

Rebels Drop Homecoming Game 16-0

By Diana Eudy

Weather conditions were less than favorable for the contest between Rivercrest and Harleton last Friday night. The Rebels dropped the Homecoming game 16-0. Fumbles played an important part in the game. The wet, muddy field and slippery football hampered the efforts of both teams.

In pre-game ceremonies Amber Hood was crowned Homecoming Queen for Rivercrest. She was escorted by Shane Wright. Amber received the crown from last year's queen, Leilani Barnett. Other nominees were Jerry Ann Smith escorted by Clint Stephens, Becky Brooks escorted by Michael Alford, and Michelle Stephenson escorted by Kyle Roland.

The Rebels racked up very impressive statistics but were unable to put together a scoring drive. The Rivercrest defensive squad played well throughout the contest allowing only two Wildcat scores. These scores, however, proved to be too much.

In the first quarter it looked as if the Rebs were going to have a homecoming victory, but costly fumbles kept their chances down. Rebel Quarterback Bobby Thomas connected on a series of first down passes to Kyle Roland and James Anderson. Despite the efforts of the Rebel offense, they were unable to score. Their opponent didn't fare any better though as the tough Rebel defense contained their efforts.

During the second period the Wildcats tried the air and connected with a 78 yard combination pass and run from their 22 yard line to score.

The extra point was good—the half-time score read 7-0 in favor of Harleton.

Fumbles in the third quarter stopped the Rivercrest boys from making a score. The wildcats seemed to be always in the right place at the right time to fall on the loose ball, but the quick defensive team for the Rebs held them in check. The score remained the same—7-0.

The fourth quarter was to be the Rebs undoing. Quarterback Bobby Thomas tried to get off a pass from his own 6 yard line but was sacked in the endzone for a 2 point safety. With 4:38 left in the game the Wildcats led 9-0. The Wildcats added their last score of the night with 4:26 remaining in the final period. They returned the kickoff for a 63 yard touchdown. The extra point was good for a final score of 16-0.

Coach Gidden said, "The boys really played better than I thought. We won everything but the scoreboard. The fumbles were a major problem. The team played well overall. Shane Wright and J.D. Wright has an exceptional night on defense."

The Rebels made 27 first downs and rushed for 138 yards. The completed 8 of 21 passes for 120 yards. Their total yardage was 258. The Rebs had one interception and six fumbles. The punted one time for 12 yards and had 10 yards in penalties.

The Wildcats made 16 first downs and rushed for 102 yards. They completed one of five passes for 78 yards. Their total yardage was 180. The Wildcats had one interception and two fumbles. The punted four times for 148 yards and were penalized for 55 yards.

Electricity...it's been said how much we take it for granted many times.

Everyone knows just how much electricity means when it is knocked out by a storm or accident. We worry about how long it will be off, whether the stuff in the fridge will begin to thaw, whether the air conditioner or heating unit will be off for long.

The story about the woman who told a friend over the phone that she wouldn't be cold with the power off, she'd just pop into bed and turn on the electric blanket, is all too true.

But until pressed into service to help run the electric wires in our new house I don't think that I had ever truly appreciated the miles and miles of complex wiring that it takes to supply us with our electricity.

We all notice the big high lines running along the roads and across the countryside, but who gives a thought to the wires inside our own home?

I did, after having to decide where wall plugs for televisions, stereos, refrigerators and various other appliances were to go.

I wanted the kind of switches that can be turned on or off at two locations in a couple of places, like at the top and bottom of the stairs. Simple, eh? Guess again. I believe that at least a half acre of ground could be fenced with the wires necessary for those two switches.

Bathrooms don't take much power...right? Wait until you finish supplying power for the medicine cabinet lights, the overhead light, and the ceiling heater, not to count wall plugs!

The list of wiring goes on and on. At last tally there was well over a thousand feet of wiring in our house alone!

It's that way in just about every house....it just isn't noticed because it's all neatly packaged away behind the walls.

But don't take it for granted, just take a little count sometimes on how many wall plugs, light fixtures and other hookups are in your house.

It gives one pause, for much of what we consider as necessity the rest of the world would consider dearest luxury!

A. I. Bond Appreciation Day Set

The Johtown Missionary Baptist Church had designated Sunday, October 21, 1984 as Appreciation Day for a former pastor, Rev. A. I. Bond.

Bro. Bond served as pastor at Johtown during the years 1944-47, 1949-51, and again in 1952-54. His ministry and influence in this and surrounding communities have been and continue to be an inspiration to many.

Bro. Bond was born March 29, 1899 in the Cuthand community to Anderson and Sarah Bond. He began his long and fruitful life there and has lived in this area almost all of his life after receiving a seventh grade education at Cuthand School.

He married Nellie J. Hudson on December 29, 1918. She passed away December 13, 1983. Their children include: Howard Bond Wake Village, Floyd Bond Clarksville, Jimmy D. Bond, of Bogata, and Sybil Robinson, Winnsboro.

Bro. Bond made public his faith in Jesus Christ as Saviour in the summer of 1915 before the congregation at Maple Creek Baptist Church. Rev Ed Duffie was pastor of the Church. In 1928, Bro. Bond made known his call to the ministry and was liberated (licensed) to preach. In 1931, he was ordained to the full work of the gospel ministry by the Maple Creek Church. Rev. D.D. Miller was pastor at that time.

During the fifty-six years as a minister, Bro. Bond has served churches mainly in Red River and Bowie Counties, with some time spent in Titus County. He began attending the Red River Association in 1922 and has only missed a very few times in the last 62 years. In 1929, his name is listed in the minutes of the Association as serving as clerk and he served as clerk and treasurer of the Association several times over the years.

In 1969, he was elected as Moderator Emeritus and continues to hold that position. Among the churches he has served are: Hopewell (Red River County), New Haven, Maple Creek, Turner's Lake, Concord, Post Oak, Liberty, Johtown, Aikin Grove, Hodgson, Hopewell (Bowie County), Lydia, Old Union, and Maple Springs.

Throughout his ministry, Bro. Bond has touched many lives. The number of revivals preached, weddings preformed, and funerals conducted are unknown but surely each must be in the hundreds. During the first revival meeting he preached, twenty-two professed faith in Christ for salvation and in several meetings between fifteen and twenty professed faith.

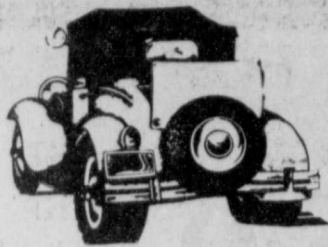

Most of the fifty-six years of his ministry, and the eighty-five years of his life, has been given to benefit others. For this reason, October 21 has been set aside to "give honor unto whom honor is due."

If you would like to join the Johtown Church in this expression of appreciation, please come. If is isn't possible for to come, perhaps you would like to make a written expression and mail it to the Johtown Baptist Church, Route 1, Box 216, Bogata, Texas before this special service.

Lunch will be served at noon in the Church Fellowship Hall and everyone will have an opportunity to visit with Bro. Bond.

Agricultural Briefs

Persons planning to use wood to heat their homes this winter should have the wood cut and drying by now. However, if the wood has not been stockpiled, there is still time to get it dry by using solar drying, says Chuck Stayton, forester-wood products for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Stayton says to select a dense wood such as red oak or hickory for best heat efficiency. Stack the wood in an open area and build a frame around the stack of wood. Fasten a sheet of plastic on the frame so that the wood is enclosed except for an opening of about six to 12 inches around the bottom of the plastic. The opening allows air to circulate under the plastic. This method will produce dry wood in approximately 30 to 60 days while normal air drying may take six months to a year.

When buying firewood, be sure of the measurement. A standard cord is 128 cubic feet or 4 feet by 4 feet by 8 feet. Another method of measuring the volume is to multiply the width times the height time the length of the stack of wood and divide the answer by 128. The result will be the number of cords in the stack.

Stayton says that ordinary fireplaces are not economical for heating houses, most of the heat is lost up the chimney. This can be corrected by using a fireplace insert which keeps most of the heat inside. The preferred insert is the catalytic type which has proven very efficient. Many wood burning stoves are also efficient, however, the newer catalytic stoves seem to be the best choice.

Take a bit of history, an appreciation for quality and craftsmanship; mix them with warmth and comfort and you have a recipe for Broyhill's country styling for today's home. The result is the country look that's just right for your home.

SEALY

Crafted of solid cherry, cherry veneers, specially selected hardwoods, and other fine wood products and finished to a rich glow with American Drew's exclusive, multi-step process.

The Nose Knows.

An aromatic chemical is added to natural gas to give it a distinct odor. One that's easy to detect.

It's this distinct odor and knowing what to do when you detect it that keeps gas safe.

If you're outdoors and smell gas, you should call your local Lone Star Gas office.

If you're indoors and detect faint whiffs, check to see if a pilot light has gone out or a burner valve has been left partially open. These are corrective steps you can take yourself.

If your equipment is working properly and you still smell gas, please follow these precautions:

1. Don't switch anything electrical on or off. Don't strike a match or do anything that could cause a spark.
2. Have everyone leave immediately, leaving door open to help ventilate.
3. Go to a nearby phone and call Lone Star.

Help us keep natural gas one of the safest energies available. Use your nose. Then use your head...and follow the proper precautions.

(Just a reminder: Before you do any digging, call your local Lone Star Gas office so they can inform you on pipe locations.)
