Senate Passes Bill 78 To 11 Late Monday

Ways And Means Group Of House Gives Approval

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The House ways and means committee voted 18 to 5 today to accept the $4,800,000,000 income tax cutting bill passed by the Senate.

The original tax bill passed by the House had called for a cut of $6,500,000,000.

Subject To House Okay

The committee action is subject to House approval. It virtually assures that the Senate bill will go to the White House without change.

House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) previously has predicted the House will approve the measure by a "more than three to one" vote and send it to President Truman's desk tomorrow.

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) author of the tax-slashing legislation, told reporters:

To Override Veto

"I hope the President will fall in line with the popular demand for tax reduction, and will not veto the bill. If he does veto it, he is sure to be overridden."

The Senate passed the bill 78 to 11.

"The tax cut is certain. The veto will be overridden," Speaker Martin said.

But Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate's GOP policy committee, was less positive.

Veto Is Expected

Nearly everyone on Capitol Hill looks for Mr. Truman to veto the bill.

Taft told a reporter he thinks the President first will send Congress a message urging an additional outlay of between $2,000,000,000 and $3,000,000,000 for military preparedness as part of this country's new stop-Russia policy.

"I don't know what effect that will have," Taft said.

However, an administration official who asked not to be quoted by name agreed with Martin. He said he sees "no chance" that a one-third-plus-one vote can be mustered in the Senate to uphold a veto.

Seek Unanimous Consent

Martin said House Republicans would try to get the Senate tax cut version approved by unanimous consent today.

But Democratic Leader Rayburn, of Texas, served notice he would put a stop to that. Hence it appeared unlikely that the

SENATOR HILL CALLS FOR PRESIDENT'S WITHDRAWAL

Truman Sticking To Guns As Fires Of Revolt Rise Higher

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 23 — Senator Hill (D-Ala) called today for President Truman's withdrawal from the Democratic presidential race. But Senator Hatch (D-NM) said the President will not quit.

Hatch told a reporter he has it from Mr. Truman himself that the President will "fight through to the end" to whatever political fate awaits him.

Had Announced Support

Hill had announced previously his support of Mr. Truman for the party nomination. Today he withdrew his indorsement in the face of mounting Dixie resentment against the President's civil rights program. Hill said in a statement:

"The situation in Alabama and the South today makes it clear that there cannot be Democratic party unity with President Truman as the nominee of the party."

The revolt against the President spread northward, too.

Three Brooklyn Democratic leaders in districts with heavy Jewish populations announced they will not support the President for the nomination.

Will Not Step Aside

Despite these evidences of hostility, Hatch said there is no intention on the part of the President to step aside at the last moment for another Democratic nominee.

"You can say for me — and I have it directly from the President himself — that Harry Truman will fight through to the end," Hatch said.

"He has cast aside politics and he doesn't care what happens to him politically He has told me that he intends to do what he thinks is right, without regard to political consequences."

The Brooklyn Democratice leaders who quit the President's camp said their action was based on the administration's about-face on the partitioning of Palestine.

Hatch, a close personal friend, said he talked with Mr. Truman on the telephone. He said the President—far from being downhearted at the turn of political events—seemed "exuberant."

Might Be For Best

The New Mexico senator said he attributed the President's attitude to the decision "to forget all about politics," adding:

"I'm not sure but that's the best

Reduction Planned In Freight Traffic

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP) The Office of Defense Transportation said today it will order a 25 percent cut in freight traffic hauled by coal-burning locomotives unless the coal strike ends by next week.

Director J. Monroe Johnson said the order would be made effective next Sunday or Monday. It would not apply to shipments of coal.

The planned cut in freight traffic would follow a similar ODT order which has already curtailed passenger service by coal-burning trains by 25 percent.

Johnson said that as of yesterday the railroads had a 24-day supply of coal on hand. He estimated the proposed cut would save 12,000 tons of coal daily.

Lawyer Asks Denial Of Pipeline Permit

WASHINGTON, March 23 (U.P.) An opposition lawyer charged today that the Transcontinental Pipeline co. proposes to build its Texas-to-New York natural gas pipeline with "gray market" steel. He said the resulting extra expense would be $20,000,000.

Tom McGrath, counsel for the coal industry, railroad and barge companies opposing the project told the Federal Power commission it "wouldn't dare" approve the application for a license to build the new pipeline.

All Traces Of Cool Wave Are Wiped Out

Conditions Right For An Epidemic Of Spring Fever As Sun Beams On State

(By The Associated Press)

Conditions were right today for an epidemic of spring fever in Texas.

A beaming sun quickly wiped out traces of a cool wave that brought a killing freeze to the El Paso area early Monday and produced rain and windstorms elsewhere.

Fair and warmer weather was forecast to continue throughout the state tonight and tomorrow.

Amarillo, in the Panhandle, was the only point to report a freeze last night. Its low was 30 degrees. Clarendon, to the east of Amarillo, had a low of 34.

Galveston, on the upper Gulf coast, had the highest overnight temperature—56 degrees. The mercury dropped to 52 at Brownsville, in the extreme south.

The Sunday night-Monday morning freeze virtually destroyed the apricot and peach crop in the El Paso area of Texas and New Mexico.

STOCK SHOW IS IN SECOND DAY

Champions In Pig Division Selected

BY H. I. KIEFER
Journal Staff Writer

Championships were decided this morning in two of the six classes comprising the pig division of the 15th annual South Plains Junior Fat Stock show which continues through tomorrow at the fairgrounds.

A heavy barrow exhibited by Woody Jackson, Lubbock FFA member, was named champion of the Berkshire breed while a lightweight Chester White raised by Seth Johnston, Floydada 4H club boy, carried off the honors for that class.

Others To Be Awarded

Still to be awarded were the various cash prizes and championships, among the Duroc, Hampshire, Poland China and Spotted Poland China breeds. More than half of the 291 pigs entered in the show had been judged at noon by N. C. Fine, of the Texas Technological college faculty.

The final event in the judging will be the selection of the grand and reserve champions of the show from among breed champions.

Placing second to Jackson's entry among heavy Berkshires was that of Melvin Edmunds, Tahoka 4H member. Haldane Benton, Lubbock FFA, was third.

Rankings Are Given

Prize winners in the lightweight Chester Whites were the following: Kenneth Acker, Nazareth 4H; John Bridges, Hart 4H; David Behrends, Dimmitt 4H; Floyd Acker, Nazareth 4H, and Allen Swinford, Lubbock FFA.

Carroll Johnson, Floydada 4H, placed first among Chester White heavies. Kenneth Galt, also of Floydada, was second.

Sale Set Today

Other highlights today were: the sale of about 100 sifted calves, which fell short of weight requirements for entry of the show, at the Lubbock Auction and Commission Co., sales ring this morning; the open house at the fairgrounds from 1:30 to 6 o'clock this afternoon; and the annual barbecue in the Texas Technological college

Pipe Used In Brutal Attack

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23 (U.P.) —A prominent physician bludgeoned his wife and his mother-in-law with a lead pipe last night and apparently tried to commit suicide by ramming his speeding automobile into a stone wall police reported today.

In St. Luke's hospital was Dr Bernard A. Cody, 52-year-old urologist. Police said he mumbled a brief confession before becoming unconscious.

Condition Critical

In Central Emergency hospital were his wife, Grace, 43, and her mother, Mrs. Mary McDevitt, 80. Their conditions were critical.

Mrs. McDevitt told police that Cody and his wife were in the bedroom of their Marina home talking last night.

"I heard Grace scream," she said. I started into the bedroom through the hall. Something struck me on the side of the head."

Police said Cody went out of the house and drove his car at high speed into the Fort Mason retaining wall on Van Ness avenue.

Was In The House

Mrs. McDevitt said she did not know who struck her but confirmed that Cody was in the house when it happened.

Police found a 15-inch lead pipe in a blood-spattered bedroom of the Cody home. They said it was the weapon used in the attack.

The Codys had been married 25 years and it was a happy, normal marriage, relatives said. Cody reportedly had been "tired and upset" recently.

Earlier in the night, a three-alarm fire partially destroyed the Green Hut cafe. Fire Marshall W. G. Burns estimated damage to building and contents at $17,500.

Thousands Of Residents Are Losing Homes

Disasters Feared Is Wide Area If Rains Continue

(By The United Press)

Widespread thunderstorms and showers threatened to increase flood damage today over sections of an 11-state area where high water had forced thousands from their homes.

U. S. Engineers warned that major floods may develop if the rain continued or were heavier than expected.

Showers Sweep Eastward

The weather bureau predicted that the showers would sweep eastward today from North Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri, already suffering damage due to high water, into the remainder of the flood area, Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York.

Fifty-six persons had died due to tornadoes, floods and other violent weather conditions in the past five days.

About one half inch of rain was expected at most places but forecasters said heavy thundershowers could cause localized disasters.

Highways Under Water

Many highways were under water in the affected areas. About 50,00 persons were homeless and others were preparing to flee the rising waters.

The worst trouble spots were at Quincy, Ill., and Binghampton, N. Y.

More than 150 volunteers worked all night strengthening a levee at Quincy which threatened to burst as the Mississippi river rose toward a temporary crest.

"The slow rise indicates that the swell is slackening," an engineer said. "However, another crest is heading down the Des Moines river and probably will hit the Mississippi tomorrow. That will cause another rise here."

Residents Are Aided

The sheriff's office at Quincy said the river stood at 21.35 feet at the levee south of town where the volunteer crews were sandbagging. It was expected to reach 21.5, about 7½ feet over flood stage.

Guns Crackle In Trieste As Tension Rises

Slavs Ask Gorizia If Trieste Given Back To Italians

(By The Associated Press)

Italy rejected today the Yugoslav offer to swap Trieste for the Italian town of Gorizia to the north.

Trieste, of course, is international territory and is not Yugoslavia's to barter. The proposal of the United States, Britain and France to return Trieste to Italy was believed adverse to the Italian Communists, bidding for supreme power in the April 18 elections.

FRESH TROOPS ARRIVE

TRIESTE, March 23 (AP) — Fresh detachments of British military police have moved into the tense frontier area of Trieste it was announced officially tonight.

Menace Said Grave

Eugene Cardinal Tisserant of Italy declared "no menace so grave as atheistic Communism has ever threatened Christian civilization." These were the strongest words against Communism yet voiced by an Italian prelate.

The Yugoslav interior ministry said the mine explosion at Rachi, near Trieste, which killed 71 persons March 14 was caused "by order from outside." A man bearing documents in the case was killed by border guards while attempting to cross the frontier into Italy the ministry said.

Great throngs shouting "Viva Trieste" welcomed Premier Alcide De Gasperi and Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza back to Rome from northern Italy.

Attitude Is Forecast

Premier De Gasperi forecast the possible official attitude Sunday when he said "we could not accept it (Trieste) for Gorizia."

In Washington American officials also turned a cold shoulder to the Yugoslav swap offer.

Nervous Italians became even more jittery following a shooting affray yesterday between Yugoslav and Italian border patrols in Trieste. An Italian policeman was hit.

At Lake Success, Britain's Sir Alexander Cadogan told the United Nations security council that the advance of Communism must be halted.

"There are limits beyond which this tide must not advance and it must be dammed back," Cadogan said.

In Helsinki, President Juho Paasikivi assured Finns that next

Young Wife Of Minister Slain

WELLS, Nev., March 23. (AP)—The pretty, young wife of a Presbyterian minister was raped and viciously bludgeoned to death with a rolling pin by an itinerant who asked for food, Constable Homer Murphy said today.

Sheriff C. L. Smith of Elko county termed the slaying "the most horrible crime I have ever come across."

The Rev. Richard Morning, 27, found the body of his wife, Rillee Rahe, 22, about midnight on his return home from a nearby city. Her hands and legs were tied to her bed with electric cord. A towel was fastened tightly around her throat. A sheet was wrapped around her head.

Baby Was Unharmed

The Mornings' eight-months-old son was on the bed beside his mother. He was unharmed. But Murphy said the woman had been beaten with the rolling pin until it broke. The blood-covered instrument was found in the bedroom.

Authorities throughout Nevada began a search for the itinerant. He was described as about 20, about five feet four inches in height, with a pockmarked face. A man similarly described had begged money from several persons here.

Plan To Halt Coal Strike Is Refused

Next Move Up To Truman; Effects Of Mine And Meat Walkouts Are Felt Over Nation

(By The Associated Press)

The United Mine Workers today rejected a government plan for ending the soft coal strike. This left any further moves up to President Truman.

Mr. Truman could appoint a board of inquiry, as he has done in the meat industry shutdown, and later seek an injunction under the Taft-Hartley law against the UMW.

But all this would take time. The board studying the walkout of 100,000 CIO packinghouse workers began its work in Chicago last Thursday.

It has until April 1 to report to Mr. Truman. Then the President could ask the attorney general for an injunction to halt the meat strike for an 80-day mediation period.

Effects of both the meat and coal tieups are widespread. Railroad and steel industry operations are crippled by the fuel shortage. Meat is scarcer and higher priced.

The packinghouse workers seek a 29-cents hourly pay raise and have rejected a 9-cents hige offered by the packers.

The work stoppage by 400,000 UMW members in the bituminous pits is over John L. Lewis' pension demands.

Lewis wants $100 a month pensions from the welfare fund raised by a 10-cent royalty on each ton of coal. The operators charge Lewis wants to give pensions to miners not entitled to them.

The government plan rejected by the UMW and "reluctantly" accepted by the mine operators called for John L. Lewis to send the miners back to work during study of the dispute by a fact-finding board.

A three-man UMW committee termed the plan "grotesque" and declared it would "aid the coal operators, who have dishonored their (work) agreement and further defraud the beneficiaries of the welfare fund."

There were these other labor developments:

About one-fourth of the nation's printing is hit by a work stop-

SENATORS HEAR DEFENSE FACTS

Draft, UMT Plans Gaining In Senate

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 23—The Senate armed services committee swung its weight today behind President Truman's plea for quick steps to build up America's military forces.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) reported that 10 of the committee's 13 members already are convinced both a limited draft and universal military training have become an "absolute necessity."

Gurney and nine of his colleagues were the only Senators present during a 50-minute meeting behind locked doors with Secretary of State Marshall, Secretary of Defense Forrestal and Secretary of the Army Royall.

Much Is Secret

Most of what the three secretaries said remained cloaked in complete secrecy. But Gurney did report when the session broke up late yesterday:

1. The United States has drawn no line, and does not intend to draw one, as the final limit for Russian expansion.

2. There was a great deal of general, rather than specific, discussion of the "generally critical and more progressively serious situation in Europe."

"It is my firm belief that the committee—those that were here—left the meeting feeling there is an absolute necessity for quick passage of both (the draft and UMT) measures," Gurney declared.

Another Talk Set

Senator Bridges (R-NH) added that the members were "impressed with the immediate seriousness of the situation."

Bridges is chairman of the Senate appropriations committee, to which the armed services must turn for money before the programs can be carried out.

The joint chiefs of staff arranged an appointment with President Truman and Budget Director James Webb this afternoon (2:30 p. m. CST).

Counter-Boycott Is Started In Berlin

BERLIN, March 23 (AP) — The United States started tonight a counter-boycott to Russia's moves in Germany's four-power government.

The Russians called on four-power subcommittees on taxation, currency reform and currency printing late today to meet later this week, thus ending, temporarily at least, their two-day boycott of the Allied Control council government.

Two hours later, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the U.S. military governor, notified the Soviet Union the American representatives would not attend any subcommittee meeting until the Russians set a date for another meeting of the Allied Control council itself.

Five Die As Home For Aged Burns

OMAHA, Neb., March 23 (U.P.)—Fire swept through a private home for aged persons today and killed five men.

Seven other inmates of the home were hospitalized.

The fire was in Ward's rest home, in the north side of Omaha. Cause was not determined.

Twelve persons were known to have been in the home at the time of the fire.

Fire Chief Ben Meister said the fire apparently started in a small anteroom off the first floor entrance.

Air Line Seeks Route In Area

Local civic officials have been advised by Eastern Air Lines, that the company's application for approval to establish a new southern transcontinental air route providing Lubbock and other major southern and southwestern points with their first direct, one-carrier coast-to-coast service, has been set for pre-hearing conference before the Civil Aeronautics board in Washington, D. C., April 15.

In New York City, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, president and General manager of Eastern Air Lines, said the company had long realized the pressing need for the proposed route, emphasized that his organization has pioneered in planning such an airway and was planning such an airway and the first air line to apply to the CAB for authority to establish such a service (Docket 2148 filed Nov. 29, 1945). He expressed satisfaction that the way was now cleared for action on the vital proposal.

Would Be Extension

The proposed route would be an extension of the company's San Juan, P. R.-Miami-Tampa-Tallahassee-New Orleans-Houston-San Antonio service westward to Los Angeles and San Francisco with two routings linking 64 important and intermediate cities. One routing would extend from San Antonio to San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco via intermediate points; the other would extend from Beaumont-Port Arthur to San Francisco via Dallas, Fort Worth, Lubbock,

"Democracy Founded On Ideal Of Man's Relationship To God"

Bishop Smith Urges Teaching Of Religion, As Well As Material Subjects In Public Schools

By OPAL DIXON
Journal Staff Writer

Teaching of varied subjects from a theism to basketball is permissible in public school education and "surely there is some ground where the church can present its point of view," Bishop W. Angie Smith of the Oklahoma-New Mexico area of the Methodist church said here this morning.

"I am thoroughly committed to a system of religious instruction either worked out under a proper ruling of the Supreme court or following the school session," he said.

"American democracy is not founded on a base of secularism but on the ideal of a man's relationship to his God," he said. "Since America is what it is today because of the contribution of religion, it is a strange commentary upon our sense of values when it is possible for a child to be taught materialistic and atheistic conceptions of life, but cannot be taught the essentials of religion in his school."

He made these statements in an interview following this morning's service in the Holy week series in which he is speaking at the First Methodist church.

He said that until the recent question arose which resulted in the Supreme court decision that religious education in public schools is unconstitutional, the program of religious education in the public schools was "sponsored, supported and financed without any embarrassment."

In a public school program not permitting religious education, the student would be in the school room much of the day, would be given material which would require home study, and "What chance would the church have in a half hour on Sunday?"

He said, "I cannot see how the

Turkey Remains Half-Forgotten Although In Peril From Russia

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 23 — While the eyes of the world are on Czechoslovakia, Finland, Italy, Trieste and the Palestine—all danger-spots—Turkey's peril seems forgotten. Yet it is more real than ever.

In the event of war with the Soviet Union, Turkey could become the most vital of all bases of operation against Russia in Europe. She is closer to Moscow than to Berlin and considerably nearer to the lower Danube than to the American zone in Germany or Austria.

Near Oil

Turkey is within 200 miles, as a bomber flies, of Russia's richest oil fields around Grozny. She is not more than 300 miles from the Baku petroleum deposits; and the Ukraine and the Volga valley are just across the Black sea.

Russia's every move since Yalta has aimed at making home territory as secure as possible against attack, especially by air. Turkey and Norway are now the sole remaining free nations touching the Soviet Union proper. That is why both are now in such danger. Radar posted in Norway, Finland, eastern Europe, the Balkans and Turkey would spot enemy planes hours before they reached the Soviet border.

Another reason for Turkey's peril is the increasing tension in Palestine and the Middle East. Russia and her Communists might take over all western Europe, including Italy and France but unless Russia takes Turkey, too, she would remain vulnerable to the same sort of maneuver as the Allies used against the Axis in North Africa.

Turkey Accessible

If the Mediterranean were blocked, American and Allied forces could enter Turkey from the direction of the Persian gulf or the Valley of the Nile. The United States sent into Russia billions of dollars worth of lend-lease by that route during World War II.

Lastly, Russia has her eyes on the oil reserves of the Middle East. Modern wars use oceans of petroleum products and, however much she may have in in reserve or underground, she hasn't enough. And she would hardly risk war unless and until she gets her hands on more. This would have to come from Iran, Iraq and Arabia.

And here, again, Turkey enters the picture. As long as Turkey retains her independence, Russia would not dare wage aggressive war in the Middle East. In one way or another she would have to have Turkey on her side. And Turkey will not willingly enter the lair of the Red bear.

Traditional Enemies

Traditionally the two countries are enemies. Since Peter the Great, Russia has wanted control of the straits. After the Hitler and Stalin partnership of 1939, Turkey signed a 15-year treaty of alliance with Britain and France, with a Turkish reservation regarding war against the Soviet.

Turkey has not forgotten how Russia brought pressure, in the dark hours following the Nazi britz of 1940, to force her to give up the districts of Kars and Ardahan, on the Caucasus frontier. Nor that if there had not been the 1941 break between Russia and Germany, the story might have had a different ending.

Even so, the Russian menace was such as to tie Turkey's hands, insofar as aiding the British and French were concerned. At that, she had to place herself on a war footing at great expense.

Now she is up against it more than ever, as once again the war clouds pile up over Europe and the Middle East.

All-time record slaughter of game animals in Wyoming was in 1943, when 33,609 animals were taken.

Six Meat Strikers Held At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, March 23. (AP)—Six strikers at the Armour & Co. packing plant were arrested last night and booked on charges of violating the new state anti-mass picketing law.

The strikers were arrested after Lee McClendon, 45, a worker at the plant, was struck over the right eye with a beer bottle. An automobile containing six men forced McClendon's car to the curb near the Armour plant.

McClendon said he and two other employes had just driven through the picket line at the plant after a lay's work.

"These men walked over to our car and said something about working in the plant," McClendon told district attorney Al Slyde and police chief R. E. Dysart. "I started to get out and was hit on the head by a beer bottle."

Maximum penalties under the law are a $500 fine and 90 days in jail.

Body Of Woman Is Found Near Orange

ORANGE, March 23. (AP)—The body of a young white woman found floating in the Sabine river remained unidentified early today.

Eugene Dupree, Orange fisherman, found the body yesterday.

Dr. E. L. Clements, Calcasieu parish, La., coroner, said the body had been in the water from four to ten days.

The woman was about 30 years old, had black hair and brown eyes. She was about five feet, eight inches tall and weighed about 125 pounds. She was dressed in a black skirt, light-colored blouse with lace front and white and tan oxfords.

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this nervous distress.

Executive Starts To Work As Home Defense Work Director

B EARL REICHERT
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 23—The man who will devise defense plans for the home front in case of another war rolled up his sleeves and went to work at the Pentagon today.

Sworn in as director of civilian defense planning was Russell J. Hopley, six-foot-one president of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. at Omaha who was given a six-month leave of absence by his company for the federal job.

"I am starting from scratch," he said. "I have no specific ideas at th eoutset but as I see my job it is one of the steps toward supplying an adequate fire department for any emergency or catastrophe.

Three Phases Planned

"Every community should have an emergency organization to meet any possible disaster."

He said there were three phases in setting up a civilian defense program. First, planning; second, congressional action, and third, putting the program into effect on federal, regional, state and local levels.

Mr. Hopley said he intended to do only the planning phase, plus testifying before congressional committees if necessary.

He laughed and refused to comment when asked if he thought a civilian defense organization should employ a glide dancer as was done in the recent war. He then added:

Expects Interesting Job

"I might say, however, that Mr. Forrestal (Defense Secretary James Forrestal) told me that one of my tasks would be to separate the fantastic from the practical in defense planning."

He said his general objective would be to establish such plans as are needed on a sound and efficient basis.

"This is going to be an interesting assignment," he said. "One thing I can say is that I have learned to work hard and I expect to do so here."

Appointment of Mr. Hopley as director of civilian defense planning stresses the importance placed by high administration officials on maintaining and protecting domestic communication lines in event of war. Mr. Hopley is an expert in that field and also has a wide general knowledge of all public utilities.

Started At Bottom

Secretary Forrestal asked the Bell Telephone system to provide a man to handle the civilian defense planning job and Mr. Hopley was chosen. He was first notified of his new assignment only a month ago.

Like most Bell Telephone Co. executives, Mr. Hopley started at the bottom in 1915 as a $40-a-month bill collector at Fort Madison, Iowa, where he grew up. He has been with the company since, except for two years in the Army during World war I.

In World war II he served as a member of the Army Air forces civilian aide committee helping select officer personnel, and as a trustee of United Seamen's service.

He is a lifelong Republican but doesn't mention it unless asked. He is 52, married, the father of two teen-age boys, and gardens and plays golf for recreation.

"If we find the action to support Harris was a violation, we will not support him as an organization," Lofley said.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

On Impulse, Happily Married Woman Drifts In Company Of Another Man; Now Is Uncertain

DEAR Mary Haworth: I had been married nine years when I met John. My husband and I were good companions, mentally and physically compatible, parents of a bright child; we enjoyed our jobs and had a pleasant social life. It looked like a solid marriage.

Then I met John in a government agency, we often worked together on projects, and soon discovered that we had a great community of interests, light and serious. A pleasant friendship but not unusual; I had felt similar rapport with many people.

A year later the agency was dissolved; and on the last day, when all of us were feeling sentimental about a closing chapter of experience, I went through the motions of casually inviting John and his wife to meet my family some day. That should have been all, but it wasn't.

SHE HAS LOST ZEST FOR LIFE

HE INVITED me to a farewell drink and over a few highballs we agreed to meet again for lunch. Soon we were lunching together often and eventually we were desperately in love and lying and sneaking to be together evenings. We drifted for a year, unable to take definitive action or to stay apart.

Then the terrible strain of wanting more than this furtive relationship began to tell (I grew thin, indecisive and overwrought); and a month ago we said goodbye, unsure that we were right but not courageous enough for divorce.

While I am still unsure, I believe the decision is out of my hands; but I can't get back to my family. Emotionally I've been away a long time. I feel strange with my friends, bored with former interests, incapable of finding a new job or working at homemaking.

I want very much to be a good wife and mother, but first I need peace of mind. Where do I get it? I am not religious, and if I were to get psychiatric help my husband would have to know why. Do you see any point in telling him? It would be a great blow to his self-esteem. He might feel he was second choice, and I don't know.

Signed J. R.

EACH MISJUDGED OTHER'S NATURE

DEAR J. R.: Emotionally you've been away from your family in the same sense that an alcoholic is lost to reality when on a protracted spree.

It is curiously apt that your romance with John was alcoholically conceived, because it has been an emotional jag all through, as futile and insubstantial as that, from the first drink together until he diplomatically ditched you a month ago, leaving you tremeulously sure that the decision was out of your hands.

John mistook you for a playgirl. At any rate, that's all he wanted as a change-of-pace from his wife. You mistook him for a hero, the "Ideal Man" of your deeply repressed, undigested adolescent dreams, which hadn't materialized in your husband.

Hence the terrible strain of the cross-purpose drifting, with John passively resisting your implicit demands for a great deal more than furtive dalliance. Now in the wake of his final goodbye you are nervously sick from the shock of it, coming on top of the emotional wear-and-tear and cumulative fatigue that had gone before.

DEJECTED IN WAKE OF EMOTIONAL JAG

BY AND LARGE, your dejection and feeling of being out of tune with reality, of having no interest or energy for family, friends or normal social pursuits, are comparable to the "sick" sensations of an alcoholic sobering up after a marathon binge.

No doubt your sick nerves cry out that of you were seeing John you would feel better; or at least, not so bad. Just as the alcoholic feels, "Another drink would fix me up," even when he knows it's a case of horse returning to burning barn.

You say you need peace of mind. Well, yes. But peace in the sense of sober pace; of quieting down until you've recovered from the false appetite for breathless excitement recently acquired. The cure for what ails you is to give happiness to husband and child, instead of straining after new romance in Valentine-package.

If your husband is still a devoted helpmeet and has been all through this episode, he is sanctuary indeed; and in my opinion it would be inexcusably selfish to harass him with a whining recital of your discomfort as you come limping home, the Prodigal-wife.

M. H.

Lions Show Set For Whiteface, Ruidoso

The Lubbock Lions club is to present its 1948 edition of the Jubilee Minstrels in the high school auditorium at Whiteface Thursday night, April 1, and the following Saturday night, April 3, at Ruidoso, it was announced at the club's luncheon today at the Hilton hotel.

The stage in the Whiteface auditorium, comparable to the one at Lubbock High school, is new, and the announcement said is the only one in this vicinity with sufficient room to accommodate the minstrel stage setup. The show will be for the benefit of the Whiteface Lions club.

The trip to Ruidoso will be the second annual event of the kind, with all members of the cast and others connected with the show to be guests of the Lions club there for the weekend. Special buses will make the run, leaving at different times up to noon of the day of the show.

No formal program was scheduled for the luncheon meeting. Club President J. Wm. Davis was in the chair, with invocation by Rev. Earl Smith, of Los Angeles, here for a revival campaign at Rev. Floyd Dawson's Foursquare church.

Recent Red Actions In Berlin Dim Hope For Peace In Germany

By SIGRID ARNE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Russian actions in Berlin that past few days make it look as though another hope may shortly go glimmering: the hope of rebuilding Germany into a healthy, peace-loving nation.

Since the end of the war Berlin has been the place where the four occupying powers—the Americans, the British, French and Russians—have worked together in a council. Each power contols a portion of the city, although Berlin itself lies in te eastern section of Germany which Russia occupies.

But now the Communist papers in Berlon are suggesting that the westerners get out.

Russian Walks Out

And Saturday the Russian delegate, Marshal V. Sokolvsky, walked out of a council meeting.

Ever since the war ended, the four-power meetings in Berlin have had trouble because the Russian delegate either delayed or refused to agree to plans which the other three approved.

The most annoying difference has been over the use of goods which the Germans themselves produced. A definite plan was laid down for them at Potsdam.

They agreed that any surplus goods turned out by the Germans should be put into a pool. Those pooled goods were to be sold abroad to pay for things the Germans would have to import.

Make No Reports

The westerners waited for some move from the Russians to chip in. But as the mogths passed no goods ever showed up. The Russians made no reports on what their sector was doing.

And while this was happening British and American tax-payers were asked to shell out hundreds of millions to feed the Germans in their area.

Finally, early in 1947, the British and Americans merged their sectors in all business deal to try to cut down the cost to the folks at home. They left the gate open for the Russians, but no Russian knocked.

Last week the Americans, French and British met in London to talk just about western Germany. American goods will shortly begin to move into western Europe, and western Germany has to be fitted into the picture because it can contribute steel to the general rebuilding of Europe.

Meetings Called Off

Thereupon Sokolovsky read an angry speech to the council in Berlin—and walked out. Yesterday the Russians, being chairmen this month of the council committees in Berlin, called off committee meetings.

The Russians stand to gain if they break up allied control of Germany. Their troops already occupy eastern Germany. If the allied council breaks up they could merely add eastern Germany to the large area of foreign soil they now control.

The Russians could get tough. They could insist, with troops, on what their papers are now saying: that the westerners leave Berlin—which would leave eastern Germany in Russian hands.

There is no official information in Washington on what the United States would do if Russian bayonets suddenly were turned against the handful of American troops in Berlin. But off-the-record statements remind you that Americans don't like to be thrown out of places.

Seaman Given Death Penalty

WINCHESTER, England, Mar. 23. (AP)—A husky 30-year-old seaman was sentenced to hang for the death at sea of a pretty actress. The case had been referred to in the press as Britain's "murder without a body."

Eileen "Gay" Gibson, 21, disappeared from the liner Durban Castle on the night of Oct. 18 while the vessel was off the coast of Africa. James Camb, a deck steward on the ship, was accused of murder.

He testified that she died during intimacy with her consent, and that he shoved her body through a porthole into the shark-infested sea.

The jury deliberated only 45 minutes in finding Camb guilty. As the verdict was returned, Camb blanched and his eyes widened.

Appeal Considered

Asked by Justice Robert Hilbery if he had anything to say before the mandatory sentence of death was pronounced, Camb replied firmly:

"My lord, at the opening of this case, I was asked to plead guilty or not guilty. I pleaded not guilty and I repeat that statement now. That is all."

Counsel for the seaman said an appeal was being considered.

Camb had testified he "panicked" after the comely actress died in his arms. The prosecution claimed Camb "forced himself" on Miss Gibson and that she resisted and scratched him. Then, the prosecution said, Camb choked her to death and pushed her body through the porthole to conceal his crime. The body never was recovered.

Search For Missing Sherman Pilot Ends

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 23. (AP)—The Oklahoma Highway patrol called off a search for a missing Sherman, Tex., pilot yesterday when Milton C. Allon, was located here.

Allen was reported missing after he left Enid, Okla., Sunday afternoon.

Highway patrolmen said he landed at an airport here Sunday night, apparently because of bad weather, and stayed overnight. He left for Denison, Tex., yesterday afternoon.

Trainer Plane Crash Is Fatal For Pilot

GEORGETOWN, March 23 (U.P.)—Funeral arrangements were pending today for Ted Donnell, 20, Georgetown student pilot, who was killed in a trainer plane crash about 12 miles west of here yesterday.

Donnell was reported to have been circling over a farm house at about 70 feet when his plane nosedived to the ground.

Man Is Held In Rape Of 7-Year-Old Girl

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 23. (AP)—A seven-year-old girl came home from school at noon today and sobbingly told her mother a white man enticed her from the school yard and ravished her.

Two hours later, Police Chief Jack Pyle announced the arrest of a 26-year-old war veteran whom he named as Billy Forby. Pyle added that Forby made a verbal statement that he raped the child four blocks from the Park Hill school.

He said a formal charge of rape would be filed as soon a stenographer transcribed the man's statement.

The chief said Forby lived at Sylvan Hills, near the school.

The little girl is in the second grade at school. Her father is a business man.

Verdict In Death Of Man Is Given

AUSTIN, March 23. (AP)—A two-month inquest in the death of Moises Reyes of Laredo ended yesterday when Justice of the Peace Frank W. McBee returned a verdict of death caused by encephalomeningitis.

Pneumonia was said to be a contributing cause of the 21-year-old chauffeur's death.

Reyes died in a local hospital Jan. 23 after being found in a coma in an Austin hotel. He died without being able to shed any light on what had happened.

One doctor believed a slight abrasion on his head indicated death resulted from a blow. Other doctors disagreed, and the justice of the peace ordered an autopsy. Vital organs were sent to a laboratory for examination.

McBee's verdict was based on results of the laboratory analysis.

New Ruling Prohibits Shipping Of Military Goods To Russia

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 23 — This country's tough attitude toward Russia is taking another stiff turn.

That's on the shipment of American goods to Russia .There'll be a ban on any goods that could help Russia militarily.

A government official—in the Commerce department—said:

1. No shipment of any kind for Russia has been okeyed since March 1.

2. This week this government will decide what kind of goods can be shipped.

3. No goods can go if, directly or indirectly, they might help build Russia's military strength.

Action Explained

For instance? He mentioned big power-shovels for opening mines. They might be an indirect military help.

But that doesn't mean a ban on harmless goods for Russia.

Why no shipments okayed for Russia since March 1?

On that date the government stopped shipment to any country of anything—if it's worth $100 or more—without Commerce department approval.

And it hasn't given approval.

Yesterday for a while Catholic war veterans picketed a Russian ship, the Chukokta, which was loading machinery at Jersey City.

Shipments Already Sent

A commerce department official explained that the good being loaded now were on their way to port before March 1.

In 1938, the last pre-war year, 1.6 per cent of all our shipments abroad went to Russia. They were worth $69,0000,000.

In 1947 our shipments to Russia were 1 per cent of our entire export trade. They were worth $149,000,000.

(At present inflated prices, the official said, that $149,000,000 in 1947 wasn't much more, if any than the $69,000,000 in 1938.)

Imports Steady

What we imported from Russia in 1938 was one per cent of our entire import trade. It was about the same in 1947.

Undressed furs made uj 56 per cent of the things we bought from Russia last year; platinum for sharpening tools and chrome-manganese for making steel made up another 26 per cent.

Mexican Firm Sold To Texans

TAMPICO, Mexico, March 23 (U.P.)—Neville G. Penrose and associates of Fort Worth, have paid $200,000 (U. S.) for half interest in a producing Mexican oil company, it was learned here today.

The Texas group acquired their interest in the New England Fuel and Oil company from Pablo Bush, of Mexico City, in the first sizeable foreign investment in Mexican oil since expropriation of the foreign owned oil companies in 1938.

Bush bought the New England Fuel and Oil company three years ago from the Magnolia Petroleum company.

Has Nine Wells

The New England now has nine producing wells in the rich Panuco field about 50 miles west of Tampico and is seeking government permission to expand its drilling work.

Bush, who will continue as president of the company, said that with cleaning the wells, overhauling tubing and modernization work the New England could up its annual production to 200,000 barrels about ten times.

The company's production, Bush said, will all be sold to Petroleos Mexicanos, the government controlled company, for 70 cents (U S.)))a barrel.

In addition to Bush, other officers of the company include Penrose, vice president; J. M. Zachary, Fort Worth, vice president-secretary-treasurer.

The New England and the Mexican Gulf Oil company, a subsidiary of the Gulf Oil company, were the two major companies to escape expropriation in 1938.

However, Antonio J. Bermudez, director general of Pemex, said last week that Pemex "acquired" the Mexican Gulf holdings in the Faja de Oro region Jan. 31 of this year.

Bush, a wealthy Mexico City businessman, only recently sold an uncompleted 14-story building in Mexico City for $1,000,000 (U. S.)) to Swedish industrialist Axel Wenner Gren.

WANTS NEW CHAIR—W. A. (Bill) Ward, Justice of Peace in Abilene, Texas, is searching for a chair and price is no object. The problem is in size and strength. Ward weighs 465 pounds and is "at least 36 inches ACROSS." For the past five years he's been using an ancient swivel chair with 2x4's nailed across the seat. "It's not comfortable," he says.

Burglar Cooperates In His Own Arrest

DENVER, March 23 (AP)—Detective Fred H. Currier made perhaps the easiest arrest of his life today.

Here's how Currier tells it:

He was sitting in an eating spot early this morning when a stranger walked in and plopped down on the stool beside him.

"Packing a rod?" the man asked.

"Yep," Currier said.

"Got a Car?" the man asked.

"Yep—I got a car."

"Come with me," the man said. "There's a drugstore in Fowler I know. There's $1,500 or $2,000 in it. We can knock it over tonight."

Currier obliged, but instead of visiting the drugstore, he took his man to the police station.

It was as simple as that.

Pendergrass Rites Set For Thursday

MEADOW, March 23 (Special) — Funeral services for Jean Pendergrass, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Pendergrass of Meadow, who died Sunday night in Mayo hospital in Rochester, Minn., will be conducted at 3 p. m. Thursday at Meadow.

A senior in Meadow High school, Miss Pendergrass had been ill about three months, and was taken to the Mayo hospital about three weeks ago.

She is survived by her parents, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hester, of Abilene.

The average person tends to overestimate the weight of dark colored objects and underestimate the weight of light colored objects.

The modern hotel is an American invention, although the first "inn" was opened in Lydia during the seventh century B. C. The word "hotel" was first used by Joseph Corre, a New York innkeeper, in 1790.

Negro Rushed By Mob After Killing

COLUMBUS, S. C., March 23. (AP)—A husky, six-foot negro railroad shop laborer was rescued from a mob of negroes today shortly after, police charged, he lashed his 11-year-old son to death.

Richland (Columbia) county Coroner William A. Plott said a threatening crowd of more than 200 negroes had gathered outside the home of Thomas Andrew White, 34.

'Only the arrival of the police cars averted mob action against White," Plott said.

Chief of city detectives William A. Rawlinson said the boy's wrists were tied together behind his back and his body suspended by a rope under the shoulders.

He wouldn't tell me the truth," police quoted White as saying, about a one dollar bill the boy had collected yesterday. I beat him and he wouldn't tell me."

Eisenhower For Demo Candidate Is Talked

DALLAS, March 23 (AP) — A few war veterans are going to see what can be done about getting General Dwight D. Eisenhower as a Democratic candidate for the President.

A handful of the veterans s met yesterday in the office of Morris Jaffee, Dallas lawyer, who was on Eisenhower's staff during World War II.

"We're going to invite about 40 veterans from various veterans' organizations to a dinner April 1," Jaffee said. "At that time, we ought to find out how much chance this idea has."

Three Are Held On Narcotics Charges

LAREDO, March 23 (AP)—Three Houston men were held in jail here today on charges of smuggling, concealing and transporting narcotics.

The men, Lester Roig, 41, Herbert Roig, 42, and Harry C. Wells, 56, were arraigned yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Frank Y. Hill.

Greatest Exodus Of Migratory Workers From Texas In 10 Years Will Be Started In April

DALLAS, March 23 (AP) — The greatest exodus of migratory workers from Texas to northern states in 10 years is expected to start in April.

This means that probably 70,000 workers will leave Texas at the height of harvesting of some crops, particularly cotton.

Whether this will cause a labor shortage depends on the growth of crops between now and late fall.

Were Forcibly Halted

Last year, Texas officers forcibly halted a large number of migrants. This was done, it was officially explained, because the workers were recruited by unlicensed labor agents.

It so happened that the action was taken when Texas cotton farmers were hard up for cotton pickers.

Cotton growers grew bitter as they saw their cotton still in the field while workers were being trucked by the thousands to northern states.

The Texas Employment Commission reported that 53,369 workers were legally recruited in Texas last year.

Heard Of Better Jobs

But the commission estimates that another 10,000 to 15,000 left Texas under the urgings of unlicensed agents or simply left because they heard of better job prospects out of the state.

Manager Otto Belcher of the McAllen farm labor supply center predicts the heaviest migration in 10 years from the lower Rio Grande valley.

And migration strikes home to practically every county in Texas. It's not limited to Latin-Americans, as some suppose.

The Texas Employment Commission lists 150 counties out of the 254 in Texas from which laborers left for out-of-state employment last year.

For instance, Lubbock county contributed 1,262 legally recruited workers.

Job Possibilities Less

A major cause of the big migration this year is that lower Rio Grande valley employment possibilities are less than usual Cannery and field jobs are below normal because the tomato crop is light and will be light later. Cotton takes so little labor at this stage that it will not keep the workers in Texas.

Damage by late winter storms to East Texas tomatoes and peaches and North Texas and middle Rio Grande valley onions and other vegetables will cause further unemployment.

Farmers in Texas, particularly the valley, say that northern interests try to get their workers moving north as soon as possible. Then the workers wait for jobs. This may mean a month's idleness.

Already Receive Letters

Actually there is little field work in the northern states until May 1. But professional recruiters will start crews moving by April 1.

Already, labor crew leaders are receiving letters from employers asking that crews stand by for movement north.

The McAllen Monitor, in a series from Austin on the migrant labor problem, said that the professional recruiter argues that if he doesn't start the crew out as soon as it is signed, the workers will be scattered when the time comes to start work in northern fields.

This early arrival means that many workers are forced into debt because of idleness and others wander off looking for work. Then, says the Monitor, when the northern employer needs the workers, they aren't available. So he sends back to Texas for more workers, causing an unnecessary drain on the Texas labor supply.

Have Little Effect

The Monitor said that the current ban against Mexican citizens signing labor contracts for work in Texas will have little effect on the valley.

Plenty of wetbacks will cross the river illegally—as usual—to find work, the newspaper predicts.

Many who entered with work contracts still are in the United States. About 12,000 are being sought of the 300,000 brought to the U. S. from Mexico and the West Indies during the war. They simply disappeared into the population.

Some hope that Texas, Arkansas and Mississippi may be allowed to import workers this year. Mexico banned imports to these states because of "discrimination."

May Waste In Field

Only last week, a federal official warned that U. S. food supplies may waste in the field unless more migratory workers are found.

Russel Oberlin of the U. S. Employment Service's Washington office said in Dallas that the stepped-up agricultural production for European uses has made the need for workers critical.

J. H. Bond, Dallas USES regional manager, estimated that 1,400,000 migratory farm workers will be needed in the U. S. this year and only 600,000 are available. Furthermore, only 400,000 will be available at any one time.

One agency charged with responsibility of trying to supervise the movement of workers is the Texas Employment Commission, which has returned to the farm labor placement field after a five-year vacation.

Agreement Reached

During that five years, the Texas A. & M. college extension service handled farm labor placement.

he TEC's farm placement director, Henry S. Leblanc recently held meetings with some northern employers. They agreed not to ask for labor before they need it, but changes are good that they'll still allow a fair-sized margin of time.

Leblanc also asked the employers to whittle down their estimates of workers needed. Like most farmers, they'd like to have twice as many workers as they need just to be sure.

At a conference in Dallas last week, U. S. and state government employment officials mapped plans whereby they can help migratory workers in an efficient movement from crop to crop.

Offices Will Help

Local employment offices at strategic points will:

1. Keep in touch with farm labor needs.
2. Inform the public of the number of workers needed.
3. Tell workers when and where to apply for work.

Labor agents still are expected to be busy.

A license in Texas costs a labor agent from $2,000 to $10,000. These agents are careful to obey TEC orders.

An agent usually works through a crew chief. The crew chief is a worker to whom other workers look for guidance. He may be merely the head of his own family or he may be spokesman and guide for numbers of families.

If the crew chief works through a licensed agent, he has few worries.

Subject To Arrest

But if he doesn't determine that the agent is properly licensed, the crew chief is subject to arrest and fine. This arrest is based on the fact that the crew chief is taking workers out of the state for a fee without proper credentials.

Few workers know, the Monitor says, that Texas has teeth in its laws to force employers of other states to comply with promises they make Texas citizens.

Few realize that if working conditions, pay and living conditions promised them fail to materialize, they can complain to the state Bureau of Labor Statistics and get some action—if they have been recruited by licensed agents. These licensed agents have a $2,000 to $10,000 stake in the form of license fees.

No Strike Breakers

The law also forbids hiring of workers to act as strike breakers.

The Texas commission, as part of the U. S. Employment Service and supported by federal funds, has to consider the employment picture from a national basis as well as a Texas basis.

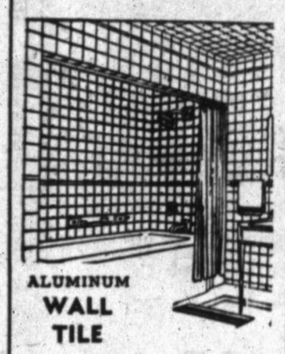

So if workers are needed and Texas can spare them, it's up to the TEC to supply them.

he TEC will recruit workers if necessary as well as tell unemployed workers where they can get jobs, inside or outside the state.

But, the Monitor points out—when it comes right down to the bare facts of the situation, the employer with the best offer—in pay, living conditions and working conditions—will get the workers.

President Grover Cleveland signed the law creating the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1887.

Baseball Shows Big Prep School Gains

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS, March 23.—The fact that more than 600 Texas high schools will play baseball this year should lead to the diamond sport being placed high on the curriculum of the coaching school at Abilene in August.

Thus far the big coaching school has given football and basketball virtually all the time.

But in a few years we'll have state championships in baseball the same as football, basketball and track. Next year the city schools will place it on a state title basis. There will be district championship races in class AA, class A and class B the same as this season but even the interscholastic league officials admit that the thing is going to grow into state championship races in some of these divisions in the near future.

OUT OF STEPCHILD CLASS

Basketball didn't really bloom until it was taken out of the stepchild class and full-time and capable coachgs were employed. The results have been good: There now is a crying need for larger field houses so all who want to see the games can get in and twice in a row Texas college basketball teams have placed high in the national collegiate tournaments.

Texas last year won third place. Baylor already has clinched runnerup honors and a spot in the Olympic trials this season.

Basceball can do just as well if the proper attention is given to it.

SAMPLE OF INTEREST

Here's a sample of the interest already generated in baseball:

Borger High school took up the game. Coach T. E. Ward issued a call for candidates. A total of 160 boys reported. It created a problem. Coach Ward had ordered only 17 uniforms.

The 160 was a record number of boys to report for any sport at Borger High. This refutes claims of the football men that doing away with spring gridiron practice isn't for the best.

How many would have been out for baseball had spring football been conducted?

Sure high schools can have baseball and spring football too. But they won't have good baseball with most of the good athletes devoting their time to football.

FAMOUS COACH DOUBTFUL

Adolph Rupp, the famous coach of Kentucky basketball, never would say so but we gathered from talking to him at Texas coaching schools the past two years that he didn't think too much of this state's basketball.

Rupp was instructor in basketball at the coaching school in Corpus Christi in 1946 and at El Paso last year.

Tonight Rupp will get a chance to see what strides, if any, basketball has made in Texas since he started coming down here.

Kentucky plays Baylor, champion of the Southwest conference, in the NCAA finals at New York.

THOUGHT HE'D WIN

Baylor's pretty hot. We had our doubts the Bears would even survive the first round of the NCAA western regional tournament at Kansas City last week. Even after talking to Jackie Robinson, the perpetual-motion man of the Bears.

We asked Jackie what he thought about things. "Is that for publication or off the record?" he asked. "I want to publish it," I said. "Well, then, I'll tell you," said Jackie. 'I think we'll take 'em."

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

The biggest event in the track and field world in this state is less than two weeks away. The annual Texas Relays, which attracts the largest entry list from universities, colleges and high schools, will be run off in Austin again. And, judging from the records at the Fat Stock show in Fort Worth, more records should fall in Austin this year than ever have fallen previously.

Both Texas Tech and Lubbock High school will send squads to compete and they should make better showings than they did in Fort Worth. Not that the Red Raiders failed to impress, but the Westerners didn't reach the peak expected of them. Marvin "Shorty" Hayhurst went to work Monday to correct the obvious shortcomings at Fort Worth and you can look for the Westerners to improve.

As for Tech, well, the small Raider band finished fourth and in doing so they surprised everybody, including Coach Maxey McKnight. Only the powerhouses of Texas and Texas Aggies, among Texas universities, finished ahead of them and the Raiders should feel proud of their showing. If Coach McKnight can bring two or three other men along fast in the next week and a half, the Techsan squad should be able to gain even more points.

At that, several Raider runners turned in good performances and still didn't place. Take Charlie Reynolds, for instance. He ran a 9.7 100-yard dash, the fastest time he ever has made over the century, but didn't place. In the 220, Reynolds led for 75-yards, only to tire and finish third. Then there was Ernest Hawkins, who had run only three times this spring. He entered the quarter mile at the last minute and ran a creditable 51.3—but didn't place. That kind of running should be more than good enough to take first places in the Border Conference.

Larry Larsen, the intrepid business manager of the Hubbers, probably does more getting around than any other executive in similar circumstances. Over the week end Larry went to Amarillo for a meeting of the league moguls, with particular emphasis placed on rule interpretation. League President Milton E. Price was there and Larry came back impressed with him. The meeting went off smoothly and things are looking up in the West Texas-New Mexico league, apparently.

Larsen said that all eight team officials said that their nines would be improved and stronger than last year, while each and every one of them thought that the race was shaping up as a tighter affair. Also, league parks are undergoing extensive repair and rehabilitation, although we doubt that any will be as fine as Rosenthal Field. Larsen declared that Borger, which is working with Wichita Falls directly and the St. Louis Browns indirectly, was pleased over their arrangement.

Former Hubbers with the Dallas Rebels had a good day Sunday, when the Rebs trounced Oklahoma City, 6-3. Pitcher Paul Henrichs, looking more each day as if he belonged, turned in a particularly impressive mound job. Henrichs failed to give up a base on balls. He also failed to give up a hit and, in three innings, faced only nine batters. The ex-Hubber 18-game winner tossed in two singles out of eight Rebel hits and scored a run. Zeke Wilemon picked up a bingle that drove in the winning run, Eulis Rosson pitched three scoreless frames and reached base by being hit, while Bill Serena could do no better than draw an Annie Oakley in the fourth, although he scored Dallas' first run.

THE ROUNDUP: Charles Neff of Petersburg is in El Paso, where he is undergoing the change from amateur to pro status . . . Howard Kirkpatrick is thinking seriously of following brother J. D. into the pro game. He's on the verge of going to El Paso, after he ends his amateur career at Plainview and in Lubbock . . . My 11-year-old Hobbs, N. M., friend Eddie Rickert is bringing his mother, father and two sisters here for the Giant-Indian game . . . The Hubbers open their exhibition season here with Pampa only 12 days from today . . . Walter Willingham of Seagraves is a baseball candidate at Texas Aggies . . . The Southwest will be represented on the East-West basketball game in Madison Square Garden by at least one player. Oklahoma Aggie ace A. L. Bennett left March 18 for the classic . . . The King Ranch in Kingsville and B. F. Witaker of Dallas each have horses entered in the Kentucky Derby.

75 Schoolboy Candidates Answer Call

Conditioning Drill Features Westerners' Baseball Opener

A lengthy conditioning drill featured the first day workout of the Lubbock High school baseball squad Monday afternoon at Chapman field as Coach Fred Taylor, former Texas Christian university nine member, sent approximately 75 schoolboy candidates through their paces.

Nearly a dozen veterans of the 1947 nine reported during the session, including Jack Alderson, Dwight Moore, Dorrance Guy, Charles Galey, Jackie Cook, Bobby Griffin, Royce Jones, Denny Davidson and Jackie Martin, and another half-dozen outstanding prospects from the "B" squad were listed on the roster.

Routine batting, fielding and arm-limbering drills were featured on the first-day program, but Mentor Taylor said that he planned more detailed work later this week. Since only a month of practice time will be available before district play opens, squad reductions will have to be made within the next two weeks, Taylor reported.

The Westerner nine is tentatively scheduled to open the District 1-AA flag chase against Amarillo, Brownfield, Plainview, Borger and Pampa with games April 23-24, but the slate will have to be revised because of the Region I track meet here April 24. High school officials announced. All games will be played in parks of West Texas- New Mexico league clubs whenever possible, according to plans completed at a recent meeting of district officials.

The baseball teams will compete only to a district title under the Texas Interscholastic league setup this year, but the winner of the loop is certain to be invited to the annual state high school baseball tourney at Dallas. The Interscholastic league plans to extend diamond competition to a state championship as soon as possible, with a playoff plan similar to that used by football and basketball teams.

The Lubbock High squad is rated as one of the pre-season favorites to cop the 1-AA title, but Amarillo and Borger have already started workouts and reportedly will have large, well-balanced squads. The Westerners will depend on veteran Denny Davidson and sophomore Jim Wilson for most of the hurling chores, with Griffin, Guy and Galey bidding for infield positions and Alderson and Moore battling for honors in the outer garden.

Tickets Go Fast For Giant-Indian Game Here Apr. 9

Lubbock baseball fans lost little time in making a bee-line for tickets to the New York Giants-Cleveland Indians game scheduled for April 9 at Rosenthal Field.

The Hubber management said that 1,234 general admission tickets were sold on the initial day yesterday and, with only 17 days remaining before the game, it indicated that a capacity crowd would be on hand. Tickets will continue to be sold on a first-come, first-served basis at the Hub Clothing store, but no reserved or box seat tickets will be available.

Larry Larsen, business manager of the Hubbers, said yesterday that persons who have bought season reserved seat tickets for Hubber games may pick them up any time now. The season ticket books arrived yesterday and will be available at the Hub Clothiers.

A few reserved seat tickets for the season remain to be sold, but the supply is dwindling. In addition to being good for all 70 league games, the tickets will give the holders first choice for those reserved seats at all exhibition games, including the Giant-Indian tussle.

Floydada Scrapper Beats Lockney Man

LOCKNEY, March 23 (Special) — Calvin Pyle, hard-punching Floydada middleweight, continued his sensational knockout skein here last night by flooring 180-pound Joe Bunch of Lockney in the second round of their feature bout, but the Lockney High leather-slingers swept to 11 wins in the 14 bout card to take the team title.

Pyle, 160-pound champion in the high school division of the Amarillo regional Golden Gloves tourney, connected with a left jab and a right cross for the knockout. Pyle has fought eight times this year and has not had to go the route on any of the bouts.

Six other knockouts provided plenty of excitement for the 1,600 fans, with Don Visage of Lockney flooring Bob Hartman, Cherokee Livesay of Lockney knocking out John Parkey, Charles Dippery of Lockney blasting Arland White, Bill Bybee of Lockney clipping Don Booth and Don Bybee of Lockney drubbing Bob Mooney.

Fred Connor gained the only knockout win for Floydada by dropping Maurice Ferguson for the 10 count.

Other results included:

Post Seeks To Fill Open Football Dates

POST, March 23 (Special) — Post high school is looking for grid opponents to fill two open dates — Oct. 1 and Oct. 29 — on the Antelopes' 1948 schedule, Post Coach Bing Bingham has revealed.

The school issues an invitation to other schools in this area to a game on either of the open dates, Coach Bingham said the Antelopes prefer to arrange home games for both games, but that an out-of-town enugagement would be considered.

Further inquiries should be addressed to Post School Superintendent G. R. Day at Post.

Solon Interested In Schmeling's Plans

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)— Rep. McDowell (R-Pa) said today he is asking the State department to look into Max Schmeling's plans to make a ring comeback in this country.

Schmeling, world heavyweight boxing champion in the early thirties, announced in Hamburg, Germany, he is seeking permission to enter the United States this summer for a series of bouts.

Big City Teams Tie For Gloves Honors

NEW YORK, March 23 (Special) —New York City's Golden Glovers staged a late rally to gain an 8-8 split with the Chicago Gloves squad in the twenty-first annual inter-city matches here tonight at Madison Square Garden.

New York Captain Coley Wallace took a close decision over Heavyweight Champ Clarence Henry of Chicago in the final bout to give the East the deadlock, although the crowd booed the decision.

Tom Adams of Texas, a second alternate with the Chicago squad, did not fight.

Two Hurlers On Comeback Trail

BRADENTON, Fla., March 23 (AP) — Ernie White and Johnny Beazley, who helped pitch the St. Louis Cardinals to the world championship in 1942, are off to a good start in their comeback bids.

Now toiling for the Boston Braves, the two allowed only one hit in six innings yesterday as the Braves nosed out the Detroit Tigers 2-1.

Beazley, who won two games in the 1942 classic, gave up one hit and one run in his three inning stint.

White blanked the Tigers without a hit in three innings.

BOSOX PLAY SARDS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 23 (AP) — The Boston Red Sox will try to make it two in a row over the St. Louis Cardinals today. The Red Sox blanked the Red Birds, 4-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Mickey Harris and Mel Parnell yesterday.

ENNIS BACK IN FORM

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 23 (AP) — Outfielder Del Ennis, whose bat has been silent of late in exhibition games is back in there swinging safely again.

Ennis found his eye yesterday as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Kansas City Blues of the American Association, 5-2. He belted a single and triple.

ROOKIE LOOKS GOOD

SACRAMENTO, March 23 (AP) — Bobby Rhawn, rookie New York Giant infielder, is impressing Manager Mel Ott with his work at bat and in the field. Rhawn belted his third homer of the spring and second in two days as the Giants nosed out Pittsburgh, 3-2 in ten innings yesterday.

FIRST BASE DEBUT

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 23 (AP) — Bobby Brown, pinch-hitting star in the New York Yankees' world series triumph over Brooklyn last fall, made his debut at first base against Cincinnati yesterday.

Brown handled nine chances without an error and looked impressive. The Yanks won the game, 7-6 in ten innings.

Schedule Approved For Semi-Pro Loop

BROWNFIELD, March 23 (Special) — The 1948 playing schedule for the Oil Belt Semi-Pro baseball league was adopted unanimously in a luncheon meeting held here Sunday.

Representatives from the eight teams in the loop, along with league officials, met to discuss several matters under the leadership of Joe Holmes of Lubbock, league president.

The schedule, prepared for the league by Milton E. Price of Dallas and secured through the efforts of Tex Carleton and Bill Merkel, was adopted unanimously.

The league will open play on April 18 and will close on Aug. 29, playing all games on Sunday. One doubleheader has been scheduled for Sunday, July 4. A Shaughnessy playoff series will follow the regular season.

A league constitution, which had been drawn up, was read and adopted. Playing rules for the league also were set.

Holmes said that the number of umpires needed also was discussed and that the league will need at least six more than they have at present. Anyone interested in umpiring should call Holmes at the Sport Center in Lubbock.

Kentucky Favored In Baylor Contest

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 23—Kentucky's mighty Wildcats were firmly favored to brush past Baylor and win the NCAA basketball championship in Madison Square Garden tonight.

It's a familiar role for both teams. Kentucky was the solid choice to capture the eastern eliminations and the smooth 'Cats did so handily. Baylor, on the other hand, was rated an underdog in both of its western playoffs but the battling Bears surprised the opposition in each case.

Kentucky Holds Favor

On the basis of its sensational play in whipping Columbia and Holy Cross, Kentucky has been established a 9½ point favorite over Baylor.

The Southeastern conference champions polished off Columbia's Ivy league titlists, 76-53, and dethroned Holy Cross' 1947 NCAA champions, 60-52.

Baylor, first Southwest conference quintet to reach the NCAA's final round, nipped Washington's Pacific Coast conference kings, 64-62, and then conquered Kansas State's Big Seven pennant winners, 60-52. In each game the Bears came from behind to win.

Both quintets are in the eight-team Olympic tryout tourney.

Groza, the 6-7 Kentucky center, scored 40 points in the two eastern contests, 23 against Holy Cross.

Jones Takes Up Slack

He's virtually unstoppable with his push shots and pivots and if he has any bad moments, Wah Wah Jones, a 6-4 ace, usually takes up the slack. Jones collected 33 points in the two playoff games.

Trying to stop these two huskies will be Baylor's biggest problem. With Cliff Barker, 6-1½, Ken Rollins, six-seven, and Ralph Beard, the All-America guard at 5-10½, Kentucky averages six feet 2 1-5 inches.

Baylor's starting five averages the same but their tallest operative is 6-3. The Bears have three men at that height, Don Heathington, James Owens, and Bill Dewilt. Bill Johnson is 6-2, and Jack Robinson, the ball-stealing parson, is an even six feet.

Victory String

Kentucky (33-2) is working on a 15-game winning streak. Baylor (25-5) has a modest six games victory string of its own.

The championship contest will start about 8:40 p. m. (CST), shortly after Holy Cross (26-4) and Kansas State (22-5) finish up their consolation affair. Holy Cross is a five-point choice to cop third place honors.

Sand Hills Meet To Attract Many Stars

Some of the outstanding schoolboy cinder path performers in the state will be featured in the annual Sand Hills Relays Saturday at Odessa, officials announced last night, with host Odessa, Abilene and Lubbock slated to battle for team championship honors.

Host Odessa, paced by Byron (Santone) Townsend and Gerald Campbell, will be favored to cop the meet crown, but strong Abilene is rated as the top challenger for the title on the basis of results of the Southwestern Recreation meet at Fort Worth last weekend. Abilene grabbed first place in the mile relay at the Cowtown contest and took places in the hurdle and dash events. Townsend is the top discus-tosser and high jumper in the state and usually places near the front in the 100-yard dash and the low hurdles. Campbell is an ace timber-topper.

Strenuous Drill Held

A dozen or more West Texas schools are expected to enter the meet, including Andrews, Seminole, Big Spring, San Angelo, Pecos and Midland.

Coach Marlin Hayhurst sent the Westerner squad through the toughest conditioning drill of the season Monday afternoon at Chapman field in preparation for the Odessa meet, with every squadman competing in a series of dash events. Hayhurst indicated that condition was partially responsible for the squad's disappointing showing at Fort Worth, and started work immediately to correct any deficiency.

MEXICAN LOOP TO OPEN

MEXICO CITY, March 23 (U.P.)— The 1948 Mexican Baseball League season will open April 1, instead of March 25, Col. Octavio Rueda Magro, secretary of the league, said today. Opening day games will be between Vera Cruz and Mexico at Mexico City; Tampico at Monterrey and Puebla at San Luis Potosi.

Cards Pitching Shows 'Depth'

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 23—Potentially the St. Louis Cardinals have the greatest pitching depth in the National league, and that doesn't mean the chuckers always are in a hole.

It does mean that Manager Eddie Dyer, if all the moundsmen turn out as he hopes, can start a new man on the mound every day for nine straight days, barring double headers.

It would be almost too good if such a prospect materialized, but here's the dream as it is right now:

Murry Dickson—a jigger-sized right handed veteran who looks great this spring after a rather disastrous season for him, last year.

Harry "The Cat" Brecheen — reported late and has not done much yet, but has the record of being a reliable performer.

George Munger—looking pretty good to date, with prospects of steady improvement. Won 16 games and lost five for the Cards last year.

Howie Pollet—spelled with a question mark. The erstwhile star had an arm operation during the winter and whether he can come back is guesswork.

Big Right Hander

Jim Hearn—a big, strong right hander who won 12 games while losing seven last year.

Alpha Brazle — looking great, the sinker-ball southpaw won 14 and lost 8 in 1947.

Ken Burkhart—used mostly in a relief role last year, but is showing so much stuff he might land a starting berth.

Clarence Beers—a right-handed rookie, what he can do against major hitters remains to be seen, but his outlook is promising.

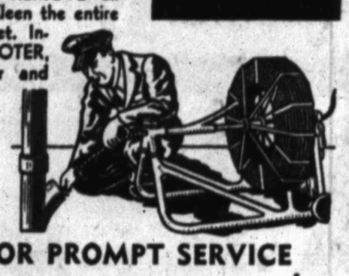

Alfred Papai—another Houston rookie with a 21-10 record behind him in the Texas league. Also a good prospect.

Tough Luck Plagues Adams; Tips Are Given For Golfers

By WERNER RENBERG
United Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, March 23.—Here and there:

Tom Adams, light heavyweight Golden Gloves champion from Hardin Simmons university, has a monopoly on tough luck.

In 1947, a head cut stopped him in his first national golden gloves bout in Chicago.

This year he reached the semi-finals before a cheek cut wrote finish to his championship hopes and he went down via the TKO route.

Fans Liked Him

In the eyes of Chicago sports-writers, however, Tom as so good that they chose him anyway to be an alternate on the Chicago team which fought the New York Glovers in the inter-city matches in New York last night.

Then fate had her way again.

Adams was struck a low blow by food rash, and he had to return home. Even though he did get a free trip to the big town, he says, he would much rather have been in the ring in the Garden last night.

Tips For Golfers

With spring here, more and more golfers are taking to the links. Here are a few tips for golfers and golf course operators from the Texas Turf association:

1. Mow greens late in the evening rather than in the morning.
2. Apply fertilizer several times a year instead of in one large application because the latter method often harms the grass with chemical burns.
3. Limit weeds on golf courses and lawns by keeping the ground well fertilized, allowing the grass to out-fight the weeds.
4. Avoid licking golf balls while playing. Chemicals being applied to destroy insects are becoming more and more toxic.

SWIMMERS OFF TO MEET

Four Texas Aggie swimmers, including triple Southwest conference champion Danny Green, and Coach Art Adamson will leave Monday for the national collegiate swimming championships at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Green will compete in the 50 and 100 yard free styles and in the 400 yard free style relay along with Bernie Syfan, Jack Riley and Gene Summers.

Syfan also will swim in the 1,500 meter event and Riley will enter the 50 yard free style, too.

Adamson hopes that his men may make the U. S. Olympics team. Green shows most promise of being abuot to make it. His jet-propelled strokes gave him the 50, 100 free style and 100 yard individual medley titles in the conference meet last Saturday.

GRID COACH CHEERFUL

Football coach Odus Mitchell of North Texas State college is cheerful these days.

Out for spring training are 67 prospects, including 21 returning lettermen and two dozen squadmen. Five all-Lone Star conference players are among the lot.

Mitchell has some good freshman prospects too. The Eagles rate as the team to beat as they try for their third consecutive conference championship next fall.

Wilson's Wranglers Beat Dogies 13-4

Roscoe Wilson school's Wranglers defeated the Dupree school Dogies in a baseball game at Wilson school Monday, 13-4.

It was the Wilson's team second win in as many starts this season. In the first game, Wilson defeated the 36th Street team, 9-1. Wilson and 36th Street play again later this week. Batteries for Wilson were George Harris, pitcher, Jimmy Evans, catcher. Jerry Gilliland pitched for the Dogies.

In another school game Monday, the George M. Hunt boys' team defeated Chris Harwell's squad, 12-5. Roy Hensley and Jimmy Stanford pitched for Hunt, with Jimmy Watson and Vic Zackley as catchers. Stanford and Donald Barton led the hitting attack for the winners.

The Hunt girls' team downed Harwell, 21-12 yesterday. Joyce Pruitt pitched for the Hunt team. Nina Lou Johnson was catcher.

Len Heinz Not To Play With Hubbers

The Lubbock Hubbers, defending champion of the West Texas-New Mexico league, received another jolt on the 1948 pennant road when 20-game winner Len Heinz reported that he would not be with the diamond crew this year.

Heinz, who won 20 and lost six last year, wrote Mrs. Sam Rosenthal that he had such a good job that he could not give it up for his favorite sport. Larry Larsen, in making the announcement, released part of Heinz's letter.

Thanks The Fans

Heinz, in his letter to Mrs. Sam Rosenthal, said "I want to thank you for everything. Our relations have been wonderful and I want you to know that I have enjoyed working for you and Sam. The fans in Lubbock always have given me their best support, even when I couldn't win a ball game, and I would like to thank them. You have a good team and the best people in the world. I am only sorry that I can't be a part of you."

Roach Fight Hopes Here Given Jolt

Bert Kahn, promoter of the proposed fight in June or July with LaVern Roach of Plainview as the principal attraction, yesterday received a letter from Angelo Dundee that slowed down efforts to obtain the Texas fighter.

Dundee wrote, in answer to a letter Kahn sent Chris Dundee, co-owner and co-manager of Roach, that his brother had gone to Miami Beach, Fla., to join his family and that the letter was being forwarded to him. Kahn last week sent Chris Dundee a letter in which he asked him to name an opponent for Roach and also the minimum guarantee he would want for the Plainview fighter's appearance here.

The letter was an attempt by Kahn to pry Dundee and Abood loose from their negative attitude concerning the possibility of Roach fighting here in June or July. Kahn said that they had not succeeded in coming to an agreement in New York, but that the door still was open.

Roach is expected in Quitaque either today or Wednesday, along with Evelyn Winkles, her mother and Roach's uncle. The trip is being made in a new car presented the Plainview fighter by his managers.

13th Inning Homer By Ohio Defeats Aggies

(By The United Press)

The list of undefeated Southwest conference baseball teams was down to three today, and two of them may drop out before the day is over.

The Texas Aggies lost their first game of the season yesterday to Ohio State. The Buckeyes came from behind to tie the Aggies at 5-all in the seventh. A home run by Norbert Rantz in the 13th inning gave the visitors a 6-5 victory.

Texas Christian, sparked by a six-inning rally in the fifth, downed Minnesota, 10-8, for the Frogs' third pre-season triumph.

Rice lost its second game, an 11-4 trouncing handed the Owls by Stephen F. Austin. James Canter gave up but four hits for the winners.

Today, TCU and Minnesota resume their three-game set in Fort Worth. Undefeated Southern Methodist takes on the Dallas Rebels of the Texas league in Dallas. And the Aggies and Buckeyes battle again at College Station.

19 Speedway Classic Entries Are Received

INDIANAPOLIS, March 23 (AP)—Five entries by Indiana racing enthusiasts today increased the early field to 19 cars for the annual 500-mile race at Indianapolis Motor Speedway May 31.

Other new entries are the Palmer Special, owned by Dick and Fred Palmer of Indianapolis; the Tansy Special, Loral R. Tansy of Indianapolis; the Baldwin Special, Edgar Baldwin of Indianapolis, and an unnamed car owned by Walter A. Redmer of South Bend, Ind.

Speedway President Wilbur Shaw said heavy early entries indicated 60 cars might be nominated for the 33-car field before the filing deadline at midnight, April 15.

Five Persons Are Arrested

CHICAGO, March 23 (AP)—Five persons were held by police today in connection with several crimes, including a $5,000 jewelry store burglary at Grapeland, Tex., March 1.

Police Sgt. Robert Hunt said J. C. Lawson, alias Tommy Vaughan, 23, and Randolph Johnson, 24, told of the Texas burglary in an oral statement. Hunt said federal warrants charge the two men with transportation of stolen automobiles across state lines. A second warrant charging burglary and automobile theft is en route from Texas, Hunt said.

Others Are Held

Held without formal charge are Johnson's wife, Doris, 19, his brother, Alvin, 25, and Alvin's wife, Jacqueline, 23.

Vaughan, who said he formerly lived at Houston, was seized Saturday. Sgt. Hunt said a loaded .45 caliber pistol, a box of ammunition, a kit of safe-cracking tools and stolen license plates were found in his car.

Johnson and the others were taken into custody Sunday.

Hunt said Vaughan's car was stolen from Russell Watley of Mineral Wells, and Randolph Johnson's from the Baptist seminary in Fort Worth.

Alvin Johnson and his wife are being held for "further investigation," Hunt said.

Tax Bill

House could get around to a vote until tomorrow.

Rep. Knutson (R-Minn), author of the original tax cutting bill, announced he is ready to accept the Senate revisions. They trimmed the amount of the tax slash from $6,500,000,000, as approved by the House, to $4,800,000,000.

The Senate's 78 to 11 vote late yesterday was 18 more than the two thirds majority needed to override a veto.

The House on February 2 passed the $6,500,000,000 bill 297 to 120, or with 19 votes to spare. Both houses must show two-to-one majorities to overturn a presidential objection.

Connally Leads Fight

Senator Connally of Texas, ranking minority member of the finance committee which wrote the measure, led the fight against passage.

Some of his colleagues thought the Texan may have set the pattern for Mr. Truman's veto message when he declared:

"If Democracy is to be saved, we are the ones that must have it. We must keep our resources. We shall need them in any hour of trouble."

Noting the grave turn of world events, Connally said the best thing for the United States to do is to keep itself strong financially.

Would Get Refunds

All tax cuts would be effective last January 1, if the bill becomes law. Lower withholding rates would start May 1. Those who overpaid during the first four months would get refunds next year.

The bill, as it headed toward the White House, would remove 7,400,000 low-income persons from the tax rolls completely.

This is because the personal exemptions of each taxpayer and each dependent would be increased by $100—from $500 to $600. In addition persons 65 and over would get an extra $600 personal exemption—making their total $1,200. And the present $500 additional exemption for blind persons would be raised to $600.

Percentage Reductions

The big tax cut would come from percentage reductions. These would start at 12.6 percent for persons with taxable incomes—that is, incomes after personal exemptions and deductions—of $2,000 or less.

On incomes of $2,000 to $136,719, there would be a cut of 12.6 percent on the first $2,000 and 7.4 percent on the rest; on incomes over $136,719, a cut of 12.6 percent on the first $2,000, 7.4 percent on the next $134,700 and 5 percent on the rest.

The maximum standard deduction for contributions, medical and certain other expenses would be increased to $1,000. It is now $500. On incomes below $10,000 the top deduction would continue at 10 percent.

Truman Fate

kind of politics in the end."

Another senatorial friend said Mr. Truman already is following this course. He noted that the President made a politically unpopular move in approving an about-face on the partitioning of Palestine.

This senator recalled that when Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath announced Mr. Truman's willingness to accept the nomination several weeks ago, McGrath said the President would act on the Palestine situation "without regard to politics."

Will Fail Miserably

Meanwhile, Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, who has been mentioned as a possible running mate for President Truman, told a University of Florida audience last night that this country will "fail miserably" if it shapes its policies "merely in terms of anti-Communism." He added:

"We must put an end to the shameful practice of branding everyone a Communist who espouses a liberal reform or promotes a program for the under-privileged."

PRICE CUT MADE

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 23 (AP)—A two cents a pound cut in the wholesale price of their vegetable shortening, Spry, was announced today by Lever Brothers Co.

A similar price drop was made last Feb. 10.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

MANY LEADERS STUMBLE

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP) — Spots of strength remained in today's stock market although many leaders stumbled, and activity waned.

Dealings expanded a bit after a relatively quiet forenoon. Initial declines were erased in numerous cases and replaced with modest plus signs. Assorted coppers, steels, oils, rails and industrials gave a good account of themselves. Quotations slipped here and there in the final hour.

Easier tendencies persisted for scattered pivotals at the close but gains of fractions to a point or so were plentiful. Transfers tapered to around 1,100,000 shares from 2,040,000 Monday.

The fact that the list did not respond more heartily to the heavy Senate vote for tax reduction chilled enthusiasm.

In the losing ranks were Chrysler, General Motors, Bethlehem Steel, Glenn Martin, Loew's, Twentieth Century-Fox, Missouri Corp. and American Can.

Ahead most of the time were Gennecott (at the year's best level), Anaconda, Phelps Dodge, U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, Denver Rio Grande Western (at a 1948 peak), Owens-Illinois, U. S. Gypsum, Warren Petroleum (at the year's high), Pacific Western Oil and Sandard Oil (NJ).

The market was forced to absorb some further profit cashing by those who felt the recent bulge had been a bit too swift.

A batch of pleasing earnings statements was helpful.

Individual railwayw bonds did better.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP) — Cotton futures turned lower today following early gains which had extended to almost $1 a bale. Scattered commission house and New Orleans selling was influenced partly by persistent liquidation in nearby May position. Sentiment in some quarters that rising prices will stimulate further increases in cotton plantings this season and renewed weakness in prices for cotton textiles had an unsettling effect.

There was considerable switching from May into later months as certificated cotton stocks increased 1,870 bales to a new high of 99,902 bales.

Futures closed 5 to 70 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

Man Slays Former Sweetheart As She Runs From Parked Car, Then Commits Suicide

MINNEAPOLIS, March 23 (UP)—Robert Lagerstam, 25, telephoned his former sweetheart last night and asked her for a date. In his pocket was an engagement ring.

Leona Nordling, 17, didn't want to see him, her parents said. They had been engaged before, but had "broken up" months ago.

But when Lagerstam threatened to kill himself, the girl agreed to go out with him "once more."

They went for a ride in his car and parked near a vacant lot.

Witnesses saw the girl jump from the car and run, screaming "don't shoot!"

Lagerstam ran after her, firing seven fatal shots into her back. Then he killed himself with a single shot from his repeating rifle.

In the car police found the engagement ring, still in its case.

Boy, 13, "Bulldogs" Mad Cow While Policeman Holds Tail

City police and a "representative group" from 2000-block Broadway captured a mad cow about noon after the animal, strayed from her feed lot, became excited and charged several persons.

City Patrolman Pete Hubbard, evading her horns, grabbed her by the tail. His partner George Hall, admittedly no part of a bulldogger, was letting Pete exercise his own ingenuity when a 13-year-old boy, unnamed to police, ran up, grabbed her by the horns and, assisted by others, managed to "get her down."

Neon Sign Broken

M. C. Sharp, jr., operator of Sharp's Flowers shop, at 2605 Adams Ave., reported a neon sign broken, possibly with a rock.

County officials said a fine of $5 and court costs were levied against E. B. Blackmon, 43, a Lubbock white man erroneously referred to in an earlier edition as a negro, after pleas of guilty of check law violation. Official reports copied by reporters were wrong, it was explained. Xen Brown was fined $50 and court costs on a plea of guilty of driving while his license was suspended, and his driver's license was suspended for an additional six months.

Judge Walter Davies of county court signed four judgements. Willie Sparks, 35, a negro, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of aggravated assault growing out of the knifing of Jackie Carroll, identified as another negro. Woodrow Porter, about 30, a negro was fined $25 and costs in connection with an aggravated assault charge filed several days ago, before his arrest in Brownfield for Lubbock officials. Fines of $50 and costs were levied against Theodore John Koessel, 44, and Jack C. Hornsby, 29, both on drunk driving charges. Their operator's licenses were revoked for six months.

Police were informed by White's Auto store, 1301 Texas Ave., that seven small radios had been stolen from the store in the past 30 days. These were described as two ivory-colored, desk-model Stewart-Warner radios, and three black ones valued at $29.95 each, and two portable Clarion radios valued at $24.45 each.

Mrs. Jack McClusky, of Bula, Texas, reported theft from her car in Lubbock of a P-38 German Luger pistol, with tan leather holster, and a piggy bank containing $25 in change.

The Lamesa sheriff's office informed the sheriff here, that $300 to $400 worth of scrap iron had been stolen there from a gin that had burned.

information officer at St. Louis, said two task forces had been sent to Quincy to help lowland residents evacuate.

Binghampton was nearly isolated by the Susquehanna and Chenango rivers which flooded 3,200 homes and forced 1,500 families to flee. About 5,000 children remained away from school. All highways around the city were flooded.

Canada also was hit hard. Floods in southern Ontario were receding after taking a toll of four deaths and $5,000,000 in property damage. The Grand river rose to a 17-foot stage, five feet above normal. In eastern Quebec, the St. Francis river backed up behind an ice jam and left one dead and 100 homeless.

Teen-Agers Held In Dallas Auto Thefts

DALLAS, March 23 (UP) — An auto theft ring responsible for the theft of 17 automobile sin Dallas during the last 20 days apparently was broken today with the arrest of three teen-age boys.

Capt. R. H. Davis of the auto theft division said the ringleader was a 15-year-old youth who evidently wished to spite officers for his having been arrested for auto theft previously.

His companions were 15 and 17. They took short rides in the stolen cars, all of which were found with keys in them, and more than half of them were wrecked. One had been deliberately driven over a 20-foot cliff, and two others had been jammed together head-on.

Six of the cars were stolen in one night.

Capt. Davis said the 17-year-old would face auto theft charges, while the two 15-year-olds would be turned over to juvenile authorities.

Air Line

Clovis-Portales, Albuquerque, Gallup, Winslow, Flakstaff, Kingman, Boulder City, Las Vegas, and other points in northern California. Alternate routes would include Tucumcari, Las Vegas, Santa Fe, Grand Canyon, and connections with Palm Springs, San Bernardino-Riverside-Redlands.

The new route would traverse the heart of the south and southeast in contrast to the present coast-to-coast air routes which funnel into a relatively few cities in the northeastern section of the nation. The proposed route would provide the shortest service between the East and West coasts through areas characterized by climatic conditions best suited for "all-weather operation," an important factor for national defense in event of an emergency.

A section of the proposed route would conflict with a proposed extension of Pioneer Air Lines route from Lubbock to Albuquerque, applied for recently.

American Zone Will Remain Under Army

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—The White House announced today that the United States Army will continue in control of government in the American zone of Germany indefinitely.

Plans had been for the State department to take over government of the zone about June.

The decision to keep the military in control was announced by Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross.

Ross would not comment on whether the decision was due to the Russian walk-out on the control council at Berlin.

War Buildings May Be Urgently Needed

WASHINGTON, March 23 (UP)—A member of the House armed services committee said today many of the nation's wartime plants and housing projects may be needed urgently "in a matter of days."

Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, second-ranking Democrat on the committee, said the critical world situation calls for a "re-examination" of surplus property disposal policies.

In a letter to President Truman, the congressman said the War Assets administration and other government disposal agencies "continue to offer for sale at sacrifice prices various plants and housing projects constructed during the last war."

"Under the pressure of absolute necessity," Johnson said, "it is desirable that there be a re-examination of this program before more disposals are made because the recommendations outlined in your address dictate that these plants and these housing projects may be urgently required in a matter of days."

Praise For Doctors Is Given By Speaker At Club Luncheon

Praise for doctors as individuals was offered and belief in need for more hospital facilities was reiterated by Capt. Vince Larsen of the Salvation Army in an address before Lubbock Optimist club at its luncheon in Lubbock hotel today noon. He praised doctors who, he said, have repeatedly when called upon gone to the homes of persons in medical need and unable to pay. "I can't say enough in words of praise to some of the doctors who live in Lubbock—to practically all of the doctors in Lubbock," he said.

Can't Get Facilities

He said he originally became interested in the hospital situation because of persons who were poor and unable to pay for hospital service and now is interested because of the poor who can't get hospital facilities and "the people who can afford to get them but can't get them and don't get them."

He referred to a recent speech he made before the Lions club in which he expressed need for more hospital facilities and said, "Dropping Daniel into the Lions den was mild in comparison to the reaction I got from some places in Lubbock."

He referred to his original reference to cost per patient per day in different hospitals. He said the figure he had since obtained from Lubbock Memorial hospital was $10.27 per day per patient and said he had been told the remainder of the original $16.56 figure represented clinical and laboratory fees not included in the $10.27 per day. He said the figure since obtained from St. Mary's hospital was $10.67 per patient per day. The original figure for St. Mary's was $18.37 per day per patient and he said in case of St. Mary's also, the difference was due to clinical and laboratory fees, not included in the lower figures. The original figure of $14.05 per day for West Texas hospital was repeated.

250 Beds Available

He said about 250 hospital beds are available in Lubbock today "Lubbock sadly needs hospital facilities," he said.

"I'd say we need a hospital built that would be an open-staffed institution so we could get the doctors we need," he said.

He mentioned possibility of a city-county hospital as a solution, with federal government matching "dollar for dollar," the amount provided locally.

J. Holland Cox, club president, presided for opening of the luncheon. Ben Williams, program chairman for the day, introduced the speaker.

Trieste Tension

July's parliamentary elections will be free. It was the first interview the 78-year-old statesman has granted since the critical discussions began on the proposed Russian-Finnish friendship pact.

"Perhaps I am a little naive," he said, "but I do not think there will be any war in the near future."

Leaders in other countries were not so optimistic.

In London, the government was asked in the House of Commons to bring its wartime air raid shelter policy up to date for use at short notice.

The request was made by Sir John Anderson, for whom the backyard "Anderson shelter" was named during the war.

Communist Interior Minister Vaclav Nosek said many persons would be barred from voting in the forthcoming elections, for which no date has been set. He mentioned specifically persons who collaborated with the Germans during the war and those who since the liberation are "working against the people and Democracy."

(The Communist states refer to Communism as the only form of Democracy).

The Prague radio said two Catholic priests, both members of the government before the Communist coup, were arrested while trying to flee the country.

From Copenhagen came an announcement that Denmark has cancelled the leaves of part of its military, in the wake of wholesale thefts of arms from home guard depots.

One source said the leaves were suspended because of "the internal political situation."

In Vienna an informed source said Communist action committees are attending sabotage schools in a Russian occupied suburb of Vienna.

In Greece, Minister of War George Stratos said government troops had scored a smashing victory over rebels in the regions of Mount Olympus and Mount Pierria in the past month.

The Moscow radio quoted the Communist "Free Greece" radio as saying American officers were responsible for the use of poison gas by Greek government soldiers against guerrillas.

Bishop Smith

Supreme court can rule that it is legal to use tax money to transport children to parochial schools and at the same time outlaw the use of a small amount of time during the school period for valuable study of one's religion and background.

"The hope of America is in the instruction of the childhood of today in the great ideals and purposes of our religious faith."

He referred to no single denominational belief, but referred to faith of the Jew, the Catholic, the Protestant. All, he said, "Should be treated with equal consideration. At no time should the schools be used as a means of propagating one's faith against another or embarrssing any person because of their faith."

"Separation of the church and state in America was never intended by the founding fathers to be a separation of state and religion, because there were several state churches in the colonies," he said. "They were attempting to avoid this embarrassment and had no thought that religion should be outlawed.

"Surely legislation can be devised which will be in keeping with the will of the Supreme court, but at the same time enable this instruction to be done."

In his sermon Monday night, Bishop Smith had said an idea can never be changed by physical force and that Americans must outthink and outlive the Communist world.

He said in this morning's interview that, "You can defeat a nation physically by superior manpower and materiel, but that does not necessarily change the ideals and ideas of the individuals of that nation." Defeat of Germany did not destroy the ideas of Fascism, he said. "Surely if we in America should be engaged in war and lose the conflict, it would not cause us to change the ideals of Democracy."

World war III, if there should be one, "would spread Communism," and also "would largely destroy the freedoms we have to enjoy in America," he said. In wartime, authority and responsibility would necessarily have to be delegated to central authority.

In his sermon Monday night, in referring to Communism, he said, "if it is not yet time for the church to speak out, I do not know when that time will come. There isn't anything at all in my religion in keeping with Communism." He said he prayed there would be no world war III. "If Russia whips us, it is inconceivable. If we whip Russia, what will happen? We will have 200 million star boarders at our table." He spoke on "The Ashamed Thief." There is a vast difference in a thief who is ashamed as a theif and in a thief who is ashamed he is caught as a thief, he said.

Bishop Smith's subject at 7:30 o'clock tonight will be "The Singing Angels." He spoke this morning on "The Need of God for Today."

He discussed confusion and uncertainty in the minds of students about continuing their education.

"Any man who is a Christian has a great message and a mission. If he could only realize it, we would be well on our way," he said in his sermon.

He discussed treaties that had become "great scraps of paper" because of lack of spirit of right in those who signed.

He spoke of wealth of the world as being the greatest in the history of the world.

In speaking on fact the world has become a neighborhood because of necessity, he stressed that the world must become a brotherhood or perish. Richness or poorness does not matter, but brotherhood does, he said.

American Dollars Are Aimed At A Global Mission In Battles Against Communism

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 23—Both branches of Congress teamed up today in the race with time to speed American dollars on a global mission against Communism.

The House turned to debate its $6,205,000,000 single-package bill carrying military as well as economic help for Europe and Asia.

And in the Senate, the $275,000,000 fund to supply Greece and Turkey with arms and military know-how headed for possible passage by nightfall. In its wake was another to give China $463,000,000 for both civilian and combat use.

The goal is to lay the whole set of bills before Senate and House conferees by late next week to work out a single legislative weapon for the cold and warm wars alike.

Meanwhile, President Truman's related plea for a revived draft law and universal military training won potent backing in the Senate.

Ten of the 13 members of that chamber's armed services committee were described by Chairman Gurney (R-SD) as already convinced that both steps have become an "absolute necessity."

Those ten heard a 50-minute, top-secret summation of the world crisis yesterday by Secretary of State Marshall, Secretary of Defense Forrestal and Secretary of the Army Royall.

Bundled up in the House bill are:

1. The $5,300,000,000 European recovery program already passed by the Senate.

2. A $420,000,000 economic assistance plan for China, plus $150,000,000 for military purposes.

The Senate's $463,000,000 help-for-China bill is for 12 months, with $100,000,000 to be set aside for any use—military or otherwise—that the Chinese government proposes.

3. The $275,000,000 Greek-Turkish military fund, extending for another year the aid program this country launched in 1947. The Senate foreign relations committee sent its separate bill to the floor with a plea for quick action.

4. A $60,000,000 allotment for the international fund to aid European children. The Senate has a separate bill ready for approval later this week.

Bidault Plans Trip To U.S.

PARIS, March 23. (AP)—Foreign Minister Georges Bidault's press secretary said today Bidault will go to Washington next month to confer with Secretary of State Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

A spokesman for the British foreign office in London denied the meeting was planned. Informed of the denial, the press secretary said:

"We were given to understand that Bevin would also go."

Date Is Undecided

He said the only thing undecided is the exact date.

French diplomatic quarters said the three ministers will study possible U. S. military guarantees to the western European union created last week by Great Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

These quarters said they also will examine how the European recovery organization being created here can best cooperate with the American Marshall plan administration. The plan is based on a first-year U. S. grant of $5,300,000,000.

The ministers also are expected to discuss how the three western powers can bring about the return of Trieste to Italy, French informants said.

The court suspended four-year sentences for William D. Womack, 20, and James N. Lamb, 19, both charged with forgery of a gasoline credit card.

Field Day Set At Ropesville

Irrigation will be the principal subject for discussion at the annual field day on the Ropesville farm project in southeastern Hockley county Thursday, it was announced here today by Horace D. Gilmore of Levelland, who is in charge of the government's part of the project.

Gilmore is Hockley county supervisor for the Farm Home administration that has general supervision over the project that at its origin involved 76 families and a government investment of approximately $500,000.

An Annual Event

The Thursday program, an annual event when residents on the project gather at the community building for a day of socialities and exchange of information, starts at 10:30 a. m. Gilmore said the morning will be devoted to showing of films on farm and home management.

At noon a picnic dinner is to be spread, with all families on the project participating, along with special guests for the day.

During the afternoon several speakers are to discuss irrigation and other phases of operation of what has been described as one of the most successful similar projects ever undertaken by the government.

Speakers On Program

Speakers are to include Ray E. Dickson, superintendent of the Spur experiment station; Marshall Howard, representative of the Lubbock experiment station; Mrs. Beulah Smith, of the Farm Home administration's Dallas office; and Charles Richter of San Angelo, district supervisor.

The afternoon also will include Gilmore's annual report, which among other things will show that about 40 per cent of the purchesers of farms on the project have paid in full for their farms.

Past Winter Broke No Records, But Halted A Lot Of Business

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Now that spring is here, let's sit on the front porch and talk about what a tough winter we had.

It wasn't Texas' coldest winter. No rainfall or snowfall records were broken. It was tough because of the prolonged periods of bad weather in both January and February.

There was continual freezing weather in North Texas from January 13 through Februay 2. During the first 14 days of February, daily minimum temperatures for eight days were in the twenties.

Ice covered highways and streets for eleven days of the two months.

Precipitation was below normal in January but it was heavy in February. In the two month period there were seven days of sleet. There were 13 days of snow.

In two months, there were only 14 clear days.

All this added up to a hard winter because there were so many days, day after day, when men were unable to do outside work.

Carpenters, bricklayers, construction men, stayed home. Farmers didn't get into their fields.

In the cities, folks put off doing their shopping and business lagged.

Maybe you think weathermen don't care what the weather is. Perhaps you picture them as puttering about with their records, and instruments, perfectly impassive be it sleet, sun or snow.

A. M. Hamrick, tall, thin, chief of the Dallas weather bureau isn't like that. Hamrick, in the low sixties, has been a weatherman 40 years.

Hamrick didn't enjoy last winter. He considered it tough and unpleasant.

His wife, you see, runs a variety store at Euless, Tex., a small community near Dallas.

"Most of the people in places like Euless," Hamrick told us, "do outside work for a living. They didn't get much work done in January and February.

"Business at my wife's store was bad."

Long Inauguration To Be Held May 11

BATON ROUGE, La., March 23 (AP)—Earl K. Long will become governor of Louisiana May 11 at a giant "people's inauguration" with hot dogs, buttermilk and red soda pop for all.

The inauguration committee, organized today, said the refreshments would be those Long promised from the stump during his victorious campaign. The governor-designate, brother of the late Sen. Huey P. Long, invited voters throughout the state to come drink buttermilk and pop at his inauguration and drop in at the executive mansion any time for a cup of coffee.

Long will take the oath of office in the Louisiana State university stadium, which seats 48,000, the committee said.

TROOP COACHES BLASTED—One of the three wooden coaches of a Cairo to Jerusalem train in which 28 British soldiers lost their lives when it was bombed from the tracks hangs down the side of an embankment at Rehovot, Palestine. Photos of the wreck were delayed in delivery by fighting between scene of the wreck and Jerusalem. Coaches were tossed from tracks when three of four bombs planted under them were detonated.

CROPS DESTROYED

EL PASO, March 23. (AP)—Freezing temperatures early yesterday destroyed practically all of the apricot and peach crop in the upper El Paso valley and southern New Mexico areas.

The temperature dropped to 17 degrees north of here.

Democratic Dinner Is Being Planned

HILLSBORO, March 23 (U.P.)—Plans for a dinner to raise funds for the Democratic party of Texas were scheduled to be made today.

State Democratic Chairman R. W. Calvert was to meet this afternoon and with four other members of a committee to plan the "Texas Democratic dinner," to be held some time before the state convention opens at Brownwood on May 25.

The dinner will be held in lieu of the customary Jefferson-Jackson day dinner, which in the past raised funds for the national party.

Besides Calvert, the committee includes Arthur Stevenson of Dallas, Mrs. R. A. Thompson of Goliad, Jimmy Brinkley of Houston and Neville Penrose of Fort Worth.

The committee members were announced Saturday after preliminary plans were discussed at a secret policy meeting in Austin.

400 Persons Attend Legion Social Meet

The Allen Bros. post of the American Legion held its monthly social meeting in the Legion hall, 910 Texas Ave. last night, with approximately 400 persons present for the showing of the pictures of the atom bomb test at Bikini.

The presentation of this picture was made possible by the Lubbock Division of the Army Air Corp Reserve component under the direction of Col. P. D. Glassford, U. S. A. Commander H. J. McCabe presided over the business portion of the meeting, which was attended by members of the Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Disabled American Veterans from all over West Texas.

Plans were discussed for the renewal of a Drum and Bugle corp for the local post, the first meeting of which will be held tonight at 8 o'clock. All Legionnaires and veterans who can play a bugle or a drum are cordially invited to attend this meeting. The next regular meeting of the local post will be on Monday night, April 5, at 8 o'clock in the Legion home.

Use Glass In Home, Architect Advises

CHICAGO, March 23 (U.P.)—An authority on community planning says that home builders who abondon "out-moded tradition" are putting money in their own pockets.

Frank Sohn, a housing expert, believes that "keeping up with the architectural Jones" helps protect the value of a home builder's property.

"Today's outstanding development in home design is the sensible use of glass to create a new concept of indoor-outdoor living," Sohn says.

"The builder who plans a house with old style, small windows is marking it 'vintage 1890' while it is still on the drawing board," Sohn said.

"In 20 years the property will be about as desirable as a Stanley Steamer is to a motorist today."

Instant Retaliation Is U. S. Defense Plan; Key Bases Are Being Lined Up

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 23. — "Instant retaliation" is the key to America's new defense plans.

During the past several months most of the details of the framework of this radically new defense concept have been revealed piecemeal in speeches of top Air Force generals and in terse press releases. The report of the Congressional Aviation Policy Board helps to complete the picture.

Lining Up Bases

Today we do not have the aerial strength. Our Air Force is third-rate, with only 550 combat planes available. But we are beginning to line up the bases for the new defense concept.

In unvarnished language, this is the military analysis of the present world situation which fathered "instant retaliation."

The U. S. will never be an aggressor in a war. Russia is the only possible opponent in a war. The most likely weapon would be atomic bombs, dropped from airplanes, or in guided missiles. The targets would be the indus-trial cities of the northeast quarter of the U. S. The objective would be an immediate knockout blow, with actual occupation at leisure.

Direction Of Attack

In a recent speech Gen. Carl Spaatz, commanding geenral of the USAF, revealed what he thought would be the direction of a possible attack:

"To protect ourselves against the possibility of a super-Pearl Harbor attack, we must be Arctic-conscious. Our major defense effort must be directed by awareness of the potentialities of air power over the great circle routes of the polar frontier."

Then Spaatz described the purely defensive measures:

"Interceptor bases, radar, anti-aircraft, fighter aircraft, rocket and guided missile interception of hostile bombers—all the measures to ward off attack must be available and proberly oriented to the route of attack.

Defense Not Enough

"But," he said, "purely defensive measures are not enough." He described "instant retaliation."

"The only true defense now lies in a strong counter-offensive. We must be prepared to strike back instantly—and with terrible force at any enemy who strikes at us. We must be able to make aggression the prelude to defeat for the aggressor. That means we must strike him at once through the air. We must destroy his air force at its source, his airfields and launching sites; we must destroy his industrial centers and transportation; we must paralyze his cities and his government. We must destroy our enemy before he destroys us."

Base Being Built

It wasn't long after this speech that the AAF announced that it was constructing a base near

On this equidistant "great circle" chart, centered on the U. S., are spotted the keys to the defense plan of "instant retaliation." New giant-bomber bases are being built at Limestone, Me., and Mile 26 Field, near Fairbanks, Alaska. The Air Force is using a base at Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, and another at Mellaha, Tripoli. Status of bases in Greenland, Alaska, and the Aleutians is secret, but it is no secret that plenty of active or reserve fields are available as interceptor bases in Washington, Montana, Nebraska, Idaho, South Dakota, Michigan, Illinois, New York, Pennsylvania, New Hampshire and Maine.

Limestone, Me., to be built specifically for giant 10,000-mile, five-ton-pay-load bombers like the B-36. This part of Maine is the closest spot in the U. S. to Moscow, over the polar route.

Then, 11 days later, the USAF announced the start of construction of a similar plant-bomber base at Mile 26 Field, Alaska, one of the closest spots available to the USAF on the North American continent to the industrial cities of Russia.

Most recently the USAF has announced that it is using a base in Dhrhran, Saudi Arabia, for training B-29 crews, and that it has opened up a base a Mellaha, Tripoli, for use by the Air Transport Command. The strategic importance of these bases in connection with "instant retaliation" is obvious.

A look at the map of the U. S. showing active bases and inactive airfields which could quickly be made active in Michigan, South Dakota, Montana, Maine, Washington and other northern states, reveals plenty of interceptor bases.

Classified as top secret is the number and status of USAF bases in Greenland, Alaska and the Aleutians. The very fact of classifying this information as secret fits neatly in the "instant retliation" concept.

Military aviation experts do not consider it a slap at the USAF that the Congressional Aviation Policy Board criticized the Joint Chiefs of Staff for not providing specific aircraft requirements for the services. One part of the report says: "Unyielding adherence to service loyalties at the expense of national security is a luxury the nation no longer can afford." This is interpreted to mean that the foot soldier and battleship are outmoded weapons.

Would Provide Planes

The "Plan A" of the board would, in effect, give the USAF the actual means for "instant retaliation," by providing enough planes to accomplish that assignment.

Both the congressional board and USAF generals have expressed the view that the theory of instant retaliation is twofold: It would tend to discourage a potential aggressor from attack, and defeat him at his own game if he were foolhardy enough to attempt it.

The expression "leap year" refers to the jumping of one day in the week in leap years. Thus, March 1, 1946, fell on Friday and March 1, 1947, on Saturday but March 1, 1948, will "leap over" to Monday.

Field Trips By Tech Students Are Planned

Two long-range field trips have been announced by the respective heads of the industrial engineering and the dairy manufacturing departments at Texas Technological college to enable the students to obtain a clearer picture of the problems and methods of industries in their field of study.

Some of the biggest industrial plants in Texas, all located in the Houston area, will be inspected during the next few days by a group of industrial engineering students, according to O. A. St. Clair, head of the department.

Will Visit Plants

Leaving Lubbock today, the students will visit the Hughes Tool company, Sheffield Steel and the Continental Can companies, all of Houston and the Humble Oil refinery located at Baytown. They will study the organization, equipment and methods of management of the plants in an effort to gain a more practical picture of methods studied in classes.

The group will be accompanied by John Penick, associate professor of industrial engineering and will return to the campus Saturday. Students making the trip include Billy Whitfield, S. A. Brooks, H. A. MacKenzie, Charles A. Guy, jr., J. G. Van Bebber, J. D. Sublett, W. L. Wallace, D. K. Crawford, F. T. Perkins, V. O. Rannfeld, R. D. Means, J. P. Settle, jr., B. J. Whitworth, J. C. Dement, James D'Acosta, Jack Mims, A. J. Smith, R. M. Lively, Truett Tyler, W. E. Cadwallader, H. E. Taylor, Don Goodyear, G. M. Baker, James Young, Lonnie Thompson and Joe Ma.

Dairy Tour Set

Thirteen senior dairy manufacturing students will go on a field trip over a large portion of the state March 24 to April 4 to observe dairy manufactures operations representing all phases of the industry in Texas, L. G. Harmon, acting department head has announced.

Various industries to be visited include market milk, ice cream, cheese, butter and milk evaporation for both condensing and for powdering. The group, accompanied by Harmon, will visit plants in Midland, Abilene, Eastland, San Antonio, Kingsville, Harlingen, Galveston, Houston, Bryan, Waco, Sulphur Springs, Winnsboro, Mount Pleasant, Sherman, Denison, McKinney, Dallas and Fort Worth.

Arrangements have also been completed for the group to take a guide-conducted tour of the King ranch, starting at its Kingsville headquarters.

Making the trip are R. R. Lovelady, Santa Anna; Earl McEwen, Burley, Idaho; Chester Maxey, Lo-

Small Dent Is Made In High Living Cost By Market Dive

WASHINGTON, March 23. (U.P.) —The recent break in the commodity market made only a small dent in the high cost of living, Commerce experts decided today.

Business is still perched on the high plateau" that it scaled last summer, the department's office of business economics said. And prices, except for farm commodities, are higher than at the beginning of the year, the experts reported.

First Public Analysis

The export, made in the monthly business survey, is the government's first public analysis of the dramatic drop in the commodity markets early in February. Government economists at the time were cautious but optimistic. They hoped the market bust would bring on a general price readjustment.

Here's how the Commerce department sees the picture now:

Lower prices have been largely confined to agricultural products. The wholesale price indexes for farm products and foods in the latter part of February were down nine and six per cent respectively.

Advance Not Interrupted

The all-commodities index was down only four per cent from the mid-January high.

"It is noteworthy," the economists said, "that the steady advance in some metal prices was not interrupted by the recent market developments.

"The weekly index covering all commodities other than farm products and foods in early March was still above the 1947 year-end average."

At the same time the report pointed out that the biggest price drops were on items on which prices had zoomed the highest such as grains, oil seed crops and hides.

"The recent declines, therefore, were in the direction of better price alignment," the report added.

Move Is Criticized

It did not specifically discuss the steel industry's price boost for semi-finished steel. President Truman's council of economic advisers has criticized this move as being contrary to the public interest.

The governmen teconomists also noted that: Personal income, on an annual rate, edged close to $211,000,000,000, an all-time high in January. Hourly earnings in factories averaged $1.29 in January.

Sales at retail stores were 18 per cent higher than in January, 1947. Food retailers reported their sales

Residents Urged To Buy Easter Seals

Response to the 15th annual Easter seal sale for the benefit of crippled children appeared gratifying last night in view of the number of contributions received in the mail, according to committee treasurer, J. J. Wiley, of the Lubbock Crippled Children's council.

Approximately 15,000 sheets of Easter seals bearing the message, 'Help Crippled Children' had been mailed to residents of Lubbock county Sunday, March 14. The purpose of the campaign is to obtain support for the council's work in treatment and rehabilitation of crippled children.

The public was urged to continue sending contributions to the fund for the seals received.

WE GET pretty weary, sometimes, hearing people complain that "the paper is never right in its predictions of the weather."

In the first place, the paper doesn't predict the weather. That is done by especially trained staffs of the U. S. Weather Bureau, in the station located in Lubbock and others elsewhere.

And in the second place, the weather predictions are 85 per cent right—which is a pretty darn good record for anything, or anybody.

The trouble is, people remember when the weather man "makes a bust." They don't remember when he's right—which is more than eight times out of 10.

Next time we hear somebody gripe about the weather predictions being "always wrong," we're gonna up and ask 'em if they have an .850 batting average in their business or social activities!

WITH baseball season just around the corner, what was more natural than for us the other day to run into the Old Maestro of the Mask and Mitt, Fletcher Manson (Sled) Allen, no less.

Fletcher is now retired to the wrestling field, but he's still a baseball man. No wonder, too. He spent more years than he likes to admit as a player and manager and some of his happiest days on the diamond were those during which the letters L-U-B-B-O-C-K were spread across his chest.

We got to throwing 'em with wrinkles about the old baseball days here and Sled got to chuckling over an aggregation of goons who played with Clovis something like a quarter century ago in the Panhandle-Pecos Valley league.

"That," said Mr. Allen, "was the darnedest collection of screwballs I ever saw on one ball club."

"Old Otto McIver was on that ball club," Sled recalled, referring of course, to the now handsome and dignified manager of Arch Underwood's compress down at Brownfield.

"In one series over there, I'd been having my pitchers put the Clovis hitters in the dirt to keep 'em from whanging the leather off'n the ball. They had a lot of power and were going good, so I told our chunkers to throw the first three balls to every man right at the hitter's noggin. After we'd dust 'em off a little, they didn't do so well.

"Along about the seventh inning of the last game of the series, Otto McIver was the lead-off hitter and he came up to the plate, crawling on his knees.

"'Whadda yuh doing,' you big busher,' I said to him. "Sled went on. "'Wadda yuh mean comin' to the plate like that?"

"'Well, you big so-and-so,' Otto answered, 'I know you're gonna have me down here soons as the pitcher starts throwin', so I thought I'd save myself some trouble and get down here in the first place!'"

SLED remembers a catcher on that ball club who also was quite a boy. Name of Hy Irwin. He came from a baseball family in Dallas.

"Old Hy used to talk and sing all the time he was catchin'," Sled says. "One day when I was hittin', old Hy was squattin' behind me, conductin' a cullud church service, talkin' to the brudders and the sistern like all get out.

"Finally, he announces 'Now, bruddern sistern, we will all turn to page 22 and sing that hymn. No. 22. Le's all sing.'

"'You say, sister, that No. 22 is tore outen yore book?'

"'Well, doan' let that worry you, honey. Jes' sing No. 11 twice!'"

Yep, baseball was baseball in them days!

WHEN President Truman ordered federal agencies not to permit either the courts or the Congress to see files of federal employes charged with being disloyal to their government he must have been prompted by fear. He must have been afraid that such disclosures would convict his administration of either inefficiency in choosing employes, or of being sympathetic toward subversives.

Regardless of war powers (in effect long after shooting has stopped) no man—be he President or constable—has the right to withhold from courts, Congress—or the public — information which affects all of our people. If there still remain on the federal payroll enemies of our country and our government, these enemies should be unmasked and fired—publicly.

One of Mr. Truman's weakest points — and a point which has caused him much trouble and criticism—has been his failure to differentiate between Harry Truman, citizen; Harry Truman, Democrat, and Harry Truman, President of the United States. His confusion of his separate entities has brought him woe in the Pendergast matter; in the Pearl Harbor matter; in his insistence upon "sitting on" official papers of his predecessor which might possibly bear upon our entrance in the wa rand in the conduct of the war.

As a private citizen, Mr. Truman may be praised for "sticking with his friends.' As the President, he can and should be condemned for the very same act, because as President he first is answerable to all the people. The loyalty owed friends and political buddies comes much farther down the line.

BY DREW PEARSON: MILITARY WORRIES OVER BOMB'S EFFECT ON WOMEN, CHILDREN

U. S. Will Not Drop A-Bomb First, Leaders Agree

WASHINGTON—With the war scare such as it is, one all-important, obvious question is whether the United States should get the draw on Russia and drop the A-Bomb first. This question has been discussed at Key West and at other military conferences, but the decision seems to have been no.

In fact, at Key West, Admiral Leahy, the Presidents chief of staff, enven made a passionate plea that the atomic bomb not be used in such a way as to harm innocent women and children in enemy territory.

PEARSON

Leah was reminded by other experts, however, that it was impossible to use the A-Bomb against a small military target, also that it was impossible to know whether women and children might be near that target; also that American women and children would not be spared when it came to enemy bombing.

One thing that shocked, almost stunned Secretary of Defense Forrestal at the Key West conference was the possibility that in case of a clash Russia might capture American wives and children of U. S. troops in Germany and Korea, holding them as hostages in case of atom-bombings. Forrestal was reminded that there could be another Bataan.

However, it was decided that the United States will lean over backward to make sure no war initiative, no overt act, no permature dropping of the A-Bomb takes place.

At present, the United States has a more than ample supply of A-bombs, plus the capacity to make more at assembly-line speed. Futhermore, the new A-bomb is about 1,000 times more powerful than the bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

Wave Of Revenge

But they will not be used against any enemy in any surprise move. To do so would be against the Christian concepts of humanity, also against the century-and-a-half tradition of the United States that we have never attacked another nation. Furthermore, for the United States to get the jump on the enemy by dropping the A-bomb would mean such revulsion of world feeling that we would lost our present moral position in Europe, also start a wave of hatred in Russia bound to result in a return war of revenge.

The history of every war is that when people consider themselves wronged, they bide their time and build up their resources until they can come back at their conqueror.

Another important point considered by U. S. defense chiefs is the fact that the Russians have now obtained all the secrets of German submarines, will undoubtedly use them to release rockets at ma-U. S. cities.

Toward the close of the war the German sub could breathe under water and had a rubber skin which made radar detection difficult. They could also travel at the amazing speed of 18 knots submerged. These priceless secrets all fell into Russian hands.

As a result, Russian subs today could come close to American cities with V-2 rockets aboard, to be launched against U. S. cities from submarine decks.

These gruesome prospects are some of the things U. S. strategists necessarily must consider. They feel there is no use shutting our eyes to them, in fact, that if we prepare to meet them, the prospects of war with Russia will be lessened.

NOTE—Though President Truman focused attention on the need of manpower, one overlooked fact is Army equipment. Much of it is out-of-date. Of the $11 billion for defense in 1948, the Army got only $3 billion, of which $2 billion paid the cost of occupying Japan, Germany and Korea. Result: Not a single new piece of equipment has been bought since V-J day.

DISCOURAGED, A lot of good Democratic Congressional candidates are pulling out of the November race. Ex-Senator Jim Mead was planning to run for Congress from Buffalo; Frank Emma was planning to run from Utica, N. Y.; George Kelly from Rochester. Believing Truman's chances are almost nil; they've now changed their minds . . . Stassen's undercover boys have contacted Ives for vice president on Stassen's ticket. So far no result . . . General MacArthur's backers are determined to put him across in Wisconsin—or else. They'll be a big billboard campaign throughout the entire state. If they don't win in Wisconsin—his home chances in other primaries are nil . . . Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, high Democratic mogul, urged President Truman last week to stage an all-out fight against Henry Wallace or face defeat . . . the Texas delegation to Congress is split-seven Congressmen for Truman and fourteen against him. . . . Tennessee's Senator McKellar has been quizzing colleagues as to who can run against Truman for the Democratic nomination. McKellar wants a Southern-Western ticket.

Diplomatic Merry-Go-Round

Attention Congressman John Taber: What's become of that $5 million deficiency appropriation for the State department's "Voice of America"? While you dilly-dally, the money is urgently needed to carry on pre-election propaganda in Italy . . . Editor Will Bohn of the New Leader urges that President Benes be requested to appear before the United Nations Security council to explain how the Communists took over Czechoslovakia. . . . Italian businessmen are making arrangements to get their money out of Italy in case of a Communist putsch. The Italian liar has dropped 20 per cent since Christmas. . . . The State department is planning to spend $20 million of its interim aid money in Trieste—still the hottest spot in Europe. . . The United States will move for Italy's admission into the United Nations. If Russia vetoes Italy once again, the Italian people at least should know who Italy's real friends are.

CONGRESSMEN have their housing problems too—some they inquired about renting apartments in a new building within the shadow of the Capitol, they found that a 2-bedroom apartment rented for $500 a month. Reason: When Congress passed the rent-control law last year it exempted new apartments from rent control. . . . The brother of ex-Secretary of War Pat Hurley recently turned up as a California ranch-hand. He had been missing for 37 years. Maybe the two brothers couldn't locate each other because the ex-secretary of War changed his name from O'Hurley to Hurley. It wasn't good politics to be Irish in Oklahoma.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"BIRTH CONTROL HOUSING" is the term one housing expert has given to the modern tendency to reduce the number of rooms in the home and to reduce the home size generally.

MILLETT

There couldn't be a better name for it The cute little house that looks so cozy and shiny to a young couple buying a home soon becomes the dictator of their lives. So long as there are only two of them they live quite comfortably in the small house with all the conveniences—except space for expanded living.

But from the moment one of the two bedrooms becomes a nursery, the little house has expanded as much as it can.

Two children and the neat little house is cluttered with high chairs, play pen, bathinette, and the baby buggy.

As for having a larger family, as the young couple perhaps once talked glibly of doing, that becomes out of the question.

NO ROOM FOR LEISURE

AND how can they manage the best in family living when they are so crowded that there is no room for privacy, no room for expanded entertaining, no room for many of the hobbies that should be started in the young years, no room where the children can bring in the neighborhood kids without being right underfoot?

So the little house becomes a dictator in their lives. They live the way it forces them to live—even to letting it set a limit on the size of the family.

"Try And Stop Me"

WITHIN a week of the outbreak of World War I, the five cables that connected Germany with the outside world were severed, and so, for the next three years, until America entered the war, all German communiques and propaganda came to us via English sources.

The Nazi propaganda machine made sure there would be no repetition of this in World War II. The most powerful sending station in the history of radio sent Nazi bombast and lies to every corner of the world, and the Allies never could find a way to stop it. Thus America was saturated in the first years of World War II with stories angled from the German point of view instead of the English—a complete reversal of the days of 1914.

THE English prof dealt gently with the All-American captain of the football team, but there were times when he reached the breaking point. For instance, one day he asked the gridiron great, "Do you know Poe's 'Raven'?" The answer was a surprised, "Gosh, no, prof. What's he ravin' about?"

AN OCCASION TO CELEBRATE

Lubbock and South Plains people should be making their plans to attend dedication ceremonies for the West Texas regional headquarters building of the Veterans administration on Nineteenth street Friday.

They also should take advantage of the opportunity to inspect the splendid new building during open house ceremonies that same day.

It was a distinct honor that Lubbock and the South Plains were chosen as the area headquarters for the VA. It is one of the most important assets of the city and area, and is likely to continue as such a long time. Its convenience to veterans of the city and area is self evident.

Many distinguished visitors from Washington and other distant points will be here for the occasion. Lubbock itself should be largely represented as one evidence that citizens of this locality appreciate the honor conferred upon them by the selection of their city as the regional headquarters.

DON'T WAIT UNTIL TOO LATE

Autos Needing Repair Cause Many Of Nation's Fatalities

(This is the ninth of a series of 10 articles on street and highway safety, written by nationally recognized accident prevention specialists and presented by The Journal in the interests of greater traffic safety in Lubbock and over the South Plains.)

BY DR. HERBERT J. STACK
Director, Center For Safety Education, New York University

IT IS usually too late to do anything about a defective steering wheel that suddenly fails to function when you are rounding a curve, or the headlamps that go out on an unfamiliar road, or the horn that is silent when you need it on split-second notice, or the right front tire — which has been looking bad lately — that blows out on a slippery highway. When these things happen, death, injury and destruction of costly property usually result, but they are no "acts of God." They are wholly inexcusable, because they are wholly preventable.

These days a tremendous effort is being put forth all over the natoin to reduce the growing threat of traffic accidents. Yet more than 30,000 persons were killed last year, and a vehicle defect was reported as a contributing cause in 18 per cent of these fatal accidents. Here is one factor in traffic accidents where absolute prevention is reasonably possible — one simple means by which it may be possible to save 5,000 lives every year.

Gives Advance Warning

Like the human body, an automobile gives advance warning of impending danger. The steering wheel becomes loose, it is no longer as sensitive as it was when new. The tread is gone on the tires, or the white braker strip may be showing, or possibly the automobile is groaning for want of grease. These are danger signs, literally shouting the alarm for immediate repairs.

All of the following parts of an automobile are essential to safe driving; brakes, lights, steering mechanism, horn, rear-view mirrors, tires —including the spare tire—, windshield wipers, heater, defroster, muffler and exhaust pipe. When they are in proper working order, studies show that accident chances are greatly lowered.

MOST of the states require, in one form or another, that motor vehicles be maintained in a safe condition. Sixteen states and the District of Columbia require periodic inspection of the safety elements of motor vehicles at least once, and more often twice, each year. Legislators in many other states are giving consideration to the creation of required periodic motor vehicle inspection and repair.

Here are five major benefits to be derived from such motor vehicle inspection:

1. It improves the general standard of vehicle condition.

2. It maintains each automobile at a higher value level by lessening depreciation.

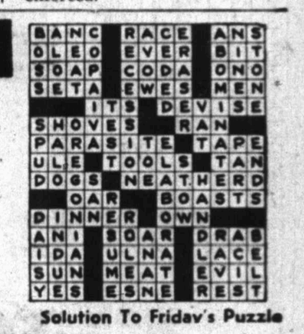

3. It affords opportunity to check motor and serial numbers actually on the vehicle against registration certificates, and in other ways assists in the enforcement of motor vehicle laws.

4. It improves the quality of garage workmanship in making adjustments and repairs.

5. It provides excellent opportunity for informing drivers concerning the condition of their cars and their responstbility for driving safely 365 days of the year.

Highway safety is the responsibility of the individual. Public support is necessary if wise traffic laws are to be enacted and intelligently enforced.

Jester Sees Threat Of Enlarged Federal Power In Tidelands Oil Court Decision

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., March 23 (U.P.) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester of Texas predicted last night that if Congress does not pass legislation giving states title to tidelands, the federal government's "paramount powers" might be enlarged.

He said the government might extend its control over Kansas wheat and Mississippi cotton if a measure nullifying a N. S. Supreme court decision is not passed by Congress.

Called New Peril

The Texas governor accused the federal government of attempting to "gain a foothold over the control of our oil industry" by declaring it had "paramount rights" to the oil-rich submerged lands.

In an address to an Illinois coal and gas association meeting, Jester called the Supreme court ruling "an entirely new and unprecedented peril to the property rights of citizens."

"The federal government is endowed with no superlative power to administer conservation of oil and gas," he declared.

Private Industry Best

"America's best plan for oil development is through private industry under state regulation."

Governor Jester said he believes private industry would be unwilling to develop prospective oil lands "under the jurisdiction of our centralized bureaucratic government."

The governor made the address after placing a wreath on the tomb of Abraham Lincoln at Springfield, Ill. He was guest of Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois.

Reserve Air Arm In Texas Is In Need Of Money, Personnel

BY VERNON B. HOBART
United Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, March 23 — Texas' air arm, one of the 48 links in the U. S. Air force's plan for quick action in the event of a national emergency, struggled along today under serious handicap of two musts — money and personnel.

Under present Air force plans, the inadequate regular Air force units spread throughout the United States and occupied countries would be built up by partially-organized and equipped Air National Guard units. Replacements and personnel to build up these units would come from the organized reserve corps, both officers and enlisted men.

Have Same Purpose

Headquarters for the Texas Air National Guard presently is at Hensley field, midway between Fort Worth and Dallas, while much of the reserve program in Texas is carried on in a two-story war-time wooden barracks near the air national guard headquarters.

Both programs, although administered separately, have the same purpose — fast replacement of combat personnel. The Air National Guard, under command of Brig. Gen. Harry Crutcher, jr., is a state unit controlled by the Adjutant General of Texas and supported in part by the state. The Air reserve is federal and controlled by the reserve branch of the Army in Washington.

Plans Incomplete

Mobilization plans for the Air National Guard are not completed, but it is contemplated that fighter squadrons, equipped with speedy P-51 planes and located at Houston, San Antonio and Dallas, would quickly be pulled into one fighter group at Dallas. A service group, composed of squadrons attached to the fighter squadrons, also would be concentrated at Hensley field for assignment where needed. A wing headquarters, commanded by General Crutcher, is planned for Houston in the near future and would have jurisdiction over both the fighter and service groups.

The Air reserve program is broken down into the 309th very heavy bombardment wing at Hensley field and presumably would be ordered to duty with the Eighth Air force at Carswell field at Fort Worth in case of a national emergency. Personnel of the group consist of civilians who have signed up in the Air force reserve.

Interest Lacking

As was the case before World War II, the Air reserve program is suffering from lack of money. In place of heavy four-engine craft that the 309th is supposed to be equipped with, reservists are lucky if they can maintain flying efficiency with the few flight-worn training planes available.

The reserve program also is hamstrung by lack of interest among reservists. Of the 2,300 reserves in the Dallas area, Air force officers reveal that only 45a actively participate in the training program.

Interest, however, was expected to pick up next month when the 309th wing goes on a two-week period of active duty with the Eighth Air force.

Guard Gets Pay

Although the Air National Guard is well equipped with wartime supplies, personnel problems are plaguing the unit commanders. With plenty of positions open, qualified personnel have been slow in applying for them. Unlike the Air reserve, guardsmen receive pay for their work — one-thirtieth of their base pay per month for a two-hour drill period weekly.

The present tense international situation, however, is expected to give both branches a boost in personnel. Both Reserve and National guard recruiting headquarters have received a large number of telephone calls and only time will tell whether the units can be built to full strength throughout the state.

A two-week summer encampment period tentatively is scheduled for Air national guard units the last two weeks in August. By that time, it is expected that most of the 175 P-51 planes consigned to the three Texas fighter squadrons will have been received.

Dallas Police Hunt Prowler

DALLAS, March 23 (AP)—Police today searched for a suspected burglar who escaped officers last night after a 40-block automobile chase and brief gun battle.

The man fled on foot in an east Dallas residential section after a seven-shot battle with Patrolmen A. H. Wade and C. W Goodwin.

Two other men in the automobile were arrested.

Officers said they believe he is the man who posed as a policeman searching for escaped prisoners to get into the home of John L. Hathaway.

Car Is Chased

Hathaway and his wife were left bound on the floor as that burglar left with $400 in cash and two diamond rings valued at $3,500.

Wade and Goodwin chased a speeding automobile 40 blocks before catching it. One of three men in it told Wade he was a deputy sheriff from Collin county and showed a badge.

Wade asked to see the man's commission.

The man reached for his hip pocket, whipped out a gun and broke loose from Wade after a brief struggle.

He stopped after a short dash, turned and fired two shots. Wade snapped off two shots and Goodwin fired three times.

The man staggered, but kept on running.

He eluded Wade in the residential area.
