White Bones of Senate Probe Findings

Are Raked Into Fall-Doherty Trial to Bolster Up the Prosecution's Case

Portions of Fall's statement in the committee regarding extension of the New Mexico ranch holdings with the Elk Hills lease was under negotiation between representatives of Doherty's company and interior department officials.

The reading brought before the jury evidence bearing upon the celebrated little black school in which $100,000 in cash was carried by Edward L. Doherty, Jr., the defendant in the New York trial in Washington in November, 1921. The day's proceedings brought before the jury the 11,000-odd pages of testimony taken at the trial of Doherty in November, 1921, which was described as an act "substantiating a fraud in fact."

Mrs. J. A. Rix Elected President of Church Women's Federation; Mrs. J. G. Merritt, Colorado City, Principal Speaker

Mrs. J. A. Rix of the Episcopal church, was elected president and Mrs. J. G. Merritt of the Methodist church, secretary, at a meeting of the Church Women's Federation Monday afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal church with Mrs. J. G. Merritt, of Colorado City, making the principal talk of the afternoon on "Social Services." Members of the First Christian church, in addition to the music and Mrs. Eric Sandeman president, were in charge of the meeting. She is a member of the First Baptist church.

Mrs. Merritt talked of social welfare, helping the poor, of social service programs, of interdenominational and other social service questions that church women may have. She advised that mothers club be formed in Mexican and negro schools and that these children be given an opportunity of education equal to that of other children. She talked of prohibitions, urging that every effort be made to have more rigid enforcement of prohibition laws, and in speaking of child welfare, she said that parents see more to their children than children see to their parents.

Oh, No, Germaine Never Hinted, but She Got Her New Fur Coat

Left is a coat of heavy wool, embroidered in shades of brown and tan, with collar and cuffs of beaver. Right is a boys de rose, cross neck with fringed skirt. The pump is of patent leather with straps of tan kid that cross in front with an ornament. The gloves are of beige leather with rabbit-skin cuffs.

PARIS, France, Nov. 29.
Dear Cousin:
Didn't I tell you I would own a fur coat within a week—well, I do, not only a new fur coat, but a cloth one, too, and a revealing new frock. Pretty good work for one week, wasn't it? All presents—rewards for loving service.

Father gave me my fur coat—really a lovely model of nutria with a low belt of braided leather, and a collar that stands up military fashion about my throat. It is bound at the collar and cuffs with brown leather—truly a most satisfying and sporty looking affair. Wasn't father a darling? And I never even hinted for it?

Then mother and Aunt Louise returned, both looking like their own children, and quite too chattering and vivacious for words, each brought me gifts for having managed father so well, and kept out of mischief myself while they were gone.

Mother selected a darling coat for me—it is of heavy wool, embroidered in shades of brown and tan, with a collar and cuffs of thick, furry beaver. It is lined with heavenly old-gold satin.

Aunt Louise, the angel, bought me a very sophisticated looking dress. She knows that I love to look as if I were at least out of kindergarten, though she really prefers to have me dress simply—all aunts, mothers, grandmothers and female relatives generally who happen to be older than you do, look like a baby until they reach the doddering stage.

This frock is of bold de rose crepe, with a skirt of the material shaded and trimmed. It has a cunning collar which opens over a very intricately embroidered front, in rose and delicate shades of blue.

I have these baby objects. Already I have worn this frock twice to luncheon parties. M. Pomme was surprised by it—for one maid moment I thought he might be going to ask father for my hand, but he quickly pulled himself together and resisted the impulse. Getting him in line for the altar is no easy task. Now that mother and Aunt Louise are back, I shall have to go back to my dutiful daughter role.

Besides these major gifts, they brought minor tributes of scarfs, an embroidered handbag, a sweater of white silk with stripes of red, and some nifty shoes and gloves which I sketched for you.

The pump is ever so becoming, of patent leather with straps of tan kid that cross in front with an ornament. They are a bit out of the ordinary without in the least looking ornate. The same might be said of the gloves. Usually I wear the simplest of gloves, but these are very amusing—beige leather with cuffs of fur, rabbit-skin I guess, because it is so soft. They will be very nice with both my new coats.

After such a windfall, you can imagine that I am "sitting pretty" as Jimmy used to say. The family hope I will now have the decency to keep away from the shops—although I don't know just the fallacious reasoning they followed to establish this hope. For I can not live without the shops any more than I can without my make-up box—or Jacques.

Jacques is very jealous of M. Pomme, but he will not give me the satisfaction of telling me so, or demanding that see him no more. He punishes me severely. I would love to have him become so tragic that I would be driven, to some heroic gesture—all the drama should not be on the stage—but he is humbly content about everything. I may have to elope or marry another merely to arouse him. Therefore, be prepared for my folly, I feel it coming on. Life has been too calm.

However, you shall be my confidante, as always.

GERMAINE.

Too Much Romance, Court Pardons Kiss

MANILA, Nov. 29. (AP)—When the lights of the dance hall are dimmed, when the orchestra plays a soft, appealing waltz and a pretty girl in a setting is a "victim of circumstances," the supreme court of the Philippine islands ruled today.

In a ruling the court acquitted Severo Pancha, who was convicted in the court of first instance in Sorsogon province of kissing Marcelle Dayson, a professional dancing girl, against her wishes. The lower court imposed sentence of three and a half years.

A DEFINITE PURPOSE
The end of another year is rapidly approaching. The time of year when many people take stock. They go through their merchandise and check up on what they have on hand and compare it with what they had one year previous, and then check up the sales, receipts and disbursements, and in that way they can determine just how much money they have made or lost during the twelve months' operation. Communities and cities should do so as well as business firms. We should take notice as to what the community has gained during the year, and then start out on a well-laid-out program for the next year. The business man determines at the beginning of the new year what he will undertake to do. He may fall short of this goal, and he may go over the top. This depends sometimes on circumstances and conditions, and also on just how hard he works at the job, but there is one thing pretty certain in our mind, if he does not have some goal set he is very likely to loaf on the job, or think it makes very little difference.

Lubbock should have something definite to work for. Of course there are those side issues that always have to be taken care of, like that of the big hotel last year. We started out to complete it, and we did. This year there is something that should be accomplished. We believe we could suggest nothing that Lubbock needs more than a municipal auditorium. A building that can be used for public gatherings that will be adequate in every respect. This city is at this time handicapped for a place to meet when the entire city population is called together for some special purpose. Lubbock is to be a convention city, we are sure. The development of the Texas Technological College is proving that with each succeeding year. Many large bodies will want to gather in Lubbock, and without an adequate place to meet it is embarrassing for the Chamber of Commerce, the City of Lubbock or the School officials to invite such meetings unless there is a possibility of having a place for them to gather with the accommodations in keeping with a city of this size.

Lubbock is due for another remarkable advance during the coming year, and this will be one of the real needs of the city. We should chalk this down as one of the goals posts, and make a desperate effort to put it over. Lubbock is the hub of the Plains. There is no question that she stands out prominently in the forefront of any other city, but this is one thing that we are lacking in — an adequate meeting-place for several thousand people at one time.
Another thing that we believe we should mark up as one of the objectives for the coming year is a potato-curing plant. One that will handle all of the potatoes that the people of this section of country can raise. This has proven a very fine potato producing section, and with the necessary curing equipment here there is no doubt that this can be made one of the great industries of this section of the state. We are at present having to go to Eastern New Mexico for the supply of potatoes, when this crop can be produced right in the Lubbock territory, and cured here. Without this plant the crop cannot be marketed successfully, and so the need for this institution is very distinctly felt.
These two are very important in our mind, and will each mean much to the city of Lubbock and the entire South Plains.
Let us have a definite purpose in view. We can never get anywhere much if we start out to drive without a definite goal.

THE MORALS OF MANKIND
That the "double standard" is doomed, is the opinion of Prof. T. W. Galloway, of the Social Hygiene Association, who concludes that, unless the character of man be bettered women will be "as loose as men are and always have been" in a quarter of a century.
The eminent professor is unknown to us but his view is interesting, and in part, correct. The double standard ought to be dead although killing it through a process of loose morals for women is repulsive. Men, however, with all their faults are not quite as black as they are always painted. Many of them, even in this modern era, have lived clean lives.
Morality, however, to be real must be exercised through choice. The man or woman who is virtuous solely through lack of opportunity will be otherwise is nothing worth bragging over. It is only those who face the test of every day life without contamination that develop moral strength. That is what the nation needs. The new freedom for women affords them opportunity for evil, it may be, but it also gives them a greater opportunity for the development of moral characters.

The sad part of this condition, as we see it, is that many of the women, while not to the extent of the old time "ill famed women," they are going a long way toward being "tough." Drinking is more common among the women of today, and the use of cigarettes have shocked many a man, who believes that it is altogether unbecoming and unlady-like for a woman to smoke. We believe the way many of the fair sex of this day and age conduct themselves has caused the men to lose a great deal of the respect that American men were famous for several years back. We are very much opposed to the double standard of morals. We believe that no man has any right to expect a woman to be better than he is morally. We had hoped, however, when the change came, that it would be that the man would rise to the standard of the women, and not that the women would adopt so many of the ugly little habits that the men have practiced in order to even up the standard. We hope that there is still time for the women of the land to halt in their wild stampede for pleasure and style and rise in their might and demand of the men a higher standard of morals. This will not come however, till many of the women of this day and time prove by their acts and their dress and their manners that they are determined to be more modest and refined.

WASTEFUL AMERICA
Notwithstanding our rapid progress in the realms of science, research and invention, we are still lagging behind in the United States in some phases of thrift. Certain forms of waste permeate nearly every branch of our business activity. In the field of production and distribution, in which we surpass all other nations of the world, there is a tragic amount of waste. One estimate, for example, places our annual waste of coal at 750 million tons; of water at 50 million horse power; of oil at one billion barrels; of lumber at 5 billion cubic feet. Our Department of Commerce estimates that the annual waste in transportation equals half a billion dollars, for which, it is said, the shipper is largely responsible. Those are indeed heavy penalties to pay. They involve many difficult problems, but we cannot give too much consideration to this uneconomic situation. There must be a full awakening of public consciousness to the need of eradicating this gigantic waste in industry. There are numerous evidences, however, of progress, and all efforts along this line should meet with hearty public approval and support. It was encouraging to note that at a recent meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, it was brought out that various bodies of experts are working toward glaring forms of industrial waste and lost motion. Credit for the greatest strides is given to the engineering profession. Railway officials are said to hold second position in this movement. The electrical industries are third; the automotive industries fourth and the construction and building trades fifth. The Federal Government plan of simplified practice has also been of valuable assistance. When we have checked these wasteful methods and practices great benefits will be felt by all classes of workers; the farmer will receive a larger portion of the consumer's dollar and our standard of living will be still further improved.

GUARDING MAIL
Marines have been called upon to guard the mails again as a result of the numerous robberies and attacks made. The Post Office Department has announced plans to train and mobilize a guard of its own which will replace the marines as early as possible. If it takes the Army and Navy to do it, the United States mails must be protected and the lives of postal employees safeguarded," declares Postmaster-General New. This official has also requested large industries throughout the country to discontinue the shipment of currency through the mails for pay roll purposes and to use checks instead. Several years ago the number of robberies of the mail became so great as to necessitate the employment of approximately 2,500 marines for the purpose of guarding these shipments.
It would seem hardly probable that large companies would risk sending currency through the mails, especially since there is such a large number of bandits in the country. However, according to news dispatches they continue the practice and people are carrying too much money on their persons too. In these days of bank accommodations it would seem that it is a very foolish idea to load ones self down with currency, easy prey to the hi-jackers. Use the banks. It will not cost you much and the protection they offer in their vaults and burglar-proof safes is worth your consideration.

VOTING
Voting was the theme of the President and Vice-president in recent addresses.
President Coolidge declared that failure to use the ballot was "disloyal to our whole system of self-government," and further that "the voice of the untrammelled vote speaks with divine authority."
A few days previously, Vice-president Dawes declared that an increase in impartial voting in all elections was the crying need of the hour. Indifference of the American public to the exercise of this franchise "is the greatest existing menace to American institutions," and "is tending to substitute Government by aggressive and interested minorities for Government by the people," said Mr. Dawes.
Lee Carl Nichols, released after serving a 7-year term in the Michigan penitentiary for grand larceny, was met at the prison gate by a reception committee composed of Louisiana officials. They escorted him back to the Pelican state to finish a term for robbery which he had neglected to complete before taking French leave a few years ago, and he is again enjoying justly famed Southern hospitality.

OUT OUR WAY

SO THINK WE

We think that there should be a great effort put forth to create a market in Lubbock for every product that is raised on the farm.
We think there should be a campaign started at once, for the building of several miles of sidewalks.
We think there are very few daddies who will agree that Santa Claus is a joke.
We think that since they have discovered that oil can be made from coal, that the price of coal will possibly be quoted by the barrel from now on.
We think if the purchase of Christmas tuberculosis stamps will help to cure the terrible malady that we should all buy them. We who have good health can make Christmas more cozy for someone else by contributing to this fund.
We think it will be a mighty good thing to keep the pot boiling by tossing a few dollars into the Salvation Army Christmas cheer fund.
We think the British coal strike is all settled except the price, and it seems to be still searing.
We think most nations are reducing their land forces, but most of them are up in the air more than they have possibly ever been.
We think some men work pretty hard. They begin the day by looking over their mail. They then talk to their friends several hours then go to lunch.
We think some folks give about as much thought to selecting a life partner as they do a dancing partner.
We think the folks that scoff at religion will be in that class that have a lot to learn after awhile.
We think there are a few really intelligent people left. We have had at least a half dozen folks tell us they enjoy reading this column. They were among the most truthful people in Lubbock, too.
We think America has just about lost her reputation as a good Samaritan among the other nations of the world.
We think there are a lot of folks that have not as many clothes as we have or as much to eat, and therefore we feel that we should be truly thankful for the many blessings that we enjoy. What about you kind friend?

LET'S LEARN IT BY HEART

When every farmer in the south shall eat bread from his own fields and meat from his own pastures, and disturbed by no creditor and enslaved by no debt, shall sit among his teeming gardens and orchards and vineyards, dairies and barnyards, sipping his crop in his own wisdom and growing them in independence, making cotton his clean surplus and selling it in his own time and in his chosen market and not at a master's bidding—getting his pay in cash and not in a sceptic mortgage that discharges his debt but does not restore his freedom—then shall he be breaking the fullness of our day.—Henry W. Grady.

DIVERSIFICATION BEING PROVEN

Big Income From Turkeys in Two Seasons
Mr. Campbell, who lives in the New Hope community, is not worried about the price of corn this fall. He has a story to tell relative to turkey activities that sounds mighty good. We get our information from Mr. Kelly, the produce man of Eaton. It reads like a fairy tale and is as follows:
Mr. Campbell started his turkey crop last year, and from five hens and one turkey gobbler he has sold for the two seasons $148.49 worth of turkeys, and now has on hand forty or fifty young turkeys for the Christmas market. Last season he sold $214.99 worth, and this past week he marketed with Mr. Kelly turkeys to the sum of $114.99 as his Thanksgiving offering. Besides the amount sold to the Kelly Produce company he has sold 8 head locally for breeding purposes, leaving him on hand forty or fifty choice young turkeys which he will market for Christmas.
Figuring that his young stuff will bring around $4.99 apiece on the "Christmas market," he shall have realized out of his original stock of five hens and one gobbler a rise of $504.99. In addition to the figures above quoted, Mr. Campbell is reserving some 14 hens for next year's breeding.

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that more than a thousand workmen will be busy building Burlington road into Lubbock within the next few weeks. Lubbock folks are not going to raise any objection to this extraordinary rushing of the spade and the scraper and the plow.
It is reported that the football season is over, and that the students in school will now have about two weeks study before Christmas holidays—about Christmas mostly.
It is reported that Lubbock ran more special trains to football games this season than any other town in Texas. The football teams received the hearty support of the people of this city this year.
It is reported that live folks make live towns, that is the reason that both are always found together.
It is reported that N. Fluencia is visiting in many of the homes of this city this week.
It is reported that the skyline was raised three stories this year, and in all probability it will be boosted a couple of stories more next year.

Japan, Facing Crisis of Overproduction, Tills Every Inch of Available Ground

By W. H. PORTERFIELD
NEA Service Writer
NARA, Japan—October is the month of reaping in old Japan. The people worship the beauty of the first but without the second they would perish of starvation.
Of the 178,000 square miles of superficial area of Japan proper, that is, excluding Korea, less than 12 per cent is actually cultivated and cultivatable! All the rest is virgin forest and mountains and volcanic and sand dunes.
Soil so poor, in its virgin state, that even a Vermont farmer would hesitate before trusting it to care for a crop. It is actually cultivated and worked and fertilized and watered and at times made to produce two crops of rice in a year.
Everywhere, from temple-crowned Nipko in Tohoku, Okazaki, to the rice fields of old Japan. Some of them are large enough to permit an ox to plough the land in the spring, but for the most part they rival the humble pocket handkerchief in area, rising perfectly level (if the rice paddies must be leveled first), then upon their above-bearing rivers between mountain sides, until literally pinched out of the coming together of the opposite walls of the enclosing hills.
Not a spare foot is allowed to go unplanted and all that skill and science has done has been to increase the length of the heads of grain, the size and quality of the kernels, the yield per square yard. For upon these few thousand square miles of soil, food must be found for sixty millions of human beings.
The normal rice crop is about 200,000,000 bushels and although the per capita rice consumption is increasing steadily, Japan can still get along with very small importations of this cereal. But she has no rice to sell nor rice will have.
Compared to Our Crops
I am told that a bushel of rice will produce the same nutriment as one and one-half bushels of wheat. The United States raises 300,000,000 bushels of wheat and exports very little and what is but one of many cereals which we produce.
Of wheat, Japan produces 25,000,000 bushels, enough to flavor her rice diet occasionally when money is easier. Of barley and rye, last year she produced about the same of Indian corn none, of potatoes very few, of vegetables some, of fruit a little but very costly, apples and pears selling in the markets at from six to 12 cents each!
Of strawberries and peaches and watermelons she produces quite large quantities, very handsome fruit, back the flavor of our own American-grown products.
There are fish, of course, and as good chicken as any bishop could ask for if one has the price. As for the common people, and this includes most Japanese, they can vary the diet with beans, when the crop is good, and they may have millet, sorghum, buckwheat and an occasional shell fish if they live near the coast.

We are not promised easy roads to
We grow by strife, by faith in doubt-

By courage in the presence of despair,
Those splendid virtues men are quick

Are fashioned by the burdens which they bear.
The living suffer, and the wise men

That out of struggle conquest is at-

Faith holds them fast through all the

And there's no loss but something

TRIS SPEAKER QUILTS AS CLEVELAND MANAGER

TEXAN RESIGNS POST WITH INDIANS; WILL JOIN TY COBB ON INACTIVE LIST, AFTER LONG TERM OF MAJOR BALL

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 29 (AP)—Post season events which have brought about the passing of six big league baseball managers, today erased another illustrious name from the active list when Tris Speaker, 35, manager of the Cleveland Indians, resigned the post he has held since mid-season, 1918.

The venerable Speaker announced that his long term of service in the major leagues was at an end and that he is joining Ty Cobb and other managers on the inactive list.

Speaker's resignation has been rumored for several months. "I considered quitting last year," the gray haired manager said, "but the Indians were in such place and didn't want it said that I quit a rudderless ship. So I stuck it out another season."

"The Indians finished in second place in the American League last season, and I can step out now without any question of my action."

Friends of "Specks" added another reason for his resignation to his own. Tris said he is going into business, but the manager's hitting and fielding record was cited as a further reason for his retirement.

Tris resigned the bench. After making up a career in baseball second only to that of Ty Cobb, Tris knew that his days of active service were almost numbered. Only last season he benched himself when he saw his fielding was poor.

He was acknowledged the "world's greatest outfielder." His "peg" was unerring and he covered a wide territory.

Therefore the veteran decided to step out while he was the Tris Speaker of old, his friends believe.

Tris began his baseball career in Hubbard City, Texas, where he was studying to be a bookkeeper. He was playing with the Cleburne team of the North Texas League when the Boston Americans tried him out in 1908 and again in 1909. Thereafter he remained in the American League.

He was purchased by Cleveland in 1916 for $45,000. In mid-season, 1919 he was made manager and in 1923 won the world's pennant for the Indians.

Club officials said today that Speaker's successor will not be chosen for a month, possibly six weeks.

BURLESON TO PLAY DECATUR FOR JUNIOR TITLE

PORT WORTH, Texas, Nov. 29 (AP)—Business college of Greenville and Decatur Baptists of Decatur will play December 3 for the state junior football title. It was decided at a conference between representatives of the two schools in Fort Worth Monday.

Place of play is still undecided. The game probably will be on a neutral field, either Fort Worth or Dallas.

Local Thespians Rehearse "Clarence"

Lubbock drama lovers are again scheduled for another treat, when "Clarence," Booth Tarkington's side-splitting four-act comedy, under the direction of Miss Ruth Purdie, head of the public speaking department of the Texas Technological college, will be presented at the Palace theatre Thursday night as the opening play of the Lubbock Little Theatre for the 1927 season. Strict rehearsals are being gone through this week and the officials of the organization state that the people will be assured of a fine evening's entertainment.

Several new actors of the local organization will appear in the cast, each of them being a find in their parts. Miss Purdie states. The leading male part will be played by Dr. George G. Ingham, who is playing a difficult part in a capable manner. He is supported by Miss Mable Jane Whit, formerly of Waco and a well known student in drama, who is outstanding in her part. Other new characters are Miss Thelma Wilk, Tech student who has the light flippant part of "Cora" and Clarence Rolfe, Tech student who plays the part of "Bobby." Both have an opportunity to make a great hit with the audience, Miss Purdie says.

Mrs. Osa E. Sears is another new member of the cast, although she is well known for her work in expression. Dr. Sam Dunn is another new member as well as John Burroughs, of the Tech dramatic club. Marguerite Bennett, assistant secretary of the college, Miss Bertha Dubanek and Gus L. Ford are others of the cast who have parts which will show their native ability and knowledge of the art. All have parts which are essential in the development of the plot of the play.

In order to get the cast acquainted with the stage, practices will be held two nights (this week) after the show has turned out tonight.

CLAIMS HE WAS ROBBED AND BEATEN IN LUBBOCK

J. W. Teal, of Lamesa, found dazed and bleeding at Broadway and Avenue H Sunday morning, told Lubbock police that he had been attacked and beaten by some persons whom he did not know as he lay in a stupor in his room at a local hotel. He said he had been drinking. He also claims to have lost $70 which he gave to a drug dealer to keep for him, but the clerk declares he returned Teal's money to him. Officers are investigating his story.

Canyon Cagers Report for Work

CANYON, Nov. 29—Increased interest in basketball was shown here today when an additional fifteen men reported to the sound of thirty-five that had been working under Coach Burton for the last few weeks. These new men are those who have been playing football and they are in excellent condition for the basketball season.

Coach Burton has very little to say about the basketball prospects at the Teachers college this year but he is highly pleased with the great number of men reporting for the team. In addition to the men from the team of last year Burton will have some of the best high school stars from the various high school teams of this section.

Among them will be the mid-air guard, Brown of the Canyon high school, a man who was picked as All-State guard last year at the tournament at Austin. Burton will also have several more of the men from the Canyon high team that placed third in the state meet last year. Jones, a forward; Strain, a center; Gerald, another brilliant guard; and Handwood, also a guard. Handwood was held out of the state meet last year by an attack of appendicitis but was considered as one of the most versatile and consistent guards in this part of the state. He was captain of the Canyon high school team and was always considered as one of the strongest men in that brilliant team.

The American League will start its regular routine next spring with five fresh and new managers.

Tris Speaker is the fifth of the American League managers to "take-out."

Of course 1926 has had its ups and downs in the gridiron battles—but of all the ups and downs—Katie Rockne's Irishman of Notre Dame are the best—should any fan have even suggested Carnegie Tech's favorites over the Irish to me I would well up in thought the lad was not well up in the sporting events—but the game is one that no certainty is assured.

The Matadors are going to keep the baskets this season on a new floor—the Tech gym is rapidly being built and will be ready by the time the lads return from their Yuletide vacation.

Amarillo is in line for Class A baseball—however the matter remains to be seen as to whether the Oil Capital will have sufficient crowds to keep the "mar" going. You know the Class A baseball payroll is nothing to overlook.

It is true that an enormous increase in population in Amarillo has come about in the last year—but does the population consist of the sport loving type?

Gerald Mann, E. M. U. director of field plays, is no doubt the most outstanding grid performer in the South-western Conference—he was mentioned by all sport critics as being the outstanding player of the conference.

Walter Eckersall and Grantland Rice is keeping the sport lovers anxiously waiting for their all-American selection. It is a fight between Rice (no sport "stronger" as in which of the false picked will take the place of Walter Camp's mythical position.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 29 (AP)—The often threatened transfer of the St. Joseph western league baseball franchise materialized today in the announcement of the sale of a half interest in the local club to W. P. Witherspoon, of Amarillo, Texas, by E. R. Tracy, owner.

Plans of the new partnership include removal of the club to Amarillo.

This cannot be accomplished until Amarillo obtains a release from the class B protection, obtained recently by a group of Amarillo fans as part of plea for the formation of a new league of that classification. It is believed that this obstacle will be readily removed.

Sale price of the partnership was announced at $20,000 by Tracy. The St. Joseph owner announced before the close of the season that his club was on the market for another city due to poor attendance in St. Joseph. This is an annual threat of the St. Joseph club owners and the press and the baseball public did not consider the matter seriously. Later Tracy announced that he was considering an offer to move the club to Amarillo but this time, was taken lightly.

Sanction of the transaction will be asked at the meeting of club owners at Asheville, N. C. this week.

The NUT CRACKER by Joe Williams

The millennium can't be more than a flash shot away. . . . We note the A. A. U. gods have finally accepted one of Charlie Padlock's 100-yard dash marks.

Another way to achieve distinction is not to be named on any of the 4, 234 All-American eleven's that will be named this year.

As the White Sox catcher Ray Schalk used to be able to stand more punishment than any man in the game. . . . As manager of the same team he'll have to.

Reading the life story of Annie Oakley we learn she fired two million shots. . . . The remarkable part of this is that she didn't live in Chicago.

Washington announces an impending famine in medicinal whisky. . . . Mr. O'Goofy says it's things like this that make him seek.

If buttermilk ever gets to be the national beverage the dairymen will start plugging a new ballad. . . . Entitled "The Face on the Cow Barn Floor."

The Lawn Tennis Association always has regarded Bill Hilden as a bad actor, and his experiences on Broadway seem to prove it.

Six big league managers have gotten the gate already this year. . . . Which is more gates than we imagined were still left in the country.

AMARILLO BUYS ST. JOSEPH'S BALL FRANCHISE FOR $20,000; TO ENTER WESTERN LEAGUE NEXT SEASON

AMARILLO, Nov. 29 (AP)—The way was cleared today for transfer of the St. Joseph western league club to Amarillo, when H. A. Dupuy, organizer of a class B loop and holding protection here, announced he would not stand in the way of Amarillo's entrance in the western loop.

H. P. Witherspoon, who recently purchased one half interest in the St. Joseph club, announced that he expected an early settlement with Dupuy, covering his withdrawal from the Amarillo field.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 29 (AP)—The often threatened transfer of the St. Joseph western league baseball franchise materialized today in the announcement of the sale of a half interest in the local club to W. P. Witherspoon, of Amarillo, Texas, by E. R. Tracy, owner.

Plans of the new partnership include removal of the club to Amarillo.

WESTERNERS FORGET ABOUT FOOTBALL AND TURN ATTENTION TO SHOOTING OF GOALS; CAGERS WILL START TRAINING

CORNELL TAKES ANOTHER OF HARVARD'S PLACES

PRINCETON, N. J. Nov. 29 (AP)—Cornell, which replaced Harvard on the Princeton football schedule today, was substituted for the crimson in track meets. Dr. Charles W. Kennedy, chairman of the board of athletic control, announced the signing of a two year agreement, under which the Princeton team goes to Ithaca next year and Cornell comes here in 1928.

SPARRING FOR GAMES

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Negotiations are under way for 1927 football games between Washington university and Centre college, Vanderbilt university and the Quantico marines, but will not be concluded until after the Missouri valley conference schedule is completed at Des Moines Friday and Saturday, Dr. W. C. Edmunds, Washington athletic director, said today.

NOTRE DAME TEAM OFF TO LOS ANGELES

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Notre Dame football squad accompanied by a special train filled with rosters, left here tonight for Los Angeles, where they will play the University of Southern California on December 4.

Shorn of their chance for national honors by the 13-0 Carnegie defeat Saturday, the rambling rocks with their three interchangeable backfields, still hold a threat for any gridiron squad.

BLEDSE IN WRECK

Senator and Mrs. W. H. Bledsoe and son, Willie, and Miss Grace Boyd, returning from El Paso Sunday, were in an automobile wreck near Roswell, their car receiving a smashed fender and rear bumper. The other car, driven by a woman, was badly wrecked, but no one was injured.

General Andrews urged business men to forbid their salesmen to treat customers to liquor in the course of sales promotion.

Mrs. R. C. Hentlin of Waukegan, Ill., gave her baby ammonia by mistake, but prompt treatment saved its life.

Lightning killed 62 sheep huddled together during a storm near Trinidad, Colo.

Coach L. J. Von Tungen and his cage recruits will go right into training. Football is a dead issue with the blonde mentor and he has now turned his attention to basketball. Although both Von Tungen and Frnka are extremely pleased with the showing the Westerners have made throughout this season and very favorably of the lads' action.

Since Coach Von Tungen hails from the Sooner state, where basketball is basketball—where it is faster than most any of the conferences in America—there should be no reason that the Westerners should not present a strong bid for the South Plains championship.

Angelina Reynolds has launched a thousand cheers—and what cheers they are, too. She leads her brother and sister colleagues of Syracuse, N. Y., university in rooting for the Orange eleven as it romps up and down the gridiron. So well has it romped, spurred on by Angelina's cheer leading, that only three of its opponents have scored on Syracuse this year. Angelina works up more enthusiasm, they say, than West Point's somersaulting cadets. "It's just another field," she says, "where women can make good."

I am in the fourth grade. I want a doll buggy and a box of checkers and then you can bring me what you want to. Edna Mae Hunt 1502 Texas Ave.

Dear Santa Claus:- I am going to Canyon school. I wish you would send me a air gun and some shells for it for Christmas. I am in the fourth grade. I am eleven years old. Your loving friend, Clarence Simpson.

"Lost Battalion" Hero Coming Here

Private Krotoshinsky, who came from New York's famous East Side, and found undying fame and glory in the Argonne Forest is no wa humble farmer over in Palestine, where he migrated shortly after re-enacting his part in the picture, "The Lost Battalion" coming to the Lindsey theater Thursday and Friday.

Private Krotoshinsky was a Jewish lad of humble upbringing in New York when the call for volunteers came. He was one of the first to enlist and became a member of the 308th Infantry, which has since become world famous as "The Lost Battalion" because of its glorious stand in the historic "pocket."

"The Lost Battalion" will be preceded by a large presentation of "The Wildcat Roar" with an all-star cast of players.

The scene in the great green production of "The Lost Battalion" at the Lindsey theater Thursday and Friday, are those that were re-enacted in every home, in every city and hamlet in the United States. Forty-two distinct nationalities were represented in this heroic unit. You follow the rich young draftee, the mendicant, the black, white, brown and yellow to the camp, where all blend into one harmonious whole of well-trained khaki-clad fighters.

How Doctors Treat Colds And Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calobals, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calobals at bed-time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 33 cents. At any drug store. (adv.)

What Is a Diuretic?

EVERYONE knows that a laxative stimulates the bowels. A diuretic performs a similar function to the kidneys. Under the strain of our modern life, our organs are apt to become sluggish and require assistance. More and more people are learning to use Doan's Pills, occasionally, to insure good elimination which is so essential to good health. More than 50,000 grateful users have given Doan's signed recommendations. Scarcely a community but has its representation. Ask your neighbor!

CANYON TELEPHONE SERVICE NEARLY READY

(Special to The Avalanche) CANYON, Nov. 29—If the weather remains open, and there are no further delays, practically all of the construction work on Canyon's new telephone system will be completed this week, and it may be possible to have most of the telephones tested today. DAILY MARKET

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29. (AP)—The cotton market was very narrow today with the volume of trading restricted to small proportions and price fluctuations of the smallest sort. The continued unfavorable weather in the belt furthered a slightly bearish influence but the lack of support was based mainly on expectations of increased private crop estimates and a large estimate by the government on December 5. After easing off four to six points in the early trading the market calmed on a slight trade buying selling type to 6 points from the early lows before noon. During the afternoon prices drifted steadily within the earlier range but gradually easing off toward the close. The market called slightly in the late trading on shorts covering but did not reach the earlier high and finally closed steady, showing prices net unchanged for the day 3 points decline.

Liverpool came in about two points higher than the day and first trades showed net losses of 2 to 3 points. After rallying 1 to 2 points right after the opening, the market eased off again, December trading down to 12 1/2 January to 12 1/2 and March to 12 1/2, or four to six points below the previous close.

Lesser in the morning prices called a little on one trade buying and near noon December traded up to 12 1/2, January to 12 1/2 and March to 12 1/2, or five to six points above the lower end but unchanged to 2 points above Saturday's close.

The market drifted during the afternoon within the earlier range, but near the end rallied a few points on a little covering. Exports for the day totalled 45,385 bales.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 29. (AP)—The cotton market was quiet today with prices a shade easier under a little southern and local selling, or commission house liquidation. January contracts eased off from 12 1/2 to 12 1/2 and closed at 12 1/2, the general market closing steady, net unchanged to 5 points lower.

The opening was steady at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 1 point, most months being lower in response to relatively easy late cables from Liverpool. Offerings were comparatively light and were well enough taken around the initial prices to steady the market. December selling up from 12 1/2 to 12 3/4 and March from 12 1/2 to 12 1/4.

A slight bulge seemed to meet a little more southern or local selling, however, and the market eased off again, reaching the lowest prices of the day in later trading, when December sold at 12 1/2 and March at 12 1/2.

A private crop report issued early estimated the final ginning at 10,017,000 bales of 500 pounds, and while this figure was below recent estimates of the season's growth, it appeared to make a more bearish impression on sentiment than otherwise. The main factor in the decline, however, was supposed to be reiterated reports that the spot bids was a shade easier in some of the southern markets, and that there was some selling of hedges against low grade cotton in the latter months.

Private cables said hedge selling had neutralized end month trade calling in the Liverpool market, and that demand for cotton cloth and yarns was quiet.

Exports today 45,385, making 7,380,000 so far this season. Total so far 1926-27, U. C. port stocks 2,880,000.

COTTON SEED OIL

NEW YORK, N. Y., 29. (AP)—The cotton seed oil market was easier today under liquidation promoted by the "water tend" in hard or short. Prices were 19 to 15 points, net lower, with sales of 7,800 barrels. Prime 602 1-2, prime summer yellow spot 608; December closed 8.15, January 8.28, March 8.32, May 8.34, July 8.42.

COTTON GOODS

NEW YORK, Nov. 29. (AP)—Cotton goods market opened steady today. Raw silk was unchanged. Further yarn price revisions announced during the day were on a slightly lower basis on a few numbers. Burdaps were slightly firmer for nearby deliveries on heavy weights.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 28. (AP)—Surprised over the 350,000 bushels unexpected increase over the United States wheat supply total had a bearish effect on wheat values today. Chicago closing quotations for what were unseasoned in the name of Saturday's finish to 3-8 lower with corn 7-8 to 11-8 off, and provisions varying from 7 cents decline to 29 cents advance.

Liquidating sales of December corn and oats were a weakening factor in the widest differences thus far this season.

Provisions were irregular, lard tending to sag but meats showing some advance.

FT. WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Nov. 29. (AP)—Ability and stability featured the livestock market here today. All divisions were steady. The count called for 2,600 grown cattle, 1,500 calves, 600 hogs and 1000 sheep.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO, Nov. 29. (AP)—Cattle 27,000, yearlings steady, top 12.50; bulk 12.50 to 11.50; steers weak, bulk 8.50 to 9.50; the stock steady, bulk strong to 5 shade higher; hogs 29 cents lower @ 13.50 to 11.50.

Hogs, 18,000, strong to 19 cents higher, top 11.95; bulk 11.70 to 11.50; pigs 11.50; pigs 11.50 to 11.50; unlimited holdover, 4.00.

Sheep, 24,000, lambs, weak to 25c higher, top 11.25; bulk 11.25 to 11.25; sheep steady; extra 50c to 6.50.

Mrs. Myron Brown, 1503 Avenue S, will entertain the Entre Nous club at 5 o'clock in the afternoon at her home.

The Morning Avalanche Menu for the Day

BREAKFAST—Halves of grapefruit, scrambled eggs with rice, graham muffins, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Cream of onion soup, croissants, sweet potato salad, toasted graham muffins, cranberry conserve, molasses cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER—Boiled shoulder of lamb, boiled potatoes, creamed carrots, cabbage and celery salad, open apple pie, brain salad, milk, coffee.

No cereal is suggested in the breakfast menu since rice is combining with the eggs and graham muffins are served in place of toast.

Sweet potato salad is rather unusual but very good and quite hearty.

Sweet Potato Salad
Two cups sliced sweet potatoes, 1 cup diced canned pineapple, 1 cup diced celery, 4 tablespoons French dressing, mayonnaise, shredded lettuce, stuffed olives.

Make the French dressing with lemon juice instead of vinegar. Pour over sliced potatoes and let stand for 1 hour. Add celery, pineapple and mayonnaise to make moist. Arrange shredded lettuce around the side of a salad bowl and put the salad in the center. Garnish with slices of olives and serve.

The coarse outside leaves of a head of lettuce should be used for shredding. If these leaves are carefully trimmed and crisped they are just as useful and attractive as the inside leaves and should not be wasted.

"US GIRLS" NEED HELP
The doleful plight of the poor bachelor maid who delves and toils from 9 to 6, and must homeward wend her weary way to a round of coals to be washed, silk hose to be darned, and suits to be pressed, is getting the London press in quite a furore.

"LADIES' MAIDS"

Boiling all the prattle and chatter down, what working women need are old-fashioned ladies' maids—not on a fulltime basis, perhaps, as Queen Elizabeth or Cleopatra employed their toiling spinsters. But why don't some aspiring young things who "just love" to fuss with silk things, and mend lace, and catch runs, and steam velvet wraps, and press tweed suits, and perhaps get a nice little fee for two, go into this business of hour-by-hour work for bachelor maids?

AND YET—WHY NOT?

It's an old, moth-eaten question this—why won't girls do housework? But once again, aside from the fact given above that it's the nastiest work in the world, why won't they? Homes offer glowing inducements—private suites with bath, use of car with chauffeur, month vacations with wages, radio in her own home—everything in the world except what none of us will be without—more or less regular hours and some time for ourselves on which we can plan.

BE IT EVER SO SMALL:

"Thank God for a garden, be it ever so small!" wrote the poet. No matter how poetical may be the housewife's soul, there are times when a speck of parsley for the fish plate delights her soul more than the rarest orchid that ever blew. Which is why such housewives would enjoy a certain little tome called "The Little Kitchen Garden" by Dorothy Giles.

Merrill Hardin was a business visitor in Lubbock Tuesday.

H. C. Edmonds, of Muleshoe, was propped against the old tree overlooking the bay, one is not sure, after all, just what her mortal enemy was—greed, ambition, jealousy or sheer hatred of the commoner? Read it! It's a woman's book.

Even Love is Cause of Fewer Tears

By PAUL HARRISON
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—"If you must have jewels, don't get expensive ones. If you must have expensive jewels, don't wear them. If you must wear them, don't show them on your dressing table at night. If you must leave them lying around loose, don't be surprised when they disappear. For they will disappear—just as surely as human nature is weak and our underworld gentry still stalks our Chief of Detectives John D. Coughlin. On him fall the sleuthing burdens of New York's two million or more dollars worth of jewel robberies each year. The latest was the recent theft of $250,000 worth of jewels from the wealthy Mrs. Myron C. Taylor. But this simply was part of the long procession, and there'll be others to keep up New York's pre-eminence in such losses. "Previous stories have a strange lure," the chief said, "I believe that for them men and women like, steal, suffer, kill and are killed more than for anything else on earth—not excluding love. Warnings Futile "In the face of that, all the advice and propaganda in the world won't do any good. "A society woman decked out with a hundred-thousand dollars worth of diamonds can cause us more trouble than a whole gang of bandits, and an international crook thrown in. "Perhaps she goes to a theater, dressed up like a pawnshop window. A look-out who may appear to be No. 1 of the Four Hundred, sees the sparklers and makes a long-distance appraisal. As soon as possible, a maid with forged recommendations, goes to work for the woman and reports on the hiding place of the jewels, which nine times out of ten are carefully thrown on a dressing table. "Next thing we know, someone calls practically and says 'My jewels, my lovely jewels—$117,000 worth—Oh, I loved them so—you must do something.' "Now, as a matter of fact, she probably didn't value them at all. By the time she had thanked her husband and shown them to her friends, she regarded them as mere dress accessories, to be tossed about in her bedroom and perhaps put in entire charge of her maid. "Well, we question the servants, look up records and make an arrest or two. Meanwhile, squads of detectives comb the city for the men we suspect as the actual thieves. Other squads go through the pawnshops and hangouts of the fences. Descriptions of the jewels are sent out. In the course of time, some of them come back. But fences now break up the original pieces, and dispose of them 'right under our noses. "The last few years have kept us busy. "There have been plenty of cases. At a New Year's party in 1925, Mrs. Irene Schellkopf, wife of a rich manufacturer, was robbed of $200,000 in jewels by two men who attacked her in a hall. The police caught Moran and Hurwitz, the principals; the partner of the Broadway jeweler who bought the gems killed himself and the fence finally returned most of the loot. "The biggest actual robbery in a theater was when Mrs. Joseph Truitt Talbot lost $100,000 in rings and brooches when a handbag was cut from her arm. That was in 1921. "Dot King and Louise Lawson "Early in the same year came the murders of Dorothy King and Louise Lawson. Miss King, a model, was found bent and chloroformed in her apartment, her $20,000 in jewels gone.

Miss Lawson, a movie actress, was strangled and her jewels taken. Both crimes were committed by two men who spied on the women in cabarets and later followed them home. "Then there was the famous Cadden case, when more than $150,000 in jewels were taken at a Long Island home after a party had been given for the Prince of Wales and Lady Louise Mountbatten. Mrs. J. S. Cadden's jewels and some of her guests' simply were scooped up from where they had been thrown on dressing tables. "Last year, $253,000 in jewelry was stolen from Mrs. James P. Donahue's apartment as she was bathing. All of it later was returned by a private detective for $65,000. "Of course there have been dozens of smaller robberies, hold-ups and window smashings," said Chief Coughlin. "But these thefts from homes are only the results of carelessness. Women constantly have been urged to wear paste and keep the real gems in vaults. But paste and genuine usually are kept in the same drawer or toy wall safe, and every employe of the household knows of their location. Jewel owners just invite thieves to come in."

TEACHERS COLLEGE GOOD AT PHYSICS

CANYON SCHOOL RECOGNIZED AS ADVANCED IN THIS DEPARTMENT

(Special to The Avalanche) CANYON, Nov. 30—Special recognition of the high type of work being done by the physics department of the West Texas State Teachers college...

This is generally looked upon as the result of a special, personal attention that it is possible to give in the smaller classes. More effective work seems to be done where the classes are small.

The latest of Professor McCarter's students to be accorded special recognition in his field is L. W. Blau, formerly of Lipscomb, but now of Austin.

A. B. Ater Dies at His Lubbock Home

A. B. Ater, resident of Lubbock for the past twelve years, died at his home 1816 6th street Tuesday morning about 8:30 o'clock.

Mr. Ater suffered a third stroke of paralysis in four years Monday afternoon, from which he did not rally. He was stricken first about four years ago, and two years later, suffered a second stroke.

Storm Sends Hockley Farmers to Sledding

LEVELLAND, Nov. 30—The storm that swept Hockley county on Thanksgiving did so much damage to cotton that 90 per cent of the farmers have dispensed with hands and are trying to save the remainder with slides.

Several thousand bales of cotton in Hockley county were completely destroyed and blown away by the storm.

Character of Pig Woman Is Told

(By the Associated Press) SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 29—Introduced by the state to testify as to the reputation of Mrs. Jane Gibson for truth and veracity, a witness created a mild sensation in court during the trial of the Hall-Mills case today by saying that "I was 'not so good.'"

The defence had offered a dozen witnesses to say that Mrs. Gibson, regarded as the star witness for the prosecution, bore a poor reputation for truthfulness in the community in which she lived.

Dr. Walter Madison of Trenton, first character witness called, was not permitted to testify when it was discovered that he has not known Mrs. Gibson for twelve years.

Another physician, Dr. J. H. Cooper of Millstone, then furnished the surprising testimony from a state's witness.

The crowd in the court room seemed bored as a hand writing expert testified as to the pencilled entries in Henry Stevens 1921 diary. There was no great interest when the prosecutor asked Dr. Cooper the stereotyped question.

"What is her reputation for truth and veracity, good or bad?"

The crowd sat when Dr. Cooper replied: "Not so good."

Later the witness said in reply to a question from the state's lawyer that her reputation was "about fifty-fifty." There was no cross-examination.

Court opened with a tense feeling in the air, caused by announcement yesterday that when the evidence is in, the state will ask that a mistrial be directed. Other than that a letter had been written in which the conduct of the jury was criticized, the state had no statement in regard to possible motion for a dismissal of the trial. The defense, too, was silent.

EDITOR OF TOPEKA PAPER DIES SUDDENLY

"Abie's Irish Rose" Is Coming Here

The increasing interest noted in the Palace engagement of Anne Nichols' success "Abie's Irish Rose", which comes to the Palace Friday, Dec. 10th, leads the management to believe that its success will be another city to be added to the long list of recent-breaking engagements which the perennial attraction has played, and which is no doubt due to its irresistible appeal to all classes, and especially to those who appreciate clean, wholesome comedy.

Miss Nichols, who is the author of the play as well as its producer, has accomplished this successfully in "Abie's Irish Rose" which deals with the marriage between a Jewish youth, Ahy Levy, son of a proud and intensely orthodox Hebrew, to the daughter, Rosemary Murphy, of a typical Irish Catholic. This couple are married three times in rapid succession in an effort to appease their raging and angry fathers, three ceremonies being performed by a Methodist minister, a Rabbi and a Priest. The fathers, however, refuse to accept conditions as they have developed, and the young couple are disowned. In the last act of the play everybody becomes reconciled, largely due to the efforts of the Rabbi and Priest, and the heart-clutching baby hands of Abie and Rose's first-born. A simple enough story, though based on unusual lines of comedy situations so deftly constructed in dialogue and scene that offense is given to no one.

Such a play with its distinct character types, requires specially selected players, and the organization to be seen here is that which has played twenty-eight weeks at the Garrick Theatre in Detroit, also fifty-eight weeks at the Stroh-Baker Theatre, Chicago, and includes Nat Koff, Dorothy Coghlan, William McFadden, Ada Jaffer, Jas. R. Waters, Jack M. Holmes, Ray L. Boyce, P. B. Horsons and others.

KENTUCKY ADDS TO FAME FOR PRETTY WOMEN AND FINE HORSES BY WINNING PRIZE FOR HEALTHIEST FARM BOY

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 30 (AP)—Kentucky, famed for its fine horses and beautiful girls, added to its reputation by giving to the Boys and Girls clubs here for the international livestock exposition the nation's healthiest farm boy, Iowa and Mississippi had to share honors for healthy girl-hood.

Warren Griffin, 15-year-old lad from Oscar, Ky., won over champions from sixteen other states the title of the healthiest boy, but Jeanette Rushing of Sunflower county, Mississippi, and Alberta Hoppe of Linn county, Iowa, were awarded jointly the title of healthiest girl when physicians despaired of choosing between them. The girls were tied at the top of the feminine health champions of nineteen states.

Warren is 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighs 113 pounds. He had finished the eighth grade, and as his father's partner in operation of a farm southwest of Paducah, rises before five o'clock every morning. That, he says, is why he's healthy, for he works hard all day long and hits the hay between 7 and 8 o'clock each night. He eats what he pleases, and all he wants.

No so, with Jeanette and Alberta, to whom the crown of physical perfection has come after years of diet and methodical physical training. Jeanette is 14 and slightly blonde, and she is 5 feet 4 inches tall. Alberta is a curly haired brunette, five feet six. Jeanette weighs 120 pounds, Alberta 113.

All three are members of 4-H clubs—head, hands, heart and health. Warren doesn't plan to go to school any more, unless it is to an agricultural college short course. But Jeanette, a sophomore in high school, and Alberta, a junior, plan to finish high school and maybe go to college.

exposition here in 1923, and another girl from the same county took the trophy in 1924.

THE HEEDED CRY—"They cried to God and He was treated of them; because they put their trust in Him." 1 Chron. 5:20.

GROW TREES

Out in this once treeless plain, we now see dotted over the country numbers of shade trees. In this group we sometimes notice that in years gone by a stately tree has grown there, but has served its days of usefulness, and nothing remains but the old stump to remind the public that a tree was once there.

Even back in centuries passed we have historical records of trees that have attained great age and size. A branch from a weeping willow tree planted as the original tomb of Napoleon at St. Helena in 1821 has been planted in the Arlington National Cemetery in Virginia.

The ancestor of all weeping willows in this country stands on the Curtis estate in Virginia. A traveler in Syria once sent Alexander Pope a box of figs in which was a twig from one of the willows upon which the exiles hanged their harps beside the rivers of Babylon.

There are many interesting trees scattered over the world. Probably the largest tree in Europe is a chestnut growing on the slopes of Aetna. It has a circumference of 160 feet and has sheltered 100 horsemen at a time.

The trees of the new world are the largest. Venezuela is said to possess the real giant of them all. It has a circumference of some 561 feet. It was discovered by Guero in the 16th century and was visited by Humboldt in 1800.

Some of the Sequoias in California are 4,000 years old. The ancient dragon tree, of the same age, on Tenerife, was destroyed in 1868. The sacred baobab of Senegal is estimated to be 4,500 years old.

We believe there are a number of varieties of trees that should have a place in the list of those being planted now, and one of them is the stately pecan. We are pleased to see the increasing interest in this variety of trees. We note with a good deal of pleasure that fifty acres of this variety have been given to the boy scouts for the Post Memorial Camp and that they are to be carefully planted and taken care of.

LOSS OF LIFE

Statistics recently made public in Washington show that approximately 165,000 persons lost their lives during the past twenty years as a result of automobile accidents. It is pointed out that these fatalities were greater than the total losses of the United States armed forces during the World War from wounds, disease and other causes.

By has estimated that if the death rate from automobile accidents in 1925 should continue unchanged for the next twenty years the total fatalities due to automobile accidents in that period will be in excess of 520,000 persons. This is based on the assumption that the population of the country during the next two decades will increase at the same rate that has prevailed since 1920.

We feel that we are all too careless. We are allowing our desire for fast driving to overcome our good sense. We dash down the highway with no apparent thought of the dangers that may stand out ahead of us.

We are of the opinion that just at this time, there is a demand for some sort of regulation of the glaring headlight. It is extremely difficult for one to drive at even a moderate rate of speed without great danger of running into the ditch.

BIG GASOLINE DAY

Statistical experts have recently compiled some interesting figures concerning gasoline consumption in the United States, which has again broken all records this year.

According to these authorities, careful estimates indicate that July 25 last saw a new high record for all time in the amount of gasoline burned up in a single day, or more than 860,000 barrels.

No one can visualize such a quantity, but an idea of its immensity may be gathered from the fact that it would fill 10,000-gallon tank cars enough to make a solid train 31 miles long. Think of that as a single day's supply.

U. S. WILL STAY OUT

Owing to the attitude of other nations toward the United States Senate's reservations, it now appears that this country will not participate in the World Court after all.

In fact, President Coolidge in his Armistice Day address at Kansas City declared that he did not intend to ask the Senate to modify its position, although he has heretofore earnestly favored adherence to the court with suitable reservations.

The trend of public sentiment in this country appears to be toward non-participation in either the League of Nations or the World Court, a majority evidently believing that the United States can exert its influence in behalf of peace as effectively while maintaining entire independence of foreign entanglements.

Uncle Sam Finds New Way to Forestall Counterfeiters

By ISRAEL KLEIN Science Editor, NEA Service Uncle Sam is making it harder for counterfeiters to copy his valuable product. He's doing this by the use of the hardest of metals, chromium, on the plates that stamp out and print the paper money of this country. He has found that the prints are sharper and more accurate than ever, and that he can produce more impressions from each plate than he did without the use of this metal.

Abundant Chromium is in the same class of hard metals with molybdenum, tungsten, and uranium, but is hardest of all these. Fortunately, it is found in great abundance in the earth, but because of cheap labor it is being imported at present from Rhodesia.

Double Economy Chromium has been found of great use in other industries because of its hardness. It is suitable for the manufacture of printing plates, dies, screws and gears. It has a high luster and resists rust, and therefore has come into use as plating usually over nickel coat on automobile radiator shells, bumper bars, plumbing fixtures and other objects.

SO THINK WE

We think when you buy your merchandise in Lubbock you are helping to build a bigger town, and the merchants will begin to bring on more goods and offer while you will be pleased to say you can get it in Lubbock.

We think that money talks in "padding" terms.

We think Lubbock can well afford to put in several days of cleaning up. The ragged looking appearance of some of the alleys and vacant lots in Lubbock does not make a favorable impression to visitors in the city.

We think you will not go wrong by attending services at some of the churches each Sunday.

We think there are more new buildings being erected now in Lubbock than any other town on the South Plains, and there will be a lot more buildings started by the opening of spring. Lubbock is well on her way toward a building boom that will extend all the way through 1927.

We think if people would determine to obey the laws of the land there would be no need for enforcement officers, and the cost of living would be reduced a great deal.

We think it is not the high cost of living that burts near as much as the cost of high living.

We think that China has the rest of the world powers in a position that they do not know just what to do.

We think if the coming of the millennium depends on the democrats and republicans agreeing on public issues before it comes, we can all rest assured that the millions living now will all be dead long before the eventful day shall come.

We think one can go most anywhere they want to if they have the cash, and if they have enough, we are just about convinced they can do most anything they want to do.

We think possibly the reason that marriage with a lot of folks does not last as long as it used to is because courtship is too rapid.

We think that in this day and time there are too many promising young men and not enough paying young fellows.

We think the budget plan of home keeping is not bad, and we believe there should be more economy practiced if this was rightly followed.

We think there are some folks who would be glad if they could be their own doctor if they were allowed to write their own "cold prescriptions."

OFFENSE GIVES WAY TO DEFENSE IN FOOTBALL THIS SEASON; SCORING FALLS TO LOWEST EBB OF LAST FIVE YEARS

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP).—The attack in football after a brief forward surge last year, again has felt the defensive work. Records of turdier defensive work. Records for the season just closed reveal the average scoring power of college teams throughout the country to be at its lowest ebb in five years.

These figures covering the regular campaigns of 120 representative aggregations in all sectors of the gridiron front, show that a grand total of 13,960 points were rolled up in 917 games. This is an average of 15.3 points per team, representing a sharp decline from the 1925 average of 122 and an especially marked drop from the 1923 figure of 133 points.

scoring weapon. Where the University of Washington led the scoring brigade in 1925 with 459 points in capturing the Pacific coast championship, this year's high scoring honors went to Lafayette only eastern team neither beaten or tied, with 330 points. Georgetown, with 308, was the only other team to peg the 300 mark.

Among the major eleven, Alabama, Pennsylvania and Northwestern exhibited consistent defense, the southern champions permitted only 20 enemy points while rolling up 242 themselves. Penn also allowed only a score of points. Northwestern yielded 22 points and Lafayette 37.

Notre Dame's goal line had been crossed only once in eight games when Carnegie's 19-0 avalanche buried the boogies. This sensational victory emphasized Carnegie's defensive as well as attacking strength, the "Shibboleth" having yielded only 33 points, 17 to Washington and Jefferson and six to New York university in the team's only defeat.

Southern California Points for Notre Dame Game to Wipe Out Stanford Defeat

Despite its rather unexpected defeat by Stanford, 13-12, Southern California has one of the outstanding teams not only of the west, but the entire country.

Coch Howard Jones had hoped to go through his Pacific conference schedule without a defeat, so that the game with Notre Dame on Dec. 4 at Los Angeles would take on national importance.

Strolling Down Sport Lane With James R. Dow

Texas Tech Matadors will not begin their training for the cage action until after the Christmas holidays. It has been announced at the office of the athletic department.

It will be a clash of bitter rivalry and an ancient grudge when the Engineers and Liberal Arts clubs meet Saturday at the Matador gridiron for the intermarital honors in the 27th event.

The Waco club proved to be too much for the Temple crew yesterday afternoon and defeated them by a score of 27 to 10 in Waco. A few weeks prior the clubs met in Temple and battled to a scoreless tie.

Coch Freeland will attend the general meeting of all the Texas conferences in Dallas on December 10th. At this meeting the Matador coach will likely prepare the bigger part of his 1927 basketball card.

Freeland will not ask for a conference berth this year—but will likely ask to be permitted to enter the Southwestern conference loop in 1928. The huge member is of the opinion that the Matadors are not quite well enough along to become a member of the conference.

Coches Freeland and Higginbotham will likely issue less letters this season than were given last year for grid duties. Twenty-three letters were issued last season; while it is thought that only 18 or 20 will be given this season.

The Matadors of the grid crew will meet in a few days to select their captain.

Zone Conference of Rotary Thursday

The conference of Zone 1, 1st district of Rotary International, which will be held in Amarillo Thursday will be attended by a number of Rotarians from Lubbock.

Clubs located at Lubbock, Amarillo, Plainview, Canadian, Slaton, Post, Pampa, Mopah, and others are included in Zone 1 and will be represented with District Governor W. C. Edwards, of Denton, presiding.

Trojans and Notre Dame in Big Grid Tilt

One of the biggest games of the entire football season will be played after the campaign is usually terminated officially.

This battle will bring Notre Dame and Southern California together out on the west coast, Dec. 4. More than that, it will be the strongest eleven in the country. Rockne's charges have had an unusually successful season, while the Trojans boast one of the greatest aggregations that school has ever turned out.

Southern California lost a 15-12 contest to Stanford a few weeks ago but Notre Dame stands a good chance of going into the big inter-sectional imbroglio with a clean slate.

COUNTER SUITS IN BROWNING CASE FILED

WHITE PLAINS, N. J., Nov. 29. (AP)—Counter suits for separation of Edward W. Browning, wealthy middle-aged New York real estate operator and his girl wife, Frances "Peach" Heenan Browning, will be tried in two places beginning January 24.

Lawyers for both sides signed a stipulation, filed today at the county clerk's office here, providing for a hearing of Browning's case at Carmel, Putnam county seat, January 24. The case then will be transferred to White Plains for a hearing of Mrs. Browning's suit.

Justice Morshauer, who announced he would preside at the Carmel trial, said Browning's suit would open up for trial at Poughkeepsie December 1, but an adjournment would be made.

Marlin Bulldogs Victors Over Teague

MEWNA, TEXAS, Nov. 29. (AP)—The Marlin Bulldogs defeated the Teague Lions 23 to 6 in a game clinching the class B district 9 high school football championship here Tuesday afternoon. They also won the right to meet Caldwell for the B-district title.

COACH FREELAND WILL ATTEND DALLAS CONFERENCE

Coch E. Y. Freeland and H. C. Harvey, manager of athletics, will attend the general meeting of the conference in Dallas on December 10. At this meeting the coach will line up his 1927 basket ball card and will likely arrange for numerous dual track meets.

This is a meeting of the coaches in the Southwestern, Texas, and T. L. A. A. conferences and all the coaches and managers of the various clubs that make up the conference will be in attendance for the meeting.

SPORT SHORTS

CRIMSON SCORES MOST

Of the big three, Harvard ran up the largest single game point total during the 1926 campaign. The Crimson scored 65 points on Tufts. Yale's best effort in this respect was against Boston university, when the blue counted 51. Princeton showed its strongest attack in the Swarthmore battle when the Tigers ran up 27 points.

TO PLANT CHINESE ELMS AS WELL AS PECAN TREES IN POST MEMORIAL CAMP, FOR BOY SCOUTS, SAYS JONES

After spending Saturday with the local scouts at the Post Memorial camp, planting the pecan trees which Dr. J. C. Lovelace of Lamesa donated to the boys, Don L. Jones, superintendent of the experiment station has announced that he will plant Chinese elms over the camp to furnish shade for the boys in the years to come. Mr. Jones together with county agents D. F. Eaton of Lubbock and C. E. Lockridge of Post, assisted in the planting of the trees and were greatly impressed with the soil and possibilities there.

The trees will be planted year by year until the camp is fully supplied. H. B. Palmer, scout executive, is highly elated over the prospects for the completion of the camp and is laying plans for a public interest campaign throughout the South Plains in scout work.

NOTORIOUS LEADER SAID ACTIVE IN RAID

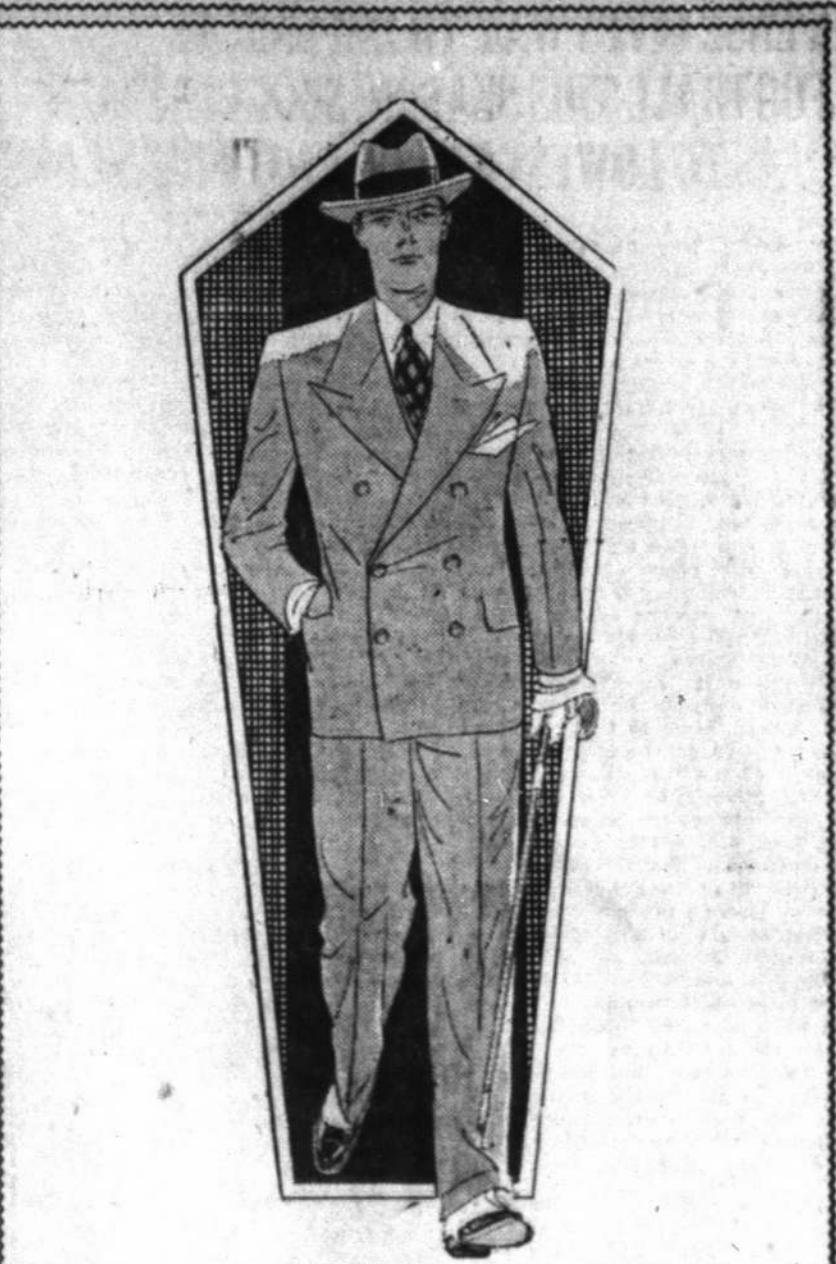

BROWNSVILLE, Nov. 30.—Aniceto Pizana, notorious leader of Mexican bandits who figured in a series of raids in the Lower Rio Grande valley of Texas in 1915 and 1916 that resulted in 50,000 national guardsmen being sent into this section is reported to have been a member of the band of agrarians that Monday raided the Yander plantation near Matamoros.
According to Matamoros officers, the agrarians include among their number several American born Mexicans wanted in the United States on various charges.

LAMESA BLACKSMITH INVENTS MACHINE TO PICK COTTON; BOY OF TEN GATHERS THREE TO FIVE BALES DAY THEREWITH

(Special to The Avalanche) LAMESA, Nov. 30.—F. E. Patterson has made himself famous as an inventor as the farmers' friend. Mr. Patterson is owner and operator located here, of one of the South Plains largest blacksmith shops. He has invented a cotton picker and has distributed to date, one hundred machines. It works on the order of a "slide" machine and gathers all the cotton on the ground or on the stalk. It also sifts the dirt and sand from the cotton...

PLANE FAILS; BOY DIES

Snake Bite Fatal When Airship Carrying Saving Serum is Forced Into Landing NEWCASTLE, Tex., Nov. 30.—The forced landing of an airship carrying snake serum perhaps cost the life of the four year old son of Bedford Isham here today. The boy was bitten Sunday while hunting pecans. He was brought to New Castle, and snake serum was ordered sent from San Antonio by airplane. The plane was forced to land at Brokenridge, the medicine being sent on by automobile, but the boy was dead when it arrived.

BALKE FREED IN MURDER CASE

CALDWELL, Texas, Nov. 30.—The case against Charles Balke, one of the defendants in the Ott Lange murder trial here, was dismissed in Burleson county district court today. Attorneys for Kinch Shelburne, the other defendant, filed a motion for change of venue alleging prejudice against their client in this county. About 200 witnesses have been called to testify on the prejudice allegations. A special officer was sent to Burleson to locate the state's star witness, Mrs. Annie Shelburne, former wife of defendant, Kinch Shelburne. She is expected to arrive in Caldwell Wednesday morning. Lange was killed on the porch of his home at Somerville in 1923. A body of men shot him as his wife, mother, and daughter attempted to protect him.

MAN HELD AFTER TORSO FOUND

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Frank Traps, of Brooklyn, was charged with homicide today after the torso of a woman whose body he admitted dismembering was found in his home. He was arrested by a policeman who saw him throw a package, believed to contain the missing portion of the woman's body, into East river. After discovery of the torso in his home, police said Traps at first told them he had killed the woman, whom he knew only as "Marie," by a blow on the head in a fit of anger. Later, they said, he retracted this story and said the woman died of heart failure while in his home and that he cut the body up to dispose of it in fear that he would be charged with her death.

SUSPENSION GRANTED IN HOFFMAN TRIAL

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 30.—Trial of the case of the state vs. Hoffman Construction company of Eastland, was suspended Tuesday until 2 p. m. in order that John McKay, Eastland attorney for the defense could argue a case before the state supreme court.

BAN ON LIVESTOCK MOVEMENTS LIFTED

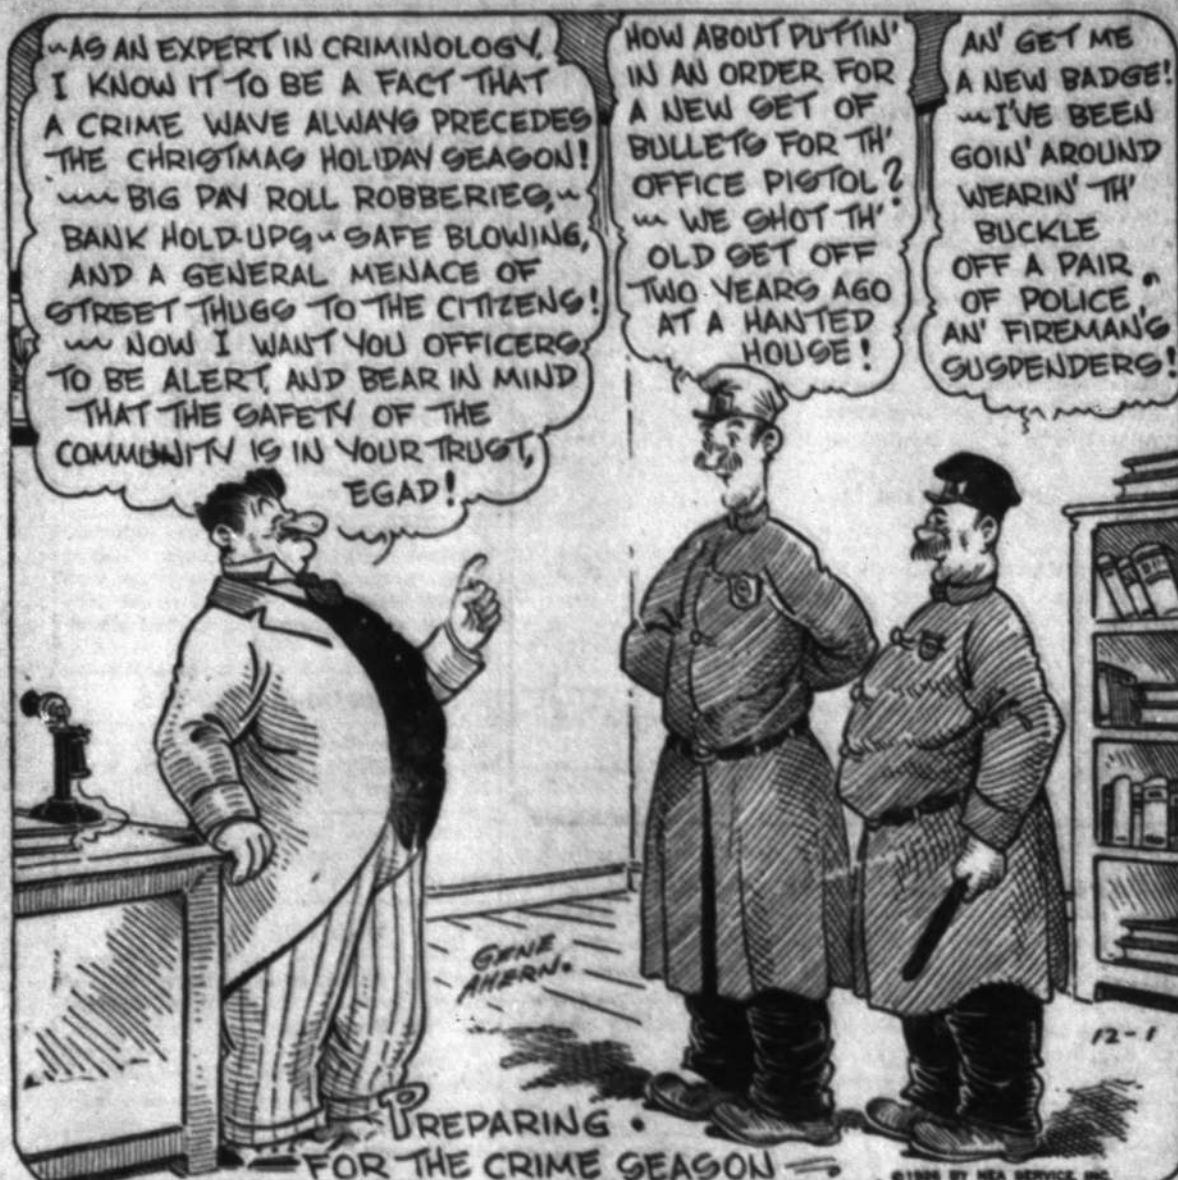

HOUSTON, Nov. 30.—The ban on moving cattle from portions of Harris, Galveston and Brazoria counties without permit has been lifted by the state livestock sanitary commission. County Judge Norman Atkinson was informed Tuesday. The quarantine became effective July 25, 1925, when hoof and mouth disease was discovered on a ranch south of Houston.

KEMPER INTERESTS BUY SHORT RAILROAD

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Nov. 30.—Colonel W. T. Eldridge of Sugarland today announced the sale of his equity in the Rio Grande railroad, 26 mile line connecting Brownsville and Point Isabel, to the Kemper interests of Galveston. Colonel Eldridge resigned as president of the road and R. Lee Kemper of Galveston was elected to replace him. L. E. Bourne, general manager, announced there would be no other changes. The Rio Grande railroad was taken out of receivership ten months ago, and on a court order can not be sold until after February, 1926.

Two Dawson Gins Burn; Loss Heavy

Two gins burned in Dawson county this week. The total loss is $50,000. The gin at Ackerly caught fire from the rear part of the buildings and burned before any efforts could be made to put out the fire. The gin at Ballard, six miles west of Lamesa, burned in like manner. It is thought that matches from cotton pickers were left in the cotton and in ginning, ignition was started from which the flames spread completely destroying both plants. Both plants were well covered with insurance. At present it is not known whether they will rebuild or not.

HOTEL IS BEING PUT UP AT ACKERLY

(Special to The Avalanche) LAMESA, Nov. 30.—A large two story frame building is being erected at Ackerly, 25 miles south of Lamesa. The first floor is to be used for a picture show and the second floor as a hotel. Ackerly is about half way between Lamesa and Big Spring and it is thought that these two enterprises will greatly serve the travelling public.

CARROLL ALL FED UP ON BATHS

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Earl Carroll, theatrical producer returned on the Levathian Monday "all fed up" with stage baths. Carroll is under sentence of a year and a day in connection with a stage "bath tub party" in his theatre in which a show girl was reported to have bathed in a tub of champagne. The theatrical man was given court permission to go abroad on business pending hearing of his appeal. He said today that in Paris he attended the Moulin Rouge with his wife and witnessed "a series of historic baths." He said that Roman and Greek bathing customs were depicted on the stage and this was followed by a lake-off on his own "party." Carroll said his wife wanted him to rise and make a bow, but that he felt "so demoralized" that he just stunk down in his seat. "I was all fed up with that sort of thing," he said.

The Pas, Manitoba, reported 26 below zero last night.

CANYON PEPPED WITH RAIL JUBILEE

DELEGATION TO PLAINVIEW WAXES ENTHUSIASTIC OVER DENVER RAILROAD (Special to The Avalanche) CANYON, Nov. 30.—Canyon's delegation last Friday returned enthusiastic in their praise of the welcome given them. After some fifteen months of anxious waiting for the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the vigorous enthusiasm of West Texas found outlet in the recent celebration, which is considered one of the greatest gatherings of prominent Texans in the history of the state. And with true frontier hospitality, Plainview played the host.

This town was represented principally by the band and orchestra of the West Texas state teachers college. It was sent by the local chamber of commerce, upon the invitation of the Hon. A. B. Martin, of Paducah, Ky., the arrival of the special train, the college band led the parade, and played several different concerts throughout the day. At a play given by the Little Theatre company of Plainview in the evening, the college orchestra played a special concert. Wallace R. Clark, director of the orchestra, and C. E. Strain, director of the band, assert that their organizations have never been received with more genuine appreciation than that shown them by the Plainview people. The college orchestra will give a program at Floyd's next symphony program to be given by the music department will be given in Amarillo, December 13.

AUSTIN GRID MAN IS HURT IN AUTO WRECK

TEMPLE, Texas, Nov. 29.—Captain Charlie Wells of the Austin high school football eleven was painfully injured near Bellon this morning when the automobile in which he and four other members of the squad were going to the Temple-Waco game in Waco, overturned shortly before noon today. He was picked up by Mrs. Dan Moody, wife of the governor, and rushed to a hospital in Bellon for X-ray examination, which showed two broken ribs. He was not unconscious.

Monday by attorneys in the case. The time for filing of information which will charge conspiracy to obstruct justice, to manufacture false evidence and to suborn perjury in connection with the evangelist's disappearance last May would have expired December 1. The stipulation when filed will give until January 16.

ment and repair thereof shall be subject to the foregoing inspection and supervision.
And it is further ordained that no gas appliance, fixture or apparatus, either for heating illuminating or hot water heating, be installed until type of said gas appliance, apparatus or fixture has been approved by the City Plumbing Inspector or his assistant.
SECTION 2: That the said City Plumbing Inspector and his assistants shall be subject to the order and direction of the Mayor and City Commission of the City of Lubbock, and they are hereby vested with full authority to enter any building or premises, for the purpose of inspecting, or other places, either public or private, at any time in the discharge of their duties, and to pass upon and decide upon questions arising under the provisions of this ordinance or any ordinance hereafter passed, or any rules and regulations already adopted or hereafter adopted by the Mayor and City Commission relative to any such gas piping, appliances, fixtures or apparatus or the installation, construction, reconstruction, adjustment and repair thereof or relative to the materials used therein, whether the same be the original construction and erection or in any alterations or repairs or repairs thereof.
SECTION 3: No person, firm or corporation shall enter upon the installation, construction, reconstruction, repair or replacement of any gas piping or apparatus or any change thereof, (nor shall any such person, firm or corporation undertake any other person, firm or corporation, the adjustment thereof) until the said individual, firm or corporation shall have secured a license as provided and delivered to the City of Lubbock a good and sufficient bond in the sum of Two Thousand Five Hundred ($2,500.00) Dollars having thereon two or more sureties, approved by the Mayor and City Commission of the City of Lubbock, one of which said sureties shall be a surety company duly authorized to do business in the State of Texas, conditioned for the faithful performance of all such work entered upon or contracted for in strict accordance with the provisions of this ordinance and such further and future ordinances of the City of Lubbock as may be hereafter passed. Said bond shall be further conditioned that such person, firm or corporation shall without delay reimburse the City of Lubbock, or the City Plumbing Inspector of the City of Lubbock at any time within one year after the construction, repair or installation thereof, and after forty eight (48) hours notice from the City Plumbing Inspector to reconstruct or repair the same. In the case of gas leaks of any nature, upon order of said City Plumbing Inspector or any of his assistants, the gas shall be cut off immediately from the premises forthwith without notice and the said person, firm or corporation shall be liable for the cost of any such gas piping, is done and one recovery shall not exhaust said bond but said bond shall be a continuing obligation against the sureties thereon until the entire amount thereof shall have been paid in full to the City of Lubbock, or the City Plumbing Inspector or any person injured or damaged by reason of failure to repair any defective gas piping or any defective installation, construction, reconstruction or repair thereof for the failure or refusal of any person, firm or corporation to pay any of the fees required by this ordinance, maintain suit on said bond in any court having jurisdiction thereof or suit may be maintained thereon by any person injured or damaged by reason of any breach of any of the conditions of said bond. The time herein required shall expire on the first day of January, next following the date of approval of such bond by the Mayor and City Commission and thereafter on the first day of January a new bond in form and substance as herein required shall be given by any such person, firm or corporation to cover all such work as shall be done during the year beginning on such January 1st.

SECTION 4: That upon approval of said bond by the Mayor and City Commission the City Plumbing Inspector and his assistants shall be subject to the order and direction of the Mayor and City Commission of the City of Lubbock, and they are hereby vested with full authority to enter any building or premises, for the purpose of inspecting, or other places, either public or private, at any time in the discharge of their duties, and to pass upon and decide upon questions arising under the provisions of this ordinance or any ordinance hereafter passed, or any rules and regulations already adopted or hereafter adopted by the Mayor and City Commission relative to any such gas piping, appliances, fixtures or apparatus or the installation, construction, reconstruction, adjustment and repair thereof or relative to the materials used therein, whether the same be the original construction and erection or in any alterations or repairs or repairs thereof.
SECTION 5: When the plumber or fitter has completed the system of piping and has laid out and bracket extensions and heater openings firmly and permanently fastened, he shall then test the piping and if found tight, a written application for tests with the City Plumbing Inspector and the City Plumbing Inspector or one of his

For Gas Lighting
1-2 inch pipe, not more than 20 feet for 2 lights.
1-2 inch pipe, not more than 150 feet for 100 lights.
2-3 inch pipe, not more than 200 feet for 200 lights.
For Gas Ranges
1-2 inch pipe, not more than 20 feet to point of opening.
Automatic Water Heaters
No. 1 water heater, 1-1/2 inch pipe, not to exceed 70 feet to point of opening.
No. 2 water heater, 1-1/4 inch pipe, not to exceed 100 feet to point of opening.
No. 3 water heater, 1-1/2 inch pipe, not to exceed 125 feet, to point of opening.
For Instantaneous Water Heaters.
1-2 inch pipe, not to exceed 70 feet to point of opening.
1-1/4 inch pipe, not to exceed 100 feet to point of opening.
The following specifications must be strictly adhered to in piping houses:
For 1 fire or opening, 1-1/4 inch pipe from main to point of opening.
For 2 fire openings, 1-1/4 inch pipe from main to first opening and 1 inch to second opening.
For 3 fires or openings, 1-1/4 inch pipe to first opening and 1 inch pipe to second and third openings.
For 4 fires or openings, 1-1/4 inch pipe to first opening, and 1 inch pipe to second and third and fourth openings.
For 5 fires or openings, 1-1/4 inch pipe to the first, second, third and fourth openings.
For 6 fires or openings, 1-1/4 inch pipe to first, second, third and fourth openings, and 1 inch pipe to the fifth, sixth and seventh openings.
For 7 fires or openings, 1-1/4 inch pipe to first, second, third and fourth openings, and 1 inch pipe to the fifth, sixth and seventh openings.
For hot air furnaces, boilers, etc., using burners having two or three air mixers, 1-1/2 inch pipe.
The same with four or five mixers, 1-1/2 inch pipe, for larger installations, approval or size shall be secured from City Plumbing Inspector.
Air mixers must not be placed in air tight boxes, but where a free flow of air can reach them at all times.
By the term "OPENING" as used in this ordinance, is meant, the point where the pipe comes through the floor or baseboard to the appliance.
Service pipe from main to building must be 1-1/4 inch inside diameter of larger, or pipe less than 1 inch, inside diameter will be permitted on horizontal run.
Vertical pipes or risers in two and three story buildings must be 1 inch inside diameter or larger, depending on the number of fires or openings.
The use of street stop valves or plugs is prohibited. Use as few elbows as possible; elbows not absolutely necessary will be condemned. When impossible to get through an obstruction such as a beam offset the pipe rather than use elbows.
For large buildings the plans for piping should be taken up directly with the City Plumbing Inspector before any pipe is installed. All piping for fixtures with a great number of burners on them will have to be made larger accordingly.
Pipe is to be supplied from a smaller pipe to a larger one.
Pipe must be free from obstructions.
White lead or other joining material should be used sparingly as not to clog the pipe and only the male threads should be used.
The riser must be extended to a point with 18 inch of the proposed location of the meter, and to right of same at least 20 inches above floor.
Meters should not be located near furnaces or stoves, locked in compartments, placed in any other position where they will be accessible, or liable to injury. Under no condition will a fitter or plumber or other person disconnect any meter, connect to or disturb piping between main, and meter.
In cases to accommodate different tenants, one or more meters are located in a given building, the gas supplying company will set up many meters as there are separate customers but unless for specific reasons and where special permission is granted by the Plumbing Inspector, a separate service line must be laid from the meter, line to each meter.
Union and valves must not be used in concealed work, but long threads, if necessary, should be used.
Long runs of horizontal pipe should be firmly supported at short intervals by metal fasteners to prevent sagging.
All branch outlet pipes should be taken from the sides or tops of running lines, never from below.
Bracket pipes should be run from below where practicable. Drop connections must be supported with at least three supports, one under pipe at drop, one across drop between egg and ell or bend and one half-way between drop and main pipe. All supports are to be 2x2 or larger lumber. Two supports must be used for all brackets, one under pipe, one under riser ell and one half-way between ell and main supply pipe.
House pipes should be so run and covered as to be readily accessible. No cast iron fittings smaller than 3/4 inch are to be used.
No individual, firm or corporation shall enter upon the installation, construction or reconstruction of any work provided for herein until a permit has been issued by the Plumbing Inspector, covering each installation or addition to be made, and when required by said City Plumbing Inspector, the plans and specifications for the proposed work, must be filed with him before the permit is granted or during the progress of said work; provided, however, the City Plumbing Inspector may issue a general permit to any individual, firm or corporation owning or controlling any building for a term not exceeding three (3) months from the date thereof, authorizing minor alterations or changes, but such permit shall be renewable. No permit will be required for the repair or adjustment of gas piping, appliances, fixtures and apparatus.
SECTION 5: When the plumber or fitter has completed the system of piping and has laid out and bracket extensions and heater openings firmly and permanently fastened, he shall then test the piping and if found tight, a written application for tests with the City Plumbing Inspector and the City Plumbing Inspector or one of his assistants will call and inspect the piping and witness the test, and if the City Plumbing Inspector or such assistant finds the piping tight and the sizes and work in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, the City Plumbing Inspector or such assistant will issue and deliver proper certificate to each effect.

The piping must be tight under a pressure of ten inches of mercury column or fifteen pounds air pressure. This test will be made before the fixtures are hung and appliances connected and before the piping closed in. The use of gas fitter's cement for repairing leaks is strictly prohibited.

All gas using appliances shall be connected up solid. No rubber or metal tubing will be permitted.

Any additional piping of outlets installed after a certificate is granted must be reported for inspection and test.

No gas fitter, plumber or other person doing work in any house or structure shall exceed any of said gas piping until certificate of inspection is issued and inspection card attached to said piping.

Running service lines under buildings between curb and meter location is prohibited.

Gas service lines shall not be laid in the same ditch with water or sewer lines.

No riser or elbow will be permitted on any yard service line, trench must be dug on level with curb stop or main except in case of high terraces. In which case special permission may be granted by Plumbing Inspector to make offset bends.

All yard service pipes must be 14 inches under surface of ground.

SECTION 6: If any person, firm or corporation shall fail or refuse to remedy any defects found by the City Plumbing Inspector or his assistants in any work, provided herein, within seventy-two hours after notice to do so, the City Plumbing Inspector shall not issue any further permits to such person, firm or corporation until said defects are remedied; or if it is shown that said person, firm or corporation is incompetent to do such work, then the license of such person, firm or corporation shall be subject to forfeiture.

When any gas piping, appliances, fixtures or apparatus is found to have been installed without a proper permit or not in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, the City Plumbing Inspector, or his assistants, is hereby authorized and empowered to prevent any supply of gas thereto or to the consumer until such permit has been secured from the said City Plumbing Inspector and such work inspected and approved.

Applications for re-inspection shall be filed with the said City Plumbing Inspector and recorded in a book kept in the office for that purpose. A fee of One Dollar and Fifty Cents ($1.50) shall be charged for the first inspection and One ($1.00) for each for the second and third inspection on condemned installations.

Before any such gas piping, appliances, fixtures or apparatus constructed or furnished under permits hereafter granted, shall be approved, or any certificate of acceptance of the work, also provided, that in the event the license of any person, firm or corporation issued under the terms of this ordinance is forfeited for any violation of this ordinance or other ordinances of the City of Lubbock, pertaining thereto, said person, firm or corporation shall not be granted another license for the period of one year after the date of the cancellation of previous license.

SECTION 7: Any and all gas piping, fixtures and apparatus or material, which may at any time become defective and in the opinion of the City Plumbing Inspector or his assistants likely to cause leaks, fires or accidents or to endanger persons or property, shall be condemned by the said City Plumbing Inspector or his assistants and when, in his opinion, it is deemed necessary in order to prevent such accidents or danger, said City Plumbing Inspector or his assistants is hereby authorized to disconnect such gas piping, appliances, is hereby authorized to disconnect such gas piping, appliances, fixtures and apparatus, or to cause the service of gas to be discontinued from such person or persons owning or using such gas piping, appliances, fixtures, apparatus or material shall cause the same to be put in safe condition and tested and approved by the City Plumbing Inspector.

When any gas piping, appliances, fixtures, apparatus or material of any nature whatsoever has been in any manner disconnected and rendered inoperative by the City Plumbing Inspector or the service discontinued, as set forth in the foregoing provisions, it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to in any manner reconnect the same or cause the same to be re-connected to any supply of gas or to use the same as a part of any gas piping system until they have been inspected by the City Plumbing Inspector.

SECTION 8: In every gas installation all piping and attachments must be of at least such capacity as will supply gas up to the full maximum requirements of all appliances contemplated to be connected thereon according to the requirements of this ordinance.

No gas piping, appliances, fixtures or apparatus, or the installation, construction, reconstruction or repair thereof, for which a permit is issued shall be put to use or connected to any supply of gas until inspected and accepted by the City Plumbing Inspector.

All applications for inspection will be held at least twenty-four hours after the same are filed. It is required that said individual, firm or corporation or his or its representatives shall personally inspect every installation before a card for inspection is filed and that all work for which the inspection is asked shall be complete.

Applications for re-inspection must be made out on new cards the same as the original application, stating whether the first, second or third inspection. Telephone or verbal requests will not be considered.

When any gas piping, appliances, fixtures or apparatus is found to have been installed without a proper permit or not in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, the City Plumbing Inspector, or his assistants, is hereby authorized and empowered to prevent any supply of gas thereto or to the consumer until such permit has been secured from the said City Plumbing Inspector and such work inspected and approved.

DAILY MARKET

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—The cotton market was easier today under reports of increased hedge selling reiterated claims of freer spot offerings in the south. January sold off to 12.25 of 11 points net lower and closed at that figure, the general list closing barely steady at net decline of 8 to 11 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 1 to 4 points under overnight selling orders from the south and local selling probably promoted by the relatively easy showing of Liverpool cables. There appeared to be fairly good demand for May around 12.50, which held the early market fairly steady within 2 or 3 points of the opening figure, but there was very little buying on hedge, and it seemed that the early buying orders were gradually filled up.

Further trade buying was reported on almost every point decline, but in comparatively small volume, while spot house brokers continued selling, particularly the spring months, presumably against purchases of spot cotton in the south.

About 50 December notices were reported in circulation at the opening, but they were stopped promptly, as the December premium increased in later trading, and was 22 points over January at the close, compared with 19 points at the close of the previous day.

Local selling in anticipatory of increased spot offerings before the holidays, was probably promoted by talk of more hedge selling here today, and seemed to become a little more active as prices broke through in the early part of resistance. May sold off to 12.72 a dMarch to 12.50 in late trading and last prices were at the lowest on most positions.

A private crop estimated the yield at 1,225,000 bales, but indicated that 2 percent of it would probably be left unpicker.

Private cables reported liquidation in the Liverpool market and said that reports from Manchester were discouraging.

Export today totaled 76,641, making 4,696,773 so far this season. Port receipts 125,364, U. S. port stocks 2,915,817.

SUGAR
NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—An advance of 1-8 of a cent occurred in the raw sugar market today, with better inquiry. Sales were 13,300 bags of Cuban, prompt shipment, and 21,000 bags for early December to a local refiner, and 25,000 bags of Cuban to an operator for January shipment, all at 5.02 duty paid.

The higher spot market and the reduction in the European beet sugar crop estimate by a prominent German authority, of 6,532,000 tons against 7,342,000 tons estimated on October 29, were responsible for the firmness in raw sugar futures, most of the new crop positions selling into new high ground for the season. The upturn, however, attracted considerable realizing and hedge selling and reactions followed, the close being net unchanged to 5 points higher. Approximate sales 46,000 tons. December and January closed 1.29, March 1.31, May 1.31; July 1.29 and September 1.35.

The refined sugar market was unchanged at 4.05 to 4.25 for fine granulated, with fair inquiry reported.

COTTON GOODS
NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—Large prices have given making that current prices on percales and other lines will hold from December to March. New prices were named on 4-4 branded bleached cottons on a basis of 11 1/2¢ for hope and 14 cents for London. Raw silk declined below a basis of 5¢ a pound for choice Japanese grades.

COTTON SEED OIL

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—The cotton seed oil market was firmer today, closing at net advances of 10 to 12 points on covering and commission house buying, promoted by the firmness in lard. Sales 6,800 barrels; prime crude 6.62; prime summer yellow spot, 8.25; Jan. 8.30; March 8.45; May 8.55; July 8.74.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 30. (AP)—The cotton market after an extremely dull morning during which prices moved downward slowly and up to noon showed losses of only 5 to 8 points, became more active during the afternoon an made additional losses which carried the price level 11 to 13 points below yesterday's close by mid-afternoon. The afternoon dip was due to liquidation of December and January and considerable hedge selling due to freer offerings of spots in the interior. Pre-bureau liquidation also was much in evidence. The market continued to decline in the late trading on rather more liberal liquidation and made new lows right at the end, the close showing net losses for the day of 11 to 17 points.

Liverpool came in a little lower than due and first trades here showed losses of 3 to 5 points. After a slight rally prices again eased off and trading became quiet. There was a little hedge selling which forced December down to 12.35, January to 12.39 and March to 12.52.

Trading became more active during the afternoon under renewed hedge selling and pre-bureau liquidation and by the middle of the afternoon session December had eased off to 12.32, January to 12.34 and March to 12.48.

The market continued to decline in the final trading, making new lows at 12.23 for December, 12.50 for January and 12.43 for March, or 14 to 17 points under the previous close. The market closed at the bottom. Exports for the day totaled 10,044 bales.

In the Australian markets tend to steady confidence in values on the market here. Rumors point to an irregular condition in the South American market. Dealers are showing little disposition to increase inventory either by drawing upon the domestic wools still held at country prices or by placing orders or import of the offerings from abroad.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Texas, Nov. 30. (AP)—With a few exceptions the livestock trade here today was active and steady.

In the cattle division calves were lower at the start of the trade. Other receipts in this division brought steady prices.

Hogs were about 15 cents higher. An advance of 25 cents was posted on pigs.

A decline of 25 cents was recorded in the lamb trade. The count was for 2,800 grown cattle, 1,400 calves and 300 hogs, and 700 sheep.

COFFEE

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—Coffee futures opened today at a decline of 13 to 20 points under further liquidation and European selling of late months. After selling off to 14.80, March rallied to 14.87 on covering and closed at 14.85, the general market closing steady at net declines of 10 to 15 points. Estimated sales 29,000 bags, closing quotations: December 15.20; January 15.05; March 14.85; May 14.33; July 13.87; September 13.35.

Spot coffee quiet. Rio 7's 15 1/2; Santos 4's 20 1/2 to 20 3/4.

INDIGESTION
North Carolina Lady Says She Had An Awful Time With Indigestion, Till She Took Black-Draught.

Pilot Mountain, N. C.—"For several years I suffered with a bad case of chronic indigestion," says Mrs. Sam C. Inman, of this place. "I had bad spells with my stomach. At times I had severe pains in my right side. My stomach would get upset and I would have an awful time. It seemed like everything I ate disagreed with me. I was in pretty bad shape."

"My husband had been using Theodore's Black-Draught for some time for indigestion. He had spells of it too, so he suggested that I try Black-Draught. I took some from his box, just to see if it would help me, and I found it was the very thing for my trouble. It did me a great deal of good. My condition was brought on by a chronic case of constipation and by getting relief from this I found my general health was much better."

"We keep Black-Draught in the house all the time. Whenever I find I need it, I take several doses and thus avert a bad spell of indigestion. It is a splendid medicine and I am glad to say so."
