NEW DEAL NEWS

Trustee election is set for April 7. Terms of E. W. Smith and R. E. Myers expire. Ballot for the election has not been announced. Other members of the board are G. G. Flinn, Troy Edwards, E. D. Worthan, B. B. Christie and B. E. Attebury.

New Deal school will have entries in the district interschoastic league meet at Lubbock Apri 6-7.

New Deal junior class play is tentatively set for March 30.

Fires Friday at New Deal school and Ran Smith dairy resulted in minor damage, Lubbock firemen reported. The school fire was extinguished before it could break out of a broom and mop closet. The alarm was given at 9:30 o'clock. Newly ground feed began smouldering in the loft of a barn at the dairy.

J. Harrell, 7, of Monroe, has been released from Lubbock General hospital where he underwent surgery last Saturday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Exum.

NEW DEAL AG SHOP IS BIG AID TO FARMERS

Now that commercial shops are so far behind in their work, farmers and residents of the New Deal Independent School district have found an answer to their shop problems.

More than 90 farmers have made use of the New Deal vocational agriculture shop since it opened last September. There everything from tractors and trucks to plows and windmills have been repaired.

The shop affords an abundance of equipment with which to work, such as acetylene and electric arc welding esuipment, blacksmithn equipment, electric drill and press drills.

Farmers can do their own work or be assisted in repair work by the shop personnel, which includes Dean Havins, shop instructor and Louis Ponder, helper. Sherman E. Taylor, New Deal vocational agriculture teacher, is supervising.

Gallant Action Earns Silver Star For Sergeant Lige 'Sonny' Embry

AN AMERICAN AIRBORNE BASE IN FRANCE—(Delayed) — Sgt. Lige Embry, Parachute Infantry, while serving with the Army of the United States, was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action.

On 17 September 1944, in the vicinity of Best, Holland, while under heavy enemy fire and imminent danger of capture, he administered first aid to three of his seriously wounded comrades. Sgt. Embry hid the men in a nearby woods and after his section had safely reached friendly forces he returned through the enemy lines to evacuate the wounded men. Because of their condition, his return journey was necessarily slow. Sgt. Embry went without sleep and food, avoiding enemy searching parties for over 20 hours while he worked under heavy fire to return the wounded men to friendly forces. Sgt. Embry's outstanding heroism, his determination and devotion to duty exemplify the highest standards of the military service.

Sgt. Embry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilce Embry, Rt. 2, Abernathy, is a veteran of D-Day in Normandy, of the September airborne invasion of Holland, and of the 101st Airborne Division's epic defense of Bastogne, Belgium. A farmer in civilian life, Embry is now a platoon sergeant of a parachute infantry platoon. In addition to the Silver Star, he wears the Presidential Unit Citation with cluster, the Combat Infantry badge, and the European Theatre of Operations ribbon.

School Census Being Taken

According to an announcement in this Review by Supt. W. V. Swinburn and M. L. Seay, school business manager, the census for Abernathy Consolidated County Line Independent school district is being taken. Final date for this work is April 1.

It is the responsibility of parents to see that their school children are enumerated. No one will be able to call on you to secure the names due to gas and tire shortages, so you are asked to see Swinburn or Seay, and turn in names of your children.

The more students enumerated, the more state money will be received for local schools, so it is to the interest of everyone to see that every child of school age is enumerated.

Methodist Plan Pre-Easter Revival

Plans are being made for Pre-Easter services to be held each night of next week at 8:30 p. m. The Cross should mean more to us than ever before; the suffering of our day should make us turn again to that other time of suffering, when the Son of Man, and of God, suffered that all might have life, and that Eternal. So, will you make Holy Week a quiet week, and be at the services. The plan is to make these services brief, and informal.

We are announcing a class of instruction for children, to start next Monday. Ask about it through your Sunday school teachers.

Easter Sunday morning, a few minutes before sunrise, a service will start on the lawn south of the church. It will be concluded just after sunrise. You are invited to come and start Easter morn with song and prayer.

Schedule for services:

Sunday school, 10 a. m.; preaching 11 a. m.; Leagues, 8 p. m.; preaching, 8:30 p. m.; Women's Society, 3 p. m., Monday; prayermeeting, 8:30 p. m., Wednesday.

Mrs. W. H. Ray is Killed In Grade Crossing Accident

Mrs. W. H. Ray, 39, a teacher in Abernathy school, was fatally injured at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday night last week when her pickup truck was hit by a south-bound Santa Fe passenger train at the north edge of town.

O. Rutledge, Abernathy city marshal, said that he was informed Mrs. Ray had driven across the track a few minutes previously, on her way home, three miles east of Abernathy, but had turned around and had started back to town — presumably for a cream can which was at Abernathy Produce. Alvin Hardin, one of the produce station operators, saw Mrs. Ray driving down the street, and, expecting her to call for it, he got the cream can to take to the pickup, but she did not stop.

Pickup is Wrecked

The train evidently struck the front part of the vehicle, Rutledge said, although the entire pickup was wrecked. Mrs. Ray, her body badly broken, was found about 50 feet from the crossng, according to W. W. Hockett of Dallas, a passenger on the train.

Hockett said that he had observed the pickup on the road parallel with the track, running slightly ahead of the locomotive. The woman turned west, he related, and drove the approximately 25 to 30 feet to the track apparently oblivious of the approaching train, although the engineer was "bearing down on the whistle."The train's brakes were applied, he said, when the crash seemed imminent, but to no avail.

Lives Short Time

She died 20 or 30 minutes later at the Abernathy depot despite miristrations of Dr. W. H. Girdner, local physician.

Arno Struve, manager of Struve cheese factory, witnessed the accident. He was approaching the crossing from the west and had stopped for the train.

Was Re-elected

The Rays moved from Sterling City to this community Jan. 16, 1943. Mrs. Ray, eighth grade teacher, had been re-elected for the 1945-46 term which would have been her third year on the school faculty here.

Funeral Held Friday

Funeral rites were held for Mrs. Ray Friday afternoon at Abernathy Baptist church, with the pastor, the Rev. J. Frank Nix, officiating. Rev. Frank Beauchamp, Methodist pastor, assisted. Burial was in Abernathy cemetery.

Pallbearers were Lamar McKenzie, S. M. Harrison, A. R. Knight, M. S. Stevens, Harlow Neis and W. V. Cunningham.

Girls of the eighth grade were flowerbearers.

In respect for the memory of the beloved faculty member, the school was closed all day Friday.

Survivors are her husband, two sons, Jimmy, 10, Billy Gene, 14; her mother, Mrs. Ollie Emery of Sterling City; three brothers, Joe and R. H. Emery, both of Sterling City, O. D. Emery of Progresso; two sisters, Mrs. Joe Davis of Sterling City and Mrs. B. W. McCann, Harlingen.

Bessie Emery was born June 3, 1905, at Chillicothe, Tex. She was married to W. H. Ray at Weslaco, Tex., on June 16, 1929.

Was Eastern Star Officer

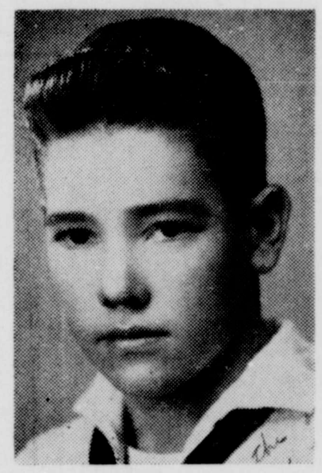

Mrs. Ray was a member of the Baptist church, and was the Associate Matron of Abernathy Chapter No. 877, Order of the Eastern Star.

NEWS STORY IN OKLAHOMA PAPER LOCATES BUDDY OF DALL LOPER

SERVES IN NAVY

WAVE Daphne Elayne Halford, S 1|c, (SK) is on duty with the navy at Oakland, Calif. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Halford, Elayne was graduated from Abernathy High school, and was employed in Lubbock when she entered navy training Aug. 7, 1944. She was stationed at the U. S. Naval Training school, Bronx, N. Y., and at Milledgeville, Ga., before going to Oakland.

Sgt. Dall Loper, who was killed on Leyte Nov. 5, had written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Loper, that he and his buddy had traded their shirts and shorts to a Philippine native for a chicken and had fried it in their mess kits. Dall did not mention his buddy's name, but did state that he lived at Elk City, Okla.

In an effort to locate their son's buddy, Mr. and Mrs. Loper wrote the postmaster at Elk City. The letter, giving information about Dall and the chicken fry incident was printed in the Elk City Journal, Feb. 8. On the morning the paper was mailed, Pfc. Alvin Rylant, with one foot still bandaged, entered the Journal office and told the staff that he was the soldier the Lopers were seeking.

Mrs. W. G Smith, "Stars and Stripes" and society editor of the Journal, and wife of the owner and publisher, wrote the Lopers that he had been located and would be glad to give them any facts he knew about their son's death. Mrs. Smith urged Mr. and Mrs. Loper to come to Elk City to talk with Rylant. She further stated in the letter that she would be happy to have the Lopers as her guests while they were in Elk City.

Following are excerpts from an article printed in the Elk City Journal, Feb. 15. It was wrtten by Jay Bee Miller:

"Tuesday, Mrs. Smith received a telegram from Mr. and Mrs. Loper that they were on their way to Elk City. They arrived on the evening train Tuesday and were taken to the Smith home on West Fifth where Pfc. Rylant and his parents met Mr. and Mrs. Loper and the details of the companionship between the two boys, their service together and the tragic ending of their friendship were revealed by Pfc. Rylant. Thus the parents were able to learn to the most minute degree the life their son lived and the death he died and many misgivings put to flight.

"It was on the morning of November 6th, at 3 o'clock when the shell exploded which sent Loper to his death and Rylant to the hospital. Rylant says a group of U. S. Infantry had been cut off from the main body of troops and were fighting their way back to their outfit, when the Japs made a vicious attack. Four of the boys in Rylant's squad were killed and five wounded, Loper being one of the five to receive the final summons.

"In speaking of the incident of the chicken, Rylant says he and Loper traded their shorts and shirts to natives for the chicken, which they cooked in their mess kits and which they enjoyed so much. He says Loper was not only a swell buddy, but popular with the entire bunch, and it seems difficult for him to talk of the incident. In fact he is reluctant to discuss his service at any length."

Mr. and Mrs. Loper expressed their appreciation for the service rendered them by the Journal and for the hospitality of the Smiths while they were in Elk City.

GOT IT OVER WITH

Lily Pons, the opera star, used to suffer from actue stage fright before every performance. One night she was to sing in an outdoor concert before a tremendous audience. The weather was threatening, and the management could not decide whether to hold the concert or call it off. Every few minutes bulletins were brought into the star's dressing room. The concert would be called off. It would go on as scheduled. It would be called off.

In the meantime Miss Pons had such a severe attack of the jitters, she was forced to lie down. She was still resting when it was definitely announced that the concert would be held.

"But Miss Pons cannot perform tonight," said a friend. "She is too upset."

"Oh, I might as well sing," decided the tiny soprano. "I've already had my dizzy spell."

DISH THE DIRT

Mr.—You know her to speak to?
Mrs.—Oh, no, only to talk about!

Hard on the Ears

Jones—It must be terrible to be a singer and realize you can never sing again.

Smith—Yes, but it's much worse when a singer doesn't realize it!

All Quiet!

Nit—There's one driver who never has to worry about back-seat driving.

Wit—You mean the driver of that hearse over there?

What Counts!

Jack—I can't see why they make so much fuss about Kate's voice. Janet has a much richer voice.

Mac—Yeah! But Kate's father is much richer!

On Loan

Harry—Did I leave an umbrella here last night?

Jerry—What kind of an umbrella?

Harry—Oh, any kind. I'm not fussy.

Perfect Imitation

Her—What do you think of women who imitate men?

Him—They're idiots!

Her—Then the imitation is successful.

Mutual Relief

Housewife — If that's Mrs. White at the door, tell her I'm not in.

Maid—It was, ma'am, and she was very glad to hear it.

Nice to Know

May—Well, there's one thing about Joe, he dresses like a gentleman.

Belle—Well, I never saw him dressing!

Perfect Location

Harry—Do you think this is a good place to make an honest living?

Jerry—Well, there's not much competition!

Retort Courteous

Landlady—I suppose you've found something fresh to complain about.

Boarder—No, it's the eggs!

QUICK START!

Strong—The first time you contradict me I'm going to kiss you!

Weak—You are not!

Election Year

Father—I hope there was none of this petting and stuff when you and that fellow went out the other night.

Daughter—Of course not, Dad. We just got our heads together and tried to settle whom we ought to vote for.

Tit for Tat

Traveler—What's the use of having time tables if your trains don't run according to them?

Agent—How would you know they were off schedule if you didn't have a time table?

HARD TO DECIDE

Calvin Coolidge and some friends were exchanging opinions about a senator's unusual speech methods.

"I remember when I heard him addressing an audience," said someone. "The senator ended his harangue by saying, 'I have just given you all the facts. Now you can vote for me or go to hell.' "

Coolidge looked up for a minute and said:

"It was a difficult choice."

INCLUDING A CLOCK

Pvt.—I wore her picture over my heart, and it stopped a Jap bullet!

Sarge—Yes, I saw her picture. It would stop anything!

Maid to Order

New Maid—When you're out shopping, ma'am, will you buy a mousetrap?

Housewife—But I bought one just yesterday.

New Maid — Yes, ma'am, but there's a mouse in that one!

Not Quite Blind

Accepted—Have you ever loved anyone before?

Accepting—No, Tom. I've admired other men for their strength, intelligence, courage or something like that, but with you, it's love—nothing else!

Just Another Pane!

Sonny—Pop, may I have a dollar to go window-shopping?

Dad—You don't need any money for window-shopping.

Sonny—Well, you see it's for Mrs Brown's window that I broke!

Fair Exchange

Jones (listening to speaker)—You know, it's wonderful the way he brings things home to you that you never thought of before.

Smith—Yeah, he reminds me of my laundryman!

Kitty!

Jane—You know he's the sweetest thing. He says things to me no one else would ever think of saying!

Joan—What's he been up to now—asking you to marry him?

Knock Knock

Jones—I wonder why Brown talks to himself all the time?

Smith—I understand he likes to talk to a smart guy, and he likes to hear a smart guy talk!

Inflation!

Joe—I sure miss the good old dime novel.

Bill—Yeah. Now, you have to pay three bucks for the same thing.

Real Trouble!

Old Lady—Are you quite sure this train is going to Chicago?

Conductor—Well, if it isn't, lady, I'm in a worse mess than you are!

Music Score

Jimmy—Our school band is going to play Beethoven this Saturday.

Johnny—Oh, they are! I hope you win!

Very Close!

Jack—That's quite a bump you've got on your forehead!

Mac—Oh, next to nothing—next to nothing!

IT'S A PLEASURE

Him—Don't you hate people who talk behind your back?

Her—Especially at the movies!

Puns and Apples

Nit—What kind of apples are those?

Wit—Summer Delicious.

Nit—And what are the others?

Galleon to You!

Teacher—What was the most surprising thing that Columbus did?

Student—He made 3,000 miles on a gallon!

And a Straw?

Diner—And I'll have a Scotch and soda.

Waitress—Yes, sir. Straight or with ginger ale?

Taking Ways!

Joe—Why are you washing your spoon in your finger bowl?

Bill—So I won't get egg all over my pocket!

Skip the Tip

Diner—A glass of water, please.

Waiter—To drink, sir?

Diner—No, of course not, I'm just going to wash my feet!

Nothing There!

Nit—Why don't you use the other straw?

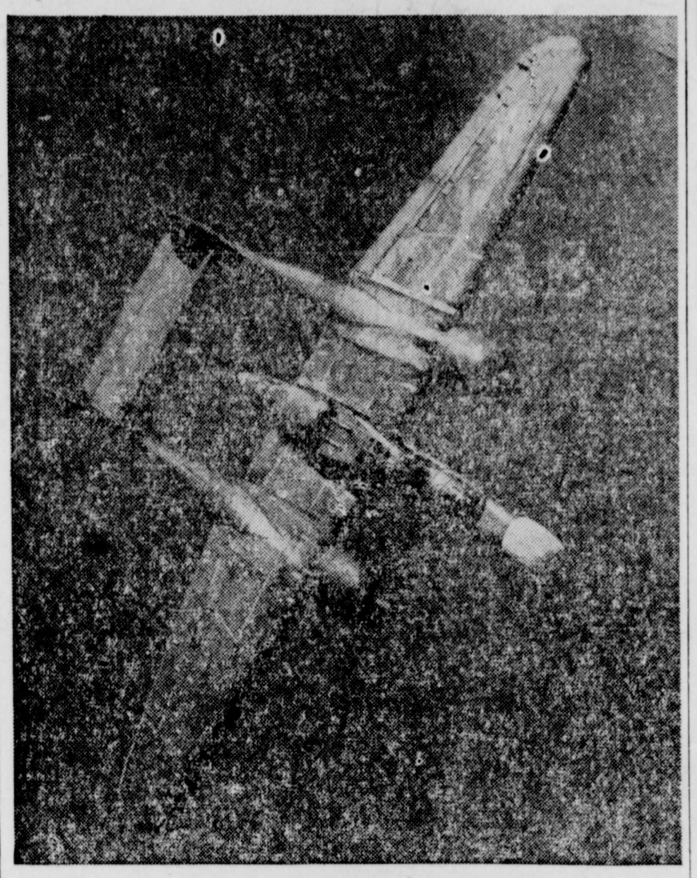

Wit—This one isn't empty yet!

Hard to Say

Harry—Do you like to sleep?

Jerry—Well, I don't know. I never stayed awake to find out.

Mysterious 'Black Widow's' Secrets Disclosed

ONE of the war's best kept secrets has lately been revealed, at least in part. This is a detailed description of the P-61, "Black Widow," the world's largest and most powerful pursuit plane. This strange appearing two-motored fighter was designed early in 1941 to combat the German raiders that were then blasting London by night. The Black Widow, in fact, was the first plane developed exclusively for night flying. It was named after the extremely poisonous "Black Widow" spider.

Although the blitz on London slackened to nuisance raids before the Black Widow got into action, this mighty air weapon has been found invaluable on many sorts of missions. Black Widows are ripping German supply columns as they try to advance under cover of darkness; others, in distant South Pacific theaters, are shooting down Jap bombers from the night skies. Because of its detection equipment, it can be used for patrol and scouting missions at night.

The Black Widow (it is painted a glossy black so that it will be almost invisible by night) is as large as a medium bomber, and heavier than a pre-war standard transport. Its two 2,000-horsepower Pratt and Whitney engines, turning four-bladed propellors give a speed that can keep pace with any pursuit ship.

Armament consists of .50 caliber machine guns and 20mm. cannon. Its firepower is so great that it can blast any plane to destruction. Nothing but a concrete pillbox can withstand its assault. The ammunition boxes and other vital parts are protected from enemy bullets by armor plate and deflector plates. The crew are likewise safeguarded by armor and bullet-proof glass.

A pilot, a gunner and a radio operator make up the crew. In emergencies the gunner can take over the flying controls. The radio man also fires some of the guns when need arises.

More technical information is given in these excerpts from the "Fact Sheet."

GENERAL DESCRIPTION

The P-61 is an all-metal, twin-engine, three-place, midwing, night interceptor monoplane with two tail booms, fully retractable tricycle landing gear and heavy armament. The three man crew is fully enclosed in a crew nacelle located between the two engine nacelles, which are of monocoque construction.

The Wings.

Wings are of stressed skin two-spar cantilever structure composed of two inner panels, two outer panels and two tip panels bolted together by internal fittings accessible through removable doors. The two spars—among the largest extrusions in the world — continue through the crew nacelle.

Tail Group.

The tail group consists of two fins and two rudders, connected by a stabilizer and an elevator. Entire tail group is supported by two monocoque tail booms attached to the engine nacelles.

Landing Gear Group.

The nose gear is of the half-fork type which folds aft and up into the crew nacelle by hydraulic action. Mechanically operated doors seal the opening after retraction.

The main gear consists of two wheel and brake assemblies and two shock strut assemblies which retract aft and up into the engine nacelles. In retracted position, hydraulically operated doors cover wheel wells.

Brakes are dual hydraulic disc type, installed on each main gear wheel.

Power Plant.

The two Pratt and Whitney model R-2800 two stage, two speed supercharged engines are designed to operate on 100 octane fuel. Each engine is equipped with an injection carburetor. These engines develop 2000 horsepower "plus."

Two Curtiss-Wright electric, full feathering four-bladed propellers, 12 feet, 2 inches in diameter, drive the plane. Propeller blade angle is controlled automatically or by manual selection.

The landing flap is an innovation. The Black Widow has the first full span landing flap, combined with entirely new type of aileron—a scoop or spoiler which retracts into the upper aft section of the wing.

EQUIPMENT.

Instrument lighting consists of two fluorescent bulbs which cause instrument faces to glow in the darkness, located each side of cockpit.

The landing lights are electrically retractable, mounted undersurface of each outer wing panel.

The emergency air brake system operates from a storage bottle which shoots air into brake lines, forcing brakes on.

Night binoculars, a secret device, are electric. Mounted on arm, they are swung into place aft of pilot's armor glass.

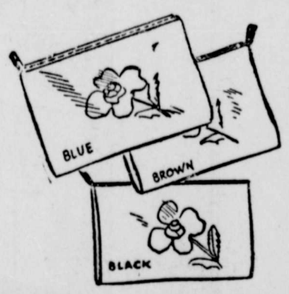

Oxygen inhalation apparatus is located on right side of crew nacelle in each compartment for every member of crew.

The automatic pilot operates by pressure from the main hydraulic system.

An individual heater is provided for each crew member.

FOOLIN' WITH FELT

Now's the time to dream up some Christmas quickies—those last-minute gifts that are quick to make and easy on the budget. The things you can make out of an old felt hat or two would positively amaze you. Every one is a tried and tested trick for teens—fun to make and more fun to receive.

Up to Your Ears — Tricky earmuffs make darling gifts for your favorite girl friends. Make them out of large soft powder puffs, which you cover with discs of felt and attach to a braided yarn band that is worn over the hair and tied under the chin. Embroider the felt coverings on the puffs or trim 'em up with contrasting appliques.

For Gals Who Wear Glasses — How about an eyeglass case made of felt? If she wears Harlequin specs, cut the case in corresponding pixie shape. Sequin eyes with looped thread lashes make a cute trim, especially if they're winking.

Hands Up—It's easy to make a pair of gay mittens out of felt. Cut around the shape of your hand for a pattern. Whip together with contrasting wool and trim to suit your fancy—in fact, the fancier the better.

Scrap-Happy Books — Use your own school books for patterns and make a set of covers out of bits of felt, sewn together in patchwork effect with contrasting yarn. An unusual and useful gift for any girl in your class. Well, Miss Nimble Thimble, thread up your needle and get busy! Tim's a-wastin'.

PIN-UP PILLOWS

First you wore your goofy gadgets on your lapels; then on your sweater bottoms and now you're wearing them on little pin cushions made for this very purpose. It's so hard to keep up with your fads that we constantly ask ourselves in amazement, "How do we do it?" Maybe some whiz kid can give us the answer.

It's the Nuts—Take a half walnut shell; shine it up by coating of colorless or red nail polish—then stuff it with cotton and paste a scrap of colorful fabric across the top. Stick your gadget pins into this nutty cushion and pin the cushion, itself, to your lapel or sweater.

Wrist Twist—Make a little heart out of felt; stuff it well and sew a narrow velvet ribbon or a strip of felt to either side. Tie securely around your wrist and wear your favorite gadget pins in the little heart-shaped cushion.

Nimble Thimbles—Buy some plastic thimbles in assorted colors; bore a little hole in the side of each, and string on yarn in tassel cluster effect. Turn each thimble into a miniature pin cushion with stuffing and a piece of fabric over the top or with a cork, tightly wedged inside. Stick your favorite pins in each thimble and wear on your lapel or beanie.

TELEPHONE ACCENTS

"When I sit down to telephone,"
Thus started in old Andrew Sloan,
"I hear a female voice intone,
'What is your number, plee-ez!'

I then state in an accent clear,
'Give me three-oh-nine-Belvidere.
I want it ere I'm old and sere,
Like leaves that fall from tree-ez.'
'Did you say, three-oh-ni-en sir,'
Comes o'er the line her creamy purr,
In voice to calm my ruffled fur,
'Or was it three-oh-fi-ev?'
I yell in tone line Stentor old,
While I my heated temper hold,
'My little one, with voice of gold—
You think I'm dumb or nai-ev?'
Oh, how it does me irritate,
When I give out my number straight
A simple three, or nine, or eight—
In this I am not lyin';
To hear the operator say,
In, to me, an affected way,
At end of hard and heavy day,
'Did you say, 'three-oh-ni-en?' "

Weakening and Ruin Of Subject Peoples Is Nazi Objective

Professor States Germany Intends to Remain on Top.

Germany, whether it won or lost the war, aimed to dominate Europe through the practice of "genocide," declares Prof. Raphael Lemkin of Duke U., noted Polish scholar and attorney, in a volume entitled "Axis Rule in Occupied Europe," published by the Columbia U. Press.

"Genocide," the practice of extermination of nations and ethnic groups as carried out by the invaders, is effected through a synchronized attack on different aspects of life of the captive peoples, political, social, spiritual, cultural, economic and biological, it is explained.

Professor Lemkin, in a work of more than 600 pages, assembles the texts of laws and decrees of the Axis powers, and of their puppet regimes, issued for the government of the areas occupied by their military forces in Europe. He analyzes the purposes and application of the measures as parts of the general scheme of conquest.

"The Nazis have formulated as law, dictates which are in fact very grave outrages against humanity and international law, against human rights, morality, and religion. One finds in them, for example, evidence in the form of provisions for confiscations of private property based upon a presumption of future guilt, and for the prohibition of the use of their own languge by the population of an occupied country, and such evidence of moral debasement as clauses providing for subsidies to women of subjugated peoples for having illegitimate children by members of the Wehrmacht.

"These laws of occupation were promulgated not only by the Axis partners themselves but also by puppet regimes and puppet states, which were established in Norway, Serbia, Croatia, Slovakia, the Protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia, and to a certain extent in Vichy France, as well as by the secretaries general of the ministries in Belgium and the Netherlands."

The picture of coordinated German techniques of occupation must lead to the conclusion that the German occupant has embarked upon a gigantic scheme to change, in favor of Germany, the balance of biological forces between it and the captive nations for many years to come, the author asserts.

"The objective of this scheme is to destroy or to cripple the subjugated peoples in their development so that, even in the case of Germany's military defeat, it will be in a position to deal with other European nations from the vantage point of numerical, physical, and economic superiority.

"Despite the bombings of Germany, this German superiority will be fully evident after hostilities have ceased and for many years to follow, when, due to the present disastrous state of nourishment and health in the occupied countries, we shall see in such countries a stunted postwar generation, survivors of the ill-fed children of these war years."

What to Do

By PHYLLIS BELMONT

Some decorator's color tricks that will help to increase or decrease the apparent size of your rooms are a convenient thing to know. Here are a few suggestions.

To make a high ceiling seem lower—use a dark color for the ceiling.

If you have a long, narrow room—the two end walls in a darker shade than the side walls will make your room appear more nearly square.

For drama and excitement use bold, striking effects. Use bold stripes or strong contrast in decided colors.

For a restful spot—use grayed subdued colors with no strong contrasts.

To make your room seem large paint the walls and woodwork the same color—and use light, rather subdued tones.

Chinese Graduated From American Bomb School

PUEBLO, COLO. — The first all-Chinese aerial bombardment crews to be graduated in this country are now ready to fly American bombers in action against the Japanese.

Ten of these crews, trained at the Pueblo army air base, received their diplomas in ceremonies recently. This is the only base in the United States where the Chinese are trained as heavy bombardment teams.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS TO: H. T. Barnes, GREETING: You are commanded to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance this citation, the same being Monday, the 9th day of April, A. D., 1945, at or before 10 o'clock. A M., before the Honorable District Court of Hale County, at the Courthouse in Plainview, Texas.

Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 23 day of February, 1945. The file number of said suit being No. 5807. The names of the parties in said suit are: Mrs. E. J. Barnes, as Plaintiff, and H. T. Barnes, as Defendant. The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to wit:

Suit for divorce; plaintiff alleges that she and defendant were married in January, 1938, and continued to live together as husband and wife until in May, 1943, when by reason of the cruel and harsh treatment and improper conduct of defendant towards plaintiff, she was compelled to permanently separate from him, since which time, they have not lived together as husband and wife, and further living with him is insupportable. A boy now five years of age was born to this marriage, now living with plaintiff, and she asks the court for the exclusive care and custody of him; that defendant is able to contribute to his support, and she asks that he be adjudged to make regular payments for this purpose.

Marriage relations still exist and she asks the court that he be cited to appear and answer herein; that upon hearing, she be granted a divorce.

If this citation is not served within 90 days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved. Issued ths 23rd day of February, A. D., 1945. Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Plainview, Texas, this 23rd day of February, A. D., 1945. (Seal.)

Some day.. YOU CAN HAVE A NEW GAS KITCHEN LIKE THIS!

THE NEW FREEDOM GAS KITCHEN WILL BE AVAILABLE WHEN PEACE RETURNS

There is no fuel so fast, so economical as gas. For cooking, refrigeration, home heating, water heating and air conditioning, gas is best.

IF YOU ARE planning a new home or the remodeling of your present one—start with the kitchen. Here the average homemaker spends most of her working hours. Here she prepares and cooks the family meals, washes the dishes, and in many instances does the weekly washing. The kitchen is truly the most important room in the home. It should be planned to save needless steps, and arranged to provide an atmosphere of cheerful, modern living. The New Freedom Gas Kitchen with its efficient gas range, gas refrigerator and other easy-to-use appliances transforms kitchen drudgery into pleasure.

Dear Buford: How are all the good old Abernathy people getting along? Buford, I guess the Review has lost trace of me. It has been five or six months since I received a copy—the longest I have gone without getting it. Hope it starts coming soon, 'cause it's the only way a person has to keep up with all the boys from there who are in service . . . Buford, I guess I told you about being wounded the first of October—in the right arm. It's o. k. now, but hurts occasionally. I went back to the front, but I just couldn't take it and was returned to the hospital. I am now working behind the lines. There's a job over here for everyone, and the harder we work the sooner this war will be over—and we can come home! We want to really finish the job this time, so we wont have to come back over in a few years to do it again. Tell everyone at home to keep working hard and to keep buying War Bonds —As ever, Pvt. T. R. Lusk.

Dear Buford, Howard has been moved to a hospital in England. Lynn went to see him on 22 Feb. What a reunion for them both! Howard had received only one letter from the states. He would be glad to hear from you. His leg is in a bad condition. The doctor's don't seem to know what is the trouble. As ever, Mrs. A. M. Medlin, Rt. 1, Prairie Grove, Ark.

Dear Buford: — I arrived at this place last Wednesday and it's so far back in the woods that we had to send a scouting party ahead to find it. I wouldn't trade the worst part of Texas for all I've seen of Mo.

No one seems to know what we are going to do or how long we will be here. We haven't done anything but eat and sleep since we got here. Very few of the boys have been here more than two weeks. They are coming from every state in the U. S. A. There was plenty of ice and some snow yesterday but the sun is shining today. I don't know much news to write this time. I just hope I'm out of this place as soon as possible. Would you send me a paper to my new address? I sure miss it. Thanks. Sincerely, Sgt. James P. Daniel, Co. D, 30th Engr. Tng. Bn., Ft. Good Electric Service From Us . . .

costs so little . . . does so much

No other home in the nation has any better electric service than you enjoy in yours. Regardless of size, no other community in America offers any more advantages, electrically, than those offered to the territory served by the Southwestern Public Service Company.

Even more important is the trained, experienced organization of loyal employees who serve you. Nothing has been spared — in the use of men and money—to give you the very best.

The Southwestern Public Service Company and its employees, believe firmly that the territory it serves is entitled to the best—and it gets it!

Legal Notice —

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO: Mary L. Cox, GREETING:

You are commanded to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this citation, the same being Monday, the 23rd day of April, A. D., 1945, at or before 10 o'clock A. M., before the Honorable District Court of Hale County, at the Court House in Plainview, Texas. Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 10th day of March, 1945. The file number of said suit being No. 5814. The names of the parties in said suit are David L. Cox, as Plaintiff, and Mary L. Cox, as Defendant. The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to wit: Suit for divorce; plaintiff alleging that he and defendant were legally married in September, 1938, and lived together as man and wife until in January, 1942, at which time defendant left and abandoned his plaintiff. Plaintiff further alleges that during the time they lived together he was kind, considerate and affectionate and provided for defendant, but the defendant, unmindful of her duties as a wife, on Jan. 3rd, 1942, abandoned and permanently separated from him; that more than three years have elapsed, and it is impossible for him to live with her again. Plaintiff prays that she be cited to be and appear in Court and answer this suit; that upon hearing he be granted a divorce from defendant. If this citation is not served within 90 days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved. Issued this the 10th day of March, A. D., 1945. Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Plainview, Texas, this the 10th day of March, A. D., 1945.
(Seal) ED. N. NOBLE, Clerk District Court, Hale County, Texas.

F. Clausen, manager, announced that work would probably begin soon after April 1 on rebuilding of Higginbotham-Bartlett Co. lumber yard which was destroyed by fire Jan. 31. The yard is in operation with a stock of merchandise, including lumber.

J. H. Barnett was in Dallas last week with his brother who was under treatment in a hospital there.

Employes of Southwestern Public Service Co. attended a banquet at the school lunchroom Wednesday night last week.

It's garden and flower time, and time for chickens to be penned. Complaints are coming in about chickens ruining plots that have prepared for gardens, and flower beds are being damaged, too. There is a critical food shortage in prospect in the nation and it is imperative that we all raise as much as we can in Victory Gardens this year — when you read this, stop and think—was it YOUR neighbor who came in and complained to us about YOUR chickens?

The 1945 telephone directory, with 111 listings, was distributed Friday. The last directory, issued in 1943, had 100 listings.

SURVIVORS OF DECEASED SERVICEMEN SHOULD CONTACT SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD

Survivors of deceased servicemen who worked in employment covered by the Social Security Act prior to their entrance in to the armed forces were urged to contact the nearest Social Security Board field office by Sam Leifeste, manager of the Lubbock field office.

"In addition to any benefits payable from War Risk Insurance, there may also be some payment from the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance system," Leifeste stated. "The payments," he continued, "can be made if the worker (the serviceman or woman) was insured under the Social Security plan, particularly if the deceased is survived by minor children, since monthly payments may continue until the youngest child reaches age 18."

"Delay in filling the claim after notice of death is received may result in some loss of benefit by the survivor," Leifeste added.

Dear Buford: Perhaps my waiting so long to write you will lead you to think that I do not appreciate what you have done for me by sending me the Review, but I assure you that I really do appreciate it and I know that all of the other boys do. A fellow in the service never gets too much mail and the Abernathy Review is really like a letter from home, and, speaking for myself — the trouble and expense that the Review has gone to, to see that we get the paper, is something that won't be forgotten when the war is over . . . I am sending my new address, and, again, thanks a million. Pvt. Marvin Looney. (Pvt. Looney's overseas address cannot be published.)

Philippines, Feb. 20, 1945

Dear Buford: I'm sorry to be so late in thanking you and Miss Merritt for the nice Christmas card, but I was aboard ship during the holidays and haven't had much time for writing since landing here in the Philippines . . . I would also like to thank the Men's Downtown Bible class and Rev. Nix for the cards they sent. I received letters from several people at home during Christmas and I certainly think our town and the people there are something worthwhile to fight for, and to come back to . . . I saw General MacArthur a couple of weeks ago. His jeep was right behind a truck I was riding in, so I got a pretty good look at him and all five stars General Kreuger, a Texan, is commander of the sixth army, of which we're a part, so I'm in good hands. Thank you again for the cards and the papers. Sincerely, Bob. (Pvt. Robert M. DeLaney.)
