

"Building a City
Where a City Belongs"

The Sudan News

Sudan's Slogan:
"Boost or Move"

VOLUME IV.

SUDAN, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 1929.

NUMBER 37

FARM BUREAU PROGRAM ON AIR MARCH 14

CHICAGO.—A gigantic nationwide farmers' mass meeting participated in by more than a million and a quarter members of the American Farm Bureau Federation, together with other invited agricultural groups, is announced for the evening of March 14.

At 9:30 p. m. Central Standard Time, on that night, in 15,000 rural communities Farm Bureau folks will gather round the radio loud speaker to hear a program which is to be broadcast from the Chicago studio of National Broadcast Corporation.

With Sam H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation in the chair, a community Farm Bureau program such as no community Farm Bureau has ever before been privileged to enjoy, will be placed on the air.

Personages of national reputation, representing every phase of the extremely varied agricultural industry, will talk. Included will be music and other entertaining features, richly reflecting the simplicity and the sincerity of country life. Definite announcement of names and other program details will be made later.

To carry the program to the folks out in the hinterland, N. B. C. has arranged a hook-up of telephone wires and other waves more extensive than any ever before made, except for political conventions and some addresses of President Coolidge.

In country school houses, in cross roads churches, in the town hall, the county court house, from Massachusetts Bay to the Golden Gate, farmers with their families will be gathered to listen in. If radio instruments are lacking, an offer has been made to loan the necessary set on request from properly authorized Farm Bureau leaders.

To share in the affair, national Farm Bureau officials will invite members of kindred agricultural organizations. The National Livestock Association with its membership of cattlemen throughout the middle west and the plains states, will be one of the Farm Bureau's guests. Farm boys and girls who belong to the National 4-H clubs will be a second invited group. Farmers' cooperative shipping and buying associations, the National Grange with its extensive membership, and many others, are to be sought to help swell this radio mass meeting of agriculture.

Farm Bureau leaders promoting the plan, vision the aggregate audience as the largest assembly of farmers ever brought together at any one time.

Explaining the idea of the meeting, M. S. Winder, executive secretary of the American Farm Bureau Federation, stated that in 15,000 country communities "Farm Bureau night" is an established institution in the social and educational life of the farmers.

"In the rural sections," he said, "prayer meeting night, choir practice night and Farm Bureau night are close contenders for the attention and the interest of the populace. Once a month, usually on a Thursday, the progressive farmers with their wives and their children, journey to the meeting place, there to discuss their particular problems.

"Maybe it is a question of restoring the fertility of the soil, perhaps a drainage project, or a study of how best to market the year's crop of pigs or potatoes. Or again the evening's discussion may deal with unfair and burdensome taxes, the cost of a new highway bridge, or the conditions of the county's rural schools.

"Whenever the meeting may be convened, it can confidently be asserted that there are gathered the highest type of farm men and women that community boasts. And they are there seeking solutions of questions that most closely enter their every day life.

"It is just such a typical national Farm Bureau meeting, that the American Farm Bureau Federation is planning to hold on the evening of Thursday, March 14. Only one device, the radio, can make it possible, and to assure the broadest possible scope to the affair the network of the N. B. C. is to be employed.

"Should the response be what we look for similar national Farm Bureau community programs will be a frequent feature hereafter of this organization's activities and its efforts to weld the loose ranks of America's greatest industrial group into a compact, unified, harmonious thinking and acting army."

Little Aretet Holt is ill this week with measles.

Floods in South Take Toll of Six Lives

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 28.—Swelled to flood stage by a 48-hour down-pour, rivers and tributaries in Georgia, Alabama and the Carolinas swirled out of their banks today, marring cities and villages, impairing rail and highway traffic, and took six lives in one Georgia community.

The Ocmulgee and Oconee rivers in Georgia, the Coosa, Tombigbee, Black Warrior and Tallapoosa rivers in Alabama, and the Catawba, French Broad and Swannanoa in the Carolinas were the principal streams affected. Wide areas of inundation, washed out bridges and flooded roads and rail lines were reported in the lowlands of these streams.

WHY DO FARMERS FARM?

During the past three years the Standard Farm Papers, in an effort to dignify the profession of agriculture, and to dramatize its successes, have awarded the degree of Master Farmer to 352 of the most outstanding farmers in 21 states. The story of these men is the best answer to those who are pessimistic over the future of American agriculture. It is an inspiration to anyone who is interested in the welfare of farming in America, and a guarantee that the farms of this country in the future, as in the past, will underwrite the nation's stability and produce its finest type of citizenship.

Perhaps these men, as representatives of the best in agriculture, are best qualified to answer the question, "Why Does a Farmer Farm?"

While these Master Farmers are leaders in agricultural progress, they have many followers. The city man who came from the farm a generation ago, or who knows farm life, chiefly by reading some of the modern novels about it, finds difficulty in realizing the great changes that are taking place in farm life.

So these farmers continue to live and work on the farm, because they love farm work and farm life, because they have faith in the future of agriculture, because they love the challenge of the fields and the fields and the thrill of victory over the adverse forces of nature, and because they know that nowhere is there a better place than on the farm to live and to rear the fine, straight-thinking type of citizens that will make the America of the future.—The Agricultural Review.

Sudan Luncheon Club In Regular Meeting

The Sudan Luncheon Club held its regular meeting Friday evening, March 1, in the high school auditorium. The ladies of the Methodist Church serving the dinner. This dinner was as much enjoyed as was the dinner furnished by the Parents Teachers' Association at the previous meeting.

Thirty-five members were present. One visitor, Wm. Furneaux of Dallas, a former Sudanite, attended, a guest of friends.

It being the date for the annual election, that took precedence for the evening, the following staff being elected:

W. I. Wilkins, president; S. D. Hay, vice-president; T. E. Talbott, secretary-treasurer; C. R. Hooton, inspirational and yell leader.

The evening closed with a few good inspirational songs directed by Brother Hooton.

LADIES OF CHURCH OF CHRIST IN BIBLE STUDY

The ladies met with Mrs. L. T. Hunt Tuesday. We had a very interesting lesson. We are taking up the study of the different periods of the Old Testament, and I am sure all that will come will find that our lessons are profitable as well as interesting. There were not so many present at this meeting as usual, but we hope for more at our next meeting.

The class will meet with Mrs. J. C. Cooper, Tuesday, March 12. We insist that all who can come, be there. Reporter.

Little Billie Davidson, the 22 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Davidson who recently moved from the country, died Monday morning at 3 o'clock and was buried Monday evening at 4 o'clock. Funeral services were conducted by Brother Huff, and interment was made in the Sudan cemetery.

Miss Anna Bell Shirley of Littlefield visited the latter part of last week in the W. L. Lynch home, the guest of Miss Annie Lynch.

Mrs. F. E. Miller and children who have been visiting relatives in Amarillo, returned to their home in Sudan the first of the week.

Mesdames Lester LaGrange and Dube Slate of Amherst attended the party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Robertson, Thursday.

Mrs. E. J. Venable, residing 4 and a half miles from Sudan, is remodeling her home.

Multitudes Stand for Hours in Rain to Witness Inauguration Hoover and Curtis

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The American people today with solemn ceremony placed Herbert Hoover in the highest office within their gift—that of President of the United States.

With a stinging rain falling, he swore to uphold and defend the constitution of the United States, kissed a verse in the Bible, and began the gravest duty ever demanded of him in his life of farflung activity. And, turning to his inaugural address, he made a pledge to enforce all laws, including the prohibition amendment, to the full extent of his ability.

Into office with this California engineer and orphaned quaker went Charles Curtis whom fate had taken from an Indian reservation and elevated to the vice presidency. The two then rode down the historic route from the capitol to the White House, bare-headed, rain-beaten, but smiling their happiness over one of the most remarkable omissions given any president or vice president in recent years.

For nearly four hours the thousands stood in the driving rain waiting to honor to the foremost two Americans. They filled the long rows of water-soaked stands lining the route; they perched upon perilous slippery ledges of buildings flanking the route. Dripping windows were filled with peering faces, and rooftops were heavy with humanity.

On the capitol plaza, shining with water-dripping clothes saw Mr. Hoover kiss a verse in the Bible which sealed his fealty to his countrymen. That verse said: "Where there is no vision the people perish; but he that keepeth the law, happy is he."

And when the ceremony was over they remained defiant of the weather to see the impressive tribute paid the incoming head of the nation by representatives of nearly every grouping of American life. The army, the navy, the marine corps, the coast guard, governors, governors' staffs, patriotic organizations, marching clubs, and bands tramped the wet, pool-studded pavements until late in the day to salute the new commander in chief. He stood in a reviewing stand in front of the White House, glowing with pleasure, and by his side the new first lady of the land, animated with interest, waved her hand in numerous salutes.

When the parade ended and President Hoover entered his new home, its occupant of yesterday was speeding toward the quietness of Northampton, Mass., seeking the rest of a private citizen. He has become former President Coolidge, but he took with him happy memories of the expressions of friendship showered upon him on his last day in office.

Band Entertainment to Be Presented Friday Night at Sudan High School

Climaxing over two months of intensive work, the Lamb County Band under the direction of Conrad R. Lam will present its unique program next Friday evening. Advance sales of tickets indicate that the band will play to a large audience.

To let the public know about this event, the band boys have conducted an advertising campaign of proportions seldom used with a home talent production. Two thousand automobiles in Lamb county bear stickers reminding the driver and those about him of "Lamb County Band Attractions." A neat four page folder explaining the three attractions which the band is sponsoring. Window cards and of course, newspaper advertising are being used.

According to the program, which appears below, the entertainment promises to be very pleasing. The jazz orchestra and the saxophone octette furnish a diversion from the regular military band music.

"We believe the people of Sudan will be surprised, and agreeably so, after they have seen and heard this concert," stated Mr. Lam. "We have worked hard to produce this program, and will be keenly disappointed from more than the financial standpoint if a goodly number of Sudan people fail to come out to see us."

Can Your Cow Do This?

We take pleasure in quoting from the Poultry Tribune, one of the oldest, and most reliable of the poultry journals:

"Poultry, properly cared for, is the most profitable farm animal. What do the figures say? Records kept by Missouri demonstration farm flocks show that each hen in these flocks on the average last year produced an income over for costs of $2.19. Using the common figure that a 100 hen unit is equal to one cow, which is the case as far as feed consumption, care and management are concerned, every cow would have to produce an income of $219 over feed costs. There are very few herds that will produce this figure.

"In order to gain this profit, however, we must follow the example stressed by successful poultrymen, namely, start our chicks early so that the pullets come into laying early in August and September when egg prices are highest; raise the chicks the economical way with the modern brooder house and a brooder stove; place the house on clean soil, and avoid crowding the stock in any way.

"With these fundamentals strictly adhered to, barring accidents, only success will come your way."

Ora Venable, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Venable, left February 26 for Brownwood. Miss Venable will enter Central Texas Hospital for training. She is a charming young lady and we will miss her, but we wish her happiness and success in her new employment.

Mrs. V. H. Morrison and daughter, Miss Elizabeth and Miss Mary Vereen were in Clovis, New Mexico, Tuesday, shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Bass of Amherst were shopping and visiting friends in Sudan Friday.

Congress May Convene April 10

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The special session of congress for consideration of farm relief and tariff revision probably will be called on April 10 as a result of suggestions placed before President-elect Hoover by house Republican leaders.

Representative Tilson of Connecticut, majority floor leader, announced Thursday that this date, subject to change, had been proposed to Hoover after consultation with the chairman of the house agriculture and ways and means committees as to when they would be ready to report the farm and tariff bills. The President-elect, he added, had previously informed the leaders that he would be willing to abide by their judgment. The date of April 15 previously had been mentioned for the start of the session.

SANTA FE RAIL PLEA DENIED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—A Santa Fe Railroad extension project in Texas calling for the expenditure of nearly $2,000,000 and the construction of 66 miles of line, failed Monday to receive the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The application was presented by the Pecos and Northern Texas, a subsidiary of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe and contemplated extension from Hale Center to Farmerton, both points in Texas.

The commission already has authorized the Fort Worth and Denver Plains Company, which is connected with the Burlington System, to build a new line in its territory. The decision Monday said the Santa Fe construction proposed would parallel the Denver South Plains line through out its length at a distance of 13 miles and would represent an unjustified duplication of railroad facilities, particularly in view of the development of highway and truck traffic.

WILSON'S GOOD FORTUNE

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson were in Clovis last week assisting at Everybody's Store. Mr. Wilson is manager of Everybody's Store in Sudan.—Clovis News.

Mr. Wilson recently purchased a nice home in Sudan, but his friends are wondering where and how he acquired the wife. Some have hinted that perhaps she was included in the transaction for the home.

Steps to Check Cotton Wilt Taken

AUSTIN, Feb. 28.—Steps to prevent the spread of cotton wilt, a new malady and unlike cotton root rot, were taken Wednesday at a conference of Agricultural and Mechanical College experts with George B. Terrell, Commissioner of Agriculture, and J. M. Delcurto, State Entomologist.

It was recommended that the Department of Agriculture take steps to prevent seed from the affected areas, principally in Mississippi and Louisiana, coming into Texas. It was agreed that seed should not be permitted to come into Texas unless it is certified free of wilt.

A survey by A. & M. College and the Department of Agriculture now is under way to determine the extent of the disease in Texas, Delcurto said.

COWPEAS AND TERRACES BUILD UP WORN OUT FARMS

CANADIAN.—Doubling the productivity of his land in two years by planting cowpeas in alternate rows with kafir is the achievement of S. M. King who lives 13 miles south of here. He acquired this farm about three years ago, after it had been in continuous cultivation for 30 years. It is hilly land, and the soil seemed worn out, both from erosion and from the effects of many years of cotton and food crops.

The first year Mr. King planted according to the system of two rows of kafir and one row of cowpeas and made 15 bushels of kafir to the acre. The kafir was headed, the stalks and cowpeas plowed under and the field terraced. This last year it was planted again in the same way, and though a poorer stand was secured than formerly, the yield was more than double that of the previous year. Rainfall was about the same both years.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Robertson made the round trip to Lubbock Monday.

Postmaster Slate was attending to business matters in Muleshoe Tuesday.

"HONOR THY FATHER AND THY MOTHER."

(Contributed.)

In using the above heading it is the purpose of the writer to call attention to the relationship in the home of children to parents, as well as to the author of these words, "Honor thy father and thy mother." Many years ago, among my first recollections, when reference was made to the children and young people of the community, they were referred to as being good or bad, in accordance with their standing in their relationship to their parents in regard to the home government—obeying or disobeying father and mother.

Ever since man's semi-civilized state, there has been some kind of a law or government that placed restrictions on all people, old and young. This government had its beginning in the home, extending to the tribe or collection of people.

The regard that was given this government, home or otherwise, was always considered in measuring a person's character.

With the child, the character was considered good if the home government had been complied with and parents honored.

In all instances since the existence of homes there has been some kind of a law or rule for the home. Whatever this law was, it was considered next to the divine law, because of the fact that God was the author of the above mentioned command. In compliance with this home government there was respect and honor bestowed upon the parents of the home. Without obedience there can be no respect.

There are many reasons that can be given for obedience to home government, but it is enough for me to know that God said "Honor father and mother."

I would kindly ask the reader to note the conditions under a home government and obedience by the children of the home. Were they not invariably good? Did the results pay? Where the government of the home was strictly enforced and complied with, did it produce good or bad results? Were either parents or children injured because of the enforcing of the home government?

Now change the scene and think of some homes that had no government and did not believe in enforcing any particular rule or law in the home. Or possibly the home had its good rules but they were not all the time obeyed by the children. While considering these two sides, do not forget there are always exceptions. I am discussing the best and safest route in life to produce happiness.

With my own blood I helped fight the German government. But it has been my privilege to be a teacher among the German people that were foreign born. I almost invariably found their children more submissive to the government of the school than our American children. When I visited in their homes and got into the secret of it, I found they were under a very strict government at home. They were taught their religion, morality, and obedience in every respect. What a blessing it would be if we in America would have the reverence for home and nation that some other peoples have. This is not said in defense of the German nation.

Readers, we are inclined to shift the blame for any of the evils that may exist today, in want of respect for the home, parents and church, onto our children; when a large percent of it has or had its beginning with us in not establishing a good home government and enforcing it as we should in the early life of the child. Yet our failure does not release the child from its duty and the consequences of being good or bad.

Honoring parents will always produce good results. God is not going to forget a good deed. It is a divine law that doing right will bring good results. True, some parents are not entitled to any honor. But it is better to give the respect and honor though it is not deserved, than to fall where it should be given.

These words are not written just for the purpose of criticizing nor to give advice, but because it is truth and facts, and hoping to cause some thought concerning the greatest institution on earth—the home. I mean institution of earthly origin. The church is greatest, but it is of divine origin and for different purposes.

I once saw a sign in a bank. "Stop and Think." I think it well for parents and children to stop and think. Parents, as to whether or not we are worthy of respect and honor. Children, as to whether or not they have the proper regard for the advice and counsel of parents, and whether or not they can claim the promise that goes with the command: "Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long in the land that the Lord thy God giveth thee."

Yours to serve,
W. F. LYNCH.

Hogs at New 1928 High at Chicago

UNION STOCK YARDS, CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Hog prices moved up to a new high for the year right at the start on Thursday. Many sales were made at $11 and $11.05. Trade was active throughout with the market gaining in strength until prices were up as much as 20 cents from Wednesday. Choice butchers topped at $11.15. Choice packing hogs made $10 and $10.35. The supply was rather light at 21,000 and shippers and yards traders were active bidders.

THE SUDAN NEWS

Entered as second class mail matter July 2, 1925, at the Postoffice at Sudan, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Published Every Thursday by
H. H. WEIMHOLD & SON
At Its Office In Sudan, Texas

E. C. BARBER - - - - - Editor

$2.00 PER YEAR, IN ADVANCE

Reading Notices, Obituaries, Card of Thanks, Resolutions of Respect, Etc., 10c per line. Display rates on Rate Card, which may be secured on request.

THE AMERICAN CREED

"I believe in the United States of America and the principles of freedom, justice, equality and humanity upon which it was founded and for which American Patriots have given their lives and fortunes.

"I believe it is my duty towards my country to love it; to support its constitution; to obey its laws; and to defend it against all enemies."

Any erroneous reflection upon the character or reputation of any person, company or corporation which may appear in these columns will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the management.

"BOOST OR MOVE."

BUSINESS METHODS IN GOVERNMENT.

McLean, Texas.—An ordinance has been passed by the city council making it a misdemeanor for any person engaged in business in McLean to allow any accumulation of trash or rubbish on his property or in the streets and alleys adjoining his premises. All non-combustible materials must be placed in receptacles at the edge of the alley to be hauled away by the city garbage wagon.

All cafes, furniture, grocery, dry goods, drug and variety stores will be taxed $2.00 per month for the wagon service and all others who have trash to be disposed of, $1.00 per month.

The News wishes to place its endorsement on the above and commend the action of McLean to the citizens of every other town.

Sudan is reaching out for business, for new enterprises, for added population of the right sort. To attain these objectives the city must make of itself a place to be desired by the class of citizens sought.

Nothing—we say it with emphasis—nothing more appeals to the person seeking location, than a neat, clean, orderly community. These characteristics plainly reveal the tastes of the residents, and if public neatness and orderliness are lacking, the home seeker is only too apt to infer that other desirable qualities are lacking also.

The News does not wish to be understood as inferring that Sudan is a dirty town. Far from that. Still, there are many ways in which we might improve the public appearance of the community.

"Clean-up Week" is becoming an established event in the progressive towns and cities of this country, and through this an added spirit of public pride is being developed. But a "clean-up week" followed by long periods of neglect and apathy, will get us nowhere.

If we are to make and keep our town clean and attractive, we must get on the job and STAY there 365 days in the year.

LEVY EQUITABLE AND UNIFORM TAXES.

The Sudan News has no desire to even attempt to dictate to the constituted authorities as to the conduct of city affairs. But there are certain policies that, if pursued, must inevitably result not only in failure to attain the desired end, but also in grave injustice.

To be specific, the attempt to finance a police department by voluntary contributions simply amounts to shifting the burden of government from the shoulders of all to those of the few who are sufficiently patriotic to shoulder the load. Every citizen of the town, every business enterprise of the town, shares in the protection afforded by the police department. Every citizen of the town, every business enterprise of the town should bear his or her or its pro rata part of the expense, according to his or her or its financial ability. There is absolutely no other possible way to view this question.

It is plain to every fair-minded person that each and every item of expense incurred by the city government should be embraced in a budget of expenditures. This budget should include the entire public expense account, equitably proportioned. Then, every available source of revenue should be assessed its fair proportion to produce this amount. No city can afford to play favorites and permit some to escape responsibility while others more willing or more passive shoulder the burden. These burdens become irksome in time, and the bearers eventually rebel.

Place public burdens on the shoulders of all.

A SITUATION FRAUGHT WITH DANGER.

Last week Dr. Aikin, of the State Health Department, visited several localities in Lamb county to make tests of cattle for the possible presence of bovine tuberculosis. It is the results of these tests which we wish to call to the attention of our citizens.

Mr. Aikin recently was called by County Agent D. A. Adam to Lamb county to make tests on milk cows to ascertain whether or not tuberculosis were present. Forty-six animals were examined and, while all but two animals passed the tests, these two showed reaction. By "reaction" is meant that the test developed the presence of tuberculosis in the animal. The veterinarian states that in one of the animals the reaction was quite positive. The bad feature of this case was that the milk from the cow was being used in the home, and that, too, by young children.

Medical science has clearly demonstrated the fact that transmission of tuberculosis from a cow to a human being through the consumption of the milk is not only possible, but extremely probable. With this fact before us, and with the further possibility that his own child may be consuming milk from an infected animal, it behooves every owner of a milk cow to lose no time in assuring himself that no taint of this dread scourge lurks in his dairy animals. The small sum of $1.50 per animal required for the test fades into insignificance alongside the risk that must be run until the scourge is pronounced non-existent.

Cow owners of Lamb county should wake up to the frightful possibilities in this situation, and see to it that every milk cow in the county is tested and provided a clean bill of health. The possibilities are too serious to be lightly regarded.

A Sudan flapper was in a hurry to get to town. "Mother, do you know where my hat is," she asked piquantly. "Yes, dear," replied mother, "your brother is using it on his sling shot."

Drummers report a big business in all lines in the Sudan territory for the opening of the year, which is a positive indication of prosperity, with all enjoying a share.

And now maybe Mr. Hoover believes that there are a number of people in this country looking for job.

Baseball fans are beginning to talk about the season's prospects. Sure sign of spring.

The only sure way to cut down auto insurance rates is to cut down accidents.

It is wonderful how much free help a man in a high position gets.

The man who is looking for trouble is never in need of an oculist.

And soon will come the Easter egg hunts all over the nation.

It is better to talk about the weather than the neighbors.

The good bandit is the one with a bouquet in his hand.

Hope Mr. Hoover will make that cabinet oil tight.

This is a high pressure age. Watch your gauge.

Cheer up. Time flies; soon be time for flies.

Few tears will be shed at the demise of jazz.

Radical views are the easiest ones to adopt.

Society buds often wed ex-service buddies.

Better the brakes tight than the driver.

"Herb tonic" will pick up this spring.

Oh! Man Winter, your time is short.

Echoes From The Schools

With this issue before you, the Sophomores become news gatherers for the next four weeks. We have items of vital interest that we want our readers to remember carefully. Among these items may be noted Lam's Lamb County Band attractions, School Meet, Last Monday Program, New Teacher, and a number of other special features.

Friday afternoon, March 8, this school will undertake an innovation for its personality and its personnel. The meet will be in the nature of contests between different classes in the school to see which class holds the best score, but finally the chief result will be to select our representatives for the county meet which takes place Friday and Saturday, March 22 at Olton. If friends of the school will meet us at one o'clock Friday of this week we promise to give them some good entertainment.

Next Friday evening the first of Lam's Lamb County Band attractions will be held in the high school auditorium. These attractions consist of a series of three lyceum programs. The proceeds will be used to pay traveling expenses of the band on a trip to El Paso. Next Friday's program will be a band concert, and everybody is invited to attend.

Monday of next week our debating team goes in the forenoon to Muleshoe to argue the question for the Interscholastic League with them. On the next Monday after that Muleshoe comes to Sudan in the afternoon for a return debate. Next, then, we shall see our debaters at Olton. Marvin Thomas and Arnold Purcell will represent Sudan in these contests, and we feel sure we shall have an even break with other teams of the plains.

Next Monday afternoon we have our tryouts for declamation contests in our chapel programs. The winners in the different sections will represent us at Olton. We are entitled to six declaimers in the county meet, a boy and a girl for each of the three divisions. Come Monday to chapel and hear the declaimers who will be Sudan's hope at Olton.

Last Thursday evening our junior actors presented "The Bride Breezes In." A fairly large crowd heard this amusing little comedy, and seemed to enjoy it. Monday of this week, the two coaches, Mr. Brown and Miss Hammock, put on a chapel program which was the first of its kind ever presented on a Sudan stage, an athletic program. It consisted first of a debate, "Resolved that athletics should be abolished from the public schools." Rufus Gilbreath represented the affirmative and Helen Williams the negative. Wonderful arguments were presented by each speaker. At the close Rufus granted that Helen had won, but she did the same thing, so they agree as they usually do. After the debate came a number of stunt features that would have been a credit to a student body with long training in a gymnasium. In this the boys were easily winners, but two of the girls, Lucy Belle Lewis and Nannie Lee, deserve special mention for the performances rendered with grace and ease. Many of the boys showed the possibilities we are missing, for they could easily rate first loss gymnasium performers with a year of coaching in a gymnasium.

Last Sunday Miss Hammock made her thirteenth trip to a Lubbock clinic for nasal trouble. We hope thirteen is her lucky number. School continues to grow. Most of the increased enrollment recently has been in the grammar grades. When the lower grades were too crowded to get along a new teacher was put in. She is Miss Walls of Tule Lake and is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins. When the fifth and sixth grades outgrew their rooms they were shifted about. Five low seventh pupils were put into high seventh and eight high sixth pupils were brought to the high school building and placed in low seventh. By this means congestion is avoided except when the high seventh must recite as when the building assembly at 8:25. At these dates there is no room in the high school building large enough to hold all of them.

Last Friday the agriculture boys had a very pleasant trip to Littlefield and a chance to do some stock feeding study.

We have had some more illness in our faculty during the past week. Misses Thomas and Jackson have been sick but both are back on the job now. In their absence their classes were filled by Mesdames Newton and Talbot.

We poor souls regret to have to lose Misses Beatrice Moore and Lorene Brewster, but we suppose that all Adam's daughters sooner or later succumb to matrimony. But the boys are not the only class to lose this way as the Seniors have lost Loreta Mahen recently. The Seniors have also lost Laddie Ellis who has returned to her home.

Illness which has been a potent factor in lowering our attendance records seems to be on the wane. Last week our daily bus loads were running about 250, but already this week we are running over 280 daily. We are expecting considerably over 300 before the close of the week.

Mr. Wilkins spent part of Monday in Muleshoe looking after business. George Wilkins and B. C. Wells were visitors in the Wilkins home Sunday.

Prof. Boles, high school principal at Littlefield, was a visitor in our

DO YOU REMEMBER?

When men wore paper collars? When celluloid collars were in fashion and men could do their own washing?

When it was not necessary for women to pull down their dresses to cover their knees?

When a man could have another put in jail for a personal debt?

When the moustache cup was in vogue?

When copper-toed boots and shoes were the thing for boys?

high school office Sunday afternoon, as was Mr. Herbert Bural of Clarendon. Mr. Carruth and Prof. Gladson of Olton were visitors here Saturday afternoon, and Mr. Whitesides and Miss Reeves of Lubbock visited the office Monday afternoon. One childhood acquaintance of Mr. Wilkins, a Mr. Hudson of Stamford, visited him last week.

We agriculture boys last Friday at Littlefield were taught how to select cattle for registration, how to arrange for registration, how to improve milk production. We were taught how to feed for fat and for milk. One significant feature of these lessons was that they were given by men who had done the work they were explaining. C. E. R. The Sophomore Class.

Every Woman Knows

Every woman knows how easy it is to burn or scald herself while working in her home. Every woman knows that these burns and scalds are painful and sometimes very slow to heal. Every woman should know that the pain of burns and scalds will be quickly relieved, infection positively prevented and speedy healing assured if Liquid Borozone is instantly applied. Get a bottle of Liquid Borozone and keep it handy in your medicine cabinet. Sold by

M. G. Ranby Drug Store

PURITY SEED FARM

W. M. POOL & SON
Twelve Miles West, One Mile South

WE HAVE THE FOLLOWING SEEDS WHICH HAVE BEEN INSPECTED AND ARE CERTIFIED; also STATE TESTED

Black Hull Kaffir, Milo Maize, Hegari, Red Top Cane

—AT—

$3.00 Per Hundred, Thresher Run

$3.50 Recleaned

$4.00 Recleaned and Treated For Smut

$2.00 Per Buchel for Sure Cropper Corn

—ALL SEED SACKED—

DON'T WAIT UNTIL TOO LATE

Grain

Yes, we are Grain Dealers—always in the market, to handle your grain of all kinds. We pay top prices and give you efficient and courteous service.

Come and let us Show You.

J. N. Beasley Grain Co.

E. C. SHUMAN, Manager

Visit Our Store

—AND—

Attend the Band Concert Friday night at High School Auditorium.

Higginbotham-Bartlet Co

Lumber Hardware Implements

SUDAN, TEXAS

Strong Sturdy Chicks

The right start is half the battle.

Many experienced poultry raisers know that starts 'em right and makes 'em grow rapidly into profit makers.

ECONOMY STARTING FOOD

You simply can't beat it.

You can't buy better feeds than we sell at any price, and results are guaranteed. It will pay you to come here for your feeds.

Weimholds' Commercial Hatchery

News of Texas
Told in Brief

BORGER.—With half a dozen track men from last year's team to form the nucleus of the Bull Dog track squad for 1929, Coach Max L. Cherry of Borger high school is planning for at least one invitation track and field meet for Borger in addition to the West Texas State Teachers' College district meet at Canyon this year.

AMARILLO.—A cablegram received from Paris last night announced the triumphal success of Miss Esther Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Blackwell of this city, who has been studying music in Paris, Germany and Copenhagen for the past several years.

FORT STOCKTON.—The Fort Stockton Chamber of Commerce is meeting with much encouragement in the matter of securing a large acreage planted to pecans in this county. At this time, there are only a few pecan trees in Pecos county, which has more than 3,500,000 acres. No effort has ever been made to encourage the industry here. The few trees in this county have borne exceptionally fine nuts tending to prove that the old idea that pecans would not thrive in this section is incorrect.

AMARILLO.—Amarillo high school will send a track team to compete in the high school meet which will be held in connection with the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show, March 16.

AUSTIN.—Acquitted at 2 o'clock Thursday morning after a 10-day trial on an indictment charging election fraud, Congressman-elect Augustus J. McCloskey of San Antonio heard that he, nevertheless, probably would have to go to Washington burdened by the remaining four indictments.

Lamar Seligson, Bexar county district attorney, declined to state his attitude toward dismissal of the charges or insistence upon another or other trials when the matter was brought before Judge J. D. Moore.

SHAMROCK.—To kill 70 rabbits within three hours time was the experience of Jack Cutshall, John Pavlovsky and a Mr. Riley. They killed the animals with shotguns while there was snow on the ground. The hunt was staged on the Pavlovsky farm, five miles southwest of Shamrock.

TULLA.—Swisher county is undoubtedly on the right track with the large "accredited herd plan program." There are more than 100 herds in the county on this plan. This is being accomplished through the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas, and as a result of this work over the nation, the nationwide bovine tuberculosis eradication activities, the incident of that disease has decreased 50 per cent since 1920, and in the same time consumption of milk and milk products has increased 33 1-3 per cent.

AUSTIN.—A Texas "Blue Law," written on the statute books in 1871 before motion picture shows were established in the state, was amended by the house so that they may be operated on the Sabbath through local regulation.

WASHINGTON.—Harry Stephen Bishop of Amarillo was appointed by Congressman Marvin Jones as a student to West Point from that congressional district.

AMARILLO.—After a desperate struggle with a rabies-crazed wolf in his home, about his yard and in the engine house of an oil well, L. W. Cole, pumper for the Dixon Creek oil company, and two Skelly employees in Moore county took treatment for rabies here yesterday. Examination at the laboratory here showed the wolf's brain in an advanced stage of the dread disease.

AMARILLO.—Declaring Governor Moody's veto of the Small river bed land bill to be an "outrage," land owners from Amarillo and from many points in the Panhandle were leaving Sunday night for Austin to renew their battle before the legislature. They will make a determined effort to have both houses of the legislature pass the measure over Governor Moody's head during the remaining week the lawmakers are in session.

WASHINGTON.—Belief grew here that Senator Earle B. Mayfield of Texas, who retires from the senate Monday, is likely to be a candidate for governor of Texas next year.

LAMESA.—A woman today succeeded her husband to the office of sheriff of Dawson county following the death Friday of Sheriff Joe L. Ray. Within four hours after her husband's death, Mrs. Ray was appointed by the commissioners' court to fill out his term.

BRYAN.—Tommy Wilkes, about 25, was trapped beneath his flaming truck about two miles south of College Station Saturday night and burned to death before motorists could extricate him.

AMARILLO.—Twenty-three players, champion old-time fiddlers of as many counties, have qualified for the second annual Tri-State Fair Association's old fiddlers' contest to be held at the municipal auditorium Thursday night.

LUBBOCK.—Making a plea for conservation of the soil in West Texas and giving some practical suggestions as to how it could be done, D. E. Dickson, agricultural agent at Spur, gave a practical address before the recent Farm Short Course, held here. It is generally thought owing to the general level character of the country that there will not be much soil waste in West Texas, but Mr. Dickson shows that this is not true and he points out that the production of the black land belt of Texas has been cut in half by soil waste. He thinks this can and should be prevented in this section.

SHAMROCK.—Six or seven persons residing two miles north of Twitty on the Wheeler road, are taking the Pasteur treatment for rabies as a result of having been bitten by a dog which is believed to have had hydrophobia. The persons were bitten Tuesday, February 21, but it was not believed the dog had rabies until two days later. The dog was taken to Pampa Friday and its head was sent to Amarillo for examination the next day when physicians pronounced the animal had rabies.

SHAMROCK.—West Texas is rapidly becoming a leading agricultural area and this section of the state is undoubtedly the "coming country," in the opinion of F. B. McKay of Dallas, assistant general freight agent for the Southern Pacific lines, who was a visitor in the city Saturday.

COLLEGE STATION.—Three college scholarships, each worth $300, offered annually to 4-H club girls working under supervision of home home demonstration agents of the Extension Service, A. & M. College of Texas, have been awarded this year to Farris Stevenson, Hermleigh, Scurry county; Alma Kindt, Wheeler, Brazos county; and Ardell Watkins, Atlanta, Cass county.

YOAKUM.—An average of four and one-third cents per pound was obtained on 100 car loads of green wrapped tomatoes shipped out of here last year cooperatively by the Hub City Tomato Growers' Association, bringing a gross profit of $98,864, and netting farmers about $5,000 more than prevailing prices would have brought. The association has also bought its members fertilizers cooperatively and is inducing them to use a 10-6-4 fertilizer at the rate of 300 to 500 pounds per acre, which has been demonstrated the most profitable under local conditions.

TOO MUCH NORA

A visitor was being conducted through an insane asylum by an attendant. They came upon one inmate, a young man, who paid no attention whatever to the visitor. He moved around continuously calling "Nora, Nora, Nora." The attendant said, "That is a very sad case. That young man was engaged to be married to a young woman whose given name was Nora. She discarded him and as a result he lost his mind. He walks around and calls for her every hour that he is awake. A sad case!"

The visitor was next taken into the ward of the more violent inmates. He looked through the iron door of a thickly padded cell, and saw a young man trying to kill himself by jamming his head against the wall. He asked the attendant to tell him something of the life story of this poor unfortunate man. The attendant simply said, "That is the man that married Nora."

A short story entitled, "Three Generations." Grandfather had a farm. Father had a garden. Son has a can opener.

EVER THOUGHT OF THIS?

Did you ever stop to think that if you spend your money in some other city and your neighbors do the same, what will become of your home city?

E. S. ROWE ATTORNEY

General Practice in All Courts
Office in Littlefield State Bank Building
LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS

ROWE ABSTRACT CO.
Complete Abstracts of All Lands in Lamb County
Let us make that trip to Olton for you!
Located in old Bank Building

A SURE-ENOUGH FOURSOME

Customer in small store: "Izzie, how many doors have you in this store?"

Izzie: "V'y, two doors, of course. De front door and de back door."

Customer: "Ah, that is where you are wrong, Izzie. You have four doors. You have a front door, a back door, a cuspidor and Isadore."

Izzie: "Ha, ha, dot's good. Just you wait and I get that on Rachel." Later, after the arrival of Rachel: Izzie: "Rachel, how many doors have ve got in dis store?"

Rachel: "Aw, now, don't be so foolish. Ve got two doors, of course."

Izzie: "Aw, no, Rachel, ve got four doors—the front door, the back door, the spittoon und me myself."

Try News Want Ad columns.

DR. G. A. FOOTE
Glasses Fitted
PHYSICIAN and SURGEON
Office At Sudan Drug
Office Phone 45
Residence Phone 33

J. E. (Bert) DRYDEN
Attorney-At-Law
PRACTICE IN ALL COURTS
SUDAN, TEXAS

General Auctioneering
FARM AND STOCK SALES
COL. JACK ROWAN
LICENSED AUCTIONEER
Dates Made At This Office

LONG AND SHORT OF IT

The days are growing slowly longer

but unfortunately there's nothing slow about the rate at which the coal pile grows shorter.

Saturday Specials

3 yds. Dress Prints, regular 25c yd.,
Saturday Special, 3 yds.-----50c

18x36 Rugs, regular 40c,
Saturday Special -----25c

Silk Rayons, regular 75c yd.,
3 yds. for -----$1.39

Will have Specials on several articles, too numerous to mention.

We are back of our Band Boys. Hear them Friday night.

G. C. HOLDEN

Dry Goods, Groceries, Caskets, Undertakers' Supplies

CUTTING Lubricating Costs

Our volume of sales on Conoco Amalie Oils is growing larger each month, and there is a reason for this growth.

Our customers are buying these oils time after time and they are telling their neighbors about the lubricating satisfaction they are getting.

In this way the news is spreading that the CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY is the one to go to for cheaper lubricating values.

Tests are proving that tractor owners are getting more hours of running on Conoco Amalie Oils, and are holding up a better pressure on their indicators than with any oil they have ever used.

Car owners are finding their oil looks better and has a better body when drained from their car after a THOUSAND MILES OF RUNNING than other oils they had used after five hundred miles of running.

The proof is there before their eyes that by using Conoco Amalie Oils they are CUTTING THEIR LUBRICATING COSTS.

If you are not using this oil you are losing money

F. Z. PAYNE Local Representative

Continental Oil Company
SUDAN, TEXAS

Now Is the Time
TO BRIGHTEN UP YOUR HOME

And if it is a Rug or anything in the Furniture line you are looking for, then don't miss seeing our large display. Your visit to our store will afford you a pleasure and saving.

Attend the Band Program Friday night.

STUART'S FURNITURE AND HARDWARE

Save Wash Day Worries! Patronize

Sudan Laundry

A new industry for Sudan, and an institution to please the good housewives of the community.

The Sudan Laundry solicits your patronage and assures the people of competent services at reasonable prices.

Now in operation. Call us and our representative will call on you.

M. J. Hatcher, Prop.

South Main Street

Latest Records

Large selection of latest Phonograph Records

Also an up-to-date Victrola for sale at a Big Bargain

Radio Shop

J. C. BARRON

F. E. MILLER

Lamb County Consolidated BAND CONCERT

Featuring
MILITARY BAND MUSIC
SAXOPHONE OCTETTE
STAGE ORCHESTRA
INSTRUMENTAL SOLOS

An Evening of Solid Enjoyment for the Whole Family

PLACE

HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

DATE

Friday, March 8

Admission 50c and 25c.

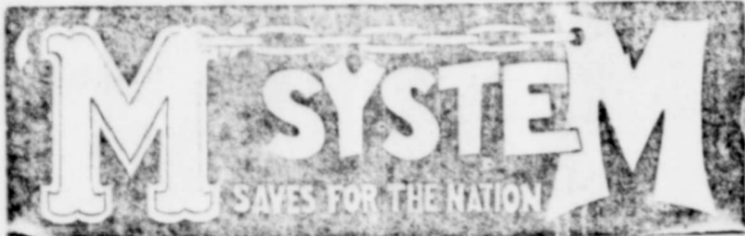

Benefit of Sudan Band

Why Trade Elsewhere?

When It Can Be Bought

CHEAPER

At

Let's Cooperate with the Band by Hearing Their Concert

Have Just Installed a

HOFFMAN PRESS

Don't take chances. Let US do your Cleaning and Pressing

The intricate work of cleaning clothing holds many dangers for the housewife, in addition to being a hard, tiresome task.

Why not let US do your cleaning and dyeing? Our rates are low. Our work is uniformly excellent.

You take no chances when you give us your work. Just give us a trial—let us prove that what we say in this advertisement is true.

Sudan Cleaning Co

Fresh, Tasty, Good Things

Here you will find the finest of Groceries at the fairest of Prices. You will find everything arranged for your convenience when you come here to shop. And when you place your order by telephone, you will be pleased with our prompt delivery and careful selections.

Work Clothes

We carry a nice line of Work Clothes and in a few days will add piece goods, ladies' hose and other things in the dry goods line.

We also carry a full line of Garden Seeds, package and in bulk.

Children, visit our store and see our Easter Eggs.

Don't forget the Big Band Concert.

"We Will Meet You With a Smile"

HOLT & SONS

Cash Grocery

Our Neighbors

Littlefield

(Lamb County Leader.)

The city of Littlefield receives a credit of 12 per cent on its final fire rate, effective March 1, according to information received by local insurance men from the State Insurance department.

Unknown parties entering the vaults of the Howe Abstract Co. and the Yellow Horse Land Co. sometime between Saturday night and Monday morning, took away about $20 in currency. Entrance to the building was probably made through one of the other of the offices by a skeleton or duplicate key.

A recent audit of Littlefield municipal water and sewer system made by Superintendent H. J. Gibbs shows the following interesting facts: There are 4.4 miles of sewer; 4.3 miles of waterworks pipe; 156 sewer connections and 319 water connections.

Last Friday the primary school, under direction of Mr. Helweg, of the agriculture department, spent an hour planting trees on the campus. Thirty shade trees were presented to the school by members of the Rotary club.

J. W. Ratekin was elected secretary of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce last week at a special meeting of the Board of Directors called by President J. S. Hilliard.

Following an examination some six weeks ago, Roy S. Wade, clerk in the Littlefield postoffice, has been appointed carrier for rural route No. 2, effective March 1. Leonard Wright, another clerk in the local postoffice, will step into Mr. Wade's place while Eugene Latimer, substitute clerk, will take Mr. Wright's former place.

Harry Lucas, popular Littlefield boy among his schoolmates, and elder son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lucas, was buried Tuesday afternoon in the Littlefield cemetery. Harry was 11 years of age. Just turning into manhood, an internal injury is supposed to be the incipient cause, followed by rheumatic fever.

Littlefield is in receipt of its new fire engine, driven in by Doc Miller, from Dallas, where it was received of the Southern Fire Apparatus Co.

A party registering at the Littlefield hotel as B. R. Bowers, Paris, Texas, but thought by Littlefield citizens to be a woman in man's clothing, abandoned a 10 day old baby boy and disappeared. The baby was found in a suite case in the room assigned to the party. Several of the good ladies of Littlefield have expressed a desire to provide a home for the little waif.

Levelland

D. N. Leverton, a contractor of Lubbock, who constructed the present high school building, met with the school board Monday evening and proposed an extension, or addition to that structure which would provide for eight class rooms, and be the means of temporarily relieving the overcrowded condition of the city schools.

The Hockley County Interscholastic League will hold its annual meet here on Friday and Saturday, March 22 and 23. Each school in the county will take part in the various contests and the event is always one of intense interest to both pupils and parents.

That Levelland continues to grow and is rapidly assuming its place as one of the best county seat towns of the South Plains is evidenced by the fact that there have been fifty-four new residences built here since last September; and that the plans made during that month by the West Texas Gas Company for their system here will have to be enlarged and altered in many ways to serve the town and its immediate future.

Muleshoe

Muleshoe is to be well represented at the Texas-Panhandle Plains Dairy Show to be held in Plainview April 2 to 5, inclusive, in addition to a number of farmers who will attend from this vicinity, a delegation composed of citizens of the town will attend in a body and represent both the town and individual business firms.

Contract was let today for a new building on Main street for Mr. C. V. Steed, of Clovis. The new building will be used by Mr. Steed for undertaking parlors which will be a branch of the Clovis establishment.

Mr. H. C. Edmonds, proprietor of the Muleshoe Tailor Shop, is having a new home built on his property in the west part of town.

Construction work on the new

Adults Contract Children Diseases

Adults can, and do, contract children's diseases. And, usually, suffer from them much more than children do for instance, many contract worms, an ailment usually associated with children. Sometimes they suffer intensely and take extensive medical treatments, without realizing that worms are the cause of the troubles. Yet, the symptoms are the same as in children, loss of appetite and weight, grinding the teeth and restless sleep, itching of the nose and anal and abdominal pains. And, the same medicine that surely and harmlessly cures round and pin worms from children will do the same for adults—White's Cream Vermifuge, which you can get at H. G. Ranby Drug Store.

Phillips Service Station was started Monday. The new station is to be modern in every particular and will be rushed to completion.

Two hundred and forty hens at the McAdams poultry farm, near Muleshoe, netted the owner $756.50 in twelve months. A record was kept from February 1st, 1928, to February 1st, 1929.

What Terracing Does For the Farm

(From the Publicity Department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.)

That the soil which is stirred with the plow today may not even be there to be plowed twenty years from today is a fact which is engaging the attention of a great many farmers in West Texas. Terracing to prevent the erosion of the soil is found to be second only in importance to terracing to prevent the loss of soil fertility by rainfall. In a recent survey made by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Because many tons of soil run off in the form of muddy water following every shower, the necessity of terracing to conserve moisture and save added fertility and the laboriously fought for humus has been realized to such an extent that terracing schools are a regular part of a county agent's work in most places. Since it would be impossible for him to terrace all of the land, he saves time by demonstrating to a group of farmers how the work is done.

A work that has been denoted a classic in agricultural experiment has been done at Spur at the experimental station where some of the most outstanding and significant importance of experiments in the whole nation have been carried on. Such intricate and delicate projects as the measuring and weighing of the amount of soil washed off a certain piece of land with an ascertained slope under definite conditions of rainfall have been made, and accounts published for the benefit of farmers who own farms with similar soils. B. E. Dickson is at present the manager of the experimental station which was established by Doctor Youngblood, several years ago.

Electra is taking the lead in this work in Wichita county according to G. C. McGown, county agent. The farm of Mike Hartsmangruber, and one of the farms of W. B. Marchant which have recently been terraced are the models which the other farmers are copying. These two farms consist of 200 acres which have been terraced with 300 more to be terraced before planting time if possible. Two small farms in the irrigation section will be terraced and the rows run with the terraces in the near future. A. K. Short, of the Federal Land Bank and M. R. Bentley of the Extension Service held a terracing school in the Electra territory on Feb. 25.

Within the last twelve years approximately 10,000 acres have been terraced in Tarrant county and 40,000 acres benefitted by conserving soil moisture and preventing erosion. By designating one to three farmers as leaders in each community demonstrations are given to farmers owning their own terracing levels. By this plan 5000 acres will be benefitted this year. M. M. Miller, of Route 2, Arlington, has assisted M. C. Counts, county agricultural agent, in carrying out this farm engineering program.

The Federal Farm Loan Bank of Houston has done much to bring about the extension practice of terracing in the county since it requires all farmers carrying loans who have lands needing terracing to have same done.

Around San Angelo sixty per cent of the land lies in the Lipan flat, which is a level tract of land of several thousand acres. Eighty per cent of the terracing done on this touring since there is no necessity to terrace for the conservation of the soil, only for the conservation of moisture. Dor W. Brown, county agent, states that the farms in his territory produce about one-third more where all the rows are on a level line than where they are not. About seventy per cent of the farms of the county have had level lines run on them.

Ten farmers, representing five communities in Howard county with a total acreage of approximately 2000 acres have asked county agent J. V. Bush at Big Spring for jobs of terracing to be done this spring and next fall. He estimates that two hundred farmers will terrace their 2500 acres this year. This is another county where demonstrations will be given on certain farms for the benefit of all.

In Eastland county, according to J. C. Patterson, county agent, more terracing was done in January of this year than was done in the whole of last year, the cause being, perhaps, that members of the Commissioners Court are using their road graders for the work and are charging only actual operating expenses for the machinery. Terraces built fifteen years ago are still standing a monument to Ed T. Cox, first Eastland county agent. Four teachers of vocational agriculture have been active in the work and two individuals, Ben Reed of the First National Bank of Gorman, and W. P. Roach, farm leader of Rising Star have helped terrace as many as fifteen farms in one community while the graders were in that section. The cost has been on an average of fifty to seventy-five cents per acre.

WORLD ON WHEELS

There are no more than 25 million registered automobiles in America which is more than twice as many as all the rest of the world combined. The problem of what to do with used cars is growing more acute every day, but it worries the man with a new car least of all.

FANATICS HELP THE WORLD

Would we ever get much done without our fanatics and reporters who so beautifully color their behavior?

I might of our glibes at them, if we told the truth, we must admit that it is their antics that make our existence thrilling and give a lure to our newspapers.

Here is some irate woman in Missouri who, remembering Carrie Nation, walked out one evening with her own little hand axe and smashed at a neighborhood joint which, so she alleges, had sold liquor to her hand and daughter. In pre-Carrie Nation days daughter would never have appeared in the story at all. It was always wayward sons who were the being saved.

As a matter of cold fact, Carrie did not start her rampages by hating the furniture. What first fired her anger was a knowledge that a life-size painting of a nude woman graced the walls of a saloon in her home town, and she became a hero by slashing it from its frame. But the story sounded so interesting before the morning had been over that the newsman had to get on with it. He had to tell of her hat act. And Carrie found the publicity so delightful that she promptly took her axe and everybody knows what followed.

Too we may deplore their one-track minds and their strange behavior, it is quite true that fanatics have been responsible for a great deal of our progress. St. Paul and Martin Luther were fanatics. Christopher Columbus, Joan of Arc, Oliver Cromwell, Anna Howard Shaw, all these were more or less "fanatics" but they changed the thought of nations. Harriet Beecher Stowe had a one-track mind that was partially responsible for freeing a race from slavery.

In fact, most great movements are led by those who are the victims of one idea and who go up and down the earth preaching it to others.

Tolerance is a marvelous attribute, and broad-mindedness a veritable gift of the gods, but some way it is the fanatics who get things done.

AN OXNOW TO WORK

What the coming year brings forth depends pretty much on ourselves. So hard work, with the proper spirit to work, is the injunction of the hour.

The spirit of the new year should be to render better service than ever by loving the work at hand, if honorable and worthwhile, better than ever.

No service, in whatever line, can ever be so admirably rendered, as that impelled by a genuine love for that service.

With an individual determination to shoulder rightful burdens and shirk no task, to cast aside smallness and meanness, 1929 can be and should be a bright page for you and for me.

March 12

Beginning at 10:00 A. M., at my place 2 1/2 miles southwest of Sudan, Texas.

HORSES AND MULLES

- 1 Black Mare, smooth mouth, wt. about 1150 lbs.
- 1 Bay Mare 10 yrs. old, wt. 1300 lbs.
- 1 Bay Horse 5 yrs. old, wt. 1400 lbs.
- 1 Sorrel Horse 8 yrs. old, wt. 1400 lbs.
- 1 Roan Horse 9 yrs. old, wt. 1000 lbs.
- 1 Sorrel Horse 3 yrs. old, wt. 1000 lbs.
- 1 Mare Colt, yearling.
- 1 Red Horse Mule 7 yrs. old, wt. 1000 lbs.
- 1 Brown Horse Mule 6 yrs. old, wt. 1000 lbs.
- 1 Gray Mare Mule, smooth mouth, wt. 900 lbs.
- 6 Sets Harness.

- 1 Chicken House.
- 1 Brooder House.
- 1 5/8-chick Coal Brooder.
- 1 Turkey Coop.
- 1 Roll 4-foot Pickets.
- 1 Roll 4-ft. Net Wire. Posts and Lumber.
- Half-and-Half Colton Seed.
- 1 Six-row Poison Sprayer and Barrel.

COWS

- 1 Red Jersey Cow 10 years old, fresh right away.
- 1 Red Durham Jersey 6 years old, giving milk, Heifer Calf.
- 1 Light Jersey 3 years old, steer calf, giving milk.
- 1 Black Jersey Cow 3 years old, giving milk.

IMPLEMENTS

- 1 Two-row P. & O. Lister.
- 1 Single-row Avery Cultivator.
- 1 Single-row John Deere Cultivator.
- 1 Single-row Godevil.
- 1 Section Harrow.
- 2 Cultivator Knife Attachments.
- 2 Wagons (one 2-bale bed).

CHICKENS

- About 75 W. Leghorn Hens, 5 Roosters. (Above M. Johnson strain.)
- TURKEYS—3 Hens and 1 Tom.
- About 2500 bundles Cane.
- Other Articles not listed.

Terms Cash.

Free Lunch at Noon.

Please bring your cup.

H. D. SMITH, Owner

Jack Rowan, Auctioneer.

J. D. West, Clerk

DINSMORE'S FOLLY

By CRITTENDEN MARRIOTT

Illustrations by Irwin Myers

Copyright WNU Service

The ghosts instead I mean put out the lights and go to our rooms and give Perkins a chance to think we've all gone to bed. He'll be waiting to send some word or signal to the spooks when the coast is clear."

The others agreed that I was right, and so we all went upstairs to our rooms. Of course, however, none of Fred Glanced at Me Quickly. Then He Smiled. It Was a Knowing Smile, Too.

The A B C railroad, as I knew, had been practically in Father's possession for a good many years. The X Y Z people had been anxious to get it to complete their system but Father had always refused to part with the control and had been able to prevent them from forcing him to sell. Very recently, according to the newspapers, they had succeeded in winning over a stockholder who had heretofore always stood by Father, and had thereby come very near to getting a majority of the stock. Apparently they had not quite gotten it, however, and the papers seemed to think that the events in the market for the past two days were proof of their determination to do so. One or two papers more than blated that father's indictment was engineered by the X Y Z with the express purpose of "bearing" his stock and inducing his supporters to come over to the X Y Z side of the fight.

Just as dinner was over Fred turned up. I had arranged with him over the telephone early in the day to be sure to come out and had promised him all sorts of exciting things as an inducement. I had no real reason, of course, to suppose that I could deliver the goods, but I thought I could. And so I offered excitement—not openly, of course, but mysteriously, so as to be certain to make him come.

Later, when he did come, I tried to tell him not to be too disappointed if nothing happened. "The ghosts may not walk, after all," I said, "and if they don't you mustn't be mad with me for bringing you out here for nothing."

Fred laughed at this and declared that he would have come out anyhow. "The Dinsmore family is occupying the center of the stage in New York today," he said, "and the office thinks I've got the inside track on all news from out here. The city editor has even warned me that I'm expected to find Mr. Dinsmore and get a scoop on his return. He'd have sent me out here tonight whether I had wanted to come or not. But, of course, I did want to come. A pack of ghosts dancing ragtime is enough to bring out any reporter in New York. After you told me that, you couldn't have kept me away with ropes. Now let's have the whole story."

So we told him. That is, I told him. I told him everything except about Perkins and Miss Labert. I didn't think that part worth telling.

When I had finished Fred whistled. "I think I'm not going to tell you what I do think. It would spoil the suspense. It'll be a heap more exciting to let matters develop themselves. If those grisly specters of yours do turn up and clank their ballroom slippers through the midnight corridors it'll be something to remember. Anyway, we'll have the thrill of watching for them."

Fred was right, of course. I was crazy to know what he thought. But I was crazy for the thrills, too. Fred was a man after my own heart in that respect. On the whole I was willing to wait.

"That's all right," I agreed. "But I want to ask you something. You said yesterday that Mr. Braxton's name sounded familiar to you. Have you thought about it some more and have you managed to place him yet?" I tried to speak naturally, but in spite of myself my voice quivered.

Fred glanced at me quickly. Then he smiled. It was a knowing smile, too. It made me furious, though not with Fred. It wasn't his fault that I was giving myself away so completely.

And yet I couldn't help it. Miss Labert had found me out and now Fred had done the same thing. It was simply disgusting.

Fred wiped the smile from his lips very quickly. Perhaps he saw that it hurt. Fred really was a dear boy. "Well," he said, "I think I could guess pretty well both as to Mr. Braxton and Miss Labert. But if I told you it would help to spoil the thrills. And after that even a bona fide ghost wouldn't give you half as much pleasure. So if you don't mind I'll keep that to myself, too."

I did mind very decidedly, but of course I couldn't say so. Instead, I asked Fred if his guess at things provided for anything happening that night.

"I can't tell," he answered. "It all depends. If the explanation is what I think it is I should say the chances are just about even for some fun tonight. Therefore"—he got up—"if you'll permit, I think I'll look over the house and see what I can find out."

"All right," I said. "You can hunt around until your heart's content. But it's nearly ten o'clock, and it seems to me that we'd better get ready for us dreamed of going to sleep. Instead, we put the lights out and gathered in Mrs. James' room and talked in whispers by the light of the moon.

Then, faintly but distinctly, we heard some one moving along the corridor outside the door. I thought I recognized that footstep as the one I had heard the night before. It stopped at our door and listened—at least the one who made it listened. Then it passed on and all was still once more.

Two minutes afterward Fred got up. "Ah ha!" he said. "The plot thickens. The third act is at hand. I guess I'll go and reconnoiter a bit."

He set the door but as he reached it Josephine got up. "I think I'll go, too," she announced calmly. And she went with Fred.

I couldn't keep quiet to save my life. I felt sure that things were going on or were about to go on and I was horribly restless. There wasn't a sign of anything happening, and the more nothing happened the more restless I became. Finally I opened the door to the corridor and looked out. Everything was dark, of course, and I could see nothing. So I ventured into the hall, and felt my way to the top of the stairs. Then I stopped and looked down in the hall, into which the moonlight was seeping dully. But nothing was doing there either. Then it occurred to me that none of us had explored the third story of the house. What if something were hiding up there?

Then suddenly I thought I heard a door close upstairs. I suppose it was some earlier sound that had made me think of the third story in the first place. Wonderingly, I gazed up the stairs.

Then I remembered Fred and Josephine. Could they be in the third story? What could they have gone up there for?

Before I knew it I was hurrying up the stairs to the third floor. At the top I stopped to look and listen, and to my amazement, I caught sight of a light streaming from beneath a door.

I was scared, but my dander was up, and I marched along to that door as bold as a lion. As I drew near it I heard the murmur of a voice, but it was not until my hand was on the knob that I recognized it.

My hand dropped. Almost I screamed out. It was Father's voice—Father's! Slowly I realized the situation. Father had been hiding in Dinsmore's Folly while the whole city was being ransacked for him. Why he had chosen Dinsmore to hide in, and why he was hiding at all, I did not know. But that he had done it was evident. So it really was Father that I heard talking over the telephone the afternoon before. He was on the upstairs switch of the telephone when I was on the downstairs one.

An instant later I heard Fred laugh; and realized that he had known all along that Father was in the house. I was jumping at conclusions, of course, but I was sure I was jumping right.

Father was up to one of his Wall Street games and had decided for some reason to let people think he had gone out of town. I remembered that he had told some one over the phone to "Buy! Buy! Buy!"

Suddenly I began to wonder what had become of Josephine. She had gone outside with Fred, and—good gracious! She must be with Father, too.

The realization made me heartsick. Had Josephine known all along, too, I wondered. Had Father called her in and not called me? It nearly broke my heart to think that he could do such a thing. Father and I had been such bully pals. I had never thought he would treat me so.

CHAPTER XI

While I stood outside the door collecting my thoughts the three inside kept up their talking. The first words

I caught completely were Father's. He seemed to be explaining matters to Josephine. "The whole thing is simple enough," he said as nearly as I can remember. "The X Y Z people have been trying for years to get the A B C railroad away from me. A month or two ago I found out that they were about to succeed. I thought I could beat them if I could find the owner of a thousand shares that I had been trying to trace for some time. Mr. Paul here found her for me."

Father paused as if to glance toward somebody and I heard Mr. Paul's voice murmur something in reply. Good gracious! Was Mr. Paul there too? How did he get in? Did everybody know about Father except me?

"They belonged to your mother. Fred, my boy," went on Father, "and Paul got her proxy for me. But later I discovered that another friend of mine had sold me out and that the X Y Z was pretty sure to win. So"—I could hear Father chuckle—"Josephine," he interrupted himself "did you ever read that story about how Baron Blank of Blank castle saved himself away back in the Middle Ages? Baron Dash lived in another much bigger castle near him and had been trying to gobble him for a long time. And Baron Blank guessed that it was only a question of time till he went down the big fellow's gullet. Finally he got wind that Dash was to make a desperate attack on him on a certain night. And he more than suspected that some one in his garrison had arranged to play traitor. So he simply blocked the big gates and lowered the portcullis and raised the draw bridge, and all that. Then he marched out with his entire force and circled around behind Dash's castle and waited. Pretty soon Dash came out with dozens of men and marched away into the night. When he was well out of sight Blank hurried up to the gate of the castle with his men as bold as you please and called to the guards to open up. They supposed it was Dash coming back and opened up readily. Then Blank rushed in and cut down the half dozen men who had been left and took possession. When morning dawned the two barons had simply exchanged castles. And Blank had gained one three times as big as the one he had evacuated. He beat off Dash's attacks, and drew in men from all around and soon made himself the most powerful baron in the entire region."

(To Be Continued)

House Firm for License Reduction

(Ft. Worth Star-Telegram)

The lower house at Austin apparently "has its back up" in regard to the auto license fee reduction. Two years ago the house passed a bill providing lower license fees. The claim was made that there was an implied pledge of both houses to enact such legislation in consideration of the increase in the gasoline tax then voted. The senate failed to enact the license fee reduction measure, and some members of the lower house openly charged "double-crossing" on the part of the upper.

The house now has left no room for doubt as to its position, as witness these steps:

A few days ago enough members to defeat any action in the house signed a pledge to refuse to pass a bill increasing the gasoline tax until after the senate had acted favorably for license fee reduction.

The provision for a 50 per cent reduction, instead of the 35 per cent compromise offered in the committee bill, was reinserted just before the final vote on the license fee bill Monday.

LUMBER

"ITS UP TO GRADE"

We have a complete line of

Building Material

and will gladly figure your estimate.

Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co

Unintentional Suicide

Many people are slowly poisoning themselves just as surely as if they drank iodine every morning for breakfast. They are daily absorbing the toxins, or poisons, created by accumulated waste matter in their constipated digestive systems. Sooner or later disease will conquer their weakened bodies.

If you have dizzy spells, headaches, coated tongue, bad breath, insomnia, no appetite, bilious attacks or pains in the back and limbs, you are probably suffering from self poisoning caused by constipation. The surest and pleasantest relief for this condition is Herbine, the vegetable cathartic which acts in the natural way. Get a bottle today from H. G. Ramby Drug Store

It is now up to the senate to accept the house bill if it desires to put through the gasoline tax increase.

It likely will be found that public sentiment throughout the state is almost entirely in favor of a lower license fee. The system as it now exists amounts to double taxation for the same purpose. The automobile owner pays a gasoline tax for support of roads and he pays a tax in the license fee for the support of roads. In addition he pays the ordinary ad valorem tax on the value of his car.

The results of the last primary campaign for legislative seats testify to the public demand for reduction of license fees. Candidates who ran on this issue very generally were successful. It is probable that nine-tenths of the members of the lower house gave or implied a pledge to support such legislation. The house is now doing its best to redeem this pledge, at least to the extent of a 50 per cent reduction.

As a matter of fact, most of the pledges and implied pledges to the public envisioned a far more sweeping reduction. If it were not for the fault in the general highway system which causes important road improvement to depend on the license fees as a source of revenue, there would not be any reason whatever for a license fee in greater amount than was necessary for defraying the cost of license plates and the keeping of registration records. It is on this score that some of the keen-warmness of some legislators toward the reduction measure arises. They would like to see the thing done up right—with a remodeling of the whole highway law so that local road needs would be taken care of from the gas tax revenue and reduction of the license fee to some nominal flat sum, such as $2 or $3.

As a simple matter of business, the state, which obtains much revenue from the operation of automobiles on its highways, should not be putting obstacles in the way of those who want to operate them. But since it seems that the best that can be gotten out of the present legislature, which shows little liking for the job of going thoroughly into the highway support system, is a 50 per cent reduction, the house is to be congratulated upon its determination to stand by its guns and insist on the reduction before any increase in the gasoline tax is made.

FOR SALE OR TRADE—One good Holton-Clarke model cornet in good condition—Apply at this office. Use News Want Ad columns.

TWO GOOD THINGS

1. Our Bread
2. Our Band

SUDAN BAKERY

Attend the Concert Friday

NOTICE

TO OUR FARMER FRIENDS

We have just installed the New Meadow

Grist Mill

Grind You Meal on Saturdays

King's Blacksmith Shop

FOR SHOE AND HARNESS REPAIRING

New Mattresses and Mattress Renovating, Also Top and Curtain Work

PATTERSON'S SHOE SHOP

For Economical Transportation

now- Six Cylinder Trucks with the economy of the four!

Crowded traffic conditions today demand six-cylinder performance—with its greater flexibility, greater reserve power, higher speed and swifter acceleration. And now—for the first time in commercial car history—this desirable six-cylinder performance has been made available with the economy of the four. For the new six-cylinder Chevrolet trucks are not only offered in the price range of the four—but they are as economical to operate as their famous four-cylinder predecessors! Both the Light Delivery and the 1½ Ton Utility Chassis are available with an unusually wide selection of body types—and among them is one exactly suited to your requirements. Come in today. We'll gladly arrange a trial load demonstration—load the truck as you would load it, and drive it over the roads your truck must travel in a regular day's work.

Bedon Delivery, $595; Light Delivery Chassis, $400; 1½ Ton Chassis, $345; 1½ Ton Chassis with Cab, $650. All prices f. o. b. factory, Flint, Mich.

HUTTO CHEVROLET CO.

QUALITY AT LOW COST

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

When work is completed on the Lee Highway, according to a Crowell paper, Ford will be one of the first counties in Texas to have all bridges across the county 24 feet wide, and of reinforced concrete. Ford will have 55 bridges and culverts, with all culverts 30 feet wide.

Perkins & Reynolds, well drilling contractors of Kermit, were recently awarded a contract for sinking a second well on Locust street property of the utility concern. The bore of the new well will be 31 1/2" and is expected to increase the available water supply 3,700 barrels daily.

During one stretch of nineteen days, J. T. Draper of Lone Star made a profit of $61.00 from his 400 hens. The eggs sold amounted to $90.65, and the feed cost $29.65. The price ranged from 30 to 55 cents. Mr. Draper intends to build his flock up to 1,000 hens and devote his entire time to them.

Good results in increased interest since terracing schools have been held near Lorraine have been noted. Since a demonstration of running terrace lines and contouring on the W. A. Hallman farm January 25, all of County Agent W. S. Foster's time was spoken for to demonstrate until the last week in February.

Lockney Clinic and Hospital which was sponsored and recently opened by Drs. Mary M. S. M., and C. D. Henry has just completed the installation of X-ray to the facilities of the hospital. Lockney considers herself fortunate to have competent doctors and modern equipment in a good local hospital.

A contract has been let and work started on a $225,000 cracking plant at Burk Burnett. The plant is to be built for the Nobel Oil company, and calls for a one unit plant with a capacity for handling 1500 barrels of fuel oil per day to produce 700 barrels of high pressure gasoline with the remainder in oil.

Clearing of the lots on which Albrecht's cheese factory is to be built has started, and plans for the building are being completed. The factory is creating quite a bit of interest among farmers because of increased dairy products prices which are expected.

Work has been started on the completion of the Presbyterian church at Snyder. When completed about May 1st the building will be one of the most modern church structures of West Texas consisting of an auditorium, ten Sunday school rooms, kitchen, season room, minister's study and other departmental rooms.

W. B. McQueen, who lives six miles southeast of Memphis, gathered 80 bales of cotton from a 3 acre field. He attributes his success to good seed and a good season. On other 240 acres in cotton he gathered 250 bales of 500 pounds each.

A terracing school using the most modern of machinery was conducted March 1st and 2nd between Stamford and Haskell, by the Agriculture Department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. C. H. Colvin, secretary of the Eastern Chamber of Commerce assisted with direction of running the terrace lines.

Tom Ferris and C. T. Smith shipped four cars of fat yearlings from their ranch near Muleshoe recently to the Fort Worth markets. The steers had been on feed for about 120 days, and being fat brought good prices. Messrs. Smith and Ferris will send another bunch of cattle to the market soon.

Sweetwater is interested in the matter of city planning to the extent of obtaining a visit from Gardner S. Rogers, city planning expert of the United States Chamber of Commerce. The work of zoning traffic, building parks, beautifying school grounds, athletic fields, additions to city, encouragement of individual pride in the home will be considered.

More than a hundred Floydada farmers recently attended a meeting of the Hale County Dairy Association organized more than six years ago. After the meeting it was voted that such an organization be perfected in Floyd county. More than twenty-five contracts were signed and leaders of the movement say that little trouble will be experienced in getting a large membership for the new institution.

Miss Edith Gann has been confined to her room for the past week on account of illness.

Earl Norris of Roby is visiting his sister, Mrs. M. M. Gann, and family this week.

How to Raise Poultry

By Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S.
St. Louis, Mo.
Dr. LeGear is a graduate of the Ontario Veterinary College, 1912. Thirty-six years of veterinary practice on diseases of live stock and poultry. Eminent authority on poultry and stock raising. Nationally known poultry breeder. Noted author and lecturer.

As You Feed So Shall They Lay

Records Show Egg Production Often Doubled or Tripled by the Addition of One Simple Element to the Feed—Extra Profits from Correct Feeding More Than Offset the Slight Additional Cost.

From somewhere way back in my third reader days, I recall the story of a miser who tried to feed his horse shavings. It would save the price of hay, he reasoned, and if the change was made gradually, the beast would never know the difference. Maybe the horse was fooled, but Nature most certainly was not. Long before the diet got to be all shavings the poor old horse gave up the ghost.

As I observe the way a great many people feed their chickens, I am often reminded of the story. I don't mean they are stingy, but their lack of knowledge about feeding is just as great. They are expecting the impossible and wonder greatly why they are so consistently disappointed.

The first thing that must be thoroughly understood is that from the hen's point of view egg laying is a secondary matter. She eats first of all to build up and maintain her own body. If, after enough has been eaten for that purpose, she can be persuaded to eat still more of the right kind of food correctly proportioned, she will lay eggs. That's all there is to the theory of scientific poultry feeding.

The next essential fact to be mastered is that different kinds of feeds produce vastly different results. Grains furnish, for the most part, substances called carbohydrates which are transformed into fat for the fowl's body and albumen for egg whites. Other substances, known as proteins, build up the muscles of the bird and furnish yolks for eggs. Proteins are usually fed in the form of meat scraps, milk, or tankage. There are some proteins in grains but not enough for the hen's body and eggs too.

For the egg shells and bones of the fowl, minerals are required, calcium carbonate being the principal one. For that purpose, crushed oyster shell or limestone is kept before the fowls at all times.

A certain amount of green food is also required. It helps prevent digestive disorders and contains the two valuable vitamins, A and D, so essential to the proper assimilation of other food. Without vitamin D, for example, the minerals in the feed cannot be made over into bone and egg shell.

Once it is clearly understood that each different kind of feed has its own individual job to do, the very term "balanced ration," ceases to sound quite so much like a foreign language. It becomes plain that the ration must consist of just so much material containing carbohydrates and a proportionate amount containing proteins.

An example of what I consider a well balanced ration is the one given below, which I have used successfully for a number of years. For the sake of those not familiar with this method of feeding, I shall explain that mashers are customarily put in hoppers and kept constantly before the hens at all times. The grains are preferably fed by hand with the feedings far enough apart so the hens will eat plenty of mash in between times. The grains are called scratch feeds, by the way, because they are usually buried in deep litter. That makes the hens have to scratch it out, thus getting much needed exercise.

A BALANCED POULTRY RATION
Scratch Feed
100 lbs. yellow corn.
100 lbs. wheat or heavy oats.
Mash Feed
100 lbs. wheat bran.
100 lbs. middlings.
100 lbs. yellow corn meal.
50 lbs. ground oats.
100 lbs. meat scraps.
5 lbs. common salt.

Plenty of seasonable green stuff should accompany this ration. Grit, charcoal and oyster shell should be kept before the hens at all times. And water! Yes, of course. Eggs are 85 per cent water and a plentiful supply of fresh, clean water should always be on hand to supply that requirement. It is also essential for the health of the flock.

The feeding of a balanced ration will work wonders. There are plenty of examples of flocks that were fed on grain rations with only fair results, but which doubled or even tripled their output as soon as a good mash with the necessary protein element was added. It is not enough, however, just to feed a 50-50 mash and scratch feed ration all the time. The successful poultry man will study his flock. He will know whether they are being forced and producing beyond their normal capacity, or whether they are getting too fat and lazy so they are not laying as much as they should. If the former, he will cut down on the grain and increase the mash to make the birds consume more protein.

Note.—I will gladly answer questions about any phase of poultry feeding which may be addressed to me in care of the editor of this newspaper.

Mr. and Mrs. Ves Terry were visiting and shopping in Lubbock Tuesday.

Miss May "Edward Lee, what part of speech is 'nose'?"
Edward Lee "Taint enny."
Miss May "Oh, but it must be."
Edward Lee: "Mebbe your'n is because you talk through it, but the only part o' speech I got is my mouth."

WANT ADS

WANTED.—A salesman or saleslady who is absolutely honest, who is industrious, who stands high in his or her community. For such person we have a very attractive proposition, with one of the strongest, old line legal reserve life insurance companies in America. In replying, state age and business connections for past two years. Write General Agent, Box 1194, Lubbock, Texas. 3-7-4t

TO TRADE.—Jersey Cow or Sorghum bundles for hog fence. Wm. H. White, 3 miles north Sudan. 3-7-1tp

WHITE BERMUDA ONION slips $1.00 per 1000; cabbage plants (Wolfefield and Flat Dutch), $2.50 per 1000. Extra low prices on all nursery stock. Good line of cherries, peaches, plums, grape vines and shrubbery. Will have tomato and potato slips later. Send us your name, Box 1661, Lubbock, Texas. order. Tech Plant & Tree Co., 1212 3-7-2tc

FOR SALE.—Several incubators with capacity from 100 to 350. All in good condition. Weimholds' Commercial Hatchery, Sudan, Texas.

FOR SALE.—10 acre Poultry Farm. Apply at The Sudan News office.

FOR SALE.—1400 chick capacity brooder, complete, used three mos. and is now in good condition. Apply at The Sudan News office.

WANTED.—Male and female Poultry. Cash paid. Must be prompt in this or no sale. Call at News office.

CHINESE EIMS
Fruit trees, evergreens, shrubbery, roses, etc. Write for price list, or call at the Nursery at 13th and Avenue L, Lubbock.
BAKER BROS.,
J. W. Simmons, Manager
Box 2244

WANTED.—Plowing, old land or sod. Can plow old land for $1.50 an acre. E. W. Black, 6 miles west and 7 miles south of Sudan, Texas. R. 1.

WANTED.—I have force enough to cultivate and gather 200 acres of crop. I would like to make a deal with someone on a 50-50 basis. Apply at News office. 34-1tp

LOST.—Flat purse, containing $24.00, 2 bills of sale, Farm Bureau card, somewhere between Floydada and Sudan. Will pay a liberal reward. W. W. Lovelady, 1 mile north of Sudan.

WANTED.—Job on farm to work through with good farmer for part of crop as wage. Can furnish self. H. A. Fielder, Sudan, Texas. care of W. R. Hillman.

Lost.—1 five gallon Gulf oil can between J. W. Hammock farm and 6 miles south finder return to Gulf Oil Station

HAPPY HILL Turkey Farm of Littlefield being merged with the W. J. Harris interests at Amherst will have several fine birds for sale after the 10th, these to be sold at a sacrifice. Prices: Toms $5 to $25; Hens $5 to $10; Pullets $3 to $5; all of Mammoth Bronze prize winning strains. Will be sold at Happy Hill Farm, the recent Harris Farm, Amherst, Texas.

FOR SALE.—One iron building 24x50 and one frame building 24x50. See J. J. Blanchard, Sudan, Texas. 24-21-tfc

NEW CHINESE ELM, fastest growing tree for New Mexico, Arizona and West Texas. Special price, 3 to 4 foot trees, $4 per dozen. Five-foot trees 75c each, delivered parcel post. Order from this ad. Write for prices. Other acclimated fruit, shade and ornamentals. Also hardy vegetable plants suitable to Western climate. Twenty years in Plainview. PLAINVIEW NURSERY, Box 1097, Plainview, Texas.

IF YOU want Chinese Elms or any other good kinds of nursery stock that does well in this country, send your order to Dalmont Nursery, Rt. 2, Plainview, Texas. 15 miles southeast. See J. H. White, 3 miles north of Sudan.

FOR SALE.—A farming outfit, the place for rent, 6 miles south, 1 mile east of Sudan, 4 miles west of Amherst. W. J. Phelps, Sudan, Route 1. 34-2tp

LOST.—1 Brown Horse and 1 Sorrel Mare. Mare has blaze face and cut on foot. Weight 1200 to 1300 lbs. each. These horses left my place 1 1/2 miles west of Felton on Wednesday night, Feb. 6. Finder notify R. P. Green, Amherst, Texas, Route 1, and receive reward. 34-2tp

MULE for Sale, cash or on time. Mrs. B. L. Wofford. 2-25-2tp

Gas Forces Woman to Sleep in Chair

"Nights I sat up in a chair, I had stomach gas so bad. I took Adlerika and nothing I eat hurts me now. I sleep better." Mrs. Green.
"In the fall of 1924 I was so bad that I could not sleep. I had stomach gas and removal of stomach and waste matter from the system. Makes you enjoy your meals and sleep better. No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you." H. C. Hamby, Drugist.

BAD COLDS

According to an officer of the Public Health Service, bad colds account for 54 per cent of the absences from their places of employment in the various industries. The trouble is, we're told, that people haven't learned to sneeze gracefully. It's an art which has to be learned laboriously. And that may be why so many people are now practicing.

COIN COLLECTOR

Uncle Sam is now carrying more than 40 per cent of the world's stock of gold. No wonder his picture looks as if he were growing round-shouldered. The curious thing is that more of the yellow stuff appears to be coming in all the time. Other nations have to leave their store with us whether they want to or not.

Try News Want Ads if you want results.

W. H. FORD, M. D.

Office in Ramba Building
Office Phone 10 Res. 11
SUDAN, TEXAS

DAD'S LUNCH ROOM

Barbecue, Chilli, Hamburgers.
Barbecue Served to Families in Quantity.

Real Estate and Loans..

V. C. NELSON

10 Tracts of Martin Land for Sale. $35 to $45 per acre.

SUDAN TEXAS

Take The Hazard Out Of Chick Feeding

It is no longer necessary to feed by guess. Science has prepared the way, why gamble on your profits? Take the hazard and worry out of chick raising by feeding

Economy Chick Starter WITH

- Cod Liver Oil—vitamin tested, rich in health giving power.
- Dried Buttermilk—with its valuable lactic acid, to eliminate bowel disorder.
- Meat Scraps—for muscle and tissue.
- Bone—for sturdy frames.
- Yellow Corn Meal—for heat and energy.
- Linseed Meal—the wonderful conditioner.
- Alfalfa Flour—for lime and mineral.
- Wheat Middlings—for body maintenance.
- Charcoal—As a Digestive Regulator.

And other valuable ingredients in just the correct proportion, perfectly blended to produce husky chix. Soft and digestible to the last crumb. So necessary to bring the baby chix through that critical period.

Delivered weekly to your local dealer to insure fresh feeds and better results.

Manufactured by
ECONOMY MILLS, Inc.
Lubbock, Texas
Sold by 14 South Plains Hatcheries.

Distributed in Sudan by
WEIMHOLDS' COMMERCIAL HATCHERY
52,000 Egg Capacity

The Feed In the Star Bag

The Right Cosmetics

We will help you choose the RIGHT Cosmetics, Creams, and Lotions for your particular skin.

And we can recommend them, too, as we sell nothing but the BEST Toilet preparations.

These well-known Toiletries help you retain your youth and facial beauty.

RELIABLE DRUGS AND HOME REMEDIES

SUDAN DRUG STORE

Storing For Future

We eat and digest and energy store;
Sometimes we need less; sometimes we need more.
The wise course of nature is always to save.
So a surplus of strength we all times may have.
If you would prepare and wise nature heed,
You would also prepare for your future need.
The lessons of nature show we should give
Attention to saving; that we may live.
The First National Bank would have you take thought,
And heed this lesson by wise nature taught.

First National Bank

of Sudan, Texas
(Cor. 1225 Adam Brown Bldg.)