Career Clinic for County Students Planned March 2

A career clinic for students of the three county high schools will be held Wednesday, March 2, to allow these boys and girls to become acquainted with the many fields of employment today and to explore some of the opportunities.

One-half day in length, the clinic will begin at 9:00 a.m. in Wellington High School auditorium, with students from Samnorwood and Quail joining them.

Keith Winter, director of development for West Texas State University, and a Wellington native, will be the keynote speaker.

Afterwards, 25 consultants will conduct round table sessions in their field of work. There will be two sessions, 10:00-10:50 a.m. and 11:00-11:50 a.m., so that a student may explore two possible careers.

There will be an orientation session for consultants at 8:45 and a break is scheduled at 10:30.

The career clinic is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, headed by Henry Wells. Louis Graham, WHS counselor, is co-ordinating plans for the school.

City State Bank and Wellington State Bank are sponsoring a luncheon for the consultants at the Heritage Room.

In the clinic sessions, after a presentation of basic information, there will be a question and answer period.

"Students who have been in high school three years will have an opportunity to participate in two career clinics and learn about different vocational and professional fields. Realistic information from persons in these fields will be presented. Contacts at the career clinic could lead to part-time jobs in exploring the vocational field," said Mr. Graham.

Several Wellington men and women have been selected as career consultants. Others will come from area colleges or the professions.

Mr. Winter, who returns to his home town frequently, attended school here until he was in the sixth grade. He graduated from Amarillo High School and received a B.S. degree in geology from Baylor University. He entered the field of chamber of commerce and board of city development management, and while in the latter capacity at Amarillo helped bring 92 manufacturing plants to that city from 1970 to 1973.

He presently serves as director of development of West Texas State University. His responsibilities include fund raising, student recruitment, liaison with Alumni and WTSU Foundation. He also has charge of the print shop, graduate placement, Campus service and News Service and works with the WTSU Women's Programs.

Consultants and their fields will include:

ONE OF BLOOD DONORS

Allen Murdock, gripping a thermometer in his teeth, was one of the 17-year-old blood donors to the Red Cross Bloodmobile Monday, February 21. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Murdock, are regular donors, but because they were taking antibiotics, they could not give this time. Allen came instead. Checking his pulse is Mary Lou Tennon, LVN, from Collingsworth General Hospital. John Birkey of the high school ag department was just ahead of this student.

Shoplifting, Hot Check Seminar Planned Friday for Business Men

A seminar on shoplifting and hot checks will be held for Wellington area business men and their employees on Friday, February 25, prompted by a local rise in both crimes.

Starting time is 7:30 p.m. and the meeting will be in the club room of Bura Handley Community Center. Two films and discussion will make up the program.

The seminar is sponsored by the Sheriff's Department and 100th Judicial District Probation Department.

"We feel there has been an upswing in both shoplifting and hot checking in Collingsworth County, and we believe this will combat it," said Mr. Watson, who will preside. Both he and Sheriff John Rainey will speak.

"We would sure like for every business man in town to be there," said Sheriff Rainey. "We want especially to discuss the Texas hot check law and see if we can't work out something. Our office is getting more and more complaints of hot checks every day."

"I have a plan worked out that I would like to discuss with the business men on taking hot checks," the sheriff emphasized.

The two films, "The Shoplifter," and "The Paperhangers" were shown here several years ago in a similar session.

The Sheriff points out, however, that there are a number of new businesses and owners in Wellington since then, as well as many, many employees who have never seen the films. Others, Watson and Rainey believe, would like to refresh their memory on the points brought out.

Youths Take Calves to Houston Show

Seven county youths will leave with their steers Monday, February 28, to compete in the junior livestock exhibition of the Houston Livestock Show, the last of the shows in which they will compete this season.

Going from here will be Mark Fourmentin, Kirk Patterson, Paul Estes, Joe Baumgardner, David Baumgardner, Stan Tate and Lynn Tate.

Most of the parents will accompany the boys, as will Extension Agent Don Reeves. They will return March 6.

Their steers will include two Limosin crosses, an Angus, two Herefords, a Polled Hereford, a Maine-Anjou cross and a Seminal Cross.

This will be the first year for Paul Estes to compete at Houston. The others have been there before, with Mark Fourmentin taking a second place and Lynn Tate a first last year.

In competing at Houston, the youths will be participating in the world's largest livestock show. There are a record number of entries in this, the 45th annual show.

A total of 21,080 animals have been entered in open class and junior competition. Winning entries will receive a total of $510,363 in premium money, the highest sum to be distributed in Livestock Show History.

The Livestock Show opens February 23 and will end

March 6, with rodeo performances every night in the Astrodome beginning February 25. There will be a series of calf scrambles.

On Thursday night, February 24, ten trial rides, from as far away as Loganport, La., will converge on Houston's Memorial Park, for the annual trial riders parade through downtown Houston, the following day. This will include 6,000 trail riders and 200 wagons.

A star-studded line-up of television and recording artists will entertain rodeo audiences, and the Collingsworth people will see some of these. They include K.C. and the Sunshine Band, Feb. 25; Mac Davis, Feb. 26; Helen Reddy, Feb. 27; Conway Twitty and Loretta Lynn, Feb. 28; Mel Tillis, March 1; Merle Haggard, March 2; Roy Clark, March 3; the Osmonds, March 4-5, and Charley Pride, March 6.

City State Bank Names Officials

The annual stockholders meeting of City State Bank was held Thursday, February 17, followed by a regular monthly directors meeting.

Directors re-elected to serve for the year were Bill Moseley, Richard Fourmentin, Mike Van Meter, Jim Travis and H.W. McNabb.

Mr. Moseley was re-elected chairman of the board and president. Glenna Hernandez was re-elected cashier and Sandy Morris was re-elected as assistant cashier.

Other employees are Van-eita Null, June Owens, Margaret Carroll and Vicki Black.

A review of the past year's activities was given at the stockholders meeting, noting excellent crops and prices for them that the county has received.

The meeting was held at the bank.

Methodists Move Forward on Church

The official board of First United Methodist Church voted Sunday, February 20, that the congregation will have preaching services with Trinity United Methodist Church during the period that the new sanctuary is under construction. Dan Henard, Jr., chairman of the board, has announced.

At the same time, the board voted that the congregation will continue to hold Sunday school in the educational building. Trinity Church, located at the west end of 9th Street, has as its pastor the Rev. C.R. Hankins.

On Monday evening, members of the building committee, headed by A.J. Fires, met with the church's architect, Bob Pardue of Pardue, Read and Dice, Wichita Falls architects, to see and discuss preliminary plans.

Certain changes were set forth in the plans, and when these are made, Mr. Pardue will return the plans to the building committee, whose other members are Mr. Henard, Sam Adams, and Carthel Lewis.

After the official board of the church gives its approval bids can be taken on the new sanctuary.

The meeting with the architect followed a visit by --See #1, Page 2

First Baptist Calls Education Worker

Members of First Baptist Church in a called conference Sunday night, February 20, named Glen Mize of Tyler the new music, youth and education director.

He and his family will move to Wellington early next week. They will live in the music director's home at 1711 Ellison St.

Mr. Mize has been in music evangelism two years, said the Rev. Mickey Fugitt, pastor.

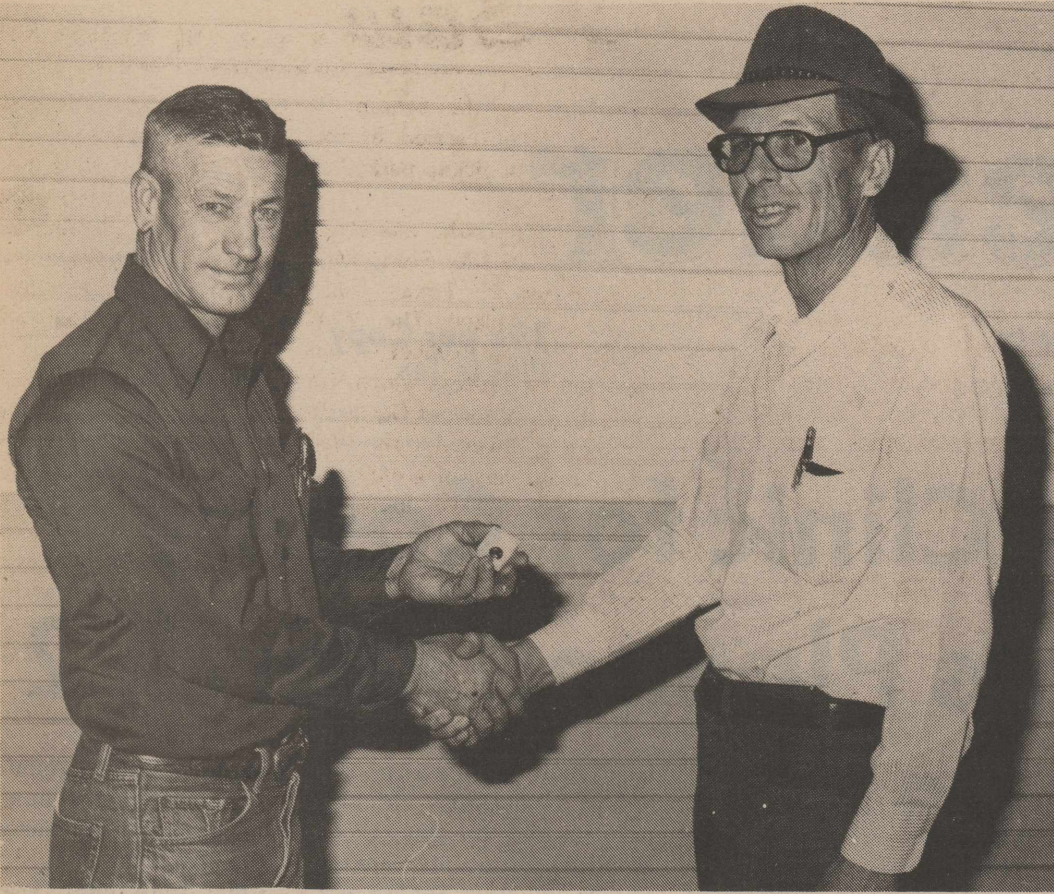

Prior to that, he worked with several churches in the Tyler area as an interim music director.

Twenty-nine years old, he and his wife, Anne, grew up at Mineola and have lived in Tyler 10 years. They have two children, Rodney 9, and in the fourth grade, and Julie, 7, and a first grader.

Mrs. Mize has been a receptionist for a Tyler doctor. She has been active in the women's organizational work of the church, as a Sunday school teacher, with the WMU and in youth work.

Rev. Fugitt and Mr. Mize were introduced by the pastor's father, also a Baptist minister, last summer, then in September the three of them conducted revivals at Walhalla, North Dakota and Hallock, Minnesota. From this grew a feeling of mutual admiration and respect, said the Wellington pastor.

HONORED FOR SAFETY

Recognition for having driven state vehicles 20 years without an accident came recently for Marion F. "Frank" Breedlove of Amarillo, left, a maintenance technician with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. Bill Frazier, right, Potter County Maintenance Construction Supervisor, presented the safe driving pin to Breedlove. A Wellington native, Breedlove graduated from Arnett High School in Hollis, Okla. He started to work for the department in August 1955 and now is employed in the Potter County maintenance section. He lives at 138 Colorado in Amarillo.

UMW Studies "Maturity"

The Esther Group of the United Methodist Women met at the home of Mrs. Earl Alexander on Friday morning, February 18.

Mrs. Clinton DeArmond gave the devotional entitled, "Toward Christian Maturity". The meditation was from John 10:10 and she emphasized that Christian maturity may come at any age young or old.

Mrs. John Holton, introduced Mrs. Sandy Covey as the speaker for the meeting. Mrs. Covey is the chairperson of the Pathfinders, the young matrons group of the UMW. She gave a very inspiring talk on how we should face the new year and project ourselves as a new model, or person, for Christ. We felt uplifted and resolved to do our part in sharing the duties of the church, the family, and the obligations which the strife and fast-moving pace of the present time have forced upon each of us. We needed such a concerned inspection of our role in the life of a Christian fellowship.

Mrs. Cecil Masten, chairperson, called the meeting to order and Mrs. Cal Hurst read a very nicely written article from "The Texas Methodist in Publication" entitled "I Found the Church Aboard a Bus" by Mrs. Louise Vaughan, a former member of our Esther Group.

Brunch was served to Mrs. Holton, Mrs. Hurst, Mrs. R.L. Karnes, Mrs. Robert Lewis, Mrs. S.L. Lindsey, Mrs. Masten, Mrs. W.F. Vaughan, Mrs. L.W. Wells, Mrs. W.H. West, guests, Mrs. John Walker of Midland, and Mrs. Jim Boswell, Mrs. L.C. Hill, Mrs. Covey, Mrs. DeArmond and the hostess, Mrs. Alexander. Mrs. Walker is the sister of Mrs. Hill. Mrs. Hill was welcomed as a new member of the group.

Mrs. Bill McDonald Honored On her Eightieth Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sassum and boys of Fort Worth honored her grandmother, Mrs. Josie McDonald, in her home Saturday, February 19, with a surprise party to celebrate her 80th birthday.

The table was centered with red roses and red candles and a red and white birthday cake.

the building committee to the new First United Methodist Church at Quanah, into which the congregation moved in October.

"We're excited about these plans—real excited," said Mr. Fires.

They follow closely the plans drawn originally when members of First Methodist approved the building program, to be completed in five steps. Of these, the educational building and parsonage have been completed.

The exterior finish will match that of the educational building.

The church, to be built at a cost of approximately $300,000, will house the sanctuary, church offices, library and nursery. There will be no steps going into the building, in contrast to the high steps going into the present building.

"When it is finished, Wellington Methodists will have one of the most modern churches in the Panhandle," said Mr. Fires.

There is much truth in the old expression "Exercise may not add years to your life, but it will add life to your years." There is no scientific proof at this time that exercise alone will make you live longer. It is an accepted fact that appropriate exercise is one factor in helping you to have a healthier life. Mrs. Vivian Blair, family life education-aging-specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service,

Mrs. Sassum and Mrs. Milford Harris presided at the coffee and punch service.

Mrs. McDonald came with her family, the late Mr. and Mrs. Lyn Harris, to Collingsworth County in 1905. They lived on North Amarillo Street. She was married to Bill McDonald in 1927 and has lived here most of the time since. From a family of eight children only two remain. Lee Harris of Vernon was here to celebrate with Mrs. McDonald.

techniques used by amateur and professional shoplifters. The film points out the alarming fact that one of every 60 customers will try to steal and suggests ways of preventing much of this stealing. A convicted shoplifter demonstrates stealing methods under actual conditions and explains how alert and informed employees could have prevented the thefts. The film is 20 minutes in length.

The nation's most expensive and popular crime-check fraud—is explored in "The Paperhangers." It shows how most bad check passers—or "Paperhangers" as they are known in police circles—can be stopped in their tracks by an efficient check-cashing procedure.

Such a procedure is shown in detail, along with guidelines for carrying it out. Two former "paperhangers" discuss the most common error made by businessmen and show techniques frequently used for passing bad checks. This film is 31 minutes long.

City Council Approves One Meeting Each Month

Because of the short City Council sessions recently, members voted Monday night, February 21, to hold only one session each month. The third Monday was set for the meetings.

Councilmen brought out in their discussion they believe they can take care of all the city's business in the one regular session with called sessions as needed.

City Manager Glen Taylor announced that the city has received $1,800 from the Environmental Protection Agency as reimbursement on construction cost of the sewer system.

The city previously has received reimbursement of $11,500, under a federally funded program. Application was made two years ago for a total of $16,000 in reimbursement when it became known the funds are available to cities who had already completed new sewer systems as well as to those wanting to construct new systems.

Mike Naylor, local manager for Lone Star Gas Co., met with the council to request that the council approve a 15 percent depreciation figure on the company's lines and other property in Wellington. The council took the request under advisement and later decided to go along with other figures set by its engineer, Bill McMorries, in a recent study.

YOU CAN BANK on It!

By BILLY MOSELEY
President
CITY STATE BANK

How far away is one-million dollars? Further away than most of us can ever reach, of course. But there are a few who build estates with a net worth of a million, dollars or more in their lifetime. Virtually all of them have one thing in common... discipline.

Discipline in planning and saving for the future. Financial theorists construct two ways to become a millionaire with relatively small investments. One is to invest $1,000 a year every year for 35 years at a rate of 15 percent compounded annually. The other is to invest an amount of $10,000 for 35 years at a similar rate.

Rates of 15 percent make the equation theoretical, but it does serve to demonstrate the possibility of important accumulations of capital through investments.

Right now is the perfect time to start laying your own financial foundation by setting aside a certain amount every month in a savings account which can act as a base on which to build your future.

Sixty Volunteer Blood In Drive Here Monday

Sixty donors volunteered to give blood during the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile Monday, February 21. Fifty-four pints were received.

This is just half the county's 118-unit quota sought at this visit, and the smallest number to give blood under the present contract between the Hospital and the Red River Regional Blood Center in Wichita Falls, said Mrs. Ernest Harwell, co-ordinator.

Several factors were directly responsible. For one thing, this was a national holiday, with banks, county, state and federal offices closed. Many people were known to be out of town for the long weekend, a fact that was noticed in church services the day before, Mrs. Harwell said. Illnesses prevalent and the number of those taking antibiotics is known to have kept others away.

The tentative date for the next bloodmobile visit is in August.

Ambulance Men At Panhandle EMS Meeting

Three members of the Volunteer Ambulance Service represented the county at the meeting of the Panhandle Emergency Medical Services in Amarillo Thursday, February 17.

Marshall Peters was introduced as the new voting board member from Collingsworth County. He succeeds Garner Altom. Attending with him were Bob Watson, a member of the advisory board and Tom Anderson.

Business which would relate to this county included discussion of a new federal grant being prepared, in which the cost would be shared with the counties on a 60-40 basis.

Available under this funding would be emergency equipment for the ambulances as well as equipment for the hospital emergency room, according to Mr. Watson, president of the ambulance service.

Because this is one of the fringe counties in the Panhandle EMS, ambulances leaving for Amarillo hospitals with patients have had communications difficulties. Arrangements were made for the repeater tower to be put up in Collingsworth, which should correct the problem.

THE BIG ONE FOR DRY COUNTRY

IT'S DEPENDABLE

Dependable yields of consistently high quality fiber even in drought years. That's what made LX 571 a long time favorite with farmers here about. And it's nice to know that you don't have to give up something else for drought resistance. Farmers appreciate the good gin turn-out of fairly long staple fiber which makes in the premium range under normal conditions.

At maturity you'll like the looks of LX 571's storm resistant bolls and at harvest you'll appreciate how well it strips one-time-over.

LX 571 along with other Lankart varieties accounts for over 60% of the cotton planted in the Altus Classing Office territory and have for a number of years... strong testimony from people who know how to grow cotton in this area. If you think this might be a dry year

CHECK THESE LX 571 CHARACTERISTICS:

- Good dryland cotton
- Good root system for drought resistance
- Top yields
- Good gin turn-out
- Medium early maturity
- Storm resistant bolls
- Excellent stripper variety
- Well-adapted to one-time-over harvesting
- Staple length in the 1" and longer range
- Micronaire in the premium range (under normal growing conditions)

CHECK THESE RESULTS:

Information from cotton variety comparisons made in 1976 in various locations in Texas and Oklahoma:

• Childress, Texas

On dryland without fertilization LX 571 (Lankart) made 687 pounds of lint per acre. The cotton which was machine harvested had a micronaire of 4.7, staple length of 30 and a gin turnout of 26.8 percent.

• Haskell, Texas

In a dryland cotton variety test, LX 571 produced 665 pounds of lint to top the test and beat the second variety in the test by 12 pounds per acre. The fiber graded 50, had a staple length of 32, micronaire of 5.4 and a gin turnout of 29.5 percent.

• Wall, Texas

LX 571 also topped this test of eight varieties on non-irrigated land without fertilizer. It produced 544 pounds of lint with a staple length of 34. Micronaire was 4.7, solidly in the premium range.

• Delhi, Oklahoma

Under extreme drought conditions and without irrigation, LX 571 made a lint yield of 250 pounds per acre. The cotton graded 40, had a staple length of 30/32, a micronaire of 5.2. The gin turnout was 29.9 percent.

• Coopers, Oklahoma

In this test on the Kenneth Boyd farm, Lankart LX 571 produced 349 pounds per acre of very good cotton. It graded 50 with a staple length of 33/32, micronaire of 5.0 and had a gin turnout of 28.6 percent.

If you raise dryland cotton in this area where drought is a threat, go with LX 571 this year. You can get Lankart LX 571 from your gin.

afternoon, February 19, when both food entries and table settings were judge.

Additionally, each girl submitted a recipe of her entry and a day's menu in which it would be used.

There were four food divisions, and both senior and juniors could choose their entry. They also could choose their own recipes.

In the senior division, Terri Thomason was winner in the main dish division with ham-stuffed potatoes. Tami Boswell was alternate with crisp-baked chicken. First place side dish entry was a jellied vegetable salad by Peggy Popwell and the alternate was 24-hour lettuce and pea salad by Jennifer Pendleton. Cheryl Birkey was the third entry with a mixed vegetable salad, ghivetch.

Renee Lacy was winner in the bread and dessert division with a cherry cream pie in pecan crust.

Gail Rudy was winner in the snack and beverage division with bircher-muesli, a yogurt-fruit-oats dish.

The winners in each division will compete in the District I 4-H food show to be held in Amarillo Saturday, March 5. If any girl cannot go, her alternate will replace her.

Leslie Birkey was winner in the snacks and beverage division with cookies, and the alternate, Stacy Weatherly, also had cookies. Lisa Hartman, the third contestant, had peppermint milk.

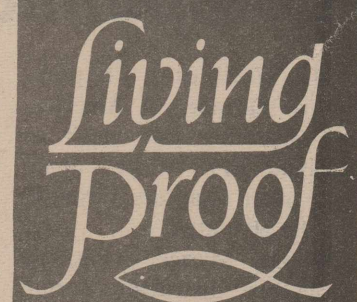

Knowledge of food counts heavily in the judging, according to Mrs. Leo Popwell, show director.

In the senior division, this category determines 60 points on the girl's score. Fifteen percent depends on the food itself, 20 percent on the worksheet she must turn, and 5 percent on her menu.

In the junior division, the interview each contestant has with the judges counts 50 percent, the food itself 25 percent and her menu 25 percent.

Judging were Linda Baxter and Soundra Cristy, both of Childress.

Reddy's helpful tips for your HOME LAUNDRY

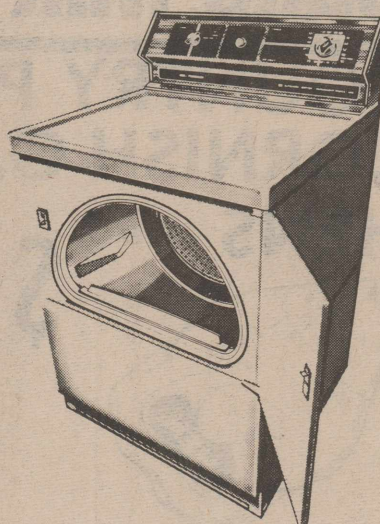

Wash and dry a full load, but never overload... it is essential for each item to move freely for proper cleaning and drying.

Choose the correct cycle for washing modern materials. Perhaps hot water isn't needed, and only a gentle drying temperature.

Too much detergent can clog machine and drains... always measure, don't guess!

Follow the manufacturer's recommendations for your type equipment.

Mixing brands of detergents can cause graying of clothes.

Many manufacturers of permanent press garments recommend machine washing and machine drying for best results. Following instructions on the garment tag can help preserve the life of your clothing and give you wrinkle-free clothes without need for ironing. A big savings!

Excelsior Hears Discussion Of Raphael and His Work

A study of the High Renaissance Italian artist, Raphael, was given for members of Excelsior Club Thursday evening, February 17. Miss Marie Shadid was hostess and program leader.

Miss Hattie D. Wells, president, conducted the business meeting, when a new member, Mrs. Luther Gribble, was welcomed into the club.

Miss Shadid, in her discussion, reminded her group that Raphael, who lived from 1483 to 1520, was a leading figure of his period and preeminently a painter, but he was also an architect of note and was esteemed by his contemporaries for his far-ranging studies of the arts of Classical antiquity. An intimate of popes and princes and of the leading intellectuals of his era, he enjoyed, from his mid-twenties a measure of fame and honor accorded to few artists during their lifetime.

In his paintings, he carried the basic concept of Renaissance art to the ultimate conclusion, creating works that are balanced, serene and spatially illusionistic.

He then moved onward to a new style in both his painting and his architecture, a style whose characteristic challenge the earlier solutions and claim equal artistic validity.

Raphael was born in the Umbrian City of Urbino, at the time an important cultural center of the arts and humanistic learning. The leisured, intellectual atmosphere of the Urbino court was probably familiar to him from an early age, since his father Giovanni Di Santi, a respectable but undistinguished painter and poet, was a habitue of ducal circle.

Giovanni died when Raphael was only eleven, but his workshop continued to function and it is presumable that the young artist received his first training there.

His development was exceptionally precocious: there are skillful works attributed to him with reasonable certainty that must have been painted in 1499-1500, when he was at the most 17 years of age. The most remarkable of these are two banners in the Pinacoteca Comunale at Citta De Costello, near Urbino.

Little of his father's influence is to be seen in these and other early works. Rather the young artist took as his master two major early Renaissance figures who had been active in Umbria, the painter Piero della Francesca (c.1420-1492) and the architect, Battista Alberti (1404-1472) and the leading Umbrian painter of his own time, Perugino (1446-1533).

The best known works of Raphael's Florentine period comprise a long series of Madonnas and Holy Families.

Of all the Florentine Madonnas, among which is the well-known "Madonnas of the Goldfinch" stands out as an example of Raphael's particular genius for fusing compositions and expression. Among many fine works that attest to his success is the fascinating Bindo Altar Viti which is in the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C.

Raphael was one of the most prolific draftsmen in the history of Western Art. All his projects were prepared with great care in innumerable drawings.

When Raphael died, he left almost finished his most ambitious altar piece, "The Transfiguration" now in the museum in the Vatican. This enormous picture sums up the diverse potentialities of his late style.

Raphael's tasks in Rome were so many that he organized for their execution, a large, but, efficient

DKG Hears Attorney

Miss Ann Postma, county attorney of Childress County, was the speaker when members of Gamma Kappa chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma were entertained with a luncheon Saturday, February 12.

Clarendon members were hostesses at Frank's Restaurant.

Miss Postma's challenging discussion was "Personal Commitment--What is Yours?" The program was under the direction of Miss Inez Blankenship, chairman of the personal growth and services committee.

The business meeting, following the luncheon, was directed by Mrs. Betty White of Childress, vice-president.

Mrs. Lucile Polk Naylor, a reserve member, was restored to active status. Donations were taken for the special scholarship fund.

The Valentine motif was carried out in both the table decorations and the dessert.

Eighteen members and guests were present. Those going from Wellington were Mrs. Charley Hill, Miss Bonnie Willis and Miss Maudie Coffee.

workshop. After his death, his pupils carried different aspects of his achievement to other Italian cities, notably Genoa and Mantua and in Rome, contented with the followers of Michelangelo for the domination of the artistic scene until the middle of the sixteenth century.

None of his many followers, however, even began to approach his master in breadth or depth of talent. This was perhaps, only to be expected, for Raphael's achievements all are more remarkable for the barely two-decade span of his career, rank him securely among the great painters of all time.

Doyle Messer is instructor in a program by which Quail and Hedley share one teacher. He teaches one-half day at each school.

This spring the boys plan to work on livestock teams, farm mechanics team and the dairy products contest.

The chapter plans to participate in contests at these places: Pampa, Sweetwater, Amarillo, West Texas State University, Texas Tech University, and Texas A&M.

One of the highlights of leadership training is the annual parent and member FFA banquet held in the spring.

The Quail Ag Department has a well-equipped shop and several days of the school year will be used for this type of training.

The chapter has participated in the farm mechanics contest the past several years and has won many nice trophies.

The Quail chapter this year made a field trip to the Memphis Cotton Classing office, and members also have been collecting soil samples, pruning fruit trees, working livestock and collecting different specimens to be used in class.

FmHA to Make New Rural Home Loans

The Farmers Home Administration has begun a program through which it will guarantee rural housing loans made by commercial banks, savings and loan associations, and other private lenders, Raymond D. Hodges, FmHA County Supervisor for Collingsworth County, announces.

FmHA, the rural credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), will guarantee up to 90 percent of the principal and interest of these loans.

Guaranteed housing loans will be available for moderate income borrowers who cannot get housing mortgage credit without a guarantee. Applicants who cannot qualify for guaranteed loans may apply for loans made by FmHA.

At present, the USDA agency will offer loan guarantees only under its single-family housing loan program. FmHA will continue to make single-family housing loans with its own funds. It will also continue to make, but not guarantee, loans for rural rental housing, farm labor housing, housing site development, and other purposes.

Single family housing loans are made in open country, towns of up to 10,000 population, and certain designated towns of between 10,000 and 20,000 population. They finance modest but adequate housing and related facilities, Hodges explains.

Loans may be used to buy, build, improve, repair, or rehabilitate houses and relat-

Hightower Asks Hearing On Grain Shortage

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Congressman Jack Hightower requested the House Subcommittee on Livestock and Grains to hold hearings in Wichita Falls, Texas this spring to look into the problems resulting from the Robert Johnson Grain Company shortages.

Hightower stated to the Subcommittee, "Farmers in good faith placed grain in the elevator and now find that the grain has disappeared and the grain company is in bankruptcy. In many cases, the missing grain means disaster to a farm family."

Hightower asked the Subcommittee for the Wichita Falls hearing in order to determine if legislation could prevent future losses by farmers from elevator shortages.

Congressman Bob Poage of Waco, Chairman of the Subcommittee, compared the grain losses to problems farmers in the northern Panhandle area had when a meat packing company went bankrupt.

Don't just store it away and forget it—sell it with a classified ad in The Leader and use the money to buy something you need.

What the others are saying, we've already demonstrated.

- Better engine protection.
- Increased fuel economy.
- Better high-temperature performance.
- Fast sub-zero starts.
- Less oil consumption.
- A cleaner engine.
- 25,000-mile oil change.

Too good to be true? No. Because thousands of AMS/OIL users have already experienced these extraordinary performance features. AMS/OIL was first to commercially market an SAE 10W-40 synthetic engine oil to meet API Classification SE, which means AMS/OIL can be used in any car. So while the new synthetic lubricants you see today were still in the test lab, AMS/OIL was in the crankcases of cars and trucks just like yours. And when you're satisfied, that's the final test of a lubricant. See your AMS/OIL dealer today!

- 40 kW, 55 kW Alternators

This Long Green Dividend coupon has the redemption value checked when applied against the purchase price of specified equipment offered by a participating John Deere dealer, who sets his own retail prices. If your dealer does not have equipment in stock that is included in the Long Green Dividend Program, the machine you want can be ordered from John Deere and the value of the coupon will be deducted from the purchase price. Only one coupon can be applied against the purchase of any given machine. Use of the coupon is limited to products which can be delivered as determined by dealer's orders and machine availability.

NOTE: (1) You must pay any sales tax on the total purchase price—excluding the Long Green Dividend; (2) this coupon is void where prohibited, restricted, or taxed. Offer expires June 15, 1977.
