National Guards Keep "All Quiet" on Cleveland Front

Proof of Love

In all parts of the world, wherever she goes, a yellow rose brings proof each day to Miss Constance Ryland, Virginia beauty, that the love of Jimmy Brantley, Savannah, Ga., has not waned during the five years since she broke their engagement. Miss Ryland, pictured in her London, Eng., hotel, also receives a cable or telephone call daily from her former fiance.

3,000 RETURN TO POSITIONS IN 3 REPUBLIC MILLS

Violence Breaks Out At Warren, Niles Foundries

200 INDICTED

2 Union Organizers Are Charged With Others

CLEVELAND, July 6. (AP) — National guard bayonets and machine guns kept "all quiet" on the Cleveland front today as an estimated 3,000 men returned to work in three Republic Steel company plants.

Stormier scenes were enacted at Warren and Niles, Ohio, where several hundred union sympathizers massed along routes of the Republic mills and stoned non-strikers returning to work.

Indictments against more than 200, including two dismissed last week as SWOC organizers, were returned by the Mahoning county grand jury at Youngstown.

A warrant charging assault with intent to do bodily harm was issued in Detroit against 15 workers and the Ford company in connection with UAWA organizers being beaten May 26, as the National Labor Relations Board opened hearings on whether the company had violated the Wagner act.

VIOLENT DEATHS OVER HOLIDAY IN TEXAS TOTAL 19

Monday's Figure Is Double That of July 3-4

371 IN NATION

For the First Time, Fireworks Fail to Take Lives

Texas violent deaths for the holiday period had reached 19 Monday night, more than doubling the number reported through Saturday and Monday.

Included in the ten reported Monday were deaths of three men in the explosion of a condenser on a high-pressure gas line near Jefferson. Jim League, 84; D. R. Johnson, 27, and Ed Babbitt, 50, were the casualties.

The total for the three-day period showed: Traffic accidents, 7; drownings, 5; other causes, 1. There was not a single death from fireworks.

Also included in Monday's fatalities were three drownings and one traffic death. Henry Mendoza drowned at Orange.

Independence Day automobile fatalities mounted to a record high today, but for the first time in three decades of "safe and sane Fourth" campaigning no deaths directly attributed to fireworks were included in the total of lives lost—371—during celebration of the patriotic holiday.

Traffic accidents in 43 states killed 223 persons over the week-end, 14 more than the number killed last July 4th on the highways. Eighty drowned, and 68 others met violent deaths.

Chicago Riot Photo That Stirred Senate

(Copyright, Paramount News; Released by U. S. Senate Civil Liberties Committee.)

METEOR MISTAKEN FOR FLARES, SHIP CAPTAIN REPORTS

Hopes Had Been High After the First Messages

SEARCH SHIFTS

Location Moved 500 Miles South of Present Site

HONOLULU. July 6. (AP)— Hopes for the rescue of Amelia Earhart skyrocketed early today, then suddenly fizzled when the coast guard cutter Itasca reported it had apparently mistaken a meteor for flares from the missing plane with Miss Earhart and Fred J. Noonan, her navigator, aboard.

The search continued despite the newest disappointment, with the center scheduled to probably shift southward 500 miles from the point 280 miles north of Howland to Phoenix Islands.

The Itasca messaged it had seen flares, but later after making a thorough search said it was "probably a meteor."

Japan sent warships and planes in the area to make the third nation searching for the fliers.

Howland Islands was the objective of Miss Earhart and her navigator Fred J. Noonan, on a flight from Lae, New Guinea, last Friday. Short of fuel, harrassed by headwinds, they were cut down in their flight. Weak, garbled radio messages from the $80,000 plane did not give their position nor tell whether the ship alighted in the tropic seas are reached the comparative safety of one of the numerous tiny coral atolls.

But Sunday at 7:12 a. m. (EST) three radio operators at the Wailupe naval station heard a message they believed came from the globe-girdling plane. It was fragmentary; faint words between others that had been blotted out by static. The operators pieced it together to read: "281 north Howland. . .call KHAQQ (the call letters of the Earhart plane) . . .Beyond north. . . Don't hold with us much longer. . . Above water. . . Shut off."

George Palmer Putnam, Miss Earhart's husband, said in Oakland he believed the words "above water," indicated certainly the plane had landed on a reef, that the gasoline required to turn the right motor to provide radio transmission, was being exhausted, and that his wife and Noonan were somewhere north of Howland.

Two Reported Dead, Many Injured in Battle

HSINKING, Manchuokuo. July 6. (AP)—The Japanese army today declared they had defeated a sizeable detachment of Russian troops in a day-long battle on the Manchoukuo—Siberia border, killing two and wounding many.

The army charged that the Russians were the aggressors, and the Manchukuoan government immediately protested to the Soviet government.

Meanwhile, in Moscow, Russia protested to the Japanese ambassador against an alleged Manchoukuoan troop occupation of Bolshoi island in the Amur river in violation of a recent troop evacuation agreement.

DEATH DEMANDED FOR MURDERER OF TRIO YOUNG GIRLS

Wife Protests His Innocence After Confession

LOS ANGELES, July 6 (AP).—Prosecutors demanded the life of a whimpering, self-labeled sex-slayer of three small girls last night while his wife tearfully protested his innocence.

District Attorney Buron Fitts said he would ask the grand jury today to indict the WPA worker, Albert Dyer, 32, on the strength of his own confession he lured three little girls from an Inglewood park playground, led them one by one into a ravine and strangled them.

He then violated their bodies, Fitts said Dyer told him and several other officers. The prosecutor said he would use the confession and other evidence to bulwark his demand for a death penalty.

In a jail cell where she was placed for her own safety, Dyer's stringy-haired wife sobbed out her love for her husband.

"What did they do to him to make him confess to this," she cried. "He was a good husband. He never beat me. I love him."

In his cell, where guards were stationed against a possible suicide attempt, Dyer cowered and whimpered today and occasionally screamed.

"Don't let them get me," he once blurted, placing his hands before his eyes. "Don't let them take me back to Inglewood. They'd tear me to pieces."

Fitts said Dyer admitted he was among the first to reach the ravine after searchers found the bodies of the victims, Madeline Everett, 7, her sister, Melba, 9, and Jeanette Stephens, 8, last Monday, two days after they were killed.

WHEAT BRINGS BETTER TIMES TO THE PANHANDLE; FIRST GOOD CROP IN SIX YEARS SPREADS JOY LIKE OIL BOOM

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 6. (U.P.) —Wheat from the Texas "dust bowl" is flowing to market in a golden tide, bringing good times again to a section that has known only drouth and low prices in six years.

The "dust bowl" had its drouth in 1936 and in early 1937, but rains came to much of the area to give it the best wheat crop since 1931. Approximately 27,000,000 bushels of wheat was raised in Texas this year and sold at a price between 90 cents and $1 a bushel.

Local tradition holds that the Texas Panhandle is the place "where you can expect more wheat and raise less; and raise more wheat when you expect less, than any place in the world."

Bumper Crop Produced

Fortunately for the tenacious plains farmers, 1937 was a year that the harvest exceeded the prospect—and so did the price. Eighteen of 20 counties in the flat, high Panhandle provide most of the wheat raised in Texas. This year's crop is estimated to total from 16,000,000 to 20,000,000 bushels, and bumper crops in North Texas will boost the total yield about one-third more.

The "golden-harvest" after so many lean years caused excitement in the wheat belt that would have done justice to a gold rush or an oil boom. District court was turned out at Plainview, on the South Plains, so the jury panel could help with the harvest.

New combines, machines that cut and thresh the grain in one operation, were sold faster than they could be delivered. Trucks, automobiles, irrigation pumps and other items demanding an outlay of several hundred dollars sold briskly.

Floyd County First

Floyd county, with a yield of nearly 4,000,000 bushels, led the state in production. Four adjacent counties—Hale, Swisher, Crosby and Castro—produced nearly 6,000,000 bushels together.

Timely rains, from last fall through May brought the successful crop. "Volunteer" wheat, not planted but allowed to grow from the seed that dropped from the previous crop, yielded up to 15 bushels an acre. Irrigated wheat made from 25 to 60 bushels, and dry-land wheat from 10 to 45 bushels to an acre.

The part of Texas most commonly considered part of the "dust bowl"—the north Panhandle— enjoyed torrential rains in the late spring that revived wheat crops previously believed ruined. The rains washed out bridges, snapped gas mains, and flooded streams, but the physical damage was more than offset by the increased revenue the country received from wheat.

Wheat is a "cash crop" that farmers plant to get the money for buying their luxuries, machinery an lands. Supplementary revenue from cattle, row crops, poultry, eggs, etc. is used mainly to provide their families with a living.

Mahres, Kenneth Slack et al No. 1 Pat Wilson, western Ward Delaware test east of Quito, were that bailer had been run three times and a full bailer of high-gravity oil recovered on each run. Fluid level was determined to be between 3,300 and 3,500 feet from bottom, and bailer was run 500 to 600 feet into the fluid. Total depth of No. 1 Wilson is 5,086 feet, two feet in the Delaware sand. It has been shut down for the past two weeks, and many rumors had been circulated regarding the possible extent of its oil showing. Operators are new erecting storage tanks and preparing to set a string of 5 1/2-inch casing. Location of the prospective discovery is 1,650 feet from the southeast and 330 feet from the southwest line of section 133, block 34, H. & T. C. survey.

C. R. Mallison, Fort Worth operator, announced here today plans for a Delaware test about seven miles northwest of the town of Pecos in Reeves county. It is the No. 1 H. L. Brown and will probably be located in the center of the southwest quarter of section 62, block 4, H. & G. N. survey. The operator has assembled a 15,000-acre block for drilling the well.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Mrs. E. M. Gray, extreme western Pecos Delaware test, this morning was drilling at 6,062 feet in lime and shale. It is in section 94, block 11, G. H & S. A. survey.

In the Wasson area, Carter-Conoco No. 1 Langdon is drilling at 4,295 feet in anhydrite and lime, with showing of gas at 4,170; Amerada No. 1 Matthews topped Yates at 2,975 and is drilling at 3,546 in anhydrite and red beds; Amerada No. 1 Armstrong, bottomed at 320 in red rock, is reaming hole to set pipe at 250; Phillips and I. T. I. O. No. 1 Brand is drilling at 350 in red beds; Phillips No. 1 Wasson is building derrick; Carter No. 2 Sharp is drilling at 2,000 in red beds; Carter No. 1 McCarty Moore is drilling at 940 in red beds.

Big Yoakum Well

Large production was in prospect for the third well in the Bennett pool of southeastern Yoakum, T. P. No. 2 Bennett, as it headed large amounts of oil every five hours while waiting on shot. No estimates were available on the size of the heads. It will be shot today with 340 quarts from 5,100 to 5,271, the total depth. Main pay came in from 5,125-70.

The Texas No. 1 Walker, southwestern Yoakum wildcat eight miles northwest of Wasson pool and 12 miles southwest of the Bennett pool, topped anhydrite at 2,114, elevation of 3,656, and stopped drilling at 2,205 in anhydrite. Nine and five-eighths inch pipe was set at 2,180 with 400 sacks, and the well is standing. It is located in the center of the southeast of the southeast of section 794, block D, Gibson survey.

Magnolia No. 1 Taylor, northeast Yoakum test, is drilling lime at 4,835, while Foree et al No. 1 Poole, northwestern Terry wildcat, is drilling anhydrite at 4,510.

Wentz Well Fails

Hole full of sulphur water from 4,886-89, 4886-89, the total depth, spelled finis to Wentz Oil Corporation No. 1 P. W. Dalmont, southern Gaines wildcat two and a half miles southwest of Landreth No. 1 Kirk, the county's first producer. It will be plugged and abandoned. Both Planes Better Estimated Time For Hops

By Associated Press

Two mighty flying ships today successfully completed pioneering flights over the proposed Atlantic commercial airline route.

The American flying boat, the four-motored Pan American Clipper III, landed at Foynes, Ireland, after a 1,960 mile flight from Botwood, New Foundland, in 12 hours, 40 minutes.

The British Imperial Airways' Caledonia completed the 1,990 mile westward hop from Foynes to Botwood in 15 hours, nine minutes.

The Caledonia, of a little less than 20 tons gross weight, completed the hop to Botwood in from one to two hours sooner than it had been estimated. Captain Wilcockson had estimated his probably flying time at 16 to 17 hours.

Captain Harole E. Gray of the American transport line had voiced the hope he would be able to reach Foynes in 15 hours, 2 hours, 20 minutes longer than the flight took.

In addition to the United States and Great Britain, France and Germany have announced survey flights across the Atlantic this year, the former with the six-engined flying boat Lieutenant De Voisseau Paris and the latter with two seaplanes Nordmeer and Nordwind.

DISGUISED POLICEMEN

There is nothing startling in a picture of a motorcycle officer standing beside a motorist's car writing out a traffic violation ticket. But put that policeman in a straw hat, a turtle-necked sweater, and a pair of overalls, and you have a situation loaded with dynamite.

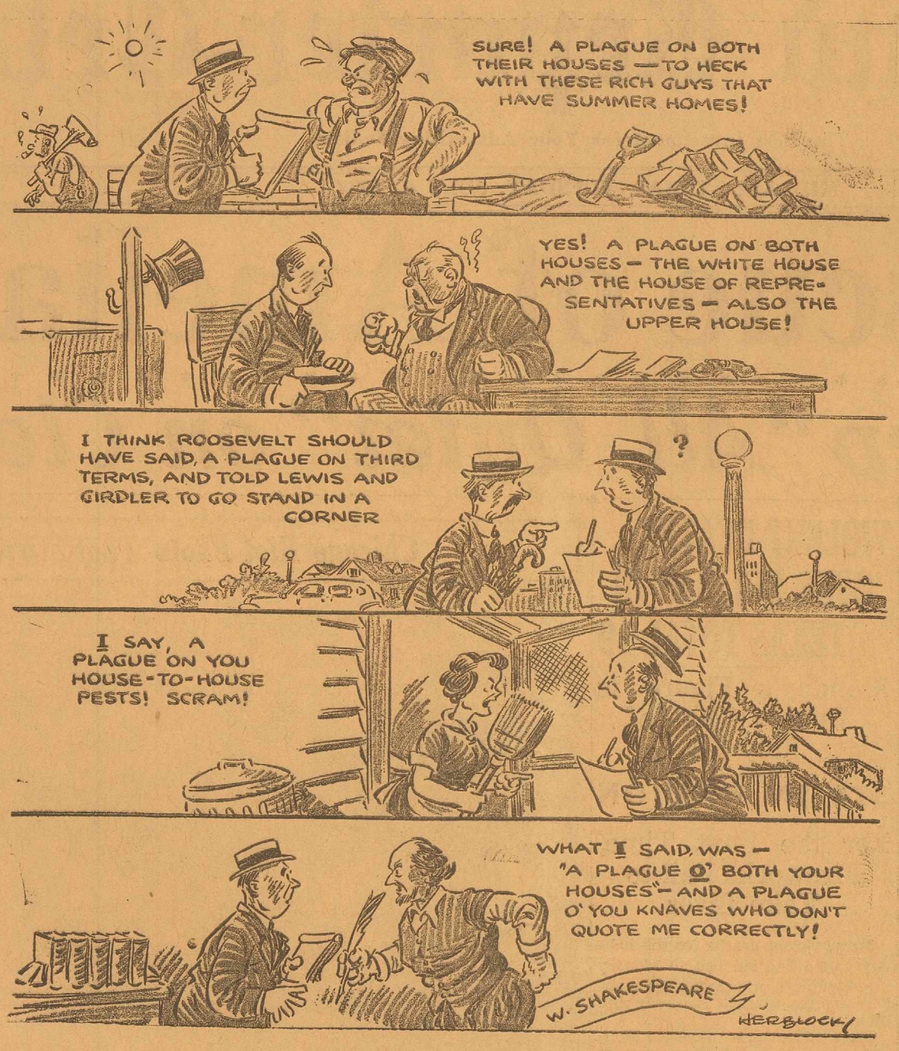

Atlanta is trying out the plan of having traffic policemen discard uniforms for civilian clothing, the better to apprehend wayward motorists. So far, it is reported, the plan is a success.

Anything that stems traffic violations and reduces the chance for accidents has some big points in its favor. But this plan, unfortunately, runs counter to the American idea for fair play, "even breaks," and hatred of any form of spying. It is a national habit to crack down on snoopers and meddlers, even unto lurking guardians of the law. For this reason alone, it will be interesting to see how long Atlanta's experiment will last.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

WASHINGTON, July 6. — The evidence is purely circumstantial, but you can build up a pretty good case to support the conclusion that C. I. O. strikes against the independent steel companies might be a case of co-operation between John L. Lewis and the U. S. Steel Corporation. The deduction is made like this:

"Big Steel" is not suffering while the plants of its competitors are closed and their customers require steel. Lewis isn't suffering either.

"Big Steel" signed a collective bargaining agreement with the C. I. O. after conference between Lewis and its chairman, Myron Taylor. So "Big Steel" isn't having any strike and is producing and profiting—full blast.

Taylor, in his position, obviously appreciated the large difference between having the U. S. Steel plants tied up in this big production year and having the independent plants tied up. There are various types of raps that corporation take when they run up against a strike of the kind waged by Mr. Lewis.

Taylor and J. P. Morgan decided to let the independents take the raps if they desired. Up to that time the independents had been subsidiaries, Jones & Laughlin and many other steel companies had signed union agreements, has certainly strengthened the hand of Lewis in the recent struggles.

Green Tests His Strength

PRESIDENT WILLIAM GREEN of the American Federataion of Labor has invited a test to determine how influential he and his organization are in Congress in these days when John Lewis is arrogating most of the abuse, praise and other publicity.

Green, on behalf of the A. F. of L. and its membership, has registered "a strong and vehement protest at the inexcusable delay in the enactment of the Wagner-Steagall low rent housing bill." He reiterates that this is "Number One Bill" on the federation's legislative program for this session. Furthermore:

"Labor stands united with every other organization representative of the public interest on one program and one demand: The enactment of the Wagner-Steagall bill as is."

Lewis obtained his "Number One Bill" in the new Guffey coal act. It now remains to be seen what Congress will do for Mr. Green.

A pet herring gull, which died in Morehead City, N. C., in 1936, had a known age of 49 years.

Snakes for Tidbits

AND perhaps you didn't know that the Department of Justice captures criminals and the criminals capture rattlesnakes and sooner or later the meat of those rattlesnakes shows up on certain tables—heaven knows where—in the form of hors d'oeuvres.

Officers and clients at a federal prison camp near Tucson, Ariz., in the Catalina mountains used to kill the snakes they encountered and throw them away. But they have discontinued that wasteful process. They capture the snakes and pass them on to a lady in Tucson what fattens, kills and cleans them and cans the meat for shipment to the east.

dead certain U. S. Steel would take the raps. They received the surprise of their lives and men like Tom Girdler of Republic Steel, Eugene Grace of Bethlehem, and Ernest Weir of National, are reported to have been hornet-mad ever since.

There were many considerations, but one in Taylor's mind was the fact that independent companies had been taking tonnage away from U. S. Steel in recent years. It was Taylor's job to build up the business of his corporation and its subsidiaries. Lewis could be useful in keeping up a rigid wage scale among U. S. Steel competitors in case he organized them. And he could be much more useful tying up their plants than tying up those of Taylor's corporation.

At any rate, Lewis convinced Taylor that he was all set to tackle U. S. Steel first and alone, and that he could put a large crimp in its production.

Whether he promised that in case U. S. Steel signed a collective bargaining agreement he would then demand contracts from the independents and call strikes if refused, can only be a matter of conjecture for the rest of us. But it was understood here that Lewis would do exactly that.

So what would you have done in Taylor's place? An explanation of why Girdler and Grace wouldn't sign with Lewis would be more complex. Unquestionably C. I. O. was more strongly organized in U. S. Steel than in Republic or Bethlehem. But the fact that U. S. Steel

July Clearance Sale at Wilson's

Wilson Dry Goods Co. announces today its annual July clearance sale, starting Thursday morning and continuing through Saturday.

All merchandise in the store will be thrown open to customers at reduced prices, according to T. R. Wilson, head of the store, with discontinuance during the sale of layaways, coupon distribution and hold tickets.

"We are giving the public a break in the face of rising prices, and for a period of this sale will offer, for cash only, hundreds of bargains," he said.

The store will remain closed all day Wednesday in final preparation for the event.

Fire Departments Urged to Send Man To State Meeting

AUSTIN, July 7. — Marvin Hall, Fire Insurance Commissioner, today urged Texas fire chiefs and city officials to cooperate in sending to the annual Firemen's Training School representatives from every fire department in the State of Texas. The school will be held at College Station from July 19 to 23.

In a letter addressed to 250 fire chiefs, Hall said: "From past experience you know that the good of this school training cannot be estimated in any monetary way. We want to urge that you make every effort to see that your city officials are informed on this subject, and that your department is represented this year."

"In addition to the benefits of specialized training involved, it will be possible for over 250 cities to receive three per cent lower fire insurance rates by sending their representatives to the school," Hall explained. "If a city is receiving credit for a recognized waterworks system and fire department, and the requirements of the Texas General Basis Schedules are complied with, there is a three per cent credit provided in the key rate for full attendance as a student and satisfactory completion of all subjects of the course."

Besides representatives of the Fire Insurance Department, there will be some twenty-five instructors at the school who are experts in the fields of fire fighting and fire prevention. Prof. H. R. Brayton of A. & M. College will be Director of the school.

"Our goal this year," Hall said, "is to top last year's record attendance of 450. Certainly, I know of no activity in which fire departments can be so profitably engaged as training themselves to be ready to serve the interests of their citizens in times of trouble."

Carolyn Urbanek On Ford Program

Carolyn Urbanek, lyric soprano, heard on the Ford "Universal Rhythm" program over CBS on Sunday nights at 9 p. m. (EST), once had the distinction of being one of the youngest pupils of Mme. Marcella Sembrich. Winning a scholarship, she later studied under Madeleine Walther at New York's Institute of Musical Art, graduating in 1933 with highest honors.

Born in Boston of Polish parentage, she was brought up in Lowell, Mass., one of six children, all with lovely voices. Carolyn showed the most promise of the Urbanek brood and was dedicated to a musical career.

On May 6, 1934, she made her debut in a recital at Jordan Hall, Boston. As a result of this recital, the Polish Society sent her on a tour of the land of her fathers. Thrilled at seeing the Poland of which her parents had told her so much, Carolyn Urbanek not only visited all the places of interest but sang in many of Poland's historical churches, cathedrals and other shrines.

Not only does Carolyn Urbanek sing all the standard recital literature—songs in English, French, Italian, German, etc—but she has a fascinating repertoire drawn from the Russian, Polish and other Slavonic languages. He oratoria experience includes the "Judas Maccabeus" and "The Messiah" of Handel, "The Creation" of Haydn, the "Elijah" of Mendelssohn, "Paradise Lost" of Rubinstein and the "Holy City" of Gaul.

However, with all her great repertoire, Carolyn Urbanek gets her greatest pleasure out of singing carols for her mother at Christmas.

"I love my career," she said, "but I think the happiest concert of the year is the family Christmas gathering at home in Boston. No one is ever missing and we sing Christmas carols for mother. She particularly likes to hear the traditional old songs associated with her childhood in Poland."

Geysers get their name from an Icelandic word signifying "to burst forth with violence"; they were first observed in Iceland.

Federated Clubs to Feature Folk Music

Folk music, American and Texan, will be the subject of a statewide program contest of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs for the 1937-38 season.

Details of the contest, in which a cash prize is offered, have been announced by Mrs. Walter S. Robertson of Dallas, state chairman of American folk songs. Mrs. Robertson who lived in San Angelo is a sister of Mrs. M. C. Cobb of Paint Rock. Because clubs must include the music programs in their printed year books, to be eligible, Mrs. Robertson is announcing the rules at this time, when the yearbook and program committees of federated clubs are completing their work for the coming season.

The prize is offered to the club presenting the cause of folk music in the most attractive and authentic manner in programs for open meetings. The contest will be carried on with district winners, selected by district folk music chairmen, and the state winner will be determined from the eight district winners. The award will be presented at the November 1938 convention.

Two Distinct Programs

Club to compete must give two distinct programs, one on American and the other on Texan folk music. Rules follow:

"It is not necessary that those taking part in the programs have membership in the club giving the program; it is necessary that these two programs, Texan Folk Music and American Folk Music, be printed in the yearbook or club calendar, but they may be in outline, or in full.

"Each district folk music chairman will judge two separate programs; a subcommittee may be selected by the district chairman, and may be selected from the city in which the club or clubs competing are located; clubs entering the contest must provide the district chairman and the state chairman of American folk songs with a copy of its yearbook; each district chairman should be a member of the subcommittee of judges; there will be only one entrant selected from each district to compete for the state prize.

"The state judging committee will be appointed by the state chairman; they will judge the eight entrants at or before the fall convention when the prize is to be awarded.

Judged By Material

"The programs will be judged by their material, which must be authentic, from the standpoint of the time element and the historic background."

Mrs. Robertson calls attention to wide variety of sources offered the student and collector of folk music in Texas.

"There is just as great a variety of musical background and authentic folk music in Texas as there is diversity of natural resources, population and history," she writes.

"Our early colonizers and settlers brought the music of their own forebears with them and adapted it to their new home. In searching for Texas folk music we can hunt out the traditional music of the Indian, the Spanish, French, Mexican, German and the Anglo-American, as well as the cowboy songs and the negro spirituals and work songs. A collector of folk music has an unlimited field in Texas. And in the final analysis, the club women of Texas can perform a great service to posterity by keeping alive the legends and facts of the cultural development, which is represented in the musical history. To that end as chairman of American folk music I urge all district chairmen and club members generally to foster programs based on Texas' own folk music, which has been enriched by the traditions of the many nations and people who have made up our state."

Fair Complexions For the Fair Sex

The fair sex is expected to be really fair this season. The revival of demure coiffures and romantic clothes calls for faces with the wholesome freshness of a china Shepherdess. No amount of cosmetics can produce this effect. A touch of rouge on cheeks and lips and a bit of eye-shadow are perfectly acceptable as accents, but petal-smooth skins can't be taken out of a box.

Cleanliness, good health, and the sparing use of cosmetics—this is the formula prescribed by the well-known dermatologist, Oscar Levin, M.D., for a clear complexion.

"It seems curious to the physician," he says, "and indeed to the intelligent layman, but the fact remains that innumerable people never use soap and water on the face. It is impossible without giving offense to condemn this filthy practice as strongly as I should wish. It is simply unspeakable and injurious. When you want to clean your face, use soap and water. It is the most valuable agent we have for keeping the skin of the face normal and healthy."

This is what leading dermatologists have been preaching for years. Reliable creams and lotions may help to lubricate the skin and to furnish a foundation for powder, but they are only effective if the skin they are applied to is immaculately clean.

Going Western the Short Way

When Reno officials decreed western garb for July Fourth, dimpled and otherwise lovely Irene Delroy came out like this, and it was a case of the queen could do no wrong. Kangaroo court officials decided going western with Miss Delroy would be a pleasure. The famous New York actress was in the Nevada city to divorce her 1932 husband, William L. Austin, Jr.

Clean Refrigerator To Keep Food Fresh

When the red line on the thermometer goes up, keep a watchful eye on the refrigerator and what goes into it. Food-spoiling bacteria thrive on heat and dirt. If perishable foods are to remain wholesome and fresh during the summer, a steady low temperature and immaculate cleanliness are more important than ever.

Don't clutter up the shelves with canned goods or staples that will keep just as well in the pantry. The most perishable foods, such as milk, cream, raw meats, and fish should always go nearest the ice or cooling chamber. Be sure to wipe off the milk and cream bottle before putting them inside. Wash all raw foods, such as vegetables and fruits, under running water before they go into the food chamber. Cooked foods should first be cooled and then placed in spotless, tightly-covered containers to keep flavors from mixing. When anything spills, mop up the soiled spot immediately with a cloth wrung out of tepid suds and wipe dry.

The inside of the refrigerator should be given a thorough going-over frequently. For most good housekeepers, this is a routine part of the weekly cleaning schedule. Remove the food, take out the shelves, and scrub them with warm water and plenty of soap. Use thick, tepid suds for the walls and the door of the food chamber, working the soap well into the corners where decayed bits of food may be concealed. Rinse with tepid water and dry thoroughly before replacing shelves and food. If your refrigerator is the old-fashioned kind, scrubbing the ice chest and scalding the drain pipe is an important part of the cleaning job.

The outside of the refrigerator, like all kitchen furnishings, should always be kept clean and shining.

Faintly Startled by Film Success

When the rushes for Jane Wyman's first starring picture were being shown in Hollywood, Jane, above, practically stole the show from herself. She fainted. Doctors said it was due to excitement over the big occasion and to the strain of work that had carried Jane from radio singing to movie success within a year.

Half Million See Pan-American Show

DALLAS. July 7. — Pushing attendance figures above the half-million mark with celebration of the Fourth of July holidays, the Pan American Exposition turns to the opening of its second month's run with an enlarged program of entertainment and a host of added attractions and new exhibits.

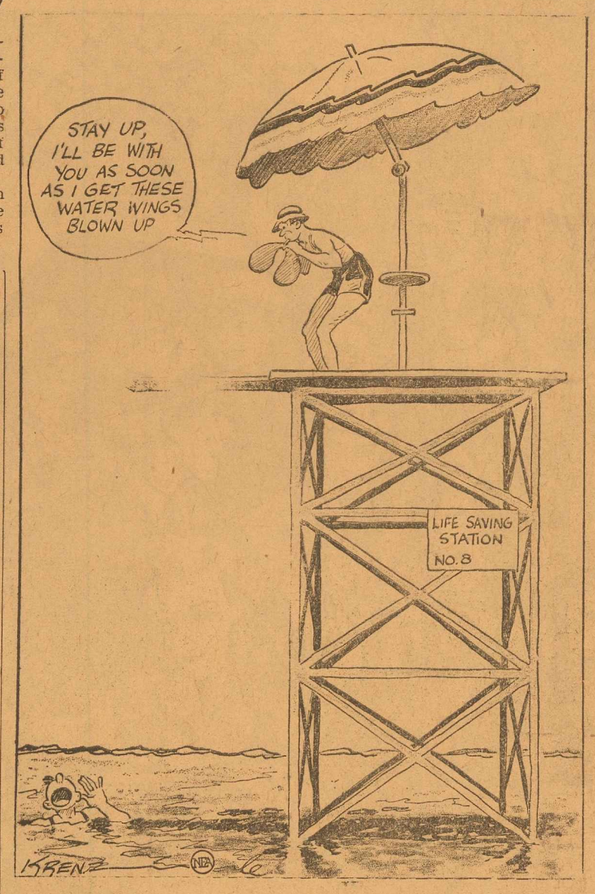

Opening July 15 are the Pan American Games, presenting the greatest gathering of athletic stars ever assembled in the Southwest. These athletes are in Dallas from practically every republic of Latin America. The games, July 15-18, are free to the public.

Another headliner coming to the Exposition is Rudy Vallee and his Connecticut Yankees opening in the Pan American Casino, Saturday matinee, July 10. With Vallee is Red Stanley, of Waco, University of Texas graduate, his star comedian. The Vallee orchestra will play for Casino dances and is a feature attraction at each performance.

Cavalcade of the Americas is not only packing the grandstand for each show but during the holidays turned away as high as 2,000 at a single preformance. Here is a great dramatized spectacle full of heart-break drama, gentle pathos and side-splitting humor highlighting the history of the Western Hemisphere from Columbus to Franklin D. Roosevelt. There are many free shows and exhibits on the Expos. tion grounds.

Breath-Taking Rescue

New Texas University Library Building Being Occupied by Several Departments

AUSTIN.—The new unit of the administration-library building of the University of Texas, which completed structure with its furnishings and equipment cost approximately three million dollars, is being gradually occupied by the several administrative departments and faculty members for which it was designed. The office of Registrar E. J. Mathews, which occupies the east side on the ground floor, was the first to be moved into its new quarters and has been followed by President J. W. Calhoun and his secretarial force. The president's suite, which occupies the southeast corner of the second floor, like all of the other rooms of the new building, is beautifully furnished. Adjoining the president's office is the office of Leo C. Haynes, secretary of the board of regents, and nearby is the office of Dr. H. T. Parlin, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. C. D. Simmons, acting comptroller, also occupies an office on the second floor.

One division of the auditor's office is located on the ground floor on the west side and immediately above it, with a connecting stairway, is the other division and the office of Charles H. Sparenberg, auditor. The offices of V. I. Moore, dean of men, and Miss Dorothy Gebauer, dean of women, and Dr. A. P. Brogan, dean of the graduate school, are also located in the new building. The handsome rooms which have been fitted up for the accommodation of the Stark collection, the Wrenn library and the Aitken collection will soon be moved into.

Many students and members of the faculty are especially pleased over the prospective early moving of the extensive collection of newspaper files to its new quarters from the attic of Sutton Hall. This famous newspaper reference library, which is in charge of E. R. Dabney, newspaper librarian, will occupy a room that is easily accessible, and it is anticipated that it will be patronized by a far larger number of interested students and others than in the remote location where it has been for many years.

The stenographic bureau is also preparing to make a change to the new building from its quarters in the basement of the old library building. The university telephone exchange has already been installed in the building, and the university branch of the post office is preparing to do likewise.

The office of Donald Coney, librarian, is ready for him in the new unit, but he will not move in until this fall.

The offices in the 28 stories of the 308-foot tower of the new building will not be occupied until the beginning of the long session. A few members of the faculty, however, including Dr. W. J. Battle, professor of classical languages, who has an office in the topmost floor, have already moved in. These altitudinal offices will in due time, as necessity demands, be transformed into book stacks of the library.

Cat Racing Newest Sport to Take Big Hold on English

MIAMI, Fla. July 7.— The sale of Freddie Fitzsimmons to the Dodgers left only eight players still in the big league who were members of the Giants when the late John McGraw stepped out of baseball five years ago last month. They are Terry, Ott, Hubbell, Schumacher, regulars, and Moore, Danning, Leiber and Smith, then rookies. . . Cat racing has been introduced in England this summer. They will be here to attend a convention. . .James J. Corbett was knocked out twice, but never with a right to the chin. . . They say around New York that Mike Jacobs cleared about $75,000 on the Louis-Braddock fight. . . Norway has automobile racing "on ice." They stud the tires with short spikes and drivers reach as high as 90 m. p. h. over frozen lakes and rivers. . .Tony Canzoneri, fighter, reports he lost $3,500 in his recent brief career as a restaurant owner in New York. . .The Florida Year-Round Club will have the greatest variety and largest sports program of any organization in the south next fall and winter, Col. Henry L. Doherty, president of the clubs, has announced. . .Eleven ex-champions of the heavyweight division are alive, viz: Jeffries, Burns, Johnson, Willard, Dempsey, Tunney, Schmeling, Sharkey, Carnera, Baer and Braddock.

Final Approval of NYA Texas Project Given By Officials

AUSTIN, July 6.—Final approval has been given to the NYA work project planned for this summer on which not more than 550 youths interested in farming will be given part-time employment and instruction in agriculture, J. C. Kellam, Texas Director of the National Youth Administration, announced Saturday.

The work project will be operated for six weeks beginning July 15 at Texas A. & M. College, North Texas Agricultural College at Arlington, John Tarleton Agricultural College Stephenville, and Prairie View College.

The 550 youths who will be employed are now being selected by NYA district representatives, assisted by county agents and other local ofcials, Mrs. Kellam said. Any youth who is genuinely interested in farming, who is eligible for employment on an NYA work project, and who wants to take this training course should communicate promptly with the NYA representative in the district in which he lives, he said. NYA district offices are located in Marshall, Houston, Dallas, Waco, Austin, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Amarillo, Lubbock, and San Angelo.

The youths employed will work part of the day on the NYA project sponsored by the colleges. During the six weeks period they may earn enough to pay for the lodging, board and medical care, and have about $5 a month extra for their personal use. They will attend special agricultural classes during their spare time with members of the regular faculty of each college as instructors.

Local officials are cooperating with the NYA representatives in arranging transportation at no cost to the youths from Central meeting places to the colleges, Mr. Kellam said.

The work and training project was finally approved by Mr. Kellam following a conference in Austin attended by Dean Scoates, representing Texas A. & M. College; Dan Kiber, representing North Texas Agricultural College; and J. Thomas Davis, dean of John Tarleton College.

Mr. Kellam said that 200 farm boys will be sent to Texas A. & M., 150 farm boys to North Texas Agricultural College, 150 farm girls to John Tarleton, and 50 negro boys to Prairie View.

The boys at A. & M., Arlington, and Prairie View will be given instruction in agricultural engineering, fundamentals of crop production, beef cattle judging, dairy cattle practices, garden and orchard work, and poultry management.

The girls at John Tarleton will study poultry management, dairying, garden and orchard work, rural home management, budgeting, and health and hygiene.

"Our aim," Mr. Kellam said, using the words of Dean E. J. Kyle of Texas A. & M., "is to teach these farm boys and girls to do better the things all farmers must do. This project should be of considerable value to the State."

Building Continues Active Over Britain

LONDON (U.P.)—Once again Great Britain's building industry has put on a $5,000,000 spurt.

So far this year plans worth nearly $200,000,000 have been approved by local authorities, an increase of more than $5,000,000 on the first four months of last year, when the building boom was at its height.

The latest returns of the ministry of Labor Gazette show that the greatest spurt is taking place in Devon and Cornwall. There building activity was 136 per cent greater last month than in April, 1936.

London has not stopped growing. So far this year her new building plans represent more than $37,500,000—second in value to the $40,000,000 worth of new factories, houses, churches and schools to be built this summer in the midlands area around Birmingham.

Buys Cafe; Brings Home from McCamey

Midland's newest business man isn't worried about the housing situation, at least not on his own account.

E. G. Bridwell, formerly of McCamey, bought the Cactus Cafe from C. T. Trammell, assuming its operation today. Learning before moving here that houses are scarce, he bought a lot in west end and brought his home along.

"The house was on the trucks when I awoke," he said. "It was moved right over here with the furniture in it and everything arrived in good shape."

Bridwell and wife, who he says is his right hand man, have operated the Bridwell Coffee Shop at McCamey for seven years. They said they had always like Midland and feel fortunate in effecting a deal for the Cactus Cafe.

ONE HUNDRED DOZEN MEN'S HANDKERCHIEFS

That's a whole lot of men's handkerchiefs for any store.

To sell these promptly, they must be a value that, to say the least, is unusual.

THEY ARE AN UNUSUAL VALUE!

In fact, you have paid 25¢ many times for the same thing.

Hand-rolled edges, hand-appliqued corners.

Bought in the usual way, these would be 25¢ values.

ACC Reports Early Room Reservations

ABILENE. — With room reservations nearly six weeks ahead of the number in 1936 at this time, officials of Abilene Christian College predicted Tuesday that another record enrollment will be seen in the 1937-38 session at A. C. C. which begins September 15.

There were 10 more room reservations in the three dormitories on the campus on June 29, than on August 1, 1936. "This, says president James F. Cox, "indicates that a fifth enrollment record in six years will be realized, and the campaign of the Ex-Students Association, the Students Association, and the Mothers and Dads club of A. C. C. to bring 750 residence college students to the campus in the next year will be successful.

A. C. C. experienced record enrollments each successive year from 1931-32 through 1935-36. An increase in net residence enrollment of of 64 percent, in this period of general decrease in college populations, is larger than all but a few institutions of higher learning in the county. In 1931-32 there were 405 students in the college in the main session, and each year following the figure was 524, 614, 628, and 655. The 1936-37 session had a record attendance even with 20 fewer students than the preceding main session, due to fewer withdrawals of registered students.

Nearly half of the available rooms in the dormitories are already reserved for the next main session of A. C. C. There are 253 students in the first term of the summer session at this time, and the second term which begins July 13 will increase this number.

Although paupers may not vote in Delaware, Maine, Massachusetts, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas, Virginia, and West Virginia, no state officially has ruled that persons on relief are in the pauper class.

Wagner's opera, "Tannhauser," was so wearisome to early French audiences that they coined the word "se Tannhauser," maning to bore.
