Hail And Farewell, Teachers!

Burchard Accents Courage And Faith

"Knowledge is increasing every day, doubling every 10 or 15 years. You know more than yur parents. Your children will know more than you," said Joe Burchard in an address to the graduating class of 96 seniors here Tuesday evening.

Burchard, former CHS principal now of Austin, was introduced by Zollie (Buddy) Steakley member of the senior class.

After preliminary remarks about his feelings for Colorado High School, Burchard discussed the importance of the intangibles ideas, symbols.

"Education," he told the audience, "continues as long as we live, both informal and formal.

"Courage," he went on to say, "is standing up for what you know is right. Courage is to do what must be done" as he paid tribute to former students who have served in the Armed Forces, those who have made the supreme sacrifice.

"Life," Burchard said, "when all mixed up, you must have some stable reference. Faith. Faith is the gyroscope of life. Have faith in yourself, in your fellowman, in your country, in the Supreme Being, have faith in God. Look to your parents, teachers, others. Eventually no mortal has the answers. Look to God."

The speaker quoted from John Donne's Devotions, "No man is an island, entire of itself. Every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main. . . Any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind. And therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee."

In conclusion he reminded the graduating class that "With your life before you with many factors and pressures, even as your life will be as you will it to be."

Music for the commencement exercise was played by Don Feaster, organist.

Jerel Graves, senior class president, said the invocation. Ida Joan Basham,

Special Classes

In Head Start Program

Colorado City's pre-first grade head-start school program this summer will be limited to special group of children in an effort to make better use of the program.

Assistant Supt. Earl Cook said parents of prospective head-start students are being contacted now by school officials.

Previously open to all incoming first-graders, the program this summer will be limited to Mexican-American, Negro and all low income families.

Classes will begin June 3 and will continue through July 26 week days from 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 noon. Free lunch will be served each day at 11:30 a.m. to participating children and school buses will transport the children to and from school.

More than 80 children are expected to enroll in head-start under the Federal Title I program and better prepare themselves for first-grade schooling starting next fall.

There is no cost for the training and parents or friends of prospective pupils can obtain more information by phoning either RA 8-3471 or RA 8-4581, according to Cook.

The pre-school program is designed to prevent school failures and dropouts. It offers special aid for children from two-language homes and to other groups who may have difficulties in adjusting and meeting regular school studies.

By limiting the program this summer to those students who really need it, Colorado City schools are hopeful of increasing assistance at the individual level and, thus making better use of the program to prevent future failures and drop-outs.

ON UNGRADED SCHOOL

San Angelo Principal Speaks To Primary PTA

Travis Henry, principal of Davey Crockett Elementary School in San Angelo, was principal speaker for a final meeting of the Primary School - Parent - Teacher Association last week.

Henry, introduced by James McMath, superintendent of Colorado Public Schools, spoke about the ungraded primary school.

The ungraded school program, he explained, emphasizes individual development of the student.

"Although the non-graded plan is not a cure all," Henry said, "it reaches the child at his own level, affords him the satisfaction of progress and eliminates gaps in the learning process and repetition of material.

"Also since the child is competing with himself, the plan removes pressure from the pupil and produces a better adjusted and happier child."

The speaker also emphasized the importance of "getting out of our traditional ruts and letting children be educated".

Henry is a graduate of Abilene Christian College and received his masters degree from Sul Ross. He is presently serving as president of Elementary Principals Association.

New officers for the 1968-69 school year were installed by Mrs. Robert Aycock Jr.

as Renderbrook manager in 1912 he bought the big, two-storied house at the corner of 6th and Chestnut St. The Arnett family were among the 10 families settling Seven Wells before there was a town named Colorado City. Then Mr. Arnett went to work for the Snyder family who at the time owned Renderbrook.

Among the colorful stories encerning the Arnett family is one of the trunk of gold brought back from California by Mr. Arnett after he took part in a cattle drive and sale on the West Coast The old trunk is now in Texas Tech museum.

Home to receive the Medallion marker Sunday was originally built by F. E. McKenzie in 1899 in the then popular Victorian style of architecture with porch columns, spool trim and fancy wooden awnings at the windows. A. B. Robertson bought the house in 1900 and sold it to the Arnett family in 1912.

After the death of Mr. and Mrs. Arnett, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt moved into the Arnett house where four generations of the Arnett-Merritt family have lived. Mr. and Mrs. J. Ford Merritt moved to the home in 1937.

The 16 by 12 inch historical marker includes a brief history of the house.

"We hope all friends of the Arnett-Merritt family and all interested citizens will be present at the unveiling" said Mrs. Hines in announcing the dedicatory program.

as Renderbrook manager in 1912 he bought the big, two-storied house at the corner of 6th and Chestnut St. The Arnett family were among the 10 families settling Seven Wells before there was a town named Colorado City. Then Mr. Arnett went to work for the Snyder family who at the time owned Renderbrook.

Among the colorful stories cncerning the Arnett family is one of the trunk of gold brought back from California by Mr. Arnett after he took part in a cattle drive and sale on the West Coast The old trunk is now in Texas Tech museum.

Home to receive the Medallion marker Sunday was originaily built by F. E. McKenzie in 1899 in the then popular Victorian style of architecture with porch columns, spool trim and fancy wooden awnings at the windows. A. B. Robertson bought the house in 1900 and sold it to the Arnett family in 1912.

After the death of Mr. and Mrs. Arnett, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt moved into the Arnett house where four generations of the Arnett-Merritt family have lived. Mr. and Mrs. J. Ford Merritt moved to the home in 1937.

The 16-by 12 inch historical marker includes a brief history of the house.

"We hope all friends of the Arnett-Merritt family and all interested citizens will be present at the unveiling" said Mrs. Hines in announcing the dedicatory program.

Dan Steakley & Teacher Get Expense Checks

NUCLEAR SCIENCE

Dan Steakley To Attend High School Symposium

Texas Electric Service Company will sponsor a student and teacher from Colorado high school to the Eighth Texas Nuclear Science Symposium for high school at the University of Texas in Austin June 4-7.

Dan Steakley, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. Jene Steakley of 1621 Watson, has been selected by school officials to attend the four-day meeting. He will be accompanied by Arnold Parker, Colorado High teacher.

The symposium, held annually at the university, is sponsored by the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation and the university. Texas Electric Company and nine other electric power companies in Texas make up the foundation.

About 500 outstanding science students and their teachers will attend the meeting in Austin. They will have the opportunity to hear scientists from the fields of industry and education discuss nuclear physics and related topics. Two afternoons will be spent touring the science laboratories of the university.

Included will be visits to the experiments being carried on in thermonuclear (fusion) research by scientists at the university for the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation.

"Texas Electric Service Company is interested in this research as a future source of generation of electricity," Don Benson, company local manager, said. "These experiments are aimed at eventual control of the nuclear reaction which takes place in the hydrogen bomb. When harnessed, the energy released in this nuclear reaction could be used for such peaceful purposes as power generation."

Rep. Craig Hosmer of California, ranking minority member of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy of Congress, will speak at the symposium.

Other noted speakers include Dr. Peter Murray, director for an atomic power divison of Westinghouse Electric Corp., Dr. John R. Bradford, dean of engineering at Texas Tech; Dr. Peter Almonds, physicist at M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston; and G. G. Harper, research specialist for Dow Chemical Co.

Also on the program are several speakers from the university including Dr Norman Hackerman, president; Dr. T. A. Griffy, Dr. A. E. Robson and Dr. Alfred Schild of the physics department; and Dr. W. R. Upthegrove, chairman of the mechanical engineering department.

Chairman of this year's symposium is Dr. Harold Hanson, chairman of the physics department at the university.

CONVERSATION CORNER

Ruth Coffey's

THIS is a colorful world, this spring with the cardinal flashing his red wing through the blue sky to disappear in the green leaves, and multi-colored roses everywhere.

Ours is a colorful language, too. Ever stop to consider how many moods people describe with addition of color?

Ever see a man purple with rage? A woman green with envy? A fighter taunted as yellow? A little girl pink with embaarrassment?

Have you ever been blue? And what makes you see red?

THEN, TOO, most of us wander off to the animal kingdom when we seek to characterize other people.

Know anybody gentle as lamb? Cross as a bear? Tricky as a fox Mean as coyote? Stubborn as a mule? Stupid as a donkey? With the memory of an elephant?

How's about working like a horse? Sleek as a seal? Ever seee anybody look like the cat that ate the canary? Or eat like a pig?

PRIME insults can be couched in terms as dirty dog, the old goat, that female cat, and he's just a worm.

Fish and reptiles come in handy on accasions when the unimaginative feel derisive. There's always snake in the grass. That poor fish, something fishy.

Insects get their share of use in the cliche' vocabulary. Take busy as a bee, mad as a hornet, ant on a hot rock, fly in the soup, put a bug in the ear, and that louse!

Miscellaneous terms familiar would have to include the turtleneck, especially popular this season . . . and the age-old happy as a dead pig in the sunshine.

PARTS of the human anatomy get in the act when people are vexed just this side of the cuss word.

There's always oh, my aching back . . . my eye . . . my foot . . . put the finger on . . . don't be nosey . . . she's all ears . . . get off my back or don't get in my hair . . . pain in the neck.

Of course there are others in every category. This is a colorful world and our's is a colorful language.

Did you ever notice that even the birds, get used in everyday talk? "It's for the birds," means not for me.

How many times have you heard my fine-feathered friend? Eagle-eyed, dirty bird, goose, sitting duck, pigeon, and the accusation "Chicken?"

And which, by the way, are you? Are you a hawk or a dove?

SEEN LATELYS included beautiful bride-to-be Alexis Cowan and her mother Eleanor on the downtown scene . . . Margaret Rothwell, wife of Ed and Katie Morris, wife of Arlene, at a refreshment break . . . Ditto Bonnie Burt . . . Elizabeth Elliott, wife of Lewis, and Pearl Lindsey.

Talked to a young artist John Chinn, son of Pat and Dr. Chinn, who is growing tall overnight . . . Saw Kack McClelland and Amarie Hall together at the lunch counter . . Jim Hestand on the shopping scene . . . Ersie Simpso too.

Pert Marian Craddock, wife of Jay, was an office dropin. So was Mrs. John Brown.

Saw Inez Howell, wife of Graydon and mother of Carolyn. Inez spent last weekend visiting Carolyn in Austin.

Chatted with busy Mary Lou Bell, W. P. (Wonderful Person) via dial system. Mrs. Bell, R. N., is wife of Carl Bell over on Watson St.

THOSE of us who held the late Nettie Sneed in much esteem and affection were pleased to see that the Plainsman column in Lubbock Avalanche had a tribute to Nettie.

Housekeeper and companion to the late Mrs. J. Max Thomas for decades, Nettie Sneed was 92 at the time of her recent death. She was a member of the home of Eleanor (Mrs. Cub) Wheller, nee Thomas, at Midland.

Plainsman column learned of her through Rod Merritt.

FAMILIAR Faces here and there places belonged to Lena Bullard (Mrs. G.B.) pretty mother of Pfc Larry Bullard, who is headed for Vietnam very soon . . . The B B. Lees . . . Mrs. Aron Feaster.

Ruth Dozier, county librarian, was saying that both the books mentioned here lately, are on the libary shelves. They are Scurry County Style by Viola M. Payne and Bleeding China, story of the late Herman Becker, missionary to China.

HEAR TELL that our Rosemary Paty, wife of Coach Joe Paty, received her ba helor of science in elementary education at Abilene Christian College Monday night. Rosemary, whose parents live in Dallas, will teach in Primary School here where she did her practice teaching last fall.

Hear, too, that Ruth Latham will spend part of this summer in Austin where she will visit her two younger granddaguhters while Mary Ann (Latham) Bradbury, her husband Tom, and the first Bradbury daughter will tour Europe.

BRIEF ENCOUNTERS brought chats with Mrs. Allen Sheppard . . . Gary Stevens, district SW Bell Telephone man who lives at Sayser but spends much time in C-City.

Talked a minute to Velmer Coner (Mrs. L. L.) who was saying that Max Berman underwent abdominal surgery Friday at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. He's reported to be recovering nicely after removal of a benign tumor.

The Bermans, longtime C-Citians, are living for now in Dallas.

Miles Of Safety —

Gents like Winston Loveless and Vernon Ratliff truly drive the extra mile for our community and, especially, for our school kids. They are the "deans" of Colaorado City Inependent School District bus drivers. Winston is completing 25 years of driving service and Vernon, 21 years.

Every school day this pair and 11 other drivers Arnold Parker, Mike Burt, Delfo Clark, Herman Minor, Prentice Smith, T. P. Fowler, Lee Fry, Bob Payne, Bo Merket, P. A. Mitchum and Charles C. Barnes — transport our students 916.4 miles.

Safely, too. There hasn't been a nerious accident among 'em all the miles and all the years. In fact, fender scratches are rare.

It all adds up 162,132 safe miles this year — 4,053,300 miles for 25 years, if you count by Winston's driving tenure. And for that kind of safe driveing for our school kids, we can be ever thankful to all of 'em.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Then you will visit a travel agency, study maps, read travel books, and talk with those who have already made the journey.

And what about that far more important (and uncertain) journey ... the journey of life?

The Church offers wise counseling from those who have studied life.

The Church presents you with a map formed from the fundamental truths of God and his directives for living.

The Church interprets for you the greatest of all travel books, the Bible.

The Church gives you the companionship of the all-wise Guide, who made this journey without a mistake, the Lord Jesus Christ.

Agency, map, travel book and Guide for life's journey. Come to Church and read them all.
