Gorbachev may come to U. S.

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet Foreign Ministry spokesman indicated today Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev soon may go to the United States to sign a treaty banning intermediate-range nuclear missiles.

But the spokesman, Boris Pyadyshev, refused to say if there would be a summit this year between Communist Party General Secretary Gorbachev and President Reagan. And he gave no indication Gorbachev had eased his insistence that there be more progress toward resolving strategic and space-weapons disputes before setting a date for a summit.

Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze summoned U.S. Ambassador Jack Matlock to a meeting today, but neither Soviet nor U.S. officials would disclose what was discussed.

Shevardnadze held two days of meetings last week with Secretary of State George P. Shultz, and both sides said afterward they had practically finished work on a treaty to ban intermediate-range nuclear missiles.

But at the close of the talks, Gorbachev said he was not yet prepared to travel to the United States for a summit meeting with Reagan.

Heavy trading noted...

Dow is up 62 points

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices jumped higher in heavy trading on Wall Street today as the Dow Jones industrial average rose about 62 points, following earlier gains in Tokyo and Hong Kong.

The quick rise in prices in New York today contrasted sharply to Monday's pessimism, when the Dow suffered its second-largest point loss in history. Shortly after trading began, the Dow was up 83 points but slipped back an hour later to 62 points, which put it at about 1,856. Three stocks were rising in price for every one that fell.

Wall Street got some good news today from Washington, where the government reported that orders to factories for "big ticket" durable goods rose 1.1 percent in September, the first increase since June.

And Democratic and Republican congressional leaders said they are optimistic that negotiations with the White House can cut the federal budget deficit, but they're concerned that the financial markets may expect too much.

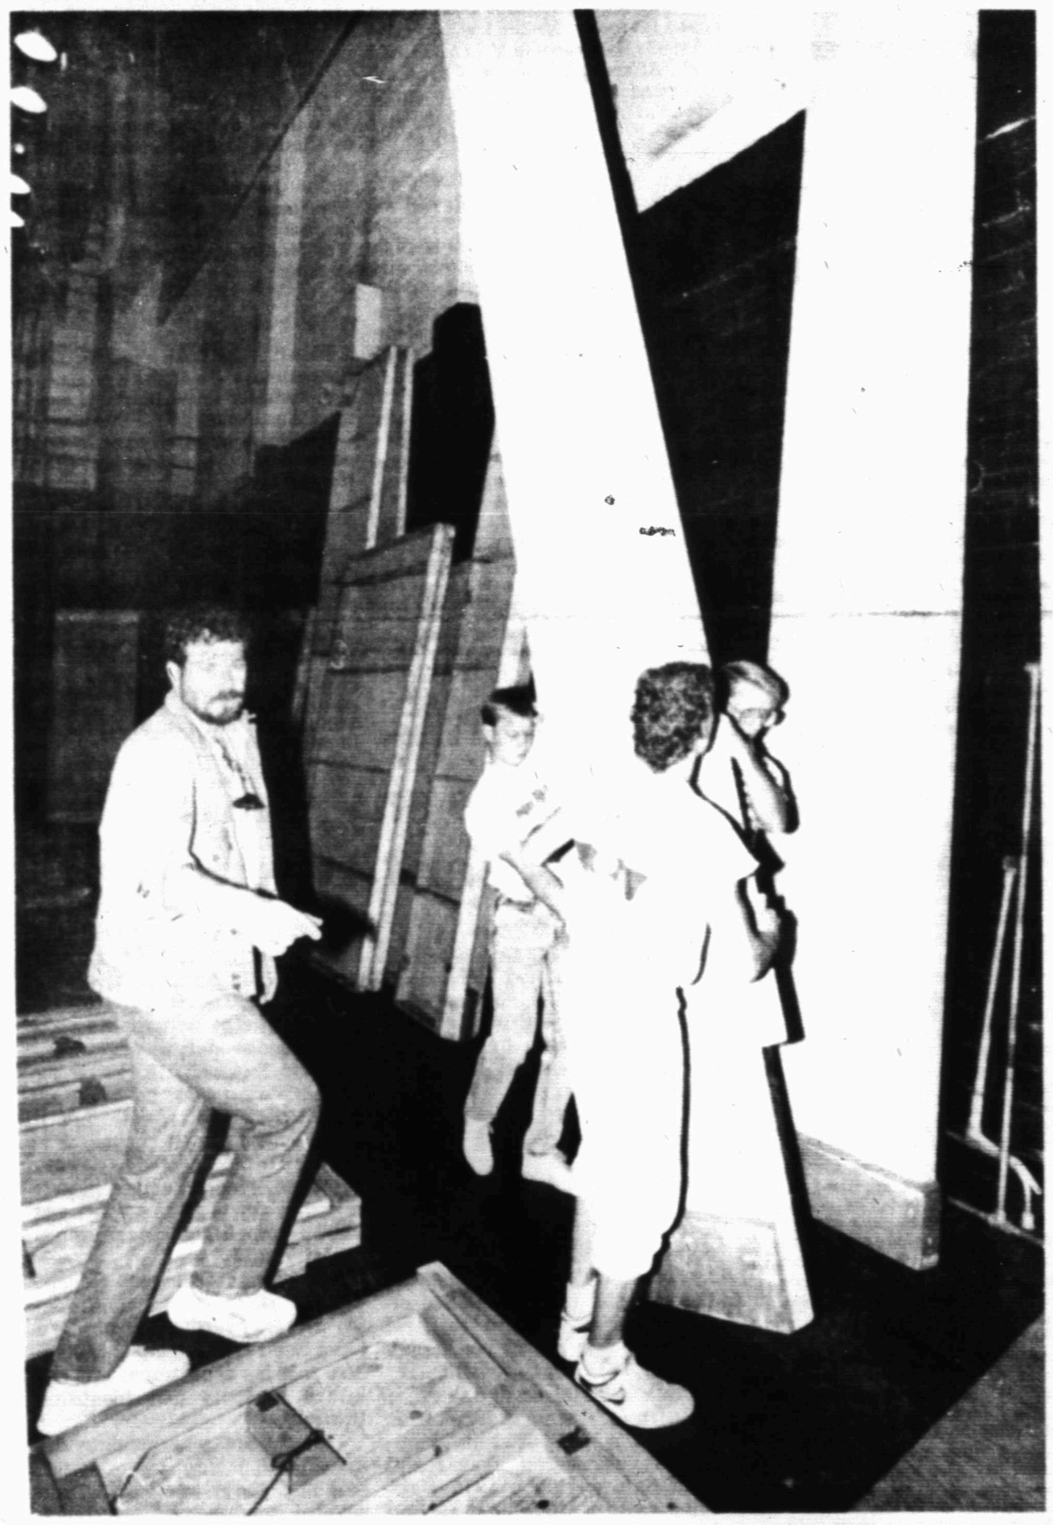

Responding to a stronger showing in the financial markets today, bond prices opened sharply lower in domestic trading.

The U.S. government's bellwether 30-year issue was off about $18.75 per $1,000 in face value. Its yield, which moves in the opposite direction of its price, had jumped to 9.07 percent.

The dollar failed to react to the overseas markets and continued to trade in a narrow range. The U.S. currency remained firm but slightly lower against the Japanese yen and West German mark in early New York dealings.

The dollar was trading at 142.15 yen and 1.7730 West German marks shortly after trading began.

Minutes after trading began in London today, the Financial Times-Stock Exchange 100-share index was up 46.6 points at 1,730.7.

Reports indicating Amarillo TDC bid in trouble at home

Amarillo, one of three West Texas communities hoping to attract a state of Texas prison facility, has reported citizen opposition.

Amarillo's bid, one of 10 finalists announced last week by the Texas Department of Corrections, has apparently prompted dissension among its residents over being ultimately chosen to house either one of four 1,000-bed units or one of two 2,250-bed maximum security prisons planned by the state.

The other two West Texas sites chosen among the 10 finalists are Scurry County and the City of Childress. Selection of sites is due Nov. 9.

The opposition could, in the words of an Amarillo-based member of the Texas Department of Corrections board, place Amarillo "not in a good position" for final selection.

Jerry Hodge, a member of the appointed body which will ultimately make a final decision on site selection, was quoted as being pessimistic about Amarillo's chances due to the dissension being shown by residents.

"I think the majority of the (corrections) board is of the opinion that Amarillo, Texas, does not want the prison," Hodge was quoted as saying. "Those lines could be changed, but Amarillo is not in a good position at this time."

In response to the apparent rift in Amarillo, Al Hughes, chairman for the TDC board, was quoted as saying, "We're welcome in the towns where we operate, and I think it would be our desire to stay where we're welcome."

Opponents of the prison plan in Amarillo say they oppose it because organizers for the pro-

St. Mary offers management bid for local hospital

The chief executive officer of St. Mary of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock Monday said Cogdell Memorial Hospital's primary problem is its annual total of admissions, which has declined from 3,075 in 1984 to a projected 1,551 this year.

In making an offer to assume management of the Snyder hospital, Jake Henry told Scurry County commissioners, hospital board members and medical staff members that his first concern would be to stabilize and then reverse that trend.

"We'd have to discover why they are doing it and take steps to keep them at home," Henry said of the "out-flow" of an estimated 1,200 to 1,300 Snyder residents who are choosing to go to out-of-town hospitals each year instead of to Cogdell.

After the 1 ½-hour meeting with two dozen county and hospital representatives in the county courtroom, he proposed a three-year management contract to begin Jan. 1 that would entail no fees to St. Mary but would imply a linkage between the two hospitals.

Hospital board members were non-committal during the

'Acting Company' arrives early today

Tuesday's performance of "Much Ado About Nothing," presented by The Acting Company, the "touring arm" of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, will begin at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Worsham Auditorium.

Tickets still available will go on sale to the general public at 7 p.m. General admission will be $5 per seat.

The troupe of professional touring actors arrived in Snyder Tuesday morning and immediately began setting up the stage at Snyder High School, assisted by drama students from SHS and Western Texas College.

The curtain will rise Tuesday night on an updated version of Shakespeare's classic comedy, updating the play to 1930s Cuba.

The local appearance has been secured through grant monies obtained by the fine arts committee of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce.

The cast--some performing in multiple roles--includes:

Don Pedro ..... Mark Kincaid
Don John ..... Peter Lewis
Claudio ..... Jonathan Nichols
Benedick ..... Spencer Beckwith
Leonato ..... Paul Hebron
Antonio ..... Ralph Zito
Balthazar ..... Douglas Krizner
Conrade ..... Rene Laigo
Borachio ..... Oliver Barreiro

The SDN Column

The feller on Deep Creek says, "You know you're getting old when there's no question in your mind that there's no question in your mind."

There's a common ailment among mature men. Short of surgery, the doctor advises drinking large quanities of water and refrain from sitting too much.

It really happened. A local fellow who works at a desk job recently saw his doctor. He was advised, "Drink eight glasses of water and have sex three times a day."

To which he responded, "Doc, that's lots of water."

The same gentleman went home and told his wife of his medical prescription. To which she replied, "It'll take more than a note from your doctor."

Dr. Bob Hargrove, local dentist, is a Texas Tech grad and long-time Red Raider booster. For a number of years he has had the misfortune of living next door to Frank and Carol Miller, avid Aggies.

Every other year when the Aggies play in Lubbock, the Miller home is a convenient site for a group of loyal Aggies to spend Friday night. Leading that 12th man delegation is the Miller's son, Dr. George Miller of Beaumont.

This year, the Aggies staged a pre-game pep rally in Hargrove's back yard. Bob promised to get even, especially if the Raiders won. Hargrove said he would wake 'em up Sunday morning by clanging pots and pans.

Bob went over Sunday morning, but the dejected Aggies decided to spend the night elsewhere.

Pharmacist Larry McWilliams had a couple in his store the other day dressed in leather, chains and safety pins. The boy had blue and purple hair, and the girl's hair was bright yellow.

The guy put on a pair of sunglasses and asked his girlfriend what she thought.

"Take 'em off," she said. "They make you look ridiculous."

Ask Us

Q. — Where are the other finalist sites for the proposed state prisons located?

A. — Of the cities, Dallas, Houston and Amarillo are well known. Childress is in North Texas adjacent to the Oklahoma border and Gatesville is in Central Texas some 40 miles west of Waco. Of the counties, Liberty and Tyler County are near each other in East Texas and are within a two county distance of Huntsville (Walker County). Falls County is adjacent to Waco (McClennan County) and Johnson County is due south of Fort Worth (Tarrant County).

In Brief

Early okay

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — A constitution paving the way for sweeping democratic reforms appeared headed for overwhelming approval today. Early returns show 94 percent of the voters favored the referendum.

Election officials said at least 74 percent of the country's 25.6 million eligible voters cast ballots and that nearly all were expected to vote for the measure despite dissident calls for a boycott.

Names added

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-four more names, including two from Texas, are being added to the roll call of dead on the national Vietnam Veterans Memorial, with the work scheduled for completion by Veterans Day.

The National Park Service said Monday that the additions will bring the number of names on the memorial to 58,156. Those listed either died as a result of wounds suffered in the Vietnam War or remain missing.

More surgery

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — Jessica McClure faces several more operations on her right foot, which was injured when she fell into an abandoned well, an official says.

ISD to meet

The Snyder school board has set a board work session Tuesday to begin at 5:30 p.m. at the Snyder Country Club.

5 misses 'best'

Last week was a tough one for SDN football entrants, with five misses being the best anyone could do. Five entrants came up with five misses each, and the tie-breaker was used to determine the first and second place winners.

R.B. von Roeder of 2207 45th St. won the first place $12.50, and A.L. Byrom of 3805 Galveston took the $5 second place. Honorable mention goes to Bill J. Hood, Ross Blanchard and Jimmy Reed.

Another contest is in this issue.

Titan 34D launched Monday

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) —The first successful launch of a Titan 34D, reportedly carrying a spy satellite, after two failures in two years is of "tremendous significance" to America's return to space, says the secretary of the Air Force.

The nation's most powerful unmanned rocket, bearing what the Air Force would describe only as a classified payload, lifted off at 1:32 p.m Monday.

If the payload were a spy satellite, the launch would make a major contribution to the U.S. capability for monitoring Soviet compliance with arms treaties, civilian experts said.

A successful launch would mean "we're out of the woods in terms of the threat of being blinded in space," John Pike, a space policy expert for the Federation of American Scientists in Washington, said before liftoff.

Air Force Secretary Edward C. Aldridge said the launch was of "tremendous significance to the nation's space program" because it "allows us to resume launching critical national security payloads on a regular basis."

The launch was the first of a Titan 34D since April 18, 1986, when one of the rockets blew up on liftoff from this base 170 miles northwest of Los Angeles. Another Titan 34D and its cargo were destroyed after launch from Vandenberg on Aug. 28, 1985.

The Titan 34D consists of a 161-foot-tall liquid-fueled "core" vehicle and two 96-foot solid-fuel booster rockets.

The Air Force blamed the first Titan disaster on a massive leak of oxidizer, a chemical that enables fuel to burn, and pump failure. The second failure occurred when one of the solid-fuel boosters ruptured, setting off a giant blast just above the launching pad.

The failures were among a series of setbacks, including the Jan. 28, 1986, Challenger disaster that killed the shuttle's seven-member crew.

Pike, who had advance word of the launch, said the Titan 34D would most likely carry a top-secret KH-11 photoreconnaissance satellite, but might carry an advance model of the "Jumpseat" eavesdropping satellite.

The United States has had only one photoreconnaissance satellite, also a KH-11, in orbit to monitor Soviet military activities since another KH-11 was deactivated in August 1985. But that satellite is nearing the end of its three-year lifespan, Pike said.

"Ever since August 1985, we've been in a position that could have been very critical if the remaining satellite up there failed," he added. "We would no longer have our eyes in space. We wouldn't be deaf (because eavesdropping satellites are in orbit), but we would be blind."

Gov. Clements earns low marks in poll

By The Associated Press

Gov. Bill Clements, his image tarnished by a record tax increase and an athletics pay-for-play scandal, received a 72 percent disapproval rating in a poll published today that showed he also fell from favor among many Republicans.

Of those Texans who have an opinion on Clements' performance, only 28 percent think he is doing a good or excellent job, the telephone survey conducted for the Dallas Morning News and the Houston Chronicle shows.

Sixty-one percent of Republicans who responded also gave Clements a poor or only fair rating.

Poll results were published in copyright stories in both newspapers.

The poll showed that Democratic Attorney General Jim Mattox, an expected candidate for governor in 1990, is well-known among voters. But the poll also showed his negative image to be higher than his fellow Democrats in the survey.

State Treasurer Ann Richards, another possible Democratic candidate for governor, is not as well-known as Mattox, but is more popular among those who know her, the poll suggests.

Both of Texas' U.S. senators, Republican Phil Gramm and Democrat Lloyd Bentsen, are well-known and well-liked, the poll shows.

The telephone survey is based on interviews with 1,017 registered voters and has a margin of error of plus or minus 3.5 percentage points. It was conducted by political scientists Richard Murray and Kent L. Tedin of the University of Houston's Center for Public Policy on behalf of the two newspapers.

Those surveyed were asked to rate the job performance of 11 national and state elected officials. Respondents were given a choice of rating their performance as excellent, good, only fair or poor.

Clements fared worst among politicians rated. Of the 95 percent who rated his performance, 4 percent said the Republican has done an excellent job since taking office in January and 24 percent said he was doing a good job.

"Gov. Clements was elected to solve problems, not to win popularity contests," his press secretary Reggie Bashur said. "When the problems are solved, the governor will be held in high esteem by the people of Texas."

Murray said responses suggest the public is angry at Clements because they feel he broke his pledge not to raise taxes and because of his involvement in the Southern Methodist University football scandal.

About 73 percent of those who had an opinion about Ms. Richards's performance indicated approval while Mattox scored a 56 percent approval rating in the poll, which was conducted from Oct. 11 to Oct. 20.

But Mattox was recognized by about 90 percent of those surveyed and Ms. Richards was known by 65 percent.

Seven of 10 Texans had an opinion of Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower, who had a 60 percent approval rating in the poll. Hightower, a Democrat, is expected to challenge Gramm for a U.S. Senate seat in 1990.

Both Gramm and Bentsen, who is up for re-election next year, received favorable ratings from about 70 percent of those who knew them.

Inmates condemn killing of human rights activist

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Political prisoners enraged by the slaying of a prominent human rights activist held a demonstration in a jail outside the capital, and labor and student groups said they were planning protests today.

The political organization for El Salvador's leftist rebels meanwhile said the killing could jeopardize peace talks with the government.

Herbert Ernesto Anaya, 32, the president of the Salvadoran Human Rights Commission, was gunned down Monday as he left his home, official sources said.

Inmates at La Mariona prison, El Salvador's main penitentiary for men, shouted through megaphones to prisoners in other areas Monday, blaming the government for the killing and demanding an investigation.

Some radio stations broadcast a communique from the prisoners saying they had taken over the prison, but officials denied the claim.

No injuries were reported in the demonstration at the prison north of San Salvador. Anaya had been held at the jail for several months last year, after the government arrested him on suspicion of collaborating with leftist rebels.

Two men firing handguns shot Anaya point-blank as he left home to drive two of his six children to school, a police source said. The children were not hurt.

No group has claimed responsibility for the murder. Police and military sources said they had no leads on the identity of the killers.

Miguel Angel Montenegro, a spokesman for the Human Rights Commission, said death squads linked to security forces were to blame.

"All the responsibility for this assassination falls on the armed forces high command, the security agencies and the government itself," Montenegro told a news conference.

Government spokesman Roberto Viera, speaking at another news conference, said, "This irrational act reflects the level of hate and rancor that exists in the hearts and minds of some Salvadorans."

Dear Abby

Abby Thinks She'll Never See A Poem So Many Claim 'By Me'

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1987 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR READERS: Is plagiarism really the best form of flattery? In any case, it's nothing new. Montaigne, the 16th-century French essayist, had this to say about "borrowing" literary quotables: "I have gathered a bouquet of other men's flowers, and only the ribbon that binds them is my own."

A reader signed "Going Crazy in Reno" sent the poem that began "Do not stand at my grave and weep," and asked me to help her find the author. I printed her letter, and more "authors" surfaced than I can mention here. For example:

DEAR ABBY: A very good friend of mine sent me your column from The Patriot Ledger in Quincy, Mass. May I modestly state that I am the author of the poem in question. I am 77 years old and have been a poet and journalist for the last 35 years. I wrote that poem in 1978 and titled it "Afterwards." John Wayne requested in his will that my poem be read at his graveside. I do hope that this will clear up the mystery of the origin of that poem.

NEAL S. TOOMEY, LOWELL, MASS.

DEAR ABBY: The poem sent to you by "Going Crazy in Reno" was written by me in 1971 while on an extended holiday in America. I gave it to the president of the Reno Chamber of Commerce while visiting Nevada. That poem was tentatively named "A Clown's Eulogy." Needless to say, I am amazed that my work was used in the manner you have stated, and also very pleased that I have left something behind me besides bones.

WILLIAM ARTUS, VANCOUVER ISLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA

DEAR ABBY: In regards to the poem sent in by "Going Crazy in Reno": The title is "I Am Not There," and I am the author. I composed the poem at Mr. Wayne's request in 1977. Yours in life.

ROBERTA BRAUN

DEAR ABBY: The poem "Do not stand at my grave" was written by Father Joseph Mohr of Obernsdorf, Austria, in 1819 when his brother, Elbert Mohr, was laid to rest. This beautiful poem was also read at another Mohr family member's funeral in Nuremburg, Germany, in 1899, and has become a popular eulogy since then. I am a great-grandnephew of the author, who also wrote "Stille Nacht" (Silent Night).

AUTHOR'S KIN, CONN.

DEAR ABBY: The author you are looking for is John Neihart, poet laureate of Nebraska. That lovely poem is inscribed on the Nebraska State Capitol building in Lincoln.

GEORGIA GRUBB, OMAHA

DEAR ABBY: My boss is a well-known minister in Atlanta, and he uses that poem for funeral services. He credits Lillian Bullard Ridgeway as the author.

VERA H. WADDELL, DR. OZMENT'S SECRETARY

DEAR ABBY: "Going Crazy" will be relieved to learn that the author is Charles E. Hollingsworth, M.D. — a Los Angeles psychiatrist. I found the poem in "The Family in Mourning" — a guide for health professionals, published in 1977. It was read at the funeral of a friend of mine.

REGINA THOMPSON, WALHALLA, S.C.

DEAR ABBY: I read in The Sacramento Bee that you are searching for the author of a poem recited as a eulogy for John Wayne.

I have a tattered copy of that poem and the author is Clare Harner Lyon.

PEGGY GRIEVE, ELK GROVE, CALIF.

Students say slain cop's identity known

MIDLOTHIAN, Texas (AP) — A district attorney said she plans to have one of two teen-agers suspected in the slaying of a police officer certified to stand trial as an adult, and will prosecute both teens on charges of capital murder.

"This is a very serious offense and I plan to prosecute it to the fullest extent of the law," Ellis County District Attorney Mary Lou Shipley said Monday.

The two Midlothian High School students, one age 16 and the other 17, were being held in the shooting death of police officer George William Raffield Jr., who was posing as a high school student while investigating drug use and sales.

Raffield, who authorities believe was killed after his identity was discovered, was found dead Saturday in a field eight miles south of Midlothian. He had been shot twice in the head with a .38-caliber revolver.

A juvenile hearing held Monday was closed to the media because of the minor involved. Ms. Shipley said authorities decided at the hearing to continue holding the 16-year-old at the Johnson County Juvenile Detention Center.

A 23-year-old Midlothian woman was released from Ellis County jail on bond. She was charged with hindering apprehension and prosecution, a Class A misdemeanor, Vaughn said.

Midlothian students said they had suspected Raffield, 21, was planted at the school as an undercover narcotics officer. Raffield had enrolled as William Moore, a high school senior.

David Swindell, 18, a former student who said he was acquainted with Raffield, said it was obvious the officer was trying hard to be accepted as a peer.

"When someone comes in new and they try to fit in so fast you know something is wrong," Swindell said.

But Texas Ranger George Turner said, "If anyone had known his cover was blown, he'd have been reassigned." Vaughn also said his department was not aware students had identified Raffield.

Turner, who was heading the investigation into the slaying, said his agency was looking into several unanswered questions, including whether an abandoned house known as a "satanist house" where some teen-agers allegedly gathered had any connection to Raffield's slaying.

Raffield's fiancee, who asked not to be identified, said one student threatened the officer.

Texas State Constitutional Amendment Election
Proposition 8 on the ballot may have a direct impact on Scurry County and efforts to locate a Texas Department of Corrections facility here. The proposition calls for the issuance of up to $500 million in general obligation bonds to finance projects for three state agencies--including the TDC.
This is the most economical method of financing for the state. Prisons will be built in Texas because of federal court orders. Scurry County citizens should again show their support for prisons by voting Yes on Proposition 8.
Members of the Economic Development Committee of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce believes that a big turnout of votes in favor of Proposition 8 will once again be a signal to TDC officials of local citizens' interest in the prison system.

Patchwork Squares meet for luncheon

Patchwork Squares Extension Homemakers met for a covered dish luncheon and workday Oct. 20 in preparation for the upcoming bazaar to be held Saturday in the coliseum.

Members met in the home of Freida Dever with President Joyce McCoy presiding over the business session.

McCoy and Patsy Burleson, delegates to the extension homemakers state convention held in Ft. Worth in September, reported on the various workshops they attended.

Burleson commented that members should get more involved in local and state government. McCoy spoke about Texas water and its quality and quantity. She stressed how much water is wasted in everyday household use.

McCoy appointed a nominating committee to choose 1988 officers for the club.

PATCHWORK SQUARES — Extension homemakers (from left, standing) June Greenway, Freida Dever, Joyce McCoy and (seated) Mary Jacobi display crafts to be sold Saturday at "Santa's Holiday Bazaar" to be held in the Scurry County Coliseum from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. All area extension clubs will offer handmade holiday crafts as well as homemade candies and concession items. Creating one's own luck

"I'm not very lucky today," bemoaned Willy Nilly. He had ducked the opening lead of the queen of clubs. When West continued the suit, Willy won the ace. He then played A-K of spades, ruffed his losing club with dummy's remaining trump, played to his diamond king and back to dummy's ace, and ruffed a third round of diamonds. When that suit failed to split, he exited with a trump, putting East on lead with no more clubs to play. So East had to play a heart. Unfortunately West had the K-J-10-3, and declarer could not escape losing two heart tricks for down one.

Careful Charlie did better. He realized that since diamonds might well be 4-2, he needed to wait for the right time to use communication to the dummy. He won the second club with the ace, cashed A-K of spades, and then played K-A of diamonds and ruffed a diamond. Only now did he ruff his losing club in dummy, allowing him to ruff one more diamond to establish dummy's fifth diamond. He exited with a trump, putting East on lead with nothing left but hearts. On the forced heart lead, Charlie put up the queen but West covered with the king. However, dummy's heart ace and the good diamond provided the game-going tricks.

Yes, Willy Nilly was unlucky not to make the contract, since he would be OK if the heart king was right, even when he did not provide for a 4-2 diamond division, but Careful Charlie had made his own good luck.

Beta Sigma Phi Germanfest held

"Germanfest — A Visit to Germany" was the theme for the Oct. 17 meeting of the Xi Alpha Alpha Theta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. The meeting was held in the home of Howard and Carolyn Limmer.

The German theme was carried out in food and decorations. The menu included salat mit sauer rahmsauce, sauerkraut mit worst, beirocks, heisser kartoffelsalat, gruen bohnen, salzgurken, butterbrot apfelstrudel and eistee.

Sue and Morris Sewell were game hosts for "Win, Lose or Draw." Winning team members were Mickey Baird, Marie Boone, Jacalyn Lowrance, Buck Buckland and Dave Foster.

Guests for the occasion were Charlie and Vicky Bell, Wayne and Loretta Dodson and Dave and Ann Foster.

The club's regular meeting was held Oct. 20 at the Snyder Country Club with President Carolyn House presiding over 19 members and four guests, Cheri Stewart, Ann Foster, Loretta Dodson and Vicky Bell.

Sewell and Boone discussed the Christmas wrap sales now in progress and Jackie Buckland discussed the November social. Limmer, program chairman, announced that the next meeting would be a workshop.

Margaret Corkran presented a program on popular music. She stated that with the passage of time, mankind has undergone many changes. Through those changes, people have found music to be one of the most satisfying ways to show emotion. The whole story of music from prehistoric times to the present day is a record of human feelings expressed in rhythm and melody.

With those in attendance divided into groups, a musical quiz was held followed by "Name That Tune." The winning group members were Mary Lou Scott, Bette League, Carolyn Limmer, Patricia Warren and Cheri Stewart.

In conclusion, Corkran introduced a singing group which acted out a song made famous by The Supremes. Past members Donna Fowler, Cyndee Gayle and Judy Grimmett acted under the names, Diana, Mary and Flo.

Marie Boone received the hostess gift for the evening.

Singer Al Jolson was born in 1886.

Poetry Society meets

The sonnet was studied at the October meeting of the Scurry County Poetry Society. Janelle Burk led the discussion pointing out the two sonnet forms most used by poets are Shakespearean and Italian.

Members met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Killgo with President Garnet Quiett presiding and Hostess Christene Killgo offering the invocation.

Burk stated that both types of sonnets are written in 14 iambic pentameter lines with two parts composed of an eight-line octet and a six-line sestet. She commented that Italian sonnets never end in a couplet while the Shakesperean sonnets always use the couplet ending.

Sonnets in the two styles written by Edna St. Vincent Milay were used as examples. Milay is an American poet, 1892-1950.

In the poetry reading session, some members read their own sonnets. Burk chose Shakespeare's sonnets, "Food for the Hungry," "How Long?" and "Walk in the Park"; Dorothy Cox read her own sonnet, "Home Place" in the Shakespearean style and her acrostic, "Words."

Quiett read her Italian sonnet, "Autumn Rhapsody," and a free verse, "Matthew." Killgo read "Twenty-Third Psalm for Busy People" by Toki Milvashina.

The meeting adjourned and refreshments were served.

The Nov. 16 meeting will be held in the home of Dorothy Cox at 1:30 p.m. Visitors are welcome to attend.

TUB — Liz Neely and Sheila Land work on posters for advertising the upcoming Teacher's Unique Bazaar to be held Nov. 21 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Towle Park Barn. Snyder school teachers are preparing all kinds of seasonal craft items for sale. (Private Photo)

Honey Do's homemakers learn home fire safety

Fireman Jerry Dickie spoke to Honey Do's Extension Homemakers at the Oct. 15 meeting.

Dickie pointed out how to use fire extinguishers, how to put out a grease fire and ways to prevent fires in the home. In case of fire, Dickie said all families should have escape routes planned and rehearsed. A common meeting place outside should also be agreed upon so firemen can determine if anyone is still inside the building.

Virginia Fogle, vice-president, presided at the session. The bazaar to be held Saturday at the coliseum was discussed as well as the club Christmas party planned for Dec. 4 at the Ira Community Center. Honey Do's members will be hostesses for the other area extension clubs at the party.

Mary Vaughn was hostess for the meeting which was held in her home.

Lumbering bridges

COQUILLE, Ore. (AP) — About the same amount of wood used in a single-family home is needed to build a two-lane, 50-foot by 24-foot timber bridge, according to Georgia Pacific.

Another 10,000 board feet of wood is needed to build framing and abutments for a covered bridge. Currently, there are more than 60,000 timber bridges in the United States.

LAFF-A-DAY

"...then one day I thought — to hell with dull, dreary old pinstriped suits!"

DENNIS THE MENACE

"DAD, WILL YOU HELP ME EXPLAIN TO JOEY WHY HIS CAT WON'T HAVE PUPPIES?"

If he gets the chance...

Ryan says he'll do it again

PHILADELPHIA (AP) -Feisty Buddy Ryan says to tell Tom Landry he'll do it again if he gets the opportunity, and next time he hopes it's in Dallas.

Ryan, at his weekly news conference Monday, said he isn't concerned about having opened up a can of worms by deliberately running up the score Sunday on Landry and his Dallas Cowboys.

Ryan said Landry started it, and he isn't about to let the Dallas coach forget it.

Maybe it's all psychological drivel to inflame his players. It reached some of them.

Defensive end Clyde Simmons commented, "I always felt you don't just want to win, you want to humiliate them. If you don't put them away and keep them down, it will come back to haunt you."

Wide receiver Mike Quick said, "we planned to do that all week. We said if we get the ball and we can score points, we're still going to try and put more on the board because of what they did to our replacement players."

Running back Keith Byars observed, "I don't look at it as running it up. We just played as hard as we could for 60 minutes. And they didn't ..."

On the other hand, tight end John Spagnola said, "Our coaches felt they had a score to settle with Dallas. And if the coach wants to call a play like that, so be it. We don't have veto power. We just follow orders."

The Eagles led Dallas 30-20 Sunday with less than a minute to play.

On the first two downs Randall Cunningham took the snap and kneeled down to run out the clock.

On third down with 11 seconds remaining, Ryan ordered Cunningham to pass. He did, and pass interference was called on the play giving the Eagles a first down at the one. Keith Byars then scored as time ran out.

Ryan chortled. He had charged Dallas coach Tom Landry with running up the score against the Eagles three weeks earlier in a 41-22 Cowboys' victory in Dallas. And he had promised to get even.

"The can of worms was opened a couple of weeks ago," Ryan said at his weekly news conference Monday. "We just put a lid on it for another year."

No, he wasn't concerned that the incident might come back to haunt him.

"Anytime you go anywhere you have to fight for your life. We'll do it again down in Dallas next year if we get the opportunity."

He was informed that Landry said the person who does something like that has to live with himself.

"I can handle that," Ryan snapped.

Ryan was reminded that there was a practical side to scoring big in conference games since the number of points scored is one of the deciding factors in the event of a tie for a playoff spot.

"I know," he said. "And if those seven points put us in a playoff, that will be great. That will be winning with class. Otherwise we didn't. Anyway that wasn't the motive."

The Cowboys were incensed.

Linebacker Steve DeOssie described Ryan as a "pathetic, senile old man," and said that the Eagles scored that final TD to "pacify Ryan's overinflated ego."

Ryan responded, "well, I can't believe that he called me old."

Cowboys' President and General Manager Tex Schramm observed, "we didn't learn anything we didn't know about Buddy Ryan."

"It offends me," said Dallas wide receiver Mike Renfro. "That was one of the most classless things I've ever seen."

Browns 'eye' win over Rams; Minnesota outguns Broncos

by The Associated Press

The key to defending against Los Angeles Rams' quarterback Jim Everett, says Felix Wright, is eye contact.

"He's a young quarterback. He tends to look at his receiver as soon as he gets the ball," Wright said after he intercepted two Everett passes, returning one of them 40 yards for a touchdown, to help the Cleveland Browns beat the Rams 30-17 Monday night.

Everett, a 24-year-old in his second year with the Rams, was fortunate to have been intercepted only three times, twice by Wright and once by Mark Harper, because Cleveland cornerback Hanford Dixon dropped two others.

In Monday night's other game, Minnesota's Darrin Nelson got 88 of his 98 rushing yards on two carries, setting up two of D.J. Dozier's three short touchdown bursts, helping the Vikings to a 34-27 victory over the Denver Broncos.

It was all four teams' first action since the end of the 24-day NFL strike.

The Rams, 1-5, desperately missed running back Eric Dickerson, who stood out the entire second half. He ran seven times for 38 yards, including a 27-yard touchdown in the second quarter.

Charles White started in place of Dickerson, who had suggested last week that he might not be able to give 100 percent because he thinks he's worth more than his $680,000 salary.

Coach John Robinson, however, said Dickerson was benched because of a Charley horse.

In the first quarter Everett threw a 20-yard pass to Damone Johnson that gave the Rams a first-and-goal at the Cleveland 1-yard line.

White carried and lost two yards. Buford McGee, who later suffered a torn Achilles tendon that ended his season, gained two yards on second down.

A penalty moved the ball back to the 6. Everett's third-down pass bounced off tight end David Hill's hands at the goal line to Wright, who returned it 68 yards to set up the first of Jeff Jaeger's three field goals.

Early in the fourth quarter the Rams, trailing 30-17, had a fourth-and-one at the Cleveland 15. White plunged into the middle for no gain, effectively sealing the Browns' victory.

Kevin Mack scored Cleveland's first touchdown on a 16-yard run up the middle early in the second quarter, breaking three tackles along the way to put the Browns up 10-0. Wright then stepped in front of Henry Ellard on the Rams' next possession and went 40 yards with his second interception for a 17-0 advantage.

Jaeger's 48-yard field goal made it 20-0 before Dickerson finally scored for the Rams.

Another Jaeger field goal, from 41 yards out, gave Cleveland a 23-7 lead at halftime, and Bernie Kosar threw a 53-yard touchdown pass to Brian Brennan on the second play of the second half to push the margin to 30-7.

Los Angeles ran off 10 straight points in the third quarter on White's one-yard run and Mike Lansford's 27-yard field goal.

Vikings 34, Broncos, 27

Nelson's 72- and 16-yard runs helped Minnesota survive some shaky moments on the way to beating Denver.

"Feast or famine, that's what was happening to me tonight," said Nelson, who netted only 10 yards in nine other carries. "I tried to make something out of nothing too many times."

The Vikings won even though Wade Wilson was intercepted five times. They were helped by the sloppy play of the Broncos, who were penalized 10 times for 128 yards.

Cowboys cut Dwyer; 11 other replacements

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Twelve Dallas Cowboys replacement players waived by the team included defensive tackle Mike Dwyer, a big fan favorite who was on the program cover for the home opener during the strike.

Team officials said Dwyer and any other player who participated in all three replacement games will be eligible for a half-share of playoff money.

"I knew this day could be coming and I gave it a good shot," said Dwyer, a 6-3, 280-pounder who was considered too short by some for the position he played.

Others cut Monday included quarterback Loren Snyder, safety Tommy Haynes, cornerbacks Alex Green, and Bill Hill, fullback Gerald White, wide receivers Chuck Scott and Cornell Burbage, linebackers Dale Jones and Jeff Hurd, offensive lineman Steve Cisowski, and tight end Rich Borresen.

Ten replacement players remained on the team, including quarterback Kevin Sweeney, the star of two of Dallas' victories during the replacement games.

Adams' heart in Houston; Oilers to stay in Astrodome

HOUSTON (AP) - Houston Oilers owner Bud Adams says the profit may have been in Jacksonville, Fla., but his heart was in Houston.

"This is my home," Adams said. "I've been here 41 years. I could have gone to Jacksonville for a lot more money."

On Monday, Adams ended months of speculation and negotiation, announcing he'd be keeping his NFL team in Houston after considering a move to the Gator Bowl.

Jacksonville, starved for a professional football team, assembled a package that could have brought Adams more than $125 million over 10 years. Adams and his family toured the Florida city several weeks ago for a red-carpet visit that rivaled treatment given a head of state.

But Adams said he was swayed after a Houston proposal that calls for construction of 72 luxury boxes at the Houston Astrodome to bolster other renovations planned for the stadium, now the NFL's smallest with a capacity of 50,594.

The new 10-year deal to remain in Houston, where the Oilers have played since 1960, hinges on sale of 75 percent - or 54 - of the boxes by Dec. 15, according to a letter of intent signed by Adams.

The boxes will seat 18 or 36 people, with the 18-seat box selling for $30,000 a year and the larger box going for $45,000 annually. The boxes will carry five-year commitments and revenues will go directly to the football team.

The luxury boxes are among some $50 million in improvements to the Astrodome, which also will get an additional 10,000 seats and new artificial playing surfaces for baseball and football.

Sonics match offer

SEATTLE (AP) - The Seattle SuperSonics matched the reported $4.1-million, four-year offer sheet that center Alton Lister got from the Phoenix Suns last week.

The 7-foot Lister, who set a club-record last season with 180 blocked shots, will play in the Sonics' final two exhibition games, President Bob Whitsitt said.

Supper tickets available

Snyder All-Sports Booster Club has announced that tickets for their steak supper this Friday night will be available at the door.

Tickets are $5 per plate at the supper, which will be held from 5:30 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. at Towle Park Barn. Snyder's Ragin' Tigers take on Sweetwater at Tiger Stadium that night, with an 8 o'clock kickoff.

The menu includes a 7-ounce sirloin, potato salad, red beans, homemade rolls, ice cream and tea and coffee.

Proceeds from the supper will go towards funding the annual All-Sports Banquet.

The Booster Club is meeting each Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the school student center.

Ladies vie in San Angelo

SAN ANGELO -- Snyder varsity and junior varsity volleyball teams take on San Angelo Lake View here tonight.

The JV match is set for 6:30 p.m.; the varsity match for 7:30 p.m. Snyder closes out the 1987 season Saturday in Monahans.

The Lady Tigers are 15-10 overall and 9-5 in District 2-4A play.

Westerners in Texarkana

TEXARKANA -- Western Texas College will send five freshmen to compete in the Texarkana Intercollegiate Golf Tournament, scheduled here Thursday and Friday.

Mark Burgen, Jeff Beal and Lance Jones from Andrews, Darrell Cofer from Memphis and Gary Schoen from Hamilton will represent the Westerners at the 36-hole tournament.

The field will include every junior college golf team in the state, said Coach Dave Foster.

Tech just another game; says former Red Raider coach David McWilliams

"The football players want to win because it is a football game," he said Monday. "It's another victory and their next game. I try not to approach any one game differently. I'm not going to try and coach any harder. I coach hard every week."

McWilliams, named Southwest Conference Coach of the Year in his first season as a collegiate head coach last year, guided Tech to a 7-4 record and a berth in the Independence Bowl before replacing Fred Akers as coach of the Longhorns.

McWilliams also steered Tech to a 23-21 upset over the Texas in his only season there, which snapped a five-game win string by Texas.

"I'm sure that most of the boosters were mad, and I'm sure that's adding emotion to the game," McWilliams said. "Naturally, it bothers you if someone doesn't like a decision you make but it was one only I could make."

The meeting will also reuinite McWilliams and his longtime friend, Spike Dykes, who took over the Texas Tech job this year and is also a former Longhorn coach.

The two coached on the same Texas staff for seven seasons, from 1971-76 as assistants under Akers, and last year at Tech when Dykes was defensive coordinator for McWilliams.

They first coached together on the high school level in 1964.

Although he said he will not approach the game any differently, McWilliams said he does consider it a reunion.

"I do, yes," he said. "Mainly because I have a lot of respect for Spike and his coaches. They have a lot of pride."

The Longhorns, 3-3 overall and 2-0 in Southwest Conference play, took last week off after their 16-14, come-from-behind win over Arkansas. The Red Raiders, 5-3 and 2-2, plastered Tulsa, 42-7.

Tech to play in Japan Bowl

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) - The Oklahoma State Cowboys will play Texas Tech in Tokyo next season, Coach Pat Jones has announced.

Jones said Monday the two schools have signed an agreement to play in the Coca-Cola Japan Bowl, formerly the Mirage Bowl, on either Nov. 27 or Dec. 4 of 1988. The game originally had been scheduled for Sept. 17 at Texas Tech.

Ex-captive seeks release of hostages

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A former hostage pleaded for the release of foreign captives in a letter published today, the 40th birthday of kidnapped American Terry Anderson.

"I am still in chains with my friends who remain as your hostages," David Jacobsen said in a letter to Islamic Jihad published in the independent daily An-Nahar.

"Release the hostages unilaterally and without conditions. The Americans, the French and the Englishmen are innocent victims. The men held hostage are good men and they are not agents of any government," wrote Jacobsen.

Anderson, chief Middle East correspondent of The Associated Press, is the longest-held of the more than 20 foreigners who are missing after being kidnapped in Lebanon.

On Monday, Anderson's sister, Peggy Say, said they would try to find a new strategy to win the release of her brother.

"Silence isn't working. It's time to try something else," Mrs. Say said in Buffalo, N.Y., where she accepted a proclamation from local officials designating Oct. 26-31 "Don't Forget Terry Anderson Week."

Mrs. Say has aggressively sought to attract attention to the plight of the her brother and other American hostages. She has met with President Reagan and other officials to urge them to do more to win the hostages' release and promoted their cause in the news media.

But earlier this year, during the Iran-Contra scandal in Washington, Mrs. Say withdrew from public attention.

Mrs. Say said she wasn't sure of what new approach she might take. She said, however, that she was encouraged by the formation of a group of journalists in Washington committed to winning his release.

The other hostages include eight Americans, six Frenchmen, three Britons, a West German, an Italian, an Irishman, a South Korean, an Indian and two unidentified men. Most are believed held by Shiite Moslem militants.

In addition, Anglican Church envoy Terry Waite has been missing since January.

Female inmate population triples at Travis Co. jail

AUSTIN (AP) — The female inmate population at the Travis County Jail has tripled this year, forcing authorities to place some of the prisoners in the men's section of the jail, authorities say.

Travis County Corrections chief Clyde Malley said Monday jail officers have taped brown paper over the women's cells so male inmates cannot see inside.

But Malley said the brown paper, which officers put up about three months ago, poses security problems.

"The brown paper is a hazard to observation and supervision because we do not know what is going on behind the brown paper," Malley told The Daily Texan.

Texas jail standards say female prisoners must be "out of sight and sound" of male prisoners.

Sheldon Ekland-Olson, a University of Texas associate professor of sociology and a criminology expert, said the jail uses the paper to prevent men from harassing the women and "to keep the noise levels down, more than anything."

Malley said more women and men are in jail because the slow economy is prompting them to commit more crimes. Nationwide, the female prison population is increasing rapidly, he said.

But Sheriff's Department Lt. Pio Martinez said the female population may have risen because patrol officers are cracking down harder on females.

"We used to be more lenient with women," he said. "In the last couple of years, officers' attitudes have changed."

Martinez said he treats male and female offenders equally because women's rights have grown.

"I do not feel any different about arresting women tnan arresting a man," he said.

Artificial limb is worthwhile

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I'm female, 27. I lost my left leg above the knee five years ago. Now I'm thinking about using an artificial limb. The stump has shrunken in size, so that it is now smaller than my other thigh. Will this make a difference in getting a well-fitting prosthesis?

DEAR READER — Yes and no. The thigh on your damaged side has atrophied (shrunken) because the muscles have not been used as much as the muscles on your good side. A prosthesis can certainly be fitted to your stump. However, over time, as you use your damaged leg, your thigh muscles will grow in strength and bulk. Therefore, you probably will need to have the prosthetic cup adapted every few months to the increasing size of your stump.

I advise you to go ahead and be fitted with an artificial leg. Such a device will give you much more mobility and independence. Obviously, you will need close medical supervision and therapy from physical therapists. These professionals can advise and guide you in picking prostheses that are comfortable for you at each stage of your development.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am diabetic. Recently I started eating a cereal sweetened with malted barley. My doctor told me that he frankly didn't know whether malted barley would be safe for me to consume. What do you think?

DEAR READER — Malted barley, taken in moderation, poses no health hazards for diabetics who must avoid sugar. Have your blood sugar checked periodically to make sure that your metabolic balance is satisfactory.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am an 18-year-old lesbian. Is there a drug or operation available to stop my menstrual cycles?

DEAR READER — Menstrual cycles can be stopped by a variety of drugs and by surgery, especially hysterectomy. However, by taking this approach, you may be limiting your options. For example, surgery is permanent and will prevent you from becoming pregnant should your sexual orientation ever change.

Before you try to alter your menses, I suggest that you consider counseling. Menstruation poses problems for some women. However, your desire to stop menstruating isn't based on discomfort or pain, but suggests that you need help in accepting yourself as a physiological woman, regardless of your sexual preference.

If you do not choose this alternative, see a gynecologist for advice as to the least dangerous method to stop menstruating.

Dr. Gott's new Health Report, WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT NURSING HOMES, offers a step-by-step guide to rating facilities and finding the best care available. For your copy, send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Obituaries

Otis Firestone

Services for Otis E. Firestone, 74, of 2405 Avenue L are set for 2 p.m. Wednesday at Colonial Hill Baptist Church with the Rev. Miller Robinson, pastor, officiating. Burial will follow at Hillside Memorial Gardens under the direction of Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home.

He died at 1 a.m. Tuesday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital. He was born Dec. 13, 1912 in Melrose, N. M.

He moved to Scurry County in 1947 and had been a mechanic at Wilson Motors for 30 years. He was a member of Bethel Baptist Church and Scurry Lodge No. 706.

He married Esther Pearl Stone on May 16, 1936 in Clovis, N. M. She survives.

He is survived by three daughters, June Martin of Rotan, Esthe Lee Hayes of Rotan and Charlene Dial of Abilene; 10 grandchildren; four great-grandchildren; two sisters, Verna Lee Roe of Snyder and Vonita Day of Plainview; and one brother, Glen Firestone of Clovis, N. M.

He was preceded in death by one son, Orvie, on April 23, 1961 and a brother, F. J. Firestone.

Grandsons will be pallbearers.

Ruel Stinnett

Services for Ruel Stinnett, 74, of 2108 Avenue O will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at First Baptist Church Chapel with the Rev. Bob Hash of the Church of God officiating, assisted by the Rev. Bob Harper, associate pastor of First Baptist Church.

Burial will follow at Hillside Memorial Gardens under the direction of Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home.

He died at 2 p.m. Monday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital. He was born July 5, 1913 in Gilliam, Ark.

He was retired from Pool Well Service, was a Baptist and was a member of the American Legion. He married Ealon Russell March 30, 1935 in Horatio, Ark. She survives.

He is survived by two daughters, Donna Zalman of Hermleigh and Patsy Meynig of Colorado City; six grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; one sister, Phinnie Minx of Horatio, Ark.; and one brother, Rebal Stinnett of Broken Bow, Okla.

Pallbearers will be John Harper, Doyle Scott, Ron Gilliland and Jack Harless.

George Callarman

GRAND PRAIRIE--Services for George Callarman, 50, of Grand Prairie will be at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at Southland Funeral Home.

He died at 5 p.m. Monday of an apparent heart attack.

He was the brother of Faye Deffebach of Snyder.

Exit-level testing continues

The second day of testing is due here Wednesday for Snyder High School juniors taking the state-mandated exit level TEAMS test.

Students were to take the math portion of the test Tuesday. Wednesday's testing will be over English language arts.

Both exams are being given at the Scurry County Coliseum.

Juniors must answer 50 of the 72 questions on each test to pass. A passing grade is required before a student can graduate from Texas public schools.

Seniors required to retake the test again this year will be required to meet the standards in effect when they were juniors. This requires them to answer 39 questions correctly.

The testing this year is the third time the test has been given. It was implemented as part of House Bill 72 mandates.

Students have four opportunities to pass the exit-level test, in the fall and spring of both their junior and senior years. The spring administration is scheduled for May 3-4.

Vehicle towed following wreck

Police reported no serious injuries in two traffic accidents Monday.

What was described as a major accident took place at 4:56 p.m. in the 3000 Block of College Ave.

A 1980 Chevrolet two-door driven by Lilith Esther Smith of 3901 Ave. O was in collision with a 1980 Ford pickup driven by Donald Edman Ellis of 204 26th St.

The Smith car had to be towed from the scene, police said.

Also Monday, a 1984 Ford pickup driven by Billy Shane Gann of 2405 27th St. was in collision with an unidentified vehicle and driver who subsequently left the scene at 9:35 a.m. in the Western Texas College parking lot.

St. Mary offers hospital proposal meeting, the second management proposal they have heard this fall. A presentation by the Hospital Corp. of America was offered to them in September.

Henry explained that of the Scurry Countians who go to hospitals in Lubbock, 28 percent are going to St. Mary of the Plains, 40 percent to Methodist Hospital and 20 percent to Lubbock General Hospital.

He said, however, that no patients who could be treated in Snyder would be transferred to Lubbock.

With the proposal, he said he felt the hospital administrator should be one who concentrates on "managing relationships" and who works in concert with a chief financial officer. It is this second position who would be primarily charged with financial matters at the facility, he said.

"We do very well at St. Mary because we know where we are financially all the time, very quickly," he said.

St. Mary of the Plains is part of an eight-hospital group run by the Sisters of St. Joseph, an order of Catholic nuns based in Orange, Calif. All of the other hospitals are in California.

Henry was accompanied to Lubbock by Helen Vance, a certified public accountant who is his chief financial officer. Answering a question from the audience, Vance said of low Medicare payments under the DRG (diagnosis-related group) system, "The impact will be negative because it's set up to be negative."

But she said Medicare patients at the Lubbock hospital are often able to be transferred to nursing homes or residences as their benefits run out, rather than continuing to be hospitalized.

Henry said contracting with such a non-profit organization as the St. Joseph group should seem preferable to hiring a management company that is run for profit.

Amarillo bid said opposed ject "kept residents in the dark" about their plans.

These supporters say they admit they've "been playing catchup" and have likely concentrated on the technical aspects of the bid without taking time to solicit public support.

The task force chairman for the prison bid in Amarillo, Jim Simms, was quoted as saying, "If I ran red lights as far as protocol goes, I apologize."

The prison applicant is the City of Amarillo, and its city commission has endorsed the plan. The commissioners court in Potter County, however, had a split 3-1 vote for a similar endorsement.

The commissioner whose precinct would house the proposed prison voted against the measure.

Mr. Tom Landry
Head Coach Dallas Cowboys
In The Cellar
NFC Eastern Division

Dear Coach Landry,

Dear Coach Landry,

We are writing this letter because, frankly, we are very concerned about you. Now while there may be a great many reasons for us to be concerned about your future in football, we are concerned about your continued opposition to legalized pari-mutuel betting in Texas.

Tom, we have just read where you are a part of a group called 'Texans Who Care,' which is opposed to legalizing betting in Texas. Recently your group sponsored a talk by some guy named Zig Ziglar who told his audience all sorts of horror stories about bringing betting to Texas.

First of all Tom, we don't think you should be associating with anybody named 'Zig' in the first place. Secondly, this guy doesn't have a clue about what he's talking about. He is more confused than your offense.

This guy Zig talks about how racing will abuse animals, invite organized crime, loan sharking, drug abuse and wife abuse. Where does this guy get this stuff?

Now Tom, it is our guess that you have spent as much time around race tracks and racing people as we have around in your locker room. Just where do you get off taking a stand against something you know absolutely nothing about? That would be like us telling you what plays to run. (By the way you should go long more often).

You say that gambling is immoral. Geez Tom, how much money do you think is bet on football games every Sunday. If they do get pari-mutuel betting in Texas, any track would be happy to do a fraction of what is bet on the Cowboys every week.

And this stuff about abusing animals, Hey Tom, how many human knees have you watched being injected with cortisone in your life? And this junk about horse racing leading to immorality. We hate to bring this up Tom, but who's kicking field goals for you this year?

If you want to find immorality Tom, just take a walk through your locker room. You've got your old field goal kicker out because of child abuse, you've got your old linebacker Hollywood Henderson writing books about his drug abusing days and your old lineman, who stole $64,000 from his mother! Now racing people may have their faults, but we don't steal from our mothers.

And as far as racing leading to wife abuse. How many wives do you think have had a Coors can bounced off their head because they walked in front of the set during a big Sunday game?

Tom, horse racing is a great game, believe us. Just ask your boss Tex Schramm. He owns a quarter horse.

We're worried about you Tom. As we write this you are 0-1 after blowing a game to the St. Louis Cardinals. I mean Tom come on, the St. Louis Cardinals?

Tom, take it from us, go back to coaching and let people who know what they're talking about decide the pari-mutuel issue in Texas. From the looks of your team, you've got a full time job right there in Dallas.

Your friends,
The QuarterWeek Staff

Pari-mutuel Horse Racing:—
Jobs for Texas

TEXAS HORSE RACING ASSOCIATION

November 3, 1987 Texas voters will say "YES" to pari-mutuel horse racing in the Lone Star State. Pari-mutuel horse racing is the world's most popular spectator sport. Forty-one states, including every state surrounding Texas, have pari-mutuel horse racing.

Pari-mutuel horse racing would be more than an exciting sport for our state, it would be a $2 Billion a year industry and . . .

Jobs for Texas:
- 11,000 new jobs for Texans in all job categories;
- 8,000 construction jobs;
- 7,000 new farm related jobs;
- unlimited new jobs for the tourism industry, restaurants, hotels, motels, horse breeding and training facilities, veterinarians, real estate sales personnel, insurance agents, manufacturers, suppliers, retailers and on and on.

Tourism for Texas: Millions, millions and millions of Texas dollars go out of state each year to New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana as Texans take their dollars to watch pari-mutuel horse racing. Texas would enjoy a halt of Texas dollars leaving and new dollars coming into Texas from out-of-state tourist (after all, the best racing would be in Texas).

Taxes for Texas:
- $11,415 each hour in new tax revenue;
- $274,000 each day;
- $100,000,000 annually in pari-mutuel taxes paid to the Texas Treasury (according to Bob Bullock, Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts);
- $5,000,000 in sales taxes from concessions sales at the race tracks;
- $7,000,000 annually in race track property taxes.

Industry for Texas: With pari-mutuel horse racing in Texas comes an increase in horse breeding and training farms, farm land use and requirements for agricultural products. Over $112,000,000 will be spent for improved and new horse breeding and training facilities.

Agriculture for Texas: Pari-mutuel horse racing in Texas will require more Texas grown corn, feed, hay, oats, alfalfa, milo, soybeans and forage seeds. More than $500,000,000 annually would be put into our Texas farm economy (according to Texas Department of Agriculture).

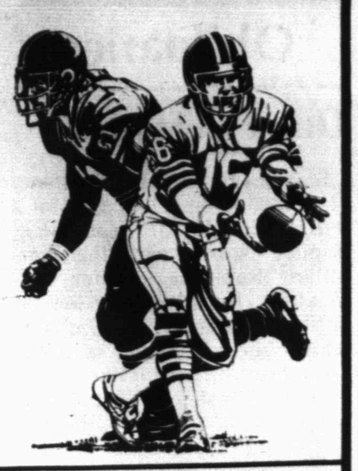

Pari-Mutuel horse racing . . . Good for Texas . . . And for Texans!
Vote "YES" November 3, 1987—Let the Horses Run!

Then clip out the entry blank and send it to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, SNYDER DAILY NEWS, BOX 949, or bring your entry by the News Office. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 12 o'clock noon, Friday. Games ending in a tie must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

To avoid splitting the prize money a TIE-BREAKER slot will be provided on each entry blank. Pick the score for that game only and in case of a tie the one who picks the winner and the nearest number of total points will receive the prize money. The same formula will apply to second prize winners. In case of a tie for a perfect score, the same formula would apply.

There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted for any one person. More than one will disqualify all the person's entries. Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing except in the case of the tie-breaker. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number and watch for the story in next Tuesday's SDN. Employees of the Snyder Daily News and their families are not eligible to enter.

Vote Yes Proposition 8

PROGRESS

Looking to the future.

Tuesday, Nov. 3 Texas State Constitutional Amendment Election

Proposition 8 on the ballot may have a direct impact on Scurry County and efforts to locate a Texas Department of Corrections facility here. The proposition calls for the issuance of up to $500 million in general obligation bonds to finance projects for three state agencies--including the TDC.

This is the most economical method of financing for the state. Prisons will be built in Texas because of federal court orders. Scurry County citizens should again show their support for prisons by voting Yes on Proposition 8.

Members of the Economic Development Committee of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce believes that a big turnout of votes in favor of Proposition 8 will once again be a signal to TDC officials of local citizens' interest in the prison system.
