Ambulance Board Contemplates Plan

Mitchell County Ambulance Board met in an unannounced session Thursday in Root Memorial Hospital with Hospital Director Charles Root.

Present for the meeting were Bob Reily, representing the Hospital District, Larry Hamner and Councilman Buddy Hertenberger, representing the city, and Commissioner Paul Hunter representing the County.

The purpose of the meeting was to review four possible alternatives to the present plan under which the Ambulance Service operates.

The City Police currently run the ambulance, utilizing off duty patrolmen as drivers and technicians. This practice had proved detrimental to the police force in some instances because of the necessary hours spent in ambulance operation.

Root has offered a plan, moving the service to the hospital. This plan was reviewed during the Ambulance Board meeting Thursday with suggestions for revision to make the plan more operable.

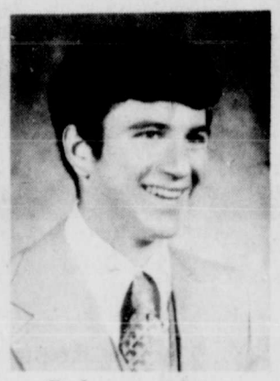

Alternative plans using the police force and private businesses subsidized by the three entities (County, City and Hospital District) were also reviewed. Details for these proposals are not currently available.

Hamner will present the proposals to the City Council for review and approval at the next meeting scheduled at 7 p.m. Tuesday at City Hall.

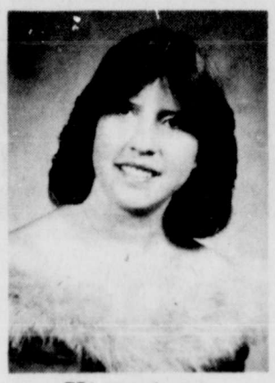

Past board member, Paul Hunter, attended the Thursday meeting in place of Commissioner Johnny Shackelford who was unable to attend. Hunter stated, "There are a great many factors to be considered and problems to be solved before we can come to a definite conclusion. We are trying to the best of our abilities to determine the proper plan to utilize available funds and give the most adequate service."

'Annie' Holdover Shows Cancelled

Two holdover performances of the Colorado City Playhouse production of Annie Get Your Gun have had to be cancelled.

Efforts were made to postpone the holdover performances to other nights but this could not be done because members of the cast had already made committments to do other things.

The holdover performances were scheduled to be held Monday and Tuesday but Annie Oakley in the production, Sarah Coleman of Snyder, developed a throat strain, one that threatened permanent damage, and could not talk or sing. On the advice of her doctor she would not have been able to perform until late this week or next week.

However, other cast members had conflicts with other nights as they had already made plans to be involved in other activities.

Playhouse President Carl Beery Moore said every effort was made to reschedule the production so that everyone who had tickets for the holdover performances would get to see the musical. The two holdover performances were completely sold out with a waiting list.

This is the first time anything like this has happened in Playhouse history, Moore pointed out, in the more than 40 productions presented by the Playhouse.

All six of the regular performances of Annie Get Your Gun were sold out.

Moore said the Playhouse apologized for any inconvenience these cancellations may have caused, but it just could not be avoided.

DOGS BEWARE! Colorado City has hired a fulltime dog catcher to collect stray canines. Paul Davila, 25, began working last week as the local dog catcher. A native of Loraine, Davila is single and lives at 1616 E. 4th Street. He attends St. Ann's Catholic Church. Davila takes the dogs he finds roaming the streets and deposits them at the Veterinary Hospital, located on Austin Street. The dog remains at the pound five days and if it is not claimed, it is destroyed. Persons collecting animals from the pound must pay a fee for each day the animal spends at the pound and must also renew the rabies vaccination.

Softball Registration For Girls

Today (Thursday) from 4-6 p.m. registration for the Mitchell County Girls Softball Association League will be held.

Location of the registration is the Lone Wolf Medallion Room.

Registration fees of $10 and proof of birth are required for the registration, according to David Hancock, president of the league.

If a girl is unable to register today, forms are available from Coleen Palmer, player representative, at her place of business, The Occasion!

May 1 practice will begin for the girls and league play is slated to bat off May 15.

Sheriff Office Is Bevy Of Activity

This has been a busy few weeks around the Mitchell County Sheriff's Department.

Sandy Parker is the new voice on the phone.

Ms. Parker, hired two weeks ago under a federal grant program, will assist Linda Owens in dispatch and clerical duties.

She is a Colorado City resident and has two children, Kim, 12, who is attending Middle School and Jennifer, 3.

Sheriff Bill McGuire noted that several incidents have occurred recently which have kept the department hopping.

A Big Spring man was arrested by McGuire at Lake Colorado City April 11 as a result of $400 worth of bad checks written at Fuller Foods.

J. R. Turner, 27, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Henry Doss Tuesday with bond set and posted at $2,500.

Turner was charged on April 7 with felony theft by check. Sheriff's Office personnel were unable to locate Turner until Tuesday when he was seen visiting a friend's house at the lake.

Burglars hit the home of Paul Wright, located south of Colorado City on Highway 163, March 25.

Entry was gained through a garage door which was not locked. Burglars possibly drove into the garage and broke a glass window from a door leading into the house according to McGuire.

Lake Champion Site Of Drowning

Louis Alcorta Jr., of Lubbock, lost his life Sunday in an attempt to swim across a cove in Lake Champion.

The 20-year-old Alcorta and his family were on an outing according to his father, Louis Alcorta Sr., who stated his son had been swimming near the shore when he suddenly decided to swim across the cove.

He said his son appeared to be doing all right then he suddenly began to struggle in the water. The elder Alcorta said his son struggled and went under once or twice then didn't come up again.

Colorado City Police were notified and they contacted the Sheriff's Department.

Sheriff's Deputies Ron Keith and Wendell Bryant, Reserve Deputy Donnie Phillips, Game Warden Ronnie Aston, Troopers David Hancock and Marvin Keenan, two units from the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department and several fishermen conducted a probe into the muddy waters for about three hours before Keith was finally able to locate the body of the victim.

Death was ruled as accidental drowning by Justice of the Peace Mary Lee Moore on the scene.

The body was taken to Kiker-Seale Funeral Home in Colorado City and transferred to Sander's Funeral Home in Lubbock.

Town Talk

By MAC McKINNON

The recently concluded production by Colorado City Playhouse of Annie Get Your Gun drew a large number of people here from out of town.

Out of more than 950 who saw the musical, an estimated 300 were from out of town. People came from many surrounding towns to see this play as the reputation of Colorado City Playhouse for putting on good shows continues to spread.

People came from Sweetwater, Snyder, Abilene, Roscoe, Sterling City, Big Spring, Midland, Odessa, Dallas, San Angelo and one woman from New York attended.

Snyder and Sweetwater had the most in attendance with Sweetwater probably having the most as there was one group of 37 from the town just to the east of us.

Political action is getting hot and heavy as the seven candidates in the Democratic primary for the 17th Congressional District swarm all over the huge district in search of votes. It will be very difficult for any one candidate to win without a runoff.

In an issue of The Record just prior to the election, each candidate will be given an opportunity to express his views in his own words in order to help you decide which candidate you wan to vote for.

President Carter recently made an appeal for everyone to hold down prices. It would seem that his appeal is aimed in the wrong direction.

For business to hold down prices, wages must first be held down. Instead labor unions are striking for and getting rather large wage increases and increases in fringe benefits. When wages go up, businesses must increase prices in order to pay increased wages.

No one gets ahead in this vicious circle we are in now. All it does is lead to inflation and if we don't watch out, we'll be like post-war Germany when you had to carry around suitcases full of money for minor purchases.

A recent memo from the Texas Press Association contained a thought provoking quote:

"The budget should be balanced, the treasury should be refilled, public debt should be reduced, the arrogance of officialdom should be tempered and controlled, assistance to foreign lands should be curtailed lest we become bankrupt. The mobs should be forced to work and not depend on government for subsidies."

Does this commentary fit the current situation in the United States? It does to a point but I don't believe we are in as bad a shape as was the country about which the statement was made. It was a part of Cicero's address to the Senate prior to the fall of Rome.

• • •

A recent note from Isabel Smith Ratliff contained an interesting thought she had gleaned from a column some 15 years ago in another publication.

It would seem appropriate to reprint this thought at this time of year when spring clean-up is underway:

"If you litter with disgrace
And spoil the beauty of the place,
May indigestion reach your chest
And ants invade your pants and vest."

For Higher Cotton Yields

Yields from certified cotton planting seed were up to 18 percent higher than yields from caught or non-certified seed according to research by Dr. L. L. Ray at the South Plains Research and Extension Center in Lubbock, Texas. Certified seed has not undergone genetic deterioration in the field. Volunteer plants and undesirable cross-pollination are eliminated. And certified seed from Pioneer is free from pests and weeds which often accompany non-certified varieties. See your ginner or Pioneer brand seed dealer for these certified varieties.

Dependable even in dry country!

Certified LX571*

You can't control the weather. So, you need a hedge against drouth. . . . and that's where the Lankart variety LX571 fits in. It consistently produces top yields of high quality cotton . . . even under tough, dry conditions. And you don't have to give up anything to get this outstanding drouth tolerance, either.

LX571 produces fairly long, strong fiber . . . with micronaire normally in the premium range. And storm resistant bolls strip well in one pass through the field. Add up all the good things about LX571 . . . then it's easy to see why this is one of the most planted cotton varieties in the Rolling Plains, Central Texas and Southwestern Oklahoma.

*LX571 is a U.S. protected variety (Plant Variety Protection Certificate No. 7200018). Unauthorized propagation and unauthorized seed multiplication prohibited by law. LX571 cotton planting seed can be sold by variety name only as a class of certified seed. It is unlawful to sell non-certified seed of this variety.

Long-time favorite.

Cotton growers in Texas, Oklahoma and Eastern New Mexico have relied on certified Lankart 57 for consistently high yields for years. This variety has vigorous plants with short main stems and short fruiting branches. Leaves are large and dense. And this medium-early maturity cotton has storm-proof bolls. Lankart 57 is a good stripper cotton, too. . . . well-adapted to Texas and Oklahoma dryland production.

Certified LANKART 57

Certified LANKART 611

High yielding, early variety.

This cotton variety was developed for the early maturity needs of dryland farming . . . especially in the Blackland and Rolling Plains of Texas and Southwestern Oklahoma. Vigorous plants with short main stems and close fruiting branches produce large bolls of high quality lint. A good stripper cotton for the Southern High Plains on wilt-free soil.

Certified LANKART® and LOCKETT® brand cotton planting seed is available from your ginner or Pioneer® brand seed dealer.

Finley Attends Meeting

Financing and the agricultural world received attention when Sweetwater Production Credit Association directors went to San Antonio April 6-8. They were among 500 farmer-rancher stockholders and guests attending the 22nd annual meeting of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston.

Sweetwater PCA directors attending included T. L. Finley, chairman of Loraine; W. J. Harvey, Jr., vice chairman of Roby; J. D. Crawford of Midland; L. D. Echols of Lamesa; Audry Head of Snyder; Othell O'Kelly of Trent and Marvin L. Standefer of Lenorah. PCA officers who accompanied them included F. C. Shillingburg, president; Murry C. (Charlie) Bell, assistant vice president and Sid Hardegree, loan representative.

According to Shillingburg, those attending represented 30 PCAs and 6 agricultural credit corporations in Texas which obtain their loan funds from the FICB of Houston. These organizations last year loaned nearly $1.6 billion to Texas farmers and ranchers. PCAs of Texas and the Houston credit bank are part of the nationwide Farm Credit System which provided nearly $40 billion last year to the nation's food and fiber producers.

Sweetwater PCA makes agricultural loans to producers in Andrews, Borden, Dawson, Ector, Fisher, Glasscock, Howard, Kent, Loving, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry and Winkler counties.

Edwards Directs Church Outreach/Mission Program

The Rev. L. B. Edwards, a former Westbrook pastor, is leading his present church, Royalty Avenue Baptist Church of Odessa, through a demanding mission program despite the church's own financial need.

Since the church's beginning in 1955, the church mission program has grown to include many outreach programs including: regular worship services, ongoing teaching ministry of the Sunday School, Training Union, and the prayer ministry. In addition, approximately 30% of the church's income goes to missions sponsored by the Baptist General Convention and Southern Baptist Convention, of which Royalty Avenue Baptist Church is a member. According to the pastor, the figure will increase when the church's property debt is paid.

The Rev. L. B. Edwards, who was reared in Scurry County, said, "Royalty Heights is a country-style church in town. We have a friendly family fellowship and we welcome everyone to come and worship with us."

The Rev. Edwards has preached in West Texas churches since his ordination in 1936 except for 12 years in Carlsbad, N.M. and California.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

Today we know that mental illness can be prevented in many cases. We can do this through education, especially of parents, and by learning to cope with stress. There is a group of citizens, like ourselves, trying to see that this happens--the Mental Health Association.

During May, Mental Health Month, your neighbor will be coming to your door to collect for mental health. I urge you to give generously.

The Mental Health Association needs your support because:

--Mental illness can be cured.

--The cycle of child abuse can be stopped.

--Education of parents can prevent some emotional problems in children.

Your support is needed to accomplish this.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. A. G. Anderson
Mental Health Chairperson

Accelerated Science Class Builds Solar Hot Water Heater At CHS

Dreams of the future were made a reality by the Second Period Accelerated Science Class taught by Troy Lilly at Colorado City High School.

A solar hot water heater was designed and built by the class with materials consisting of used wood, a bathroom window, sheet metal, two faucets, polyvinal chloride pipe and black paint.

The heater looks like a black box about 31 inches by 23 inches on the top surface and about one foot deep.

The window, from Lilly's bathroom (he was remodeling), is built to cover the top surface of the box. Two faucets are attached to the outside of the box and connected to a series of serpentine plastic pipes in the box covered by sheet metal.

The box is painted black to absorb the heat reflected from the window pane. The sheet metal holds the heat which warms the water flowing through the pipes.

Outside temperature has little bearing on the effectiveness of the heater. Direct sunglight is the only necessary factor.

This heater has produced water inserted at 50° heated to 126° in a five hour period from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. The heater was patterned after an original design by George Whetzel and is best placed at an angle 46° to the horizon.

Easily repaired this heater's total cost was about $25. Its capacity is only one gallon but the design is workable and could be built on a larger scale.

Turner, Fincher Selected Outstanding 4-H Leaders

Travis Turner and Mrs. Nolan Fincher were named outstanding adult leaders for their contributions to the Mitchell County 4-H program Monday night at the District 7 Adult Leader's Association Banquet. The banquet, sponsored by area electric cooperatives, was held at the Texas 4-H Center near Lake Brownwood. Kenneth Rogers, manager of Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, presented certificates of merit to each leader honored at the banquet.

Mrs. Fincher has been active in the 4-H program for seven years and has served as organizational leader in addition to leading foods and nutrition, leather craft, and wildlife groups. Her most memorable experience in 4-H was seeing her two sons, Pete and Brad, receive the Gold Star Award, the highest honor any 4-H'er can receive on the county level. She enjoys helping Brad get ready for stock shows and remembers a humorous experience of being dragged by a calf while the boys watched, but, she adds, "It was only funny after it was over." Recreation is an important part of 4-H and Mrs. Fincher joins right in. In fact, she learned to roller skate at a 4-H skating party. She suggests foam rubber for any leader who is a little timid on skates.

Mrs. Fincher is a legal secretary for Barber Law Offices and is active in other community organizations.

Turner is engaged in farming, but still finds time to work with 4-H'ers. He states, "I like being a 4-H leader because it's a learning experience for me as well as the youth." Turner has participated in 4-H for five years and has served as rifle project leader and organizational leader. He is always a popular person when 4-H'ers, especially his two children, Tony and Robyn, need a helping hand at the Mitchell County Stock Show. A humorous memory for Turner was watching 4-H'ers participate in a scavenger hunt game at county camp. The youth knew one lady was wearing a wig, so when a wig was called for, off it came.

Turner is active in the community and has served as co-chairman for the county fair.

Punishment Varies With Offenders

Alternative To Juvenile Delinquency Is Sought

By DONNA WATSON

A hearing was held Friday before County Judge Bill Carter to determine the future of two young men allegedly involved in a Colorado City burglary.

The outcome of the hearing will not be made public. Laws have been made to protect juveniles as nearly as possible from public scrutiny.

According to County Attorney Pat Barber, when a juvenile offense is committed the first agency to come into the picture, the arresting officer, has at his discretion the right to release with a warning or release with a promise to appear in court or before the county attorney or county judge.

The arresting officer contacts Mitchell County Judge Bill Carter to notify him there is a juvenile in custody.

If the child is released with just a warning no further action is taken.

Only in certain cases where there is an officer swearing that he believes the juvenile is likely to abscond or be removed from the courts jurisdiction; or where there is no substantial supervision or protection provided by the child's parents or guardian or other responsible person; or in the event no adult will be able to return the child to the court's jurisdiction when required, is the juvenile detained for a detention hearing.

Temporary detention for the hearing must be held within the second working day following the day the child was taken into custody. He must be held in a separate facility segregated from adult offenders.

Carter stated that a juvenile hearing is a civil cause and not criminal.

A civil case is one in which no one is placed in jail or a fine levied. A criminal case is one filed against a person by the state and can result in imprisonment or fine.

Carter termed the process an ajudication hearing The hearing is to determine if a juvenile has committed a misconduct and is in need of supervision or if he is guilty of juvenile delinquency.

In the hearing the judge receives evidence and information pretaining to the misconduct or delinquency. He may also receive information as to the child's character, background and habits. The judge will usually not make a determination at this point until he has had time to consider all the facts thoroughly.

A second hearing, termed a dispositional hearing, is held and if at that point he determines the child has been guilty of misconduct, he will place the child on probation in the custody of his parents, guardian or responsible adult. If the determination is delinquency, the child may be placed in the custody of the Texas Youth Council.

Probation for a child means about the same as for an adult. The child is required to commit no offense against the laws of the state, avoid injurious habits, persons and places and report to a probation officer as directed.

If sent to the Texas Youth Council the situation the juvenile finds himself in may vary.

For almost 90 years the Gatesville State School for boys has meant juvenile correction in Texas. However in 1974 because of a federal court order resulting from the Morales vs. Turman case attacking practices of the school, Gatesville was ordered closed.

The old system has begun to be replaced by alternatives to institutionalization of juveniles. Serious offenders will be detained to maintain a level of security that is consistent with the public welfare.

All youths turned over to the Texas Youth Council are sent to Brownwood for evaluation.

They may spend 14 days to four months there. They are evaluated physically and psychologically. Then, they may remain there or be sent to Gainesville, Giddins or Crocket.

New programs are being developed to help rehabilitate delinquents.

One such program, held at Crocket, has been named "The Wilderness Challenge." This program is designed to help the juvenile discover that it's possible for him to do things that he thought were impossible. A helping hand can be more important than the front that kept him from accepting it in the past.

Statistically only 20 per cent of the youths went back to their old bad habits after participating in the new corrective program where 42 per cent of the juveniles held in training schools reverted.

Underlying the program is the notion that an intense, short-term experience can be beneficial to a delinquent youth.

In the Challenge Program a youth spends 25 days from the time of arrival until release to parole.

They face a series of problems designed to test them physically, emotionally and mentally. Through coping with the challenges of the program they hopefully derive feelings of success and personal growth.

The course is patterned after those of wilderness survival. It was created during World War II to help British seamen cope with the rigors of sailing and sinking.

The site of the course is a wilderness. The first four days are spent learning first aid, fire building, camping and basics.

One course is predominately mountain climbing, others incorporate white water canoeing.

Intrinsic to the Wilderness Challenge experience is an environmental education, the unpredictability of the weather and the fragility of rocks, some of which will hold a climber's weight and some which won't.

The youths learn to rappel down a 140 foot cliff. they feel dog tired and learn how sometimes it's absolutely necessary to cooperate with your fellow man.

They deal with extremely stressful situations in an environment that is quite different from the city streets.

Because of the short duration of the Wilderness course, parole follow-up is particularly important, according to Carter.

New Law Demands More Speedy Trial

In June of 1977 the state legislature passed legislation which will become effective July 1, 1978.

This legislation states that the time which may lapse between when an individual is charged with a crime until he is brought to trial will be greatly limited.

If the individual is not brought to trial within the given period of time, unless he waivers the right, the charges will be dismissed and he cannot be punished for the crime at any time.

In the case of a felony if the court is not ready for trail within 120 days, the indictment, information or complaint is set aside.

For a misdemeanor criminal action punishable by imprisonment for more than 180 days the case must come to trial within 90 days.

A misdemeanor crime for which an individual may be imprisioned for 180 days or less is allowed only 60 days for the case to be brought to court.

If a defendant is charged with misdemeanor punishable by a fine only the case must be brought to trial within 30 days. Traffic tickets would fall into this category.

If everyone receiving a traffic citation demanded a trial there would not be enough hours in the days to accommodate the ruling.

The law goes on to state that if the indictment is dismissed or set aside for failure to provide a speedy trial the defendant is discharged and any further prosecution for the offense or any other offense arising out of the same transaction bars the state from prosecution.

This ruling was passed with a vote of 31-0 in the senate and 121-15 in the house.

In anticipation of the effective date County Attorney Pat Barber prepared 30 cases and placed them on the court docket this past week. Only one trial resulted, at a cost to tax payers of $1,000 according to County Judge Bill Carter.

The legislation passed states that criminal action shall be given preference over trials of civil cases, and criminal action against a defendant who is detained in jail pending trial shall be given preference over trials of other criminal actions.

Carter stated that the law was passed to insure a defendant his constitutional right to a speedy trial. He noted that inhis seven years on the bench few defendants had been known to request a speedy trial. He added that most of them sought delays with some cases remaining on the dockets for years.

Carter commented that the public, in his opinion, had demanded the speedy trial law in order to see persons charged with crimes are brought to trial quickly in order that criminals may be punished swiftly. He added that he felt they (the public) is demanding that prosecutors, as well as defense attorneys stop delaying cases and start trying cases.

"The public is demanding the courthouse and city halls go to work, streamlinign procedures and dispose of all cases quickly," he stated.

"I think it is important that each of us who work for the public who draw the taxpayer's money, do everything within our power to comply with the speedy trial set," Carter said.

Several items including stainless silver, two gold wedding bands, a Timex watch, two class rings and two matching earring and necklace sets were taken.

That same day the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Mikow, located north of town on Highway 208, was entered through an open door while the owners were away. About $100 was taken from a money pouch in the home.

McGuire noted that they have no suspects at this time but the investigation is continuing.

A group of boys and girls ripped through a fence on the property of Francis Winn 15 miles south of Colorado City on April 2.

The group was riding in a late model pickup when they left the highway and drove through a section of barbed wire fence according to McGuire.

Mrs. Winn was contacted about the incident and the boys were instructed by the Sheriff to make restitution of about $40 for repair of the fence.

One bright spot in the past few weeks work came when McGuire found a most unexpected sight in the middle of nowhere.

On a routine call he did a double take when he thought he saw a camper top laying in the middle of a field.

Upon further investigation he determined it was indeed a camper shell. Running a routine check he determined from a sticker on the side of the shell that it belonged to a Midland County employee.

McGuire contacted the Midland County Sheriff's Office and returned the shell which had been removed from the top of a pickup stolen in a parking lot there. The pickup was later recovered in Louisiana.

Three guns wrapped in an old coat were found on a side road west of the River Bridge this weekend by a truck driver passing through the county.

The driver making a rest stop, pulled off the highway. He noticed the old coat lying in a field and investigated to find a .35 caliber Remington rifle; a 12 gauge, automatic shotgun, and a Winchester .22 pump rifle wrapped in the coat.

The Sheriff's Department was contacted and an investigation into the ownership of the weapons is being conducted.

Old Story Is Revamped

(Editor's Note: Several readers have requested that the Record print the following version of an old story. The well-known fable of "The Little Red Hen" was written by William P. Drake, chairman and president of the Penwalt C. Corporation.)

Once upon a time, there was a little red hen who scratched about the barnyard until she uncovered some grains of wheat. She called her neighbors and said, "If we plant this wheat, we shall have bread to eat. Who will help me plant it?"

"Not I," said the cow. "Not I," said the duck.

"Not I," said the pig.

"Not I," said the goose.

"Then I will," said the little red hen.

And she did. The wheat grew tall and ripened into golden grain. "Who will help me reap my wheat?" asked the little red hen.

"Not I," said the duck.

"Out of my classification," said the pig.

"I'd lose my seniority," said the cow.

"I'd lose my unemployment compensation," said the goose.

"Then I will," said the little red hen.

And she did. At last it came time to bake the bread.

"Who will help me bake the bread?" asked the little red hen.

"That would be overtime for me," said the cow.

"I'd lose my welfare benefits," said the duck.

"I'm a dropout and never learned how," said the pig.

"If I'm to be the only helper, that's discrimination," said the goose.

"Then I will," said the little red hen.

She baked five loaves and held them up for her neighbors to see. They all wanted some and, in fact, demanded a share. But the little red hen said, "No, I can eat the five loaves myself."

"Excess profits!" said the cow.

"Captialist leech!" screamed the duck.

"I demand equal rights!" yelled the goose.

And the pig just grunted. And they painted "unfair" picket signs and marched around and around the little red hen, shouting obscenities.

When the government agent came, he said to the little red hen. "You must not be greedy."

"But I earned the bread," said the little red hen.

"Exactly," said the agent. "That is the wonderful free enterprise system. Anyone in the barnyard can earn as much as he wants. But under our modern government regulations, the productive workers must divide their product with the idle."

And they lived happily ever after, including the little red hen, who smiled and clucked, "I am grateful. I am grateful."

But the neighbors wondered why she never baked any more bread.

Local Farmers Attend Meeting

About 75 Mitchell County farmers attended the meeting held by Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service in the C. C. Thompson Room Tuesday afternoon.

The meeting which lasted for about an hour and a half was scheduled by ASCS Director Don Stewart in order to clarify the current farm programs offered by the government.

Stewart explained the voluntary set-aside programs for cotton and grain sorghum. He explained that producers who grew upland cotton, grain sorghum, barley or corn in 1977 may set aside 10 per cent of planted acres and receive a diversion payment on those diverted acres. The payment would equal $.02 times the established yield times the planted acres for cotton and $.12 for grain sorghum. The set aside must be planted in a cover crop.

Anyone wishing to voluntarily set aside grain sorghum must set 10 per cent aside plus the mandatory 10 per cent.

Producers who wish to benefit from the government's regular program must stay within the Normal Crop Acres when planting wheat and grain sorghum.

Only if participating in the voluntary set-aside cotton program is the producer required to stay within the NCA when planting cotton.

"This was one of the better meetings I have attended. The farmers were attentive, concerned and informed. It was a very receptive audience," Stewart commented.

There was little indication that Mitchell County producers would participate in the voluntary set-aside program according to Stewart.

About 65 per cent of the producers in the county have already declared their intentions to plant and few if any have decided to set-aside voluntarily Stewart noted.

Book To Be Presented To Mayor

Friday Mayor Marion Bassham will be presented a book entitled These Stones Speak by representatives from Church of God of Prophecy.

Bishop Hector Ortiz, state overseer of Church of God of Prophecy, and John Miller, representative from Big Spring, will make the presentation at 10 a.m. at City Hall.

Saturday, Miller and a group of representatives from the Church of God of Prophecy will be conducting a census in Colorado City to determine the level of interest about beginning a church locally.

According to Miller, the objective of the Church of God of Prophecy is to establish churches along I-20 and Colorado City is an important link.

Miller noted that there are about 700 members of the Church of God of Prophecy in West Texas and that the church has been established in this area for some 47 years.

Davila Nabs A Surpise

What a way to start a new job! Even a dog catcher doesn't deserve what happened to the new dog warden, Paul Davila first thing Monday morning.

A lady called the Colorado City Police Department at 8 a.m. Monday. She had a problem.

A large skunk had been poaching on her chickens and she had lain in wait for it that morning. Being a fair shot with a rifle she had winged the critter then hurriedly placed a large tub over it.

Now comes the problem. What do you do with a wounded skunk trapped under a tub? Conclusion: you call the dog warden to dispose of the unwanted guest. Which is what she did, post haste.

Davila, experienced with skunks, was a little leery of the prospects of lifting the tub. However, true to the code, he did and was greeted with the expected results.

Colorado Middle School Chatter

If you have been to see the Colorado City Playhouse's Annie Get Your Gun, you probably noticed the names of Tony Nobles and Cara DeLaney on your program.

Tony plays a small boy who comes on yelling to the people that Buffalo Bill is coming to town. Although it doesn't seem like an important part, it is very important to the action of the play.

Cara runs the spotlight. Although you can't see her, she helps make it possible for you to see people who are singing.

Also, Orphie Conners, who sometimes substitutes at Middle School, runs the spotlight, too.

UIL contests are coming up and section rehearsals are taking place. Section in this case means the group of instruments, such as flutes, clarinets, coronets, trombones, etc.

If a section is too big to come in all at once, the first, second, and third chair players pick a time and come in separately. If this keeps up, the band will have a better chance at getting a I rating, which is excellent. These practices are helping individuals find out what they are doing wrong. It also gives Mr. Newman a chance to see who can play it and who can't.

I interviewed Robie Raschke because she is in the eighth grade art class. They are painting with Acrylics. The first six weeks of the third trimester, the students were required to do two paintings.

The first one was a painting of Still Life Flowers and the second was of "Still Life Fruit."

During the second six weeks they are going to paint a landscape and then a portrait. You have three weeks to do each picture.

The CMS eighth grade homemaking class under the supervision of Mrs. Matthews fixed a really great meal!

The class fixed Kabobs, S'Mores, Beany Double Dip, and vegetable strips. If you have never heard of S'Mores you ought to try them. They are made of graham crackers, peanut butter and grape jelly. Some of the students went "uck" when they heard what they were made of, but come to find out, they were delicious. So the students should learn not to put food down until you have tried it, because you just might like it!

Some students probably didn't think they could eat a dip with chips, but Friday they ate it with different fresh vegetables such as green pepper, cucumbers and celery. If you have never tried vegetables instead of chips, you ought to!

During the Easter holidays, Mr. Newman went to Odessa and bought music for the sixth grade band, the stage band, and the CMS Band.

Mr. Newman gave the sixth band two numbers. The Haunted House is one and it sounds real creepy. Another is Sing. It's a pretty song with the flutes having the melody.

We started three weeks ago on the Superstars. We have individuals and Coach Van Hoozer said the first eleven will start the football team. In classes, first period is in first place, third peirod is in second place, fourth period is in third place, fifth period is in fourth and second period is in last place. The hardest is running up the hills at the football field and two miles around the tennis court or ten laps.

In off-season we are working hard and getting ready for Superstars competition. After the track boys get through with all their track meets, we will all start the Superstars.

In off-season we are lifting weights and running hills and stands. On Friday we worked hard for 15 minutes running lines and Maddogs. For those who don't know what Maddogs are, we run them on the basketball court by running up and down every line.

We also work hard to get in shape; not just for Superstars, but for football. We are trying to get ready to be a good football team, and I think we can do it.

Seventh period has chosen Chip Northcutt and Jeff Shamburger to be co-members of the Student Government replacing Denise Harvey.

As you know, every school has some love life, especially CMS! Everytime you see Chris McKinney, you will see Barbie Chambers with him. Karla Herm and Gary Rowe make a splendid couple.

So does Kyla Wilson and Jeff Hammond. Tom Rees and Angie Neff make a cute couple. Sonja Mercer and Jay Claxton are a perfect match.

Other perfect couples are: Marty Martin and Fonda Long, Randy McPhaul and Loretta Morris Jeff Shamburger and Pam Wilson, Ricky Arellano and Pat Holguin, Victor Jackson and Rhonda Williams, Willie Martinez and Sandy Castillo, Frog Johnson and Brenda Williams, Carla Callaway and Britt Standefer, Elizabeth Anderson and David Wishart.

These are only a few of some really neat couples.

The discussion of "heritage" popped up in Miss Hardwick's eighth grade history class. They were discussing slavery before the Civil War. "People of all civilizations have been slaves," commented Miss Hardwick. "People living in England were slaves during the Roman Empire reign."

Lately many CMS students have been wondering from what civilization did they come from? Who were their ancestors?

Nancy Robertson has found that she is of the Irish.

Julie Crow is part Cherokee Indian and Crow Indian.

Barbie Chambers is 1/32 Apache Indian.

Dalton Maddox is part Cheyenne Indian and says he was raised by three gorillas.

James Blackwell is part Apache Indian.

Tanya Sorrells is part Comanche, Kiowa, and Apache Indian. She also is part French and Irish.

Cara DeLaney is part Irish also.

Ricky Arellano is Mexican-American.

Angi Neff is French, German and Scottish.

Jodi Bolin is Irish, French and German.

Last Thursday, a week ago today, about twenty-six girls were really excited. The reason was because there were cheerleading tryouts.

One o'clock started the countdown. The girls drew numbers and pinned them on. There were twelve sixth graders and fourteen seventh graders. The sixth graders went in first and then the seventh graders went in and did their two yells.

Then each grade was divided into two sections. These four sections were taught a yell as a group. The yell was "Fight, Fight, Fight."

There were five judges from Howard College. After each group did their cheer, all the girls waited until the final scores were totaled up. Then the girls went down single file and the results were told. The cheerleaders for 78-79 are seventh graders: Patricia Martinez, Kim Moore and Robyn Turner. Representing next year's eighth grade cheerleaders are: Loretta Morris, Mickie Palmer, and Pam Wilson. These cheerleaders will boost spirit at pep rallies and games. Congratulations!

On Saturday, April 22, the Middle School Chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes will travel to Lubbock to see a Texas Tech spring game. They are going to show us around their athletic facilities. All of the members are happy that our sponsors, Coach Gierhart, Coach Robinson and Coach Van Hoozer, have planned such a good trip.

We appreciate all the people whose purchase of candy from us made the trip possible. When we get back we will give the details on what we did.

Forty-eight members of the group attended church together last Sunday.

In Miss O'Zee's math classes the students are studying geometry. In geometry they learn the definitions to words such as vertex, ray, line, and line segments. They also learn how to find the area, volume, or perimeter in a shape.

Miss O'Zee, the math teacher, explained to some of the students how to measure angles with a protractor. Geometry is easy for most of the students.

The fourth period of Coach Gierhart's eighth grade math class has just completed the study of trigonometry.

During the past week, the students using right triangles, measured the height of buildings, trees, telephone and electrical poles, and etc. They also measured the length of certain objects.

During their studies of trigonometry they measured the heights of the water towers here in Colorado City. The towers are approximately 113 feet and 99 feet high according to the math students' calculations. Last Thursday they took the exams on this subject.

In seventh and eighth grade science, students have been drawing diagrams of frogs. The students are supposed to dissect a frog, and they need to know the different parts of his body.

Friday, Mr. Welch cut a frog and hooked it up to a Kymograph. This graph writes down the heart beat of the frog. There is a piece of burnt paper wrapped around the barrel of the Kymograph, and this shows the beat of the frog's heart.

To stimulate the beat of the heart, Mr. Welch put an electrical current and a cold object against the frog's nerve cord against his heart. Pam Wilson kissed the frog to see if it would turn into a prince. Unluckily, it only stimulated his heart, but what a thrill for the frog!

The CMS eighth grade Homemaking Class had a demonstration on the electric range. The lady's name was Mrs. Bishop. She was a representative of Texas Electric in Sweetwater.

Besides giving a demonstration on the range, she talked to the students about the shortage of electricity. The students didn't really realize what a shortage there is, but by the time she got finished the students were convinced!

Did you realize that by the year 2000 there will not be any electricity produced with natural gas. We will have to use coal and nuclear power.

Friday, the students did demonstrations on the cooking terms.

Did your ancestors come to America by boat from another country? If they did, they probably had many troubles.

In the film the seventh grade history class saw, people had many problems. This film was about a Polish family and their troubles.

The family had to come to America separately. The father went first; then another part of the family and then another.

Most of the immigrants had very little education. If they got hurt, they were replaced immediately on their jobs.

People had many problems. It took a life time to become an American.

In art this week and last week, we were working on our string art. We are still going to work on it next week, too.

First we picked a pattern that Mrs. Drummond set out for us. We drew them and then traced them on a piece of cardboard paper. We marked a ¼ of an inch to draw it. We poked holes where we made the dots. And now we are going to sew in the holes with a needle and two or three different kinds of thread.

Indra Bessa Details Year In Texas For B&PW Members

The Loraine Business and Professional Women's Club met Monday night, April 17th for a program and business meeting.

Guest speaker, Indra Bessa, exchange student from Brazil who has made her home with Mrs. Billie Ruth Tartt and daughter Karen while attending school in Loraine High School this school year, captivated club members with her wit and charm in telling about her experiences here in Texas and about her native Brazil.

It was hard to believe that she was the same girl who had arrived in Midland last September. At that time although she had studied English for a time in schools in Brazil she was not able to communicate. She and her new family drew pictures at first to try to understand each other. She brought out that she had to learn to speak English because no one in Loraine could speak Portuguese, her native language.

Indra's home is in Manaus, a large city, near the equator and jungles on the river. Six months out of the year it is very hot and the other six months it is rainy. She saw her first snow while here. She has four brothers and one sister. Her father is a very busy man. He is a judge, has two farms and is a teacher in a university.

She has enjoyed going to a small school here because she knows everyone and can participate in many activities. Football and cheerleaders were not a part of her schools in Brazil. There, students participate in only one sport because meets are all held on the same day but there is a different city for each sport. School is held in the mornings from 7 a.m. until 12 noon from March to November. In the afternoons when a student is a junior and senior he or she will probably work as a tourist guide and this is done without pay. In the past there has been much illiteracy in Brazil, but now everyone has to learn to read and write.

Indra stated that the food here is quite different from what she had been used to and she didn't like many of our foods at first, but now she eats most of them. She feels that food in Brazil is more natural than our foods.

Exchange students have strict rules to abide by while out of Brazil and if a student wants to go home sooner or later than the time agreed upon by the persons who arrange the trips or if they break the rules or give their adopted families any trouble their parents have to pay again for their fare home. Parents have to agree to this before the students are allowed to participate as exchange students.

She was only allowed to bring one small piece of luggage with her. She was told that all she would need was blue jeans, so she had to manage for other types of clothing after she got here. She doesn't plan to take many clothes back with her, only things she can't get in Brazil saving the space for momentoes, and the many pictures she has taken while here. In Brazil she never wears hose and most clothing is rather scant especially bathing suits which are worn many places and no one thinks anything about it.

Vandalism and theft are prevalent in the city where she lives and her father pays someone to guard their home and their neighbors do the same thing.

Indra will be returning to Brazil when school in Loraine is out this spring to finish up her high school education although she will graduate here. She will have to study for entrance tests which she must pass before she can enter a university. She later hopes to return to the United States to attend a large university and hopes for a scholarship in a Catholic university. Her goal now is to become a lawyer.

Billie Ruth Tartt presided at the business meeting. Dorothy Johnson reported on the landscaping of beautification project which was supposed to have been completed last week. There has been a delay by the landscaper in receiving some of the needed plants. It is hoped that the project will be completed this week and members are asked to meet at the site at 8 o'clock Saturday morning to finish cleaning up. Dorothy and her husband, Dr. Bruce Johnson, donated the trees and honeysuckle, peat moss etc. for the project. The Loraine Vocational Agricultural students under the direction of Dennis Moore, the City of Loraine, D. C. Fowler, supervisor and County Commissioner Robert Bruce and others helped with the dirt work and obtaining water for the project.

Next meeting will be held May 15. This will be the annual meeting, and a tacky party and salad supper are scheduled.

Members Enjoy Wiener Roast At Ruddick Park

Loraine First Baptist Church Adult Sunday School Class had a fellowship and wiener roast in Ruddick Park March 26.

Members attending the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Butsy Hall, Mr. and Mrs. George Lee and their son, Clayton. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mitchell and their daughter, Tricia and son David.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Clifton and their three daughters, Teresa, Melisa and Jennifer were host to a guest, Lee Anna Dunn, for the picnic. The Rev. and Mrs. Luke Smith and their daughter, Lisa and Mr. and Mrs. Danny Butler were also in attendance.

You can do it!

Weatherstripping and caulking around doors and windows stop energy leaks.

In time, even tiny air cracks can add up to large heating and cooling losses. But sealing those energy-robbing cracks isn't all that hard. You can do it yourself with Texas Electric's free booklets on caulking and weatherstripping. They're part of a series we're offering to energy-conscious homeowners who want to make their homes energy efficient. Using basic tools and readily available materials, even unhandy people can caulk and weatherstrip their own homes to keep energy costs down.

Other booklets in the series cover insulation, storm windows, ductwork, and general maintenance. Just call us, or ask for the booklets on the comments section of your electric bill. See how easy it is to make your home energy efficient.

MOORMAN'S IGR MINERALS

"There's nothing else like it."

"Fly control with IGR costs about a cent-and-a-half per day for a cow. Total cost, including minerals, is about 3¢ per head daily."

"With IGR Minerals, around-the-clock horn-fly control on 100 cows costs about $1.50 per day."

"Compare the cost of roundup, spray, weight loss and spraying time for 100 cows each 10 days to the $15 it'll cost to control flies with IGR."

"Even if you spray every 10 days, new horn flies keep hatching out of the untreated manure. It's a never-ending cycle."

"With IGR, you don't have to worry about when to spray or that a rain will wash off the spray."

"Spraying for horn flies temporarily removes the symptom. It isn't a 'cure.' Feeding IGR relieves the symptom by providing the 'cure'."

"It works."

"No need to worry about horn flies all season. That's peace of mind."

"IGR isn't a posion. It is a totally new concept in the control of horn flies without harming beneficial insects, wildlife or the environment."

"The active ingredient 'tricks' the horn-fly pupa into remaining a pupa until it dies without posion."

Card Of Thanks

I want to take this method to "Thank all of the thoughtful people that sent cards, letters, flowers and made telephone calls to me during my recent illness and operation." The operation on the left side of my face and neck was termed by the doctor as successful and they say I will be as good as new in about six months. However, the left side of my face is paralyzed at the present time. I didn't know I had so many friends. Thanks again.
