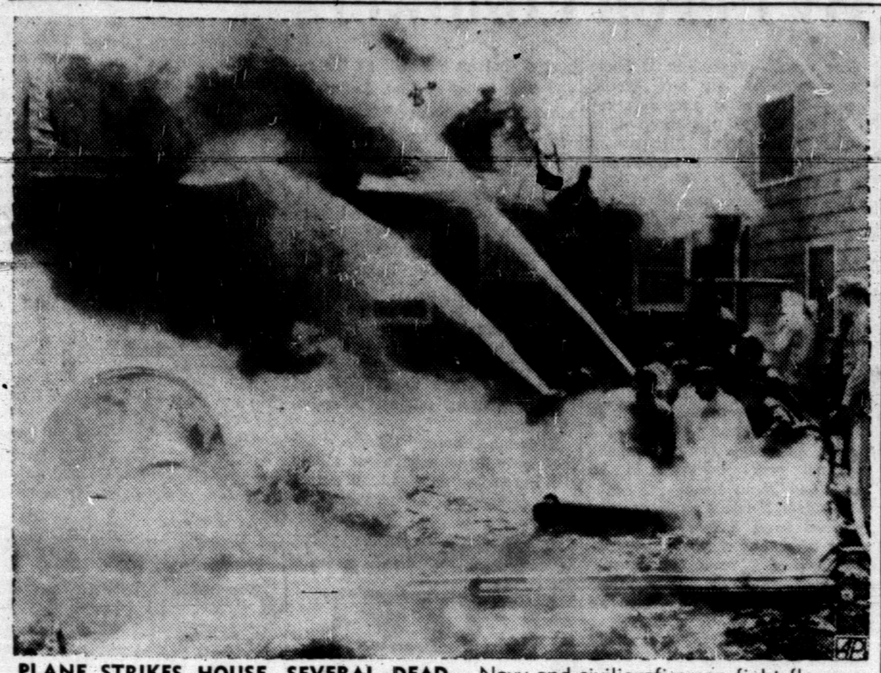
House Okays Trimmed Measure On Foreign Aid



PLANE STRIKES HOUSE, SEVERAL DEAD— Navy and civilian firemen fight flames after a Navy jet plane crashed near the Minneapolis, Minn., airport, demolishing one home and badly damaging several others. Several persons were believed dead in the crash.

Billion Cut Off Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today passed and sent to the Senate a $3,800,000,000 foreign aid bill slashed more than a billion dollars below President Eisenhower's request.

The formal roll call vote confirmed House opposition this election year to an overseas aid program as large as the $4,900,000,000 Eisenhower said was needed for American and free world security.

But just before final passage, the House refused by a 147-52 standing vote to kill the entire measure by sending it back to committee.

The legislation was reported headed for further trouble in the Senate, where some key senators have said it should be cut even further. It is still $1,100,000,000 bigger than the appropriation Congress voted last year.

The bill sets terms and ceilings for the program to bolster free world countries against communism in the year starting July 1. The actual funds must be voted in a separate bill later.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga), chairman of the Senate Appropriations subcommittee handling foreign aid, said the program ought to be chopped another billion dollars in addition to the $1,104,000,000 cut already tentatively approved by the House.

But Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee sided with the administration against the House slash in Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 request for the year starting July 1. He favored restoring about half a billion dollars. His committee begins closed-door voting on the bill Wednesday.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), a senior Republican on the committee, sent a letter to all other senators asking "bipartisan support" for "the leadership of the President in our foreign policy."

As tentatively approved by the House Friday night after three stormy days of floor sessions, the bill provides for a $3,800,000,000 aid program next year — still $1,100,000,000 more than Congress appropriated last year.

Its emphasis was on aid to parts of the world other than Europe, and on the use of loans and private enterprise wherever possible instead of outright government gifts.

The bill would give the President a high degree of flexibility in administering the program, and would leave it up to him to decide in the national interest whether U.S. aid should be continued to Communist Yugoslavia. There had been a move to shut off all such aid.

The bill sets the authorization, or general terms, for the aid program for next fiscal year. The actual appropriations must be voted in a separate measure later.

LATE BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower personally rejected today a Russian bid for all members of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff to visit the Soviet Union.

The President made the decision in a conference with his chief aide, Sherman Adams, in the Walter Reed Hospital room where he is recovering from an operation performed last Saturday.

Eisenhower left the way open for some of the Joint Chiefs to go to Russia later on condition they were given plenty of time outside Moscow to look at "activites of special interest to their own services."

KEEPS WATCH— Mrs. Sam McCollum III wipes her husband's brow as she keeps watch over him at the hospital in Brady, Tex. McCollum was critically injured when his station wagon exploded as he turned on the ignition. McCollum's testimony helped send former Texas land commissioner Bascom Giles to the penitentiary. He was also scheduled to be a key witness in the trial of B. R. Sheffield, Brady land dealer, in connection with the veterans land cases. McCollum was in critical condition with leg and internal injuries.

Ike Is Preparing To Resume Office Duties

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today took another little walk, suffered less pain, and made a start toward resuming the duties of his office.

The doctors said Eisenhower took "walking exercises around 9:30 a.m. on his own initiative.

A 12:15 p.m. medical bulletin said "the President's condition remains excellent," with pulse, blood pressure, temperature and respiration "essentially normal."

It added:

"He walked with but little support from his bed to an easy chair which was placed 20 feet from the bed.

"He sat in the chair for 15 minutes and then walked, again with little support, back to bed.

"During these exercises the President had less discomfort than yesterday."

Yesterday — only 30 hours after his emergency surgery of early Saturday morning—the President walked a total of about 30 feet with attendants partly supporting him. Today the only assistance he had was a hand on the elbow.

Mrs. Eisenhower was in the room on both occasions.

Eisenhower conferred for 10 minutes today with his chief assistant, Sherman Adams, and reached several decisions including the designation of Vice President Nixon to represent him at two forthcoming events — the regular National Security Council meeting Thursday and a Blair House luncheon Wednesday for West German Chancellor Adenauer.

Eisenhower also decided against postponing the Conference on Fitness of American Youth to be held at Annapolis, Md., June 18-19.

Eisenhower had been scheduled to speak at the meeting. Nixon already is chairman of the conference and will preside.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said it has not yet been decided whether Adenauer will visit the President at the hospital.

Hagerty also said that still under study is whether the President will be able to attend the Organization of American States meeting at Panama City June 25-26.

Barring Of Price Daniel Is Demanded

AUSTIN (AP)—Reuben Senterfitt, candidate for governor, urged the State Democratic Executive Committee today to bar U.S. Sen. Price Daniel as an ineligible candidate in the July 28 Democratic primary.

Senterfitt said the state Constitution makes it plain that no member of Congress shall be eligible for membership in the Legislature or hold state office

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Democratic Executive Committee recessed shortly after convening today to allow subcommittees time to prepare reports on what should be on the ballot for party voters in the July 28 primary.

Reports were to be heard by the committee this afternoon. Meanwhile, candidates for state office were offered the customary opportunity of making statements to the committee during the recess.

Only two candidates for governor were on hand in response to the committee's invitation to make their views known. They were Reuben Senterfitt of San Saba and J. Evetts Haley of Canyon.

A legal subcommittee headed by Elmer Ware Stahl of San Antonio was to bring its report this afternoon on the question of submitting race questions to a referendum at the July primary.

The executive committee also was to decide where to hold the Democratic state convention in September, and Fort Worth was being mentioned unofficially as a possible choice.

Adenauer Warns Of New Soviet Threat

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called on the West today not to relax "even for one moment" its vigilance in the face of current friendly talk from Soviet Russia.

Adenauer called the recent the former aggressive conduct" of the Kremlin.

He said the men in the Kremlin "are still not prepared to remove the main causes of the tension of the world."

Adenauer's remarks were in an address at a luncheon given in his honor by the board of governors of Yale University.

Earlier in the day, he received an honorary degree of doctor of laws during Yale University commencement exercises.

In his luncheon speech the Chancellor said:

"Throughout the world, the Soviets aggravate existing conflicts and endeavor to undermine the West's position in an unscrupulous manner. Above all they want to smash first the mighty protective shield of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and to drive the United States from Europe so that Europe will fall like a ripe fruit into the Soviet lap."

The German leader asserted it is undeniable that the present Russian leaders have made an impression on some people by pushing Stalin from his throne—"after his death, it is to be noted."

But, he added, there are no signs to indicate the disavowal of Stalinism means the acceptance of those spiritual principles which are the foundations of the free world.

"Instead," Adenauer declared, "there are only new forms and methods used by a new, more dexterous leadership in the Kremlin," in order to reach the old Bolshevik objectives with fewer sacrifices."

Man Makes Long Swim To Safety

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—A 36-year-old man staggered ashore at Key West today after an 8½-hour swim through choppy seas to send Coast Guard craft to the rescue of three other survivors of a wrecked fishing boat.

Ray Wraymond, 36, told officers at the Boca Chica Naval Air Base where he reached shore that he swam nine miles after the charter boat Golden K went down during a squall.

A Navy helicopter spotted the boat's three other occupants clinging to the wreckage and a Coast Guard boat picked them up.

Wraymond was admitted to a hospital along with Dorothy Snell, 35, and Winford Bennett, 39. The other survivor, Frank Young, did not require medical treatment. All are from Marathon, Fla.

The Golden K, owned and captained by Bennett, struck a submerged island at Pelican Shoals southeast of Key West during a rainstorm at noon yesterday and sank at 4:30 p.m.

Wraymond started his swim 20 minutes later and reached shore at 1:20 a.m. after a nine-mile struggle through waters heavily infested with barracuda. He started with a life preserver but it came apart during the swim.

"I almost gave up a couple of times and thought of trying to drown myself," Wraymond said.

Wraymond, Bennett and Miss Snell all were suffering from burns from gasoline which spilled out of the boat's ripped tanks. Miss Snell also was treated for the Parr contentions erroneous

Heir To Buy Gallery

NEW YORK (AP) — Huntington Hartford, 45-year-old heir to the A & P food chain millions, says he plans to build a 10-story, 1½-million-dollar art gallery at Columbus Circle in Manhattan.

Second Term Talk Is Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's operation seemed certain today to touch off a month or more of renewed speculation about his candidacy for re-election despite claims from some Republicans that it makes no change.

Several Democrats said they hope he sticks by his Feb. 29 decision to seek a second term, although most concede privately they think their chances would be better against another GOP candidate.

Several of Eisenhower's doctors said they see no reason for him to change his mind if he recovers as they anticipate.

Eisenhower's spokesman, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, brushed aside all political questions. "I have just one thought in mind, and that is to get the President of the United States out of the hospital," Hagerty said.

In any event, it seemed likely that Eisenhower might reserve a final decision for the four to six weeks his doctors say will be required for full convalescence.

Six weeks will expire July 21, about a month before the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

Eisenhower has said, with reference to his heart attack last Sept. 24, that if he ever feels he is not up to another term he will say so immediately.

His doctors have declared there is no connection between the heart attack and his new illness.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston specialist who was a consultant to Eisenhower after his heart attack, said the President "should be able to recover quite well and carry on normally."

U. S. Soldier Kills Operator Of Ferry

KREUZ-WERTHEIM, Germany (AP)—German police said a 21-year-old American soldier ran amok on a ferry boat last night, knifing a German housemaid and then stabbing the ferry operator to death.

The girl, Hildrun Wagner, 22, was reported in serious condition.

U. S. Army headquarters identified the soldier as Pvt. Ralph T. McFarlane of Battery A, 97th Field Artillery Battalion, and said he is being held for questioning. It did not give his home address.

Chapa Trial Is Resumed

FORT STOCKTON (AP)—Four witnesses this morning told of paying $200 each to D. C. Chapa for hunting privileges on his ranch 20 miles south of Laredo.

Chapa is on trial on charges of embezzling a $6,525 check from the Benavides School District, of which he is former tax collector-assessor.

Those testifying this morning that they paid the fees included County Judge A. M. Edwards of George West, Tex.

The trial was in its sixth day.

Defense attorneys also are expected to propose, during the trial, that other persons could have taken the money involved from the school district office.

New Greek Outbursts

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Greek Cypriot rebels defiantly called on their countrymen today to launch new sabotage attacks as thousands of British soldiers combed the hills of northwest Cyprus to search them out.

Hike In AF Funds Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay asked a Senate Appropriations subcommittee today for a $3,800,000,000 increase in funds for his strategic Air Command for stepped-up production of B52 bombers.

Chairman Chavez (D-NM) made this disclosure after LeMay testified before a closed session of the subcommittee examining the Defense Department's proposd 36-billion-dollar budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The figure supported by LeMay after a study of the B52 bomber program, tops total estimates for the Strategic Air Command of five billion dollars Chavez told reporters.

Chavez said LeMay advocated the increased expenditure over a period of four or five years to challenge the Russian build-up of its long-range bomber forces.

Two Cars Collide Near Towle Park

Two cars collided yesterday afternoon at about 5 o'clock near the entrance to Towle Memorial Park on the Big Spring highway.

Drivers were August Haas,55, of Abilene, in a 1952 Pontiac sedan, and Robert Thurmon Hensley, 16, Sunray Oil Camp.

Sheriff Homer Whisnand, who investigated said there were no injuries and was very little damage to the cars.

Reward For Hired Killer Suggested

BRADY, Tex., June 11 (AP) — A relative says the state should offer $50,000 reward to hunt down the "hired killer" whose car-bomb critically hurt Sam McCollum III vital veterans land scandal witness.

The suggestion came from Frank Kittrell, brother-in-law of Mrs. McCollum, shortly after McCollum saw a news reporter yesterday for the first time since the blast last Friday. McCollum threw no new light on the bombing.

Asked if he thought the explosion was connected with the veterans land scandals, the 37-year-old lawyer said:

"All I know is I turned on the switch, it went boom and I have been here ever since."

The 45-second exclusive interview in McCollum's hospital room was the first time he had talked with a reporter since he set off a bobby trap bomb by turning the ignition switch on his car at 8 a.m. last Friday.

McCollum's testimony helped send former Texas Land Commissioner Bascom Giles to prison. He is expected to be a principal witness against B.R. Sheffield, Brady land promoter charged on 40 counts of veterans land irregularities.

The state alleged millions of dollars were stolen in a large number of illegal deals under the multi-million dollar veterans land program. The program was set up to enable Texas veterans of World War II and Korea to buy farms with state loans at low interest.

Kittrell, an Abilene construction worker, quoted Mrs. McCollum as saying the bomb was misplaced in such a way that its full force was out the front of the car instead of back toward the driver. Mrs. McCollun was represented as believing her husband would otherwise have been killed.

"It was a professional bomb but it was put in by an amateur," Kittrell quoted Mrs. McCollum as saying. "The explosion went down and out the front of the car instead of going back into him."

There was no immediate official comment on Kittrell's plea for a state reward.

Kitrell, an Abilene contractor, came to Brady to see McCollum. He told reporters:

Stalin Kept Harem, Newspaper Reports

PARIS (AP) — Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchec has informed other Soviet leaders that Joseph Stalin in his later years kept a harem of young girls, the mass circulation newspaper France-Soir reported today.

It said in a dispatch from Vienna that Khrushchev recently told his colleagues Stalin was subject to "sexual aberrations, a veritable erotomania — sexual insanity — sexual obsessions degenerating into sadism directed toward younger and younger girls."

The article said Khrushchev declared Stalin's harem was recruited for him by his police boss, Lavrenty Beria, and that Beria confessed this before he was put to death as a traitor.

Shippers Won't Hire Men Who Sell Blood

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — The stevedores of Yokohama peddle so much of their blood they're becoming accident-prone, a labor union warned today.

The Federation of Port Workers Unions, noting that Yokohama's waterfront accident rate leads the nation, asked shippers to refuse jobs to stevedores who sell their blood.

The going rate is nearly $20 a pint, and two blood banks are buying a 20th of a pint daily from 300 to 400 donors.

High Court Denies Protests By Parr

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today rejected 5-4 protests by George B. Parr, stormy South Texas political boss, against being put on trial in federal court in Austin on income tax evasion charges.

Justice Harlan wrote the majority decision. It as read in his absence by Justice Burton. Chief Justice Warren wrote a dissenting opinion in which Justices Black, Douglas and Clark joined. Others on the majority were Justices Reed, Frankfurter and Minton.

Parr was first indicted Nov. 15, 1954, in Corpus Christi. His lawyers claimed he could not get a fair trial there because of prejudice resulting from unfavorable publicity in three Corpus Christi newspapers. The government disputed this assertion, but the case was transferred to Laredo.

Later the government obtained a new indictment in Austin, similar to the indictment that had been transferred to Laredo. The federal court at Laredo then granted a government request for dismissal of the original, transferred indictment.

The case as set for trial on Sept. 6, 1955 before Federal Judge Ben H. Rice in Austin, but counsel for Parr appealed to the Supreme Court in protest against the handling of the indictments. Because of the appeal the Justice Department agreed to postponement of the trial pending a decision by the high tribunal.

Parr's appeal contended the government had made "a unique and unprecedented attempt to circumvent a valid and effective order of transfer" (of the indictment to Laredo).

The Justice Department called the Parr contentions Zerroneous and unsubstantial."

The tax evasion charges cover the years 1949 through 1951.

Harlan said the majority based its decision on a finding that the question of where the trial should be held could be appealed after the case is finally decided on its merits.

Informant In Brink's Case Shot To Death

BOSTON (AP)—Two men were booked today on suspicion of murder in the gangland-style slaying of an ex-convict who reportedly divulged information to the FBI about the $1,218,110 Brinks robberty.

The victim was William J. Cameron, 49, a Dorchester district hoodlum whose body was found yesterday in his parked car at the rear of a Navy barracks building on the South Boston waterfront.

Booked on a charge of "suspicious persons in connection with murder" were Thomas J. Ballou, 27, of Quincy, who was free in $20,000 bail on an indictment of being an accessory in the Brink's robbery, and Thomas A. Callahan, 50, an ex-convict waterfront "tough guy."

Police said they have information that Callahan recently beat Cameron severely after accusing him of being a "stool pigeon" — an informer.

Ballou was indicted less than a month ago after authorities accused him of serving as courier for Thomas F. Richardson, 48, and James I. Faherty, 44, while both lay in hiding in a Roxbury district tenement.

Richardson and Faherty were the last to be captured of the 10 men in custody on charges of being the Brink's robbers.

Cameron's body was slouched under the dashboard of his car with two bullet holes in his face, one at the nose and the other in his right cheek.

A police official said Cameron once lived in a house that had been "staked out" as the hideout for Faherty while he and Richardson were evading police for more than a year.

The official said Cameron apparently never got the money he was promised for hiring the Boston apartment and went to the FBI after several attempts to collect his "fee" for his services to Faherty.

Callahan was described by police as a close friend of Jordan Perry, 31, of Boston, who was arrested in Baltimore about a week ago on charges he tried to pass about $4,000 of the Brink's loot.

Perry's arrest led to a raid on a Boston office and rooming house where some $90,000 in Brink's money was recovered from behind a wall panel.

Callahan, who has a long police record, had been sought since Perry's arrest in Baltimore. He was arrested as he drove up to his house.

Cameron had been questioned at least three times in connection with the Brink's robbery of Jan. 17, 1950, police said.

Cameron's 48-year-old widow Pauline, was quoted by police as saying her husband got a phone call about 12:15 a.m. yesterday while they were watching televison.

She said she heard her husband say over the telephone: "Where can I meet you? I'll see you in about 15 minutes."

Twenty minutes later Mrs. Cameron was quoted further, a male visitor came to their door and her husband — wearing work clothes and slippers — left with after shouting to her: "I'm going to give him a push."

Police theorized the visitor reported his car had broken down and was in need of a tow.

Cameron's body was found about two hours later.

Tito Is Given Big Reception

STALINGRAD (AP) — President Tito of Yugoslavia, accompanied by Soviet leaders Nikita Khushchev and A. I. Mikoyan, was mobbed by an uncontrollable crowd of 200,000 persons jammed around the railroad station when he arrived in Stalingrad today.

An American woman, Mrs. Betty Mase of Bronxville, N. Y., traveling as a reporter with the official party, was swept up by the mob and forced into Deputy Premier Mikoyan's car.

She had been chatting with him in the railroad station when the crowd engulfed them and she was unable to detach herself. She described the crowd as "wildly enthusiastic, friendly and uncontrollable."

Similar scenes have occurred in Moscow and Leningrad on Tito's triumphant tour of the Soviet Union.

Now the latest in the line, James Nimmo Hubbard III, has stepped up to receive his diploma at the college's 1956 graduation exercises.

Czechs Arrest "Spy"

VIENNA (AP) — Czechoslovak newspapers today reported the arrest of a "American spy," identified as Lubomir Juza.

The papers said Juza, a Czech deserter, fell into the hands of Czech security authorities after crossing the German-Czech border on a mission for the American intelligence service in Germany.

Farmer Smart Reaps Three Navy Rockets

OSWEGA, N. Y., (AP) —Farmer Clarence Smart reaped a lot more than he sowed. Three Navy rockets plowed into his land. A specialist from nearby Camp Drum dug them up and said they were a harmless, practice type. But nobody has been able to determine where they came from. Mrs. Smart thought she heard a jet plane about the time her husband saw the rockets land, but inquiries have failed to confirm presence of any aircraft.

Woman Gets Ticket, Officer Gets Lecture

PLAINVIEW, Tex., (AP)—A housewife was given a ticket here yesterday after she backed from her parking space into an oncoming car.

She told the arresting officer: "I think its a crying shame that you give me a ticket and not the man I hit. He could see me backing out a lot better than I could see him."

The officer was unsympathetic.

Dulles Retirement Plans Are Rumored

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)— The newspaper Frankfurter Rundschau predicted today that if President Eisenhower is r e-elected Secretary of State Dulles will go into retirement.

The independent conservative newspaper made the statement in commenting that due to Eisenhower's illness visiting Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will confer with Dulles. The newspaper said Dulles "belongs to the era" of V. M. Molotov, who has been retired by the Russians as foreign minister.

Most of the West German press deplored the fact that Eisenhower's illness occurred just as Adenauer was in the United States to visit him.

Mistrial Declared In Menter Murder Case

LIVINGSTON, Tex. (AP)—A deadlocked jury resulted in a mistrial Saturday night in the murder case against Ronald Edward Menter, 22, former mental patient accused of slaying a Texas A&M senior.

Menter, formerly of Keene, N.H., was accused in the fatal shooting of Jan David Broderick, 20, near Hempstead, Tex., last Dec. 30.

Menter claimed he shot Broderick in self defense during a drunken brawl on their way by car from El Paso, where he met Broderick, to Houston.

Dist. Judge Ernest Coker said eight jurors favored a 5-year prison sentence and four favored a 4-year sentence.

ROME (AP) — Rome's Seismological Observatory registered a powerful earthquake yesterday. It was believed to have occurred in Chinese East Turkestan.

Release Of Draft Data Is Explained

WASHINGTON (AP)—A draft official said today he authorized release of prospective inductees' names and addreses to a Texas mayor because he thought they were wanted for patriotic purposes.

Lt. Col. R. B. Hall Jr. of Texas Selective Service headquarters, said he later learned the names wre being used for insurance solicitation. He said the authorization to release them was then canceled.

Hall told the House Armed Services Investigating subcommittee he authorized giving the information to Kenneth Simmons who he said had telephoned and identified himself as Mayor of Avinger, Tex.

Since the inquiry came from "the mayor of a small city," Hall said, "I thought the information would not be used for any purpose other than patriotic."

The subcommittee at earlier hearings received testimony that Simmons obtained lists of men for early induction and sought out insurance purchase prospects.

Simmons, no longer mayor of Avinger, is a candidate in the forthcoming Texas Democratic primary for the congresional seat occupied by Rep. Wright Patman.

Hall said authority to give out the names was contained in a letter he wrote Oct. 15, 1954, to Selective Service Board No. 117 at Mount Peasant, Tex. He said his letter was based on an interpretation he later learned was "too broad" of regulations.

Hall said there was no mention in the telephone conversation with Simmons of the use to which the list was to be put, and that if he had known it was to be used commercially he would not have authorized its release.

Martha Raye's Home Is Damaged By Fire

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP) — Fire caused an estimated $1,000 damage to the home of actress Martha Raye today. Miss Raye, her daughter, Melody, 13, and two servants escaped unharmed.

One of the first policemen to arrive was Robert O'Shea, chief figure in a $50,000 alienation of affections suit filed against the actress by O'Shea's wife, Barbara Ann O'Shea.

Fire Chief Harold I. Shippey said the fire apparently was caused by a cigarette. Firemen removed a smoldering mattress from Miss Raye's first-floor bedroom and confined fire damage to that room.

Honeymoon Voyage In 28-Foot Boat

NYACK, N.Y. (AP) — A Greek artist and his blonde American bride set sail yesterday in a 28-foot boat on a 5,000-mile honeymoon voyage to Athens, Greece.

Savas Georgiu, 37, and his bride, the former Mary Susan Perry, 22, Youngstown, N.Y., said they hope to make the trip in about 50 days.

The couple are experienced sailors.

Japs Pray For Ike

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama sent a cable to President Eisenhower today saying the "Japanese government and the people pray for your speedy recovery and your early return to the affairs of state."

Argentina Hunts For Leaders Of Revolt By Peron Followers

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina's military regime pushed a determined hunt today for leaders of a bloody weekend revolt staged by army and civilian followers of ex-dictator Juan D. Peron.

The government announced firing squads executed 38 rebels in speedy and unprecedented retaliation. It indicated many more would face a similar fate as swift courts-martial, convened under martial law, sat around the clock.

The revolt—crushed in 12 hours by government air and ground forces—flared at 11 p.m. Saturday in Buenos Aires and three other major cities. Some 100 persons reportedly may have been killed or wounded.

The insurgents struck at two points in the federal capital. At the same time they staged uprisings in La Plata, 35 miles southeast of Buenos Aires; Santa Rosa, capital of La Pampa province in central Argentina; and Rosario, 180 miles northwest of Bueno Aires.

Loyalist forces directed by the vice president, Adm. Isaac Rojas, quickly smothered the revolt in Buenos Aires and Rosario. Jet fighter and navy bombers finally smashed rebel holdouts in La Plata and Santa Rosa.

President Pedro Aramburu, who returned from a tour of the interior after the shooting, branded the uprising a "mad adventure." He vowed that "energetic measures" would be taken against all who took part.

Loyalist forees scoured the land for two retired generals branded as the men who masterminded the abortive revolt. They are generals Raul Tanco and Juan Jose Valle, both big army bosses when Peron was president. Both were retired summarily when Peron was overthrown last fall.

Argentina's supreme military court went into emergency session last night to decide the fate of rebel prisoners. Two rebel army officers and 22 civilians were reported shot on the spot as the revolt was being quelled. Later the government announced the execution of seven more officers and seven noncommissioned officers. They included Col. Oscar Lorenzo Cogorno, ringleader of the uprising by elements of the 7th Hantry Regiment at La Plata; retired Col. Alberto Eduardo Cortines; and retired Lt. Col. Ricardo Ibaseta.

Observers predicted the startling firing squad tactics unleashed against the rebels would put a brake on disgruntled elements who might have notions of further plotting against Aramburu's regime.

Even the Communists, who in the past have been accused of aiding the Peronistas in sabotage activities, denounced the weekend rebellion.

Unwatched Watchman Makes Prison Break

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — Nobody watched the watchman. Melvin L. Shrewsbury, 40, convict night watchman at the State Penitentiary's coal mine, escaped sometime between 5 p.m. Friday and 6 a.m. Saturday. When guards arrived escorting prisoners to work in the mine, Shrewsbury was gone. Sentenced from Raleigh County last November, he was serving 1 to 10 years for grand larceny.

SPADEA'S INTERNATIONAL DESIGNER PATTERN

S-303

This is a model that is truly worthy of worth, designed as it is with all the fine detail and flattering lines identified with this house. The enlongated bodice is cut so that the front and back center panels form the scooped neckline. The sides pieces have a little fullness where they join the top-stitching of the neckline band. On the slim skirt are a pair of applied pockets also top stitched in a repeat of the detail. The custom made pattern, perforated with precision, is easy to translate with or without the push up sleeves in novelty cottons, plain or printed silks, linen, pique or sheer wools. This hand cut, custom made pattern is not standard sized but is the only pattern available with exclusive designers retail sizing measurements for a more accurate fie, better styling, less altering. Open perforations for easy markings without damaging tissue; also time saving, fabric saving, money saving; no tracing wheel or carbon paper needed; easy to follow instructions for beginners. Size 12 requires 3 1/4 yards of 39 inch material for dress with 3/4 length sleeves and 1-2 of a yard of 35 inch material for interfacing. To order Pattern No. S-303, state size; enclose $1.00. Airmail handling requires 25 cents extra. Address INTERNATIONAL DESIGNER PATTERNS, Box 993, G. P. O., Dept SX-13, New York 1, N.Y. 96 page Pattern Book "B", 50 cents. If paid by check add 4 cents.

Aid Cut Stands

To no one's great surprise the House refused 192-112 to restore $600 million of the $11 billion cut from the $4.9 billion foreign aid fund by its committee.

There was no roll call, but members merely chose sides and were counted by tellers. Observers said a majority of Republicans had voted against their President, while the bulk of the President's support came from Democrats.

Neither Speaker Sam Rayburn nor Republican minority leader Joe Martin indicated any effort would be made at some later stage to revive the issue. They had been among a group of congressional leaders who a few days before had been called to the White House and urged by the President to work for restoration of the whole $1.1 billion cut.

There has for months been growing criticism of the foreign aid program from both Democrats and Republicans, occasioned by the steady shearing away of faith in its efficacy, as demonstratec by the cooling of our allies regarding NATO anc the growth of "neutralist" sentiment among them and among uncommitted nations.

But two concurrent factors probably strengthened the hand of the anti-aid groups. One was the remarriage of Tito and Moscow at the bier of Joseph Stalin, signalized by Tito's triumphant tour of Russia. Tito's Yugoslavia has received more than a billion dollars in American aid, and the McCarthy-Jenner bill in the Senate to cut of further funds to Tito made sense in the frame work of recent events, if it didn't make sense in the long haul.

The other determining factor were remarks by President Eisenhower at last week's press conference. These remarks fell in two categories. First, he said aid to Tito should be re-studied. But the other remark, to the effect that little neutral nations should free not to commit themselves in the world struggle, had a jolting effect abroad and was adversely interpreted here. A later White House effort to explain and clarify the President's remarks came too late.

Trujillo Propaganda

In New York one day this week a group of pro-Trujillo Dominicans were beset by anti-Trujillo pickets to the accompaniment of scuffles and egg-throwing. Three men were charged with disorderly conduct, but the Trujillo crowd managed to fire off a resolution assuring the Domonican dictator of their support against the "campaign of vilification" being waged against him here.

The unexplained and semmingly insoluble disappearance of Dr. Jesus de Galindez three months ago from his accustomed haunts in New York City sparked this incident and others. Dr. Galindez(a lecturer at Columbia University, emerged from a stay of several years in the Dominican Republic to become one of Trujillo's most vocal enemies. Anti-Trujillo groups have tried to connect the disappearance with Trujillo vengeance, so far without success.

We do not know how far the dictator's vengeance reaches, but his propaganda travels a far piece. This office received a handful of pamphlets and tracts from the Dominican information office recently the principal burden of which was to glorify Trujillo. A comparison with George Washington at Valley Forge was made in one instance, without any disparagement whatever to Trujillo, "the noble benefactor of his people."

This week came a whole armload of this propaganda, including one of the biggest, fanciest and most colorful—not to say the most perfervidly praiseful—magazine editons we ever saw. The magazine, published in Mexico City and called "Auge" (in English, roughly Acme) runs to 374 pages of picture and text, largely in fulsome praise of the Trujillo family. The edition is dedicated to the Dominican Republic, which is the same as saying to Trujillo.

There is one section devoted to the visit of Vice President and Mrs. Nixon to the Dominican Republic, titled "Friends," including a superb shot showing Nixon and "the great benefactor" embracing. There is a full-page spread of President and Mrs. Eisenhower, shown seated presumably on the White House lawn, and inscribed: "To Generalissimo and Senora Rafael Leonidas Trujillo Molina, with best wishes," and signed by both Ike and Mamie.

In our opinion any progress achieved at the cost of liberties is impermanent and comes at too high a price. We wish the people of the Dominican Republic well but we are not interested in the comings and goings of "Generalissimo" Trujillo and his "miraculous" achievements.

Ambition Of Negro Broadway Star Is Feature Role In Good Western Movie

... By HAL BOYLE ...

NEW YORK (AP)—Sammy Davis Jr., currently one of the hottest figures in show business, has an unusual ambition and makes no secret of it.

He wants to star in a Western movie.

The idea of a film featuring a Negro cowboy doesn't seem at all singular to Sammy.

"People forget that after the Civil War many former slaves migrated and became cowboys," he said, "There were a lot of Negroes in the Old West."

"Sammy, whose mind is as restless as his agile feet, is an entertainer who always likes to try something new. He is looking forward to costarring with his friend, Frank Sinatra, in a film called "Jazz Train," and he'd like to do the "Story of Bill Robinson," the great Negro tap dancer who taught him many of his tricks.

This year Sammy — a triple threat artist who can sing, dance and mimic—made his Broadway debut in the musical, "Mr. Wonderful."

To him that was like stepping alive into heaven. The Harlem-born kid, who celebrated his first birthday in a crib in a dressing room of the old Hippodrome theater, had reached the top at the age of 30.

There were a lot of hard years of trouping along the way, but now Sammy has it made. He has sold 3½ million records. He and his daddy and "Uncle Will" Mastin now have an act that fetches them from $15,000 to $25,000 a week. They get up to $20,000 for a single television show.

His dad and "Uncle Will" handle the money, give Sammy an allowance and are buying two annuities that will make him independent at 40.

"I couldn't get an extra $2 from them if I was dying," he said, grinning.

When Sammy goes in for something—he goes to the hilt. He owns a $70,000 Hollywood home that once belonged to Judy Garland. He likes hi-fi, so the home has three complete hi-fi setups.

He likes photography, so he has 10 cameras.

He likes Western history, so he has collected 20 valuable old single-action frontier Colt revolvers.

He likes cuff links, so he has collection of 20,000. In the last four months he spent $1,500 for records.

He likes cuff links, so he has 350 pairs. He takes as many as 100 pairs with him on trips.

"A man doesn't want to get caught short," he laughed.

Sammy doesn't care for hard liquor. He eats only one real meal a day, sleeps 5 to 7 hours. He has cut his smoking from four packs a day down to one, but during rehearsals he will drink 15 cups of coffee a day and 7 to 10 bottles of cream soda pop.

Although he only spent a year in high school, he likes to stay up until dawn reading. His range is wide—from an English grammar to the Bible, from Churchill's "History of the English-Speaking People" to a volume analyzing the Kinsely reports.

On stage Sammy has the speed of an antelope, the endurance of a buffalo. Many people are amazed how his wiry little frame can pack so much energy.

"I eat a lot of sugar," he said. "So did Bill Robinson. That was his secret."

Sammy has a simple credo as an entertainer.

"Talent is something you either have or don't have," he said. "But the next most important thing is honesty.

"You have to play fair with your audience. You can't disdain them. You can't just give them part of yourself. You have to give them everything that's in you every time you go out there, or they'll spot you for a phoney—and once audiences think you're a phoney you can't last long."

Altitude And Alcohol Make An Undesirabe Mixture

By INEZ ROBB

There is nothing that alarms me more than to find myself giving aid and comfort to the WCTU, since these latter-day Carry Nations are not the cup that cheers me.

But here I go again, ready to plump for a bill that would make the wild blue yonder a little less so by forbidding the sale of liquor on commercial airliners. Such a bill has just been approved by the Commerce subcommittee of the House of Representatives, and high time.

Pie in the sky is one thing, but getting pied in the sky is horsepower of another color! From the point of view of this patron of commercial aviation since its early days, the passenger plane hasn't yet been built that's large enough to contain in comfort and safety even one drunk among its customers.

When I first started to fly more than a quarter of a century ago, there was a hard and fast rule on all airlines that alcohol and altitude do not mix. That hard and fast rule applied both to the crew and the passenger.

That elementary law of flight has not yet been repealed for the crew, which still must be sober as a judge. I prefer the passengers that way, too.

Before World War II, a passenger who was obviously ground looping had no more chance of getting on a commercial plane than the legendary camel through the eye of a needle. Passengers were barred from boarding a plane if they had had one too many for the air road.

Once in Chicago I saw one of the nations foremost captains of industry quietly refused a seat on a plane, for which he held a reservation, because he was stewed to the gills.

But now a passenger doesn't need to get loaded before he boards a plane, since he can lap it up once he tightens his seatbelt.

A few years ago when I protested to a harrassed young stewardess that an obstreperous drunk aboard a Florida - bound plane was a danger to plane and passengers alike, she explained that there really was no danger because the pilot compartment was locked from the inside and the drunk couldn't get in there to interfere with the plane's operation.

When I insisted that I then be allowed to go up and join the crew in the safety of the cockpit, she said such action was impossible but added, "That's where I'd like to be, too!"

Under the present system, stewardesses have been turned into bartenders, with scant time to look after passenger comfort in any other department.

No wonder that both pilots and stewardesses approve the present House bill. On the ground, a sober citizen can take evasive action from a drunk. But in the air, the citizen is well-nigh helpless to defend himself from a lush. The automatic pilot can do a lot, but, unfortunately, it can't yet be sent back to cope with a lost weekender.

What my plea boils down to, I guess, is a longing, once more, to fly both high and di[illegible].

"LOOKS LIKE ALL THE SUNDAY DRIVERS ARE OUT TODAY!"

Either Sales Tax, Or State Income Tax Inevitable, Economics Professor Says

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP)—If you had a choice, would you prefer a sales tax or a state income tax?

You say, you'd rather not have either, thank you? Well, a University of Texas economics professor thinks you'll have to express a choice soon.

Dr. Carey Thompson gave his views in the latest issue of public affairs comment, published by the university's Institute of Public Affairs.

He said the desirability of broadening the base of taxation in Texas is generally approved in principle. But he said it does not seem to be so generally recognized that there are only three bases from which to draw tax revenue — net income, consumption expenditures or wealth.

Thompson said taxation on wealth "has largely taken the form of the general property tax" and the tax "seems no longer able to serve as a significant support for state revenues."

That leaves only income and consumption to serve as bases for taxation.

"If we are to move, then, in Texas toward the use of broad based taxes, we shall eventually, in all likelihood, be brought to choose between some kind of tax based on income and some kind based on sales," Thompson said.

More than 90 per cent of Texas tax revenue is provided by the following, in decreasing order of yield:

1. Severance taxes on oil, gas and sulphur; 2. Selective sales tax on motor fuel; 3. Selective sales and gross receipts taxes on tobacco products, alcoholic beverages, insurance premiums, motor vehicle sales, public utilities, cement, radio and carbon black; 4. License taxes on motor vehicles, corporations in general, chain stores and minor levies of this type.

Thompson said these sources prove almost exclusive reliance upon taxes which fall initially upon specific selected areas of the state's economy.

"There are growing indications that such a pattern can no longer be drawn upon for any considerable additions to Texas tax yields," he said. "The search for additions from within this pattern by recent legislatures has become a more and more hectic process."

Potentially affected industries, occupations and trades have fought to ward off proposed rate increases pointed at them.

Thompson said there are three types of taxes not employed by Texas which are used in about two-thirds of the other states. These are the personal income tax, corporation income tax and general retail sales tax.

The sales tax charges persons on their total expenditures; the income tax is based on earnings; and corporation income tax falls on corporate stockholders, based on net income of the firm.

"A satisfactory tax policy for the state might better be achieved if we could bring ourselves to face more frankly the nature of our rather limited range of alternatives," Thompson said.

The monthly journal of the League of Texas Municipalities came up with another view on the property tax, however.

The article, devoted to a survey of municipal tax rates, assessed valuations and debts of Texas cities, said property tax can produce "more revenue for many cities without resort to some of the newer forms of taxation."

"Whether it should do so is, of course, a matter to be determined in a particular municipality . . . In any event, such a determination should not overlook the fact that, on a comparative basis, the property tax still has revenue potential if it will only be untilized," the league said.

In 1955, there were nine small cities in the state which levied no property tax. Eight cities levied the maximum legal rate of $2.50 a $100 assessed valuation for cities over 5,000 population.

Olmos Park, Terrell Hills, Richland Hills, Fairfield, Roma, Iraan, Newton, Camp Wood and Roanoke did not levy the tax. Edinburg, Mercedes, Weslaco, Breckenridge, Lockhart, Cisco, Ranger and Eastland taxed at the maximum.

Of the Texas cities below 5,000, some 44 per cent — 175 — had tax rates at the maximum of $1.50 a $100 assessed valuation.

The figures also show that the pay-as-you-go system is becoming a rarity.

Last year, only 28 out of the 551 cities reporting to the league had no gross debt of any kind. And 414 had general obligation bonds outstanding as well as revenue bonds and warrants.

This was a percentage of 75.1 compared to only 47.6 per cent of the cities in 1945 with both tax and revenue bonds.

A group of 189 Texas cities was studied by the league and the average assessed value in 1947 was shown as $17,191,666 compared to last year's $38,991,695.

Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio had an average assessed value of $435,827,868 in 1947 compared to $959,035,710 in 1955.

"In all cases," the report said, "the growth pattern has been a gradual one with no retardations or interruptions and clearly reflects the economic growth which has taken place in our urban communities throughout the sate.

"In contrast to the marked change in assessed values, tax rates have shown only a slight increase over the same period. For the nine population groups (included in the 189 cities) the average tax rate increased by only 3.6 per cent."

WASHINGTON LETTER

Personal Problem Key To Prisoner's Reform

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Solving a prisoner's personal problem is the most important step in correctional work — the approach being emphasized in the straining of officers handling the offenders in both civilian and military life.

"The idea is to make good citizens and good soldiers out of the poor ones," says Howard B. Gill, director of the Institute of Correctional Administration, George Washington University. "The mere locking up of offenders in hugh prisons and guard houses has proven disappointing. It's a waste of manpower, money and time."

Well known in the criminology field as originator and superintendent of the State Prison Colony, Norfolk, Mass., one of the first community - type prisons in the world, Gill is now conducting his ninth institute. The institutes were set up in 1952 to meet growing demands for specialized training for officials of state and federal institutions and correctional officers in the military.

"The instruction is keyed to help officers build attitudes in the retrainee which will help him regain his self-respect and self-confidence," Prof. Gill told me. "Emphasizing that each man is an individual with indivdual personal problems, the idea is to search out the reasons behind his trouble and to help him to remove them."

Improvements in military correctional work are more outstanding than in the civilian, Gill says. Already some 450 military correctional officers — Air Force, Army, Marine — as compared to only 20 or 25 civilians, have taken the courses.

This, he explains, is partly due to the new philosophy developed since World War II by the military which is now faced, through selective service, with a civilian Army of 18-year-olds, most of them, "immature, unfinished adolescents."

The military's whole concept has changed, Gill adds, from the old idea that men must sail ships and shoot guns, to the new recognition that it must take its place as a great character-building organization along with the home, schools and church.

"At 18 a drafted man is only half baked," he said, "It isn't that the home, the school or church have failed when he goofs off and gets into serious trouble. It's just that they haven't finished the job.

"That's why in the last five years we've had a great outburst of sound correctional programs in the military," he said.

Optical Fences Planned To Check On Satellites

BY RENNIE TAYLOR

Associated Press Science Reporter

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9 (AP)—Astronomers are going to set up "optical fences" across the sky to observe the artificial satellites which will be whizzing around the earth a year or so hence.

Professionals as well as amateurs, equipped with instruments to be especially designed for the job, will form teams constituting the "posts" of the fence.

The instruments at each observation post on the ground will be set to cover a particular strip of sky. The angle of total vision in this trip would be possibly 20 degrees wide and about 104 degrees long. That will mean a width of about 100 miles and length of several times that at a height of 200 to 300 miles—the level the satellite is expected to follow.

Many such observation teams placed along north-south lines, will make up several fences paralleling different meridians of longitude. The astronomers are counting on having enough observers so that many of them will see and track the satellite every day.

Their reports will be all-important, says Dr. Armand Spitz in case the little radio transmitter in the satellite fails.

So long as the transmitter works it will broadcast intermittent signals which will yield a highly accurate record of its motion. But the radio cannot be expected to operate more than two weeks and it may fail even before that, Dr. Spitz said: And some of the satellites may keep going far longer than a fortnight.

Dr. Spitz, observer coordinator for the program, which is being supervised by the Smithsonian Institution, disclosed the plan to representatives of astronomical groups in this area. It will be a large-scale, country-wide operation, he said.

First of all, Dr. Spitz reported, the observers will need a type of optical instrument not now available—a binocular with an extremely wide angle of view. He hopes for an instrument that will cover a field 20 degrees in diameter—about 40 times the width of the full moon. Most binoculars have fields of only about 3 degrees and the big telescopes cover areas even smaller than that.

Calculations made by Loen Salance[illegible] curator of astronomy at the California Academy of Sciences, demonstrated that ordinary optical equipment would be almost useless for official observing.

Auto Industry Is Tasting Some Bad Medicine Today

... By SAM DAWSON ...

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry—touchy at the charge its current ailments may be catching and upset the nation's good times in general — is trying some stiff medicine today.

It professes confidence that by fall it will cease to be one of the nation's fever spots. And it stresses that retail sales this year of an estimated 5½ million cars or more would be higher than the average of the six years prior to 1955.

The dose, however, has a bad taste. The mixture includes:

Layoffs around the nation of 185,00 or more; loss of overtime and often short weeks and paychecks for those still working; production cut back around 30 per cent from this time last year; suppliers cutting back, too; auto dealers loudly bemoaning stocks on hand that recently topped 900,000.

Merchants watch business slide. And there's the hard to pinpoint effect on public psychology, particularly the auto producing areas, but also throughout many other industries, and among many consumers.

The United Auto Workers union has called in the mayors of 18 cities in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin to discuss here today what can be done to ease the pains.

Industry spokesmen say they expect present production schedule plans to whittle dosn inventories to 750,000 by the end of this month, to 700,000 by model changeover time and perhaps to 550,000 by Sept. 1.

General Motors President Harlow H. Curtice notes that GM has raised its production schedules six times and lowered them eight times during this 1956 model period. GM will take its final look around the middle of this month.

President L. L. Colbert of Chrysler thinks present schedules about right.

Ford takes a new look at schedules about once a month. President Henry Ford II calls present sales volume a return to normal after "the abnormal pace" of the 7½ million car year in 1955.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

I AM FIFTEEN AND I DON'T WANT TO DIE. By Christine Arnothy. Translated from French. Dutton.

It is [illegible] Nazis are fighting to save Budapest from the Russians. The young author of this apparently factual tale is trapped with her family in the cellar of an apartment house.

Other tenants have moved down there, too: the widow, the abandoned young wife and her child, the district attorney, the janitor. For a week it had been an adventure, but now they are reduced to desperation.

Red bombers attack during all the nightime hours, an ammunition train blown up. There is little meat, except horsemeat; some bags they think contain flour hold only plaster; water is shut off and sewage seeps in.

A priest finds his way there dangerously to hear confessions, and to marry the young lovers whose wedding gifts are an orange, a cup of wine, and a blood-stained veil. But death comes, too, indiscriminately, for the good and bad, useful and useless. And still the widow must put on lipstick, while the district attorney, his dry legal mind rent by deprivation, calls down the punishment of an utterly futile law upon the irresponsible military. The Russians, who had promsied to be liberators, are worse than the defenders.

Black fear surges up and then is beaten back by this indomitable girl who faced death every mad minute of this terrifying chronicle. The earth might tremble, and the air crackel with explosions, yet she kept hoping for escape, for freedom, for tomorrow, for a life of her own and a lover.

'SILENT CARRIERS' REDUCED

Vaccine Has Wide Effect

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP) — Going full speed ahead with Salk polio shots might even protect some unvaccinated persons, including parents of young children, two polio experts said today.

Vaccinated children may become far less able to pass natural polio infections to other family members. There would be fewer "silent carriers" who could spread dangerous virus during epidemics to others.

The chances that Salk vaccine shots could bring this extra dividend were described by Dr. Jonas E. Salk of the University of Pittsburgh, who developed the vaccine, and Dr. Davdi Bodian of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

They spoke at a polio symposium at the opening of the 105th annual meeting of the American Medical Assn.

Simultaneously, Dr. Leonard Scheele, surgeon general of the U.S. Public Health Service, called for use of "every drop" of Salk vaccine as soon as possible, even during polio epidemics.

"Vaccine given in July and August will prevent paralytic cases and even deaths in August and September," Dr. Scheele declared.

Salk vaccine is being given mainly to children under 15, the most susceptible to this crippler disease.

But even so the shots could hit at the strongest link in polio's chain of infection—the passage of natural infection from human to human, Salk and Bodian said.

Vaccination produces antibodies standing guard in the blood to intercept polio virus before it strikes at nerves.

But it might also reduce the length of time or degree to which a child harbors or reproduces virus which invades him later on.

Dr. Salk said it appears some persons infected naturally by polio virus become "silent reservoirs." Although not sickened themselves, they can become sources of infection, passing virus on to others.

Vaccination could conceivably make them so sensitive to unavoidable natural exposure that they quickly turn out great amounts of protective antibodies. Their own infection could be controlled sooner, reducing their carrier state.

Urging full use of Salk vaccine, Dr. Scheele said that since last May there has been no evidence that any lot of vaccine has been unsafe.

There was one case which could have been regarded "as suspicious" among 40 million inoculations. But this could have been coincidence, or failure of the vaccine to protect, Dr. Scheele said.

He said nearly 70 million shots have been released and the supply will continue to increase.

Police Hold Suspect For State Slaying

FORT WORTH (AP)—A short, 18-year-old Negro was held by police today, accused of knifing one white youth to death and terrorizing three others.

Officers said the youth, less than five feet tall, killed James Floyd Ogle, 19, after Ogle withheld a few cents change when robbed at knifepoint Saturday night.

Walter Leroy Moran, 22, said the Negro lured them down a dark north side street, then demanded money. Moran said Ogle gave the Negro a dollar and the youth grabbed Ogle's wallet. When some change fell to the ground, the Negro said "I told you what I'd do if you lied to me," then plunged the knife into Ogle's chest.

Three other white youths said they met the same Negro in a Negro night club frequented by whites. They said they were watching the floor show when the Negro accosted them.

The youths, Garvin Edwards, 21, John B. Stanley, 19, and Jerry Morrison, 18, told of being robbed and forced to ride around the city with the Negro.

"He tried to get us to go upstairs with him (in the club), but we refued," Edwards said. "When we went outside he showed us a bloody handkerchief and a knife."

Edwards said he then took their billfolds and later threatened Stanley with "a long ride," for withholding six cents. He said they sat outside the cafe in their car while the Negro repeatedly threatened: "I just gotta shoot one of you."

Edwards said the Negro stepped out of the car momentarily as they sat outside the cafe and that the three white youths drove off.

Det. A. C. Howerton said the man admitted the killing after Moran and the other three youths positively identified him in a police lineup.

Yemen Prince Seeking Aid From Russia

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Seif ul Islam Badr, slim young crown prince and premier of the isolated Arab kingdom of Yemen, left by plane today to talk economic aid in Moscow.

Badr was accompanied by a Yemenite trade delegation on his first venture behind the Iron Curtain.

The tall prince, still in his 20s, wore the traditional turban, cloak and wispy beard of Yemen as he boarded a special Soviet plane sent to Cairo for him.

The prince has had little experience outside his primitive country and some observers expressed fears he might be an easy mark for the Russians. However, he was accompanied by one of the shrewdest statesmen in the Arab world—Quadi Mohamed el Amri, deputy foreign minister of Yemen. El Amri is considered the most influential man in his country outside the royal family.

Observers also noted that Badr had a conference with Egypt's Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser before he departed.

Yemenite leaders view the excursion to Moscow as another step in their cautious efforts to expand and develop their country's economy without upsetting unduly the conservative pattern of Yemenite life.

Although potentially one of the richest areas in Arabia, Yemen has kept its doors so tightly closed to the outside world that most of its wealth is still untapped.

The kingdom stretches 75,000 miles over the southwest portion of the Arabian Peninsula on the Red Sea. Its 4½ million inhabitants live in a land that has almost no roads. Mail service is still conducted by camel back.

Yemen's ruler Imam Ahmed is interested in developing his country, but his lack of knowledge of the modern world plus his supicion of foreign intrigues has handicapped any development.

U.S. interests got a foothold in Yemen last year when an American oil company obtained a petroleum oil concession in the heart of the kingdom.

A scandal almost broke out, however, when Ahmed's enemies spread rumors that the American firm was Zionist-controlled. The charges have been disproven, but the incident strengthened the old Yemenite suspicion that Zionists control the United States.

Less than happy about their dealings with the West, the Yemenites say they are taking a look at the Russians to see if they offer any better prospects.

"We are proceeding cautiously," one Yemenite official said. "We are just having a look."

Clown's Act Is Too Real

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Lawrence Anderson's act went over big for 1,500 spectators at the Jimmy Lynch Thrill Show yesterday, but for the pain-racked clown it was a tragedy.

Anderson, of Chicago, misjudged the timing of a giant firecracker, and it exploded in his left hand. His hand was blown off.

But his grease-paint smile hid his tortured face and the crowd howled with laughter as he waved an arm smeared with red that only he knew was not ketchup.

The crowd thought it was all part of the act.

The clown went to an ambulance nearby, and attendants whisked him to a hospital. Physicians said his condition was not serious.

State Gets More Showers

By The Associated Press

Only a few scattered showers peppered Texas Monday in the wake of air mass thunderstorm activity over the entire state Sunday night.

Showers were reported Monday around Houston, Galveston, Beaumont and Salt Flat. The Weather Bureau reported some cloudiness in Southeast and North Central Texas, with clear skies elsewhere.

Temperatures early Monday ranged from 76 degrees at Laredo to 60 at Amarillo. Winds were light.

A brief but severe thunderstorm drenched the Killeen area in Central Texas Sunday afternoon. Hail and winds of 55 miles an hour accompanied an inch of rain. The storm lasted about 15 minutes.

Some electric power and telephone lines were blown down and a number of TV antennas in Killeen were damaged.

High afternoon temperatures Sunday ranged from 106 at Presidio to 83 at Beeville.

New Carolina Queen Succeeds Roommate

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP) — Marian McKnight of Manning, a 5-5 blue-eyed blonde, was chosen Miss South Carolina in a beauty contest, succeeding her college roommate, Martha Dean Chestnut of Conway. Miss Chestnut was skeptical about being out of the hurly-burly of having been Miss South Carolina for a year. "Out of it!" she exclaimed, looking at her roommate at Coker College in Hartsville, "I'm in it for another year."

Red Film Industry Doing Better Now

By ROY ESSOYAN

MOSCOW (AP)—A top movie star in the Soviet Union can earn about 200,000 rubles a year and nearly 90 per cent of it is take-home pay.

(At the government-pegged rate of four rubles to the dollar that is $50,000.)

That may not be enough to start a stampede from Hollywood but it's still several pegs above the average Soviet worker's annual take of 9,000 rubes.

Things are looking up generally in the post-Stalin movie industry. New Studios are going up, production has doubled, and, an industry leader reports, preproduction censorship has been removed. Ivan Alexandrevich Pirien director of Mosfilm, the Soviet Union's oldest and biggest studio, told reporters recently his studio has scheduled 22 full-length films for 1956 and hopes to raise the target to 30 in 1957. Mosfilm produced 8 pictures in 1953, 12 in 1954 and 18 in 1955.

Piriev said pay at Mosfim ranges from 1,500 to 6,000 rubles a month. In addition actors earn 200 to 1,000 rubes for each day of shooting. He said some actors turn out two or three movies a year, during which time they may work as much as 150 days.

Mosfilm employs 350 actors among a total staff of 3,500.

Piriev, in announcing the abolition of preproduction censorship, told reporters a number of movies banned by the authorities several years ago will be released soon.

"The theoreticians of that day maintained that only the actions of heroes were worth portraying," Piriev said. "The ordinary tractor driver or worker was not considered suitable subject matter.

"Now we want to portray the life of the man in the street, his heart and soul, his happiness, his sorrow and his drama."

Huks Raid Village

MANILA (AP)—Communist Huk rebels struck at a town 25 miles east of Manila last night, killed a civilian and set 16 buses ablaze, Philippine News Service reports. The rebels wore Philippine army fatigues in their attack on the transportation depot in Pililla. It was the first major raid by the dwindling Huk forces in two years.

Tipsy Horseman Is Arrested By Patrol

SACRAMENTO, Calif., (AP)—The California highway patrol says it's just as wrong to be tipsy on a horse as in a car.

Oliver Armitage, 41, was arrested on a drunk driving charge after his horse crashed into an automobile.

Officer Charles Millar said Armitage was riding in the wrong lane when the animal banged into a car driven by Grant Sizemore, 49.

The horse was killed.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THE 1956 TIGER BASEBALL stock got a tremendous boost during the past weekend when the Abilene Eagles walked off with the state championship.

You'll recall, of course, the Tigers shared the District 4-AA title with the Eagles during the just completed campaign. The Bengals, however, lost the right to contend for the state championship by dropping a special playoff series to the Eagles following the district campaign.

Members of the 1956 Tiger baseball team can always cherish the fact that they shared one-half of the district championship with the team that went on to capture the state championship.

We don't have it on record, but the Eagles may be the first team in history to win the state title that didn't win its district title outright.

Eagles Had Tougher Opposition In 4-AA

The Eagles had a much easier time winning the state tournament than they did in tieing for the District 4-AA title. Looks like the schoolboy baseball power for the past season was centered rght here in our own district.

The Warbirds breezed through Midland in bi-district play with ease and then hardly worked up a sweat in winning the state tournament.

It's true the Eagles had to go 8 innings to beat Edinburg in the opener. But the Eagles played their worst game of the season against the Edinburg nine, committing five errors.

Had the Eagles committed five boots against the Tigers in one of the playoff games, the Tigers probably would have represented 4-AA in the state playoffs. The Eagles didn't commit a single error during the playoff series with the Tigers.

In the semi-final and final games, the Eagles whipped Fort Worth Paschal, 8-3, and Highland Park 13-0, the latter in the finals.

It looks like the plans for picking an all-state team have fallen through.

It was voted at the Texas Sports Writer's Association meeting at Dallas New Year's Day to pick an all-state baseball team in the manner as the all-state football football and basketball teams are selected.

A committee chairman was named, Orland Sims of the Austin American, but as yet nothing has been released from this committee.

Six Eagles Make All-State Tourney 9

The all-state tournament team has been released. Six Abilene players made the all-tournament team. They were first baseman Bruce Boyd; third baseman Freddie Green; shortstop Robert Carothers; outfielder Jimmy Carpenter; catcher Glynn Gregory; and pitcher Altus Scott.

Two of the Eagle all-state tourney players were beaten out by Tiger players for all district honors. Milton Ham beat out Boyd at first base in the all-district selections while Tommy Prichard won the shortstop battle from Carothers. Carothers, however, was named with the Tigers' Don McNew as utility infielder on the all-district team.

The Snyder Pony League slate last Thursday night was made of "7's."

In the two games, the Court House Tigers and Scurry Butane Dodgers each won their seventh games of the season, while their victims that night, the Line and Line Yankees of Ira and Hermleigh Cardinals were each suffering their seventh losses.

Four Local Golfers Beat Nat'l Champ

Four Snyder lady golfers defeated the National Women's golf champion, Faye Crocker, on National Golf Day Saturday.

Miss Crocker, playing on the Oak Hill Country Club course in Rochester, N.Y., Saturday, fired a 80.

The following Snyder ladies, playing on the local course, besting Miss Crocker's score were as follows:

Irene Lacik, 132 less 59 handicap for 73; Mary Dyer, 90 less 14 handicap, 76; Margaret Lowe, 120 less 41 handicap, 79; and Lera Hogan, 100 less 21 handicap, 79.

Several men golfers here competed against Jack Fleck, the National Open champion, but none were able to defeat the champ.

Fleck fired a 69 at Oak Hill Country Club in Rochester Saturday.

Earl Fish with a 79 less five handicap for 74 was the closest a local golfer came of beating Fleck.

All proceeds taken from National Gof Day will be used for charitable purposes.

Muzzle Champ

SAN ANGELO (AP)—C. G. Blomquist of Austin won the 10th annual Texas Muzzle Loading Rifle Assn. state championship yesterday with a total of 177 points. Blomquist edged out Edgar Talley of San Angelo, who scored 176.

TIGERS VS. DODGERS

Crucial Game In Pony Tonight

The "game of the year" in the Snyder Pony League will come off tonight at Towle Memorial Park.

The leading Court House Tigers will take on runnerup Scurry Butane Dodgers in the most important game of the season in the Pony race thus far.

The Tigers are unbeaten in eight starts this season while the Dodgers have won seven of eight games. A Dodger win tonight would boost it into a two-way tie for the lead with the Tigers.

In the only other game between the two this season, the Tigers edged the Dodgers, 4-1.

Norman Gladson will likely toe the mound for the Tigers tonight while Ronnie Jones is expected to hurl for the Dodgers.

A Tiger win tonight will put the Bengals into a commanding position to emerge with the 1956 title.

Tonight's Tiger-Dodger game will start at 9 p.m. Meeting in the first game tonight will be the Hermleigh Cardinals and Line and Line Yankees of Ira.

Over in the Little League, the Legion Yankees in the American and the Lions Club Cubs in the National are walking away with their respective titles.

The Cubs hold a 3½ game lead in the National while the Yankees are 2½ games in front in the American.

Both the Cubs and Yankees see action tomorrow night against two upset-minded teams. The Cubs take on the Rotary Cardinals at 7 p.m. with the Yankees meeting the West Texas Bannk in the second game at 9 p.m. Both the Athletics and Cardinals are tied for second place in their respective leagues.

In tonight's Little League games, the Holder Construction Indians, still in the running in the American League chase, will meet cellar dwelling Trinity Methodist White Sox at 7. The Kiwanis Braves will be out to keep their National League title hopes alive in the second game at 9 p.m., meeting the No. 4 team, Quarterback Club Giants.

Littler Wins Round Robin; Eyes Open

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP) — After the fourth round of the Round Robin Golf Tournament, Lloyd Mangrum looked at Gene Littler, who had just beaten him, and remarked:

"I've got to go with you for the Open. I picked Cary Middlecoff, but you're playing well and you've got things going for you. You're playing in luck."

Mangrum reiterated that idea after Littler had won the $3,000 top money yesterday in a 24-point runaway. Littler shyly assented that he feels "pretty good" about his prospects in the Open, which starts Thursday at Rochester's Oak Hill club.

It was Littler's second big check in two weeks. He collected $5,778.50 for a second-pace tie in the Texas International after losing a playoff to Australia's Peter Thomson.

"I blew that one," he said emphatically.

Leading all the way after the second round over the par-72 Wykagyl course, Littler shot 69-69-68-68-70 for a 344 medal score. He hit a near record total of plus 55 points in the round robin scoring system, which awards points for each stroke by which a player beats the others in his foursome.

Nearest to him was Ted Kroll, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., who trailed by only two strokes in scoring but gathered only 31 points. Kroll's bid was thwarted largely by lanky Art Wall of Pocono Man or, Pa., who fired a 69 against Kroll's 71 on the last round. Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, plus 7; Jackie Burke, the Masters champion from Houston plus 13; and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., plus 11, were the other point leaders.

Addington Wins

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Floyd Addington of Dallas won the sixth annual Texas-Oklahoma Invitation Golf Tournament yesterday by bagging seven birdies over the last 14 holes to defeat Gene McBride of Wichita Falls 5 and 4.

IN CITY LEAGUE

Sun Oil Trips Furniture, 10-2

Sun Oil broke loose in the late innings Saturday night to post a 10-2 win over Snyder Furniture in a City League game at Towle Memorial Park.

The game was tied up at 1-1 through three innings and it was 3-2 Sun Oil after four innings. Then the Oilers erupted for three in the fifth and four more in the sixth to win going away.

Wayne Whiteside went the route for the Oilers, allowing five hits, striking out 10 and issuing four bases on balls.

Dwayne Prince, although he gave up only one hit in 5 2-3 innings, absorbed the loss. Prince fanned 10, gave up four walks and hit two batsmen. Six Furniture errors led to his downfall.

Sun Oil managed only four hits, two of them triples by Jimmy Smith and Gehrig Garrison.

The Oilers executed one double play, centerfielder Charlie Sparks to shortstop Smith to third baseman Alan Snead. Junt Bowers attempted to move from second to third on a fly on the play.

In next league action, Ira meets Snyder Furniture tomorrow night at 8.

Morrow In Olympic Trial

DALLAS (AP)—Texas' two leading Olympic hopefuls—Bobby Morrow and Eddie Southern—are in California for their big trials.

Morrow, Abilene Christian College sophomore, was the outstanding performer of the NAIA meet in San Diego last weekend, winning the 100-meter dash in 10.3 and 200 meters in 20.8, both just a tenth of a second off the world's record.

From San Diego Morrow went on to Berkeley, Calif., where he will compete in the NCAA Friday and Saturday. He gets a return match with the great Dave Sime. Sime handed Morrow his only 100-yard loss in two years of college competition in the Drake Relays. But Morrow got a slow start in that one while Sime reportedly rolled out.

Coach Oliver Jackson of Abilene Christian says Morrow is a better starter now.

Southern, the Texas freshman, is concentrating on the 400-meter hurdles. He ran them in 51.2 last weekend at Houston and that's the best time in the nation this year. Southern has gone to Berkeley with the Texas track team. He isn't eligible to compete in the NCAA but next week will enter the National AAU at Bakersfield, Calif. His showing there will determine if he is to continue to the Olympic trials at Los Angeles June 29-30.

Morrow also will compete in the AAU and the Olympic trials if he qualifies.

Heavyweight boxer Bob Baker has fought between 210 and 230 pounds.

Record Backs Up Trader Frank Lane

ST.LOUIS (AP)—Trading wizard Frank Lane scoffs at the idea he's lost his touch because former St. Louis Cardinal players have come back to haunt the Redbirds.

The energetic general manager, conceding the growing legion of onetime Cardinals has given the club trouble, declared last night:

"I'll stand on my record so far this year. We're tied for first place now. At this time last year we were 17½ games out, tied for fifth.

"I'm not concerned with the players we've given up, but rather with the men we received.

"The St.Louis fans don't think I've lost my touch. We had this season's record crowd Sunday, 28,129, and (Herm) Wehmeier (obtained from Philadelphia in one big trade) got a big victory for us. The fans are all steamed up. . . ."

But the Redbird fans, some of the most loyal in baseball, did grumble when their club fell before ex-Cardinals.

Luis Arroyo, stubby Latin lefthander, dealt them an 11-3 defeat in the first game yesterday and Bill Virdon's seventh-inning homer broke a 3-3 tie.

Harvey Haddix and Stu Miller, traded to Philadelphia for Murry Dickeon and Wehmeier, both defeated the Cardinals here to help the Phillies take three games of a four-game set.

Brooks Lawrence, big righthander traded to Cincinnati for little left-hander Jack Collum, has become the big man of the Redleg staff.

But Lane declared: "We're not suffering."

He points out Haddix lost to the Cardinals once and Arroyo hasn't been outstanding in other outings. Virdon, he asserted hasn't hit as well for the Pirates over-all as Bobby del Greco, sent here with left-hander Dick Littlefield in another transaction.

Musial, Wehmeier Boosts Cards In Hot National Race

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

If Stan Musial would hit every day as he does on Sundays and if Herm Wehmeier could pitch against every club as he does against Pittsburgh, the St.Louis Cardinals could be a cinch to win the National League pennant.

Yesterday Musial cracked four hits, including a home run and double, and drove in four runs as the Cardinals earned a split with Pittsburgh that cut Cincinnati's first-place margin to 3 percentage points.

Wehmeier, who hasn't been able to beat anybody else all year, shut out the Pirates 3-0 with six hits after they had won the opener 11-3. It was his second victory of the season, both over the Pirates over whom he holds a lifetime record of 25-8.

Musial, a .320 Sunday hitter — 20 points better than his weekday average — has hit half his eight homers and has driven in a third of his 42 runs on Sundays.

Five National League teams are so closely bunched today a pennant would cover them all. Brooklyn, in fifth place, moved to within two games of the top by defeating Cincinnati 8-6. Pittsburgh, in first place for a couple of hours after its opening triumph, dropped into third place, a half game behind Cincinnati and St.Louis.

The New York Giants came from behind to nip the fourth place Braves 5-3, leaving them still two games off the pace, only 7 points in front of the Dodgers.

The Chicago Cubs buried the Philadelphia Phillies deeper in the basement, sweeping both ends of a double-header, 11-2 in 11 innings and 5-2.

The New York Yankees salvaged the finale of their three-game series with Cleveland, blanking the Indians 6-0. Chicago third-place White Sox climbed to within half a game of the Indians with a 3- triumph over Boston. Washington dumped Detroit out of a fourth-place tie by vanquishing the Tigers twice 6-5 and 12-9 while Kansas City shapped Baltimore's four-game winning streak with a 7-3 victory.

A pair of former Redbirds — southpaw Luis Arroyo and outfielder Bill Virdon—came back to haunt the Cardinals in the opener. Arroyo, traded to Pittsburgh earlier this year, held his former mates to seven hits and fanned five. Virdon, along with Gene Freese and Lee Walls, homered for the Bucs.

Brooklyn slashed five Cincinnati hurlers for 15 hits, including home runs by Randy Jackson and Charley Neal. Jackson batted in four runs as Ed Roebuck registered his first victory of the year, in relief.

Blanked by Warren Spahn for six innings, the Giants erupted for four runs in the seventh that cost Spahn his fifth succesive defeat. Foster Castleman's three-bagger — while trying to duck a pitch — highlighted the rally which gave Johnny Antonelli his fifth triumph, in relief.

Eddie Miksis and Pete Wisenant teamed up to hand the Phils their double loss. Whisenant doubled and scored on Miksis' single in the 11th inning of the opener. Eddie also drove in the other Chicago run. Whisenant batted in three Cub runs in the nightcap with a single and double.

Johnny Kucks threw the shutout against Cleveland although he yielded nine hits and walked four. A home run, double and single by Billy Martin and Joe Collins' pinch hit home run with two on combined to hand Bob Lemon his third loss against seven victories.

Billy Pierce, off to his finest season in nine years, stopped Boston with six hits for his eighth victory in 10 decisions. The White Sox capitalized on a break to score all three runs in the fourth. After Nellie Fox's pop fly fell safely for a double, succesive singles by Minnie Minoso, Larry Doby and Dave Philley followed. A forceout brought in what proved to be the run that gave Pierce his 102nd American League victory.

Enos Slaughter doubled in the tie-breaking run as a pinch hitter and the Althetics went on to defeat Baltimore and end their five-game losing streak.

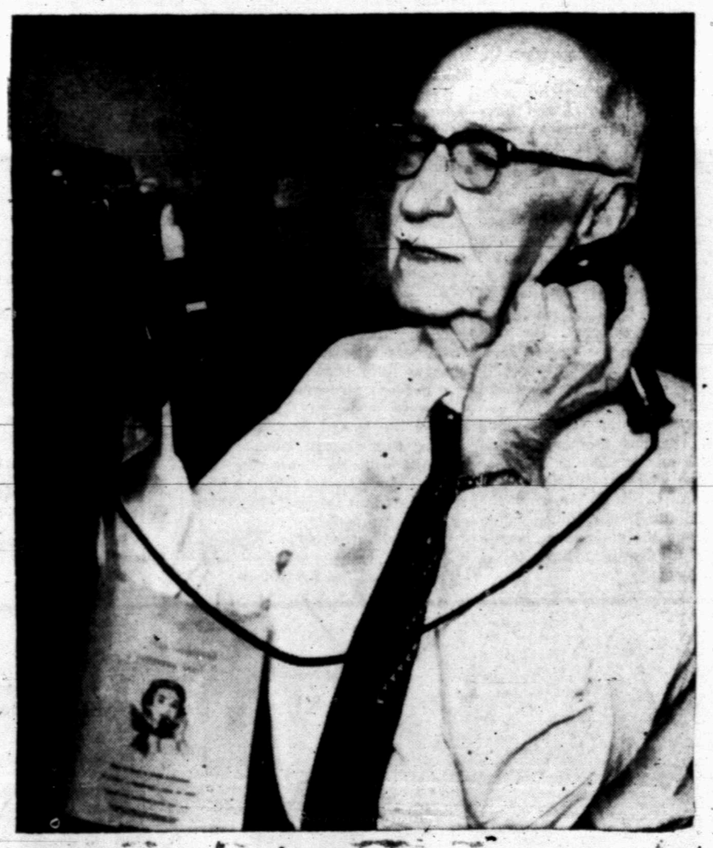
Outfielder Jim Lemon rapped his third hit in the ninth inning of the opener, a single that drove in the typing and winning runs for Washington, then homered with one on in the first inning of the second game.

Pete Runnels collected six hits and drove in five runs for Washington.

Together they've answered countless anxious calls for help, comforted the sick, delivered words of reassuring advice.

A Doctor and his telephone

by Don Davis, Telephone News Reporter



Dr. Robert N. Crews, physician and family doctor for more than 60 years. His practice has touched the lives of thousands of friends and neighbors.

His hand is steady, his step is firm, his spirit is brisk. It's as if the passing years were bent on keeping Robert Crews eternally young, so that a life of dedicated service might continue on and on.

For, you see, Robert Crews is a doctor. Still active at 85, he's been healer, advisor and friend to his neighbors since before the turn of the century.

BRINGS BACK BYGONE DAYS

To sit and talk with Dr. Crews is to reminisce of the horse-and-buggy and the Model-T, to picture in your mind a lonely figure in the dead of night on his way to answer a call for help, to feel deeply grateful for such men who ask so little and give so much.

But Dr. Crews neither seeks full credit nor thinks it's due him. Not that he belittles his career. He is quite proud of it. He only insists he had help—and lots of it. Maybe that's why, when the conversation got around to his telephone, he spoke with the warmth of a man talking about an old and valued friend.

"I guess I share more memories with my telephone than with almost anyone or anything," said Dr. Crews. "My telephone's been a part of my life and my work so long we're an inseparable team. Why, taking away my telephone would be like taking away my stethoscope and thermometer!"

TELEPHONE TAKES OVER

To illustrate his dependence on the telephone, Dr. Crews' favorite story concerns a worried mother, a child sick with the croup, and a raging blizzard.

The mother's frantic telephone call came late at night. Could the doctor help her child who seemed to be growing worse every minute? With eight impassable miles of blizzard and deep snow between him and the child, Dr. Crews had to rely on the telephone.

He prescribed and explained treatment for the mother to give—then kept in touch by telephone until he was sure the child was out of danger.

Can you imagine the comfort and peace of mind Dr. Crews and his telephone brought that mother that night?

NO GREATER VALUE

We owe much to men like Dr. Crews. For telephone service to have shared so fully in his accomplishments is a high honor indeed. No service could offer a greater value than that of providing a day-and-night link between you and your doctor.

May Dr. Crews and his telephone be together for many years to come.

Pack Of Lions Go On Loose In Englewood

CHICAGO (AP)—"There's a pack of lions running loose out here, and they looked pretty hungry," an alarmed caller reported to Englewood poice last night.

Eighteen similar phone calls flooded the Englewood headquarters in the next five minutes.

Policemen Robert Martinjak and Richard Ryan were ordered to lead a safari. The cries of a crowd and the roar of beasts led them to 6419 Peoia St.

Cautiously, they crept toward a broken basement window where the roars emanated. They saw two husky lions chained to the basement wall.

Two Hawaiians who live in the building came forward through the crowd and said they were the lions' owners.

Kalanilehau, 31, and his cousin Liko, 29, said their lions, Togar, a 2-year-od, 285-pounder, and Kila, a yearing 80-pounder, were imported from Africa fo use in a night club act.

"They are as tame annd gentle as alley cats, and they wouldn't hurt a mouse," said Kalanilehau. "But kids in this neighborhood! They're always teasing the lions. The kids broke the basement window a couple of days ago and thye're forever pestering Togar and Kila.

"Why one of 'em was trying to make Togar put his head in a kid's mouth."

Mrs. Adelyn Smith, 47, signed a complaint charging that Kila always was tempting her daughter Lola, 7, to lick his face, or vice versa.

The police left the lions chained, but arrested Kalanilehau on a charge of harboring wild animals.

Segregation Called Dead

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Roy Wilkins of New York, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored Poepe, told the Texas State NAACP Conference yesterday that the "white people know that segregation is dead and they are waiting for the Negro to realize it's dead."

Wilkins said that athough "segregation is still walking around like a zombie, it is dead and until we (the Negro) realize that it is dead we are not going to accomplish much to make us equal to the white persons."

"It is hard for white people to get used to the integrated schools, swimming pools and parks because they are not used to being equal to a Negro. Tradition has taught them that they are better than the Negro. If the Negro had been taught the same thing, it would be difficult for him to get used to the idea that the white person should go to school and play in the same parks as he does," Wilkins said.

Gloster Currant, national director of branches for the NAACP, told the group that the NAACP expects to have "completely wiped out segregation of the Negro in the United States" by 1963.

O'Dwyer Back From Mexico

NEW YORK (AP) — Former New York Mayor William O'Dwyer has returned from Mexico to face a govenment claim that he owes about $10,000 in back income taxes.

O'Dwyer's case is scheduled to be heard tomorrow in Federal Tax Court. He has asked a hearing on claims that he owes back taxes for the years 1949 through 1951.

The former mayor arrived last night by plane from Mexico City, where he now lives. He left his city post in 1950 to become ambassador to Mexico.

O'Dwyer has asked the tax court to throw out the government claim. He says he spent $2,39 in performing his diplomatic duties and was reimbursed only $10,-124 by the government.

O'Dwyer said he expects to stay in the United States about a week.

21 Killed By Violence Over Texas

By The Associated Press

Weekend violence in Texas claimed at least 21 lives. Traffic was blamed for 11 deaths.

Late deaths reported to The Associated Press included:

Two 18-year-old boys drowned in separate accidents Sunday on Lake Houston, near Houston. They were Samuel Eugene Elliott and Gerald Edward Fox III, both of Houston.

18-year-old Eddie Kocich, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kocich of the Hale County town of Cotton Center, drowned in a lake near his home.

James F. Hall and John Samuel Keepers, both 47, died early Sunday when fire destroyed the six-room frame home at Houston in which they were sleeping.

At Fort Worth, 19-year-old James Floyd Ogle was stabbed to death by a kill-crazed Negro youth who also terrorized three other white youths. The young Negro was arrested.

Alfredo de la Rosa, 21, San Carlos, Tex., was killed Sunday night when his pickup truck overturned near Elsa in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Sam Evans, 46, Lockhart, Tex., drowned Sunday in the Guadalupe River about six miles west of Gonzales.

David Duncan, 24, West, Tex., drowned Sunday in the Brazos about eight miles from Marlin while swimming.

Florenzio Martinez, 32, Raymondville, was fatally injured early Sunday when his car overturned twice near Olmito in extreme South Texas.

Henry Gribble Orton, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Orton, Midland, drowned Saturday night at the Piney Woods Country Club at Nacogdoches.

Marion Burton Williams, 39, Harlingen, was killed Saturday when his car and a dump truck collided on a bridge two miles west of Kingsville.

RECEIVING first prize as winners bitch and four points toward championship after taking first in the American bred class at Phoenix, Ariz., is Dandy Dachs Dorothy, female Dachshund owned by Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Keeble, SACROC 2 Camp. With her are Dorothy Dorward, handler, and Alva Rosenberg, judge of the show.

Dachshund Heads For Championship

Another Keeble Dachshund is on her way to championship.

She is Dandy Dachs Dorothy, female owned by Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Keeble, SACROC 2 camp, who now has 10 points, including two major wins, toward an American Kennel Club championship, which requires 15 points.

The Dachshund began her show career at 11 months of age in November, 1955, at Los Angeles, Cal., where she won her class and went on to best of variety, or best pup in a match over smooth, wire-hair, and long hair Dachshunds at the 11th Sanctioned Futurity Match. Judge was Edward F. Hirschman of Los Angeles.

Next, starting in March this year at Mesa, Ariz., Dorothy was shown at a series of shows which included Phoenix, Austin, San Antonio, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Galveston, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Knoxville, Memphis, Chattanooga, Athens, Atlanta Augusta, and Macon, and then back to Little Rock.

In these shows Dorothy placed in the ribbons every time. She won seven firsts in class, four winners bitch, four seconds plus reserve winner, two seconds and four thirds.

Dorothy will remain in Snyder for the summer and will then try for her championship this fall in the Texas shows.

The Keebles have a male, Red Locket Romulus (Romy,) and female, Red Locket Parisian (Frenchy,) Dachshunds on the west coast for a number os shows this summer. They are being handled by Woodie and Dorothy Dorward, owners of Red Locket Kennels at El Monte, Calif.

At the Mesa show, the Keebles' champion, Lisl of Gera, bitch, went up for best smooth Dachshund in the show. Lisl was also best of opposite sex at Phoenix.

High Court Called 'Cheap Politicians'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Cowboy candidate for governor J. Evetts Haley has called the Supreme Court "a bunch of cheap politicians" who should be impeached by Congress.

Haley, former history professor and author, told a Democratic rally yesterday that if the Federal government should seek to enforce an integration injunction against a school board, the state should resist to the point of "throwing the U.S. marshal in the hoosegow."

If the government should send U.S. troops, "that would mean a police state," Haley said. He said he didn't think the conflict would go that far. He added that he would not want to carry resistance to the point of secession, commenting he didn't think it would be necessary.

Many Indian tribes of America had a vigorous and ancient art consisting of pictures on rock, bone, hides, wood and pottery when Columbus landed in America.

Rites Held For Infant

Graveside services for Michael Blacklock, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Gayle D. Blacklock, 310 Fortieth Street, were held today at 3 p.m. in the Hillside Memorial Gardens. The Rev. G. M. Cole, pastor of the First Baptist Church officiated.

Michael was born June 6 in the Cogdell Memorial Hospital and he died at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Survivors are his parents; one brother, Gayle Don Blacklock, Jr.; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Hardy of Fort Worth and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Blacklock of Ranger.

Bolger Funeral Home was in charge of all the funeral arrangements.

Invitation To Grace Kelly Wedding Delayed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Daniel have received an invitation to attend the wedding of Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier in Monaco. Daniel was acquainted with the grandfather of the prince and said the prince called him from New York last February. The wedding took place in April. The invitation to the Daniels was erroneously addressed—hence the delay in delivery until last Saturday.
