Congress Sent Plan For Excise Tax Cut

First Reduction Asked For July

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson formally submitted to Congress today his bid to cut excise taxes by nearly $4 billion, and gave assurances he sees no indication that spending for defense of the free world would upset the planned reduction.

The Johnson plan would eliminate some of the existing excise taxes on July 1, with a total slash of $1.75 billion on that date and with a reduction of the same amount effective next Jan. 1.

Beyond that, Johnson is proposing a $464-million slash spread over several years, up to 1970.

DEFENSE NEEDS

Apparently aware of some misgivings over whether the government should make such substantial tax cuts in view of possible increases in military spending in Viet Nam especially, Johnson told Congress:

"In proposing these reductions, I am fully aware of our present and prospective commitments for the defense of the free world. It is impossible to predict precisely what expenditures these may involve in the future. There is, however, no present indication that expenditures will increase to an extent that would make these excise tax reductions inadvisable.

"Indeed, our international responsibilities require that we redouble our efforts to assure the continued healthy growth of our economy. Barring some sudden change in the present world situation, I am sure that these excise tax reductions will be a sound and profitable investment in that growth."

PRICE CUTS

And, to insure that the tax reduction make a maximum contribution to price stability and balanced prosperity, Johnson said:

"I call on American business to translate lower excise taxes promptly into lower retail prices for consumers."

Johnson spelled out in more detail his proposals made in a statement Saturday:

On retail taxes — those the buyers pay in the markets and stores — the complete repeal of levies on handbags, luggage, toilet articles, jewelry and furs on July 1.

On taxes manufacturers pay before the products reach the dealers — complete repeal on July 1 of those on business machines, sporting goods other than fishing gear, radios, television sets, phonographs and records, musical instruments, cameras, film and other photographic equipment, refrigerators, freezers, air conditioners, electric, gas and oil appliances, fountain and ballpoint pens, mechanical pencils, lighters, matches and playing cards.

ON MISCELLANY

Miscellaneous taxes — Repeal at midyear of those on safe deposit boxes, coin-operated amusement devices, bowling alleys and pool tables.

City Faces Big Cleanup

By PRESTON MAYNARD

Crews began Sunday repairing damage to streets hard-hit by Saturday's thunderstorm and flooding in Big Spring, while detention dams over the city were credited with preventing more widespread damage.

The series of six Edwards Draw detention dams were filled almost to their tops, Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said today. The six dams were constructed for a capacity of almost 130 million gallons, or about 400 acre-feet of water.

The Gregg Street detention dam and the Birdwell Park area captured more of the rainfall dropped in the afternoon's series of downpours.

DAMS SAVE DAY

"If the Edwards Draw dams hadn't caught so much water, all of the downtown area would have been flooded," Lillard said.

"The damage was mostly from rushing water, not from backup," he pointed out.

Lillard said the city sewage treatment plant processed almost a million additional gallons over normal capacity Saturday and Sunday.

Repairs for damaged streets will take several weeks. Lillard said damage was heaviest in places where water reached a high scouring velocity, although some damage was found on streets in all sections of the city. Most extensive damage, however, was on North Side streets.

HEAVY DEBRIS

Debris and considerable accumulations of sand and gravel were left on numerous city streets. Asphalt was ripped away in some places, especially where recent street patching had been completed.

Only one traffic accident was reported in the city during the afternoon's storm. Two cars collided about 4:40 p.m. near the city limits on US 80 west. Drivers involved were Ronnie Shawn, Midland, and Wayne Vaughn, 617 Tulane, according to police.

Firemen received several calls to business firms which had neon lights short during the storm, but little damage was reported.

BATTLE FLOODS

Saturday afternoon's downpour saw downtown merchants sand - bagging doors and manning brooms to prevent waters rushing northward on streets from flooding their stores. A number of firms in the 200 and 300 blocks of Johnson Street received flooding over their floors and water threatened to flood the lobby of the Settles Hotel before the west door was barricaded.

Several cars were swept out of their parked positions on Johnson Street by the onrushing waters. Water damage was received in the 500 and 600 blocks of Main Street, with the heaviest damage apparently to the Tate, Bristow and Parks Insurance Agency. When the south wall of Elrod Furniture collapsed, water poured through the store.

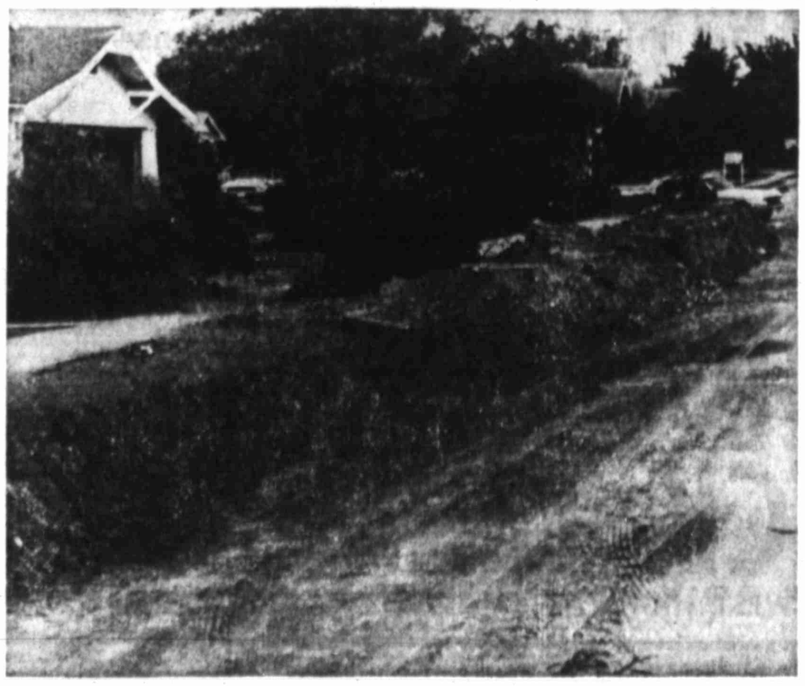

Hundreds of motorists were pulled out of stalled positions in floodwaters Saturday afternoon.

Defecting High Pole Diplomat Being Quizzed

BERLIN (AP) — U.S. officials today questioned the high-ranking Polish diplomat who defected and asked political asylum in the United States. Polish officials took the man's wife and baby into Communist East Berlin.

A U.S. Air Force plane flew the defector, Wladislaw Tykocinski, about 44, from West Berlin into West Germany. U.S. officials said his request for asylum was being considered.

"The Americans got themselves a big fish," said a diplomat who had worked with Tykocinski in West Berlin.

MISSION CHIEF

Tykocinski had been chief of Poland's military mission in West Berlin for eight years.

Mrs. Tykocinski refused to go with her husband and she kept the couple's 17-month-old son.

It was the first defection in years of a high-ranking Communist diplomat in West Berlin. Tykocinski had the rank of minister — corresponding to that of a major general — and was the senior foreign diplomat in West Berlin.

The Polish and Czechoslovak military missions were established in West Berlin after World War II and are accredited to the Western Allies. Their work now ostensibly is confined largely to consular matters, and most of the military members have been replaced by civilian diplomats. But Western intelligence authorities claim that they are important espionage centers.

FIVE YEARS

Tykocinski had been in West Berlin five years. A friend said he had been minister in the Polish Embassy in Rome previously and before that was a member of the International Armistice Commission in Korea.

A big man, 6-feet-3 weighing 250 pounds, Tykocinski walked up to Sgt. Myron H. Tomlinson of Mt. Vernon, Ind., Sunday morning as Tomlinson was shopping in a delicatessen near military headquarters in West Berlin. The Pole said he wanted political asylum.

Welsh Youth Enters U.S. Inside Crate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Brian Robson, 19, is a homesick Welsh traveler who tried to express himself home from Australia in a crate aboard a jet airliner.

Robson, who said he was trying to get to Britain as cheaply as possible, shipped himself c.o.d., billed as a computer.

After 92 hours — the last 14 spent stalled on what seemed an interminable stopover — the youth decided to emerge from the box and see where he was.

"I wasn't too healthy," said Robson in the prison ward of County General Hospital, where Immigration Service authorities took him Sunday after smashing open the box in a airport warehouse.

NAILED IN

He said three companions had nailed him into the crate in Melbourne and forwarded him to Sydney on an Ansett-Australian National Airlines plane. The crate measured 30 by 26 by 38 inches and was provided with special panels which were supposed to break when he hammered on them.

But they didn't. Instead, his hammer did, and he had to call for help. He got help, but now he wonders where it is going to get him.

He hopes authorities, now that he's been booked on federal charges as a stowaway and illegal entrant to the United States, will deport him home to Cardiff, South Wales. He left 10 months ago, with the Australian government paying his fare under a program to attract skilled settlers.

Robson, smiling and talking cheerfully, sipped at soup and milk attendants gave him to relieve his dehydrated condition.

"DEAD SCARED"

"I was dead scared from the moment I started," he said. "But I just couldn't afford to get home any other way and I had to make it." He said his disappointment with his Australian railroad job and his home-sickness got the better of him.

His training as an apprentice electrician gave him the idea of labeling his crate "Ajax junior computer."

Fighting Rages While U.S. Pressures Junta To Resign

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The United States was reported pressuring the Dominican junta to resign as junta tanks battled the rebels in northern Santo Domingo Sunday night.

Tank-led junta forces renewed their offensive against the rebels in a driving rain. The battle had raged through Saturday night, diminished around noon Sunday, only to flare up again Sunday night.

HEAVY CASUALITIES

Residents who fled the area north of the east-west supply corridor reported heavy military and civilian casualties.

U.S. troops were not involved in the action, but three U.S. paratroopers were wounded Saturday night during a heavy exchange of fire between rebels and the 82nd U.S. Airborne Brigade.

A U.S. spokesman said the firing across the Ozama River was the heaviest action recorded for a 24-hour period since U.S. forces arrived.

The American troops control the river's west bank and the rebels the east. The rebels have been using mortars and heavy-caliber weapons against the Americans. The U.S. troops have been firing back with ordnance up to recoilless 106mm antitank weapons.

U.S. MINIONS

A high-level White House mission which came from Washington Sunday met with junta president Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barreras and reportedly pressured the junta to resign. Junta sources said Imbert refused.

Another meeting between Imbert and Undersecretary of State Thomas C. Mann was scheduled today.

Junta sources said the U.S. government was trying to get the junta to step aside so "that an understanding could be reached with rebel constitutionalist forces for a peaceful solution to the Dominican conflict."

The White House mission also includes McGeorge Bundy, special assistant to the President on national security affairs; Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus C. Vance, and Jack H. Vaughn, assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs.

U.N. EMISSARY

Jose Antonio Mayobre of Venezuela, appointed by U.N. Secretary- General U Thant as his special representative to the Dominican Republic, arrives today. He is to report to the U.N. Security Council on the situation.

A team of U.N. observers toured the 20 blocks of the capital held by the rebels. They were greeted by shouts of "United Nations si, OAS, no," and "Out with the Yankees."

The renewal of fighting triggered a mass flight by civilians from the battle area. Groups of poorer families headed away from the city carrying their possessions.

Area Lakes Have Gain

Area lakes picked up over 20,000 acre - feet of water from weekend rains, and some inflow was still being received Monday.

The sharpest rise was on Powell Creek Lake, one of two small city reservoirs in Southwest Howard County, where 11 feet of water brought the level to 24 feet, or one foot below spillway level. This accounted for 1,125 acre - feet. Moss Creek, three miles nearer town, caught only three feet or 210 acre feet and was 27½ feet deep.

Lake J. B. Thomas realized about 7,700 acre-feet from the 1.52-foot increase in level, putting it at elevation 2242.45.

Champion Creek Lake, one of two Texas Electric Service reservoirs in Mitchell County, came up 7.30 feet, adding about 7,500 acre-feet to its supply and leaving the level at 2058.40. This was only .25 of a food below the previous record level for the lake.

Nearby Lake Colorado City, was at elevation 2059.50, an increase of 3.10 feet and still rising slightly. This brought in about 4,500 acre-feet of water.

Cosden Lake, south of Big Spring, went over the spillway Sunday on the strength of downpours shortly after midnight. A week ago it was all but dry.

Mrs. Oswald 'Under Watch'

FORT WORTH (AP) — Mrs. Marguerite Oswald said tearfully today that she has been placed under surveillance.

The mother of presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald asserted the action apparently was linked to an appearance in nearby Dallas today by Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

A Fort Worth detective confirmed that Mrs. Oswald was being watched and said the surveillance order would remain in effect until Humphrey leaves Dallas.

'Surprise' Compromise On Teacher Pay Claimed

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally and legislative backers of rival teacher pay raise plans were reported to have agreed on a "surprise" compromise package today.

"Don't run off, you'll see some action this afternoon," a senator told a reporter.

Several sources indicated the results of a conference between Connally and the sponsors would be offered the Senate quickly.

Sens. Jack Strong of Longview and A. M. Aikin of Paris met in Connally's office for about an hour. Neither would report results of the meeting.

WORK ON IT

The Texas State Teachers Association was reported to have made Connally a counter-offer.

"We're just trying to work this thing out," said Aikin, sponsor of the TSTA bill. Asked if he presented a compromise offer, Aikin said he did not. Asked if the discussions were fruitful, Aikin replied "I don't know."

Aikin said he will make no effort today to seek a vote on the bill, approved by a committee Wednesday.

NO COMMENT

Strong refused to comment on the meeting, the second between the legislative leaders in Connally's office. The first meeting was held Wednesday night, when Connally offered to boost state spending on a teacher pay raise to within $10 million of the $74 million cost of the TSTA program.

Speaker Ben Barnes said both the Connally bill and the TSTA bill will be voted out of the House Appropriations Committee in time for consideration Friday.

Insurance Agents Get Many Calls

Inquiries poured into insurance agencies today by the multiplied scores, but there were indications that damages from hail may not be too excessive.

Most flood and water damage is not covered by regular policies.

Calls to agents have run into the hundreds over the past several days, but most of these are just asking for checks of roofs. There will be some damage, agents said, but early checks indicated that the hail wasn't big enough or heavy enough in most sectors of the city to produce heavy damage.

Local agents were meeting at 2 p.m. today to exchange information.

Permanent Air Levy Requested

WASHINGTON (AP) — In keeping with his proposal to expand taxes on those who use roads, waterways and aviation facilities financed in part by the federal government, President Johnson proposed today that the present tax of 5 per cent on air passenger service be made permanent.

He also recommended that Congress approve a higher cost estimate for the interstate highway system, an estimate now up by $5.6 billion, and that it authorize the necessary appropriations to complete this system.

EXTRA COSTS

The President said existing user taxes will provide nearly $2 billion of the extra costs, leaving about $3 billion to be raised by extending some user taxes beyond their present expiration date, by increasing some of these taxes, or both.

For one thing, he asked that the date for reducing taxes earmarked for the highway trust fund be extended from Sept. 30, 1972, to Feb. 28, 1973. For another, he proposed imposing more user taxes on heavy trucks, to bring in about $200 million annually until 1973.

This would be done by raising the tax on diesel fuel to 7 cents from 4 cents a gallon, increasing the weight tax to $5 from $3 a thousand pounds on trucks having a taxable gross weight above 26,000 pounds, and doubling the tax on tread rubber to 10 cents from 5 cents a pound.

RAISE LIMITS

The President said he will recommend that the size and weight limits on trucks plying the interstate system be raised as soon as just and appropriate user charges are enacted.

On users of the inland waterways, Johnson recommended imposing a 2 cents a gallon tax on fuel. He noted that no user charge of any kind is in effect now on those who travel these waterways and the proposed tax would recover only a small amount of operating and maintenance costs of the waterways.

Johnson said these costs amount to more than $50 million a year, and another $200 million a year goes into new investments in the waterways.

Johnson's first disclosure Saturday on his plans to reduce the excises won immediate approval in labor and industry.

HCJC Choir To Give Annual Concert Today

Featured will be Jack Hendrix, chairman of the HCJC music department, and Marilyn Lawson, soprano, said Gary Ebensberger, choir director. Mr. Hendrix, who will become head of Odessa Junior College's music department next fall, will give a piano solo. All proceeds from sale of tickets ($1 and $50¢) will go to the music scholarship fund.

American Toll At S. Viet Base Disaster: 27 Lost, 103 Injured

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Demolition experts, working with special time charges, today blew up four 500-pound bombs strewn across the Bien Hoa Air Base by the chain explosion Sunday that left 27 Americans dead or missing and 103 wounded.

Another 500-pound bomb buried in the smouldering wreckage of some of the 40 planes destroyed or damaged went off by itself. No one was hurt, but hazards remained from the rest of 10 such bombs, rated as unstable.

Maj. Gen. Joseph H. Moore, commander of U.S. Air Force operations in Viet Nam and Thailand, said the bombs were fitted with detonation devices that could not be disarmed, and delayed action fuses might set them off any time within the next few days.

EVACUATE ALL

"We have evacuated all personnel from the area until our disposal units decide what to do with the bombs," Moore said.

The explosions at the base 12 miles north of Saigon Sunday caused more death, injury and destruction to U.S. forces than any single Communist attack of the war.

Gen. Moore said after a preliminary investigation: "I am satisfied no sabotage was involved. It was an accidental explosion of a bomb on one aircraft which spread to the others."

"The Viet Cong couldn't have done a better job themselves even if they had worked on it all year," said one U.S. Air Force officer.

ABOARD JET

U.S. officials said the disaster began with the explosion of a bomb that had been loaded aboard a B57 jet bomber for an attack against the Communist guerrillas. Within seconds neighboring planes in the flight, surrounded by crewmen and ordnance men, began exploding and burning.

Napalm bombs, white phosphorous fire bombs and 750-pound bombs all went up. Five minutes after the initial blast, the jet plane ramp was a mass of smouldering debris. Forty planes were destroyed or damaged, and the control tower was knocked out of operation for several hours.

Later an ammunition dump exploded, but no casualties resulted.

INVESTIGATION ON

The Air Force sent Lt. Gen. William K. Martin, its inspector general, and a team of experts from Washington to investigate.

In addition to the Americans, at least one Vietnamese was killed. Some sources said the death toll might climb to more than 30 as the wreckage was cleared.

Ten of the planes destroyed were U.S. B57 twin-jet medium bombers, two were propeller-driven A1 Skyraider fighter-bombers, one was a U.S. Navy F8 Crusader jet and two were single-engine Vietnamese spotter planes.

A helicopter and 24 Vietnamese Skyraiders were damaged. Eight B57s stationed at Bien Hoa were not damaged.

FAST REPLACEMENT

Moore said the loss of the aircraft "will have a negligible effect on military operations in the near future." Replacements "will be in Viet Nam in a matter of hours," he said.

He said the blasts left the base's main air strip unusuable but planes were operating from other parts of the field.

For the fourth consecutive day, there were no U.S. air strikes Sunday against North Viet Nam. U.S. officials in Saigon again declined to comment on the reason. Reports have said the raids have been halted on orders from Washington.

The New York Times reported from Washington that the United States had temporarily suspended the air strikes as a sign of good faith to support President Johnson's offer to negotiate with the North Vietnamese.

Cattle Loss Runs High In Truck's Spill

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Scores of cattle died when a truck with a two-deck trailer hauling 121 head spilled on the second level of a three-level intersection here Sunday, hurling many animals to the highway below.

Charles Perkins, 21, of Minneapolis, a driver, was critically injured. Police said about 80 head of cattle were killed or injured so seriously that they had to be destroyed.

Lewis Finley Jr., 27, of West Plains, Mo., who was driving, was uninjured. He said the steering failed and the truck turned on its side.

The cattle were from Mississippi and were going to market in Dodge City, Kan. The truck was owned by L. T. Kessinger of West Plains.

Beagle Given A Presidential Pardon By LBJ

ROCKVILLE CENTRE, N.Y. (AP) — Lord Geoffrey, the beagle who ate about $2.50 worth of a $10 bill and ripped up the rest, is not in President Johnson's dog house.

Mrs. Rocco Ruggiero, owner of the year-old pooch, knowing that the President is a beagle lover, wrote to him last month acknowledging that Geoffrey had defaced government property. She enclosed the remaining three pieces of the bill, taped together, and a snapshot of her pet.

Last Saturday, she received a reply on White House stationery signed by presidential assistant Paul M. Popple.

"The President has asked me to extend to your beagle Geoffrey a presidential pardon for having chewed up the property of the United States government, namely a $10 bill," it said.

Turner Gets Road Jobs

Contract for the paving of 12.5 miles of newly built Howard County roads and for seal coating 19.75 miles of county road, already built, was awarded Monday to W. D. Turner Construction Co., Lubbock. Turner's bid was $34,062.02.

Howard County Commissioners Court considered two other bids at the Monday morning meeting. W. D. Caldwell, Big Spring, bid $38,841.62 and Western Paving Co., also of Big Spring, $35,840.76.

Gravel for the jobs was awarded on a split basis to R. E. Janes Sand and Gravel Co. and to West Texas Sand Gravel Co. both of Big Spring.

Twelve gravel jobs were on the list.

West Texas was awarded contract to supply gravel for the Wilson Road, the Allred road, and the Lomax roads. Their total bid for these three projects was $4,205.85.

Janes will supply sand and gravel for the other nine roads. The cost will be $6,014.31.

School Districts To Desegregate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Office of Education announced Sunday that the Selma, Ala., school district and 35 others in the South have agreed to desegregate by the fall of 1967 or earlier.

Come in and go for a test walk.

That's a Volkswagen Station Wagon, with an aisle like a real bus.

You can walk between the front two seats, past the middle seats, to the back seats.

Without stopping or opening doors.

And if you take trips with children, it makes a big difference. In fact, the longer the trip, the bigger the difference.

You'll be able to get to things you couldn't get to before.

Not only the kids, but anything else you happen to have along.

Even the 16 pieces of luggage behind the back seat.

Our high roof makes it all possible. (Ordinary, low-roof wagons couldn't even consider an aisle, never mind a flock of people and 16 suitcases.)

Of course, to get an aisle you have to give up something.

Instead of the usual 9 seats, you get 7.

Only Volkswagen offers this optional minus at extra cost.

Area Adjoining Iron Curtain Depressed In W. Germany

FULDA, Germany (AP) — Prosperous West Germany has a big depressed area along its Iron Curtain border.

Workers have been leaving the 38 counties adjoining Communist East Germany and Czechoslovakia for better job opportunities elsewhere. Population has decreased 4.6 per cent in a decade while increasing 11 per cent in West Germany as a whole. Business, as measured by tax-paying capacity, lags 23 per cent behind the national average.

FEEL SAFER

"People feel safer in the western part of the country than they do living a few kilometers from communism," said the Fulda county commissioner, Edward Stieler.

"Industry avoids being on the edge of the economy, far from markets," another Fulda official explained.

World War II left Germany divided along an 856-mile frontier, now bristling with barbed wire and watch towers put up by the Communists to prevent flight to the West. The division separates families and cuts villages in two.

The East German regime of Walter Ulbricht sharply restricts direct contact over the border and shoots down refugees trying to cross the mined death strip that runs through the countryside.

HELP ECONOMY

In West Germany the federal government and states are putting in $50 million yearly to help the economy of the border region, which is reckoned to extend 25 miles and makes up one-fifth of the country's land surface. The money provides for reduction in freight rates, speedy writeoffs of investments cheap credit, road improvements, and gifts to industries to encourage them to build plants there.

"It's only a drop in the bucket," complained the Bad Hersfeld county commissioner, Edwin Zerbe. "The government talks a lot about doing something for the border area but comes through with precious little. We've got a right to help so we can keep up with the rest of the country."

Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, hard-pressed to keep the budget balanced in an election year, maintains that the federal government is doing all it can.

Crowd Cheers Murder Trio At Klan Rally

SANFORD, N.C. (AP)—Collie Leroy Wilkins and two other men accused of slaying a Detroit civil-rights worker attracted thousands of persons to Ku Klux Klan rallies during the weekend.

Wilkins, 21, whose murder trial recently ended in a hung jury, signed autographs at the rallies.

CROWD CHEERS

A crowd estimated at 6,000 cheered loudly Saturday at Dunn when Alabama attorney Matt Murphy Jr. introduced Wilkins and two others charged in the case, William O. Eaton, 41, and Eugene Thomas, 42.

Some 2,000 greeted the Alabamians with cheers at Sanford Sunday evening.

North Carolina's KKK grand dragon, Robert Jones of Granite Quarry, called the Dunn rally "among our best yet" and said Murphy would be back next weekend for a march and rally at Farmville, another small eastern North Carolina tobacco town.

KLAN CAMPAIGN

Murphy and the three men charged in the slaying of Viola Liuzzo the night the Selma-to-Montgomery march ended came to North Carolina as part of a new KKK drive for membership and funds.

One woman at the Sanford rally went through the crowd asking for contributions toward the purchase of a Klan airplane.

Murphy, chief counsel for the United Klans of America and the chief speaker at both rallies, charged that the civil-rights movement is Communist backed and directed.

"The NAACP (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) is actually ruled by an international Zionist Jewish movement which wants to take over the government of the U.S.A.," Murphy said.

Bareheaded but wearing Klan robes, Murphy said that "international Communist bankering (sic) led by Zionist Jews" masterminds the civil-rights movement.

Three Dead After Roaring Gun Battle

DETROIT (AP) — One ex-convict killed another and he and a companion subsequently were wounded fatally in a roaring gun battle with police at a downtown Detroit intersection today.

The battle climaxed the pistol slaying of Dennis Wayne Jones, 25, a Detroiter on parole from prison, in the men's rest room of a downtown bar.

Jones' body was dragged through the bar into a car by three companions. An alerted police cruiser, containing four patrolmen, spotted the getaway car and gave chase.

Jimmy Chavis, 23, an American Indian of Detroit, getaway driver, suffered fatal wounds in gunfire exchange with police.

William Berry, 24, released only last month from prison, died a few hours after being hit in the head by a police bullet.

A fourth man in the getaway car, Hassan Mozhan, 23, a roommate of Chavis, escaped injury.

Rain-Battered S. Texas Warned To Expect More

By The Associated Press

South Texas, battered by rain, wind and floods over the weekend, prepared for more of the same Monday and Monday night.

The Weather Bureau called for thunderstorms and showers over a large area of southern Texas. Cloudy skies were predicted for the whole state with thundershowers expected in the northeastern sector.

Storms smashed into South Texas Sunday, bringing heavy rains to an area already distressed by flooding.

TORNADOES SKIP

A number of tornadoes skipped through the area, but there were no reports of damage or injury.

Violent thunderstorms hit three cities, Fredericksburg, Austin and Lufkin, striking with hail, wind and heavy rain.

Tornadoes touched ground north of San Antonio and near Corpus Christi during the night, and at one point the Corpus Christi Weather Bureau reported echoes of five tornado clouds on its radar. There was no twister damage reported.

Rains continued at a number of points during the night and extensive flooding was predicted in some areas.

FLOOD STREETS

The Austin thunderstorm dumped heavy rains which flooded streets, underpasses and some businesses. Two radio stations, KTBC and KNOW, were knocked off the air for a time and hail battered the University of Texas.

Rain and hail at Fredericksburg knocked out the electrical system. Radio Station KNAF measured 1.65 inches of rain in less than a half hour.

The turbulent weather came less than 24 hours after torrential rains, measuring up to nine inches in some areas, sent creeks and rivers out of their banks and forced evacuation of 125 families from the Killeen and Belton areas during the day.

Nolan Creek, usually a placid stream, raged across a mile and a half of land, sweeping several cars from a highway and washing out a bridge which caused derailment of a Santa Fe freight train. At least one motorist was rescued from a treetop.

Arrest Brings Police Puzzle

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Police were startled when they found the key to the front door of the new city hall and police station in the pocket of a man picked up for questioning in a series of home break-ins.

The building is so new that the police don't have their own keys yet. Officials have not yet moved in.

The man arrested Sunday told police he had worked for a contractor who helped work on the city hall.

Violence Claims Twenty-One Lives

By The Associated Press

Violence took the lives of 21 persons in Texas over the weekend, including 10 killed in traffic accidents.

The deaths included four California men killed in the crash of an airplane in East Texas. Two persons were shot to death in the state, three drowned and a woman was strangled.

The violent death count by The Associated Press began at 6 p.m. Friday and continued through midnight Sunday.

The victims:

Robert Maclin, a Wichita Falls attorney, was shot to death outside a motel near Fort Worth Sunday night.

Dr. William A. Marble, 32, was found dead at his Dallas apartment Saturday. The death is being investigated by police and an autopsy has been ordered.

Two seven-year-old children drowned Sunday while swimming with friends in Garcitas Creek near LaSalle. They were Timmy Ingram, stepson of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Becker of Corpus Christi and Jean Marie Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Becker of Inez.

Chief Warrant Officer Robert Turner Jr., 47, stationed at Randolph Air Force Base, was killed in a two-car collision on a street in San Antonio Sunday night.

MAN ARRESTED

Mrs. Marion Agnes Tenholder, 47, of Dallas died of strangulation in her apartment Sunday. Police arrested a 54-year-old man.

Terry Parker, 79, was killed Sunday at Houston when the car in which he was a passenger went out of control and rolled over several times.

Thomas Wayne Woodward, 21, of Abilene was killed Sunday in a collision involving his motorcycle, a pickup truck, and a small foreign car on a farm road northeast of Abilene.

Geraldine Pointer, 35, of Dallas, died early Saturday in a one-car turnover on Interstate 35 two miles north of Waxahachie. Four other Dallas persons were injured.

Jerry Lee, 25, of Odessa, died early Saturday when a car left US 80 and overturned five times near Penwell, midway between Odessa and Monahans.

Four California men died in the crash of a private plane Saturday during a thunderstorm near Waskom in East Texas. They were identified as: Lou Boyd of Van Nuys, Harvey Sterman of Sherman Oaks, F. Edward Smith of Los Angeles and Irving Skolnik, 36, of Van Nuys.

EAST TEXAN

Carl Nelson James, 18, of Tyler, drowned Saturday afternoon in Lake Tyler while swimming with three companions.

Seventeen-year-old Charlotta Horton of Fort Worth died Saturday night after suffering injuries in a one-car accident near Abilene.

Two persons were killed Sunday in a head-on collision in southeast Fort Worth. The dead were identified from papers on them as Travis Self, 46, and Robert Upchurch, 19.

Sixto Martinez, 50, was killed Saturday night when struck by a car near his home in San Angelo.

Willie Williams Jr., 21, of Fort Worth, was shot to death Saturday night by a sheriff's deputy who said he caught the man burglarizing a department store at Malakoff in East Texas. Another Fort Worth man was arrested in connection with the incident.

Miss Darlene Kenny Baker, 17, of San Angelo was killed Sunday in a two-car crash north of Hico in Central Texas. Three other persons were injured.

Two Shed Total Of 332 Pounds

FT. SILL, Okla. (AP) — Two Army sergeants at this southwest Oklahoma military base have won the grand prize in a diet project dubbed Operation Hippo.

Sgts. Conrad Tillick Jr. and Pless Young jointly shed 332 pounds during a strenuous eight - month weight - loss program. Tillick started at 448 pounds and Young at 430.

Their prize? They get to enlist for another tour on duty.

Migrant Farm Worker Aided

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago area, land of stockyards and steel mills, is fighting a rural problem — living conditions of migrant farm labor.

Residents of southern Cook County, just outside the city limits, have started a fund drive to aid more than 2,800 farm laborers from Texas expected to till 3,500 acres of beets, tomatoes and vegetables in the area this summer. The workers earn between 55 cents and $1 an hour. Most are American citizens of Mexican descent.

"This is an area of fairly affluent suburbs," said Dorothy Riggle 28, president of the Cook County Migrant Council. "Yet three miles from your house are many people living in shacks even worse than chicken coops. It is just unbelievable that anybody has to live this way."

Including their families, the number of temporary residents should reach 6,000, Mrs. Riggle said.

The council was organized five years ago, she said. Since then it has been working with church groups, welfare agencies and farmers in an attempt to educate the young and integrate the workers into the community.

Presbyterians Eye Change In Doctrine

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Policymakers of the nation's biggest Presbyterian body begin consideration this week of major changes in a doctrine its members have used for more than 250 years.

The changes:

—Salvation takes place by divine love, not predestination.

—The Bible does not have to be interpreted literally.

In essence, the proposals are a continuation of a century-old struggle between the church's fundamentalists and progressives. If adopted, the modifications would reach deeper into American Presbyterianism than any changes since the church's founding in 1706.

For English-Speaking Presbyterians, the foundations of faith held for more than three centuries would be exposed.

If acted upon favorably, the changes would not take effect until 1967.

MAJOR ISSUE

Churchmen on both sides of the question say the changes will be the major issue when the 177th General Assembly of the 3-million-member United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. (Northern) convenes here Thursday.

A sharp controversy is already shaping up.

More than 2,000 of the denomination's leaders, including 935 voting delegates, from across the nation will weigh these and other church matters in a week-long conference.

Other issues to be considered are a position paper on racism and reports on ecumenical relations with Roman Catholic, Protestant and Orthodox churches.

The speakers include Dr. Aaron Henry, president of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party, and former baseball star Jackie Robinson, president of the United Church Men of the National Council of Churches.

VOICE CONCERT

Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., wife of the civil rights leader, will give a voice concert at presession meetings.

The changes in the denomination's teachings will be proposed to the assembly by a 14-member committee which has been studying them for seven years. The committee recommends supplanting the 10,000-word Westminster Confession of 1647 with a new constitutional document.

Proponents of revision say doctrines of predestination and literal interpretation of the Scriptures have limited the church's ability to speak in the modern world.

Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, denomination's stated clerk and highest executive officer, who favors the changes, says adoption will "reduce the church's dependence on the Anglo-Saxon culture and on 17th century thought."

But the Rev. Dr. G. Aiken Taylor, editor of the Southern Presbyterian Journal, says changing the Westminster Confession is "like taking the Supreme Court decisions of the last decade and saying this equals the U.S. Constitution."

Prior to the meeting of the General Assembly, conferences will be held Tuesday and Wednesday on evangelism and stewardship.

The first business to be transacted by the assembly will be election of a moderator to succeed the Rev. Dr. Edler G. Hawkins of New York City, the church's first Negro moderator.

Candidates for the one-year term are the Rev. W. Sherman Skinner of St. Louis, Mo., William P. Thompson, a Wichita, Kan., attorney, and the Rev. Elmo Montag of Beaver, Pa.

Band Always Tax-Concious

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Happy Jazz Band is probably the most tax-conscious band around these days, thanks to the drummer. He's an Internal Revenue Service agent.

The seven-piece group prides itself in playing traditional Dixieland jazz without any of today's commercial overtones and modern crowd - pleasers.

It is strictly a part - time outfit.

The banjo player is a postman and choir director. The clarinet, cornet and tuba players are in the wholesale food business, while the piano player works for a trucking firm. And the man with the trombone sells musical instruments.

MERIT AWARD

It is the most successful and sought - after band in this area. In January, it won Billboard Magazine's Jazz Merit Award.

"It's not like the old days when bands were crying for engagements," Jim Cullum Sr., onetime clarinet player for the Jack Teagarden band, said. "Now we turn down as many dates as we play."

Cullum, president of a wholesale grocery company, and his son, Jim Cullum Jr., 23, who plays the cornet and works with his father, manage the group.

The wild sounds of the band's rendition of "High Society," "The Chant" and "The Dixieland One-Step" ring across the San Antonio River on Friday and Saturday nights. They come from a small place known as "The Landing," which is packed every night.

"COMES NATURAL"

The group averages about two other engagements a week.

"We play pure traditional Dixieland jazz without any regard for the conventional commerical aspects of musical presentation," he said. "What showmanship we apply comes natural, and the public seems to like it."

Just three years ago, the band started playing in a small cocktail lounge on Sundays "just for kicks," Cullum said. "Before that we'd sit around someone's home in jam sessions."

Jim Haynes, a young San Antioio investor, heard the group and came upon the idea of building The Landing, located on the river in what was once a basement storeroom for a downtown hospital.

"Actually, I guess The Landing is probably one of the only night clubs ever built around a specific band," Cullum said.

RECORD COMPANY

The Cullums have started their own record company around the two records the band has released.

Even with the success to date, Cullum doubts the Happy Jazz Band will ever go full-time.

"For one thing, all of us have other jobs," he said. "No doubt we'd have personnel changes that would change our sound. We have a perfect musical arrangement.

"It is a tight little ship, both musicially and financially."

"And, boy, we're the cleanest band around when it comes to taxes," Cullum added. "Harvey (Kindervater, the IRS agent) keeps an eye on us and we lean over backwards to keep every-

Voting Rights Debate Stays

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate enters its fourth week of debate on the voting-rights bill today with a final vote as elusive as ever.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told reporters he has no immediate plans to try to apply cloture. And Southerners were ready again with an amendment that would soften the measure.

"We will continue to act on amendments as they are called up," Mansfield said in announcing that for the time being he won't try to round up the two-thirds majority needed to end debate.

CLOTURE TALK

Earlier, Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen were talking in terms of cloture, but Dirksen said last week he doubted two-thirds of the Senate would support it.

So far, Mansfield and Dirksen, working as a team, have been able to defeat the Southern based amendments. Over the weekend, the Dixie captain, Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., conceded "our side simply does not have the votes."

"Many senators are all too willing to vote the administration line without paying attention to valid and reasonable arguments or to their own conscience and judgment," Ellender complained.

NOT SURRENDERED

But the South, it seems, is not ready to surrender.

Set for a vote this afternoon was an amendment by Sen Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., that would knock out a section of the bill. The provision he is aiming at would require the seven Southern states covered by the legislation to get approval from the attorney general and from the federal courts before they could change their vote laws.

Talmadge contends the provision is unconstitutional, but his chances for success appear slim. Southern amendments like his have been trampled by margins of better than 2 to 1.

P-TAs Given National Plea

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The president of the national PTA urged the organization's 12 million members today to throw themselves into the battle for civil rights and equal educational opportunity for all children.

Jennel Moorhead of Eugene, Ore., said, "The cause of civil rights and liberties is our cause.

"We must uphold the rights of all citizens, especially the right of all children and youth to quality education, and the right of all adults to register and vote."

Mrs. Moorhead officially opened the 69th annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers by presenting an 11-point, 3-year action program for PTA members in 47,000 local units.

In her prepared keynote address, Mrs. Moorhead said these are the 11 most critical issues affecting children and youth, as determined by the PTA membership:

Financing public education; equalizing educational opportunity; educating for a changing society; clarifying the responsibilities for education decision-making; extending and strengthening community services; combatting moral, spiritual and civic apathy; safeguarding individual rights and liberties; coping with the responsibilities of parenthood, includng sex education; providing special services for disadvantaged children; eliminating certain hazards to health and safety; and waging peace in the '60s.

Indicted Wichita Falls Lawyer Slain In Mystery

FORT WORTH (AP)—Robert Maclin, 39, indicted here in the January shooting of a district attorney's investigator, was slain Sunday night by an assassin who cut him down from a passing car at a suburban motel.

Maclin, a Wichita Falls lawyer, was found lying in blood at the rear of his car parked at the Haltom City motel.

Detectives said Maclin's gun was near his body.

Maclin was arrested Jan 9 after a shoot-out at Dist. Atty. Doug Crouch's house, in which Earl Sanford was wounded.

THREAT CALLS

Sanford was there as a guard because Crouch said he had been receiving threatening phone calls.

Crouch's farm house near Grandbury had recently burned.

Maclin was later charged on five counts of possessing bombs and assault to murder and also was charged in Hood County in the burning of Crouch's farm home.

Maclin later said the charges were "pure and simple frame up." He said he owed his life to Sheriff Lon Evans.

Maclin said after he was arrested, officers released him and a companion to Texas Ranger G. W. Burks who challenged him to escape. He said Evans intervened by radio and ordered Maclin brought back to jail.

ON D.A. STAFF

Maclin's pretty ex-wife, Shirley, was on Crouch's staff at the time of the January shooting. She has since resigned and entered private practice as a lawyer.

Haltom City police put out a pick-up order for a car seen speeding away from the scene of the shooting.

Investigator Harry Beason said Maclin was shot with a shotgun.

Four wounds were in Maclin's back.

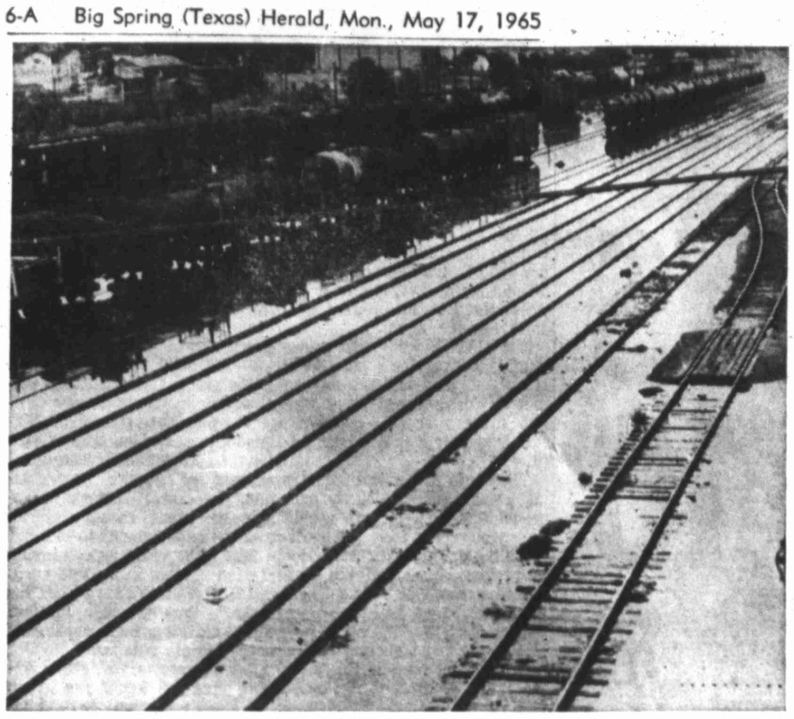

Maclin earlier Sunday had been at his ex-wife's house.

CHECKS IN

Maclin checked in the motel about 5:20 p.m. Sunday. He gave his address as 2400 S.W. Parkway, Wichita Falls.

The trunk of Maclin's car was found open. Inside was a high-powered rifle, two swords and a bayonet.

Peace Justice Bill Matthews ruled homicide and ordered an autopsy.

Railroad Yards Turned To Water Way

A portion of the Texas & Pacific yards was turned into a waterway Sunday as water from Saturday flash floods poured down and was augmented by spilling lakes to the west. Had it not been for new detention dams south of town the area would have suffered much deeper water.

Rain Puts Finishing Touches To Preparations For Rodeo

Rains of the past few days have put the rodeo ground and parking area in excellent shape, officials said today, and everything is in top shape for opening the 32nd annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo on Wednesday. The show goes through Saturday night.

The 7,500-seat bowl has been given a good washing by nature, and the arena soaked up downpours and will be about right for discing just before show time. Forty of the 98 boxes have been sold for the show so far, said Edith Gay at the chamber of commerce.

"Chairs will be set up in the boxes sold — six in each box — and names of owners placed on them," she said. "No chairs will be placed in the unsold boxes."

Livestock to be used in the rodeo has already been brought in by Jiggs and Elra Beutler and some of the specialty personages are on hand. Everything will be in readiness for the first performances.

TOP ANNOUNCERS

The rodeo will be announced by the "head man" of rodeo announcers, Pete Logan of Medford, Ore. He has announced all the national finals in rodeo.

LaRue Olson of Whitewood, S. D. will be on hand, with the only trained buffalo in the world, to put on his trained buffalo acts. Earl Wharton of San Saba will add to the attractions with his trained sheep dogs. "Wetback," his trained monkey, wearing western style garb, will ride the sheep dogs. Jerry Olsen, son of buffalo trainer LaRue Olson, will put on his daring Roman jumping act. Jerry is also a rodeo contestant and performer.

The new entertainment feature, being added this year, will be organ music by Mrs. Champ Rainwater. She will handle versatile music, including fanfare for each performance and specialty attractions.

BIG RODEO PARADE

The rodeo parade, always held in the afternoon of the first rodeo night, will begin at Tenth and Main Streets at 4 p.m. Wednesday, travel north to Second Street, then west to Scurry and south on Scurry to Tenth.

Six floats have been entered in the parade. These are Webb Air Force Base, Women in Construction, Big Spring Kennel Club, Spaders Garden Club, District 24 Texas Nurses Association, and the Knott 4-H Club.

Sheriff's posses and riding clubs will be here from Andrews, Scurry, Martin, Terry, Ector, Lynn, Fisher, Martin and Howard counties. Cities represented will be Lubbock, Winters and Abernathy.

QUEEN CONTESTANTS

Rodeo Queen contestants, already entered, are Dee Ann Donham, Odessa Chamber of Commerce; Kay Phillips, Terry County Sheriff's Posse, Brownfield; Shirley Moore, Appaloosa Club, Midland; Alice Mae Zant, Andrews County Sheriff's Posse; Becky Saunders, Stanton Rangers (girls riding club); Virginia Ann Estes, Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Sharon Harrison, Sweetheart of the Big Spring Mounted Patrol, will be official hostess to the candidates, and her mother, Mrs. R. W. Harrison, will plan entertainment for the candidates.

The Rodeo Association will honor the riders of the sheriff's posses and their families, and the queen candidates, with a barbecue at 6 p.m. Wednesday, at the rodeo grounds in the fair barn. Uniformed band members marching in the parade are included. The Kiwanis Club will sponsor a barbecue at the City Park for the public at 6 p.m. also.

STREET DANCE

The pre-rodeo street dance will be held Tuesday on Main Street, between Third and Fourth Streets, beginning at 7 p.m. More than 20 adult and teenage squares are expected. The live square dance music will be furnished by Pete Jenkins, Sam Fitts, Mutt Moore and Major Browning. There will also be waltz and other types of music for those who do not square dance. Harold Graves will act as master of ceremonies and caller, and will be assisted by area callers.

Largest Traffic Lights Placed

Big Spring's largest traffic signal has gone into place at the intersection of FM 700 and Goliad.

Four six-foot-wide signals have been placd at the intersection, each horizontal rather than the usual vertical type.

"One can see these lights about as far as he can see anything," City Electrician Roy Rogan said. The signals, the first of their type to be used in Big Spring, are designed for turnpike-type or fast moving traffic lanes.

The lights are each 12 inches in diameter, rather than the usual eight inches.

Each light contains a 150 watt lamp, in place of the standard 100 watt normally used in traffic signals, and each includes an alzac reflector, a type which intensifies the light and provides brighter than usual illumination.

Another feature is a red light at each end of the horizontal units. The signals are manufactured at Syracuse, N.Y.

Each unit weights 80 pounds, or twice that of standard traffic signals.

Rogan said the FM 700-Goliad signals would be placed on a flashing basis for several days before a fixed stop-and-go time is set, to allow motorists to become accustomed to traffic lights at the intersection.

Another traffic signal was being installed today at the intersection of Fifteenth and Gregg Streets, Rogan said. The signal there will be a standard four-way stop-and-go unit.

Police Outlaw Street Game Of Tiddlywinks

LONDON (AP) — Tiddlywinks in the middle of the main street with the players dressed in nightgowns and pajamas?

"No," said the police.

The Young Conservatives' Association of nearby Ashtead, in Surrey, planned the tournament for last Saturday night in an effort to attract new members. The girls were to have worn nighties and the young men pajamas.

"We are not concerned with their clothing as long as they're not in their birthday suits," said a police spokesman, "but we can't have people playing games in the middle of High Street, can we? Why, it would tie up traffic for miles around."

The association now plans to hold the tournament on May 29 near a pond between London and Ashtead. Nighties and pajamas will still be worn.

Carter Stakes Glasscock Test

Joe Carter of Big Spring will attempt to reopen the Queen sand in Glasscock County with his No. 1-B Carter, 10 miles north of Garden City.

The Queen sand has been depleted in the field, but has three marginal producers from pay topped at 2,632 feet. He will drill the prospector to 2,000 feet.

The location was staked 1,787 feet from the south and 467 feet from the west lines of section 8-23-3s, T&P survey.

In Borden County the Lario Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 Davis, spotted nine miles north of Vincent, 467 feet from the north and west lines of section 80-25, H&TC survey, was drilled to a total depth of 6,072 feet and was plugged and abandoned. It was drilled as a southeast stepout to the Von Roeder (Wolfcamp) field.

Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 4 Slaughter Estate, 13 miles southwest of Post, three-quarter mile southwest of the lone producer, which is a marginal well in the O'Donnel northeast Mississippian field, was making hole at 8,500 feet. The wildcat was to prospect for the Ellenburger. It spots 594 feet from the south and 1,870 feet from the east lines of section 4-30, TW&NT survey.

A Martin County Fusselman prospector, Murphy H. Baxter's No. 1-B Allar, 15½ miles north of Stanton, set 10¾-inch casing at 355 feet with 225 sacks of cement. Operator was drilling ahead at 2,011 feet. Location is 1,980 feet from the south and east lines of section 15-35-2n, T&P survey.

Security Readied For Humphrey In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Tight security moves are expected today by federal, state and local law enforcement agencies as Vice President Hubert Humphrey visits Dallas to address the exclusive President's Club.

The Dallas Morning News reported that officers from the Dallas police, the Secret Service, the Dallas sheriff's department, Texas Department of Public Safety and the Texas Rangers ended a week-long series of meetings Sunday during which security measures for the vice president were mapped out.

The newspaper said that the police department will reportedly hire many plainclothesmen, placing them along the route to be taken by Humphrey's motorcade through Dallas.

It will be 18 months Saturday since President Kennedy was shot to death while riding in a similar motorcade in downtown Dallas.

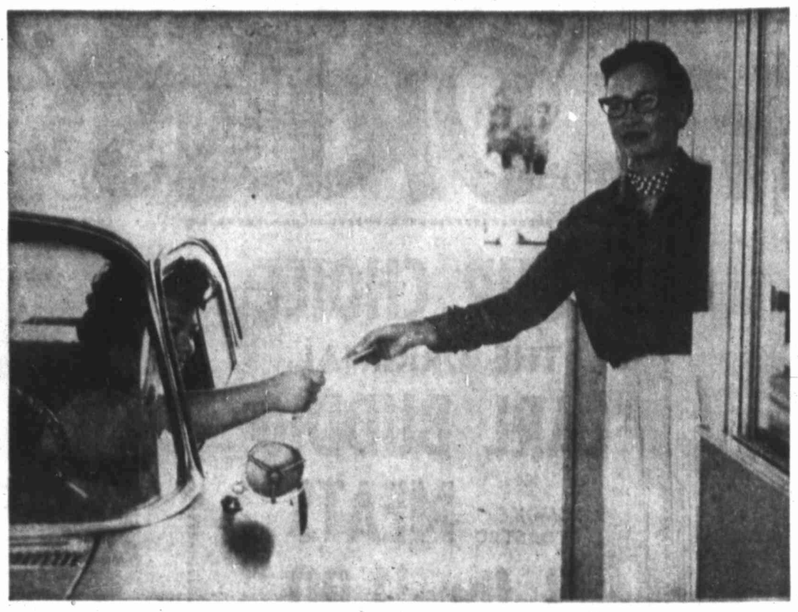

Officials had no comment on their security measures.

The President's Club is composed of Democrats who donated $1,000 or more to the campaign fund.

Commissioners To Study Bonds Call

Howard County Commissioners were meeting at 2 p.m. today to consider petitions filed with them asking that they call a $600,000 road bond election for Howard County to be held on or about June 22.

The $600,000 will be used, if the bonds are approved, to purchase right of way for the extension of FM 700 and for other road projects in Big Spring and vicinity.

The county was to confer this afternoon with its fiscal agent, Carter Johnson, on the details of the bond election.

Farm Outlook Is Brightened

If farmers have their wish, cloudy skies would continue for the rest of the week even though no additional rains may fall.

"This will let the water soak into the ground," it was explained. "This would give us moisture deep down to hold the crop later on."

None of the farmers contacted today expected to get into the fields to plant before a week.

Most said that the heavy and general rains had left the fields too boggy for any planting in the next few days.

Ranchers, too, wore smiles for the rain is enough to bring out grass and weeds, and to hold it in some areas. Most of them got fair to excellent stock water supplies.

Generally, the rains over the county were enough for planting. Here in Big Spring, the rain for May is now nearly 5 inches.

There are some parts of the county where the rain was much heavier than in Big Spring.

Herb Helbig, county farm agent, said that from the information he has received, the moisture from the past week's rains should be sufficient to get cotton up and hold it until it had time to stabilize. Some fields, he said, will have a considerable more reserve than others.

From what he has heard, lighter rains fell in the Knott community than most anywhere.

"I understand the average in that area was about an inch and a half," he said. "Even so, this is adequate to get seeding done."

He said that farmers were delighted and that the rains fell at exactly the right season.

Cotton can be planted in this area through June 15 and have a good chance to mature and do well. Now, with the prospects of the fields being planted and in growing shape before the end of May, conditions could hardly be better than right now.

"Give us a few more rains at the right time," said Helbig, "and we are all set for a good year."

Moneyed Housed In Mobile Homes

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — "Among the 73 mobile homes in this section of the village, there are 21 millionaires, 56 Cadillacs, and one Rolls Royce."

Rex Thompson, manager of Palm Springs' most palatial mobile - home park, gestured with his cigar at a 60-by-40-foot double unit — including cabana — just rolled into place at Blue Skies Village.

"It cost $25,000," said Thompson. 'It's a double twelve-wide (12 feet in width), bolted together. Has two bedrooms, two baths. By the time the owner gets through with his improvements, it'll cost him $75,000 for the works.

"His architect told him he was silly to spend that kind of money. Told him that for that he could buy a mansion at the best country club.

GOT MANSION

"He told the architect: 'Look, I've already got a mansion at the best country club. And I'm tired of looking at those bare walls and that empty pool. I want to enjoy life!' "

Thompson, a onetime film-studio technician who has designed 150 trailer parks, calls them mobile homes, not trailers.

"These still have their wheels and license plates," said Thompson. "They can move — even if they don't. They've got to be mobile or they'd be taxed as homes, which would cost a lot more. But nobody really lives here for economic reasons.

"All our guests have a home someplace else, maybe in some cooler climate where they spend the summer. In fact, we don't take people who don't have other homes. We wouldn't accept someone who had to live in a mobile home for economic reasons."

CROSBY FIRM

Bing Crosby heads the firm which owns the village. Stockholders include George Burns, Jack Benny and Danny Kaye. A space rents for about $75. The mobile homes cost from $7,500 up, and each owner is expected to spend at least $7,500 on improvements.

Some are California ranch style, others Cape Cod. One is in the motif of an Egyptian temple, another in colonial style with a fountain out front illuminated by colored lights. Several have adjacent guest trailers, and one a $10,000 home on wheels for the family maid.

Thus encumbered, the mobile homes become immobile; only one moved away last year. The biggest 12-wides are too long to be towed on the highway. Trucks pull them on lowboys, such as those the Army uses for moving disabled tanks.

In these cool, thickly carpeted showplaces on wheels dwell people who are mostly rich or well-to-do, older but not elderly, and retired.

Lettuce Dumped Not On Market But On Highway

A truck load of lettuce was unceremoniously dumped on IS 20 at 1:30 a.m. Monday when a big tractor-trailer truck owned by S&S Produce Co., Sumpterville, S. C. crashed into a highway sign 9.8 miles west on IS 20.

Highway patrol officers said that the truck was driven by Roosevelt Smith, 29, Sumpterville, and he had as a passenger Annie Bell Durham, 19.

Smith said that the tip-up cab on his tractor loosened accidentally and caused the wreck. Patrol officers were doubtful if this was the cause and were inclined to believe that Smith had dozed off and rammed the post.

Damage to the truck was estimated at $11,000 and to the sign $225.

The man and the girl were taken to the hospital and checked for injuries. Neither was hurt.

The load of lettuce was on its way from California to South Carolina.

Some Sectors Get 4 Inches

Big Spring has officially received 4.75 inches of moisture since the first .73 inch fell May 9 at the Experiment Station. The heaviest was gauged at 2.87 inches for Saturday and Saturday night. The Colorado River pump station north of town measured 4.1 inches Saturday and Sunday.

Other city gauges have registered as high as 5.85 to 6 inches since the first May rains.

While some damage was done by high winds and spotted hail during the week end downpours, the moisture more than offset the damage.

Howard County as a whole is now in condition to have good ranges, and permit seed planting as soon as the soil temperature gets back up. It was guaged at 59 degrees this morning.

Area rainfalls for Howard County shows the following totals: Vealmoor 3.00, Knott 2.10, Luther 2.00, Wilson Ranches 1.60 to 2.60, Vincent 1.40, Fairview 1.60 to 2.50, Wallace Ranch (nine miles northeast) 3.30, Wilkinson ranch, (west of Big Spring) 3.35, Coahoma 2.20, Moss Creek Lake 2.40, Lomax 1.50 to 2.50, Forsan 2.50, Chalk 1.60. Martin-Howard line on the Andrews highway 4.00.

Other reports from CRMWD stations showed 1.2 at the Big Spring intake at Lake J. B. Thomas and 1.8 at the Snyder intake, 1.8 at Morgan Creek gauge 15 miles northeast of here, and 1.8 in central Martin County.

Varying amounts fell around these areas, but readings reported show the trend over the entire county.

More Than 3 Million Rode Safely To Market In 1964

The now-popular rack cars, used by American Railroads to haul new automobiles, are common sights today on Texas and Pacific freight trains coming through the Big Spring yards. These new automobiles, riding swiftly, safely and economically, would have required a half million trucks for over-the-highway movement, whereas one train can haul as many as 1,800—the equivalent of 300 trucks.

Charles Hood Moves Houses To Any Area

A bonded and insured firm, with 18 years of conscientious experience is equipped and ready to move any movable house in Big Spring. These can be moved to new locations in the city or in the area. The Charles Hood House Moving firm is located at 1610 E. 3rd.

The owner of a house to be moved may get it ready, with nothing left for the mover but to get it on the moving rig, or he may call Charles Hood to start from "stratch." This means that the owner may clear away concrete porches, steps, and base slab so the steel beams may be run under the house, or that he can just walk out of it with his furniture and let the mover do the entire job.

Hood is insured and bonded and holds bonded permits from the Highway Department for moving houses over streets and highways.

The owner of the moving firm is conscientious in his work and takes every precaution to prevent damaging a building in raising, transportation or setting on a new foundation. Proper and ample bracing and anchoring is assured.

Hood has two qualified men as full time employes, and he employs other men as needed. This means that he can be working on more than one house at a time.

Two big trucks are available for any size moving job, although he prefers to use a single truck for most jobs since one is more maneuverable. Some larger and heavier houses require two tractors for ample power. For instance, the old Quinn residence moved from the corner of Main and Sixth Streets to the Garden City area, and the Carpenters Hall moved from West Third to the Cosden refinery area, required two tractors.

Distance makes no difference to Hood. He can move a house from Big Spring to Lamesa, Snyder, or other distance areas if required. His permits allow long-distance moving, although special permits are required in other cities.

Hood also buys houses for resale, and has a few on the lot on East Third.

Call Charles Hood House Moving at AM 3-6221. The night phone number is AM 3-4547.

Mack And Max Moore Can Rid Home Of Pests

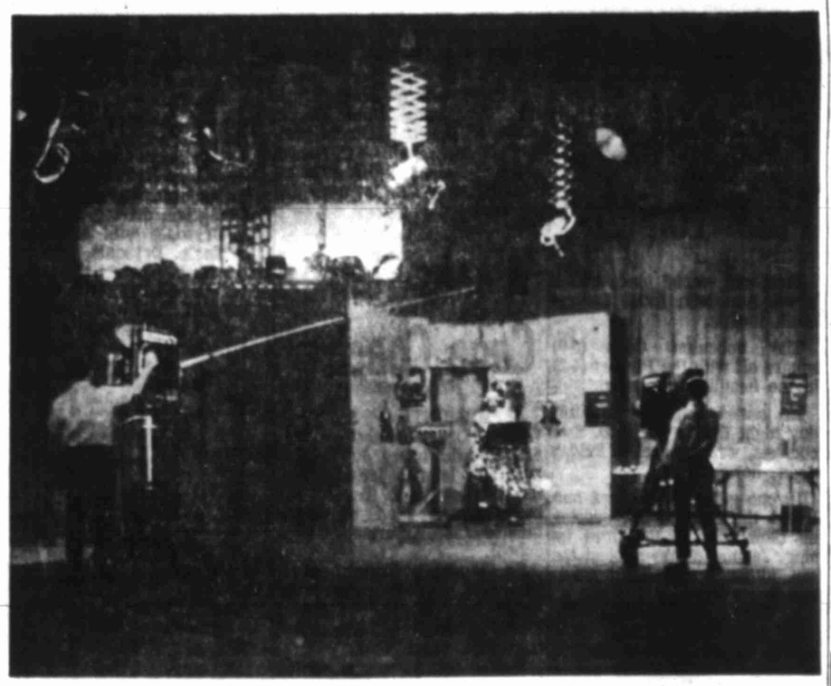

Maybe the insecticides you have been using around your home or business, to rid the premises of undesirable or damaging insects pests, won't do the job any more. If they don't a call to Mack and Max Moore will help pull you out of an unpleasant fix. Telephone numbers are AM 4-8190 or AM 3-6514.

The men keep up with constant changes in methods and insecticides and know just what to use to rid buildings of ants, termites, roaches, moths and other insects. They can even eliminate unpleasant odors, such as caused by smoke in the house, visits from skunks, and into upholstery, cracks, and attics to bring that odor-free atmosphere again.

Since all insects can develop immunity to regularly - used chemicals, it is necessary at times to make changes to insure adequate control.

Mack and Max Moore have pressurized portable equipment to enable them to get under concrete slabs, air hammers to drill into concrete foundations and slabs where pressure forces chemicals into the entire area to exterminate termites.

If you suspect pests around the premises, give Mack and Max Moore a call. It pays.

Tea Rooms Can Save You Dollars On Family Meal

Why plan a big Sunday dinner for relatives and the family, when you have to spend most of your time in the kitchen instead of enjoying the visit, and when you can get all any one can eat for a lowly "buck" at the Tea Rooms?

The Downtown Tea Room at Main and Sixth Streets is conveniently located, with plenty of parking area around it. The Scurry Street location also has ample parking area.

Sunday isn't the only time families go to the Tea Rooms. All during the week—at noon or in the evening—they come after work, because they can eat a well-prepared meal and relax, or visit with friends.

Four or more meats, of the highest quality, are available, and your choice is served with portion control. After that you can go down the line and help yourself to salads, vegetables, desserts and other items, plus drink. You can stack your plate as high as you like.

The entire meal, including the meat, and coffee or tea, costs only $1. This does not include milk, and extra meats. No tips are expected by the waitresses.

The Tea Room also serves banquets, parties, breakfasts, brunches, and teas. Catering for churches, groups, and organizations has become almost a daily affair, on or off the premises, by appointment.

There is seldom any time lost in waiting. As high as 70 patrons have been served in 17 minutes by actual timing.

Pizza House Serves Fine Italian Food

Italian dishes, including pizzas are: baked lasagna, veal parmigiana, veal scaloppine, calabrese, chicken cacciatore, chicken tettrizini, Italian style pork chops, and deluxe spaghetti, are served at the Ranch Inn Pizza House at 4600 US 80 west. It is the favorite easting place for gourmets of Italian foods. Those who like good old American foods also find it a wonderful place to eat.

The Pizza House is located across US 80 from the Webb AFB runway and a large window gives patrons a good view of jet aircraft taking off and landing, without the "benefit" of too much noise.

Other food served at Ranch Inn Pizza House includes "Bambino Specials" (children's plate); American style sandwiches, all kinds of salads and appetizers, sea foods, and choice steaks.

Piggyback Shipping Is Faster And Economical

Fast movement of freight over the MoPac-Texas and Pacific Railway lines is one of the most important facets of transportation today.

Specially - built flatcars, equipped to handle the big semi-trailers and vans, enable the driver to pull his truck onto the car, unhitch, and drive off. The van is then properly anchored, and rides the flat car to its destination without the long hours of hazardous road-driving formerly needed in truck transportation.

Then there are the new double- and triple-decker rack cars for hauling new automobiles. You can see hundreds of these new cars moving through the area on fast freights daily. Transportation time is many hours less than in moving them all on the highway as was formerly done, and as is done from the rail terminal point to off-rail destinations.

Specially-built flatcars are also used in transporting extra long pieces of equipment which cannot be moved over the highways.

Dick Young, New York scribe, said it about the 7-1 high school basketball wonder Lew Alcindor:

"Lew Alcindor, upon selecting UCLA, said he is undecided about majoring in music or journalism. I would suggest he forget about journalism. It's a terribly frustrating business. You run into 7-foot basketball players who duck newspapermen."

The San Angelo Rams are finally moving out of Ram Memorial Gym, now that they have been elevated to senior college statues.

The Rams will play all home games in the San Angelo Coliseum on a portable court purchased by the city. In a recent column, Don Henry, San Angelo scribe, related how happy coach Phil George was about the move.

We just can't understand how George can be happy about leaving the "crackerbox." In 16 years of coaching the Rams, George has lost but nine games there and one at Central High gym.

The only team to beat the Rams twice at home have been Buddy Travis' Jayhawks, in 1962 and 1963. Four of the nine defeats in Ram Memorial came last season.

In 1962 the Jayhawks downed in the Rams by 22 points in Central High gym. That is the last year George played the HCJC team there. The next year the Jayhawks best the Rams, 77-74, in Ram Memorial.

It would seem now that the Rams will not get that new fieldhouse they were hoping for, but it is generally known that the school is having financial problems.

• • •

Even through the Jayhawks lost two records in the recent conference track meet in Roswell, they picked up two more to hold 13 in 16 events. The only records not held by HCJC are the 880-yard run, intermediate hurdles and pole vault.

• • •

James Christanelli, a 6-5 all-city selection from Albuquerque N. M., visited the HCJC campus last week. A two-year letterman for Valley High, his school won state championship honors this year. He averaged 16 points a game and 11 rebounds the past season.

• • •

Again quoting Dick Young, this time about Leo Durocher, the baseball play-by-play man for the telly.

"I thought Leo Durocher would be sensational as ABC's color man, but ballplayers who have caught his act tell me differently — even the Dodger players who were partial to him when he coached there. They say Leo tries to call pitches by the catcher's signal, when flashed from a centerfield camera, and they say he's wrong 50 per cent of the time. What is worse, they say, he tries to brazen it out when he blows one. For instance, Leo will say: 'This is gonna be a curve ball,' and the next thing you know a fast ball will buzz under the hitter's chin, and Durocher, who doesn't rattle easily, will say, 'Oops, that curve got away from him.'"

ONE STROKE VICTORY FOR NEW ORLEANS CHAMP
Dick Mayer of Palm Springs, Calif., and wife

Dick Mayer Climbs Heartbreak Hill

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Dick Mayer, who dropped out of sight just months after he became king of golf in 1957, will tell you that it's sometimes a little heartbreaking for a former champion to attempt a comeback.

But the 42-year-old Mayer, who came from the same era of golf that produced such greats as Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson, struck a blow for old age and sentiment Sunday when he chipped in from at least 90 feet out on the 18th hole to win the $100,000 New Orleans Open. He shot a 68 in the final round for a 273 total.

Bruce Devlin and Billy Martindale finished in a tie for second with 274s and pocketed $9,400 each. Both finished with 70s.

Jack Nicklaus, the favorite here, finished Sunday's round with a 69 for a 72-hole total of 275. This left him tied with Jack Cupit and George Knudson for fourth place, which was worth $4,500 to each. Arnold Palmer was well down the list, with a 284 total worth $258.

Mayer, a native of New England who now makes his home at Palm Desert, Calif., was at his prime in 1957. He won the U.S. Open, the $100,000 World Championship of Golf, was named Golfer of the Year and led the nation's money winners with $65,835.

Then, beset by personal problems, Mayer made the short trip to oblivion. By 1960 his name was forgotten.

Mayer played a tournament now and then just to maintain contact with the game, but made his living as a stockbroker, selling insurance, working at his father's automobile agency and ranching.

"I just didn't know whether I wanted to go in in 1957," he said. "I had lost all my confidence and really didn't think I wanted to play. I guess you can just say I gave up."

The New Orleans Open was Mayer's sixth tournament of the year and the only one in which he finished high enough in the standings to make expenses. First prize was worth $20,000.

Sullivan Gets Good Sendoff As Manager

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Haywood Sullivan can win a few more games, he might find himself riding around in a green and gold air conditioned trailer with piped-in music for his listening pleasure.

The new manager of the Kansas City Athletics took a giant step toward taking over Charley the Mule's trailer as well as the animal's place in Charley Finley's heart by halting a seven-game losing streak Sunday with a doubleheader sweep over Minnesota 7-4 in 10 innings and 4-2.

Sullivan, a former catcher with Boston and Kansas City who had been managing at Vancouver, got the call from owner Finley during the weekend and replaced Mal McGaha. He became Finley's fifth manager in five years and the youngest in the majors at 34.

He went to work immediately and found a willing ally in Rene Lachemann, a former Dodger bat boy. Lachemann was sent up as a pinch hitter in the opener and produced the tying run with a ninth-inning single, then was inserted into the line-up in the nightcap and responded with two singles and a homer.

A couple of more moves like that and the Mule may get his eviction papers.

Meanwhile, the American League leading Chicago White Sox swept a doubleheader from the Los Angeles Angels 6-2 and 5-4. Boston downed Detroit 5-0 and 4-3, Washington edged Cleveland 8-7 in 11 innings before the Indians won 7-3 and Baltimore defeated the New York Yankees 7-5 in the only single game scheduled.

After Lachemann drove in the tying run in the opener for the A's, Ed Charles won it in the 10th with a three-run homer following singles by John Blanchard and Dick Green. Green hit two homers and Gentile one for Kansas City while Jimmie Hall and Tony Oliva connected for the Twins.

Pete Ward and Moose Skowron supplied the major fireworks for the White Sox in the opener, Ward doubling home two runs in the first inning and Skowron slapping a two-run single in the third before hitting a homer in the seventh.

In the nightcap, Bobby Knoop's second error, in the seventh inning, paved the way for three unearned runs and the White Sox' seventh consecutive victory. Danny Cater scored when second baseman Knoop bobbled Skowron's grounder and Ron Hansen capped the uprising with a two-run triple.

Mays Takes Charge, Giants Win Pair

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Give Willie Mays five feet, and he'll take 90.

Mays, on another one of his early season streaks, scooted home on a not-too-wild pitch with the winning run in San Francisco's 4-3 victory over Houston in the second game of a doubleheader Sunday.

Mays also starred in the opener, cracking his 13th home run as the Giants won 10-5.

The 34-year-old Giant whiz reached first base in the sixth inning of the nightcap when first-baseman Jim Beauchamp dropped Joe Morgan's throw. He stole second, then moved to third on a ground out.

With Tom Haller at bat, Houston's Jim Owens uncorked a pitch that wound up five feet in front of the plate. Mays, spotting the ball 85 feet away, won the race home—and the game.

That dashing play climaxed a prolific day for Mays, who rapped five hits in seven at-bats, scored four runs and drove in two.

The performance pushed the center fielder's major league-leading average to .408 and continued to duplicate his streak early last year.

In other National League games, Milwaukee trimmed Philadelphia 8-6 in 10 innings, New York swept Cincinnati 6-2 and 8-5, St. Louis rolled over Pittsburgh 6-3 and 5-1 and Los Angeles edged Chicago 3-2 after losing 5-3 in 10 innings.

Mays doubled in one run and scored another in the fourth inning of the second game.

The Astros made it close on Jim Wynn's seventh-inning homer and Joe Morgan's two-run single in the eighth.

Juan Marichal brought his record to 6-3 in the opener behind homers by Willie McCovey, Mays, Jim Hart and Haller. Houston's Dave Giusti was battered for seven singles in 1 1-3 innings as he lost his first game after winning six.

Milwaukee rallied for three runs in the 10th inning, the first two on Gene Oliver's bases-loaded double, for its triumph over the Phillies. Bobby Wine helped the Braves by throwing high on Ed Mathews' leadoff grounder. It was Philadelphia's 42nd error in 29 games.

The Mets moved 4½ games away from last-place Pittsburgh by defeating the Reds twice. Jack Fisher won his third straight game in the opener behind home runs by Johnny Lewis, Charlie Smith and Roy McMillan.

Smith and Ron Swoboda connected in the second game, helping Warren Spahn even his record at 3-3.

St. Louis' Bob Gibson became the winningest pitcher in the majors, scattering 10 hits for his seventh victory against no defeats. Gibson also homered in the ninth inning of the first game.

The Pirates dropped their 20th game in the last 24 in the second game as Ray Washburn and Bob Purkey combined for a six-hitter. The Cardinals put the game away with three runs in the eighth, Ken Boyer and Bill White each driving in one.

Billy Williams snapped a 1-1 tie with a run-scoring single in the 10th inning, and the Cubs scored three more times, offsetting Wes Parker's two-run double in the Dodgers' half of the inning. Ron Santo, Ernie Banks and Dick Bertell singled in the other Cub runs in the 10th.

Parker won the nightcap for Los Angeles, driving in pitcher Don Drysdale with a ninth-inning single. Drysdale, who doubled with two out in the inning, had a three-hitter until the top of the ninth when Chicago tied it 2-2 on Don Landrum's single and Williams' bad-hop double.

Oilers Vanquish Eagles, 20 To 4

By HARDY PRICE

Making their debut in the sports world Sunday, the Gage Oilers bombed the Snyder Eagles, 20-4, in Steer Park.

Big Spring's first semi-pro baseball team in several years blasted the three Snyder pitchers for 16 hits in 38 times at the plate. Chubby Moser started on the mound for the Oilers and got relief help from Bowman Roberts and Bobby Suggs. Roberts was credited with the win.

The Oilers opened the attack in the initial inning, counting four runs. They scored again in the second, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh frames.

The fifth inning was the big one for the Oilers, when eight runs crossed the dish. Catcher Dean Christian led the Oiler hitting with two singles, a double and a stand-up triple. Tommy McAdams and David Mayberry also hit two doubles.

Starting pitcher Byford Thompson was handed the loss for the Eagles. He was relieved in the fifth by Jack Newtson and H. M. Malone pitched the last two frames for the Snyder team. They scored three runs in the sixth and one in the eight.

A. J. Foyt In Good Spot To Win At Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A. J. Foyt owns all the records for the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway from the 150-mile point to the finish. And he'll be in an ideal spot May 31 to pick up the other marks.

Foyt, 30, four-time national driving champion from Houston, Tex., won the 500 last year for the second time and set records all the way after taking charge at 150 miles. But the marks for the qualifications and the early part of the race eluded him.

He took care of qualifications Saturday by roaring four times around the 2½-mile track at an average of 161.233 miles per hour and hitting a hot lap at 161.958. He drove the No. 1 Sheraton-Thompson rear-engine Lotus-Ford.

As the fastest qualifier on the first trial day, Foyt will start the race in the pole position — inside spot in the front three-car row of the 33-car field.

Nineteen cars qualified Saturday, at speeds from Foyt's record to 153.407 by Norm Hall of Hollywood, Calif. Two more qualified Sunday, filling a tentative line-up of seven rows for the race.

Steers Visit Eagle Field

Anyone of three pitchers will be ready to go when coach Roy Baird takes his Big Spring Steers to Abilene Tuesday for a game with the Eagles.

Freddie Mears, Hank Pope and Charles Burdette have all had a good rest since the Steers' last game. The Steers will be hoping to improve their 4-7 district record. In their first meeting with the Eagles, the Abilene team took home a 4-3 victory.

The Eagles are an even 5-5 in district play. They will play the Midland Lee Rebels today in a make-up game from last week.

Other probable starters for the Steers include Van Tom Whately, center field; Gregg Pate, second base; Eddie Thomas, first base; Yogi Anderson, behind the plate; Sammy Mims or Johnny Thomas, shortstop; Jesse Zapata, left field; Howard Bain, third base; and Johnny Stone or Larry Broughton, right field.

Pace Setters Meet Tonight

First and second place teams in the American Little League clash tonight.

The unbeaten Colts (6-0) square off with the Pirates (4-2) in the headline attraction.

No games were played Saturday night due to the rain. Two contests were unreeled Friday night, however.

In one game the Pirates outlasted the Hawks, 5-3, scoring all their runs in the third inning. Johnny Weeks pitched the win, although tagged for seven blows.

In the other contests, the Colts bombarded Cabot, 17-4. Roddy Caffey led the winners in hitting with a double and a single while Ray Ward, Guy Bell and David Malarchik each had a double for the winners.

Cabot collected only three hits and two of those were by Mark Slate.

House Trailer Trembled, Then Over It Tumbled

By SAM BLACKBURN

"It began to rain. My wife got up to see about the kids. Suddenly the trailer began to tremble.

"The next thing I knew I was in pitch darkness underneath the overturned bed. I was completely disoriented. Then I heard my wife cry out. I asked if she was hurt. She said she didn't think so and that the trailer was upside down."

"The trailer hadn't just blown over—the wind had picked it completely up and turned it bottomside up."

T. Sgt. H. Gongaware, Webb AFB, busy salvaging what could be saved Sunday from his storm ruined house trailer, paused in his work. He gazed at the wreckage of his trailer.

"The trailer's 100 per cent washed up," he said. "The insurance man has already been out and said it is a total loss.

"CAN'T BE LUCKIER"

"So what? We are all alive—my wife, Kathryn, has a dislocated shoulder but she'll be over that in a few days. The kids—Judy, 3, Tanna 2½ and 17-months-old Mark —got out without a scratch.

"You can't be much luckier than that."

The sergeant and his family lived in one of a group of housetrailers at 2201 Warren. Their 55-foot-mobile home was demolished by a wind which swept across the south end of the city early Sunday morning. None of the other trailers was damaged.

The Gongaware trailer was, as the sergeant said, picked up and turned upside down. The wheels are now on top. The ceiling is the floor. Inside is a wild hodge podge of shattered cabinets, wrecked furnishings and soaked personal belongings. Friends helped them remove clothing and belongings.

ROOF SHUCKED

Across the street to the west a dozen men were busily putting a temporary roof on the home of C. A. McElrath, 2205 Warren.

"The McElraths are out of town on a fishing trip," said one of the volunteer roofers. "We haven't been able to get in touch with him.

"There is already some water damage inside. We're putting this covering on to prevent any more damage if it rains again."

With that, the worker climbed back up the ladder with a roll of roofing material on his shoulder.

The wind had ripped off most of the roofing on the southwest room of the McElrath residence.

Apparently no other damage, other than that caused by water, occurred.

NONE HURT BADLY

Sgt. Gongaware, who has been at Webb for 5½ yaers, said that he and his family stayed up until midnight watching television for storm warnings.

"We had just gone to bed," he said. "The kids were in one bedroom and we were in the other. When the rain began, my wife got up to check on the children. That was when the trembling developed in the trailer."

He said he thought it was about 12:30 a.m. when the trailer flipped over. Police records show the incident was reported at 12:45 a.m.

"After I got oriented," said Gongaware, "I got my wife and kids out and we all went to the base hospital. None of us was hurt except Kathryn who had the dislocated shoulder.

"She didn't have to stay in the hospital. We are putting up with some friends until we can get straightened out again."

Solon Pushes River Basin Funds Quest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal action to conserve and develop resources of the Red River basin was urged today by Rep. Ray Roberts, D-Tex.

Roberts spoke to a House Appropriations subcommittee considering fund requests for the fiscal year beginning July 1. He also wrote to the Army Engineers.

Roberts urged the subcommittee to vote $200,000 for bank stabilization below Denison Dam.

He recommended $50,000 for recreation facilities at Denison Reservoir and $25,000 for a survey to study irrigation, water power and recreation facility possibilities at Lake Texoma.

The survey also was backed by Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, House Democratic leader, and by Harold Haddock, Lake Texoma Association president.

Roberts joined officials of the Red River Valley Association in urging the bank stabilization appropriation.

He told the subcommittee that lack of bank stabilization alone has accounted for the loss of 250,000 acres of fertile soil in 25 years.

Day Seen Foreign Aid Program To Be Over

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the past 20 years the United States had spent more than $111 billion on foreign aid, military and economic.

From the beginning, the wholesale spending has been the subject of controversy. Congress, however, has invariably decided that such aid is in the best interests of the United States.

In the past year, however, a number of long-time supporters of foreign aid, both in and out of Congress, have been raising questions about its effectiveness and, in some instances, its continuation.

DAVID E. BELL

DISPENSED AID

The Agency for International Development, headed by David E. Bell, former director of the Bureau of the Budget, is the main agency dispensing U.S. economic assistance to foreign nations.

How effective has the foreign aid program been? Will it ever end?

The answers to these and other questions were sought in an interview with Bell. Here are the questions and Bell's answers:

Q. Can you foresee the day when the foreign aid programs of the United States will come to an end?

A. Yes, certainly. We have seen them come to an end in a reasonably orderly fashion in Europe. Of the $111 billion you cite — I've forgotten exactly — but perhaps $35 or $40 billion was military and economic assistance to Europe. The economic part came to an end in the early 1950s. The military assistance continued for some years but has now come to an end in most of the European countries and is coming to an end in the rest.

WINDING UP

The current illustrations which seems most significant is that of Taiwan (Formosa) where economic aid is coming to an end in the present fiscal year and the AID mission will be closed there on June 30. Economic assistance was, of course, ended in Japan 10 years ago.

We are concentrating our assistance in countries where substantial progress is being made. And we have identified another six, eight or 10 countries where we expect economic aid to complete its mission and be phased out within the next two, three or four years.

Looking ahead we can see prospects that in country after country, economic strength will be sufficiently established so that aid can be ended. It won't be quick, nevertheless it is perfectly feasible to anticipate the picture you talked about — the orderly termination of our assistance programs.

Q. The point has been made that in handing out foreign aid funds, the rich get richer in some countries and the poor get poorer.

A. There have been cases in which individuals have become wealthy in countries where foreign aid has been involved. In some cases, that has been the natural result of the operation of the economic system. People get rich in the United States, too. It doesn't necessarily mean they get rich at the expense of others. The rich get richer in the United States and the poor get richer. This is a characteristic of a dynamic economy. There have been other cases in which individuals have managed to milk the AID program. Those we obviously seek to prevent. And our system for preventing that sort of thing has been getting steadily better over the years. I personally think it is pretty good today.

FREE SOCIETIES

Q. What are the basic assumptions behind the AID program? Is it economic assistance to further U.S. political aims, or is it economic assistance for the sole purpose of creating a viable economy? If there is a conflict between the two how do you solve it?

A. Well, it is easier for us to work in those areas where there is no conflict. Let me illustrate. In Latin America — it is the whole theory behind the Alliance for Progress — it is the belief that economic assistance will contribute to the political objectives of the United States in the Western Hemisphere: namely, by the strengthening improvement and support of free societies. It is a case where the two objectives are in a sense the same thing because, obviously, the strengthening of economies makes them more resistant to the appeal of communism.

Now, there are cases where there is a conflict. The conflict arises in the form that we — the United States — have a political interest in the advancement of a particular country. But the government of that country is not doing what is necessary to bring about improvement. What should we do? Increasingly in recent years we have insisted on appropriate self-help measures. Indonesia is a perfect case. We have not made any kind of loan to Indonesia for over two years. Even our surplus agricultural commodities assistance came to an end over a year ago.

Q. Why does the United States continue to offer aid to nations which have demonstrated rather clearly that they are unfriendly, to be specific: Egypt?

A. The question of aid to Egypt is, I think, the most difficult we have faced in the last year or so. We have not made a development loan to Egypt for over a year and a half because we felt the Egyptians were not following economic policies as good as they should be.

Explosion Traps Miners In Wales

Hail Wipes Out Cotton

An 80-acre field of irrigated cotton, the plants better than four inches high, was wiped out on the E. M. Newton farm, 6½ miles north of US 87 in one of Saturday's rain and hail storms.

Mrs. Newton, who is a clerk in the office of Pauline Petty, county clerk, said that the family had drilled irrigaton wells this spring and started farming on 80 acres of their farm. Their cotton was up and thriving.

"The field was a solid mass of ice when the hail quit," said Mrs. Newton. "The whole countryside around our place was covered. Our roof is damaged and will have to be replaced, we think."

She said hail drifted more than a foot and half high against the wall of the house.

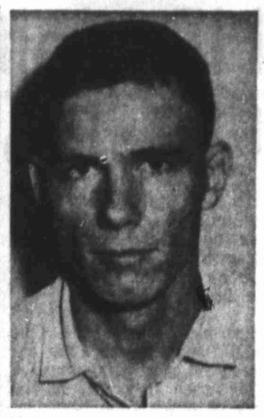

Nor was hail all of the Newton problem. Two young heifers with their first calves took to the high ground afforded by a newly built dam. When the water began to rise, the heifers left their calves marooned. Two of the Newton boys had to swim to the dam and rescue the calves.

MRS. DANIEL Z. STRICKLAND JR.

Couple Recites Vows In Chapel Ceremony

The chapel at Webb Air Force Base was the scene Sunday for the wedding of Mrs. Koila Z. Bateman and Lt. Daniel Z. Strickland Jr. The double ring ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon with Chaplain W. H. Warren reading the nuptial rites before an altar graced with tall baskets of white gladioli, Majestic daisies and chrysanthemums. White tapers lighted the altar scene as Mrs. Jesse McCormick, organist, presented a program of traditional wedding selections.

Parents of the couple are Mr and Mrs. Jeff D. Grant, Rt. 1, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Z. Strickland Sr., 1815 Bernice Road, Fayetteville, N.C.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a pale blue sheath of imported Italian silk with blouson-styled bodice and cap sleeves. Her brief veil was held by a silk rose headpiece, and her slippers were of matching blue. She wore short white gloves and carried a white Bible topped with frenched chrysanthemums encircling a white orchid.

For the traditional bridal items, her dress was the something blue, a silk handkerchief had been carried by her grandmother at her wedding and her blue garter had been borrowed from the maid of honor, Miss Selma Roberts, Coahoma.

Miss Roberts was attired in a three-toned sleeveless shift of sky blue, white and mint green. Her accessories were white, and her mint green hat was formed of green veiling and flowers. She carried a nosegay of white daisies showered with mint green ribbons.

Lt. William C. Bruce, Columbus, Ohio, served as best man, and ushers were Lt. Herbert Dean, Cleveland, Ohio, and Lt Jerry Hager, Indianapolis, Ind. All three are stationed at Webb AFB.

The bride wore her wedding costume for the wedding trip to North Carolina and Illinois. Later the couple will reside at Chanute AFB at Rantoul, Ill.

Mrs. Bobby Grant, sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the registry table during the reception in the chapel foyer. The bride and bridegroom were joined by her parents and the maid of honor in greeting guests. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Haskel Grant, Levelland, and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Williams, Seymour.

The bride is a 1959 graduate of Big Spring High School, and the bridegroom was graduated from the University of Wyoming. He is being transferred from Webb AFB to Chanute AFB.

The call to prayer was by Mrs. Henry Musgrove, and prayer was led by Rev. Wilson. Mrs. Jesse Brooks was the song leader.

Others taking part on the program were Mrs. J. L. Baugh, Mrs. Johnny Walker, Mrs. Grady Walker, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Musgrove and Mrs. Brooks. The closing prayer was by Mrs. Brooks and the next meeting set for May 25 at the church.

District Officer Installs VFW Auxiliary Slate

Mrs. Artie Dean, Kermit, District 25 president, was the installing officer Thursday for the Tucker Post No. 2013. She was accompanied here by Mrs. Charles Teasley, Kermit, district treasurer.

Those installed were Mrs. Choc Smith, president; Mrs. Homer Petty, senior vice president; Mrs. Jolene Miller, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Tim Jones, conductress; and Mrs. Ralph Caton, guard.

Mrs. Smith will install the remaining officers at a later date.

A salad supper preceded the service with Mrs. Smith presenting Mrs. Dean with an appreciation gift and white carnation corsage. Mrs. Dean then gave each officer a gift, and Mrs. Smith received the past president's pin.

It was announced that Mrs. Miller will attend the district convention in Kermit May 22-23.

The centerpiece for the main dining table was an arrangement of spring flowers flanked by yellow candles in crystal holders.

Important For Health

Children should never be allowed to wear out-grown footwear that may cramp and curl toes. Such a practice is a frequent source of foot trouble at a later age. Since a healthy child can sprout a full shoe size in a few months, it might be wise to have his feet measured immediately. And under no circumstances, should shoes be passed on from one child to another. Hand-me-downs rarely, if ever, fit properly.

When buying children's shoes, pay special heed to fit. Make certain his new shoes are slightly wider than his foot and at least a half-inch longer than the longest toe. The best time to purchase footwear is late afternoon, since feet may swell during the day and will be slightly larger by that time.

Purposes Explained

Over the years, many women have tried to use lipstick to tint their cheeks, and have failed to obtain the flattering results they have desired.

In this new fashionable day of natural complexion coloring that is blended, not only over the cheeks, but on the chin and forehead as well, the popular and exquisite natural glow cannot possibly be created with lip coloring.

If you have been using lipstick for rouge, it is well for you to know that lipstick is ingeniously formulated to be used exclusively on the lip area where it retains a sharp outline for hours. Rouges are designed and formulated to be applied over the soft skin area of the face where they may be easily and instantly blended into the skin tones without a trace of demarcation lines.

Whether you choose to use the creamy Pastel Tint Rouge that is blended with the fingertips, or the Pastel Glow natural complexion coloring that is fluffed on with a brush, you will find a whole new world of delicate warm tones are yours to flatter and beautify.

With fashion's strong emphasis on youth and beauty, take advantage of their exciting soft glow, and see the lovely difference they make in your appearance.

Symbolize Innocence

April's birthstone is the diamond, symbolizing innocence. Attributed to the sun as its gem of light, the diamond inspired even primitive people to a new belief in the existence of an unquenchable flame and of unconquerable virtue.

As far back as the history of the diamond ring can be traced, the Jewlery Industry Council tells us, this symbol of innocence has been appropriate as a sign of plighted troth.

Diamonds are the simplest of all gems—yet the hardest substance known to man. The transformation of a diamond from a rough pebble to a dazzling, faceted stone, revealing its magical beauty, requires skillful cutting and polishing.

Steams In Freshness

To clean and freshen the complexion, ease away crows feet and unwanted expression lines and put more life into your skin, try complexion steaming. With a towel over your head, steam over a basin of hot water in which a teaspoon of lemon juice can be added if available.

Beforehand anoint the skin with oil so when the hot steam clears the pores the oil penetrates. After steaming, tone with a freshener and smooth the skin to youthful beauty with a film of moisture lotion.

Controversy Still Raging Around REA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rural Electrification Administration observes its 30th anniversary Tuesday still engulfed in controversy that has raged since its creation.

The agency was established by executive order of President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1935. Since that time, it has extended loans totaling more than $6.6 billions for development of rural power and telephone systems.

Despite the opposition, REA's leaders look to the future; they figure that during the next 15 years the agency will be called upon to provide more funds to borrowers than during the first 30.

The REA's major foes are the private power utilities. These groups contend that the agency uses federal funds — provided at a low interest rate — to develop rural power and telephone systems as competitors of private utilities.

INTEREST CHARGE

The main point of attack is on the agency's interest charge of 2 per cent a year — a rate which critics say is less than that paid by private companies for funds.

The REA administrator, Norman Clapp, says the 2 per cent rate, and technical assistance provided by the agency to its borrowers, are "essential equalizers in helping offset the handicaps of providing rural service."

Among these handicaps, Clapp says, is that the REA-financed systems have an average of only 3.3 customers per mile of line compared with an average of 33.2 for most private utilities.

Furthermore, Clapp says, parity of electric rates and services for rural people has not been achieved. Consumers on REA-financed lines still pay from 19 to 20 per cent more per unit of power than that paid by urban consumers, he said.

The typical REA borrower is a cooperative, consumer-owned and locally managed. The average borrower serves about 5,500 consumers located in parts of three counties. Some 91 per cent of the meters are located on farms and nonfarm residences. The remaining 9 per cent are at schools, churches, and rural business firms and industries.

The membership turns out once a year — generally in late summer — for the cooperative's annual meeting. At that time, the officers and directors, the manager and key employes report to the members on problems and progress.

The average cooperative is a good credit risk. It has borrowed $4.3 million from the REA in several loans and has made payments of principal and interest amounting to about $1.8 million.

NET WORTH

The net worth of the average cooperative is about a million dollars. It has 29 employes, all local residents.

One of the major arguments the REA has to combat is that it should be abolished because most of the nation's farms have been electrified. Clapp says the fact that 125,000 new consumers are added to REA-financed lines each year and that the electric loads of present consumers are doubling every seven to 10 years shows it has much work to do.

The REA feels relatively confident because President Johnson is a strong supporter of the system, and the agency has strong backing in Congress.

The rural power borrowers include 997 lines, 53 public power districts, 1 other public bodies and 24 electric companies. The borrowers operate more than 1.5 million miles of line serving more than 5.4 million consumers.

In its new telephone loan program established by Congress in 1949, the REA has approved more than $1.1 billion in loans to 617 commercial telephone companies and 224 cooperatives to finance facilities to serve more than two million rural subscribers.

A Devotional For The Day

Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me. (Matthew 25:40)

PRAYER: Father of all, may we not forget the least of these our brethren, the hungry, the sick, the unclothed, the stranger, even enemies. Bless us with Thy peace and joy in the beauty of the spirit that can begin here and now. Help us to give of Thy bounty bestowed upon us. Teach us to forgive others. We ask this sincerely in Jesus' name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Still Ticking

Despite some malfunctioning, Mariner 4 is doing well more than halfway to its rendezvous with the planet Mars. But it still faces some tough hazards before getting home safe in mid-July.

Something or other, possibly the micrometeorites in solar orbit between the earth and Mars, already has halted one of the space vehicle's scientific instruments and crippled another. It also is feared that some instrument parts may wear out during the balance of the 228-day trip across scores of millions of miles. And now scientists are beginning to talk about an even greater possible threat to the success of Ranger 4's photographic mission. This is the chance that it may encounter a damaging magnetic field such as that which surrounds the earth.

The point underscored by all this is that, though spacecraft are launched with an air of assurance these days, a big element of uncertainty remains. Mariner 4 will, as one of those who sent it into space has noted, operate in an "unknown environment." To some extent that will be true of many space ventures, both manned and unmanned, for a long time to come.

They Set A Good Example

Down in the middle of a story about a Parent-Teachers Association meeting last week was an item about Mrs. Ray Cantrell's third grade room winning the savings stamps sale event at Boydstun school.

This group of children had invested $1,178.35 in stamps, which are applied to U. S. Savings Bonds, during the past year. No total was given for the school, but it likely is substantially higher than that. Similarly, add the figures for other schools, and you come up with a respectable share of our bond sale quota for our children.

They are setting a mighty good example for the rest of us. While savings bonds sales have been lagging a bit here, our youngsters have been faithful in a patriotic exercise. Moreover, they have learned one of the most useful lessons of living in any age—that of systematic saving and thrift.

THE HIGH PRIEST ONLY BLESSES THE FAITHFUL

Around The Rim

Stepchild Among State Parks

One thing and another:

I think the State Parks and Wildlife Department could do better by Big Spring.

Of the 35 state recreational and scenic parks within the commonwealth, the Big Spring recreational area has fewer facilities than any other.

Outside of a few spots set aside for picnicking, the Big Spring park offers nothing but a drive around its outer rim to intice people—yet the drive attracts thousands of visitors each year.

IN BUFFALO GAP Park near Abilene, for instance, overnight camping is encouraged. Shelters are provided. Restrooms are available. A swimming pool does a thriving business during the summer months. There are hiking trails for the adventurous.

At Lake Brownwood Park, the state goes all out to lure the visitors, offering everything but golf to the guests.

There is little doubt but that this part of West Texas is regarded by some in Austin as a sort of stepchild. I, for one, think we deserve more consideration. The tax money we pay in to support the state boards is certainly considered legal tender.

DO YOU OFTEN intend flattering people and wind up in hot water because you don't quite know how to phrase thing? If you do, then join the lodge, brother.

Like someone said recently, there's a lot of difference between "You look like a breath of spring" and "you look like the end of a hard winter."

• • •

SOME OF THOSE depressions on the face of the moon, as revealed in the latest Ranger 9 shots, look like peep holes to me.

• • •

MY GOING-ON-SIX daughter asked me a poser the other day:

"Why don't germs ever get germs and die?"

• • •

PERHAPS IT'S just as well they don't play big-time soccer in this country.

The other day, a court in Italy ruled that a soccer referee is not a public official and therefore has no official immunity against the insults hurled by fans and players.

In other words, there is never a closed season against the poor guys.

Armed Force Not Our Only Weapon

WASHINGTON—The United States has at last labelled Communist China as an enemy of mankind. President Johnson came out openly last week with a declaration of this country's unswerving intention to prevent Communist China from taking over the continent of Asia and its neighboring islands.

"COMMUNIST CHINA," said the President, "apparently desires the war to continue, whatever the cost to their allies (in North Viet Nam). Their target is not merely South Viet Nam—it is Asia. Their objective is not the fulfillment of Vietnamese nationalism—it is to erode and to discredit America's ability to help prevent Chinese domination over all of Asia. In this domination they shall never succeed."

Mr. Johnson declared that, while America is demonstrating that force will meet force, he believes "armed conquest is futile and that aggression is not only wrong but it just will not work."

PRESIDENT JOHNSON was careful not to give the impression that the United States is concerned solely with military operations in Viet Nam. He stated unequivocally that the United States is ready for "unconditional discussions." He reiterated that it is clearly to the interest of North Viet Nam to come to the conference table, since North Viet Nam, an ally of Communist China, is being severely damaged.

But, while the President spoke of America's "unlimited patience" and "unlimited resources" in "pursuit of unwavering purpose," and repeated that America will not abandon its commitment to South Viet Nam, there is another phase of the problem which he emphasized — the opportunity for economic aid to all the peoples of Asia. Mr. Johnson said, for instance, that "it is not enough to just fight against something—people must fight for something."

THE PRESIDENT pointed out that the whole world today is interrelated and that "those who live in the emerging community of nations will ignore the perils of their neighbor at the risk of their own prospects." He said that this is true not only for Viet Nam but "for every part of the developing world" and that this is why he recently proposed a "massive cooperative development effort for all of Southeast Asia" and now is prepared to support an Asian development bank "to carry out and help finance the economic progress in that area of the world."

Mr. Johnson called on every industrialized nation, including the Soviet Union, "to help create a better life for all the people of Southeast Asia."

THE PRESIDENT'S speech was a remarkable exposition of how economic projects can help an underdeveloped country. Words like these need to be distributed by every means of communication, not only to the people of Viet Nam but to the people of the whole Asian continent. For the image of the United States portrayed by the Russian and Chinese Communists is one of a so-called "aggressor," when the truth is that America is virtually alone in her humanitarian as well as military efforts to protect the people of Southeast Asia against Communist invasions.

NOT SINCE the Marshall Plan was first proclaimed has such a significant step been taken as that which President Johnson announced when he promised a similar program for all of Asia. The President's speech makes it clear that armed force is not the only weapon in the struggle to win supporters for the cause of liberty and freedom in the world. The United States, by its latest expression, reveals its deliberate purpose to rise above totalitarian governments in a studied effort to reach the masses of people in the Communist countries.

Double-Barreled Crisis Looms On Labor Front

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's hands-off policy toward big labor disputes faces a severe test this summer in two critical industries — steel and aerospace.

A strike in either industry would be a severe blow to Johnson's domestic, defense and space programs, and early trouble signs indicate tough sledding in both sets of negotiations.

The double-barreled crisis — if it crystallizes — will come at the height of the summer heat in August and could melt the White House resolve to let labor and management work out their own problems.

THE STEEL industry is already balking at a pointed White House hint that it can afford to raise wages 3 per cent without a price hike.

In aerospace, militant union spokesmen predict a crisis if their demands for a union shop — plus a big wage hike — aren't met.

The steel talks — resuming May 18 after a May 1 strike deadline was narrowly averted — cover more than 400,000 members of the United Steelworkers Union, AFL-CIO.

Talks in the aerospace industry involve some 150,000 members of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers and the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists.

The earliest new steel strike deadline is Sept. 1, with Aug. 1 the date for serving notice to the 10 major firms involved.

Aerospace contracts with Douglas, Lockheed, Boeing and North American expire at various dates from July to September but auto workers Vice President Leonard Woodcock views August as the critical month.

STEEL AND aerospace union leaders complain recent contracts have not kept pace with White House guidelines, which judge noninflationary wage hikes on the basis of man-hour productivity increases. For industry as a whole, the figure suggested by the President's Council of Economic Advisers is 3.2 per cent.

In a special report on steel, the council suggested 3 per cent as the guidelines.

This nettled steel industry officials, who contend it gave union negotiators extra ammunition to carry back to the bargaining table. But the Steelworkers Union says the guideline figure is too low — it wants 17 or 18 cents an hour. Wages and fringe benefits now average $4.40 an hour.

The auto workers say aerospace production and maintenance workers at $2.95 an hour lag behind average wages of $3.07 in the auto industry. The machinists have already laid down a demand for 57 cents an hour spread over three years.

But it is the demand for union security that is expected to trigger the most trouble in aerospace.

Airborne Harry Still Delivers

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — "Harry the Horse" delivers the goods in South Viet Nam.

He is Lt. Col. Harry G. Howton, commander of the 311th Air Commando Squadron, and one of the most colorful fliers on the battlefront here.

This is the third war for the 47-year-old, leathery-faced officer who comes from Birmingham, Ala., and has three children.

Still a "gung ho" airman at an age when many of his contemporaries are flight - borne only in swivel chairs, Harry's decorations include 11 Oak Leaf Clusters to his Air Medal. He has been checked out in more than 100 types of aircraft.

HE FLEW 46 combat missions in the Far East during World War II and 58 in Korea in 1950. Since coming out here last October he has been on 380 missions.

He is called "Harry the Horse" because he and his men are literally the aerial workhorses of the war.

Their steeds are big two-engined C123s which lumber through the skies at 150 knots like huge noisy flying factories.

The planes can land and take off on a 1,400-foot runway or less and carry about twice the load of the old C47s, the workhorse of World War II.

The 311th Air Commando Squadron is one of four of its type in this area. It has 17 planes, of which about 14 usually are operational at any one time.

IT HAS many missions. It carries the mail, evacuates wounded, injured or ailing Americans to the U.S. Army 8th Field Hospital at Nha Trang.

At night a crew may be called out to drop flares to pinpoint the position of enemy Viet Cong making a nocturnal assault.

But their main job is to serve as a lifeline to Vietnamese and U.S. special forces units in isolated mountain bastions between here and the Laotian border.

Troops and supplies of all kinds are either landed at small perilous strips near the outposts or dropped by parachutes.

"We'll carry or drop anything that fits into the plane," Howton said.

THE WORK is difficult and dangerous but rarely monotonous. The four-man crews wear flak outfits, but their thin aircraft are frequently ventilated by guerrilla ground fire.

"About 10 to 15 airplanes get hit a month, and a number of our men have been wounded, but we've never had a fatality from enemy fire," said Howton.

The pilots fly as many as 10 combat sorties a day. "Harry the Horse" often does, too. Despite his executive duties, in a recent 20-day period he flew 105 missions.

More Automobiles For Russia?

In Moscow in 1962, Mrs. Livingston and I chanced into conversation with a ski instructor in the overcrowded dining room of the Leningradskaya Hotel, as a six-piece orchestra played conventional jazz.

It was during the October confrontation between President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev. But automobiles, not the Cuban crisis, were on the ski instructor's mind.

"How much do you pay for automobiles in America?" he asked

I RESPONDED: "Anywhere from $2,000 to $3,500 for most people," and I translated the dollars into rubles.

"And can you buy cars?" he asked.

When I nodded he ruefully patted his back pocket and said, "I've got the rubles, but I'm too far down on the list. I won't get one for years."

He was right. In the Soviet Union passenger car production is less than 200,000 units a year. The emphasis is on trucks.

NOW ALEKSEI N. KOSYGIN promises to increase passenger-car output. The new cars will be primarily for the industrial and bureaucratic elite, but some will trickle down to those not in the Party or government hierarchy, perhaps even to the ski instructor.

Kosygin has been bothered by the misuse of trucks as passenger cars by factory executives. This wastes gasoline; even worse, it takes the truck off its proper job—hauling cargo.

IF THE NEW five-year plan of Kosygin follows a well-worn path, this misuse of trucks won't be remedied. Each new ascendant to power in the Kremlin announces a consumer-help program with great fanfare. He criticizes his predecessor and promises a higher standard of living to the Russian people. And then . . .

And now Kosygin, as head of the government, and Leonid I. Brezhnev, as head of the Communist Party, are following the pattern.

They have bitten off a lot. If ever the Kremlin leaders try to satisfy demand for passenger cars, consumerism will sweep the Soviet system into new directions.

MOSCOW'S trade-union newspaper Trud (Labor) recently printed letters from residents of the Siberian city of Novosibirsk complaining about refrigerators, washing machines, hot plates and irons made useless by want of servicemen and spare parts. How much worse—how much more strident would be the complaints—in an automobile economy!

Let the Russian people have automobiles and there'll be no repressing the widening side demands—service stations, spare parts, better roads, roadside rests and eateries. The scorn of a housewife, frustrated by a refrigerator on the blink, would be as nothing compared to the fury of a motorist, stranded by a broken-down car because the local garage hasn't a spare part!

EACH NEW automobile in Soviet Russia is like a ratchet, raising consumer expectations. The faster the Soviet Union joins 20th-century civilization-on-four-wheels, the sooner will priorities be changed and the social outlook altered. Let's wish Kosygin and Brezhnev well in their consumer-goods venture.

Billy Graham

I find myself swearing, and I know swearing is wrong. It's just that something evil erupts within me, and I use God's name in vain. How can I overcome this? G.K.

God's name is used in profanity and it is used in praise. Those who are not attuned to God use His name wrongly to give vent to their anger and hate. A person who uses God's name in vain, however, is conscious of God, else he would not bring his name into his conversation.

A well-known psychologist says that the mention of hell, God and Jesus Christ, in conversation is an unconscious evidence that those who use these words wrongly, are firmly convinced that the very things exist which they profane. When one becomes angry, he brings up from the subconscious the names that mean the most to him, even though he uses them profanely. Wrong? Of course it is wrong! Not only because the person has profaned the sacred name of God, but because he has done himself great physical and psychological damage.

You say, "Something evil erupts in you." At that moment the devil possesses you, and it is his business to discredit the name of God.

You can overcome this by asking God to give you a grateful heart for a hateful heart, and lips of praise for lips of profanity. Since speech is a habit, you can develop the habit of praise, by God's help, and then you will experience peace rather than the remorse you speak of.

Coward Plays

NEW YORK (AP) — A group that has specialized in presenting avant-garde works is turning next to revival of Noel Coward comedies.

The plays are "Hay Fever," written in 1925; "Private Lives" (1930), and "Design for Living" (1932). They are to be staged in autumn repertory at off-Broadway's Cherry Lane Theater by the producing partnership of Richard Barr, Clinton Wilder and Edward Albee.

"We are avant-garde producers," says Barr, "but we discovered that each of us, independently, is a great Coward admirer, so we decided to go ahead."

Apt Project

NEW YORK (AP) — Forty-eight productions have been arranged for "The Days Between," the first script made available under the American Playwrights Theater project.

The Robert Anderson drama, tested first at the Dallas Theater Center will get a widespread workout at college and community theaters throughout the country.

Control Of Diabetes Varies With The Patient

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Doctor: I have diabetes and I take insulin. How often should one have a checkup? —MRS. C. L.

Diabetes can vary a lot in ease of control. A brittle diabetic will show wide swings, very readily, from heavy sugar to insulin reactions.

A stable diabetic can remain sugar-free, without having insulin reactions, by taking a fixed dose of the drug.

A stable diabetic, obviously, needn't see a doctor as often as a brittle one.

Another important point is whether you are gaining or losing weight. If you are doing either, you should see your doctor to make sure that your diet (and the amount of insulin you are getting) is right.

Or if any new symptoms develop (disturbances of vision, leg cramps, or others) you should see your doctor immediately.

In general, stable diabetics should consult their doctors every three or four months. It should be oftener for any of the exceptions cited above.

Juveniles with diabetes should be checked more frequently since, in young people the disease is more likely to be severe, and, in addition, they are growing and both diet and amount of insulin should be adjusted more often.

• • •

Dear Dr. Molner: My 20-month-old son fell on our puppy. The dog bit him under the eye, leaving three small breaks in the skin.

The child had had his tetanus booster shot only three months before, but the doctor still insisted on giving another shot and two prescriptions for medicine. Was this tetanus shot necessary so soon after his booster?—MRS. M. R.

The shot was necessary for complete safety. True, the little fellow might not have gotten tetanus (lockjaw) anyway, but I certainly favor being safe rather than sorry. The prescriptions, I have no doubt were for medication to protect against any other infection which might have been present.

• • •

Dear Doctor: My husband is 81 and suffers, especially at night, with pain in the calves of his legs. He smokes and chews. Do you think that stopping either form of tobacco would help?—MRS. J. S.

At his age one suspects faulty circulation as the cause of the cramps. Tobacco in any form is a potent cause of cramps because it impedes circulation.

I would most certainly urge him to give up tobacco. If relief does not follow, your doctor may suggest medication to dilate the blood vessels—quinine, antihistamines or the like.

• • •

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

• • •

Because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets that he cannot answer individual letters, but whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

The Establishment In Education

WASHINGTON — "Whatever happened to those good old absent-minded professors in rumpled clothing who used to endear themselves to generations of students?" asked the Returning Traveler, who'd been away from the campus a long time. "Have they all perished on starvation wages or merely faded into the ivied walls?"

ON THE CONTRARY, the Returning Traveler was told, many professors have gone to Washington to join the Establishment. The University of California has 147 faculty members sitting on federal advisory panels, the University of Chicago has 60, Columbia has 42, Princeton has 20 and . . .

"The University of California?" ejaculated the Traveler. "Isn't that where the students were recently putting on freedom riots? Didn't President Clark Kerr predict back in 1963 that there would be an undergraduate revolt against the faculty?"

THE ABSENT-MINDED professor, he was told, has become the absentee professor so far as students are concerned. While the cat's away, the mice will play. But those 147 California professors didn't go over the hill in the rain. They sat on panels that got their University $82.4 million in R&D research contracts last year. The 60 Chicago profs didn't come back empty-handed either—their University got $29 million in contracts. The 42 profs from Columbia hauled $38.7 million to Morningside Heights and the 20 from Princeton fetched $13.5 million to Old Nassau.

"YOU MEAN," queried the Traveler, "that there's an Establishment of Big Education growing up in our land to match the establishments of Big Government, Big Business and Big Labor?"

That's the informed opinion of Sen. Abe Ribicoff, the Traveler was told. The Connecticut senator did some research on his own and concluded the other day that "amazing correlation exists between the amount of federal funds for research flowing into a university and the number of faculty members serving on the advisory panels that pass on the grants . . . The higher the number of dollars, the higher the number of panelists."

"It sounds like high-grade lobbying to me," the Traveler declared.

THE ESTABLISHMENT in Big Education, he was told, has put these professors into a conflict of interest that worries Abe Ribicoff. The professors advise the government on research—and the research funds come right back to their universities. Exactly one-half of the academic advisors for the five big federal agencies get 42 per cent of the federal R&D funds—and they represent only 16 universities, the biggest and best in the country.

"The rich get rich," sighed the Returning Traveler, "but you can't help wondering if anybody gets educated any more. I would like to think that the Office of Education in Washington were putting this money where it might do some good."

WHAT OTHERS SAY

A tough old World War II fighter, Gen. Curtis LeMay, has raised a concern that comes naturally from a man who has played the role he has in the development of aerial warfare.

The general, just retired as chief of the U. S. Air Force, fears that the Soviet Union is hiding military intentions behind peaceful space activity. His is a legitimate concern and, from his position, should be given serious attention.

It should be assumed that Gen. LeMay has voiced his concern in the right places, along with his reasoning. His fear concerns the possibility of the Soviet Union controlling space — for military purposes.

This possibility has been given official cognizance. Indeed, last Sept. 18, President Johnson announced successful intercepts of satellites and the capability to knock them out. The next day, Secretary McNamara said both the Army and the Air Force had successfully developed and deployed such systems and that "we are satisfied that we have the information we need to act on this" (need to know whether a satellite is armed).

Sec. McNamara's comments indicate that an in-orbit capability to maneuver, as the "Molly Brown" did, would be an enormously significant achievement in the matter of "space control."

Gen. LeMay serves well when he keeps a public awareness for the need to continue to keep a modern arsenal, including good airplanes. He subjects himself to "wolf crying" when he rings the alarm without taking note of the new airplanes unveiled earlier this year and of the remarkable progress of the RB70, the "chemical" bomber now in tests.

DEAR ABBY

Too Big A Sport!

DEAR ABBY: We are in our 50's, have grown children and grandchildren. My husband has a sports car, and he belongs to a car club for people who are crazy about sports cars. They go on long drives together. Each one is some kind of show-off, really. I have back trouble and my doctor says I can't ride in bucket seats or in fast swerving cars — so hubby says I am selfish when I refuse to go on those car trips with him. He drives his sports car to work 25 miles every day, yet he is mad when I tell him I want an ordinary-sized, comfortable car for weekends. I realize he enjoys his sports car, but do we have to belong to a car club? We are twice as old as the average member.

DON'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: The family that plays together stays together. So if, due to a bad back, you can't race around in a sports car, your husband should turn in his goggles and helmet and join you for a game of checkers.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a married man who comes to the office every day with big holes in the heels of his socks? OFFICE GANG

DEAR GANG: Apparently his wife doesn't give a darn. And he's afraid to give her the needle.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My boy is 29 years old and he still lives at home. He has a good paying job which leaves him $416 a month take-home, not counting overtime. I keep his room cleaned up, do his laundry, see that his suit is pressed and I even shine his shoes. He eats breakfast at home every morning, I pack him a lunch, and he eats dinner at home about four nights a week. If he doesn't get a steak every night he hollers. He gives me $50 a month and complains that this is too much. I would like to have an idea of how much other mothers get for the same kind of service. The next time he complains what should I do?

HOUSTON

DEAR HOUSTON: Other mothers get twice that amount for half the service. Give your "boy" back his $50 and tell him to shop around for a better deal.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: In a recent TORONTO TELEGRAM there was a letter in your column regarding willing one's eyes after death. My husband died suddenly last summer. Both he and I had signed statements willing our eyes, but I was in a state of shock and forgot all about it until my 20-year-old son reminded me. My neighbor took the signed consent slip to the hospital immediately. (Time is an important element.) Thank heaven it wasn't too late.

Of all the hundreds of expressions of sympathy I received on the loss of my husband, the one most comforting to me was a letter saying that my husband's eyes are helping TWO formerly blind people to see. You may use my name if you wish.

Yours truly,
BETTY BISHOP

Police Quell Teen Melee

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A mob of nearly 15,000 screeching teenagers erupted into a melee Sunday night after a preformance by the English rock 'n' roll singing group, the Rolling Stones.

Thirty police officers spent an hour quelling the disturbance outside the Long Beach Arena after the group had appeared inside before a capacity crowd of 13,000.

The quintet was whisked away to a heliport before the end of the show, police said. But when the departing audience mingled with several hundred other teenagers waiting outside, the melee ensued, said officers.

The mob stripped the luggage rack from the quintet manager's car. A number of fainting girls had to be pulled from the crush, police said.

Several officers said their uniforms were ripped. One motorcycle officer was slightly injured when the mob bowled him off his cycle.

Six teenagers also suffered minor injuries, officers said.

Silver Dollars Will Roll Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Denver Mint may start turning out silver dollars today, the first to be produced in about 30 years.

President Johnson announced Saturday "substantial progress" had been made in reducing a shortage of other coins and therefore he was ordering the minting of $45 million in silver dollars authorized by Congress.

The appropriation directed the Treasury to produce cartwheels in the fiscal year which ends June 30.

It was not clear what effect Johnson's decision would have on a Treasury report, expected this week, on other silver coins — dimes, quarters and half-dollars.

Adults Like Child Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's "Childrens Theater" Sunday night was a delightfully sneaky program.

Ed Begley read a gentle and charming children's story, "Kristie," about two youngsters with a love for a horse. It was accompanied by springtime illustrations about the kind of country childhood every adult surely wishes he had.

What must have been an hour especially designed for the youngest members of the family, suddenly claimed the attention of all age groups. As the story unfolded about the children and their horse, older viewers were attracted by the warmth of family life, the affection of the children for the animal and — equally important — the nostalgic pastoral background of green meadows, red barns and sparkling streams.

President Johnson blandly continued his impromptu television appearances Saturday as the White House once again gave the networks very short notice that the President would have something to say before the cameras.

As it turned out, it was good news — the President's proposal to cut sharply the federal excise taxes.

Perhaps Johnson as the bearer of good tidings has started to break that well-established pattern of making an unscheduled television statement only when there is grave or critical news to report. If so, and in spite of the networks' unhappiness about lack of advance notice, the television public will not complain.

Nine Persons Still Missing In Avalanche

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany (AP)—Nine persons were still missing today in West Germany's worst recorded avalanche. Eight bodies have been recovered and a German mechanic died from injuries today.

The avalanche roared down 9,719-foot Mt. Zugspitze Saturday and swept over a terrace of the Schneefernhaus Hotel, sweeping sunbathing tourists from their seats.

Police announced today that 26 of 35 persons listed as missing have been accounted for. They said there was hope some of the remaining nine had also gotten away but did not realize they were being sought.

No Americans have so far been reported among the dead or missing.

Twenty-one persons were injured, including Neil Jamen Zantek of Oconomowoc, Wis. He was reported in fair condition in a hospital.

No Winner In Teach-In?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some who stayed to listen and argue for hours came away feeling there was no winning side.

But college students and professors, after a weekend mass "teach-in" discussion of U.S. Viet Nam policy, seem to think the idea is simply great.

"Questioning of American foreign policy is a responsibility university students have never taken on before in this country," said Margaret Thomas, a political science student at American University in Washington. "They should have done so long ago."

"IT'S GREAT"

"The teach-in was great," said Janet Gladfelter, another American University student.

"But it came three months too late. There has been no debate on President Johnson's decision to bomb North Viet Nam."

The scene of the marathon, 15 hours of discussion Saturday was Washington. It was broadcast by radio and television to more than 100 college campuses. In some distances, groups watched a few hours, then got into their own lengthy debates over the U.S. position in Viet Nam.

Carroll Cagle, former editor of the campus newspaper at New Mexico University, and Thomas Horn, a student council member at that school, said they didn't think either the administration or critics of its policy won the debate.

REACTION MIXED

Reaction to the teach-in was mixed, a survey found.

Some verbal heat was directed at McGeorge Bundy, presidential adviser on national security, who canceled out of the Washington program at the last minute.

Some leaders of the teach-in wired Bundy Sunday asking for an "alternative confrontation" on television over Viet Nam policies. This, however, was before it was revealed Bundy was a member of a U.S. fact-finding commission that was sent to Santo Domingo.

When he canceled his scheduled appearance at the teach-in, Bundy said only "other duties" prevented him from attending.

Cyclone Toll At 5,492

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) —The official toll in the cyclone in East Pakistan last Wednesday has risen to 5,492 dead. Five to seven million people are homeless, and property damage is estimated at $200 million.

The Pakistan Press Association reported that there is hardly a sign of human habitation in large areas close to the coast of Bay of Bengal.

The cyclone was accompanied by a tidal wave which capsized hundreds of boats and flooded small islands along the coast.

Security Agency Director Chosen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Marshall S. Carter, No. 2 man at the Central Intelligence Agency for the past three years, was named Sunday by President Johnson to direct the National Security Agency.

Carter, an Army man and West Point graduate, will replace Lt. Gen. Gordon A. Blake of the Air Force, who will retire from active duty June 1.

NSA, whose activities are as secret as those of the CIA, concentrates on safeguarding American codes and breaking the codes of foreign governments. Its headquarters are at Ft. Meade, Md.

Teachers End Strike; Wage Talks Pledged

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Former Marine George Bull leads 360 striking union teachers back to the classrooms today after a six-day battle with school officials.

The teachers' return was worked out in a compromise Sunday by Bull, president of the 500-member South Bend Federation of Teachers, and Louis Bruggner, school board president.

Early in the weekend, a union official had urged Gov. Roger D. Branigin to have the state labor commissioner mediate the conflict.

WAGE TALKS

Under the pact, the board agreed to discuss wages if the teachers would return to their jobs. The board meeting with federation officials and the South Bend Community Education Association, not involved in the strike, was set for Wednesday.

Bruggner said the board "cannot legally negotiate or bargain."

The proposed meeting was considered a moral victory for the federation teachers, however.

"Money was not important when we called the boycott last Tuesday," said Bull, 28. "We wanted to talk to the whole board and discuss things."

The boycott began the morning after the school board proposed a minimum wage of $5,200 a year for non-experienced teachers. The federation said it wanted $5,400 and fringe benefits.

| 1 ◇ | Pass | 1 ♠ | Pass |
| 3 ♣ | Pass | 3 ♡ | Pass |
| 4 ♣ | Pass | ? | |

What do you bid now?

A.—Five clubs. Inasmuch as you are forced to proceed to game, this is the logical step. A rebid of four hearts would be dangerous in that it might persuade partner that you have a better suit. From partner's failure to bid three no trump over three hearts, you may deduce that he has a long and powerful two suiter.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
♠ 8 6 3 ◇ A 6 2 ♣ A K Q J 9 8 2
The bidding has proceeded:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pass | Pass | 1 ♣ | Pass |
| 1 ♠ | Pass | 3 ♣ | Pass |
| 3 ♠ | Pass | ? | |

What do you bid now?

A.—Four diamonds. Prospects for a slam are excellent despite the fact that your partner originally passed and, as yet, has shown no special signs of strength. If partner shows the ace of hearts now, you will have to sign off but, if he is able to bid five diamonds, you should contract for a slam in clubs.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
♠ 5 ♡ A J ◇ 10 8 6 2 ♣ A 9 7 5 4 2
The bidding has proceeded:

| East | South | West | North |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pass | Pass | Pass | 1 ♠ |
| Double | ? | | |

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. You have enough high card strength to redouble but, lacking any reasonable idea of where you are headed, it is more discreet to pass temporarily and await developments. If the hand is a misfit, by no means an unlikely prospect, you may be able to inaugurate a doubling campaign, against the opposition when the bidding gets back to you, that could spell a handsome profit for your side where no game was available.

Q. 4—As South you hold:
♠ J 7 2 ♡ K J 6 2 ◇ A 9 3 2 ♣ J 10
The bidding has proceeded:

| East | South | West | North |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pass | Pass | 1 ♡ | 1 ♠ |
| Pass | ? | | |

What do you bid now?

A.—One no trump. This hand just makes the grade. A bid in this spot should be made only with the outlook of reaching for a game. This does not appear likely since your hearts appear to be badly placed for a spade contract but, since partner may have a hand that could help produce nine tricks at no trump, one forward move by you is justified. If partner merely returns to two spades, you will, of course, pass.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
♠ K 5 ♡ A 8 ◇ A 10 8 7 6 3 2 ♣ J 5
The bidding has proceeded:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 ♡ | Pass | 2 ◇ | Pass |
| 2 ♡ | Pass | ? | |

What do you bid now?

A.—Three hearts. There is no completely desirable call on this hand. Three hearts is somewhat of an underbid, but we dislike raising all the way to four with just two trumps. The alternative bid of four diamonds may land us in an unmakable diamond game when four hearts could be spread. The simple heart raise leaves open the further possibility that partner may wish to try for the nine trick game at no trump.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
♠ A J 9 8 7 ♡ Q 8 ◇ K 8 ♣ K 8 7 5
The bidding has proceeded:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 ♠ | Pass | 1 NT | Pass |
| 2 ♣ | Pass | 3 ♠ | Pass |
| ? | | | |

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Since partner was unable to make a better initial response than one no trump, there can be no very good play for a game. Even if he has all of his high card values in clubs and spades, which seems a likely explanation for his second round jump, it will not adequately fill the holes in your hand.

Q. 7—As South you hold:
♠ A Q ♡ K 8 7 6 ◇ 6 5 4 ♣ A K 9 6
The bidding has proceeded:

| West | North | East | South |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pass | 1 ♡ | Pass | 2 ♣ |
| Pass | 2 ◇ | Pass | ? |

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. This hand was microscopically short of an immediate jump shift response and as such merits very strong treatment. On hands of this strength the proper procedure is to bid new suits twice and then raise partner. There is only a slight risk partner will take this as a legitimate suit, which impression you will correct on the next round when you raise hearts.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠ A 8 ♡ A K Q J 7 2 ◇ 9 7 3 ♣ K 8
The bidding has proceeded:

| East | South | West | North |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pass | 1 ♡ | 1 ♠ | Pass |
| 2 ♣ | ? | | |

What do you bid now?

A.—Two no trump. Prospects for game have not been entirely dimmed by partner's pass but, the shorter, no trump route to game looks like the best shot at this point since all partner needs are a couple of face cards strategically placed.

Legislators Face Three Top Issues

AUSTIN (AP) — Legislators still faced three top issues—redistricting, taxes and teacher pay—as the five-month session's next to last week opened today.

Chances are good that none of these problems will be solved during the week.

Behind-the-scenes action on all three continued as legislators debated mostly minor bills likely to get caught in the time squeeze before the legislature adjourns May 31.

Legislative redistricting is due to come up for Senate debate Tuesday and a House committee probably will report its recommendations on the matter Wednesday.

COURT DEMANDS

Senators are expected to make minor changes in a House-passed version of how the state's 23 congressional seats should be rearranged to meet federal court demands and pass the measure this week. A final version then can be written by a House-Senate conference committee.

Tuesday's debate on redistricting in the Senate was scheduled last Thursday after high emotion over the issue prompted leaders to allow a cooling-off period. Seven senators would be forced to give up their seats under pending proposals.

TAX INCREASE

Tax increases are tied to the teacher pay raise, since it would need to be financed entirely from new revenue.

Committee action in both houses and a compromise offer by John Connally last week set the scene for final work on the teacher pay plan.

Single-Span Bridges Are Raid Targets

WASHINGTON (AP) — On orders from the Pentagon, U.S. bombers have been knocking out single bridge spans — rather than entire bridges — wherever possible in Communist North Viet Nam.

Military officials said this almost surgical precision has accomplished the purpose of disabling the bridges and interrupting traffic across them. At the same time, it has demonstrated to the Communists that the United States can exercise restraint.

RESUMPTION EYED

Bombing of North Viet Nam, which began Feb. 7, has been in suspension for several days. If and when it is resumed, it is expected that the single-span attack technique will be continued.

Some time ago, it was learned, directives from the Pentagon to U.S. forces operating against North Viet Nam stipulated, among other things, that the operational objective would be one span of a bridge.

Informed sources suggested there was more than a purely military reason behind this instruction — that it fits in with the national policy of strictly controlled punishment designed to prod North Viet Nam into negotiating a settlement of the South Viet Nam war.

The pattern came to light last week when newsmen were questioning Lt. Col. Robinson Risner, an Air Force fighter-bomber squadron commander who has led 30 missions against North Viet Nam.

BY DESIGN

A reporter noted that a display of pictures of knocked out bridges showed only one span down in almost every instance. Was that by design? Risner was asked.

"Yes," the veteran pilot replied. "We only go for one span, because if one span is knocked out the bridge is out of operation."

Risner added: "Our target intelligence people feel that this is all that is required and there was no reason to devote more of our effort to completely destroy it."

In a follow-up interview, Risner said this approach permitted his planes and others to strike at as many as three bridges in a mission, rather than spending all their bombs on one target.

He estimated it would take a year or more to replace even a single span dumped into a river.
