SNYDER SPOTLIGHT

By WACIL McNAIR

Reports during the past week indicate that the housing situation has "tightened" considerably in Snyder. Houses available for rentals are few, and apparently there are few vacancies in the city.

City Manager Roy Dunlap said the city has been connecting water meters at a rapid pace. Some meters which had not been connected in two years have been put back into use during the upsurge, the city manager said.

This activity, along with steady residential construction during the spring and early summer, indicate that a substantial number of new families have moved here.

* * *

Snyder's construction figures for the year are running well ahead of last year, and compare favorably with any period in the city's history, with exception one or two instances during the height of the oil boom. A big portion of the new construction has been in the residential category.

Announcement was made in Washington Friday that Texas will receive $167,977,005 for its part of the national highway program for the year starting next summer.

At the same time, announcement was made in Lubbock that a member of the Texas Highway Commission was scheduled to meet Tuesday with a new organization there—The Lubbock-Fort Worth Multi-Lane Highway Association. That organization is seeking a direct multi-lane highway from Lubbock to Fort Worth. Most of the traffic between those two cities now comes through Snyder via U.S. 84.

Dr. C. C. Colvert of the University of Texas was conservative in one respect when he made his survey concerning the junior college proposal in Scurry County. His estimate for a budget for such a college was calculated on 95 per cent collections. Figures at the county tax assessor-collector's office show that collections this year were 99.36 per cent of the roll.

The Upper Colorado River Soil Conservation District has been advised that a survey will be made of the Deep Creek watershed, with a view toward developing a water conservation project under the Small Watersheds Act The wheels were set in motion over a year ago on this project, with local agencies joining in a request for such a survey following a meeting in the county agricultural agent's office. Despite heavy spring rains, there has been little flooding on Deep Creek this year, but a lot of water has gone downstream. Much of it could have been conserved if a project had been developed earlier on the watershed.

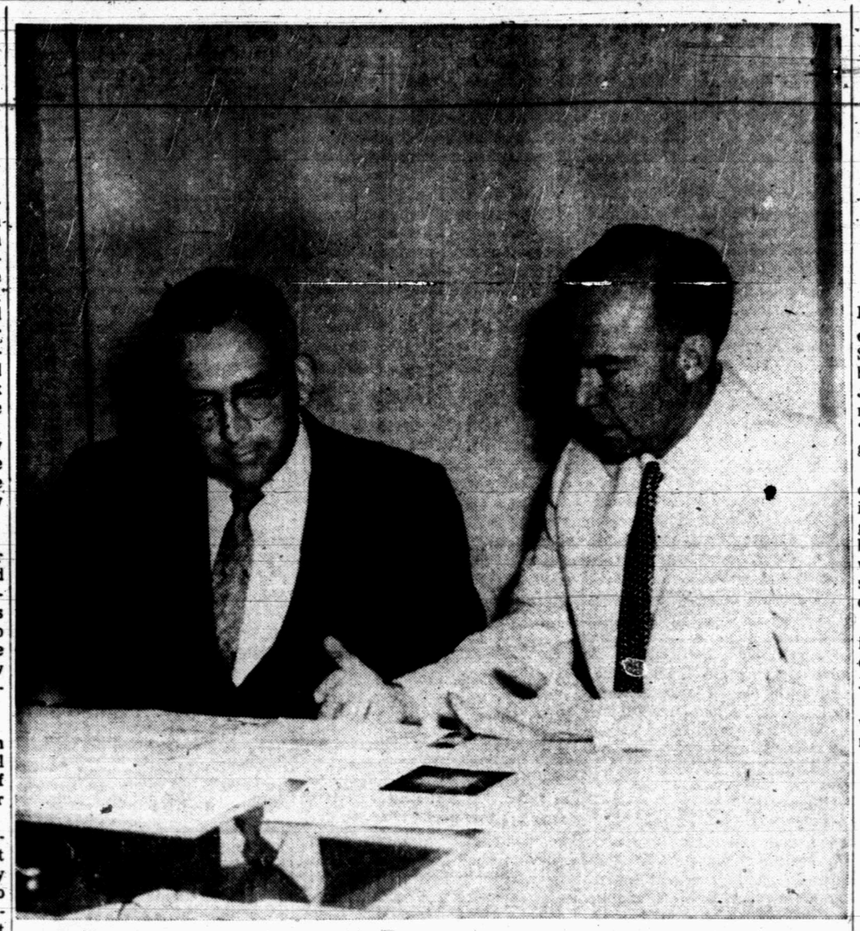

Lubbock Fireman Dies After Blaze

LUBBOCK, Aug. 3 (AP) —Lt. Wayland Jack Jenkins, 35, of the Lubbock Fire Department, died today after fighting a forenoon blaze.

Hospital officials blamed his death on a coronary occlusion, the result of over-exertion.

MUSICAL PLEA—Rep. Frank Chelf, Kentucky Democrat, poses with his mouth harp in front of the Capitol in Washington, D.C., after using the vibrator tune-produced in a musical plea before the House Rules Committee to prevent tampering with Southern folk songs. He said radio and television networks are censoring some of the nation's best lyrics by deleting references to "darkies" and such things. If we follow the same logic of the networks in banning 'Suwanee River' and 'My Old Kentcuky Home' from the air," Chelf added, "Then we may have to change the name of the 'White House' because this might conceivably be classified as discrimination."

GETTING READY for the summer workshop on staff utilization are two of the leaders in planning, Pat Falls, left, school director of curriculum and instruction, and William Nesbitt, supervisor of secondary education. About 30 teachers will be involved in the workshop. (Dale Walton photograph)

3-Week School Workshop Will Open Tomorrow Morning

About 30 teachers of the Snyder school system will get work underway tomorrow in the three-week workshop on staff utilization.

The workshop will open at 7:30 a.m. tomorrow in the high school cafeteria. Only tomorrow will be spent in planning. The remainder of time will be spent by teachers on making aids to be used during the coming school year.

Meeting with the group tomorrow will be Dr. Robert Blake, professor at the University of Texas. He will help with planning. Dr. Blake was to meet today with Pat Falls, school director of curriculum and instruction, and William Nesbitt, supervisor of secondary education, along with other members of the planning committee, on plans for tomorrow's gathering.

Several other special consultants are due here during the workshop, most of them from the University of Texas.

Subject areas to be included in the staff utilization project this school year are science, English, commercial subjects, history, and Spanish in the high school and junior high. Previously only science was included. The program has been underway one year.

The staff utilization project here, supported by the Fund for the Advancement of Education, a Ford Foundation organization, includes various studies on how to better use the professional staff of the schools in teaching students. The experiments include use of closed circuit television.

A number of objectives for the workshop were developed by the planning committee in May.

The objectives come under the general headings of planning and developing curriculum in their respective areas; studying, selecting, ordering and constructing instructional materials; study, plan, and evaluate use of various teach-planning student-teacher planning activities; developing plans for grouping of students; studying and planning evaluation procedures; developing schedules for teaching, space, and equipment; planning use of teacher aides, including clerks and student assistants; working out details for inter-departmental coordination; planning specific actives related to the morale of students, teachers and parents; and developing community resources.

Crushed To Death

DALLAS, Aug. 3 (AP) — Alpha Jones, 57, Mesquite dirt contractor, was crushed to death beneath the wheels of his truck today after his brakes failed.

AF Officers End 5-Day Mock Test

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 3 (AP)—Five Air Force officers today wound up a five-day "endurance flight" without ever having left the ground.

They completed—in a mock airplane cabin—the first of a series of tests to determine ability of airmen to fly for long periods, possibly in atomic planes of the future.

The men, all volunteers, spent 120 hours in a 17-foot by 7-foot by 6-foot cabin at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base during which they engaged in a simulated global mission.

Their radio contacts at various clearance points were the only times they heard an outside voice. Included in the exercise were bombing runs, landings and various "emergencies" including two major unscheduled ones caused by power failure.

The men lived, ate, and worked together as long as 16 hours in a 24-hour day, rotating assignments, all in the interests of science.

Leader of the group was Maj. John D. Calhoun of the Air Research and Development Command, who served as airplane commander. He lives in Dayton and is married to the former Delores M. Kennedy of Dallas, Tex. His co-pilot was Capt. Robert F. Hegenberger of Orlando, Fla.

The other crew members, all assigned to the Wright Air Development Center here, were Capt. John Simons, flight engineer, son of Mrs. Florence Calhoun of Ruston, La., and a resident of Fairborn, Ohio; 1st Lt. Albert T. Bernardini, navigator, son of Mrs. A. T. Bernardini of Hialeah, Fla., and Capt. Richard C. Willis, the plane's defense director, of Union, Ohio.

Project engineer on the test was Charles Dempsey of the laboratory's Crew Habitability section. He was a subject in earlier human endurance tests running for 24 hours and 56 hours.

The test cabin was designed for maximum comfort. Padded bulkheads and capsules made it unnecessary to wear helmets or parachutes. Each man had a choice of three programs of recorded music piped into the communication system.

Frozen rations, weighing 100 pounds, were stored in the cabin for the test. They provided 3,200 calories per day for each man.

SUB-PANELS NAMED

Jr. College Drive Is Mapped

The proposal to establish a junior college in Scurry County is due to get a thorough airing, followed promptly by concrete action directed toward a county-wide vote.

The machinery was set in motion Friday at a meeting of a citizens committee in the district courtroom.

Two sub-panels were named at the session and plans were made for an extensive education and publicity program to thoroughly acquaint all county voters with details of the proposal.

At the outset, a six-member steering committee was elected. This group then organized an education committee composed of volunteers whose task it will be to assemble information and take it before groups throughout the county.

* * *

Named to the steering committee were Roy McCloskey, Mrs. Harold Brown, Wayne Boren, Bob Dupree Arthur Blanchard and Wacil McNair. That committee then named Boren to serve as presiding officer, while Ted McAlister was appointed to serve as recorder.

* * *

The education committee is composed of Charley Blakey, Mrs. Jack Bowden, Mrs. Harold Brown, L. A. McClanahan, Ray Houpt, Bill Jordan and Paul Keaton. They plan to arrange for meetings with groups throughout the county. At such meetings, members of the committee, along with other members of the over-all citizens committee, will present detailed information concerning the junior college proposal.

Plans also were made at the Friday night session for a petition to be drawn up. It is expected to be ready by the time the series of meetings begins.

* * *

The procedure for establishing a junior college, according to information available so far, would involve a petition at the outset bearing signatures of at least five per cent of the tax-paying voters in the county. The petition then would be taken to the county board of education, and then it would be submitted to the Texas Education Agency. In due time, a local delegation would appear before the Texas Education Agency in behalf of the proposal, and the agency itself would survey the county.

Then, if ultimately approved, an election would be called to create the junior college district and to name a board of trustees.

* * *

The initial survey on the proposal was made by Dr. C. C. Colvert, professor and consultant in junior college education at the University of Texas. Dr. Colvert appeared before a group here last Monday at the request of the Snyder Junior Chamber of Commerce, which initiated the proposal.

In his survey, Dr. Colvert estimated that a junior college serving Scurry County alone could expect an enrollment of well over 200 students in about five years. He based his estimates on a comparison of local statistics with those in counties where public junior colleges already are in operation.

The citizens committee, which was formed upon recommendation of Dr. Colvert, will meet again as soon as information is assembled for its education program.

Ike May Demand All Or Nothing In Rights Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported adamant today against the Senate's revamped civil rights bill, and Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., House GOP leader, pronounced civil rights legislation "dead for this session" of Congress.

Three top administration officials, who cannot be named, said in interviews that Eisenhower regards the Senate version of the bill as completely unworkable. He was said to be throwing his weight solidly against House acceptance of it.

Martin told a reporter: "The bill is not acceptable to us, and I don't think it's acceptable to a majority of the House."

He foresaw a probable deadlock which would put the issue over to next year.

The three administration leaders agreed that, as the mater stands, Eisenhower would rather have no bill at all than to accept the Senate's insertion of the jury trial amendment in a measure which it already had stripped of authority to enforce civil rights in general.

Some House Democratic leaders voiced the opinion privately that the Republicans 'don't want a civil rights bill this year." They contended the Eisenhower administration is stalling and hoping to carry the issue over into the 1958 election year.

Martin called the Senate bill in its present form a Democratic bill and declared, "We won't take it in the form it is likely to come out of the Senate."

In foreseeing a possible deadlock over efforts to compromise differences between the Senate version and the more sweeping, administration-sponsored bill passed by the House, Martin said:

"It looks to me as though this bill is dead for this session: That will put the whole civil rights fight over until next January when Congress reconvenes."

The chief executive's legal advisers are said to have told Eisenhower the measure the Senate may pass by midweek represents not only an "empty shell" for protection of voting rights but will hamstring government enforcement in other fields.

Southern senators held a strategy session on the bill today and Sen. Russell (D-Ga) told reporters afterward that he expects a Senate vote "within a reasonable time," perhaps Wednesday or even sooner.

"Up to now there has been no filibuster on this bill," Russell said. "None was planned at our session."

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), who breakfasted with Eisenhower, told reporters he hopes the House will send the measure to a Senate-House conference committee in an effort to compromise its terms.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, did not rule out some compromise on the controversial jury trial amendment which he previously had said made the measure "ineffective." But he said he has yet to see any compromise he finds acceptable.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, made it clear he hopes the House accepts the Senate version without a conference and lays the bill on Eisenhower's desk.

Refugee's High Fever Puzzling

FORT WORTH, Aug. 3 (AP) — A refugee from Latvia was admitted to a hospital early today with fever of 110.4 degrees. He was stricken during the night in which the Weather Bureau recorded a low temperature of 79 degrees.

He is Edmunds Leimanis, 57, a clean up man at a hotel.

Leimanis was placed in a hospital room three doors from Bill Turner, 62, who had a temperature of 109.6 degrees when he was admitted July 19.

Like Turner, Leimanis is believed to have suffered a heat stroke, cerebral hemorrhage or both. In any event, the temperature control mechanism in the brain was affected.

Leimanis was found unconscious at the foot of the stairs in the apartment house where he and his wife live. His wife, who also works at the hotel, found him unconscious.

The man was placed in a tub of ice for about an hour. His temperature dropped to about 100 degrees.

His condition improved slightly since his admission but he remains in a semiconscious condition.

Doctors say temperature above 106 or 107 is usually fatal if it persists for any time. In Turner's case they said they had never heard of a man with such a high temperature surviving as long as he has.

Hermleigh Youth Has Possible Polio Case

A 17-year-old Hermleigh youth is in Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene for observation after his having symptoms of possible polio.

He is Donald Joe May, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond May, who live between Hermleigh and Inadale.

The May youth became ill last week, and his physician placed him in the polio ward at Hendrick for observation. A polio nurse said there yesterday that there has not yet been any definite diagnosis.

May will be a senior in high school this fall. He has been active in football and other athletics at Hermleigh.

Syria Snubs Threat

DAMASCUS, Syria, Aug. 3 (AP)—Syria rejected today a Jordanian protest—viewed here as an ultimatum—at a Syrian newspaper campaign against Jordan.

A broadcast announcement said Jordan warned she would sever diplomatic relations with this sister Arab state, and even resort to arms, if the newspaper attacks did not cease by tomorrow.

(But a milder view was taken in Amman, Jordan's capital. A spokesman for young King Hussein's government denied an ultimatum was intended, despite strong diplomatic language in the protest. He said the Syrians "May rest assured that any attack on Syria would not come from Jordan." He added: "Jordan is fully prepared to sacrifice in the course of defending Syria or any other Arab country against aggression, as the King and government have already announced." He said phrases of the protest had been misinterpreted and distorted.)

Premier Sabri Assali told a news conference here, "I have never heard during my political career of a similar ultimatum addressed to us." He said it was totally unacceptable.

Assali announced his government has filled in Egypt and Saudi Arabia on the notes exchanged. He expressed confidence that Jordan would get no approval from other Arab nations for her move. Egypt and Saudi Arabia are linked by treaty with both Syria and Jordan, though the treaty ties were strained by the abortive April uprising in Jordan.

The Premier said Syria's rejection was conveyed to Jordan through Ahmed el Rahby, the Syrian charge d'affaires in Amman.

It was through Rahby that Jordan's foreign minister, Samir Rifai, presented the demand Wednesday for an end to the Syrian press attacks.

Rifai was quoted as saying the situation could develop "into a state which might force the Jordan government to take whatever measures it sees necessary to protect its dignity if the attacks, which only serve the enemy (meaning Israel), continue."

49th To Cut Drill Periods

DALLAS, Aug.3 (AP)—The number of drill periods for the 49th Armored Division have been cut back about one third for a 3-month period in an economy move, Maj. Gen. Albert Johnson, commander, reported today.

The Texas Air National Guard is unaffected by the reduction order from Washington, said Maj. Gen. Harry Crutcher Jr., chief of staff of TANG.

The 49th Armored has 10,000 men, including about 1,200 in the Dallas area.

On orders from National Guard Headquarters in Washington, the division started the reductions in July. Nominally, the men would attend from 12 to 14 training sessions during the July-September period.

Most other parts of the county had only a sprinkle or unmeasurable shower, according to reports.

Although only a sprinkle fell in Snyder, the nearby showers kept temperatures down throughout the day. The cool breezes Saturday were in sharp contrast to the thermometer reading of 105 degrees recorded here Friday.

OIL ROUNDUP

Texas-Cal Crude Line To Be Tried

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Independent Texas oil operators still would like to see their state share California's crude oil market.

The Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Assn. (TIPRO), with 5,000 members, is launching another effort to obtain a Texas-to-California crude oil pipeline.

TIPRO in the past has testified in support of several proposals to build such lines. The new effort accompanies start of a 600-mile line from the four corners area of Utah, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona to Los Angeles refineries.

TIPRO has informed members the new campaign for a West Coast line will coincide with the expected action by President Eisenhower to limit oil imports.

The news letter said reports indicate the administration's imports limitation plan includes at least an admonition to West Coast refiners that they use domestic oil.

TIPRO has based its support of a West Coast line, in part, on West Texas producing areas alone having a reserve producing capacity in excess of one million barrels a day.

"If Texas is given a portion of the California market, the most dramatic evidence of distress caused by imports would be removed," TIPRO said.

A Texas-to-California crude line would improve 13-day allowables "by removing some of the pressure to curtail imports, a fact which the administration may want to weigh heavily."

Since the Suez crisis ended, Texas crude production allowables have been cut to a 13-day schedules in July and August, the lowest producing order in the history of oil conservation legislation in this state.

Clarksville Fire Damage Is $250,000

CLARKSVILLE, Tex., Aug. 3 (AP)—An unofficial source placed total damages at about $250,000 here today after an early morning fire almost wiped out a block of buildings.

All but three establishments were hit by the blaze which swept across the block directly southwest of the square in downtown Clarksville. No injuries were reported.

The fire broke out about 1:30 a.m. apparently in the McLinton Building, located in the 300 block on West Main Street. This building, which was used by the Red Fish Boat Co., as a warehouse, and four other businesses were destroyed.

Other buildings that are total losses were the public welfare office, a beauty shop, garage and cafe. All were gutted except the beauty shop which was demolished by heavy water.

The first three stores on the west end of the block were the only businesses to escape fire, smoke or water damage.

The corner building of the smouldering and wrecked area is the First National Bank.

The bank's roof and second floor were destroyed. The ground floor received heavy water and smoke damages.

Late this morning officials began moving from the bank into furniture store.

The bank formerly was located in the store.

The destroyed second floor contained insurance, law and abstract offices.

All that was left of the burned building were piles of brick and debris and shaky walls. Workers were busy [illegible] standing portions of these later.

The damage estimate was by C. Q. Waldrap, who owned one of the three businesses that weren't damaged.

Court Rules In Favor Of Harte-Hanks

By JIM BOWMAN

DALLAS, Aug. 3 (AP)—A federal judge ruled today that corporate records turned over to the government by a Texas newspaper group could not be submitted to a grand jury.

Ruling in favor of the Harte-Hanks Newspapers of Texas, Judge William Atwell said:

"This is a country of great liberty, ladies and gentlemen, and we must all stand for it."

Officials of Harte-Hanks newspapers had been subpoenaed to appear before the federal grand jury Monday. The summonses were requested by an attorney of the Anti-Trust Division of the Department of Justice, Henry Stuckey.

Attorney Dan Moody contended the records were handed over to an FBI agent with the understanding that they would not be used in any criminal prosecution.

"They (the government) are now attempting to violate that condition on which they were allowed to see the papers," he said.

Judge Atwell upheld Moody's motion. "This information cannot be taken before the grand jury," he ruled.

Stuckey said after the hearing he did not know whether the government will proceed with its case before the grand jury Monday. "It will have to go before my superiors," he told newsmen.

The subpoenaes had asked for all communications cancerning the acquisition of the Greenville Morning Herald. Harte-Hanks officials has been ordered to bring records concerning the competition and relative strength of the Greenville Evening Banner and the Morning Herald, now combined, and what support Harte-Hanks gave them.

The newspaper group bought the Evening Banner from Paul Horton in 1954. Two years later it purchased the Morning Herald from the William C. Poole family.

Three Children Die When Barn Burns

MASON, Wis., Aug. 3 (AP)—Three children playing in a hideout in the tons of hay in a barn on the family farm were killed today when fire of undetermined origin destroyed the structure.

The victims were Maynard Baldwin, 5, Judy, 7, and Raymond, 9, children of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baldwin Sr. The farm is located in Bayfield County in the extreme northern part of Wisconsin.

The parents did not know the children were in the barn. Their bodies were discovered by a member of the Mason fire department only after the fire had burned itself out.

Thomas A. Edison was once sent home from school because his teacher considered him "too backward."

Well Fracturing Method Invented

The Western Company, oil well servicing concern with headquarters in Midland, has placed another new innovation into service in the Permian Basin, and Oklahoma oil areas, reports H. E. Chiles, Jr., president.

The latest Western invention is a fracturing process which will be used under the trade name of Fracture-Initiation.

The new process is a means of creating a stress pattern at a desired point and of initiating a controlled fracture on a desired plane.

Bruce Gilbert, research associate in Western's Dallas laboratory, is the inventor of the FI method of well fracturing, and Roscoe C. Clark, Jr., Midland, manager of the research and development division, was in charge of its development.

"FI now is available in all of Western's wire line districts," Walter Beadle, vice president in charge of the operations division, said.

The principle of inducing a horizontal fracture by the Fracture Initiation process is similar to that of breaking a block of ice. A stress pattern is set up in the ice cake by preliminary chips along the plane on which the block is to be broken. Then, one good blow gives a clear break along that plane.

In the case of FI, the preliminary chips are represented by the use of the FI tool which creates the stress pattern in the rock, then the controlled fracturing treatment is similar to the single blow of the ice pick. The fracture extends on the same plane through the matrix.

Field tests indicate that FI initiates fractures where they are wanted, creates stress pattern to continue fracture indefinitely on the same plane, fractures the most desirable point of producing formation for most efficient drainage of formation oil.

Tests also indicate FI fractures can be controlled in spite of variations in formation strength cross intrinsic fractures without deviating from horizontal plane, minimizes danger of fracturing into gas or water, and retains the fracture in the producing formation.

The FI tool serves the additional purpose of establishing contact through the pipe to the matrix, thereby eliminating the need for perforating, reports Clark.

"Conventional fracturing through perforations lacks control and results in randon fractures, extending in unpredictable directions and planes from the well bore," Clark said.

"Conventional fractures naturally follow the path of least resistance, and are usually extensions of intrinsic fractures. The result is predominately vertical fracturing, often extending out of the producing formation into barren zones, water tables or gas caps," he explained.

Fracture Initiation is the fourth new well servicing technique introduced to the oil industry during the past year by Western. The first was the concern's Rockett J-II perforating charge, which was followed by the Ball Sealer method of fracturing and the Selective Jet perforating process.

Advertising Plan Will Be Publicized

FORT WORTH, Aug. 3 (AP)—An amendment which would authorize the legislature to appropriate funds for advertising the state in national circulated publications is going to be explained to voters in an educational campaign.

Directors of the 10th (Southwest) District Advertising Federation of America, decided in a one day meeting today to name a committee to plan the educational campaign.

Dist. Gov. Frank McGowan of Dallas, executive director of the Wall Street Journal's Southwest's Edition, said that the campaign would be statewide. Balloting on the amendment will be in November 1958.

Plans for the district's annual convention in El Paso Sept. 26-28 were discussed. The district includes Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas.

Ford Spending 185 Million On Its '58

DETROIT, Aug. 3 (AP)—Ford Motor Co. announced today it is spending 185 million dollars to get its 1958 model Ford line into production.

The sum covers design, styling and engineering changes and tooling operations. It compares with an expenditure of 209 million dollars for development of the 1957 model Ford introduced last year.

Wife Says AWOL Soldier Likes Service

SPARTANBURG, S. C., Aug. 3 (AP)—Mrs. B. J. Hartin, expecting her first child next month, says her husband would re-enlist in the Air Force in a moment despite all his current absent without leave troubles. He likes his jet-maintenance work, she said here.

Hartin is en route from Donaldson Air Force Base near Greenville for Biggs AFB at El Paso, where the Air Force will decide what to do with him. Hartin voluntarily surrendered here last month when he heard air police were looking for him.

He said at the time he did not know what his status was with the service. Hartin related that he was discharged last Jan. 2 so he could re-enlist for four years. However, the Biggs Air Force Base finance officer told Hartin that his physical condition barred re-enlistment.

discharge and in need of money.

Expecting an official medical Hartin said, he and his young wife left the Texas base. He got a construction job at an air base in Georgia before coming here.

Now the young Hartins are separated — the wife remaining here and the husband on his way to Texas. Mrs. Hartin, anxious to straighten out the situation, is in good spirits.

She optimistically points out that, although she does not know how long her husband might have to serve, "it just means we'll be back together that much sooner if we go ahead and get it over with."

Body Of Missing Man Is Found Near Rusk

RUSK, Aug. 3 (AP)—The badly decomposed body of Johnny Lee Yarborough, about 38, who has been missing from his home since Monday, was found today about 5 miles southwest of Rusk.

Sooner 'Charmer' Back In Spotlight

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 3 (AP)—Nancy Denner, 21-year-old brown-haired Alva beauty, is gaining a reputation—and scads of publicity—as a "charmer."

Twice how Nancy has charmed her way into the national limelight, sort of by accident.

Almost four years ago she received wide publicity when a Belgian "soldier of fortune" whom she met briefly on a broken-down ferry sent her one of the strangest "love letters" ever penned.

And last night Nancy won the Miss Oklahoma title after entering the contest at the urging of state officials who were "charmed" by her appearance at the Oklahoma Semi-Centennial Exposition here.

Nancy, a tall University of Oklahoma coed didn't plan to enter the state beauty contest until the officials talked her into submitting an application.

"We, her mother and I, as well as Nancy, had always been a little reluctant about beauty contests," said her father, Joe Denner, an Alva baker. "But after talking it over we decided it might be a nice thing."

Nancy thinks it was pretty nice too.

"It's a wonderful experience," said the 5 feet 7½ inch senior in dramatics, who measures 37-25-36.

Her first plunge into the national limelight also was "quite an experience."

While a 17-year-old senior at Alva High School, Nancy was taken to New York City by her mother.

She and Mrs. Denner hopped a ferry to Bedloe Island to see the statute of liberty. The ferry broke down enroute and it was during the delay that she became acquainted with a bashful Belgian traveler, Christian De Lannoy.

De Lannoy didn't know her full name but he enjoyed her company so much that he wrote to her anyway.

This was the address on the envelope: "To a girl of 17 called Nancy, who returned by plane from New York to Oklahoma City with her mother on Tuesday, November 24, C-O Airport authorities, Oklahoma City."

The strange letter reached Nancy through the cupid-role efforts of airport manager William O. Coleman.

Television cameras clicked and photographers for national magazines popped flash bulbs as Coleman delivered the letter to Nancy.

Nigerian Minister Visiting Here

VISITING in Snyder for about 10 days is the Rev. Samuel Olu Makanjuola, pastor of a Southern Baptist Church in Igede-Ekiti, Nigeria. While in Snyder he is staying at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sears, 3818 Highland Drive. Shown with Rev. Makanjuola here is Mrs. Annie Bailey, Mrs. Sears' mother. They are looking at a book authored by a missionary known by the minister. (Dale Walton photograph)

A Southern Baptist minister from Nigeria is now in Snyder for a visit of about 10 days.

He came here to visit Mrs. Annie Bailey, 3818 Highland Drive, who is a former member of a Sunday school class at the First Baptist Church of Lamesa which helped to finance his way through a seminary and gave other aid. He is a guest here of Mrs. Bailey and her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sears.

The minister is the Rev. Samuel Olu Makanjuola, pastor of a church at Igede-Ekiti, Nigeria. His church is one of two Southern Baptist churches in his hometown.

Membership of Rev. Makanjuola's church is about 280, but it has an average weekly attendance of about 1,000 at services. The church now has nearing completion a $340,000 building, with much of the materials gathered by members, who also furnished much of the labor.

Rev. Makanjuola will speak during a Sunday school general assembly at the First Baptist Church this morning. During the regular morning and evening services, he will be at the Colonial Hill Baptist Church, where the speaker will be the Rev. Thomas Kennedy, a missionary now on furlough from Nigeria. At 3 p.m. today, Rev. Makanjuola will be speaker at a gathering at the Mount Olive Baptist Church. At 7:30 p.m. Monday, he will be speaker furing a Royal Service program of the Women's Missionary Union at the Colonial Hill Baptist Church.

On Wednesday night he will be at the First Baptist Church at Lamesa, and on Sunday he will speak at a Lubbock church and will be a guest there of another of Mrs. Bailey's daughters, Mrs. Vernon Keesee.

Rev. Makanjuola's first contact with Mrs. Bailey was in 1937, while he was in a mission school in Nigeria. He had sought a correspondent in the U. S. and began correspondence with Mrs. Bailey's daughter, now Mrs. Keesee.

Later, after her daughter went to college, Mrs. Bailey continued the correspondence. When he became a minister, Mrs. Bailey was a member of a Sunday school class in Lamesa which "adopted" him and supported him while he was in seminary training and partly when he became a pastor.

Rev. Makanjuola has been in the ministry since 1940. He preached in a leper colony for six years, part of that time being while he was attending seminary, and he rode a bicycle the five miles to the colony. There, he worked with Dr. R. F. Goldie, Southern Baptist missionary from the U. S.

As pastor of the Nigerian church, Rev. Makanjuola works with another Southern Baptist missionary, the Rev. John S. McGee, who sponsored him on his trip to the U. S. this year to attend the Southern Baptist seminary at Louisville, Ky. He attended there during one term this summer and will continue there until next May. He will then go on a three-months tour of the U. S. Rev. McGee is missionary for a district which includes Rev. Makanjuola's hometown, a city of about 70,000 people.

Now 42, Rev. Makanjuola is married and has five children. One of his sons is named Bailey, after his friend, Mrs. Bailey. His wife is also a seminary graduate.

Rev. Makanjuola was most impressed with the numerous automobiles and heavy traffic in the U. S., far different from his homeland, he said.

Mrs. Bailey, a resident of Snyder about three years, is a registered nurse at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

MOVED HERE FROM SWEETWATER is the area Army Recruiting Service office, which will be headed by Sfc. James A. Boone. Boone has been in the military service since he was 15. (Dale Walton photograph)

HEADQUARTERS HERE

Area Recruiting Station Moved

The Army Recruiting Service has moved its area recruiting station from Sweetwater to Snyder.

The new fulltime recruiting station here is located on the third floor of the courthouse.

In charge of the station is Sfc. James A. Boone, who was formerly in charge of the Brownwood recruiting station. His move here was effective Thursday.

Boone and his family live at 1102 Twenty-eighth Street. The Boones have five children, Freda, 10, Virgil, 9, Prentice, 7, Wanda, 4, and Rocky, 9 months.

The Army now has the only fulltime recruiting station in Snyder. Other recruiters, those for the Navy, Air Force, and Marines, are in Snyder regularly and will probably use the office as a headquarters while here, Boone said. He added that any persons desiring to contact any of the other recruiters could call him and he would get in touch with them. The recruiting office will have a telephone connected this week.

The recruiter added that he will be in Snyder on Mondays, Thursdays, Saturday, and Sunday. He will be in Roby and Rotan on Tuesdays, Colorado City on Wednesday, and Sweetwater on F[illegible]. When not in his office he ca[illegible] contacted at home, he sai[illegible]

Last year at Brownwo[illegible] Boone had a quota of 51 recruits, and he enlisted 103. He won a new Army dress blue uniform for more than doubling his quota.

Boone first entered the service Sept. 8, 1944, at the age of 15. That time it was the Navy. He was discharged in 1948 and enlisted in the Army. He saw action both during World War II and the Korean conflict.

Just before going on recruiting duty slightly more than a year ago, Boone was first sergeant for the headquarters Yukon detachment at Fairbanks.

While in the Army, Boone has completed three years of high school and one year of college.

His Things Really Jump

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Six times in the past month the C. A. Wilkinson's clock jumped off its perch.

Electrical plugs popped from the sockets as soon as they were inserted. An electric hand sweeper took off on zig-zag forays through the house. The motor in the refrigerator blew out twice. The new electric organ rumbled deep in its innards, even when it wasn't plugged in.

Wilkinson isn't certain yet but he believes a nearby transformer is leaking and has set up a magnetic field around the house.

He tore down a section of heavy wire fence around the yard and dug up some water pipes.

That seems to have stopped the trouble.

Newspaper May Even Get To Smell Good

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the not-too-distant future your favorite newspaper may not only read well but smell good too.

The Printing Industries Assn. of Los Angeles says it is now possible to print food ads that smell like fried chicken and wedding announcements that have the scent of orange blossoms.

The PIA said more than 120 distinct aromas can now be incorporated into modern printing procedures.

Drumers Warned To Eat Before Beating

OTOE, Okla. (AP) — A warning for drummers to "eat well before using" went along with a huge tom-tom members of the Ponca Indian tribe gave the Otoe tribe.

The drum will accommodate 40 beaters simultaneously.

Perry LeClair, president of the Ponca Indian tribal council, told Otoe leaders: "Vibrations from the drum will shake the stomach and anyone who applies himself to the drum on an empty stomach will be nauseated."

Railroad Is Sued Here

A personal injury suit for $46,025 has been filed in civil district court here against the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway.

The case is styled Don Page and others vs. RS&P.

The suit grew out of a collision of the Page automobile and an RS&P engine last March 24.

RAYBURN USES PERSUASION

State Reservoir Bill Got Big Shove

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Rep. Alger (R-Tex) said today the 32-million dollar San Angelo, Tex., reservoir Authorization Bill passed the House Wednesday only because Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) personally persuaded a dozen opponents to reverse their votes.

Discussing the proposal in his weekly newsletter, Alger said he voted against it as a "raid on the federal grab bag." Referring to Rep. Fisher (D-Tex), as its author and to Rayburn Alger said:

"The project sponsor, who sincerely believes it necessary and worth-while for his district, is an esteemed and admired fellow Texas colleague and after all, this is a Texas project, an opportunity to get back some of the money we send to Washington. Should I please my colleague and help get this project for Texas, regardless of my better judgment?

"Many voted for the bill because they liked the congressman, even though they disapproved the project...

"Speaker Sam Rayburn succeeded in carrying the day by getting 12 members to change their votes, and the bill passed 189 to 202.

"As one member put it, 'it being a rather tight vote, with the opposition having an apparent majority, I noted the speaker going down on the floor talking earnestly to some of the members of his party and then I observed 12 members getting up and going down into the well and changing their votes on the motion to commit from aye to nay—a change of 24 on the roll call, with the result that again Texas is in line for a federal hand-out for 30 million dollars, only one half of which will ever be returned.'

"Now the speaker and all the bill's supporters must open the grab bag for everyone else if they would be consistent. Where now is government economy and 'cut the budget'? Well, that's how it's done in Washington. What would you have done in my place?"

Immediately after the motion to recommit failed, the bill passed 201-190.

Rayburn said he had no comment other than to note that Alger was the only Texan to vote against conservation of water in an area where it is desperately needed. Fisher could not be reached.

The legislation now has gone back to the Senate for agreement on minor differences in the two versions. Under it about 7 million dollars is chargeable to San Angelo domestic water supply and 11 million to irrigating 10,000 acres, while about 14 million is not reimbursable to the federal government. Flood control and fish and wildlife features account for most of the federal share of the cost.

It alleges the Varel company tried to hire Stookey, for 14 years a Christiansen employe, in order to establish new plants at Tokyo, Japan, and Oklahoma City.

Three From Dallas Killed In Accident

GREENVILLE, Aug. 3 (AP)—Three Dallas residents were killed today in a train-car collision about 4 miles northeast of here.

Patrolmen identified the dead as Kenneth Swiney, 16, believed to have been the driver, Mrs. Irene Powers Swiney, apparently his mother; and Jerry Lemons, 17.

The accident happened about 1:10 p.m. at a farm road crossing one mile north of Ardis Heights, a Greenville suburb.

Engineer C. D. Farris of Paris told officers he started applying the brakes before reaching the crossing but was unable to stop. The train consisted of only a Diesel locomotive and a caboose. The '57 model coupe was dragged about 235 yards.

Curtain Rod Is Fatal To Woman, 68

WEST BEND, Wis., Aug. 3 (AP)—A 68-year-old woman—who, with her husband, was inadvertently locked out of a summer home—was injured fatally last night when her throat was cut by a curtain rod as she climbed through an upstairs window.

Mrs. Erna Weyland made the climb because her husband, K. G. Weyland, suffers from a heart ailment.

Finding the house locked when they returned from the Dodgers-Braves baseball game at Milwaukee, Mrs. Weyland put up a ladder and wriggled through the window. In the process, she jabbed herself in the throat on some curtain rods stored in the room.

She went downstairs, let her husband in and applied a cold compress to the laceration. Moments later, Weyland said, she complained of having difficulty breathing, then collapsed and died.

Dr. James Albrect, Washington County coroner, said the curtain rod ruptured a blood vessel in her neck.

Work Order On Paving Expected

The Snyder City Council expects to issue work orders for more segments of the current paving program at their regular meeting Monday evening in the city hall.

The council issued work orders on nine units in the program at its July meeting, and several other units are expected to be ready for action at the August session.

Another street project also is on the agenda for Monday night's session, which is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the city hall. Bids will be opened on a proposed seal coat program, which will be financed by bond funds.

The council also will be asked to authorize calls for bids on a cyclone fence to enclose property around the new water tower now under construction in the Cullum Addition, and for pneumatic lift station equipment to be installed on the eight-inch sewer line running east from Towle Memorial Park. Pumps now in use are inadequate to handle the flow in the sewer line.

Two ordinances will be up for their second readings at Monday night's session. One would change the zoning in the area along the Big Spring Highway recently brought into the city limits from an "R-1" zone to a "C-1" zone.

The other would increase the telephone rates in Snyder. The new telephone rates, as provided in the ordinance, will be $11 per month for a one-party business telephone, $5.10 for a one-party residential telephone, $4.35 for a two-party residential telephone and $3.60 for a four-party residential telephone. Charges for local calls on all coin-operated pay telephones in the city will be increased from five cents to 10 cents.

Pilot Has Trouble On Color Ban

LANSING, Mich., Aug. 3 (AP)—Marlon Dewitt Green, a 28-year old ex-Air Force pilot with seven years flying experience, is willing to let other fliers grab the headlines by breaking the sound barrier.

Green, a tall, earnest father of five children, just wants to get a job as a pilot for a regularly scheduled airline.

"But to do it," I've got to be the first to break the color barrier in the air," he said.

Discharged with the rank of captain last May 8, Green logged a total of 3,077 hours of flying time in the Air Force. Now he's logging time job-hunting.

Prospective employers are all enthusiastic at first, Green said. Up until they found out he's a Negro.

"There isn't a single Negro pilot working for a regularly scheduled airline," said Green, now job-hunting from his home in Lansing. "There are a few Negro pilots flying for non-scheduled cargo carriers, and I know of one Negro helicopter trainee in New York. That's it."

Tech Gets Gifts Of Private Documents

LUBBOCK, Aug. 3 — Texas Tech has received a gift of more than 2,000 private documents paralleling America's great historical events from Colonial times to the present.

Signatures of Patrick Henry, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison and James Monroe appear among documents presented to the Southwest Collection by Howard Hampton of Lubbock.

The gift, in a large box covered with an ornate tapestry, consists of private papers of the late Dr. Joseph Miller of Thomas W. Va., an uncle of Hampton.

Weapon From Paint

HIROSHIMA, Japan, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Japanese Coast Guard has come up with a secret weapon against poaching boats — paint. The maritime safety agency said the paint is loaded into a special shell that splatters a high - speed poaching boat so it sticks out like a sore thumb. Patrol boats then sit back and wait for the poacher to run out of gas.

Soap-Maker May Get High Post

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — Neil H. McElroy, 52-year-old Ohio soap manufacturer, was reported under active consideration today for a high government post.

But whether he is slated to succeed Charles E. Wilson as secretary of defense or take over some other job was a matter of conjecture.

Some persons high in government and business reported McElroy was high on the list of those being considered as Wilson's successor, but one top administration official said that was not necessarily the job President Eisenhower has in mind.

This official told a reporter he doubts that any decision has been reached on a new defense secretary. He said McElroy's appointment to a top government job could be expected soon. He ruled out the possibility that it might be to succeed John B. Hollister, who is resigning as foreign aid director.

The Cincinnati Enquirer reported that McElroy, who is president of Proctor & Gamble Co., was due in Washington Monday for conferences about Wilson's job.

McElroy himself was quoted in Cincinnati as saying that "something is under consideration," but that nothing has been settled. McElroy said it is entirely in Washington's hands.

McElroy is known to both Eisenhower and Wilson. He was chairman of a presidential committee on education and has had extensive contact with the government in connection with contracts of his firm.

McElroy joined Procter & Gamble in 1925 and has been president of the big soap manufacturing concern since 1948.

Administration decision on a man to accept a government job is only part of the problem. The second, and often more difficult part is to induce a top executive to abandon a highly paid job in private industry for the $25,000 salary of a Cabinet officer and to dispose of all his stock holdings in any company which does business with the government.

The administration is reported to have encountered more than usual difficulty in interesting business executives in taking over the Pentagon post when it becomes vacant. Earlier this week, Wilson told a news conference that a date for his departure had not been set. There were indications, however, that he might remain until September or October to finish preliminary drafting of the military budget for fiscal 1959—and to help in "on-the-job-training" for his successor.

Search Is Called Off

BARSTOW, Calif., Aug. 3 (AP)—Authorities at George Air Force Base said today they have abandoned a search for a pilot who disappeared July 25 on a flight from Webb Air Force Base at Big Spring, Tex.

They reported the Civil Air Patrol would continue flying search patterns until Sunday midnight in quest of the flier, Lt. Samuel Bacon Jr. A George AFB spokesman said the CAP would cover the area from Daggett east to Needles, Calif., west to El Centro, south to Yuma; thence back to Daggett.

Bacon dropped out of a formation of F100 jet planes over Arizona while returning to George AFB from Webb AFB.

His father, Dr. Samuel Bacon of Hollywood, has offered a $2,500 reward.

Future Too Dismal

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 3 (AP)—Police here are backing up their drive against crime by sending hardened criminals and repeaters to the desolate and steaming Marias Islands off the Pacific Coast. Told he was going to the dread penal colony last week, one of the criminals attempted suicide.

Rainfall Still Most Here Since 1941

For several months now, rainfall for 1957 has been running ahead of any previous year since 1941, and it was still doing so at the end of July.

But probably the most noteworthy thing is that in seven months, 1957 has had more rainfall that the entire 12 months of any of the past six years.

From January through July, rainfall measured in Snyder totaled 19.45 inches, more than twice as much as that for the same period during most of the past several years. For the same period last year, there was a total of 8.10. The total so far is far above the average of 12.21 inches for the first seven months.

The last time there was as much or more rain for this period was 1941, when 28.06 inches fell during the seven months. As little as 5.96 fell during the first seven months of one year, 1951.

Rainfall totals for 12 months were 11.4 in 1956, 17.75 in 1955, 10.36 in 1954, 14.25 in 1953, 15.13 in 1952, and 10.26 in 1951. This year, then, can in no way be compared with any of the six drought years.

Rain during July here totaled 2.93 inches, slightly above the average of 2.1. It was the most July rainfall since two years ago, when 3.21 fell. The 3.21 in July, 1955, however, amounted to more than one-sixth of that which fell during the entire year.

Gov. Daniel To Dedicate New Turnpike

DALLAS, Aug. 3 (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel has accepted an invitation to dedicate the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike Sept. 5

Bert Fields, chairman of the dedication committee for the Texas Turnpike Authority, said:

"The turnpike will already be in public use on dedication day. The super highway will be opened to traffic on Aug. 27."

Crews are pouring concrete on the last fraction of a mile at each end of the 29.6-mile route. Each three-lane roadway is 37 feet wide.

Asphalt shoulders are being laid 10 feet wide on the outside of each roadway and four feet wide on the inside. A 40-foot center dividing strip separates the opposing traffic lanes most of the distance of the turnpike.

More than 1,000 mercury-vapor lights are being installed at the six traffic interchanges and on that part of the route within Dallas and Fort Worth. Twenty miles of steel guard rails are being set in place.

Hotel Night Clerk Stabbed To Death

HOUSTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Mistaken for a burglar, a hotel night clerk was stabbed last night at a hotel.

Arthur Collins, 62, who lives at the hotel, sustained a stomach wound. His condition was fair.

Police arrested and charged George Wheeler, 72, with aggravated assault. Collins told police he was checking two men into a room which he thought was unoccupied. Wheeler had checked into the room earlier, and when he heard someone at his door he said he thought his room was being burglarized.

Not Hardly Worth It

SHERBORNE, England, Aug. 3 (AP)—Firemen and their $15,000 engine were called out today to put out a smudge in the stubble of a corn field. The engine caught fire and was destroyed.

Many Ways For Irrigators To Decide When To Water

Recent showers in this area have brought soil moisture in many fields up to field capacity. On irrigated land, this means it will be some time before the application of irrigation water is resumed at the pace it was going earlier.

Many farmers are wondering about when to start irrigating again, but this is a question which cannot be answered directly, say technicians of the Soil Conservation Service.

The answer depends on several factors. The time to start irrigating depends on how much available moisture is in the soil, the rate of moisture consumption by the crop, and evaporation rates.

Available moisture which can be stored in the soil varies with texture and depth of the soil. Fine-textured soil will hold more moisture per foot than will course soil.

The size and rate of growth of plants will determine the moisture consumption rate. Large plants which are growing rapidly use moisture at a greater rate than do small plants or those which are near maturity.

To determine when to begin applying irrigation water, the farmer should be able to make an accurate estimate of available moisture at any time. This can be made by various methods. There are several electrical and mechanical devices which can be used to determine soil moisture.

One method is in forming a sample of the soil into a ball, after digging a hole beside an average-size plant where roots have removed moisture. The ball can then be squeezed firmly. The hand is then released, and the farmer can observe moisture conditions. On sandy land, it is too wet if the soil tends to stick together. It is ready for irrigation if it appears crumbly and will form only a weak ball. It needs immediate irrigation if it breaks down into a powdery condition.

On mixed land, that which forms a ball and is very pliable is too wet, but that which is somewhat crumbly but will hold together after pressure is ready for irrigation. That which is powdery and dry needs watering immediately.

On heavy or tight land, that which is too wet will form a pliable ball and will ribbon easily between the fingers. It is ready for irrigation when it is somewhat pliable and will ball under pressure. It needs immediate irrigation if it is hard, sometimes having loose crumbs on the surface, and will not form a ball.

Generally, application of irrigation water should be started before the crop needs it, preventing that part of the crop which is watered last from suffering. The first soil irrigated after a rain may not need a very heavy application. The farmer can then start watering again when the first part of the field irrigated previously needs water.

The amount of moisture to allow to be taken from the soil before irrigating can be determined from the type and depth of the soil. The farmer's conservation plan, along with assistance from SCS technicians, will give information on the soil.

REA Meeting Set

Members of the Midwest Electric Cooperative, which covers several counties in this area, including Fisher and Scurry, will hold their annual meeting Thursday and Friday in Roby.

Activities will get underway at 8 p.m. Thursday, with a program primarily for people of Roby. On Friday, registration will begin at 10 a.m. There will be exhibits from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The Stamps Quartet of Dallas will entertain at 11 a.m. and 1:15 p.m.

At 1:45 p.m., there will be the Miss Midwest Electric contest, with contestants from any of the nine counties served by the co-op. Judging will be on beauty, poise, personality, and ability. Contestants must be from 16 to 24. The winner will go to a state contest in San Antonio, and from there the winner will go to the national contest in Dallas.

The business meeting will be at 2:30 p.m. Friday. The electric fair will include a ferris wheel for children, contests, and door prizes of several appliances.

Paying losses is the best part of the insurance business. It's the time when a client remembers the pitch I gave him when I sold him his policy and it's the time he realizes that he didn't do anyone except himself a favor when he bought it. Haven't had a client yet who was unhappy with a loss settlement — don't suppose I will have as long as my customers tell me what they need and I tell them what they bought and we both tell the adjuster what we expect . . . AGRICULTURE

Infestation Of Insects Is Growing Here

Moist conditions this summer are bringing on a sizeable cotton insect infestation in this area, but most farmers would rather poison insects than have no crop, like they had during the drought.

County Agent Oscar Fowler said there is now general infestation of cotton insects throughout Scurry County, although the types of insects are spotted around the county so far.

There is a light infestation of boll worms, a heavy population of cotton leaf worms in some areas, and light to heavy infestation of thrip. There is also a showing of the minor cotton insects.

Fowler said some farmers here have shown concern about the white fly, a very minute insect present in some fields by the thousands which swarm out of weeds and cotton when disturbed. Entimologists say it is never necessary to use control measures for this insect alone, because it causes no serious problems. Usually, when those are present in the fields, there are also other types of insects, and all will be killed by control measures.

While the larger percentage of area farmers are spraying crops to kill insects, some are dusting. There should be little difference in results if the measures are properly carried out, Fowler said, although wind conditions many times are bad here for dusting. An advantage of using the sprayer, Fowler said, is that control measures can still be taken when winds are blowing at 10 to 12 miles per hour. Some farmers have tried dusting with some wind.

There were reports here last week that some dealers here were running short of spraying equipment because of the suddenness of the beginning of control programs.

Some farmers have not yet had to use control measures in their cotton, but the insect infestation can within a few days develop into a county-wide situation.

Most of the cotton in this area is now in the blooming stage, while some still has not reached that point and some has small bolls.

The hot weather during the past few days has made the cotton grow rapidly, and the weather has been healthy for most crops, although it was hard on early feed In spots where there was no rain.

There has been a little hail damage in the county, Fowler said, although apparently no one has lost a crop from hail. Hail was heavy enough in some areas a few days ago to knock some terminal buds out of the tops of cotton, especially east and northeast of Snyder a few miles.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS

SNYDER HIGH SCHOOL'S fourth athlete to be picked to play in the annual Texas schoolboy all-star game, Milton Ham, made a surprise statement moments before he left for Dallas yesterday, scene of the 1957 all-star clash.

Ham's statement went something like this:

"I'm going to hate to give up basketball in college. In fact, I'm not going to give it up if I can help it. I'll be trying for a spot on the TCU football and baseball teams for sure, but of the three sports, I like basketball best."

Coming from one of the finest ends in the history of Snyder High School's athletics, the above statement came as quite a surprise to us.

We believe Ham, everything else being equal, could play Southwest Conference basketball. But college football players don't have a very good chance to make the grade in basketball because of the over-lapping seasons.

Then, too, basketball workouts begin the middle of the fall months and this, of course, puts two strikes against a fellow reporting late to begin with.

Knowing Ham, though, we believe he'll make the grade in the cage sport if given a chance. We haven't seen Milton fail in anything he's gone at yet.

Local Lads Shine In 6-Man Tilt

Coaches, including the entire Tiger staff, are converging on Dallas today for the biggest coaching school in the country.

The center of attraction, of course, are the two all-star games, the basketball tilt Thursday and the football game Friday.

In the meantime, though, there will be the usual "crying towel" sessions and the drive by most of the coaches to put their fellow coaches on the spot for the coming season.

Concerning the latter, Bob Reily, Colorado City mentor, will be given the chance to put other coaches of District 3-AAA on the spot for the '57 campaign.

Reily will be the district's representative at the Triple-A meeting during the school to pick the "favorites" for the season. And Reily is sure to pin the "favorites" tag on either Sweetwater, Lamesa, Lake View or Snyder — and not his own Colorado City Wolves.

It's going to be interesting to learn just what Reily reports at the 3A confab. And the other coaches of the district, John Conley of the Tigers, O. W. Follis of Lamesa, Elwood Turner of Sweetwater and Floyd Elkins of Lake View, will be keeping their fingers crossed in the meantime, hoping they'll escape the "hot" seat.

Almost all other teams in District 3-AAA look better on paper for the '57 season than do the Tigers. The Black and Gold lost all starters but two from last year's team, tackle Billy Phillips and guard Roger Hensley being the two returnees.

We don't have the exact info on the other teams regarding returning regulars but we do know that all will have many more returning than will the Tigers.

The 3A meeting, we believe, is set for Tuesday.

Local Coaches To Dallas

The Texas schoolboy season got its "official" sendoff last Friday night at Abilene where the "Six-Man" all-star game was played. The East, with two area athletes playing leading roles, won over the West, 35-14.

Doyle Hayes on offense and Bernon Etheredge on defense, both of Hobbs, stood out for the winning East team. Hayes scored one of the East touchdowns and kicked two extra points for a total of 10 points.

Etheredge led a strong East line on defense, holding the West to a mere 69 yards rushing.

Cotton Dismore, a fellow who Hobbs fans would like to forget, was the game's outstanding performer. Dismore scored three touchdowns and gained 115 yards rushing.

Dismore led the Norton Eagles to a smashing 61-22 win over Hobbs in bi-district play last fall.

Dismore, although he weighs only about 150 pounds, should make some college a fine ball carrier. Trying to tackle Dismore is just like trying to tackle a "greased pig."

GRID SEASON HERE—Football is the center of attraction in the above photo, such as it will be in Dallas this coming week where the 25th annual Texas High School coaches school will be held. Holding the pigskin in the above picture is Milton Ham, all-state Tiger end last fall, who'll play in the all-star Cotton Bowl. Ham left yesterday for Dallas with the three fellows shown, Jack (Spider) Dillon, Tiger line coach Hal Battle and 7th grade coach Ned Underwood, left to right. Dillon is a former member of the Tiger coaching staff and is now a sporting goods salesman. (Buck Francis photograph)

Cards Win To Hike NL Lead

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3 (AP)—Billy Muffett, making his first major league appearance, twirled four scoreless innings of relief as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated Philadelphia today 3-1. The victory went to $50,000 bonus baby Von McDaniel.

The win meant the Cards grabbed a one-game lead over Milwaukee in the torrid National League race. The triumph was the streaking Red Birds eighth in a row.

The triumph was McDaniel's, although he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the fifth inning when the Cards scored twice, after trailing 1-0.

McDaniel has now won six of eight decisions. Robin Roberts, who won his last two starts, got tagged with the defeat. He is now 8-14.

In the fifth Don Blasingame doubled down the left field line with one out and scored the tying run as Alvin Dark singled for his third straight hit.

Ed Bouchee fielded Stan Musial's high hopper, stepped on first for the out, but then threw wide trying to get Dark at second. Dark made it to third on the miscue.

Then Joe Cunningham, one of the hottest clutch hitters in the majors, drove in Dark with a single to left.

Dodgers Jolt Braves By 7-1

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 3 (AP) — A four-run uprising in the eighth inning and three hitless innings of relief pitching by Ed Roebuck carried the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 7-1 victory over the Milwaukee Braves today before a crowd of 39,368.

The Brooks, bouncing back after last night's 1-0 loss at the hands of Gene Conley, shelled starter and loser Lew Burdette from the mound in the eighth and added two more for good measure off Don McMahon in the ninth.

Roy Campanella's bases loaded single, good for two runs, was the key blow of the four-run rally that shattered a 1-1 tie. It came off McMahon.

The victory, Roebuck's fourth against one defeat, ended the Braves' winning streak at five and Burdette's personal victory string at four. His record now is 9 and 7.

Coaching School Opens Up Today

DALLAS, Aug. 3 (AP)—The vanguard of perhaps the biggest coaching school in history arrived today.

The Texas Coaching School, long known as the world's largest and growing every year, starts Monday.

The high school coaches will hear a week of lectures on tactics in football and basketball from such notables as Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, Bowden Wyatt of Tennessee, Hank Iba of Oklahoma A&M and Milton Jowers of Southwest Texas State.

The clinic, due to attract 2,150, will be climaxed with all-star basketball and football games matching the best schoolboy graduates.

Enrollment reached 2,001 at Lubbock last year.

Wilkinson coaches the nation's top football team. Wyatt had the No. 2 outfit. Iba produces fabulous basketball teams and Jowers has been a consistent developer of colorful and high scoring clubs.

Wilkinson will lecture on the split T formation. Wyatt teaches the single wing.

Oliver Jackson, coach of Abilene Christian College and developer of sprinter Bobby Morrow, will speak on track.

Three hotels are being used for the lectures and meeting places. Facilities of SMU have been turned over to the football and basketball squads.

The 56 football and 24 basketball players arrive Sunday afternoon. Two of the coaches already are here. Chuck Moser of Abilene, who has a 37-game winning streak going and who has produced the last three AAAA state champions, will handle the North all-stars. Bill Stages of Corpus Christi Ray, who has built a great record and put his team in the finals last fall against Abilene, will coach the South. Moser will use the split T. Stages will use the multiple T.

The all-star football game will be at the Cotton Bowl Friday night with 20,000 or more fans expected.

The basketball teams will have coaches Clifton McNeely of Pampa for the North and M. H. Robinson of Buna for the South. This game is scheduled Thursday night in the big, new, air-conditioned coliseum at SMU where 7,600 can be seated. A sell-out is expected.

Coaches will be here from Texas and 12 other states and Mexico. Negro high schools will be represented by 30 coaches.

Scott Takes Lead In 'Round Robin'

Donald Ray Scott, the current city champion, took a commanding lead in the "Round Robin" tournament at the Snyder Country Club this past week with an "8-up" victory over Wayne Boren.

Scott, thus, grabbed a seven point lead in the Championship Flight. Max Milam, who defeated Dr. R. J. Kidd, 1-up, is the second high pointer in the title flight with plus one.

Another "Championship Flight" match played last week, Shelby Coker and Jimmy Cloud, finished all square. Young Cloud got an eagle on 17 and birdie on 18 to draw even with Coker.

One match still remains to be played in the Championship Flight, Manning Davis vs. John Pickering.

All matches have been completed in the First and Second Flights. Results of these matches were:

FIRST FLIGHT

Wayne Boren beat Jack Fish, 2-up.

C. V. McClatchy beat Gene Bruton, 2-up.

John Lynch beat Hollis Jones, 1-up.

Don Midgley beat Ken Sewell, 4-up.

SECOND FLIGHT

Harold Lacik beat Sam Parrish, 3-up.

Doc Weaver beat Ross Carroll, 3-up.

Ed Free beat Howard Vanhook 2-up.

Dan Warren beat Jeston Corbell, 2-up.

Play in the other four flights is incomplete. Today is the deadline for playing first round matches.

Snyder Pony 9 To Meet Borger

Snyder drew Borger in the first round of the district tournament for Pony League All-Stars which will start Monday in Abilene.

The locals and Borger clash at 6:15 p.m. Monday at Abilene's Pony League Park.

Breckenridge and Pampa will open play Monday at 4:00 p.m. with Abilene to play the winner of Hamlin and Childress in the final game Monday. Hamlin and Childress met last night for the area championship and a right to compete in the district tournament.

Officials of the competing teams met in Abilene yesterday to draw up the tournament schedule. Winner of the tournament will gain a spot in the regional tournament slated for Lubbock week after next.

Snyder reached the district tournament by vitue of a series sweep over Colorado City for the area championship, 5-0 and 11-5.

The locals gained the finals last year only to lose to Abilene in the finals.

This year's tournament, as it was last year, will be a double-elimination affair.

John Weaver, if he has recovered sufficiently from an ankle injury he received in the Colorado City series, will likely open on the mound for Snyder in Monday's game against Borger.

Weaver hurled a 4-hit shutout in the opening game of the Colorado City series.

They are Tommy Bolt of Los Angeles, National PGA Champion Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, N.Y., Ed Furgol of St. Andrews, Ill., and Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio.

Syracuse University has played intercollegiate basketball for 56 years.

Sievers' Blast Wins In 17th

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—A booming home run by Roy Sievers in the last half of the 17th inning handed Washington a 4-3 victory over Detroit today.

It was the sixth straight game in which Sievers homered and tied an American League record set by Ken Williams of the St. Louis Browns in 1922 and equalled by Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees in 1931.

Sievers' 30th homer off reliever Al Aber boosted him into a tie with Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox for the American League home run lead. No Washington player has ever won the league home run title.

Sievers also broke the Senators' home run mark for the fourth straight season. In 1954 when he first joined the club, Sievers hit 24 to eclipse Zeke Bonura's record of 22, set in 1933. In 1955, Sievers hit 25 and last year 29.

Big Spring Wins LL Tourney Here

Big Spring National using the "big inning" as their main weapon for the second straight game, captured the District 2 Little League championship here Friday afternoon with a smashing 14-3 victory over Midland Central.

Big Spring broke the game wide open in the fourth inning with a nine-run uprising that put the game hopelessly out of reach of the Midlanders. It was a 3-2 game up to this point with Big Spring out front.

The Big Spring Nationals only the night before, had erupted to score eight runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to edge Colorado City, 9-8, in the first round of the tournament.

Midland took a 2-0 lead in the first inning of Friday's game but Big Spring bounced back to go ahead 3-2 in the second. Then came the big fourth inning of the Big Springers to put the game on ice.

Bill Andrews, Gene Lamb and DeRoby Gartmen led the Big Spring attack, each getting three hits. Lee Helis got two of Midland's four hits.

Jeff Brown went the distance for Big Spring to pick up the win. Brown, in addition to holding Midland to four hits, struck out nine and walked five.

Big Spring goes to Abilene Monday to compete in the Sectional Tournament.

Pirates Fire Bobby Bragan; Danny Murtaugh Is Hired

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (AP)—Outspoken Bobby Bragan today was replaced as manager of the lowly Pittsburgh Pirates by an interim pilot, Coach Danny Murtaugh, "for the good of the team, now, and in the future."

After his firing in the wee hours of the morning, Bragan showed up for breakfast with the man who dismissed him, General Manager Joe L. Brown, and Murtaugh. The trio posed pleasantly for pictures and then Bragan said:

"I had a lot of jobs in baseball. I'd be real bitter about losing, but I can't say the same about this one.

"It's a result of the oldest rule in the book—when the team doesn't win, the manager has to go—so I'm going.

"Brown felt it was time to change. It was obvious that our approach to the game clashed in many instances."

Murtaugh, who is 39 as is Bragan, was named to finish the season as Pirate manager after another Buc coach, Clyde Sukeforth, turned it down.

Murtaugh, who had minor league managerial stints with New Orleans of the Southern Assn., and Charleston, W. Va., of the American Assn., was Bragan's third base coach. Other Buc coaches, besides Sukeforth are Sam Narron and Lenny Levy.

Bragan's umpire-baiting, which was climaxed Wednesday night with his "orange pop" incident at Milwaukee, was not believed to have figured prominently in his dismissal. The next day, National League President Warren C. Giles fined Bragan $100 and threatened indefinite suspension if Bobby's clowning continued.

"There were a number of general reasons Bragan was released," Brown explained.

Bragan was in his second year of Pirate managing, last season causing a flurry of excitement when the Bucs got off to a torrid start and led the league as late as June 17.

This year, however, the Bucs seemed unable to improve their cellar-twin role with the Chicago Cubs and Bragan frequently spoke sharply of Pirate front office policies.

Bragan planned to leave for Pittsburgh by plane tonight and then take his wife and two children to Fort Worth, Tex.

Pancho Gives Hoad Another Licking

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3 (AP)—Rookie Lew Hoad flunked another chance to win a singles match in the $10,000 Masters Round Robin pro tennis tournament today when big Pancho Gonzales gave him a straight-set drubbing.

Gonzales won 6-3, 6-2 for his second straight victory over Hoad—the Australian amateur star who received $125,000 from promoter Jack Kramer to turn pro. It was Hoad's eighth straight loss in the pro ranks. He meets Tony Trabert tomorrow.

Hermleigh 9 Wins 6-4 Over Furnituremen

Hermleigh got back in the running for the second half crown in the second half of the City League race Friday night with a 6-4 victory over Snyder Furniture.

The win evened Hermleigh's second half record at 1-1 and in so doing she pulled into a two-way tie for second place in the standings with the Blue Sox.

Hermleigh won Friday's game the hard way, scoring three runs in the seventh to erase a 4-3 deficit.

Shortstop Bill Voss drove in the tieing run in the seventh and catcher Densil Kight singled in Bill Houston with the go-ahead run. Hermleigh got an insurance marker via an error.

Snyder Furniture, blanked for five innings on three hits by Ted Masters, broke loosed in the sixth to score all her runs to wipe out a 3-0 Hermleigh lead.

A two-run double by catcher Glen "Yogi" Cavitt featured the Snyder Furniture rally.

Kight of Hermleigh and Joe Reaves of Snyder FURURE WERE NIT ves of Snyder Furniture were the Top hitters in the game, each collecting two hits.

Tim Roberts had a one-hitter working until the seventh inning for the Furniture nine. Loose play afield by the Furnituremen, however, led to the three Hermleigh runs through the first six frames, all three tallies being unearned.

Roberts gave up a walk to Jeston Corbell and a single to Bill Houston to open the seventh and was releived by Lee Gatewood. Corbell scored on Bill Voss' fielder's choice and after Gatewood got Bermon Corbell on a pop fly and Doug Chitsey on a strikeout, Kight singled to score Houston with the winning run.

Girls Invitational Tourney Set Here

The 2nd annual Snyder Invitational girls softball tournament will be unreeled this week with at least six teams, possibly eight, to take part.

Local officials were awaiting word last night from teams from Sweetwater and Stanton who are tentatively slated to enter. If both come in the field will include eight teams.

The six teams already entered are Bronte, Coahoma, Hermleigh, Snyder Texettes, Snyder girls all-star team and the Snyder Colored team.

If Sweetwater and Stanton enter, then the tournament will get underway Tuesday. Otherwise the tourney will start Thursday. In either case, the tournament will wind up Saturday night.

All games will be played at Little League Park.

The Texettes are the defending champions. The Texettes edged Woody Tire of Lubbock in the finals last year, 8-7, scoring three runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to turn the trick.

Two of the teams entered, the Snyder all-stars and Hermleigh all-stars, are made up of teenage girls picked from the Scurry County Girls League.

Grim Saves Game For Yankees, 5-3

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—Air tight relief pitching by Bob Grim in the ninth inning saved a 5-3 victory for the New York Yankees over Cleveland today as homers by Gil McDougald and Hank Bauer powered the league leaders to their sixth straight win.

Grim replaced Johnny Kucks with two men on base and nobody out in the ninth. The Yanks' fine bullpen pitcher made Rocky Colavito foul out and retired pinch hitters Bob Lemon and Dick Williams on fly balls to the outfield.

Art Ditmar was breezing along in steady fashion with a three-run edge over 37-year-old Early Wynn in the 90-degree heat when he suddenly weakened in the eighth.

Ditmar had retired 10 Indians in a row when Hal Naragon, batting for Wynn, singled to left with one out in the eighth. Joe Caffie, a rookie recently recalled from Buffalo, followed with a single to right. After Al Smith walked to fill the bases, Ditmar gave way to Johnny Kucks.

Gene Woodling, an ex-Yank bounced a single to right driving in both Naragon and Caffie and cutting the Yanks' lead to 4-3. ith Smith on third and Woodling on first, Kucks made both Vic Wertz and Roger Maris loft high infield pops.

Bosox Jar Chisox, 8-7

BOSTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Jimmy Piersall keyed Boston's 8-7 victory over Chicago today with a tie-breaking, two-run single as the Red Sox withstood three rallies and produced a pair of vital put-outs at home plate.

The loss dropped the second-place Chicagoans six games behind New York, which defeated Cleveland 5-3.

Southpaw Dean Stone, third Boston reliever in the inning, halted the final Chicago bid a run short in the ninth when Nellie Fox popped to Billy Consolo in short left.

After Piersall's blow touched off a five-run Red Sox eighth, the Pale Hose filled the bases with none out in the ninth and scored four times on a bases-loaded walk, two infield outs and a double by Luis Aparicio.

The Red Sox snapped a 3-3 deadlock in the eighth when Consolo walked, Sammy White doubled him to third and pinchhitter Norm Zauchin was hit by a pitch to fill the bases.

Antonelli Stars In Giant Win

CINCINNATI, Aug. 3 (AP)—Johnny Antonelli, the seventh New York pitcher, won his own game today with an 11th-inning home run which gave the Giants a 5-4 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Antonelli had entered the game in ninth after the Giants rallied for three runs in the eighth to work their way into a 4-4 tie.

The seven pitchers used by the Giants were only one less than the National League record for one club in one game.

Willie Mays' two home runs had been the big factors in keeping the Giants in the game prior to Antonelli's blast. Wally Post also homered for the Reds.

Ruben Gomez, usually a tough pitcher for the Reds to handle, lasted only until the second inning.

Pan Am Games Are Awarded To Chicago

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Aug. 3 (AP) — The third Pan American Games, in 1959, were awarded to Chicago tonight. The Pan American Games committee cast 13 votes for Chicago and six for Sao Paulo, Brazil. The games originally were scheduled for Cleveland.

Cleveland was forced to give the games back to the Pan American Committee when it was unable to obtain financial assistance from the federal government.

Several cities were thought to be in the running after Cleveland withdrew. They too were sidelined by financial problems. The field finally was narrowed to Chicago and Sao Paulo.

Wagar, Rhodes Win Bridge Championship

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Wagar of Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. Kay Rhodes of New York, won their third straight National Women's Pair Championship of Contract Bridge today. The defending champions scored 476 points to top a field of 108 qualified pairs in the final session.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

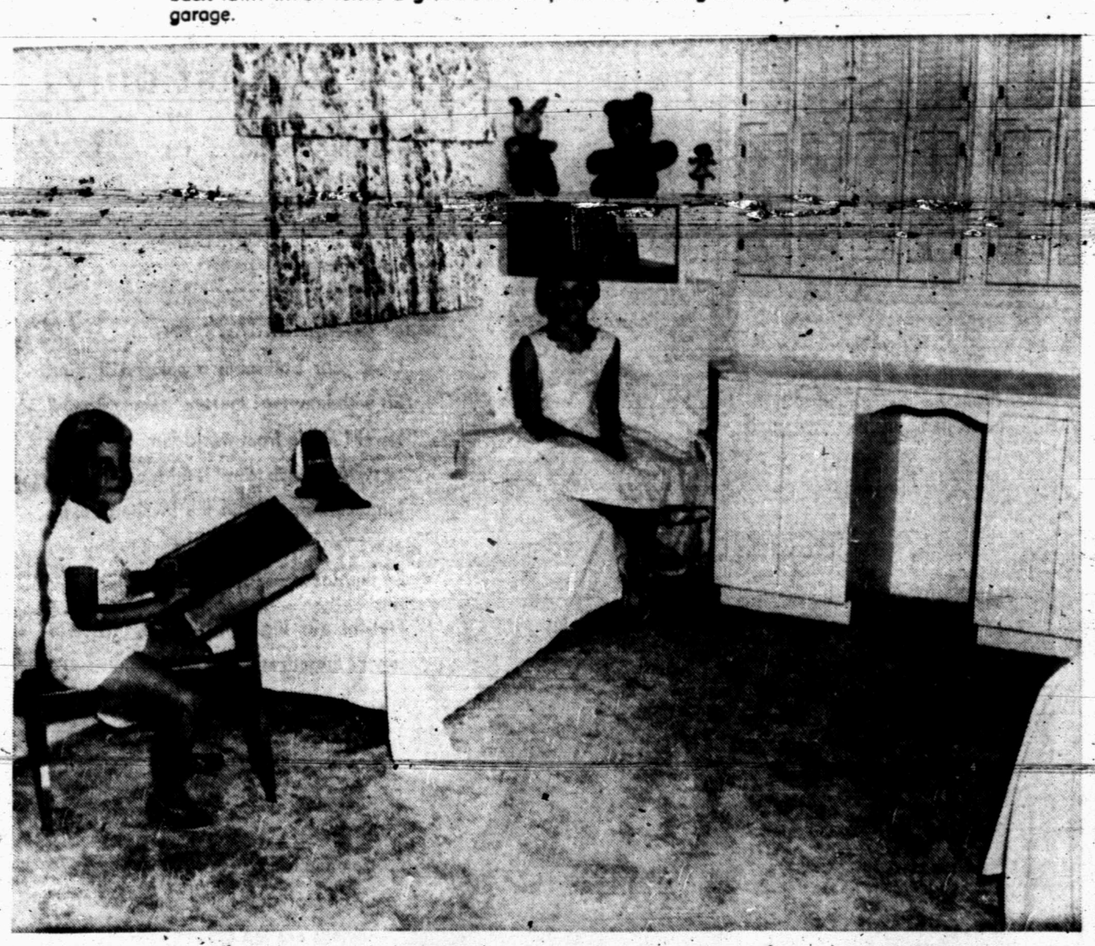

VOL. 8 NO. 82 | SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, AUGUST 4, 1957 | SECTION B

Mrs. Lyle Alexander and 11-year-old daughter, Terry, are pictured above in the natural-finished birch kitchen of the Lyle Alexander's new home at 2704 Thirty-fifth Street. All electric appliances are featured in the modern kitchen which opens into the dining room on one side, and the family room on the other.

The Lyle Alexander family are pictured above on spacious patio of their new home. The cool patio is shaded by the house from the afternoon sun, and looks out on the back lawn which forms a green back-drop for the curving driveway to the two-car garage.

Six-year-old Anne Alexander is shown at a black-board in her twin-bed room while her older sister, Terry, 11, perches on one of the beds. Pinks were used in the color scheme of Anne's bedroom, while blue was used in Terry's, and turquoise and white was used in the master bedroom. Solid white tile in the master bathroom gives a surprisingly cooling and peaceful effect.

Mrs. Lyle Alexander serves her husband a cup of coffee in the family room of the new Mexican Adobe brick home at 2704 Thirty-fifth Street here. The house was designed by Alexander and built by privately hired construction crews, with the family overseeing construction. The adobe brick were used in the huge fireplace in the family room, and in one wall of the living room. The Alexanders moved into the new home only a few weeks ago, having formerly resided seven miles north of town on the Clairemont Road. (Lee Watson photographs)

Lyle Alexanders In New Home

The main dining room of the new Alexander home is either part of the living room or separate—merely by opening or closing a sliding partition. Terry above places a centerpiece on the Early American dining table. The entire house, except the kitchen and family room, is carpeted in a champagne carpet.

IN DOUBLERING RITES

Miss Joan Ford Wed In Church Here

The First Baptist Church was the setting Tuesday evening for the marriage of Joan Ford and Glen Hoyle Holladay.

The Rev. G. M. Cole, pastor of the church, officiated at the doubleing ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kelton Ford of La Paris. The bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Glen Holladay.

Vows were repeated before a nupital background of greenery crowned with a tan arrangement of white gladioli and shasta daisies, flanked by white branched candleabra holding white wedding tapers.

White satin bows marked the family pews.

Mrs. Carolyn Smith, organist, played "Indian Love Call" and "Oh, Promise Me" before the ceremony. She accompanied Mrs. Betty Cox of Ira as she sang "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of French illusion net and lace of white over white satin. The elongated bodice of lace was fashioned with a lace-eiched portrait neckline and scalloped brief sleeves. Her French illusion fingertip veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones.

The bride carried a crescent bouquet of red sweetheart roses and satin streamers tied with love knots atop a white Bible. For the Traditional something old, she wore a penny in her shoe, something new was a string of pearls, a gift from the groom. Something blue was a garter and something borrowed was a white Bible.

The bride's attendants wre Doris Rollins, matron of honor, Barbara Martin, bridesmaid, and Wanda [illegible].

The attendants wore identical waltz-length dresses of light blue dotted Swiss nylon with full skirts over ice blue taffeta. They carried colonial boutquets of white carnations sprinkled with silver and showered with blue and white streamers matching their skirts in color.

Mrs. Ford, mother of the bride wore navy blue with white accessories. Mrs. Holladay, mother of the bridegroom, wore beige embroidered linen with white accessories. Both wore pink carnations.

Hal Holladay, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Weldon Ford, Joe Rollins and Ferry Ford were groomsmen. Candlelighters were Joe Rollins and Weldon Ford, brother of the bride.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church. The bride's table was laid with an imported Irish linen cloth over blue and centered with the attendants' bouquets. Mrs. Weldon Ford served the wedding cake. Doris Rollins and Barbara Martin presided at the punch bowl. Kay Helen Ford registered guests.

After the reception the couple left on a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M.

For traveling the bride wore a black sheath dress and jacket with three-quarter length sleeves. Her accessories were white and the sweetheart rose corsage was taken from her bouquet.

The couple will be at home at 505 Thirty-third Street. Mr. Holladay is employed by the Western Co. He is a 1954 graduate of Snyder High School, and attended Texas Tech.

The bride attended Ira High School, where she was a member of the basketball team.

Among those from out of town here for the wedding were relatives from San Angelo, Abilene, Sweetwater and Carlsbad, N.M.

DATE DATA

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

Dear Miss Brandow:

My next door neighbor has two little girls, both of whom are under three years of age. I keep them a lot while their parents work.

My boy friend says I shouldn't keep them unless I am paid. How can I suggest they pay me?

Sylvia

Your boy firnd is right. "The laborer is worthy of his hire."

Are you being paid in any way? Perhaps they do favors for you that are just as nice as your babysitting. Maybe babysitting is your way to repay them for their generosity in giving you presents, taking care of your dog while you went on vacation etc.

If not, and you wish to earn some money, manage to be conveniently busy when they phone, but negotiate with other parents to keep their offspring on an hourly basis. Set rates of so much per child and so much extra for feeding them, washing dishes etc., with discounts if raiding the refrigerator is permitted.

Soon your neighbors may be offering you that folding stuff, too, for your times.

Dear Miss Brandow:

My boy friend gave me a jewel box I don't like. May I exchange it for something else?

Sue

You had better not if you care about keeping his friendship. Look at it this way. He didn't have to give you anything. If he hadn't you wouldn't have anything to exchange. But he did give you something, so you're just that much ahead of the game. You have something instead of nothing, so don't complain.

If you exchange it, he'll be sorry he gave you a present you didn't like and he may not be inclined to give you another. Praise his thoughtfulness and keep the gift. It's good strategy, and it will make him happy.

Mrs. Coldewey enplaned in Midland for New York. From there she was to fly directly to Frankfurt, Germany, where a group of friends were to meet her.

The group plans to make an automoble tour of several points in Europe. Mrs. Coldeway plans to return in about three weeks.

25 YEARS AGO

(Taken from the files of the Scurry County Times, Aug. 4, 1932)

Barbecued kid meat was only one feature of the annual entertainment held by a few Murphy and Knapp families for some of their Snyder friends Wednesday. Other mid-day features included iced tea, watermelon, chicken salad, pickles, pie, cake, vegetables of various kinds, and other palate teasers.

* * *

Surveyors continue to run lines in and around Snyder for the proposed construction work on Highway No. 7. The crew of five men ran lines up to the local square last week, and have done considerable work south of the Santa Fe and RS&P tracks.

* * *

The good old yarn about the hottest day in the hottest month in the hottest year has been retold countless times in Scurry County within the past month. All thermometers were agreed that Tuesday was the scorchingest day of 1932, with the mercury going to as high as 107 degrees in unsheltered places.

* * *

Peace hovered over the Saturday session of the Scurry County Democratic convention. The Ferguson-Sterling issue was entirely omitted, and the harmonious group selected delegates to the state convention, transacted other business and retired with a prediction from President F. I. Townsend that this will be a Democratic year.

The Bon-Ton Cafe, west of the square, placed its name before the public in large red letters Wednesday, when a lengthy sign was placed over the sidewalk in front of the eats house.

Three packages of The Times, mailed Thursday afternoon of last week for distribution at Hermleigh and on the two Hermleigh routes Friday morning, failed to reach their destination until the news they contained was as out-of-date as Hoover prosperity.

WORKING at the sewing machine in the clothing workshop at Fluvanna for 4-H girls is Gwen Landrum. The girls will enter their dresses in a dress review, which will be held Aug. 10.

GIRLS at Fluvanna will hold their last session Tuesday of a four week workshop on dress construction. They are 4-H girls or 10 to 12 years old. Shown here at work, left to right, are Sue Herring, Mary Ellen Ainsworth, Mrs. Wayland Mathis, 4-H leader, and Gwen Landrum. (Ruby Butts photographs)

4-H Clothing Workshop Held

Clothing workshops for younger 4-H Club girls are nearing a close as girls from about 10 to 12 work on making dresses.

One such workshop is being held at Fluvanna, where five girls have been working a day each week on construction of dresses.

Working with the girls are Mrs. Wayland Mathis, 4-H leader, and Mrs. Joe Landrum. The two women attended two training schools in the county home demonstration office prior to the workshop to learn how to give step-by-step instructions in methods of making dresses.

Every girl's mother has been at the Fluvanna workshop for every meeting so far, and they have said they are also learning something along the line of approved methods for dress construction.

Miss Ruby Butts, county home demonstration agent, told of one of the Fluvanna girls after she attended one of the sessions there. The girl, she said, was working on sewing darts in a blouse and had ripped them out and started over three times. She was not discouraged, and she was doing a good job the fourth time.

The girls take sandwiches and punch for an afternoon party during the workshop.

The girls will enter their dresses by Aug. 8 in a dress review which will be held Aug. 10.

MOTHERS of all the Fluvanna girls have attended every session o fthe 4-H clothing workshop there. Among them was Mrs. Lloyd Ainsworth, shown here with her daughter, Mary Ellen Ainsworth.

Paris Mannequin Will Show Fashions During World Trip

PARIS, (AP)—A dark, sloe-eyed Paris mannequin with tip-tilted nose has started a trip around the world to show French fashions.

Fabienne, star mannequin for Carven, took an 80-piece ward-robe in 20 striped cabin trunks when she sailed recently aboard the Liberte.

According to Madame Jeanne Carven, she picked Fabienne as her fashion ambassadress to celebrate the 10th anniversary of her job with the house. The mannequin left several years ago when she married French movie director Bernard Borderie, and appeared in several films. Now divorced, she was returned to modeling.

She will wear creations mostly in cotton in the Bermudas, Havanna, Mexico and Acapulco, reverting to dressier silks for the United States, Honolulu, Hong-Kong, Singapore, Colombo, and finally Rome. The whole tour will take two and a half months.

* * *

While the number of top-flight Paris high fashion houses continues to shrink (latest fatality: Fath), smart boutiques flourish and multiply.

Latest to open is Jean Lefebure, a former partner of Henry a la Pensee for some 30 years.

The Lefebure salons feature mostly day dresses and suits, described as "high luxury ready-to-wear." Prices run from about $40 for a simple jersey dress to about $200 for a washable kid leather coat. Knitwear is a specialty, and has a wonderfully casual air.

The owner's wife helps to design the clothes. Original costume jewelry, bags and little hats also are offered, some for a few thousand francs.

Lefebure is on the Rue du Cirque, between the Faubourg St-Honore and Champs-Elysee gardens.

* * *

The spreading fashion empire of Christian Dior has just grown a little bigger with the opening of a Dior ready-to-wear shoe shop here, at the same time the first non-custom-made Dior shoes went on sale in America.

This new boutique specializees in pumps and sandals in white satin, to be dyed to any color the customer wants.

Evening shoes run to demi-Louis XV heels, while afternoon footwear appears with pointed toes and tall, thin heels. Both American and French fittings are available.

This may be partly an answer to the Paris shops which have started importing Italian, American and English shoes of late.

Sprinkle Gadget

A new dry and steam iron has a built in sprinkler system for speeding up ironing chores. All you do is press down the little spray button at any time the iron is steaming. It will send out a sprinkling mist of water to wet cloth.

Imported Garbage

STRATFORD, Ont. (AP)—City engineer complained to the Board of Works Committee that persons from outside the city, visiting friends or relatives in Stratford, bring their garbage along to be picked up by city garbage men.

Vatican City covers an area of slightly less than 110 acres.

Newlyweds Are At Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Fikes are at home at 805 Twenty-fifth Street following their recent marriage.

Mrs. Fikes is the former Gladys Barton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Barton, 1401 Twentieth Street. Mr. Fikes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Fikes, Sr., 811 Twenty-third Street.

The wedding took place on July 20 at 8 p.m. in the home of the bridegroom's parents. The bride was attended by Miss Faydell Fikes, sister of the bridegroom. Frankie Barton, the bride's brother, was best man.

The Rev. W. L. Cass, pastor of the Greenhill Baptist Church, performed the ceremony.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Fikes home. The bride's colors of pink and white were carried out in decorations.

The couple returned recently from a short wedding trip to New Mexico.

Ira 4-H Club Meets At Neta Erwin Home

A demonstration on selecting accessories was given in a meeting last week of the Ira 4-H club at the home of Neta Erwin at Cuthbert.

Members attending, in addition to Neta, were Carolyn Clark, Linda Byars, Patsy Jones, Jean Byars, Sharon Rollins and Joy Sterling. 4-H mothers who attended were Mrs. Cecil Erwin, Mrs. Jim Sterling and Mrs. Luther Rollins.

Visitors were Nita Ann Bowen, Laura Lee Rollins and Susie Rollins.

USE SMALL QUANTITY

How To Make Perfect Jelly

IT'S JELLY-MAKING time, and here are some tips tested by experts to make the task easier and the results perfect every time.

It is best to work with a small quantity of juice when making jelly. Two quarts of juice is a sufficient quantity to handle at one time. Best results are obtained in jelly making when only small amounts of juice are used.

Do not mash fruit if you wish to have a clear jelly.

The bag through which fruit is strained should never be squeezed, for clear juice can be obtained only when juice is extracted by dripping.

Paraffin wax can be shaved into the bottom of jelly glasses before the hot jelly is poured into them and it will rise to the top of the glass and cover the top of the jelly.

Dip a spoon into the jelly when it is cooking, taking out a little jellly, cool slightly and allow jelly to drop from the side of the spoon. If it sheets and tears off from the spoon in pieces the jelly is done.

If you prefer to melt your paraffin and pour it over the jelly, a small pitcher or teapot is a good thing to use, as the spout is handy for pouring the wax.

Just before the paraffin hardens on your glasses of jelly, lay a clean length of heavy white crochet thread across the top with an inch or so over both sides. This will make the removing of the wax easy. After the wax has hardened fold the loose ends back over the top of the wax then seal the jar with a tin lid. When you open the jelly just take hold of each end of the string and lift out the hardened disc of wax.

If acid is lacking in fruit juices, one tablespoon of lemon juice added to one cup of fruit juice will help the fruit juice to jell.

In extracting fruit juices, just enough water to prevent sticking should be used in boiling soft fruits. For hard fruits, cook with enough water to cover until the fruit is soft.

Things About Gone Too Far On 'Diet Merry-Go-Round'

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Things have gone far enough in the diet merry-go-round, it seems to me, when a little girl writes her mother from summer camp:

"Dear Mummy. Please send me some sunflower seeds and wheat germ. All they give you here for breakfast is gooey sweet rolls."

This product of our modern age is Pamela Stark, 11-year-old daughter of Wilbur Stark and Kathi Norris, TV producing-editing team currently involved with a Saturday show called True Story. Mummy Kathi is a lissome Irish colleen with a 21-inch waist who looks like a debutante despite the fact that she has three children —5-year-old Bradley and year-old Kitty, in addition to Pamela. All three have been raised on such things as raw vegetables and molasses, which they prefer to marshmallow fudge sundaes.

There is no doubt that the Stark children, as well as Mom and Pop, are all healthy and handsome examples of the ideal young American looking fondly at an insurance policy or piling into a new car in four-color slick-paper magazine ads. The question that worries me is—are they missing any fun?

There are others, it seems, who have a similar feeling of panic when confronted with some of the currently fashionable facets of modern living. Take Jean Kerr, for instance, who has a piece in the current issue of Harper's Magazine entitled "Aunt Jean's Marshmallow Fudge Diet," in which she issues a personal declaration of independence against all fad diets, including the latest one consisting of mother's milk. Mrs. Kerr, author, playwright and wife of New York drama critic Walter Kerr, says she has noted that most of the recent divorcees of her acquaintance are thin as rails, and continues:

"What actually holds a husband through thick and thin is a girl who is fun to be with. And any girl who has had nothing to eat since 9 o'clock this morning but three hard-boiled eggs will be about as jolly and companionable as an income tax inspector."

KINDLE ROMANTIC FIRES

Bridesmaid, Soon A Bride

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

MANY A BRIDESMAID has parlayed the big event into a wedding ring for herself.

That's the attitude that every budding bridesmaid should take. What could make for better man pickin's than a wedding? Or put the ushers and male guests in more of an orange-blossom frame of mind?

It's perfect time not only to snare a new man but to rekindle romantic fires in your steady flame.

The idea is to look as pretty as the bride. You won't detract from her. She'll have her own special radiance and audience. But you'll want to choose your make-up and coiffure with the same special consideration as the bride.

If there are many bridal attendants, they will all be dressed alike, wearing the same desing in hats, dresses and shoes. Makeup and hairdo will be your only edge, unless of course your figure is a prize winner.

Ruel, chief hair stylist for Coiffures Americana, trend setters, suggests a hairdo with a "feathered look" for this season's bridesmaids. The hair is brushed up and out from the head in wispy waves and curls. It is fuller, softer and curlier than the carefully waved hairdo, Ruel explains, an ideal bridesmaid hair do that typifies youth and gayety. It can be set a little on the perky side, somewhat coquettish or downright fliratatious or downright flirtatious, depending on your type.

If you worry about the hairdo being suitable to your bridesmaid's hat, you can solve the porblem easily. Ruel suggests you take your hat to the hairdresser with you so that your new coiffure may be coordinated to it. Then you may be sure of a charming coiffure and hat that will enchance your appearance.

When it comes to makeup, it's a good idea to take the gentle attitude. The bride surely will not make up like a burlesque queen, and she'll hardly expect her bridesmaid to detract from the wedding party by over-burdening her face with cosmetics. The prettiest makeup is the one achieved with a minimum of artificial beauty props.

TIP FOR BOSSES

Secretaries Should Have More Work

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Secretaries should be given more work and responsibilities.

That's a tip for the bosses from Mrs. Ruth Clemence of Chicago, chosen at the National Secretaries Assn. convention here as "Secretary of the Year."

"This might sound fantastic to some business executives but I've talked with the secretaries and most of them would rather carry a full work load," Mrs. Clemence said.

"A lot of bosses could utilize their secretaries better. Many of them don't realize a secretary would like to have more responsibilities.

"I know they are happiest when the office is busy. Sure, they might gripe. But it's during the slack periods that they grow restless."

A trim 40-year-old brunette, Mrs. Clemence is secretary to Vice President W. F. Landes of the Bell Zoller Coal Co. of Chicago. She is a former president of the Lake Shore chapter of the secretaries association and is one of the nation's 983 certified professional secretaries.

Sound Advice

Her advice to youngsters seeking to become secretaries to strive for a thorough grounding in fundamentals such as spelling and grammer. Many young women entering the field show an "appalling" deficiency in these essentials, she said.

"Keep going to school," she advised other secretaries. "You'll learn easier ways to do things. I know that I do."

Mrs. Clemence, who married at 17 and is divorced, currently is taking a liberal arts course at the University of Chicago in her spare time. She has a married daughter, Mrs. Fay Hall of Peoria, Ill., who also is a secretary.

Should a secretary taking dictation from her boss correct his grammar and improve upon his wording when he seems to need such help?

"That's part of her job," said Mrs. Clemence. "Most executives are happy to have you do it, but it should be done in a tactful way. And the letter should still sound like the dictator."

Secretary's Problems

What if a secretary, in taking a letter, felt the boss was making an error in judgment that might costs the company an important client?

"I can tell you what I would do," said Mrs. Clemence. "I would enter into a discussion with him to be certain I knew exactly what he meant. That's his province. A secretary can't make the decisions. There are things being the scenes that she doesn't know about."

What about those situations where the boss gives strict orders he is not to be disturbed and his wife telephones five minutes later and demands to talk with him?

"Explain to her exactly what he said," Mrs. Clemence replied. "Then if she still insists, I don't think you could refuse."

Should a secretary always be willing to work after regular hours to help the boss handle a business emergency?

"I don't think a good secretary would mind staying on in an emergency. But I can't understand those companies where they're always working after hours. I think something's wrong. I don't think they get any more work done in the long run."

Mrs. Clemence attained the rating of a certified professional secretary in 1953 after passing a 12-hour examination covering six phases of secretaryship. The examination was initiated and is sponsored by the National Secretaries Assn.

She came to the convention here as one of 15 regional finalists for the selection of the "secretary of the Year." The selection was made by three judges on the basis of education, experience, appearance and poise.

Rubber Bowls

A new set of mixing bowls is made of rubber, comes with wide pouring lips and an easy grip. Anchor the bowl to the accompanying suction cup to withstand the most vigorous action of beating and mixing.

ENGAGED—Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ezell, Route Three, have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Richie Christine Ezell, above, to Buddy Still of Gail. The wedding date has been set for Sept. 9.

Human Relations Is Studied By Officers

DETROIT (AP)—Policemen in Detroit are studying human relations.

Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins said the eight-hour course on civil rights, racial tensions, personal prejudice and attitudes was set up on the theory that policemen don't know enough about the subjects.

Tibet Touch Is Added To Collections

PARIS (AP)—Skirts dropped to the middle of the calf, or about 15 inches from the floor in the Pierre Balmain fashion collection this morning.

Tibetan touches and big ball gowns of white ermine fur were striking trends.

Balmain likes the black and blue theme that has dominated Paris shows thus far this season. He sometimes adds olive for tri-color combinations.

Panther-slinky sheaths of clinging silk jersey trail to the floor. One knock-out number called "Grand Duchess" was in vivid purple. Another was in silk gold lame, with a floor-trailing sheath lined in bright pink.

All these dresses have a deliberately outmoded look, but hint of classic good taste which sneers at passing fads.

From the costumes of Tibet come Dalai Lama sleeve-stoles and dinner and cocktail jackets heavy and stiff with gold and colored embroidery.

For daytime, envelope dresses of smooth wool or jersey were wrapped to one side and closed with half-concealed buttons. There were pepper and salt tweed suits and coats of outsized dark plaid, lined with bulky red fox. Many loose, supple coats had big fox collars and cuffs.

Blousy backs and half-indicated wasitlines were everywhere, and all hats were small head-huggers, hardly more than beanies. Formal wear was either bell skirted or slinky slim.

With his usual extravagance with fur, Balmain made broad-tail suits and blouses, as well as a white ermine evening skirt.

The United States averages 175,000 forest fires a year.

PHYL'S SPICY BEEF STRIPS

Ingredients: ½ pound sirloin steak (about 1 inch thick), 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ cup chili sauce, 2 tablespoons catchup, 1 teaspoon soy sauce, tabasco sauce.

Method: Slice beef into very thin strips, each one as wide as the steak is thick. Melt butter in medium-sized skillet; add beef and cook rapidly, tossing almost constantly, just until meat changes color. Do not overcook steak. Mix chile sauce, catchup, soy sauce and a dash of tabasco. Add to skillet and reheat. Serve over toast. Makes 2 servings.

LET IT RAIN, LET IT POUR—This easy-to-build playhouse is ideal fun, particularly on a rainy day. Brown paper covers the card table. Tape makes the windows and fence design.

Card Table Playhouse Is Simple For Hobbyist-Dad

By VIVIAN BROWN
NEA Features Writer

The father who enjoys making and building play toys for his children should enjoy making a little play house that will take very little of his time. It is constructed out of paper and an ordinary card table.

All you do is tape heavy brown wrapping papper around the card table. It's a good idea to cut the paper into panels from each side of the table. Cut out the windows and the door and then fasten the sides to the table legs with strips of cellophane tape.

You can get a roof effect by cutting two pieces of cardboard into triangular shapes and securing them to opposite sides of the table. The wrapping paper for these sides is cut to fit the triangular shapes. Use long thin strips of tape to hold the paper securely.

Cheese Cloth Curtains.

Cut out the windows and the door before taping the paper to the table. Trim window edges with colored plastic tape. Criss-cross the tape at the windows for the lattice effect. Curtains may be made of cheese cloth or little fabric squares. These may be fastened to the paper on the inside with transparent tape.

A fence may be put around the bottom of this little play house. Just paint a design on the brown paper with poster paint. Flowers may be cut from yellow, blue and white construction paper and taped to the wrapping paper for a three dimensional effect. Plastic tape may be used to form window boxes at the side windows.

MISS UNIVERSE of 1956-57, Carol Morris, put her best foot forward when she stepped before cameras for her film debut in "Man of a Thousand Faces," the life story of the late Lon Chaney. The Iowa beauty plays chorus girl scenes. James Cagney plays the title role, and also starring are Jane Greer and Dorothy Malone.

Blonde Puts Mathias In His Place

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A sexy blonde made an awful liar out of Bob Mathias the other day. Mathias is the handsome ex-Olympic decathlon champ who recently was signed to an acting career by John Wayne.

Bob, a six-foot-four hunk of man, was discoursing with a reporter about women athletes. Said he:

"Women, if they are smart, will keep out of athletics. First, they're no good at it compared with European women and, secondly, it tends to make them muscular and ugly."

About this time, an executive with BatJac Productions brought blonde Jeanne Carmen to the table and introduced her to Mathias and the reporter.

Jeanne, soft and curvy and a cross between Marilyn Monroe and Anita Ekberg, listened intently while Mathias continued his discussion on women athletes. She said nothing.

Then the reporter started questioning her, asking her what she had done before she tried for a movie career. All at the table expected her to give the usual answer—model, or beauty contest winner or little theater. Instead she replied demurely:

"I was a golf pro."

"We had an act where we would get some volunteer from the audience to lie down and hold a teed-up golf ball in his mouth. Then the pro would ask me to hit the ball off the volunteer's mouth.

"I used to fake an amateurish swing and then the pro would ask: 'Have you ever swung a golf club before?' Then, if the volunteer hadn't fainted by this time, I answered 'no' and smacked the ball right out of his mouth."

SAYS PRODUCER MANULIS

High Standards On Playhouse 90

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—"Television has reached a state in which it can guarantee a first-rate technical presentation," said Martin Manulis: "It's a problem now of what a program has to say being worth an excellent production."

Manulis is the producer of "Playhouse 90" (CBS-TV). His statement of his viewpoint, which should be hung on many a wall throughout the industry, goes a long way in explaining why this 90-minute weekly dramatic program was one of the best of the past season.

Certainly, too, "Playhouse 90" was one of the few important programming innovations of the season.

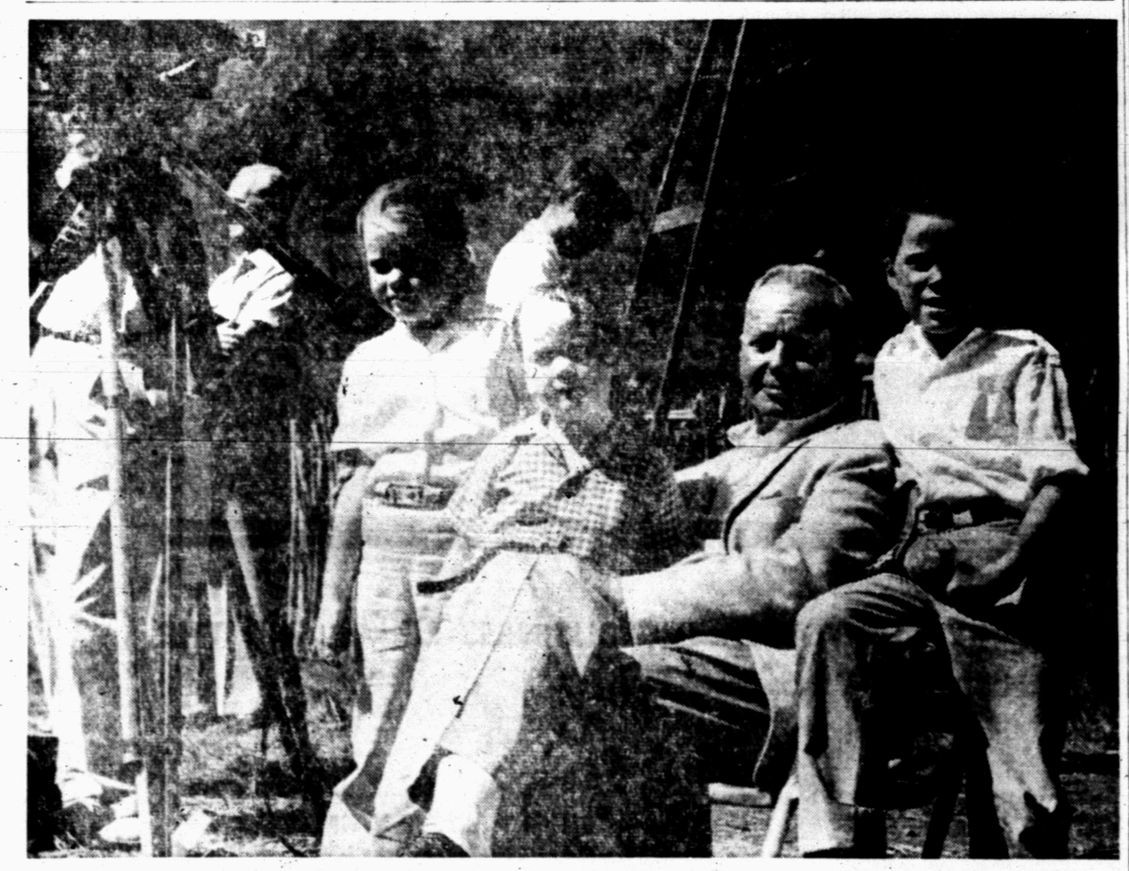

"To find 30 dramatic properties and execute them well enough for full-length entertainment is a great problem," Manulis said the other day during a visit to New York. "It's a whole theater season on one television series with a demand for very high standards which we may or may not always pull off."

Although he declines to discuss specific plans for the program next season, he says that "Playhouse 90" now has 20 or more drama ideas in some stage of development. He prefers to talk in terms of writers rather than "properties," citing such top TV scripters as Rod Serling, Elick Moll and Robert Alan Aurthur who are working on dramas for "Playhouse 90" in the coming year.

He credits much of the success of the program to the fact that writers have brought it "fascinating, fresh ideas." It's interesting in light of the fact that an idea good for a 90-minute TV drama, is usually equally good for a movie. "Playhouse 90" will pay $10,000 for a script while a motion picture company pays many writers feel their reputations are enhanced by writing for TV, however, "Playhouse 90" has not had trouble in obtaining first-rate scripts.

The Theater Story

NEW YORK (AP) — The first major life story of America's most famous acting couple, Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne, has been written by George Freedley, curator of the New York Public Library's Theater Collection.

from every business enterprise in the community where you live

If some good neighbor with a popcorn stand was giving you part of his profits every day...

. . . you would probably give him ALL of your popcorn business . . . you might even try to influence other neighbors to take up popcorn . . . and to buy it at home.

Actually, you DO share in the profits of EVERY business in your home community, because a BIG PART of the gross margin on every local business transaction goes toward the support of things that benefit YOU and everyone else who lives here.

Such as schools, churches, roads and streets, fire and police protection, jobs for more people so that we can keep among us MORE good teachers and preachers and doctors and other skilled folks. And so we can have more stores that are better stocked for our convenience and for our EMERGENCY needs.

Because we don't get these benefits in cash, we sometimes forget that ALL home business is really OUR BUSINESS. And some of us even forget . . . and trade somewhere else . . . when OUR OWN PAYCHECK depends on keeping this community prosperous.

It Pays to Buy where You Live

...T HOSPITAL

Dog Reunited With Woman

DALLAS, Aug. 3 (AP)—The shaggy, floppy-eared dog whimpered and tugged at her leash.

Then the doors from a hospital corridor into the lobby swung open, and an attendant pushed in a wheel chair carrying a frail, bent little woman.

The dog yapped joyfully, ran to the wheel chair, put her paws on the woman's knees and begged to be petted. The woman peered through cataract-dimmed eyes, smiled briefly, then bowed her head and wept.

So did many who saw this at Parkland Hospital yesterday. It was obvious that to Mrs. Minnie Hale, 72, this white mongrel means everything in the world.

Their reunion—the first since Mrs. Hale entered Parkland three months ago for eye and throat surgery—came about through efforts to Mrs. Emile Schuyler, head of the Dallas Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Hospital officials agreed to relax a "no pets" rule just this once.

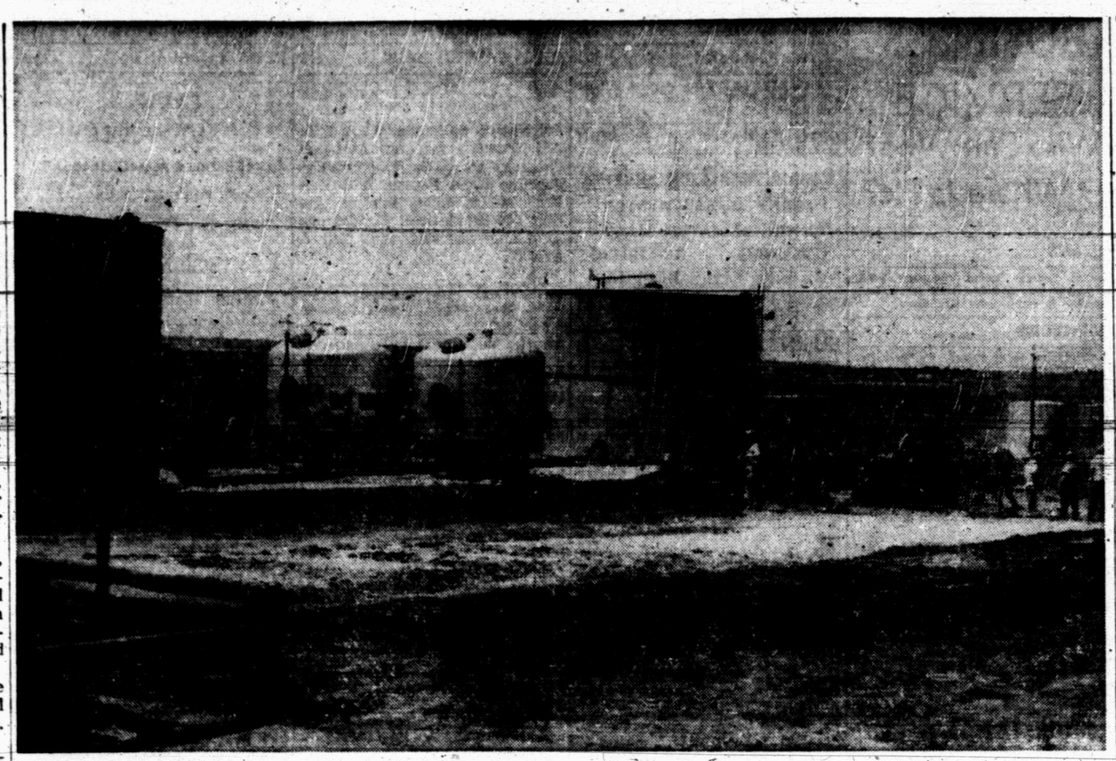

Mrs. Schuyler is boarding Tena, a 7-year-old sheep dog-cocker spaniel combination, while her mistress is sick.

Mrs. Hale, a childless widow, lives alone with the dog in southeast Dallas. She is partly blind and hard of hearing, but Tena has learned to bark when the telephone or doorbell rings and to lead her mistress around the house.

"When I went to visit her she told me she couldn't get well until she saw Tena again," Mrs. Schuyler said.

A man of wit and wisdom, Benjamin Franklin once quipped "If you would have guest merry with cheer, be so yourself or so appear."

PRODUCED WATER will be filtered at a new plant about four miles northwest of Snyder by SACROC and will be pumped back into the group in the unit's water injection program. Work is nearing completion on the new plant. Shown at left are the two filters at the plant, and at right is the pump. The tanks are for stordge. (Dale Walton photograph).

FOR SACROC

Filter Plant Being Built

Work is nearing completion on a new filtration instalation which wil be used by the SACROC unit.

The filter plant, located about four miles northwest of Snyder, wil fiter produced water from the unit, which covers most of he Kelley-Snyder oilfield, and put the water back to use in the unit's water injection program.

SACROC is carrying on water injection and transfer of alowables on oilwels toward the center of the field to buld up bottomhole pressure in the field's wels.

Most of the SACROC water comes from Lake J. B. Thomas. The filtration equipment is being built to help SACROC prepare for the future in conserving water in its reservoir located west of Snyder, according to Hicks Allen, SACROC unit manager.

Gathering lines are being installed in the field. Installation has already covered most of the south part of the field, and the remainder of the gathering system wil be installed later, Allen said.

Contractor on the filtration equipment is B. B. Hodgson of Lubbock. E. D. Walton, fireman for Hodgson, said the plant will be complete within a few days.

Sgt. Martin 's Assigned As Technician

S-Sgt. Ross C. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross D. Martin, Route Three, is now assigned as power maintenance technician at the largest military approach control facility in Europe, which is located near Metz, France.

He is with the 1283rd AACS Squadron, which functions from several of the old underground fortifications that ring Metz. The main operating location is situated in a fortification now called Fort Jeanne d'Arc, built by the Germans in the late 1800's when they occupied Alsace-Lorraine. The fortifications were used in succession by the French from 1919-39 and again by the Germans from 1939-44, and are now again under the control of France. The present operations are a tri-nation activity of the French, Canadians and the U. S. Air Force. The facility handles 12 air bases within northeastern France.

The center will control the air space for the tripartite nations' combat aircraft in an area with perhaps the greatest volume of military air traffic in the world.

St. Martin contributes his power maintenance experience to pioneer the last word in electronics equipment, in a 17th century fortification, to keep the latest in air power performing for the NATO air forces of Europe.

Plans Made By Chamber Group Here

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce education committee Friday made plans to participate in banquet and to help "in anyway possible" explorations into the possibility of establishing a junior college in Scurry Conty.

The businessman-teacher banquet, which is held here each year under joint sponsorship of the Chamber's merchant committee and the schools, is set for Sept. 9. The chamber's education committee participates actively in the event each year.

Members of the education committee expressed approval of steps taken so far toward determining the possibility of establishing a junior college. The chairman was instrueted to notify the citizens committee, Jaycees and others working on the project that the chamber committee would help in any way possible.

Bob Wilson, chairman, presided at the meeting, which was held in the chamber office.

All In All, Farmer Green Has Bad Time

BIG RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Farmer Frank Green of nearby Morley went out to the pasture to bring in his cow.

As Green neared, the cow kicked over a nest of bees. The bees attacker Green, who began batting them out of the way with his straw hat. The hat slipped out of his hand and fell to the ground. The cow ate it. Green covered his head with his arms and headed for home without the cow.

FACTS OF LIFE:

Money Costs More Today

By INEZ ROBB

Uncle Sam is in the process of printing the first batch of U.S. paper money ever to bear the inscription, "In God We Trust," although American coins have borne this legend for years.

Appropriatley enough, the first bills to bear this phase are of the one-dallor variety, the purchasing power of which has shrunk so rapidly that the U.S. Treasury apparently felt salvation dependent upon a miracle or an act of faith. Frankly, the ulfimate consumer, or John Q. Public, had already beaten the Treasury to this decision.

In the battle of inflation, it is hard to know what the government has in mind, if anything. After recourse to any number of expendients; it is possible that Washington has decided there is no hope for the dollar save in an appeal to a higher power.

Has anyone else noticed that it's been a long, long time since he has heard what was at one time a favorite American cliche, "Money isn't eveything?" It has been driven out of circulation by the fact that money isn't anything any more. It's hardly worth the blood, sweat, toil and tears required to latch onto it. Yet money is like dentistry: you can't get along with it or without it. (But wouldn't it be fun to try?)

It is nice of the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics to tell us taxpayers every month that the cost of living has hit another new high, but it's redundant. This is a fact of life to which the citizen is hep without any outside help from the Federal birds and bees, or the Bureau of Labor Statistics. In this field, the cash register at the supermarket has the birds and the bees licked to a standstill as an informant.

I have long made a conscientious effort to read financial publications, always printed in an obscure patois of the unknown tongue. But recently I ran across a simple statement, probably printed by mistake, that I could understand on the first reading. It said, with stark clarity, "Money costs more today." Well, ain't it the truth! Not even the h.c. of l. has soared more rapidly than the cost of money.

There are still persons alive who can remember the famous day and year when the "Five-and-dime" was just that. But money costs so much today that the old "Five-and-Dime" is but a memory replaced by the ".98-and-$9.98—prices revised upward while you wait, to the tune of "I Found a Trillion-Dollar Paby in the Cut-Rate Cartiers's."

Like Ol' Man River, inflation jes' keeps rollin' along. Money, soft or hard, is all the same, once it sifts down to me. Whether it's three-minute or five-minute money, it melts like butter in a heat wave.

Money at the moment is a sometime thing; here today and gone before you can count the change. All money is in transit. It may not travel far, but no one can deny that it's jet-propelled.

The fact that Uncle Sam is inscribing "In God We Trust" on paper money may comfort a lot of people who had begun to look askance at the Treasury. But in view of the transitory nature of money, there is another step Uncle could take. He could invoke for this off-again, on-again, gone-again commodity the protection of that patron saint of travelers, St. Christopher.

BUCKLEY

No Nudism, Just Drama

TOKYO (AP)—Michiko Maeda, 23, soared to fame last year when she doffed all her clothing for a nude scene in her first movie.

The film was a box office smash. No other Japanese actress had gone so far before.

The 5-foot-4 actress made headlines again today by refusing to strip in a new movie.

Mitsugu Okura, her employer, ordered another actress to take her place and said, "We cannot tolerate waywardness from a girl who made her debut only a year ago."

"I'm not a nude model," pretty Michiko commented. "I want to be an actress."

New Lutheran Film

NEW YORK (AP)—A new religious motion picture, "A Living Church," to be used in celebrating the 40th anniversary of the United Lutheran Church in America, had its premiere here recently. Produced by Louis de Rochemont Associates, which also made the film, "Martin Luther," the picture will be available for showing to the church's 4,400 congregations this fall.
