Iran Over Iraq... War Victories Trouble Arabs

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Iran's victories in its war with Iraq are sending waves of apprehension through pro-Western Arab nations, especially Saudi Arabia and the oil sheikdoms on the Persian Gulf.

They fear the spread into the Arab world of the Iranian revolution, which threatens to ignite the traditional antipathy between the Shia Muslims and Islam's largest sect, the Sunnis. The Shiites are dominant in Iran, where power rests in the hands of the non-Arab majority.

The Iranian successes over Iraq's invasion forces have given new momentum to Iran's clerical leaders, who have repeatedly assailed as corrupt and irreligious the conservative Sunnite Arab regimes across the Persian Gulf from Iran.

In an interview broadcast Wednesday by the British Broadcasting Corp., Iran's oil minister, Mohammad Gharazi, said his government will not negotiate a settlement of the 20-month war so long as President Saddam Hussein remains in power in Iraq.

"It is our right to ask for the overthrow of the Saddam Hussein regime by the Iraqi people," he said.

In the Persian Gulf, where the Western world and Japan buy 40 percent of their imported oil, there are Shiite minorities in each of the conservative sheikdoms and in Saudi Arabia, which are ruled by Sunnites.

Diplomatic analysts believe the Iranian army and air force, after their tremendous losses in the war, don't have the equipment to carry the war very far into Iraq. But they say there is a real threat that Shiites throughout the Middle East will take a cue from the latest success of the Iranian revolution that brought down Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi and humbled the United States in the hostage crisis.

"We see a threat to the whole area from the exporting of the Iranian revolution," said Crown Prince Hassan of Jordan in Washington Tuesday after talks with Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. "We feel that this movement has to be contained."

The overthrow of President Hussein, a Sunnite, could lead to upheavals by Iraq's Shiites and the formation of a Shiite tier across the Middle East, stretching from Iran to Lebanon on the Mediterranean. President Hafez Assad's government in Syria is dominated by a Shiite sub-sect, the Alawites.

Former Lebanese Premier Saeb said in an interview Tuesday that with Shiites holding power across the northern Middle East, the pro-Western Sunnite governments in the Arabian Peninsula and Jordan would face vastly superior military machines, and their situation would be "precarious to say the least."

Absentee voting is under way in a lackluster Democratic Party runoff primary election that is expected to attract few Scurry County voters to the polls.

The Republican Party has no runoffs this time. The election, scheduled for Saturday, June 5, has only one precinct office in Scurry County at stake—Justice of the Peace in Precinct No. 4 (Hermleigh). The candidates for this office are R. C. Nixon and H. M. Lomax who emerged from a four-man field in the first primary on May 1. They are seeking the post now held by T. E. (Tom) Shelburne, who was defeated in the first primary.

Only the Hermleigh voting box will have the justice of the peace race on its ballot. The remainder

British Forces Begin To Move From Beachhead

By The Associated Press British forces have begun pushing out from their beachhead at San Carlos in a bid to recapture the Falkland Islands from Argentina, Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher announced today.

There was no immediate reaction from Argentina, which had reported the British forces were penned in at San Carlos.

"Our forces on the ground are now moving forward from the bridgehead," Mrs. Thatcher told the House of Commons in London. But she declined to say more about the advance. "Too much discussion about timing and details of operations can only help the enemy," she said.

British Defense Secretary John Nott had said some 5,000 British ground troops on the islands would be involved in the move on Stanley — the islands' capital — 50 miles east of San Carlos, on the main East Falkland island.

British Defense Ministry spokesman Ian McDonald was asked about reports British forces had already taken Goose Green, a settlement and airstrip 20 miles south of San Carlos, and he replied: "It has been stated that the forces will not hang around."

Argentine troop strength at Goose Green and neighboring Darwin had been estimated as high as 1,000. But a high British defense source said only 100 Argentines were now believed there. He declined to speculate where others might have gone.

By contrast, some 7,000 Argentine troops, including some of Argentina's most seasoned soldiers, are deployed in and around Stanley, the source said.

The Argentine military command said its ground forces shelled the San Carlos beachhead Wednesday, inflicting "undetermined casualties."

A communique said Argentine armored forces had "hemmed-in" the British invaders in a 45-square-mile area near San Carlos, and "highly trained troops are carrying out harassment activity within the enemy's stronghold."

British sources reported isolated Argentine probes that were driven off with mortar fire but said there had been little other Argentine ground activity.

Nott reported a "major increase" in British military activity Wednesday around the Falklands, including three "successful" Harrier raids on Stanley airfield. Deputies attending the caucus said he told them "things are going well" despite the loss of a destroyer and a freighter Tuesday, and the British task force had "not yet been frustrated in a single objective."

Nott reported 10 new warships had joined the task force since Tuesday, more than making up for the two destroyers and two frigates reported lost.

Will Honor Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan is about to announce that the United States will live up to the 1979 strategic arms agreement with the Soviet Union — which he once condemned as "fatally flawed" — as long as the Soviets also honor it, administration and other sources said today.

However, in the statement now being drafted by William P. Clark, his national security assistant, Reagan also is expected to declare some technical adjustments may have to be made, the sources said. The treaty expires in 1983.

Proponents of strict arms control are likely to jump on this part of the president's announcement as clearing the way for a possible breach in the treaty.

The accord, which took eight years to work out, sets limits on U.S. and Soviet long-range bombers and intercontinental ballistic missiles. It has never been ratified by the Senate.

Court Upholds Conviction

HOUSTON (AP) — Defense attorney Percy Foreman said he will ask for a rehearing after the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals ruled there was enough evidence to convict Lilla Paulus as an accomplice in the slaying of John Hill.

The circumstances surrounding Hill's 1972 killing were woven into the best-selling book, "Blood and Money."

The appeals court reversed a previous order by ruling Wednesday there was enough evidence to convict Mrs. Paulus.

She had been found guilty of passing along money used to hire a killer to slay Hill, a Houston plastic surgeon accused of murdering his socially prominent wife, Joan Robinson Hill.

Foreman said he had two weeks to file for a rehearing. If the court denies his request, he said he will apply with the U.S. Supreme Court.

Fire Chief Testifies

HOUSTON (AP) — The March 6 Westchase Hilton Hotel fire here that killed 12 persons started in a room where a "pot party" was being held, according to Houston Fire Chief V. E. Rogers.

Rogers, who was in Washington Wednesday to testify before the Consumer Product Safety Commission, told newsmen that four ounces of marijuana were found in the room.

To El Salvador... Panel Cuts Proposed Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dismayed over developments in El Salvador, a key Senate panel has cut proposed military aid to the Central American nation and has vowed to eliminate it entirely if a land reform program is scuttled there.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted unanimously Wednesday to slash $100 million from the Reagan administration's request for $166 million in military aid to El Salvador.

The amendment, introduced by Sen. Christopher Dodd, D-Conn., also stated that no more aid will go to El Salvador if a land reform program is changed to the detriment of peasants it is designed to help.

The committee was nearing a final vote, expected today, on a $6.7 billion foreign aid authorization bill for the 1983 fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.

Meanwhile, a House Appropriations subcommittee turned down by a 7-5 vote on Wednesday the Reagan administration's request for $301.5 million — including $35 million for El Salvador — in supplemental military aid for the current fiscal year.

Recent events in El Salvador have jeopardized continued U.S. military aid to the right-wing dominated Salvadoran Constituent Assembly that is battling leftist guerrillas. Administration officials claim the rebels are backed by Cuba and the Soviet Union.

The newly elected assembly voted last week to suspend a part of the program designed to allow sharecroppers or tenants to acquire title to as much as 17 acres of the land they work.

Members of the Republican-dominated Senate Foreign Relations panel expressed dismay at the assembly's action.

House Budget Battle Drags Into Wee Hours

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Republicans repelling legislative assaults on their budget outline in the House, Democrats are conceding GOP leaders and President Reagan their plans for $23.3 billion in Medicare savings over three years. However, Democratic leaders insist their move is only aimed at enhancing their chances of turning the tide in the budget war.

The maneuvering was part of a three-sided House budget contest pitting the Reagan-backed plan against a blueprint drafted by Democratic leaders and a third proposal endorsed by a coalition of moderates from both sides.

The battle dragged on through Wednesday night and the House adjourned early today.

"They can never deliver" on the actual Medicare cuts, one House Democratic aide said of Republicans.

Rep. Henry Waxman, D-Calif., sponsor of an amendment restoring Medicare money to the GOP plan, later dropped the proposal. He said such a move would have attracted wavering moderate Republicans, thus assuring passage of the Republican budget.

"I don't want to be in complicity" with that success, Waxman said, while acknowledging that Republicans, though outnumbered, may be victorious in any case.

House GOP Leader Robert H. Michel of Illinois conceded that Medicare cuts are "the weakest link in our proposition but not actually fatal."

As drafted and endorsed by the president, the GOP blueprint calls for $23.3 billion in Medicare reductions over three years.

Haynes New Inspector

The City of Snyder has recently hired a new building inspector.

Hermleigh native Jim Haynes took over the inspector's job May 12. Prior to assuming this position, Haynes was involved in law enforcement in Lubbock, Hale and Gaines counties for 12 years.

Jim and his wife Barbara have two sons, Matthew (11) and Daniel (7).

Absentee Voting In Runoff Begins

of the voters will have only four state offices on their ballots. Some of the interest was taken from the Democratic Party runoff when Buddy Temple withdrew from the governor's race, leaving Mark White unchallenged. Also, Warren Harding withdrew from the state treasurer's race, giving the nomination to Ann Richards, who led the ticket in the first primary.

Absentee voting will continue in the county clerk's office until 5 p. m. June 1. On election day, June 5, the Democrats will operate only four polling places in addition to the Hermleigh precinct. These will all be located in Snyder, and paper ballots will be used instead of the punch card voting machines, since the turnout is expected to be extremely light.

The SDN Column

No matter what the situation is, most people still have the capacity to adjust if it continues long enough.

The streak of violent weather here this month is a timely example. We have heard several who were acutely alarmed the first two or three times we had severe thunderstorms say that by this week they were able to sleep through booming thunder and emergency alarms.

After a while, the monotony begins to take its toll and it doesn't seem to be such a big deal after all.

Apparently, the repetition has the same effect as "brain-washing," and we certainly have had enough repetition the past couple of weeks.

Meanwhile, speculation is beginning to emerge as to the cause of weather spells like these. Could it be the eruptions of the Mt. St. Helens volcano in the State of Washington? Or, have those sneaky Russians been up to something in space or behind the iron curtain that got the elements out of kilter?

Probably neither. There have been incidents of "unusual" weather throughout recorded history and there probably always will be. Remember the prolonged hot spell of two years ago?

From all accounts, this year's graduates are likely to have a smaller field of jobs to pick from this spring than their immediate predecessors. However, we hear that there still is a demand for those who get out and hustle for business. So, with that in mind, we pass along these definitions of "hustle" we came across the other day:

Hustle is doing something that others are certain can't be done.

Hustle is getting the job done while others are busy avoiding it.

Hustle is getting the order because you got there first, or stayed with it after everyone else quit.

Hustle is shoe leather, tired feet, elbow grease, sweat and missing lunch.

Hustle is doing more for a customer than the other guy is doing for him.

Hustle is believing in yourself and the business you are in.

Hustle is pride in your work, the joy of acceptance of a good effort.

Hustle is the sheer joy of winning.

Hustle is hating to take a vacation because you might miss a piece of the action.

Hustle is heaven if you are a hustler.

Hustle is hell if you're not!

Walesa Moved To Secret Camp

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Solidarity union chief Lech Walesa has been moved to a new, secret internment center nearly six months after he was seized at the start of martial law, government press spokesman Jerzy Urban said today.

Urban told foreign reporters at a news conference here that Walesa had been moved, but refused to say where he had been taken.

"It is true that Walesa has been taken somewhere else," Urban said. "We cannot tell you the place."

The secrecy shrouding the moving of the union chief, held since the martial law began last December 13, was so tight that not even his wife, Danuta, knew he had been moved.

"I heard a rumor that he had been moved somewhere else," Mrs. Walesa said in a telephone interview from her home in Gdansk. "But this is the first time I've heard it's officially confirmed."

Walesa, who headed the giant independent labor federation from its formation during August 1980 shipyard strikes in Gdansk to its suspension last December, had been held since then in a huge villa in the Warsaw suburb of Otwork.

Urban said Walesa now has "much better conditions," adding "the conditions are also better for visitors and children."

Walesa and his wife have seven children and the family has visited Walesa six times for a total of 21 days since his internment, Urban said.

Underground Solidarity sources said they believed Walesa had been moved to the new site about 10 days ago.

The sources, who insisted on anonymity, said they believed the union chief had been taken to Bieszczady in the southwestern corner of Poland, a wild, mountainous, forest region.

The sources said that the area may be used to house several hundred hard-core Solidarity activists who the authorities may plan to hold for some time to prevent their return to union activities.

About 5,000 Solidarity activists and advisors were seized in the initial days of martial law. Urban said today that only about 38 percent of all people interned since Dec. 13 were still being held.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

It pays the patient

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — A recent correspondent questioned the need of "unnecessary" examinations, thinking they were just a plot of the doctors to "fatten" their bank accounts. Let me tell you my experience. About 11 years ago, some six months after my 68th birthday, I went to my doctor for a checkup. It was my idea and I had no symptoms. In the course of the examination they discovered bilirubin under my fingernails. My gallbladder was on the verge of causing me some real trouble.

Arrangements were made to have my gallbladder out. The day before the surgery the doctor asked, "Just how did we discover this anyway?" I said, "Don't you remember, Doctor, I came to you and requested a complete checkup."

I had the surgery with no complications. Many of my friends had pain, nausea and all kinds of trouble when they had a gallbladder attack. I recovered well and have no discomfort. So I continue to have my annual checkup. As far as I am concerned it pays. Not the doctor but the patient. Please keep on telling people of the necessity to have "unnecessary" examinations.

DEAR READER — Thank you for sharing your experience with others. There are lots of important medical problems that are first discovered as a result of a regular medical examination.

Recently the American College of Physicians has said that you do not need an annual physical examination. But that has been misinterpreted in some reports. A physical examination is only one part of a medical examination. Those tests, including measuring your blood pressure, and finding out what your cholesterol level is are very important in preventing illnesses.

The American College of Physicians really wanted doctors to tailor their medical examinations to the needs of the patient. Certainly the recommendation is not intended to be in conflict with the wise advice of the American Cancer Society that a woman of 40 or over have an annual pelvic examination and breast examination by a physician and that men 40 or over should have a rectal examination each year.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 10-2, Your Valuable Medical Examination. Others who want this information on what you should have done and why can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Could you give me some information about Morton's neuroma? For years I suffered with severe pain in two of my toes. Sometimes I could hardly walk. I just had an operation by an orthopedic surgeon. He removed two of these things which I understand were quite large and one was very deep.

DEAR READER — Remember the ending "oma" means tumor and since "neuro" means nerve it is a benign tumor of a nerve.

The tumor usually develops from irritation of trapped nerves between the heads of the metatarsal bones. Those are the long bones in your feet that attach to the base of your toes. Tight pointed-toe shoes contribute to the problem. Ballet dancers may develop them. The point is you need to be sure you have good shoes that don't pinch the heads of the metatarsals together. High heels with pointed toes are a contributing factor in some cases.

When the tumor is pressed it creates the pain. Good shoes and having had the tumor removed should solve your problem.

For the last couple of years, Manpower, Inc., has conducted a poll among secretaries to pick the ideal boss.

The results have been the same for a couple of years: Alan Alda, Phil Donahue, President Reagan, Dan Rather and myself.

I can't figure out why I'm so far down on the list. Surely not sexism. I make coffee for my secretary, Norma, I sharpen her pencils, laugh at all her jokes and when a teacher calls and wants to talk with her, I tell them she's not here.

Frankly, if I weren't an Equal Opportunity employer, she wouldn't stand a chance working for another woman. She is beautiful and weighs 102 pounds. Who else would hire her?

I have to admit appreciation for secretaries has been a long time in coming. "Nine to Five" should have reached the big screen and the small one long before this.

So should a soft-cover book that came across my desk that's due to be published this month called, "Take a Letter Yourself!" by Kathy Matthews.

It's clever and it's funny, especially if you're a secretary. Sprinkled throughout are Office Maxims: "If you have your choice of seats on the bus, you're late for work," "If there's a bug going around, you'll get it on Friday night," and "The more copies of a given document, the less important it is."

There's a practical section on activities that burn away extra calories: Typing something that was due yesterday, 30 calories. Putting the company president on hold (which somehow disconnects), 25. Riding five floors with the office Don Juan, 80 calories per minute. (Riding eight floors with him, 300 calories a minute.) And one hour of work on the day before vacation, 900.

As I told Norma, the mark of a successful boss is having the security to laugh at oneself. I used to be a secretary myself. I appreciate those little harmless jobs that make the boss look inept and ridiculous. I told her I bet I laughed more than Alan,

Phil, President Ronald or Dan.

She took the book and began to leaf through it. Finally, she started to laugh. "This is very funny," she said. "Why aren't you as funny as Kathy Matthews?"

That does it! I'm going to get the office closest to the bathroom if I have to be the last one to pick my vacation for the next three years!

Hinckley Claims He Is Competent For Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. Hinckley Jr., speaking publicly today for the first time at his trial, told U.S. District Judge Barrington D. Parker, "I believe I'm fully competent to assist my attorneys and proceed with the trial."

WTC Enrollment Figures Up

Enrollment for the current summer session at Western Texas College has reached a new high mark, Dr. Duane Hood, dean of student services, said today.

Enrollment now stands at 760 and students may continue to enroll through Thursday. The 760 total does not include quarterly students in cosmetology and vocational nursing who will be registered June 1.

Students registering next week will still have a good selection of classes. These include English, typing, racketball, aerobics for men and attorneys and proceed with the trial."

The judge had called Hinckley to the bench at the outset of the day's proceedings to say he was concerned about the defendant's competency to stand trial.

Hinckley refused yesterday to attend the day's session and watched instead on a television from a cell behind the courtroom. Hinckley had left the trial three times since it began April 27. Last Friday, Parker told Hinckley that he feared such exits could influence the jury and instructed the defendant that if he wanted to absent himself, he would have to stay out for an entire morning or afternoon session.

This morning, Parker referred to the absences and told Hinckley:

"What I'm getting at is competency at this point." After chief defense counsel Vincent J. Fuller said he was satisfied that the defendant is competent to stand trial, Hinckley told the judge:

"I believe I'm fully competent to assist my attorneys and proceed with the trial."

Billy Barrett of Atlanta and John Rau of New York won the national open team in 1930, when they were both just 21. John died last fall and Billy this spring.

Here is a hand that helped their team win a knockout team match back in 1932.

Billy sat South and Johnny was North. West's jump to two spades was a strong bid, but Johnny was plenty strong enough to bid three diamonds.

His spade cue bid was maybe a trifle strong after Billy's club rebid. Billy wasted no time and bid the club slam.

The spade lead was ruffed in dummy and Billy saw that his only worry would be a 3-0 trump break and he decided to guard against it.

Accordingly, at trick two he led dummy's king of diamonds and discarded a spade. West was in with the ace and had no return that could produce another trick for his side.

The youngsters thought that the other North-South pair might well miss the slam, but the result was even better. That pair did get to six, but at trick two South led a club to his queen. After that false start there was no way to recover and the Rau-Barrett team picked up 1,470 points on the hand.

New Products Recreating The Past

By BARBARA MAYER AP Newsfeatures

The current "marriage" between some home furnishings manufacturers and some American museums in museumbacked reproduction collections is producing a boon for consumers in the form of wide availability of decorative products that recreate the past.

Everyone seems to benefit from the new state of affairs, made possible by a current widespread interest in reproducing authentic American interiors of the past.

Museums are reaping rewards in the form of royalties for their participation. Manufacturers have discovered a wonderful source of creative inspiration. And, the general public has access to suitable fabrics, furniture, wall coverings and accessories at an affordable price.

The new Historic House Association of America wallpaper and fabric collection, introduced recently in cooperation with the Historic House Association, conforms to the nontypical pattern. The Washington-based nonprofit group, which advises restorers of old houses, will benefit from sales of the products.

Leila Serio, a designer for Richard E. Thibaut Inc. of New York, the manufacturer, visited 12 vintage houses across the country, choosing something to reproduce or interpret in wallpaper and textiles from each house.

Windows Need Attention

NEW YORK (AP) — If the windows in your home are more than 25 years old, they most likely will require attention.

A simple test is to take a candle and move it slowly around the edges of the window frame. If the flame flickers air leakage is indicated, according to the Vinyl Window and Door Institute.

Air infiltrates around loose window frames and when the window is not shut tightly. That costs the homeowner money — in winter for heating costs, and in summer for cooling costs, if an air conditioner is used.

'We Can Play With These Guys...'

Tigers Ready For Estacado Again

By BILL McCLELLAN

As his teammates were loading up the bus after Tuesday's 7-3 loss to Lubbock Estacado, Tiger right fielder Perry Echols stood watching the Matadors take their traditional trot around the bases.

"I wonder if they do that when they lose?" he said to no one in particular. "Hey," he suddenly grinned, "let's find out!"

Echols was one of the bright spots in Snyder's fruitless effort to upset the highly touted Estacado team, which is looking for a second straight berth in the upcoming state tournament. The junior brought home Snyder's three runs of the game with a bases-loaded single in the top of the third inning and got another basehit in the sixth. He also made something of a double play in the bottom of the sixth when he snared Hector Limon's deep fly ball and threw back to first baseman Barry Davis, hoping to catch baserunner Rodney Wheeler before he got back to the bag. The throw wasn't in time, but Wheeler had run all the way past second base on the play, and didn't touch it on his trip back - an automatic out.

Echols' attitude will have to prevail if the Tigers are to derail the Matadors here Friday. Admittedly, winning two straight over a team as talented as Estacado is slim, but Snyder coaches are optimistic.

"We know we can play with these guys," said assistant coach Roland Herrera later Tuesday evening. "We just made too many mental mistakes. I think we learned a lot from this game."

Herrera is basically in charge of Snyder's pitchers, and one of his major contributions this year has been to send signals to catcher Jesse Hernandez. The combination has been a plus for Snyder all season.

"We played them pretty well," he said of the pitching. "They (Estacado) kept picking up our signals and we had to change them. We thought we knew how to pitch to Hector (Limon), but apparently he can handle just about any kind of pitch. We can't shut him down, but I think we can do a better job on him now," he said of the Mat shortstop, who walked, doubled and hit a two-run homer.

"It's going to be tough to shut them down, but I think we can do better against them," agreed head coach Albert Lewis. "We're going to have to hit (pitcher Joe) Benavidez, though. I don't think his curve is as good as (Wayne) Dotson's, but he comes with more heat. He likes to challenge you."

Ditto for Herrera, who added, "We've just got to make contact with the ball. We've seen him pitch before so hopefully we'll connect against him."

If Snyder can get past the Matadors in Game Two, the general consensus seems to be that it's a good chance the Tigers can come away with the championship.

"We could have left John (starting pitcher John Wilson) in there," said Lewis, who had the senior pulled after four innings, "but we wanted to save him for Friday. If he threw only 79 pitches (one unofficial count), he should be in good shape for that. I'll say this...we're planning on playing a third game. We're not giving up."

COMPETING IN AUSTIN - The Go-Getters Special Olympics track and field team left for Austin Wednesday to compete in the state meet. The event is being held

Astros Fall Again; Marks 5th In Row

HOUSTON (AP) - Montreal pitcher Charlie Lea made the Houston Astros uncomfortable Wednesday night, pitching a one-hitter over nine innings and retiring the last 26 men in order for a 4-0 victory.

It was Montreal's sixth straight victory and Houston's fifth straight loss. The Astros have three shutout losses and have scored only one run in 40 innings.

Lea battled Houston starter Don Sutton through nine scoreless innings and won it in the four-run 10th, highlighted by a three-run homer by pinchhitter Tim Wallach.

Lea, 3-2, yielded a single to shortstop Craig Reynolds in the first inning and didn't allow another base runner. He left for a pinchhitter after the ninth and combined with Jeff Reardon for a two-hitter.

Lea's pitching gem spoiled an outstanding performance by Sutton, who permitted only five scattered hits and had only one intentional walk through nine innings.

Houston reliever Frank LaCorte, 0-1, got the loss.

Football League is set to open on ABC under a two-year, multimillion-dollar contract.

The network and the league announced the deal Wednesday, just 15 days after the USFL was first presented to the public.

"We had been negotiating on TV rights since the idea of a U.S. Football League was first discussed, over two years ago," said Mike Trager, the league's television consultant. "But the negotiations hit their peak right around the time the league was unveiled May 11."

Sources said ABC outbid NBC for exclusive network rights to the USFL, which has yet to announce the signings of any players or coaches and is still looking for a commissioner and playing fields in several of its dozen cities.

The USFL plans teams in Boston, Birmingham, Ala., Chicago, Denver, Detroit, Tampa Bay, Fla., Los Angeles, New York, Philadelphia, San Diego, San Francisco and Washington, D.C.

Compared with the five-year, $2 billion contract the NFL recently signed with ABC, NBC and CBS, the ABC-USFL deal is small - but the impact appears to be significant.

Under the contract, ABC plans to televise 20 games in the first season - one each Sunday afternoon, a prime-time weeknight game and the playoffs and championship game in mid-July.

Trager said the USFL is looking for more TV exposure on national cable and local outlets in the league cities.

Rangers Find Victory; Mirabella In Relief

ARLINGTON (AP) - Paul Mirabella made his eighth relief appearance of the year for Texas, retiring eight Baltimore batters in a row, preserving a 5-3 Rangers victory, logging the first save of his big-league career and extending to 16 his string of consecutive hitters retired.

It was only the second win for Texas in the last eight games and the difference was a two-run, fifth-inning homer by John Grubb. It was Grubb's first home run - in fact, his first run - of the year.

Grubb's homer chased Orioles starter Dennis Martinez, 4-4. The loss put temporary brakes on the Orioles' hot streak and was only their second setback in eight games.

Texas starter Jon Matlack, 1-2, surrendered all three Baltimore runs on six hits and headed for the showers when the Orioles pulled within a run, at 4-3, on sixth-inning doubles by Benny Ayala and Dan Ford. But Steve Comer and Mirabella put out the fire.

The Rangers scored first when rookie Mike Richardt, who went 3-for-4, singled and Buddy Bell doubled him home in the first inning. Baltimore took a 2-1 lead in the second on consecutive singles by Ayala, Ford and Ken Singleton plus an infield grounder by Cal Ripken Jr.

Texas tied it in the fourth on Doug Flynn's single that scored Lamar Johnson, who had doubled. Grubb's fifth-inning homer made it 4-2 and chased Martinez.

Chaperones are Robert Miller, Charlie Chrane, Bill Banks, Ronnie Pope, Pam Browning, Sue Brown, Elois Davis, Ruby Gregory and Ruth Banks.

Go-Getters Head For State Tourney

AUSTIN - Snyder area Go-Getters Special Olympics track and field team left for Austin Wednesday to compete in the state meet.

The event is being held May 26-28 at the University of Texas. Twenty-one athletes and nine chaperones were making the trip. Athletes participating include R.L. Higdon, Sony Andrade, Richard Gohlke, Joe Ramos, Randy Underwood, James Welsh, Tom Crowley, Frank Fernandez, Wayne Gayle, Mark Becerra, Frankie Vansickle, Sam Stearns and Joe Taylor.

Others are Mae Farmer, Susan Banks, Jodi Clawson, Deborah Holmes, Laurel Davis, Raydene Brown, Stephanie Guerrero and Glenda Hebert.

Approximately 4,000 athletes are expected to participate in the track and field meet.

For Texas Prisons...

Committee Oks More Money

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas prison officials have won a major victory over the Legislature's leadership in getting a House committee to back a $72.8-million appropriation for new prison construction.

Gov. Bill Clements, House Speaker Bill Clayton and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby support a far more modest bill in the senate that would appropriate $45 million for 6,000 new beds in the overcrowded Texas Department of Corrections.

But the House Appropriations Committee voted 18-0 Wednesday to send the larger prison funding bill to the House floor.

"Let's take the blinds off the bridge and the bits off the mouth. They know more about it than any of us," said Rep. Bill Heatly, D-Paducah, in support of the prison board's request.

The State Board of Corrections, which oversees the prison system, asked for $85 million. Faced with a federal court order against overcrowding, the board temporarily closed the prisons to new inmates May 10. The board reopened the prison a week later on a limited basis.

Rep. Rodney Tow, D-Woodlands, presented the House's $45-million appropriation bill to the committee Wednesday.

But TDC Director Jim Estelle told the committee $45 million was not enough.

"Even with $85 million there will be a controlled admission program," he said.

Estelle, anticipating problems in overcoming the influence of Clements, Clayton and Hobby, said, "It's not over yet."

The major difference between the Tow bill and the TDC plan was $45 million to start construction of 13 units that each could hold 1,000 inmates. Estelle said the first new unit could be ready by September 1983. The other 12 would require additional funding — about $630 million — from the 1983 Legislature. If fully funded, the TDC could have 26,000 more beds by the end of 1985, said Estelle.

At current growth rates, the prison population would be about 54,000 by then, he said. The TDC, the nation's largest prison system, now holds about 34,000 inmates, including 4,200 in tents.

The committee seemed ready to approve the entire TDC package, but did some quick shuffling when warned the bill — added to a $131 million college construction fund it also recommended Wednesday — topped the $194 million spending cap on the session.

Estelle agreed to slice $11 million from his plan.

The package approved by the committee includes:

- $61 million to speed up current building projects, build three new employee dormitories, adapt current buildings to hold inmates and start construction on the 13 new units.
- $15.6 million for new guards
- $2.9 million for utilities and equipment.

The total comes to $72.9 million when money already allocated to the TDC is subtracted from the total of the projects.

Not included is $5 million approved by the committee for the Board of Pardons and Paroles and the Adult Probation Commission.

The committee killed $677,000 requested by Tow and the TDC to allow the state to pay for the transportation of prisoners from county jails. El Paso County has sued the state, alleging the counties are improperly being made to cover those transportation costs.

Rep. Bill Hollowell, D-Grand Saline, said he would give the prison system $200 million.

"The grass roots, the sheriffs, the people out on the streets, they're not so eager to have all these people released on probation and parole," he said in favor of a major prison construction program.

College funding needs are "minor peanuts" compared to the prison's, he said.

In related legislative action, the House Committee on Securities and Sanctions sent to the floor two proposals aimed at controlling the prison population. One would reform the "good time" laws that dictate how soon an inmate can be released.

The second would empower the governor to accelerate paroles when the prison population reaches seriously high levels.

Dear Abby

Woman's Son Could Be Her Brother

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1982 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my 10-month-old son. I don't know who his father is. Don't get me wrong. I'm not a tramp. Here's the way it happened: On my 19th birthday, my father came home drunk and raped me. I tried to fight him off, but he hit me across the jaw and said he'd kill me if I made any noise, so I had to give in.

The next day I left home and went to Baltimore to look for a job. While looking for a place to stay, I met a really nice guy. (I'll call him Pete.) Pete was with the Pakistan Merchant Marines. It was love at first sight for both of us, and that very night I moved in with him.

About a month later I started feeling lousy in the morning. Before long I knew I was pregnant. I didn't want to lie to Pete, so I told him that there was a 50-50 chance that the baby was my father's. Well, that night while I was asleep, Pete packed all his things and took off, and that was the last I heard of him.

The rent was paid until the end of the month so I stayed there, then I went back home. I told my folks the honest truth, and my father kept after me to get in touch with the Pakistan Merchant Marines and make Pete pay child support. I refused because deep down I had the feeling the baby wasn't his.

The boy is 10 months old now and he is the picture of my father. I am going crazy not knowing for sure who my baby's father is. How can I find out?

ALL MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED UP: In order to determine who your baby's father is, you will need blood samples from both your father and Pete. Please talk to your doctor about this. You are to be commended for your honesty, but I think you should try to locate Pete on the chance that he is the father. For the sake of your own peace of mind, do everything you can to learn the truth. And for God's sake, report your father to the authorities. He is sick!

DEAR ABBY: You told "Square and Frustrated," the young man in search of a decent woman, that he should try square-dancing clubs because that's where he would find wholesome and lively singles. I'm sure you meant this as a compliment to those of us active in traditional music and dance, but frankly, we are a bit tired of psychologists, social workers and now advice columnists sending us their problem cases. Years of these referrals, combined with the already quaint image that square dancing has, have given us a serious image problem to overcome.

Our regular dancers include doctors, nurses, executives, married couples and teen-agers. My experience is that they are no more anxious to provide a sanctuary for lonely hearts than are members of any other type of club or organization.

ERIC ZORN, BARN DANCE CALLER

DEAR ERIC: Sorry. I did not mean to inflict my "problem cases" on your circle of well-adjusted square dancers. However, I do not consider lonely people in search of decent friends social misfits to be avoided.

DEAR ABBY: I am a male who will soon be in the singles group (divorced) again. As you know, custom has it now that the lady sometimes does the inviting. I hope I don't sound pompous, but I may not want to accept every invitation that comes my way any more than a woman would under similar circumstances.

How do I decline without hurting someone's feelings? I don't feel that I should accept an invitation simply because it's offered. Yet, I know of no gentle, painless way to turn a lady down. Do you?

C. IN HUNTSVILLE, TEXAS

DEAR C.: The prescription is the same for men as women. Be honest and up-front. It's far kinder than leading the lady on and giving her false hope. "Thank you, but no," will suffice.

Do you have questions about sex, love, drugs and the pain of growing up? Get Abby's new booklet: "What Every Teen-Ager Ought to Know." Send $2 and a long, stamped (37 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Haig Sees Active Role In Iran War

CHICAGO (AP) — Council on Foreign Relations. United States interests are endangered by the continuation of war between Iran and Iraq, and Washington will "take a more active role" in trying to end the conflict, Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. says.

"We are committed to defending our vital interests in the area," Haig said Wednesday in what was described by his aides as a major statement on Mideast policy.

"These interests, and the interests of the world, are served by the territorial integrity and political independence of all countries in the Persian Gulf," he said in his speech to the Chicago

By Braniff...

Charges Leave American Bloody

DALLAS (AP) — It was a charge of industrial sabotage with a flashy modern touch: bankrupt Braniff International claimed American Airlines had used its SABRE to cut Braniff out of the market.

The accusations made by Braniff Vice President Sam Coats three days after the airline went bankrupt May 13 focused attention on SABRE, the largest computer reservation system in the country and — to many people — a mysterious and powerful weapon in the airline wars.

The story made headlines across the country. Suddenly American, which at first deemed the charges "unworthy of comment," found itself with a serious public relations problem.

To House Members...

Car Dealers Gave Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — House members who blocked a rule forcing dealers to disclose defects in used cars received $703,271 in campaign donations over the past three years from the dealers' group that led lobbying against the rule.

According to federal campaign records, contributions from the National Automobile Dealers Association went to 239 of the 286 congressmen who voted to veto the rule. Of those who received donations, 150 were Republicans and 89 were Democrats.

The House killed the Federal Trade Commission rule Wednesday by a 286-133 margin. The Senate rejected it last week, 69-27, and President Reagan's signature was not needed.

Fifty-six of the 69 senators who voted to veto the regulation also received campaign contributions from the dealers' group. Those Senate donations totaled $323,350 over the past five years, Federal Election Commission records show.

The dealers' expensive lobbying drive prompted charges from some FTC supporters that Congress was being bought.

"This should not be called the used-car rule," declared Rep. Toby Moffett, D-Conn. "It ought to be called the used-Congress rule."

But spokesmen for the dealers said Congress responded to the merits of the arguments, not money.

After the vote Wednesday, FTC Chairman James C. Miller said he would propose a new rule requiring dealers to say what warranties are being offered on a used car, but would drop the required disclosure of known defects.

"I think the real 'dirty trick' was the smear campaign that Braniff conducted against us," American spokesman Paul Haney said Wednesday.

Braniff's charges heightened interest in two separate federal investigations of competitive practices in the airline industry.

Coats, refusing to substantiate his original charges, told reporters he was turning his evidence over to the grand jury meeting in Fort Worth to look into possible criminal violations of antitrust laws.

In Washington, Justice Department lawyers confirmed that they had started a preliminary civil investigation of the possibility that the sophisticated multimillion dollar reservation systems were being used to quash competition.

While denying the Braniff charges triggered the inquiry, Justice Department officials said they would be looking at SABRE.

American was on the defensive. The company counterattacked with suggestions Braniff had caused whatever problems it had with the SABRE computer and that American was the victim of unfair reporting.

SABRE is not the only computerized reservation system leased to other airlines or to travel agents. United Airlines has APOLLO, Trans World Airways has PARS.

Braniff used to have a system called Cowboy. Federal bankruptcy Judge John Flowers approved Electronic Data Systems' takeover of the system Monday. EDS was to pay Braniff $577,864 for the equipment that serves 25 airlines of which Hawaiian is the largest.

But SABRE, developed in 1962 at a cost of $135 million, is the marvel of the industry.

About 6,000 travel agents subscribe. More than 200 airlines are plugged in. The huge SABRE network, with its 20,000 terminals and 10,000 printers, handles 600 messages per second, processes three million flight openings and closings a month.

Coats claimed the system was rigged. He said it consistently showed Braniff flights were full when seats were still available, and that the machine always listed American flights first. He said American reservation agents used the system to raid Braniff by changing passengers' reservations.

American denied everything. Company spokesmen explained SABRE's preferential listing system as a legitimate effort to get some return on the money spent to develop the system. They said all airlines' flights are automatically closed before they are completely filled to avoid overbook-

ing. American also seemed to keep in touch with its supporters outside the company, urging them to cooperate with reporters interested in American's side of the story.

On Tuesday, Haney told a reporter to talk to Robert Eckert, a Dallas travel agent who reportedly said SABRE was "on the up and up."

Eckert had already refused to talk, the reporter replied. Haney called back later and said that an American employee had contacted Eckert, explained the situation to him, and that "if you'll call him now I'm sure he'll be helpful."

Braniff, too, seemed to have convoluted ways of getting its point across. American said Braniff had two SABRE terminals in its reservation center, and if mistakes were made Braniff was to blame because it wasn't monitoring the system.

Coats wasn't talking, but a call to his office Tuesday was returned by Jerry Potter, a former Braniff computer expert who said he was "livid" at the suggestion.

Potter claimed it is impossible to check the vast SABRE system.

The barrage of charges and countercharges obscures the fact that hard evidence is conspicuously absent on both sides.

To answer charges that American used SABRE to steal Braniff passengers, American officials released figures showing that Braniff's reservations through SABRE increased sharply in the first four months of 1982 compared to the same period last year.

But the numbers don't necessarily prove anything about SABRE's objectivity, because — as American failed to mention — in the first four months of 1982 Braniff started "Texas Class" single-fare service and two-for-one ticket promotions.

What hasn't been shown is that American availed itself of any of them.
