SPIRIT CATALYSTS — The Big Spring High School football team may have to wait until next month to generate power but the school's cheerleaders pictured above are reminding everyone that the community doesn't have to delay showing enthusiasm for the team and the school. They'll be on hand when a giant Back-to-

School pep rally will be staged in the Amphitheater at Comanche Trail Park, starting at 8 o'clock this evening. There will be no charge for admission but the girls want to make sure you're ready to join in the enthusiasm. The girls pictured here are Brenda Trevino, Tresa Hohertz, Karen Smith, Carrie Little and Charlotte Beil.

Suspect offers no resistance

Local teen escapes abduction

By JAMES WERRELL

A local woman narrowly escaped abduction by a six-foot, three-inch, 200-pound man, Thursday afternoon.

Andrea Hohertz, 19, 7 Highland Heather, was loading boxes into her car in the parking lot of the Highland Mall when she was hit from behind by the large man.

The assailant struck her "several times, forced her into the front seat of her car, and then "sort of sat on her," said investigator. Miss Hohertz was then told to hand over the keys to the car, and to sit quietly in the front passenger seat.

"While the guy was putting the keys into the ignition, she got out of the car to run away," said Patrolman Richard Doane. "As she opened the door, the guy grabbed her dress and ripped it, but she managed to get away."

Amity(ville) horror

Miss Howard College target of tall, hefty Texas parolee

Jackie Wayne Hogan, Andrea Hohertz' accused assailant was transferred to the Howard County Jail this morning, 9:10 a.m.

Charged with robbery, the husky man was originally placed on $15,000 bond by Justice of the Peace Lewis Hefflin. Bond was denied when authorities discovered that the 25-year-old man was wanted for violation of parole.

Miss Hohertz, 19, was crowned Miss Amity in the Miss Texas U.S.A. pageant held in El Paso Monday night. The petite Miss Howard College is entering Texas A&M University as a sophomore where she will study fashion merchandising.

Hogan was paroled from the Texas Department of Corrections at Huntsville from Wichita Falls, according to District Attorney Rick Hamby.

"It's my understanding that he will be served with a warrant for parole violation today," he said.

He always gets 'good results'

One of the Herald customers keeps using the newspaper's want ad section as a method of advertising his rental property because, invariably, he gets "good results."

He recently announced he had a furnished one-bedroom house for rent "fully carpeted, clean, with garage." He preferred to have a married couple as his renters.

The ad ran four days. He rented the place, after receiving an abundance of calls.

For best results in the shortest amount of time, make use of a Herald "people's ad." It's easy to arrange. Call 263-7331 and talk to one of the Herald's friendly sales people.

ANDREA HOHERTZ

Hamby said that two other charges, auto theft and kidnapping, were filed on Hogan today. The robbery charge is a second degree felony, according to Hamby, while the other charges are third degree felonies.

Hogan was arrested about 12:35 p.m. Thursday. He was carrying only $1.11 in cash, according to his arrest sheet. He listed his address as Chief Apartments No. 5.

According to Hamby, if Hogan is indicted, he will be tried here.

Gunman hijacks Libyan jetliner

LARNACA, Cyprus (AP) — A gunman hijacked a jetliner over Libya today and the plane flew to Cyprus where the hijacker surrendered and the passengers disembarked unharmed, airport officials said.

The hijacker was identified as Mohammed Assmounah, 28, a Libyan student. Director General of Civil Aviation for Cyprus, Theodoros Papapetrou, said the Libyan asked for asylum, but he did not say if it would be granted.

The plane, a Libyan airlines' Boeing 727, carried 60 passengers and nine crew members, airport officials said.

The suspect had been the object of police suspicion for several days, said local investigators. Last week he was arrested and charged with public intoxication, while wearing a woman's brassiere filled with two water balloons under his T-shirt.

In addition, police received reports Wednesday night from several disgruntled women, including a patrolman's wife, who claimed to have been pinched by a man answering Hogan's description. The man had appeared in several local grocery stores, where he "pretended to bump into women, and pinched them in the process," said one investigator.

Iranian government keeps rebels at bay

SAQQEZ, Iran (AP) — Helicopter gunships swept over the rebel-held city of Saqqez today, firing at anything that moved in an apparent prelude to a government attempt to land reinforcements inside the city's besieged army garrison.

Troops and revolutionary guardsmen inside the garrison fired mortars and rifle-propelled grenades into the city to keep the rebels at bay.

At least eight Kurds were killed and 15 wounded in today's firing. A school was turned into an emergency hospital to treat the scores of wounded Kurds, including women and children.

Kurdish sources said the helicopters and the government forces in the garrison were "firing indiscriminately" into areas inhabited by civilians. "Many women and children were unable to escape and have been killed by the explosions and shooting from helicopters," one source said.

The rebels shot down a U.S.-made Cobra gunship Thursday night as government helicopters strafed rebel positions. Government Phantom jets repeatedly smashed the sound barrier over Saqqez overnight, keeping the inhabitants on edge.

In the Kurdish city of Kermanshah, a government firing squad executed four persons today, including one Kurdish rebel convicted of killing revolutionary militiamen in last week's uprising in the Kurdish city of Paveh, the official Pars news agency reported. Pars said two of the men were condemned for selling drugs and another was killed for committing homosexual acts.

The Iranian armed forces chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Hossein Shaker, went on radio today saying, "The army expects the people of Saqqez to defend the Islamic revolution of Iran and to fend off any counter revolutionary conspiracies."

Saqqez was the third city in Kurdistan Province to become a battleground in the Kurdish struggle for home rule. Rebel Kurds besieged the Saqqez army garrison Thursday and poured heavy machine-gun fire "almost nonstop" into the compound.

Western reporters on the scene said the fighting there was the heaviest so far in the 10-day-old flareup in the Kurdish fight for autonomy that began in March.

WASHINGTON (AP) — American consumers benefited from a leveling-off of food prices in July, but this was more than offset by continued rapid rises in gasoline and home heating oil costs, the government said today.

As a result, consumer prices last month rose 1 percent, the Labor Department said.

The July increase, identical to that of June, marked the seventh consecutive month of inflation near or above the 1 percent mark.

Meanwhile, the Labor Department reported that workers' average weekly earnings declined 0.3 percent from June to July when adjusted for inflation.

"Over the year, real average weekly earnings were down 3.9 percent," the report said.

Spendable earnings — what a worker with three dependents has left after Social Security and Federal income tax payments — also fell last month. The 0.4 percent decline helped push spendable earnings about 4 percent below July 1978.

The price increases continued at the fastest pace since the early 1950s and could leave the nation with an inflation rate this year approaching 13 percent. Carter administration economists, however, say the worst of the price increases are behind and that more moderate increases are ahead.

Food and beverage prices rose a modest 0.1 percent in July, the smallest increase since July 1978.

"Beef prices declined for the second month in a row, and pork and poultry prices for the fourth consecutive month following substantial increases during the fourth quarter of 1978 and earlier this year," the report said. The price for eggs, a good meat substitute, fell 4.5 percent.

The increases were in fresh and processed fruits and vegetables, coffee, bread and cereal products. Energy prices have been rising rapidly in the wake of the temporary Iranian crude-oil production shut-down and price increases by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

In July, energy was blamed for a 1.2 percent rise in the housing component of the index and a 1.8 percent jump in transportation.

The consumer price index stood at 218.9 in July. This means that goods that cost $100 in the base year 1967 last month cost $218.90.

The index figure was 11.3 percent ahead of July 1978.

Meat prices, which fell 2.7 percent in July after a 1.8 percent drop in June, are benefiting consumers both at the grocery store and some fast-food chains.

The "hamburger war" has brought some food-price relief to customers of many McDonalds and Roy Rogers fast-food outlets.

Marriott Corp. announced Thursday that it was reducing the price of quarter-pound hamburgers and quarter-pound cheeseburgers between 4 cents and 10 cents at its 170 Roy Rogers restaurants. The price cuts take effect Tuesday.

The action followed a McDonald's Corp. move Tuesday to cut hamburger and cheeseburger prices a nickel at its 1,225 corporate owned and operated restaurants.

"We're crediting the price reduction to a drop in the cost of hamburger meat," said Richard Marriott, group vice president in charge of Marriott restaurant operations.

What could dampen continued retail meat-price moderation is a sharp turnaround in wholesale feed costs because of the world grain shortage.

The price of semi-processed animal feed rose a rapid 6.7 percent in July, according to the government's Producer Price Index. This could show up in higher meat prices in the future, analysts say.

In other economic news Thursday: —Paul A. Volcker, new chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, said the country will be stuck with high interest rates as long as inflation remains a problem.

"I know of no way to get these interest rates down in the present environment," Volcker told reporters.

He also said he agrees with President Carter that the administration should continue to oppose a tax cut, which he said would hurt government efforts to balance the budget.

—The Investment Company Institute reported that the assets of mutual funds rose $4.8 billion in July, the second largest monthly increase on record. The trade group said assets in July totaled $78.8 billion.

Action/reaction: Cable TV mystery

Q. Cable television service to the Ponderosa Apartments ended shortly after 9 a.m., today. I made several calls but nobody will tell me anything. What happened and why can't we get the service restored?

A. Nobody is willing to say much about the problem. Jim Lancaster of Cable TV says "no comment" but adds the problem is "in litigation." The Herald has learned that the severance of service followed a proposed rate adjustment, a notification that went to the management of the apartment complex and not to each tenant therein.

Tops on TV: 'The Facts of Life'

NBC (who else?) offers the one new venture on the tube tonight. "The Facts of Life," stars Charlotte Rae of "Diff'rent Strokes" as a lovable and comic (?) housekeeper who becomes housemother to five girls attending an exclusive finishing school. It airs at 7:30. The best bet, however, is the 9 o'clock movie on Cable Channel 11, "Judgement At Nuremberg." An all-star cast gives its all in a reenactment of the famous trial.

Calendar: Pep Rally

TODAY

EXECUTION STAY DENIED — Jesse Bishop, scheduled to die Monday in Nevada's gas chamber, speaks to reporter Thursday on his arrival here. Federal court judge refused to stay the execution, but another appeal will be heard Friday in San Francisco.

Suit against OPEC ended

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A federal judge, rejecting a unique effort to stop oil price fixing, has ruled that United States courts do not have jurisdiction over "sovereign nations" that export oil.

U.S. District Judge A. Andrew Hauk said Thursday he could not go forward with an antitrust suit filed against member nations of the Organization of Oil Exporting Countries because they are not subject to the U.S. Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

Hauk said each OPEC nation is entitled to protect its own natural resource, oil, for the benefit of its citizens through systems of taxation, royalties and buy-backs.

Pagano still faces charge

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The trial of the Rev. Bernard T. Pagano, a Roman Catholic priest accused of robbery, showed "the weakness of the criminal justice system and why we have to be vigilant at all times," a defense attorney says.

Five charges of armed robbery and one of attempted robbery against Pagano were dropped Thursday when Ronald Clouser, 39, of Brookhaven, Pa., pleaded guilty to three charges of second-degree robbery in the holdups.

Pagano, 53, still faces an attempted robbery charge in Pennsylvania.

Car sales going back up

DETROIT (AP) — Due largely to heavy dealer price-cutting, auto sales are back to the boom times like those that preceded gasoline lines blamed for a long slump in new car deliveries.

Sales of the five U.S. auto producers for the period from Aug. 11 to Aug. 20 totaled a record 242,065 cars, compared with 199,634 in the period last year, according to company reports Thursday.

The 21 percent increase was the largest year-to-year gain for a 10-day period since March — before the gasoline crunch.

However, troubled Chrysler Corp., which did not offer its direct-to-customer $400 rebates until the last two days of the period, suffered a sales decline of 19 percent.

Judge's replacement sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen on Friday recommended that the president appoint State District Judge Filemon B. Vela of Brownsville as a federal judge to replace Judge Reynaldo Garza.

Vela, 42, is currently judge of the 107th district state court in Brownsville. Garza was elevated earlier this to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Vela, a lifelong resident of the lower Rio Grande Valley, received his law degree from St. Mary's Law School in San Antonio in 1962. He was in the private practice of law from 1962-1974. He served as a Brownsville city commissioner from 1971-1973 and became a state district judge in January 1975.

Police beat
Cars take beating in city

Cars took a beating in the city recently.

Robert Anderson, Chaparral Trailer Park, heard a commotion near his 1978 Datsun around 1 a.m. today. When he went to investigate, he found that vandals had cracked the windshield, dented the roof of the car, and poured sugar into the gas tank.

Damage was estimated at over $200.

While a 1979 Chevrolet Monte Carlo, belonging to Cheryl West, 3706 Hamilton, was parked in the lot of the Bogart's Club, early Thursday morning, it was also hit by vandals. Paint was scratched off from both sides of the auto, causing an unestimated amount of damage.

The right rear passenger window in another Monte Carlo, this one belonging to Vivian Jones, 4209 Muir, was broken Wednesday afternoon. Damage was estimated at $30.

The headlight and parking light of a car belonging to Judy A. Halmon, 800 Main, was broken by vandals, sometime Wednesday night. Damage was estimated at $80.

Another form of transportation, a boy's 10-speed bicycle, was stolen from the home of Betsy Rojo, 810 W. 8th, sometime Thursday. The bike was valued at $108.

A customer made an illicit exchange at the Smallwood Western Wear Store, 112 E. 3rd, sometime Thursday. According to reports, a pair of old boots was left behind in place of a new calfskin pair with lizard toe tips. The new boots were valued at $102.

Burglars entered the home of Mrs. Ivory Harper, 805 Wyoming, sometime last week, and stole a portable cassette tape player. The machine was valued at $28.

Four mishaps were reported Thursday.

Vehicles driven by Rebecca Homan, 1608 Canary, Michael Tiller, 903 Runnels, and Linda Denton, OK Trailer Park, collided at 307 W. 4th, 5:10 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Carlos Cadena, 608 S. Calvin, and Ronald Cruddas, Alamo-gordo, N.M., collided at 18th and Gregg, 5:26 p.m.

A parked vehicle belonging to Roger W. Mendl, Indianapolis, Ind., was struck by a vehicle that left the scene in the parking lot of the Rip Griffin Truck Stop, 6:37 p.m.

Vehicles driven by John Phillips, Colorado Springs, Colo., and Gary Taylor, Brady, collided at Second and Gregg, 10:40 a.m.

Survey for weekend
HC courses under way

In a story concerning the robbery of a prominent Big Spring man, D.L. Dorland, which appeared in Thursday's edition of The Herald, Kenneth Wayne Ford was identified as Dorland's son-in-law.

Ford is not related to Dorland by marriage or otherwise, according to Dick Milstead, attorney for Mr. Dorland.

The Herald regrets any embarrassment caused to Mr. Dorland by the story.

Devil, demons
sermon topic
in amphitheater

About 1,500 people gathered at Comanche Trail Park Amphitheater Wednesday night to hear 30-year-old television evangelist Phil Arms speak on "The Devil, Demons and the Occult" at the Big Spring Baptist Association crusade.

Local Baptist pastors and their churches had invited Arms, whose offices are in Pasadena, to conduct the crusade which ended Thursday night.

Arms weekly television show "Just Passing Through," on channel 6 at 3 p.m. is in its fifth year of production. The program is seen in every state including Alaska and Hawaii and in parts of Canada and Mexico.

Arms pilots his own Cherokee 180 to enable him to meet the demands of a rigorous schedule of ministry. The young "flying" evangelist has seen thousands come to Christ during the eight years of his ministry. Several hundred reportedly responded during the area-wide crusade in Big Spring to an invitation to "commit all to Christ."

Linda Little
will graduate

DALLAS — Linda Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Little, No. 5 Coachman's Circle, Big Spring, will graduate from The University of Texas School of Allied Health Sciences in ceremonies to be held Sunday.

She is one of a class of 137 who will be graduating from the school, which is a component of The University of Texas Health Science Center at Dallas.

A former student at Texas Tech University, Ms. Little plans to work as a physical therapist after graduation.

Howard College is always interested in providing a schedule that will meet the needs of its service area.

Recently a number of residents have indicated to the Administration an interest in having courses offered on the weekends.

Currently Howard College is conducting a survey to find out how many persons would be interested in enrolling in college credit courses that would be offered on the weekend.

An example of such course scheduling would be on Friday night and/or Saturday.

United States' credibility
'needs corrective surgery'

HOUSTON (AP) — The country should demand to hear the truth about itself, the American Legion's new national commander said Thursday.

"The American people must send the message from the courthouse to the White House," said Frank I. Hamilton, a lawyer from Greensburg, Ind.

"The foreign policy of our nation has been damaged by lack of initiative and lack of leadership. The credibility and integrity of this great country needs correction surgery."

Legion delegates got a strong dose of medicine from the chief of U.S. naval operations, who said the Russians are increasing their military power.

The nation's navy must be strengthened, said Adm. Thomas B. Hayward, because the Russians "are committed to certain objectives, and they are going to achieve them if the United States does not wake up to that fact."

"It is time to challenge the handwringers and say we have sailed the world's oceans for 200 years in freedom and we will do so again."

He said the Russians will soon produce a cruiser twice as large as the U.S. Navy's biggest.

"It will have every missile system and gun mount that you can imagine on it. It will knock your eyes out, and I hope that it starts to wake some of us up."

Hayward, a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, testified for the Salt II treaty before the Senate, but he told the convention "it would be imprudent for us to fail to recognize the serious challenge to strategic parity that has been thrown up to us by the Soviets."

"That challenge can be met," the admiral said. "It resides solely on our national will, our willingness to meet that competition head on."

Delegates to the final day of the national convention showed their willingness by adopting several resolutions supporting strong national defense.

Car flips,
man unhurt

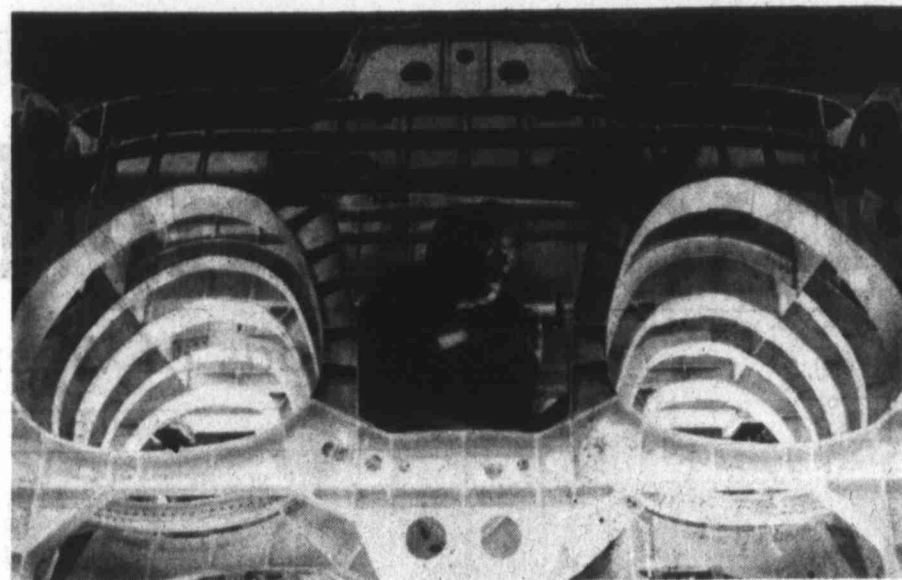

STANTON — A man travelling on IS-20 Thursday night walked away unharmed from an accident that ended with his car flipped on its top on the south service road of the interstate.

According to information from the Martin County Sheriff Department, Billy B. Edwards, believed to be a resident of Louisiana, abandoned the vehicle which was later discovered by authorities.

Two night officers from the Howard County Sheriff's Department assisted Martin County Sheriff's deputies and Texas Highway Patrol troopers.

The bottom-side up car was discovered about 11 p.m. a quarter of a mile west of the Martin-Howard county line.

Edwards later appeared at the Martin County Sheriff's Office to report the incident.

Mexico will not discuss payment wanted by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Mexican government will not discuss payments the United States wants for at least part of the damage caused to the Texas coast by the oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico, according to Texan Robert Krueger of the State Department.

The former congressman from Texas, recently named to the newly created post of U.S. coordinator for Mexican affairs, said the Mexican government was informed Wednesday of U.S. interest in opening discussions on possible damage payments.

"One matter that we suggest be included in the discussion is the question of liability and possible alternatives for dealing with claims for compensation of clean-up costs and any damages that may have occurred to property and resources," Krueger said at a news conference.

A statement released by the Foreign Ministry in Mexico City late Thursday said there was no basis in international law making Mexico responsible for damage claims.

"The Mexican government is not prepared to begin conversations with the United States on the theme of responsibility and eventual claims for possible damages to another state, persons or goods resulting from the accident," the statement said.

The statement also said "There is no basis in international law to recognize the existence of a legal international responsibility on the part of the government of Mexico or Petroleos Mexicanos (Mexico's oil monopoly)," the statement added.

"This is the government's position for the moment," a ministry spokesman said. He would not elaborate on the statement.

The oil spill has been described by Mexican officials as an accident which was not the result of negligence.

President Carter acknowledged earlier this week that there was no way that Mexico could be compelled to pay.

Krueger did not say directly that the United States would seek financial damages from Mexico. Questioned about U.S. intentions, Krueger said, "I would be surprised if we simply assumed that we were hoping to pay for the whole thing."

Krueger, who will have the title of ambassador-at-large if he is confirmed by the Senate, said the United States has no estimate of the damage that may result from the June 3 oil spill. The incident damaged portions of the Texas coastline and also occurred during the peak vacation period, causing severe setbacks to the local tourist industry.

The well was dumping 30,000 barrels a day into the Gulf of Mexico, but that figure is now down to an estimated 10,000 barrels a day and experts believe the well can be capped in about three weeks.

Asked about the possibility that the United States would sue Mexico for the damages, Krueger said that alternative would be considered only after all other possibilities are explored.

The United States already has spent $2 million to $3 million on cleanup operations, he said.

In Austin, Texas Attorney General Mark White, who has been studying a possible suit against Mexico, said he was "sickened and dismayed" by the Mexican government stand.

"The Good Neighbor policy has obviously taken a turn for the worse — and the people of Texas are the losers," White said.

"Well, I am not disposed to let the matter drop there."

White said he was concerned "at the time when Gov. Bill Clements was sending false signals to Mexico when he said that we had no intention of suing them. It is now apparent that the government of Mexico has taken him at his word."

"I have said repeatedly that a lawsuit should be our last resort. But let's be clear about one thing: We do have the authority to sue," White said.

White said he would go to Washington as soon as arrangements could be made to confer with Secretary of State C. Vance and Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti "to see if there is some way we can persuade those who are responsible for the oil spill to accept their moral and financial responsibility to the people of Texas."

levels steady

COLORADO CITY — A succession of rains has kept Mitchell County lake levels steady this month.

Lake Colorado City now has 17,976 acre feet of water while Lake Champion contains 10,815 acre feet.

Lake levels were each increased a tenth of a foot by the Aug. 20-21 rains.

Mark Lee Smith, 19, 1503 E. 3rd, was released on a $5,000 bond Thursday afternoon shortly after he was arrested on a warrant charging him with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Deaths

Monta Hamlin

Monta L. Hamlin, 83, died at 6:40 p.m., Thursday in a local hospital.

Services will be at 11:30 a.m., Saturday at Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel. Officiating will be Royce Clay, minister of the 14th and Main Street Church of Christ. Burial will be in Mount Olive Memorial Park.

He was born Jan. 10, 1896, in Gorman, Tex. He had resided in Big Spring since 1903, when he moved here from Comanche. He was affiliated with the Church of Christ. He attended Draughm's Business College in Abilene. A former rancher, he retired in 1966.

He moved from his ranch into Big Spring after his retirement.

Survivors include his daughter, Juanita Hamlin; a grandson, Hulien Lee Hamlin, Plainview; two great-granddaughters; three nieces, three nephews; a sister, Mrs. R.W. McNew, Big Spring; and a brother, O.E. Hamlin, Big Spring.

Pallbearers will be Jack Buchanan, Delbert Stanley, Nolan Stanley, Macon Ulmer, Neil Spencer and Ross Westbrook.

He was preceded in death by two sons, Lloyd in 1940 and Clinton in 1969.

Mrs. Bradberry

Services for Mrs. W.T. (Lun) Bradberry, 57, who died at 12:40 p.m., Wednesday in a local hospital, will be at 4 p.m., today in Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel, with the Rev. Thomas H. Taylor, Highland Heights United Methodist Church, Sweetwater, and the Rev. Jim McWilliams, North Birdwell Lane United Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Pallbearers will be Wayne Fields, Walter Fields, Harold Neagle, Kenneth Sparks, Jack McGinley. Honorary pallbearers will be Alton Lewis, J.W. Hughes, Buddy Collier, Backie Reagan, and J.L. Meeks.

Ethel Barnes

Ethel Barnes, 85, died at 10:20 a.m., today in a local rest home. Services are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Jimmy Abreo

Santiago (Jimmy) Abreo, 70, died at 3 a.m., Thursday at his home here. Services will be at 11:30 a.m., Saturday in LaFe Baptist Church. Officiating will be the Rev. Raul Solis, Crescent Park Baptist Church, Odessa. Military graveside rites will be observed at Mount Olive Memorial Park. Arrangements were made through Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

There will be a prayer service at 7 p.m., Friday in Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel.

Mr. Abreo was born Dec. 25, 1908, in Van Horn, Tex. He was a member of the First Mexican Baptist Church. He was a veteran of WW II, having served in the 112th Cavalry. He moved to Big Spring with his family in 1913 and had resided here most of his life. He had worked for Wiley Chevrolet before WW II. He had been disabled for the past 16 years.

Survivors include three brothers, J.L. and Domingo Abreo, both of Big Spring, and Leonides Abreo, Van Horn; three sisters, Mrs. Ruth Ramirez, Big Spring, Mrs. Victoria Choncon, El Paso, and Mrs. Lillie Choncon, Van Horn.

New HC class prepares interpreters for deaf

A program to train interpreters for the deaf is scheduled to begin this fall at Howard College.

The course, which will be instructed by Carla Warrington, will be titled PH 1401 Interpreters for the Deaf and will be offered from 7-9:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday in the Anthony Hunt Library.

"American sign language has been recognized as a foreign language and colleges and universities who require a foreign language will now accept it as a language requirement," Warrington said.

The curriculum focuses on the specific needs of the interpreter, including the development of a vocabulary adequate for a variety of settings. Fluency, clarity and speed are developed in interpreting, both from English to American Sign Language and from ASL to English, through the use of audio and video tapes as well as live situations.

South reports more than 12 tornadoes

By the Associated Press

More than a dozen tornadoes were reported across the South and heavy showers threatened flooding as more rain was predicted for much of the area today.

A twister caused several thousand dollars damage when it touched down near Chassahowitzka, Fla., Thursday, according to the National Weather Service. At Washington, Va., just west of the nation's capital, floodwaters rose when more than two inches of rain fell in less than two hours.

Cloudy skies and showers were expected today from New England to the Gulf of Mexico and into the southern Plains and Rockies, and temperatures were expected to be mild to warm.

Temperatures around the nation before dawn today ranged from 48 in International Falls, Minn., to 93 in Blythe, Calif. Other reports:

Eastern U.S. — Atlanta 72 and clear, Boston 66 and foggy, Cincinnati 70 and showery, Cleveland 70 and cloudy, Detroit 66 and foggy, Miami 76 and partly cloudy, New York 70 and hazy, Philadelphia 72 and partly cloudy, Pittsburgh 66 and clear, Washington 77 and foggy.

EXTENDED FORECAST
WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy days with fair nights. No important temperature changes. Highs 80s mountains and north to near 100 along the Rio Grande in the Big Bend. Lows 60s north to 70s south except 50s mountains.

FORECAST
WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy days and fair at night through Saturday except widely scattered mainly afternoon and nighttime thunderstorms mountains and Panhandle. A little warmer north. Highs 80s mountains and north to mid 90s south except near 100 Big Bend valleys. Lows 50s mountains and northwest to upper 60s south.

WEATHER FORECAST — Warm weather is expected in the forecast period, Friday until Saturday morning, for most of the nation. Cooler weather is expected for the upper Great Lakes. Skies are expected to be cloudy in the East but generally sunny in the West. Showers are forecast for areas of the northern and eastern Plains.

Late freeze called must for bumper cotton crop

COLORADO CITY — Although prospects for a good cotton crop in Mitchell County are considered excellent, the elements are still going to have to cooperate to promote prosperity among the farmers.

A hot, dry fall is needed and a late freeze is an absolute must, according to Mitchell County Extension Agent Bob Benson.

A combination of good breaks in the weather might enable farmers to approach the record of 68,000 bales set by the county 1977.

A total of 75,428 acres in Mitchell County were certified for cotton planting. Benson said he expected up to 71,000 acres to be harvested.

Some of the cotton, notably around Buford and China Grove, has been slow to grow due to too much moisture.

Insect damage has been minor to date, according to Benson.

Several county jobs

axed, wages increased

COLORADO CITY — Money woes have brought about a decision of Mitchell County commissioners to eliminate several county jobs.

The county library, county clerk's office and sheriff's department will each terminate one employee. In addition, each of the four precincts will lose an employee.

The total budget for 1979-80, which was approved without a challenge from the public, authorized $1,145,747 for expenses and projects $1,154,700 in income from all sources.

Money carried over from the 1978-79 budget, amounting to $60,000, will be used to purchase right-of-way and title for a new farm-to-market road connecting Lake Champion and Lake Colorado City.

A seven percent raise in wages for all county employees was approved by the commissioners.

Should government bail out Chrysler?

The Chrysler Corp., is tottering on the brink and is asking for a billion dollar loan from Uncle Sugar, stark evidence that the inflation monster is running rampant.

It was just five years ago that Lockheed Aircraft Corp., shocked a lot of people by going to the federal government for a $250 million loan.

CHRYSLER IS APT to rally a lot of support in Congress. The carmaker is the tenth largest corporation in the nation with some 130,000 employees on its payroll and additional hundreds of thousands jobs it makes possible in supplier firms, almost all of which are dependent on Chrysler's continuing ability to do business.

The politicians are concerned for another reason, too — those whose districts would be littered with the economic debris of a collapse should Chrysler have to close its doors. Such elective officials can make an impressive case for financial aid.

Wages and fringe benefits exceed $3 billion annually in Chrysler's six Eastern, Midwestern and Southwestern states. The firm pays more than $100 million in local taxes, another factor that is not lost on public officials at all levels.

Chrysler puts a large share of the blame for its miseries on federal safety, pollution-control and fuel economy regulations that have cost production costs to sky-rocket.

Critics of big government and big business argue that it's not the proper function of government to prop up private enterprise with public funds.

Should government become, as consumer crusader and Chrysler critic Ralph Nader put it, "the guarantor of last resort" for enterprizes that cannot make it on their own in the competitive marketplace?

THE ARGUMENT NOW warming up will become much hotter before a decision is reached. The odds are very much in favor that some form of assistance will be given, however. The administration is even now suggesting a loan guarantee not unlike that extended Lockheed but a quarter to a half-billion less than requested. A sharply divided Congress must still ask on any such suggestion.

The economic consequences of Chrysler's collapse would be staggering. Those who advocate the loan could point to the fact that Lockheed came back from the grave and recovered its financial footing at no ultimate cost to the taxpayer.

National defense worked in the planemaker's failure and is also a factor in the case of Chrysler, the Pentagon's foremost supplier of tanks.

The question is, however, is the U.S. headed down the same road that some of industrialized partners have already taken, to their regret?

Subsidization of ailing industries is the cause, among others, of job preservation, has long been the practice in much of Western Europe. Too, it is often cited as a cause of much of what ails the economies of several nations, in particular Great Britain.

Margaret Thatcher, Britain's new prime minister, vows she will let some of the obsolescent industries go under if they cannot rise to the competitive challenge on their own. Mrs. Thatcher is of the opinion that the English economy in the long run will be healthier for the shaking out.

We might be well-advised to keep the British and similar examples in mind as we go about developing our own policy on public assistance for private enterprise through trial, and it is to be hoped, not too much error.

'Ham-handed policy'

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — For all the talk about Hamilton Jordan mending his reclusive ways now that he has become President Carter's chief of staff, a recent call from one of the most influential Democratic figures in Congress went unanswered.

The call was from Rep. James Jones of Oklahoma, a key member of the House Ways and Means Committee and leader of an informal, bipartisan coalition of House moderates and conservatives. Jones had served as an aide to President Lyndon B. Johnson over a decade ago. So, reading about Jordan's new duties, Jones placed a call to him; his intention was to urge Jordan to draw on Jones' former experience and current activity in any way that might be helpful.

A Jordan secretary took the call, and the rest was silence. Naturally enough, Jones felt he had done his duty and did not place the call again. Although Jordan previously had excused his failure to return congressional telephone calls on grounds that was not among his duties, his snub of Jones gives credence to the common explanation in the past: indifference and incompetence.

POLITICAL MANAGERS of Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. have passed this word to worried economic conservatives about their man's sharp leftward move: don't worry about it; it's strictly political camouflage that "costs nothing."

Behind the scenes, important advocates of "supply-side" economics geared to massive tax reduction have come to look at Democrat Brown as their best hope for president now that Republican Rep. Jack Kemp clearly is not running. But they have been unnerved by Brown's tightening alliance with the new left in the persons of Tom Hayden and Jane Fonda. Consequently, one East Coast tax-cut crusader paid a recent visit to California to warn that Brown was in danger of alienating his conservative support.

The answer from Brown's operatives was that the Hayden-Fonda connection was strictly eyewash to appease the left while the governor actually moved right. They stressed there was "no cost" on key economic questions in naming left-wingers to relatively innocuous positions.

UNREPORTED in President Carter's refusal to put famed Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Boston is the fact that Carter reached his decision only after long inner turmoil. Carter's decision to bar the 57-year-old Cox on grounds of age almost went the other way.

That tends to undercut the political case made against Carter in the Cox affair. Critics of Carter say the president blocked Cox's nomination out of desire to enjoy a little political revenge against Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, Cox's sponsor for the appeals court.

The Justice Department declined to propose Cox for the judicial post because it always follows the recommendations of the American Bar Assn. committee on federal judgeships, which automatically ruled out Cox on age. Only a positive decision by Carter to overrule the bar association committee could have salvaged Cox, and Carter finally decided against it.

Nightsweats: Look to drugs as cause

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: During a checkup a while back the doctor asked me if I was troubled by night sweats. I wasn't then, but for about six months I have been, and for no apparent reason. What causes night sweats? I am 78 and taking arthritis medicine, including aspirin. I get good results. I am otherwise in good health. What would cause my night sweats? — Mrs. L.V.H.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am 80 and have one or two periods of night sweats nearly every night. Do you know the cause? Is there a remedy? So far I have been unable to find a doctor who can give me any information. — P.S.

Probably the commonest causes of night sweats are room temperature and certain medicines, which I'll discuss later. Check room temperature, clothing and blankets. Normally, a person sweats more while sleeping and excess covering adds to it. This sounds obvious, yet is often overlooked.

Next, check morning, evening, even nighttime temperatures to see if there is any fever. If so, there may be a hidden infection, as in the lungs or lymph nodes. So-called "fever of unknown origin" (FUO) frequently is a sign of such disorders.

I mentioned medicines, because I suspect many older persons, who are more likely to be using medicines, can trace their night sweats to them. The common offenders are aspirin and anti-inflammatory drugs (as in Mrs. L.V.H.'s case). Nerve pills or alcohol may cause night sweating. Doctors also look for an overactive thyroid gland, or for certain vitamin deficiencies (D or C), especially in children who sweat at night excessively.

Mrs. L.V.H. should return to the doctor who examined her. He may have had reason to suspect any of the causes mentioned when he questioned her about sweating. Increased sweating may be a part of Parkinson's disease.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I noticed white crescents around the pupils of both of my eyes. I saw an eye specialist and he said he didn't think they were anything to worry about. A second specialist confirmed this. Recently, I was told that the crescents are an indicator of future heart attacks. Just what are these crescents and what do they mean? — J.P.

The white ring around the iris of the eye is a deposit of cholesterol and fats. Most people past 50 have them to some degree. They do not represent heart problems or threats of heart problems. In fact, arcus senilis (the medical name for this) is not an indicator of high blood cholesterol in older persons.

In youngsters a ring of this kind (arcus juvenilis) is associated with disease of the cornea of the eye, or may mean an inherited cholesterol problem. You don't give me your age. A blood test will settle the matter of your cholesterol level if you are concerned about it.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I feel so naive at age 50 to be asking that I'm almost ashamed to pose this question. After many years of marriage and several children I find intercourse much more enjoyable because I don't have to worry about becoming pregnant. The thing that bothers me is the strong odor of my husband's semen. Please let me know whether a man's semen is naturally stronger after he's older. This bothers me and I just can't seem to find a way to ask my doctor. Can you answer such a question? — No Name.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: A question I am always asked is, "How can you prove God exists?" How would you answer this? — J.M.

DEAR J.M.: There are two ways of answering this question, and both are needed if proof is to be established. The first is to amass all of the evidence for God's existence and to study it. The second is to allow God to reveal Himself to you in your life so that you experience Him at work within you.

The evidence is considerable. There is the evidence of the universe in which we live which is governed by such clever system of laws that only a great mind could have brought them all into being. There is the evidence of the Christian church, founded by one man, Jesus, threatened with destruction many times in history and condemned by some communist nations today, and yet of world-wide proportions. There is the evidence of the Bible which Christians claim was inspired by God and which not only

Why not? Normal semen should be odorless and does not change with age. Another source for the odor should be investigated — perineal or rectal problems.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have high blood pressure, also a duodenal ulcer. In order to keep my blood pressure under control I am taking two garlic pills three times a day. Would this harm my ulcer? — I.Q.

The garlic pills won't help your blood pressure or irritate your ulcer. Have you been advised about an ulcer diet and standard treatment for ulcer and high blood pressure?

Dear Dr. Donohue: Why don't you recommend yogurt for cold sores? — M.B.

It doesn't help cold sores. What are ulcers? How can you help yourself get rid of ulcers and stay rid of them? Read the booklet, "How to Heal Peptic Ulcers." For a copy write to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Dear Dr. Ruble: What is wheat germ, and will it help give me energy? How many calories in it? — O.O.

Wheat germ is the part that sprouts when planted. It contains a lot of things — thiamine (B1), other B1 vitamins, vitamin E, some protein (about 26 percent), fats (about 10 percent) and carbohydrates (about 47 percent). There are 363 calories in 100 grams, which figures out to about 60 calories per tablespoon.

has been preserved despite every effort to destroy it, but which is coming true in history all the time. There is the evidence of Christian people whose lives testify to a superhuman power changing them, directing them, working through them. There is the evidence of the Gospel, a message purporting to come from God which has changed the lives of millions of people who believe it.

You can go on amassing evidence of this kind but, ultimately, the person who asks your question has to face the challenge of putting God to the test for himself. This is the only absolute proof. When a person opens his life to Jesus Christ so that He can enter by His Spirit and begin to change him and direct his life, then that is the personal proof that no one can argue against. We can go only so far in proving to someone else that God exists. God alone can give the absolute proof. "I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him" (Revelation 3:20).

Specialty food?

Around the rim

James Werrell

"Nobody can eat just one," but at the price who can afford to eat many more?

I am talking, of course, about potato chips.

These wonderful little morsels were accidentally invented in Saratoga Springs, N.Y. during the 19th Century, when a clumsy chef tried to reheat some scalloped potatoes in vegetable oil. Some, myself included, believe this to be the most fortuitous accident since Ben Franklin was zapped by his electrified key.

BUT THERE is sad news for potato chip lovers! A bag-full of these deep-fried delights has finally broken the dollar barrier!

Lays Potato Chips, made by the Texas firm of Frito-Lay, and arguably the Cadillac of chips, now bring $1.09 for eight ounces. That is $2.18 per pound; considerably higher than the cost of the hamburgers these chips usually compliment.

"Ruffles," says Frito-Lay, "have ridges." And those ridges cost money.

For $1.09 you only get 7.5 ounces of Ruffles. That works out to about $2.32 per pound, and puts this brand of chips nearly into the sirloin steak category.

If you are really feeling extravagant, you can buy Lays Potato Chips in individually sealed, half-ounce packages. At 89 cents for four ounces of chips (about 3.56 per pound), these little bags are more expensive than T-bone steaks.

Lays may have been the first to break the buck barrier, but other brands can't be far behind. Even in their most economical size, Mother Morton's Extra Flavor Ripple Chips still cost $1.98 a pound.

AND SLY old Mother Morton has done something sneaky with her packaging! She used to offer a bag of her chips in a 5.5-ounce size costing 73 cents. Now, in what appears to be the same sized bag, she offers us four ounces of chips for 59 cents.

If my grade school math hasn't deserted me, the old bag cost $2.13 per pound, while the new bag costs $2.36 per pound. And that old bag Mother Morton ought to be ashamed of herself!

In a letter to her customers printed on the back of her bags of chips, Ma Morton writes: "It's the special things I put in each bag of my Ripple Chips that make them so good. First, I use only quality potatoes. Then I use my special ripple cut to hold the extra flavor. I never use preservatives."

Frito-Lay also professes to use no preservatives. Does this mean that we are paying more for chips that spoil faster?

And what's this about "only quality potatoes"? Even at retail prices, 10 pounds of potatoes cost about 89 cents. Is there a famine in Idaho?

If you are just about ready to start eating dip with your fingers, you may find some temporary relief through the lesser-known brands. A nine-ounce bag of Spud Chips, for example, can be yours for only 79 cents at one local grocery store.

The future, however, looks dim. The day may soon dawn when potato chips are moved from "Snacks" to "Specialty Foods," crammed in amongst the caviar and ruffles.

And from what I've heard, caviar tastes lousy with hamburgers.

Fights stigma

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — Paul McCarty is an unlikely security risk. He was hardly a threat to the nation while growing up on an Iowa farm. He could scarcely harm America now as a 66-year-old electrician in the obscure town of Cedar City, Utah. Yet he cannot clear his name of nebulous, unsubstantiated charges brought 27 years ago by unknown accusers.

The apocryphal wing of the federal security force, ever chasing phantom communists in a world abounding in real ones, seized upon the bewildered McCarty in 1952. They relied upon the whispers of anonymous accusers who picked him out of a faceless crowd.

HE HAD LEFT the farm during World War II to help the war effort and had found defense work on the West Coast. He didn't discover that he had been fingered as a communist sympathizer until he applied for a routine job at the government's atomic installation at Oak Ridge, Tenn., in 1952.

Devastated by the charge, he spent the years that followed trying to refute it. Now he is an old man nearing retirement. Yet he has been unable to get the damaging accusation expunged from his record. At last, he appealed to us for help in clearing his name. He had kept his record secret from his two sons and his friends, but now he has decided to go public.

Younger Americans find it difficult to comprehend the anti-communist hysteria of the late 1940s and early 1950s; McCarty's Kafkaesque case history may enlighten them. Here it is, as revealed in hitherto secret FBI files:

An informant identified only as "Los Angeles T-1, of unknown reliability," told the FBI that McCarty had said he was a member of the Communist Party and had asked the informant to attend meetings with him. The only explanation McCarty can think of is that on a long-ago date, the young lady claimed she was an FBI employee; McCarty jokingly responded that if she was an FBI agent, then "I'm a communist."

A second informant, who the FBI concedes "was not personally acquainted with McCarty and could furnish no additional information concerning him," claimed that in 1949 McCarty was a member of the International Workers Order — an officially listed communist front in California. The informant "advised he would furnish no signed statement or appear before a loyalty board hearing," the FBI file states.

McCarty told us he lived in Grand Junction, Colo., for the entire year of 1949, and had no communication with anyone in California.

ANOTHER BLACK mark against McCarty was the charge that he had subscribed to the communist-sponsored People's Daily World while living on the West Coast during World War II. McCarty remembers that he was given copies of the paper by the grocery store owner who rented him rooms upstairs, and that copies were mailed to him after he moved in. But he has no recollection of ever paying for a subscription.

Casting about for something that might have led to suspicions about him — sworn statements from close friends of that period declare he never showed any communist sympathies — the best McCarty can come up with is the vague recollection of attending a meeting with a fellow maritime worker in 1943. The meeting may have been communist-led, but McCarty didn't stay to find out. He got bored and walked out early.

Trying to clear his name by his own efforts, McCarty ran into a bureaucratic "stone wall." When he visited the FBI bureau in Salt Lake City, the word came from Washington that agents in the regional office should have no further dealings with him. When he wrote to the Justice Department for help, he was told it was not an FBI matter but the responsibility of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The AEC, unfortunately, no longer exists. An inquiry by our associate Sam Fogg disclosed that the old AEC loyalty files had been turned over to the Energy Department. But a spokesman there said that the clearance procedure for such files is complicated and, anyway, the files "are probably somewhere in the bowels of the building."

A JUSTICE DEPARTMENT official expressed the vague hope that might-hunt victims like McCarty might be able to get a denial affixed to their FBI files, but added: "The record could have long since been destroyed at the agency involved. The guy shouldn't get his hopes up too high."

DIPLOMATIC DIGEST: President Carter has assured subordinates that Egypt, now under fire from the Arab world for signing a peace treaty with Israel, will overcome the opposition and become "a stabilizing force in the Middle East." The other Arab states, he stated at a secret briefing, "would adjust accordingly." For the second time in five months, the United States has warned Moscow tersely to keep its troops out of neighboring Afghanistan. Afghanistan's pro-Soviet government is under siege from Moslem guerrillas. Despite its ballyhooed failures, the Central Intelligence Agency still produces the most accurate daily intelligence reaching Washington.

WATCH ON WASTE: Three years ago, scientists from all over the country were flown into Washington for a symposium on the value of mother's milk, sponsored by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Nazis won battle, but lost the war

As some profound thinker once remarked, the more things change the more they remain the same.

Over 40 years ago, Albert Speer, the production genius who kept Nazi Germany's war machine and industry going, ordered the German economy to go on a wartime footing. The most important project was the development of a synthetic gasoline fuel.

Speaking at a German press conference recently, Speer said he didn't think President Carter's goal of 2.5 million barrels of synthetic oil per day by the year 1990 is out of line.

All of mankind hopes that America is able to put such a source of energy to better use than did Germany in those days.

Free ride not worth the risk

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Richard, 15, from beautiful Santa Barbara, Calif., hitchhikes to the beach every day with his buddy. His mother doesn't like the idea so Richard would like to hear what our guest writers have to say. Brad Skinner, 17, from Dubuque, Iowa, and Marie Collins, 16, who lives in Fresno, Calif., will do the honors. Welcome!

Dr. Wallace: My buddy and I hitchhike to the beach every day during the summer. We always get a ride and have never had a problem.

Lately my mom has been getting on my case because she read somewhere that two girls were attacked and robbed while hitchhiking. First of all, I'm a guy and second, I don't carry any money.

Please allow your teen guest writers to present their thoughts so I can get my mother "off my back."

— Richard, Santa Barbara, Calif.

Richard: I'll gladly give your problem to our teen writers but not before I have my say.

I would never under any circumstance encourage a person to hitchhike. There are too many weirdos and perverts around to make hitchhiking taboo.

The free ride is not worth the risk. Ride the bus, or your bike, or have a friend or parent do the honors. I might add that drivers should never pick up hitchhikers for the same risky reason.

Hi Richard: I see nothing wrong with hitchhiking as long as you do it with a friend and you don't hitchhike after dark. Besides saving money, you are doing your part to conserve gasoline.

I hitchhike whenever I can't get a ride from friends or family. — Brad, Dubuque, Iowa

Hello Richard: A girlfriend and I once hitched a ride from an unknown guy. He let us off where we wanted but I was scared stiff when he asked us if we "played around." Since then, I haven't and wouldn't hitchhike.

I realize that you are a guy, but you never know what could happen. I'm sorry to disappoint you, but I would tell you not to hitchhike. — Marie, Fresno, Calif.

If you would like to be a teen guest writer, please write to me in care of this newspaper, stating your sex and age. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

N.D. Foundation beginning here

The Texas Chapter of N.D.F. (Neurocutaneous Disorders Foundation) is being formed in Big Spring.

Joy Armstrong, local president, recently returned from Oak Grove, Mo., headquarters for the foundation, in an attempt to begin one here.

"Much help is needed in the research of this rare blood disease," revealed Mrs. Armstrong.

Hereditary Hemorrhagic Telangiectasis (H.H.T.) was first discovered around the turn of the century at John Hopkins University. Since that time, very few cases of the disease have been diagnosed, therefore, no research has been done.

The dominant hereditary disease attacks the blood vessels in the lining of any organ in the body and weakens them, resulting in profuse bleeding, usually from the lip, nose, mouth and gastrointestinal tract.

"If the bleeding cannot be stopped, it can easily result in bleeding to death," she explained.

One of the first symptoms watched for is red spots on the body.

Dr. Barry Festoff, Director of Research at the University of Kansas, has been supportive in getting research started.

Anyone interested in becoming involved with the Texas Chapter of N.D.F. should write to Joy Armstrong, P.O. Box 2235, Big Spring, Tex., or phone 267-1774.

District deputy visits Rebekahs

Lavelle Hill, district deputy president of District 11, made an official visit to the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284 at 7:30 p.m. in the I.O.O.F. Hall at 9th and San Antonio.

Malinda Blackburn, noble grand, presided over the 25 members present.

Mrs. Hill from the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153, was introduced and welcomed. Also visiting from the John A. Kee Lodge were Mary Leek, noble grand; Fannie Kent and Bea Bonner.

An informative school of instructions concerning the rules and laws pertaining to the order was conducted by Mrs. Hill.

Lola Majors held the winning ticket on chances taken for a gift.

Members were reminded that next week the lodge will have charge of delivering cookies to the Big Spring State Hospital. Each member volunteering should bring cookies to the lodge Aug. 28.

Mrs. Blackburn requests that all officers and members be present for the dedication ceremony of the Rebekah Flag Aug. 28.

Refreshments were served to members and guests by Olean Melton, Rosa Lee Hill, Grace Lee Grider, Lola Majors, Sybil Burklow and Helen Lee.

The next regular meeting will be Aug. 28 in the I.O.O.F. Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Reunion attended

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Hopper and their grandson, Daniel Ryan, have returned from Kilgore where they attended the Cook family reunion.

Seventy attended the event from places including California, Nevada, New Mexico and Georgia.

Daniel Ryan returned home to Torrance, Calif., after spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Hopper.

THE LIGHT TOUCH

By Sherry Wegner
Modern education makes communication with the young even harder. It's one thing not to know the answers to their questions...quite another not to recognize the subject.

I wish someone would initiate a course in school that would teach our children. How to put a new roll of toilet paper on an empty roller. How to identify a clothes hamper & its purpose, how to replace caps on toothpaste, shampoo, how to hang up towels, etc...

Common sense is in spite of, not the result of, education.

It takes little common sense to know that it's easier to get rid of unwanted Johnson Grass by using Roundup than by using a hoe. Come to Big Spring Seed & Chemical, 602 N.E. 2nd & get some Roundup.

Can't Countenance Seniors' Discounts

DEAR ABBY: I'm all for taking care of our old people and giving them every possible break. But I think giving every person who reaches age 60 or 65 lower rates for transportation, haircuts, entertainment, etc., is just plain ridiculous!

I have friends and relatives who are loaded with money, but because they're "senior citizens" they take advantage of all these reduced rates and laugh about it.

I would like your opinion—and the opinion of others.

POOR WORKING STIFF

DEAR STIFF: Most senior citizen rates are intended to attract the senior citizen's business as well as give a break to older folks living on a fixed income.

To separate those who need it from those who don't, and then exclude those who don't, would be a horrendous task. Not to mention the inequities that could result.

DEAR ABBY: I had a friend who would have been 84 tomorrow. She was struck by a car and died instantly. She had no family and left no will. She had quite a bit of money that she wanted to go to her favorite charities, but she never got around to putting anything in writing. Consequently, the state will get it all! She had some valuable furniture and jewelry which was auctioned off. The state will get the proceeds and strangers will have her precious personal possessions.

She told me that she wanted to be cremated, but since she left no instructions, she was buried.

I am 41, and have learned a valuable lesson. Death may not be a pleasant thought, but it is inevitable and can come without warning. I have made all my wishes known in writing—with copies to several relatives and friends. Even if things have only sentimental value, if no specific provisions have been made for their disposition, the public administrator can (and does) throw all personal items away. (Letters, pictures, etc.)

Last year this happened to over 6,000 people in Los Angeles alone. If only one person reads this and does something about it, I'll feel that my friend did not die in vain.

BROKENHEARTED IN L.A.

DEAR BROKENHEARTED: I agree with your suggestion that, in order to be absolutely certain that one's wishes are carried out, a lawyer should be consulted.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get them off your chest. For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. Please enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Squares ready for September

Sleepy Browning of Snyder called the Aug. 4 dance for the Big Spring Squares. Visitors from Snyder, Colorado City and other points combined to make nine dancing squares.

Randy Phillips was back for the Aug. 18 dance with eight dancing squares. Welcomed were guests from Abilene and Snyder. On Aug. 25, Phillips will be in Snyder.

The Round dance lessons have been progressing with most couples finding the steps more comfortable and easier to execute. Phillips will call Sept. 1; Monty Teague will call Sept. 15; and Pat Barbour will call Sept. 28.

The beginning date of the 79-80 session of lessons will be Sept. 25. Phillips will teach the lessons. Any two may take lessons. A single should have a partner committed to go through the lessons. He can be a member of the club or a dancer of another club who will commit to be the partner.

The cost will be determined by the number of couples to take lessons. Anyone interested should come to the Big Spring Square Corral at Country Club and Chapparral. 8 p.m. Sept. 25. The first three Tuesdays (so as not to interfere with Monday Night Football) will be open to new students.

For more information, call Travis Brackeen at 263-7770 or Walter Alexander at 263-1404.

Round dance lessons will continue during the workshop period after Sept. 25.

Daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Jones

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones, Brownsville, announce the birth of their second daughter, Laura Ashley.

She was born Aug. 21 at 7:36 a.m. weighing 7 pounds 5½ ounces. She was 19 inches long.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Minchew of Big Spring. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Jones, Brownsville.

Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Knight,

Brownsville. Laura also has a great-grandmother, Mrs. Eula Fuqua, Coahoma.

Welcoming her new little sister home was the couple's other daughter, Chelsea Ann.

QUALITY EDUCATION
CHRISTIAN ENVIRONMENT
PERSONAL GROWTH AND ATTENTION

Dear Christian Parent:

Are you concerned about your God-given authority for training a child in the way they should go? Does your child's current school support what you believe and teach in the home? Can you rest in delegating your authority to those who may not further support your beliefs?

WE UNDERSTAND. That's why Big Spring Christian Academy is "THE ALTERNATIVE" for quality education, Christian environment and personal growth and attention. We are enrolling for Fall 1979. Exciting things are happening at The Academy.

Happier than other children most of the time.
Sadder than other children some of the time.
Kathy's emotions always seem gigantic to us.
Because she is ours!
That's why we're giving her a Truth to live by.
A Faith to fall back on — and go ahead again.
A church that is home on Sundays,
A cherished center of life every day.

Sister to educate here

Sister Andre Brennan, a member of the Congregation of Sisters of St. Mary of Namur, who observed her 8th anniversary as a Sister Aug. 20, will serve in pastoral ministries at Immaculate Heart of Mary where she will conduct a three-month course in exploring the Catholic Faith in light of Scripture as a means toward adult religious education.

She will also be involved in the religious education of the children of the parish.

"I will be working very closely with Father Gully and Anthony Gilles, the administrator of the parish," said Sister Andre. "We will be operating in what might be termed 'team ministry' toward parish involvement."

Sister Andre is not a newcomer to this part of West Texas. She previously was assigned in Abilene from 1972 until 1974.

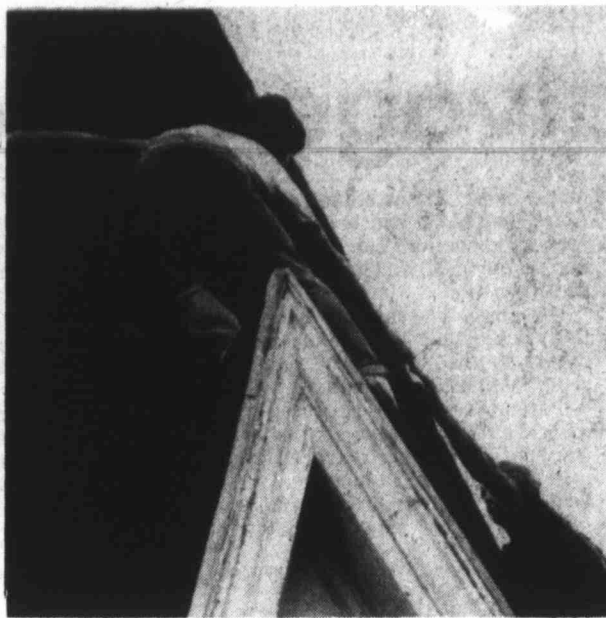

Sister Andre has spent three years in missionary work in Zihuatanejo, Mexico where she did general pastoral work.

Sister Andre has earned a Bachelor of Arts in English from the University of Dallas and has spent three summers in intense study of Spanish at the Mexican American Cultural Center in San Antonio.

The Sisters of St. Mary of Namur was founded in Belgium in 1819 with the first formation in the United States in 1863. The General Motherhouse is in Belgium with about 800 Sisters worldwide.

The Western Regional House is located in Ft. Worth with more than one hundred Sisters while the Eastern Regional house is in Kenmore, N.Y. with about 175 Sisters.

In the Western Region, the Sisters are represented in the Diocese of Dallas-Ft. Worth, Fresno, Galveston-Houston, Monterey and now the Diocese of San Angelo.

Women's group meets locally

Women's Aglow, an organization for Christian women, announces that a local meeting will be conducted Thursday, 7:30 p.m., at the Dora Roberts Community Center Blue Room.

The area board from Pampa will minister in song and word.

The theme of the organization, "Be Aglow and Burning with the Spirit," (Romans 12:11, The Amplified Bible), comes from the chapter of the Bible which tells that all are members of the body of Christ although gifts and ministries may differ.

The organization is urging that women from Big Spring and surrounding areas attend the Thursday meeting.

First Mexican hosts crusade

Sammy Fuentes of Corpus Christi, composer of the popular song "Varon De Dios," is returning to Big Spring to conduct an Abundant Life Crusade tonight, Saturday and Sunday.

The crusade will be held at the First Mexican Baptist Church, 701 N.W. 5th, 7:30 p.m. nightly. The public is invited.

Admission is free and a nursery will be provided, according to the Rev. Johnny Castro, pastor.

Accompanying Evangelist Fuentes will be the musical singing group, "Psalms." Both are returning from a series of crusade meetings in California.

A Farthing's Worth

"We're tryin' to get a perfect attendance in our Sunday school class... if you miss next Sunday, I'll punch you in the nose."

Well, the boy means well. He's just going about it the wrong way. Our acceptance of Christ as Lord and Savior must be of our own free will. So it is with church attendance, giving our tithes and offerings, or whatever. But once we experience the love of Christ, we will not hold anything back. How about visiting a non-denominational Bible church this Sunday? The "Biggest Little Church in Town" would welcome you!

Church of God installs pastor

Highland Church of God, 6th and Settles, will install its new pastor, the Rev. John Lambert, during special 7:30 p.m. services tonight, Saturday and Sunday.

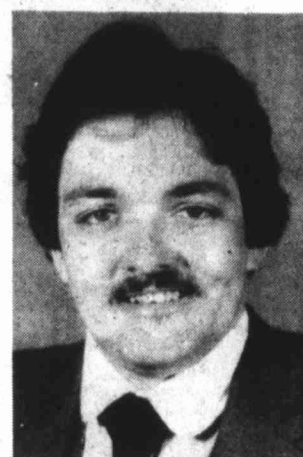

Lambert arrived here three weeks ago from Houston where he recently graduated from College Gulf Coast Bible College. He and his wife, Karen, have one son, Michael, 10 months.

Lambert replaces the Rev. George Harrington who is returning to Lubbock to teach at Christian School.

A special speaker during the installation services will be Maurice Berquist of Anderson, Ind., who hosts the radio broadcast, "Christian Brotherhood Hour."

According to Lambert, emphasis will be on youth at tonight's service.

Saturday's services will be highlighted with a mortgage burning. "We finally paid it off," he said.

On Sunday, the church will host a Christian Brotherhood Hour Rally for support of that program.

Everyone is invited to any or all of the services.

Faith Baptist marks anniversary

Faith Baptist Church, 1209 Wright St., will mark its first anniversary on Sunday.

Faith Baptist Church was established on August 27, 1978, with a Sunday school attendance of 32. The church has enjoyed a steady growth during its first year. The Sunday school attendance Aug. 19, was 107, with more coming for the morning worship service.

Faith Baptist called as their first pastor, Earl Pat

Githens and he accepted the call on Sept. 15, 1978, coming to Big Spring from Snyder after pastoring there for a number of years. Sunday school superintendent and music director for the church is Baline Larson.

A special day is planned for Sunday with special singing, an anniversary message, and a Sunday school campaign to reach the highest attendance yet.

Lunch will be served in the fellowship hall at noon and the membership and Pastor invite their friends of the city to come and enjoy this day with them.

The church looks forward to the coming year with great expectation that the church will continue to grow as in the first year of its history. The goal for the months ahead is to have 150 during the fall months of this year.

Prison chaplain speaks to Methodist group

Chaplain Jerry Kelly of the Federal Prison will be the guest speaker at the Methodist Men dinner meeting, Monday 7:30 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church.

Chaplain Kelly is an ordained minister of the United Presbyterian Church, having received his BA Degree from Whitworth College at Spokane, Washington in 1965. He received his Master of Divinity Degree from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1968. Chaplain Kelly has served parishes in Flagstaff, Arizona and Weldon, Colo. He began his prison ministry in Denver, Colo., and served in this capacity in El Paso before coming to Big Spring. Chaplain Kelly and his wife, Sharon, have two daughters, Erin, 8, and Caryn, 5.

Sunday morning at the First United Methodist Church, Dr. Edwin Chappell will welcome returning students and teachers.

Deserter tries to salvage career

AN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Staff Sgt. W. Higgs Jr. — a confessed deserter declared legally dead 19 months ago — was expected to take the stand today in an effort to salvage his Air Force career.

The 12-year Air Force veteran, who surrendered to military authorities last June, faces a possible two-year prison sentence and a dishonorable discharge following his guilty plea Thursday to a desertion charge.

"I was under personal and emotion distress. I did willfully arrange an appearance of abduction. I did not discuss it with anyone," Higgs said in his only comment Thursday before a court-martial panel at Lackland Air Force Base.

Witnesses testified Thursday that Higgs, a marksmanship instructor at Lackland, was under stress from financial and family problems when he staged his disappearance from a part-time job at a San Antonio service station Dec. 31, 1977.

W.W. Higgs Sr. of Vidor, testified that he had heard his son contemplate suicide because of financial and family difficulties.

"He said he had to do what he did (desert the Air Force) or commit suicide," the elder Higgs said. "I'm glad he did what he did."

Police, who discovered the cash register empty in the Exxon station's blood-stained office, feared he had been the victim of a robbery-abduction. The Air Force declared him legally dead and paid his wife military death benefits.

The sergeant's car was later found partially submerged in the San Antonio River south of the downtown region. Police reported signs of a struggle.

A statewide search, bolstered by a $1,000 reward offered by Exxon, failed to turn up a trace of Higgs. He was declared legally dead in January 1978 and a memorial service was held for him four months later in Vidor.

But the FBI reopened the investigation in early June following a tip that Higgs had worked at two jobs in Southeast Texas and had received a traffic ticket in Vidor under his real name.

Shortly before his surrender Higgs' father made a public plea for his son to come forward. Higgs revealed to authorities that his son had contacted him from Galveston in May.

In entering his guilty plea Thursday, Higgs acknowledged the accuracy of an Air Force investigative report that said he had splattered blood from a self-inflicted cut in the office and had pushed his automobile into the river.

FOILED AGAIN — New York State has stuck its hooks into Jody Gerard's bait worm business. The State Department of Taxation and Finance acted on a tip and told Jody, 12, of Eidyville, N.Y., that he would have to start charging customers sales tax or face court action.

Whereabouts of Chagra not known

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Defense attorneys say they do not know the whereabouts of fugitive Jimmy Chagra, a convicted drug conspirator who must forfeit his $400,000 bond for failing to appear at a federal court hearing.

Chagra, who skipped a meeting with federal probation officers in Nevada Tuesday, was absent Thursday when U.S. Magistrate Harry Lee Hudspeth convened a bond reduction hearing Thursday.

"It appears Mr. Chagra has fled the jurisdiction of this court," U.S. Attorney Jamie Boyd told Hudspeth.

Defense Lawyers Oscar Goodman of Las Vegas, Nev. and Joe Chagra, the brother of the missing professional gambler, told Hudspeth they did not know the whereabouts of Chagra.

Acting FBI agent-in-charge Robert D. Hampton said the "bond default warrant" issued Thursday gives the FBI authority to hunt for Chagra. He said the bureau was working with the Drug Enforcement Agency on leads in the case.

Hudspeth changed Chagra's sentencing date from Sept. 5 to Sept. 6 due to scheduling problems but noted the sentencing would be contingent upon Chagra's appearance. He cannot be sentenced without being in court, he said.

Although Chagra's scheduled meeting with a federal probation officer in Las Vegas was not mandatory, authorities issued a bench warrant for his arrest when he failed to show.

Chagra faces an increased bond of $3 million if he is arrested.

His former wife, Vivian, said she and their two children "pray that he is safe."

"I hate to see him gone, but I prefer to see him safe than in jail," said Mrs. Chagra, 34.

Chagra was convicted by an Austin jury Aug. 15 of a charge of continuing criminal enterprise, punishable by a maximum of life in prison without parole.

Prosecutors said Chagra operated a drug trafficking ring which smuggled cocaine and marijuana from Colombia to the United States.

U.S. Attorneys wanted Chagra held without bond after the trial but U.S. District Judge William Sessions allowed him to remain under his $400,000 bond.

Inventory may account for missing rat poison

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Police were hoping today that an inventory by an exterminating company would account for a vial of a rare, but deadly poison still believed missing from a burglary last week.

Two persons were arrested Thursday in connection with the theft of the safe that held the chemical.

"They said they didn't know what they had," said police Sgt. John Ratliff. He said charges were being prepared against the pair late Thursday. The exact nature of the charges was not revealed.

Ratliff said a search was continuing for a single canister of the poison, Compound 1080, although an inventory by the exterminating company that lost the safe during a break-in last week might account for all the containers.

The poison is used to kill rodents, but it is so powerful that a tiny amount can be fatal to a man.

Police Capt. G.S. Geeslin said it's possible all cans of the poison are in custody, but he said the search for the vial will continue until the exterminating company involved comes up with a definite accounting for all canisters.

Ratliff said if there is a missing can, the suspects in the burglary don't know where it is. "They said if they knew they'd give it back," he said.

Geeslin said, "They assumed they had a safe with weekend receipts in it." He said when the thieves opened the safe with a torch "they realized they had something that was poisonous."

Five of the half-pint cans of Compound 1080 were placed in a garbage bag that was left on a curb where police later found it. Police said the burglars apparently thought they had removed all of the poison from the safe, but officers found two additional cans in the abandoned safe.

Someone could have reached the abandoned safe before police found it and taken a can of poison out, officers said.

Steers don pads

The Big Spring Steers put the pads on this morning after four days in shorts in which conditioning and offensive and defensive responsibilities were stressed.

Coach Ron Logback feels that his team is much further along now than they were at this time last year. The main reason for this is that Logback took over in early August in 1978 and had little time to implement his program effectively. He and his staff are hoping that the players familiarization in the off-season and spring training to his program will improve on last season's winless season.

The Steers will work out in pads twice today and tomorrow, with picture day being scheduled for 3:30 p.m. this afternoon.

The veer offense was put in spring training, and Logback stated that a three-way battle between seniors Jimmy Marquez and Ben Watson, and junior David Coffee has developed for the quarterback job. Logback also likes the competition that has taken place in the fullback and halfback positions between the likes of Greg Jones, Mike Terry, Terry Conway and Richard Evans.

Following tonight's practice, the team will be honored in a Back-to-School Community Pep Rally at the amphitheater in Comanche Trail Park. The Steer Band, the Gold Diggers, as well as the basketball and volleyball teams will be on hand with the grid squad.

Special guests tonight will be former Big Spring coaches Carl Coleman and Pat Murphy, who both guided the Steers to district titles years ago. Also on hand will be Howard College Athletic Director Harold Wilder.

Craig Fischer, assistant high school principal, will direct the pep rally.

The affair was initiated three years ago as part of the Starlight Specials, sponsored by the Cultural Affairs Committee of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

Registration underway for YMCA football

Registration is now underway at the YMCA for the two (2) fall youth sport programs to include all kids in Big Spring, Forsan, Coahoma, Sand Springs and surrounding areas... grades 1 through 6th.

Tackle football is being offered for elementary students 3rd grade through 6th grade. Teams will be formed from the 3rd and 4th to form one (1) league and 5th & 6th grades to form the other. As in all YMCA youth sports programs, the development of sportsmanship and Christian attitudes is the basis of this program rather than winning, to assure this, every child will play in every game. All officials will be professionals.

Soccer will be offered for the 1st through 2nd grades, and as the football program, sportsmanship and Christian values are stressed. Soccer is offered to allow younger elementary children to participate in team activities in an effort to develop motor skills and coordination and allow each child to participate.

Registration forms for either program are available at the YMCA, 801 Owens. Applications for coaches are also available, any person wishing to coach or assist may come by or call 267-8234.

Rice Coach Alborn a master one-liner

HOUSTON (AP) — Rice Coach Ray Alborn doesn't have the talent to capture many Southwest Conference football games but he set an SWC press tour record for one-liners Thursday.

A sample of Alborn's sense of humor which rivals that of former Texas Coach Darrell Royal included:

—An offensive lineman who walked away from the squad: "He found out the difference between men and women."

—On what he expects out of senior tailback Earl Cooper: "I'd say 1,000 yards rushing and 1,600 yards receiving would be a pretty good year."

—On a feisty offensive lineman: "He's a good ole, nasty young man."

—On a dawdling freshman guard: "We retired his jersey."

—On his coaching staff going to sleep in the back of the room while he spoke: "I really excite them, don't I?"

—On a recruit who is having academic trouble: "Here we have to read and write."

—On a freshman who is a golden glove champion: "I don't have much to say to him."

—On a tough defensive lineman: "He ricochets people like Superman."

—On a freshman with a poor background: "I don't know how many square meals he has had, but when we give him three hot and a cot he's liable to go crazy."

—On a freshman with poor tackling techniques: "We've got to break him of tackling with his arms or he's going to be registered at Hermann Hospital."

—On a feisty junior tailback: "He plays like a blind dog in a meathouse."

—On a player with bad fundamentals: "When you play P.E. football like he is doing, you're liable to get your tweets kicked."

—On Rice's predicted cellar finish: "I don't mind. I read a magazine where a guy left us out. I'm just happy to get picked somewhere."

3—On a 58-0 loss to SMU last year: "I've never been so low. If I had known how to shoot a gun I would have. Fortunately, I can't even find the trigger."

since the Mustangs drubbed them 58-0 last year.

Insiders say it is Alborn's feeling that SMU ran the score up on them and Alborn said Thursday SMU Coach Ron Meyer had indeed tried to humiliate his team.

Rice returns five offensive and seven defense starters among 36 lettermen returning from last year's 2-9 team.

Their strength's are at quarterback and defensive secondary while they are weak on the offensive line and at wide receiver.

is going to play up to his potential.

Rice also has an excellent passer in Randy Hertel, who should be able to complement Cooper.

As for Rice's chances this year, Cooper said Thursday, "I really feel we'll be a contending team, that we'll be able to compete with all the other teams in the conference."

Pokes, Steelers meet tomorrow

Landry: 'There's no extra feeling because it's Pittsburgh'

DALLAS (AP) — If recent history means anything, the Dallas Cowboys will beat the Pittsburgh Steelers Saturday night in a nationally televised, preseason rematch of Super Bowl XIII.

Dallas hasn't had much trouble with Pittsburgh in the no-count contests, winning the last four games.

It's been a different story when something more than roster cuts is on the line.

The Steelers beat Dallas in Super Bowl X and a regular season game in 1977. In January, They became world champions by dumping the Cowboys, 35-31 in a game made close only by a pair of very late Dallas touchdowns.

Saturday's game is the preseason finale, and it's expected that each team will give its front-liners plenty of work. Rookies and other marginal players will have a last chance to demonstrate their worthiness before final cuts are made next week.

Adopting the required attitude for such things, neither team will admit to any special feelings for the clash.

"There's no extra feeling for this game just because it's Pittsburgh," Dallas Coach Tom Landry said earlier this week.

Speaking over a long-distance hook-up, Steeler Coach Chuck Noll brushed off his team's status as the best in the business. "We consider last year's Super Bowl trophy an antique," Noll said.

Pittsburgh appears to be in better overall shape than injury-plagued Dallas. Noll said standout wide receiver Lynn Swann "looks like he's ready to go." Swann is involved in a sticky lawsuit in California, and missed plenty of training camp work. "It won't affect Lynn as much as it might have someone else," Noll said.

Steeler running back Rocky Bleier will miss the contest with a knee problem, and offensive tackle Ray Pinney may have to undergo surgery to correct complications from an appendectomy.

Pittsburgh released kicker Roy Gerela in favor of rookie Matt Bahr, and surprised some by trading defensive back Tony Dungy to San Francisco for a draft choice.

Overall, Landry is still concerned about his team's anemic rushing average of less than three yards a carry during preseason.

"That'll get you beat," he said.

HEY, THAT'S NEAT! — Kansas City Chief's Horace Belton, right, watches Minnesota Vikings defender Doug Sutherland make a unique landing after Belton blocked him, leaving quarterback Steve Fuller free to go about his work in NFL exhibition action Thursday night. The Chiefs won 25-0.

Garcia, Belanger key Oriole triumph

BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager Earl Weaver got the maximum performance from his shortstop platoon, after studying his trusty statistical sheet for the slightest of clues.

Kiko Garcia had not collected an extra base hit 14 games and was without a run batted in for 15 games, while Mark Belanger had been hitting .310 since July 21.

But it was Garcia who started, and he responded with a key double and a three-run homer before Belanger came in on defense to preserve a 6-5 victory over the Texas Rangers Thursday night.

Weaver relies heavily on how a batter does against a particular pitcher. His figures showed that Belanger was barely hitting .100 lifetime against Texas starter Fergie Jenkins, 13-10, and Garcia was 2-for-3. That was enough for Weaver.

Garcia doubled following a first inning walk to Al Bumbry, and both runners scored on infield grounders. In the second, Garcia rapped his fifth homer — and first since June 23 — to make it 5-1.

"He only knocked in one run in four weeks," Weaver said, "but we needed him and he came through."

Belanger took over the shortstop spot in the eighth, and in the ninth he showed why he is an eight-time Gold Glove winner as the best at his position in the American League.

With one out and Jim Sundberg heading for third base, Belanger went behind the second base bag to haul down a high chopper by Mickey Rivers and throw out the speedy runner.

"I can't say Kiko wouldn't have gotten to the ball," Weaver said. "But that's why Mark was out there, because he makes the plays."

Rivers hit a home run off Scott McGregor, 9-4, in the fifth but the Orioles got it back in the sixth on an RBI single by Dave Skaggs.

Texas, 10-26 since the All-Star break, chased McGregor in the eighth when Buddy Bell hit his 16th homer following a single by Rivers and Zisk rapped his 14th homer with one out. Don Stanhouse then came in to record his 14th save.

The Orioles are 46-18 in Memorial Stadium this year, but they closed out the homestand with a 7-7 record.

The victory extended their lead in the American League East to five games over idle Boston.

Garcia, who has batted twice as much as Belanger this season, contends he gets along well with the veteran shortstop.

"I don't think about taking Mark's job — just about playing," Garcia said. "I'm sure Mark feels bad. But when he's in there, I hope he does well. We want to win and I'm just glad when a get a chance to play."

Chiefs rout Vikes

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — The best thing about the National Football League's exhibition season is that a team can build on its successes or forget about the lack of them.

Coach Marv Levy's Kansas City Chiefs plan to do some building following their 25-0 thrashing of Minnesota Thursday night.

The Vikings plan to do a lot of forgetting.

"Winning this way is very healthy for a team like ours, which hasn't experienced winning for a few seasons," said Levy, who watched his club finish its pre-season at 3-1. "But that doesn't insure winning in the regular season."

The defending NFC Central Division champion Vikings, winless in four exhibition contests, hope Levy is right.

"The only consolation we have now is that we're 0-0," said Minnesota quarterback Tommy Kramer, who was sacked four times and has yet to produce a touchdown.

"There's no excuses when you play like that," said Coach Bud Grant. "When you play as bad as we played and have a team execute as well as Kansas City did, it's going to show up in the score."

In four games, Minnesota has managed only 19 points — one touchdown, thrown by John Reaves, and four field goals.

Until now, Minnesota hadn't gone winless in pre-season since going 0-5 in 1961, its first season.

The Chiefs, who had the second-worst record in the NFL last season, rushed for 186 yards. But it was their passing game that destroyed the Vikings.

Mike Livingston started for Kansas City and completed eight of 10 passes for 96 yards and an 18-yard TD toss to Larry Dorsey.

Rookie Steve Fuller played the second half and connected on eight of 10 with two touchdowns — a nine-yarder to Tony Samuels, and one of 16 yards to Mike Williams on a field soaked by three days of rain.

"I never expected it to be this easy, but the footing was terrible and the receivers definitely had the advantage," said Livingston.

DENNIS THE MENACE

"MY HEAD KNOWS BETTER... BUT THE REST OF ME JUST GOES AHEAD AND DOES WHAT IT WANTS."

THE FAMILY CIRCUS

"Please, Mommy? Couldn't I stay another week?"

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, AUG. 25, 1979

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A beautiful day to reconcile any differences of opinion that you have had with others. Engage in whatever vocational or special activities that require neat touch, fine finish.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Showing more affection for loved ones brings good results. Have better understanding with good friends, also. Shop early and plan some fine amusement for the evening.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Take care of domestic chores early before socializing with friends. Be more concerned with diet so that you feel better.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Any amusement plans you have now can work out just fine. Get into creative works and be more successful in them.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Busy yourself at fundamental affairs, whether at home or wherever, and get good results. Entertain at home in the evening and have fun. Look on the positive side of life and drive your worries away.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Encourage others and they cooperate more with you. A little gift for partners brings good results. Bring out your most magnanimous qualities and be happier.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Talk over with an expert how best to handle your most practical matters and then take proper steps. A new interest can bring you added income. Study into it seriously.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Improve health and appearance wherever possible. Meet with charming personalities and have a good time. Plan for the future more intelligently.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Delve into whatever is puzzling to you and get the right answers. Show greater love for loved ones and be happier.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get in touch with good friends and show them your affection, gain added goodwill. Plan a little party together.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get your home more comfortable and charming and then have friends in that you like. A bigwig you know will respond to the right kind of entertainment.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get an early start and look into new projects that could bring added income. A newcomer could prove most helpful to you.

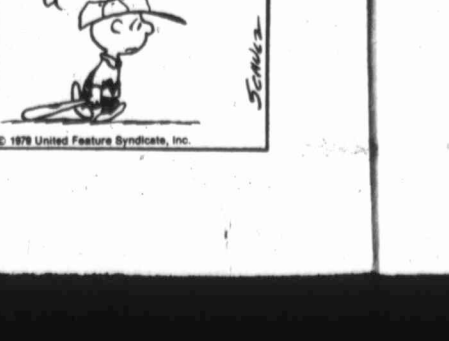

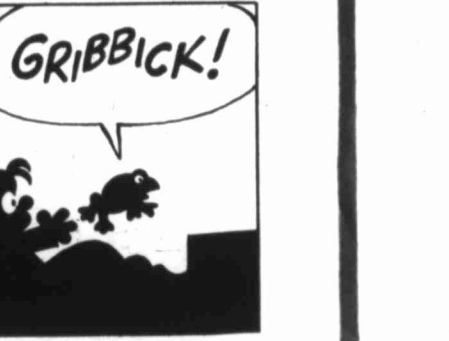

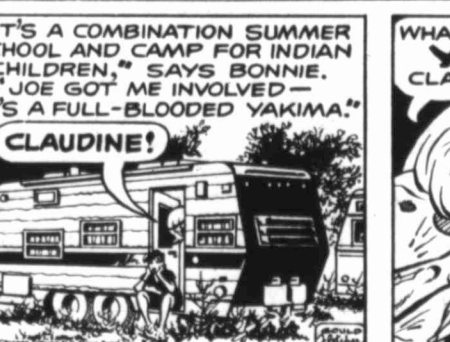

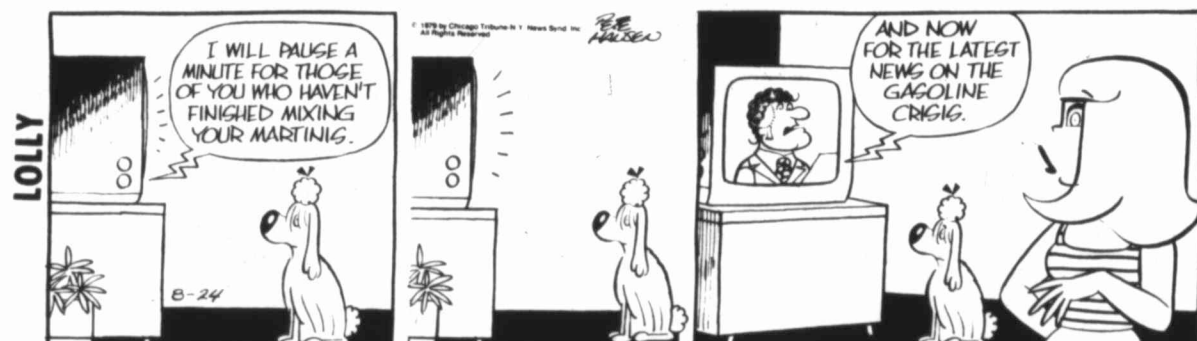

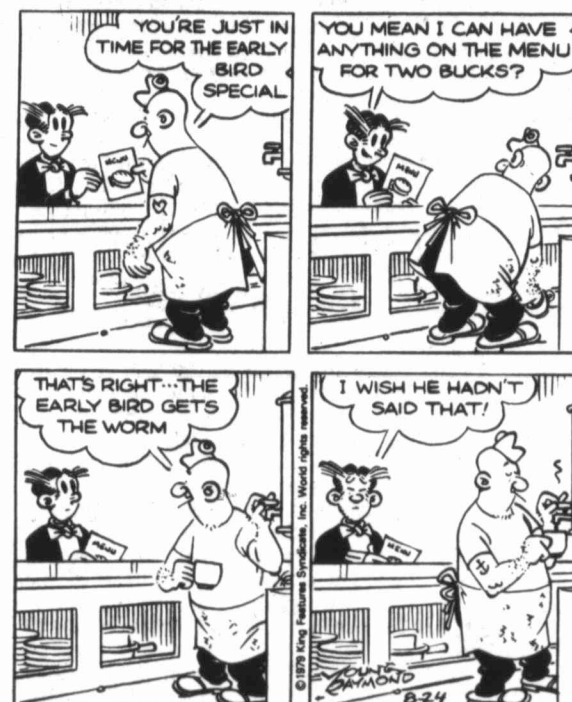

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Contact experts in business who can fill you in on whatever it is you want to know. A special thought for loved ones can bring fine response now.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will relate well with others but must be taught early to reach decisions more quickly, since too much deliberation could be a real fault here. Teach to be more loving and forgiving, too. Sports are good here.

Pastorini to start in Oiler-Saint tilt

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A padded Dan Pastorini is again ready for action, and his backup has been having a superlative preseason, so rookie cornerback Ricky Ray figures to age a bit more Friday night when he and the rest of the New Orleans Saints meet the Houston Oilers.

It's the final exhibition game for both National Football League teams. The Oilers are 1-2, and the Saints are 0-3.

Ray, a sixth-round draft choice, is starting at one cornerback in the injury-depleted Saints secondary. Another rookie, free agent David Gray, will be at the other corner, and second-year defensive back Don Schwartz will be starting at strong safety and backing up Ray and Gray, in case one of them needs to come out of the action.

Oiler quarterback Pastorini suffered a stress fracture of ribs eight under his right shoulder during practice, but is scheduled to start Friday night. Reserve Gifford Nielsen is expected to see a lot of action.

Nielsen is 33-52 for the preseason, accounting for a total of 364 yards and both of the touchdowns that the Oilers have scored by passing. Pastorini, seeing severely limited duty, is 4-13 for 48 yards.

Quigley's 63 leads Hall of Fame golf

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Dana Quigley directly tied together a near-fatal boating accident only two weeks ago with the best round of his life, a stunning, 8-under-par 63, in the first round of the $250,000 Hall of Fame Golf Classic.

"They're directly related," said Quigley, who'd never before even threatened strongly in a major event on the PGA Tour.

The accident occurred in the waters of Narragansett Sound in Rhode Island. Quigley, 32, from Barrington, R.I., and a companion were thrown into the water when a freak squall capsized and sank their 30-foot boat.

"I was bleeding all over," he said. He's still limping from a badly damaged left knee. "I can't bend it, can't bend over to line up a putt," he said Thursday.

With his physical difficulties, the career struggler on the tour felt he had no chance at all to qualify for the Westchester Classic last week. So, he said, that was the time to try out a cross-handed putting stroke.

"You don't know if something is going to work until you try it in the heat, after the flag has gone up," he said. "I didn't want to try it in a tournament, or in qualifying, but I figured I had no chance to qualify anyhow so what difference did it make?"

He tried it and qualified.

And he used the unorthodox style in a superlative, no-bogey round that came within a single shot of the record on the famed No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country Club, a round that staked him to a big, 4-stroke lead.

"It was crazy," said Quigley, who has won only $8,000 this year, is fighting for his playing rights and hasn't yet finished higher than a tie for 27th.

"It is not my game to shoot 63," he said. "It's by far the greatest round of my life."

Padre owner Kroc receives heavy fine

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Owner Ray Kroc of the San Diego Padres received "a very substantial" fine from Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn for saying he would try to sign Graig Nettles and Joe Morgan, the club disclosed.

Kroc told The Associated Press last week that he was ready to build up his floundering Padres and would "go after" Nettles of the New York Yankees and Morgan of the Cincinnati Reds. After the Reds and Yankees accused him of tampering, Kroc said he would ignore both men should they become free agents.

Solomon slams Van Patten

MASON, Ohio (AP) — Second-seeded Harold Solomon advanced into the quarterfinals of the $200,000 Association of Tennis Professionals Championships with a 3-6, 6-1, 6-3 victory over Vince Van Patten.

In other matches, Roscoe Tanner defeated Francisco Gonzales of Puerto Rico, 6-1, 6-2; Pat DuPre fought off Raul Ramirez of Mexico 6-1, 6-7, 6-2; Peter Fleming beat Erik Van Dillen 6-4, 6-4; Bernie Mitton of South Africa edged Mark Cox of Great Britain 7-6, 7-6; Tom Gorman upset fourth-seeded Tim Gullikson, 6-3, 6-4; Ilie Nastase of Romania downed Van Witski 6-4, 6-4; and Stan Smith upset Brian Gottfried 6-3, 6-2.

LSU uncovers mystery man

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana State University says the so-called "mystery man" involved in efforts to recruit Johnny Hector is Dr. Curtis Roy of Lafayette, but Roy denies making any threats against anyone.

Roy released a statement Thursday denying that he threatened to have young Hector's brother William sent back to prison if the Johnny didn't sign to play football at LSU.

"I made no threat," he said. "I have nothing to threaten with. I made the call to Billy Hector to try and find out why his brother changed his mind. I'm simply an LSU supporter. I love LSU. I'm an LSU graduate. I've done some work for LSU before. I've tried to help get some good athletes. We lost one."

The New Iberia running back, one of the hottest prospects to come out of Louisiana in years, signed a Southeastern Conference letter of intent to play at LSU but later changed his mind and went to Texas A&M.

At a recent high school all-star game, Hector told reporters he decided on the Texas school because some anonymous person called his brother and threatened him. Johnny said his brother's parole officer was aware of the call, too.

William Hector of Opelousas is on parole after serving time for negligent homicide.

He was represented by a law firm owned by Camille Gravel, a member of the LSU Board of Supervisors and the governor's executive counsel.

Dr. Roy is a cousin of Chris Roy, a law partner of Gravel.

The dentist said he did not use Gravel's name in any way during his conversation with William Hector and that the fact that he is related to Chris Roy is no more than coincidence.

Chris Roy, contacted in Alexandria, said he didn't know anything about the Hector matter.

Gravel said he didn't know Dr. Roy and had "absolutely nothing to do with the matter."

The executive counsel said his firm did handle William Hector's case, but Gravel added that 60 percent of his firm's business is concerned with criminal cases "and we handle several hundred a year."

"If anybody would threaten anyone at all as has been suggested, it would be a very despicable thing and in my opinion, would be just flat wrong and shouldn't be done," said Gravel. "But, I doubt seriously if anyone ever did such a thing."

Following Johnny Hector's comments, the state Department of Corrections made an investigation and turned over its information to LSU, refusing to release the name of Dr. Roy.

LSU officials also refused to release the name until a Baton Rouge-based magazine, Gris Gris, threatened to go to court if necessary to get the information.

Gris Gris said LSU was in violation of the public records law by keeping the information secret.

Hoosiers support Knight

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Bobby Knight, Indiana University's basketball coach, has exaggerated all out of proportion, said Athletic Director Ralph Floyd.

Knight, 38, who guided the U.S. team to a gold medal in last month's Pan American Games in San Juan, was involved in an altercation with the officer during an argument over rights to a practice court.

"Nothing has developed from those legal proceedings that alters my high opinion of Coach Knight, both as a man and as a coach," said Floyd.

Indiana President John Ryan announced Thursday that a resignation offered by Knight would not be accepted.

The incident that led to Bobby Knight's conviction for assaulting a Puerto Rican policeman and his subsequent six-month jail sentence "has been exaggerated all out of proportion," said Athletic Director Ralph Floyd.

Pie in the Sky heads All-American qualifiers

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. (AP) — Pie In The Sky bolted 440 yards in 21.66 seconds Thursday to notch the top qualifying time in the first round of trials for the "Worlds Richest Horse Race"—the $1.25 million All-American Futurity.

Pie In The Sky, a colt whose recent record includes a pair of thirds in top stakes events on the West Coast, is owned by Dan and Jolene Urschel of Canadian, Texas. The colt went into Thursday's trial with a 2-0-4 record in six starts.

Sixteen trials were run Thursday and another 16 are set for Friday. The horses with the top five times each of the two days will fill the 10 starting berths in the nationally televised Labor Day finale and will get a chance at the winner's purse of $437,500. The All-American is the final jewel in the triple crown for quarter horses.

The four other qualifiers from Thursday's action, with their owners and qualifying times were: Sages Belle Star, J.H. Crouch Jr., Midland Texas, 21.87; Pa Pa Wheelie, B.N. Adams, Houston, Texas, 22.02; Thats Rainey, Hugh Tucker and Bill Reed, Stamford, Texas, 22.06; and After Noon Surprise, Ben and Leighann McCutchin and Bill Walker, Dallas, Texas, 22.06.

Prosecutors prepare for introduction of tapes

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Prosecutors prepared for introduction of crucial tapes in the murder-for-hire trial of millionaire Cullen Davis with testimony today from the FBI agent who secretly filmed a meeting between Davis and informant David McCrory.

Joe Gray was one of the FBI agents who monitored the Aug. 20 parking lot meeting — during which the pair discussed the murder of District Judge Joe Eidsen — from a disguised van on an adjacent parking lot.

The 61-year-old judge was unharmed, but he posed for photographs in a ketchup-stained T-shirt to simulate his death.

Gray's testimony is considered essential for introduction of audio and video tapes. Gray wired McCrory with a body recorder and filmed the meeting.

The tapes and the testimony of McCrory form the crux of the state's case against Davis, on trial a second time on charges he tried to buy Eidsen's murder.

McCrory says Davis ordered him to have Eidsen and others killed. He went to the FBI, which launched an undercover operation that included Eidsen's faked death.

The clandestine filming operation almost went awry when Davis inspected the van, attempting to peer through blackout curtains on the vehicle. FBI agent Jerry Hubbell testified Thursday that he and Gray both drew their pistols when they heard a car drive up.

"You did not intend to shoot Cullen Davis, did you?" asked lead defense attorney Richard "Racehorse" Haynes. "What then, was your purpose in extracting your firearm?"

"To protect myself, in case anything happened," Hubbell replied.

The agents were not the only participants in the bizarre drama with guns.

Sitting in his nearby car, McCrory nervously handled his pistol while watching Davis at the van.

Hubbell said McCrory was allowed to carry the gun because he "would not go to the meeting without it."

"You told him not to shoot Mr. Davis if he could avoid it?" Haynes asked sarcastically.

Hubbell was the agent who

River cruise could be dress rehearsal for '80

ABOARD THE DELTA QUEEN (AP) — President Carter is hinting that the seven-day Mississippi River cruise he winds up today could be a dress rehearsal for his 1980 reelection campaign.

Although he steered clear of linking the river trip to a reelection effort, the president indicated there would be similarities: lots of stops at small places like those that gave him warm receptions this week all along the river.

Insisting that "I am not a candidate," Carter said if he did run, he would balance national advertising and visits to major population centers with stops at places he has never visited before.

"I think our campaign in 1976 was a fairly good indication of what would be likely if and when I decide to run," Carter said.

He said he would emphasize his achievements in farm exports, the Mideast and energy policy, but would be alert for developing campaign issues and try to counter unfavorable developments as they arose.

The president's remarks came during an informal session with reporters Thursday, his last full day aboard the Delta Queen.

The trip was ending today at St. Louis with the president, Mrs. Carter and 11-year-old Amy boarding Air Force One for a morning flight back to Washington.

The discussion of possible reelection plans by a president presumably buoyed by his latest encounter with voters outside the Washington area took on added significance because the cruise turned into less of a vacation than the first
