SAN ANTONIO.

Special Notice.

With this number the publication of a San Antonio edition will commence and thenceforth continue. This has been found necessary in order to give the subscribers in Southwest Texas a more direct local interest. The paper will be issued at Fort Worth and San Antonio simultaneously. The business and editorial management of the San Antonio edition will remain in the hands of L. A. Heil, (Hans Mickle) who will have his office in San Antonio, as heretofore. Full particulars of the change will be given next week.

The Rain.

On last Saturday there was a great rain south and southwest of San Antonio to the coast and the Rio Grande. In instant parts it was quite copious, making streams run, and filling water-holes, but near the city it did little good. Still, "small favors thankfully received, and large ones accordingly." The weather has continued cloudy, and on Wednesday a rain fell in the city, wetting down several inches, with prospects of a continuance of moist weather. While these rains have not fully satisfied our necessities, they are but the beginning, it is hoped, of a rainy spell, and the end of the distressing drouth. Grass will spring up and crops grow. Southwest Texas is a country of wonderful recuperative powers, and with moist weather for a few weeks the drouth will be forgotten. At this writing it is almost safe to say that the drouth of 1886-7 has come to an end.

How it Cuts Up.

Ever since the announcement of Dr. A. E. Carothers' experiment of fattening beeves on prickly pear and cottonseed meal, the "old residents," "prominent ranchmen," and "practical hard sense men" have predicted all sorts of failures, and advanced inconceivable objections to the innovation. If it was a good thing, why did not their fathers do it before them? Among the senseless things said about cottonseed meal and prickly-pear beef are that it was not sweet nor wholesome, and also that it dressed so low that butchers would never buy it the second time. For information on these points, the STOCK JOURNAL man called on Messrs. Carolan & Russell, the enterprising refrigerator meat market men of San Antonio, who recently bought a car-load of Dr. Carothers' beeves. Mr.

Russell says that not one complaint has yet been heard as to the flavor, but quite to the contrary, Dr. Amos Graves, one of the leading physicians of this city, after giving it a fair trial, is now sending all his patients in need of beef tea to this market for this beef, believing it far preferable to the poverty-stricken blue beef that has always been a prominent feature in the San Antonio meat markets. Mr. Russell says that he does not believe that the most fastidious can tell the difference between this meat and the corn-fed.

As to the dressing, Mr. Russell, as a butcher, is fully satisfied. The first and largest of the car-load weighed 1255 pounds, and dressed in the market 709 pounds, or 56½ per cent. The average weight of the car-load was 880 pounds, and not a steer has yet been killed that dressed less than 500 pounds. Thus it will be seen that the story that they will not dress over 33 per cent., which has been in circulation, has no foundation in fact, as so far the net dressing is above the average, which is put at 50 per cent. It is clear that conflicting interests, old fogysm, and deep-root prejudice will make a fight on this new and home-made fattened beef, but in the end they will be vanquished, as they always are when they war against reason. Cottonseed meal and prickly pear beef have come to stay, and he who commences its production soonest will make the most money. It can be produced fifty per cent. cheaper than corn beef, and is as good and will sell for as much money.

San Antonio Wool Market.

The spring wool season is now upon us and wool is beginning to arrive. No sales have yet been made, and but one foreign buyer has yet put in an appearance. What the opening price will be, or when it will open, it is now impossible to say, but from the fact that last fall's season, and also to some extent the spring season was a disastrous one for the buyers, it is safe to predict that much caution will be exercised on the part of the buyers opening the market. All hope that last spring's prices will be realized, and many believe that such will be the case. This would be generally 20 cents. The condition of the early shearing will be inferior, owing to the dry weather, but that which will be taken off now and probably on to the end will be better, as in most places the showers have been sufficient to wash out much of the

SCALING & TAMBLIN'S Live Stock
Circular says of the STOCK JOURNAL:
"For full and reliable information in regard to the stock interest of Texas
we commend our readers to the TEXAS LIVE STOCK JOURNAL." For which, thanks. We'll get even with you some day.

Gov. HUGHES of Arkansas has telegraphed the commissioner of agriculture, asking that an inspector be sent to that state to examine some herds of cattle that are suspected of having pleuro-pneumonia. We trust it will turn out to be a false alarm. If there is pleuro-pneumonia in Arkansas, it is getting dangerously close to Texas, and without a quarantine law we have no way to protect ourselves, except through the bureau of animal industry.

"PONY CATTLE" are the favorites in the live stock markets just now. It is not the 1800-lb. or upwards coarse six and seven-year-old steer that tops the market, but the round, butter-ball two and three-year-old 1000 to 1200-pounder. Stock growers should keep this in mind and breed accordingly. The round little fellow will bring as much money, and it can be turned twice while the big fellow is once, this being itself recommendation enough to decide the matter in the mind of any practical man.

COL. S. P. CUNNINGHAM died in this city last Monday morning, of Bright's disease of the kidneys. His death was entirely unlooked for among his friends, and it was a surprise and a shock to all. Col. Cunningham was as well-known as any man in the state, and there were few stockmen who did not know his face. He was for a long time editor of the LIVE STOCK JOURNAL, and at the time of his death was the agent of the national bureau of animal industry, to whose welfare he devoted himself assiduously. At the time of his death he was in his 51st year. He was buried with Masonic honors on Tuesday, amid evidences of the sincere respect and esteem in which he was held by his friends and neighbors.

THE STOCK JOURNAL's influence is always for good. Our esteemed contemporary at San Antonio has divorced itself from its investment agency, and is striving with singleness of purpose to make a stock paper, which it gives fair promise of doing eventually. The STOCK JOURNAL is always glad to put in a word for struggling fledgelings, and takes a kindly interest in the efforts of the young men at San Antonio to make an honest living by following in the wake of this paper.

Rains have fallen generally throughout the Northwest and along the line of the Texas & Pacific railroad. Local showers have visited the Southwest, which will do so much to revive the drooping vegetation but will not start the streams running or fill the water-holes. The wheat prospects in the rain-belt are much improved, but a crop is not guaranteed. Nevertheless, this much of an advantage is gained: that if we can have a fair amount of rainfall henceforth, crops are in condition to do well. The grass is starting afresh, and where stock-water is furnished by wells there is no suffering for subsistence. The stock interests have faced worse conditions than they are confronted by now, and come out without disaster.

The stockmen of Texas are under a big load of debt to Col. Ike T. Pryor for the work he is doing in behalf of the refrigerator at Houston. At a meeting held in the town of Mason last week he so fired the people with enthusiasm that they subscribed a thousand beeves to the refrigerator, and passed resolutions pledging their support to the enterprise. A few more such workers as Col. Pryor will make the refrigerator an assured fact and provide a home market for Texas beeves. Long may he wave!

Live Stock Inspections.

Missouri has passed the live stock inspection law, and bills of like character are pending in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Tennessee. Should these states enact such law it will tear a hole in the hull of the dressed beef boat, below the water line. Let New York, Illinois and Iowa follow suit, and the fight will not be hard to make thereafter.—[Range Journal, Denver.

Was there ever anything more amazing than a range live stock paper advocating the inspection of the animal in the city where it is offered for sale from the block? What is to become of the range stock if it must be shipped alive to the Eastern sea-board cities and Europe? It will eradicate the hated syndicate, and also wipe out the ranch cattle business. The true policy is to establish refrigerators nearer to the ranges, and save shrinkage and freight, and then range stock will have some showing in the beef markets of the world.

A Successor to Col. Cunningham.

The vacancy made in the bureau of animal industry by the sad death of Col. Cunningham needs to be filled, and the occasion is such that it must be filled at once. This is the season when Texas cattle are moving northward, and the national board should have an agent on the ground to pay attention to the movements and to see that the rights of all parties are properly observed. Quarantine authorities in other states and territories are depending on the agents of the bureau of animal industry to pass on the health of the cattle. In this situation every day's delay adds to the embarrassment under which Texas drovers are put, and it is due them that such embarrassment should be relieved.

The leading citizens and stockmen of Fort Worth have seen the danger to Texas interests of a vacancy in the bureau agency at this time, and they have acted promptly by asking for the appointment of an agent to perform the duties of the place. They have unanimously turned to T. T. D. Andrews as the man to succeed Col. Cunningham, and have dispatched to Hon. Norman J. Colman, explaining the necessity of an immediate appointment and presenting Mr. Andrews' name as that of the best qualified man. This petition was signed by E. B. Harrold, cashier First National bank; A. B. Smith, cashier Merchants' National bank; M. B. Loyd, president First National bank; A. M. Britton, president City National bank; W. M. Harrison, president State National bank, and others in Fort Worth. Mr. Andrews also has the indorsement, by letter and telegraph, of Gen. H. B. Stoddard, president Texas Live Stock association; Col. C. C. Slaughter, member of the board of directors of the International Range association; Major John T. Lytle, president Southern Texas Live Stock association; and many other prominent stockmen of Texas, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and the Indian Territory.

The STOCK JOURNAL knows of no man better qualified to fill the place than Thorp Andrews. He has been in the cattle business ever since it became a business in Texas, and if there is anything about that class of stock that he is not thoroughly acquainted with, it has not yet been discovered. He will have the moral support and co-operation of every cattleman in the range country, and that counts for a great deal in the work of an inspector. If the commissioner of agriculture would do a real service to Texas, he will not delay the appointment of Col. Cunningham's successor, and he will appoint Thorp Andrews.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

A Blow at Foreign Capital.

ST. LOUIS, April 12, 1887.

The New York Times received a London cable last week in reference to the effect of the alien land act passed by the Washington government. It says that American land schemes are knocked upon the head, and that English and other foreign purchasers are out of the American markets. I had not seen the law but to-day sent to Washington for a copy of it. The effect of this law will be to reduce values all around. Take away foreign money from Western American enterprise and only the truck remains. The effect will be injurious to the development of the West. American money is not plentiful enough for investment or to go out on long loans. Cut off the foreign supply and people had best not calculate on loans until the cash is obtained.

Dressed Beef.

It is the announcement here by advertisement in the daily press that dressed beef has gained another victory by the establishment of a second refrigerator in the city of St. Louis for the sale and display of meat. The refrigerator belongs to the St. Louis Dressed Beef company, with Sam W. Allerton as president. The movement denotes that as the first refrigerator managed to pay a second was found to be desirable, and a third is said to follow. The works are at the National stock yards, and from there the supplies are drawn. The St. Louis butchers were always averse to the dressed beef business, and until recently dressed beef could not obtain a foothold here. It is the system of refrigeration that these butchers objected to, they refused to use the process, or through their association they could have established a plant of their own and sold to their connections and association members in Eastern cities in competition with Swift, Armour, Morris and Allerton, and so held their own. As they refused to fight the devil with fire the monopoly, so-called, still grows, and is now invading St. Louis to make the butcher simply a retailer of meat. A butchers' association erecting a plant here, and selling to Eastern butchers, all being interested in the profits of the work, would come nearer meeting the wants of the butchers and do more good to the producers than anything else that can happen. But I fear the butchers will continue to fight the system, and not the monopoly, and the consequence will be that eventually St. Louis will only have one buyer.

Beef Contracts.

Indian beef contract bids are being received to-day. The town is full of stockmen. These Indian contracts are desirable as furnishing a demand near the ranges, and sometimes furnishing very good ranges, too. Messrs. Hughes & Simpson, E. C. Sugg, and Jot Gunter are here from Texas, and there is a healthy delegation from the West. As I write the result is not announced.

Wool.

As is customary at this time of year, wool is going down. The top notch on Texas a few months ago in Eastern markets was 27 cts. The figure is now 24. The top notch is seldom reached. Buyers lost money last fall, and they are now very much disposed to be cautious. I am sorry to see that the fine wool—the beautiful, fine, long, healthy staple wool only grown in Australia and required for the clothes congressmen wear, and necessary to mix with American wool to form a perfect cloth—is really called tops, ring waste, garnetted waste, etc., and is smuggled in at a low duty, when it ought to pay a high one. The old saying "there's more ways of choking a dog than with butter" is well exemplified by the destruction of the tariff by hook or by crook. Three or four years ago the writer figured on foreign wools competing in the American markets with domestic wools of similar character, and the duty used to be figured Prairie Fires.

ATCHISON, Kas., April 13.—No less than fifteen persons have been burned to death by prairie fires which started near Nicodemus, Graham county. The fires have swept northwest on an air line into Norton county, destroying everything in their path. In places the track is from two and a half to seven miles wide, the great, roaring sea of flame rolling in tremendous sheets under the impetus of the high wind which prevailed all day Saturday and night. Starting on the south fork of Solomon river in Graham county, the fire swept north to the north fork, which it crossed at Edmond, on the Central Branch railroad, in Norton county and at last accounts was sweeping towards the northwest, diagonally across Norton county, in the direction of Decatur, the adjoining county on the west, carrying destruction and death in its path. Thousands of head of stock of all kinds have been burned and thousands of tons of hay, corn, wheat and from 100 to 175 houses and barns have been destroyed. The people living along the line of the fire have been left homeless and destitute.

They Don't Like to Walk.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 9.—The officials of the Kansas City stock yards have felt the blow which the Interstate Commerce bill has struck at free passes. All of their annual passes have been called in and they will have to pay for the transportation of themselves over the country. It is doubted in some circles, however, whether this will be permanent. In a sense the stock yards occupy the same position relative to the railroads that the railroads occupy to each other. That is to say they are connecting links between the various lines doing business here. The transfer of stock that is billed through here, from one railroad to the stock yards and thence to another railroad, is identical and similar in all respects to the transfer from one railroad to a connecting line and thence to a third road. It is thought that the commission will interpret the law so as to place stock yard companies on the same level with railroads in this respect and that the passes will be re-issued to the stock yards company's offices.

Origin of the "Sherry Cobbler."

Philadelphia American.
Mr. William E. Burton, on a very hot and sweltering day came into Dicky Harbut's saloon, formerly of Decatur street, and asked him to make some kind of cooling draught. Harbut squeezed a lemon into a large glass, adding to it various other fruits, and was about pouring in ice-water when Burton stopped him, telling him to use something stronger. Harbut then filled it with sherry. The next time Burton was in the place he called for a "cobbler's sherry," and from this has come the familiar "sherry cobbler."

The late legislature of New Mexico decreed that when trains kill cattle the railroad company shall pay the damages on the following basis of values: Texas yearlings, $7; Texas two-year-olds, $12; Texas three-year-olds and over, $15; American yearlings, $10; American two-year-olds, $14; American three-year-olds and over, $18; American work cattle, $25; American sheep, each, $2.50; Mexican sheep, $1.50. All half-blood Texas, Mexican and American cattle shall be counted as Texas cattle, and all three-quarter-blood American cattle shall be considered American cattle. Thoroughbred cattle, sheep, horses, mules, jacks, jennies and hogs shall be paid for at their cash value.

Absolutely pure.

My Oldest Child,

Now six years of age, when an infant six months old, was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees was one solid rash, ugly, painful, bloated, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. The physician did not know then, and does not know now what it was. Finally we were advised to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. Without the knowledge of our physician I procured a box of CUTICURA and a cake of CUTICURA SOAP. The effect

Was Simply Marvelous,

Using the two together, first washing him thoroughly with CUTICURA SOAP, then anointing him with CUTICURA. From the first application a change for the better appeared. The doctor said we had no further need of him, and ceased his visits. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred. We are welcome to make any use of this you may deem best. GEO. B. SMITH, Atty at Law and Ex-Pros. Atty, Ashland, Ohio. Reference, J. G. Weist, druggist, Ashland, O.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are sold everywhere. Price: CUTICURA, 50 cents; RESOLVENT, $1; SOAP, 25 cents. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston, Mass. Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."

NORTHWEST TEXAS,

Where "the folks are kind and clever," the climate is mild, the soil is rich and fertile. Railroads are now building through it in almost every county, cattle are fat, ponies, are sleek, oceans of mesquite grass, rivers of pure water, pint-cup peaches and wild turkeys, Chickasaw plums and fifty-pound watermelons, and

LAND IS CHEAP,

But the price will be higher by next fall, so you had better because there is a great deal of choice land unsold, which can be had in large or small quantities at low prices, and because if you come now you can put in corn, oats, millet, sorghum and vegetables in the months of March, April and May, and make a crop.

There are nine chartered railroads to run south from Kansas, through the Indian Territory to Texas, and they all make the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, a point in their charters. The following named railroads are now under process of construction into the Panhandle of Texas, viz: Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, from Kiowa, Kansas; Fort Worth & Denver City, from Wichita Falls; Fort Worth & Western, from Fort Worth; Kansas Southern, from Fort Worth; Texas Central, from Albany.

FARM LANDS.

We have a large list of choice river-bottom land, situated on the Red river, the Wichita, the Brazos, the Pease, the Canadian and their tributaries, and can furnish any size tract, from 5 to 5000 acres, situated near or along the railroads now in operation, or as projected and located.

GRAZING LANDS.

We have large and small ranches, in tracts of 2000 to 50,000 acres, with lasting water, good protection, and well set in mesquite grass, and can make the location in almost any one of the Panhandle counties that may be desired.

FENCED PASTURES.

We have on sale, with or without stock and ranch outfits complete, several very well selected fenced pastures, located most favorably as to grass, water and protection, in good condition and on reasonable terms and low prices. These properties are situated in Clay, Wichita, Archer, Baylor, Knox and Cottle counties. They all contain a very large proportion of first-class agricultural land, which will increase in value over 100 per cent. over present prices within the next five years, and are really CHOICE INVESTMENTS.

We can furnish almost any amount and quality of farm or ranch land desired, and request correspondents to state about the number of acres wanted and whether bottom or upland, and at about what price, and whether for ranch or farming purposes. Prospectors while in Fort Worth can obtain full information of our properties of manager of this paper. WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS.

DALLAS DOTS.

Judge T. A. Falvey, judge of the El Paso district court, came in from the West, accompanied by Col. H. B. Stoddard and several other gentlemen. They report good rains to have fallen in various localities, and say the indications for plenty of rain throughout the West are flattering. The judge said before he left El Paso, reports of heavy rains in Presidio county had come in, and that in all probability all sections of the West had been blessed with their share of rain before this time.

Within the past week rains in various portions of the West are reported, with good indications for more and stockmen are becoming hopeful, and say if they have as much rain from now on as they generally do, they will have fatter looking cattle than was ever before seen in Texas.

Dr. Falsetter, a veterinary surgeon, will leave to-day for the Long S ranch, accompanied by Col. C. C. Slaughter and his son George. The doctor will spray about a thousand cows for them at the Long S ranch, after which it is the doctor's intention to visit other parts of the Northwest and perform the same operation on several thousand head of female cattle for other parties before his return to Dallas.

The president of the State Live Stock association, Col. H. B. Stoddard of Bryan, is making a tour of the state in behalf of the prospective Texas packery which is to be located at Houston. He arrived here Wednesday from El Paso, and is quite jubilant over the packery scheme. He thinks the cattlemen's spirits will revive as they hear the news of rain everywhere and that they will unhesitatingly and cheerfully contribute to the packery enterprise, and is confident the scheme will be a successful one, though up to this time cattlemen have been somewhat backward in contributing their money to the enterprise on account of the continued dry weather.

Col. C. C. Slaughter of this city and Col. H. B. Stoddard, who arrived here during the week, were actively engaged in endeavoring to secure the position of agent for the bureau of animal industry for Mr. Thorp Andrews. Several cattlemen of this place showed their appreciation of Mr. Andrews' ability to fill that position by sending telegraphic petitions to Commissioner Colman, Senator Coke and others at Washington, indorsing Mr. Andrews as a suitable person to fill the vacancy caused by the decease of Col. Sydney P. Cunningham. The office is a good one, paying as it does $8 per day when the agent is actually engaged in the discharge of the duties of the office, and there being but little time he is not so engaged. It is the desire of most every one who is acquainted with Mr. Andrews that he shall be successful in getting the appointment.

Capt. B. F. Buzard of San Antonio was in Dallas on Wednesday. He brings encouraging reports of the Houston refrigerator project and gives it as his opinion that the cattlemen will soon subscribe the amount necessary to put the enterprise on foot.

CHICAGO MARKET LETTER.

Good Demand and Spare Supply, With Fair Prices.

U. S. YARDS, }
CHICAGO, ILL., April 11, '87. }

Regular Correspondence Texas Live Stock Journal.

The week opened with moderate receipts and the markets good all around. Cattle buyers evidently dislike to pay the prices but the demand is fully equal to the supply and the latter is decreasing.

E. R. Hunter & Co., live stock commission merchants, started the week with the following sales of corn-fed Texas cattle, all from Ennis. McCarty & H., 800 steers, 911 lbs, $3.87; A. E. McCarty, 40 head, 900 lbs, $3.87; R. Blasengame, 20 steers, 952 lbs, $3.95, and Blasengame Bros., 19 steers, 970 lbs, $3.95.

The general market for Texas cattle has been quiet and steady. Offerings mainly of poor quality. Among the late sales of thin grassers were the following:

J. M. Flint of Presidio City, Texas, marketed 73 578-lb grass cows at $2.25, and 45 calves at $7 per head.

P. Timon of Beeville, Texas, marketed 47 749-lb grass cows at $2.20.

Fred W. Simpson, Colorado City, Texas, marketed 23 780-lb grass bulls at $2.

Some 70 to 80-lb Kansas Texas sheep sold at $4@4.65.

A lot of over 500 fine wool 95-lb Nebraska sheep sold at $5.25.

Shorn sheep have been selling so far at $3.50@4 for averages of 78 to 121 lbs.

Nebraska woolled sheep are selling at $4@5.10.

There is a large increase in the number of industrial workers employed this year and consequently the meat eaters of the land have more money with which to buy meat than last year.

The new railroad law is creating a good deal of disturbance and is temporarily checking the freight movement. It will be all right after awhile and the people will be able to reach the railroads through legislation.

A. C. HALLIWELL.

News comes from St. John, N. B. that the fishery cruiser Vigilant, when sailing out of Beaver harbor a few days ago, sighted an American fishing vessel within the three-mile limit and evidently after bait. The Vigilant gave chase and gained on the Yankee, who refused to heave to even when a blank shot was fired. The chase was continued, but the American vessel soon gained the line and was safe. This is the first gun fired this season by a Canadian cruiser.

ST. LOUIS MARKET LETTER.

Through Texas in Light Supply, and Good Prices for Decent Stock.

EAST ST. LOUIS, ILL., }
April 12, 1887. }

Regular Correspondence Texas Live Stock Journal.

Plenty of corn-fed and wintered Texans are now coming to market, and are principally fed in Missouri and Kansas and wintered in the Territory. The prices there command range from $3.75@4.50 per 100 lbs, according to quality, with the bulk of sales going at $4 per 100 lbs. All things considered, these are pretty good figures and come up to the highest anticipation of the most ardent bull around about here, that is certain.

So far but few through Texans have arrived, but several commission firms have informed me that they expect a good number from this on.

One thing is certain, decent steers, no matter whether they are natives, Texas, southwest, or Indians, find prompt disposal at what may be called satisfactory figures. That booming prices are to prevail soon is not denied by anybody. Many of our largest shippers must curtail their operations considerably at times for want of offerings.

Common to medium mixed stuff, cows, heifers, bulls, yearlings, etc., slow at $2.35@3 per 100 lbs. Decent mixed butcher stock $3.25@3.90 per 100 lbs.

I could give quite a number of corn-fed Texas sales, but the range is enough, since so few come from Texas.

To-day Scaling & Tamblin sold 264 grass Texas steers of 806 lbs. average at $3.25 per 100 lbs. This is a good figure.

Texas sheep are in good demand and in fair supply. To-day Scaling & Tamblin sold 383 fall clipped Texas of 81 lbs average at $3.50 per 100 lbs.

Good sheared sheep are the kind wanted, especially now that we have an early spring and the weather is so oppressively warm. RATTLER.

In the case of the State vs. Doctor Richards, of Henrietta, the jury found the defendant not guilty. The doctor was charged with incest with his step-daughter on the 28th of last February. Relative Cost of Mutton.

The National Live Stock Journal publishes an article on the relative cost of mutton, in which it states that it requires considerably more food to make a given live weight of mutton than it does for beef, but that the sheep makes more value from a given amount of food than does the steer, and cites the following in substantiation of the premises:

"Sir S. B. Lawes got 6.2 pounds of water-free beef out of one hundred pounds of water-free nutritive material, and eight pounds of water-free mutton out of the same amount of food—a difference of nearly one-third in favor of the sheep. In live weight the figures stood nine pounds of steer and eleven pounds of sheep out of 100 pounds of dry food eaten. The reason why more food per pound of live weight of sheep is required is not only because of the digestion and assimilation of a larger proportion of it, but because of a more radiating surface on the number of sheep; required to make the live weight of a 1,000 pound steer, thus calling for more food of respiration, or for the keeping up of the temperature of the animals. It also appears to be a fact that fine-blooded sheep require more food per pound of live weight than the coarse-wooled.

"Professor Sanborn, of the Missouri Agricultural college, estimates the demand of sheep for food to exceed, for each 1,000 pounds of live weight, that of cattle by 25 to 35 per cent. But let it be remembered that the sheep not only produces mutton, but a fleece of wool at the same time, while the steer converts its food into meat only. In another way the sheep is more economical than the steer. It feeds largely on what is rejected by the steer, and would otherwise go to waste. Randall tells us that in trials as to the relative shrinkage from cooking between mutton and beef, the result was in favor of the mutton. Professor Sanborn makes other comparisons, thus: 'Given 100 pounds each of live steer and sheep at 4 cents a pound live weight, if we subtract eight pounds of wool, at 20 cents a pound, from cost of the sheep, at 60 per cent shrinkage, will cost 6.66 cents per pound; or the beef costs 42 per cent more than the mutton.' It would seem from all the evidence, that there can be no doubt of the greater economy in growing mutton than in growing beef."

Wool in Montana.

The Montana Wool Grower summarizes the losses of sheep in that territory, the prospects concerning the coming clip, and its probable condition, as follows:

"The season has been a remarkable one in the matter of losses among sheep. The widest difference has existed in this matter among flocks upon ranges but a few miles apart. In some cases the loss from severe weather has been scarcely 1 per cent, while in others it has gone as high as 80 per cent.

"Let us take an outside figure and assume that 20 per cent. of the sheep of the territory have died since last shearing season from all causes. Last year the river and railroads took out over 7,000,000 pounds of wool. This represents at least a shearing of 1,150,000 sheep in the territory last year. Our sheep are largely breeding stock, and this 1,150,000 sheep took into winter with them at least a number of lambs equal to 30 per cent. of their own number or about 350,000. Of this 1,150,000 sheep, allow that we lose 20 per cent. this year, and we will still have 50,000 more to shear than we had a year ago. We shall have hard on to 8,000,000 lbs. of wool this year, and 300,000 pelts to ship East. In this northern country we lose in winter more lambs than sheep of any other class. The old breeding ewes that have died this winter will be more than replaced by the young ewes coming in this spring for the first time; hence we should expect more lambs this spring than last, in spite of our recent losses, and we shall doubtless go into the next winter with considerably over 1,500,000 of sheep. The sheep left are the best and strongest, and we expect a clip of strong, healthy wool fully up to the average."

The Rain.

Within the past week rains have fallen in every part of the state, and hope is again revived. The dispatches to the daily papers are as follows:

QUANAH, April 12.—The best rain since September is falling now. It is worth thousands of dollars to this drouth-stricken section.

SWEETWATER, April 12.—It began raining here about 6 o'clock this evening and has been raining about two hours, with fine prospects for a heavy rain.

BIG SPRINGS, April 12.—A copious rain fell here this afternoon, it being the first for about seven months. Good rains are also reported at all points between Merkle and Van Horn on the Texas & Pacific railway, a distance of over 300 miles. This rain is a great boon to stockmen in this vicinity, as many of them could not hold out much longer.

COLORADO CITY, April 12.—A tremendous rain fell here this evening and is still falling, and indications are that the storm has spread over a large scope of country. This will be the saving of the stock interests, as the young grass has already started and will soon be large enough for stock. Advice received to-day from Estacado, Crosby county, report a heavy rainfall there last Saturday and the farmers and stockmen in good spirits.

Thirty-three head of Panhandle steers, averaging 950 pounds, were sold in Pueblo, Colorado, last week, at $3.50, or $93.25 each.

J. W. Robbins of Toyah creek sold 500 yearlings to Clay Mann for $8 per head. Mr. Robbins also sold 1,000 three-year-old steers to Indian Territory buyers for $18 per head.

Waxahachie is hatching of a newly hatched chicken with one head, two beaks, three eyes, two throats or gullets, one body and two legs. One eye was in the middle of the head and much larger than the eyes on the side of the head.

John Sparks of Sparks & Tinnin, Rancho Grande, Nevada, without any previous experience, spayed 200 heifers this winter on his Texas ranch, not losing one, all which shows it pays to spay, and a cowman of sound judgment is competent to spay.

Silver City, (N. M.) Enterprise.—Half Brothers, of Texas, have located about 1,000 head of stock cattle in the south end of the Burros, on the W. M. ranch. It is said that they gave a half interest in the cattle for a similar interest in the ranch. The range is one of the finest in the country.

Denver Range Journal.—T. T. D. Andrews, the "silver-tongued orator," J. T. Putnam, "Slade," journalist, "Honda" of the Pueblo Review, B. B. Bullwinkle, novelist, C. M. Russell, artist, J. Porphuro, artist, Rev. S. W. Wesley, revivalist, have all been genuine cowboys working for wages, and Rider Haggard, novelist, author of "She," was a South African bull-wacker.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Townsend last week shot and killed Manning Clements, a stockman of McCulloch county, who had been in Ballinger several weeks shipping stock. Instances of mares breeding to old age are reported as follows: "The successful and splendid constitutioned hackney stallion Denmark 177 was foaled in the twenty-fifth year of his dam's age, and with Denmark at her feet she obtained first prize in 1862 at the great Yorkshire show. In Lord Rosslyn's stud the thoroughbred mares, Euphorbia, now in her twenty-second year, and Feronia, now in her nineteenth year, produced foals, the former in 1885 and the latter in 1886."

Vernon Guard.—Last Saturday D. A. Turner sold a tract of 1,476 acres of land seven miles east of Vernon to J. O. Stalley of Sidney, Ohio, for $5,900. Mr. Sidney expects to move upon the land this fall and stock it with Ohio horses. Quite a number of Mr. Stalley's Ohio friends are waiting his return and most favorable. He is not afraid on account of the drought; has plenty of this world's goods and will cast his all with us and help develop our beautiful country.

Denver Range Journal.—Colonel S. P. Cunningham of Fort Worth, Texas, spent a few days in the city last week in consultation with H. M. Taylor in regard to the traffic of cattle destined for the range country. The bureau of animal industry is deeply interested in this question, and, through these agents, is arranging the necessary regulations with Western sanitary boards and railway lines to prevent the transit of cattle that may be infected with contagious diseases. We are glad to hear from Colonel Cunningham that Texas cattle have wintered well, and that their owners are determined in moving them to Northern ranges to strictly comply with the rulings of states and territorial sanitary boards, to the end that no contagious or infectious diseases may be chargeable to Texas.

New York Tribune.—While the Marquis de Mores has been unable to induce the cattlemen of St. Louis, represented by Col. R. D. Hunter, to enter into the scheme for furnishing meat to consumers in New York directly from the ranches, I am told he has effected a considerable consolidation of interests with Texas cattlemen. John B. Perry, the wealthy capitalist of St. Louis, said to me: "It is my impression that the marquis will be able to carry through his project. He has made arrangements with the Texas cattlemen represented here by Colonel Alexander More and M. Barnes, which are satisfactory to the marquis and the Texas cattle growers. Colonel Hunter's failure to enter into the project was due to the fact that he has recently entered into large personal enterprises which prevented him from making any new engagements."

Percheron Horses; A Valuable Recommendation.

The exhibition of fine horses in connection with the annual American Fat Stock Show at Chicago has become a very attractive feature. At the late exhibition for 1886 the show of draft horses was exceptionally grand. The finest specimens of Clydesdales, English draft, Shire and Percheron were present in large numbers from all parts of the country, and evoked the admiration of the thousands of visitors. The most notable exhibit and the center of attraction was that of beautiful black Percherons, of the royally bred Brilliant family, from the Oaklawn stud of M. W. Dunham, Wayne, Illinois. While looking at them, admiring their splendid proportions, one of visitors, Mr. Heineman, (the most extensive country buyer of horses in the United States, who supplies with the draft horses the great horse dealer of New York, I. H. Dahlgren), said: "I would give fifty dollars more for a draft horse showing strong marks of French blood than for any other breed." Coming from such a competent judge of the value of horses, this is a high compliment to the Percheron breed, and valuable information to those breeding horses for the market.

An Effusion From Slade.

MILES CITY, MON., March 26.

W. A. Garner, Esq., Manager Texas Live Stock Journal.

DEAR SIR: Yours of 16th inst with check supplement for $112.50 received by due course of mail. Contents noted and spent. This little literary effusion of yours, though no doubt dashed off hurriedly between interviews with congressmen and cowboys, afforded me a great deal of pleasure—and groceries for another week. The fact that the supplement bore the signature of your cashier does not at all detract from your literary fame, for the idea was doubtless your own. I consider it an able effort and shall be pleased to hear from you often in the same strain. I do not care to criticise your style of composition harshly, but it appears to me if you were to make the figures immediately following the dollar mark a few sizes larger it would be a great improvement. I merely throw this out as a suggestion. You can act on it or not, just as you see fit, but I am not the man to withhold wholesome advice from a struggling young journalist like yourself.

I was very sorry to learn that the drouth interfered seriously with the pecuniary condition of some of the citizens of the great Lone Star state, but the fact is, you have so much state, and have it arranged in such an awkward shape that it is a hard matter to fit it with a climate exactly suitable to all interests. With you moisture is an essential element in the climatic conditions, and if you don't have rain occasionally you are liable to fall into the bad habit of consuming other liquids which do not tend to your spiritual or temporal benefit. Up here, where beer is two bits a drink, and it rains only once in two years, the effect is different. We stay right with alkali water, rain or no rain. Another idiosyncrasy of your country is that it needs rain continually during the year, while in this country we store up our moisture during the winter and let the sun melt it out for use as occasion demands. This winter we have had stored all over the earth from two to three feet of this moisture—rather overdoing the thing, as you must readily see, and interfering seriously with our grazing facilities. As a consequence very few beeves on Montana ranges are now ready for the butcher. In fact, it is by no means uncommon to see a big bony four-year-old steer wearing that weary, hectic, careworn look which tells plainer than words that he has ceased to take an active interest in the affairs of this life. A friend of mine who has punched more cows than he ever went to school informed me seriously to-day that the loss this winter among trail cattle and especially among the bulls will amount to a hundred and twenty per cent. He may have exaggerated, however.

I hope your sheep editor has returned from his visit to St. Louis, for as I understand the interstate commerce law it operates along the line of the Missouri Pacific road just the same as elsewhere, and Hale is too pony-built to make much progress in counting ties down through the Beautiful Indian Territory and the other landscape which intervenes between St. Louis and the end of the street-car track in Fort Worth.

I had contemplated a visit to Texas, as I wrote you in the letter dunning you for that cash, but your reply obviates the absolute necessity of my calling on you, and then there are a great many—I might say a very great many—railroad ties between Miles City and Fort Worth, and you have doubtless realized ere this that the usefulness of passes has been greatly impaired by a recent act of congress. So I have decided to postpone my visit until congress meets again and legislates for our relief. Distantly thine,

SLADE.

Worth Your Attention.

Evidence of Merit.

The best evidence of the merit of any article offered for sale to the people is its popularity—that is, the readiness with which it sells. If a baking powder, for instance, fails to give entire satisfaction in any particular, the cook never fails to complain and it becomes unsalable. No body has ever complained about Silver Leaf Baking Powder because it is, full strength, absolutely pure chemically, and makes the most wholesome bread of any powder on the market. The guarantee of J. H. Brown is in itself sufficient to make it go like hot cakes.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low-test, short-weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall St., N.Y.

No Suffering in Presidio County.

FORT DAVIS, April 7, 1887.

Editor Texas Live Stock Journal:

I note in your issue of April 2, first page, weekly edition, an item headed "Dispatch from San Antonio," which certainly does our portion of the state a very great injury, and is calculated to mislead those who have never been in this part of the state, to prevent settlers from coming in and occupying the vast areas of state school land which we have here, and to decrease the value of individual property here. Your informant says that "all the streams in Presidio county are dry." Now, Presidio county covered about thirteen thousand square miles of territory before the Twentieth legislature divided it, making four new counties. Of the streams in old Presidio county we may mention San Francisco, Maravillar, Calamity, Goat, Alamo, and Cibolo creeks, all of which empty into the Rio Grande, excepting Calamity creek, which is a tributary of Maravillar creek. None of them are running streams their entire length, the water sinking into the gravelly beds of the creeks before it reaches the river. So, of the portion from where the water sinks to the river, one may truthfully say "it is dry," yet each of the streams named is now a good running stream, in some cases for a distance of forty miles. Of the many springs out from these creeks I have learned of but few that have failed to supply water this season, and where a little work and time are expended in developing these springs they afford an abundance of water. On my ranch I have a spring that four years ago did not furnish enough water for twenty head of cattle, while it now furnishes enough to irrigate fifty acres of farm land and about two thousand fruit trees and vines.

In one of the streams referred to, in the year 1882 there was about seven miles of running water, near the source. Now it is a fine flowing stream for a distance of thirty miles, running through a fine rich valley. This is the result of the labor of a few energetic stockmen who ditched the water around a few gravel beds where it was sinking.

Your informant says, "the water-holes are all dry." I suppose he refers to rain water-tanks, which is true. We have had no rains here for months; yet, notwithstanding that fact, we have good grass, our cattle are in good condition and have been strong enough to take the trail any time since February first. Gano Bros. have just marketed a train-load of beeves. The Presidio Live Stock company are shipping fat beeves to the El Paso market. San Antonio market is being furnished with fat beef from the ranges of Brown, Kincaid and others of old Presidio county, and these fat cattle have not been fed on cactus, either.

The fact that Mr. Kincaid has been successful enough on his fine Presidio county ranch to now have, as your dispatch states, three or four thousand marketable steers to move, surely does not prove that we have no grass here and are going to the dogs generally.

There are large herds of cattle leaving our county, but they are steer cattle. Instead of stockmen leaving generally there are many ranchmen who will not sell a yearling this spring.

As to the cattle living on cactus, with the exception of a few miles back from the Rio Grande and some canons in the Chinati and Chisos mountains, we have but little of it. I do not think there is, on fifty thousand acres of our company's range, enough to feed fifty head of cattle if needed.

Our flockmasters are all happy, having fat sheep, raising full crops of lambs and expecting a good clip. This, again, is not the result of "cactus" and scarcity of water, but of our splendid gramma grass and good streams. Our company has suffered no loss from death of cattle the past winter, and I can not learn of any one here who has cattle dying. In fact, as near as I can learn, our ranges are in better condition than many in other parts of the state.

S. C. THOMPSON,

President Santiago Cattle Company.

Nelson Story tells the Bozeman Chronicle that his losses will reach $200,000. Out of 14,000 head he expects to save only about 5000. Lack of feed on the range caused this, more than the severity of the weather. East of Clark's fork the cattle losses will not be over 5 or 10 per cent. Mr. Story says the entire lower country stock have suffered greatly, and the loss will be from 50 to 75 per cent.

Pure Ingredients.

The widespread popularity of Silver Loaf baking powder is due to the strength and purity of the ingredients that enter into its composition, and repeated chemical tests place it side by side with the most popular brands in the market and show it the peer of any powder yet offered the public. The manufacturer asks only a trial with other brands, and is willing to abide the result.

For Sale.

Sixteen hundred acres of land in McCulloch county, known as the N. P. Fuleher ranch, situated 7 miles southwest from Brady City. Has a splendid spring of water, never failing; fine grass; 800 acres the best timbered land in the county; large per cent. of tillable land. Acknowledged on all hands to be one of the best ranches of its size in Texas. An excellent quality of coal is found in several parts of the county and is now being worked. The general prospects of the county are as bright as any in this section of the state. The above described ranch will be sold for $4,500. Apply to T. E. HAMMOND, Burnet, Texas, or, A. M. WOOD, 810 N. 2nd street, St. Louis, Mo.

Dull Times.

One would not think so if they would drop in at the popular dry goods house of B. C. Evans Co. Their store is crowded with ladies, admiring the large and complete stock of spring goods which they are just receiving. Their employees have no idle time as they are kept busy as bees opening up new style fabrics with names unpronounceable and displaying them to the admiring gaze of their many lady customers who crowd their store.

accomplishes for everybody exactly what is claimed for it. One of the reasons for the great popularity of the Mustang Liniment is found in its universal applicability. Everybody needs such a medicine. The Lumberman needs it in case of accident. The Housewife needs it for general family use. The Cattleman needs it for his teams and his men. The Mechanic needs it always on his work bench.

The Miner needs it in case of emergency. The Plowman needs it—can't get along without it. The Farmer needs it in his house, his stable, and his stock yard.

The Steamboat man or the Boatman needs it in liberal supply afloat and ashore. The Horse-fancier needs it—it is his best friend and safest reliance.

The Stock-grower needs it—it will save him thousands of dollars and a world of trouble.

The Railroad man needs it and will need it as long as his life is a round of accidents and dangers.

The Woodcutter needs it. There is nothing like it as an antidote for the dangers to life, limb and comfort which surround the plowman.

The Merchant needs it about his store among his employees. Accidents will happen, and when these come the Mustang Liniment is wanted at once. Keep a Bottle in the House. 'Tis the best of economy.

Cattle Trail in the Territory.

The secretary of the interior upon the consideration of a request presented by cattle owners in Texas for the establishment of a new cattle trail through the Chickasaw territory, has decided that there is no law which empowers the interior department to make an appropriation of such a portion of the Chickasaw Nation as would be required for the establishment of such a trail. Cattle owners in Texas have complained to the secretary of the interior against the action of the Chickasaws in the Indian Territory in levying a tax of 15 cents per head on all cattle passing through and have inquired whether there exists any means whereby they may be relieved from the payment thereof. The governor of the Chickasaw Nation has informed the interior department that the law complained of was passed by the Chickasaw national council. He disclaims any wish or purpose on the part of the Chickasaws to regulate or interfere with commerce, but says: "We are simply regulating the price of our grass, which is valuable property, costing in Texas pastures from 15 to 25 cents per month; that there is no objection or hindrance by tax or otherwise to driving on the regularly established cattle trail in the western part of their territory, open to all genuine drivers of through herds, and that he fails to see where the constitution gives a right to intruders to saunter along their country roads and graze their cattle on adjacent fields. The secretary of the interior in his decision in the case says: "If the country roads to which the governor of the Chickasaw Nation refers are public highways through this territory, this department can not recognize any interference on the part of the Chickasaws with the free and uninterrupted passage of cattle thereupon, as long as said cattle are kept within the prescribed or recognized limits of the established cattle trails and public highways, and are not allowed to trespass upon grazing or other lands of the Chickasaws, and if complaint of such trespass is made by the Chickasaws to the proper officer of the department, it will be bound to take such action as will fulfill the guarantees contained in the treaties with these Indians, and enforce the law against trespassers and intruders in the Indian Territory."

Award of Beef Contracts.

St. Louis, Mo., April 14.—The awards of contracts for supplying beef to the various Indian agencies was made by the commissioner this afternoon. The bids range from 5 to 15 per cent. lower than those of last year, which will result in a saving of fully $50,000 to the government. John N. Simpson of Texas gets the contracts for the Rose Bud agency, 6,500,000 pounds gross, also for the Lower Brule agency, 1,500,000 pounds; William A. Faxton, Pine Ridge agency, 4,500,000 pounds; Thomas C. Powers, Standing Rock agency, 45,000 pounds; D. R. Flint, Cheyenne and Arapahoe agency, 3,000,000 pounds, and the same quantity for the Kiowa, Comanche and Wichita agency; Joseph L. Smith, the Cheyenne River agency, 2,150,000 pounds.

Polled Cattle.

Editor Texas Live Stock Journal:

In looking over several copies of your paper I see that good bulls are wanted and are beginning to be appreciated in your state, and that the merits of the black Polled cattle are pushing themselves upon the attention of your cattlemen. We have been handling the Polled-Angus and Galloways for five years, and are prepared to claim for them a position in the very front ranks of the beef cattle of this country; being as hardy as the hardest. They are quiet, growthy feeders, and their flesh is of the finest quality, being the highest priced meat in the markets. Their having no horns and being a solid, uniform color makes them favorites wherever handled. The great demand for them in the Western country has exhausted the supply to such an extent that they have not been introduced into your state as they should have been. Having now on hand a number of thoroughbred and high-grade bulls and heifers for sale, we wish to put a card before the readers of your paper. Yours very truly, LEONARD BROS.

Silver Loaf.

Is properly named. Bread made with this baking powder is as light and nutritious as it is possible to be made. It never falls when the directions are followed, hence there is never a word of complaint heard against it. The experienced cook is able to make as good bread with it as the professional baker, simply because its ingredients are so compounded as to make failure impossible when the directions are followed; a trial is all that is necessary to make it indispensable to all well regulated households. J. H. Brown guarantees this.

THE CLIP.

Uvalde News:—Mr. W. Broderick Cloete, general manager of an English syndicate, located about Monclova, Mexico, said to be capitalized at $60,000,000 and in which the Prince of Wales and Hon. Victor A. Nelson Hood are said to be interested, has been scattering a good deal of loose cash in this section lately, having purchased 3500 Angora goats from Mr. F. A. Piper through Mr. W. M. Landrum and which Mr. Lee Landrum will manage for him; also, 8000 or 10,000 cattle from Shiner Bros. That's the kind of hairpin Sir Broderick is—very welcome in these parts. This lets Mr. Piper out of the goat business. "I lock stock and barrel," not that he thinks it a poor business but because he had a good chance to sell. The News reiterates its faith in the staying qualities of the william goat and his many other noble traits of character as the class of stock for this country. We would like to see goat men hold on to their herds and put in more Angora blood.

Marfa New Era:—We are informed by Johnnie Crosson that this year's crop of lambs promises to be very large. He now has 4000 from one to three months old, all doing well, and expects to raise 90 per cent.

By careful selection of prolific ewes and vigorous rams from prolific dams there is no doubt we can greatly increase the chances of a larger number of lambs. But such advantages are useless, however, unless we take into consideration the ability of the ewes to nourish the lambs after they are born, as it is much better for the ewes to bring only a single lamb each, which they can properly care for, than to bear twins to be fed on bottles by hand, a laborious undertaking, which would be too arduous in the management of a large flock.

The wool men of Ballinger are raising a fund to build a wool warehouse, and the following sums have been subscribed: A. Mathews, $100; W. S. Davis, $100; D. P. Gay, $100; Davis, Parks & Co., $100; Guion & Blanchard, $100; Searcy Baker, $50; Jno. R. Day & Co., $50; Wm. Cameron & Co., $50; Harlan & Sample, $50; W. J. Wingate, $25; McAlpine & Co., $25; Helm & Olive, $25; Walker & Beakley, $25; J. W. Rose, $25; Stinnett & Greene, $10; W. A. Rives, $10; J. C. Wiley & Co., $10; W. J. Miller $10.

The crossing of breeds should be done carefully. Attempts have often been made to establish permanent flocks of sheep which possessed the qualities of both races, but without success. The results of those who have had experience in sheep breeding by crossing any mutton breed on the Merino, with but few exceptions, have failed to realize their expectations, and have sacrificed their flocks or bred back to extirpate the foreign blood infused into their Merino flocks.

A. Armentrout bought of O. P. Watson, from Ranger, Texas, a clip of wool at 19 cts; also another clip, from T. D. Hamilton, from Wise county, at 20 cents.

J. C. Crowdus & Co. made their first shipment of the spring clip this week. The wool went to St. Louis to E. S. Brooks & Co.

We note two sales of fall clip Texas wool in Philadelphia this week, one lot of 2500 pounds at 22 1/2 cts. and another lot of 21,500 lbs. at 10 cts.

A. Armentrout has shipped two lots of the spring clip so far and has another lot about ready to ship, which will go to St. Louis.

Sheep effectually keep down the weeds and harsh grasses. They are as beneficial to some pastures as the pruning knife is to the orchard. They will eat anything that is green and tender, and the young briers, weeds, bushes and other growth are consumed, thereby saving the farmer much labor, while by the droppings they prepare the field for the plow.

J. C. Crowdus & Co. report the purchase of several small clips this week at from 18 to 20 cts. per lb.

Funsten & Co. of St. Louis say in their circular to wool producers: "Let us impress upon you the urgency of ordering sacks early, for when orders are delayed and come in all together, we can't serve you as promptly as we would like, and you are perhaps inconvenienced by the delay."

The San Angelo Enterprise says Joe Ellis is preparing to ship 2000 head of muttons to St. Louis.

Capt. Ed Duggan has begun shearing his 45,000-lb clip. His lambing this spring has been the most successful on record in all his experience.

San Angelo Enterprise:—Fred Eads of Eden, Concho county sold 800 head of mutton last week, at $2.25—after being shorn, ranch delivery—and this isn't a good season for mutton either.

Ammonia in Baking Powders.

From the Scientific American.

Among the recent discoveries in science and chemistry, none is more important than the uses to which common ammonia can be properly put as a leavening agent and which indicate that this familiar salt is hereafter to perform an active part in the preparation of our daily food.

The carbonate of ammonia is an exceedingly volatile substance. Place a small portion of it upon a knife and hold over a flame, and it will almost immediately be entirely developed into gas and pass off into the air. The gas thus formed is a simple composition of nitrogen and hydrogen. No residue is left from the ammonia. This gives it its superiority as a leavening power over soda and cream of tartar used alone, and has induced its use as a supplement to these articles. A small quantity of ammonia in the dough is producing bread that will be lighter, sweeter and more wholesome than that risen by any other leavening agent. When it is acted upon by the heat of baking, the leavening gas that raises the dough is liberated. In this act it uses itself up, as it were; the ammonia is entirely diffused, leaving no trace or residuum whatever. The light, fluffy, flaky appearance, so desirable in biscuits, etc., and so sought after by professional cooks, is said to be imparted to them only by the use of this agent.

The bakers and baking powder manufacturers producing the finest goods have been quick to avail themselves of this useful discovery, and the handsomest and best bread and cake are now largely risen by the aid of ammonia combined, of course, with other leavening material.

Ammonia is one of the best known products of the laboratory. If, as seems to be justly claimed for it, the application of its properties to the purposes of cooking, results in giving us lighter and more whole-some bread, biscuit and cake, it will prove a boon to dyspeptic humanity, and will speedily force itself into general use in the new field to which science has assigned it.

Pearsall News:—Mr. G. S. Williamson shipped, yesterday, a number of cattle which are destined for the Terzitory. They will be pastured three months before crossing the boundaries, owing to quarantine restrictions.

Springer Bros., Springfield, Illinois, are now taking orders for spring pigs to be shipped when 3 months of age, single or in pairs, not akin. Some of these pigs are sired by Royal Granite and some by imported Haw Hill Chieftain. All of them, except one litter, are from sows that have produced one or more litters. The young sow with her first litter is of their well-known Windsor Castle stock. We should like to see some of this fine stock coming to Texas.

Carbolcrystal Sheep Dip.

This celebrated Dip is manufactured from the newly discovered product of coal-tar, which resembles carbolic acid, but with the remarkable distinction that it is neither poisonous nor corrosive, making it perfectly safe for general use. It is in every way superior to sulphur, lime or tobacco for curing scab and for killing all parasites that infest sheep. Soluble in cold water. Safe, cheap and convenient. dirt on the sheep's back. As to grease, that will vary according to the condition of the range, but generally it promises to be fairly average. By next week a more definite report can be made.

Chicago's Braggings.

Diffidence is not one of Chicago's sins. It is certainly a great city, and now the dictator in the beef market, but when it comes to claim for itself the great horse market, it will yet find some opposition to its cheeky pretension. The horse trade of that city for 1886 amounted to 26,388 head. San Antonio, with only 40,000 inhabitants, and away down in the Southwestern corner of the great American world, shipped 46,365 head out by rail to the North in 1886, and some 15,000 more were sold by the commission men here and delivered at the nearest station to the ranch, making an aggregate of 61,365 head, which is 34,977 more than bragging Chicago handled. This season, owing to the prevailing drouth, the aggregate will fall a little short of last year, but still it will lead Chicago. Horses are bought here by the car-load as one would buy single heads in that little village by the lake. Don't go to blowing on horses, or you will draw out some stories from this section that will astound the world.

The Interstate Commerce Law.

There seems much uneasiness among the ranchmen of the West as to the effect of the interstate commerce law on live stock rates. In reality it should not affect us in the least, except by putting every one on an equal footing. The intention of the framers of the law was that, because a man shipped 100 car-loads he could have no better rate than the man who has only one load, and to prevent discrimination in favor of one town as against another. For example, the rate on live stock on the Southern Pacific railway is the same to New Orleans, or St. Louis via New Orleans, from Marfa to Rosenberg, a distance of nearly 600 miles. The law does not affect this rate, but it will not allow a lower or higher charge at any of the intermediate points. Flour is the same rate on the Missouri Pacific at all points in Texas, but it does not allow a lower rate at Waco because there is a competing line there. If Waco is given a low rate, all the other stations must have the same. A rate cannot be changed until ten days public notice is given. Practically the railroads, or rather the stockholders, will be largely the beneficiaries of this law, but not so the officers. Heretofore a railroad officer could engage in a private enterprise and by making the concern special rates and rebates, crowd out competition. It is reasonable to believe that officials were personally benefited by the great majority of special rates that they made, to the detriment of the stockholders of the road and rival institutions. Hence the bitter opposition of such officials to this bill that aims to correct one of the most grievous evils that has cursed the business of this country for many years. Some of the orders and new regulations made by them are more in spite to make the law obnoxious than to comply with the same. It lies with the commission to take these autocrats down a peg or two or force them to resign, and have the railroads run for the benefit of everyone alike.

The cattlemen of South Texas are for Thorp Andrews for agent of the bureau of animal industry. Capt. John T. Lytle says that Senators Reagan and Coke, Gov. Ross, Congressman Mills, Ike T. Pryor, Maj. B. F. Buzard, A. H. Pierce, John N. Simpson, and many others of the leading public men and cattlemen are for him. He will suit the people of Southern Texas without a question.

San Antonio Horse Market.

The market has seen little actual change since last report, except in prospect by recent rains. The stock continues thin, but, now that it has rained, it is expected to improve materially inside of a month, and in plenty time for the height of the spring season. The majority of the stock on hand is Mexican, selling low, but fully up to its real value. The principal transaction of the season was that of some 400 odd head, gathered in the lower country by Ed Corkill, for S. V. Schrack of Kansas, who shipped them to Vernon, and will drive to Dodge City.

The shipments for the past week amounted to 748 head, a decrease of 15 head from the week before.

HORNS AND HOOF.

Geo. F. Hindes of Frio county corroborates the report of the severity of the drouth in his section of country, and says that if it were not for the prickly pear but little stock would be left.

A ranchman who recently made a good sale of steers to Northern parties, has already contracted for 2000 head of yearlings to take their places, but says that the terms are private.

The lack of water is killing more stock than a scarcity of feed. If the water was plenty much substance could be gotten from young shoots of chaparral, but going so far for water kills off the weak ones. Wells are the crying need of the Southwestern ranchman.

An old Mexican teamster who has fed prickly pear to work cattle all his life, says that the young leaves should be thrown away at this time of year, as there is very little nutriment in them, and they will scour stock.

Bermuda is the only green grass in this section, which proves its value as a pasture grass, and every ranchman should get a start of it. There's millions in it.

J. M. Thompson of Pearsall says he has not yet lost a single head of his car-load of Hereford and Polled Angus bulls. They are fed on prickly pear and have been here over a month.

The old loose way of selling cattle "poco mas o menos," is giving way to the more exact and practical, and stock scales are being put up on many of the ranches and shipping pens. At every shipping pen in the Southwest there should be scales, and when stock is sold for the beef market it should be by the pound. Cotulla is having scales put in at the pens, which is evidence of the progressive spirit of that live town.

L. B. Naylor of Baxter Springs, Kansas, bought 500 head of four-year-old steers of Lewis Bros.

R. Lee Pope of La Salle was up, but when the rain came he posted off for the ranch to see the effect of the dampness.

On the 4th of this month there were 1945 head of cattle shipped North on the Missouri Pacific from this city. The majority went to the Indian Territory.

Jake Guthrie of Kansas bought 1000 head of three and four-year-old steers from Kincaid & Combes of Presidio county, for about $18 a head. They go to the Indian Territory to keep company with Mills' steers.

J. J. & A. J. Dull, the Pittsburg iron men who own a large ranch in La Salle county, are shipping steers to the Northern market.

D. A. Oppenheimer sold 358 head of steers to L. B. Naylor of Baxter Springs, Kansas, for $2.124 per 100. They went North this week and will be held in the Indian Territory.

Capt. Simmonds says that he has contracted for 2000 head of yearlings to take the place of the steers he sold Turner of Muscogee, but did not tell from whom nor at what price.

D. R. Fant bought several thousand one and two-year-old steers of B. L. Crouch of Frio county. Terms not known, but it is understood that the two were sold at $8.

Ed Kotula has received some 100 sacks of the J. A. Carr clip, with more on the road.

D. C. Rachal of San Patricio county shipped two train-loads of steers to Vernon for the Indian Territory.

Col. J. F. Malone of Bee county sent two train-loads of steers to Vernon, on the Fort Worth & Denver road, to be pastured in the Territory.

A. P. Rachal brought up three car-loads of cows from his Nueces county ranch, two of which were sold on Thursday at $17.50 a head. This is about top price this season.

Fort Davis News:—Jeff Davis county has a great many sheep, and all are in good condition. This is the lambing season, and it is safe to say a larger per cent. of lambs is being saved than last year.

Corpus Christi Caller:—A few days ago D. C. Rachal, of this county sold to D. R. Fant 1,000 steer yearlings at $6 per head, it is said, also 250 cows at $9 per head.

Nearly all the wool houses in this city have received advanced consignments of wool, but no clips of note have yet been completed.

What will the market be? is the leading question among wool growers just now. Quien sabe?

Tom Andrews of Fort Worth bought 60 head of saddle horses of N. L. Word of Goliad, to be used on the trail.

D. R. Fant of Goliad was up last week, and reports good rains about and below Corpus Christi, and that his herds are on the road for the North, taking the old Eastern trail.

Ed Corkill of Realitos is again with us. He says that the rain has been plenty to make grass, but water is scarce in places.

Marfa New Era:—Many stockmen throughout our county are gathering their cattle preparatory to moving them to a rainy, or at any rate, a moist country.

Marfa New Era:—J. T. Blanks sold his ranch property in this county to W. H. Liles a few days since.

J. F. Scott is back again. It is several weeks since his genial face has illuminated the spacious corridors of San Antonio's palatial live stock exchange. His form was fading from the memory of many, and even Uncle

Stilson was heard to ask who that fine looking man was. "His face was familiar," but his name had slipped his memory."

T. M. O'Connor of Refugio says the rain has just been sufficient to start the grass, but much more is needed to do the country a permanent benefit. He will ship some 5 car-loads of hoes from Beeville, and 25 car-loads from Corpus Christi to Chicago during the week.

Henry Burns, the mutton shipper, lost 20 head of fat muttons by dogs last Saturday night in the Southern Pacific shipping pens. He had 31 head in the pens over night, and Sunday morning found 20 dead, with their blood sucked by the curs. He intends to "lay" for the brutes when they come after the remaining 11, and there promises to be a canine massacre.

Jim H. David, the wideawake stock agent of the S. A. & A. P., is as busy as a bee, attending to the stock business of his road.

A. P. Rachal ships two train-loads of hoes from Mesquite, San Patricio county, on the S. A. & A. P., to Chicago this week.

Major James Moore of this city shipped 8 car-loads of mares from Beeville to East St. Louis last week.

J. E. Lee of Iowa ships a train-load of 22 cars of hoes from Corpus Christi to Chicago, which he purchased from Si Eliff of Banquette, Nueces county.

Mrs. Richard King is gathering the Henry Stevens cattle, mostly ones and twos, heifers and steers, to ship to the Indian Territory. There will probably be between 5,000 and 6,000 head.

S. V. Schrack will ship 15 car-loads of mares from Beeville some time this week to some point on the Fort Worth & Denver, from whence they will be driven to Wichita, Kansas.

n. The sum was always unsatisfactory, as the full duty dwindled down to almost nothing. There is very little duty on wool at any time, and about one-half of it is nullified by the cleverness of the importers.

In the present condition of the wool market there need be no hurry to sell. Wool is in demand and the production of the country is one hundred million pounds less than the consumption. Foreign wools are strong in foreign markets and the world's supply is not so large as it was. Texas markets are now stronger than Boston, if sales in Texas cities and Boston quotations are compared.
