Jean Harlow's Husband Suicides After Quarrel With Platinum Blonde Star

PISTOL SHOT TAKES LIFE OF PAUL BERN

Well-Known Director Leaves Note Explaining "This Is Only Way"

WEDDED TWO MONTHS

Body Found Before Mirror With Gun in Hand And Another by Side

By ALANSON EDWARDS
United Press Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 5.—Paul Bern, one of the screen's leading producer-executives, sent a fatal bullet crashing through his brain today after penciling a mysterious note to his platinum-blond bride of two months, lovely Jean Harlow.

The 42-year-old producer ended his life standing unclothed in front of a mirror in their luxurious new home, while Miss Harlow, all unaware of the tragedy, was working on a sound stage at her studio.

Bullet Entered Head

The note found by Police Lieut. Joseph Whitehead near the body, read:

"Dearest dear: Unfortunately, this is the only way to make good the frightful wrong I have done you and to wipe out my abject humiliation. You understand last night was only a comedy."

The bullet from a .32 caliber automatic pistol had entered the victim's right temple, passed through the head and lodged in a wall of the bedroom.

Miss Harlow was prostrated when informed of her husband's sudden death. She was taken to the home of her mother in Beverly Hills, a short distance from the new Bern home in Benedict canyon.

Quarrel Indicated

Lieutenant Whitehead said his first investigations based on the note indicated there had been a quarrel in the Bern family last night, the character of which he did not know.

Bern sent Miss Harlow last night to her mother's home for dinner, Whitehead was told. The executive said he would follow later, and then sent the house man and a maid along to prepare the meal.

He failed to arrive at the other house and Miss Harlow telephoned him repeatedly without receiving an answer. She remained with her mother all night.

The house man, John Carmichael, returned to the house today and discovered the body.

Police claimed more than two and a half hours elapsed between the discovery of the suicide and the summoning of authorities.

Two Guns Found

The body was found lying face downward on the floor of a dressing alcove in the bedroom. A pistol, with one shell exploded, was clutched in one hand. A second pistol, with all six shells intact, lay nearby.

The death note was written on a page torn from Bern's diary, date today.

Carmichael first called Irving Thalberg, husband of Norma Shearer and Bern's immediate superior at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios. David Selznick, an RKO official, also was summoned, and together the two friends of the dead man conducted a cursory investigation.

A maid, Blanche Williams, and Bern's young secretary, Maybell

Swindle Ranchmen Oppose Cattle Tests

AMARILLO, Texas, Sept. 5. (AP)—The bureau of animal industry and the livestock sanitary commission of Texas will soon be petitioned to cease testing of range cattle for bovine tuberculosis, it was decided at a meeting of 28 Panhandle ranchmen here today.

The ranchmen declared past investigations have not disclosed any cases of the disease in Panhandle herds, and that "accrediting of certain counties has restricted the normal movement of cattle in this territory, in addition to causing shrinkage and the entailment of other losses."

Filmland Tragedy

Paul Bern, motion picture executive and husband of Jean Harlow, the original "platinum blonde" of filmland, was found shot to death, apparently by his own hand, Monday at the popular screen couple's Hollywood home. A note found in Bern's diary was addressed to his 21-year-old wife.

In the above photograph is shown Miss Harlow. Below, in the circle, is Bern. They had been married but two months.

A. F. L. to Wage Fight For Job Insurance Law

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5. (US)—Industry and the government having failed to provide work for all, the American Federation of Labor will fight for enactment of an unemployment insurance law at the forthcoming session of congress, President Green revealed her today.

Green scored the wage cutting that has attended the depression which he said in the past two years has destroyed $36,667,000,000 in buying power. While wages have declined 59.2 per cent from the 1929 peak, the cost of living has dropped only 23.6 per cent, he said.

He urged general adoption of the five-day week and the six-hour day so that work opportunities will be provided for all.

GRANDE FLOOD COVERS PRIZED FARMING LANDS

HUNDREDS HOMELESS

Crest of Torrent Nears Brownsville as Homes Are Vacated

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Sept. 5. (US)—Sweeping onward toward the sea, the Rio Grande flood was inundating thousands of acres of highly cultivated and thickly populated territory at Brownsville, near the river's mouth, today.

Torrential rains added fresh terror to the flood. From 10 to 15 inches of water fell from the sky. The unusual downpour extended from the Rio Grande northward to Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Hunger was being felt in the wake of the flood tonight, foodstuffs having been destroyed in the homes of Mexican and American families alike.

Demand Food

At Piedras Negras, on the Mexican side, north of here where the flood struck last Friday, 500 starving Mexicans stormed the Municipal palace demanding food. They took possession of empty box cars for shelter but had no food. Emergency rations were being issued.

In Nuevo Laredo, across the river from Laredo, hundreds of families were homeless today, though the flood had receded. Loss of life was not definitely known but was placed at 15.

Traffic was resumed over the international automobile bridge at Laredo during the afternoon but it will be several weeks before the railroad bridge can be rebuilt. Fifteen men were on the bridge when it was carried away and only four are known to have been saved.

Troops Leave Post

In the Lower Rio Grande the United States army post at Fort Ringgold was evacuated and troops moved to higher ground north of the fort.

The crest of the Rio Grande flood was still some miles above Brownsville tonight. The water was spreading out over the low-lands and hundreds of families had been removed from their homes to places of safety.

The 60-mile border section in Hidalgo and Cameron counties reported the worst flood in 64 years. At Zapata the river had reached a stage of 47 feet, highest ever recorded at that point.

Groves Inundated

Reports received in Brownsville stated that while rich citrus groves will be flooded it was expected the READVILLE, Mass., Sept. 5. (US)—Al Fraser, Philadelphia automobile racer, was burned to death and four other racers were seriously injured today when seven racing cars piled up in a flaming jumble during a 50-mile race at the local speedway.

The accident occurred in a flash while several thousand spectators gathered to see the dirt track classic gasped.

Two of the racing cars collided. Five others speeding close behind could not avoid the wreck and roared right into it. Fraser was burned to death and his charred body was recovered from the tangled debris.

Four other racers were burned and bruised and were taken to the hospital. Two of the racers miraculously escaped injury.

Police sergeant Ryan was slightly injured when one of the racer's cars swerved into the fence near where he was standing.

Prisoner Who Escaped From 'Uncle Bud' Caught

EL PASO, Sept. 5. (AP)—Carlos Brasil, 29, sentenced to 60 years in the state penitentiary on two robbery by firearms charges and who escaped from "Uncle" Bud Russell, prison agent, at Abilene July 26, was captured by immigration border patrol men near El Paso today.

Brasil's dash to freedom marred "Uncle" Bud's perfect record of transporting prisoners to the penitentiary for 25 years without an escape.

"I picked the lock to the chain about my neck with a hair pin in about three hours before the prison truck reached Abilene," Bravil told officers.

"As I ran Mr. Russell fired two shots at me. One struck me in the heel."

SENATE IN HOT DEBATE DURING ENTIRE DAY

Any Investigation Will Be Postponed Until After Lubbock Convention

TAMPERING CHARGED

Inquiry Ordered to Find If State Rangers Opened Ballot Boxes

AUSTIN, Sept. 5. (AP)—The Texas senate spent the entire day amending and debating a resolution proposing a senate committee investigation of alleged fraudulent voting in the recent Democratic primary, then adjourned without reaching a vote on the main question.

DALLAS NEWS CONCEDES

DALLAS, Sept. 5. (UP)—In an editorial headed "Why Contest?" the Dallas News tomorrow will say it considers Gov. Ross S. Sterling should admit defeat in his race for renomination and that the present legislature should refrain from a "useless" investigation of the recent primary elections.

vass of the vote in the close race between the governor and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, had tacked on amendments to preclude the inquiry group functioning, if finally it is authorized to investigate, before the result is formally declared by the party machinery.

Tampering Charged

An amendment adopted by a vote of 13 to 12, directed that any investigation authorized not start until adjournment of the Democratic state convention which meets in Lubbock a week from tomorrow. Another directed that the inquiry not start until the special session of the legislature has gone home.

The senate heard charges of alleged "tampering," with ballot boxes by Texas rangers in the East Texas oil field area. Those accusations inspired Senator W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales to propose another amendment. It was adopted, directing that the investigating committee, if created, inquire whether "any state ranger or any other state officer has heretofore opened or attempted to open, or has tampered with or attempted to tamper with any ballot box used, in the primary elections.

Woodul Explains

The Hopkins amendment also proposed that "in event any such act by any such ranger or other state officer is so discovered, then said committee shall immediately certify such finding to the county and district attorneys of such county in which such irregularity occurred with the request that prompt action, looking to the prosecution of such offending persons, be instituted in such county."

"I was told that while I was out of this senate chamber today, the senator from Houston (Walter Woodul) said he had in his possession 2,000 affidavits of voters in

Mrs. Caraway Flays Hoover's Labor Stand

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (US)—Fresh from her decisive primary victory, Senator Hattie W. Caraway, Democrat of Arkansas, today branded President Hoover's friendly gestures toward a 30-hour week for labor as "pure campaign propaganda."

Labor, however, sees this is pretty late in the day to be making such a suggestion, Mrs. Caraway declared, adding:

"They doubtless realize it is good propaganda for election year. Just as the flurry in the stock market, and the cheerful tone of papers, loudly proclaiming better times are at hand, is good propaganda.

"I'm afraid that 'hand' will be as hard to find as the corner we have been hearing so much about."

Fire-Fighters Plan To Form National Order

Farm Board To Hold Remaining Wheat And Cotton From Market

Chairman Stone Announces Withdrawal of Cotton Until March and Wheat Until January, 1933; Stores In Warehouses Greatly Reduced

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (AP)—All remaining stores of stabilization wheat and cotton and approximately 2,000,000 additional bales of cotton controlled by cooperatives are to be held from the market until next year under an agreement announced tonight by Chairman Stone of the farm board.

The definite plan was made public after a week of negotiations between the board and the reconstruction corporation following announcement that the corporation had allotted $50,000,000 as a loan to enable the cotton to be withheld.

Supply Reduced

Chairman Stone today returned from a boat trip on Chesapeake bay with Jesse Jones and Harvey Couch, directors of the corporation, and made the announcement shortly thereafter in the names of the farm board affiliates affected.

The Grain Stabilization corporation's statement said it now held less than 3,000,000 bushels of wheat as compared with more than 250,000,000 bushels in July, 1931. This present store is not to be reduced by sales before next January, "except such sales . . . as may be made for shipment to foreign countries that otherwise would not be important buyers of United States wheat."

Regarding cotton, Stone's statement said:

"Of the 650,000 bales of cotton proposed to be marketed by the cotton stabilization corporation prior to July 31, 1933, more than 300,000 bales have been sold. The corporation will immediately withdraw its remaining stocks from sale until March 1, 1933, with the exception of certain small amounts now on consignment in foreign countries, and such cotton as may be sold at 12 cents per pound or more based on the near month of the New York cotton exchange.

"The American Cotton Co-operative association will maintain its present stocks of the 1930 crop until July 31, 1933, with similar exceptions for sales at the above prices.

Action to Aid Producer

"These steps are being taken and loans obtained so that the cotton growers will get the full benefit of the market for their crop of this year and for the purpose of enabling the organizations to gradually liquidate their holdings during periods when more active demand is anticipated."

At the beginning of this fiscal year the cotton stabilization corporation held 1,300,000 bales, but 500,000 were appropriated by congress for relief of distress. Congress also took 85,000,000 bushels of stabilization wheat for the needy.

Eagan Murder Jury Still Considers Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5. (UP)—A jury that at 11:09 a. m. Saturday received the case of Frank J. Egan and Albert Tinnin, accused of the murder of Mrs. Jessie Scott Hughes, had not reached a verdict at 4:30 this afternoon.

The jurors, seeming worn and tired as they were led from their room, took a recess that was to last two hours.

Egan, former public defender, and Tinnin, an ex-convict, were accused of killing the 67-year-old widow to enable Egan to collect her life insurance.

NEW VIOLENCE IN STRIKE AREA

Four Injured When Farmers Stop Produce Trucks

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Sept. 5. (AP)—Violence broke out afresh in the farm strike area today and four drivers were injured when pickets besieged a caravan of produce-laden trucks.

Scores of drivers succeeded in bringing livestock here this morning but when a group of truckers beyond James, a village north of here, decided to run the farmers blockade, reports of their move reached picket lines, and farmers hurriedly remobilized their forces and lay in wait for them.

Hurled Stones

Today's battle was in defiance of a truce proclaimed a week ago and occurred on the eve of a parley called by Iowa county leaders of the National Farmers Holiday association.

The strikers, who hope that by keeping farm goods from market they can force an advance in prices, hurled spiked logs, scrap iron, poles and stones in front of the trucks and at the drivers.

James Brummer of Sioux Center, a farmer, received a broken shoulder when he was struck by a piece of timber. Carl Johnson of Ireton, Marvin Elyer of Craig, and an Emmettsburg driver who refused to give his name were badly cut and bruised by the missiles and glass from broken windshields.

Ban Blockade

Sheriff John Davenport dispatched 40 special deputies to the scene but they arrived after all but one of the machines had succeeded in running the blockade.

In other parts of Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska, the struggle for higher prices apparently was quiescent, pending the conference in Des Moines Tuesday of county leaders of the National Farmers Holiday association, sponsors of the non-selling campaign, which started in Iowa Aug. 8.

AMARILLO, Texas, Sept. 5. (AP)—Solon May, 30, former motion picture projectionist, and Roy Terry, 22, both of Amarillo, were arrested today, and held for investigation in connection with recent "stench bombing" of local theaters.

They were charge with possession of stench bombs. The offense is a misdemeanor. May was released upon making $500 bonds, but Terry was held, having failed to make bond of a similar amount.

Chief of Police W. R. McDowell, and Special Investigator T. D. Whitehorn, said that a statement had been obtained from one of the men.

DUAL TRAGEDY TAKES LIVES OF BROTHERS

6 and 3-Year-Old Sons Of J. A. Pautsky Drown In Irrigation Ditch

RESUSCITATION FAILS

Unwitnessed Accident Is Discovered by Older Member of Family

Two little boys who slipped away from their mother's side to seek fancied adventure in a pool of water nearby were drowned in Wichita Falls' only major Labor day tragedy.

The boys, D. J. and Clinton Wayne Pautsky, 6 and 3 respectively, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pautsky, met their deaths in an unwitnessed accident.

An official verdict of death by drowning left unanswered the question of just how they lost their lives. Neither the grief stricken parents nor any of the six surviving members of the family knew what caused the drowning.

Brother Finds Bodies

Bodies of the two children were found in a pool of water in an irrigation ditch near the Pautsky home, located on the Charlie road two miles from Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Pautsky operate a filling station at Pautsky Corner, where the home is located.

Position of the bodies when found shortly before 3 p. m. by an older brother led to belief that D. J. Pautsky lost his life attempting to rescue his younger brother or had slipped exhausted in the edge of the pool while trying to leave for aid.

Resuscitation Fails

Efforts of Merkle Undertaking company employes and volunteers failed to resuscitate the children after nearly an hour's work. Two lungmotors were taken to the scene by a Merkle ambulance. Dr. M. A. Beckman, county physician, pronounced the boys dead after resuscitation failed. Dr. Curtis Atkinson also was present.

The bodies were taken in charge by the Merkle Undertaking company and a verdict of "death by accidental drowning" was returned by Judge O. L. Gibbs, justice of the peace, at an inquest at the undertaking parlor. Funeral arrangements were not completed late Monday due to the condition of the mother, who was near collapse from shock following the tragedy. The father was in Wichita Falls but returned home while efforts to revive the children were under way.

Children Warned

The two tiny victims had gone to the pool to play following the example of their older brothers and other children of the neighborhood who frequently seine the water hole with gunny sacks and buckets. The younger children had been warned several times in the past to remain

Doubter of Banks Loses $2,413 to Hijackers

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 5. (UP)—A beggar, Marion Headon, was arrested and charged with vagrancy. To refute the accusation, he pulled $2,413 in currency from his ragged trousers.

Judge C. C. Christison released him with the advice, "put your money in a bank."

"I'll keep it with me," Headon said. "Banks go broke every day."

Headon reported to police today that he had been kidnaped, forced into an automobile and robbed of the money, his life savings.

Brookhart May Run As Independent in Race

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (US)—Senator Smith W. Brookhart, progressive Republican from Iowa who has turned anti-Hoover, disclosed today he is considering an announcement soon as to whether to run independently for re-election.

With Iowa a pivotal corn belt state in the presidential race, Brookhart's pondering an independent candidacy was said to be giving administration forces much concern.

Henry Field, radio seed merchant of Shenandoah, defeated Brookhart for the Republican nomination.

Doolittle Cops Air Speed Classic As Flying Silo Makes 252 M. P. H.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 5. (AP)—America's flying speed champion, Maj. James H. Doolittle of St. Louis, ended the 1932 national air races today by blistering over a 100-mile course at an average speed of 252.686 miles an hour to win the classic Labor day race.

Lapping every one in the field except James R. Wedell of Patterson, La., who placed second, the former air corps flier streaked his stubby Flying Silo 10 times around the 10-mile course at a gait of 16.847 miles an hour faster than the speed the late Lowell Bayles made in winning in 1931.

Mrs. Mae Haislip, of Ferguson, Mo., whose husband finished fourth in the race next to Col. Roscoe Turner, Los Angeles, earlier shattered the woman's land plane speed record by dashing over the three kilometer straight-away at an average of 235.513 miles an hour.

Haislip flew the same plane he used to set a new west-east transcontinental record a week ago and the one used by his wife in her record breaking speed dashes.

The closing day saw the first fatality of the meet, Al Wilson, Hollywood, Calif., stunt flier, having died in the morning from injuries received two days ago.

Methodist Conference Disrupted By Dr. Wilson's Assault On President

CINCINNATI, Sept. 5. (AP)—A denunciation of President Hoover by Dr. Clarence True Wilson, secretary of the Methodist Episcopal church's board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, created a furor today at the church's Ohio conference in session here.

Dr. Wilson told the conference last night that "the president deserted the dry forces the first day he was elected," and said "I am voting for Norman Thomas for president."

The militant churchman today stood firmly behind his speech. "I'll stand by everything I said," he declared.

The Cincinnati Times Star and Enquirer said conference leaders expressed determination to carry his criticism of the president to the floor of the conference, asserting his speech delivered last night was "purely political" and as such had no place before the conference. There were executive sessions, presumably to determine the course to follow, but Dr. Wilson remained unshaken.

The militant churchman asserted in his speech that "prohibition has never had half a chance"; charged that the president "has consistently the Kilgore district of East Texas who had averred they were qualified voters even though they were without poll tax receipts," Senator Hopkins said.

Senator Walter Woodul of Houston interrupted the senator to assert that he had not said how many affidavits he had.

"I call upon Senator Woodul to tell this senate where those affidavits came from," Senator Hopkins shouted. "They belong in the ballot boxes. No one had any right to take them from those ballot boxes."

Right Questioned

Senator Woodul interrupted again to tell the senate that he did not now possess the affidavits.

"Yes, he called a page and sent them to the governor's office," Senator Hopkins replied.

"The constabulary of this state had no right to go into the ballot boxes and take anything, at the point of a bayonet, so to speak."

Senator Woodul asked Senator Hopkins if he charged the rangers had illegally tampered with the ballot boxes.

"I do not know from what source those affidavits originated," Senator Hopkins replied. "I do know it was illegal for any one to go into the ballot boxes without a court order. I do not charge the rangers violated the law or that they tampered with the ballot boxes. I do know the rangers have been in East Texas, and that they have not disclosed their mission. It has been reported that they went there for the purpose of investigating election irregularities and to collect evidence.

Mussolini Not Needed

"I want this investigation, if it is authorized, to determine if any one violated the sanctity of the ballot boxes. If rangers brought you or any other person affidavits that belong in the ballot boxes they violated the law. We do not need a Mussolini or a dictator of any sort in this state."

Senator Tom Pollard of Tyler, whose district comprises a part of the East Texas oil field area, proposed a substitute resolution, which was defeated, calling on county executive committees to recount and investigate "each and every vote in their respective counties," cast in the primary elections.

The resolution would have directed the investigation to have been completed by Sept. 17. The committees would have reported any irregularities or fraudulent charges to the district courts, district attorneys and grand juries of their respective counties for prosecution.

Charges "Political Trick"

Senator Pollard took exception to charges made by Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston that he had been told a man who resided in a county other than Gregg, participated as an election official in the Kilgore precinct.

Senator Pollard read telegrams denying the Holbrook charge which had been made early in the long debate. When the allegation was first made Senator Pollard tried to get Senator Holbrook to give him the name of the man who furnished the information.

"Stand up like a man and give us the source of your information," Senator Pollard told Senator Holbrook after he had read telegrams from Kilgore citizens claiming the election was "straight laced, and closely watched by partisans on both sides of the governor's race."

"It's a political trick you are trying to put over," Senator Pollard shouted at Senator Holbrook.

Statistics prove that for every three men aged between 75 and 80 there are four women. For every four men over 85 there are seven women.

Rio Grande Crest Moves Toward Brownsville

$60,000,000 spillway would relieve the flood pressure and save cities and towns from inundation.

On the Mexican side of the river thousands of acres were already under water tonight, with families fleeing before the rising water. Some came to the American side to seek protection behind the dykes.

TRINITY OVERFLOWS AT FORT WORTH

FORT WORTH, Sept. 5. (US)—The Trinity river went over its banks today inundating the lowlands north of the city.

No loss of life was anticipated as that section was evacuated during the morning. Property damage will be heavy.

TORRENTIAL RAINS IN NORTHEAST TEXAS

DALLAS, Sept. 5. (AP)—Dallas tonight waited for the Trinity river to reach flood state after heavy rains here, at Fort Worth, and up stream.

Mrs. John Christian, 38, was drowned here early today when she tried to leave an automobile stalled on a flooded street in East Dallas. No other deaths had been reported in this section. In the 48 hours ending at 4 p. m. 5.9 inches of rain had fallen here. At Fort Worth 8.8 inches fell.

There were heavy rains along the West Fork of the Trinity from Trinidad to Palestine. The river rose rapidly here tonight. It was expected to reach a stage of 30 or 40 feet some time tomorrow night.

Additional rain fell today at Mexia and Groesbeck. The weather observer at Mexia reported more than 16 inches during the last 48 hours.

Corsicana reported that repairs had been made at railroad washouts in that section though traffic still was moving slowly.

Hoover To Hold Big Guns Until Last

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (US)—President Hoover will delay the main offensive in his campaign for re-election until three weeks before the eventful day in November, it was learned today after he had talked with a number of leaders over the long-distance 'phone from his Rapidan camp.

Then, it was said, his drive will be opened on a large scale, calculated to befuddle his Democratic opponents. It merely means, it was said, that he is to save his ammunition to the last.

Those with whom the president talked said that there are two reasons for this procedure. First, the party is so short of funds, that they must be conserved in every way possible.

But the chief reason, it was explained, is that the president does not think that this is the proper time for the major offensive. He is firmly convinced that there will be a marked upward trend in the economic situation before the end of September and he would rather take advantage of this after it happens than to forecast it.

PAUL BERN IS BULLET VICTIM

Jean Harlow's Husband Ends Life in Home

Jewell, were unable to give the police any information except that the picture official possessed "a somewhat melancholy disposition."

Engagement a Surprise

Bern was widely known in Hollywood for his philanthropic work. He had been friendly with Miss Harlow for the last three years, and they were seen often together at screen premieres and other haunts of screen colony notables.

The announcement last June 20 of the engagement, however, was a complete surprise to Hollywood. Despite the friendly attitude they showed toward each other, few expected the presumably confirmed bachelor—quiet, kindly and reserved—had matrimonial intentions toward the vivacious young actress 21 years his junior.

Their friends hurried forward with congratulations, and less than two weeks later they were married in the home of Miss Harlow's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Marino Bello. John Gilbert was best man.

Colony Shocked

Immediately afterward they moved into the Benedict Canyon home which Bern gave his bride as a wedding present, and where he snuffed out his life today in dramatic fashion.

The entire colony was shocked by the suicide. From speculation as to the motives behind Bern's act, the talk in Hollywood drawing rooms tonight quickly spread to the possible effects it will have on Miss Harlow's career on the screen.

Credited with the nation-wide vogue of platinum blondes, the former Kansas City school girl first rose to fame as the devastating screen lure in "Hell's Angels." Oddly enough, in her last picture, "Red Headed Woman," she appeared in a red wig.

Scared "Stiff"

Bern and Miss Harlow were known to friends as a devoted couple, although neither spoke much of the other. A few minutes before their wedding Miss Harlow walked into a room reserved for reporters and confessed she was "just scared stiff."

Miss Harlow, whose maiden name was Harlean Carpenter, returned here a short time ago from a visit in the North.

She was married to Bern, known as Hollywood's most eligible bachelor, last July 2 at a home wedding attended only by intimate screen colony friends. Previously, she had been divorced from Charles F. McGrew II, wealthy young Chicagoan.

Bern, a native of Germany, came to New York City when 10 years old. As a young man he entered the American Academy of Dramatic Arts and became stage manager and director of theatrical productions.

His first motion picture work was as a scenarist "The Marriage Circle," "The Christian," and "The Dove," were among his best known efforts.

Writing ability won Bern his spurs as a director with the old Lasky studios. Later he joined M-G-M as an executive in the story department. From there he graduated to the ranks of associate-producer. His last success was "The Divorce," starring Norma Shearer.

Miss Harlow issued a statement through studio officials tonight in which she denied having quarreled with Bern. She said she went to stay with her mother Saturday night because her father had gone on a fishing trip and she understood her husband had a business engagement.

The statement was the first intimation that Miss Harlow did not see her husband all day Sunday, and that she last saw him alive some 36 hours before his body was found.

Miss Harlow said she telephoned Bern about the dinner party last night and that he complained of illness, and asked to be excused from attending.

"Well, I'll come home then," Miss Harlow said she told her husband.

Spent Night Away

"No, you stay here," she quoted him as replying.

Miss Harlow then notified guests of a last minute postponement of the party and spent the night with her mother.

Lieutenant Whitehead, questioning servants and friends, said he learned Bern for several weeks had insisted on keeping a gun in his possession. A gun was stolen from his automobile, it developed, and servants said he took immediate steps to obtain another.

Friends said Bern often remarked that several members of his family had ended their own lives and that he frequently discussed suicide in a philosophical manner. He had told intimates he considered it justifiable for a person to commit suicide if he felt his existence no longer necessary.

Inquest May Be Held

He was highly sensitive, modest in the extreme, and of a kindly, generous nature. Bern's frequent role as benefactor to friends gained for him the title of "Father Confessor of Hollywood."

Despite Miss Harlow's statement, Carmichael, the butler, insisted to police that he and the actress did not leave for her mother's home until Sunday night. He said Bern was in bed.

"Good night, dear, if you don't come over," he quoted Miss Harlow as saying.

"Good night, dear," Bern replied.

Coroner Frank Nance announced he will call an inquest unless "certain discrepancies" are explained, although he said the case appeared to him as unquestionably one of suicide.

Railways Announce Special Rates For Whole Southwest During Jubilee

All railways running into Wichita Falls will announce special rates for excursions to this city during the golden jubilee party, Sept. 26-28, President W. D. Cline of the 50th anniversary association said Monday. The low rates are planned to serve the entire Southwest and Oklahoma with special fares for one-day special train excursions arranged.

Several special trains are expected to run into the city for the birthday party in view of announced cooperation of school superintendents in the Wichita area who desire to have their pupils obtain a practical lesson in Texas history through Lester Jones' museum exhibition.

Plans for a fall convention of the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma Peace Officers association during the jubilee were announced Monday by Sheriff Perry Browning, president of the association, after a conference with President Cline and H. G. Wells, M-K-T railway special officer and association secretary.

A feature of the convention will be entertainment for pioneer law enforcement officers of the Wichita area with a special pistol shooting contest for the veterans. Other contests for members of the association will be held. County and city officers will join in entertaining the visitors, and the large number of officers in the city is expected to aid in keeping violations at a minimum.

John Black, 81, Dies At Wichita Falls Home

John Black 81, 1405½ Bluff, died at his home at 5:30 o'clock Monday afternoon after an illness of a few weeks. Mr. Black had resided in Wichita Falls for 22 years and has operated a grocery store in the city during that period, remaining active in the business until his illness forced his retirement recently.

Funeral services will be held from the Merkle Undertaking company chapel at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon with Dr. O. L. Powers, First Baptist church pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Riverside.

Pallbearers will be R. P. Sherwood, I. P. Sherwood Jr., Ray Kenney, Arthur Stipes, Fred Pryor and C. S. Burnett.

Survivors include two sons, Ray and Guy Black, both of Wichita Falls, and a brother, Will Black of Peoria, Ill.

Mr. Black was a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, and resided in Illinois several years before moving to Wichita Falls.

Radio Helps Police Apprehend Suspects

Theft charges were filed in county court late Monday against two men in connection with the loss of a battery and other equipment from a Lambert Trucking company machine early Monday morning. The property was recovered by Officers George Garrett and C. C. Chapman who made the arrest after receiving radio instructions to investigate a car prowler in the 1200 block on Tenth street, Police Chief Dick Morris said.

In 1931 there was one automobile to every 56 persons in the world.

away from the water and they went to the irrigation ditch Monday without their parents' knowledge of their whereabouts.

Late last week the elder victim was rescued from the pool by one of his sisters, neighbors said.

H. L. Rousey was the first adult to reach the scene and called the fire department to send a lungmotor. Two trucks of the fire department responded and a Merkle ambulance followed. A Hines ambulance also answered the call. City Officers V. V. Musick and John Wildmon investigated as did Deputy Sheriff Ben Howle.

Four Feet of Water

The irrigation ditch is dry except for a hole of water at an unused control gate on the waterway. The pool is about 10 feet in diameter with a mximum depth of slightly over four feet. The scene of the tragedy was about 200 yards from the Pautsky home and near the roadside.

First knowledge of the accident was given the mother when excited cries of two sons sent to locate the boys called neighbors to their aid. John Pautsky Jr., 7, and Noel, 9, were sent to look for their younger brothers. John arrived at the pool first and saw the body of the youngest child near the edge of the pool. He rushed 300 yards down the road to a neighbor's house and summoned Aaron Tucker, 15, to his aid.

Second Body Found

Young Tucker moved the body from the pool and passed it to Mr. Rousey who started to the boy's home, but in turn passed the body to Charlie Somerville when Noel Pautsky called that he had found the other boy's body on the opposite side of the pool. Both bodies were carried to the parents' home while aid was being summoned. Mr. Somerville was visiting Mr. Rousey.

The parents and six children survive. The brothers are Norman, John Jr., Noel and Lloyd D. Pautsky; and the sisters are Helen and Ruth Pautsky, both of this city.

appointed 'wets' to prominent offices in the administration of the Volstead act," and concluded that "the ides of November will determine whether the cause of prohibition is to be crucified between two thieves." He did not explain his choice of words.

Dr. Wilson's statements brought a storm of protest.

"Facts, facts, give us the facts," there was a cry from the audience at one point of the address.

Dr. Wilson paused a moment.

"I am giving you the facts, brethren," he said, and went on.

He (the president)," he said, "has consistently appointed 'wets' to prominent offices in the administration of the Volstead act. He appointed a 'wet' cabinet, with one exception. He appointed the infamous Wickersham commission of nine 'wets' and two 'drys,' with one of the 'wets' the president of the 'smokiest' and 'wettest' woman's colleges in the United States. When a man pits his political prejudices against such facts as these, his feeling is not to vote for the man."

He himself, he said, is going to vote for Norman Thomas, candidate of the Socialist party, adding, "I am not here to tell you who to vote for. However, if Thomas gets a million and a half dry votes this fall, it is going to stop the Republican party. There will then be no more straddling of the issue and they will drop that part of their platform concerning prohibition like a hot cake.

"In this way only can we rebuke the betrayal of our case. We can put up and elect candidates to the senate, congress, and the state legislatures, and make it plain that the conventions bind only the candidates for president and vice president."

WICHITA FALLS SOCIETY AND CHURCH NEWS

MRS. L. N. CASON

Anderson-Wright Wedding Solemnized Sunday Morn

A beautiful simplicity marked the wedding of Miss Zoe Louise Wright and Darby Strange Anderson at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wright, 2000 Kemp boulevard, Sunday morning at 9 o'clock with Rev. Finis A. Crutchfield reading the impressive double ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and close friends.

Palms and tall baskets of pink gladioli against the venetian filet and brocaded rose satin that draped a large window as a background were exquisite notes and with silver baskets of blue and white daisies made a charming improvised altar where the service was read. Cut flowers in beautiful baskets throughout the home marked the chosen colors of the bride, blue, white and silver.

Mrs. George Thorburn, gowned in a pale blue crepe frock, sang "I Love You Truly" as prenuptial music, with Mrs. J. M. Wright, the bride's mother, accompanying and lovely in a gown of freedom blue and ecru lace. Each wore shoulder corsages of petals of pink gladioli.

The "Wedding March" from "Lohengrin" was the signal for the wedding party to advance and meet at the altar, Miss Elizabeth Wright, the sister of the bride and her only attendant, who was charming in a French blue frock trimmed with ecru lace. Her pretty gown, with its harmonizing accessories was emphasized by the sheaf of pink asters which she carried.

Lovely Bride

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage was radiantly beautiful in her traveling suit, a Madelon model of midnight blue crepe with harmonizing accessories and trimmings of white and crystal. A pretty bit of sentiment was the white linen handkerchief she carried which had been embroidered for her by her paternal grandmother when she was a child. Her bridal bouquet was a lovely shower of sweetheart rosebuds and lilies of the valley.

The bridegroom, attended by Otis G. Carnes of Nacogdoches, met the group at the altar and during the beautiful ceremony, Mrs. Wright created an exquisite background of music by playing softly Schumann's "Traumerei." The "Wedding March" from Mendelssohn was the recessional.

Pretty Reception

Immediately following the ceremony, an informal reception was held for the group of relatives and close friends attending. A huge three tiered wedding cake, frosted in white and decorated with white love birds and dainty blue flowers, with a miniature bride and groom crowning it, was cut by the bride and served with an ice course.

During the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson slipped away, going by automobile to several interesting Texas points as their wedding trip. They will be at home to their friends after 10 days at 1634 Ardath street.

Mrs. Anderson is a graduate of Wichita Falls High school and Junior college. Mr. Anderson, formerly of Coleman, is connected with the Wichita State Bank and Trust company. They are popular members of the younger social set of the city.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Sam P. Wright and small son, Malcolm, of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Foy Watson of Bowie; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ralston of Chillicothe and Otis G. Carnes of Nacogdoches.

Courtesies Given

Among the pretty courtesies tended the bride-elect, Mrs. Jack Ralston entertained at her home on Huff Saturday morning with a kitchen shower.

In the clever contests, a cooking utensil in the bride elect's chosen kitchen colors of green and ivory, was presented to Miss Marie Betty who in turn presented it to the honoree. Each guest hemmed a cup towel for the bride-elect, after which they showered her with lovely gifts in her kitchen colors.

A dainty plate in green and ivory was served to 15 guests.

Another charming affair complimenting Miss Wright was a surprise shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Haynes on Dayton, given by the young people of Floral Heights church. Little Miss Abernathy opened the evening's program with an appropriate reading dedicated to "Babe and Darby." Unique contests followed and prizes were presented to the honoree.

Mrs. Fred Schmann gave a unique skit, a conversation between the bride-elect and her fiance.

At the close of the skit, Lemuel Park, president of the organization, presented the couple for the group, a handsome wool blanket in orchid and green, and an electric percolator.

A delicious refreshment plate was served to about 50 guests.

Mrs. J. Will Gray sang a beautiful devotional solo, with Mrs. Luke McCrory accompanying.

In the business meeting, reports were given by the treasurer and various committee chairmen.

Mrs. A. H. Carrigan talked of the golden jubilee of the church which was organized in October, 1882. This jubilee will be held from Oct. 9 to Oct. 16 and programs for each day will celebrate the golden jubilee in theme.

Junior Shakespeare Club Will Be Organized

An objective already declared of organizing a children's "Little Theater," and the inspiring success of the 90 children who completed a course last season, is already creating great interest among children who look forward to joining the Junior Shakespeare Story Telling club which will be reorganized by Mrs. Ella Merle Mathis Bristol about the first of October.

The course will be at the same price of that last year, one commensurate with the charges of the times, and children will be divided into groups according to their age, each group having a lesson once a week with Mrs. Bristol. Children form 5 years to 15 years are eligible to membership.

A number of plays were given by the pupils of 1930-31, and their work was so excellent that plans to have them on programs are already being considered.

All children interested in the club this year, are requested to talk to Mrs. Bristol, phone 2263. The clever plays and entertainments of the past season have aroused special interest among children who delight in playing parts, and the Shakespearean theme is both educational and interesting.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON.—A long time ago Iowa Republicans discovered that, while Senator Smith Wildman Brookhart might be beaten in a political setto, it was quite another matter to keep him beaten.

SMITH W. BROOKHART

Which is food for thought at a time when the embattled farmers of the Iowa corn belt are exercised over depressed farm product prices.

Just before they began their picketing, Senator Brookhart had been beaten again in the Republican primaries by that precocious infant of Iowa politics, Henry Field. Not only that, Brookhart was beaten badly, close to 50,000 votes.

The rising generation, unfamiliar with details of the strenuous Brookhart political career, may have said: "Well, that's that. Brookhart is licked." But no old-timer in Iowa political affairs would have been so certain.

An Independent Possibility

And the Brookhart telegram to the Farmers' Holiday association, cheering for the movement, may prove to be the entering wedge of a Brookhart independent campaign for the senate which could cause a lot of confusion in November if it did nothing else.

It is well to recall that Brookhart, after his surprise capture of the senate seat vacated by William S. Kenyon back in 1922, knocked again on the senate door two years later with a full term election certificate in his pocket. It took two years to settle that row and there was regular Republican aid for the move that finally put Brookhart on the street in favor of Steck, Democrat. The anti-Brookhart forces in Iowa no doubt then said that Brookhart was through. But he was not.

Within another three months Brookhart had driven the veteran, Albert Cummins, out of his seat, scoring a primary victory over him of better than 70,000.

He completed that flank attack by an off-year defeat of his Democratic opponent by 125,000. That is the term he is now completing.

The Brookhart View

Brookhart himself describes the farmers' holiday movement in Iowa as evidence of revolt against regular Republican handling of the agricultural problem.

There is, of course, the possibility that Brookhart's intervention might serve to turn that seat over to the Democrats.

Why should Brookhart worry about that? In 1926 some 16 Republican old guard senators helped to oust him in favor of a Democrat.

Securities Skyrocket On German Market

BERLIN, Sept. 5. (INS)—The increase of security prices in the Berlin boerse continued unabated today, with issues gaining from two to seven points in heavy public buying.

One of the most conspicuous performers was I. G. Farben, the huge German dye trust, which shot up above par for the first time in years.

The gains were attributed to public confidence in Chancellor Franz von Papen's tax remittance reconstruction program.

American Negress Faces Deportation From Europe

PRAGUE, Sept. 5. (INS)—Ada Wright, mother of one of seven negroes condemned to die in the Scottsborpn, N. C., rape case, will be deported back to the United States.

The negress was arrested here today for circulating Communist propaganda in behalf of the condemned negroes.

She previously had been arrested in France and Belgium on similar charges.

A Million Goes Begging

IT'S HARD to believe in these days of economic stress that 91,000 depositors in closed banks in Toledo, Ohio, would fail to respond to repeated invitations of "Please come and get your money," but such is the case.

The story goes this way:

Officials of the state's banking department are straightening out the affairs of several defunct banks and calling on depositors to come and get certain percentages of their money that are now ready to be repaid. Lots of depositors have done so. But 91,000 depositors who have $1,249,000 to their credit on the books and for whom $279,000 is now ready for immediate distribution have—for some reason—not accepted the invitation.

That approximately 40,000 of these accounts are those of school children who deposited their pennies and dimes in school savings systems, explains something, but not everything. Why have the other 51,000 depositors not come forward to claim their money? Frankly, nobody knows.

Perhaps there are people who have deposited money in banks years ago and forgotten all about it. Perhaps there are others who have opened secret bank accounts without mentioning the same to relatives, and have died and have left deposits that have no claimants.

Certainly it is difficult to believe that any one would deliberately ignore an invitation from a defunct bank to come forward and recover his money, or a part of it.

Unless these deposits are claimed by the time liquidation of the banks is completed, the money will be placed in the state treasury. There, it will be held for a certain period of time and, if still unclaimed, it will be given to the state's general fund. The law provides this course.

In a nation that has seen 2,500 bank failures during the past few years many of them bringing disaster to unfortunate depositors, Toledo's experience is most certainly a rare one.

But one can't escape the conclusion that if the depositors—with the exception of the school children—are so careless and indifferent toward their money, then perhaps it's just as well that the state should have it where it can be used to help lighten the load on the already overburdened taxpayers.

Miss Didrikson's New Victory

BABE DIDRIKSON, the amazing 19-year-old Texas girl who is called "the world's most versatile woman athlete," has won again. She can now sign her name on the dotted line—and the signature will be valid.

It required a special court order for the young Olympic champion to win this new victory. There was no gallery and no cheering as there usually is when she is in action. Her father was there to say it was all right with him and her coach testified that Babe is thoroughly capable to transact business affairs.

At the Olympics, Miss Didrikson won first place in two events and equaled the winner's mark in a third. She wanted to compete in five events instead of three, but that wasn't allowed. Besides running, jumping and throwing the javelin she likes to swim, play golf, hurl the discus and take parts in other sports, usually winning against competitors. If there is a young woman in the country qualified for independence it would seem to be Miss Didrikson.

Still there were legal hurdles in the way. True to past performance, she took them, just as she takes wooden hurdles in a track meet. Now Babe's her own boss.

An Unsung Hero

GRAY CARROLL, a Tulsa, Okla., lawyer who died the other day, was one of the unsung heroes of the modern age.

Twenty-two years ago, Mr. Carroll, then a struggling lawyer, found himself in debt to the extent of $25,000. His assets consisted principally of a willingness to work, which few people seemed likely to use.

But there lies the story. Mr. Carroll worked and saved for nearly 20 years. On May 31, 1928, he gave a dinner for 125 of his friends.

"Every cent is paid. I am happy," he told them. He paid every penny to his creditors, with interest at 6 per cent. One $500 debt amounted to $1,500 at the time of his payment. He paid back $50,000 in all.

And if any man was ever entitled to happiness, Mr. Carroll was that man.

Some of us who are not quite so cheerful as we might be would do well to consider his case.

Homes And The Depression

FOR those who have contended that the American home is breaking up and will soon be a thing of the past, there is an excellent answer, backed by facts and figures, in the U. S. department of labor statistics on juvenile delinquencies.

Such delinquencies showed a decline in 1931 as compared with the three previous years, despite the depression and its admitted pressure on the average home.

Juvenile delinquencies naturally increase when environment is poor, but the figures show that the American home has managed to hang together fairly well, in spite of decreased incomes and the resultant mental strain in millions of families.

And if the American home can make such a record in times like these, it is going pretty far to say that the home will soon be a thing of the past.

She threw her scarlet shoes away,
And kissed the moon good-bye;
She pressed her fingers to her ears
When music floated by.
She trained her smile to be a frown,
Her eyes, to look afraid.
She combed the curls out of her hair
And wore it in a braid.

Thus in return she married well,
And has a husband whose
Sole sport it is to chase young things
Who dance in scarlet shoes.

Lancing the Berle

Willie Howard adds to the Richy Craig Jr. bombardment of Milton Berle, for the latter's alleged gag thefts, by relating the following incident.

The Howard freres had gone to a great expense to buy original material for their recent appearance at the Palace, and among the various pieces of business newly injected into their act was a bit called the "television number."

A few weeks after they had completed their Palace engagement Willie ran into Berle on Broadway and received a great back-slap.

"How are you, Willie, how are you?" cried Berle.

"Fine," replied the wary comedian.

"Well, tell me, Willie," the new Carroll star asked, "I can't understand why you cut that television gag out of your act, it goes great with me!"

Tag

To settle the feud between Berle and Craig, suggests Al Schwartz, let's remain neutral, and call Berle "The Thief of Bad Gag."

And Strong Men, Too!

A dialectician, up in the Catskills for the week-end, according to Lionel Toll, hired a horse and buggy large enough for three for an afternoon drive. He was gone several hours, and when he returned to the stable there were nine crowded people riding with him.

"That buggy is only large enough for three," thundered the protesting stable-owner. "What do you expect of one horse?"

"Oh it was no trouble hat all," the Joosh gentlemen soothingly replied, "Dunt you see, we all got whips!"

Keep Off the Grass, Too!

Sky Cudner, the "College Humor" exec., just returned from the coast and relates the story about a drinking party in one of the hotels on the outskirts of Hollywood.

The soiree started early in the afternoon and the embalming began at once. As the day wore on the singing and raucous yelling grew louder and louder. Finally one of the guests, a notorious two-gun man of the flickers, was dared to prove his shooting ability, wherewith he pulled two six-shooters from a holster and emptied them into the ceiling.

Three minutes later, the manager of the hotel knocked timidly on the door of the party suite.

"What's the matter," demanded the one-man firing squad.

"I just wanted to ask you to please stop the loud singing," said the manager.

No Pleasing Everybody!

"A middle-aged lady came into our office the other day," writes Charles Silvers, "and applied for the rental of one of our apartments. After three days of negotiation, we finally convinced her that she was getting a bargain what with the various concessions she had been granted.

"Breathlessly I handed her a pen and pointed to the dotted line. She started to write, then hesitated and asked 'Are there any roaches in the apartment?' I hastened to reply that one of the best exterminating companies in the city made regular calls and as a result roaches were unknown in our apartments.

"'Well,' she sighed, 'I'm sorry, but the deal is off. I have two pet salamanders and they must have roach-wings for their meals.'

That's nothing! I had a sadder experience once myself. I had almost sub-leased my apartment for the summer when the prospective tenant offered a last-minute objection to the fact that the apartment had windows. You see she had a bad case of measles.

Rights!

And if they take a month's pay away from the firemen, wires a Broadway smarty, I'd hate to be the one to ring in a false-alarm during those four weeks.

Repartecing

The feud between Phil Baker who works with a stooge in an upper box, and Al Boasberg, the "Ballyhoo" comedy director, continues. A few weeks ago when Baker was headlining at the Capitol, the first wire to be received back-tage came from his severest critic, Boasberg.

"I enjoyed your act tremendously," he western-unioned. "It made 4,000 people in the theater laugh and in times such as these you are indeed a great boon to the human race. Incidentally, I also enjoyed the elderly gentleman playing the accordion."

Our Theatre!

Boasberg is authority for the statement that things are getting so tough on Broadway that many producers have planned to save themselves a lot of transfer charges by opening in Cain's Warehouse.

Tales of Hoffman

The landlady of a 47th St. theatrical boarding-house was insisting that one of her muchly overdue tenants pay his bill.

"But you should be anxious to have me live here," retorted the shabby hamateur. "I am a great actor, and for years after I'm gone people will point to your house and say: 'There lived Andrew Blokes.'"

"Well, if you're not paid up by tonight," replied the bored proprietress, "they'll be pointing tomorrow."

Non-Political

Nudists say their cause is a lot like prohibition, avers Russ King. Maybe so, but in the nudist colonies the joints are all out in the open.

Not the 4th

Roxy and Martin Beck were taken on a tour of inspection by the ship's captain during their recent Atlantic crossing, according to Don Hancock of "Film Daily."

Finally they were escorted into a large compartment in which were stored several boxes of skyrockets.

"What are these rockets for?" Beck asked the captain.

"They're to send up in case the ship is ever in distress," replied the officer.

"Well," wail'd Martin, "that's a helluva time for a celebration."

A SWIMMING COACH WHO CANNOT SWIM—Robert Kiphuth, head coach for the United States Men's Olympic swimming team this year, coach in 1928 for the women's Olympic swimming team, and also swimming coach at Yale for many years, is himself unable to swim a single stroke. This paradox is the more unusual for the reason that as swimming coach he has turned out an incredible number of champions, and in one year's time has taken men who were unable to swim and coached them to intercollegiate championships. Kiphuth is a professional gymnast.

FLIGHTY

by Alma Sioux Scarberry

SYNOPSIS

Jim O'Malley and his pleasure-mad, hard-drinking family had lived in a house on his wealthy mother's Long Island estate until she dispossessed them in the hope that Jim and his son Jiggs would go to work. Gypsy O'Malley went to live with her grandmother. Jiggs was her half-brother. Her half-sister Angel was in the Follies. She took an apartment on Park avenue. Peg, Gypsy's stepmother, who had gone to Reno for a divorce, was found dead in bed the day after Pete De Whittley married a girl of his own age. Suicide was hinted. Before the family was broken up, Gypsy went job-hunting. Returning home one stormy evening, she heard an airplane circling in the darkness. She lighted a pail of gasoline as a flare and Brent Jamison, famous transatlantic flyer, landed safely. He taught her to fly, assisted by Ted Colman. She fell in love with Brent but he was captivated by Angel's baby-faced beauty and they became engaged. "Pinky" Delmar, owner of Jamison airport, entered Gypsy in the women's air races, and had a special racing plane built for her. Two days before that event Mrs. Delmar surprised "Pinky" in Angel's apartment and shot him in the arm. Because of the publicity, Gypsy wanted to withdraw from the races but Ted told her she couldn't. She was far in the lead when she saw the wreck of Brent's plane. He had started in the men's race. She landed and brought him back and when he recovered consciousness he asked her to marry him.

INSTALLMENT XXIX

Gypsy was still in a daze when she went to the airport the next morning. Brent Jamison had asked her to marry him. The impossible had happened.

She went directly to Delmar's office to see if he had heard from the hospital. When she saw "Pinky" she knew he was greatly agitated about something. He hesitated a moment before he told her what was worrying him.

"Miss O'Malley, there's some more bad news. Ted Colman took off last evening for a couple of hours and he isn't in yet. He was to meet me here at eight this morning to fly me to a conference in Philly—and something must have gone wrong. Ted doesn't do those things."

Gypsy gave a little cry and put her hands to her face. Delmar reached out to catch her. He thought she was going to faint.

"Oh—" she gasped and felt her throat tighten until she could scarcely answer him. "Oh—surely—he hasn't cracked up."

She sat down in a chair and looked at Delmar wildly.

"Do something! Has any one gone out—does any one know where he went?"

Delmar shook his head. "Not exactly. He said he was going up for some air. He flew toward Philly. Several of the boys are out looking for him. Don't you worry. We'll find him."

"You must." Gypsy looked up at him and her mouth trembled. "You must find him."

Delmar smiled down at her affectionately.

"He means a lot to you doesn't he, kiddie?"

Gypsy nodded and wet her dry lips.

"He's—he's the best friend—I've ever had."

"Don't you worry." Delmar put his hand on her shoulder. "Something tells me he's safe as a whistle. He probably came down some place like you and I did—where there's no telephone."

Gypsy brightened.

"Oh—I hope so. If you need me to go—I'd like to—look for him."

"You stay here." Delmar would not hear of it. "You've had enough excitement to last a lifetime in the last couple of days. By the way, I called the hospital and they tell me Brent Jamison will be around again in three or four weeks good as new."

"That's good," Gypsy said and smiled. Then he rmind went back to Ted. "I'll be over at the hangar. Let me know when Ted gets in, will you?"

"Sure," Delmar grinned and tried to look unworried. "I'll send him over the minute he lands."

The hangar was strangely deserted. Everybody was either out on a job or hunting for Ted. Gypsy climbed into her blue and silver plane and sat huddled in deepest dejection. She wanted to look for Ted worse than anything she had ever wanted to do. But she knew it was not advisable.

By the time afternoon came and there was no word from Ted, Gypsy felt she could not bear waiting any longer. Then she remembered she had promised Brent she would see him at the hospital. He would be waiting for her.

She left word that she had gone to see Brent and asked to be called at the hospital if news came from Ted. Gypsy had never felt so much as though she were dreaming as she did when she took the bus to see Brent. He had asked her to marry him—and she was going with her answer.

She walked up the long starway leading to the hospital slowly. She started when a door swung open and she saw Angel walking toward her. Angel's head was down and she was walking slowly.

Gypsy reached out and touched her before Angel saw her. Angel jumped as though she had just seen a ghost.

"Hello," Gypsy smiled as though nothing had ever happened. "You've been to see Brent, I suppose."

Angel's face was pale. Gypsy was astonished at the bitter little smile that curled her lips.

"Oh—yeah. I've been to see him. I suppose that's where you're going."

"I—I thought I'd drop in."

"So he told me." Angel stood, tall and haughtily, and looked down at Gypsy. "Among other things."

"I—I don't know what you mean," Gypsy said for lack of something better to say.

"Don't you?" Angel smiled again. "Then I've got a big surprise for you. I've just been turned down. Given the gate. Flattened out like a door mat. And by a man? Can you imagine that!"

She laughed loudly. Gypsy took her arm.

"Angel, you're hysterical. Sit down here on this bench and tell me what you're talking about."

Angel pulled away from her angrily but sat down.

"Not much, you don't know what I'm talking about," she raised her voice then. "You're on your way in there now to tell Brent you'll marry him. You sneaked around with your sweet little saintly ways—butter wouldn't melt in your mouth. Well, you got him! You little hypocrite!"

Gypsy reached over and took Angel by the shoulders. She had raised her voice so high that Gypsy shook her angrily.

"Shut up! And listen to me."

Angel was so surprised she sat Gypsy said quietly.

back sullenly.

"Brent Jamison was mad about you—and you know it. You lied and cheated and he found it out. I've never raised my hand to take him from you—and you know that, too. You could have been married to him long before this if you'd been on the level. I'll not have you talk that way to me. You go home and—try to be a lady—if you can. And don't come around saying catty things to me."

Angel's mouth opened in amazement. Then her chin began to tremble. Gypsy was all compunction at once. She reached out and put an arm around her.

"I didn't mean to be nasty, Angel. But you're so unfair sometimes."

For the first time since Angel was a little girl, Gypsy saw tears in her eyes. Angel reached for a tiny lace handkerchief and dabbed at her face.

"I—I'm all shot. Everything's gone wrong."

"I'm sorry," Gypsy said quietly and waited for Angel to go on.

"I—I've lost my job in the show—and everything."

"Oh," Gypsy looked at her incredulously. "I—can't believe it. What happened?"

Angel sniffed unhappily, then her lips curled again. She was so spoiled nothing seemed to make her unhappy for long.

"That cat of a Mrs. Delmar did it. She's got some money in the show and she told the manager she'd withdraw it all if he didn't kick me out."

"I see." Gypsy nodded "Well, you really can't blame her."

Angel ignored this.

"I—I just don't know what I'm going to do."

"Why don't you come to Gram's and live—and try to get into some other work?" Gypsy suggested. "You know you can always have a home with Gram."

Angel shrugged with distaste.

"I was just going over to ask her if she'd take me in."

Gypsy saw the light then. Angel had come to see Brent Jamison as a last resort. She would have married him for convenience. Gypsy sighed. Angel was Angel—and it looked as though nothing would ever change her. Not even sorrow—or disgrace.

Suddenly Angel pulled herself together and a little of her impudent self-assurance came back. She pulled her silk coat around her and smiled the self-satisfied little smile that always made Gypsy think of a cat enjoying a bowl of rich cream.

"Well, so long. Go in and give Brent your answer. And may all your children be air minded."

Gypsy shook her head, and she, too, smiled.

"I'm sorry to disappoint you. But, I'm not going to marry Brent Jamison. I have other plans, darling."

Both Homer and Aristotle refer to the subject, the latter discussing it at length and advancing the theory of hibernation to account for the sudden appearance and disappearance of certain birds."

But the study, now recognized as one of the most thorough scientific experiments ever made and recorded, was published in an obscure journal and lost to the world until Professor DeVries found and recognized its worth.

Q.—How many gold mines are there in the United States?—S. T.

A.—There are nearly 3,500 nonferrous mines at the present and of these 2,134 are principally gold producers.

Q.—Please give directions for making a fly spray?—J. H. McC.

A.—The following is a recipe for an insecticide which is a contact spray fly killer: One pound of half-open pyrethrum flowers and two gallons of kerosene. Soak the flowers in the kerosene 48 hours and drain off the liquid. To this or similar fly sprays may be added either oil of rhodium, oil of wintergreen, or oil of citronella for a pleasing odor.

ELECTION IN NEVADA TODAY

People to Select Nominees To Both Houses

RENO, Nev., Sept. 5. (AP)—Nominees for United States senator and congressman, for seven state senatorships and for 39 seats in the state assembly will be selected by the voters of Nevada tomorrow at a primary election.

There has been little interest in the campaign and a light vote is anticipated. The only major contest of consequence has been that between former Gov. James G. Scrugham and Maurice J. Sullivan, several times lieutenant governor, for the Democratic nomination for congress. Each has advocated repeal of the 18th amendment and payment of the soldiers' bonus. Scrugham has the backing of party leaders.

Senator Tasker L. Oddie is unopposed in his race for renomination on the Republican ticket, while the only candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination is P. A. McCarran, Reno attorney and former supreme court justice.

Sam S. Arentz, Nevada's congressman, has no opposition among the Republicans.

Accused Rector Of Stiffkey Fasts In Barrel As New Act

BLACKPOOL, England, Sept. 5. (INS)—The Rev. Harold Francis Davidson, former rector of Stiffkey church, Norfolk, whose trial on immorality charges before a consistory court attracted record crowds, went on exhibition again today—this time in a barrel.

Thousands of holiday makers at this popular resort flocked to see the ex-pastor, whose contract with a local impresario calls for him to fast for 10 days while sitting in the barrel.

If he carries out his contract, Rev. Davidson will be on exhibition every day from 10 a. m. until midnight. He plans to use his profits from the exhibition to further his appeal from his conviction, which deprived him of his pastorate.

Blackpool traffic was disorganized as thousands fought for a glimpse of the clergyman.

BYRON NELSON AND BOBBY BURNS TO MEET IN GOLF FINAL

NORTON LOSES TO FAVORITE

Roy Farrell Gives Burns Game Battle

Red-headed Morris Norton pulled his cap down over his eyes, stuck a cigaret in his jaw and gave Byron Nelson of Fort Worth the toughest opposition the visiting ace had received in the current annual Wichita Falls Golf and Country club tournament yesterday, but the Wichitan's plucky efforts could not produce a game that matched Nelson's and the latter won his semifinal match, 4 and 3. The match was played before a gallery of about 300 that thoroughly enjoyed watching Nelson wallop the white pill, and applauded Norton's stout-hearted fight against Fort Worth's River Crest Country club champion.

Meanwhile L. T. (Bobby) Burns won a closer match from the scrappy Roy Farrell of Vernon. The score was 1 up. The contest was a nip and tuck affair that ended on the 18th green to the plaudits of the Nelson-Norton gallery that hastened to catch up with Burns and Farrell after the Nelson affair had been completed on the 15th green.

Titular Final Today

Nelson and Burns will clash today in the 36-hole finals. The first 18 holes will be played starting at 9 o'clock. The second 18 holes is scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Semifinals in all other flights were played yesterday and the 18-hole finals in each will be played this morning. Exceptions are the fourth flight and the fourth flight consolation, in both of which the winners were determined yesterday.

Norton shot a splendid game against Nelson, going only two over par for the 15 holes, but the star Fort Worthian blasted out a medal score that was two under par, his collection including four birdies. Nelson advanced to the semifinals by winning his morning match with Budley Raines of Abilene, former West Texas champion, 7 and 6, while Norton entered the semifinals with a 3 and 2 victory over Jack Parr of Electra.

Farrell, in the lower bracket, earned the right to meet Burns by defeating Louis Becker of Dallas, 1 up, in the quarterfinals, while Burns defeated his old rival, Fred Couper Jr., 5 and 3, in his quarterfinal battle.

Nelson Unbeatable

Nelson played almost unbeatable golf to dispose of Norton. No matter how true and far Norton drove, no matter how well placed his approaches and putts, the Fort Worth star seemed to shade his opponent in every phase of the game. The match, however, was close and interesting. Nelson got off to an early lead by sinking a birdie three on the first hole while Norton dumped his ball in par figures and the battle became tense as they halved the next five holes in succession. On No. 7 Nelson parred with a four to go two up, Norton taking a five. They both shot birdies on the No. 8 par five hole, with beautiful, hefty drives, Nelson's going to the left and Norton's to the right of the green. Norton got in trouble on No. 9 and finished with a six while Nelson sank a par five to go three up at the turn, with a medal score of 35, two under par.

Norton Rallies

Norton rallied starting the last nine, and on the short No. 10 hole was on in one and two-putted for a par three as Nelson took a four to trim his margin to two up. Nelson came back with the same sort of treatment on No. 11, getting on the green in one, but Norton, with a great approach shot, was able to halve the hole, both getting par threes. Nelson took a birdie three on No. 12 while Norton fell victim to one of those things that just seem to happen in golf. He was near the edge of the green, lined up to putt. He tapped it, a beauty, and it rolled right to the lip of the cup, but it had been hit a little too hard and instead of sinking, it sailed right over. Norton holed out with a five, and Nelson again was three up.

Drive Goes Out

Nelson lost No. 13 when his drive went out of bounds to the left of the deceptive fairway, which appears to arch to the green. His second drive was good, but his approach landed in a trap and he took a five to Norton's par four. He made up the difference, however, with a par four on No. 14, while Norton took a five. Nelson then proceeded to put the match in the bag with a birdie four on the long, treacherous No. 15 hole, which is lined with creeks. A great drive and a hefty brassie shot got him within easy range, and a perfect pitch put him about four feet away from the cup. He sank the putt easily. Meanwhile Norton's drive was about as good as Nelson's but his brassie shot was short. He pitched to the edge of the green with his third, took two to sink, and the match was over.

Farrell Scares Bobby

Farrell, youthful city champion of Vernon, threw a mighty scare into the veteran Bobby Burns in the other semifinal match. Burns was never, during the entire match, able to obtain more than a one-up advantage over the Vernon lad. Farrell, on the other hand, at one time was two up on Burns. This was at the very start, when, after they had halved the first with par fours, Farrell took the next two holes in par figures while Bobby floundered with a six and a five. However, after halving No. 4 with par threes, Burns got next to par on Nos. 5 and 6 to win those holes and square the match. They halved Nos. 7 and 8 within par figures, but Farrell went one over par on No. 9 to lose the hole and Bobby made the turn one up. For the next six holes it was largely a case of you win one and I'll win one, with Bobby, however, managing to retain the lead. They halved the last three holes of the match. They shot identical medal scores for the 18 holes, each getting an 82.

Their cards:

Bonner in the first flight, Ralph Pond will meet E. W. Marriott in the finals of the second flight and T. J. Waggoner Jr., will face Ed Bristol in the third flight final. R. M. Williams Jr., of Graham won the fourth flight final yesterday, defeating J. D. Bright of Electra, 5 and 4, after beating Doc Ratliff in the semifinal, 7 and 5. Bright had won his semifinal match from D. G. Gray, 3 and 2.

In the consolation finals today, Jack Tinnin, Paris, will meet J. H. S. Bonner in the championship flight, T. P. Duncan will meet John Marriott in the second flight, and L. A. Reid will face M. T. Evans in the third flight. The fourth flight consolation was settled yesterday when J. S. Creager of Electra defeated J. R. Nevius in the final, 3 and 2. Creager had won from G. L. Cubs' Lead Trimmed As Lowly Reds Get Even Break In Double-Header

CINCINNATI, Sept. 5. (AP)—Chicago's Cubs had their lead in the National league trimmed today by the down and almost out Cincinnati Reds, by splitting a double-header, losing the second 6-5 after winning the first, 9-2.

The first game was slaughter for the hapless home team, but the second was a worthy battle as Johnson took it on the chin in the early innings but held on to have his teammates rally and snatch victory. Scores:

Sprinting, Punting, Passing And Blocking Stressed In Coyote Drill

After an idle Sunday of rest, the Wichita Falls High school Coyotes took things easy Monday afternoon in their practice session on their field back of the Junior college building. With Coach Jefferies out of town Monday, the squad was in the hands of A. D. Beck, Charley Lindsey and Bill Morris who only skimmed lightly over the fundamentals and some conditioning drills. Sprinting, punting, passing and blocking were stressed in the Monday afternoon drill.

The Red and Black warriors stand out as one of the brightest hopes of any Coyote team in the past and much is being expected from them this season. The team has plenty of husky looking material with the driving punch behind them, and Monday they showed up with some great passing work as well as turning out several bright prospects for the punting duties of the year.

With the opening of school next Monday the coaching staff hopes to see the team in very near playing shape and ready to get into harness and put out some hard work. If the team holds up under these plans it will be far in advance of anything along this line that the Coyotes have ever had.

After a light session of "grass drills" and sprints, the squad was split into two sections with Lindsey taking the backfield men while Morris and Beck divided their efforts with the line candidates. While the backfield went through a session of passing, the linesmen were tutored in blocking. Punting and punt receiving followed this with the entire squad working together, then after more sprints the Coyotes called it a day and closed the evening's work.

Dimmock Looms as Star

The most widely discussed man at the Monday practice was George Dimmock, a husky blond from last year "B" squad. Dimmock looms as a great threat in the backfield both in a running and passing way. He also looms as a possible contender for the important post of safety man. While others took care of the punting, Dimmock showed great form in receiving them and gets a quick start back up the field.

Along this same line of work there were several men showing just as well. J. Z. Powell, the little quarterback, looks like a very much improved man at the post. Cleo Creecy was another one of the group who last year played with the Coyotes and who Monday was getting down into harness. Burns McKinney, one of the outstanding stars of last year, looms as another outstanding man for this post. The fans who know the sensational broken field running of McKinney seem to favor him for this post. A new man who worked Monday at this and made a very impressive showing with his speed is Cleve Pearson, a youngster who is new to the fans.

Dub Hawthorne, a youngster who did some of the punting last year, looks great in this department. Jimmy Hill and Leroy McBride are two other strapping youngsters who showed they had plenty of dynamite in their toes.

Outstanding Passers

During the passing session which the backfield men went through the outstanding passers of the day were Dimmock, Cleo Creecy and McKinney. There were several of the 1932 prospects who came up with some great pass-snatching during this drill.

Coach Jefferies is expected back today or tomorrow and with his return will come the real grind down to the finish when the boys who have loomed this far as outstanding prospects for regular places on the Coyote grid machine will get their chances to prove their flashes to date were real and not temporary. Drills will continue to start daily at 3 o'clock.

HALL VICTOR IN NET MEET

Racqueteer Defeats Edwin Bebb in Final

Clifford Hall, through whose initiative and labor this city's first handicap men's singles tennis tournament was produced during the past three days, won first honors in that event before a large gallery Monday afternoon when he overpowered Edwin A. Bebb, veteran local star, by scores of 6-3, 7-5, 3-6 and 6-0.

Hall, classified by a ranking committee in group No. 2, won a place in the finals by disposing of Tom McCarty, West Texas champion for the past two years, in straight sets Monday morning. Both McCarty and Bebb were of No. 1 classification, and each ceded Hall one point per game. The winner was awarded an 8-inch silver loving cup, and the runnerup a smaller similar trophy, both given by the Bailey-Moline Hardware company of this city.

Loses Only Two Sets

Flashing consistency and relentless driving power which surprised all the local tennis wiseacres, Hall fought his way through 14 sets against five opponents with the loss of but two sets. Given a No. 2 classification on the basis of past experience and past performances, he pounded his way through three days of stiff competition by employing one lone plan—sheer driving power which played the ball ceaselessly from left to right along his opponent's base line.

This plan of battle, aided only slightly by the one-point handicap resulting from classifications, overcame the resourceful and varied court technique which for many years has made Bebb an outstanding player in this section. Early in the match, Hall several times evaded Bebb's imposing rush to the net by driving accurately down the sidelines for safeties. After the second set was under way, however, the ultimate victor began meeting his opponent's net approach with flat drives down the middle. For the most part, they squirted into the net or beyond the sidelines by virtue of their terrific speed.

Bebb Accurate

Bebb revealed uncanny accuracy in scoring placements from the net. Ability to utilize this ace shot after jockeying his opponent out of position gave him a 5-2 lead in the second set, but after a prolonged battle at deuce, Hall rammed home a scorching drive and followed with two games to deuce the set at 5-5.

While Hall's cannon-ball service was in excellent condition throughout the entire match, his four set-victory was attributable directly to a relentless barrage of powerful drives. Bebb had the misfortune to smash the strings of his racquet during the fourth set, and suffered noticeably in control during the remainder of the match using a substitute racquet.

Both the finalists endured heavy engagements in the semifinals Monday morning. Apparently more heavily handicapped mentally than arithmetically by giving Hall one-point per game, McCarty played decidedly below his best form in dropping a three-set match. Frequent double faults and overhead smashes which went astray were costly. Hall's persistent fusillade of power-strokes to the base-line kept his more experienced opponent away from the net, and largely nullified McCarty's genius for safety placements. Hall's scores were 6-1, 6-3, 6-4.

Hanks Loses Out

Bebb had to go four long sets to eliminate H. R. Hanks Jr. of class 2 in the other semifinal tilt. The left-hander smashed his way to a 6-3 win in the first set, but succumbed during the ensuing three sets to Bebb's immaculate volleying at the net. The scores were 3-6, 6-3, 6-3, and 8-6.

The handicap tournament started Saturday morning with 32 entries. First round matches were completed Saturday, leaving 16 entries in the second round contests which were completed Sunday morning. Quarterfinals competition occupied all of Sunday afternoon, leaving Hall, Bebb, Hanks and McCarty to fight it out Monday in the semifinal and final engagements. Throughout the tournament, a large gallery of tennis enthusiasts crowded the west stands. Umpires for the contests Monday were Charles Cook and Ted Norwood.

Crowd of 70,772 Sees Yanks Bump A's In Both Games Of Twin Bill

NEW YORK, Sept. 5. (AP)—The New York Yankees, bidding farewell to their home grounds, whipped the Philadelphia Athletics twice today before a crowd of 70,772, the largest of the season. The scores were 8-6 and 6-3.

Manager Joe McCarthy turned his two pitching aces loose on the American league champions and as the result the Yanks hold a 12½-game lead over the A's and need only six more victories to clinch a place in the world series.

In the opener Vernon Gomez turned back the Athletics for the seventh time in eight starts and at the same time chalked up his 23rd victory of the season. Johnny Allen accounted for his 10th straight and his 16th in 18 games in the nightcap, holding the A's to nine well-scattered hits.

Babe Ruth connected with his 40th homer in the curtain raiser. Scores:

Remember This! School Opens September 12th

ONE reason for increased rental activity at THIS time is the fact that the opening of school is only a FEW DAYS away. Families with children who are dissatisfied with THEIR present homes, or the NEW families with children who are moving to THIS city for the FALL and WINTER school term are moving NOW in order to be settled before school opens.

Vacancies near schools ought to be snapped up like hot cakes within the next few days. If YOU have a vacancy that is desirable and near a school—if YOU welcome children—YOU should, by ALL MEANS, tell these families about it . . . with a "FOR RENT" ad in the Daily Times-Record News and the Sunday edition of the Daily Times, which has the COMBINED circulation of BOTH papers.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PLACE A FOR RENT AD!

If YOU have been waiting "for things to pick up"; if YOU have been waiting for "better times," they're here NOW. Don't lose another month's rent—or even a week's by waiting. Place a "FOR RENT" ad in the Daily Times-Record News NOW where MOST EVERY ONE looks when hunting a NEW home.

HUMBERTO TO FIGHT GOVRO

Mexican Grappler Wants to Settle 'Grudge'

The advertised grudge battle between Promotor Whitey Govro and Don "Ropo" Humberto, the Mexican wrestler, has been officially announced as the main event for this week's wrestling card Friday night. The grudge grew out of the battles between Humberto and Montgomery and reached a climax in a letter received from Humberto saying that the only way he would return to Wichita Falls was to meet Promotor Govro himself.

Pat O'Brien of Waco and Kid Murdock, popular East Texan, will meet on the 45-minute semifinal this week. O'Brien wrestled the main event last week with Billy Edwards and has a large following. Murdock is also a very popular figure in Wichita Falls.

Flash Disheroon, the local jujitsu artist, will take on Otis Hedrick, a newcomer in Wichita Falls, for the preliminary match of the card.

Rufus King In Junior Tourney

Rufus King, 16-year-old athletic prodigy, left Monday for San Antonio where he will compete in the Texas Junior Golf tournament beginning tday.

Rufus, the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. King, won national acclaim two years ago when he bagged the Grand American Handicap in the national trapshoot held at Vandalia, Ohio. Since then he has devoted much time to golf and his game has improved splendidly. He entered the current tournament at the Wichita Falls Golf and Country club Saturday, defeated Carl Harrison of Memphis in his first round match, one up in 19 holes, and then put up a game fight against Byron Nelson before losing in the second round.

Some of the state's finest youthful golfers are expected to compete in the San Antonio tournament.

Dennis Is Named School Grid Head

DALLAS, Sept. 5. (AP)—Coach Tom Dennis of Port Arthur was elected president of the Texas High School Football association at the annual meeting here today. He succeeded Johnny Pierce of Corsicana. Pete Shotwell of Breckenridge was made vice president. Benny Strickland of Austin was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The coaches decided to follow the 1932 rules as interpreted by Southwest conference coaches and officials meeting here today. A committee was appointed to plan a coaching clinic to be held next summer. Resolutions were passed urging that high school practice be delayed until the first Monday in September annually and that the association withhold judgment on the new interscholastic rules on eligibility until a fair trial was allowed.

Cochet Wins Easily Over Texas Netter

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 5. (UB)—Playing effortless tennis, Henri Cochet, French champion, won his first match today in the national championship tournament at Forest Hills stadium. A crowd of 7,000 saw him defeat Jake Hess, Fort Worth, Texas, collegian in three sets: 8-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Although Hess put forth opposition worthy of a championship tourney, Cochet's mixture of shots from the base line and midcourt were undenjable. His performance recalled the best tennis in his march to the national title on the same turf in 1928.

For the main part Coobet was content with testing his strokes from back-court. When Hess' deep drives applied pressure to him in the opening set, Cochet let the points pass. At some stages he was actually outsteadied, but he did not bother to employ his severest stroking until the second and third sets. The match then became one-sided. He won three games at love in the second set and two in the third, in each case lending sparkle to his game with volleying that recalled his palmiest days.

Player Sold to Chisox Prefers to Go Fishing

DALLAS, Sept. 5. (AP)—Business Manager J. Walter Norris of the Tyler Sports of the Texas league announced here today that Outfielder Vernon Washington had been suspended for the remainder of the season.

Morris said Washington went fishing instead of reporting to the Chicago White Sox after he was sold to that club. The White Sox called off the deal.

Tommy Cochran Wins East Texas Golf Title

TYLER, Texas, Sept. 5. (AP)—Tommy Cochran, former state champion, won in the finals of the East Texas Golf association tournament today. He defeated Charlie Campbell, 2 and 1. Rain fell throughout the match, at the Willowbrook Country club.

Demos to Investigate G. O. P. Campaign 'Gift'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (INS)—The Democratic national committee today gleefully took a hand in the controversy between Thomas A. Johnson of Boston, who says he advanced the Republican national committee $25,000, and the G. O. P. campaign organization, which insists the money was a gift.

Senator Swanson of Virginia, chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, has written a letter to Senator Howell, Republican of Nebraska, chairman of the senate committee to investigate campaign contributions, urging that the Johnson matter is "a proper subject for your committee to investigate."

Time Lock Conceals Value Of Loot In Burglary Of Vaults By Skilled Yeggs

CHICAGO, Sept. 5. (UP)—A time lock ticking toward the opening hour tomorrow concealed today the value of loot obtained by burglars, who burrowed through steel, concrete, brick and wood into the Koch & Co.'s safe deposit vault on the near south side.

The gang, which brought its oxyacetylene torch and other equipment in a truck held 10 persons, members of two families, imprisoned for 14 hours in flats above the real estate firm's offices.

The looters' efficiency and their banniness in discarding jewelry and other valuables that might have been identified convinced detectives they would have to seek skilled professionals. Their investigation was along these lines. Rogue's gallary portraits of notorious criminals were displayed to the victims.

The suspense of waiting for the time lock to operate added to the anxiety of scores of persons, renters of boxes, around Koch & Co.'s entrance today. Most of the box holders were small merchants and wage earners.

Franklin Koch, an officer of the company, declared most of the box holders lost only small amounts—$50 or $60—and scoffed at reports of $1,000,000 loss. He said the total would not exceed $100,000. He indicated his father, Frank J. Koch, president of the company, may have been the heaviest loser, though he doubted police reports that the elder Koch had $30,000 in the vault.

Gar Wood Retains Speed Boat Title

DETROIT, Sept. 5. (AP)—The seventh attempt of a foreign challenger to lift the harmsworth trophy failed today—as have all others in the last decade—in the disabling of the challenging craft, Miss England III, piloted by Kaye Don.

For Gar Wood, veteran defender of the historic bronze plaque, today's heat, like the first on Saturday, was merely a workout in his Miss America X. After mechanical difficulties had brought Don to a stop before he could finish 13 miles of the 35-mile course, Wood coasted along to an uncontested victory.

Before Wood had finished his fourth lap of the seven-mile semi-ellipse, Don accepted a tow to his Boatwell and was automatically eliminated from further competition this year.

Wood's big mahogony-hulled Miss America X generally credited with a potential speed of around 126 miles an hour, never was opened up, except possibly for a mile at the start. Its average for the 35 nautical miles was only 69.086 statute miles per hour, slower than any Harmsworth race has been run since 1928.

Don, plainly disappointed at the failure of his craft, showed himself a good loser. He congratulated Wood and said: "I am deeply disappointed since I feel that I have disappointed many thousands by not making a good contest in today's heat." He said he planned to depart for Toronto Wednesday, but added that he was not sure he would be able to put on a scheduled demonstration run of his boat Thursday.

Murray And Wentz Go To Court Today

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 5. (AP)—Legal champions of two Oklahoma political titans, Gov. William H. Murray and Lew Wentz, millionaire oil man, ousted minority member of the state highway commission, clash in a supreme court battle tomorrow, with a possibility the fiery governor himself will take part.

Attorneys already have asked and received twice the usual time allowed oral arguments—two hours instead of one.

Wentz, whose contention Murray's order removing him and naming Miss Maude O. Thomas of Beaver to the commission was invalid, was upheld in Oklahoma county district court, is appealing for reinstatement, which the district court declined to order.

Unemployed in Madrid Stage Demonstration

MADRID, Sept. 5. (INS)—A number of persons were arrested here today in what police charged was one of the largest demonstrations of unemployed to have occurred in Madrid in recent years.

The troubles started when wreckers began to demolish former King Alfonso's stables here this morning and a crowd of unemployed gathered at the scene, demanding work.

The mob also stood in front of the city's leading hotel, demanding that they be given food.

It's hard to tell which is the flower in this picture, as both are so beautiful, but, anyway, here's Gloria Stuart wearing a pink dahlia named in her honor which will be entered in the Los Angeles dahlia show. Now which do you choose?

DENTIST HELD IN SHOOTING

Oil Worker Critical After Rooming House Affray

HOUSTON, Sept. 5. (AP)—Dr. Sam G. Cruse, 39, dentist and member of a prominent East Texas family, signed a statement today that he shot and wounded Wallace E. Sharp at a rooming house here yesterday but said he fired only after Sharp had threatened to shoot him.

Dr. Cruse was arrested this morning by deputy sheriffs at Cleveland, Texas, where authorities said he lived. He was held under a charge of assault to murder. The condition of Sharp, an oil field worker of Groesbeck, was serious.

Sharp first told detectives he was walking along the street when he was shot and knew not whence the bullet came. Last night, however, he laid the shooting to Dr. Cruse. In an oral statement the oil field worker said he was shot because he "spoke sharply" to Dr. Cruse about what Sharp described as the dentist's rough treatment of a young woman at the rooming house.

Crew Mutinies When Destination Changed

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 5. (INS)—Mutiny broke out today among members of the crew of the steamer Rotterdam, of the Holland-America line, owing to the company's decision to send the ship to New York from Southampton, after disembarking passengers at Boulogne, without touching at Rotterdam.

Thirty Dutch marines boarded the vessel this morning following receipt of a wireless message from the captain saying the crew had refused to work as long as orders remained to proceed toward Southampton. The ship was anchored overnight off the Belgian lightship Westhinder.

Later, however, directors of the company instructed the captain to put in at Rotterdam harbor.

Kiowa county officers said the truck, which was owned by a produce company of Buffalo, Okla., was not lighted. A man giving his name as L. H. Harper, said by police to be the driver of the truck, was being held, pending a coroner's inquest.

Woman and Children Believed Murdered Before Home Burned

KINGFISHER, Okla., Sept. 5. (UP)—Kingfisher authorities today continued their investigation of evidence indicating that Mrs. Myrtle Wheeler, young farm wife, and her two children had been slain before being burned in their one-room home.

Mrs. Wheeler, Louis, 18 months old, and Naomi, 3, were found in the charred ruins of their home near Roxana Friday night. County Health Officer A. O. Meredith reported to Sheriff Ed Martin that Mrs. Wheeler apparently "had been stunned or killed by a blow on the head before being burned."

A coroner's verdict was that death resulted in a fire of unknown origin.

Wheeler was visiting relatives at the time of the fire.

Negro Bandits Take $2.50 in Hijacking

Two negro bandits took $2.50 in a holdup of a Hamp's Taxi service driver at 4:30 o'clock Monday morning at the intersection of the Henrietta road and Virginia. Miles Moore, the victim, was unable to furnish officers with a description.

Police received a rush call to a downtown rooming house at 5 o'clock Monday morning where a man was reported to have taken carbolic acid. Investigation revealed that the man had taken three drops of the poison in a glass of water and that he was apparently in good health. The man told Officers Tom Poe and C. S. Carlisle he was enlisted at Fort Sill, Okla.

Robbery Suspect Held By Longview Officers

Louis Montgomery, indicted here several months ago on a charge of robbery, is to be returned Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff H. L. White from Longview, Texas, where he has been arrested by Charles Gant, formerly a deputy sheriff in this county and now an officer in Gregg county.

Mongomery was indicted for robbery in connection with the hijacking of a state hospital employe on the Seymour road several months ago. The victim was relieved of his money and automobile, besides being left stranded with a companion several miles from this city.

QUIET HOLIDAY PREVAILS HERE

One Tragedy Mars Day Of Pleasure

Thousands of Wichitans joined the nation in observing Labor day Monday seeking a variety of entertainment in the city and at resorts throughout the Wichita area. An atmosphere of quiet reigned in the business district with members of the retail merchants division of the chamber of commerce closed for the occasion.

U. S. flags were displayed on the sidewalks in downtown areas. Weather conditions were favorable for the holiday except for two short thundershowers early in the afternoon that disrupted picnic parties. The temperature reached a maximum of 85 degrees while a southeast breeze attained a velocity of eight miles per hour. Precipitation totaled .16 of an inch after the showers.

Tragedy marred the holiday when two small children were drowned while playing in an irrigation ditch near their home.

Many Wichitans took advantage of the double holiday for motor and train excursions out of the city. The score of local labor organizations did not sponsor any program in observing the holiday. City and county government offices also closed for the day.

The Labor day celebration was climaxed with a large crowd of entertainment seekers at Lakeside park for a fireworks show, juvenile bathing revue in addition to the regular vaudeville and consession programs. A Labor day dance at the Kemp hotel drew scores of pleasure seekers Monday night. The party was sponsored by the 40 and 8 society of the American Legion. Wichita Falls' swimming pools drew large crowds during the day and evening.

Wichitans Forced Down In Flight to Oklahoma

John Boswell, R. E. Shepherd and John Gould, who set out by airplane Monday noon for Pawnee, Okla., presently found themselves in a pasture 10 miles west of Duncan, Okla. A forced landing, due to engine trouble, was safely and comfortably negotiated by the pilot, Fulcher Armstrong, without damage to the plane or its passengers.

The Wichitans were given a ride to Lawton by an accommodating farmer, and Joe Reed of the Reed Airlines brought them home. They plan to resume their interrupted trip later in the week.

The journey to Pawnee was planned to determine if some of the Pawnee Bill equipment and attractions are available for the jubilee celebration here. The Wichitans had planned to spend an hour or two at Pawnee and return Monday night.

German Doctor And Girl Find Utopia On Isolated Island In South Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5. (UP)—A party of San Francisco scientists have found a happily mated couple who have not yet heard of the depression—and probably never will.

Two years ago Dr. Frederick Ritter, Berlin physician, and Hilde Koerein Frauch, a free-thinking German girl, tossed aside conventions and their clothes and went to live on St. Charles island, an isolated South Pacific island.

There they have found freedom and happiness amid luxuriant tropical growth, with no worries over taxes, rent, gossipy neighbors or food bills, according to members of the Tempelton Crocker scientific expedition.

The expedition visited the couple before returning here from a six-month study of marine life in the South seas.

"They catch fish, gather fruit and vegetables and feel certain of living to be 100 years old," said Capt. Garland Rotch of the Crocker expedition. "They are perfectly happy and never hear a word of the troubles of the rest of the world."

GAS HEARING SLATED TODAY

Texas Rail Board Attempts Rate Cut in Towns

AUSTIN, Sept. 5. (AP)—The Texas Railroad commission was prepared today to start a hearing on application of the Community Natural Gas company to make effective new rates in unincorporated towns of 500 population or less.

Latern Stanberry, director of the gas utilities division of the commission, said the case probably would be taken up tomorrow. About 90 towns are affected by the hearing.

The commission obtained a temporary injunction restraining the company from making the rates effective when it first attempted to promulgate the new charges. The commission contended the company could not make the new rates effective before the commission had passed on its application. Later, the injunction was dissolved on motion of the company and the application set for hearing.

The company claimed the proposed new schedule of rates was "better and fairer" both to consumers and the company than the old charges.

KANSAS TOWN TO CUT LIGHT AND POWER RATES

OTTAWA, Kan., Sept. 5. (UP)—A reduction of from 20 to 40 per cent in light and power rates charged by the Ottawa municipal plant, effective sometime this month, was announced today by H. W. Johnson, commissioner of utilities.

Johnson estimated the reductions would cut profits of the plant about $25,000 annually on the basis of present consumption, but said other cuts had always resulted in increased consumption which nullified the reductions.

As usual, $60,000 will be transferred to other municipal funds, reducing taxes by this amount.

MINOR BLAZE

A unit of the fire department extinguished a minor blaze at the home of Lee Terry, 2309 Roberts at 3:30 o'clock Monday morning without damage.

Literary Digest Mails Ballots To Wichita Voters

The largest presidential poll ever conducted, comprising over 20,000,000 individual ballots mailed throughout the entire United States, is now being undertaken by the Literary Digest.

Wichita Falls' first allotment of ballots in this pre-election referendum has been mailed already from the poll headquarters in New York, according to advice received here Monday, and should be distributed by the local postoffice within a few days.

The ballots are being mailed throughout the entire United States at the rate of more than 1,500,000 every working day and it is anticipated that the first tabulated returns of this country-wide balloting will be published before the end of this month.

This is the third largest presidential poll conducted by the Literary Digest and the results of each have been substantiated by the official election returns with over 95 per cent accuracy, according to statistics released on the prior polls.

CUSTER'S LAST STAND
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the great painter of the American Indian, N. C. Wyeth...inspired by the massacre of Custer's dauntless band at Little Big Horn, Montana, by the savage Sioux Indians, June 25, 1876.

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes
They are not present in Luckies ...the mildest cigarette you ever smoked
WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.
"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies
"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
