving the people of Wellington the highest type of pictures obtainable, but he has gone one step farther this year and has booked the Cadmen Chautauqua Co. for four days entertainment, beginning October 19.

The program booked is one of the best chautauqua programs touring the United States this fall, according to press reports from other towns. Two of the attractions of this program will be two three act plays. These plays are Crosswords, a very amusing comedy, which has had an unusual chautauqua run, and "Her Temporary Husband" which ran on Broadway for two years.

Besides these plays two of the best known chautauqua lecturers in the United States, Dr. E. J. Powell, the great Psycho analys and Dr. E. Jefferson Gardner, generally known as the joy man. For the music lovers there will be the Marimba Serenaders who have caused a great sensation in the musical world all over the middle west, and the Loveless Quartete who have been called back over the same circuit two consecutive seasons. Both of these companies will appear in individual programs and as preludes to the lectures.

This entertainment is judged to be of such importance that it will be given at the Rialto Theatre to take care of the large crowds. This action on the part of Mr. Cocke in providing the people of Wellington and this community with such a high class program without any trouble to them whatsoever will undoubtly meet with the approval of people who like high class entertainment.

WEBB MOORE DRY GOODS COMPANY TO OPEN SEPTEMBER 15

FAIR RODEO TO HAVE MANY ATTRACTIONS

Large Prizes Offered In Calf Roping and Bronc Riding Contests

John Loter, superintendent of the arena for the rodeo, states that this division of the fair will present many attractions for fair goers. The rodeo will be held on each day of the fair.

Lee C. O'Neil is superintendent of the entertainment division and states that sufficient attractions will be furnished for the large crowds that are expected to attend the fair.

The horse racing and automobile racing will also be interested features of the fair that will be witnessed by many.

W. W. Rogers

W. W. Rogers lives about one mile north of Dozier. Mr. Rogers is on a good place with fine land to cultivate. He has a fine crop of both feed and cotton. Mr. Rogtrs came to this county from Falls County. We only had a short visit at the Roger home, but we had met Mr. and Mrs. Rogers previous to our visit when they had played the good Samaritan to the Ramblers, he having found us in the road trying to make a Ford car run without gas. He supplied us with the one thing needful and sent us on our way rejoicing.

J. J. Barker

J. J. Barker, lives about three miles northeast of Dozier on the Sagle farm. He has a good home, good land to cultivate and has a fine crop. Mr. Barker is a native of Arkansas, but has been raised in Texas. He has lived in Oklahoma and Colorado since 1886, but has come back to try Texas again.

Q. M. Key

Our next visit was at the home of Q. M. Key who lives three miles north east of Dozier. Mr. Key came to this county three years ago from Haskell county, Texas. He has 160 acres of land, has a good crop of cotton and feed. Mr. Willingham has 75 acres in cotton which seemed to be doing well. He has some feed that is almost mature. We left Nicholson on Thursday morning and went north of Elm Creek along the north line of Collingsworth County. Crops were looking good. We turned west at the Dozier-Shamrock road. We stoped at the home of H. M. Fleming just south of Elm Creek and about five miles norteast of Dozier. Mr. Fleming has been on his present home 17 years. He is a tenant and perhaps has made a record, renting on and cultivating the same farm 17 years. He has a good place, a good house. The house is old but in good repair. Mr. Fleming is a native of Tennessee and came to Ellis County, Texas, in 1869 and to Montague in 1897, then to this county 17 years ago.

Concrete Streets in TEXAS

Those who remember the Navasota of a few years ago will recall the unpaved, bumpy, muddy, dusty thoroughfares called streets. These were always subject to the whims of the weather man, and ever a source of expense and dissatisfaction.

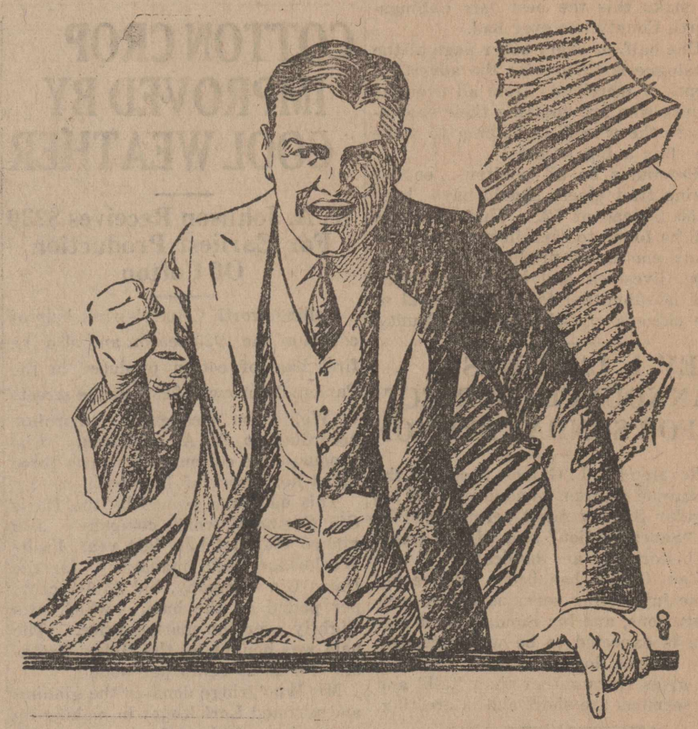

But in 1923 a city council of wide awake business men started a campaign for municipal improvements. A concrete pipe sewer system was installed. Then they started a street paving program. Contract was awarded for portland cement concrete pavement in the business district. As a result property owners soon demanded the same clean, easy riding pavement on residential streets. Today Navasota boasts 100,000 square yards of permanent concrete streets.

Yes, you are right, the whole town has changed. Lawns have been beautified. Homes have been painted; new ones have been built. Store fronts are dressed up and kept that way. Progress all along the line has been the result.

Navasota tasted the tonic of concrete and liked it. Wherever concrete pavements are built, they create civic pride and act as a town tonic.

People can get the kind of pavement they want if they insist upon it.

Monte Blue To Be Shown in "Brass" At The Welltex

Unusual Cast Includes Vera Lewis, Marie Prevost and Pat O'Malley

He loved women—and they loved him.

In that case, why did they always make him unhappy?

Philip Baldwin, the hero of "Brass," played by Monte Blue, needs a woman in his scheme of things; but each one wrecks his life.

First comes little Marjorie, a little ship of selfishness, who marries him, then dashes for the glittering white lights of cafes while Philip craves a restful home.

After she divorces him Philip has two other love experiences, leaving an indelible impress on him for better or worse. The women wound him round their fingers like wax. In the end he learns something about what is usually considered unlearnable—women.

ADDED BEAUTY AND UTILITY — CLOSED CARS IN COLORS

No Increase in Prices

Streamline Body

Body designs of constructive beauty—a pronounced streamline treatment has been effected by dropping the chassis and by lowering and lengthening the bodies. This has of course also resulted in more roominess for driver and passengers.

Attractive Colors

Ford Closed Cars are now furnished in attractive colors with nickeled radiator shells. The Tudor Sedan and Coupe are in a deep channel green. The Fordor in rich Windsor maroon; all with interior upholstery to harmonize.

Another Marked Change in Tank

Another marked convenience has been accomplished in the Tudor Sedan, Coupe and open cars by placing the gasoline tank, which is of greater capacity, beneath the cowl, where it affords better gravity flow and can be easily filled from the outside.

Higher Radiator

The radiator is set slightly higher and the hood is lengthened, further emphasizing the improved effect of the body. Fenders on all cars are larger and more attractive, affording greater protection.

New Steering Wheel

The steering wheel is larger and set lower to accomodate the driver. Seats have been moved back and are low, deep, wide and comfortable.

Wider Transmission Brake Drum

A wider transmission brake drum and band insure smoother braking action, increased braking power and longer life. Rear wheel brakedrums are greatly enlarged and lined with asbestos composition. They are of the self-energizing type so that braking becomes both smooth and positive.

Demand Will Be Great

The demand on these cars is going to be so great there will be an acute shortage during September and probably part of October, and we are asking our customers to place their order now with a small deposit, as these cars will be delivered in order as deposits are given.

BUY IT IN WELLINGTON!

It Pays

This series of advertisements sponsored by the firms listed below has as its slogan Buy It in Wellington. These merchants are not asking you to trade with them as a duty, but because it is profitable for you to do so. Each one of them intends to build up his business on the basis of the good that he can do for his customers. You are invited to trade with the firms listed below because it is profitable.

These merchants recognize that you have a right to trade wherever you think you can get the best bargains. They recognize that outside business which contributes little to the prosperity of this community has a right to advertise in and do business here, but they also recognize that for real values, year in and year out, values that are able to meet all competition. They recognize the value of their products and they are telling you about it.

It is true that the home business houses contribute to your churches, your schools, contribute to the sick and needy, and pay taxes on roads and other public enterprises which the whole community enjoys. It is also true that they stay here to back up the goods they sell. It is true that these merchants, directly or indirectly augment your own revenue and increase your individual prosperity.

But these are not the reasons they are asking you to trade with them. It is strictly a business proposition. They can sell you goods of higher quality at very reasonable prices. Their firms are built upon repeat sales. They know that they must give you your money's worth or their business will not continue to flourish. They are prepared to do it, and you will find it mighty pleasant as well as profitable to trade with them.

This is the 17th of a Series of Advertisements Sponsoring the Buy In Wellington Campaign. There are 4 more. Watch for them.

Nowlin's Cash Grocery

A. L. Nowlin, owner of the Nowlin Grocery, thinks that there is only one reason why people in this county trade in Wellington in general and at his store in particular and that is because they get better values.

The Nowlin Grocery store is run with this idea as a basic principle, and the results of its application are groceries of high quality selling at moderate price.

Mr. Nowlin points out why his store gives better values than could be secured by a resident of this community from an outside firm. The Nowlin Grocery ships its goods into Wellington in quantity lots. An outside firm must ship its products here in small lots and the cost of these shipments more than make up for the superior buying power of a larger outside firm.

The Nowin Cash Grocery is in business in Wellington to stay. It does not make its profit by selling who is can in a community and then letting the business go. It cannot afford to sell inferior merchandise. It must give satisfaction with every order that goes out of its doors, for its business is built upon repeated sales. Knowing this the Nowlin Grocery store carries a high grade and widely varied line of groceries and one of which it can be proud after the articles have been sold.

These principles have built the business of this store which as everyone in this community realizes has been unusually successful. Service, Quality and Price have caused many people to trade there. You are invited to join this list of satisfied customers. You are invited to spend your money at home where it will return to you, but you are asked to trade at this store. only because you get greater grocery value.

Street Grading

WELLINGTON has some of the worst streets of any town in the Panhandle. Some are very good, but others are terrible. It is always easy to say that certain things need to be done, and it is generally hard to accomplish that task concerning which it is so easy to write. Still something should be done about some of the principal streets of Wellington.

Does Wellington Need One?

WELLINGTON was one of the few towns in the Panhandle which was no represented at the meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce which was held in Dalhart recently. It may cause some of our progressive merchants to smart to learn that Wellington was not represented at this meeting, but it may cause some to realize that the only way that Wellington can ever have a live chamber of Commerce is to pay some man to handle this job as a separate business. There are some business men who contend that a paid secretary of the chamber of commerce is not worth the money he is paid and they have some grounds for their argument, but they cannot deny that the work of a chamber of commerce is a wonderful thing in a town that is growing. Wellington is progressive and Wellington is growing rapidly enough without the services of a secretary of a chamber of commerce.

It is not in developing Wellington that the secretary of a chamber of commerce could render his best service. Wellington needs some force other than its newspapers to develop Collingsworth County. The newspapers are doing a recognized work in building up the county as a whole, but their powers only go so far, and the men working on these builders can only devote a certain amount of their time to boosting for the county. Some kind of a man is needed to plan constructive agricultural programs, secure highway aid and help in civic development programs. To make these things worthwhile takes the united effort of the whole community, but there must be a leader to start the ball rolling.

Goodby Summer

WHEN YOU WAKE in the morning and feel a cool tang in the air that fills you with energy, when you see the ginners pottering around their places, the merchants painting up their fronts and remodeling the insides of their stores, the farmers taking a brief rest after laying by, the women and girls figuring on fall dresses and hats, the boys and girls talking of school, you suspect that fall is approaching, but you do not realize that the summer has gone until the first bale of cotton comes to town.

YOUR COLUMN ---J. D. Sugg

R. F. CURRY, a man who has been closely connected with the administration of the city's government for many years, deplores the throttling of one department to aid another. In a statement made to the writer Tuesday morning Mr. Curry declared that the City Water and Light Plant are self supporting, and that the Light and Power Plant has been bringing in a revenue that would make it one of the best plants in this section if that revenue would be used for enlargeing and ejuipping the Light and Power Plant alone and not used for another purpose.

Mr. Curry asserted that the policy of not extending the lines of the Power Plant to residents on the border of the city limits was a short sighted policy in that an increased revenue could be secured for the city from these residents and the owners of this property would be encouraged to improve their lands and erect more housese, which would make for the extension of the city in time. He added that if the present policy was continued, it would be virtually impossible to get these residents to come into the city limits and would necessitate the installation of power plants for the individual homes by the owners, making them independent of the city plant.

"Wise economy is praiseworthy," Mr. Curry declared, "but by pursuing a policy of economy does not necessarily mean that that is 'wise' ecnomy."

LEM BARTLETT, an early settler of this county, states that the crops in the Bean community are about as good as in any other part of the county.

Mr. Bartlett is a brother of L. D. Bartlett and T. M. Bartlett. He has been farming in this county for many years and is not easily discouraged about this year's prospects, although they do look poor in some places.

The Bean community soil is for the main part rather sandy land but some of it very fine mixed soil that will produce a good crop almost every year.

IT HAS BEEN REMARKED to the writer times lately that what the city needs is not a more strict enforcement of the speed laws for the City of Wellington, but rather an observance of the simple signals used by motorists in the larger cities.

It is, of course, commendable in the city officers in enforcing the speed laws; but it is apparent to the causual observer that the slow driver and the driver who never gives an intelligible signal is more of a menace to the pedestrian and motorist than is the moderately fast driver. The writer is not advocating, of course, the reckless driving that is sometimes seen on the public square. (It is not very frequently seen off the square for the simple reason that the streets will not permit the passage of cars over a very moderate rate of speed.)

W. H. GOFORTH, secretary of the Collingsworth County Fair expects this to be the best fair the county has ever had.

Mr. Goforth has been active in community and county projects for many years and is known as an energetic worker. He states that no effort will be spared that will make the fair better, and to him as well as to the directors of the fair and other belongs the credit of making the fair of 1925 what it is going to be.

A. & M. Short Course Draws Crowds.

The A. & M. short course for farmers this year drew what is ordinarily regarded as a large crowd—about 3,000 persons, at least three-fourths of whom were boys and girls. If Texas farmers only knew and properly appreciated the advantages of attending this course the crowds would be ten times as large. If there is a farmer in the State who can't get enough out of such a course to pay him for attending, he should quit farming and go at something else.

The only complaint this writer makes is that there are so many interesting and informative conferences going on all the time that one can't attend enough of them, and one small head can't hold all that is heard even at the few group gatherings a person can attend. There is no possible phase of farm work or farm life that is not discussed by experts who know exactly what they talk about.

The short course comes at a time when most farmers are not so busy but that they might "take out" long enough to spend a few days studying their business.

* * *

Making Farming a Business.

The small number of adult farmers at the college indicates that too much of the farming in Texs is done in a hap-hazard way—that too little real study is put into it. Doubtless there were twenty times as many farmers off on auto excursions or camping on creek banks in Texas as were at the short course that week. They were just "killing time" and at as much expense to them as if they had been at the A. & M. College learning how to avoid the mistakes they have been making.

If that had been a business men's meeting and the business men could have closed their stores or could have gotten away without any great loss to them, there would have been great throngs of merchants there. The trouble is that too many farmers do not think seriously of farming as a business that can be improved.

Successful farming of today is as much ahead of the old-time farming of twenty-five years ago as the automobile is ahead of the ox-cart, but a great many farmers do not seem to know this.

Ford Announces Improved Line Of Body Types

Changes Are Most Pronounced, Bodies Longer, Lower and All-Steel

Body changes and chassis refinements more pronounced than any made since the adoption of the Model T chassis were announced here today by the Ford Motor Company. There will be no advance in price, it also was stated.

Outstanding features of the improvements in both open and enclosed types are lower, all-steel bodies on a lowered chassis, complete new design in most body types, a change from black to color in closed cars, larger, lower fenders newly designed seats and larger, more powerful brakes.

Longer lines, effected through higher radiator and redesigned cowl and bodies are apparent in all the improved Ford cars, but are especially pronounced in the open types. Wide crown fenders hung close to the wheels contribute to the general effect of lowness and smartness.

While Runabout and Touring Car remain in black, the closed bodies are finished in harmonic color schemes, enchanced by nickel radiators. The Coupe and Tudor bodies are finished in deep channel green while the Fordor is rihc Windsor Maroon.

Greater comfort is provided for driver and passengers in both open and closed cars by larger compartments, more deeply cushioned seats and greater leg room.

Many new conveniences are also incorporated in the improved cars. In the Runabout, Touring Car, Coupe the cowl and filled through an ingeniously located filler cap completely hidden from sight by a cover similar in appearance to a cowl ventilator. One-piece windshield and narrowed and Tudor, the gasoline tank is under pillars in the Tudor and Coupe offer the driver greatly increased visibility, and improved ventilation.

Driving comfort is materially increased by lower seats, scientifically improved back rests and lowered steering wheels. Brake and clutch pedals are wider and more conveniently spaced.

Four doors are now provided on the Touring Car and two on the Runabout permitting the driver to take his place from the left side of the car. Curtains held secure by rods, open with the doors.

Most important in the mechanical changes are the improved brakes. The transmission brake drum and bands have been considerably increased in size which gives the foot brake softer and more positive action as well as longer life. The rear wheel brake drums are larger and the brake of self energizing type.

Cord tires are now standard equipment on all Ford cars.

At the main offices of the company it was stated today that production of the new line is under way in al assembly plants of the company throughout the country and the improved cars are being sent to deaers for showing.

LIVING

WHEN hurricanes arise, impeding me,
I think of sailors tossed upon the sea
Who, eager, seize on winds of every sort
And on their wings ride onward into port.
I think upon the mills that swiftly spin
Amid the raging tempest's screaming din
And from the trials of the stormy morn
Gather the strength with which they grind the corn.

"I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides during . . . My side hurt so bad it nearly killed me. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time. I could not work and I just dragged around the house.

"I got very thin—I went from 126 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had long been a user of Cardui and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve.

"My sides hurt less and I began to improve in health. . . The Cardui acted as a fine tonic and I do not feel like the same person. I am so much better. I am well now.

"I have gained 10 pounds and am still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all.

"I wish every suffering woman knew about Cardui."

At all drug stores. C-29
