'Winds of Change' blowing

Good crowd attends farm tour

Following a tour of Mitchell County farms and ranches Thursday morning, Dr. Robert Metzer, told a crowd of about 125 cotton producers and businessmen that "Winds of change are blowing ... some will be painful and some will be helpful."

The Extension agronomist for cotton at Texas A&M University said there is a current demand for high-strength fiber cotton which is not yet conducive to this area. But cotton breeders are developing the new strains rapidly.

Metzer pointed out that there have been some inconsistencies in strength and mic measurements, but new HBI classing is helping to overcome the inconsistencies as well as overcoming the bias that exist in classing by area grown.

Best news is that producers are now talking to the mills, two-way dialog that is bringing the parties closer together. This will also help with setting the value of cotton fiber on its planned use, rather one wholesale price.

New chemistry, genetic engineering and bio-technology are bringing about herbicide, insect and drought tolerent plants and requiring more and more management by producers on the use of chemicals and new technology.

World-wide comsumption of cotton will increase by more than 12 million bales within just the next few years and to meet this demand current U.S. production will have to double.

The cotton expert urged the local farmers to:

1. Know what the fertilizer status is in your fields. Get a regular soil test;

2. Always use good high-quality seed;

A friend's grandfather came to America from Europe and after being processed at Ellis Island, he went into a cafeteria in New York City to get something to eat. He sat down at an empty table and waited for someone to take his order. Of course, nobody ever did. Finally, a man with a tray full of food sat down opposite him and told him how things worked. "Start at that end," he said, "just go along and pick out what you want. At the other end they'll tell you how much you have to pay for it."

Gene Dow

"I soon learned that's how everything works in America," Grandpa told our friend. "Life is a cafeteria here. You can get anything you want as long as you're willing to pay the price. You can even get success. But you'll never get it if you wait for someone to bring it to you. You have to get up and get it yourself".

3. Try to have uniform spacing of plants, at rates much less than now being used;

4. Know your insect situation, particularly at fruiting time;

5. Properly manage a timely operation. How much acreage can you effectively handle?

During the morning tour, three bus loads of about 80 people observed the crops and special demonstrations on various cotton varieties and planting rates; fertilizer, plant regulators and defoliation chemicals; CRP grass ranges and mesquite control.

Travis and Tony Turner treated the tour participants with watermelon midway in the tour.

Due to spotty rains and insect problems, the Mitchell County cotton crop is generally judged "about average" and will be considerably less than last year's bumper crop of approximately 51,000 bales. Predictions by the tour participants on the yield from the county's 54,277 planted acres of cotton, ranged from around 18,000 to 40,000. About a half-bale per acre is the average forecast.

There have been 33,700 acres of land on 178 farms set aside and included in the CRP, Conservation Reserve Program.

About 125 persons were on hand to hear the speaker and enjoy the barbecue luncheon served by David Stubblefield.

Entertainment was provided by a local band composed of Charles Dunn, Junior Camp, Bill Proctor, Ann and Eddie Gregory.

Door-prize winners were Mac Ritchie, Tony Turner, Paul Hunter, Jan Lemons and Jeff Howard.

Chamber Agriculture Committee chairman Bobby Lemons presided at the luncheon meeting, and Chamber Manager David Janca gave the welcome.

A number of other out of town guest were also present and participated in the tour.

Retirement to mark end of 32-year teaching career

When Bob Newman started directing band in Colorado City schools, he planned to stay here about a year and then move on.

That was 28 years ago.

He's been here ever since, but this marks his final week in public school teaching that spans some 32 years. He's having to retire on doctor's orders.

"I've had a lot of fun," said Newman. "I don't want to quit."

However, triple by-pass surgery on his heart eight years ago that sidelined him for half a year has ceased to be effective.

"It's (his heart) clogged up again," he said. "I'm back where I started from."

His doctor has told him that there's too much stress associated with his job and recommended retirement.

Newman is following his doctor's orders reluctantly.

"I really wanted to make it 30 years here," he says. "But I don't guess I will."

Newman said he came here as junior high band director in 1960-61 school year from Loraine.

"I came over here to go fishing with old Tombs (Dwight Tomb was a long-time band director here)," said Newman Friday as he prepared to teach a beginning sixth grade band. "He (Tomb) needed a band director and before I went home I had already talked to the superintendent and had the job."

He had been spent three years in Loraine, a job he was offered the telephone while he was going to music school one summer in Chicago.

His other year of teaching experience was spent at Roby, his first job after graduation from McMurry College.

He recalls that he wanted to spend two or three years in Loraine to determine how effective his program was. When he first started there, there were about 17 students in the band. When he left there were about 40.

"When I got to Loraine, they didn't almost have a band," he recalls.

"I wanted to stay there long enough to see how well I was doing," he said.

An accomplished trumpet player who has played with symphony orchestras in Midland, Odessa, Abilene and San Angelo, Newman first started taking trumpet lessons when he was a ninth grade student in San Diego.

He took private lessons which required him to take a bus to the downtown area.

His teacher had a waiting list and if the students didn't study their lessons, he would drop them, said Newman.

"If you weren't interested in learning to play, then he didn't have any use for you," said Newman.

While on the bus to take those private lessons, he would sometimes play his trumpet for the many servicemen who rode the buses. Some of those servicemen had been professional musicians before they were drafted.

"Sometimes I would get some pretty good lessons on the bus," he recalls.

He played in the band at Pacific Beach Junior High School and Vista High School in California.

As soon as he finished high school, he went into the Army. Before basic training was over, he auditioned for and was "drafted" into the Army band which gave him even more experience playing with professional musicians who had been drafted.

Bob Newman
...to retire Oct. 1

The Army band took him to Germany for 27 months where he "played in bands over there."

He said he also was able to play with German musicians, many of whom were accomplished musicians.

Following his Army stint, he enrolled at McMurry College in Abilene where after one year, he enlisted in the Air Force for two years and then went back to McMurry to finish his degree.

He said he really hadn't planned to make a career of public school teaching.

"I figured that somewhere along the line, I'd get with a professional group," he said.

The years have gone by quickly, he says. A bachelor when he came to Colorado City, he married and he and his wife Carolyn have two children, Leslie, who is grown and lives in Big Spring with his family, and Cindy, an eighth grade student.

Noting the age difference in his children, he said with a laugh "I wanted to stay in PTA forever."

The shelves in the middle school band hall are lined with trophies that Newman's bands have won over the years.

"Oh, we would win and we would lose, but mostly we would win," he says with a quiet smile.

"There have been some good kids to work with here," he says. "It's been a real privilege working them."

What's his secret to teaching?

"You've got to get on the same level with the kids and say it in their language and then go over and over it," he says.

"What I try to do is teach until the last kid in the class learns," he said.

We had just moved to Colorado City from Silver. I was going to be in the seventh grade and was somewhat apprehensive about moving from such a small school to what seemed like a large one at the time.

The junior high school was housed in what is now the school administration building on Hickory Street and going to school there marked the first time I ever had school in a two-story building.

One of my favorite teachers that year and for several other years to come was my band director, Bob Newman.

I had started band in the fifth grade at Silver and I decided to go ahead and be in the band in Colorado City. After all, I had a lot of fun in the band.

My first year in Colorado City was also the first year here for Mr. Newman.

Mr. Newman was some classy guy. He was young and could play the cornet better than anyone I had ever heard. He drove a sporty black 1959 Chevrolet with red interior and with fins that seemed to stretch from one side of the road to the other.

The junior high school didn't have a band hall, so we would have to walk to the high school (now the middle school) each day to practice in the high school band hall. Getting to go to high school was all right with me, I thought.

When I was a seventh grader, the junior high band consisted of seventh, eighth and ninth grades, all which were housed in the junior high. Later, by the time I was a freshman, the freshmen were included in the high school band although most of other classes were still in the junior high building.

But, that seventh grade year was a memorable one for me. The band had almost a hundred students. We got to march in the homecoming parade and the kid's day parade and even the Loraine homecoming parade.

Debbie Hunter was the drum major and the twirlers were Helen May, Arla Jo Payne, Sandra Coffman and, I think, Myrna Feaster.

There are still several of us around who were in Mr. Newman's first band here - Clay Strange, Phil Ball, Dixie Watlington, Bill Martin, Rogene Spruell, Ann Galey, Steve Oyler, Susan Scott, Kay Craghead - and probably a few others that I can't remember.

I do remember that there were more clarinet players than Mr. Newman knew what to do with.

Mr. Newman had and still has a kind of dry humor. He would kid around with us, but when he got on the podium, he was all business.

We quickly learned to respect and admire him. Under his leadership, the band grew and was a consistent winner at contests.

I remember once when we went to contest at Cisco. One of the judges for the sight-reading portion, for which we received a superior rating, was very complimentary of the band, but mostly of Mr. Newman. We realized then and there that he knew what he was doing.

Twenty eight years later, Mr. Newman is retiring as middle school band director. He's not wanting to retire, but doctor's orders are forcing him to give up a job that he loves.

Somehow, that band hall just won't be the same.

Every profession has these types, I suppose, so it's probably not fair to expect the mechanic profession to be any different.

Don't get me wrong. While some of you guys actually enjoy changing voltage regulators and alternators and seeing people smile as their cars purr in proper rhythm, the real reason others go into your profession is to watch the rest of us squirm.

For these guys, job satisfaction is pronouncing your Diehard dead. This is the same guy - unlike you, the good mechanic - who in the first grade came to class and joyously reported that our pet dogs had just been run over.

As a mechanic, he likes to look under the hood, wiggle a few pieces of steel and rubber, step back, puff on a Camel and wipe his forehead with his cigarette hand.

"Your alternator's no good," he tells the motor.

It doesn't matter that we're standing two feet away. It doesn't matter that the motor isn't listening and could care less about his opinions.

As a mechanic, he respects mechanical objects, something we're obviously not, or we wouldn't be groveling up to him now to fix our cars.

So he talks to our motors.

We tell him the alternator's only a year old.

He doesn't care. Unlike you, the kind mechanic, not caring about our mechanical misery is something he specializes in. He can "not care," in fact, better than anyone else in America.

We threaten to go to you, the kind mechanic, for a second opinion.

He doesn't care. Breaking the news to a potential customer that his engine has no compression, is reward enough.

It'll cost us $2,000 to get a new rebuilt engine, and no, he doesn't have one in stock. He could get one, though he really doesn't want to, but it'll probably take 10 days. Then it'll take another week to install. Actually, we better figure on two weeks because Donald quit suddenly last week after his wife left him for a Lion trainer in the circus.

He's breaking in a new man, but the guy's used to the Ford house, and most of his business is on imports, so a training period will have to be endured. Then, if the new man works out, he should be able to start on our cars some time in November - first of the year at the very latest.

As an unkind mechanic, he recognizes human stress as well as psychologists. He just enjoys it more.

"You don't have a loaner I could borrow while you're fixing mine, do you?"

"No sir, we stopped doing that in the late sixties."

The real job satisfaction for him, though, is when we bring him a car with electrical problems.

If there's a short somewhere, he won't find it until he's replaced every individual item under the hood.

"Hmmm, must be a wiring problem," he finally concludes.

He can find it, of course, but we'll have to wait until his electrical man gets back to run the machine that finds the shorts. Eventually he gets our cars started, but we've had enough experience to know that in two days we'll walk out to the driveway and they'll refuse to start again.

Wreckers will haul them back to the original unkind mechanic for $40. He'll look under the hood again, step back and puff on a cigarette, then wipe his forehead with his cigarette hand.

"I think it's your battery," he'll tell our motors.

"Why wasn't it my battery yesterday?" you ask the same motor, having now adopted this peculiar habit, too.

"Well, you did have that short. We fixed it, but your battery is marginal at best, according to our tests.

Never does he say, "I'm sorry. I fixed the wrong thing yesterday. If you'll just give me a few minutes I'll undo my mistake and fix it right. No charge."

The unkind mechanic - unlike you, the kind mechanic - offers his diagnosis like this:

"Who do you recommend?"

"That's up to you, sir."

"But you're the mechanic."

"Well then, I'd take it to the nearest cliff and have an accident."

Unkind mechanics have a sense of humor, all right. A sadistic one.

We squirm and he smiles. You just know his job satisfaction ranks among the highest in the land.

Letters to the editor

Congress' salary

TO THE EDITOR:

While the rest of the country struggles to make ends meet with their 2 to 5 per cent annual raises, why should be allow those people who are supposed to work FOR us to make ten times more than we do?

Accounting to the Scripps Howard News Service, the Quadrennial Commission will recommend to the President, a CONGRESSIONAL salary level of $135,000. The current salary is $89,500, plus this proposed 50% increase of $44,500. This will go into effect AUTOMATICALLY unless CONGRESS votes to reject it.

I don't know about you, but I could live comfortably on $135,000 a year! Where is the line for this kind of work? I'm sure that I am as qualified as some of the current officeholders.

Do not let this proposal be put over on us. Let your voice be heard.

Sincerely,
DEBBIE WALL

WWII vets

TO THE EDITOR:

Would you help me find a few good men by publishing this letter in your paper?

The few good men mentioned are WWII Veterans and were assigned to the 351st Heavy Bombardment Group at Polebrook, England between 1943 and 1945. There are about 5,000 lost souls and some of them may be in your area.

We have formed a 351st Association of flying and ground crews and have annual reunions.

If you fit the above description, please contact: Ken Vaughn, 1 Shady Lane, Belleville, IL 62221.

First Christian congregation to note 100th anniversary

The First Christian Church of Colorado City will be observing its centennial anniversary on Sunday, Oct. 2.

Records indicate that the First Christian Church, Disciples of Christ, of Colorado City was organized in October of 1888 with a membership of 19 women and one man. The first house of worship owned by this congregation was a small, square one-room house on the lot where the American Legion Hut is now located.

Later the members erected a small white building on the northwest corner of Second and Chestnut streets. On June 3, 1900, the new church building was dedicated and the following quotation appeared in the West Texas Stockman of that date:

"The long looked for and prayed for event is passed and another victory for the Cause in Colorado has become history. The congregation has one of the very best houses in the city, and by far the most beautifully furnished. This church is a credit to the town and it is gratifying to know that God has blessed efforts of a small but devoted and enterprising congregation."

In May of 1926, the cornerstone was laid at the new First Christian Church at the corner of Fourth and Elm streets. The board of officers at that time was composed of J.E. Chase, minister; W.A. Crowder, W.W. Porter, elders; R.P. Price, L.W. Sandusky, Ed S. Jones, R.M. Hardison, John Shurtfliff, J.E. Pond, Leslie Crowder, Dr. C.L. Root, J.B. Pritchett, J.H. Carlock, L.E. Allmond and Hughwood Smart, deacons.

The Women's Missionary Society officers were Mrs. Sam L. Majors Sr., president; Mrs. U.G. Hardison, vice president; Mrs. S.R. Venable, secretary; and Mrs. H.B. Broaddus, treasurer.

Those men and women and many others who planed an important role in forming the history of the present church will be remembered during the services planned for Sunday morning, Oct. 2.

Rev. Steve Edwards of Midland will open the morning service at 10:30 with greetings and recognition of guests.

An open house in the fellowship hall is being planned from 2:30-4:30 Sunday afternoon with memorabilia of all types on display.

The public is invited to join the members in celebrating the centennial of the First Christian Church.

Wolves break Broncos

The Colorado City Wolves got back to business here at Wolf Stadium Friday night with a tough defense and a balanced offense that spelled a 38-14 loss for the Sonora Broncos.

Both halves of play got off with a bang and the Wolves went on to post a 3-1 record while the Broncos-former district rivals-fell to 2-2. The Wolves host Crane Friday and then host Merkel for Colorado High School's Homecoming.

Sonora pinned Colorado City deep in Wolves territory to start the game. The Wolves' Beau Rees punted 38 yards to the Sonora 46. The Broncos' Eric Espinosa fumbled the punt, picked it up and raced down the right sideline for a 54 yard touchdown at 7:51 of of the first period. Manuel Martinez kicked the extra point for a 7-0 Sonora lead.

Colorado City held Sonora to one first down in the opening period but couldn't get going either until it's third possession.

The Wolves began the drive at the Sonora 48. Fullback Beau Rees and running back Pat Tillis ran the ball to put the Wolves in a third and one at the 27 but Perkin bobbled the ball. An offides call on the Wolves made it fourth and six at the 32.

Perkin then found tightend Dane Hoover on the right sideline for a 12 yard pass and a first down at the 20. The Wolves tried to run to the outside but settled for a 33 yard field goal attempt by Hoover. Hoover nailed George Rivera's hold for a 7-3 score and went on to a perfect night by making the field goal and five of five extra point kicks.

Darvin Jackson stopped Sonora's Espinosa at the Broncos 17 on the kick return of Hoover's field goal. Facing second and 11 at his own 16, Sonora quarterback Michael Harris threw into the middle of coverage and the Wolves G. Rivera intercepted the tipped pass at the 30 and returned it to the Broncos 9 yard line.

Two plays later-and the first play of the second period-Perkin followed Rees over the left side for an 8 yard score to make it 10-7 for the Wolves.

The Wolves used up 7:20 of the second period with their only other possession of the first half. The drive covered 68 yards in 15 plays and ended with a 3 yard run by Tillis that made it 17-7 at halftime.

The first big play was a roll out pass from Perkin to Ray Rivera for 17 yards and a first down at midfield. Two holding calls erased a 15 yard run by Mark Russell. Rees ran 19 yards to put the Wolves back at midfield then Perkin scrambled for 15 yards to the Sonora 36.

A sack and an illegal procedure made it third and 22 at the Sonora 48. That challenge was erased by Russell who went up over Sonora's Chacho Cahill and came down with a 31 yard catch at the Sonora 17.

Rees made it first and goal with a 5 yard run to the 6. Two plays later Tillis carried the ball and Sonora's David Mirike into the endzone for his 3 yard score with 1:30 left in the half.

Wolf fans were just getting into their seats for the second half kickoff when G. Rivera handed it off to Tillis at the Colorado City 12. Tillis took the handoff 88 yards for a score that broke the Broncos.

Russell returned Sonora's second punt of the third period for a net gain of 39 yards to the Broncos 40.

Facing fourth and one at the 31 Perkin threw a quick 22 yard pass to a streaking R. Rivera who made an acrobatic catch for a first and goal at the 9. 4 and 5 yard runs by a bulldozing Rees put the Wolves into the endzone with 4:35 left in the third period to make it 31-7.

Sonora answered with a 9 yard touchdown pass from Harris to Eddie Virgen to make it 31-14.

The Wolves fumbled their next possession but Russell gave the ball back to the Wolves with an interception of Harris at the Colorado City 25. Russell returned the steal to the Wolves 47.

Colorado City let others into the action on it's last drive. Rees and Perkin, who ran 14 yards for a first and goal at the 9, set up the Wolves last score-a 9 yard burst by a hard running Scott Pesnell with 1:15 left in the game.

Bulldogs rip Smyer

The first quarter ended with a 22-8 Loraine lead as Sanchez followed his score with a 50 yard scoring pass to Casey Cooper then scored again on a 9 yard run. Shawn Finley kicked the extra points.

A 30 yard run by Joey Lujan, a 50 yard run by Finley and an 18 yard run by Sanchez went for second period scores that gave Loraine a 44-8 halftime lead.

Finley scored on a 75 yard run in the third period and on a 70 yarder in the fourth quarter to end the game.

Finley finished with 214 yards on 7 carries while Sanchez got 128 yards on 8 carrries. Josell Williams added an 8 yard run.

Smyer led 13-10 in first downs. Smyer had 291 yards rushing and 91 through the air on 10 of 18 passing. Loraine finished with 380 yards rushing and 50 passing.

The Loraine Bulldogs are 4-0 and headed to a showdown at highly ranked Christoval.

Loraine blasted Smyer 58-8 in the Bulldogs' home opener Friday night in a contest stopped with nine minutes left to play.

"We played our second teams for a little bit," said Loraine coach Tommy Meredith about the "long" game.

Smyer scored first on a 1 yard run by Monte Ayres with 8:17 left in the opening period. Shean Abston kicked the extra point but Smyer then felt the onslaught of a Loraine team not at all happy about being scored upon.

"They were really fired up," said Meredith. "They couln't stop them (Loraine runners). It made them mad to get scored on that early."

Loraine made it 8-6 on a Rudy Sanchez 38 yard touchdown run.

Freshmen drive Badgers

The Colorado City freshman football team cashed in on Merkel turnovers at Wolf Stadium Thursday as the Wolves won 30-0 for their first win.

The Wolves, 1-2, recovered four Badger fumbles and made one interception. Running back Kevin Green ran for 91 yards on 11 carries, Jason Stone ran for two 3 yard scores and quarterback Greg Parker passed for two other scores.

Merkel fumbled a punt return on Colorado City's first possession but the Wolves fumbled four plays later inside the Merkel 10 yard line.

Cade Proctor got the ball back for the Wolves with a fumble recovery at the Merkel 46. Two plays later Parker threw deep down the left sideline and hit Mark Monroe in stride for a 46 yard touchdown with 8:53 left in the second period. Stone ran for the extra points to make it 8-0.

Monroe recovered a fumble on Merkel's next drive. Four plays later Parker threw to Green on a screen pass. Green used excellent downfield blocking to convert it into a 43 yard score. Parker was stopped on the extra points run to leave the score 16-0 with 5:33 left in the half.

Darrin Emerson's tackle on Merkel's first drive of the second half resulted in a fumble recovered by the Wolves' Parker at the Colorado City 31 but an interception and a fumble ended the next two Wolves drives.

A 27 yard punt return by Green put the Wolves at Merkel's 46. An 8 yard run by Green and 7, 4, 16, and 8 yard runs by Stone set up a 3 yard touchdown by Stone with 3:43 left in the game. Parker threw to Justin Sullivan for the extra points to make it 24-0.

Stone intercepted for Colorado City at the Merkel 18 to set up the Wolves final score-another 3 yard Stone run with 3:07 left in the game.Robert Sadler made a fumble recovery for the Wolves in the fourth quarter. Stone, Emerson and Rudy Melendez led the Wolves defensively.

Junior varsity Wolves halt Merkel

Two long range Merkel scores made it interesting but the Colorado City Wolves tightened their defensive grip here Thursday to beat the Badgers 32-12 in a junior varsity football game.

The teams were tied 12-12 at halftime but without their two scores the Badgers managed only 54 yards of offense and five first downs for the whole ballgame.

The Badgers struck quickly on their first possession, Merkel's quarterback rolled left on second and eight at the Wolves' 41 and found a wide open receiver for the score with 7:49 left in the first quarter. The Wolves stopped the extra points run for a 6-0 score.

On their next possession the Badgers elected to go for it on fourth and 5 at their own 45 but Bryan McGowen made a quarterback sack for the Wolves.

Two plays later quarterback Scott Galey and Tracy Molina hooked up for a 38 yard score at 3:47 of the first period. Quarterback Jeremy Strain was stopped on the extra points run for a 6-6 tie.

Merkel stopped another first quarter threat by the Wolves with an interception at the Badger 3 yard line.

A punt snap by Merkel landed in the Badger endzone but the punter managed to kick it out to the 29 yard line.

3, 9, 3 and 6 yard runs by fullback Bobby Silva and a 2 yard run by Mike Boatwright put the Wolves at the Merkel 6 where Strain found Wendell Iglehart in the endzone for a touchdown pass with 5:00 left in the first half. Silva's extra points run was short for a 12-6 Wolves lead.

Merkel tied it up on it's very next play. The Badger quarterback scrambled for an 88 yard touchdown at the 4:38 mark of the second period to make it 12-12.

It was all Colorado City in the second half. The Wolves mixed in a few passes with the running of Silva and Boatwright in the second half and limited the Badgers to 23 yards and 2 first downs.

Silva finished with 122 yards on 22 carries and Boatwright ran for 65 yards on 13 carries.

The Wolves went up 20-12 with 1:27 left in the third period on a 2 yard run by Boatwright who bounced off the left side of the line. Galey threw to Molina for the extra points.

Silva carried Merkel defenders into the endzone for a 7 yard score to make it 26-12 with 5:37 left in the game.

Jessie Aguilar intercepted a Merkel pass at midfield and returned the steal to the Badger 29 but clipping on the return gave the Wolves possession at the Merkel 47. A 42 yard pass play from Galey to Molina put the Wolves at the 5 and quarterback Strain carried in from the 1 with 1:31 remaining in the game.

McGowen, Iglehart and Aguilar were among the leading tacklers.

CMS Wolves sweep Badgers

Richard Gomez scored on a second quarter, 30 yard run to give the seventh grade Wolves a 6-0 football victory at Merkel Thursday. It was the first of two Colorado Middle School wins as the eighth grade Pack defeated the Badgers 14-6.

The seventh grade Wolves are now 1-1. Other backs Scott Payne and Greg Gaona and quarterback Kyle Baumann played good games for the Wolves offense.

The 2-0 eighth grade squad was led by a strong running game. "We didn't score in the first half," said coach Ed Wilson, "but we had one score called back. Merkel led 6-0 at halftime.

The Wolves converted a 30 yard pass play from Kelley Ramsey to James Franco to begin the second half. "Then we started running leads with Lentz (Tracy) leading for Rivera (Jaime)," said Wilson. The running game set up Ramsey's 1 yard sneak that tied it at 6-6.

The Wolves put together a 60 yard drive in the fourth period. Included was a pass from Ramsey to Jason Blassingame. "Our sweep was working real well," said Wilson. "They never did stop our runs on the leads." Lentz scored on a 10 yard run on a flip play and Ramsey ran for the extra points to make it 14-6.

"We hit real well," said Wilson. Mike Dossey recovered a fumble and made two quarterback sacks for the Wolves who also got good defensive play from Johnny Martinez and Cody Strain.

Bronte won 7-15,15-0,15-7 in the junior varsity match to give the Lady Wolves a 2-4 record.

In the varsity contest it was another three game match with the Longhorns prevailing 2-15,16-14,15-9 over the Lady Wolves. The Lady Wolves, who were to have hosted their own Lone Wolf Tournament yesterday (Saturday), are 5-7 and travel to Seminole Tuesday.
