★ ABSENCES DROP AS FLU EASES

Attendance was reported greatly improved at Colorado City schools this week with the lowest number of absences recorded since a flu epidemic began to take a heavy toll among local students almost four weeks ago.

Colorado City School Superintendent Frank W. Wilson said that only 179 students were absent from four local schools Monday. This is about 10 per cent of the total enrollment of 1,779.

The lowest number of absences during the past four weeks came on Tuesday, Wilson said, when only 141 students, representing eight per cent of the total enrollment, were absent.

Wednesday, absences reached 170, but this is still less than 10 per cent of the enrollment, Wilson said.

Absenteeism, because of widespread influenza, forced city schools to close for a three-day period two weeks ago. At that time, around 26 per cent of the student body at four schools missed classes.

The second six-week period of the semester closed Wednesday, Wilson said. It was delayed for one week because of flu.

Report cards will be issued for the second six weeks Dec. 4.

Committee to Select School Study Group

A meeting of a county steering committee for organization of a permanent committee to study school problems in Mitchell County will be held Wednesday at 7 p. m.

The steering committee is composed of Dr. Oscar Rhode, Paul Beaty and W. A. Swafford, presidents of Colorado City, Loraine and Westbrook school boards, and D. V. Marcum, S. A. Walker and Frank W. Wilson, superintendents of Colorado City, Loraine and Westbrook schools.

The group will meet in Wilson's office at Colorado High School to name members of the permanent Mitchell County committee for study of school problems. Wilson heads the steering committee.

The Mitchell County committee will be one of 254 county committees which are being organized in each county in the state, Wilson said Wednesday.

The county committees will study school problems and needs at the grassroots level and will then report their findings to a state committee in Austin.

The county groups are part of a move by the Texas Legislature to find solutions to problems facing education in the state.

The state committee, composed of 24 people and called the Hale-Aiken Committee, is headed by State Senator A. M. Aiken Jr. of Paris.

Aiken was also a member of the group which introduced the Gilmer-Aiken School Bill into the Texas legislature in 1949.

The Gilmer-Aiken proposals resulted in a number of changes in laws governing Texas schools.

The Mitchell County permanent committee will be composed of 24 persons, most of whom will be laymen. Wil

County Farmers Asked to Establish Soil Bank Base

Farmers in Mitchell County who intend to participate in the 1958 Soil Bank program for cotton need to have a Soil Bank "base" established for their farms as soon as possible, the Mitchell County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office said Wednesday.

Soil Bank "base" crops, in general, include all crops produced for harvest on a farm, except hay crops, according to A. L. Young of Westbrook Mitchell County ASC Committee chairman.

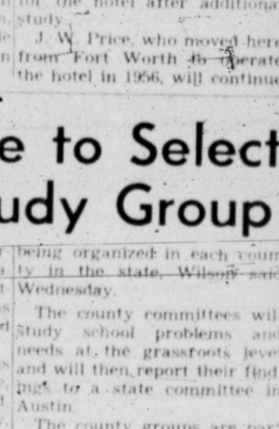

The Soil Bank "base" is established by the County ASC Committee on the basis of the average acreage devoted to designated Soil Bank crops during the past two years, Young said.

In addition to the six basic Soil Bank crops, wheat, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts, crops can also include such things as grains, annual grasses cut for seed, oilseeds, cowpeas, potatoes, commercial vegetable and field, and canning peas and beans.

In case where a farm already has a "base" established under the Soil Bank's Conservation Reserve program, that "base" will also apply for Acreage Reserve purposes, Young said.

Young added that farmers who have not already done so should furnish their County ASC Committee with their farm's production history for Soil Bank "base crops for 1956 and 1957.

Approximately 450 farmers out of more than 1,000 in the county already have their "base" established, according to Allen Worley, manager of the Colorado City ASC office.

NEW MINISTER at Church of Christ, Fifth and Elm, is W. E. Burkham, who has held previous ministerial posts at Seymour, Fort Worth, Gainesville and Burkburnett. Burkham calls Mt. Vernon his hometown. He and his wife have one son, a senior student at Abilene Christian College.

Self-Employed Farmers May Get Benefits

Many self-employed farmers in this area have been asking, "How long must I work under Social Security to qualify for benefits?" according to B. B. Tuley Jr., District Manager of the Abilene Social Security Office.

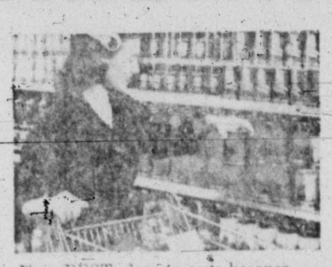

In answer to this question Tuley stated, "A self-employed farm and ranch operator who reaches age 65 before April 1, 1958 can establish entitlement to benefits if he has social security credit for as little as two years during the three years, 1955, 1956 and 1957."

For those who reach retirement age or die on or after April 1, 1958, the required years of credit will vary from as little as two, to as much as ten years, depending on the individual's date of birth or date of death. The Social Security Administration has a booklet, OASI-35 which contains a table by which the requirements can be determined by any individual now, or at any given time in the future. The booklet is free for the asking.

Tuley cautioned that self-employed farmers and ranchers must report and pay the self-employment tax to receive credit towards social security. The report is a part of the Federal Income Tax Return and is filed annually with the District Director of Internal Revenue. By paying his self-employment tax the farmer builds social security protection for his old age or for his family, in case of his death.

Almost half of all persons are not in hospitals.

Unique for any town is to have a family of five generations living in the same neighborhood.

Conaway, at 608 Hickory Street; the Conaways' son, daughter-in-law and grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Conaway and Michael Wayne, at 642 Vine Street.

Also making another fifth generation in the family is Brent Jay Hardegree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hardegree, of 828 Hickory Street. Mrs. Hardegree is the former Rita Conaway, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. J. E. Conaway.

The Hardegrees also attend the Church of Christ at Fifth and Elm Streets.

Week-End Visitors

Visiting Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Summers were Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes Arnold and John Charles, Mrs. N. B. Teaff, Mike and Ken, and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McIntire, all of Roscoe.

BY MRS. WHITE

Hesperians Hear Critical Review of Domestic Novel

A critical review of the book "All the Happy Endings" was presented Friday afternoon to the Hesperian Study Club by Mrs. J. D. White.

Mrs. C. C. Thomas, program leader, introduced Mrs. White.

Prior to the review Mrs. White reviewed a biographical sketch of the author, Lyle Waite Papashvily, who co-authored the book, "Anything Can Happen" with his husband in 1940.

In the book review the speaker explained that a "domestic" novel was simply what the terms implied, a tale of domestic life, sentimental in tone, almost always written by women for women.

"This popular literature" gurrored the fears, anxieties, frustrations, the plans and hopes and joys of those who read them so avidly."

The books possess greater value today than when they were written, the club heard. The most of them are to be found only in attics or library morgues.

"They reveal the dream world of women as it existed in the 19th Century."

Mrs. White told of Harriett Beecher Stowe as discussed by Mrs. Papashvily. Mrs. Stowe's domestic novel, "Uncle Tom's Cabin", still remains unequaled by any other novel in any language.

The speaker also told life stories of Timothy Shay Arthur and Laura Jean Libbey.

She reported that Mrs. Papashvily endeavored to connect the hardships experienced in the personal lives of these authors with the subtle thread of "destroy the men" which runs throughout the book.

Most of these women had domineering father, husband or brother who dominated their lives, were selfish, ruthless or unfaithful.

"Their rebellion was reflected in the novels for almost always the men were weak, unfaithful and the women rose to strength, courage plus devotion and selfless service."

Entertaining rooms were accented with pink and white chrysanthemums.

Dessert plates and coffee were served to Mrs. Watts, Mrs. E. H. Winn, Mrs. White, Mrs. J. W. Watson, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. R. K. Speth, Mrs. Shropshire, Mrs. J. A. Sadler Sr., Mrs. Bennett Scott, Mrs. Lynn Halbert, Mrs. Arthur Barry and the hostess.

Plans for the Mitchell County Home Demonstration Council's annual Yule luncheon were made last Thursday in a regular council meeting in Courthouse.

HD members were invited to bring guests to the noon fete.

The regular monthly council meeting was opened with the club prayer led by Mrs. Swan Taylor of the Plainview Club. Monthly reports were presented by council committees and club presidents.

Miss Elinor Harvey, county HD agent, announced that new HD books have been added to shelves at the Federation Library and urged members to read them.

The council voted to enter the "Light A Window for Christmas" contest. Miss Harvey was named chairman of the arrangements committee. Mrs. Will Berry, Mrs. Airhart, Mrs. Parker Jarman, Mrs. J.C. Womack and Mrs. Thompson were appointed to assist Miss Harvey.

CLEVE MOORE

7th Grader Wins Football Guessing

Cleve Moore, seventh grade student, won the Record's final football contest of the season last week.

Cleve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Therman Moore, 2146 Chestnut, was the only person with a perfect entry blank, picking all ten games correctly. His key score guess was Colorado 20, Lake View 7. (The Hydro-Lamesa game was marked off since the game was cancelled.)

Cleve wins a one year subscription to the Record. It was his first try at the football contest this year.

Three persons tied for second place, each missing one game—infact, the same game Trinity over Texas Western. They all picked C-City to win 3-7.

The three names were placed in a hat and one drawn for the prize, also a one years subscription to the Record. The winner was Clyde Wayne Feaster, Star Rt.

The other two who tied for second Elinor Harvey, 536 Chestnut, and D. M. Costlow, 636 Austin, were given third and fourth place prizes. That consists of two movie passes each to Miss Harvey and Costlow.

Besides Trinity's upset of Texas Western, all other games ran true to form, thus explaining the great number of good entries.

Nine other persons missed only one game but were further off on the key score thus knocking them out of the winners circle.

And all nine missed the same game as the other three missed—Trinity's win over Texas Western.

The nine were Gene Garner, David Earl Taylor, Bill Quinby, Mrs. Gene Garner, Howard Cain, Harold Hendley, E. F. Rothwell, Jack Burkhalter and Alfred Byrd.

Thirty persons missed only two games—and all 30 missed the Trinity win—plus another game.

The 30 were Janet Earle McMullen, Mrs. Bonnie Farrar, James E. McMullen, Nick Farrar, Jess Bolin, Harvey L. Jones, Pete Warren, Will H. Jones, Skipper Warren, Toby T. Show Will Include Stylish Oldsmobile

Exciting styling changes that enhance the appearance from every angle mark a completely new Oldsmobile for 1958, according to Jay Adams of Jay Adams Motor Co.

In addition, the General Motors division has introduced a true air suspension system, newly efficient and economical Rocket engines and as improved Jetaway Hydra-Matic Drive.

Oldsmobile's new "mobile look" is very evident in the entirely re-designed body, new rear quarter panels, a new front end with recess-type grille and four-beam headlamps, one-piece rear window with greater glass area and new rear deck and roof. The decorative trim on the side panels accentuates the length, flowing lines and low silhouette of the new Oldsmobile.

Oldsmobile for 1958 offers three different Rocket engines in its three series of cars.

The "88" series has four body styles in 1958—two hardtops, Holiday sedan and Holiday coupe, a 4-door sedan and a convertible. There are five body types in the Super "88" Series — Holiday sedan, Holiday coupe, 4-door sedan, convertible coupe and Fiesta station wagon. The budget-priced Dynamic "88" Series offers a wide range of seven body selections — Holiday sedan, 4-door sedan, Fiesta, Fiesta sedan and convertible. In all there are 16 body styles.

Two Oldsmobile accessory innovations for '58 are available to customers: a "Trans-Portable radio that can be completely removed from the car for use elsewhere and a Safety Sentinel speedometer unit that utilizes both a light and buzzer to warn when any preset speed is being exceeded.

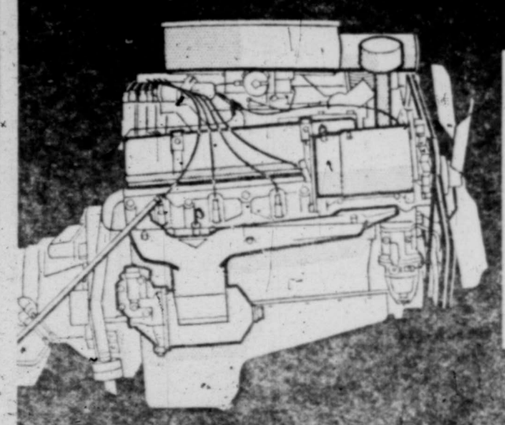

The compact, all-transistor TransPortable radio is a self-contained unit with built-in aerial. Its size, 7 inches wide, 5 inches high and 6 inches deep, permits convenient placement in the instrument panel, but it can be withdrawn by user away from the car.

Oldsmobile's new 1958 styling starts at the front with headlamps of the finest beam extends to the new and larger taillights. Two headlamps are recessed and placed side by side in each front fender. The recessed grille is composed of anodized aluminum louvers with a streamlined Oldsmobile emblem at the center. Rectangular parking lights are integrated in the outer ends of the massive and protective front bumper. The hood air intake grille is divided into two sections on each side of the hood for better ventilation.

Horizontal trim strips sweep the length of the front fender and through the rear quarter panels and fenders. A thin roof line accents the low silhouette. The rear window is a single pane of glass with up to 28 per cent more area. Distinguishing the long rear fenders are flowing twin blades of chrome at each fender crown. The fuel tank opening is just ahead of the left rear taillight.

Oldsmobile's New Matic Ride sensational air suspension system cushions the car on four chambers of compressed air—one at each wheel—to create an ultra-smooth ride with less driver and passenger fatigue, according to Adams. It is designed completely for each

Buick Features New High in Engineering

Buick's 1958 line represents "the car that has been lowered and the hood lowered," according to Paul Hunter of Hunter-Merket Motors.

The new Buick line will be entered in the Colorado City Automobile Show.

Topping the new line is the luxurious Limited series which gives Buick greater representation in the prestige car class. The other series are the Roadmaster, Super, Century and Special.

Advanced ideas and transmission, ride and brakes have been put into the Buick line of cars which has been restyled from front to rear.

Engineering innovations include flight pitch Dynaflow, hailed as the closest approach to the ideal automatic transmission in automotive history, an entirely new suspension design principle in which four columns of air replace the traditional steel springs, and air-cooled aluminum brakes which cool faster and consequently provide safer braking.

The new Buick grille is dis tinguished by 160 chrome squares set in four rows of bars.

All models except the Limited carry the ribbed aluminum rear fender panels. On the Limited, which is eight inches longer than the rest of the line, the fenders are trimmed with three banks of chromed capped louvers.

Heading the list of exclusive Buick engineering achievements for 1958 is the triple turbine flight-pitch Dynaflow transmission in which the stator vanes operate on the same principle as an airplane propeller. The vanes, controlled by the accelerator switch automatically to an infinite number of positions from low to high angle depending upon how far the throttle is depressed.

The new air-poise suspension, which literally carries the car on four columns of air, controls the car's ride and maintains it at the same height from the road regardless of load. Air suspension also reduces the possibility of "crash through" or "bottoming" when the car hits a big bump. A new "lift" feature operated by an instrument panel lever permits raising the car 5½ inches.

Aircraft Influence

The aircraft influence on automotive styling shows in the new delta wing front fender ornaments that help make the 1958 Pontiac distinctive. Each ornament has twin fuselage formed projections extending rearward from the winged sections. They measure 7 inches from wing tip to wing tip and 11 inches in length. Twin windsplits continue along the fender.

Rear Visability

The inside rear mirror in the 1958 Plymouth is mounted atop the instrument panel just to the right of the steering wheel. This new mirror location — closer to the driver's eyes — increases by 30 per cent the field of rear visibility for the driver.

Pontiac Boasts Style Features

The 1958 Pontiac line will be on display at the Record's auto show here Saturday.

Among new features are a larger engine, new chassis frame with new suspension, new bodies and new optional equipment led by air ride suspension.

Four basic engines and two special engines, all with increased displacement are offered for 1958. Fuel injection is optional on all Hydra-Matic equipped models.

Displacement on Pontiac's "Tempest 395" V-8 engine has been upped from 347 to 370 cubic inches. Compression ratio has been upped to a new high of 10.5 to 1 on fuel injection and three two-barrel carburetor engines.

In addition to the larger diameter pistons, the engineers have used press-fitted piston pins for durability, new Hydra Matic, new camshaft timing, a new exhaust manifold with enlarged runners and 17 percent larger cylinder head exhaust ports at the valves to improve engine breathing.

There are new oil rings and newly designed lower compression rings for better high vacuum oil control, while new valve rocker arm covers with wider flange and gasket give better protection against oil leakage.

Other new chassis items include suspended brake and clutch pedals, throttle linkage, exhaust system and Synchro-mesh transmission.

Plymouth Emphasis On Style for '58

Plymouth models for 1958 will be shown here at the Colorado City Record's Auto Show Saturday.

The new Plymouths will be displayed by Wallace Motor Co. and by Frank Motor Co., local Plymouth agencies.

Styling features of the new Plymouth includes a bright new "Silver Dart" side moulding treatment sweeping upward at the rear on Belvedere and Sport Suburban models to the tip of Plymouth's familiar high-flung directional stabilizer line with operational dart inserts of silvery anodized aluminum or compatible colors. Another distinctive new side trim is available also with Savoy and Plaza models.

Double header dual head lights are standard equipment on all new Plymouths, with the inner beams producing maximum long-range forward visibility and the outer pair providing supplimental fill-in light when used in combination, or efficient low-beam lighting when used alone.

With filaments centered in all lamps, the new dual head lights produce the safest, most scientifically efficient night lighting ever attained for automobiles.

New turn signals and parking lights are nestled in a triangular area above grill between the headlights. Tail lights also are new, with circular reflectors lower in the fender and a silver-colored reflective wedge extending upward to the tip of the fin. The back-up light is centered beneath the rear bumper.

The lowery front grille of the Plymouth for 1958 has been redesigned with a horizontal bar effect identical to the upper grille section.

New Plymouth colors for 958 are generally softer and more elegant, with 15 solid color options and 44 two-tone combinations. Luxurious new textured fabrics are offered in all lines.

Plymouth's new engine line-up offers six power options, including the new 350-cubic inch Golden Commando V-8 at extra cost; with a 10 to 1 compression ratio and a horse-power rating of 305. New fuel injection is available with this engine as a limited option.

Standard V-8 Plymouth engine for 1958 is the 318-cubic inch Fury V-800 with dual carburetion, a compression ratio of 9 to 1 and rated at 225 horsepower. Super Pak, with four-barrel carburetion, is available as extra equipment.

Standard on all Fury V-800 engine with eight-barrell carburetion is the standard power plant in the high performance Plymouth Fury car in 1958.

Standard on all six-cylinder models is the smooth and economical Power-Flow "6", at 230 cubic inches, 8 to 1 ratio and 132 horsepower.

A Compact new Constant Control power steering design, permitting location of the unit fully within the engine compartment, provides Plymouth's famous full-time effort-free power steering control for maximum safety.

Also new, and available on all Plymouth cars, is a Sure-Trip differential which transfers concentrated pulling power to the rear wheels with the best traction in rain, snow, ice, mud or sand for safer, surer momentum.

Standard equipment with V-8 Plymouths in 1958 is a new automatic economy choke, designed to save fuel in all driving situations where gasoline waste normally occurs, and particularly effective as a fuel saver in short trip city driving.

People can have TB in its early stages without knowing it. A chest X-ray can find tuberculosis before outward symptoms appear.

'58 Plymouth Tests Include Longest Run

Two 1958 Plymouth cars logged milage equal to nearly seven years of normal driving under almost all types of climatic and road conditions to prove the durability and stamina of the new Plymouth.

The test cars traveled 58,000 miles, equal to two and one-third times around the world, in 58 days on the unprecedented coast-to-coast "endurance run."

The cars faced blistering desserts, gutted mountain roads, city streets and all kinds of highways, plowing through rain, hail, sleet, snow, ranging from zero to 120 degrees, freezing wet and humid along the way. For the most, Plymouth's record is a full seventy mark, or more than 70 miles per gallon of gasoline for the entire distance.

The cars traversed a hard, full-mapped route through 11 states to spell out "Plymouth" on the face of the U.S. map. They began July 31 in Los Angeles and completed the endurance test in September 27 in Miami.

Drivers of the two cars described the route as a "torturous course with no qualifications."

The trip was the longest continuous endurance run ever made by a passenger car over American highways.

Boats, Motors to Be Shown Here

The newest equipment for outdoor water sports will be on display here Saturday at the Colorado City Record's first annual Auto Show.

Latest models in Lone Star motor boats—made in Texas for the Southwest's sportsmen—and new Evinrude outboard motors will be displayed by M. N. Caddell, Inc. of Colorado City.

Headlining the new 12-model line of Evinrudes are the 50 h. p. Starflite and 50 h. p. Four-Fifty, four cylinder V motors. Despite the increase of 15 horsepower over 1957 models, the new Evinrude 50s, according to M. N. Caddell, are the quietest outboards ever manufactured, producing less operational sound than the smallest horsepower motors.

The 1958 Evinrude line includes the Starflite and Four-Fifty V-4 h. p. units, the 35 h. p. Lark electric starting; the 35 h. p. electric and standard Big Twin; the 18 h. p. electric and standard Fastwin; the Sportwin, 10 h. p.; the 7.5 h.p. Fleetwin; the 5.5 h. p. Fisherman, and the 3 h. p. Lightwin and Ducktwin.

The new Evinrude principle of quiet has been extended to the 35 h. p. Lark, the highly styled motor which has been even further refined for its 1958 appearance.

The extremely quiet operation stems from the manner in which the two V-4 50s and the Lark motors are mounted and the way their covers are sealed.

A rich Commodore Blue replaces the traditional Evinrude Blue as the predominant color of the 1958 line. The Evinrude Aqua White on most of the Fifty V-4 h. p. units, the 35 new motors.

The annual payroll of Colorado City's seven new car dealers runs to nearly $500,000.

Other contributions to community life and community betterment by these dealers include participation in local civic groups, C. of C. Chamber of Commerce, youth projects, active support of churches, etc.

A large chunk of Mitchell County's United Fund comes from the owners and employes of our new car agencies.

20 Body Styles

Twenty body styles are available on the 1958 Buick, including two-and four-door hardtops in each of the five series and convertibles in the Limited, Roadmaster, Century and Special series. Two-door sedans are offered in the four-door sedans.

Engine Cooling

Uniform engine cooling is provided in the 1958 Chevrolet through the location of the five water pump outlets at the outer jackets of the cylinder block. Outlets are positioned so that coolant may flow freely around each bore and then into the cylinder head.

Olds Offers Transistor Radio in '58

An automobile radio which can be slipped out of the instrument panel and used as a portable is one of the outstanding features of the 1958 Oldsmobile.

This unique transistor radio known as the Trans-Portable is battery-operated when not in the car. It cuts into the Oldsmobile electrical system when slipped into its normal place in the instrument panel. Built-in jacks on the Trans-Portable make possible the power switchover.

The Trans-Portable radio is 6½ inches long, and 4½ inches wide and 2 inches deep. It weighs three pounds and can be removed from the panel by releasing a catch which is accessible by reaching inside the glove compartment.

The Trans-Portable comes equipped with dry cell batteries which provide 160 playing hours when the radio is used as a portable. Use of transistors eliminates any warm-up period and insures longer operational use than is possible with conventional tube sets.

Why use two when one will do?

You'll do better to protect your motor with this one all-weather oil than to change from heavy oil to light oil according to the season.

Users of TROP-ARTIC* All-Weather Motor Oil never have to worry about using different grades of oil at different seasons of the year. TROP-ARTIC is a light oil and heavy oil in one (grades 10W through 30). Furthermore, it lubricates and protects your motor far better than any of the old-fashioned "single grade" oils.

The reason is that TROP-ARTIC never gets too thick or too thin. In a cold engine it flows quickly for easy starting. In a hot engine it retains the "body" necessary to prevent wear. It reduces friction to save you gasoline. It keeps your engine clean. Compared to old-fashioned oils it can even double engine life. COMPLETELY NEW

Changes Mark '58 Chevrolet

Completely restyled Chevrolets for 1958 will be displayed Saturday in downtown Colorado City at the Record's first annual Auto Show.

Models shown will be from Jay Adams Motor Co. here.

The 1958 Chevrolet is new from bumper-to-bumper and from frame to roof line. The all-new features include:

A completely re-styled car which is longer, lower and wider and emphasizes flowing lines from the dual headlamps to softly flared rear fenders.

An X-shaped frame which allows a lower silhouette but retains head room and increases leg room and luggage space.

Two suspension systems for a more luxurious ride along with improved handling, stability and durability. Sturdy coil springs, front and rear, are standard. A new "Level Air" system which automatically adjusts to all load weights is optional.

A 348-cubic inch engine which is new from fan to flywheel. Designed primarily around a new combustion chamber, the optional Turbo Thrust V8 offers greater torque for improved mid-range performance.

Chassis-body design integration to supply exceptional structural strength and greater rigidity.

Forward-mounted steering linkage which provides more responsive action and reduces road vibration to the steering wheel.

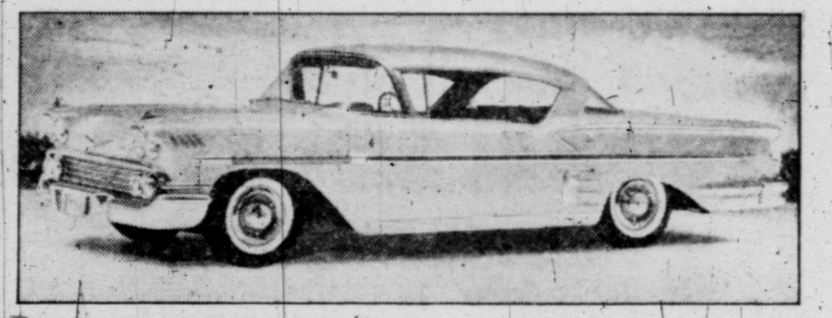

In recognition of the growing popularity of station wagons, an exclusive five-unit series of this body type has been established.

The Bel-Air series is continued, but adds among its six models a sport coupe and convertible under the Impala nameplate, introduced on a "dream car" at the General Motors Motorama in 1956.

In the middle range of the low-priced car bracket is a Biscayne series, with two sedans, the bottom end of the price spread will be occupied by three models making up the Delray series. In 1957 comparable series were known as Two-Ten and One-Fifty, respectively.

Overall lengths have been extended a full nine inches, to a new measurement of 209 inches. The wheelbase is up two and one-half inches to 117½. Roof lines have been lowered up to 2½ inches yet design skill has retained ample passenger headroom.

Dual headlamps, a grille with fine gold concave ribs and a low hood unbroken by ornamentation, distinguish the frontal view. Varied two-tone color patterns, a judicious use of chrome molding and decorative panels give each series an individuality and supply the latest examples of the industry's new art of "sculpturamic" styling.

CHEVROLET OFFERS in its 1958 Bel Air series two Impala models, named after and strongly reminiscent of a "dream car" in the GM Motorama. This is the Impala sport coupe, distinctively styled from any angle, and setting a new standard for interior luxury in the low-price field. A new engine, new frame and two new suspension systems are but a few of the many chassis advances. Impalas are grouped with the Bel Airs, one of four new series of Chevrolets this year.

Chrysler Features New 1958 Series

The 1958 Chrysler line of automobiles will be on display Saturday in Colorado City at the Colorado City Record's first annual Auto Show.

The Chrysler will be displayed by Frank Motor Co., according to Frank Deregibus, owner of the firm.

The 1958 line, will introduce a new Windsor series and two new nine-passenger station wagons.

Combining such innovations as Auto-Pilot, a new pushbutton automatic driver assist, aircraft-type bubble windshields and improved full-time power steering, the 1958 Chrysler's are offered in the New Yorker and Saratoga series plus a new Windsor series in a lower price range.

Beautiful new grilles, plus side and rear styling refinements give the new Chrysler added glamour. Interiors are all new with luxurious fabrics and leathers color keyed to a wide range of exterior colors.

Improved V-8 engines give added performance and economy with new 10 to 1 compression ratios.

The new cars offer advanced sure-traction differential, captive-air tires and dual headlights. They feature award-winning four-billion-mile-tested Torsion-Air Ride as standard equipment. There is also the new Chrysler 300-D with optional fuel injection.

For 1958 Chrysler will introduce Auto-Pilot, an unusual new safety, comfort and economy feature which differs from any speed control device previously marketed. Auto-Pilot allows selection of any cruising speed by means of a dial on the instrument panel. When the car has attained this pre-selected speed a warning back-pressure device on the accelerator pedal is reached. By pushing a button recessed in the speed selector, the driver can then remove his foot from the accelerator pedal. Automatic control is cancelled by a touch on the brake pedal.

All Chryslers for 1958 are modified V-8 engines with new 10-to-one compression ratios for greater performance and increased fuel economy. The higher compression ratio makes possible new and more economical 2.93 to one rear axle ratios, which require fewer engine revolutions for each mile of driving.

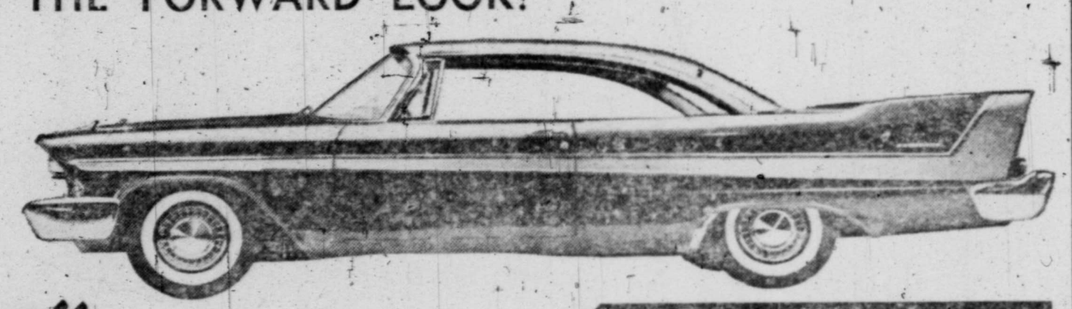

The Windsor series has a 250-horsepower engine. The Saratoga series has a 310 horsepower engine. Both engines have a bore diameter of 3.91 inches and displacement of 331 cubic inches. The Fire Power engine in the New Yorker series has a 345-horsepower engine, a bore diameter of 4.0 inches and displacement of 392 cubic inches.

Included in a complete line of power, luxury and safety equipment offered are Auto-Pilot, power brakes, power windows, six-way power seats, safety seat belts, instant heat conditionaire heater, improved transistorized radios, Solex tinted glass, power radio antenna, captive-air tires, rear shelf radio, driver arranges automatic fogger.

DUAL HEADLIGHTS set over a massive rectangular-checked grille and double air-scoop bumper lend an elegant look to the 1958 Chrysler Windsor, offered for the first time in a new lower price range. The Windsor is available with Auto-Pilot, a new driver assist which provides automatic throttle control. It has luxurious new interiors and a choice of 18 new colors and 45 combinations. The Windsor is offered in a two-door hardtop, four-door hardtop, four-door sedan, two-seat Town and Country wagon and three-seat Town and Country wagon.

IN ENGINEERING, STYLE

Many Changes in DeSoto for 1958

Featured at the Colorado City Automobile Show, sponsored here for the first time by the Record will be examples of Desoto's "new look" for 1958.

The new DeSotos will be from Floyd Wallace Motors.

Engineering news about DeSoto include the new "Constant Control" power steering, Easy-Choke fuel system, Hi-Temp brake fluid, SureGrip differential, and the V-8s lineup, featuring the all-new Turbo-Flash engines.

Torsion-Aire, the new, easier-riding suspension system introduced in 1957, as standard equipment on all lines, has been improved with the addition of new, longer outboard-mounted rear springs with an additional full-length leaf for the rear axle which further reduces the rear end jitters, Fireflite, Firedome and roll and prevents "acceleration squat."

New styling features include new front-end-and-bumper design, wraparound "Control-Tower" windshields, standard on all convertibles and hardtops, dual headlamps, standard on all models; new color sweep treatment, wheel covers and rear bumper end guards. Interiors offer new upholstery materials, an integral front seat construction and the improved placement of the rear view mirror on the instrument panel.

From the front, the Firedome and Fireflite series offer a new combination grille-and-bumper unit, which in addition to enhancing the beauty of the car provides solid front end protection. The grille insert is expanded aluminum metal and brightly anodized. The Firesweep has a flat hood and front fender "eyebrow" treatment.

From the side, the hallmark of the new De Soto is the high-signed with directional stabilizing fins, standard for the Firesweep, and tailfins in new color sweep, standard with the Fireflite, Firedome and Firesweep.

From the rear, the trademark of the De Soto three-tiered tail lights has been retained for the third year.

With the addition of the Firesweep model, four different convertibles are available in the De Soto lineup. Advertising, Fireflite, Firedome and Firesweep.

Four-door sedans are offered in each of the three series, as well as two- and four-door Sportsman hardtops. The Firesweep is built on a 122-inch wheelbase and the other lines have a 126-inch wheelbase.

The Firesweep and Fireflite lines offer the two-seat shopper and the three-seat nine-passenger Explorer station wagons. With seat folded flat into the floor they provide a full 95 cubic feet of cargo capacity. Captive air tires, pioneered in the industry by De Soto, are standard equipment on all three-seat Explorer station wagons. Also, standard equipment on all models is the deep-dish safety steering wheel and the safety Lifeguard door latch which incorporates a self-tightening rotor with automatic take-up. Total Contact brakes are continued in '58.

The Firesweep is powered by a 280 horsepower, 350-cubic inch displacement engine. A single two-barrel carburetor is used with the Firesweep as standard equipment. A four-barrel carburetor, increasing the Firesweep horsepower to 295, is available with a power package.

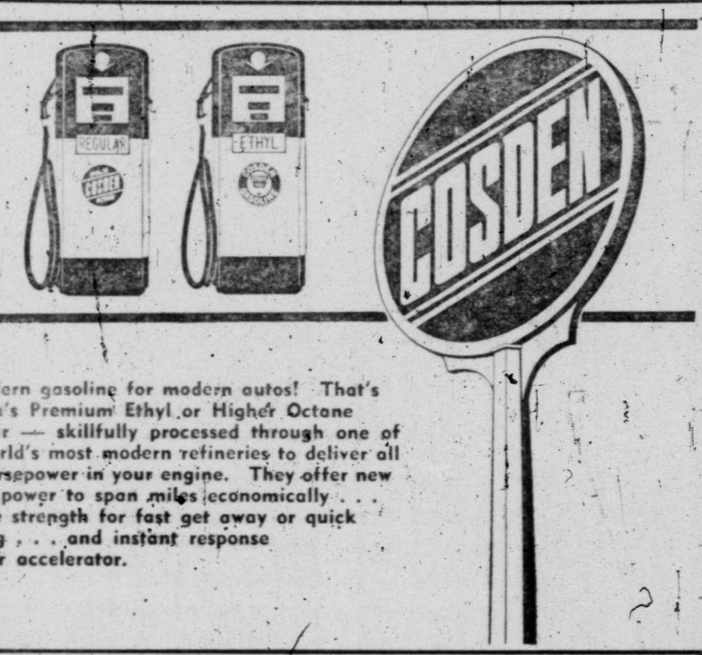

A two-barrel carburetor is standard for the Firedome giving it 295 horsepower, and a four-barrel carburetor is standard with the Fireflite, delivering 305 horsepower.

18 Models Introduced By De Soto

De Soto introduces 18 models in 1958, the largest number in its 29-year history, paced by 15 major styling and mechanical changes, and two completely new V-8 Turbo-flash engines.

The new models were designed "to begin where 1957 leaves off" as uncomprimising styling and engineering leaders in their price groups.

Record-breaking acceptance of the Firesweep last year has firmly established this third line in the De Soto family. It now takes its place, along with the Firedome and Fireflite, as a complete De Soto series.

Exclusive Imperial Features Changes

Body lines of the 1958 Imperial, available at Frank Motor Co. here, create the shape of a sleek wedge. A new six-section grille dominates the front of the car above a massive bumper which includes insert parking lights.

Dual horizontal headlights are set under front fender projections. High rear fins flow forward into a low belt line to the tips of front fenders.

Imperial's exclusive curved side glass and larger bubble windshields, combined with curved side metal, create a sleek image. A new Flight sweep deck lid, featuring a chrome spread eagle edged in gold, is optional equipment.

The Imperial LeBaron series is offered in a four-door sedan and a new four-door hardtop.

Ford Has New Suspension, Transmission

With 21 new body styles for 1958, the new Ford automobiles feature an impressive line of extras for the greatest possible convenience for modern motorists, including a new transmission and a new suspension system.

Cruise-O-Matic, an all-new high performance automatic transmission, providing maximum response under all driving conditions, is available for 1958 Ford cars.

Teamed with Ford's powerful V-8 engine, Cruise-O-Matic creates a new power train that unites, for the first time, the economy of overdrive with the convenience of an automatic transmission.

Improved versions of Ford-matic transmission also are available for 1958.

An exclusive feature with Ford, Cruise-O-Matic incorporates instant, "solid" acceleration with nearly imperceptibly smooth upshifting and brings Ford's range of transmissions to five, including two improved Ford-matics, conventional and overdrive.

Ford-Aire suspension, a new concept in riding comfort, has been developed for Ford cars in 1958.

Ford-Aire suspension achieved by substituting air for steel as the springing medium, provides the softest, easiest ride in Ford Experience, regardless of load conditions.

Available as an extra-cost option, Ford-Aire suspension achieves a constant car height under partial load, full load, overload or any point between these extremes.

The new suspension system gives constant ride clearance, making for the maximum in ride, handling ease and promoting the boulevard type of ride on all roads. It decreases ride motion, cushioning the choppy, jolting ride or severe pitch over crossing and other bumps.
