

Ghana Seeks Ouster Of South Africa From U. N.

IN KHRUSHCHEV PACKAGE

Resolution Is Prepared

No Hopeful Signs

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials said today Premier Khrushchev's latest package proposal for a German settlement failed to advance the prospects of East-West agreement to end the Berlin crisis.

They also found nothing encouraging in the Soviet leader's declaration of readiness to attend a summit meeting to achieve a peaceful solution of the crisis. A summit conference, U.S. leaders say, should come only as the end result of lower-level negotiations which would assure success at the summit.

Moscow Radio reported Thursday night that Khrushchev had written two letters on current East-West tensions, one to a group of labor members of the British Parliament, the other to the chairman of the Japanese Council Against Nuclear Tests. In both he asserted the willingness of the Soviet government to enter into negotiations with the Western powers. In the letter to Chairman Kaoru Yasui of the Japanese Council, he declared his personal readiness to meet Western leaders "in order to find a way out of the present difficult situation."

Some of the points of his proposed Berlin-German settlement may be negotiable from the Western point of view. However, all are believed to have been covered in recent talks by President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. And Kennedy summarized those talks this week by saying that they had failed to provide a basis for negotiations.

It does appear that at present the Western policy position in responding to the Soviet Union on specific issues is severely handicapped by lack of agreement among the United States, Britain, France and West Germany. They are divided over what, if any, concessions they can make to Moscow if Khrushchev will modify his basic demand for a change in the status of West Berlin.

Khrushchev based his package proposal on the proposition that only a German peace treaty—by which he means a treaty signed separately with East and West Germany—"can remove the danger of a new war."

U.S. officials say that there is nothing the Western powers can do to prevent Khrushchev from signing a separate peace treaty with East Germany. But they have no intention of participating in a pact which would formalize the division of Germany. Basic Western policy still calls for ultimate German unification.

By TOM HOGE UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Ghana sought support today for a resolution calling on the Security Council to expel South Africa from the United Nations.

Ghana Ambassador Alex Quaison-Sackey said his delegation had drawn up a draft demanding the ouster of the white supremacist nation and would put it before the 26-nation African group today.

Quaison-Sackey declined to say on what grounds the demand was based until he had consulted the rest of the group. Presumably it says South Africa is unworthy of U.N. membership because it is continuing its apartheid—race segregation—policies in defiance of repeated U.N. appeals.

Some Africans doubted Ghana would get strong support from their group for such a drastic demand. A number of African delegates, although bitterly opposed to South Africa's racial policies, have said privately they feel it is wiser to keep the republic in the U. N. where other members can bring pressure to bear and perhaps eventually get some results.

At least seven affirmative votes would be required in the 11-nation Security Council to expel South Africa. Observers doubted that many could be mustered.

Ghana's resolution reportedly was drawn up before South African Foreign Minister Eric Louw made his policy speech in the General Assembly that brought down the wrath of the African group and resulted in a 67-1 vote of censure against Louw.

Louw has claimed the concerted black African move against his government was decided long before he spoke and that his address served only to trigger the censure vote and move for expulsion.

Louw said he was coming before I came here for this assembly, he held reporters. "It's all part of a prearranged campaign."

Louw said the unprecedented censure of his speech was sure to lose a tide of resentment among South Africans who have long smarted under U.N. attacks. He said it might provoke demands that South Africa pull out of the world body.

Louw declined to speculate if his government would agree to such demands.

Low assailed the United States and other Western powers for failing to defend him in the General Assembly against the vote of censure. The United States and Britain did not participate in the vote and U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson issued a statement later supporting the right of every speaker to state his views even though the United States rejected Louw's views on racial segregation.

BILL WOODS Champion Twirler On Program Here

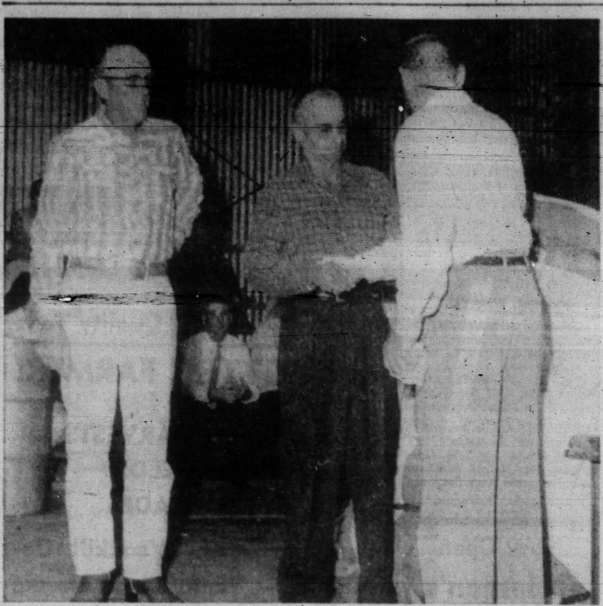

The Snyder High School Black and Gold Band will feature "Twirling At Its Best" at the half-time show for tonight's Snyder-Levelland football game in Tiger Stadium.

Featured for the first time this year will be the high school majorettes, Jackie McNabb, head twirler, Becky Reedy, Sandra Audrey, Charlotte Womack, Claudia Fowler and Janie Crowder.

A special feature of the half-time performance will be the presentation of the former national high school twirling champion, Bill Woods, who is now director of hands at Levelland High School, held a one-week twirling clinic in Snyder last summer, at which time he was instructor for all of the twirling students in the Snyder Schools.

Woods is the holder of 38 medals and 16 trophies won during his career in "baton twirling." Among his winnings were sixth place in the National VFW Twirling Contest, first place in the River-view Chicago Twirling Contest, and first place in the American Legion National Contest.

Woods is a graduate of Plainview High School. He attended Hardin-Simmons University, where he served as drum major and feature twirler for the Hardin-Simmons Cowboy Band. Since his graduation in 1954 he has served as band director at Anson, Seagraves, and this year moved to his present position as band director at Levelland.

Agriculture Big Business, Group Told

By DICK ROBERTS "Agriculture today is a real business and has a close relationship with town business and with industry."

With these words the mood was set for the "Greater Snyder Area Farm and Ranch Recognition Day." The event took place last night at Towle Park. Howard Boswell of Temple was the speaker. Boswell is the editor of "Soil and Water" magazine. He is a stock farmer and at one time was a director of the Texas Soil Conservation District.

Boswell directed the attention of the 400 guests to the fact that 10 per cent or less of America's population is now engaged in farming. But this does not mean that there is a decrease in the economic im-

Weak Front Edges South

A weak cool front pushed into the Texas Panhandle early Friday. It was expected to touch thunderstormers in North Central and Northeast Texas during the day.

Skies were clear with the exception of some scattered clouds around Laredo, Alice and Wichita Falls.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said that the front lay on a line running from near Wichita Falls westward to north of Lubbock.

Thunderstorm activity that was developing in southwestern Oklahoma was expected to move southward across the Red River into Texas during the afternoon.

Dalhart with 44 degrees had the lowest pre-dawn reading while the high was a 72 at Galveston.

County Gins Are Humming

Cotton ginning figures in Scurry County passed the 3,000 mark during the past week, but less than a fourth of the estimated total has been processed.

The Texas Employment Commission ginning survey this week showed a total of 3,197 bales ginned. The TEC estimate of the 1961 crop in Scurry County has been pegged at 37,000 bales.

RATTLESNAKE ENDS FOOTBALL GAME

A rattlesnake broke up a football game here Thursday evening.

Mrs. W. K. Bigham, Big Spring Highway, shot a football being used in play by a group of children in the four-foot snake, which was coiled in a flower bed beside the Bigham residence at about 6:15 p.m.

The snake slithered away and managed to get under the house of C. Simpson and his son, B. B. Simpson, who was band director at Anson, Seagraves, and this year moved to his present position as band director at Levelland.

Series Of Blasts In Miami Send Residents Scurrying

By JOE MCGOWAN JR. MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Explosions and fire at a gas storage plant drove householders, some in night clothing, from the area early today.

They were returning after the blaze was put out, when officials ordered re-evacuation of a two-block area near the Southeastern Natural Gas Corp. plant, 29th Ave. and 25th St.

County fire headquarters said 3000-gallon tanks and remained an explosion hazard. A spokesman said the re-evacuation was ordered to permit transfer of the gas to other facilities. The transfer was expected to take two hours.

The 30-36-foot storage tanks grew warm during the blaze but firemen prevented them from igniting.

Stahl Re-Elected By Farm Bureau

C. H. Stahl was re-elected as president of the Scurry County Farm Bureau at the annual county convention yesterday afternoon. Stahl, in accepting the position, stated that he would be proud and happy to serve the farmers of this area for another year, but felt that after 1961 coming year another person should be given the opportunity to lead the bureau.

Who? Stahl, of firm was elected vice president. The team of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Andrews was re-elected as secretary and treasurer.

New members of the board are R. J. Russell, elected to fill the place of J. Lane, and Ross Williams, elected to fill the place held by M. W. Brownsett. J. B. Knight was re-elected as director.

The state convention will be held in Dallas on Nov. 14. Scurry County delegates to the convention are James Beavers, R. J. Russell, Mal Andrews, C. H. Stahl and Fred Davis. Alternates are T. B. Knight, Edgar Taylor and Mrs. Andrews.

The Scurry County convention passed five resolutions. These will be presented to the state convention. The state in turn will present its resolutions at the national convention in Chicago in December. In their resolutions the local organization recommended that the "single law" be liberalized to permit "straw" to be used in any kind of farm work. It was also resolved that proxy voting be discontinued in farm-related operations such as co-ops. The group also voted their opposition to the transfer of acreage allotments to other than non-owning farmers. FB members strongly recommended that extension services be used for all phases of agriculture, and that marketing research also be encouraged in all phases of the agricultural program.

It was voted by the membership that next year's convention be scheduled to coincide with the annual membership picnic.

CRAWD Approves Tentative Budget

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District adopted a tentative 1962 budget Thursday calling for slightly increased expenses and more than offsetting revenues.

Virtually the only changes from the current year, were occasioned by an adjustment in electric power rates, plus the addition of the Standard Oil and Sinclair repressuring project in eastern Howard County. The repressuring project added costs, but it also accounted for much of the anticipated increase in revenues.

The tentative budget anticipates $2,079,000 in revenues, of which $2,020,828 would be from sale of water, the balance from recreation sources. This is $47,222 more than the current budget.

Operating expenses are estimated at $2,030,302, which is $44,744 more than currently budgeted. The $36,544 budgeted for interest charges is about $20,000 less than for the current year, but the $430,000 for principal is up by $20,000, thus the overall budget requirements here are relatively the same. The $484,067 anticipated in excess of operating and debt service charges is scheduled to be met through such as improvement and extension, contingency and retirement of bonds for the "tail-end" bond.

Directors Thursday shelved the matter of a headquarters building for the time being and officially rejected all bids which were received little more than a week ago. The lowest was for more than $96,000, which was about $16,000 above the outlay provided previously by the board.

Bids will be sought for a track type loader needed for maintenance work operating principally off and on the big barge.

In the proposed budget, the district pegged source of supply at $112,061, down about $200 from this year; pumping expense at $487,791, up by about $20,000 to cover higher power rates and some difference in anticipated volume; administrative expense of $124,400, up about $1,500; total annual expense of $53,861, up some $11,000; capital expenditures $17,200, up by $4,000.

E. V. Spence, general manager, informed the board that a hearing had been called on a repressuring project for the Sharon Ridge oil field, where the district has been seeking to obtain control of salt water pollution it claims has originated from that area.

dustry. The surplus problem began in World War II when the industry was asked to produce to capacity.

"That high production has continued," he said. "Some people think a surplus is a curse" but "a surplus is much to be preferred to a shortage." Rowell added, "We today are the best fed people and the cheapest in terms of hourly earnings in the world."

Agriculture is America's greatest success story.

Rowell concluded by pointing out that agriculture is the biggest and most permanent industry in Snyder and across the nation. Even in Dallas 86,000 of the 13,000 workers, or 40 per cent, are in agriculture related business. On the local level an increase of income of just $1.25 per cultivated acre on Scurry County farms and 25 cents per acre on ranch land would mean an increase of one-half million dollars a year in new money to our economy.

The Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District presented awards for outstanding work in the field of conservation. Martin Parks received the award in the rancher division and Carmen Hobbs was a honoree in the farm division. Milan Fowler made the presentations.

The Snyder Jaycees' Outstanding Young Farmer award was presented to Max von Roeder by John Jarrell. This annual award is presented to a farmer between the ages of 21 and 35, and is designed to help increase a better public understanding of the farmer and his problems.

E. E. Shifflet was presented a check for $100 from the Chamber of Commerce as his prize for producing Scurry County's first bale of 1961 cotton. The cotton was then auctioned off in a "Chinese" auction, where the bidders paid the amount of the increased bid whether they were successful bidders or not. The final bid, and the cotton, went to Snyder National Bank.

The bid was $2 per pound.

Before the auctioning of the now-famous bale of cotton produced by the cotton picking contest between banker Roger Mize and barber Jim Lacy, Mize, the winning cotton picker, was presented with a framed color picture of the contestants in action.

In an "American" auction, that slightly deformed bale of cotton was sold to Weldon Johnson and Harry Winston for $200. The cotton had been donated by the cotton pickers' contestants, and the money will go to the Goodfellows fund.

The Rev. Roy Havens gave the invocation at the barbecue. Gerald Johnson, chairman of the agriculture committee of the Chamber of Commerce acted as Master of Ceremonies for the evening, and gave special thanks to Badger Robertson for his help.

Import Controls System Is Headed For Vast Revamping

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The most extensive revamping of the oil import control program since its inception on a mandatory basis two years ago appears in the offing.

Contrary to some reports, a draft of proposed changes has not yet been submitted by the Interior Department's Oil Import Administration to other federal departments and agencies for their reaction. This step is due soon, however, because a new quota period comes up Jan. 1 and advance work is necessary for tanker movement.

Interior Department officials don't breathe a word about what's going to be in the forthcoming orders. But, on the basis of what Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall already has done and considering political-economic facts involved, some sources say two important changes are likely:

1. A decrease of 25,000 to 50,000 barrels a day in crude oil imports.
2. A relaxation if not complete lifting of curbs on imports of residual oil used as industrial fuel on the Atlantic seaboard.

There would be some immediate reactions and repercussions. The domestic oil and gas producers would be pleased. So would the industrial consumers of residual oil, especially in the New York-New Jersey and New England areas. The coal industry and the coal-carrying railroads would be decidedly unhappy.

Then with election of former Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts as president, they had someone at the top who was on their side. Early in the Kennedy administration Udall directed a relaxation of residual import curbs in order to meet a fuel shortage in New England last winter.

As oil imports mounted in the early and mid '50s, lawmakers from petroleum and coal-producing states laid aside their differences to combat a common foe. In the fact of State Department opposition, since friendly foreign nations such as Venezuela were involved, they finally succeeded in getting a voluntary import control program established. Many months went by and imports continued to climb. The oil-coal congressional coalition once again applied the pressure. The result: the program was made mandatory—import quotas were established.

On the other side of the picture was the effect of the program on the big and small businesses of the northeast. New England senators led a fight against restrictions on residual oil imports to their part of the country, contending the curbs actually pushed up prices. The senators from New York and some other states joined their cause.

Decrease Urged In Cotton Acreage

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is calling upon cotton farmers to join grain growers in reducing crop plantings next year to help solve the farm surplus problem and reduce costs of federal farm programs.

The Agriculture Department set 1962 crop-cotton planting allotments under a production control program Thursday at 18,101,718 acres, a reduction of 356,706 acres or 1.9 per cent from this year.

A program already has been set up requiring a 10 per cent reduction in next year's wheat plantings. Likewise, feed grain grow-

Strange Numbers On Friday, The 13th

FORT WORTH (AP)—Star-Telegram reporter-photographer Don McDowell set out to debunk the superstition that Friday the 13th is an unlucky day.

To prove this point he asked Pat Stead, a senior at Texas Wesleyan College, to pose with a pair of scissors. The idea: It's bad luck to trim your nails on this unlucky day.

Everything went well until he processed the film and discovered that one of the 12 frames on the roll came out with the numbers 13-10 and 2 etched on her forehead.

Camera Angles

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

Our topic this week is "Press Photography."
What is the trend in press cameras favored by newspaper photographers today? Are press photographers required to know dark room work? Do they have special lighting equipment? How do they tackle an assignment? What special requirements should they have for sports photography? Must they know about color reproduction in newspapers? What are the legal restrictions in picture taking? And what are the job opportunities in photojournalism?

It would take a book by experts who know the field thoroughly to explain all these and other facets of press photography. Fortunately, down-to-earth language. Fortunately, the very thing needed is at hand among the new publications, "Press Photography" by Robert B. Rhode and Floyd H. McCall (Macmillan, N. Y.).
McCall, a 30-year professional chief photographer of the Denver Post and was chairman of the education committee of the National Press Photographers Association. Rhode, with a newspaper background as writer and photographer is an associate professor of journalism at the University of Colorado. Together they explore the subject and come up with the answers based on practical experience. It might well serve as a textbook for photo fans, high school and college journalism students and newspapermen who would like to understand the photography end of the business.

There has been a change in the equipment of newspaper photographers in the past few years, particularly on the larger metropolitan papers and the wire services. The old familiar trademark "the Speed Graphic, once the distinguishing badge of a press cameraman, has been discarded for the twin-lens reflex or 35mm camera. Actually, there is no present "press camera." There is instead a press photographer who must be versatile enough to use any of today's modern equipment to get the most effective, story-telling picture for any assignment. Any camera is but a tool. Good photographers must know their tools thoroughly and be aware of when to use each one for a specific job which it can do best. They must also understand what takes place in the darkroom and be able to transform their efforts into negatives and prints even though there may be specialists who actually do the processing and printing. It's the understanding that will help them perform their picture taking job with greater certainty and perfection.

Light is another essential tool in photography which the cameraman must learn to evaluate and control. In this area, experience is an invaluable aid but the modern press photographer no longer scorns the help of science in the shape of an exposure meter. This, too, was unheard of but a few short years ago. He must learn to judge light by its source, its intensity, its direction and its mood. He must use natural or available light or add to it, if necessary, with electronic flash or the new, smaller flashbulbs. The goal? A story-telling picture in which the lighting helps convey the proper mood.

Loboes Invade Tiger Stadium Tonight

Kickoff Set For 8 P. M.

Scribe Likes Baylor And TCU In Conference Tests

Tri-Captains: Gimmett, Mitchell, Hazel

It'll be the Snyder Tigers vs. the Lovelland Loboes here in Tiger Stadium tonight at 8 o'clock, as the two teams clash in their final non-district action of the season.

Coach Horace Bostick's 3-AAA Loboes will be going for their second win of the year, their initial victory being a late September 19-12 clipping of Kermit. Tiger losses have been suffered at the hands of Borger (6-22), Andrews (8-12), Big Spring (6-22), and Breckenridge (18-26).

The 1-AAA Loboes, with Johnny Hickman at the helm, started the season like a house afire, but have since simmered down somewhat, having lost their two most recent contests after emerging victorious in their first three outings. Lobo triumphs to date include:

Five games that include two championship tests and two very important intersectional clashes make up the Southwest Conference schedule Saturday.

Texas meets Oklahoma in Dallas as the only afternoon game and the only game that will draw a sellout crowd; but the pivot of interest is at Waco where Baylor's Golden Bears start on what they hope will be the championship trial.

Arkansas, which is the league leader at present with a championship tie and an outright tie in two years, furnishes the opposition for Baylor's high-string of Texas A&M for the conference lead as the result of a 28-3 victory over Texas Christian last week.

Baylor handed Arkansas its only defeat in conference play last season. It has a decisive triumph, too. The Bears led the stretch while Arkansas just got stronger.

The Texas-Oklahoma struggle is a picture in contrast. The Sooners come to Dallas with a winless record while Texas is unbeaten in three games, rated No. 4 in the nation and leading college football in offense with a magnificent 304-yard average per outing.

The crowd of 75,504 that packs into the Cotton Bowl will be excited by the flip-flop of offense that has shaken four backs loose for 860 yards and produced 447 air yards, will be a 14-point favorite.

Heading the thunderous Texas ground attack is James Saxton, one of the finest all-around backs in Longhorn history. He has romped for 273 yards in three games and his running has been the stunning factor each time as Texas rolled up 111 points while allowing the opposition just 25.

Texas has been using the forward pass more than any other Southwest Conference member—something quite unusual for Coach Darrell Royal of Texas. But this streamlined offense that comes through the so-called flip-flop formation.

This formation is a stabilization of the Texas wing-T of recent seasons, with variations. In the past the line stayed put and either halfback might flank. This year the line turns over on "flip-flops" with the strong side going either right or left. The halfbacks stay put and Saxton is the tailback (running halfback).

Steers Big Favorites In Annual Brawl

DALLAS (AP)—Oklahoma's football squad flies into Texas today to find itself the biggest underdog in its traditional game with Texas in at least two decades.

The Sooners go to Fort Worth, 30 miles west of Dallas, to hold a workout and spend a quiet night away from the hustle and bustle of the State Fair of Texas where 75,504 screaming fans will crowd into the Cotton Bowl Saturday to watch Texas try to make it four straight victories.

Texas doesn't come to town until tonight, flying in from Austin. It will be the first time for a winless Oklahoma team to meet an all-victorious Texas team in the 61-year-old rivalry that has met the teams play 55 games.

Texas, featuring its flip-flop offense that has shaken four backs loose for 860 yards and produced 447 air yards, will be a 14-point favorite.

Heading the thunderous Texas ground attack is James Saxton, one of the finest all-around backs in Longhorn history. He has romped for 273 yards in three games and his running has been the stunning factor each time as Texas rolled up 111 points while allowing the opposition just 25.

These are Brownfield (32-34), Hobbs, New Mexico (14-2), and Seminole (28-21). Losses have been at the hands of Andrews (8-12) and Sweetwater (8-26).

Oddly, enough, it may be noted that the only common foe of each combatant—Andrews—won out by identical scores of 12-0, as judged from that comparative score, tonight's game should be a closely contested one.

The Tigers will have their work cut out for them, in that they will be trying to snap a three-game losing streak. Snyder's most recent victory was by 27-21, and was scored in 1957.

A couple of backfield switches in variance from the announced starting lineups seem as possibilities for the Tigers. Bostick has intimated that on weather conditions will hinge his choice for the starting man under slot with Steve Free and Tim Marcum the pawns at that position. Also, Johnny Mitchell is being considered as the stand-in for Bax Callaway.

The Tiger defensive unit will sport Larry McNair and Bill Weaver, guards; Bob Smith and William Robinson, tackles; Tim Hardin and Billy Stewart, ends; Darrell Aldridge and Joe Robinson, linebackers; and Callaway, Eddie Pley and Mike Morris, secondary men.

Serving the team as game captain will be Mitchell and end Ray Grinnett.

Cup Matches Begin Today

The Snyder (Texas Daily News, Fri., Oct. 13, 1961. 5

By RONALD THOMSON
LYTHAM STANNES, England (AP)—The United States and Britain squared off in the Ryder Cup golf matches today with fans predicting that two men could spark the Yanks to their eleventh victory—Gene Littler and Arnold Palmer.

Palmer, the British Open champion, picked Littler, the American Open champion, as "almost unbeatable" in the matches which began this morning over the Royal Lytham and St. Annes course.

"Littler is playing the best golf of his life," Palmer said. "He is really accurate off the tee and brilliant around the greens."

The quiet and boyish-looking Littler, playing in Britain for the first time, has broken par on most of his practice excursions.

Littler and partner Doug Ford met Ireland's Christy O'Connor and England's Peter Alliss in the first of four morning foursomes.

U.S. captain Jerry Barber dropped himself and Doug Finsterwald from the morning foursomes, and the draw came out like this:

Ford and Littler vs. O'Connor and Alliss.

Art Wall and Jay Hebert vs. John Pantom and Bernard Hunt.

Bill Casper and Arnold Palmer vs. Dai Rees and Ken Bouiefield.

Bill Collis and Mike Souchak vs. Tom Halliburton and Neil Cotes.

Four other foursomes—in which partners take alternate strokes at the ball—will be played in the afternoon. Sixteen singles (eight in the morning and eight more in the afternoon) are scheduled for Saturday's closing program.

Junior Highs Suffer Setbacks

Friday the 19th must have come a day early this week. At least it was true on the city's junior high front, as two previously unbeaten local eleven were bounced off the select list as Snyder teams were felled in three of five games played.

The rough night was in marked contrast to that of the previous two Thursdays, in which a combined total of nine victories in as many outings were registered by Snyder teams.

Travis 9th, whose present assemblage of personnel were unbeaten and untied through three weeks of play together, had their streak stopped at 20, falling by the wayside to Big Spring Goliad, 8-6.

And Lamar 9th, which hadn't yielded a point to an opponent in winning its first four games, was struck by Sweetwater, 18-14.

That leaves two junior high outfits within the city on the unbeaten and untied list—Travis 8th and 7th. Travis 8th won out over Goliad by 20-0 to keep their strong intact while their seventh grade counterpart enjoyed a free night from the grueling work.

Details concerning each of the games as played follow.

Goliad 8, Travis 9th 6

The song is ended, as the Big Spring Goliad Mavericks put a sudden stop to the Travis Blue Devils 9th music-making here Thursday night, applying the stopper by 8-6.

The Blue Devils, in addition to winning their first four games this season, constitute the nucleus of the past 7th and 8th grade Texas eleven that were undefeated during their two-year and 16-game span.

Neither team was able to find the scoring combination, but in a first half play, Jimmy Featherston of the Goliad 8th turned the tide for the locals in the third period, however. From there quarterback Featherston followed up on the advantage by winning a 22-yard touchdown pass to halfback Lester Brown, who hauled it in on a dead run as he barreled into the end zone. Brown attempted to kick the conversion but the oval hit the crossbar and fell back on the front side, so that at 5:35 of the third the Blue Devils found themselves harboring a narrow 6-0 advantage.

The Mavericks rumbled back to knot the count with 7:22 left in the game on a 35-yard aerial, then rammed the middle of the line for the winning points.

The shifty Brown looked sensational during the half play on the punt returning side of the ledger. He shook loose on returns of 55, 35, and 20 yards after being bottled

Ford's Punt, Pass, Kick Is Tomorrow

All boys aged 6 through 10 desiring to compete in Ford Motor Company's Punt, Pass and Kick competition, sponsored locally by Wilson Motors, are reminded to be present for the contesting tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock on the Tiger Stadium field.

It has been emphasized that it is not necessary for a boy wanting to enter to have previously filed a contest form. Instead, those wishing to take part may sign up initially "on the spot" tomorrow morning at the stadium.

Coaches within the local community will enter the contest, which will offer the contesting competition in the three areas of punting, passing and kicking of the pigskin oval.

Tech Frosh Meet Shoots In Lubbock

LUBBOCK (Special)—Texas Tech freshmen open their 1961 season against the University of Arkansas Shoots in Jones Stadium at 7:30 p.m. this evening.

It's a stern inaugural for Coach Ben Huffman's Pioneers, because the Shoots, rated one of the school's best freshman outfits, have one game under their belts already—a 26-0 trouncing of the North Texas State frosh.

Three Pioneers are not expected to play because of injuries—end Tommy Doyle of Lamesa, fullback Paul James of Midland, and end Carl Taylor of Anton. On the doubtful list are halfback Leo Lovery of Lovington, N. M., halfback Ronnie Peebles of Ennis, and tackle Bill Malone of Phillips.

Probable Texas Tech starters are ends Bill McLelland, 210; of Ennis, and Charles Gaddy, 185 of Dallas Highland Park, and Billy Beles, 235 of Sweetwater; guards Larry Carlisle, 190 of Lovelland, and Bill Waskerzky, 265 of Bonham, center C. Willis, 200, of Bay City.

Quarterback Bob Mack, 200, of Dallas Jesuit, halfbacks W. P. Gaffin, 190 of Lubbock, and Donnie Anderson, 205 of Stinnett, and fullback Butch Thompson, 190 of Lubbock Monterey.

Hutchinson Named Manager Of Year

By REN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Freddie Hutchinson of the Cincinnati Reds, collecting all except one of the 1961 votes, was selected the National League manager of the year for 1961 today in the annual Associated Press Poll.

A lone ballot for Alvin Dark of the third-place San Francisco Giants prevented Hutchinson from being a unanimous choice.

In the balloting by members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

With important contributions from new acquisitions pitcher Joey Jay and third baseman Steve Pate, the constant hitting of Frank Robinson and Vada Pinson—Hutchinson helped the Reds improve on their 1960 performance by 15 games and five positions in the standings.

The past season they won 93 games and lost 61. In 1960, the Reds had a 67-87 record, finishing sixth. Virtually no one gave them a chance to win their first pennant in 21 years.

The Reds were pressed throughout the year by the Los Angeles Dodgers, considered by most experts to have had more talent.

The pivotal series between the contenders was played in Cincinnati, Aug. 25-27. The Dodgers won the first two games, cutting the Reds' league lead to 1 1/2 games. A sweep of the final two, a Sunday doubleheader, would have put Los Angeles in front. However, Cincinnati took both games, 9-3 and 6-5. The final margin of victory was four games.

Hutchinson, 42, previously managed the Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Cards.

Dark, in his first season as a manager, helped lift the Giants two notches in the standings. They finished fifth in 1960 under Bill Rife and Tom Sheehan.

Knicks To Open

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Knickerbockers make their home debut under new Coach Eddie Donovan against a college all-star team tonight. The Boston Celtics and Philadelphia Warriors meet in the opener of the exhibition doubleheader.

Sweetwater 18, Lamar 9th 14

SWEETWATER—The Sweetwater Colts, helped along by the reported boost from the game officials in the calling of the contest, combined to topple the Lamar 9th Texans from the ranks of the unbeaten, untied, and unscored on here Thursday night, as a diving-gasp touchdown earned for them an 18-14 triumph.

The Colts tallied the winning margin as seven seconds showed to be left in the game after a penalty had moved them to within five yards of the Texas goal. On the fourth play of the line they were left to play in the stanza. A run around right end for the extra was thwarted however, so that the visitors still clung to the lead, 8-6.

Bendley changed all that midway through the following quarter, as he rounded left end 18 yards for the winning TD with 5:12 left in the half. A blast at the middle of the line for the bonus points fell short.

Neither team was able to muster a serious scoring threat during second half play. Sweetwater was moving the ball well during the final minutes of the game, but a timely pass interception at mid-field by end Bill Dumas dashed their final hopes for a win.

Travis 8th 20, Goliad 6

BIG SPRING—Dormant through three frustrating quarters of play, the Travis 8th Blue Devils suddenly came to life in the final period to chase over three touchdowns and emerge with a 20-6 triumph over the Goliad 6th.

The victory preserved the spotless record as compiled by Travis, it being the fourth of the season without loss.

Goliad broke the scoring ice in the initial stanza on a 40-yard pass play. Neither team could gain the upper hand during the second period; and in the third drive of 75 and 40 yards on the part of the Blue Devils were stopped by a fumble and penalty, respectively.

On the first play of the fourth quarter, however, a Big Spring back in their own end zone was recovered by Blue Devil tackle Steve McMahan for a touchdown, and fullback Jerry Kincheol rolled ground right end for the two points to put Travis into the lead to stay.

The second Blue Devil marker was set up on an intercepted pass on the part of defensive halfback Powers Boothe, who returned to the Goliad 10-yard line before being brought down. From that point Kincheol slanted off tackle for the TD.

Kincheol struck again in the second minute left to go in the game, piloting a Goliad aerial and running 40 yards into paydirt.

Lamar 8th 12, Sweetwater 8

The Texans of Lamar 8th engaged Sweetwater's Colts here Thursday night in a game which saw both teams depositing all of their scoring eggs in one first half basket, as the Texans rolled to a 12-8 victory over the invaders.

The Colts managed to grace the scoring column first with a 30-yard skirting of right end with 5:32 left in the first quarter turning the trick. A plunge up the middle was good for the points and a short-lived 8-0 lead.

Lamar came roaring back later in the period, with quarterback David Boutley capping on a 20-yard drive by keeping over right tackle Murray Rowden, who was shaken up on the first play of the PITTSBURGH (AP)—First baseman Rocky Nelson, a batting star for the Pittsburgh Pirates in the 1960 World Series, is back in the minors again.

Tiger Bees Eye Midland

The Snyder Tiger "B" team will clash with the Midland Lee "B" crew here tomorrow night at 7:30 in Tiger Stadium.

Snyder will carry a 2-3 record into the clash, having downed Sweetwater and Lamesa, while losing to Big Spring, Sweetwater, and the San Angelo Junior Varsity.

Texas Freshmen Chip Cubs, 13-8

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Charles Backlund of the Texas freshmen to a 13-8 victory over the Baylor Freshmen Thursday night.

He set up the first Texas touchdown with a 51-yard punt return and ran 10 yards for the second touchdown.

The local congregation is emphasizing the "Shining Light" night service this year with the theme "Shining Lights on Sunday Night." An attendance goal of 50 has been set for this month each Sunday night. There were 32 in attendance last Sunday night.

The real villain that destroys the Sunday night service, according to Horace Taylor, "is the average Christian's lack of self-discipline. He suggests that self-denial has become meaningless, and we have lost the power to deny for Christ's sake. The seeking first of the kingdom of God in many Christians is limited strictly to the Sunday school and the Sunday morning service, he said.

Claim Nixon To Bow Out

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard M. Nixon will finally declare himself out of the 1962 presidential race within the next few weeks, a Nixon source said Thursday.

The source, who asked not to be identified, told newsmen at a private gathering. "Mr. Nixon feels that there are no realistic conditions under which he would be a candidate for president."

The source said the former vice president also held these views:

1. President Kennedy probably will be unbeatable in 1964; his only real problem in winning reelection would be an economic recession, and if the United States should go to war, his re-election would be certain.

2. Probable GOP candidates will be Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York or Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona—or a combination of both.

3. Nixon plans to do very little campaigning for governor of California during the rest of 1961 and definitely will not permit party leaders from outside to stump California for him—with the possible exception of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

(Nixon, defeated in the 1960 presidential election, stated at a recent news conference that he would serve California's full four-year term if elected.)

From me to you A DAILY VIEW

By Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"I saw in the nightvisions and behold... there came one like a son of man... And to him was given dominion and glory and kingdom, that all peoples, nations, and languages should serve him."

Daniel 7:13-14 (read Chapter 7)

"This vision reads more like a nightmare, and one wonders what Daniel had to eat before going to bed. Yet the truth of the matter is that Daniel was given inspiration by God to see the coming of Jesus Christ, and the Kingdom of God set up upon earth. The things that Daniel saw in that night vision have come true, up to the point of our own times. If he saw aright concerning times past, we can feel confident that the future is also to be as he saw it. And that future is simply that the whole world will bow at the feet of God to give Him the honor and the glory and the praise."

Army Scores Big With President

BY FRED S. HOFFMAN
ST. BRAGG, N. C. (AP)—The Army apparently has scored big with President Kennedy in his close-up look at its proud paratroopers, skilled antiguerrilla forces and sharpshooting weapons.

The impact that Thursday's four-hour demonstration made on the President could yield important dividends to the Army in the shaping of the new defense budget.

Gen. George H. Decker, Army chief of staff, who sat beside the President through much of the afternoon, told a reporter Kennedy was "tremendously impressed" with the acrobacy and the efficiency of the artillery pieces and missiles.

Maj. Gen. Theodore Conway, commanding general of the elite, all-volunteer 82nd Airborne Division, said the President remarked to him that the paratroopers' pride and spirit "stand out all over them."

This dovetailed with a statement by the White House press secretary, Pierre Salinger, that the President was very impressed by the firing and other exhibitions as well as by the quality, caliber and spirit of the men.

By this, Kennedy obviously meant not only the paratroopers but the highly trained antiguerrilla forces and rangers.

The Army wheeled up a series of small and large weapons, some conventional artillery and some rockets capable of firing atomic warheads. No atomic projectiles were fired.

Cohen Faces 2 Obstacles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two things stand today between Mickey Cohen and temporary freedom: San Francisco Bay and $100,000.

The one-time kingpin of Los Angeles bookmaking is serving a federal income tax evasion sentence at Alcatraz Island.

But Thursday, in Washington, Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas ruled that Cohen could go free on $100,000 bail—pending appeal of his conviction.

There's a slight possibility the bond could be posted here tomorrow, his attorney, Jack Dahlstrom said in Los Angeles Thursday night. "But it's more likely it'll be Monday."

If Cohen is freed today, he will have served 78 days of his 15-year sentence. He was also fined $30,000 in federal court when he was convicted last July 1.

Dahlstrom and A. L. Wirtz, American Civil Liberties Union attorney, filed an appeal on the grounds that Cohen was denied due process of the law, that the trial judge admitted evidence on

National Cemetery Becoming Crowded

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arlington National Cemetery is becoming so crowded that single instead of double burial places will be used in the future for a man, his wife and children.

More than 110,000 burials have been made in the big military cemetery during the last 97 years.

The Defense Department announced Thursday that the new policy will become effective next Monday.
