Division Of Hydrogen Revolutionizes Chemistry

AMAZING FEAT RUINS THEORY ALWAYS HELD

German Scientist Startles Delegates at Convention By Discovery

TEXTBOOKS WRONG

Far-Reaching Effect on Industry May Result From Knowledge

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 10. (INS)—One of the most astounding scientific feats in world history was accomplished here today at the convention of the American Chemical society.

An atom of hydrogen, which has always been looked upon as a single element, was split into two gases by Prof. K. E. Bonhoefer of the Kaiser Wilhelm University of Berlin. The two gases were named gasespara and ortho-hydrogen.

Books All Wrong

The discovery today will necessitate the rewriting of all chemistry textbooks in the world and is looked upon as one of the richest scientific discoveries of the century.

The discovery was predicted as eventually affecting industry. It is considered as being the first step in harnessing atomic energy and many scientists believe future heat and energy can be obtained once man has solved baffling molecular activity.

Since the discovery of hydrogen, main constituent of water, and one of the most important elements of the earth and solar system, the element has been considered as "pure." Many phases of chemical reaction as taught in the most modern textbooks have thus been proven wrong by Professor Bonhoefer.

Missing Banker Believed Jailed

NEW CASTLE, Wyo., Sept. 10. (AP)—A man believed by officers to be C. D. Waggoner, missing president of the bank of Telluride, was arrested at a tourist resort eight miles north of here tonight. The man, officers said, admitted "enough to indicate he was Waggoner."

The man was driving a "brownish yellow color" car bearing a Colorado license issued to Waggoner. The description of the car, as to color, make and style corresponds with that of Waggoner's.

Hatcher Arranges For $2,000,000 Loan

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (AP)—In order to maintain the state on a technical cash basis, W. Gregory Hatcher, state treasurer, announced today that he had arranged with banks in Dallas and Austin to advance as much as $2,000,000 to carry warrants drawn against the general revenue fund.

Hatcher said the actual deficiency occurred 60 days earlier this year than usual because deficiency warrants and appropriations had been allowed "by the governor and made by the legislature amounting to $2,600,000, payable during the fiscal year just ended, which were not taken into account when the tax rate was fixed by the automatic tax board a year ago at 22 cents."

BUTLER FACES SECOND TRIAL

150 Rescue Iowan Trapped in Well 42 Hours

Senate Naval Committee Orders Full Probe of Shipbuilders' 'Observer'

Complete Investigation of Shearer's Activities Will Start Thursday; Bethlehem Writes Letter

By WILLIAM P. FLYTHE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (US)—A thorough inquiry into the alleged activities of William B. Shearer, propagandist and of certain warship builders, to prevent reduction of naval armaments was ordered by the senate naval affairs committee today.

Simultaneously the White House made public a letter from the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation admitting that Shearer had been employed by them as "an observer" at the Geneva conference of 1927.

President Hoover replied with a sharp statement saying that there is already so much evidence of "interference" in efforts to reduce naval armaments that a full inquiry is justified. His statement follows:

"The disclosure of interference with and propaganda against the efforts of the government in its negotiations of international agreement for reduction of naval armament are already so evident as to require that these matters should be gone into to the very bottom."

The letter of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation, signed by E. G. Grace, president, created a sensation. He said that in the spring of 1927, without his knowledge, his concern had joined with other shipbuilding corporations to pay Shearer $25,000 for his services as an observer at Geneva. When it was learned that Shearer had engaged in propaganda activities President Grace said that he ordered his dismissal.

The previous year, President Grace stated, his firm had employed Shearer to help promote development of an American merchant marine.

The senate naval affairs committee voted for the investigation with only one dissenting vote. This was from Senator Waterman, Republican, Colorado, who said that the investigation should embrace all propaganda.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, and chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, who requested the inquiry, appeared before the committee. He asked for a "thorough investigation" and said that the committee appeared

MAN DIES IN BARBER CHAIR

Pioneer Nocona Merchant Is Stricken

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, Texas, Sept. 10.—While he was reclining in a barber's chair waiting to be shaved, R. R. Alexander, about 65, pioneer Nocona merchant, died of a heart attack today.

A physician was summoned when the man was stricken, but death came before any assistance could be rendered. The attending physicians diagnosed the cause of death as a heart ailment. Mr. Alexander had entered Teague's barber shop about 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon, apparently in the best of health. He chatted with friends until his turn came to be shaved. Soon after he reclined in the chair the fatal stroke came.

He was one of Nocona's best known merchants, having been in the grocery business here for many years. He is survived by his widow and several children. Funeral arrangements had not been completed late today.

Cal's Portrait Figures In Court Judgment

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (US)—A portrait of Calvin Coolidge figured in a judgment entered in the supreme court today.

Josef Sigall, Polish artist who painted the former president's likeness, is asked to pay $5,397 for the frame about the Coolidge picture and other frames.

Maurice Grieve is the complainant. Counsel for Sigall admitted the artist owes for five frames, but contends they are worth much less than the amount named. Justice McCook reserved decision.

Son Contests Will Of Famed Inventor

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (US)—Emil Berliner, famed inventor who died last month leaving a $1,500,000 estate, was of unsound mind and under undue influence when he made his will three weeks before his death, according to a caveat filed here today by Herbert Berliner, a son.

The inventor divided his estate among his widow and four children, excluding Herbert and another son, Edgar M., on the ground that they had been previously provided for.

British Hairdressers Union May Bar Kenny's Private Tonsorialist

LONDON, Sept. 10. (INS)—The few remaining hairs adorning the head of William F. Kenny, multi-millionaire contractor and friend of former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, may have to be entrusted to the mercies of European tonsorialists after all.

For in spite of the fact Kenny is spending $1,000 to bring his own New York barber, Louis Arico, to London to shear him as he would be shorn, shister complications developed today.

The British National Federation of Hairdressers is reported considering protesting to the labor ministry and the home office against an American laborer plying his trade without proper official sanction.

Arico may be able to prove to immigration authorities he is only a tourist. If he does, he may be able to cut Kenny's hair provided he receives no money for it, and provided Kenny is able to prove he has made all possible efforts to obtain a satisfactory haircut in London and failed.

RAIN KEEPS UP DURANCE TEST

Precipitation Comes in Form of Mist

The rain kept steadily on through Tuesday morning over Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma, fulfilling the prediction that it would set an endurance record of a week; and murky clouds over the region Tuesday night indicated a "refueling period" which possibly may result in the record being shattered.

The rain of Monday night and Tuesday morning, however, was not of the intensity of previous downpours. Over most of Northwest Texas it was in the form of showers and drizzles. Precipitation in Wichita Falls for Monday night and Tuesday totaled only .38 inches. Lowered temperatures continued, a minimum of 56 degrees being reported Tuesday.

Damage resulting from the rain centered Tuesday in Jackson county, Okla., where three highway bridges and a railroad bridge were damaged by the high waters of the Red river. Highway bridges affected included the one two miles west of Marth, which sustained $3,000 damage; another east of Olustee; and a third near Elmer. The railway bridge between Altus and Wellington, property of the Katy lines, was the most seriously damaged, and train service over this route will not be continued until Saturday, officials said.

Precipitation in the Wichita Falls vicinity since last Wednesday when the general drouth of so long standing was broken, has totaled

Mangum and Ryan Fairs Open Today

Tuesday's lull in the rain came at an opportune time, bidding for larger attendance at one Northwest Texas fair, the Hall county fair at Memphis, and paving the road for a grand opening Wednesday of two Oklahoma fairs—those at Mangum and Ryan.

The Greer County Free fair officials are all set for the opening at Mangum Wednesday. This fair is scheduled to last through Sept. 14, as is the Jefferson County Free fair at Ryan. The latter also is expected to draw a record crowd Wednesday, its opening day.

Farm and livestock exhibits were being assembled on the two Oklahoma fairgrounds Tuesday in anticipation of opening day, and the usual varieties of entertainment are assured during the four days of each event.

Details of the opening of the Hall county fair at Memphis Tuesday are given on page 10 of this issue.

Houston Youth Crushed To Death by Elevator

HOUSTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—Everett Johnson, 21, of Houston was killed today when crushed between the elevator of a warehouse where he was working and the second floor.

The youth had been working at the warehouse only today. He was taught to operate the automatic freight elevator. He and some others went downstairs for a smoke. He started up in the elevator alone, his smoke finished, and evidently became frightened when he forgot how to stop the elevator and attempted to climb out.

Pollard to Announce Future Plans Thursday

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (INS)—Attorney General James Claude Pollard expects to announce Thursday, he said today, whether he will continue in office or resign to follow the private practice of law. Persistent rumors have it that he plans to resign and become general attorney for Texas railroads, with headquarters here.

STATE TO PUSH INDICTMENT ON SILVER LOSS

Acquitted Prisoner Stays in Jail Here Until Trial September 23

JURY ACTS QUICKLY

Youth Thanks Court For Result of Trial Over Safe Shortage

Hugh D. Butler, acquitted Tuesday of a theft charge in connection with the disappearance of $719 from the safe of the Silver store here, will face trial on Sept. 23 on a burglary indictment growing out of the same loss, George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney, announced Tuesday afternoon.

Butler and Hub Stanley were separately indicted on both theft and burglary counts after the grand jury investigation of the affair two months ago. The theft charge was brought against Butler in the trial that ended in acquittal Tuesday. He will be held in the Wichita county jail to await the second trial.

20-Minute Decision

The defendant was acquitted of the charge against him after a jury in the 89th district court had deliberated only 20 minutes Tuesday morning. The young prisoner leaped to his feet and asked permission to address the court and the jury in expressing his thanks.

In the trial which began Monday morning the defendant had told the jury that the Silver store was empty and full of coins in the automobile in which he was arrested in Breckenridge last June contained his winnings in a crap game with the manager and other players in the stock room of the store. Witnesses for the defense also testified that R. J. Whaley, former manager, had from time to time "borrowed" money from the safe and the cash register in the store to meet his own needs. Whaley himself verified their statements.

Arrested June 22

Butler and Stanley were arrested in Breckenridge on June 22 on a warrant against Stanley in connection with a shooting scrape here two days before. Breckenridge police found the sack of money, containing refund receipts bearing the store's name, and were instructed to hold both prisoners until investigations were completed. The disappearance of $719 from the store safe was discovered a few hours later when members of the city police here told Mr. Whaley of the money found with Butler in Breckenridge. Butler was at that time acting assistant manager of the store. Whaley has since left his position as manager here and is now working in Amarillo. It was brought out during the trial.

Butler was rearrested in Shamrock, Texas, a few weeks ago after his escape from the Dallas county jail. He was returned to Hill county where he is wanted on a murder charge. A bench warrant from Judge Allan D. Montgomery brought him here for trial before he is returned to Hill county authorities.

Otis Rogers Shows Strain of Long Court Fight as He Defends His Wife

Gaiety of Campus Romance Noticeably Absent as Young Attorney Scans Each Venireman

NEW BRAUNFELS, Texas, Sept. 10. (UP)—Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers, her spectacles reflecting light from a small court room's windows and sitting upright and calm, today heard preliminaries to her trial for a crime allegedly committed by girlish Becky Rogers, sprightly young wife of Otis Rogers, when both of them were fresh from the campus of Texas university.

The young law student of those college days stood before his wife, equally sobered by three years of intermittent court fights through which she had passed, the attorney for the defense. He was prepared to plead that his wife was temporarily insane when, according to the charge, she robbed the Farmers' National bank of Buda, Texas, of $1,000 after gaining admission to its counting chambers by posing as a newspaper reporter.

A new venire of 50 men was ordered to appear tomorrow as tonight's court session was adjourned. From the original panel of 121, nine jurors had been accepted.

Rogers Fights Cautiously

Otis Rogers had fought every inch of the ground tonight for selection of jurors suitable to his case and seven farmers and a merchant tentatively had been accepted. There was no hint of the campus sweethearts in the struggling young defense counsel and the defendant whose face showed traces of strain as she attended his every sharp challenge of the 90 veniremen who had been examined. The taking of testimony was expected to begin Wednesday.

Becky and Otis went through the same scene before and the wife was sentenced to 14 years in pris-

Sterling Says He's Not Candidate—Yet

MEXIA, Texas, Sept. 10. (AP)—Introduced as "the next governor of Texas," R. S. Sterling of Houston, chairman of the state highway commission, tonight declared, in an address before several thousand persons here, "I have no idea of being a candidate for governor; that depends on the people."

The chairman's speech was part of the program celebrating the turning on of a new ornamental lighting system.

J. J. Riddle presented him.

"I am just a farmer boy doing the work before me," Mr. Sterling said. "Governor Moody sentenced me to a tough job and I didn't know any better than to do it. But I didn't say I wouldn't ask for a pardon."

Prisoner Hides Pudding Raisins to Make Brew

JOPLIN, Mo., Sept. 10. (UP)—Raisins used in bread pudding served to county jail prisoners here were responsible for getting Frank Rader, convicted of possession of liquor, more deeply into trouble with authorities. Sheriff H. D. Stephens today discovered Rader had put the raisins in a glass of water which he concealed in his cell with the idea of creating for himself a "drink with a kick."

Roosevelt Jr., Calls On Hoover at White House

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (INS)—Col. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., recently named governor general of Porto Rico, was a White House caller today. After a long conference with President Hoover, Colonel Roosevelt announced he would remain in the capital for several days acquainting himself with the details of his new position. He returned to the United States this week from a hunting trip in Hindustan.

PATTON HEADS LEGION

PONCA CITY, Okla., Sept. 10. (AP)—R. G. Patton of Okmulgee was elected commander of the Oklahoma department of the American Legion by the overwhelming vote of the 10th annual state legion convention here late today.

J. T. ROBISON FUNERAL HELD

High State Officials Are Among Throng at Bier

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (AP)—The body of J. T. Robison, commissioner of the general land office, was returned to the soil of his native Texas today.

In the presence of justices of the higher courts, state officials, and men and women from all walks of life and many parts of Texas, funeral services for the veteran commissioner were held by Rev. W. D. Bradfield, of the Southern Methodist university of Dallas.

Body Lies in Capitol

The body reposed in the senate chamber of the capitol from 10 a. m. until 2 p. m., when it was removed to a funeral home, where the services were held at 5 p. m. Burial was in the family plot where are the graves of a son and daughter.

While Commissioner Robison lay in the grey metallic casket in the center of the senate chamber, hundreds of people came to look upon his features. Many of them brought flowers which multiplied into a great heap at the foot of the casket.

All departments of state were closed by order of Governor Moody and the presence of death within the great granite structure moved people to talk in whispers and walk with soft tread.

Long an Austin Resident

Having made his home in Austin continuously since 1895, when he came to accept employment as a clerk in the land office, he was intimately known and held in esteem by much of the populace. Many of the home people visited his bier and scores came from great distances to do honor to a faithful public official.

Mr. Robison became commissioner of the general land office in 1908 and had been elected 11 consecutive times.

When he went to New London, Conn., where he died, for a visit with his son, Dr. J. T. Robison Jr., he was seeking rest from the strain of a legislative investigation of his official acts and a hearing before the house of representatives on proposed impeachment charges. The house refused to vote charges against the veteran official after a long hearing.

Mr. Robison was born in Morris county on Sept. 30, 1861. His father was a Confederate veteran, who died for the lost cause. Mr. Robison was left an orphan when a child. He and Mrs. Robison had reared 15 orphans.

Woman and Brother Set Free in Murder Hearing

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 10. (UP)—Mrs. Charles Stanley and her brother, Ernest Shackleford, were freed today from a charge of murder in the death of Mrs. Stanley's husband July 31 at their preliminary hearing before Judge R. J. Williams in common pleas court. Judge Williams ruled that evidence was insufficient to bind them over for trial.

Indian Sues Chicagoan For Tribal Oil Lands

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (AP)—Suit for $1,500,000 damages today was filed against Charles B. Shaffer, Chicago oil magnate, by counsel for Siller Kemobah, Creek county, Oklahoma, Indian widow, who seeks to recover a section of tribal oil land from the Chicagoan.

Speed Goal of 370 Miles Per Hour Set After Plane Shatters Record

CALSHOT, Eng., Sept. 10. (UP)—Great Britain's great speed pilot, Squadron Leader A. H. Orlebar, shattered all world speed records today when he forced a super-marine Rolls-Royce 2-6 model seaplane over a three-kilometer course at the rate of 355.8 miles per hour. At one point he made 368.3 miles an hour.

Sweeping down to a low altitude over the Solent course, the tiny plane flashed through the air like a rocket as it made four trips over the regulation distance and then settled down to a perfect landing on its grotesque, claw-like floats.

Orlebar will make another assault on the record Thursday when he will attempt to average 370 miles an hour or better for the four dashes over the straight-line course. He was handicapped today by poor visibility, being able to see less than five miles ahead. The little plane covered the course at the rate of more than five miles a minute.

Orlebar's flight not only broke the record set by H. L. R. Atcherley in winning the Schneider cup races last week—a mark of 332 miles an hour—but it beat the record of G. H. Stainforth, who flew over the straight line course prior to Orlebar's flight today. Stainforth averaged 336.3 miles an hour.

DEMOCRATS WIN FIRST TEST OF TARIFF ISSUE

Resolution Directs Finance Committee to Study Income Reports

VARE CASE WAITS

Western Republicans Join Rival Party Men To Vote Plan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (US)—In the first test of strength on the tariff bill in the senate today, the Democratic-Insurgent coalition had gained a number of recruits from Western Republicans to adopt the Simmons resolution for publicity on corporation incomes by the overwhelming vote of 51 to 27.

The resolution, as adopted, directs the finance committee to take into consideration the cost of production of various manufactured products benefitted under the bill, as well as the profits of corporations. An amendment by Senator Couzens of Michigan broadened the measure to cover the profits of importers.

State Delegations Split

After two days of debate in which the administration forces led by Chairman Smoot of the finance committee resisted the proposal, the resolution had the support of 21 Republicans and 30 Democrats. All of the 27 negative votes were Republican.

Several state delegations were split on the vote, notably, Indiana, when Senator Watson, Republican leader, supporting the committee group was deserted by his colleague, Arthur R. Robinson. Capper of Kansas voted for the resolution. While Allen opposed it. Glenn of Illinois voted for the measure and Deeneen was paired in the negative.

Senator Couzens, of Michigan, a member of the finance committee, voted for the Simmons proposal and was joined by his colleague Vandenberg. The vote of Senator Hackett of Kentucky, who usually goes along with the regular Republicans, for the resolution also came as a surprise.

Brock's First Vote

Other Republicans not identified with the Progressive group, headed by Senator Borah, of Idaho, which is demanding that the tariff revision be confined to agricultural schedules were: Jones of Washington, Republican whip; McNary and Steiwer of Oregon; and Thomas of Idaho.

It was the first vote cast in the senate by Senator Brock, Democrat of Tennessee, who took the oath yesterday.

Debate opened after Senator Norris of Nebraska announced that he would not ask for action on the Vare ouster, resolution until after the Simmons proposal had been disposed of.

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississipi carried the fight to the Republicans, declaring that the resolution was offered in good faith to develop additional facts in settling upon just rates in the bill. Harrison was denied the opportunity to heckle Senator Smoot of Utah as the chairman of the finance committee slipped out of the chamber as soon as the Mississippian took the floor.

During the course of the speech, Harrison disclosed that Senator Couzens of Michigan voted with the Democrats in the committee on a motion to make public all votes by which rates were adopted. It was learned, however, that Walsh of Massachusetts and Senator George of Georgia, Democrats, had withheld their votes and the motion was lost.

Decision Reserved On Big Spring Rail Plea

JUST THE Baer Facts

By Bugs Baer

A PRINCE TAKES THE AIR

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Eddie, ranking prince of the English channel, is now an aviator.

And a real one, too. He has flown big passenger planes all over Europe.

We know why Eddie has taken up aviation.

He wants to get over that Liverpool jump.

As a matter of statistics, Edward earned his wings while riding hossback.

We all remember his famous words to his hoss while taking a fence on Long Island:

"Don't go away. I'll be back."

He came back. Remounted, and made that hoss jump the hedge with him. Thereby winning millions of pals in America.

But aviation is a trifle more dangerous than equitation. That's why Eddie likes it.

He sold his racing stable when his hosses got spavined from taking bows on the wrong side off fences.

Don't allow anybody to convince you that steeple chasing is an easy method of spending a convalescence.

We once tried to ride a hoss in the U. S. artillery. In private life it had been a brewery hoss and should have recognized me.

Like a Kentucky mule, this hoss had no pride of ancestry nor hope of posterity. As for its pedigree, it made that up as it went along by kicking colonels, majors and generals.

It could smell oats over the telephone. But the only way you could ride that bird was by proxy.

That is when we got to admire the prince's equitation. True, the prince had been thrown so often that when he got on a hoss, his shoulder blades opened up like parachutes.

But he kept trying. Which is more than we did. After one trip on that nag, we tried to get him shot for a spy.

We wish Eddie the best of good fortune in his new racket.

But we hope he doesn't try to Lindbergh the Atlantic.

Eddie never has done very well on water jumps.

TWO INCH RAIN FALLS AT HAMLIN

Special to The Record News.

HAMLIN, Texas, Sept. 10—More than two inches of rain fell here last night and up till noon today, which makes a total of more than three inches during the past week. Though it is rather late to benefit cotton it will prove very beneficial to late feed and pastures. There will be a great deal of winter pasture planted which assist to a great extent in feeding livestock through the winter, very little damage was done in this section to cotton, as little was opened. The city lakes which were getting low are almost full from the recent rains.

BENJAMIN RECEIVES EIGHT INCH TOTAL

Special to The Record News.

BENJAMIN, Texas, Sept. 10.—Rain last night and up till noon today amounted to one and three-fourths, making a total of over eight inches in past six days.

RAINS HALT FARM WORK AT HASKELL

Special to The Record News.

HASKELL, Texas, Sept. 10—Rainfall of the last few days here has totaled four and one-half inches. Cotton picking, ginning and all farm work has been temporarily halted.

KISSES SPEAK PLAINER THAN WORDS

When your little ones are half-sick, out-of-sorts, they can seldom tell you what is wrong. You have to read their symptoms in order to choose the right medicine. If, when ou kiss them, you detect unpleasant breath, you have a sure sign that the bowels are sluggish; that the stomach is sour and bilious.

For a child constipated, feverish, languid, fretful, wakeful at night, lacking appetite and subject to colds and sore throat, you will find a reliable remedy in California Fig Syrup. It is the finest laxative in the world for children. Little ones previously always half-sick, fretful and backward through sluggish bowels and poor digestion, take a wonderful turn for the better and thrive amazingly when the bowels have been helped back to healthy regularity by an occasional dose of California Fig Syrup. Millions of mothers have proved its merit and have been relieved of further worry and anxiety from their child's constipation.

If you have a child bothered like this or one who is subject to frequent bilious attacks and sick headache, save the little one this suffering, and yourself constant anxiety by giving California Fig Syrup. Get a bottle today. All drug stores.

California Fig Syrup has been trusted by the World's mothers for over 30 years. That is why the word "California" should be emphasized when buying.—Adv.

BANK SAVED AFTER SWINDLE

Collateral Protected as Cops Hunt President

DENVER, Sept. 10. (UP)—Depositors of the bank of Telluride, the missing president of which is the object of a nationwide search following his surprising half-million dollar swindle that victimized six New York city banks, evidently will be protected as a result of Colorado State Bank Commissioner Grant McPherson winning his fight against permitting eastern depositories intercepting $50,000 in collateral mailed to the Colorado institution.

The postoffice department at Washington, D. C., late today issued an order that will forestall the efforts of the Telluride sheriff to obtain possession of the collateral in the interests of the New York bankers.

The postoffice department's order prescribes that the collateral be turned over to the state bank examiner in charge of the bank at Telluride, while the search for C. D. Waggoner, missing president, and author of the gigantic swindle, goes on.

The $50,00 collateral was released to the bank of Telluride by the Hanover bank of New York, after C. D. Waggoner, the vanished president, had paid $270,000 with part of the funds raised through his spectacular coup on the nation's money center.

United States Senators G. W. Waterman and L. C. Phipps, along with Postmaster General Brown at Washington, D. C., and the Denver postoffice inspection department were drawn into the struggle for possession of the collateral with the result that the money was placed in the Telluride bank, which is closed and in the hands of the state examiner.

At the federal grand jury hearing in New York bank officials described how the Colorado mining town banker had perpetrated the swindle. They detailed how Waggoner had appeared at the Chase National bank 10 days ago with certified drafts signed by C. E. Downtain, chashier of the bank of Telluride, and how he had withdrawn all but $5,000 of a half million dollars in credit which had been established through fake code messages purporting to come from Denver banks.

on. The young lawyer, however, obtained an appeal and the verdict was reversed on the ground that prosecution arguments to the jury were "inflammatory." Then last spring the case came up again and it proved impossible to obtain an impartial jury. A change of venue was made.

The death penalty is provided in Texas for conviction on the charge but the prosecution indicated they would ask only a penitentiary sentence.

Capitol Employe

Becky was an employe at the capitol in Austin when she was arrested and charged with the Buda robbery. She and Otis Rogers had kept their marriage a secret while he began the building up of a law practice at Amarillo. The secret was forgotton at once. Rogers rushed to Austin, announced the prisoner was his wife and that he would fight the charge to the "last ditch." He had been a student official at Texas university and the young couple were prominent on the campus.

There was none of the gaiety of the T. U. "Becky and Otis" romance left in the attorney and his wife-defendant tonight as they were pointed out on the street and gazed at curiously by the throng of Texas farm people who came here to see "the young attorney defend his coed wife."

Southern Republic Adopts 8-Year Term in Place of Death Penalty

By GEORGE A. SCHREINER

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 10. (US)—Mexico's new penal code, about to be enacted in law, abolishes the death penalty.

The new criminal code will follow what has become almost established practice in Mexican courts in late years—giving prison sentences even in murder cases.

Eight years imprisonment for murder has almost become the rule, if dozens of recent verdicts in the federal district and nearby states may be taken as a guide. In the criminal courts of this city "eight years" has been the invariable punishment meted out, indiscriminately almost, to all males charged with murder. Women seem to fare even better, with a majority of murderesses getting three years.

While juries have sometimes inflicted the more drastic sentence of death, the president of the republic has saved from execution every individual condemned to suffer it, with the exception of Jose Leon Toral, who assassinated Gen. Alvaro Obregon, ex-president and president-elect, in July, 1928.

President Portes Gil is opposed to the death penalty and was instrumental in the change provided for in the new code.

YOUR HOUSE NEED PAINT? THEN REMEMBER—

A PAINT BRUSH has a handle too—

It is important that you consider the handle end of a paint brush, as well as its bristle end, when you have painting done. To insure the right kind of job, you need both a master painter and good paint such as pure lead paint.

The master painter and pure lead paint are a time-tried partnership. For a hundred years and more master painters have built reputations for fine work with pure lead paint . . . and enabled property owners to get the utmost for their paint money.

Master painters continue to do that today by using, on exteriors and interiors, pure lead paint made with Dutch Boy white-lead.

Dutch Boy white-lead is sold by paint dealers everywhere.

SHIPBUILDERS PROBE VOTED to agree with him that one was necessary.

"It is my opinion," he said, "that it was nothing short of scandalous for these ship-building concerns to employ a man, obviously for the purpose of breaking down the disarmament conference.

"It amounts almost to a criminal conspiracy against the people and the government of the United States. Here were private corporations interested in the building of ships employing a man secretly to go over there to prevent disarmament efforts of two major nations."

After the naval affairs committee had voted to hold the investigation, beginning next Thursday, Senator Borah introduced a resolution on the floor of the senate providing for the necessary expenses of the inquiry. It was referred to the committee on audit and control.

The points upon which Borah wants light is: what Shearer did at the Geneva naval arms conference in 1927. Whether he was paid by American shipbuilding companies to "throw a monkey-wrench" into the machinery of the conference in the interest of a "big navy?" Whether Shearer was inspired, aided and abetted by American naval officers in his activities.

In a recent suit in New York, Shearer claimed he had been paid $51,000 by the Bethlehem Shipbuilding company, the New Port News Shipbuilding company and American Brown Boveri company and that $257,000 was still owing him on a contract for service at the Geneva conference.

The Borah resolution, revised, is broad enough to force the appearance of naval officers and the power to demand the production of the books of the shipbuilding companies.

Senator Hale, chairman of the investigation committee, promised a painstaking inquiry.

Drink Caused Crash, He Says

Witness Says Mrs. Pantages Car 'Zig-Zagged'

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 10. (UP)—A state's witness testified today that in his opinion Mrs. Lois Pantages was under the influence of intoxicating liquor when she drove her automobile into that of Joe Rokumoto, for whose death she is on trial, charged with second degree murder.

Under direct examination, Harry J. Ledebrink, contractor, said that he had spoken to Mrs. Pantages, as well as observed her asserted zig-zag driving, just before the crash.

Previous to Lederbrink's appearance on the stand, County Autopsy Surgeon A. F. Wagner testified that he believed Rokumoto died from shock and injuries caused by the accident and not, as the defense maintains, from an operation during which he suecumbed.

The first actual witness to the crash was called by the state late in the day. Cyril B. Holmes, a machinist, said that after Mrs. Pantages had passed his automobile on the right he followed her at 30 miles an hour to get the license number of her car.

He said that Mrs. Pantages was driving recklessly and that at Serrano street Rokumoto made an effort to avoid the crash, but too late. Holmes testified Mrs. Pantages made no effort to stop when the crash was imminent.

You Have Heard About Mountain Coffees from Central America

Why Not Try This Rare Flavor Today?

Map of New World's Coffee Eden—showing where Central American coffees grow with flavor unlike any known before

IF you have never tasted Central American Mountain Coffee we now ask you to accept an unusual offer through your grocer; order a pound of Folger's Coffee today. Serve it three times. Then if you are willing to return to ordinary coffee after this test, your grocer will gladly refund the money you have paid.

We do not make this offer as philanthropy or to be "different." It is made because we have found that probably 8 out of 10 families who make this test never go back to ordinary coffees. We have built one of the largest coffee businesses in the world simply by letting people taste mountain coffee flavor.

It comes from certain high volcanic regions of Central America. Where Nature produces coffee with a rare tang and mellow, full-bodied flavor that experts concede is not duplicated anywhere else in the world.

Only a small percentage of the world's supply of coffee comes from the mountain districts of Central America and the high prices they command, prohibit their use in ordinary coffees.

We have been importing these rare mountain grown Central American Coffees for 79 years. For some of the rarest we contract from season to season while the trees are still in blossom.

Rarest of Coffees

Ordinarily when you change from one brand of coffee to another, you note little difference in taste. That is because 70% of all coffee sold in the United States today (regardless of brand names) is of one common type grown in the same general region. Hence Nature has given it the same common flavor. So-called "blending" and special roasting processes (in spite of advertising talk) can not change it. For roasting coffee merely brings out whatever flavor Nature has already put in. The instant you break the vacuum seal of your first can of Folger's you will note the difference. There is a rush of rich fragrance unlike any coffee you have ever tried before.

When the clear amber coffee is poured in the cup, you'll find it has a rare tangy flavor, full-bodied and smooth—never "flat," "thin," or "insipid."

Try This Unique Test

Get a pound of Folger's Coffee from your grocer today. Drink it tomorrow morning. The next morning drink the coffee you have been using. The third morning drink Folger's again. Then decide which you like best. If, for any reason, you do not choose Folger's, your grocer will gladly refund the full purchase price. We will pay him. That's fair, isn't it? You risk nothing—so why not order Folger's now for the test?

ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION for All The People

Twenty-one years ago, when the Model T was first made, and again in December, 1927, when the new Ford was introduced, the policy of the Ford Motor Company was announced in these words—

"We will build a motor car for the great multitude. It will be large enough for the family, but small enough for the individual to run and care for. It will be constructed of the best materials, by the best men to be hired, after the simplest designs that modern engineering can devise. But it will be so low in price that no man making a good wage will be unable to own one."

MORE than seventeen million Ford automobiles have been made since this announcement was first printed. The passing years have brought many changes—in appearance—in performance—in manner of manufacture. But there is one thing that has never changed—the fundamental idea behind the Ford car.

The Ford Motor Company was formed, and exists today, not merely to make automobiles but to provide economical transportation for all the people. Far more important than the car itself is the part it plays in the lives, the happiness, and the prosperity of millions of people.

Before the Ford was introduced the automobile was considered more or less as an expensive toy, for only the wealthy to drive. There was no conception of its uses and possibilities as we know them today. It was accepted in much the same manner that the airplane was accepted five years ago. Great emphasis was placed upon its racing speed and very little upon its practical utility.

With the coming of the Ford, however, it became possible for men in all walks of life to enjoy the benefits of transportation that formerly had been limited to a fortunate few.

A great change came over the country and with it a new prosperity. By freeing the movements of men, the Ford also freed their thoughts and created new opportunities. The barriers of time and distance were broken down. Good roads followed close behind the automobile and the isolation of country districts disappeared. The nation grew as people learned to use this newly developed horse-power and fit it to their needs.

Into the hands of men of moderate means—to the workers in factories—to the toilers on the farm—was given a means to increase their income and enjoy the leisure which that increased income should bring. The working day became shorter because men could do in eight hours the tasks that previously had taken ten or twelve—and do them better.

Always it should be remembered that we do not have automobiles because we are prosperous. We are prosperous because we have them.

Today, with all its improvements—with all its new beauty of line and color—with all the betterments and changes that have been made during the past twenty-one years—the Ford is still a "motor car for the great multitude."

It is not just a new automobile—not just so many mechanical parts carefully put together to run on wheels—but Progress—Achievement—a part of the very life and fabric of the nation.

Business of every kind moves forward at a faster pace because of it. To countless homes it brings the rewards of widening opportunity, happiness, and priceless hours of relaxation in the open air.

All of this, not merely because of its safety, its comfort, its reliability, its speed, its acceleration, its ease of control, but because of a fundamental purpose that is greater than all of these. Because, in larger degree than ever, it provides economical transportation for all the people.

Children's Aid Has Dinner for Court

One of the nursing homes of the Children's Aid society of West Texas entertained at dinner Monday. The children, the oldest of whom is 12, prepared a great part of the dinner and then joyously served it.

The dinner was given at the nursing home managed by Mrs. J. W. Hamilton on N. Ninth street and the guests were Miss Katherine Henricle, Judge P. A. Martin, Judge W. W. Cook, Paul Barnett, Mr. McDonald, the juvenile officer, Judge Marrs, F. R. Knauth, and L. L. Kuntz. M. A. Bundy was unable to attend.

The member of the nursing home said to have made the greatest hit with the gentlemen was the baby, once a protege of the home, now an adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton. All the little girls, it is said, came in for their share of praise from the officials.

Honeyed Tongue Helps Wife With Mother-in-Law

It Is Always a Hazardous Venture for a Bride to Go to Live With Her Mother-in-Law, Says Dorothy Dix, but She Can Do It Successfully by Perpetually Putting Honey on Her Tongue and Keeping Hands Off the Housework

A young woman writes me: "I am going to marry the dearest fellow in the world, and because there is no other way out of it, I am going to live with his mother, and I am determined to get along with her. Can you give me a few tips on how to do it?"

It is always a dangerous adventure and one that nearly always ends in disaster for a mother-in-law and a daughter-in-law to attempt to live under the same roof because, for one reason, it takes more breadth of character and generosity of soul and unselfishness than most women possess to keep them from being jealous of each other. The human triangle never presents more acute points or is more full of tragedy than when the "other woman" is the wife or the mother.

And for another reason mothers-in-law and daughters-in-law who live together generally have a Kilkenny cat time because they cannot keep from interfering with each other, and for still another reason they do not harmonize because they represent the clash between two generations, the old way and the new way of looking at everything, and doing everything from matters of etiquette and propriety to rocking babies to sleep.

Still, however hazardous the venture of a bride going to live with her mother-in-law, there are those who must gather up their courage in both hands and make it, and if they have enough patience and forbearance and wisdom and determination, they can make a success of it.

For, after all, mothers-in-law are not orges, waiting to devour hapless little brides. They are, for the most part, good, kind, well-meaning women, a little set in their opinions and determined on having their own way. Just a fair average sample of the mill run of women and as like a girl's own mother as two peas in a pod. Also, they react to the same stimuli her mother does.

So my first tip to the young wife who is going to live with her mother-in-law is not to go into her new home with a chip on her shoulder looking for a fight and determined that no mother-in-law shall put anything over on her. Instead, approach mother-in-law with the olive branch in your hand and make more effort to vamp her than you ever did to get her son. Spread the salve and put honey on your tongue. Be more deferential to her than her own daughters are.

Don't resent her every suggestion any more than you would your own mother's. Ask her advice. After all, she has had a lot more experience in the world than you have had and knows many things that it will take you 30 or 40 years to find out for yourself. And, anyway, you won't have to follow her advice if you don't want to, but it will tickle her pink for you to pay her the compliments of seeking her opinion on matters.

My second tip is: Disarm her jealousy. Don't flaunt the fact that her son belongs to you now in his mother's face. Don't monopolize him. Share him with her. See that he pays her even more attention than he did before he was married. Leave them alone together for little talks.

Keep in mind that it is a bitter thing for a mother to see the son that she worships and who has been her one thought and interest ever since the day he was born, preferring another woman to her, putting another woman above her in his heart and turning to another woman for companionship.

The great fear that every woman has when her son marries is that she will lose him entirely, that his wife will separate him from her, so if you will make your husband's mother see that you have no desire to do this she will spend the balance of her life burning grateful incense at your feet.

My third tip is: Hands off the housekeeping. In her own home every woman is a jealous Turk who bears no rival near the throne. Not even her own daughters, nor her own mother. Still less will she stand for an in-law interfering with her sacred ways of doing things.

It is funny, but a woman is amenable to suggestions about her religion, her politics, her morals, her literary taste, her clothes, but woe betide the one who is rash enough to attempt to introduce a new routine in her household and to substitute doilies for tablecloths if she has been in the habit of using tablecloths for 30 years, or to make a cake with three eggs if she has always used four. I know of a quarrel that split up a family that originated in the daughter-in-law refusing to wash the dishes in three waters as her mother-in-law had always done.

Of course, it requires superhuman self-control for any woman to see another woman making a pie without sticking her finger in it, but keep yours out if you want to keep it from being burned. So if you want to get on in peace with your mother-in-law, leave her in sole and arbitrary command of her house and bite your tongue off before you tell her of any modern improvements.

My final tip is: Jolly her. Show her some affection. Call her mother and make her feel that you are her daughter and not her daughter-in-law. Treat her as you do your own mother. Give her the kind of spontaneous kiss that you give your own mother, instead of one that is just a perfunctory pack on the cheek.

Show her genuine appreciation of her kindness to you and put some warmth in your thanks for the things she gives you and does for you. Remember that it isn't any easier for her to live with you than it is for you to live with her, and that it is just as hard for her to put up with your little ways as it is for you to put up with hers.

Pay her compliments. The older we get the hungrier we are for flattery and the greedier we gobble it up. Perhaps it is because not many people bother to notice us. So turn the spotlight on your mother-in-law's good points and she will eat out of your hand.

It isn't easy for mothers-in-law and daughters-in-law to get along together, but they can do so if they will, and when they do it brings them both great happiness. So try out these tips, daughter, and Heaven send they work.

Many Guests Attend Style Show Tuesday

In autumn's royal colors of purple and gold, a table in the form of an E was set in the lounge of the Wichita club Tuesday to accommodate 130 guests who attended the style show given by Elwyn, Inc., during the luncheon hour. Golden candles and golden candelabra furnished the lighting and the green spread down the center of the tables was sprayed with little purple flowers.

Miss Loraine Tucker was at the piano, playing softly while society maids and matrons added to the beauty of the gowns, jewelry and hats furnished by Elwyn.

Mrs. B. C. Nicholson was introduced in the beginning by Elwyn as mistress of ceremonies, and she in turn introduced each number. Mrs. Nicholson was charming in an Elwyn evening gown of shimmering blue panne velvet and her poise and musical voice were said to have added greatly to the success of the occasion.

In the intermissions, several interesting numbers were given by artists of the city. Charles Doran gave two wonderful tap dances while Jack Ward accompanied. Both these artists are from the Wichita Falls Academy of Fine Arts.

Misses Helen Peters and Virginia Hampson, charming in their fresh beauty, danced "The Breakaway," one of the newest of dances. Misses Peters and Hampson are the Knickerbocker dancers.

Miss Dorothy Greathouse, lovely in her blue gown, sang "Cara Nome" with her tones at their best, with Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey at the piano.

Guests were full of interest in the lovely gowns which were styled by Misses Mary Allison, Jeanette Moore, Irma Schnelle, Elizabeth Langford, Dorothy Nolen, Margaret Hines, Joline Woods, Mary Delaney and Virginia and Christine McDannald of Electra; Mesdames J. W. Akin, Joe A. Kell, John Harris, Jimmy Williams, Charles Nolen, Hugh Bassett, A. L. Solliday, Porter Oakes, Carol Maxwell and Jimmy McPhail. Mrs. W. B. Hamilton rose from her place in the center of the table to show the lovely gown from Elwyn, Inc., which she wore.

Garden Club to Give Thursday Breakfast

People who know will tell members of and visitors to the Garden club Thursday morning just what to plant to have flowers in profusion in the spring.

Norman Downing will tell when and how to plant fall roses; Mrs. Perry Wilson will discuss the planting of fall seeds and Edwin Bebb, who returns Tuesday from a camp fire conference at Omaha, Neb., will talk on the planting of fall bulbs and probably tell of some of the high lights on his trip.

A round table discussion, following the order of the delightful meeting in the spring, will take place after the program is given.

All Woman's Forum members are welcome to the Garden club breakfast and members are urged to be present, it was stated. Reservations may be made with the president, Mrs. Frank Timberlake, telephone 6894, and must be made before 12 o'clock Wednesday.

SPENT $1500 TRYING TO GET WELL

Then Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought Relief

This startling letter from an ex-service man will interest everyone who suffers from constipation:

"I was discharged after the World War with heart trouble and bad stomach. I had saved about $1500. Since then I've spent that sum and a lot more on doctoring and operations and medicines. I always was bothered with constipation.

"I told my wife to get some kind of light breakfast food and I would try it. She came home with a small package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I ate it for breakfast, lunch and dinner, about a common tea-saucer full with milk at each meal. I have been doing this for about a month. I have stopped taking dope (medicines). I work 9 to 12 hours. I have a good appetite. And now I am gaining flesh and believe I am getting well."—George C. O'Connell, Barker, N. Y.

Cleanse your system of constipation's poisons. Thousands have regained their old-time vigor and vim, stopped constipation forever, by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Relief is guaranteed. ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. 100% effective—doctors recommend it. Ready-to-serve with milk or cream. Use in cooking. See the recipes on the package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers. Served in leading hotels and restaurants—dining cars.

Life looks rosy for him

Health worth more than fortune

THE baby to be envied is the one who is born with an inheritance of perfect health, to begin with. And who's lucky enough to have a mother who knows how to build up this fortune.

"Perhaps I'm old-fashioned," she'll say to the doctor who pronounces her child physically 100% at a baby show, "but this health certificate means more to me than all the stock certificates in the world. If my baby grows up strong and well, I'm willing to leave it to him to make a career and fortune for himself.

"Already I'm teaching him the value of regular habits. Regular sleep, regular meals, regular functions. He's never once been off schedule, not even when he was cutting teeth or traveling to the country. I make sure of that by giving him Nujol regularly. He has his own bottle in the nursery."

Nujol works so easily and naturally that it won't upset a baby under any conditions. It keeps everything functioning properly. It not only prevents any excess of body poisons (we all have them) from forming but aids in their removal. It is safe and sure. Nujol was perfected by the Nujol Laboratories, 2 Park Avenue, New York.

Just try Nujol for your baby. Give it to him regularly for the next three months. See if it doesn't make things much easier for both of you. See if he doesn't thrive on this new schedule—(children themselves much prefer living by regular routine).

Heir to millions

Here's another thing: Nurses are advising mothers to give their babies an oil rub with Nujol after the daily bath, instead of using powder. Just saturate some cotton with Nujol and rub it gently all over your baby's body. It keeps him from getting chapped and chafed. And leaves his skin as soft and smooth as velvet. Use it when you change his clothes. Whenever his skin has been exposed to irritation.

A bottle of Nujol costs you no more than pink ribbons on the baby's bonnet. And it's worth a lot more to him! Try it. Certainly it could do no harm — for Nujol contains no drugs or medicine. Your druggist carries it. Be sure you get the genuine. Sold only in sealed packages, never in bulk.

THE ROBOT BUGABOO

Daily Editorial

PRESIDENT GREEN, who really knows better, warns a Labor day audience that the robots "will get 'em if they don't watch out."

He finds automatic machinery supplanting human workers far too suddenly to suit his organization.

The old quarrel between efficiency and tradition!

Progress has been quickening output and cutting expense ever since wheel, cog and lever undertook to show that time, cost and effort could be saved by mechanical contraptions.

But the record also demonstrates that thriftier manufacturing methods have always redounded to the benefit of craftsmen, by enlarging their markets, increasing consumption and developing wider and more remunerative fields for displaced skill.

The eighteenth and nineteenth centuries fought power-weaving to the last ditch, and then proceeded to prosper under its economies.

The English carter and canal-boatman cried "Ruin!" when railroads captured their customers.

And immediately after found employment as engineers, firemen and freight handlers, at higher wages than the obsolete systems had ever paid.

Incandescent street illumination compelled lamp-lighters to swap their trifling jobs for better-paying vocations.

Slow-poke tools and techniques must surrender thoroughfare to less wasteful ways of doing everything.

THE Telephone Red Book, with its handy business classifications, indicates how incessantly invention freshens opportunity.

The various ramifications of electricity have absorbed millions of folk.

The automobile now utilizes hundreds of different specialist who never contemplated its existence when they selected original occupations.

The robot is a drastic pay-roll and personnel-cutter. But, as soon as it kicks a man out of one berth, it finds another for him.

Civilization is an inveterate habit-maker. Common wants multiply decade by decade.

Today's luxury is tomorrow's necessity.

The twentieth century is promoting needs faster than improved practice rids particular tasks of their surplus attendants.

Fifty per cent of America is engaged in departments of undertakings which didn't exist 30 years back—building or selling motor cars and their subsidiary parts—constructing roads and processing the concrete and equipment to lay them—serving the movies and erecting theaters to display them—producing and distributing radio sets—turning out washing machines and vacuum cleaners.

Aviation, under contract to furnish tomorrow with sky-taxies, delivery buses, merchandise and passenger fleets—besides a continent of hangars—waits at the corner to enlist a limitless army.

And television, all ready to broadcast voice and action, is planning to flood the country with reception apparatus.

Prosperity doesn't share Mr. Green's forebodings. We've too many innovations in sight to wear long faces or waste worry on bread lines.

Ingenuity and enterprise will take care of us all—except the shoemakers, who stubbornly insist upon sticking to arbitrary lasts.

DAVID BRANCH'S DAILY FILOSOFY

The Texas Monthly Dreams of Progress

IN AN editorial in its September issue, The Texas Monthly, published at Dallas by Peter Molyneaux, urges that the state government should "assume a position of aggressive leadership in the matter of encouraging industrial development" as a means of increasing the wealth of the state, thereby producing more revenues from taxes with which to further aid the schools and any other needy factor in the life of the state.

Even at first reading the intelligent reader is conscious that this suggestion is of the more luscious sort of platitudes and is palpably full of loopholes, and after further consideration it appears altogether preposterous.

We say this with the consciousness that behind us we have decade upon decade of precedence to show that whenever the government, national or state, has enshrouded itself in the costume of a ballyhooer for any certain industry or group of industries, the sinister silhouette of politics can always be detected despite the ballyhooer's mask, and graft and disaster result.

The Texas Monthly realized this in part when it added, toward the end of its discourse: "It is true that the state government has power for mischief in relation to commerce and industry. The fear that this power will be blindly exercised is frequently well-based." And it goes on to say "that it is not more frequently exercised is a compliment to the common sense of the men who form the personnel of the state government."

We wish to cast no aspersions on the character and "common sense" of our state officials, but The Texas Monthly apparently is unaware that the reason that "power for mischief" in industry and commerce is not in more common use among our state politicians is that the tax-payers and voters of the state consistently refuse to let its government mix in private business ventures; and The Texas Monthly also is quite unaware, obviously, that our state officials' "common sense" is nothing more than a realization, on their part, that should they get entangled in any form of graft or corruption arising from the state's influence over industry they would fortwith lose their jobs.

Our position, simply stated, is this: that we are a growing people, and nothing at present indicates a slump in the state's industrial development; and further that the state government's duties, insofar as it concerns business and industry, is to regulate it when regulation is the sole means of avoiding conflict. That, and nothing else. As soon as it goes a step further and starts "promoting" any certain industry or group of industries, there will be a howl from the other side, which likewise wants state recognition and support.

If The Texas Monthly meant simply that the state, in the manner of a chamber of commerce, should publicly announce that it is pleased with our development as a whole, and would like to see further progress, that would be a prefectly natural thing to do, however obvious. For there is no one who doesn't want some kind of progress.

But we have had enough of governmental "encouraging" of industry. The Harding administration, we faintly recall, was rather intimate in its "encouragement" of one rather well known industry.

Skeptics and Miracles

A FEW DAYS ago the papers told about a woman preacher who had been elected mayor of a small Louisiana city.

Telling reporters how she filled her job, the preacher-mayor remarked that she always prayed for divine guidance whenever an especially tough problem came up. Then she told this little story:

Her city had no water or electric light service. For years efforts had been made to provide them, but they had always fizzled out. She had conferred with business men, civic leaders and others, but had been unable to make any headway.

So, one night, utterly discouraged, she knelt and prayed that divine aid might come to the rescue and help the little city get the modern conveniences it needed so badly.

The next day—out of a clear sky, so to speak—a group of business men called at her office and told her that they were going to form a corporation to establish a water and electricity supply for the city.

Thus—she told the reporters—her prayers had been answered. What weeks of effort had failed to do, a prayer had accomplished.

Now it is altogether too easy for us to scoff at that story.

Many a reader, no doubt, laid down his paper and snorted, "Humph! Those men had laid their plans already. Prayers or no prayer, they'd have been ready to go ahead with the job. She's just kidding herself if she thinks her prayer really did anything."

That may be true and it may not be. Meanwhile, one is moved to wonder why it is that a generation whose daily life is attended by uncounted miracles should be so much more skeptical about things that it cannot see and handle than all previous generations have been.

When you sit in your home at night and tune in on a radio program picking music out of the silent air, you are taking part in a thing as wondrous as the star over Bethlehem.

Suppose you turn on your phonograph. Whom do you want to hear? Caruso? Very well; he has been dead seven years, but he will sing for you, his voice as clear and rich as ever, though his body is dust.

Far over your housetop soars an air mail plane. The pilot cannot see the earth below. Mist obscures the beacon lights. But that same miracle of radio tells him, unfailingly, that he is on his course.

Those things are commonplace. We have even stopped marveling at them.

The mystery of prayer is far older—old as the day that the first barbaric cave dweller made his first desperate appeal for help to the forces that he could not see.

Why should we be skeptical? Have we swallowed our new miracles only to reject one that is as old and familiar as the race itself?

CHATTY— GODDESS OF CAB

By BEATRICE BURTON, Author of: "HER MAN," "HONEY LOU," "SALLY'S SHOULDERS," "MONEY LOVE," "LOVE BOUND," etc.

COPYRIGHT 1929, CENTRAL PRESS ASS'N, INC., CLEVELAND, OHIO.

READ THIS FIRST

Charlotte Chatterton, nicknamed Chatty, is a born gossip. Her mother, a widowed dressmaker, through Mrs. Van Nuys, a wealthy customer and old friend of the family, gets Chatty a position as switchboard operator at the Van Nuys offices. Chatty meets Billie Langenau, a file clerk, and Agnes Herford, private secretary to Mr. Van Nuys. Chatty falls in love with a young bond salesman, David Jordan, but when she gossips and causes Agnes to resign her position David drops Chatty. Chatty has dates with Bryant Dunning, a new salesman, who is married but says he has left his wife. Chatty has many parties at Winnie Talbott's house. Winnie is Mr. Van's new secretary.

One day Chatty overhears David talking on the phone about taking a new position at the Midas bank. Later she sees him copying names. Wishing to get even with him, and believing him stealing the bond buyers lists, Chatty tattles to Mr. Van. Mr. Van is very angry, as he has given David permission to copy the lists. Chatty has to apologize to David or leave. She leaves, and is unsuccessful in getting another position. She continues to have dates with Bryant Dunning, although her mother urges her not to do so.

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER 49

Chatty sat up in her chair, very straight and tall, momentarily sobered. George! There was George—there, there!

She raised a hand to wave it—then drew it back. How did she know who he was with? It couldn't be Billie, at this hour, at this place.

"Sure, 'taint Billie! Poor, poor lil' Billie! So trusting, so good—and that no-count George Mayhew, running around with other girls. But I'll fix him—I don't have to keep quiet any more! All I got to do is watch, and see—and then go tell Billie! All right for you, Mr. George Mayhew! Make a date with another girl, will you, and break my poor lil' Billie's heart? Not if I see you—and I do see you!"

When Bryant came Chatty demanded to dance again. She didn't tell him why—that she wanted to see who George Mayhew was with. Bryant might not like that.

But Bryant danced with her, obediently. She danced through all three rooms—but she couldn't locate George Mayhew anywhere.

"I know what he's done—he's gotten a private room!" she thought, nodding her head. "Smart lil' Georgie Mayhew! Well, I'll fix you, anyhow! I'll jus' wait around, and around, and around—"

But this Chatty found she couldn't do. It was now long after midnight.

"No, don't want to wait any longer! Liquor here is all run out!" he lied. "Got plenty more at home—come on! That's a good lil' sport."

Chatty was too far gone in mind and stomach to resist. There was some reason she wanted to stay—Oh, yes, to see George and what girl he had with him. Nasty, deceiving George! But after all, what girl didn't matter? Any girl was enough. She'd tell Billie tomorrow! She'd tell all the girls tomorrow! She'd been silent long enough.

"A'right!" she hiccoughed. "Let's go!"

He led her to the cloak room, paid her tip to the coat girl, and took her arm. Very straight, slowly and deliberately they walked out of the Lollypop; careful to be dignified and very, very sober.

Bryant leaned her carefully against a post while he went for his car.

When he drove up in it, Chatty surprised him by wanting to drive.

"No time like this time!" she insisted. "Want to drive car. Want annosser lesson. Don't need a lesson, but want one, anyhow! Isn't that funny? Slide over, old dear, and let me get at the wheel—"

"Sure, sure!" agreed Bryant. "No time like present! Give you the car if you want it. Ain't you going to give me something worth more than a car? Give us a kiss, like a good girl—"

"Stop! Don't want to kiss! Want to drive!" insisted Chatty.

Bryant slid over and Chatty tumbled, rather than climbed, into the driver's seat. Chatty started the car and turned it skillfully into the driveway. As she paused at the gate to wrap her coat around her, a yellow roadster shot by.

She had just a flash of the driver's face—George Mayhew.

"Well, now, do you think you can!" she jeered. "See that car?" she demanded of Bryant.

"Sure I see it! Nice lil' car!" answered Bryant.

"If it is George Mayhew!" cried Chatty. "With a girl!"

George Mayhew—girl!" repeated Bryant, vacantly.

"Billie Langenau's Georgs Mayhew!" explained Chatty, impatiently. "With a girl! I want to see the girl! You game?"

"Sure—game. Always game! Shoot th' works!" declaimed Bryant. "What you going do?"

"Catch 'em!" snapped Chatty. "Watch my smoke!"

Chatty turned the car into the road and stepped on the gas.

Far down the road sped a lone red light. In front of that red light rode George Mayhew and a girl.

Chatty set out to catch them, to see the girl. All the starved, gossipy part of her demanded to know what woman took George Mayhew away from Billie Langenau. Dear, dear Billie; so good, so kind, so sweet, so decent.

And George Mayhew, taking some girl around to road houses in the middle of the night! Doubtless he had been with Billie all evening.

Billie's man was George Mayhew, and he was running around with some girl, and Chatty just had to know who it was!

She stepped harder on the gas!

The car flew down the road. It was a good road, and wide. As all motorists know, it is easier to steer a car at speed than when going slowly—provided nothing gets in the way.

Nothing got in the way.

"Atta girl!" shrieked Bryant. "Step on her, baby, and show them her heels. This lil' boat goes faster than any other lil' boat! Give it to her—"

Chatty "gave it to her."

She had had but a few lessons in driving. She had never driven a car more than 25 miles an hour in her life. Now the steel monster under her hands throbbed and pulsated with power. The accelerator went down, down, down. The needle on the dial crept up, up, up.

Thirty, thirty-five, forty, forty-five, fifty—

"Hold her, girl, hold her!" Bryant looked at her adoringly.

"Some lil' driver!" he yelled. "Catch anything! Catch a flying machine. Catch a balloon! Catch a fish, catch a—catch a George Mayhew!" he ended with a shout.

Fifty, fifty-one, fifty-three, fifty-five—the needle crept slowly, but surely, over the figures. The red light ahead gleamed redder, brighter.

"Get away with it, will you?" demanded Chatty, of no one in particular. "Think you can double-cross my friend? Not on your life."

She took one hand from the wheel to press down the horn button. The car ahead swerved to one side to let her pass. But Chatty did not want to pass. She wanted to see. She slowed up, just enough to keep the two cars level, so she could look at the feminine face next George's shoulder—

The road narrowed. A curve appeared. Chatty had one long, short stare into the girl's eyes—and her mouth fell open in utter surprise. The girl was Billie Langenau!

Then a shriek, a yell, a grinding of metal on metal, a locking of fenders and, both cars together, locked in a tight embrace, slid off the road, into the ditch!

Yells of fear, cries of pain, thunderous roars; a flash of lightning, an explosion, a stunning crash—and the lights went out for Chatty.

As the darkness descended and her ocean of pain was blotted out by unconsciousness she cried out.

But it was not Bryant's name that she shrieked in that last moment of conscious life.

Simpson will speak at Temple at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at Walters at 4 o'clock and at Randlett at 8 o'clock in the evening.

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

"Oh, you surely recall that town, Egbert—that's where we got those delicious waffles with sausage."

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Some idea of the great advance made by the borough of Brooklyn—an advance that started with the building of Brooklyn bridge and has culminated in the erection of a monumental, refrigerated movie palace—may be gained from the knowledge that there are no longer any dog catchers in the borough. The chaps who catch dogs now are called patrolmen.

The S. P. C. A. is very proud of its hound-hunting service, and points out that its "patrolmen" are bonded and responsible men, specially trained for their duties.

Brooklyn, they tell us, is comparatively free from stray dogs, and the 10 S. P. C. A. wagons are chiefly used to call for animals whose owners don't want them any more. Sometimes as many as 100 dogs are disowned in a day.

No small boy need fear that when the wagon takes a dog, the dog is bound for the traditional sausage-machine, or even for the modern gas chamber. Only diseased, aged and vicious dogs are done away with, and there are always more persons looking for pets than there are persons trying to get rid of them—so most of the dogs picked up by the patrolmen quickly get good homes.

A Slippery Tongue

The recent retirement of Prof. W. A. Spooner as warden of an Oxford college recalls the aptitude of that fine old gentleman for mixing his words up. Somehow, under the stress of addressing a class, he would transpose the first letters of a series of words, and the results came to be known as Spoonerisms. For instance, it is told that he once intended to allude to a half-formed wish. But what he really said was half-warmed fish. Doctor Spooner always protested that it wasn't as bad as all that, and that the tradition of Spoonerisme was started by some foolish wit. But the story goes that he said woolish fit instead.

Daring? My Word!

Since short skirts and parallel, vis-a-vis subway seats have removed the display of feminine limbs from the "shocking" class, it has apparently become difficult for our fashion designers to think of something extraordinary and worthy of instant notice in a crowd. I notice, however, that one New York department store seems to have the latest thing in bold clothing. It advertises hats with the legend: "Patou reveals the forehead with daring chic!"

Our Buoy Corner

No New Yorker will admit that any crossroads in the world is as busy as our own Times Square, and the latest bid for fame advanced by the zone is that more than 100,000 days a year are lost in traffic jams thereabouts. That, the proud Times Square insists, is an all-time mark for London and other cities to shoot at.

The strange part of it is that many of the million persons who pass on or under the square daily are old enough to recall the days when Broadway was still a cowpath, and goat's milk was sold—probably on the site of more than one modern orange drink stand.

The Times Square subway station was opened 25 years ago—only the district was then known as Longacre Square. That first subway station was only a local stop, and no busier than a local stop should be. Today there are 10 subway tracks beneath it—eight running approximately north and south, and two going east and west.

Gypsy Love Theme

One of the local Gypsy kings has lost his crown, and thereby hangs a tale of love that wouldn't make a bad costume operetta. The story came out the other day, when the king visited police headquarters and asked the authorities to search for his crown—which was, it appears, one of the most negotiable head pieces that ever graced a regal skull.

The king's son, who may or may not have been a crown prince—I don't know about Gypsy lines of succession, but I think the office is elective—was engaged to marry Mary, daughter of a high councillor. The boy, Harry,—these modern Gypsies have unromantic names, don't they?—appeared to be willing enough, but shortly before the wedding he eloped with a different Mary, a Pittsburgh Gypsy.

And for a wedding gift he took the king's crown, a double ring of gold. Some of the coins are 800 years old, and were made in Turkey, Serbia and Austria. Others are American double eagles, there being $450 in United States coin alone in the crown. The king won't accuse his son of theft, but wants the police to find the lad so he can marry the right Mary. The police, however, won't work under those conditions, although they are perfectly willing to look for a person charged with stealing. The king had an idea that if the crown were found, trace of the boy might be picked up.

Food and Criminals

("Wrong food is responsible for crime, says Salvation army commander."—News item).

When Jesse James held up a train
Or blew a safe or till
It wasn't due to twisted brain
Or urge to rob and kill;
His depredations many and
The speed with which he shot
Were due to this: he couldn't stand
The awful food he got.

A hold-up on the Santa Fe
At night when all was quiet
Was, like as not, performed when he
Just lacked a balanced diet.
A mail train job at hour late,
A bullet through a porter,
Were happenings because he ate
Desserts he "hadn't orter."

When "Billy," also called "The Kid,"
So wildly ran amuck
The vicious things he always did
Were due to faulty "chuck;"
He often biased away with guns
At strangers in the streets
Because he'd eaten sugared buns
And fe.t his excess "sweets."

One night he robbed a fast express
And murdered all the crew
Because of starches in excess
Which he could not eschew;
He oft broke jail with flaming gats
And slew the guards en route
Because he ate too much of fats
And had no citrus fruit.

When Gerald Chapman made us quake
With deeds the statutes ban
He lacked the vitamins that make
A normal, honest man.
His life of dire crimes, you see,
Was due to this, they say—
He had the vitamins called "B,"
But lacked the ones called "A."

And so it's been throughout all time
Where good and bad both meet;
If you'd avoid a life of crime
Be careful what you eat.
All sorts of food can take a kid
And wreck him in his teens—
And nothing makes him hellward skid
Like unwashed spinach greens!

Immediate Relief From Indigestion

Many people who are hungry are afraid to eat for fear of distressing after-effects. They keep themselves on a limited diet and go about half starved.

This is unnecessary. Take a spoonful of GORDON'S after meals and you can eat what you like and as much as you want without any after-feeling of distress. Try it and see.

GORDON'S, an internal antiseptic, goes right to the seat of the trouble by stopping fermentation (souring of food). It soothes, heals and strengthens weak or disordered stomachs.

Eckener Pleased With Plan For Ocean Service

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (US)—Germany and America will cooperate in the commercial development of Zeppelin airships and probably jointly organize and operate the coming transocean airship routes. That, Dr. Hugo Eckener told me was the very satisfactory results of his conferences with the Goodyear Zeppelin company in Akron and with those and other American interests in New York.

Aside from this very important basic agreement, a necessary preliminary, definite plans for building ships or operating them, have not been made. Negotiations to that end will not begin until after Dr. Eckener has returned to Germany.

Reach Agreement

"The Goodyear Zeppelin company of Akron and I are in perfect agreement on mutual cooperation between the German and American interests in the next steps to be taken in the development of commercial Zeppelins now that their practicability for transoceanic traffic has been well demonstrated by the round-the-world flight of the Graf Zeppelin," said Dr. Eckener.

"My purpose in remaining here for a week was to ascertain what interest there might be in these projects, hear the views of financial groups and they in turn desired to know my ideas.

"I have found extraordinary interest here in the Zeppelins and in their development and operation for rapid transit across the Atlantic to bring America and Europe closer together."

Information Luncheon

Dr. Eckener had just come from a luncheon given in his honor by directors of the National City bank in the beautiful dining room of that great financial institution. It was an "information luncheon." New York bankers desired information from Dr. Eckener and the commander of the Graf Zeppelin was no less interested in getting information from leading financial specialists. There was an informal exchange of views, ideas and opinions on cost and building of ships, organization of routes and traffic and on the possibilities of financing such transatlantic air transportation projects.

Dr. Eckener sailed Saturday afternoon on the Hamburg-American liner New York for Germany.

In Germany Dr. Eckener will confer with two or three groups, each desirous of taking a leading part in organizing and financing the first transatlantic Zeppelin Air Line, and endeavor to unite these. Once that has been accomplished, definite negotiations with interested American groups will then follow. A Spanish group, in the meantime, is seeking to organize a Seville to Buenos Aires line. Their option on the Graf Zeppelin expired some time ago and it is understood that Dr. Eckener has declined to renew that option.

Knut Eckener, son of the commodore, will join the Goodyear Zeppelin works in Akron in October.

GUILTY AGAIN

English Sparrow Faces Charge of Setting Barn Afire

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Sept. 10. (US)—Another crime has been fastened on the English sparrow. He is a firebug.

The barn of Edward Walton at Hawkeye, Iowa, caught fire today. A man working on the farm told Walton he saw a motorist flip a lighted cigaret from his car, saw the sparrow dart down, pick it up and carry it to his nest in the barn.

The laborer climbed into the haymow in time to extinguish the fire.

Church-Radio War Ended by Truce

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 10. (UP)—The controversy between KFJF radio station and the First Baptist church here over the radio station's refusal to continue broadcasting the church's Sunday services ended in the state supreme court today when the appeal in the case was dismissed.

The appeal was dismissed on agreement of both sides, attorneys said, that the case would be dropped and no efforts were made to force the radio station to broadcast the services.

A mandatory injunction ordering the station to broadcast the services was issued in the Oklahoma county district court early in February by Judge Wyley Jones after the station had entered into a contract with the Columbia Broadcasting chain to broadcast a chain program during the hours the church was to broadcast.

DOGS DISPORT LIKE ACTORS

Police Animals in Smooth Publicity Stunt

By SAM LOVE

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (UP)—You wouldn't think, offhand, that dogs would be engaged in a racket. It is a type of performance generally reserved for human beings. And yet, with their pants burglar uncaught, the 20 prime police dogs of Brooklyn who went to State island Saturday to catch him were open tonight to the suspicion of press agentry.

The case may be stated briefly thus. The police dogs were transported as a special expeditionary force from Brooklyn to catch the Staten island pants burglar, credited with removing upwards of $10,000 from 32 pairs of pants at night within the last two months. The dogs remain on Staten island Saturday night and Sunday night; do they catch any pants burglars? No—it rains and the dogs stay in the station house with the rest of the policemen. But the attention of the nation is directed to the hunt. And then what happens? The dogs go into the movies.

Now, had this thing happened to Miss Wichita or Gladys Glad, the nation would have been mighty suspicious. A certain skepticism would have been aroused. There would have been open doubts that any pants burglar ever terrorized Staten island in the first place.

Such occurrences have awakened the latest agnosticism of human nature often before. But this is the first time the objects of suspicion ever have been dogs. Heretofore nobody was ever able to get anything except righteousness on a dog.

But conditions were such today that one New York newspaper frankly referred to the Staten island situation as "the great pants hoax." This journal chose to believe from the evidence—and the admission of a detective—that, insofar as the police knew, there was not one, but many Staten island pants burglars. And that Staten island housewives were uneasy about dogs. All day police had calls from the wives in which they told of a night when flashes of lightning revealed what "were wolves and ghosts in the form of dogs."

Since all the police dogs had been locked up in an old stable for the night these reports were taken to indicate a widespread antipathy against catching the alleged pants burglar by means of police dogs. Half the dogs were ordered back to Brooklyn immediately by Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen.

But the remainder—in the old stable—and something—which had they been anything but dogs might be referred to as "the payoff"—occurred.

Tonight, before a large crowd of spectators and several motion picture machines, the dogs gave an exhibition. They (1) leaped through a window and barked; (2) grabbed a prepared fugitive by the seat of the pants and held him and (3) disarmed a policeman in plain clothes by biting his arm.

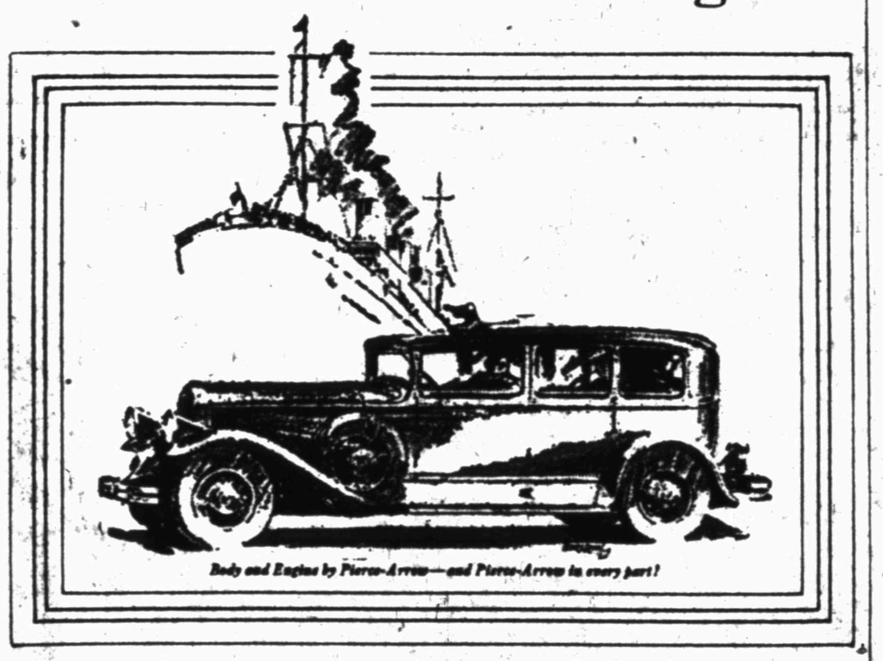

The pictures are for national release.

GREENHOUSE ENLARGED

WALTERS, Okla., Sept. 10.—Increased business has necessitated the construction of a 60-foot addition to the greenhouse of the Walters Floral company, operated by John A. Wiley. The greenhouse was established here a little more than a year ago and a large house was erected, but the building was not sufficient to care for the business of the concern.

Joseph A. Gedeist, director of the municipal band in Houston, says the city is fed up on "hotsy-totsy" music and now prefers classical productions.

In purchasing a car from income the average allowance on a good used car usually more than covers the initial Pierce-Arrow payment

THE mode of the hour is of course consulted in the selection of new colorings by Pierce-Arrow. But there is an artistry employed in the process which is rare among automobiles.

The blending of certain shades and tones...the choice of fine fabrics to match...the development of combinations which exclude the commonplace ...the harmonizing of interiors with exteriors. All are the concern of artists who are masters of decoration and guardians, as well, of the tradition that is Pierce-Arrow.

The result is a quality that sets this distinguished line apart. Also there is a definite limit to the number of Pierce-Arrows possible of creation each season—governed by certain fine processes of manufacture. The Story Your Soldier Son Never Dared Tell You

ALL QUIET ON THE WESTERN FRONT

By Erich Maria Remarque

The Greatest Novel of the War—written by a common soldier. The sensation of Europe and America.

"A distinctive, important story. It was worth waiting ten years after the war to get the war written in perspective, truthfully, powerfully, beautifully."
WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE.

A blazing, unforgettable indictment of war, drawn up in terms of human sacrifice, bravery, cowardice and agony! No wonder that "ALL QUIET on the WESTERN FRONT" has burst upon the conscience of mankind with stunning force.

Erich Maria Remarque, a common soldier in the German army, has set down on paper the things that tortured his memory for more than a decade.

Written without venom, without propaganda, his story is the story of every man who went into the trenches—every man of every nation who donned uniform when a mighty civilization suddenly went insane.

"ALL QUIET on the WESTERN FRONT" is not merely the personal story of the German private, Remarque. It is the story of your father—your husband, or perhaps your son. It is the answer to the many questions you have asked—the questions that never have evoked a satisfactory reply—the questions that fighting men pray their God to forget!

The universality of the appeal of this narrative is proved by the critical acclaim and amazing sales of the book not only in Germany but in England, France and the United States. It is truly the story from the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier—of any nation!

Captured at a price that sets a new high-water mark in transactions of its kind, "ALL QUIET on the WESTERN FRONT" will appear in this newspaper, in generous daily instalments, starting —while the book is still miles ahead of the field of best sellers in half a dozen countries!

You will agree with the literary critics, the soldiers and humanitarians who are urging that the story be read in every home in every nation where books are printed. You will agree that "ALL QUIET on the WESTERN FRONT" is the mightiest offensive ever unleashed against War. You will see why it has accomplished more by its grim realities than the thundering of a thousand idealists.

And "ALL QUIET on the WESTERN FRONT" will stun you and shake you. It will give you something to think about—something to talk about—and it will give you the greatest emotional thrill you have ever had from any written page!

DAY NURSERY REPORT GIVEN

Fall Training for Children Approved

Plans for the winter term of the day nursery were outlined and reports of summer activities were presented in a report given by Mrs. Fred T. Datson, superintendent of the nursery, at the regular quarterly meeting of the executive board of the Federated Missionary societies held Tuesday morning at the nursery.

Winter projects include the operation of the kindergarten in connection with the nursery for children too young to enter grade schools. The idea of combining the two institutions was obtained from the eastern states and the kindergarten here was probably the first in the state to be run in connection with a day nursery. An enrollment of 20 children was reported on the first two days, the school having begun Monday.

Summer work of the nursery included household instruction for the girls and training in handicraft and carpentry for the boys under the direction of Frank B. Creighton, scout executive.

In addition to several visitors, those at the meeting included Mrs. G. R. Ellis, president; Mrs. R. T. Belcher, secretary, and Mesdames Anna Keevil, C. E. Bailey, L. E. Cowling, Fred Weeks, C. F. Watson, Jim Barnard, H. P. Ledford, O. W. Wilson, Horrace Robbins, Louis Pink, S. E. Trevathan, F. T. Datson, and Miss Myrle Neely, executive secretary of the Community Chest.

College and School News

A slight increase of 20 in the total enrollment in the Junior college and 37 in the high school brought the total matriculation of high school and college to 1457 at the close of the day Tuesday.

According to word given by office officials late Tuesday evening, the present enrollment in both divisions is at present slightly greater than that of the past year. It is expected that by the first of next week attendance in both classes will have reached the 1500 mark.

At the present time, enrollment in the high school stands at 1242, or an increase of 37 over that of Monday's attendance.

College matriculation late Monday was 195, but showed a gain of 20 during Tuesday, with the present total amounting to exactly 215.

Tuesday morning marked the opening day of class attendance for the Junior college, as Monday was devoted to the registering of all newcomers in the college branch of the institution. Students who have been in the Wichita Falls public schools the past term registered during the latter part of last week. High school students attended all their regular classes throughout Monday, which was their opening day.

Glee Club

The Junior college this year will include a glee club in the department of music. The club will be the first for over a period of two years and will be under the direction of Mrs. Hermoine Vaughn.

Wichitan Out Today

The first edition of The Wichitan, high school and Junior college newspaper, will be distributed Wednesday morning during the 30-minute period, the regular schedule of previous years for the distribution.

The first edition of the paper this year will contain eight pages for the first time in the history of the school. Single copies will sell for five cents this year as it has in the past.

All prospective Wichitan reporters have been requested to be present at a special meeting for all-staff members, called for Friday afternoon in room 121.

Costilow at Classes

Raymond Costilow, motorcycle driver for the Faith pharmacy who was injured in an accident recently, is now attending classes in the Wichita Falls High school. Costilow suffered a broken jaw and other injuries in a motorcycle crash which occurred in front of the Wichita General hospital about a week ago.

Last Rites Today For Mrs. Marie Clayton

The body of Mrs. Marie Clayton, 45, formerly of Wichita Falls, who died Monday in Rochester, Minn., will be forwarded to Pittsburg, Kan., for burial Wednesday, it was learned here by Mrs. R. L. Dillard, 1820 Huff avenue, who was a close friend of the deceased.

Mrs. Clayton had been taken to Rochester on account of illness and her death followed a major operation. Jess Clayton, her husband, was at the bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton moved from Wichita Falls about two years ago and took up their residence in Bentonville, Ark. Mr. Clayton formerly operated the cafe bearing his name at 715 Scott avenue.

City Begins Preparations to Repair Water Plant; $100,000 Cost

Orders for new equipment and repair materials to be used in patching up the old water plant will be sent out in the near future, it was announced Tuesday by George D. Fairtrace, city manager. Actual work on the repairs which will be necessary to make the system adequate for next summer will begin in January or February, 1930.

Several new pumps, new motors and other machinery equipment will have to be purchased, Mr. Fairtrace said. The settling basins are badly in need of repair and the filtration material in the filtering beds will have to be replaced. This last work will be one of the most difficult jobs in the patching of the present water plant.

Expenditures for the replacements and repairs will amount to between $75,000 and $100,000, Mr. Fairtrace stated. The repairs will not increase the capacity of the plant or the quality of the water, Mr. Fairtrace admitted.

Visiting Judges Slap Big Fines Upon Gothamites

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—Prohibition law violators in New York apparently are in for a period of stern treatment at the hands of visiting federal jurists.

With $500 fines becoming the rule, rather than the exception, in Brooklyn federal court where Judge Halstead L. Ritter of Florida is presiding, a padlock campaign against speakeasies has been started by Judge Paul J. McCormick of California.

At the convening of padlock court yesterday after a lapse of several months, Judge McCormick ordered three Greenwich Village clubs padlocked and directed another speakeasy proprietor to post bonds to assure compliance with the law in the future.

Imposition of $500 fines in liquor cases caused somewhat of a sensation as the general practice had been to impose lighter penalties in belief that otherwise juries would refuse to convict.

Business Girls Resume Meetings

The Junior Business Girls had their first meeting of the season Monday evening at the Y. W. C. A. parlors. Maurine Ulmer, president, presided at the meeting.

Fay Dunaway and Dora Blank were hostesses at the dinner and Faye McBride was in charge of the program. Mrs. Tucker of the Tucker School of Fine Arts was introduced and she presented Mrs. Gross, a teacher of gym and classical dancing. Miss Bonnie Pearl West gave a tap dance, accompanied by Miss Lorine Tucker. Miss Emma Ruth Burnside also entertained with a song and dance accompanied by Miss Tucker.

A class of tap dancing was organized by the girls of the club, which will begin next week. A report of the Business Girls' conference, which was held at Estes Park, Aug. 20 to 30, was given by the girls who attended the conference, Fay McBride, Dora Blank and Maurine Ulmer.

Dinner was served to the following: Lucyle Whitman, Fay Dunaway, Faye McBride, Velma Hunter, Rachael Gilbreath, Emma Wall, Christine Harris, Lydia Cook, Erma Schnelle, Velma McNeil, Maurine Ulmer and Mrs. H. F. Weldon.

Hydrogen Atom Divided in Two

nary hydrogen gas over charcoal chilled to the intense cold of liquid air. This process converted it into the new form which he called parahydrogen.

He pumped this parahydrogen over a hot wire where it interfered with the flow of heat through the wire. This heat flow was indicated by a spot of light on the wall.

The discovery has no present commercial use but the new vista in chemistry which it seems to open is very important. For one thing, hydrogen is one of the elements much used in the new synthetic chemistry, which changes petroleum into coal and coal into gasoline. For another the cracking is one of the first proofs of a long-held theory that atoms somewhat resemble small solar systems, in which electrons, instead of worlds, spin around a central nucleus.

ATMOSPHERE CONTROL MAY BE POSSIBLE

CLEVELAND, Sept. 10. (AP)—A prediction that metallurgists will learn the secrets of controlling atmospheres which will revolutionize the steel industry was made before the National Metals congress here today by Robert G. Guthrie, of Chicago, vice president of the American Society for Steel Treating.

Tremendous possibilities have been opened up by the development of furnaces in which atmospheres can be controlled, opening the way for treating steel with economy and speed far surpassing present methods, Guthrie said.

"It may be possible to run the automobile of the future on a gas of great power and volume produced by a handful of a peculiar metal and a small tank of peculiar gas," he said. "That, of course, is just a dream at present."

FLYING CLUB HOLDS SESSION

T. A. T. Representative Is Speaker

"Aviation is becoming one of the greatest factors in civic development throughout the world and if the business houses of Wichita Falls will foster the movement they will find it a decided asset to the growth of the city," Hugh Smith, sales representative of the T. A. T. from Fort Worth, told the members of the Wichita Falls Flying club at their meeting on the third floor of the Staley building Tuesday night.

An attendance of 25 was reported at the meeting, 21 members having joined the club, three of whom are young women, according to Paul Hines, chairman of the aviation committee of the Junior chamber of commerce. Prior to introducing the speaker, Mr. Hines gave a detailed outline of the plan of operation for the club, as formulated by the committee.

Mr. Smith endorsed the plan and gave several suggestions in telling of the T. A. T. unit in Fort Worth. He also spoke about the plans for enlarging the T. A. T. organization which has at present units at New Orleans, Houston, San Antonio and Dallas.

Flying a Curtis Challenger and accompanied by his wife and small son, Mr. Smith landed at the Municipal airport about 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening. Wichita Falls was the first stop of his trip to Big Spring, Texas, where he will attend the opening of a new airport Wednesday.

Mr. Hines announced that the campaign for members in the flying club here would end within two weeks and urged that all persons interested in aviation communicate with members of the club or with those of the aviation committee of the junior chamber.

Jury Gives Negro Two-Year Sentence For Watch Theft

Frank Houston, negro, was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary on his plea of guilty to a burglary charge in the 89th district court Tuesday afternoon. The sentence came at the end of Houston's second trial, the first having ended in a hung jury when the jurors were unable to agree on the question of a suspended sentence. The defendant was denied the right of application for suspension on this occasion because of the filing of a second indictment against him. In his plea of guilty Tuesday afternoon, the negro admitted taking a watch and other property from the home of Tom Ballard several months ago.

G. H. Vaughn, charged with disposing of a stolen automobile, also entered a plea of guilty. He was given a two-year suspended sentence and released by Judge P. A. Martin under the suspension.

Because of the pressing nature of civil business before the courts, George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney, announced Tuesday afternoon that the remainder of the criminal docket set for this week will be carried over until the week of Sept. 23.

Press Asked to Find Dead Seaman's Father

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (US)—The good offices of the American press were today enlisted by the navy department in an effort to locate Theodore Condit, father of Robert Dudley Condit, seaman, first class, U. S. N., who died at the naval hospital, Puget Sound, Washington, Sept. 4.

Condit's enlistment gives the father as next of kin, with an address of 162 East 69th street, New York City. Investigation shows, however, that the father moved about 15 months ago and left no forwarding address.

The shortest railway system in the world is said to be at Cassville, Ark., and is only 4.9 miles long.

Lamont Pictures U. S. Business as Steadily Gaining

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (US)—Riding on a steady keel, business is more stable than at any time in American history, Secretary of Commerce Lamont declared today.

Gradually the "kinks" are being ironed out with the elimination of panics and serious depressions, he said. Indications point to many new records on production, distribution and foreign trade during 1929.

Indicators of business have stood at higher levels during June, July and August than in the same period of 1928 or in any other year in history, according to Lamont.

"An examination of the monthly statistics of industriality since the war shows a reduction in the range of those variations which are of seasonal character," he continued.

"Not only has there been since 1921, an unusually prolonged period substantially free from so-called crises or ups and downs in economic activity, representing the business cycle, but even those variations from month to month of the year, which are the result of seasonal influences and which were formerly considered inevitable, have been cut down in extant."

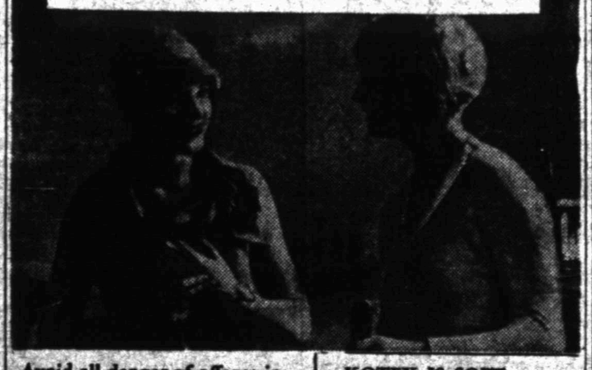

Lamont said that this result must be attributed largely to greater foresight on the part of business men producing and selling commodities as well as on the part of buyers of goods. An important factor in making possible the exercise of such foresight was the great and growing volume of current statistical information furnished to the public by the government and by private organizations, it was explained. Business men were said to have learned to make more constant and intelligent use of these statistics with helpful results.

Cotton County Farmer Discovers Good Seed

WALTERS, Okla., Sept. 10.—Jack Christie, Cotton county farmer living nine miles northeast of Walters, is claiming the record for turnout on a bale of cotton. Christie picked 1,170 pounds of cotton, had it ginned at the Farmers Union gin in Walters and received a bale weighing 585 pounds. Because of the remarkable proportion of lint received from his cotton, Christie is preserving the seed from his crop and will offer them to Cotton county farmers next year for planting.

Of the 5,500 persons who live in Cedar Falls, Iowa, more than 300 teach in schools outside the city and spend nine or 10 months away. Fred Seifert of Iowa City, Iowa, built an airplane weighing only 375 pounds and powered it with an engine built from old motorcycle parts.

So important in summer...

ODD FELLOWS MEET PLANNED

International Conclave at Houston Sept. 16-22

HOUSTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—Houston is putting the finishing touches on preparations for one of the largest conventions it ever has entertained—the annual international conclave of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs here Sept. 16-22.

The advance guard of delegates is expected to begin arriving several days before the meeting and a number of pre-convention activities have been arranged. Among them are a trip to Galveston, a gala outdoor meeting, special church services, and several impromptu entertainments.

This will be the 105th world conclave of the I. O. O. F., the 28th annual gathering of the patriarchs militant, quasi-military organization of Odd Fellows, and the 15th Rebekah assembly.

H. J. Simmins of Dallas, executive secretary of the sovereign grand lodge, has been here for some time supervising arrangements.

Welcoming ceremonies will be conducted Monday, Sept. 16, at the city auditorium. Scheduled speakers include Gov. Dan Moody, Lieut. Gov. Barty Miller, Congressman Daniel E. Garrett, Mayor Walter E. Monteith, Frank Martin of Boise, Idaho, I. O. O. F. grand sire; M. M. Logan of Frankfort, Ky., deputy grand sire; Mrs. Bertha Willis, Wichita, national Rebekah president.

A highlight of the week's program will be a parade in uniform Wednesday night, Sept. 18.

Colorful drill contests among the patriarchs militant will start Monday, finals to be held at Sam Houston hall Thursday afternoon, Sept. 19, for $4,000 prize money. The militant ball Thursday night will end the day's program.

September 21 has been designated as "get away" day. A trip to the Rio Grande valley by way of San Antonio is planned for those who wish to see the Alamo city, visit the Magic valley and set foot in Mexico before returning to their homes.

Owens Gets Rehearing On Indian Land Case

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 10. (UP)—O. O. Owens, Tulsa legislator and prime mover in the investigation of the state supreme court today was granted a re-hearing by the court in a case which the court had previously decided against him. The case was that of Mattie Howard and involved title to Indian land which Owens had acquired by purchase.

CAT TOO FAST

Or Officer Too Slow, Says Report on Police "Relief" Mission

Wichita Falls police answer calls of almost every imaginable nature, but never until Tuesday afternoon had they been called to catch a "wild" cat whose antics were disturbing the neighborhood.

About 1:30 o'clock a call from the 1300 block on Travis street reported that a cat was caught in a pipe behind a house and asked that an officer be sent either to extricate the suffering animal or bring a gun to end its misery. City Detective Fred Fountain armed himself and went to the given address.

Officer Fountain's report at headquarters after he returned from the call read, "Tried to capture 'wild' cat. He was too fast and I was too slow."

Oklahoma Road Bids Opened by Department

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 10. (UP)—Bids for 14 miles of grading and drainage on highway 66 and the erection of two bridges in Osage county and three in Cado county, were opened by the highway department today.

Contracts will not be awarded until next week when members of the commission return to Oklahoma City.

The two bridges in Osage county are on state highway No. 18, north of Fairfax and the three in Caddo county are west of Binger on state highway No. 41.

New Refueling Test Scheduled for Today

SEMINOLE, Okla., Sept. 10. (UP)—A new assault on the refueling endurance record set by the pilots of the St. Louis Robin was scheduled to start here Wednesday in the Miracle City, piloted by Howard Andrews and Buel Phillips, Tulsa aviators. The plane was brought here from Detroit where it was specially fitted for the flight.

FOUR DOCTORS STUDY ODNEAL

Insanity Charge Delays Fort Worth Case

FORT WOTH, Sept. 10. (AP)—Four physicians today examined Cecil Odneal, 27, charged with slaying Audie Fentress, and will go to the witness stand tomorrow to substantiate the state's theory he is not of unsound mind.

The insanity charge filed by his father yesterday automatically halted Odneal's trial on a murder charge.

Developments in the case were:

Judge Hosey set the murder trial for next Monday.

Venire of 150 men drawn.

Defense announced it likely would not be ready for the lunacy hearing set for Wednesday.

A charge of bribery filed against Odneal, charges he entered into a plot to get witnesses out of the case. These charges came after Miss Frances Benedict and Graham Wilkins and his bride of a few days, Odessa Perry Wilkins, had told of a trip into Oklahoma and New Mexico partly financed by Odneal.

Trial of Attorney Reset for Sept. 23

Trial of E. A. Martin, local attorney charged with barratry, was reset for Sept. 23 upon the motion of the state when the case was called in the county court-at-law Tuesday morning, Judge Irvin J. Vogel granted a defense motion for severance of the trial of Martin and Paul E. Parkins, indicted with him. Action of a motion to bring Parkins to trial first was deferred. Three separate barratry charges and one joint indictment naming the same offense are pending against the attorney. Parkins is accused of having conspired with Martin in pushing seeking the employment of the attorney as counsel in certain damage suits.

You Need Not Suffer from Pain

It is so safe, pleasant and easy to relieve pain by taking Capudine. Capudine quickly soothes the tense nerves, brings peaceful relaxation and stops headaches, rheumatic and neuralgic pains, pains in the back and sides and women's pains. Being liquid, it acts almost instantly—much quicker than tablets and powders. Capudine contains no opiates and does not upset the stomach.

Every man and woman who suffers from headache or other pain, or from nervousness should become acquainted with Capudine. For over 30 years millions have found grateful relief by taking Capudine. At drug stores; 30c and 60c sizes.—Adv.

CROWDS PACK GROUNDS AS HALL COUNTY FAIR OPENS

RAINS HURT SOME EXHIBITS

Ladies' Exhibits, However, Are Above Par

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Sept. 10.—The ninth annual Hall county fair opened its gates this morning, and the attendance was very satisfactory, promising to break all previous records, according to C. A. Williams, secretary. The exhibits in the farm, poultry, livestock and swine departments are very short due to the heavy rains falling two days previous to the fair, making it impossible for many to get here on account of bad roads. The farm exhibits are short due to the drouth yet there are some good ones.

The ladies' exhibit building is filled almost to capacity with some very fine exhibits. In this department is found every community in Hall county represented except Leslie. Especially are there to be found in this department some excellent exhibits from Salisbury, Newlin, Parnell, Gammage and Memphis schools and also a fine exhibit from the Girl Scouts and the Boy Scouts.

The race track is in the best shape in the history of the fair, as the rains have settled all dust and it has been rolled and packed so that some of the best races ever to be witnessed here will be had. Many entrants have already entered for the races, which began with a 10-mile race with stock cars today.

Singers Convention Held at Memphis

MEMPHIS, Texas, Sept. 10.—The first annual Oklahoma-Texas District Singers' association convention came to a close Sunday afternoon, being pronounced a very decided success, in spite of the heavy rains that fell Saturday and Sunday, during both days of the convention. The convention was held in the First Baptist church, and it was packed to full capacity Sunday afternoon, people coming through the rain and mud for more than 100 miles in order to attend the convention.

The convention was presided over by Wesley J. Mangum of this city. A large number of the delegates from the four counties comprising the district were unable to get here on account of the heavy rains.

Big Spring Officially Opens Airport Today

BIG SPRING, Texas, Sept. 10.—Eastbound and westbound planes on the Southern Air Transport passener line between Dallas and El Paso stop at Big Spring, Texas, for both passengers and ships to be refueled. Luncheon over, the planes are shown ready to taxi off and away across the field. This field will be officially opened Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 11 and 12, with a two-day air fete. It has been leased by Southern Air Transport, a subsidiary of the Aviation corporation.

Walters Court Sets Time Murder Cases for Trial

Special to The Record News.

WALTERS, Okla., Sept. 10.—Five criminal cases, including two which charge murder, are included in the docket which has been set for trial in the district court of Cotton county when the court is convened here Sept. 23. The two murder cases include the prosecution of Harry Adair, who is charged with the killing of J. D. Graham, city marshal at Temple, and W. H. Campbell, arrested after the fatal shooting of W. Jones in the southeast portion of the county several weeks ago.

Levelland Man Still Held in Jail After Shooting

Special to The Record News.

LUBBOCK, Texas, Sept. 10.—B. A. Foshee, 24, Hockley county farmer, was still being held in the Hockley county jail Monday at Levelland following the fatal shooting of Elmer Wright, 23, Saturday morning.

No bond has been set and Hockley county officers expect the case to be brought to trial during this term of the 72nd district court. The grand jury of the court is now investigating the case.

Foshee declared in a statement to District Attorney Durwood Bradley that Wright was breaking up his home. Wright was a single man and Foshee has a 19-year-old wife and two small children.

Wright's body was prepared by a local undertaking concern and forwarded to Razia, Okla., former home of the victim of the shooting.

Firemen Accused of Setting Buildings Afire To Get Exercise

GLEN COVE, N. Y., Sept. 10, (INS)—The Glen Cove volunteer fire department is good and knows it.

But, according to rumors circulated here, they had no opportunity to show how they could wheel the apparatus over the streets, so they set several fires so they could show their ability.

Eight members of the department were called in for questioning concerning the blazes, which occurred in 1925 and again a few weeks ago.

QUANAH WATER MEET DELAYED

Wichitans Had Planned to Attend Conference

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Sept. 10.—A conference of leading business men of Northwest Texas and the South Plains region to consider the feasibility of piping water from the vicinity of Plainview to cities in the outlying territory, scheduled to be held here today, was postponed on account of the heavy rains. Many roads in this vicinity were impassable, delaying a number of men who intended to be present at the conference.

Definite date for the meeting was not set, but it was understood it would be held some time next week.

The plan under discussion is one whereby plains cities could get a softer and purer water supply than is now available. The idea originated chiefly with Carl Guin, manager of the Quanah Chamber of Commerce.

Five Wichita Falls men, George D. Fairtrace, city manager; Hubert M. Harrison, manager of the chamber of commerce; Walter Nelson Jr., president of the Junior chamber of commerce; P. M. Cordell, and Fred Weeks, made up a delegation which intended to be present at the Quanah water conference Tuesday. They were advised that the meeting had been postponed.

Chicago property owners are to pay smaller taxes as result of a re-assessment.

A new INNER TUBE?

Let the extra miles in CONOCO gasoline buy it for you....

IF you keep an accurate record of gasoline costs, you know that every extra mile you get from a gallon is so much velvet. In the aggregate these extra miles represent a handsome saving—enough to pay for those greatly desired accessories you've had in mind; perhaps a pair of new inner tubes or an extra set of spark plugs. That's why it will pay you well to fill only at the Conoco sign—the red triangle—the symbol of extra miles.

Conoco gasoline is refined to produce maximum mileage without in any way sacrificing those other essentials of a good motor fuel—quick starting and rapid acceleration. It functions efficiently at every step in the driving operation with special emphasis on power and mileage.

Look for the new Conoco Red Triangle. Fill 'er up. Then speed away for extra miles.

SCIENCE WILL TRAP CRIMINAL

Hoover's Police Expert Explains New Devices

(Copyright, 1929, by Universal Service, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Science, foolproof, swift, infallible, will trap future criminals, August Vollmer, police expert of President Hoover's national crime commission, told Universal Service today.

Mechanical devices already in use, he said, make the fabled ingenious methods of the mythical Sherlock Holmes seem crude and obsolete.

America Behind Europe

He added, however, that America, in many respects, is a century behind Europe in the application of latest scientific methods to criminal detection.

"But we are rapidly learning," he declared. "Some of the scientific inventions being employed to apprehend criminals are the radio, the lie-detector, the automatic camera and electric signalling devices."

Convinced that science can solve even the so-called "perfect crimes," Vollmer, as chief of police of Berkeley, Calif., and as former president of the International Association of Police Chiefs, has taken the lead in utilizing scientific methods in selecting policemen and in detecting crime and apprehending criminals. The commission regarded Vollmer's work so highly that it called him to Washington to take charge of its investigation of police systems.

Pictures Typical Case

To show that the triumph of science over the criminal is complete, Vollmer pictured a case typical of the modern police system.

The scene is a detective headquarters. A call comes in that a bank has been robbed. The bandits escaped in a motor car. The detective chief flashes the information over the radio to the wireless-equipped police cars patroling every section of the city. In a minute's time the hunt is on. There is little chance for the robbers to get away. More likely due to the swift and systematic pursuit they are captured.

"Then is when the lie-detector becomes so valuable," said Vollmer. He leaned over his desk and spoke aggressively. His appearance was that of a successful business executive.

"The latest, improved lie-detector is mechanically foolproof and simple in operation," he added. "It is attached to the suspect's arm, like the ordinary heart-tester used by physicians. The pulsations of the heart are recorded by a needle on a piece of paper attached to two drums. When obviously correct answers are given to questions, the pulsations recorded on the paper will be regular. Then the suspect is asked dynamite questions, such as 'Did you burglarize the bank?'

Needle Will Tell

"If the suspect is the man who participated in the robbery, the needle will jump, due to irregular pulsations of the heart. The system is unerring, the police know they have their man.

"The lie-detector can also be attached to the chest and a person's breathing will record irregularly on the chart if he is lying.

"A further device is an attachment to record the time a person takes to answer a question. A lying answer ordinarily takes longer than a true one.

"There are no slip-shod, hit-or-miss guesses. Science has made the lie-detector mechanically foolproof."

With the latest machine developed by Leonard Keeler of the Institute of Juvenile Research, Chicago, Vollmer said it is possible almost to reveal a person's thoughts without questioning.

Reads Thoughts

For instance, he declared, a person could be given a deck of cards and told to pick out one card, remember it, and then replace it in the deck. The detector is attached.

"The operator picks up one card at a time, face up, from the deck and he can tell the one selected because the person's heart will pulsate irregularly when the particular card is reached," Vollmer explained.

Aside from its value in detecting crime, Vollmer believes the detector is of inestimable benefit in exonerating innocent persons accused of crime.

Toll Bridge Case to Be Argued October 1

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 10. (UP)—Oral argument in the appeal of George D. Key, Democratic state chairman, from a ruling of the Oklahoma county district court holding Key's toll bridge at Bridgeport a nuisance and enjoining the collection of tolls was set for Oct. 1 by the state supreme court today.

FEET FELT TOO HEAVY; BILIOUS

Georgian Says He Had a Dull, Tired Feeling; Dizzy and Nauseated.

Drakestown, Ga.—"I am fifty-two years of age, and I remember my father taking Black-Draught and giving it to us when I was just a child," says the Rev. J. J. Wisener, of this place. "He gave it to us when we were bilious or had colds. After I grew up, I kept on taking Black-Draught, for I had never found anything better. It gives good satisfaction.

"When I would get bilious, I would feel like shuffling along instead of walking. My feet felt too heavy to lift. I had such a dull, tired feeling, and I would feel dizzy and nauseated like I couldn't hold my head up.

"I found how much the Black-Draught helped me, and I took it. I quit having these bad spells, and find now I only have to take a few doses and I am good as new. Don't have to take much now. My health is good."

Thedford's Black-Draught is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, of highest quality, finely powdered, carefully combined and packaged by automatic machinery. Get a 25-cent package. Try it.

Educator Blames Women Teachers For 'Feminine Thinking' of Students

By ALBERT MAINES

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Sept. 10. (UP)—Responsibility for "feminine thinking" among students of the American schools is blamed on the business man, in the opinion of Prof. Robert E. Rogers of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Professor Rogers, who caused national discussion on his "snobbery" speeches several months ago pointed out the faults of his country's education at the 13th annual national business conference here yesterday.

Too Many Women Profs

"For a half century now the larger part of our young people have been trained exclusively by women teachers. Fifty years of this has produced a public incompetent to think politically and philosophically," Professor Rogers declared.

"Our American thinking is feminine thinking, inculcated by women teachers, highly competent in detail, rigidly idealistic regardless of the working facts, and weak on critical examination.

"The fault is not the children's nor the women's, but that of the business men, who do, or at least should, manage their communities. It is not stinginess. You pay out millions for educational fads and fancies and teachers, but you won't pay salaries sufficient to attract competent and strong men teachers to teach our young people," he asserted.

Both Need Men Teachers

Professor Rogers said girls as well as boys need men teachers long before they reach the age of 17 or 18. "They need them at the beginning of adolescence."

Addressing the business men, Professor Rogers declared that "in our church you won't pay salaries large enough to attract strong, competent men whose preaching your young people will respect."

He differed from the views of the common wail "that our young people are irreligious." "They have no intellectual training," he declared, which enables them to settle their religious problems adequately. The Catholic boy or girl seems to me far better trained and intellectually more competent in matters of religion and social ethics than the Protestant."

"Our American Protestant boy and girl are as little interested in ideas of religion and social ethics as they are in politics and science. They seem to have no ideas on which to build. They have received no training in these matters in school and apparently none in their churches."

"So far as I can see the religion of the educated intelligent Protestant youth of the future will be Christian only in the looser sense, not the Christianity of the creed, but that of the Quakers and Unitarian. And the god of their future will be the experimental evolutionary god of natural science," he said.

If your stomach is sick, you are sick all over. If you can't digest your food, you lose strength, get nervous and feel as tired when you get up as when you went to bed.

For 10 years Tanlac has restored to health and activity many thousands who suffered just as you do.

Mr. John Robertson, of 822 Spring St., Little Rock, Ark., says: "I couldn't eat anything, couldn't sleep, and working was almost an impossibility. But after 3 bottles of Tanlac I could eat a bull's horn and sleep like a log!"

Let Tanlac do for you what it did for this sufferer. It corrects the most obstinate digestive troubles—relieves gas, pains in the stomach and bowels. It restores appetite, vigor and sound sleep.

Tanlac is made of roots, barks and herbs. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

SEERS ARGUE ABOUT EATING

One Likes It; Other Would Eat Once a Year

By HENRY T. RUSSELL

HINDHEAD, SURREY, England, Sept. 10. (UP)—Dr. Marie Stopes, who taught the British how to say "birth control" without blushing, emerged victor yesterday in a heated but informal scientific discussion with Prof. A. M. Low, distinguished young scientist.

Dr. Stopes and Professor Low—talking with a vigor which often approached a debating mood—discussed various subjects ranging from Dr. Stopes' own advocacy of sterilization for the mentally deficient to Low's belief that human beings of the far off future will be better off if they eat only one meal a year.

Meet for First Time

The two scientists met for the first time on the Stopes estate here, with the United Press correspondent as a third.

"I believe that all persons should be sterilized at the age of 15 if, at that time, their mentality is below that of the average child of nine," said Dr. Stopes challengingly.

"Quite," said Low cautiously. "But is the measure not a very difficult one to apply? What about the judges? It will be necessary to apply the extreme measure only when the case is absolute."

Low admitted that even the danger of mistakes might be preferable to the more drastic method sometimes advocated to reduce criminality—death.

Dr. Stopes added the belief that the need for applying this measure to the mentally deficient or criminal would be considerably reduced if birth control became more generalized.

"Because they lack the proper knowledge of birth control methods the poorer classes breed too many unhealthy and unwanted children," she said. "These children are unhealthy because the parents often cannot afford the proper pre-natal care. This tends to favor an increase in the number of mental deficients and at the same time it influences the statistics of criminality."

Tea Interrupts Talk

At this point tea arrived in the Stopes drawing room and temporarily interrupted the discussion. It provided Professor Low, however, with an occasion to remark:

"I do wish we only had to eat once a year."

Then, noting the surprised expressions which greeted his remark, he added:

"Because I grudge every moment spent looking after my body. I think we should be able to concentrate on the development of the mind without this frequent feeding. It is not always the one who eats most whose brain is keenest. Take, for instance, Napoleon. There was a genius who suffered from stomach trouble."

"I cannot agree with that," said Dr. Stopes. "I confess that I enjoy eating as one of the most pleasant functions of our lives."

LOEB, LEOPOLD 'IN' FIVE YEARS

Slayers of Bobbie Franks in Good Health

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 10. (US)—On Tuesday night Nathan F. Leopold Jr., and Richard Loeb, slayers of little Bobbie Franks, had completed five years of the life—and—99-year sentence imposed on them for their crime.

The two youths who were together in crime are serving their sentences in separate institutions. Loeb, still debonair and less inclined to be vindictive over his fate, is at the old state prison on Collins street, Joliet. He is a "runner" and his duties consist in carrying messages to various officials in the yard of the prison. His health is good; has been since he entered the prison with one exception, when he was stricken with measles and became so delirious that it was necessary to strap him to a cot in the hospital. At that time it was believed that he was becoming mentally unbalanced. He recovered and is now a model prisoner.

Loeb is not especially studious and does little reading. He takes part in the recreational activities of the other convicts, such as ball games, movie shows, etc.

Leopold is at the new penitentiary at Stateville. He is employed as a clerk in the prison library and also acts as stenographer for the chaplain. Leopold's health since he entered the prison has been good with one exception. He underwent an operation for appendicitis in 1925.

Leopold still wears that graven mask which defied psychologists during his trial. He sits, unwinking, in the library of the prison, gazing at visitors without moving a muscle. He has made few friends among the intimates at the prison.

Loeb is the more cheerful of the two and is fairly popular with his fellow prisoners; the inmates do not fear Loeb. They distrust Leopold.

WILTSE AND PAYNE HURL SPUDS TO 2 AND HALF GAME LEAD

GEORGE TAKES SEASON'S 28TH

Galloways Score Decisive 8-1, 7-0 Victories

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

Our Spudders yesterday moved a game nearer to the cinching of the second half championship by taking a double-header from the San Antonio Indians. Led by the superb pitching of Harold Wiltse and George Payne, Galloway's gallopers shook off the slump that has characterized their play in recent days, and batted hard and fielded brilliantly to score impressive 8 to 1 and 7 to 0 victories.

As a result of the idleness of the Shreveport club, the Spudders now lead the Sports by two and a half games, with both teams having five contests to play.

The Spudders aren't "in" yet with the flag. That old saw about taking nothing for granted in baseball still applies and celebrations aren't in order until the playoff is a mathematical certainty. Wichita Falls encounters the dangerous Houston Buffaloes today and tomorrow and finishes the season the last three days with Beaumont. Shreveport will have its hands full today and tomorrow with Waco, but the Sports wind up the schedule the last three days with the lowly Indians.

Pictures of the 1929 Spudder squad will be given out today free with every paid admission. The pictures were to have been given at Monday's game, which was rained out.

Great Pitching

But a continuance of their championship baseball as exhibited yesterday will bring about the playoff with the Dallas Steers.

Wiltse, who has been chucking excellently in recent weeks, save for his most recent start previous to yesterday, southpawed the Tribe into submission in the opener with seven hits. It was Wiltse's 18th victory of the season.

Payne came along in the second contest and blanked the hostiles with eight blows. It was George's 28th victory of the campaign against 12 defeats, the most remarkable pitching feat in fast baseball in recent years. The winning of 30 victories this season by Payne is a probability.

The Spudders fielded errorlessly in both contests. They batted Bill Hargrove and Hobo Carson hard in the respective combats, hammering 10 blows in the opener and 12 in the nightcap.

Howard Fitzgerald had three hits, one a double in the final and clouted a home run in the opener. Ted Gullic maintained his direful batting clip with a home run in the second pastime and two knocks, one for two bases, in the opener.

The Petes Clout Hard

Turgeon had three hits for both games, Lapan had "two for two" in the opener and all the home athletes socked the ball for one or more blows during the day.

Kott led the Indian attack with three hits in the first game and one in the second.

Carroll Burrows, who played with Abilene and Springfield, worked at first base for the Spudders in both contests. The young man is a highly pleasing prospect and handled himself like a real ball player, both at bat and afield.

Larry Bettencourt was injured in the first game when he was hit on the head with a thrown ball while running bases, and forced to retire from the contest. He suffered a severe headache but no serious hurt.

Oil was burnt on the base lines but the infield was muddy and the outfield under water. Despite those handicaps both games were played in speedy time, with fast fielding featuring.

Fast Fielding by Spuds

Benton and Turgeon turned in some fast fielding to help Wiltse set back the Indians scoreless in the first inning of the opening game, after Tate led off with a base on balls.

Benton walked and Gullic singled but a double play kept the Spudders away from the plate.

Wiltse turned back the hostiles in order in the second. Hargrove also retired the Spudders one-two-three.

The Tribe again failed to get on base in the third. Lapan walked and was sacrificed to second by Wiltse but died there.

San Antonio scored in the fourth. Kott led off with the first hit of the game, a single to left, advanced on Ballew's sacrifice, Wiltse to Burrows, and tallied on Riley's two-base smack against the right field wall.

Spudders Take Lead

The Spudders took the lead in their fourth with two runs. Bennett walked and went to third on Turgeon's single to left, Pete going to second on the throw-in. Burrows forced Bettencourt, Schacht to Kott, Bennett scoring and Turgeon tallied when Kott's throw to first for a double play hit Bettencourt on the head. It was a terrific blow but Larry resumed play.

Three infield taps, of which two were handled by Wiltse, got rid of the Indians in speedy fashion in the fifth.

Benton again led off with a pass, advanced to second on Fitz' sacrifice and scored when Ballew threw wild on Gullic's grounder. Gullic went to second on the erratic peg, and scored on Turgeon's hit to center after Bennett strolled. Pete's blow sent Bennett to third and Red counted on Burrows' hit to deep short. Lapan singled to left, scoring Turgeon for the fourth run of the round and a 4-1 lead.

Kott and Ballew singled in the sixth but Wiltse, Benton and Burrows completed a double play on Riley's grounder to Hal.

Gullic Hits Again

Gullic doubled to left and scored on Bennett's single to the same outpost.

Hermann went to third base in the seventh, Schacht beat out an infield hit and Hargrove walked but they were stranded. Lapan walked and Wiltse slashed an infield hit but they were left.

Kott started the eighth with his third single to left but to no avail in the run-making.

Fitzgerald whanged his home run over the farthercst corner of the right field foul line for an 8-1 margin.

Brosovich singled in the ninth but it was a futile effort.

Spuds Start Second

Tate started the second game with a single to right and moved to second on Kott's sacrifice. Riley singled to center but fast fielding by Fitzgerald held Tate at third and Howard took Casey's hoist for the third out.

Benton also led off with a hit to right and Fitzgerald beat out a bunt to Ballew. Gullic's sacrifice advanced them and Benton scored and Fitz went to third on Bennett's infield out. Turgeon scratched a hit to Ballew, scoring Fitz.

Brosovich slashed a double to right to open the second but he got no farther.

The Soudders stepped out with another brace of tallies in the second. Burrows walked and advanced to third on Crouch's sacrifice and Benton's single to right, and Fitzgerald's two-base smack to left scored both runners.

Payne retired the enemy in order in the third. Hermann banged a terrific grounder for a hit that hurt Kott's wrist but two were down and he was out stealing.

Hermann Saves Run

Brozovich smashed the right field wall for three bases in the fourth and Hermann saved a run with a great leaping snatch of Turgeon's relay. Duke then made a sparkling play on Brozovich's grounder for the third out.

Crouch singled but was left on the lines.

Carson singled and Kott got a hit when his ball took a bad hop on the uneven third base terrain but they failed to score.

Fitzgerald got his third hit, a single to left and rode home on Gullic's home run over the left field wall in the fifth. Bennett singled to right, moved up on Turgeon's sacrifice and scored on Burrows' hit to right.

Casey doubled to left in the sixth but he was stranded. Payne broke into the hit column with a drive through the box but died on third.

Meyers struck out, Carson grounded to Benton, Tate singled to right and Bennett went back for Kott's lift in the ninth.

WORLD SERIES STARTS OCT. 8

Two Opening Games Carded at Cubs' Park

By CHARLES W. DUNKLEY

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (AP)—The world series of 1929 will open in the park of the club winning the National league pennant—undoubtedly Wrigley field, the home of the Chicago Cubs, on Tuesday, Oct. 8.

This decision was reached today at a conference presided over by Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner.

Based on the assumption the Cubs and the Philadelphia Athletics will win the National and American league flags, respectively, this schedule for the world series games was drafted:

October 8—At Chicago.
October 9—At Chicago.
October 11—At Philadelphia.
October 12—At Philadelphia.
October 14—At Philadelphia.
October 14—At Chicago.
October 17—At Chicago.

It was agreed to charge $6.60 for boxes and $5.50 for grandstand seats, all of which will be reserved. Bleacher seats will be sold at $1, with no tax.

Indian Gridders Start Practice

Twenty-Five Candidates Report to Coach Baggett

Wichita Falls Junior college football candidates started their first practice yesterday afternoon at the Junior college field, with 25 men on the field. Coach Baggett gave his men limbering up exercises and fundamental drill.

Five letter men return to make up the Indian threat. They are Captain Emile Hutto, Henry Barton, Oliver Fudge, Eggleston Ramsee, and Bill Habern.

Others are Loyd Waggoner, Robert Cox, captain of Vernon high eleven last year, Harvey Black, Dale Davis, Henry Anderson, Clifford Hindman, Phillip Blacklock, Chester Luttrell, letter man of S. M. U. freshman team and three letter men from Vernon, Douglass Tiffin, Chris Hacker, I. D. Brown and W. A. Johnson; Howard Scott, J. E. Dodson, Edwin Hutchison, Roy Smith, William Fowler, Claude Miller, Ray Lemaster, Eugene Sherrod and Ralph Parker.

Texas Playoff Eligibles

Wichita Falls

Wichita Falls certified Tobin as coach, but not eligible to play, and reserved the right to substitute Scharien for Stapleton, who was called away last week by the death of his father. The Wichita Falls list: Catchers—Crouch and Lapan; pitchers: Payne, Messenger, Wiltse, Steengrafe, White, Cromer, Parker and Galeria; infielders: Stapleton, Turgeon, Benton, Bettencourt and Hermann; outfielders: Bennett, Fitzgerald, Sullivan, Gullie and Lewis.

Dallas

Catchers: Bischoff and Mealey; pitchers: Glazner, Frasier, Barnabe, Connally, Tauscher, Gene Moore and Martina; infielders: Davis, Radcliff, Morse, Flaskamper, Jeffries and Stock; outfielders: Rosenthal, Randolph Moore, Jim Moore, Johnson and Harvel.

Shreveport

Denison Takes Clarendon Golf

Allen Cooke of Home Club Beaten in Finals

CLARENDON, Texas, Sept. 10.—The first invitation golf tourney, Hill Croft club this city was won by Paul Denison of Indian Hills club of Amarillo, 5 and 4, who eliminated Allen Cook, of the host club here. A gallery of several hundred followed the play.

Semi-finalists in the first flight were Meredith Gentry and Bill Cooke, of Clarendon. Second flight was won by Sam Braswell Jr., of this city; third flight, won by J. R. Farmer, also of Indian Hill, Amarillo. Ranis West of Memphis, the low medalist, was eliminated in his second match by M. Gentry of Clarendon, 4 and 3.

Long driving contest was won by W. A. Wilson, Clarendon, 320 yards.

Coyotes Drill on Fundamentals In Preparation for First Games

A muddy field caused the High school Coyotes to take a light workout yesterday afternoon on the field east of the Junior college building. The grass field is being saved for days when the ground and grass are less liable to mutilation.

Work on fundamentals occupies most of the practice session, with the backs working on blocking and running signals while the line is laboring over charging and tackling.

Two preliminary games will be played here until the conference season starts. The first two games will be with Lawton and Ardmore, Sept. 27 and Oct. 5, respectively. Fifty men are on the regular list at daily practice. Those who attended practice yesterday afternoon include:

Captain Monk Hodgkiss, Jerrie Elliott, Morriss Lee, Rollin Dixon, Thomas Beaty, Earl Hutchison, Jack Carstarphen, Bob Carstaphen, Chick Holden, Jack West, all letter men from last year. Other candidates are: Bill Loevy, Dan Cox, Carlisle Norwood, John Skeen, Frank Stanfield, Glen Patton, Raymond Allen, Eugene Fletcher, Lester Daniels, Leo Davis, Max Sepkovitch, Clovis Keys, Milton Larkin, Willard Pollard, Orlon Smith, Charles Reid, Erwin Morriss, Allan Gough, Keith Porterfield, Harlan Ray, Sam Fowler, Harold White, Ogden Kelley, Laverne Malone, J. R. Holton, Paul Dickey, Loyce Watson, Virgil Skeen, Willard Wilkins, C. L. King, Bennett Withrow, T. D. Humphreys, William Reynolds.

MACKS SHADE INDIANS BY 6-5

Athletics Near Cinching of Pennant for Old Connie

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10. (AP)—Although rain broke up proceedings at Shibe park here today after the Athletics had nosed out the Indians, 6 to 5, in the first game of a double-header, the pennant-bound Macks stepped three notches nearer mathematical assurance of their first pennant in 15 years.

The Yankees got only an even break against the Tigers in New York. This combination of circumstances reduced the needs of the Athletics from nine victories to six, as the second game with Cleveland cannot be played off and is just as valuable to Mr. Mack as a game won.

George Earnshaw started out after his 21st victory, but the Indians pounded him from the box in the seventh. Shores and Rommel followed, with the knuckle ball veteran getting credit for two rallies in the eighth and the ninth which pulled the game from Wesley Ferrell's grasp. Score:

BROWNS TAKE TWO

BOSTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—St. Louis took both ends of a double-header from Boston here today, 6-1 and 1-0, behind the airtight pitching of Collins and Coffman.

Collins held the Red Sox to four hits in the first game while his mates fell on Russell for four runs in the opening frame.

Russell attempted a comeback in the second game and held the Browns to six hits and a single run, scored on successive errors by Rhyne and Regan. Score:

Heavy Battles Are Important

Leading Contender May Emerge From Two Fights

By JACK McAULIFFE
Former Undefeated Lightweight Champion

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (UP)—I believe that the two heavyweight bouts this month between Phil Scott-Victorio Campolo and Tommy Loughran-Jack Sharkey will produce at least one outstanding contender for the title vacated by Gene Tunney more than a year ago.

I like the looks of this big fellow Campolo, who impresses me as a better prospect than Luis Firpo, his countryman, ever was. Firpo had a great right hand, but nothing else. Campolo can do more than hit. He is a fair defensive boxer and appears to be willing to learn.

Phil Scott has a good left hand and is a better than ordinary boxer, but he has a fragile chin. Scott is going to have to be mighty good a week from Wednesday night, when he meets Campolo at Ebbets field, to prevent the big South American from adding another knockout to his record.

We all know that Sharkey can fight and hit, but we also know that he is an in-and-outer and never fights twice in the same way. Sometimes, I think Jack is the next champion. Other times I think he's just a second-rater without any heart.

Taking Sharkey's fight with Dempsey as a basis, I should say he would knock out Loughran. But who knows whether Sharkey will open up with all his guns against Loughran? I don't.

Sharkey certainly showed speed aplenty against Dempsey and came mighty close to winning, although he was knocked out in the seventh round, by blows that were questionable as to

Grapes From "Vineland"

The first sturdy Vikings who found America were so impressed with the abundance of wild grapes that they named this country "Vineland." There is plenty of evidence to believe that the grape is one of the earliest fruits, the grapevine probably being one of the numerous creeping vines to grow out of the mud of the Paleozoic jungle. The records of grape cultivation go back for over 5,000 years, but the Phoenicians were the first to cultivate the grape extensively. As far back as we have any recorded history we know that grapevines have been found growing wild in every temperate and torrid zone of both hemispheres.

In America the largest amount of grapes come from the Pacific coast where about 80 per cent of the grapes in the American market are raised. It is interesting to note that many of the most popular grapes raised on the Pacific coast are from the same varieties mentioned in the Bible and those famous in ancient history. The eastern sections of the country raise the Concord which is a black grape and used a great deal for table purposes, although also made into grapejuice. These eastern and temperate zone grapes do not keep very well in storage, but the Malaga, Tokay, and Emperor grapes from California are packed in sawdust or cork and shipped to all parts of the world, as they keep well through the winter season if properly refrigerated. These grapes are carefully packed so that each grape is separated from its neighbor by the sawdust, keeping them in perfect form.

The "grape cure" known in Europe is employed by placing the patient exclusively on grapes which he eats for from four to six weeks, taking up to six pounds a day. Those who wish to try this diet while the grapes are not in season can get excellent results through taking a fast on the bottled grapejuice. I especially recommend that kind which is pasteurized and no sugar added. This is preferable to the bottled grapejuices which are often made from boiling over-ripe or under-ripe grapes and additional sugar added.

Raisins are made from drying grapes in bunches. The best looking bunches are sold as table raisins, and the smaller grapes are separated from their stems and put up in packages. The Muscats are the ones most commonly used for table grapes, while the Sultanas and Thompsons are put up in packages and used for cooking and for making candies.

Both raisins and grapes contain a large amount of sugar, the sugar content of raisins being about 74 per cent, but of course, slightly less in grapes because of the high water content. The principal acid of the grape is tartaric acid which, when extracted, is used in the making of baking powder. Because of the tartaric acid of grapes, they should never be used with starchy foods. During season, it is the best plan to use grapes for an entire meal or possibly in addition to a meal containing only non-starchy vegetables. Another good combination is to drink a glass or two of milk for lunch and use with this about a half pound of grapes. If grapes are ever used with a regular meal, only a small amount should be used after a meal containing only proteins and non-starchy vegetables.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question—J. L. asks: "What causes a baby's legs to cramp and draw back at the knee?"

Answer—Any time a baby's legs cramp or begin to draw back, it is liable to be a symptom of some dangerous irritation, such as infantile paralysis or cerebrospinal meningitis. Such symptoms in a baby should be immediately reported to your doctor, who can best tell what to do.

Iodine

Question—J. G. S. asks: "Will you please tell me what foods, if any, contain iodine?"

Answer—The following foods contain the largest amounts of iodine: Asparagus, pineapple, cabbage, kidney beans, mushrooms, carrots, strawberries, shrimp and other shellfish.

Gaining Weight

Question—Hopeless writes: "I am a young woman 25 years of age, 5 feet 3 inches tall, and weigh only 91 pounds. Have tried everything on earth to put on weight. Was on a milk diet for three months and put on two pounds. I have consulted several doctors and they all claim I am perfectly well. One doctor advised me to remove my appendix and that would sharpen my appetite. I've done so, and no success. Walk from three to four miles a day and very seldom do I feel hungry, and then if I take a drink of water my appetite is gone. Please advise me what to do."

Answer—You may be perfectly healthy and yet only weigh as much as you do. However, the average thin woman of your type is usually unable to put on weight because of a systemic poisoning which she gets from a sluggish colon. One of this type usually has a complete prolapsus of the stomach and intestines, and usually has adhesions holding these organs down. When the adhesions are broken loose by manipulative treatment, the organs may be brought back to normal position through exercising. The patient will then soon begin to gain weight without any stuffing diet.

Direct Radio System Between Pilot And Weather Man to Add to Safety

By DAVID P. SENTNER

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (INS)—Direct radio communication between airplane pilots and the weather man will remove the possibility of another disaster like the crash of the T. A. T. passenger plane on Mount Taylor, New Mexico, in which eight lives were lost, according to William E. Berchtold, official of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America.

"Experiments are far advanced along this line and within a year all transport planes probably will be required to carry radio systems for communication with weather experts," said Berchtold today in an interview with International News Service. "This will permit a pilot to receive continuous information as to the weather immediately ahead of him."

Precautions Taken

Berchtold pointed out the numerous precautions taken by all transport companies for the safety of passengers together with the rigid rules governing their operation enforced by the department of commerce. He termed the wreck of the City of San Francisco, the ill-fated Transcontinental Air Transport plane, as "a tragic coincidence" which was unlikely ever to happen again.

"American air transport companies travel 30,000 air miles a day with passengers alone, and 80,000 miles daily with passengers, mail and express matters," he said.

"No business, not even the railroads, are more exacting in their safety requirements than the air transport companies," said Berchtold "and the precautions, generally speaking, are self-imposed."

"All transport planes must have the approved type certificate issued by the department of commerce before the machine can leave the factory.

Look for Letter "C"

"A transport plane must be licensed by the department of commerce and passengers should always look for the letter C on the wing or tail of the machine which signifies such a license has been granted, in assurance of its airworthiness and capability. The department inspects licensed transport planes from day to day.

"The next thing for a passenger to look for is the license of the pilot. Each transport pilot is required by the commerce department to have 200 hours solo flying experience. Most of the transport pilots, however, have 1,000 hours experience in the air.

"In addition to the chief pilot, there is a co-pilot who relieves his mate and acts as an extra safeguard to see if the ship is in constant good mechanical shape.

"Besides the government inspection, each of the ships of the transport companies is inspected at each stop by their own mechanics also licensed by the department of commerce. A mechanic must have two years general experience on all types of combustion engines and must all have another year's experience on airplane engines."

Private Weather Forecasts

Berchtold asserted that most of the big transport companies had their own weather experts to supplement the reports of the government weather bureaus.

"The T. A. T. system has an extensive and expensive weather gathering system which provides hourly reports to supplement the three or four hour weather reports of the government," he said.

"The procedure of this company and practically all others, is to have its own meteorologist forward the latest weather report to the operations manager, who is responsible for pilots continuing their run.

"The operations manager is always a veteran pilot himself. There is Paul Collins, of the T. A. T., who is a world war veteran, one of the first mail pilots and has 7,600 hours in the air to his credit.

"While technically speaking the pilot does not make the decision as to whether or not he will fly, the operations manager seldom sends a pilot aloft if the latter thinks he cannot get through."

Berchtold explained that none of the big transport companies used parachutes for their passengers due to the cabin types of planes in use which would make quick exits difficult. Furthermore, an alarmed passenger might leap out when there was less danger even in a forced landing. If parachutes were attached to air travelers, he said.

The new radio devices would permit communication both ways between a pilot and the weather expert at the nearest airport, Berchtold said. Advices from the St. Louis offices of the T. A. T. company state that every one of their airplanes is equipped with a radio receiving device. A written weather report is given the pilot before he takes off from an airport and additional reports are broadcast, according to T. A. T. officials.

Changes in WTCC Bylaws Discussed

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Sept. 10.—The special committee appointed at the Coleman meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce composed of R. L. Penick, Stamford, O. P. Thrane, Snyder, and Walter D. Cline met Monday in all day session at the headquarters office here.

A preliminary report was made containing changes in the by-laws and constitution of the organization which will be submitted to the directors and if passed submitted to the convention of members in El Paso, Oct. 24, 25 and 26.

Cline, in commenting on the preliminary report said, "A complete copy of the report will be given to the press in 10 days or two weeks. This can not be done before it has been passed upon by the directors and vice president, and advisory board which is composed of directors."

Manufacturers' Group To Meet Wednesday

Members of the executive committee of the manufacturers and jobbers division of the chamber of commerce will meet Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock to hear reports of work done during the past few months by organization officials in Wichita Falls trade territory, it was announced Tuesday.

Discussion of existing and proposed new policies of the division will be held at Wednesday's meeting, it was said.

A zinc mine near Miami, Okla., once was given away, later being sold for $1,000. Recently it brought $250,000.

LOWER CORN CROP FORECAST

Department Announces Probable Yields

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (INS)—The United States will have a corn crop this year of about 2,455,997,000 bushels, the crop reporting board of the department of agriculture announced today, basing its estimate on a condition of 67.9 per cent of normal on Sept. 1. Last year's crop amounted to 2,536,000,000 bushels.

The total wheat crop will amount to 786,000,000 bushels, divided as follows: Winter wheat, 568,000,000 bushels; durum wheat, 53,032,000 bushels; other spring wheat, 164,461,000 bushels.

The condition of oats on Sept. 1 was 74.6 per cent of normal, indicating a production of 1,204,987,000 bushels.

Details of other principal crops follow:

Barley—Condition, 68.8 per cent; production, 304,000,000 bushels.

Rye—Production, 41,000,000 bushels.

Rice—(Five states)—Condition, 83.4 per cent; production, 35,300,000 bushels.

Dry Edible Beans—Condition, 68.7 per cent; production, 17,300,000 bushels.

Peanuts—Condition, 74.2 per cent; production, 849,000,000 pounds.

Apples—(Total crop)—Condition, 47.7 per cent; production, 146,000,000 bushels.

Apples—(Commercial crop)—Condition, 51.7 per cent; production, 29,500,000 bushels.

Peaches—Condition, 43.2 per cent; production, 44,400,000 bushels.

American Encaustic Tiling, Ltd. is one of the largest tile producers in the world. It makes wall and floor tile in practically all colors and designs. The company owns an office building in New York City and has four factories which comprise over 80 buildings. These are located at Zanesville, Ohio, Los Angeles and Hermosa Beach, Calif., and Maurer, N. J. About 1,600 workers are employed. Earnings have been fairly stable with an increase from 1927 on. Net income in 1928 totaled $871,600. This compared with $684,226 in 1927. In February of 1929 there was a readjustment of capitalization resulting from the payment of a 100 per cent stock dividend.

There is no funded debt. Capital stock outstanding now consists of 227,670 shares of no par common stock. An initial dividend of 60 cents a share was paid on the no par common in 1927, in which year the total dividends on the common amounted to $1.80 a share. In 1928 02.95 a share was paid. The present rate is 50 cents a share quarterly.

As of Jan. 1, 1929, total current assets amounted to $2,601,045. Total current libabilities were $292,367 and net working capital was $2,308,678. Book value applicable to the common stock amounted to $38.22 a share.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—The cotton market was lower today under selling which was evidently inspired by disappointment over the failure of yesterday's government crop report to create a better sustained demand, relatively easy Liverpool cables, and a possibility that recent rains will improve the crop outlook in the Southwest. December contracts sold off to 19.09 or 71 points below the high price touched on the crop figures yesterday, and closed at that figure with the general market closing fairly steady at net declines of 35 to 45 points.

The market opened East at a decline of 13 to 25 points under selling of much the same character as that which developed on the advance following the publication of the official crop figures yesterday. It was promoted by the relatively easy showing of Liverpool and reports of some further rain in the Southwest.

The decline brought in some trade buying as well as covering and a moderate commission house demand but the bulges met considerable southern selling in small lots as well as realizing or liquidation, and prices worked quite steadily lower. October sold off to 18.75 and March to 19.26 in the late trading or back to about the lowest prices touched just before publication of the government crop report yesterday. Last prices were the lowest of the day on the active position.

Liverpool reported hedging and Bombay selling together with liquidation by disappointed bulls in that market.

Port receipts today 65,292. U. S. port stocks 788,219. Exports 37,172 making 442,624 so far this season.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10. (AP)—All of yesterday's advance was lost in today's cotton market. December contracts which closed yesterday at 19.41, declined to 18.97 for a net loss of 46 points. The general market closed easier at net declines of 39 to 46 points.

Liverpool was 10 to 12 points lower than due and the market here opened at a decline of 16 to 18 points. Covering by shorts prices rallied 8 to 11 points carrying October to 19.04, December 19.33 and January 19.38. Later, however, the market turned decidedly easier under liquidation by disappointed longs over the failure of the government crop forecast to stimulate additional buying, selling on the belief that tomorrow's forecast would be favorable and more or less bearish.

By mid-session October sold at 18.74 and active positions were generally 35 to 38 points below yesterday's close. During the final hour there was renewed selling on the bearish forecast fears and all active positions traded well below the day. October sold off to 18.68, December 18.97 and January 19.06, or 42 to 46 points below the previous close. Final prices were at the lowest.

Calling of Loans Causes Further Declines on New York Market

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (US)—Calling of loans that put the demand rate from 8 to 10 per cent influenced further decline in the stock market, today. There were expectations in the afternoon that the call rate might go to 15 per cent so that liquidation increased in the final hour and closed many active stocks at or near the lows of the day.

Steel lost 4½. Allied Chemical 6½. Can 3½ and other Standard Industrials from 2 to 5 points. Westinghouse dropped 10⅞, Packard 8½, General Electric 12¼, Montgomery Ward 5 points and United Aircraft 6½.

Standard of New Jersey with 2½ point gain was one of the few issues to close higher leading an otherwise quiet but fairly orderly Oil group. Coppers and Rails slumped with the Industrials. Young Spring with gain of 4 points following merger report was another to stand out by reason of strength. Turnover held around the 4,500,000 share level.

The general explantation for the advance in the call rate was "preparation for mid-month turnover of funds." The real reason, however, was the pressure on local banks by the reserve authorities who were displeased with the big increase in brokers' loans made by the banks for their own account last week. There is plenty of money around to take care of the mid-month turnover. When checks go through for income tax payments and for subscriptions to the new treasury issue early next week, there may be real reason for temporary tightening of money. However, if banks call in sufficient amount now, under compulsion of the reserve, and no big advance is experienced in the meantime, it would be no surprise if the payments next week have no effect on rates. The tightening in money, combined with the selling of Steel, caused considerable nervousness but there was no change of opinion in important quarters that nothing more than sporadic corrections would be experienced for a while.

The more irregular tone of the market has not destroyed bullishness on the Rails. There is apparent reason for belief that a good many of the carrier stocks have not fully discounted indicated further gains in earnings and developments that will result therefrom. Erie should be able to declare a $4 dividend by the end of this year or early next. Baltimore & Ohio enjoys consistent absorption in times of general market softness as there is growing expectation that its dividend will be increased.

There is continued quiet picking up of many Utilities also, due to realization that the plans of the most powerful interests have not been finished. Electra bond interests return next week and more excitement is looked for in their stocks. Standard Gas, Louisville Gas and others in that group also face merger developments soon.

Buying of Standard of New Jersey was credited to an oil investment trust. In fact a fair part of recent demand for the Oils has been for the account of interests connected with investment trusts formed recently. Such absorption evidently is based on expectation that leaders of the industry eventually will work out some plan of stabilization of production. There was further talk of Manville-Radiator merger. Whereas the terms were three for one in reports of negotiations some months ago. Now the talk is for a four on one exchange. Rumors indicate that some Johns Manville stockholders would not be satisfied even with that exchange.

Decline of close to 430,000 tons in the Steel corporation's unfilled tonnage during August influenced more selling than any other single factor. This was due to the fact that insiders failed to support Steel common. The drop in unfilled orders was large but not surprising. Consumers don't place orders for winter requirements until September while deliveries against fall business are made during August. None of the Steel corporation officials show any worry, but the failure of the bankers to support the stock gave strength to belief that they are not averse to seeing further correction of the general market at this time. As Myron C. Taylor says: "Steel is to be the stabilizing influence for the community." It should be borne in mind also that the Steel bankers are very interested in international affairs.

Our courteous ad taker will receive your Classified Ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the next day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for the convenience of our patrons in transacting business over the telephone.

Classified Ad patrons desiring to have ads charged must have a telephone listed in their own name. No book record is made by the publishers on account of the great number of transactions, hence the necessity of collecting promptly.

Correction of errors in Classified Ads must be made before the second insertion. No allowance will be made for more than one incorrect insertion.

Cancellations and adjustments regarding errors should be telephoned to the Classified Ad department between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Ads accepted for afternoon papers up until 11 a. m. same day.

Morning paper up to 6 p. m. for the following morning.

Sunday paper up to 7 o'clock Saturday night.

Same copy in both papers.

THE CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT IS OPEN ON SUNDAYS

from 4 to 6 p. m. and telephone orders for classified ads to be inserted or to be discontinued will be accepted.

Exceptions: Want ads will be accepted over the telephone for all excepting the following classifications: Situations Wanted and Wants to Rent. Ads for these classifications are cash with the order and will not be accepted over the telephone.

The Times reserves the right to classify all Classified Ads under the appropriate headlines and to revise or to withhold from publication any ads deemed objectionable.

102. LEGAL NOTICES

NUMBER 1457. In the matter of the estate of W. D. McClure, deceased. In the county court of Wichita county, Texas, August term, A. D. 1929. Notice is hereby given that I, W. A. McClure, administrator of the estate of W. D. McClure, deceased, have on the 10th day of September, A. D. 1929, filed in the county court of Wichita county, Texas, an application to sell an oil and gas lease belonging to said estate on the following described land situated in Wichita county, Texas: First Tract—The north 7½ acres of the west 20 acres of the east 40 acres of the north 100 acres of survey No. 5, G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co. survey, near Sunshine Hill in Wichita county, Texas. Second Tract—169 acres of survey No. 5, G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co., survey near Sunshine Hill in Wichita county, Texas, more particularly described as follows, to-wit: The east 70 acres of the north 100 acres of said survey with the exception of 8 acres of said acre in the form of a square situated in said tract of 70 acres, which said tract of one acre is more particularly described as follows, to-wit: The center of said tract of one acre being 185 feet north of the south line of said tract of 70 acres and being 750 feet east of the west line of said tract of 70 acres, said center of said tract of one acre being the point at which well No. 1, in said tract is located. The south line of said tract of one acre is parallel with the south line of said tract of 70 acres; together with an undivided one-half interest in and to seven-eighths of the oil and gas in and to said well, now producing oil on said premises of 7½ acres, said well having been drilled by your applicant and Mrs. Lula V. McClure Stephens, before May 31, 1929, together with an undivided one-half interest in and to the casing, pipe, pumps, tanks and equipment used on said premises, the lessor to retain an undivided one-half interest in and to one-eighth of the oil and gas produced and saved from said premises. This application is made for the purpose of securing an order to permit the making of a correction oil and gas lease to C. A. Pennell and J. C. Cunningham to correct an oil and gas lease delivered to said lessee on June 11, 1928, in which the above described premises was incorrectly described. This is to notify all persons interested in said estate to be and personally appear at the court house in Wichita Falls, Texas, in the honorable county court thereof in the county of Wichita on Monday, the 23rd day of September, A. D. 1929, at 10 o'clock a. m. and then and there to show cause why such oil and gas lease should not be made, should they choose to do so. Witness my hand on this the 10th day of September, A. D. 1929. W. A. McClure, administrator of the estate of W. D. McClure, deceased.

Control Board to Seek New Hospital Site

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Sept. 10.—Members of the state board of control, headed by R. B. Walthall, chairman, will leave next Monday for Galveston and thence to Dallas on a tour of inspection of a site for the establishment of the $150,000 psychopathic hospital. This hospital was authorized by the 41st legislature and the act creating the institution specified that it shall be located either at Galveston or Dallas. Although the hospital is to be built at once, it will not be put in operation until next year, the governor having vetoed the appropriation for its immediate operation. The appropriation will become available during the second fiscal year.

Wyatt C. Hedwick, of Fort Worth has been appointed by the board of control as the architect to draw the plans and specifications and direct its construction.

U. T. Entrance Exams To Begin on Sept. 14

AUSTIN, Sept. 10. (AP)—Entrance examinations at the University of Texas will begin Sept. 14, Registrar E. J. Mathews has announced.

New students must have their credits in the office of the registrar on Sept. 10, Mr. Mathews said. Old students will be required to present a complete record of work booklet when they register. In case a student has lost his booklet he should ask the registrar's office to make him a duplicate.

A student who is unable to register on the regular registration days, Sept. 20 and 21, either because he has no record of work booklet or for some other reason, will be forced to wait until Sept. 26 to register.

Three Lubbock Bond Issues Are Approved

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Sept. 10.—Three issues of bonds of Lubbock have been approved by the attorney general's department. The bonds are: $75,000 airport, $90,000 street improvement and $60,000 sewer extension, all bearing five per cent and maturing serially. Also approved: $125,000 Polk county road and bridge bonds, 5½ per cent, maturing serially; $50,000 Catrina (Dimmit county) school district bonds, five per cent, maturing serially.

Hoover Asks Time to Study Flood Work

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—President Hoover has informed representatives from Mississippi valley states that if they are willing to take responsibility of making the request, he would consider postponing flood control work on the southern Mississippi pending further investigation of the situation.

This information was conveyed to Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader, who conferred a few days ago on the subject with the president.

A difference of opinion has arisen over certain technical and other questions involved in controlling the Mississippi, and the president desires to give these full consideration.

Today { At the Theaters
By W. L. UNDERWOOD

MAJESTIC: Nancy Carroll and Hal Skelly in "The Dance of Life." Pick up the cadence, Hal. Talking-comedy. Movietone news.

STRAND: Greta Garbo and Nils Asther in "The Single Standard." She acts superbly even while splashing through a heavy rain. Vitaphone vandeville. Comedy. Paramount sound news.

OLYMPIC: Laura La Plante in "The Love Trap," with Neil Hamilton. Our Gang comedy. Pathe news.

GEM: "Our Dancing Daughters," with Joan Crawford. Comedy.

The effect sought in the juxtaposing of complementary colors is obtained by current motion picture attractions at the three larger theaters in the city. To provide an intensified tone for Greta Garbo's finished performance at the Strand in behalf of "a single standard," Nancy Carroll at the Majestic and Laura LaPlante at the Olympic devote themselves charmingly to the sufferings of women caught in the cruel grip of double-standard males.

Garbo and Nils Asther, in "The Single Standard," properly are placed on the short end of a two-to-one numerical handicap, but pull away on the last stretch to win by several lengths over "The Dance of Life" and "Love Trap." In the latter, Laura becomes the victim of impressions seized avidly by both sexes for conversion at once into ripe scandal. The denouement has the virtue of allowing some small details to be taken for granted, permitting an earlier retirement to untroubled sleep.

Motion picture directors are in a class with at least one other group—advertising show-card artists. Both represent a most complete degree of dependence upon self-asserting femininity — particularly when the self-assertion utilizes silken negligee. No ambitious card can hope to describe the delightful aroma of a cigaret, to vivify the sparkling drink for a summer's day, or to suggest the affectionate attention given your washing at the laundry, without the alluring face or figure of the one girl Ziegfeld should have found but didn't.

Greta Garbo was given a far better story than either of the other highly-sweetened mixtures on this week's menu. An actress of Greta's type usually appears less frequently, but in better vehicles. Walking across the street in a downpour of rain might reveal the limitations of some other's ability in character impersonation, as honestly as it reflected Miss Garbo's absorption in "Miss Stewart."

If the opportunity ever presents itself, we shall surreptitiously plant ourselves within easy visual range of Neil Hamilton, in the hope that close observation of his life at home, or perhaps among the neighbors, may catch him walking with short, easy steps, and without consciously disporting a new suit. Those seven-league strides with which Neil strolls toward the door, apparently attentive lest leg or arm creases be nicked, insert themselves upon our vision as persistently as an inkspot on the nose.

Wichitans who plan to attend the annual state fair at Dallas may be interested in the inclusion of "The Red Robe" in the program of dramatic entertainment prepared for that occasion. The operatic musical comedy is being presented by the Shuberts, which fact gives acceptable assurance of a high class production. Based upon the romantic era of Louis XIV in France, the show will include chivalric deeds of valor performed by swashbuckling knights, all against the inevitable court intrigue of the period. One hundred fifty people are in the cast. The production is head-lining the entertainment arranged for fair visitors.

Nocona Operators Given 30 Days To Complete Gas Conservation Tests

Representatives of nine oil companies operating in the Nocona field met in the office of T. L. Coplin, deputy oil and gas supervisor for this district, Tuesday afternoon for the further consideration of natural gas waste in the Nocona area, and were granted another 30 days in which to complete experiments now under way with various devices for conservation.

R. D. Parker of Austin, chief supervisor of the oil and gas division of the state railroad commission, was present with Mr. Coplin to hear the reports brought in from the Nocona producing territory. Various means are being tested by different operators to carry out the requirements of the commission's rules against unnecessary waste of gas, it was reported. Comprehensive recommendations will be made to the commission by the next meeting, which is to be held here on Oct. 8, Mr. Coplin said.

Mr. Parker heard evidence submitted on the application of the Phillips Petroleum company for permission to use vacuum on their leases in the Harmel pool, Archer county. The case was taken under advisement for later decision. Application also was made for similar privilege by the Mid-Continent Oil corporation with reference to production located in Clay county, near the Jack county line. Hearing on this application was postponed because of the absence of the applicant.

Doctors in Bucharest, Rumania, recently accomplished a transfusion of blood from a dead person to one at the point of death. The operation is believed to be the first successful one of its kind.

TRADE TRIP DELAYED

Rains Balk Plans for Junior C.-C. Visit to Seymour

Continued rains have caused the postponement of the scheduled Junior chamber of commerce trade trip to Seymour which was to have been taken next Friday, Sept. 13, according to A. D. Lightsey, chairman of the trade trip committee.

The date selected was one on which the annual Baylor county fair was to be held, and the Junior chamber of commerce had made plans to take a large delegation of young business men from Wichita Falls and Archer City to the Baylor county seat. Mr. Lightsey stated that the trip will be made later.

Police Recover Auto Stolen From Visitor

An automobile belonging to R. L. Jones of Dallas which was stolen from its parking place at 2301 Kemp boulevard about 11 o'clock Monday night was recovered by police Tuesday morning and returned to its owner. The car was found headed into a ditch in the 2100 block on Fifth street by City Detectives Fred Fountain and Pat Allen. Nothing had been removed from the car.

$10,000 SUIT GOES TO TRIAL

Jury Hears Testimony in Auto-Truck Crash

The second trial of a $10,000 damage suit brought by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Shanafelt against J. R. Kolb in connection with the death of their 14-year-old son in an automobile accident in November, 1927, got underway before Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court Tuesday afternoon.

The jury hearing the earlier trial awarded $1,000 damages but held that the driver of the car in which young Shanafelt was riding had been guilty of contributory negligence, thus nullifying the judgment. Judge Martin granted a motion for a new trial on a point of law in connection with the court's charge to the jury, and the case came up for trial again Tuesday afternoon. The plaintiffs are represented by James V. Allred, attorney.

The Shanafelt boy was killed when the car in which he was riding struck a parked truck owned by J. R. Kolb on the Electra highway. The youth was a member of a party of Boy Scouts returning with their leaders from an expedition. The plaintiffs allege negligence on the part of the driver of the truck in parking it, with an overhanging tank, on the side of the highway without danger lights.

Man Arrested, Liquor Seized by Officers

One man was arrested, two and one-half gallons of whisky were seized and an automobile confiscated Tuesday afternoon for violation of the Jones law. The man was held at the city jail and later turned over to J. A. Lantz, United State commissioner, officers said. The arrest was made by Plainclothes Officer F. E. Summers and Bob Miller when they saw the man driving about the streets of the east section of town. Upon investigation they discovered the liquor and held the driver for possession and transportation of intoxicants.

Expert to Judge Window Contest

W. L. HUNTSMAN

Elaborate preparations are under way in numerous local stores for the annual fall window display which is to open Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, for which 20 silver loving cups and engraved certificates are being given by The Times Publishing company as awards to winners. Word received Tuesday from W. L. Huntsman of The Fair, at Fort Worth indicated that he will arrive in Wichita Falls Friday afternoon to act as judge in the window display contest. Twenty different classifications will be represented in the displays of new fall goods which are being entered by local firms.

RAINS BLOCK AUTO TRAVEL

Archer City-Seymour Route In Bad Shape

Roads which were impassable Monday between Wichita Falls and Olney, and between Wichita Falls and Seymour, showed indications of permitting direct traffic Wednesday, according to D. M. Puckett, division highway engineer.

Mr. Puckett reported Tuesday night that the Little Wichita river, about 21 miles south of here between Wichita Falls and Archer City, had gone out of its banks, blocking all roads between here and Archer City; and that bridges over the same stream, between Archer City and Holliday were out, preventing traffic between those points.

He said the Little Wichita had risen four feet Tuesday afternoon following recent rains. A detour by way of Scotland was at first used by Wichita Falls motorists going to Archer City, but as the river rose, this route also became impassable. The land on either side of the stream, in most places is under several feet of water, he said.

Overflowing of creeks south of Archer City had inundated many sections of the road in that district, reports to Mr. Puckett indicated. On the Seymour road, the chief difficulty was encountered near Maybelle, where new road is being built. The only avenue through which traffic on that highway could travel was by way of the Waggoner pasture. It was reported that efforts were being made to open a detour through the land to permit Wichita Falls-Seymour travel.

Mr. Puckett said that if the fair weather of Tuesday evening continued Wednesday, all roads could be put in fairly good condition by Thursday.

Paving on the Archer City-Wichita Falls highway has now reached the Three-Way filling station, eight miles north of Archer City, it was said. Going south of Archer City toward Olney, the building of pavement is progressing even more rapidly, Mr. Puckett said. Without excessive bad weather, both strips should be completed by Dec. 10, giving hard-surface road from Wichita Falls to Olney, it was stated.

Information from Childress and Memphis stated that many cars have been left on the main highway in that district since Saturday, to be moved after cessation of the rain.

Tuf-Nut Stockholders To Meet Here Sept. 17

Stockholders of the Tuf-Nut Garment Manufacturing company of Texas have been called to attend an adjourned meeting to be held at the company's plant at Fifth and Travis streets on Tuesday, Sept. 17, at 3 p. m., according to Howard D. Merrill, secretary.

The principal business for next Tuesday's meeting is the consideration of proposed amendments to the by-laws of the company, Mr. Merrill indicated.

The original meeting was held on Aug. 19, when formation of the new corporation was completed and officers elected.

The Modern Housewife

do her work for her
THE modern woman knows it is better and cheaper to let 7 and 5 do her work for her. It saves time, money and strength. It gets better results in cleaning, washing, ironing, refrigeration, cooking, sewing, and many other household tasks.
7 and 5 are the two steps in the new electric energy rate for domestic electric service of the Texas Electric Service Company. This is the rate which is now in effect and which brings you the advantage of using larger amounts of electric service at only a small additional cost.
7 and 5 make electricity so cheap that you do an injustice to yourself, to your family, to your health and to your future when you fail to make full use of it. Electricity is now cheaper than it has ever been in this community.
Let 7 and 5 work for you while you enjoy living. They will create new hours for you and give you the strength and health to live them fully. 7 and 5, The Economy Twins, are always ready to work for you—just press the button and there they are, cheap and reliable—at your instant service.
