YOUNG COUPLE FOUND MURDERED

LUBBOCK OFFICERS RAID GAMBLING HOUSE

Two Gun Man Of Oklahoma Passes Away

CK GARRETT, FAMED SHERIFF, DIES

(By Associated Press)
DALLAS, May 5.—The passing of Buck Garrett of Ardmore recalled a vivid picture of the gigantic, old-time southwestern peace officer to a Dallas newspaper man who came into intimate contact with him nine years ago after Clara Smith Hamon had shot and killed Jake Hamon, republican national committeeman and one of Oklahoma's outstanding political figures.

It was Garrett who brought the young woman back from Mexico after she had been kidnaped to Chihuahua City by Alvin Blair then a Chicago newspaper reporter.

Upon meeting Garrett, he extended his left hand for a greeting. His right was "stove up." It was indicated the fearless gunfighter had disarmed a dangerous antagonist by fetching him a wallop on the jaw quicker than by adding a notch to his pistol handle.

Had 98 Pairs of Guns.

Sheriff Buck was reputed to be the possessor of ninety-eight pairs of pistols. The Dallas reporter actually saw two deep dresser drawers full of them. Pistols of all calibres and conditions—tiny .25's to cumbersome .45; pearl handled, wooden handled, horn handled, blue and silver plated and some engraved and ornamented gift guns. Always they were in pairs.

"How fast are you, sheriff, on the draw?" Buck was asked one night by a reporter who was one of several enjoying the sheriff's hospitality during the state-wide search for Clara Hamon.

"About this fast," the big man snapped, and in a tenth of a second his gun was out in an extended right hand.

"Ah, but that's the right; what about the left?" gibed the wise newspaperman.

"Well' how's this?" responded Buck and in the same instant, almost as the eye could follow, had whipped out the left hand gun.

"Sheriff can you ride along the road and pop telephone insulators with bullets?" he was asked.

"Naw, but I sure can give

OIL OKEH FOR LARGER HOTEL

FOUNDATION IS GOOD FOR 16 STORIES, GIMARC SAYS

Soil on the site of the new Hilton Hotel, corner of Main and Texas Avenue has sufficient strength to support a sixteen story building on the same foundation as planned for the fourteen-story structure, J. Gimarc, superintendent for the job, announced today following a soil test.

No word has been heard from officials of the hotel company whether the building will be fourteen or sixteen stories. A permit for $400,000 was taken out last week for the hotel to be fourteen stories.

The soil test revealed that one square foot of the soil will support 4000 of weight.

Excavation for the basement and foundation of the new building will be completed in about sixteen days, Gimarc said today.

RICHARD DIEBEL BURIAL IS TODAY

Funeral services were held at the family residence, 1812 19th street at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Richard Diebel, three-year-year son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Diebel, who accidentally shot himself with a small pistol more than a week ago. The child made a valiant week's fight for life while relatives held the hope for his recovery.

Besides the parents, survivors include the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Diebel and Mr. and Mrs. L. Feazell; one sister, Novia Lucile Diebel, two! three aunts, Mrs. Charles Wiggins of Cristoval, Mrs. W. L. Randolf and Mrs. Greer of Lubbock, and an uncle, Virgil Feazell of Lubbock.

SEVEN TAKEN BY POLICE IN SUNDAY DASH

SIX PAY FINES FOR GAMING; OWNER TO FACE CHARGES

Exposure of an organized gambling rouse, located in a local residence, was promised by police today following the arrest of seven persons by city officers last night.

Six of the ones arrested were released under $20 cash bond and this morning pleaded guilty to gaming charges and paid fines in city corporation court.

Charges of permitting gambling in his residence will be filed against the owner of the alleged gambling "joint," Jess C. Leverts, assistant city attorney, said this morning.

Considerable gambling paraphernalia was confiscated by the police, including cards, dice and specially covered tables.

City Officers C. E. Luce, George Eubanks, and H. B. Brown gained entrance to the house on a search warrant, after reports had been made to police headquarters by neighboring women.

Kills 3 Children Then Murders Wife

PHILADELPHIA, May 6 (AP).—Peter Thomas, 45, today shot and killed his three children in their home and then went to a hospital where his wife was a patient and shot her to death. He then tried to kill himself. He is in a critical condition.

The children killed were Catherine, 12; Jacob, 10, and Helen, 6.

The hospital where Thomas killed his wife, Margaret is eight blocks from his home. Carrying the pistol with which he killed the children in his pocket, he went to a fourth floor room of the institution where he found his wife.

Thomas fired two bullets into his own head.

Children Under Sixteen Barred At Murder Trial Of Dawson Pastor

SELF DEFENSE AND THE UNWRITTEN LAW TO BE PLEA

(By Associated Press)
LAMESA, May 6.—Children under 16 years of age were excluded from district court here today as the Rev. W. E. Duke, Missionary Baptist Circuit pastor, went to trial charged with murdering J. A. Cox, filling station operator, in the Klondyke community near here Feb. 6.

Examination of veniremen indicated that self-defense and the unwritten law will be the defense plea. Two jurors, both Baptists and one a member of Duke's congregation, were accepted just before noon. Examination of other veniremen was expected to continue through most of the afternoon.

Duke, once pastor of a Lamesa church, was operating a grocery store near the Cox filling station at the time of the shooting. He also was serving a number of rural churches in the county. Cox was shot to death in front of the store and the pastor surrendered, waived examining trial, declined to make a statement.

The minister and Mrs. Duke are said to have been the only witnesses to the shooting.

MEXIA MAN IS HELD CAPTIVE AFTER HOLDUP

SURRENDERS COATLESS AND HATLESS AT AUSTIN TODAY

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, May 6.—Coatless and hatless, R. Lyle Justice, 27, walked into the Austin police station shortly before noon today and told officers how he had been kidnaped by a bandit at the Mexia railway station nine hours before, driven all night while blindfolded and left three miles east of here on the highway.

His captor, Justice said, entered the railway depot at 2:50 a. m., confronted him with a revolver, and obtained an amount from the station cash drawer estimated by the agent as $345.

The man was described by Justice as small and apparently of middle age.

The agent said he persuaded the bandit not to tie him, but that a blindfold was placed over his eyes. Justice said the remainder of the night was spent in driving, but he did not know what route the automobile took.

At 9 o'clock a tire on the car blew out, and the robber ordered the agent out of the automobile. In order that he might see how to walk, the blindfold was removed from one of his eyes, police were told by Justice.

"After we walked some distance, the man ordered me to lie down in a ditch beside the road and remain there for an hour so that he would have a good start." Justice detailed. "I was afraid to get up, and I stayed there for that length of time."

MARK TIME ON DISARMAMENT

ACTION BY GREATER NAVAL POWERS IS AWAITED

(By Associated Press)
GENEVA, May 6. (AP)—The preparatory disarmament commission adjourned today with the next move toward disarmament awaiting action by the big five naval powers.

In adjourning, the commission left the date of the next meeting open, but with the understanding it would be convened anew when the naval nations announce they have achieved enough progress towards a naval agreement to justify summoning of what it expecting to be the last session of the commission before convocation of an international conference on disarmament.

Litvinoff Attacks Work

While Maxim Litvinoff, soviet vice foreign commissar, in a final speech was scourging the work of the session as absurd and useless, flames suddenly shot up from the conference table in front of the French delegation. A delegate had thrown a lighted match on a leaky gasoline cigarette lighter. There was a recoil of the delegates as the flames soared but General Requin of the French group seized the huge tray where the fire was centralised and bore it to the window.

M. Litvinoff attacked what he felt was the negative character of the commision's activities and demanded that an international disarmament conference be called as early as possible when he hoped the peoples voices for real disarmament could be heard.

The commission adopted a Japanese proposal to postpone further consideration of the naval chapter of the draft treaty so as to permit direct conversations between the five powers.

PROMINENT AMARILLO LAWYER IS HELD FOR SLAYING

(By Associated Press)
AMARILLO, May 6.—R. H. Hamilton, a former Texas supreme court appeals commission judge, who met with pistol bullets a gay young son-in-law sent to Hamilton's office under a maternal injunction to tell the attorney of a secret marriage with his daughter, Theresa, faced scrutiny of a grand jury today.

Meanwhile, two women who loved the victim, Tom Walton, jr., 21, mourned—Mrs. Grave Walton, the mother, because it was at her suggestion that Tom went to Hamilton, and Theresa, the 19-year-old widow. Two physicians had been in attendance on the mother at Amarillo, and in Austin, where young Mrs. Walton was staying with her mother, concern was felt for the girl.

Although Mr. Hamilton's counsel has indicated self defense may be the plea, the eminent lawyer himself explained the slaying thus: "I had rather die than kill a man, but I had to protect my home."

Saturday, Walton was told by his mother, "go and see the judge. He'll be sensible and everything will be all right." She had worried over the son's failure to tell of his marriage to Miss Hamilton, which occurred on Feb. 10, at Georgetown, near Austin, where the bride and groom were students in Texas University.

Young Walton walked into the office, said jocularly to a stenographer, "if you hear any shooting

CROWDER, SENTENCED IN HOUSTON CASE MAKES ESCAPE

(By Associated Press)
HOUSTON, May 6.—Ed Crowder serving a 99-year sentence for robbery of the Citizens State Bank of Houston, escaped from solitary confinement at Huntsville some time last night.

Crowder and a companion were in a concrete solitary cell, believed to have been escape-proof. They were last seen about 5 p. m., yesterday. Prison guards found the door of the cell battered down. It is believed the men used a ladder to get over the walls.

American naval suggestions would have a happy influence on theoutcome of endeavors to reduce armament burdens.

During an earlier stage of today's session, Hugh S. Gibson, American representative, told the conference he favored sped consistent with the sound, effective handling of the important and complex problem without jeopardizing the successful conduct of the work by entering precipitately upon discussions for which any of the interested powers is not prepared." The American delegation he said, wanted each country to

SOME SURPRISE IS SCHEDULED

Officers Find Liquor Cache Buried By Bootlegger

Some local bootlegger is scheduled for a surprise when he attempts to dig up two gallons of liquor, buried at a railway culvert, about two miles northwest of the city.

Acting on a tip that the liquor was buried at this place, Constable J. C. Roberts and his deputy, R. B. Yancy waited several hours for the owner to show up. When he failed they made a search and discovered the liquor.

OFFICERS SPREAD DRAGNET FOR MAN THOUGHT TO HAVE SLAIN TWO IN SOUTH TEXAS

HOUSTON, May 6.—Police and county officers at noon today were trying to find a man believed to have killed Edward Stone, 21, of Westfield, and Miss Ola Wuenche, 20, of Spring, Harris county.

The bodies were found about 6 a. m., by A. E. Hartman, Spring, who was on his way to Aldine. The girl's body was lying across the Hardy street road about a mile north of Aldine. Hartman drove to Aldine and notified officers. Tracks and a trail of blood indicated she had stumbled along the road for 200 feet after she had been shot.

While officers were examining an abandoned automobile a mile from the girl's body, J. Stone of Westfield drove up and identified the car as that of his son. Young Stone's body was found in a field nearby.

"My son left home last night to take Miss Wuenche to Houston," said Mr. Stone. "Since he did not return I became anxious about him and started out to look for him."

No weapon of any kind was found near the scene of the killing. Officers believed the couple were stopped by a man and that Stone was shot as he got out of the car. The man then put the girl in his car and drove away, according to the officers' theory. They think the girl jumped from the man's car and was shot as she started to run.

Pete Jarrett, who lives about two miles from where girl's body was found, said he heard several shots early Monday, and a few minutes later an automobil ewent by his home at high speed.

OIL MAGNATE JAIL DECREE HANDED DOWN

NO UNUSUAL ADO WILL FEATURE SINCLAIR ENTRY TO JAIL

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—An order directing the commitment of Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil operator, to a common jail for refusal to answer questions asked by a senate committee was handed down today by Justice Hitz of the supreme court of the District of Columbia.

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—The period of liberty for Hary F. Sinclair before he begins his three months jail sentence for contempt of the senate grew short today.

The mandate of the United States supreme court directing the District of Columbia supreme court to imprison the oil man was placed in the mail Saturday for delivery this morning to Frank E. Cunningham, clerk of the trial court, who had arranged to notify Leo. A. Rover, district attorney, upon its receipt.

In line with usual procedure, Mr. Rover had decided to inform George P. Hoover, counsel for Sinclair, of this notification, and then to present a motion to Justice William Hitz of the district supreme court asking him to issue the jail commitment order.

Sinclair was declared by his counsel here and in New York to be ready to surrender himself whenever his appearance was requested. He has remained in New York while the formalities leading toward his incarceration were being completed

No unusual preparations have been made at the Washington asylum and jail to receive the wealthy oil man. His day's routine will be-

It Is Sometimes Cheaper As 'Guilty'

Sometimes it is cheaper to plead guilty than not guilty, it was proven in G. R. Scott's justice of the peace court here last Saturday.

Three negroes were arrested Friday night on drunkenness charges. Two pleaded guilty and were assesed fines of $17.15. The other, D. V. Tatum, recently freed of cattle theft charges in district court here, fought his case. He was found guilty and assessed a fine amounting to $26.15.

EAST TEXANS IN GATHERING

TECH BASEBALL TILT IS ONE FEATURE OF REGIONAL CONFAB

(By Associated Press)
BRYAN, May 6 — Study of the relation of industrial development to agricultural prosperity was one of the chief problems before the East Texas Chamber of Commerce third annual convention here today.

Dr. Gus W. Dyer, editor of the Southern Agriculturalist, was on the program for the principal address at the business session.

Bryan was bursting at the seams as the last delegations to arrive packed themselves into the city. Hotels and tourist camps doubled their accommodations, and many delegates went to private homes.

The business sessions largely routine, included the appointment of committees and receipt of officers reports.

Outside of convention hall was more entertainment than any one deelgate could see. Industrial exhibits intrigued many. Others attended the band contest and tournament which lasted most of the day. On top of this there was a band concert by the Texas A. & M. 110 piece college band.

KIRK RECAPTURED BY RANGER FORCE

AUSTIN, May 6. (AP)—Henry Kirk, serving three years from Hays county for violation of the prohibition law, who escaped from the Ferguson farm Saturday, was recaptured here last night by Texas rangers.

He was taken into custody at his brother's home by Rangers Jim McCoy, Gault Manning and J. W. Aldrich.

HUNTSVILLE PRISON IS UNSAFE AS COOP

AUSTIN, May 6. (AP)—The Huntsville prison is as unsafe as a chicken coop, Dr. Henry Cohen, member of the prison board, said today when he heard of the escape of Ed Crowder, 99-year convict, from a solitary cell at Huntsville.

He and J. B. H. Holderby of Fort Worth, another member of the board, were conferring with Governor Moody today. Holderby has been actively engaged in making an investigation of existence of an alleged ring operating to effect release of prisoners from the penitentiary.

"We are not ready yet; we want to lift the lid off at one time;" he said. "Conditions are deplorable and something must be done. The idea of more than 700 prisoners escaping in one year is inconceivable."

Theresa, who had been in Austin, where she was operated on several months ago, with her mother since January, will remain there an indefinite time.

BURIAL WILL TAKE PLACE AT M'ALESTER

McALESTER, Okla., May 6 (AP)—Burial of Thomas Walton, jr., 21, killed at Amarillo, Tex., Saturday by R. H. Hamilton, former member of the Texas supreme court, whose daughter, Theresa, 19, was married secretly to Walton, will take place here Wednesday.

The Hamilton family formerly lived in McAlester, moving to Amarillo in 1925 shortly after the son was graduated from high school here. Walton was a popular student and a member of the high school band.

Walton and Miss Hamilton were married February 19, last, while both were students at the University of Texas.

come into the discussion prepared to speak on a basis of its independent study.

Mr. Gibson announced that in view of other analogous studies being made by other governments, it would not be opportune to embark upon a detailed discussion of the suggested American method of naval reductions. However, he wanted to emphasize that the 'equivalent tonnage" proposed by the United States was an expression used to convey the idea, for comparative purposes, of the military value of individual ships and hence of the total value of warships in any given category.

He favored taking into account only factors that were simple and obvious and expressed belief that the problem should not be complicated by the introduction of factors which really were no more than elements of prime factors. He suggested as factors, unit displacement, gun calibre and age as well as speed and other elements.

Engineering exhibits with man-made lightning, arc welding under water, a broadcasting station, a piano made of vacuum tubes and a motor made with a tin can attracted a great deal of attention, as did the agricultural exhibits.

Texas Tech and A. and M. were scheduled for a baseball game, and Allen Academy was to put on a drill exhibition.

In the evening aconcert was to be given by the massed bands, 1,500 musicians participating.

The major event of the day was to be the coronation of Miss Nelle Webb of Groveton as Queen Etex the third. The coronation will be followed by a pageant and pyrotechnics.

ARM MEASURE VOTE AND TARIFF BILL CONSIDERED

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 6—Congress oday entered one of the busiest eriods of the special session.

The senate approached a vote on he debenture section of the farm elief bill, and later probably on the ill itself, while the house was eady to receive tomorrow the tariff evision measure, thus bringing the wo major subjects on the administration program before congress at he same time.

Division in the senate over the debenture proposal, which President Hoover opposes, is so close that a shifts one way or the other, or bsence of one or two members one group not balanced by r absences from the other, decide the issue or put it up to President Curtis to break a tie.

Brave Clowny thought that he knew best. And though it didn't please the rest he poked up at the hornet's nest ,believing it a hive. Said he, "I'll knock this to the ground. Come on, you Tinies, gather 'round. You all will have the finest treat since you have been alive.

"There's honey in that thing, I'm sure—unless my guess is rather poor. We'll open it and have a feast. How does that sound to you?" Then Scouty said, "I think it's wrong to steal. For that I am not strong. I'd help you if I thought it was the proper thing to do."

The Goofygoo stood back and smiled. And to himself he said, that child is going to get a big surprise, and it will serve him right. He thinks that he'll find honey there. Instead, he'll find an awful scare. I'm going to be all ready now to run right out of sight.

Then Clowny gave one more poke, and from the tree the queer nest broke. "Ah, here it comes," he shouted. "Now, we'll have a heap of fun, We'll make some stick right out of wood to eat the honey, if it's good. You all will shortly thank me for the kind thing I have done."

Alas! The nest hit on the ground, and then poor Clowny shortly found that it was filled with hornets, and was not a honey hive. Of course the hornets all were mad. This made the situation bad. In just a moment all the air with hornets was alive

"Run for your lives," one Tiny cried. "We'll have to find some place to hide." And so the bunch began to run, amid the hornet's din. "If I get stung," one Tiny cried, 'twill make big welts upon my hide."

But then the Tinies reached a stream, and promptly jumped right in.

Weekly Review Of Business in Lubbock

Firm Keeps Pace With Lubbock's Growth

Lubbock Sash And Door Film Large

Hand in hand with the rapid growth of Lubbock during the past few years has been the development of the Lubbock Sash and Door company—an institution which has been here almost as long as the city itself.

The growth of this company's business has paralleled that of Lubbock for more than a score of years. Started on a very small scale in 1914, the establishment has experienced numerous additions and improvements from time to time. At the present time the company owns a modern up-to-date planing mill and a large warehouse which covers an entire half block. This vast plant is the outgrowth of the original equipment which consisted simply of a small mill and warehouse.

One of the mottoes of the company is "If it is of wood, we make it." The company is owned by the Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co. W. B. Atkins is the manager.

Keeps In Contact With Real Estate

Proof that T. W. Sawyer possesses a thorough knowledge of real estate values in Lubbock is given by the fact that five large major companies, doing a large volume of business here, have employed him as appraiser on all property in the city.

Mr. Sawyer knows the city like a book. Sitting in his office in the Brown building, west side of the square he immediately can tell you the value of any local property

Having played an immportant part in the gigantic real estate boom in Florida several years ago, Mr. Sawyer came to Lubbock. He chose this city in preference to all others in this section because he sensed vast possibilities here. He predicts that Lubbock will make the largest and most metropolitan city in this section.

Since coming to Lubbock, Mr. Sawyer has dealt exclusively in city business property and knows this line of the real estate business as well as anyone in the city.

Nazarene Revival Progressing Nicely

The revival meeting at the Nazarene church, 14th street and Ave. Q, is progressing nicely, according to Rev. S. H. Erwin, pastor. The church was not large enough to hold yesterday's crowd and it is announced that there will be 200 extra chairs tonight.

The evangelist, Mrs. Grace Edwards, preached at both services yesterday, and selections were given by the Edwards quartet. Miss Alice Lewis gave a chalk lesson at the Sunday school hour.

Tonight is to be high school night. The services will begin at 7:45 o'clock.

Watkins Will Not Conduct Revival

Due to illness of members in his family, Rev. R. S. Watkins, First Methodist church pastor at Lorenzo, will be unable to conduct revival services at the Asbury Methodist church here this week, Rev. G. P. McCollom reported this morning.

Rev. O. P. Clark, pastor of the First Methodist church at Sweetwater, will preach here in Rev. Mr. Watkins' place.

Radio Good Both Winter, Summer

The old theory that radios were good only for winter months and should be stored away during the summer because of static resulting from hot weather, is being discarded. It formerly was thought impossible to get suitable radio receptions during warm months.

Radio experts now point out that improvements have been made in the world of radio which make the receiving sets as valuable and as important an entertainment factor in the summer as in the winter months.

All of these new improvements have been incorporated in the Majestic, the 'mighty monarch of the air."

The all-electric Majestic radio is handled by Carnett Electric company, 1209 Broadway. In addition to the radio agency and a large display of electrical fixtures and apparatus, said to be one of the largest on the South Plains, the company does a substantial electrical contracting business.

NEW VIOLENCE IS MENACING

HOPES FOR PEACE IN BERLIN DISTRICT SHORT LIVED

(By Associated Press)

BERLIN, May 6.—Threats of new violence Wednesday loomed today to mar hopes built on last night's peacefulness in Neukoelln and Wedding districts where police were in full control after four days bloody communist rioting.

At a secret meeting 1,200 communist leaders, obtaining admission only by each speaking a special catchword, voted to bury 21 of their fallen comrades in a single grave turning the funeral after interment into a monster political demonstration.

A resolution was passed calling upon workers over the city to begin a general strike at 2 p. m., Wednesday . Although the strictest measures were adopted to prevent the public knowing of what happened in side the meeting it was known there was in evidence no disposition to accept the truce thrust upon them by the police.

Meanwhile the state of siege continued in both Wedding and Meukoelln districts, although there had been no fighting there since Saturday.

Furnish Market To Farmers Here

Serving as a market for the many small trade tributary towns of the South Plains, the Farmers' Produce Co. 1312 Avenue H has become an important factor in the poultry and produce marketing of this section. Not only has it become a medium for the farmer-producer but also for the home consumers.

According to officials of the produce company, virtually all of the produce bought here, consisting chiefly of poultry, cream, and eggs, is resold right in Lubbock. The Farmers' Produce wholesales to local grocery stores in addition to doing a good retail business.

This business was established in Lubbock little more than a year ago, and its growth has been extremely rapid. Formerly the company did both a grocery and produce business, offering exchanges of groceries for produce. The grocery line of the business, however, has been discontinued so that the officials of the company may devote their entire time to the produce business, which continually commands more attention.

Managers of the produce house are I. S. Furlong and C. R. White. They promise the bery best in the way of prices for produce.

Land Owners Form Tatum Association

TATUM N. M., May 6 —Organization of a North Lea County Land Owners Civic Association, having the development of this immediate section as its goal, and the securing of rail transportation as its immediate object, took place here last week.

Although a temperature of 27 degrees was recorded here during the cold spell of last week, no damage to growing fruit and vegetables resulted.

A 24 by 50 foot warehouse is to be built by James G. Tatum on the south side of West Broadway at the corner of Broadway and Maple streets.

County Attorney Now In Crosbyton

RALLS, May 6—County Attorney N. C. Outlaw and family moved to Crosbyton this week, where they will make their home. Judge Outlaw has been a resident of this city since 1925, coming here at that time to practice law with W. R. Blackwear.

Judge Outlaw maintained law offices in Ralls, above the Security State Bank and Trust company, until the beginning of his term as county attorney, to which office he was elected in the general election last November

MATADORS MEET FIRST CONFERENCE COMPETITION THIS WEEK

FANS ARE WONDERING IF WACO TEAM HAS 'CRACKED'

BRICKS BY MAIL

Paddy Harmon, director of the new $7,000,000 stadium in Chicago, was handed the merry haw-haw several years ago when he announced he would build the biggest sport structure in the world.

Tex Rickard had just completed the New York Garden and had the architect's figures to show that it was the biggest building of its kind.

"I don't care what he says, I'll build one bigger. I've got the plans made," Harmon said. He wouldn't produce the plans and the writers, especially in New York, began to write him for a ride.

One of the New York writers mentioned that Paddy had made all his plans but had forgotten the bricks.

When the stadium was completed Harmon wrapped up one of the bricks and mailed it to the New York writer with this comment:

"Here's one of the bricks, you * * * !"

HIT HIM UP

Harmon said it was the remarks made by the New York writer that induced him to go ahead and build the stadium.

"I had thought of the proposition of building a sport palace for some time," Harmon said. "I found out where I could get a place to build it on and got an estimate of how much the whole thing would cost. I mentioned it to the newspaper boys and those who talked to me understood that I wasn't making a flat formal announcement.

"I didn't know whether I wanted to go ahead with the plans. I knew it would take a lot of work to run the place and I don't like to work. I have enough money to keep me and I don't have to be active in business. So I was on the fence when the wise-cracker made the crack about the brick and I decided to go through with my plans."

WINS WHEN HE LOSES

Professional basketball has made great strides in recent years, but it has not reached the advanced stage where it is a howling financial success. Men interested in the business end of the sport can't explain it exactly.

The teams draw good crowds, especially in the middle west, but the customers won't stand for the tariff that the fight fans put up for their sport.

The Cleveland Rosenblums won the big league championship with a colorful team that drew well in every town on the circuit. But Max Rosenblum, owner of the team, lost money on the season.

He is a merchant and takes a rap each year for the advertising the team gives his store.

"If he holds his loss down to four or five grand a season he thinks he's had a good year," one of his associates said recently.

BUSY WEEK IS BEING FACED

PENITENTIARY BILLS AND TAX BILLS CONSIDERED

By R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 6.—This is certain to be a big week with the special session. The senate will consider penitentiary concentration, and the house will take up tax measures, including the one which would fix a levy on income.

The family of tax bills offered by Rep. T. N. Mauritz of Ganado, at the head of which is the income proposal, have not been taken seriously, as a general thing, by the legislators, but they are beginning to wake up and take notice now that the committee on revenue and taxation has recommended that the income tax bill pass.

The senate is not likely to take up penitentiary concentration before Wednesday, although the committee considering the bills is scheduled to meet today. In fact there isn't much chance of real work before the legislature returns from Bryan, home of Speaker W. S. Barron, where it will pay a pop call Tuesday on the East Texas Chamber of Commerce in convention.

Since the house passed by an almost unanimous vote the penitentiary concentration bill, calling for assembling the plant on property now owned by the state, there has recurred talk of "centralization." Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston and other advocates of concentration assert that what Texas needs is a "centralized" system, that is to say, some "high and dry spot" in the center of the state.

When the move for prison relocation was first started some three months ago there was much sentiment that "concentration" meant "centralization," but finally this was denied. Many of the communities opposed "centralization," because they thought that might mean a site in their locality might be selected. t was this that prompted several of the senators during consideration of the bill during the regular session to amend it to exempt counties of their respective districts as possible sites.

There has been considerable talk about the capitol of the impending resignation of Attorney General Claude Pollard. Rep. W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi, speaking on the floor of the house, said several times last week: "I understand the attorney general is to resign within a few days."

CUBS REELING FROM DOUBLE DALLAS LOSS

LEADERS FACE SERIES AT HOME PARK WITH WICHITA SPUDDERS

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Eyes of the Texas League were focused on Waco today as the league leaders opened what might easily prove a crucial series with the crippled Wichita Falls Spudders.

Reeling from the shock of two straight setbacks at the hands of the Dallas Steers, the Cubs found themselves only two games ahead of the Houston Buffs and facing one of the most dangerous outfits in the league. Although the Spudders are playing without two of their principal threats, Turgeon and Stapleton, there are enough sluggers left in their line-up to slaughter the brand of twirling the leaders have received the last two days.

Lose First Series

The Cubs dropped their first series of the year when the Steers, apparently fully recovered from their seven-game losing streak, battered out a 15 to 4 victory before a Sunday crowd of 5,500 fans. The double win, incidentally, boosted the Herd back into fourth place. Lefty Stein, Cheeves and Blake yielded 17 hits during the melee. The Cubs got al ltheir runs off Homer Blankenship, starting his first game of the season, in four and a fraction innings. They were silenced thereafter by Tauscher. Jefferies, rookie Dallas third sacker, smacked two homers.

The Beaumont Exporters celebrated the return of Lamb and Easterling to the line-up by plastering a 7 to 5 defeat on the Wichita Falls nine in the closing game of their series at Stuart Stadium. It gave the Shippers their first series, two out of three, and enabled them to climb into a tie with San Antonio for seventh place. Denny Burns kept eight Spud hits well scattered.

Buffs Shut Out Cats.

Jim Lindsey hurled the Houston Buffs to a 7 to 0 victory over the Fort Worth Cats in the rubber game of their series at the port city, holding the felines to seven well scattered knocks. Lindsey has developed a curge to go with his fast one, they say, and there is a fine possibility the big Buff will outstrip last year's record, when he turned in 25 wins.

The San Antonio Indians displayed unmistakable signs of dropping back into their old habits as Shreveport took them again, 4 to 1, in their series closer. Where Tiny Owens held the Tribe to five blows Saturday, Joe Brown went him one better and held them to four yesterday. The win gave the Sports two out of three.

MITCHELL IN GOLFING LEAD

SCORES 65 TO TAKE AN EARLY MARGIN AT GULLANE TODAY

(By Associated Press)

GULLANE, Scotland, May 6.—Abe Mitchell, British professional, with a sensational score of 65 over the Gullane Municipal course led the field for about half the finishers in the first 18 holes of the qualifying rounds for the British Open. The best score of the early finishers over the Nuirfield course was a 75 scored by Archie Compston. George Von Elm and Bobby Cruickshank with 73's at Gullane had been tied for the early lead.

Two of the American Ryder Cup team went over 80 for the first 18 holes, Johnny Farrell, the open champion, taking 82 and Ed Dudley 85. Farrell had a nine on his card and Dudley an eight.

Fred Jewell of Long Ashton scored 72 at Gullane to slip under the first mark set by the American pro and amateur. The veteran J. H. Taylor, playing with Jewell, had a creditable 77.

Until Compston chimed in with his 75, a count of 77 compiled by Albert Whiting, Royal St. Georges led the field.

As the afternoon starters went to the first tee at Muirfield, rain which had started in mid-morning settled down to a steady, soaking downpour.

Leo Diegel went out with a sensational score of 35 but needed 39 to get home for a score of 74

Sid Brews, South Africa, scored 79. The veteran James Braid took 82 and Jack White 84.

ATHLETICS RISE TO PEAK IN AMERICAN

FIRST WEEK OF HARD CAMPAIGNING FINDS BRAVES ALSO LEAD

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The first week-end of intersectional campaigning on the various major league fronts left the Athletics at the head of their class in the American and the Braves clinging to the top in the National. The Mackmen regained the peak by defeating the Browns yesterday, 2 to 0.

Walberg let the Browns down with one hit and fahned six. He passed four men, however, and might have seen his game snatched from the victory column if the home forces had done any hitting at all. It was the first defeat of the season for Gray, who gave only five hits before stepping aside for a pinch batsman in the eighth.

Yank Artillery Starts

The rumble of Yankee heavy artillery once more is disturbing the peace and quiet of American League cities. The champions have registered thirty-nine hits in their last three games and have won all of them. Three homes by Gehrig on Saturday and one by Ruth on Saturday and another yesterday paved the way for two Yankee victories over the White Sox, 11 to 9, and 8 to 3.

Washington still is unable to have a good hitting afternoon simultaneously with first-rate pitching. Adolph Liska, one of the best right-handers in the major leagues, turned back the Indians with two hits yesterday, but saw his opponents win the game by 1 to 0.

Liska has lost three straight, each by one run. He has worked twenty-odd innings with only four runs, earned and unearned.

The Tigers held a big rally at Navin field yesterday at the expense of Ed Morris, who was routed with other Boston pitchers in a 10 to 2 victory by Detroit.

Cards' Rallies Win.

After trouncing the Clan McGraw by 10 to 7 in ten innings on Saturday, the Cardinals came right back yesterday with a pair of late rallies which netted a 9 to 7 victory.

Grimes led the Pirates to a 7 to 2 victory over the Braves at Boston, pulling the Back Bay band down within reaching distance of the Cubs and the Cardinals.

Vance entertained 20,000 customers at Ebbets Field when Brooklyn beat Cincinnati, 4 to 1. Vance allowed four hits and fanned nine. The only run off him was Curt Walker's homer in the fourth. Glenn Wright started his first game at short field for Brooklyn and hit a home run in the fourth with one mate aboard.

HALF OF BUNION TREK IS COVERED

OKMULGEE, Okla., May 6 (AP).—With 1,612 miles of the 3,400 mile trek from New York to the Pacific coast covered, the 24 remaining bunioners in C. C. Pyle's transcontinental derby today plodded along on a 70 miles lap to Holdenville.

Two runners, Anthony Winninger, Williamansett, Mass., and Herman Kester, Sawtelle, Calif., droped out yesterday on the 44 mile tramp from Muskogee to Okmulgee.

Giusto Umek, Trieste, Italy, scored his third consecutive victory yesterday by finishing in first place. He sliced an hour from the margin of Johnny Salo, Passaic, N. J., second in elapsed time, but still is 12 hours behind the policeman. Salo and Pete Gavuzzi, Southampton, England, first in elapsed time, tied for third place. Paul Simpson, Burlington, N. C., finished second.

Kentucky Governor Has Derby Guests

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 6. (AP)—More than 200 persons, including governors of four states will be guests of Governor Flem D. Sampson at the derby in Louisville May 18.

Governors Walter J. Kohler, of Wisconsin; Harry G. Leslie, of Indiana; Charles M. Tobey, of New Hampshire, and John C. Fisher, of Pennsylvania, have accepted invitations to view the races from Mr. Sampson's private box. Will Rogers, comedian-cowboy, and Arthur E. Krock, associate editor of the New York Times, also have accepted invitations.

McCarthy Respects Prowess Of Braves

CHICAGO, May 6. (AP)—Joe McCarthy, pilot of the pennant-aspiring Cubs, is one manager who admits the early winning streak of the Boston Braves isn't just a flash in the pan.

Pointing to their added strength McCarthy believes they have a much improved club over 1928 and may cause considerable trouble in the flag race.

The Braves have won eight out of eleven games.

Ralls Rabbits Are Beaten by Post, 9-8

RALLS, May 6.—The Ralls high school baseball club lost to the Post nine Thursday afternoon in a closely contested game at the Jackrabbit park, the score being 9 to 8. After having the game won several times the Jackrabbits lost to the Antelopes through ragged fielding.

HALE CENTER WINS IN CITY

VISITORS TAKE EARLY LEAD TO TROUNCE AUTO-BARBERS

Hale Center scored nine runs in the first three innings Sunday afternoon to pile up a lead that the Auto-Barbers of the Lubbock City Baseball League were never able to overcome and the visitors romped off with the long end of a 13 to 7 score at Merrill Park.

The hard-hitting Hale County aggregation jump on the offerings of Dillard, local twirler, at the outset and put the game on ice before Nelson could be rushed to the rescue. Costly errors behind Dillard contributed to the visitors' scoring.

After Nelson had taken over the mound duties for the Lubbock nine, the Hale Center sluggers were held in check while Chisum's crew were scoring seven runs, Nelson, Harris, E. Carr and R. Carr led the late-inning rally for the locals.

In another city league exhibition, the Carpenter-Painters, took a free-hitting game from Shallowater, 17 to 13, on the latters' diamond. Randolph Boggs hurled for the locals.

DAVIS CUP NET TEAM IS NAMED

HENNESSEY, ALLISON, VAN RYN, LOTT ARE SELECTED

(By Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, May 6.—America's chances to win the American zone play in the Davis Cup tennis matches depend upon the skill of John Hennessey, Indianapolis, George Lott, Chicago, John Van Ryn, East Orange, N. J. and Wilmer Allison, Fort Worth, Texas.

They were selected last night after a series of competitive matches here in which William T. Tilden and Frances T. Hunter, furnished stiff competition.

Neither "Big Bill" nor Hunter was a candidate for the American zone team as they leave for Europe this week and would not have been available for the matches in Montreal, even if they had been selected. They will practice near Paris until the French championships begin on May 20 and will go later to Holland and to Wimbledon for the English championships, which begin June 24. It is their intention to prepare for the Davis cup interzone finals, provided the younger players come through in the American zone.

Samuel H. Collon, president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, said Tilden and Hunter could be chosen members of the American team any time during the cup campaign, provided the selections were announced twelve days prior to the start of competition.

Schuman On Market; Harris Sold To Waco

DALLAS, May 6 (AP).—Dallas club officials today announced the sale of Bill Harris, rookie right hand pitcher, to the Waco Cubs. Harris showed promising form in exhibition games, but a staff overburdened with veterans gave him little chance to break in since the race started.

Steer officials also announced that Dickie Schuman, southpaw hurler, had been placed on the auction block.

GOODEN WINS SUNDAY TILT OF GUN CLUB

TAHOKA, FLOYDADA MARKSMEN COMPETE WITH LOCAL MEN

Si Gooden, local marksman, with a score of 24 out of 25, carried off first prize in the Merchants' Shoot held at the Lubbock Gun club Sunday afternoon in a field of ten contestants. Although gunners from Amarillo failed to arrive, Floydada and Tahoka were represented by small squads.

Tol Carraway, with a 23 out of 25, was second high man in the day's shoot. Other high scorers were J. O. Dudley, Sid Carraway and F. H. Stanton.

Since the visiting teams were not large enough to make separate squads, mixed squads were formed to shoot for the various prizes offered by Lubbock merchants.

Si Gooden, bathing suit. Score 24 out of 25. Bottle hair tonic, carton cigarettes.

Tol Carraway, thermos bottle tie and handkerchief set, and cigarettes.

J. O. Dudley, hair tonic, fishing knife, shaving combination.

Sid Carraway, smoking set, bath powder, hunting knife, cigarettes, two pair socks and tie.

F. H. Stanton, 5 gallon gas and casting rod.

H. B. Davis, 5 gallon gas.

W. H. Carpenter, pipe, half gallon preserves, cigarette case and cigarettes.

Al Gooden, oil painting.

Swan of Tahoka, toilet water.

HISTORIC PARK LOST IN BLAZE

Corsicana Fandom Laments Loss Of Grounds

CORSICANA, May 6 (AP)—Corsicana today survived a fire-swept district, and baseball fans lamented the destruction of the historic old municipal baseball park.

The park, the office building of the Lyon-Gray Lumber company and an empty warehouse belonging to the Southland Cotton Oil company burned yesterday following a baseball game, at an estimated loss of $20,000.

The conflagration started in the stands at the park soon after an amateur game ended. Fire department officials said the blaze probably started from a discarded cigarette or cigar. From the stands, the flames spread to the warehouse adjoining. The lumber office several blocks away, was ignited by flying brands carried over the city by a stiff wind.

Many stars of balldom have cavorted in the old park which years ago was the home of the old Corsicana Texas League team and later of the Corsicana Lone Star League team. It was the training camp this spring for the Dallas, Texas League Steers.

Articles On Golfing, Prepared for This Paper By Country Club Pro

It was a good fortune when I broke into the majors to be associated with th elate Tim Hurst, a member of the American league staff of umpires. In all probability, Hurst settled more disputes in his own peculiar way than any other arbitrator I could name. He had a mean tongue and could cut loose a plenty. When more drastic action was necessary, even to the use of pugilistice methods, Hurst was never found wanting.

In all my career as an umpire I never witnessed a funnier incident than occurred a number of years back in a game at Philadelphia. Havink an off day in my schedule, President Johnson wired me to spend it by doubling with Hurst in a game between Philadelphia and St. Louis.

It so happened that Hurst was a typical New Yorker, believing that staying any other place was just camping out. When assigned to umpire in Philadelphia, he lived in New York, taking the train over in the morning and back right after the game. The ball players knew Tim's favorite train from North Philadelphia was the 5:17, which got him in New York just in time for dinner.

On this day Jack Powell was pitching for St. Louis. The Athletics early took a liking to Powell's offerings and when Mack's team went into the last half of the eighth inning it was leading something like 13-2. St. Louis was short of pitchers and powell was allowed to remain on the rubber.

Powell was peeved over three things—the way Philadelphia was hitting him, that he was being allowed to continue on the rubber under such conditions and the fact that he believed Tim Hurst was getting him into trouble my missing them. Powell knowing it meant nothing whether he was beanten 26-2 or 13-2 evolved a plan that he hoped would annoy Hurst. He decided he would make him miss the 5:17.

Powell always had had control. When he worked the count to three balls and two strikes on the first three batters to face him (in the eighth), all of them finally walking. Hurst smelled a rat and asked Powell why the sudden wildness.

"Just try to make the 5:17 this evening," replied Powell. Tim realized his intent. And what did he do? Well he called out the next three batters on strikes on nine pitched balls and I don't believe one pitch was closer than a foot of the plate and most of them far above the batters' heads.

Ralls, Brownfield Anglers On Trip

RALLS May 6.—Equipped with linen lines and other various kinds of fishing tackle, a trailer loaded with food supplies, bedding and other paraphernalia, necessary to carry on real fishing, four Ralls sportsman accompanied by another from Brownfield who was formerly a resident of Ralls, pulled out for Junction, Texas, this week to open the fishing season.

Dr. Harry Schwab, Forrest Robbins, W. P. McKee, A. B. Robertson, all of this city and accompanied by Le Allen of Brownfield are the members of the party who left from Ralls early Thursday morning. The party expects to be gone ten days.

No one knows just what George Kelly says.... when he yells support at the Cinnati pitchers.... And when he was playing with the Giants a curious scribe asked him just what he said.... And he said he didn't know just what he said .... Clise Dudley, a young Brooklyn pitcher, is from the hot belt of South Carolina.... And he nearly froze when the club went to Boston .... and slept with his overcoat on.... And one of the players told him Boston was the place where they sent ball players who weren't good enough for the league.... And he said he'd quit baseball before he would freeze to death.... Percy Lee Jones, a rookie pitcher with the Braves, paid his first visit to New York with the ball club.... And he rode to the Polo grounds on the elevated.... and when he got there he said.. "That was the longest bridge I ever rode on."

(This is the second of a series of articles prepared for the Avalanche and Journal by the golf professional of the Lubbock Country club, dealing with golfing fundamentals and etiquette. Others will follow.)

By J. W. BYRNE

"Shading" referred to in the opening story of this series is the reason for a wide variety of clubs. Clubs are not meant for show but are used to prevent shading.

By shading we mean to take a club that has an extreme range of 140 yards, a mashie shot, and the shot to be played calls for 125 yards. In the event of having no spade mashie, you have the option of using a mashie-niblick, the range shot for it being 115 yards with a full shot, or using a mashie and by either taking a shorter swing or shorter grip, you take 15 yards out of the club.

Can Be Avoided

All experienced golfers know that there is only one way to determine the difference of shading and avoiding it. This is having the identical club for the shot as far as possible. Every golfer knows that most of the shots wasted occur after he is within a hundred yards of the green. That goes not only for the poor golfer but for the good one also. When you are within 100 yards of the green, the real shading begins.

All things being equal between two players, the one not having all the necessary clubs will lose to the better equipped player 90 per cent of the time because of having to shade his shots.

Remember this always: The right club at the right time for the right yardage will give you more good shots than bad ones, since you will not be required to press or shade but take a natural swing. The loft of the club will do the rest.

Avoid Pressing

Pressing is another evil to avoid. Some golfers can use this style of play with good results but this is resorted to very seldom by successful golfers. All tournament players know the value of keeping their ball in the fairway, so that they are not restricted to the use of any one club, such as the golfer is who is in the rough. For example: Your opponent has hit one down the middle and is almost sure to be on in the next shot. You have pressed your drive and wound up in the rough with the green 200 yards away. The only possible club for you to use in recovery is a niblick. You may have good control and smile at your predicament but your opponent is going to laugh last and that is when he wins the hole.

Do what you can do properly and don't press. Golf has always been a sport that calls for form. Strength amounts to nothing is not properly applied. This is why the small man can outdrive the six-footer, weighing 200 pounds.

These fundamentals must be followed if you are to make progress with your game. There are no substitutes, regardless of whether you are self-taught or have had instruction. Good golfing requires a definite idea of how all shots should be made. If you cannot make up your mind to do this, your progress will be limited.

AGGIES WILL BE FACED IN TWO AFFRAYS

ST. EDWARDS AND HILL BILLIES ALSO ON TECH SCHEDULE

Coach Grady Higginbotham's Matador baseball nine get the first taste of Southwestern conference diamond competition this afternoon at College Station when they meet the Texas Aggies in the first of a two game series. The game today is played before a gathering of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Volney Hill is likely to face the Farmers in the opening game today and Howell is the probable starter in the Tuesday contest.

Following the series in Aggieland the Tech baseballers journey to Austin for two games with the St. Edwards university aggregation on Wednesday and Thursday. The last two games of the road trip will be spent in Brownwood where two games are to be played with the Daniel Baker Hill Billies.

The squad is making the tour by bus through central Texas. Fourteen players, including four pitchers, two catchers and two shortstops, left here early Saturday for Waco, their first control point. The jaunt from Waco to College Station was made Saturday morning.

In the first two months of the year 7,542 passenger automobiles were sent from the United States

HOUSE PLANS

A Colonial House "Built For The Future"

BY CORA W. WILSON

For NEA Service

GOOD architecture survives contemporary building style just as the paintings of old masters lose none of their value with the advent of the modernist schools.

Throughout it is of wood construction. The exterior is of white-painted cedar shingles. Shutters are blue and brick chimneys are painted white. There is an oaken front door, also whitepainted, with leaded glass sides and an old brass knocker.

The house has eight rooms and two baths and adjoining is a garage for two cars.

The visitor enters a foyer hall. To the left is a well-designed living room with a Colonial fireplace and mantle. Glass doors on either side of the fireplace lead to the open porch.

On the right of the foyer is the dining room—a square room with one doorway opening onto the Porte Cochere and another leading to the kitchen. From the kitchen there is an entry to the garage.

Every inch of space is utilized on the second floor. There are four large bedrooms, two baths, numerous closets and in every room cross-current ventilation.

For additional information and cost estimate write to Mrs. Cora W. Wilson, 420 Madison avenue, New York City, and be sure to enclose the clipping from this newspaper.

Thought For Today

Thou art beautiful, O my love, as Tirzah, comely as Jersualem, terrible as an army with banners.—Solomon's Song 6:4.

* * *

Love that has nothing but beauty to keep it in good health is short-lived, and apt to have ague fits.—Erasmus.

The Umpire

The opening of the new baseball season brings up for study one of the most interesting of American phenomena—the almost religious fervor with which the average citizen, seated in a baseball stand, will hurl vocal abuse at the umpires.

Everybody knows that the umpires are earnest, conscientious men, chosen because they are able and honest. Everybody knows that they can see what happens on the field far better than the man in the stands. Why, then, should they be the targets for so much criticism?

The psychologist, perhaps, could explain it easily. He would suggest, we believe, that the average man is under too much repression. At home, at the shop or office, in his automobile—everywhere, he is compelled to hold its tongue and refrain from "talking back"—whether it be to his wife bos, or the traffic cop.

At the ball park these repressions vanish. He can take it all out on the umpire. The accumulated soreness of a week or more can be relieved by the simple process of yelling, "Kill the big bum!"

This may be hard on the umpires, but it is probably very good for the average man's soul.

Terrible

Both friends and foes of prohibition—as well as those who occupy a middle position, if there are any such—would do well to ponder seriously over the recent disclosures of drinking by high school children in Chicago.

After a fatal auto accident, it was revealed that a party of youngsters had been returning from a six-hour drinking party. A 14-year-old girl who had attended the party was telling the police about it. A startled officer asked her, "What!" Do children of your age drink?"

"Sure—don't be sil," the girl replied jauntily. "Act your age. We started out for a high time, and of course we had to have some 'moon.'"

There's material in that situation to provoke a good deal of serious thought. Conditions of this kind are more deadly than anything else now on our national horizon.

A Blow

One pertinent unlooked-for result of President Hoover's order prohibiting the granting of permits to prospect for oil on the public domain has been a severe blow to the crooks who sell wildcat oil stock.

The Interior Department reveals that of 34,000 permits issued before the new conservation policy was adopted, only 56 ripened into leases. The claims of the others were allowed to lapse.

What happened? Simply this. An unscrupulous promoter would get a permit to prospect on public land. On the basis of this he would sell stock in a hastily-organized company. The government permit would make the suckers believe that the promoter was really offering shares in a company which actually owned oil-bearing property. Once the stock was all sold, the promoter would fold his tents and steal away, leaving the purchasers holding the bag.

The new policy, under which no permits will be granted, will stop that sort of thing. One pitfall, at least, is removed from the path of the unwary investor.

Stay-At-Homes

Despite the fact that the auto, the golf course, the movies, the lodge and other interests are supposed to be keeping men away from home, the average male spends just about as much time around his own fireside as he ever did.

This deduction is drawn from a curious source—figures on homes accidents compiled by the Travelers Insurance Company.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says most people who get their knowledge out of books usually leave it there.

* * *

You know, folks, The Plainsman gets a big kick out of the movies—or the talkies, either for that matter—and there are a lot of fine points about them. There are many features which might be incorporated into other businesses — features which had their beginning, and so far, their whole lives in the field of the cinema.

* * *

Take for instance, this business of giving the name of everybody who has has anything to do with the filming of a picture—and including a few folks who were watching the operations from the sidelines. That's mighty nice publicity for the boys and girls and it might not be a bad idea for newspapers to adopt the idea.

* * *

It is with this idea in mind that The Plainsman is presenting the super-production 'The Weather,' a five reel thriller of life, love and what-have-you. 'The Weather' is a daily feature of your afternoon newspaper and it really would be too bad if you and the rest of the customers were never given the inside of this awe-inspiring, million dollar American amusement, which ranks along side of "East Lynne," "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and the didoes of the James boys as the flower of entertainment. This feature is below presented, under the personal direction, supervision and manufacture of The Plainsman, himself in person. Here goes:

* * *

THE WEATHER

Placed upon the press by Daniel Fenley, press room apprentice and printed by Fred Hines, press foreman.

Placed into circulation by E. Paul Carter, circulation manager, and delivered to your home by E. Will Missem, carrier boy.

THE WEATHER

WEST TEXAS, probably hot, possibly cold. Maybe rain, maybe not. Strong winds on the coast. Livestock warning. Now is the time to plant rhubarbs.

(THE END)

* * *

Now you've got the low down. When you read your weather report in the papers that are to come you'll know just who is responsible. The great classic of the screen, 'The Weather' you see is educational as well as entertaining and its production doubtless makes the world a little better place in which to live—and all that sort of thing.

* * *

But, seriously speaking there is something educational behind the money-business which prompted the publishing of the little skit just above. The fact that from 15 to 20 persons have a connection with such an everyday item before it goes to the reader is one which most persons have never realized. It is an interesting anecdote of this matter of printing and publishing a newspaper.

* * *

Even the layman can see that, if almost a score of persons handle 'The Weather' feature of a daily newspaper other, less routine items, are likely to be handled by a great many more. The casual newspaper reader never realizes how many people are serving him—even indirectly — as he sits in his sock-feet to read the digest of the day's news. It's something to think about—there's no doubt about it.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says in the old days knees were heard, some times, but never seen.

* * *

The American tax system is a wonderful institution — sometimes. Cite for example, the town in Kansas which levied a tax on dogs, paid $50 to get the taxes collected and the total of them was exactly $50. Just another case of 'the public pays the freight.'

Co-operative Effort By Farmers Planned By Fepublican Administration May Bring Relief, Rodney Dutcher Says

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Cooperative effort, such as this administration proposes to encourage as a partial remedy for agricultural ailments, seems to be more or less responsible for the fact that the farmers of Canada have been able to carry along without depending on parliament for extensive help. Consideration of the success of the Western Canadian wheat pool may throw some light on the possibilities of similar success in this country now that a federal farm board is to be set up with the aim of straightening out our own farm troubles.

The relative concentration of the Canadian wheat fields and the fact that there are so many producers in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta who grow wheat alone has enabled the growers of those three provinces to accomplish what American farmers have been unable to do by themselves. Canada exports 400,000,000 bushels of wheat in a single year, far more than the United States.

Saved Huge Sums

Her wheat pool officials are convinced that they have saved and earned substantial sums for Canadian farmers while influencing the world market, though they don't believe they are getting a fair price. It ought to be mentioned, in this connection, that the Canadian grain grower gets the benefit of a lower freight rate schedule.

Canada's post-war wheat control board of 1919 was so beneficial to grain growers that they tried to persuade the government to re-establish it, but soon realized that they themselves would have to organize any centralized control over their crops. What they did, beginning in 1923, has been detailed before the Senate Agriculture Committee by A. J. McPhail, of Saskatchewan, president of the Canadian Department of Wheat Producers, the central selling agency for the three-provincial pools.

Farmers signed five-year contracts pledging them to deliver every bushel of wheat they grew to the organization. After 50 per cent of the existing acreage was signed up organization and operation began. The provinces were divided into districts and districts into subdistricts. Thus, McPhail said, Saskatchewan has 16 districts, each with its director, and 160 subdistricts, each of which elects a delegate once a year. The delegates are the governing body; they elect the central selling board, composed of three members from each provincial pool.

Between 120,000 and 140,000 wheat growers now deliver their wheat to the pools and the central agency sells it as if it were one man's wheat. This year it expects to handle more than 250,000,000 bushels, from 52 to 54 per cent of all wheat produced in western Canada. The pools own nearly 1500 country grain elevators.

The pool tries to judge the market from day to day and sells when it gets the most favorable price. If the market is weak the pool stays out. Great secrecy is maintained regarding its selling operations.

When the farmer delivers his wheat he is advanced 85 cents a bushel, with two subsequent interim payments and a final payment in the fall when the balance of the crop is sold. Actual overhead administrative costs, McPhail told the senators, amounts only to about one-sixteenth of a cent a bushel.

Two cents a bushel each year is taken from the proceeds of sale for the purpose of acquiring the pool's own grain handling facilities and 1 per cent of the gross sale for a commercial reserve.

Seeks More Members

McPhail estimates that control of somewhat between 65 and 75 per cent of total acreage will be necessary to obtain maximum success in operation and a continuous educational campaign in going on for more members. There has never been any campaign for reduction of acreage.

The Canadian wheat farmers are far better off than in 1923, McPhail says. Many of them have not joined because they get the benefit of better price levels whether they join or not. When it comes to marketing their crop it's a question of whether their judgment can match that of the best brains of the pool.

BARBS

Cleveland police arrested hundreds of bootleggers after the homes of two policemen were bombed. The theory is that the bootleggers wouldn't be good.

* * *

The headline, "WOMEN VOTERS PICK NEW HEADS" may not be so misleading after all.

A Massachusetts professor has discovered an alcohol without a kick. Maybe he has been touring the New York night clubs.

One of the bills proposed in Congress would let farmers manufacture beer and wine. At least that would relieve the tedium.

HOPE FOR ACCORD ON DEBT TANGLE

PARIS, May 6 (AP).—There was growing conviction in circles close to the conference of experts on reparations today that some sort of settlement would be evolved from negotiations commencing today on American proposals agreed to by the German delegation.

The settlement, if it materializes, will come hard and not without considerable persuasion and perhaps tactiful pressure, but the belief was growing that the plan tentatively accepted Saturday by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, German spokesman, from Owen D. Young, represented the American financial world.

Neither France nor Belgium, upon which the final decision of acceptance or rejection seemed today to rest, are desirous, it was pointed out, of antagonizing the American moneyed interests.

The figures of Mr. Young's proposal to Dr. Schacht—tentatively agreed to also by Great Britain and Japan—have not been made available, and estimates here calculated the reduction in payments to France which they involve at from seven to fifteen billion francs ($280,000,000 to $600,000,000 present value).

NEED RAIL STOCK TO HANDLE WHEAT

STAMFORD, May 6.—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, through its traffic bureau has taken up with the railroads of West Texas the matter of rolling stock for movement of the prospective wheat crop of this section. Replies are coming to the effect that nothing will be overlooked in this direction.

The almost universal use of the combines in the wheat harvesting season, makes the matter of movement of the grain quite a problem in that the crop is ready for movement to markets and to tidewater within a short time. Surveys are now being made as to the outcome of the present crop both by the railroads and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. This survey shows that there has been a considerable deterioration during the past week, due to the high and dry winds. It is the belief of those who are making a careful study of the situation, that a good rain would easily overcome all of the damage resulting from the winds, and would at the same time insure a real bumper crop.

THE WEATHER

Cloudy

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday except possibly showers in extreme west portion; cooler tonight except in southwest portion, probably frost in the Panhandle; warmer in the Panhandle Tuesday.

EAST TEXAS: Cloudy, thunder showers in northeast portion this afternoon or tonight, cooler; Tuesday, mostly cloudy, cooler in northeast and southwest portions. Moderate to fresh southerly winds on the coast, becoming northerly tonight.

OKLAHOMA: Generally fair, colder, frost in west and north portions if weather clears tonight; Tuesday partly cloudy, somewhat warmer in west portion.

ARKANSAS: Partly cloudy in west, showers and thunder storms in east portion tonight, colder; Tuesday, partly cloudy.

LOUSIANA: Cloudy in south, local thunder showers and cooler in north portion tonight; Tuesday cloudy, local thunder showers in east portion, cooler, moderate to fresh southerly winds on the coast, probably becoming northerly Tuesday.

C. E. HUGHES, JR. APPOINTED

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—The appointment of Charles Evans Hughes Junior, as solicitor general was announced today at the White House.

In New York

By Swan

Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, May 6—America's leading grand opera fan is neither a sensitive-faced Latin in need of a haircut nor a venerable ex-diva from Munich.

He is, if you please, one of that supposedly hard-boiled brood—an army man. Brig.-Gen. Jay Morrow is his name and his batting average to date is 600 assorted operas. And his loyalty is a matter of some 40 years standing.

When a soldier commutes to 40th an Broadway from such scattered points as Chile and Panama just to hear a certain singer in a certain role, he must be somewhat of a music fancier And General Morrow has been at this artistic sport since somewhere back in the nineties. He was a second lieutenant when he first looked upon the golden horseshoe.

And he's heard them all—from Calve, Eames and Nordica to the more recent Marion Talley.

Looking at General Morrow you would scarcely single him out as the persistent operagoer. He has most of the conventional markings of the soldier type — whatever that may be—what with a brusque, commanding manner and a certain acquired gruffness of voice. Yet, this gruff voice can suddenly grow eloquent when the subject of opera is broached and he can recite the list of famous singers much as an elevator boy can spout the batteries of tomorrow's ball games.

The speakeasies of Manhattan, which now number among the town's attractions — particularly for awed visitors — have again entered into a competition for novelty of appearance.

Thus one of the toniest of the new places attempts to be a replica of certain sections of Palm Beach and caters to the tanned and ritzy trade of returning winter resorters. The floor of the place is buried deep in sand and beach chairs are scattered about the room. Gaily colored umbrellas shelter the patrons, who lounge over wicker tables—or lie in the sand if they wish. The waiters affect the summer whites of the beach resorts and some of the customers, to aid the illusion, arrive in golf knickers.

Another of the newer rendezvous is a veritable acquarium. The fish, however — in addition to those at the counter — are placed in tanks fitted to the bar and swim just below the eyes of the biblers who, for all I know, may already be swimming. At any rate there are something like a hundred different fish species in the bar tanks, many of these being rare importations.

Perhaps the most expensive of the new resorts is located in a staid and dignified library. The library, before it became a speakeasy, was the property of a bibliophile and here can be found rare and very valuable first editions. The patrons are, for the most part, wealthy folk with literary tastes.

GILBERT SWAN

FALL'S RANCH IS TO BE AUCTIONED

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., May 6.—Announcement that the Three Rivers, N. M., ranch of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, would be sold at auction today by the sheriff at Alamogordo, N. M., in a mortgage foreclosure action and that representatives of Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate, planned to buy it for $300,000 was made here by Robert Sands, personal secretary to the petroleum operator.

Sands declared the famous ranch, which figured in the naval oil reserve leasing scandals, had been estimated worth $800,000 and it was to be sold to satisfy a loan of $170,000. The M. D. Thatcher estate of Pueblo, Colo., holds a first mortgage for that amount and Sands declared Doheny held a second mortgage by reason of the $100,000 "loan" made to Fall by the oil magnate shortly before the interior secretary leased the Elk Hills, Calif., naval oil reserve to a Doheny company.

MILD CASES OF BUNIONS ARE EASILY CORRECTED WITH PROPER EXERCISE

Bunions

"Bunions or not this is of enough general interest for you to publish, Dr. Peters, I wish you would do it.

"Is there any care for bunions, besides an operation, and is an operation dangerous? Many foot specialists and others claim that a bunion is caused by fallen arches and is just an enlarged joint. Others claim it is pus beneath the flesh. Which is correct?

"MISS L."

Bunions, of general interest? I'll say they are, Miss L. Bunions, corns and itching seem to be universal accomplishments, according to my correspondence.

A bunion is an enlargement of the large joint of the great toe. If it becomes inflamed, pus may form. It is caused by shoes (or even stockings' that are too short. It may take only one pair of shoes to produce one. They are not infrequently produced in childhood when children have shoes bought for them that do not allow for the growth of their feet. It is very poor economy not to throw away, if you can't give away, ill-fitting shoes.

A bunion may accompany fallen arches, but it is not necessarily caused by them, for many who have fallen arches do not have them, and vice versa.

Mild cases of bunions may be corrected by wearing shoes that have a straight inner edge and wide enough to give sufficient room. Manipulation and exercise of the offending toe at night, and the application of a splint along the inner side of the foot, with the toe strapped to it, may help in these milder cases. Bunion pads may also help. These can be purchased in drug stores.

If the case is very marked, an operation is the only relief. No, it is not a dangerous operation.

A.—Water is composed of hydrogen and oxygen, two parts hydrogand and one part oxygen, H2O its chemical symbol. Starches, sugars and fats are composed of hydrogen and oxygen, but they also have carbon. And it is the carbon that is burned for energy and heating. Water, having no carbon cannot be burned and therefore has no caloric value. It is a food only in the sense that it is necessary for the chemistry of the body. You can drink all you like, reducing or not.

When I say eight ounces of orange juice, I mean the juice alone without added water. It contains 100 calories of energy value beside its anti-scurvy vitamins and mineral elements.

Have you our reducing instructions? If not, send for our pamphlet on the subject, and be sure to observe column rules.

M. G.—Yes, it is possible to lose 10 to 15 pounds in three weeks, if you have to. For one who is very much overweight, it is not unusual to lose 10 pounds in three days on a liquid diet. You can go on an exclusive skim or buttermilk diet say seven glasses a day (at 80 C. per glass)—560 C., or you can alternate the milk with fruit or fruit juices or consomme (with no fat, 8 ounces, 25 C.) The milk and baked potatoe diet for a week, say. One glass of milk is 160 C., and a medium sized potato 100 C., and these taken three times a day would amount to about 780 C. a day.

Sorry we can't send you the reducing pamphlet, M. G., for while you enclosed ten cents, you did not send a self-addressed, stamped envelope, nor did you give your address. A bit careless? If you write again, recalling this circumstance and enclosing the self-addressed stamped envelope, it will be sent you.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. Your questions if of general interest, will be answered in the column in turn. Requests for articles must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and two cents in coin for each article, to cover cost of printing and handling. For the pamphlet on reducing and gaining, 10 cents in coin, with fully self-addressed, stamped envelope must be enclosed. Address Dr. Peters, incare of this paper.

PATENT SYSTEM TERMED VALUABLE AID TO INDUSTRY

BY THOMAS E. ROBERTSON
Commissioner of Patents

(Thomas E. Robertson was born at Washington, D. C., May 7, 187 He is a graduate of National university, obtaining a law degree. Fro 1899 to 1920 he practiced law in Washington, specializing in patent In 1921 he was named commissioner of patents. In 1925 he was appointe by President Coolidge as chairman of the American delegation to nego tiate the treaty concerning industrial property at The Hague. He is Republican.)

The extent to which the American system of patents has grown is shown by the fact that more than 100,000 applications for new inventions and devices pour into the patent office each year.

THOMAS E. ROBERTSON

The importance of the patent system to American industry and business cannot be overestimated, considering that the system was not established merely to reward inventors but in the words of the constitution "to promote the progress of science and useful arts."

Our patent system is distinctly American. It gives to the inventor—poor or rich—a patent with the greatest possibilities, since our patents are granted on more liberal terms than those of other governments. Thus, a man who has a patent in this country does not forfeit his patent because he is so poor that he is unable to manufacture within a given time, nor is his patent taxed.

In the European countries, even if an inventor is too poor to manufacture and is therefore not making a dollar out of his patent, he must nevertheless pay taxes upon it each year, and in some countries the taxes increase year by year. In most countries a patentee must manufacture to keep his patent alive. Hence the manufacturer can wait until the poor inventor does not pay his taxes or fails to manufacture within the required time and then the manufacturer can use the patented device without paying the inventor.

In our country, on the contrary the patent is granted to the inventor without any reservations. It is his for 17 years. If he is able, he can manufacture, but he is not compelled to. He is free to sell the patent if he can. He can permit others to manufacture on a royalty basis, but his patent does not lapse for nonpayment of taxes, since there are none; nor is it annulled if he cannot manufacture.

Hence our country is looked up on as a country of inventors. Almost every citizen is an embryo inventor—yet it is not that Americans are more inventive than others, for some of our most notable inventions have been made by citizens of foreign countries after their arrival in the United States. The spirit of inventions seems to be in the very atmosphere in the country, and we believe it is chiefly because of the beneficent effect of our patent system.

WALL STREET MOVE UPWARD

WESTINGHOUSE STOCKS GAIN THREE POINTS AT THE OPENING

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 6.—Prices on the New York Stock Exchange moved upward at the opening of today's market. Westinghouse Electric showed an initial gain of 3 points, Electric Auto Lite 2 3-4 and Raido, Wright Aeronautical, Johns-Manville and International Combustion advanced a point or more.

Reports that mid-western steel plants were operating at capacity, coupled with the more cheerful outlook for the settlement of the German reparations problem, had a bullish effect on sentiment in today's market. Selling cropped out in the Advance Rumely issues, which sustained a sharp break last week, but this failed to have any effect on the general list.

Oil shares were again heavily bought. New high records were established in the first half hour of trading by Atlantic Refining, Pan American B, Prairie Pipe Line and Standard Oil of New Jersey.

New peak prices also were established by Woolworth, Ludlum Steel, General Railway Signal, and Wright Aeronautical (New.)

International Telephone quickly ran up more than 7 points, Allis Chalmers 6, United Aircraft 5 1-2 and Curtiss, Columbia Graphophone By-Products Coke and Wright Aeronautical sold 2 to 3 points higher.

Foreign exchanges opened steady with cables unchanged at $4.85 5-16

COTTON SOARS UPON OPENING

CABLES ARE ABOUT AS EXPECTED; TRADES ARE ERRATIC

NEW ORLEANS, May 6 (AP)—The cotton market opened practically unchanged today. Cables were about as expected and first trades here showed gains of 1 point to losses of 3 points.

Some liquidation developed, probably induced by favorable weather and under pressure of the offerings active positions soon showed net losses of 13 to 17 points with July at 18.74, October 18.68 and December 18.80. At the end of the first hour the market was quiet and near the lows.

After showing net declines of 12 to 17 points the market rallied on buying promoted by an official forecast for showery weather. July sold up to 18.88 October 18.85 and December 18.95, or 14 to 17 points above the lows and about parallel with Saturday's close.

The rally was not maintained, however, due to a wave of selling which followed a New York report claiming a 9 percent increase in acreage. At mid-session the market was steady and 8 to 10 points under the highs.

COTTON OPENING ERRATIC HERE

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP)—Cotton opened steady at 2 points higher to 6 points lower compared with Saturday and sold down to 10 to 18 points under the previous final under renewed liquidation and selling generally favorable weather was held responsible for the selling. The decline carried July down to 18.80 and December to 18.86. Prospects for showers seemed to stimulate covering and some buying through commision houses, but the market was generally inactive and the undertone was easy.

The decline carried prices 14 to 18 points below the previous closing levels, but was followed by a reaction of 10 to 15 points. However, selling seemed to increase on small advances and the market was subject to quick reactions. The forecast for colder weather in the south west and procable frost in Oklahoma, with showers and thunder storms over the central and eastern belts, was apparently responsible for considerable covering, but recent buyers sold on advances. At midday July was selling around 13.80 and December at 19.00 or about 11 to 12 points net lower.

WHEAT DROPS TO NEW LOW RECORD

CHICAGO, May 6. (AP)—Confronted by Liverpool quotations much lower than expected, all deliveries of wheat here underwent a sharp setback today to below any level heretofore touched this season. Advices were at hand that Canada and Argentina were pressing heavily to sell wheat abroad.

Opening 5-8c to 1 7-8c off, Chicago wheat later continued to point downward. Corn, oats and provisions were easy, with corn starting 3-8c to 1c lower, and afterwards showing but little power to rally.

PERSIA QUAKE CLAIMS MANY

2000 DEAD AS RESULT OF TREMORS IN THE ORIENT

TEHERAN, Persia, May 6 (AP)—Two thousand dead were reported today in unofficial telegraph advices of three days continuing earthquakes from the Khorassan district or northeast Persia.

The telegrams said several villages have been destroyed, with 700 buildings demolished in the cities of Shirwan and Bujnurd, near the Turkestan border. The tremors were said to have caused "three days of terror."

Four violent earthquakes were reported from Askhabad, Russian Turkestan, last Friday, with a heavy death toll reported in Persain villages along the international line. Eleven were killed and 40 injured in the Turkestan cities. The Turkestan government rushed medical aid to the Persian victims.

Never Expected to See Well Day Again

"Orgatone Has Filled Me With New Life and Energy, Suffered 13 Years" Says Lubbock Farmer

"A year ago I didn't think that I would be a well man again, but Orgatone has put new life in me and I feel so good I'd like to give this statement for my gratification" was the statement made by C. L. Karr, of rural route 3, Lubbock, Texas, while taking with the Orgatone representative recently.

"I suffered for thirteen years, he went on, 'with a very severe case of stomach trouble. In spite of everything I did, I kept getting worse. Gas would form in my stomach and cause severe headaches and sharp shooting pains through my back, that would almost drive me distracted. At times I was extremely nervous and hardly got enough sleep.

"After every meal, I would just be in agony for hours afterward. When this gas formed on my stomach, it would cause shortness of breath and my heart would palpitate very fast, until I thought I had heart trouble. I suffered from liver and kidney trouble, which caused intense pain in my sides and back. At times, to tell you the truth, I did not care whether I lived or not, my suffering was so severe, and I knew if I didn't get something I wouldn't live much longer.

"A friend recommended Orgatone to me, and since taking it I feel like a new person, it has done me a wonderful amount of good. My nerves are perfectly steady the when I was a boy, and I am feeling more like my old self again. I feel lively and energetic and want to be stirring about and doing things. I eat anything I want, and sleep fine every night. All of my old troubles are gone. Orgatone has certainly saved me a lot of trouble, and it has done before and and I gladly recommend it every chance I get."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock, exclusively by the Bowers Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative. Out of town customers are being supplied by mail upon receipt of price of $1.25 per one bottle or $6.25 for six bottles. Adv.

LUBBOCK GOLF PARTY VICTOR

TWENTY OF COUNTRY CLUB HERE PLAY AT FLOYDADA

Twenty members of the Lubbock Country club composed the Lubbock delegation to Floydada Sunday afternoon when the local golfers took two out of three matches from the club of that city.

Leaving here Sunday morning, the Lubbock crowd was entertained by a lunch and spent the entire afternoon on the Floydada golf course. The Floydada club was unable to furnish competition for all the Lubbock golfers.

Dowell and Funk of Lubbock defeated Tubbs and Scott of Floydada, 5 to 4, in the opening match. Hutson and Holland beat out Tubbs and Marshall of Floydada, 11 to 10. Peck and Mitchell trimmed the Floydada duo composed of Johnson and his partner, 4 to 3.

The only match lost by the locals was won by Clounts and Randerson of Floydada. Bussey and Jennings were the losers.

Those making the trip from here were: J. O. Smith, Henry McLarty, Eric Posey, Ross McWhorter, Dan Mitchell, J. W. Byrne V. O. Jennings, C. Bussey, Jack May, Bob Peck, W. B. Kelly Fred Funk, J. D. Slaughter Frank Williford, H. McFarland, Wayne Hutson, Britton Dillard Otis Felty, B. Dowell, O. F. Holland.

BUCK GARRETT

those little glass knobs hell," he replied.

Ballew Was Deputy.

Buck's chief deputy at that time was Bud Ballew, another big man, red-haired, and fearless. Bud was reputed to have shot and killed about a score of men in his long service as a peace officer. He was shot and killed several years ago by City Marshal McCormick in Wichita Falls, Texas.

One night while the international search for the missing Miss Hamon was on, the faint sound of wild yells and the whir-r-r-r of pistol shots penetrated to the sheriff's office. Pretty soon the telephone rang and a sober, serious look crossed Buck's face.

"What's the matter, sheriff?" somebody asked.

"Aw, that fool Bud Ballew is raising cain."

Buck, followed by two or three of the more daring, hastened several blocks to the center of Ardmore's business district.

Was Making "Whoopee"

There stood the big, red-headed Bud in a semi-circle of onlookers in front of Ardmore's tallest building.

"Whoopee, whoopee, whoopee," shouted the red-head, whirled in a circle, and then cut loose with his six-gun at the top floor windows of the Simpson building, then Ardmore's outstanding skyscraper. Bud disdained the use of the new fangled automatics, or even the older double-action gun. His trusted weapon was the old-fashioned single-action gun which needed cocking before it could be fired. Nevertheless, so expert was he at "fanning" the hammer that his shooting sounded like a continuous explosion.

Undaunted, big Buck walked up to Ballew.

"Gimme that gun you crazy fool," Buck demanded.

Docilely Bud, the man with possibly a score of notches on his gun, passed over the shonon. Docilely he followed Buck away to "sleep it off," at the same time plaintively murmuring:

"Aw, Buck, don't bawl me out."

REVIEW WILL OPEN CHAUTAUQUA HERE THIS WEDNESDAY; PROGRAM VARIED

Jay Tobias, titled "The Prince of Comedians," and his company will be featured in the famous "Spice Cake Revue" Wednesday afternoon and night at opening day performance of the Redpath-Horner chautauqua it was announced today.

The huge tent for the programs in this city is located between fifteenth and Sixteenth streets on Texas Avenue.

W. W. Rix is president of the Lubbock chautauqua company and Mrs. J. V. Conner is secretary.

Clever makeups, colorful costumes Jay and his giant accordian, the saxaphone and other instruments are entertainment attractions of the comedy ensemble. "New Stunts for Collegians," in which Tobias is also the headliner.

"Colored Song Birds"

Appearing Thursday, The Jackson Jubes "colored song birds", offer a delightful program for those who enjoy the old negro chants, steamboat and cotton plantation songs.

Chester A. Sanford, vocational guidance expert will deliver a message of particular interest to the young person who is seeking to choose a profession. Questions he will deal with are: "What vocations pay the most? What new ones are developing which are overcrowded and dying out? What vocations are open to women?" He will answer individual questions at a special conference after the program.

"Skidding" will be the major stage production presented during the Chautauqua's appearance here. Brown and Meneley appear in the cast with Joy Johannes of New York's Theater guild.

Lubbock Girls Show Good In State Event

The Lubbock high school team made a wonderful showing in the state clothing contest held in Dallas last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. They took first honors among Class A schools of the state for the best exhibit and for making the best showing and were awarded for this the grand award which was an electric sewing machine. They also won first place in tailored costume; first place in traveling costume; and first place on feature points, which means that the Lubbock high school won more points in the contest than any other school in Class A in the state. This award included a five dollar cash prize. The school won second place on an ideal school girl, which included dress and health score. It won third place in general exhibit, which was made up of work selected from all clothing and related art classes. This award included a ten dollar cash prize.

RUPTURE
EXPERT HERE

C. F. Redlich, Minneapolis, Minn., nationally famous Rupture Appliance Expert, will demonstrate without charge his unequalled method at the Lubbock Hotel, Lubbock, Monday and Tuesday, May 6 and 7 from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Mr. C. F. Redlich says:

The "Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief and contract the opening in a remarkably short time.

The secret of their success is in their simplicity. An expertly adjusted device seals the opening without discomfort or detention from work. It is practically everlasting, sanitary, comfortable and actually holds ruptures which heretofore were considered uncontrollable.

"IF YOU WANT TO HAVE IT DONE RIGHT—SEE REDLICH."

Doctor J. W. Seaver, for many years in charge of the Physical Education of the students of Yale College, has recorded 75 percent cures with this system.

Mr. Redlich is internationally known and speaks English, German and Spanish.

DIVIDEND MADE IN STANDARD OIL

CHICAGO, May 6. (AP)—Directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana today declared a cash dividend of 62 1-2 cents a share on its capital stock, payable June 15 to stockholders of record May 16. The dividend is an increase of 6 1-4 cents per share over the corresponding dividend last year, when 62 1-2 cents and an extra 25 cents were paid, a distribution of 87 1-2c. Today's dividend would have been equal to 93 3-4 cents before the recent 50 percent stock dividend.

Spring housecleaning hint for Husbands

RADFORD paused in the upstairs hall.

"What!" he exclaimed, "not through yet ——."

From amid the chaos of housecleaning, Mrs. Radford looked up in exasperation.

"Get that coat off and help me put up this bed," she ordered, wearily shoving a stray lock of hair back beneath the towel about her head.

"How do you expect me to be through? I can't clean the upstairs, and spend the best part of the afternoon downstairs talking over the telephone, can I? I've been up and down those stairs forty times."

Radford had weathered many spring housecleanings. Wisely, he pulled off his coat and began to roll up his sleeves.

"I think," he observed sympathetically, "that an extension telephone up here in the hall might save steps and ——."

"Then suppose," interrupted his wife grimly, "that you order one for me tomorrow."

Telephones where you need them save time, patience, housewifely strength.

THE INSURANCE FIELD

A National Insurance Magazine

DANGER IN TEXAS

A flock of newly organized companies in Texas are giving to the people of that State a cleverly devised scheme of speculation, at its best, or plain gambling, at its worst. It is masked under the guise of life insurance and is potential with disappointment to the public interest and harmful to the well-established and solvent insurance companies of that State. Most of these speculative concerns are using the term "Mutual" as the leading snare and yet are appealing to the cupidity of the public with issues of stock as a bait for future profit.

The scheme in a general way is to offer one share of stock with every $1,000 of insurance issued, with the wholly speculative provision that the stock is to be paid up from the profits of the company. If the company is mutual how can there be any stock interest that could earn any "profit", unless that profit must come from policy holders who decline the stock bonus? In that case the mutual policyholders would be bled for the advantage of the stockholder and would not get the returns due to him.

If, on the other hand, all policyholders are to have both stock and insurance where does any advantage come from holding the stock, The mutual policy alone would be full evidence of a right to full share in all "profits"—that is all savings that may accure from the operation and tabular experience of the company.

The ultimate opportunities behind such a scheme for the speculative interests that put it forward are manifold, but none is clear. That there are opportunities under both good and bad management may be figured out. Under the best management it will be a long and difficult road to travel to the day when (if possible) the mutual interest can be transformed to stock owning. But under bad or incompetent management the opportunities to leave the deluded stockholder-policyholder without either stock value or life insurance are many. A fine profit might be realized by the "insiders" while the outsiders—the sheared sheep—would feel the pangs of winter and be frozen out. It can be done.

The worst aspect of the situation at present appears to be the glittering promises which salesmen are making to the "prospects" for life insurance, making them believe that fortune is right ahead, with the implication that old life insurance companies are taking advantage of them.

The old-established companies of Texas and the board of insurance commissioners are worried and yet apparently helpless. We are not familiar with Texas decisions pointing to a way out, but a common law proceeding for injunction might bring the whole tortuous possibilities of the scheme forward and inform the public and the legislative powers.

According to Best's Life Insurance Reports for 1928, twenty-three legal reserve companies organized in Texas retired from business between January 1, 1910 and the date of the publication in 1928.

The policyholders of these organizations were protected, of course, but it is very questionable if the stockholders of the stock companies were satisfied with the outcome of their investments.

If you contemplate increasing your insurance, or, if you are interested in purchasing life insurance stock, see your local agent, he is well informed and prepared to give you good advice.
