

Order Numbers Assigned To 21-Year-Olds

Collingsworth County's 60 registrants in the second selective service registration on July 1 have now received their order numbers, after a key number was sent to the local office to determine the order in which the younger men will be called.

Names of the new registrants have been put in the same file with those of the men who were registered in October, with the letter "S" after their numbers to signify second registration. In explaining the system, Johnnie Wallace of the selective service office pointed out that names of the new men will be spaced in approximately every sixteenth place.

In explaining how the numbers of these new registrants are being placed in with the old order numbers, Mr. Wallace said, "For example, the man in this county who held serial number 1, drew order number 943-S. That means that in the list, his number will be placed immediately after number 943, and immediately before 944. Thus the numbering would read 943, 943-S, 944." The first of the new order numbers was inserted after No. 277.

Order numbers and the names of the July 1 registrants for Collingsworth County follow:
277-S—Leon Eldridge Brislin
292-S—Henry Clay Sullivan
308-S—James Henry Hobbs, Jr.
324-S—Grady Lloyd Evans

Nazarene Summer Revival Opens

A summer revival will begin at the Church of the Nazarene in Wellington Sunday, August 10, with Rev. W. L. French, district superintendent of the San Antonio district, as the evangelist, assisted by a male quartet from Bethany-Peniel College of Bethany, Okla.

The meeting will continue through Sunday, August 24, with services each evening at 8:00 p. m. Announcement concerning the day services will be made later, according to the pastor, Rev. Hadley Hall.

"Rev. French is one of the youngest district superintendents in the Church of the Nazarene, and is one of our most prominent and outstanding young preachers. He has served as pastor of some of our largest churches and held meetings in many parts of the state. We feel quite fortunate in obtaining his services for this revival," Rev. Hall said.

"To all the churches of Wellington, to the unchurched of Wellington and vicinity, we extend a cordial invitation to come and enjoy this meeting with us," the pastor continued.

The revival will be held on the lots located just west of the First Christian Church, on Ninth Street. The Calvary Church is associated with the Fundamental Missionary Baptists.

"We extend a most cordial invitation to all our friends in Wellington," Rev. Johnson said.

REVIVAL SINGERS

Primitive Baptists Host To District Association

The Panhandle and Oklahoma Primitive Baptist Association will be held in Wellington, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 8, 9, and 10, for the first time since 1935, Elder E. J. Norman, pastor of the local church, announced this week.

This associational meeting is one of the outstanding annual events of the Primitive Baptist Church, and between 1,000 and 1,500 visitors from the district are expected to attend.

A temporary open air tabernacle will be constructed on the grounds of the West Ward School building, and here three services will be conducted daily, at 10 a. m., 2:30 p. m., and 8 p. m.

Ministers from over Texas, and from other states will occupy the pulpit from time to time, according to Elder Norman. When there is not preaching, there will be singing, which will consist largely of music of the original type.

Delegates to attend the Association will begin gathering on Thursday afternoon, and the first of the services will be held Thursday night, Elder Norman said.

Old Settlers Start Registering Here Wednesday

Registration for the Collingsworth County Old Settlers Reunion will begin Wednesday, August 13, Dave Thomas, president of the Association, announced this week, adding that a number of out of town families are planning to arrive in town Wednesday and spend the night at the Reunion grounds.

Registration this year will be at The Wellington Leader office.

This year's event will be held through Thursday, August 14, at the LaHue Grove east of Wellington.

Invitations have been mailed to all those pioneer residents whose addresses are known to the invitation committee; however this group feels that there are many others who would like to come to the Reunion, but whose present home is not known by those working on the plans.

"If you know of some old-timer who was here thirty or more years ago, but who has moved away from here, and you think he'd like to come back for the reunion, we'll certainly appreciate it if you'd let us know of that person and his address," Mr. Thomas said.

Members of the committee mailing out invitations are Mrs. Dolly C. Gardner, Mrs. J. D. Thomas, Mrs. Rolly Fisher, and Mrs. Earl Hunter.

"We're expecting one of the largest crowds in recent years and all of us feel that this is going to be one of the celebrations that all the old timers will remember," Mr. Thomas said.

Area Couple Receive Degrees

Mr. and Mrs. John Walker of Shamrock each will be granted a master's degree at the twilight graduation ceremonies to be held in the Garden Theatre on the campus of Colorado State College of Education, Greeley, Colorado, August 7.

Second Infestation Of Hoppers Now Hatching

Collingsworth County's second generation of grasshoppers this season are hatching, and by the end of this week will be large enough for effective poisoning, W. K. Cottin-game, county agent, reported early Wednesday morning.

"This is exactly the same hopper that we were bothered with earlier this summer—this is just the second generation," he explained. "We can expect the present infestation to be somewhat heavier than it was in the spring, but more than that, if we don't do something about the present crop of hoppers they'll be able to build up in numbers to the point that next year, the damage will be heavy."

The infestation is to be found in all parts of the county, men who are measuring land under the AAA report to Mr. Cottin-game.

Concerted action in poisoning these hoppers was strongly urged by the county agent. Judging from the present size of the hoppers, they will be sufficiently large by the last of this week or early next week to poison with effectiveness, it was pointed out.

While the grasshopper poisoning station, located at the Farmers Co-op Gin, is not now open, it will be opened at any time there is a need for it, in order that every farm operator wishing poison may secure it.

Mrs. R. E. Farmer, beloved Marella woman, died unexpectedly at her home Tuesday afternoon, August 5. Although she had been in ill health for some time, she had been feeling well throughout Tuesday. Her death, which was attributed to a heart attack, occurred about 3:30 o'clock.

Dow Resigns; Three Teachers Named Monday

Resignation of Lwood Dow, head coach of Wellington High School, the election of three new faculty members, and the setting of the opening date of the Wellington Schools was announced following the meeting of the local school board Monday night.

The school system will open Thursday, September 4, J. L. Beard, superintendent, said. Complete announcements concerning the opening will be made at a later date.

Mr. Dow, who came here last fall as assistant coach, and who was picked as head coach this spring, resigned his place here to become assistant coach of Midland High School. The Midland athletic department is ranked as AA by the interscholastic league.

He is now attending the summer session of Columbia University in New York, and will not return here before taking up his new duties in Midland around Aug. 16. Mrs. Dow, who has been supervisor of the girls' NYA project here, has tendered her resignation, and will give up her work on August 15.

Sewing Room Reopens Monday

This county's W.P.A. sewing room was reopened temporarily Monday morning, under the direction of Mrs. J. W. Peoples, supervisor of the project since it was first started here. The sewing room was closed on July 5, in accordance with cuts in the WPA rolls throughout the Panhandle.

The sewing room will be open, however, only long enough to process the material on hand, A. A. Meredith, district WPA manager, said in a letter to Judge C. C. Bishop Friday.

"It has been difficult for us to get permission to reopen this project, even for the short period of time it may operate to work up the textiles and material that are available. However, in this case, as in every other case, we have tried very conscientiously and as hard as we could to comply with the recommendations of the local people whose cooperation and interest in this program we must have to make it the success we all (Continued on Page Ten)

Tax levies by the state for 1941 on properties in Collingsworth County will be reduced $5,447.10 by application of the 11-cent rate cut recently announced by the state tax board. This saving is based on the tax valuations for 1940, Howard Riggs, tax assessor and collector, said this week.

Announcement was made Thursday that the 1941 rate will be 58 cents, while that for 1940 was 69 cents. This is only the state tax levy, and has nothing to do with the county tax rate, which will not be set until sometime this month, Mr. Riggs explained.

The entire cut was absorbed by the school fund levy, which dropped from 27 to 16 cents. The step was made possible by existence of a surplus in the school fund and the anticipated income from sources other than ad valorem taxes.

In addition, Collingsworth tax valuations increased by $33,105 over the valuation for last year, as estimated by the state tax board. This was the only county in this part of the Wichita Falls area, made up of 26 counties, to show an increase.

Throughout the entire district, 14 counties showed increases in tax valuations for the year, while 12 showed lower valuations. The tabulations in this part of the district follow:

County—	1941 Value	Gain or Loss
Collingsworth	$4,975,500	$33,105
Childress	5,966,974	1. 34,884
Cottle	5,247,647	1. 240,049

Killed--66 Gallons Bagworms

Sixty-six gallons of bagworms were brought to The Leader office last Thursday, Friday and Saturday by 132 Wellington children. Each child received a free pass to the show.

A count was made of a half gallon jar and there were 470 bagworms in an average half gallon. By multiplying this by 132, the number of children that secured passes, it was estimated that 62,040 bagworms were brought to The Leader. Leader employees felt, however, that at least 470 should be deducted from this number due to the fact that one youngster brought in a sack well full of leaves.

By a reckoning, something like 62,000 bagworms were consumed in the flames in the back of The Leader office Friday and Saturday evenings. It had been planned to keep all the worms and make a picture of them, but due to the fact that the restless creatures started eating through the paper sacks and swarming over the office it was considered advisable to burn them.

Ralph Ball donated the kerosene to burn the bagworms with this statement: "This is the first time I have ever been cursed out over something that was for the good of the town. I will be glad to donate the kerosene as my part."

Wellington people estimated that the 66 gallons of bagworms that were brought to The Leader office were only a small part of the total number of worms that were destroyed as a result of the campaign. Because of the interest in eliminating the bagworms, many adults spent considerable time inspecting their trees and picking the worms.

Furthermore, one youth may have been typical of many others. He brought in a half gallon jar of worms with this statement: "This is enough to get a ticket, but I have half a tubful at home."

Those who brought in worms and secured free passes were: Benny Moore, Eugene Beam, J. (Continued on Page Ten)

Yet this famous OIL-PLATING—based on the Conoco Germ Processed oil patent—is merely one factor in today's great success of the new

Twice as much for your money

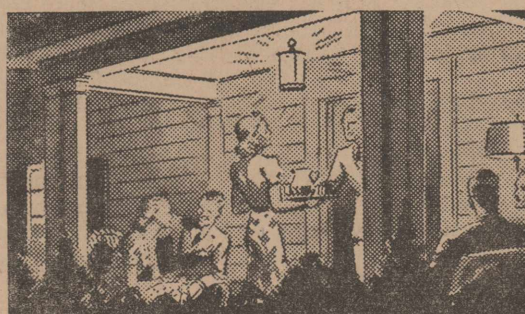

... that's the kind of bargain Your Electric Servant brings YOU NOW under Business Operation

1. Twice the speed. Electric servants breeze through your housework in less than half the time it used to take—at about half the cost. Your bill maybe is about the same as it's always been, but you now get more and better service, plus better lighting, for about what you used to pay for lights alone.

2. Twice the labor saving. Ask the woman who owns a washing machine what electricity has done for her! At present-day low rates, you can afford to use most all the modern appliances. Today electric rates are only about half what they were 10 to 15 years ago. You get about two or three times as much for your money!

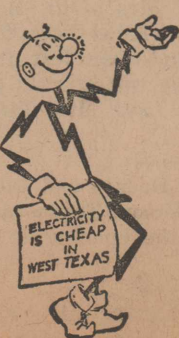

3. Twice the light. No blackouts here! Today you can get twice as much light as you used to, for the same money. Electricity today costs only about half as much. (Light bulbs are twice as efficient, so you get four times as much today for the same money.)

4. Twice the comfort. Constant research is developing new and cheaper ways of using electricity. Air conditioning this past summer reached more homes than ever before, bringing cool comfort at small cost. Other usages are being constantly improved at no extra cost to you!

Credit for the steadily improved service to you at steadily reduced rates is due the trained and experienced men and women of this organization. They have devoted many years to the highly technical problems of electric generation and distribution... all without interruption and at low cost.

Letters from the People:

"We used to pay 15 cents a kilowatt-hour. The low rates today enable us to use our many appliances without being extravagant. Besides lights, we now have range, water heater, Frigidaire, sweeper, air conditioner, iron, percolator, toaster, waffle iron, radio, fans and heating pad—making for better and more economical living.... The West Texas Utilities always renders courteous, prompt and efficient service for which we are grateful."

This is the time of the year for the loyal business men of Wellington to start thinking about the fair this fall. Last year a very creditable fair was held. It was financed on such a sound principle that there is money left over in the treasury this year.

Just a mention of work well done: Bryan Denley received a personal letter from President Roosevelt this week thanking him for serving as chairman of the President's Birthday Ball. If I were Bryan, I would keep that letter. His daughter will be very proud of it when she gets to be a grandmother.

There is a report going the rounds that the school board is on a deal to hire Flipping Foster Watkins as West Texas State as football coach in Wellington. Lwood Dow has accepted a position as assistant coach at Midland.

Aristotle once said: "Happiness belongs to those who are contented." Very true, Mr. Aristotle and if you are contented with Greece, then I should be with Collingsworth. But I am not. We need a paid, experienced chamber of commerce secretary. We need a rain. We need—we need a lot of things. But there are not many of them that money and world peace would not help.

He could capitalize on the expected shortage of silk, but Leon Blonstein refuses to get excited about it. He says there will be plenty of sheer hosiery for the women although they may not be made of silk. Mrs. Fleet Pruden also says that the shortage in silk may be a good thing after all. They can make fine looking hose out of cotton which will help the consumption of cotton.

The truth is that it is a waste of money to stock up on a large supply of silk hose. If silk imports are cut off permanently, silk stockings will be as unpopular as the itch. Real silk—not the company—will go out of style. Nylon, cotton sheers, etc., will be patriotic. Wool and bright colored rough looking cotton stockings will also come into their own.

J. A. Lucas was down at the Cottonwood ranch the other evening and saw five o'possums climb down a tree. He clapped his hands and they climbed up again. The main news about this is that I did not know there were any possums in this county. I knew there were squirrels, porcupines, badgers, coons, coyotes, wolves, bobcats, lynx, etc., but I did not know about possums.

Bill Lynn likes to tell this story. Mr. Hughes had a visitor down at the ranch and was telling him of the wealth of wild life. He stretched it to include buffalo. Just then two bison that had broken out of the Yarbrough ranch came strolling over the hill. The visitor was convinced.

From the Radio: "Did you hear about the trouble of the bowlegged cowgirl?" "No, what is it?" "She couldn't keep her calves together."

Here are some others that I did not get from the radio: "A widow, asked why she married a millionaire, an actor, a preacher and an undertaker in that particular order replied: "One for the money, two for the show, three to make ready and four to go."

Tom Wilson came down to see the Sunday show and told me this one:

"I wouldn't vote for you if you were the Angel Gabriel," said the angry farmer to his county commissioner.

According to Tom, Bert said: "If I were the Angel Gabriel, you wouldn't even be in my precinct."

A lot of people have complimented this paper on the success of the bagworm drive. Some came in to tell me that they thought I had a good idea. I had no idea at all. I had orders. A longer time ago than she will care to admit, my wife picked bagworms in Oklahoma City for The Daily Oklahoman. She remembered it. All I did was to nurse and then burn some 60,000 bagworms.

Best newspaper wisecrack of the week comes from Virginia Anderson in The Shamrock Texan. She says:

"After some real hard thinking of how we could cooperate in the 'V' for victory campaign, we decided to take some vitamins."

The new year's work begins August 9.

Military Writer Is Cousin Of Wellington Woman

Two articles appearing in The Reader's Digest this summer have been of especial interest to Mrs. A. L. Nowlin of Wellington—for they were written by her cousin, Ross A. Collins, a member of the U. S. House of Representatives from Mississippi.

The first of these appeared in the June issue, and was entitled, "Do We Want a Mass Army?" "Congressman Ross A. Collins, of Mississippi, stands today as the prophet vindicated," writes Frank C. Haighen in Harper's Magazine for December 1940.

The biographical sketch of Congressman Collins appearing in the Digest read: "The outstanding military expert in Congress, he has long been the exponent of speed, fire-power, and armor for the American Army. Many years ago he began to urge mechanization, creation of panzer divisions, utilization of air artillery and the blitzkrieg."

"Since 1921, save two years, Congressman Collins has served continuously, much of the time as chairman, on the House subcommittee directly in charge of military appropriations. One of his colleagues told the House: 'I do not know any man who has shown a greater genius for marking out a policy for our army.'"

William E. Martin Stationed At Fort Leonard Wood

Martin is with Co. B, 26th Battalion.

Mr. Bishop was 75 years of age.

Funeral rites were conducted Thursday afternoon from the Church of the Nazarene with Rev. Hadley A. Hall, pastor, in charge.

Pall bearers for the service were J. S. Driskill, W. S. Brewer, Earl Yarbrough, A. H. Reneau, Ike Emmert, and Frank Fuson. Flower bearers were Luella Trimble, Ophelia Trimble, Mrs. Mary Darnell, Lurline Jett, Maxine Bishop, Wilma Duke, Margaret Duke, and Angie Garvin.

Hymns included "Does Jesus Care," sung by Mary Gibbs, W. S. Brewer, Bob Spears and Ervin Brewer, and "Farther Along" and "Where We'll Never Grow Old," by the choir. Interment was in the Wellington cemetery with the Kelso Funeral Home in charge.

Joseph Madison Bishop was born October 8, 1865, at Knoxville, Tennessee, the son of J. W. and Elizabeth Connor Bishop, both natives of that state. At the time of his death he was 75 years, 9 months, and 22 days of age.

At the age of 17, Mr. Bishop was converted and united with the Methodist Church. He united with the Church of the Nazarene in Wellington in 1923 and remained a faithful member until his death. He served for several years on the official board and has been for the past six years the janitor of the church.

On September 20, 1890, he was married to Miss Janey Elizabeth Ensey. To this union one daughter was born, Mrs. J. W. Trimble of Wellington. Mrs. Bishop died on January 12, 1893, and on September 4, 1894, Mr. Bishop was united in marriage to Miss Eliza Enzey, who survives him.

To this union six children were born. Two sons, Clarence and Elmer, preceded him in death. Surviving children of this marriage are Mrs. U. O. Jett of Shamrock, Miss Eva Bishop, Miss Dona Bishop and Orel Bishop of Wellington.

In addition, Mr. Bishop is survived by 12 grandchildren, and three brothers, Harver Bishop of Knute, Okla., C. C. Bishop of Eversman, and Plez Bishop of Sha, Oklahoma.

During the years that he had made his home in Wellington, Mr. Bishop had gained a wide circle of friends, who loved and respected him for his integrity, his honesty, his willingness to help those whom he might help, and for his high type character.

ONE LUNCH COMING UP—BY THE CARLOAD

"I'd like 125,000 pounds of potatoes, 20,000 pounds of onions, 34,000 heads of lettuce, 25,000 cantaloupes, 24,000 ears of corn, and about 50,000 apples, oranges, and bananas. Lieut. Harrison Dies July 22

Lieut. Roy L. Harrison, who was born and reared in this county, and who lived here until about nine years ago, died in the army hospital at San Antonio on Tuesday, July 22, friends here learned recently. He was about 34 years of age.

Lieut. Harrison was the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Harrison, widely known property owners of the county. He received his education in the local schools, and for some time was employed as traffic officer for Wellington. He attended the training camps of the U. S. Army at Fort Sam Houston and Fort Sill, and there earned his commission. For several years he had been an officer in charge of CCC camps in California.

After becoming ill several months ago, he was sent to an army hospital in San Francisco, where he underwent an operation. His condition improved, and he came to visit his parents, who now live at Lamesa. Here he again became ill, and went to San Antonio for treatment.

Funeral services were held at Lamesa on Friday, July 25.

Lieut. Harrison is survived by his widow and two small children, by his parents, and by three brothers and three sisters.

Mrs. W. M. Gibbons underwent a major operation recently in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mrs. L. H. Nipper, who lives near Vinson, Okla., was returned Tuesday to her home after receiving medical treatment in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Repair bills are liable to start mounting up if proper care isn't taken to keep your car in first class condition.

The time to avoid serious damage, which might come to your car due to excessive wear on some minor parts, is before it happens. Let our expert mechanics check your car today and make the necessary adjustments to put it in tip top shape.

Start today to give your car proper care to insure longer life and less repair bills. . . Bring it here for a scientific check-up.

Expert Body Refinishing and Repairing

Editorial

Inability of the Panhandle of Texas to sell itself to Washington officials on its value for expenditure of national defense money is most disheartening. About all the money that has been appropriated, so far as we know, is $200,000 for concrete runways for the Amarillo airport. Because of Amarillo's importance as an aerial center for transcontinental transportation, no one regrets this appropriation.

The Panhandle of Texas, which includes 28 counties in the 18th congressional district, so far has been practically overlooked. Various communities have worked hard at Washington, but no definite results have been obtained. Possibly the higher officials eventually will recognize the Panhandle region.

From reports received here, soldiers are greatly dissatisfied with entertainment facilities in most of the cities adjoining training camps. With important cities, Amarillo, Borger and Pampa, this region could furnish entertainment far easier than most areas in the Southwest.

A fair proposal would be for the government to establish a camp, which would enable low and equal transportation rates to these three cities. If some transportation schedule could be worked out where soldiers could get to the three cities for not more than 35 to 50 cents a round trip, all would have the same opportunity to benefit.

From our observation of Texas, soldiers can do better work in the Panhandle in the summer time than any where else because of the ideal climate. The dry winter climate works no hardships. People can stand dry winter weather at lower temperatures than they can humidity with a few degrees higher temperature, which is true of so much of the state.

Let us hope that the 18th congressional district will not be left an orphan forever. With tens of billions of dollars being spent it seems that this region should be good for something besides paying taxes.—Panhandle Herald.

• Worth The Sacrifice

Perhaps it may turn out that the "major social change" will come out of the present war. How seriously our country will become involved is debatable, of course. It seems the country is definitely headed to a shooting war in which our great strength in manpower will be tested and a burden of debt built up that will be so big as to stagger the imagination even of those who think in billions. If out of this fire the souls of our fundamentals of worthwhile lives, the great people emerge with greater love of country, greater zeal for justice and right as between men, a deeper religious faith, a return to the price we are due to pay for our follies of the past quarter of a century may be justified.—Floyd County Hesperian.

• Recipe For Health

Just in case you haven't noticed, the sun's rays are getting pretty warm these days. Releases from the state board of health this week have repeatedly warned that workers in the sun should take all possible precautions to prevent sun-stroke. The time spent in the sun should not be long at one stretch; break it up with momentary rests in the shade every hour or so. A pinch of salt in your drinking water will help to immune your body to too much sunshine.—Tulsa Herald.

• The Wisdom Of Children

As we were busy writing an editorial on the typewriter in this office, a 4-year-old friend came up, stood watching a while, and then inquired: "What are you writing on that tripe-writer?"—Madisonville Meteor.

• Two Good Reasons

As banking authorities are pointing out, saving on the part of the public is especially important now.

Saving does two things, both of which are desirable and necessary. First, it builds up a backlog for the future when the defense program will be over and we will have to return to some sort of normal basis for living.

Second, it diverts money from the consumer goods market—and that, in turn, helps build up the stocks of materials needed for military preparedness.—White Deer Review.

• No Exceptions

Our radio is rather antique and the radio commentators get it in a blitzkrieg when they pronounce Duiepropetnovsk, Przenysi, Stolbtsy and Pskov.—Gertie Haskett in Childress County News.

• Center Of Happenings

Since moving of the town of Amarillo from the old Wild Horse Lake site to its present location, some 50 odd years ago, Third and Polk Street has been sort of the center of happenings, of which there have been many to attract attention. Even the rodents respect the age old tradition, as was indicated Thursday morning, when a cotton-tail size rat appeared in the middle of Polk Street, and for several minutes busied himself in search for something, apparently unaware of his quickly assembled audience or traffic hazards. Do rats playing in the main streets indicate a big town or a little town?—Mason King in Amarillo Daily News.

That Reminds Me - - -

By RALPH HERBERT

Increase in the average income of American farmers has been matched by increase in the average wage of farm laborers, according to latest findings of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

So much is this the case that the general level of farm wage rates rose to the highest point in 11 years on July 1, 1941. Farmers this year were paying about 24 per cent more than when they were engaged in harvesting last year. And this has been found to be true—not as to amount but as to actual raises—in almost every state in the Union.

The average day rate in Connecticut, without board, was $3.55—the highest in the country. The lowest was reported from South Carolina where an average of 95 cents per day was paid.

Out in Kansas, where the farmers were very busy harvesting their winter wheat, the average per day was $3.05. But the real aristocrats in Kansas were the experienced tractor operators who sometimes drew down as much as six dollars a day. For the whole country the average daily wage was $1.98. This was 36 cents more than last year and the best paid since 1930.

The available supply of farm workers was only 67 per cent of normal, the smallest for 19 years. The reason for this dearth of manpower was threefold:

One—The rapid increase in defense activity in big industrial lines.

Two—High wages now being paid in factories.

Three—The draft, which has taken thousands of the younger men.

Scarcity of farm labor is attributed to different causes in different parts of the country. Thus, in the eastern industrial and seaboard states, greater than the draft has been the demand for labor in the great mills and factories turning out materials for national defense.

In the middle west and south the chief factor in the lack of farm laborers was said to be the draft.

In the Pacific coast aircraft and shipbuilding industries—all engaged in defense work—were drawing men from all the farms in the country west of the Rockies.

The McCoys Or Wings Over Water By Boughner

I Saw

—By VIRGINIA ROBEY

Again it's the women who pay —this time for the war. First they gave up aluminum out of their kitchens, and now it's silk stockings that have to go. But as the stockings caused more comment than the cooking vessels, I SAW

Mrs. Stanley Larson, just back from California, saying that state had beautiful scenery, but she'd still rather live in Texas. . . . Frank Thomason making last minute arrangements for the revival that started at his church Tuesday night, the Church of Christ in Wellington.

Mrs. S. R. Pinkston telling of some of the sewing she's been doing this summer, all for her house. She's made six table cloths, a number of sheets, pillow cases and tea towels. This work has taken her all summer. . . . Dr. E. W. Jones, just up after his recent major operation, on his way to Rotary Club, and grinning broadly when some of the members called him "Grandpa," in honor of his very new granddaughter.

Melvin Scarberry who brought his half-gallon of bagworms to The Leader office for a show ticket wanting to know if we burned bag-worms and put them on cows' backs to kill the lice. . . . That was a new one for The Leader. . . . C. R. Preuit of Aberdeen renewing the subscription to his daily paper and saying his family had been in Texas 97 years—since the days of the Texas Republic, and that he had some books once belonging to his great-grandfather which are over a hundred years old.

And on the subject of old books, Gene Lewis had some bound copies of Harper's Magazine printed just after the Civil War. It's odd to look at those and realize that all the illustrations were drawings, not pictures like the magazines use now. . . . A. B. Mears telling how his business had been affected by the Defense Program. A school bus brought to him required some parts of a special size that had to be ordered. It took the order three weeks to arrive, then one part was missing. Two more weeks were required for the back order, and then, six weeks after the bus was first brought in for repairs, the mechanics were able to complete the job.

Helen Childress in the county superintendent's office looking over new school texts. . . . Rosemary Boston, who was elected Monday to teach in the local school, saying she was born in Wellington, but she left before she was old enough to go to school. It's like coming back home for her. . . . Mrs. Guy Bell looking very cool as she walked downtown in spite of the heat. . . . Helen Nelson hurrying from the AAA office to the post office.

Wallace O'Rear wondering if it would be cheaper to have his farm remeasured or merely rechecked. . . . J. L. Walker showing his father-in-law, Mr. Maberry, who is visiting here from California, a jar of bagworms.

Heard—that Dr. Robert F. Boverie of Cleveland, Ohio, better known here as Pete, is spending his vacation by painting Miss Katherine Boverie's house. His nephews, John and Jack Boverie, and Leland Hendricks are helping him, and all of them keep Connie Jean Hendricks so busy preparing cool drinks that she's had time to come to town only once since she's been visiting here.

County Board May Refuse Request For Transfers

"The County School Board may find it necessary to refuse some of the applications to transfer students from one school district to another, due to a new law in effect," B. W. Beard, county superintendent, told patrons Tuesday.

Under the new regulation, it was explained, small schools with an enrollment of less than 20 students, and having less than one pupil per square mile enrolled in the grades taught, will lose state aid if these students transfer out while their grade is being taught in their home school.

This affects several of the smaller schools in the county, and for the best interest of the schools, Mr. Beard said that it may be necessary for some of the requested transfers to be refused.

Rural School Board Members Asked To Confer

Members of all rural school boards who have not already been in to discuss plans for the coming year, have been requested by County Superintendent B. W. Beard to do so before Saturday. "We want to get plans for the coming term lined up by that time," Mr. Beard said.

Induction Of Men Over 28 Again Postponed

All Selective Service Local Boards in Texas have today received instructions from State Headquarters to postpone the physical examination and induction of men who were twenty-eight years of age or over on July 1, 1941, except those who volunteer for induction.

General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, said that this directive has been issued on the strength of the status of age deferment legislation pending in the National Congress.

It is estimated, the Director said, that approximately one-half of the 825,429 men who registered in Texas last October are affected by this order.

General Page said that local boards have also been instructed to postpone the induction of men who were or will be discharged from the Regular Army or the Coast Guard for the convenience of the Government within six months prior to the completion of their regular three year period of enlistment, inasmuch as the age deferment legislation in its present form includes a provision which would relieve such men from training and service.

Heavyweight Johnny Paycheck, who once fought Joe Louis, has been discharged from the army because of physical disability.

Conn McCreary, a leading jockey, weighs only 91 pounds, but has a chest measurement of 36 inches.

A Profitable Year

If human experience teaches us anything, it is that a profitable YEAR is never a certainty. Certain crops or certain seasons may reveal a profit, but neither a crop nor a season makes up a full year, and all that goes or during the year must be taken into account in figuring profit or loss.

It's easy to know exactly how much one received for his product, whether farm products, factory products, or some sort of service, such as banking service, etc. But to know the actual COST of products or service, so that profit can be figured, systematic records must be kept. And more farmers are keeping books today than ever before.

Without exception, seemingly, business prophets see better times ahead for farmers. Like you, we hope they know their stuff and that farm products bring prices sufficiently above average production cost to mean a profitable YEAR to you.

A profitable year will afford opportunity for better planning for all-year income, so that the lean months won't eat up the fat ones? Don't you think so? There are certain farm crops that mean every-month cash income.

Incidentally, good management of any production enterprise usually includes setting aside reserves for future requirements. Defense bonds are guaranteed to increase in value. No better way to serve your country and conserve your profit.

with the Philadelphia Eagles, and later he taught at Skelleytown and Vernon. His new job is considered a distinct promotion, and along with it he is receiving an increase in salary.

No one has been named to take his place.

The three new teachers named by the board Monday night include Harvey E. Owen, vocational agriculture; Miss Rosemary Boston of Perryton, and Miss Katherine Schellenberg of Dalhart.

Mr. Owen comes to Wellington from Sparenberg in Dawson county, where he has made an outstanding record as vocational agriculture teacher for the last two years. His Future Farmer chapter in the first years of its organization ranked second in the entire state, being outclassed only by Corsicana.

He is a graduate of Jacksboro high school, John Tarleton College, and Texas Technological College. He was principal of the Wizard Wells school two years before receiving his degree. Both he and Mrs. Owen have been active in the work of the Methodist Church.

Mr. Owen stated that he will not only work with the school boys, but he will work with the out of school boys and the men of the community, and he expressed a desire to help them with any farm problems that might come up.

Miss Boston was born in Wellington, and lived here several years during her childhood. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Boston of Perryton, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Starkey of Wellington. She will teach English and social science in junior high school.

A graduate of Texas State College for Women in Denton this spring, Miss Boston was active in many phases of school life. She was a member of the Delian Club, the Sociology Club, and president of the Baptist Student Union. This is her first year to teach.

Miss Schellenberg comes here with nine years of teaching experience. She will teach in the English department of the high school. She is a graduate of Littlefield High School, attended Tabor Academy at Hillsboro, Kansas, and received her B. S. degree from the University of Kansas. She has completed approximately half her work toward a master's degree at Texas Tech. In addition to her teaching work, she has also been a coach of debate, declamation, and dramatics. While in college she was a member of Pi Lambda Theta and was listed on the Dean's Honor Roll.

Before coming here, she taught at Bunker Hill, and Coldwater, Kansas, Estelline and Littlefield.

Four teachers remain to be elected by the board.

Think You Are A Good Shot?

Maybe you are better than the average when it comes to hunting ducks and geese, but if you are just an average hunter, your ducks are costing you considerable in ammunition alone. A survey made by a Game Department biologist of 308 hunters during last season showed that they fired 10,705 shells in bagging 2,205 ducks. That is an average of 4.4 shots per duck. A total of 196 goose hunters fired 1,199 times to bring down 124 geese for an average of 9.6 shots per goose. Maybe you're not so cheery now. We're not!

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Lester and Mrs. E. L. Wood and children visited Mrs. W. F. Walker at McKnight Sunday.
