Report of Staff Study Of Police Department

This is a continuance of the report on a study of the City Police Department made by the International Association of Chiefs of Police:

Direction

Direction is the process of guiding or regulating the total resources of the department for the purpose of achieving established police goals and objectives. Although direction applies to all available resources, it is particularly concerned with interpersonal relationships that are vitally affected by motivation, leadership, and communication. In police agencies, direction is accomplished primarily by the written directives, by periodic staff conferences, and by interaction between the chief and his officers. In the Rockport Police Department, the management function of direction has not received appropriate attention and will require substantial improvement if the department is to function more effectively in the future.

The chief of the Police Department may make or prescribe such rules and regulations as he shall deem advisable; such rules, when approved by the Council shall be binding on such members. Such rules and regulations may cover, besides, the conduct of the members, uniforms, and equipment to be worn or carried, hours of service, vacations and all other similar matters as desirable for the better efficiency of the department.

There is no manual of rules and regulations for the operation of the Rockport Police Department. One "order," covering such matters as chain of command, departmental equipment, prisoner property, and patrol boundaries, comprises the total written procedures for the Police Department.

It is not feasible for a small police department to publish a detailed and sophisticated system of directives, administrative policies, and procedures. However, even in the smallest departments, some directives and policies are of sufficient importance to be issued formally in writing. At the time of this staff study, formal written directives are lacking in such important areas as:

- Use and discharge of fire arms.
- Off-duty employment of police personnel.
- Receipt, recording, and investigating of civilian complaints against police officers.
- Receipt, recording, and storage of evidence or contraband.
- Handling and treatment of juveniles.

Control
Control is the process of determining whether or not actual police operations, policies, and procedures are being followed as desired, and of taking appropriate corrective action where they are not. Control is facilitated through observation, inspection, investigation, and police records and reports. Essentially, controlling consists of establishing a system of checks and balances on certain key operations and procedures so that mistakes or departures from the original plans become immediately apparent.

Combined Vacation Church School Set

The Presbyterian and Methodist churches will hold a combined vacation church school.

Classes will be held for nursery through sixth grade July 12-16 from 8:45 to 11 a.m. at the Methodist Church. The school will close July 16 with a browsing period at 6:50, followed by a sharing program by the children with supper immediately after the program.

All parents and children are asked to bring sandwiches sufficient for their families. Potato chips and drinks will be furnished by the school.

The theme of the week will be "The Builder of All Things is God."

parent. The managerial function of control involves four essential steps:

1. Determining the extent to which police operations are proceeding according to plan.
2. Evaluating the facts to determine what corrections, if any, are needed.
3. Making corrections and modifications in time to bring police operations back into line with operational plans without loss of effort.
4. Evaluating the extent to which individual police operations contribute to overall police goals.

Budgeting

It would be desirable for the chief to participate fully in the budget process and to be afforded some voice in the budget decision-making process. The chief should prepare the initial budget request and should submit written justification to support his request. He should then be given an opportunity to discuss his budget request with the City Council. In this manner, the City Council and the mayor will be fully informed about the needs of the police, and therefore will be in a better position to evaluate the proposed budget and to make a final determination on specific items in terms of needs and priorities.

Planning

Planning is the conscious process of selecting and developing the best possible course of future action in order to accomplish police goals. Without planning, the objectives of even a small police organization cannot be achieved effectively. One of the most critical deficiencies in police management today is the lack of short-range and long-range formal planning. Many police chiefs rely on operating personnel to deal with situations as they arise without adequate advance planning. The planning function cannot be completely understood overnight; it requires formal training and education coupled with experience in the application of sound management and administrative procedures. Effective implementation of the recommendations contained in this report will require an adequate understanding of the police planning function. Planning must precede the introduction of any program, system, or effort in the department. Without planning, effective direction and control are not possible.

Recommendations

1. Establish a written directives system.
2. Complete a manual of rules and regulations in draft form. Once the manual has been approved by the City Council, issue to all personnel.
3. Permit the chief to participate more fully in preparing the police budget, and in the budget decision-making process.

Section 5 — Personnel

Administration

The area of selecting new employees and making use of the existing staff to obtain maximum quality and quantity of output and services is called personnel administration. The degree of success in obtaining organizational objectives is contingent upon the quality of the organization's personnel. Proper recruitment, selection, training, motivation, and discipline of police personnel have an immediate influence on the capacity of the department to protect life and property and to serve the public.

Enabling legislation for personnel administration in Rockport is found in City Ordinance No. 91, Section 2, dated May 10, 1961. "All members of the Police Department shall be appointed by the City Council, and such police officers shall hold their office at the pleasure of the City Council."

Recruitment and Selection

The only established requirement for employment with the Local Gas Well Explosion Injures 4 Men

Four men were injured in a gas well explosion and fire at the mouth of St. Charles Bay shortly before midnight July 2.

H. A. Harmon, 46, and Jordan Maleck, 35, both of Robstown, were taken to Memorial where they were admitted to the burn center.

A spokesman for Memorial said Maleck suffered first, second and possibly third degree burns on his face, arms, chest and back. Harmon had first and second degree burns on his hands, arms and chest. Both were reported in satisfactory condition.

Aransas County Sheriff Bob Hewes identified the other two men as Al Sossman and Delmar Calloway.

Hewes said the Friday night fire was reported at 11:45 and that by 12:45 a.m. Saturday the fire had been put out.

More trouble developed on the Getty Oil Co. well, which is located about two miles south of the Sea Gun Marina in Rockport, at about 5:30 p.m. Saturday when it began spewing gas. It was immediately abandoned.

F. M. Brown, captain of the fishing and excursion boat Whoooping Crane, said he was returning to the Sea Gun Marina and was about 300 yards from the well when it "blew out" and gas began shooting high above the rig. Brown said he had to back up his 65-foot boat away from the area.

The Rockport skipper said he had seen several men running for one of several boats tied to the drilling rig shortly before it blew out. Within minutes three or four boats filled with crewmen were seen leaving the rig, according to Brown.

The sheriff's office said that there were no injuries reported following Saturday's accident. The Flournoy Drilling Co. of Alice is working on the rig.

Harry L. Franklin, Corpus Christi city petroleum superintendent and general manager of the newly formed Corpus Christi Area Oil Spill Control Association, said the blow out had not caused any major problems.

"I think we're well past the danger point . . . in the risk of further contamination of the bay or creating anything more serious," said Franklin, who went to the rig. Franklin said that the gas condensate which spilled into the bay would probably "evaporate by morning."

Drilling pipes were being pulled out from the 10,847-foot well when it blew out, according to Franklin.

Library News

Books were given to the Aransas County Public Library recently by Mrs. W. B. Cantrell, Mrs. William Blanton, Mrs. Eva Lutz, Mrs. Falba Brown and Mrs. F. W. Klausen. A large number of records were given by Mrs. Dave Segler.

A memorial was received from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roe, Jr. Rotary birthday gifts were received from Jerry Shaw, Ken Leith, George Dickey, James Sorenson, Rev. Cecil Lang and Port Little.

The Texas Reading Club now has 165 members, and they have read during the month of June 2164 books.

There were 1922 visitors to the Library last month, and the total book circulation was 3100.

New books are being received every few days, and should you not find what you want on the shelves, it can be ordered from the Reference Referral Library System and usually will be received in a few days.

The Reference Referral Center for this library is La Retama Library of Corpus Christi, and should they not be able to fill a request, they place it through other libraries in the state.

Since there are so many events, they will start at 10 a.m. sharp.

At the Utopia rodeo, the South Texas Mounted Squares were greeted with two dances one swimming party, a free barbecue and a trail ride. They set pivots for the grand entry, both Friday night and Saturday night.

The performances they gave were well viewed by everyone.

Names Omitted

The Pilot regrets that two names were inadvertently omitted from the list of candidates for Navigation District commissioners under "Political Announcements" in the last two issues of the paper.

The names left out by mistake from this column were Francis M. "Monte" Rouquette, candidate for commissioner from Precinct 4, and Leon Bateman, candidate for commissioner at large.

SALES TAX SCHEDULE

As a service to local business people and others involved in collection of state and local sales taxes, First National Bank is distributing a schedule of taxes on sales ranging from one cent to $100.09. It covers the Texas sales tax of 4 percent which went into effect July 1 and the Rockport city tax of 1 percent. For permanence the schedule is printed on plastic coated material.

MINI-DONKEY at the zoo in Frankfurt, West Germany, is less than two feet high. Named "Twiggy," the little package is a big favorite with children.

Board Hires Water Safety Patrolman

Lt. Col. William F. Dickson, USAF retired, from Mansfield, Ark., has been employed as the water safety patrolman in the Ski Basin in a move to make this area a safe place for water sports.

Equipped with an outboard motor boat supplied by Aransas County Navigation District, Dickson already is on the job and is making his presence known to discourage excess speed and reckless operation of speed boats. Dickson holds current Senior Life-saving and Water Safety instructor ratings.

The water safety program is a joint effort by the Navigation District, the City of Rockport and a group of interested citizens who have contributed the funds to pay Dickson's salary and other expenses while the safety program is operating during July and August.

Dickson, unaware that the Navigation District and the City were looking for a qualified water safety patrolman, stopped in the Chamber of Commerce office, said he liked the looks of Rockport and asked about employment opportunities.

Mrs. Loyce Landrum, secretary-manager of the Chamber, and John Kinsey, public relations director, visited with him. Mrs. Landrum told him about attractions of the Rockport area and Kinsey told him about the water safety patrolman job. Dickson applied and was hired.

Area Publicised In National Ad

Attention was focused on the Rockport area in a two-page advertisement placed by USS Homes, Division of United States Steel, in five magazines: Florida Architect, Florida Builder, Southern Builder, Southwestern Builder and Professional Builder.

The advertisement pictured Sam Canterbury of Canterbury Construction Company in two photos—one in front of a USS Home he built at Key Allegro Isle and the other in front of a USS Home he built at Peninsula Oaks Subdivision.

Sentenced to Pen

Daniel Dominguez, charged with assault with intent to murder with malice aforethought, was sentenced to not less than two years nor more than 15 years in the penitentiary. He was sentenced July 1 by District Judge John Miller after Dominguez pleaded guilty.

Soul Chargers Play July 9

The Soul Chargers, formerly the Rockport Eagles, will play a double header Friday, July 9, in Aransas Pass on the Jaycees field at 6 p.m. Their opponents will be the Wolf Pack from Ingleside and the Jaycees from Aransas Pass.

The Soul Chargers have a season record of five wins and two losses. Members of the team are: Clarence Price, Allan Recton, M. J. Recton, Freddy Crothers, Sam Morgan, Sam Morgan, Jr., Melvin Morgan, Bobby Lewis, Vic Stuart, Walter Lott, Eugene Cook and Gregory Simmons.

Bobby Lewis and Eugene Cook are managers and Sam Morgan Cass is assistant manager.

Genealogy Group To Hear Historian

Dr. Ray Stephens will speak to the Coastal Bend Genealogical Society in La Retama Public Library on Saturday, July 10. Stephens, a professor of history at North Texas State University, is currently researching the history of Aransas County since its creation by the Texas State Legislature in 1871.

He will discuss the strategic position of Aransas County on the Texas Gulf coast as once a major Texas port when it became a cosmopolitan community attracting persons from all over the United States and from Europe. The economic structure of Aransas County has undergone several changes—once a thriving livestock export center for Southwest Texas, it became a leader in truck farming and also gained utmost importance as a place for commercial and sports fishing. The mauling of ships and boats is also a part of its heritage.

Tourism plays a major role in the life of Aransas County. During the late nineteenth century and all during the twentieth century, Aransas County seasonally became a gathering place for persons seeking recreation, health, or better living conditions.

Because of its present variety of ethnic surnames and the influx of countless visitors to the community, Aransas County should be a fertile field for genealogists to search for particular names. Dr. Stephens will discuss various ways such a search might be conducted.

Continue Search For Fisherman

A search was continued Wednesday for Frank Leonard Willis, 50, of Universal City near San Antonio, whose rented boat was found empty on the beach of Aransas Bay Sunday.

Sheriff Bob Hewes said the search for Willis, whose hat, wallet and fishing gear were found in the boat, was temporarily called off at dark Tuesday night.

A helicopter from the Coast Guard Station in Corpus Christi and a Coast Guard boat from Port Aransas searched the area Monday and Tuesday, along with area law enforcement officers.

C of C Happenings

The Chamber of Commerce was pleased to have an opportunity to participate in the highly successful second annual art festival sponsored by the Rockport Art Association.

The C of C had a booth, staffed by secretary-manager Loyce Landrum, Pam Colley, Joy McLead and Melline Landrum, where literature about the Rockport area was distributed to hundreds of visitors. Also, ice cold drinking water was appreciated by many who stopped by.

The Chamber of Commerce welcomes another new member: Coastal Appliance Service Company at 631 Verne Street.

NOTICE

The Woman's Club of Aransas County will not meet in July. The next regular meeting will be August 10.

Navigation District Election Saturday

Youths 18, 19, 20 Win Right to Vote

According to information received by County-District Court Clerk Ruby Hart from Secretary of State Martin Dies, Jr., youths 18, 19 and 20 years old will be able to vote in the Navigation District election July 10, IF they are registered to vote for federal elections.

The notice Mrs. Hart received from Dies stated: "This is to formally notify you that persons 18, 19, or 20 years of age who are presently registered to vote for federal elections only may now vote in ALL elections in your county and other political subdivisions."

"The 26th Amendment to the United States Constitution lowering the voting age to 18 in all elections has been duly ratified by the state legislatures as prescribed by the Federal Constitution. The Federal Register in Washington D.C. confirmed July 1, 1971, that this new amendment went into immediate effect. This United States Constitutional Amendment overrides Article VI of the Texas Constitution insofar as it requires an otherwise qualified voter to be 21 years of age to be eligible to vote. Thus as of July 1, 1971, any registered 18, 19, or 20 year old may vote in ANY election—federal, state, county, city or other political subdivision."

Rockport Rocks With Art Festival

An estimated crowd of over 5,000 people viewed the Second Annual Rockport Art Festival on July 3rd and 4th at Harbor Oaks.

Even before the opening at 11 a.m. Saturday, viewers had begun to arrive by the hundreds to see over 3,000 works of art created by 125 noted artists from all over the state of Texas and California, including works by 23 members of the Rockport Art Association.

Though the temperatures soared into the 90's during the day, there was a breeze and the artists were all comfortable in their covered cabanas especially constructed for the Festival. It was only the spectators and workers who were sporting fine sunburns after the show. But no one seemed to care, as the traffic of viewers and buyers remained consistent during the whole two days' festivities.

Most of the out of town artists were not expecting such a large audience in Rockport and by 3 p.m. on the 4th, many had completely sold out of their work and were all in the concessions tent visiting, eating, and commenting on the hospitality of the community and the out of town visitors.

Art sales remained brisk during both days and the few who did not sell well remarked that they would not have missed such a good time on the 4th of July for anything. All in all, the Art Festival was an overwhelming success and the participation and attendance was far greater than the expectations of the Rockport Art Association. The Art Festival for 1972 for the 4th of July should again help Rockport "rock."

CHURCH OF GOD REVIVAL

Revival meetings will be held July 12 through 16 at the Rockport Church of God. One of the highlights will be performances by the Cathis Trio from Plainfield, New Jersey who sing hymns of faith. They have sung in hospitals, churches, prisons and other places throughout the nation and in Bermuda.

ALL STAR AWARDS

The Little League and Pee-wee League all star awards will be given Saturday, July 10, at the baseball field sometime during the game.

The election of five commissioners for the Aransas County Navigation District No. 1 will be held Saturday, July 10. One commissioner will be elected from each of the four precincts, and one will be elected from the county at large.

The candidates, listed in the same order their names will appear on the ballot as determined by drawing, are:

Precinct 1-1A: William M. Brown, Jr., Milton Harrell and Fernando Martinez.

Precinct 2: Richard J. Fox (unopposed).

Precinct 3: Jack T. Smith, Robert M. Hill, R. W. Landrum and Mrs. Tommy (Mary Lou) McGlathery.

Precinct 4-4A: J. Henry von Pein, Francis M. "Monte" Rouquette and Charles Herbert Mills.

At large: Bernita Kinsey, W. E. (Ed) Beasley, Eugene W. Carter, James T. Little, David Maguglin and Leon Bateman.

Voting will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Polling places are as follows:

- 1-A: Voting Center in Aransas Pass.
- 1: V.F.W. Hall.
- 2: Courthouse.
- 3: Fulton Baptist Mission.
- 4: Fulton Fire Station.
- 4-A: Lamar Fire Station.

An indication of the interest in the Navigation District election was gained from the announcement by Mrs. Ruby Hart, county-district clerk, that 60 persons voted absentee.

Rotary Club Installs Officers

Officers for the 1971-72 year were installed by the Rotary club at a luncheon meeting Wednesday at Corky's Restaurant.

The new officers are Pat Smith, president; Vernon Kleypas, vice president; Bob McBride, secretary-treasurer; Roy Hicks, sergeant-at-arms; and Sam Wilcox, program chairman. Other members of the board of directors are Harry Allen, Bill Stubbs and R. L. Eckman.

Tim Von Dohlen, state representative for the 42nd district which includes Aransas county, described his impressions and experiences as a freshman lawmaker.

He said the majority of members of the state legislature are conscientious and hard working, pointing out that while daily legislative sessions generally are rather brief, every member serves on committees that often meet until midnight. He said 1,800 bills were introduced in the House and 1,200 in the Senate in the last session.

Von Dohlen, who was a member of the Public Health committee as well as the Agriculture, Banking, Claims and State Affairs committees said welfare and drug abuse are probably the most important problems facing the state today. He introduced and helped pass a bill which will increase the severity of penalties against drug sellers and pushers. As to welfare, he said that at one point welfare cases were increasing at an average rate of 10,000 a month.

He asserted that annual sessions of the legislature would promote efficiency and economy by forcing state departments to be more responsive to the legislature and by taking some of the guesswork out of budgeting which at present must be worked out approximately 36 months in advance. He also urged support of a constitutional convention to bring the Texas constitution up to date.

Search Planned for Dangers to Shipping

A four-month search will get underway in August in the Gulf of Mexico for damages to shipping.

The project will be carried out by America's only wire drag vessels, the RUDE and HECK. Their mission, requiring several years, is to find sunken wrecks and other submerged hazards in the shipping lanes leading to U. S. ports in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida.

The RUDE and HECK are operated by the National Ocean Survey of the Commerce Department's National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. The sister ships are scheduled to leave Norfolk, Va., July 13. They will work this year in the shipping lanes leading to New Orleans, La., and Galveston, Texas. The 90-foot, 190-ton vessels are commanded by Cdr. James Collins of Hyannis, Mass., and each carries a normal complement of two officers and a crew of eight.

The NOAA ships will conduct operations within shipping lanes (known also as fairways) first charted by the National Ocean Survey in 1966. The fairways were placed on nautical charts to guide coastal and ocean-going vessels safely between the numerous oil well platforms which rise above the Gulf surface as far out as 60 miles. No drilling structures are allowed in them. Fairway ports include: Texas, Brownsville, Port Isabel, Port Mansfield, Corpus Christi, Aransas Pass, Port Lavaca, Port O'Connor, Freeport, Houston, Galveston, Orange, Beaumont, Port Neches, Port Arthur; Louisiana—Lake Charles, Cameron, Houma, New Orleans; Mississippi—Gulfport, Biloxi, Pascagoula; Alabama—Mobile; Florida—Pensacola, Panama City, Port St. Joe, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Bradenton, Punta Gorda.

The ships' task will be to search the fairways for partially removed oil platforms, pilings, pipes, sand bars and rocks, wrecks or any submerged object that presents a hazard to vessels. More than 70 reported navigational hazards will be included in the search.

The RUDE and HECK will tow a submerged wire between them as they sweep assigned areas. Each obstruction they find will be identified, the depth over it determined, and its position plotted on an NOS chart of the area. Shipping will be advised immediately, through the Notice to Mariners, of those considered hazardous and all pertinent charts will be corrected.

CHEMICAL HANDLING RULES OUTLINED

Agricultural chemicals can be used or misused, according to the Texas Safety Association. To use them properly, agri-businessmen should always read the labels and follow directions to the letter. Children should be kept away from mixing and spraying areas. In addition, chemicals should always be stored in their original containers in safe areas inaccessible to children and animals.

Additional Amounts of HUD's Flood Insurance Now Available

The U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development announced that effective July 2, 1971, local property and casualty agents can start selling additional coverage in Rockport under HUD's National Flood Insurance Program.

The National Flood Insurers Association has designated the Home Insurance Company, 2100 Travis Street, Houston, Texas 77002 as the servicing company for Rockport. Agents should contact this company immediately to obtain policy forms, rates, flood insurance manuals, and any other necessary information.

Federal Insurance Administrator, George K. Bernstein explained that coverage under the regular flood insurance program should not be confused with coverage under the emergency program.

Under the emergency program, he added, limited amounts of flood insurance can be bought at federally subsidized rates for structures existing at the time the community became eligible, June 1970 and for new construction outside the area of special flood hazard, once the area has been defined.

Under the regular program, he said, flood protection at actuarial rates is now available for the first time for new or substantially improved construction which was started after the emergency program became effective, and which is located within the area of special flood hazard.

Additional coverage at actuarial rates can now also be purchased for existing structures within the entire area eligible for flood insurance, and for new or substantially improved construction located outside the area of special flood hazard.

Property owners who fail to purchase flood insurance within a year after their community becomes eligible stand to lose in more ways than one in the event their property is flooded after the year expires, Bernstein said.

Under the National Flood Insurance Act, Federal financial disaster aid is limited in such cases to the difference between the total estimated property loss from flooding and the amount for which the property could have been insured. Other forms of Federal disaster, however, would still be available.

Besides, covering against loss, the Federal flood insurance program helps promote floodplain management and land use control.

In becoming eligible for flood insurance, Mr. Bernstein said, communities pledge to adopt land use measures appropriate to the characteristics and specific flood threat for the individual community. These measures are generally designed to guide future development away from flood hazard areas and set construction standards, such as minimum foundation and floor elevations.

Official maps identifying local flood hazard areas can be examined at City Hall.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

Proper processing, preparation and handling of foods could virtually wipe out one of man's most common enemies — food poisoning — says the Texas State Department of Health.

Each year in Texas many people are poisoned by their own hands through improper canning of foodstuffs. With summer upon us and a plentiful supply of fresh fruits and vegetables available, now is the time to look at canning procedures.

It has been reported by health authorities that over 62 per cent of food poisoning cases in California were due to home canned string beans, asparagus, fruits, and other vegetables. Another 24 per cent was due to the preparation of animal products. With the great amount of home canning and freezing done in Texas, you can see why officials of the Texas State Department of Health are concerned about the possible occurrence of this potentially fatal disease.

Food poisoning, or "Botulism," is caused by a deadly poison produced by a germ that is very resistant to heat and cold and can grow without air. The vast majority of reported cases of botulism have been due to eating improperly processed home-canned foods.

Studies on the heat resistance of the spores of the botulism germ prove that home canning by the cold pack method, which is still widely used in Texas, is extremely dangerous. The pressure cooker method should be used for canning instead.

The disagreeable odor evident with spoiled food is not a sure-fire way to detect food poisoning. Many canned foods may be free of obnoxious odor and may appear in good condition, but could contain organisms of botulism. The spoiled order is usually associated with non-acid foods such as vegetables.

Nausea and vomiting usually occur within 24 hours. Diarrhea may occur early, but in the later stages of the disease, constipation is present. Death can occur due to respiratory failure.

It is usually wise to boil all home canned foods for at least 30 minutes before eating. This is particularly true when the pressure cooker has not been used.

Texas Health Department officials say that proper preparation of all foods could make botulism a thing of the past.

"Accent on Health" is a weekly service of the Public Health Education Division of Texas State Department of Health.

"A BUY FROM SECURITY — IS A BUY OF SECURITY"

YOUNG FAMILIES HAVE SOCIAL SECURITY TOO

Most young people think of Social Security as something you receive when you get old, according to H. H. Cleveland, district manager of the Social Security Administration. For the 50 per cent of our population who are under 30, old age is just to remote to consider.

"It is unfortunate that such a large portion of the population overlook the valuable protection which young families have in case of death or disability," Cleveland said. "Each month nearly two and a half million disabled workers and their dependents receive social security checks. In addition, millions of young widows with children receive checks each month.

"When so many young people receive benefits each month, it should be obvious that social security plays an important part in the financial security of young families," Cleveland added. "Of course, the amount of benefits payable varies with the worker's average earnings. However, it is possible for the family of a young disabled or deceased worker to receive as much as $482.70 a month."

For more information about social security for young workers, telephone 883-5511 or write to the Social Security Administration, 1802 South Staples Street, Corpus Christi, Texas 78404.

VOTE

DAVID MAGUGLIN

Candidate at Large

ARANSAS COUNTY NAVIGATION DISTRICT

July 10, 1971

He is the only candidate for this office that lives in Voting Precinct 1A, Aransas County (Aransas Pass).

This voting box is the only voting box (with the exception of 4A, Lamar) that doesn't provide the election of a representative on the Navigation District from its area.

It is the contemplation of framers of the Statute enlarging the membership on the Navigation District that this area, Precinct 1A, would get its representation from the Office at Large.

Aransas Pass within Aransas County needs representation on the Navigation District Board and the Aransas County Navigation District needs representation from Aransas Pass.

Revolutions have been fought over the principle of 'Taxation Without Representation'.

David Maguglin is a businessman both in Aransas Pass and Rockport, as well as the rest of Aransas County. He is the bulk dealer (wholesaler) for the Texas Company and owns, among others the Texaco Filling Station near the Rockport-Fulton High School.

David Maguglin is at this time a Member on the Navigation District Board, having been appointed to fill the vacancy created by the death of Ted Little. He is familiar with its work and its problems and is interested in serving longer, is well liked where he is known, and has done a good job during the term that he has served.

David Maguglin is one of our successful young men, 40 years of age, has lived in Aransas County for 35 years, is a Churchman, a Civic Leader, a family man and has the best interest of Aransas County at heart.

Conn Brown Harbor is in the Voting Precinct where David Maguglin lives and is the Largest Harbor in the Aransas County Navigation District.

treasurer of the Rockport Conservation Association, said that his group would demand that drilling be banned from the bay as a result of the incident.

Cochran said the group will insist that the state "do something."

"They can't be allowed to exploit these bays much more or we won't have any," Cochran said. "We depend on this bay as recreational area in order to draw tourists here."

Saturday's blow out was capped within two hours and, according to Franklin, there is no further danger of another blow-out.

The world's richest oil reserves are in Saudi Arabia.

Rockport Police Department is that the candidate be at least 21 years of age. This is a state requirement. No appointment criteria are established by city ordinance. There are no educational requirements (although the chief of police states that 10th grade education is the unofficial minimum), no formal height or weight requirements, no vision requirements, and only a cursory background examination is conducted. The chief states that there are informal standards such as a minimum height of 5'7½" with weight in proportion to height, and vision correctable to 20/20. When a candidate files an application with the department, he is interviewed by the chief. If the chief determines that the candidate should continue in the process, he recommends the appointment to the City Council.

Candidates are fingerprinted, and their fingerprints are checked through the Department of Public Safety and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. This is the extent of the background investigation. The city of Rockport should have minimum recruitment standards and a formal selection process. Without minimum standards, the city allows "back door" entrance into the police profession, thus depriving its citizens of the high caliber of personnel required by modern law enforcement.

In 1947, the state of Texas established a civil service system for policemen and firemen. The city of Rockport does not operate under these laws since its population does not qualify it as a civil service city. We recommend that the city pass an ordinance adopting, with certain modifications, the Texas State Civil Service Law. Copies of the employment standards should be made available to members of the Police Department.

Age. A maximum entrance age of 29 should be adopted; however, candidates who have had previous full-time municipal or county law enforcement experience should be accepted up to a maximum age of 35. The younger candidate has probably selected law enforcement as his first choice over other callings, where the older candidate has usually attempted some other line of endeavor without success. Young officers are more easily trained and more adaptable to the rigors of police service.

Background Investigation. The department's background investigation of applicants needs to be upgraded. The present fingerprint checks are proper and should continue. In addition to fingerprinting applicants, the department should use a Personal History Statement to obtain various other types of pertinent background data. All items of information should be checked, including references, previous employers and school information. (To Be Continued)

PROTECTIVE CABS URGED FOR TRACTORS

In 1970, accidents involving farm and ranch machinery took lives of at least 40 persons. The Texas Safety Association says these deaths can be prevented if agri-businessmen will keep children away from and off of machinery, avoid tractor upsets, and equip tractors with protective frames or cabs, and use safety belts.

WATER ACCIDENT PREVENTION TOLD

Last year in Texas 31 persons died in water-oriented accidents that took place on farms and ranches. The Texas Safety Association says these deaths can be prevented if you teach your children how to swim, safeguard stock ponds to protect children, and provide flotation devices near all water on rural property.

FED UP WITH YOUR JOB? WANT AN INDEPENDENT CAREER OF YOUR OWN?

It will pay you to look into the Texaco Retail Business.

As a career, a Texaco Retail Operation offers you the chance to be in business for yourself—a chance to profit from your own independent efforts and decisions. Many Texaco Retailers earn over $15,000 a year. And they enjoy a rewarding career—in terms of income, prestige, and personal satisfaction.

Security? A Texaco Retailer enjoys far greater security than most jobs can offer—the security he earns through his own efforts. No one can take his skills from him. And his services are always in demand.

Previous service station experience is not necessary to qualify for a Texaco Retailership. Investment requirements are surprisingly low. And Texaco will help you get started with:

- * Financial assistance
- * Complete training, with pay, while you learn
- * On-the-job guidance to profitable management
- * Strong advertising and promotion support

To The Voters Of Aransas County

If you don't vote you are not doing your duty to your community.

If you do vote think of the many factors involved in a Commissioners' service on the Navigation District of the people of this County.

Those whose livelihood comes from the resources, the Bays and the Gulf provide need representation.

Those who employ workmen to build and service boats need representation.

Those dedicated individuals, many of them, who have worked for years to save our Natural Resources need representation.

Those recreation seekers and sportsmen who need clean water need representation, so that the big ones who get away will show up again.

The bird watchers and the nature lovers need representation so that all the habitats will not be destroyed.

Those who believe in saving the resources left before they are all gone, and who also believe in water front improvements, but on the basis that a dollar spent returns a dollar value to the tax payer, need representation.

When we get five men on the Navigation District who will give ear and voice to all those mentioned above, then we can pass a Bond Issue, then we can do more to save our Natural Resources and increase the benefits from our Bays, so valuable to all. Yet from our current experience they are so easy to lose.

Paid for by one who believes all things are possible to work out, if the interests of all the people are considered and good judgment is used in establishing priorities based on the need and the ability to provide.

TRANQUILIZER.

If you think electric air conditioning just cools you're in for a pleasant surprise.

It's sticky hot outside. The kids are playing. Horns are honking. Dust is blowing. So your nerves are on edge. And you're sneezy. Cool off. You can stop outside noises. Breathe easy in dust-free air. Stop the high heat and humidity, too. All with electric air conditioning. Just one window unit will give you a cool, clean, quiet oasis. Or for a whole houseful of tranquil comfort, install central electric cooling. You'll see — the most important condition of air conditioning is that it keeps you dry... and clean... and quiet... as well as cool.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. James N. Hayden of Rockport announce the engagement and approaching marriage to their daughter, Karen Lynne, to Charles Edward Peters, son of Mrs. Marianne Peters of Aransas Pass and Mr. Arthur W. Peters of Houston. The wedding is set for August 13 in Rockport.

The Kinsey Report

The Rockport area certainly was a wonderful place to be over the Fourth of July weekend, with a wide variety of exciting events to please everyone.

Some of the major attractions which brought out crowds of people having fun included:

A barbecue by the folks at Holiday Beach on Saturday, with finger-licking chicken and all the trimmings pleasing all who stopped in;

The magnificent art show staged by the Rockport Art Association at Harbor Oaks Subdivision. Hundreds of local persons and visitors took advantage of this outstanding opportunity to view and purchase fine paintings and other works of art;

Three days of golf tournaments at Live Oak Country Club for those who like to hit that little white ball and enjoy the competition and sociability that goes with it;

The annual Rockport Lions Club 4th of July barbecue which has become a tradition. As always, the food was excellent and it didn't take too long before all the chicken, beef, sausage, potato salad and beans were sold out;

The spectacular fireworks display at Key Allegro;

Plus the usual swimming, sailing, water skiing and, of course, fishing.

So, there was entertainment to please everyone, which is the way of life in the Rockport-Fulton-Lamar area.

Sonny Bohn of New Orleans, La., is visiting his mother, Mrs. Doug Smith and children who are at their summer home in Fulton.

For

Navigation Board Member

(the last name on the ballot)

SATURDAY, JULY 10

When is the last time you have looked to see how much of our bays are closed to oysters, because of pollution? Nearly a third of it is! This is something that is creeping up on us.

We need a man who is in daily contact with these problems, so that the Navigation Board can act immediately to help curb them, not a man who is never around and acts only when the complaint is brought to him from the community.

Rockport is noted for its many different species of birds. I have personally met people from all over the country who come to our area to see this wildlife. This contributes a portion to our economy; my stand on this is that we must protect our wildlife sanctuaries before it is too late.

I, Leon Bateman, am interested in saving the taxpayers' money. With my knowledge of the surrounding bays, channels, and the tide action of this area, I believe I can put the taxpayers' money to the best use. It is useless to have a channel dug, only to have the tides cover it up immediately. Also, let's put the money where the whole community can benefit and not a select few.

The water is not something you learn about overnight or just because you are elected to the Navigation Board. It takes years of experience and after 26 years of being on the water and 13 years of actual employment on the water. I feel my experience can help stop pollution, protect our bird sanctuaries and nesting grounds, save the taxpayers' money, and put in new ideas for safer boating laws.

I am self-employed and not obligated to any firm, should they ask for special favors.

When you go to the polls to vote for the candidate of your choice, ask yourself one question: Is this man qualified? Or is it just to supplement his income.

You have two votes—one for the candidate in your precinct and one for the candidate-at-large.
