"LISTEN FOLKS"

By Jim Ferguson.

STRIKE RESULTS

Just now the strike situation is becoming serious—yes, it is alarming. There are more people on strike than ever before in the history of the nation. While in some places strikers have returned to their jobs, yet the issues that caused the strike have not been settled and such return is merely a truce of industrial warfare until agreements are reached.

Under such conditions the workers are in reality still on strike and likely will again quit their work the very minute failure to agree with their employers happen. Therefore, it can truthfully be said that nothing has been settled yet in this great industrial crisis that threatens the nation. I use the terms threaten and nation advisedly, because from what it did in former strikes.

I am taking the liberty to write these lines because in my public and private career I have always tried to be fair to both labor and capital. As a matter of legal right, I have always believed in and still believe in the right of the employer to fix the scale of wages he is willing to pay for labor. If that scale is not satisfactory to labor, then the laboring man should be allowed the right to peaceful strike by quitting his job. I have never thought that these injunctions grievously invade the personal liberty of the worker just as much as the sit down strike practice invades the right of property. As long as the possession of private property is not invaded and personal violence is not used, the right of peaceful picketing should be allowed. The right of any citizen to appeal his grievance to the public be protected as well as his right to appeal to the courts.

Thus should be legal lines between labor and capital be drawn. Thus should labor and capital be recognized and protected by the law of the land.

Let me emphasize to my labor friends that this protection of the law of these rights means as much to them as it does to their employers. The sit down strike idea will quickly destroy every right guaranteed under the law for their protection. It will do no good if in destroying property by taking forcible possession of same, labor destroys its employer but at the same time destroys itself. Grant for the sake of argument that the sit down strikers could or would operate the property as well as the present owners were put out of business and new owners were duly installed, then the same right of other laborers to take possession to give them a job at increased wages would be asserted and a conflict more serious than any controversy with the rightful and original owners would certainly result. Thus labor would destroy the owner and then would destroy itself. The sit down strikers now over 120,000 in Michigan, may destroy or confiscate the factories of the Fords and the Chryslers by means of the sit down strike, but in so doing the strikers establish the right of somebody also to destroy them in the same way.

If the sit down idea should prevail it will be because the government has been unable to prevent it, and then the result will be a tragedy, indeed. Unemployment will be universal and hungry and starvation will be everywhere. Nobody will escape the trouble which will destroy all lines. But, believe it or not, the farmer will be caught in the great collapse that will follow. There will be nobody to buy the products of the farm and ranch just as soon as labor destroys its own purchasing power.

To be sure, my labor friends, I believe in your right to organize and bargain together for what you think you ought to have for a day's wage, but let me plead with you that the sit down strike idea is the biggest fool advice you have ever received. Swat it and swat the adviser. Save your government and save yourself.

Summer Water Rate Now On in Brownfield

The city council had a meeting Monday night, and decided to put on the summer water rate, which will include the reading this month, according to Roy Herod, city secretary. This in order that people who wish to water trees, shrubbery, flowers or vegetable gardens can start at once and not wait until they suffer for rain, should there be a dry spell.

Summer rate is, $1.50, minimum 5000 gallons; next 10,000, 15c per thousand, and any amount above 15,000, 10c per thousand gallons.

The winter rate minimum is same as above, with next 5000, 25c; next 10,000 20c; next 10,000, 15c; or above 10c per thousand. In winter you have to use 30,000 gallons to get the 10c rate, and in summer only 15,000.

Thirty thousand gallons in winter costs you $6.75, and in summer $4.00 a saving of $2.75, and that is as much water as the average family will use for all purposes.

Many Local Scouts To Attend Camporal

Local Scouts are busy making plans and preparations for the sectional Boy Scout Camporal, to be held in Lamesa, Friday and Saturday April 23rd and 24th. Our local Scoutmasters, Mr. Emery Longbrake and Dr. R. B. Parish are to accompany the boys on the trip. Possibly a number of other local scouts will also plan to attend the two day event.

Approximately 200 scouts from the following towns will participate in the camporal: Brownfield, Lamesa, O'Donnell, Post, Slaton and Tahoka. He camp will be on the Lamesa football field where lights, water and etc., will be available.

Mr. Henry Norris, chairman of the Camporal announced this week that plans have been completed and all arrangements are ready for the big event. Special awards have been secured to be presented to the various troop and patrol winners.

Perkins Operating Wholesale Dairy

Mr. Wm. T. Perkins, of Route 5, has again started his dairy, after a few months out doing some needed repairs and remodeling. Mr. Perkins sells his milk, cream and butter wholesale only, to merchants, restaurants and hotels.

Mr. Perkins stated to the Herald that he felt that there was need of such a business here, and he is not conflicting badly with those who retail their products.

He stated that the bulk of the feed he uses in producing milk and cream is raised on his 400 acre farm south of the city, and this is his way of disposing of his surplus feed, although he has sold hundreds of bushels of grain, mostly corn, this year.

Suspect in Auto Fire Death Questioned

LUBBOCK, April 13.—Sheriff's officers late today were grilling a suspect taken into custody early this morning after Jimmie Morgan, 28, of Andrews was burned to death in an automobile in West Lubbock.

The suspect, who was apprehended by Jack Hightower, a nightwatchman at Texas Technological College, told officers that he and Morgan had gone to sleep in the automobile after visiting three beer resorts during the night and that he was awakened by the fire.

Saw Man Running Hightower testified at an inquest before Justice of the Peace S. E. McMillian this morning that the man was running when he called to him from the college campus.

The nightwatchman collared the man, heard his story and forced him to return to the burning car. Meanwhile C. A. Denny, a taxicab driver, had stopped at the scene and tried unsuccessfully to extricate Morgan from the vehicle. He said when he first stopped Morgan was on the back seat of the car and was groaning.

Dr. William L. Baugh, county health officer, told the justice of the peace that he had examined Morgan's body but it was so consumed by fire that he could not determine whether there was any evidence of violence.

No Inquest Verdict This afternoon no inquest verdict had been returned and no charges had been filed in the case. Police and sheriff's officers said they were seeking three women, reported to have been in company of Morgan and the suspect last night.

Morgan's body was taken to Meridian today for burial. He was unmarried and had been employed in a grocery store at Andrews. He was a brother of Dr. T. L. Morgan and a nephew of Dr. Fred W. Standefer, both on the staff of a Lubbock hospital.

Officers said Morgan had never been in difficulties with the law, insofar as they could determine.

Terry County to Get Extra School Aid

If the new extra school aid bill goes through the legislature, and is signed by the governor, Texas school children will receive much extra school aid money, which will help greatly in carrying out the plan of Texas educators to see that every child in Texas has a chance to at least attain a high school education. County Judge R. A. Simms, who is also ex-officio school superintendent of this county, informed us this week, that Terry county would benefit in the new funds to the extent of some $4,000.00.

Terry Farmers to Get Around $200,000

According to Assistant County Agent, McKinley, Terry county farmers have received in the neighborhood of $150,000 of Government Compliance checks up to the present on the 1936 acreage, and he figures they will get $50,000 later, making in all some $200,000.

This money is coming in just when most needed to get another crop started, and we feel sure is very welcome received. McKinley stated that he believed that a great majority of farmers would sign up again this year.

Texas Planning Board travel experts estimate that approximately 2,000,000 tourists will visit Texas during 1937.

Around the Capital

By J. Doyle Settle

Another legislative week has drawn to a close. It has been a hard week for the House of Representatives. Several major issues have been disposed of this week. I will mention most of the major projects briefly.

The House of Representatives passed my bill creating a new hospital for the insane in West Texas. The vote was 110 for the bill with no votes against it. The passage of the bill was not as easy as the vote indicates. I have worked on the bill nearly every day this session, contacting every member personally and finally grasping all the opposition to the bill before bringing it to a vote. The hospital will cost $817,000 and care for 540 inmates. It is to be located west of the 100th meridian. The hospital will be increased from year to year until it will house 3,000 inmates, when finally completed in about ten years at a cost of some three to four million dollars with an annual payroll and maintenance of half a million dollars. This is the most important state institution created since the creation of Texas Technological College.

The House of Representatives passed H. B. 48 which liberalizes the Old Age Assistance Law to some extent. It cuts out the provision of the old law that forced the investigators to take into their consideration the financial condition of the old persons children before granting of the pension as to whether or not the children could care for their parents.

The House of Representatives passed H. B. 4 which places an increase on the franchise tax of all corporations doing business in Texas. It is estimated by the sponsors of this bill that it will bring in an additional two million dollars of revenues into the state treasury.

The House has passed four tax bills including a six cent oil tax, a four per cent natural gas tax, a $1.28 per ton tax on sulphur, and the franchise tax mentioned above. Up to now the Senate has refused to consider any of these in any way. If we are to have additional taxes that are needed the Senate must act at once on the above bills.

The House of Representatives Tuesday passed H. B. 600 which is an emergency appropriation for Rural Education. By my previous article on this item appearing March 26th, I did not intend to pick an argument with anyone interested in schools or otherwise. It seems that one county superintendent did not like my article as shown by his letter appearing in the "Anton News" of April 2nd, stating that I had misrepresented the facts in my article.

I have many letters in my file from school officials stating that they thought the Rural Aid Fund was exhausted and they were glad to hear that it was not.

My figures as to the fact that it would take $500,000 to pay 87 per cent of the grants this year were not too low; in fact, they were too high as shown by the sub-committee that $560,000 would pay 87 per cent of all grants this year and pay $137,000 of the high school tuition for the school year of 1935-36, bringing all the high school tuition for last year up to 87 per cent. My figures as you can see were high $77,000, and not low as some have tried to indicate.

The House of Representatives decided to pay the full 100 per cent of this year's grants for all rural purposes. It will take $1,080,000 to do this and that amount was in the bill passed. The amount of $1,900,000 was in the bill introduced and as approved by the Department of Education and the above is the amount some officials said was necessary, but that amount was not necessary by some $820,000.

This new appropriation of over a million dollars was made necessary because the Superintendent of Public Instruction did not follow the law stating that ten million dollars was all that would be available for Rural Aid this year. There is almost unanimous belief among members of the House of Representatives that the Rural Aid has not been administered properly. This is borne out by the fact that H. B. 600 was amended so as to appoint five members of the Legislature to see that the new appropriation is administered properly by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The bill also provides by amendment for $2,000 for the funds spent in the last two years from the Rural Aid Fund to be audited by the State Auditor.

After additional information came to light Thursday following the passage of the bill by a vote of 112 for,

Pres. Roosevelt May Attend WTCC Meeting

BROWNWOOD, April 13.—President Roosevelt has been invited to attend the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Brownwood May 10, 11 and 12. The invitation was extended by D. A. Bandeen, WTCC manager.

The President will leave Washington about April 28 for a two weeks fishing trip on the Texas Gulf coast between Corpus Christi and Brownsville. His vacation trip plans also include a visit to the home of his son, Elliott Roosevelt, in Fort Worth. WTCC officials hope his itinerary can be arranged to include a stop at the convention here.

Governor James V. Allred and Col. Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Texas Railroad Commission, already have accepted invitations to speak at the convention.

General plans for the convention are being pushed to completion under the direction of Gus Rosenberg, Brownwood business man, who is chairman of the convention executive committee, Chester Harrison, secretary of Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, and Jed Rix, convention manager, and various local committee chairmen.

CHILD BRIDE

Juro Vadera, 97-year-old farmer, married his 18th bride in a little Yugoslavian town. Two of his wives died and the other 15 were divorced. He's trying again because marriage "keeps me young." His "child bride" is only 37.

The House of Representatives voted to investigate the expenditure of the Rural Aid Fund by the Department of Education. Charges were made that the fund had been used for the purpose of furthering political campaigns. The investigation committee is composed of Bowen Bond, Chairman, Fairfield; Howard Dawson, Rotan; Penrose Metcalfe, San Angelo; Marvin London, Montague and Alfred Petsch, of Fredericksburg. They will also check into the activities of a school association headed by the former Senator Julian Greer of Elkhart, Texas.

I think it is the opinion of nearly every member of the Legislature that the Rural Aid should be supported to the full extent of its needs. Likewise it is the opinion of nearly every member of the Legislature that when the State of Texas appropriates money for Rural Education they want that money to go to the rural schools. I know that is my opinion.

Engineering Show at Tech College 16-17

LUBBOCK, Texas, April 13.—Complete demonstration of the work of the eight divisions in Texas Tech's engineering division will be shown in three buildings when the students open their doors for the Tech Engineers' show April 16 and 17.

Approximately 7,000 guests are expected to view the exhibits, ranging from tricky water fountains to the giant Tesla coil that generates 2,000,000 volts of artificial lightning. Electrical engineers also will exhibit indirect lighting, the electronic arm, and other electric displays.

Mechanical engineers are preparing exhibits of pumps and engines, demonstrations of the machinist's methods, and manufacture of a miniature electric motor. Strain in concrete and steel beams may be seen with devices exhibited by civil engineers, who have prepared also models of safety highway construction. Industrial engineers will demonstrate use of their drafting equipment and show methods of blueprinting in their laboratories.

The entire Textile Engineering building will be open to visitors, who will view students at work there. Special demonstrations of rayon manufacture and dyeing will feature textile exhibits. Mural paintings and other interior decorations will be in the architecture and commercial arts exhibits. Geological and chemical engineers will demonstrate their work and show special exhibits in their departments.

An annual affair, the Engineers' show is prepared and conducted by students in the departments. Each department has a student manager. Souvenirs this year will be Tech-made ash trays.

P-P. Dairy Show at Plainview April 21-24

PLAINVIEW, April 13. — Cash awards for winning exhibitors in the tenth annual Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show here April 21 to 24 total $2,500, said Pete H. Smith, Plainview Chamber of Commerce secretary and manager of the show.

With range and crop conditions generally good over the Plains and West Texas regions, dairymen are showing increased interest in the 1937 show. Featuring educational programs conducted by recognized dairying authorities, the 1937 show has been designed to appeal to the family dairying as well as to the commercial dairymen.

In addition to $2,500 is $68.50 to be paid to winning exhibitors in the dairy products show, a department superintended by Miss Chloe Huffaker, Hale County home demonstration agent, and designed as an educational feature for girls, women and commercial dairymen.

DOGGONE!

Mrs. Jawson—So the DeStiles are divorced? Which of them got the dogs?

Jawson—She did of course. But the judge allowed him the privilege of seeing them once a month.

Convalescence is the inevitable consequence of excessive lovesickness.

Effects of Sales Tax In Terry County

Terry County merchants do a total business of $1,755,000 and a 2 per cent sales tax as now proposed in the Texas Legislature would yield $25,100 from this county while the sales tax burden to be borne by each resident of the county would amount to $2.83 per year.

These figures are based on a recent census of the United States Department of Commerce and are contained in an eight page pamphlet, "Texas Taxes, A Suggested Solution," being distributed by Rev. J. Earnest Stack of Houston, Editor of the Christian American.

Other enlightening facts contained in the pamphlet include:

"A two per cent sales tax will yield $28,652,300 in annual recurring revenue to the State of Texas.

"The yearly volume of business done by the 70,000 retail establishments of Texas is approximately $1,432,615,000.

"Under a 2 per cent retail sales tax each inhabitant of Texas would be required to pay $4.72 per year. "Sales tax collections per store under a 2 per cent levy would amount to $417.20 annually.

"Forty-five per cent of the sales tax revenue would come from 10 counties in Texas in which the largest cities are located."

Dr. Stack, well-known Baptist Minister, recently made the public statement that burdensome and excessive taxes were hampering religious activities in Texas.

"Any man or woman who ever served on a Church Finance Committee knows only too well that 'High Taxes' is too often given as the reason for failure to meet obligations to the Church," Dr. Stack said.

Hall Advises Cities On Fire Prevention

AUSTIN, April 14.—Marvin Hall, fire insurance commissioner, today stressed the need of Texas cities and towns for an active Fire Prevention Board to cope with any rise in fire losses resulting from fluctuating economic conditions.

Pointing out that the Fire Prevention Board is organized by the adoption of an ordinance, Hall said:

"Many cities and towns have brought about a substantial reduction of their fire losses through the adoption of a Fire Prevention Board Ordinance which delegates to the Board the duty of advising city officials and employees as to the approved means of preventing and extinguishing fires. The Board prescribes the best means to discourage, apprehend, and convict the arsonist."

The Texas Fire Insurance Department will send upon request by the governing body of any Texas city or town a copy of the proposed ordinance, Hall said. The ordinance provides for the membership of the Board, its organization, prescribes its duties, and calls attention to the necessity for such a board in the interest of public safety.

Hall emphasized the fact that fire losses invariably rise and fall with the trend of economic conditions, and that at the present time with prosperity being rather evident in Texas as a whole, losses were comparatively low. "But we have no assurance as to what the future holds for us," he said. "Something might happen tomorrow which would plunge us back into the depression and fires increase overnight."

Gomez School to Vote on Bond Issue

Following a meeting of the trustees and patrons of the Gomez Independent district recently, it was decided to call an election for Saturday, April 24th, at which time a bond issue of $18,000 will be voted on to replace the building that burned down during the winter.

They received some $12,000 insurance, and owed slightly more than that amount, we understand. They propose to retire those bonds, which were drawing 6 per cent interest, and rebuild with the balance a plant something similar to the other.

Marvin Nichols, Fort Worth consulting engineer, has been elected president of the Texas Planning and Civic Conference; J. D. Renfro, mayor of Beaumont, vice president, and Maj. E. A. Wood of the Texas Planning Board, secretary.

One cannot fool facts.

not print such reports, as all such

On the face plenty of visible evidence, spring is here. The trees are putting on a green tinge; the prairies are covered with blooms, the wild buttercup and wild onion predominating. Peaches have finished blooming (and are killed) and apples,
pears and plums are in full bloom,
whether killed or not, we do not know. The gas has been turned off day and night for the past few days,
and the air is balmy and sweetly
scented, especially early mornings.
But this is not saying that more sand-storms are not on the way, mind you.

Bro. Bob Haynes of the Miami Chief wants to know how his readers like his new headlines. Fine Bob, you ought to see some of the "streamline" effects on the south Plains. The two fellows down here who would try to come out the same time if sacked, have already been bragging about their streamlined newspaper heads. We speak of Sharley Guy of Lubbock and E. E. Hill of Ta-hoka. However, one could hardly accuse them of competing in this instance, as Sharley claims to own the first daily and E. E. Hill the first weekly to go streamlined on the south Plains. In fact, Sharley says all up to date papers are thus equipped. Some one should write Amos G. Carter and Ted Dealey that they are years behind.

That the lawyers went overwhelmingly against the President's Court Plan was expected by all but the simple minded. We have a lot of good friends who are lawyers, some as honest as the day is long, but naturally they would want a great deal of laws declared unconstitutional
so that others can be passed, and carried up through the courts. It's money in their pockets. And the publishers are "agin" any law restricting people or firms from advertising, being teeth and toenail against the law that some bird is trying to get through making it a law violation for dentists to advertise. On the other hand, some 20,000 people in the 10th Texas congressional district have spoken, and the man that stumpled the district on a platform to uphold the President's stand, are still foundering in salt creek. The rest of the crowd was beat overwhelmingly, Lyndon B. Johnson being 2 to 1 ahead of his nearest rival. Some say the court business was not an issue last fall. It was in this election. And the people overwhelmingly voted last fall for FDR to go on with his reforms, and the guys now opposing him may wake up later that their course will not bear a test before the people. This is a hint to our good friend, Senator Tom Connally. If Jimmie Allred keeps a tight lip on the issue, and decides to run against Tom next year, he may make him

(Tom) do some tall explaining and running.

A member of the legislature mails
out letters asking people to swamp
the law-makers with postcards asking for the repeal of the poll tax law.
Just why should the poll tax law be repealed? The money goes to the school fund, and certainly no one in Texas wishes to deprive the school children of any of the money which is needed for the school. If the poll tax receipt is abolished, then some other form of identification for voters must be provided. The expense of such a system would come out of the pockets of the taxpayers, without any return to the school children.
While many people cannot see the justice of a poll tax receipt so far as voting is concerned, some system must be maintained, and the poll tax receipt is as good as any. Furthermore, there are many people in Texas who pay no other tax than a poll tax. Certainly these people should be willing to support their government to the extent of $1.75 per year.—

With Our Exchanges

The devil has a majority in the average church, and that makes it harder for the few who like to associate with his children, but do not want to do like they do, to hold fast to religion.—Bishop Lane.

Well, then, according to the good bishop, the churches just as well close shop. It is said that the majority generally rules, and if so, the church is under dominion of the devil, lock,
stock, barrel and ramrod.

This writer and Editor Andy Jack Stricklin of Brownfield have been trying to hold Editors Guy of Lubbock and Hill of Tahoka in check and save them to the party, but looks like our efforts are fruitless. They have both turned out to be red-headed republicans. How about it Editor
Jack.—Ropes Plainsman.

Nothing can be done about those gents, Bro. Richards. They are hopeless; they are also contrary. In fact, Editors Guy and Hill are so confounded contrary that if they were thrown in a river and drowned, they'd float upstream. No, they have not turned out to be red-headed republicans, they always is been. Both supported Hoover back in 1928, and may have secretly cast their ballots for (what was that fellows name that ran against Roosevelt last fall?)

Every editor has reams of articles
offered for publication each week, but this week we had a new one. We were told that we should write an editorial on a given subject, by a man who does not know the editor, or even the name of the paper. Of course, it was all done with the best of intentions, but no editor takes dictation on what kind of editorial
he will write. In this particular case it so happens that several editorials
have already appeared in The News
on this subject, without any suggestions from anyone.—McLean News.

MARVELOUS FOOD VALUES

Come in today and go over our new,
clean stock of fresh groceries, all Standard Nationally Advertised goods that have stood the test of time. We carry no SEC-ONDS that often require an apology, or have to be taken back or replaced. The groceries we sell has the price plainly marked on the can or container.

SPRING TIME IS HERE

After a cold winter the system is often run down and undernourished. Try an order of our fine, fresh meats. They are not only delicious, but are nourishing and splendid body builders. Our grocery is as close as your phone—our phone is 28.

a marked copy? They generally do.
Everybody wants to help the editor.
In fact editors and publishers are getting rich and fat off the cream of the land, and it don't cost a red cent to issue a paper, according to the ideas of some birds. Their idea is that publishers should live on patriotism.

The weather in these parts since the last publication date of the Chronicle has covered all the changes credited to the Sun, Moon and Stars.
We have had winter, snow, ice and frost, sleet, rain, sunshine, norther, sand storms, and name it and take
it. Some days we had all these different kinds between sun-up and sundown, and if we had changed clothing to suit the weather we would have had no time for anything else.
This is spring time in West Texas where variety is the spice of life and life is what the weather man makes it.—Jayton Chronicle.

You had better lay off that Weatherman, Bro. Rankin. Every time we have undertaken to criticize the brand of weather he hands out, he shows us under. When a boy, we used to think that Mark Twain's description of New England weather was the funniest thing abroad, and ridiculous, too. But since living 31 years in west Texas, we'd wager, if a gambler, that west Texas weather
can beat the New England variety
in a mile race and give n. e. weather
a half mile start.

REMEMBER WHEN?

You wouldn't think of lighting
your cigar with a twenty-dollar bill.
You've heard of people doing that,
and have probably regarded them as being insane.

But, if you are an average person,
you consistently take chances on a fire that may cost you many times a
"measly" twenty dollars.

Remember when a fuse blew last winter and you couldn't find another—and so established the circuit by putting a penny behind the old fuse? Thousands of fires, many of which have destroyed lives, have been caused by this highly dangerous practice.

Remember when the cord of your reading lamp wore through and you repaired it yourself, with the aid of a kitchen knife, some automobile tape and considerable profanity? The list of fires resulting from amateur electrical repairs would fill a big book.

Remember that cold morning
when the fire was balky and, in a fit of anger you turned to kerosene to get it going? That practice has burned thousands of homes, and provided many a man with an abrupt passage
to the hereafter.

Remember when you noticed that your furnace doors were no longer tight, that the flues looked to be in a sad state of repair, that the chimney shot sparks—and you decided to have those matters attended to another day? Some times the other day never comes.

Remember when you awakened
and found the room full of smoke from the smoldering cigar butt that had fallen onto the bed or carpet?

The insurance records are full of cases where the smoker in question
never did wake up again in this world.
The list of careless actions that may cause fire could be prolonged indefinitely. You may take a chance a thousand times and get away with it—and on the thousand and first time it may get away with you. The man who lights his cigarette with a twenty-dollar bill is not as wasteful or careless as the man who takes a chance on fire.

position in that city for several years.

'37 Exposition to Weld Amity Between Nations

DALLAS, Texas, April 14.—The Pan American Exposition at Dallas will be "a helpful factor in the promotion of better understanding and closer relations between the republics of the Western Hemisphere," L. S.
Rowe, director general of the Pan American Union at Washington, has written to Frank L. McNeny, director general of the international fair.

Dr. Rowe is one of several outstanding speakers invited to the National Pan American Students' Forum in Dallas, which opens the first day of the Exposition, June 12.

"I have learned with interest of the plans for the Exposition and the sports tournament," Dr. Rowe wrote.
"The participation of the republics
of Latin America in the forthcoming Exposition will afford an excellent opportunity for the people of the United States to become acquainted with the material progress and cultural achievements of the other nations of the Americas.

"I want to assure you of the desire of the Pan American Union to cooperate in every possible way to assure the success of the Exposition."
Fourteen Central and South American countries already have begun places for exhibits.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

Our pastor brought two fine
messages Sunday to large crowds.
The buildings were full to overflowing Sunday morning and almost as many Sunday evening for the service in honor of the living World War veterans, and in memory of those who gave their lives on the battle field, and those who have gone on since. Wish more of our veterans might have been present, it was a worthwhile service.

The Lord was good to us Sunday,
we had two conversions and six additions to our church. We went beyond the 300 mark in Sunday School attendance Sunday morning, having 322 present. Let's make it at least 350 this coming Sunday.

Our pastor will be away for about three weeks, he is attending the State Sunday School convention in Dallas this week, then goes from there to Vernon for a two weeks meeting. The doctors at Temple advised him not to stay here through this month on account of the sand storms. We are sorry he has to be away, but know it will be best for his health. Bro. Bryan of Plainview, our District Missionary, will supply for Bro. Rodgers. Bro. Bryan is a fine preacher, be present to hear him.

HUGE CROWD EXPECTED AT WTCC CONVENTION

BROWNWOOD, April 13.—Elaborate preparations are being made for the nineteenth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held here May 10, 11 and 12.

Brownwood Chamber of Commerce already has appointed the convention steering committee and committee chairman. Jed Rix, assistant WTCC manager, has opened convention headquarters in Hotel Brownwood.

An attendance of at least 10,000
people is expected. Hotel reservations are being received daily.

General outline of the program has been completed, but a number of details are yet to be worked out. The program will include two general as-semblies, on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings.

In addition to the general assemblies, four group conferences will be held. "Soil Conservation and Flood Prevention," general theme of the entire convention, will be topic of discussion at one of the conferences.
Subject of another one of the conferences will be "Oil and Gas Development in West Texas."

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cave, former citizens of this city, but now of Lawton, Okla., are visiting here.
They own stores at both places.

Abandoned mines in the Central Texas mining area are now yielding a small amount of gold, according to C. W. Walker, Texas Planning Board
mineralogist, who has discovered some individuals recovering from one ounce to two ounces of fine gold per week.

Tom T. Thompson and family have located finally at Orlando, Fla., he writes, and seem to like it fine. That is a fine city of some 40,000 people, in central Florida, some 120 miles from the gulf, and 60 miles from the Atlantic.

Report Recommends New Crop Balance

COLLEGE STATION—A decrease of 20 per cent in the acreage of Texas cotton and an increase of 44 per cent in wheat acreage and 46 per cent in grain sorghums are indicated as the collective recommendation of Texas farm men and women, according to W. E. Morgan, extension economist in agricultural planning, who headed a committee which tabulated the county recommendations. All percentages are based on departures from the 1929 acreage.

Committees of representative farm people in 241 counties were asked to indicate the crop balance which they thought best suited to the economic welfare of their counties over a period of years, Morgan said. A committee of Extension Service specialists compiled the state figures, which have been transmitted to AAA officials in Washington.

The AAA uses the recommendations of the county committee to discover trends in local agriculture. It is understood that future AAA programs may contain provisions which reflect the results of the county, state, and nation-wide recommendations.

Further recommendations of the county committees were that pasture land on farms be increased by 13 per cent over the 1929 figure; that corn acreage be increased by seven per cent; and that a large increase in the acreage of legumes would be beneficial. The recommended increases are to come out of lands which have been classified by the Bureau of the Census as land devoted to crop use.

VEGETABLE GARDENS ESSENTIAL TO HEALTH

With the arrival of each new spring, humans naturally turn their thoughts toward the soil and growing things. In cities people by necessity, rather than by choice, devote happy hours toward the planting and growing of flowers. In small towns and rural areas a greater percentage of people prepare gardens which they reap both pleasure and a variety of good foodstuffs.

In the opinion of Extension Service Agents and Resettlement Administration Supervisors in Terry and Yoakum counties, farmers and farm women look toward their gardens as an economic necessity and a source of freedom from increased living costs, not to mention of course, the value it has in providing an adequate, well balanced diet for the entire family during the growing season and through the long winter months as a result of canning activities in the home.

A great many people do not realize the importance of a garden. A good garden will cut down the cost of living, will furnish many of the essential foods elements which are necessary in our diet, and the vegetables which can be prepared and stored will furnish delicious meals the whole year long.

With planting season here every farm family should be looking forward with pleasure, to growing a garden this year, a garden for pleasure, for health, and for cheaper living.

Scout Training Course Here This Week-end

A leadership training course in Scouting for Brownfield and Tahoka men is planned to be held at Brownfield this week end, April 17 and 18, in the camp site selected east of here. The course will be in troop camping and will be for all men interested in camping and scouting.

Mr. M. L. H. Baze, Dr. Parish, Emory Longbrake, Fred Hinson, James H. Dallas and several other local scouts are promoting the school. Mr. Earl M. McClure, Scout Executive will be here to supervise the training program. The course will open Saturday evening and close Sunday afternoon about 2 p. m. Tents will be set up and a complete camp layout developed with the men cooking their meals.

There are approximately fifty boys who want to get into Scouting here in Brownfield, but we lack sufficient leaders to give them adequate leadership, said Mr. Baze, local commissioner. "We are anxious that every man who can plan to attend this fine course in Scouting so that we may find some additional leadership to reach more boys with our local program."

Certificates in camping are to be given by the National Boy Scout office to those satisfactorily completing the course. Every man who likes to camp and have a good time is urged to attend. Anyone interested should contact Mr. Baze or one of the local scouts.

for it to do so, it will mean that the local schools will receive about $1250. The entire county will be enriched by some five or six thousand dollars. Every state aid school in the county will receive additional aid, which will mean about thirty per cent more than was in prospect. They will receive practically 100 per cent of what was approved for them.

At this time there is considerable disturbance in the Legislature over the conditions that led to a 30 per cent deficit. An investigation has been ordered. The program as outlined by the state administration, is such a departure from previous programs that its cost is difficult to forecast.

Those who went felt that the result was gratifying, although there was some doubt the propriety of making it appear that pressure was being brought on the members to coerce legislation. Senator Nelson and Rep. Doyle Settle seem to be doing a good job.

PHONE 200 — BROWNFIELD, TEXAS

Victor McLaglen and handsome Brian Don Levy are teamed in "My Affair," a historical picture dealing with the assassination of President McKinley. When I went out to see the shooting, the two were in one of their many fist fights, and such a pushing around! When it was over I asked Don Levy how he liked fighting that huge bruiser.

"I like it," he replied quickly, "because I like this role it's much like the 'Knuckles' I played in 'Barbary Coast' which my fans liked. Mac and I rob the banks, get in fights, and I get killed in one.

"But I'm sorry for anyone who takes a poke at Mac. It would be like bumping a boat into Gibraltar. Both the boat and the fist get the worst of it.

"Mac weighs 225 and I'm 40 pounds lighter. He's so big trying to shove him around is like pushing a telephone pole. He knows no one can do anything with him, and so he just gets to laughing when I try it. I got a sprained wrist," Don Levy concluded, shoving up a sleeve to show me the bandages.

Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor play the romantic leads.

Pat O'Brien, who is both an excellent actor and a popular one, is very modest about it. He declares that "anyone can tell by looking at me that I'm not in pictures on account of this pan of mine!"

Gene Autry, who is off on another personal appearance tour in Minnesota, before leaving turned down a neat sum of cash and a lot of valuable advertising for a principle. He refused a radio spot on a cigarette program because he does not smoke, either on or off the screen. "It isn't a good example," he explained to me, "on the screen, nor is it good for my voice off the screen."

There's more than one screen star who, in contrast to Gene doesn't hesitate to take the cash and let the principle go.

As reported a month ago in this column, the expected Evelyn Venable baby arrived the 29th. To the disappointment of both the actress and her director husband, Hal Mohr, it was another girl. So now 16-month old Dolores has a baby sister Rosalie.

Pert Kelton, an excellent comedienne who hasn't gotten the chances her talents deserves, rode around the corner of Vine and Hollywood while I stood waiting for a signal. With her mother driving, Pert was gazing blankly ahead.

"Hey, Pert," I yelled through the traffic din, "Who are you dreaming about?"

"I dunno," she laughed good humoredly. "About going to New York to do a play I guess."

"Cow ponies love to run," explained square-jawed Bob Steele as I watched him riding furious runbys behind the camera car on a Santa Susanna mountain mesa. "They will give all they've got when they are racing other ponies. He trouble is to stop them. If the run ends at a ditch or ravine you get real thrills stopping in time."

Lyle Talbot, who for several years has been one of Hollywood's most eligible and entertaining bachelors, is done with escorting a variety of young screen stars about the night spots. A whirlwind courtship, which started last Christmas, was culminated Sunday by his marriage to Marguerite Cramer. She is a New York society girl who also is lovely enough to win screen honors if she chose.

Talbot's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Henderson of Omaha, Neb., came here for the very modest wedding. After completing his current role with Walter Brennan in "Cappy Ricks," Talbot will take his bride to San Francisco and then to England where he is due for a picture.

Terrific is the discussion about who will play the leading roles in the film version of the popular novel "Gone With the Wind." Both John Boles and Clark Gable are strongly supported for the part of "Rhett Butler." A camera crew is leaving this week to film the necessary background in Georgia.

Fritz Leiber, who is now seen in an excellent performance as Gladys Swarthout's father in "Champagne Waltz," is an artist in other ways also. For an added contrast he's an excellent carpenter, delighted in building things about his modest Beverly Hills home. Against that is his ability as a fine sculptor. Right now he is doing a life size head of himself in every role he's ever played.

WARNS FARMERS OF COTTON CRISIS

The prospect of a material increase in cotton acreage in 1937 is only one of the factors which makes it advisable for every Texas farmer to join the AAA agricultural conservation program, members of the state agricultural conservation committee say.

"I am afraid advancing prices for some of our commodities, especially cotton, have caused Southern farmers to forget the situation which brought about 5 cent cotton and $8 a ton cottonseed," Geo Slaughter, chairman of the committee, said in quoting G. A. Cobb, director of the Southern Division of the Triple A. "A material increase in cotton acreage this season could very easily place cotton producers in a position similar to that in which they found themselves in 1933. Despite the fact that the surplus of American cotton has been reduced, our carry-over of approximately seven million bales is still two million above normal."

The committee urged that every farmer in the State sign a work sheet in the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program. Slaughter pointed out that participation in the program not only would help cut down the threatened overproduction of cotton, but that the program encourages farmers to build up the fertility on a portion of their farms and provides payments that furnish insurance which farmers might use to guarantee the payment of taxes, interest, and other current farm expenses.

"The program also presents to the farmer the chance to produce sufficient food and feed for home use, if he does not already do this, and still secure benefit payments," Slaughter said.

THEY READ THE PAPER

To the merchant who says: "Nobody reads the papers, so why advertise," we would say:

Why publicity seekers and local organizations want space in the paper.

Why the politicians are so anxious for the paper's support.

Why does the delinquent subscriber squawk when his paper is dropped and why do they all yell when they fail to get a weekly edition.

Why are residents so anxious to have their misdeeds kept out of the paper.

A. F. OF L. DISAVOWS SIT-DOWNS

President William Green, in finally announcing the American Federation of Labor's condemnation of the sit-down strike, made a point which should be perfectly obvious to the leadership of the rival labor organization which has been making use of it.

That was when he said that if continued the sit-downs would "force the enactment of legislation providing for compulsory arbitration, the incorporation of unions and other repressive forms of legislation which will deprive organized labor of freedom of association and liberty of action within the limitations of both moral and statutory law."

Green made it clear that the American Federation of Labor has never approved or supported sit-downs. He did not deal with illegal occupation of property on the obvious moral grounds, but confined himself to assailing it from the very practical standpoint of labor's self-interest.

He said that public opinion will not support sit-down strikes, and that labor can not afford to lose the support of public opinion. But, he added, even if temporary advantages should be gained through sit-downs, they would lead inevitably to permanent injury of the cause of labor.

Green's reasonable and intelligent statement quickly drew the fire of John L. Lewis, chairman of the committee for Industrial Organization, who made a typically brutal answer: "The Green statement is characteristically cowardly and contemptible. He again sells his own breed down the river."

If it is cowardly to denounce illegal acts and contemptible to obey the law, then Lewis is right, but if the nation should agree with him it would have to revise its concepts of morality and legality.—Houston Chronicle.

Wellman Comes Thru

The people of the former Hunter, Sawyer and Wellman school districts, working with the trustees and faculty, accepting advice from the State Department of Education, sent to them through the Deputy State Superintendent Mr. G. D. Holbrook, have accomplished a part of what they set out to do less than a year ago, when they consolidated and formed Wellman Independent Rural High School.

Friday, April 9, 1937, Deputy State Superintendent G. D. Holbrook gave a thorough inspection of the work that had been done throughout the year. He found the work in excellent condition and recommended to the State Department of Education that they be given sixteen and one-half affiliated units. The units were given in the following subjects: English 4, Mathematics 3, Science 2, History 2½, Bookkeeping 1½, General Agriculture 1, Typewriting 1, Civics 1, Speech ½.

Superintendent J. B. Bell said, "Our work has only begun. We intend to be the best rural high school in Texas."

This school should have received 17½ credits, as a credit was due them in Home Economics, but because of building arrangements this year the credit was denied. Next year we are sure this school will have 17½ credits. This is indeed a good piece of work, and the whole county should rejoice in their success. We congratulate the patrons, pupils, local school board and teaching staff for their work together. We also feel that a real bouquet should be given Supt. Bell for his untiring efforts to achieve these ends.

DANGERS OF CHIDBIRTH

AUSTIN, Texas.—In Texas during 1936, 700 mothers lost their lives through childbirth and associated conditions. Fatality struck 8,000 babies under one year of age with 4,000 more stillborn. On a national basis the figures reached the tragic total of nearly 85,000. These facts become particularly distressing when it is realized that at least two-thirds of this motherhood penalty could have been avoided, States Dr. Geo W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Never before in the history of obstetrics have scientific precautions against complications been so advanced and so available as they are today. However in spite of the improvement in the techniques involved and the further development of antiseptic control, the maternal mortality figures pathetically indicate that medical knowledge alone cannot solve the problem.

"Generally speaking, innocent or wilful neglect is largely responsible for the preventable maternal deaths. It is to be emphasized that the proper time for expectant mothers to seek medical attention is when the expectancy is first realized.

"Indeed, prenatal care is the great defense against many of the conditions that cause tragedy at birth. Consequently, expectant mothers should place themselves under the supervision of a physician at the beginning of the term. If this fundamental safety rule would be adopted more generally, the present maternal mortality toll could be markedly diminished.

"As one authority aptly states, 'To cut the appalling death rate thoughtful and cooperative initiative must originate in the home!' In other words, science has done its part, now the prospective mothers must do theirs."

QUARTERLY REPORT OF T. U. C. A. OUT THIS MONTH

AUSTIN, April 14.—Chairman-Director Orville S. Carpenter today announced that employers who are subject to the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act will send in their contributions of one and eight-tenths per cent on payrolls for the months of February and March, 1937, by April 25. These contributions will be made on Form TUC 3.

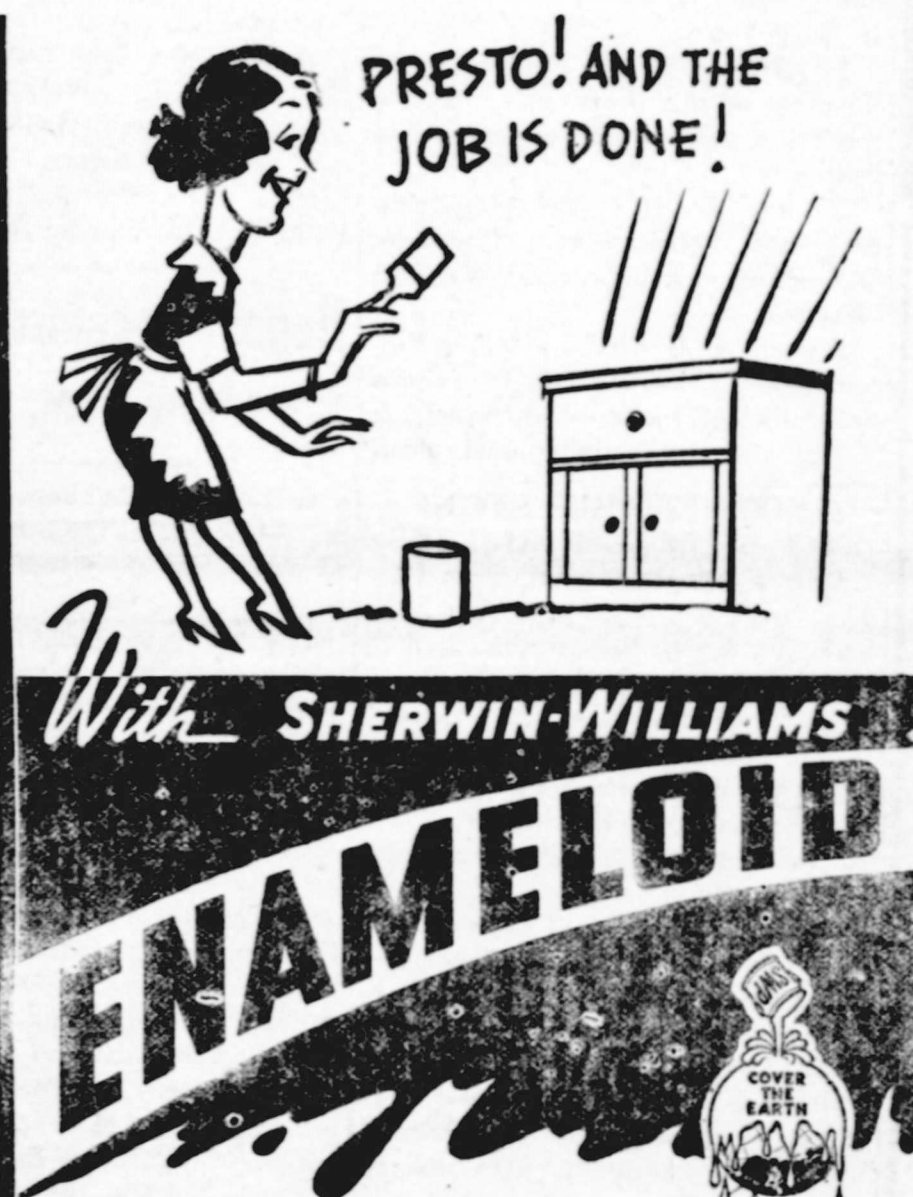

Carpenter also announced that on May 31 employers will make their first quarterly summary reports to the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission. These reports—made on forms TUC 4 and TUC 4a—will contain detailed information on employers' payrolls for the months of January, February, and March, 1937.

Form TUC 4a will be filled out for each person employed by individuals and firms under the Texas Act, Carpenter announced. These forms will show the wages payable to the employee during the quarter, the employee's account number, his name, and his full time weekly wage. In

LOCAL PEOPLE LOSE AGED FATHER IN OKLA.

Rites were to be held at 2:30 p. m. today at the Midway Methodist church for I. W. Estes, age 80 years, a pioneer of Jackson county, who succumbed at 4 p. m. Tuesday. The service was to be conducted by Rev. E. L. Craig, pastor, and burial made in the Navajo cemetery by the Goodman-Sims Funeral directors.

Estes died at the home of his son, nine miles east and four miles north of Altus, adjoining the farm on which he homesteaded in 1897 and which land he continued to own until the time of his death.

Survivors Named

He came here to pioneer in the very early days and until his health broke a few months ago resided on the same farm. Estes was born on April 29, 1857.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. I. W. Estes, five sons, B. A. Estes, V. E. Estes, A. H. Estes and J. A. Estes of Altus and E. O. Estes of Brownfield, Texas, and one daughter Mrs. J. W. Sawyer of Brownfield, Texas, 19 grandchildren, three great-grandchildren and one brother, S. B. Estes of Atlanta, Ga.—Altus Okla. Times.

Vernon Carver, who lived here and attended BHS in his teens, was here this week representing a milling company.

FINE CITIZEN PASSES

The citizens of Terry county were greatly shocked Monday morning when it became known that J. C. (Cal) Bond 60, had passed to the great beyond about 6:30 A. M., following illness of only a few days of flu, with heart complications. Following funeral services at the First Baptist church here, of which he was a member, the body was carried to the Union cemetery and laid to rest.

Mr. Bond numbered his friends by the number who knew him. He was always willing and anxious to help those who needed help, or to advise and counsel those who were in trouble. He always had a hearty "good morning" greeting for everyone, and his presence will be greatly missed by the citizens of our community.

Mr. Bond came here with his family from Hardeman county, Texas, about 20 years ago, and settled on his farm in the Union community. He later moved to town, and entered the drug business, he and associates establishing the Palace Drug Store, which later was sold to Dr. Webber and Ike Bailey. Since that time, he has carried the mail from Post to Brownfield, and lately has purchased grain for a Fort Worth concern.

He leaves to mourn his passing, his faithful wife and two sons and one daughter, Clyde of this city; Walter of Lubbock, and Miss Shirley, who is still at home. His long time friend, Rev. W. K. Horn, conducted the funeral services.

Dignity of the Olympic tradition is borne out in the official emblem of the Pan American Games, in which athletes of two continents will compete at the international fair in Dallas, Texas, opening June 12. The design, approved by a smiling Texanita, depicts a modern Mercury, god of speed, skill and strength, testing the "friendship links" of the two Americas in his powerful grasp above the globe of the Western Hemisphere. Athletes of Mexico, Central and South America will compete with United States' entrants in the Olympic events of track and field, soccer and boxing scheduled for June 30, July 1, 2 and 3.

Making An Economical Flower Garden In Your Own Backyard

HOW to transform an ordinary backyard into a real flower garden for $25 will be revealed by Ruth Cross, novelist, and expert on economy gardening, when making a guest appearance on the "Herald Magazine of the Air" over CBS network on April 17th at 11 a.m. (MST.) with a rebroadcast to the west at 3 p.m. (PST.).

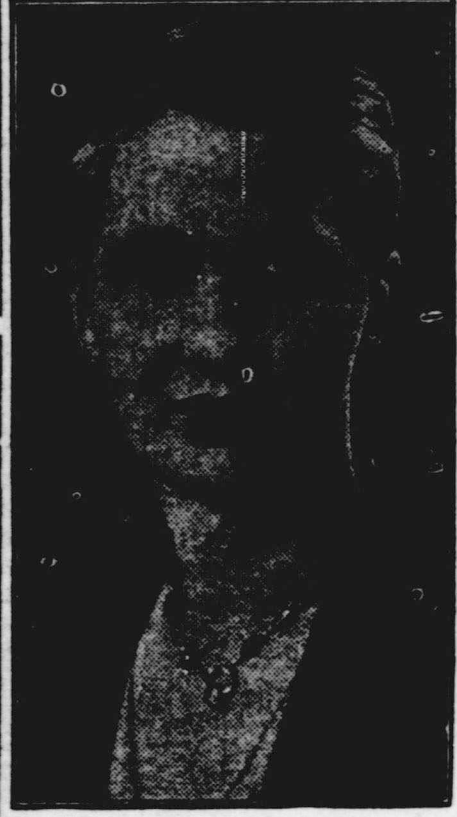

"Begin by choosing a design," advises Miss Cross. "Unless you have an unusual piece of land which suggests a design you can get the most for your money in a simple formal plan."

"For example, consider a rectangle 48 by 32 feet with four foot openings or gateways at either end and large grass plot in center with bird bath or sun dial. Next, think of some enclosure, for a garden without walls is almost the same as no garden at all. If you have partition fences cover them with vines, quick growing morning glories or nasturtiums first, then summer roses, honeysuckle or clematis. Native shrubs or evergreens can be used with splendid effect; in the country these can be had for the digging. Be sure the spade goes down a good two feet, that the ground is thoroughly broken up and fertilized."

Miss Cross gives the following tabulation of expenditure: Forty-five for fertilizer; one dollar for a head of manure; two-fifty for sand and cement to build two seats and bird bath; four dollars for baby evergreens; four pyramidal arborvitae to mark the gateways and four Pfitzer junipers to go on either side of the seats; four wisteria, white or purple, American pillar roses, flowering butterfly bushes and twelve shrubs at twenty-five cents each.

"That leaves ten-fifty for seeds and plants," said Miss Cross, "and two dollars invested in good seed will fill the four borders with zinnias, poppies, larkspur, snapdragons, phlox, petunias, pink, sweet alyssum and portulaca. They will explode with bloom from mid-June until hard frost."

"For hardy things not so easily raised, raise seed get plants from a nursery. Spend one dollar after for five polyantha anemones to plant around the bird bath. Her dollar buys four total of three dollars and twenty-five cents completes the garden. "Invest the remaining thirty cents in three trowels and don't forget to keep the garden weeded and old blossoms picked off. Don't try to have too many varieties in an economy garden. Go in for mass color effect, remembering that red, blue and yellow is the base of all color schemes. Put tall things at the back and lower ones in front," added the expert.

Miss Cross, a native of Texas, wrote her first short story, "The South's Cottonfields," for the "Herald" and has written a book including "The Unknown," "The Big Road," and "Fortune." Her latest novel, "Door To Happiness," was published in July.

SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY

The people of the Pleasant Valley community surprised Grandma U. L. Bates on her 67 birthday Wednesday, April 7, when they arrived about 10 o'clock loaded with packages, which when uncovered, filled the table with a most lovely dinner, including a beautiful decorated birthday cake, which was cut by the honoree.

After dinner, seated in her big arm chair, Grandma began to unwrap gifts. Last came a big box, beautifully covered and ribbon tied, everyone was eager to see what it held. The removing of layers of tissue and unwinding of yards of wrapping paper, revealed a bottle of finger nail polish of Ruby.

We the members of the New Hope Baptist church, and pastor, take this method of thanking Mr. K. W. Howell for the great interest that he has taken in us. No Preaching Last Sunday
The pastor had a wire late last Saturday night calling him to a funeral in East Texas, and so there was no time to arrange a service for the church. After being on the road two nights, he returned late Monday evening.

The regular services of the church will be held next Sunday, preaching at both the eleven o'clock hour and at night. The Sunday School will be held at the usual hour, as will the young people's meetings.

We deeply appreciate the attendance of visitors last Sunday, and regret the disturbed condition of the congregation resulting from the tragic death of the young mother which necessitated the trip to Lodi. Come again next Sunday, and feel welcome.

IN MEMORY OF PEGGY SUE KEE

Oh the bitterness of parting cannot be done away, till we meet our darling walking where her feet can never stray;

When we no more are drifting upon the surging tide, but with her safely landed, upon the river side. Be patient heart, while waiting to see the shining way,

For her little feet in the Golden street, can never go astray.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

BRING IN THE CLOUDS

Without the clouds this would have been a dull picture. A K-2 filter over the lens brought them in. Exposure 1/25 second at f.8.

GO to any art gallery and examine the landscape pictures. Find one in which the artist has failed to put clouds in the sky. If you succeed you will have encountered a rarity in the world of art.

The fact is that even though a painter may succeed in capturing the true empyrean blue he seldom omits to put in a cloud or two, white, dark or tinted, despite the fact that a cloudless, blue sky is not an unusual phenomenon and hence true to nature. The painter appreciates that clouds in their many beautiful forms, "pavilions of the sun," as a poet once called them, are artistic contributions to any outdoor scene. Too, the artist who works in black and white rarely fails to put clouds in his sky because an expanse of plain white space is uninteresting.

Why do we not more often see clouds in amateur photographs? Years ago the qualities of photographic materials were such that it was very difficult to photograph clouds because there was no film so sensitized that it would register clouds distinctly. Today films are available which to a greater or less degree will do so, but if the little gadget known as a filter is used over the lens, clouds may be brought into the picture in their full form and beauty.

Nevertheless, many amateurs continue taking cloudless landscapes, their skies being represented only by a void of white or gray, or faint outlines of clouds at the best. The beauty of a great tumbling cloud, or the attractive canopy which a mackerel sky spreads above a landscape is absent in the print although present when the picture was taken.
