The State Banking Board has granted a charter for Aransas Community Bank in Fulton.

The Aransas County bank will have capital of $300,000; surplus of $300,000 and reserves of $120,000. George C. Cone Jr. of Corpus Christi is president of the new bank.

The bank will be located at the intersection of Texas 35 north and Fulton Beach Road in the Sea-Aire Shopping Center.

Proposed directors, in addition to Cone, are Conwell Smith of Austin, J. Alfred McMurtry, Gordon R. Stanley, J. Martin Shaw and Carl C. Krueger Jr., all of Rockport.

In approving the application for charter, the Texas Banking Commission reported the directors of the bank may now collect the capital funds and furnish such evidence to the department of banking, after which the organizational process may go forward.

Olympic Gold Medal Winner To Appear at Wildlife Refuge

John Williams, winner of the Gold Metal in archery at the 1972 Olympics will make an appearance at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge on Saturday, September 22 to help the refuge celebrate National Hunting and Fishing Day.

Williams, the Pennsylvania native who took top honors for the U. S. Archery Team at the last Olympic Games held in Munich, Germany, will be on hand at the refuge headquarters from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. His plans include shooting exhibitions with the bow and arrow and giving pointers on the sport of archery to visitors. This will be an excellent opportunity for the public to see an Olympic Star in action as well as get a glimpse of a real Olympic Gold Medal.

The Olympic ace presently hails from Bryan, Texas where he is attending Texas A&M. Since his return from the Olympics, he has made numerous public appearances including the Johnny Carson Show and has won about every kind of tournament in which he has participated.

Williams, in addition to putting on an exhibition at the refuge headquarters, says he plans to get in a little hunting while at the Aransas Refuge. The refuge is open for archery hunting from September 20 through September 24. Additional hunts are scheduled on September 28 - October 1 and October 5-8. Whitetailed deer and wild hogs are legal game for the bow hunters.

An official at the refuge said, "We are indeed pleased that John Williams is taking the time from his busy schedule to come to Austwell, Texas and help us celebrate National Hunting and Fishing Day. We hope that the people in the area will take this opportunity to visit the Aransas Refuge and see this fine young American in action."

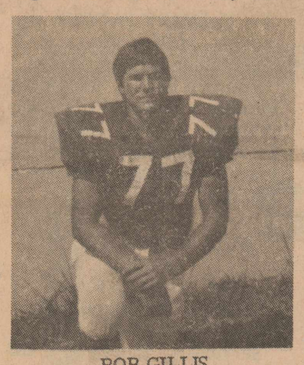

National Hunting and Fishing Day is celebrated each year on the fourth Saturday in September to recognize the outstanding contribution of America's hunters and fishermen to recreation, conservation and the economy.

Mathis Slips Past Rockport 7-0

By BOB CRAWFORD

Although it surprised people that no rain fell Friday night during the Pirates opening game, lightning did strike the Pirates on one play good for a 61 yard touchdown for Mathis.

With only 51 seconds remaining in the first quarter, tailback Bob Porter broke over the left side of the line and just when it appeared that the Pirates had the Mathis runner stopped, he changed direction and raced the remainder of the distance to the goal line for the Mathis score. Quarterback David Myles added the kick for the extra point, and that concluded the night's scoring.

BOB GILLIS

The Pirates did not ever put it all together, and anytime it seemed that unity was near, the fickle pigskin would fall to the ground and Mathis would come up with the loose football. Rockport-Fulton suffered 10 fumbles during the game, losing 6 of them.

Offensively, except for the consistent blocking of Bob Gillis and Rusty Morrison, the Pirates showed very little. Denzel Bardwell was the leading rusher for the Pirates with 77 yards in 16 carries.

Defensively, Gillis and Morrison were the steadies there also.

This week the Pirates will travel to Tuloso-Midway to take on the high-powered offense of the Warriors. Tuloso had a very successful season last year, and this year the Rockport coaches figure the Warriors will again be tough, being big and versatile. Tailback Joe Bentley has done the majority of the ball-toting for the Warriors up to date.

The Pirates will be somewhat healthier this week if nothing happens with Ricky Littleton, Ralph Weekley, and Alan Passmore returning to the field of action.

She has her own BEE-LINE Cards and Notes which she designs and sketches. You are invited to come, bring a covered dish, and spend an evening with a Mouthstick Artist!! Nursery will be provided at the church.

Canada Sends Whooper to Its Texas Home

Visitors to the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge near Austwell have in the past had to wait until the fall and winter months to see the rare whooping crane. Even during the cranes' wintering period which runs from October to April, catching a glimpse of one of the 50 wild birds is not always possible.

Through the courtesy of the Canadian Wildlife Service the refuge now has a specimen of this rare creature on display. It may not be as exciting as seeing a real live crane feeding in the marsh but the mounted crane located in the visitor's information center appears to be looking you straight in the eye from his special glass display case.

This is a "first" for the refuge since its establishment in 1937. Refuge personnel have never been able to secure a mounted specimen because of the demand throughout the country for mounted birds or study skins of the whooper.

Through the interest of Fred Larman, supervisor of Graphic Services, Saskatchewan Museum of Natural History, the refuge's need was fulfilled. While on a visit to the refuge in late 1971, Mr. Larman learned of the desire of refuge officials and promised to do something about it. Upon his return to Canada, he searched through the storerooms of the Sasketchewan Museum and found an adult crane which stands about 4 feet tall. After clearing with Canadian officials and custom officers, Mr. Larman shipped the crane off to the southern Texas refuge. For the past year the mounted specimen has been in a Corpus Christi taxidermist shop for restoration. During this time refuge personnel were preparing a suitable display area in the Aransas visitor's center.

"We are extremely pleased that at least one mounted whooping crane has finally come to rest in its rightful place at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge", stated E. Frank Johnson, Refuge Manager, "after all, the whooping crane spend more than half of their lifetime in this area. We believe that refuge visitors will find our visitor's center enhanced by the new display."

The Aransas Refuge is open from daylight until dark each day and the visitor center is open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. daily.

United Fund Campaign Launched With Goal Placed at $12,500

FIRST CONTRIBUTOR to the 1973 United Fund was Miss Elsie Hawes, assistant cashier at First National Bank. She is shown presenting her check to Bill Ratliff, drive chairman of the campaign to raise $12,500.

The annual Aransas County United Fund Campaign is now is progress, with the goal set at $12,500 which is the amount of money needed to help 11 worthwhile agencies carry out their work for the benefit of men, women and children of this area.

In adopting the budget at a luncheon meeting at Corky's Restaurant, members of the United Fund Board of Directors pointed out that the goal is almost $2,000 lower than last year's goal of $14,442 and they expressed the hope that everyone in the county would give generously so that this year's goal will be reached.

As has been the case the past few years, the 1973 drive is being conducted by mail with letters going to families and business concerns throughout the county.

Following are the anticipated disbursements approved by the directors, based on the expectation that $12,500 will be raised:

American Red Cross, $2,325.
Aransas County Emergency Corps, $380.75.
Aransas County Youth Council, $465.
Boy Scouts, $3,208.50.
Coastal Bend Association for Mental Health, $325.50.
Coastal Bend Council on Alcoholism, $139.50.
Family Counseling Service, $186.
Girl Scouts: Paisano Council, $1,860, Local, $790.50.
Salvation Army, $1,488.
Texas Rehabilitation Hospital at Gonzales, $465.
U. S. O., $116.25.
Administrative costs to conduct drive, $750.

Conservation Ass'n. Takes Stand On Proposed Inshore Port

M.W. Cochran, president of Rockport Conservation Association, said that the organization has sent the following letter to Col. Don S. McCoy, district engineer of the Corps of Engineers, Galveston, regarding the proposed multi-purpose deep draft inshore port:

"This organization is concerned about the damage this new proposed 72 foot channel at Port Aransas and the construction of the proposed new harbor in Aransas Bay might do to the ecology of Aransas Bay.

"We do not have sufficient factual data upon which to draw definite conclusions about this problem. Therefore, we suggest that the proper study be made by the Univ. of Texas Dept at Port Aransas, Texas to thoroughly investigate what effect this widening and deepening of the Port Aransas Channel could have on the ecology of Aransas Bay.

"We do know that the widening of that channel will permit more Gulf water to enter Aransas Bay and thereby raise the hurricane high tide levels, which according to the U.S. Engr. data were 9.0 feet plus in the 1919 storm, and 8.0 feet plus at Rockport in Carla, 1961.

"We believe that the barrier islands are the first line of defense against hurricane high tides in Aransas Bay. Therefore, to offset any increase in the Gulf waters entering the bay, why not raise the barrier on St. Jose Island from 5.0 feet plus to 9.0 feet plus, and likewise protect on Mustang Island, each side of the jetties at Port Aransas.

"It seems reasonable to us that the problem of added hurricane tide waters from the Gulf of Mexico into Aransas Bay should be tied in with this proposed new port project and that effective measures be taken to protect Aransas Bay from this added hazard to the inhabited areas along the shoreline of this Bay.

"In so far as the danger of pollution from oil spills, if those who plan and build industrial plants today cannot design and operate them without damaging pollution to the water, air and land, then there is little hope for those who follow to have a clean environment. It is not the case for the people to adjust to a polluted environment, it is the case for people who build today and operate to control pollutants."

County Agrees to Sell Tax Data To School District for $30,000

On September 14, there was a regular meeting of the Commissioners Court with the following members present: John D. Wendell, County Judge; Erie Eller, Commissioner Precinct No. 1; Wanda Sparks, Commissioner Precinct No. 2; Raymond Owens, Commissioner Precinct No. 3; Chas. Hale, Commissioner Precinct No. 4 and Ruby Hart, County Clerk.

The Aransas County Commissioners Court agreed to make tax information now being compiled in a countywide re-evaluation of real property available to the Aransas County Independent School District for $30,000.

The $112,000 project is now in progress and is expected to be complete early next year, according to County Judge John D. Wendell.

Wendell said previously that the outside reappraisal of land and improvements in the county was sought in an effort to update values for equalization purposes.

The firm of Davis & Wilson of Seabrook is performing what is the first re-evaluation of county property in 10 years or more. A representative of the firm appeared before the school board last week to explain the work in progress.

An appraisal of 16,000 to 17,000 tax units is involved in the contract.

Wendell said the equalization of real property in the county is especially important in view of the continued decrease of gas and oil values.

Both the county and the school district experienced sharp losses in mineral values this year.

Additionally, Wendell said he discovered how far off some values are in the county in a spot check he conducted.

The Judge informed the court that Miss Lola L. Bonner was preparing the necessary papers to incorporate the Holiday Beach Fire Department and he stated that he was of the opinion that the Aransas County Emergency Corps should be incorporated also. It was voted to employ Miss Bonner to prepare the instruments to incorporate the Emergency Corps.

The Court authorized the Judge to advertise for bids and sell the old trailer belonging to the Road and Bridge Department.

The proposed plans of Juvenile Detention Building were reviewed by the Commissioners Court.

Food Stamp Program Scheduled To Start Here On November 1

Grocers and other food retailers in Aransas County will discuss USDA's Food Stamp Program at a meeting scheduled for Monday, October 1. The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. at the Aransas County Courthouse.

Reagan T. Humphrey, in charge at USDA's Corpus Christi Field Office, explained that the meeting will be held to make sure that every food retailer and wholesaler has a chance to learn about the Food Stamp Program. Interested owners and employees of grocery stores and firms, bakeries, produce houses, and distributors of dairy products are advised that attendance is imperative if they wish to be authorized to participate in the program from its outset in Aransas County.

The Food Stamp Program will be operated jointly be the Texas State Department of Public Welfare and the Food & Nutrition Service of US Department of Agriculture. Food Stamp coupon issuance in Aransas County is scheduled to start on November 1.

Under this Program, families certified as eligible by the State Welfare office can use USDA food coupons like cash to buy food. They must buy coupons equal to the money they normally spend for food. Then, they receive additional coupons without cost. The value of the "bonus" coupons is determined by the size of the family, its income, resources, and other factors.

Aransas County Demos Raise $1,034 For Telethon

In keeping with the KEEP AMERICA PUBLIC theme announced by the Democratic National Committee, Democrats in Aransas County contributed $1,034 to the Party as a result of the Telethon held Saturday night. The most striking aspect of the matter was that the Executive Committee of Aransas County was able to announce that they had $935 of the total sum in hand BEFORE the telethon began.

Present in Dallas to work with State Party Leaders appearing on television were County Chairman Lola L. Bonner and Rose Ann Elliot, daughter of Precinct Chairman Mrs. H.F. Elliot and Dr. H.F. Elliot. On hand at the Democratic Telethon Headquarters at 1002 Main Street Saturday night to accept other contributions were Mrs. H.F. Elliot, Louise A. Wilken, Molly M. Allen, James Allen, Marguerite House, and Mickey Casterline. The workers reported the final results to the Houston Telethon Office.

Although final figures were not available at press time, it was felt that the amount raised in Aransas County would far exceed the amounts raised by surrounding counties in the 17th Senatorial District. State Chairman Calvin Guest, State Secretary Julianan Cowden and National Delegate Selection Member Claudia Brummett complimented the Democratic Leaders of Aransas County for a job well done.

Abandoned Dogs

The Sheriff's Department has received numerous reports of persons abandoning dogs in the Copano Cove area. This has created a possible health hazard, and increased the possibility of rabies in the area, due to the number of wild animals in that area. It is requested that persons who have an animal that is no longer wanted, to contact the Humane Society or try to locate a home for the animal rather than abandoning it.

Chamber of Commerce Seeks Contributions For Xmas Decorations

Bill Janecek, president of the Chamber of Commerce, issues the following appeal:

"The Chamber of Commerce of Rockport is going to purchase some new Christmas decorations for the main streets in Rockport and Fulton. Our present decorations will be used again, in addition to the new ones, to make our citizens and winter visitors proud to be here.

"We are going to lease the decorations for three years, total cost being $3,300. We only have to pay one-third each year starting January 1, 1974, but we get to use all $3,300 worth of decorations each year. At the end of the third year the decorations will belong to the Rockport Chamber of Commerce.

"This year we need to raise $1,100 pretty quick so we can get our order in.

"Would you consider a donation to help with this project. If so, call or write the Chamber of Commerce, P. O. Box 1055 or phone 729-6445."

Pirate Jr. Varsity Trims Mathis 16-14

By BOB CRAWFORD

Rockport-Fulton's Junior Varsity opened the season with a 16-14 win over Mathis last Thursday in Mathis. This afternoon the JV will host the Tuloso-Midway JV after the Freshmen game at Pirate Stadium.

The Pirates opened the scoring on their first possession of the night as halfback Willie Flores scampered around the right end for an 8 yard TD. Quarterback John Miller punched the ball over for the two-point conversion to give the Pirates a lead of 8-0.

Mathis came back on the next series of plays to drive 57 years for a score and conversion to tie the game at 8-8.

Later in the second period Flores received a Mathis punt on the Mathis 46 yardline and followed excellent blocking by the punt return team to a TD. Fullback Joe Harrington carried over for the two-point extra points. The Pirates were leading 16-8 at the half.

The weary Pirates felt the fourth quarter as the Mathis team fired back at them and pushed the ball in from one yard out, but failed to convert and Rockport-Fulton led 16-14.

Mathis again got the ball with two minutes remaining and began a drive for paydirt, but a fumbled pitch was recovered by safety Kevin Vannater and the Pirates held on to the narrow win. Bannatter was also credited with having the outstanding game on defense for the Pirates.

Tax Payers Ask IRS

Q - What's the difference between a regular IRS audit and your "unallowable items" program?

A -- Under the IRS "Unallowable Items Program," certain errors on Federal income tax returns are identified and corrected during return processing at IRS Service Centers. The items corrected are the ones that are clearly not deductible and are unallowable by statute, such as dividend exclusions in excess of the amount allowed by law or failure to reduce medical expenses by one and three percent of adjusted gross income. A regular audit involves an examination of the taxpayer's books or records, while the correction of an unallowable item is simply a step in the processing of returns.

However, a taxpayer who is contacted by an IRS Service Center concerning an unallowable item has the same appeal rights available to him as under audit procedures.

Q - My son is a full-time student and is earning a lot of money from his summer job. If he earns more than I spend for his support, will I lose his dependency exemption?

A - The "support" test of the dependency rules for students is not keyed to how much your dependent earns or how much income he has, but to how much he spends on support items. For example, if your son banked his earnings instead of spending them on support items, they would not count towards his support.

These considerations and others are explained in IRS Publication No. 501, "Your Exemptions for Dependents." Your son can plan his finances so that you will not lose his dependency exemption. The booklet is available from any Internal Revenue office at no charge.

Q - I subscribe to a daily financial newspaper to keep an eye on my investments in the stock market. Is the cost of the subscription deductible?

A - Yes, such fees are deductible as income-producing expenses on your return if you itemize.

Q: My son is paying his own college tuition this year. Will this have any effect on whether or not I can claim him as a dependent?

A: Yes. Tuition payments are counted in determining total support. If you and your son furnish his total support for the year, and your son spent more on support items, such as food, clothing, shelter, education, etc., than you spent for his support, you will not be able to claim his as a dependent.

Q: In return for organizing a group of tourists for a European trip, a travel agency is giving me a free tour with the group. First, is the trip taxable? Secondly, if the trip is taxable, can I deduct the expense I incur as the leader of the tourist group?

A: The free tour is taxable. Thus, it must be included in your income at the tour's fair market value. Secondly, your expenses are not deductible, even if you are serving as the leader of the tourist group without pay and at the group's request.

Q: Is it possible for me to reduce the amount of tax withheld from my pay?

A: Yes. This is done by filing a new W-4 form with your employer, claiming all the exemptions to which you are entitled. In addition, you may also qualify to claim the special withholding allowance.

Governor Designates United Fund Months

Local leaders of the United Fund Campaign which is now in progress have received the following communication from Governor Dolph Briscoe:

Official Memorandum
By Dolph Briscoe
Governor of Texas

GREETINGS:

No state can be a satisfactory homeland unless the systems through which it operates work for the people they serve and offer hope and dignity for all.

In Texas we share with all Americans a unique tradition of voluntary assumption of responsibility for the conduct of community affairs. Concerned people have always banded together to cope with human problems. To deal with such problems through joint action the United Way has evolved.

The goal of United Way Organizations, United Funds or Community Chests, is to provide the means by which a cross section of citizens and agencies may join in a community-wide effort to deliver efficient human service programs effectively related to current needs.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the months of September, October and November, 1973, as UNITED WAY CAMPAIGN MONTHS in Texas, and urge all people of our State to work in and contribute generously to the campaigns in their local communities.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 30th day of Aug., 1973.

s/ Dolph Briscoe,
Governor of Texas

Diez y Seis Parade, a Colorful Event

Many local people were thrilled by the parade staged here last Saturday in connection with the Diez y Seis celebration marking the observance of Mexico's independence from Spain.

A day-long celebration is observance of Mexico's independence from Spain was celebrated here Saturday with the parade kicking off events at 10:30 a.m.

Highlights of the Diez y Seis observance was queen's coronation Saturday night, conducted in conjunction with a dance at the GI Forum Hall.

Named as the Queen was Miss Amy Garcia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fidel Garcia of Rockport.

The celebration sponsored by LULAC Council 625, featured the sale of a variety of Mexican foods at stands in an area north of the Ski Basin.

Hillis Dominguez was chairman of the one-day affair. The parade started at the VFW Hall and proceeded along the main street, terminating in the vicinity of Rockport Beach.

Immediately following the parade there was a 15-minute performance by a precision drill team from Chase Field at Beeville.

The drill team exhibition was followed by a program with former Judge Armando Flores of Corpus Christi as the main speaker. Master of ceremonies for the program was Rudy Torres of Aransas Pass.

Trophies were presented to the two best floats and a third trophy was awarded the best decorated automobile.

The CPL float was awarded first prize, and the Aransas Pass LULAC float won second. The best decorated car was the Order of Eagles' entry.

A three-judge panel for the parade was composed of Mrs. John D. Wendell, Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr., and Joe Garza of Corpus Christi.

Musical groups also performed during the activities.

Dominguez said the celebration served as a reminder of the cultural heritage of Mexican-Americans.

The Lieutenant Governor's Report

By BILL HOBBY

AUSTIN -- The protection of a person's home is a much-cherished Texas tradition. Homestead laws date back to the days when the state was a republic.

In 1839, Texas passed a law which prohibited the forced sale of a family's homestead for the payment of debts. This principle was reasserted in the five state constitutions which have been adopted since then.

A major shortcoming of our homestead provisions, I believe, is that this protection was not afforded to the real property of single adults.

This November 6 we will have the chance to right this inequity. Amendment 2 on the ballot would extend the same homestead protection to single adults, which is presently available only to families.

Increasingly, there are single adults in our society who have invested their earnings in a home. In my opinion, it is patently unfair that they could lose their home under circumstances in which a family would retain ownership.

Amendment 2 also provides that abandonment of a family homestead will require the consent of both husband and wife. The present Constitution does not provide for this, and it has been held that the consent of both parties is not required to give up a homestead exemption.

In this situation, a husband can abandon the homestead without his wife's consent, leaving her in danger of losing the home.

Amendment 3 on this November's ballot also deals with the homestead provisions.

Families always have enjoyed an exemption from ad valorem taxes on the first $3,000 value of their homestead.

Last year, Texas voters approved an amendment to the Constitution which extended a further property tax break to persons 65 or older.

This amendment was interpreted to mean that a family relationship must exist. Consequently, many tax collectors refused to grant this exemption to home-owning widows and other qualified single persons.

Amendment 3 would clear up this confusion, providing that the extended exemption could be granted regardless of family status of the elderly person.

In addition, Amendment 3 would extend the $3,000 homestead exemption to all single adults. As mentioned before, I believe single citizens are entitled to the same protections and rights as married home owners.

I hope the logic of equalizing these laws and ending discrimination against the single citizens of our state will be apparent to everyone. Adoption of Amendments 2 and 3 will do much to correct these inequities.

INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE NEWS

District Director of Internal Revenue Richard J. Stakem, Jr. said today that household employers in the Austin District will receive through the mail on or about October 1 pre-addressed Forms 942, "Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return for Household Employees," for use in reporting Social Security taxes for the calendar quarter ending September 30, 1973.

Stakem pointed out that the use of these pre-addressed forms, which also carry the correct employer identification number, will insure the prompt and proper credit to taxpayer accounts when these quarterly returns are processed through the ADP systems at the regional service center.

Stakem said further that blank forms are available in the District and local offices for new filers and urged that those employers who have been assigned identification numbers make sure the number entered on the tax form is correct.

The deadline for filing Forms 942 for the third quarter is October 31, 1973.

The history of the commercial use of wildlife all over the world has been one of, "grab a fast buck," and callous disregard for over-harvest of some species. Some of these species have been wiped out, and many others have been brought to the verge of extinction.

At one time the trapping of wild furs was the primary industry in North America, but this has undergone a steady decline as artifical substitutes have been developed. In addition, people are developing ethic objections to the wearing of wild furs. The beaver, once the mainstay of the American fur industry, was nearly wiped out over most of his range, but good management practices of the states and provinces have done a good job of restoring him. The northern fur seal and the sea otter were literally snatched back from the brink of extinction by timely international agreements. The demand for novelty furs has endangered many species of cats, especially the spotted ones. The United States has banned the importation and sale of these under authority of the Endangered Species Act of 1969. This is a good example of what individual nations can do until world conventions can set up international controls.

The most important industry marketing wildlife today is the commercial fisheries. Its past history has been one of failure of responsible agencies to set and enforce harvest limits within the recovery capabilities of the various species. The result has been depletion of some of our important sea-food resources.

Fishery biologists in North America have gathered a great deal of information that can be used in good management. In the years to come we can expect this to continue, and it is possible that some important sport and commercial fisheries will be restored.

Here again, however, our problem is an international one in many cases. It concerns the right of nations to control the fisheries around their shores. Foreign fleets, with no incentives to control their harvests, are overfishing the waters on both coasts of North America. The American Fisheries Society has passed a resolution calling for a major extension of the zones of national jurisdiction so that scientific controls can be used in the harvest regulations for fish and other sea-food resources. Many nations have already extended their zones of control, some out as far as 200 miles.

The increasing demand for food and more efficient harvest equipment have brought the whales of the world to the endangered point. International agreements are the only means of controlling this slaughter.

Of the many uses of wildlife, those producing profit to an industry and monetary gain for individuals are the most difficult to control. However, whether we are concerned with sport or commercial harvest, two rules apply: Regulations must be impartial and based on scientific knowledge. They must be rigidly enforced, both in the field and in the courts. We can have this when public opinion demands it - not before.

Gasoline Prices Control Stickers Are Available

Price control stickers for gasoline pumps are now available at U. S. Post Offices, Richard J. Stakem, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for southern Texas, said today.

The stickers must be used by gasoline and diesel fuel retailers to comply with Cost of Living Council requirements that they post on each pump the Phase IV ceiling price and minimum octane rating, Stakem said.

September 7 is the new deadline established by the Cost of Living Council for station owners and operators to comply with the posting requirements.

Gasoline and diesel fuel retailers must obtain one instruction sheet per station and one sticker for each pump. If more than one grade of gas is sold from a pump, a separate sticker must be posted for each grade. Post offices will hand out stickers together with instructions.

Bulk quantities of the stickers will not be distributed to trade associations, Stakem said.

On the reverse of the instruction sheet is a form on which the ceiling price, octane number, grade of gas, pump serial number and sticker number must be listed. The completed sheet should be retained at each station for IRS inspection. Forms do not have to be notarized.

Stakem also said that, in general, gasoline ceiling prices are based on the greater of the dealer's actual markup on January 10, 1973, or seven cents per gallon. This figure is added to the price the dealer paid for his gas on August 1, 1973, to arrive at the ceiling price.

Big Fish

The largest freshwater fish in the world is the beluga, a sturgeon. It is found in the Volga and Dnieper rivers and in the Caspian and Black Seas. A specimen weighing 3,210 pounds is on record.

In the Kitchen

MUSHROOM VEGETABLE SOUP

2 cans (10½-oz. each) beef broth
2 soup cans water
1 lge. carrot, cut into strips
¼ lb. fresh mushrooms, sliced
1 tomato, diced
¼ lb. fresh chopped spinach
2 tsps. Worcestershire sauce

In medium saucepan, combine broth, water and carrot. Bring to boiling point; reduce heat. Cover and simmer 5 to 8 minutes. Add mushrooms, tomato, spinach and Worcestershire sauce. Cover and simmer 5 minutes longer. Makes 8 portions.

Fashion

So many of the new dresses today seem to be made by an old slip pattern of yesteryear. Straps over the shoulder and a slinky look--ankle length. A jeweled sweater may companion this garment or a chiffon something may be worn with it.

Long sweaters are very good and can be worn with turtle neck dresses.

Bows worn at the neckline are being shown on dresses and blouses.

Psychologist Talks To Rotary Club

Dr. Cleo Dawson, educator, lecturer, author and professional psychologist from Lexington, Kentucky, challenged, intrigued and amused members of Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon meeting at the Sandollar Restaurant September 12.

She was in turn dramatic, entertaining and sometimes inarticulate in her enthusiasm as she explained her philosophy of life and suggested ways to make the most of one's opportunities and challenges.

A native of Mission in the Rio Grande Valley to which she returns at every opportunity "to renew her heritage", she has written a successful novel, "She Came to the Valley", based on the life of her mother, whom she apparently adored. A graduate of Baylor and Southern Methodist Universities, she has a doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Kentucky where she taught for several years.

Dr. Dawson obviously is no supporter of the women's lib movement. She declared that woman's most important responsibility is to keep man happy and help them live longer. She pointed out with some concern that there are 12 million more women then men in the United States despite the fact that more male than female babies are born.

She declared that everyone ought to live to be at least 100, but we are actually killing ourselves by our failure to understand the needs of our bodies and give them an opportunity to renew themselves.

Dr. Dawson asserted that fear, rage, wonder and sex are the governing forces of life. She asserted that we are all afraid at times but the important thing is to use our God-given power to think out our problems.

"Don't just sit down and worry about adversity. Stand up and talk to yourself about it", she advised, adding that most people don't listen to themselves anyway. Analyze your feelings and decide whether the problem is worth worrying about before you start brooding.

"All of us have emotionally destructive habits, but we can and must turn our thoughts to positive thinking. Keep the darkness away by turning on the lights of reason within ourselves", she advised. "Don't just sit there mulling over your problems", she asserted.

Cosmopolitan Club Hosted By Cantwells

By chartered bus, boat and car thirty-four guests descended upon the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cantwell on Fulton Beach Road last Saturday evening for the quarterly dinner party of the Cosmopolitan Club of Corpus Christi.

Members of the club, which is a service club, are all Corpus Christi business men who meet each Tuesday for a luncheon meeting. Then, four times each year the members and their wives gather for a dinner-party at the home of a member chosen by rotation.

This time it fell the lot of Bob Cantwell and he and Evelyn turned it into a good old-fashioned fish-fry. The guests were served at tables placed around the enclosed swimming pool in an exotic south-sea-island atmosphere with tropical plants, hanging fish-nets, coral and a variety of sea shells.

In addition to the fish, fried by Bob and his helpers in a huge pot borrowed for the occasion from the Fulton Lions Club, heaping platters of fresh-boiled shrimp and baked stuffed crab adorned the tables, which had been loaned to the Cosmopolitan Club by the Paws and Taws Club of Fulton.

Joe McKinney and Jack Starling, both of Corpus Christi, were co-chairmen of the dinner-party, turned fish-fry.

Two members of the club and their wives, Rusty and Lee Mahoney and Ann and Bob Dawson, came up the coast by boat and tied up at the Cantwell pier. Following the party they spent the night at Key Allegro Motel before returning to Corpus Christi on Sunday.

Other members of the club, who made the round-trip by chartered bus were Sue and Bert Agan, Betty and Norman Ranslabeen, Joyce and Jack Starling, Sue and Mike Cassidy, Helen and Bill Pryor, Ellie and Jim Gainan, Sallye and Harold Easley, Mickey and Joe McKinney and Jackie Ranne.

Non-member guests were Sherre and Phil Ernster and Kathleen and Clete Ernster, all of Cuero, Ann and Rip Yeager and Babe and Leon Parma, all of Corpus Christi, and Geri and Bob Barclay of Rockport.

FHA Holds First Meeting

The first meeting of the Future Homemakers of America was held at 7 Monday night

The guest speaker was Margaret Baker, the Area 10 Treasurer. Miss Baker is a junior at Gregory-Portland High School. She talked about the requirements for running for an Area and State office.

The officers presented plans for the coming year. The Powder-Puff Football Game, Daddy Date Night are only a few of the activities planned for the new year.

Barbara Lewis was elected to be Parliamentarian for the new year.

Refreshments were served by Beverly Kelly and Mary Ellen Hernandez.

Home and Garden Club Meets

The Rockport Home and Garden Club met September 13 in the home of Mrs. W. K. Thomas with Mrs. E. H. Butler as co-hostess.

Mrs. Betty Fausey of Fausey's Nursery gave the program on "Growing Bromeliads" and showed a number of interesting specimens from her bromeliads collection.

A business meeting followed during which Mrs. W. K. Thomas, program chairman, distributed the new yearbooks. She gave special thanks to Emory M. Spencer for having the books printed and to Chris Ely who sketched the cover.

Mrs. R. L. Eckman reported on the bayfront beautification project and said it was regrettable that more plants had been stolen from the planter boxes. She pointed out that this project had been financed by money remaining from the Centennial Celebration which was set aside for major urban beautification work, and that the boxes are cared for by various Rockport and Fulton civic groups and individuals.

Mrs. Curtis Kalteyer reminded the members that a plant exchange will be held at the next meeting and Mrs. Ken Thomas discussed Arbor Day plantings which will be done in January.

Mrs. Ross Demory announced that the First United Methodist Church was having a bazaar on November 14 and it was requested that each member donate a plant or bulbs to express appreciation for the club's use of church facilities.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Bankruptcy: A Clean Slate?

Almost two billion dollars in debts will be wiped out this year in the nation's bankruptcy courts. Almost one American in every 1,000 will take this means of "getting out from under."

Most of them will emerge with a clean slate. However, there are certain kinds of obligations that bankruptcy does not touch. The most important are:

1) Taxes less than three years old. This includes taxes owed to federal, state, or local governments.

2) Debts based on family obligations. This includes alimony and child support.

3) Debts based on a written false financial statement. Suppose, for example, that in obtaining a personal loan you deceived the lender by purposely understating your liabilities. Under these circumstances, you would ordinarily remain liable for the loan even after going through bankruptcy.

4) Debts based on "wilful and malicious" injury inflicted on persons or property.

Usually this involves liability for causing an automobile accident. Thus:

A drunken driver, travelling at high speed on a rainy night, swerved across the double line and smashed into an oncoming car. Held liable afterward in damages, he sought refuge in bankruptcy. But a court said bankruptcy did not wipe out this debt, because his driving was not just negligent but "wilful and malicious."

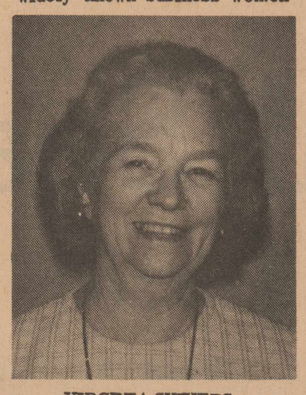

Non-auto injuries may also be considered wilful and malicious. In another case, a man allowed his vicious bulldog to run free even after it had bitten three pedestrians. When a fourth victim went to court and won a sizeable verdict, the dog's owner tried to escape through bankruptcy.

But again, a court held him still liable. The judge said bankruptcy laws were meant to protect the hapless debtor, not the malicious wrongdoer.

Who's Who At First National

One of the newest members of the staff of First National Bank is Virginia Shivers who probably is one of the most widely known business women in this area. She started with First National August 1 as secretary to James H. Sorenson, Jr., bank president.

Mrs. Shivers was born in Rockport and is a graduate of Rockport High School, now known as Rockport-Fulton High School. She also is a graduate of Droughon Business College, Corpus Christi, as well as a Law Enforcement School in Austin.

Until she joined First National, all of Mrs. Shivers' business career was spent in Aransas County offices and in the local school system. She started in the Sheriff's Department, and later worked in the county Tax Assessor-Collector's office before becoming secretary to the principal of the local high school.

When her husband, the late Sheriff A. C. Shivers, died in office in 1962, she was appointed to complete his unexpired term, and then was elected county sheriff, serving until 1965. She was the third woman to be elected a county sheriff in the history of Texas. Upon completion of her term as sheriff, she was appointed a deputy and secretary of the Sheriff's Department, serving in that capacity until she joined First National.

Mrs. Shivers has long been active in local, regional and state civic and professional organizations. At present she is a director of Aransas County United Fund and the Aransas County Cancer Society. She is also co-chairman of Civic Affairs for Rockport Business and Professional Women and past president of the club.

She is a member of the Sheriff's Association of Texas and holds a Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education. She is a charter member of the Coastal Bend Peace Officer's Association, as well as a member of the Rockport Chamber of Commerce. She is a life member of the Texas Parent-Teacher Association, and a member of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Her son, Robert, lives in San Antonio. One daughter, Mrs. Fred M. Butler III, is a resident of Pharr, Texas, and her other daughter, Mrs. Thomas S. Schmitt, lives in Newport Beach, California.

She says her five grandchildren and sewing are her hobbies.

Mehanol From Saudi Arabia to Aid Electric Output

Central Power and Light Company and Houston Natural Gas Corporation have executed a letter of intent which contemplates sale and delivery to CPL by HNG of fuel-grade methanol from Saudi Arabia to supplement energy supplies in CPL's South Texas electric generating stations. CPL President Barney M. Davis and HNG President Robert R. Herring said that initial methanol deliveries by HNG are anticipated in 1976.

Prices, volumes, and other terms of the tentative agreement are expected to be finalized later.

HNG signed a similar letter of intent last May with Piedmont Natural Gas Company of Charlotte, North Carolina.

The methanol would be produced by an HNG joint venture with the General Petroleum and Mineral Organization of Saudi Arabia Petromin and would utilize natural gas presently being flared in existing Saudi Arabian oilfields. Houston Natural Gas would transport the methanol in ordinary tankers to the United States for use by CPL as direct fuel for power plant use.

HNG is a long-time natural gas supplier for CPL, and presently provides about 20 percent of the fuel used by the power company.

Shrimp Project Proves Successful

The shrimp production record for Texas was more than doubled last week during a preliminary harvest from the shrimp demonstration ponds at the Barney M. Davis Power Station in Corpus Christi.

This harvest was designed to determine whether shrimp could be gathered using the experimental harvest system in operation at the project. The first full-scale harvest of shrimp at the project is scheduled for October.

Dr. Fred Conte, project supervisor and mariculture specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University, said, "We took 2,020 pounds of shrimp from the half-acre pond, which computes to 4,040 pounds on a per acre basis. This more than doubled the Texas record of 1,836 pounds per acre set in a cooperative project in Angleton last October.

Conte said, "Based on what we learned at Angleton last year, we doubled the stocking ratio from 50,000 to 100,000 quarter-inch-long shrimp. Our survival was 83% compared to 67% at Angleton, but our shrimp were slightly smaller, measuring 63 tails to the pound as compared to 58 tails to the pound at Angleton.

The shrimp, which had been in a succession of three ponds for 140 days, were drained into catch nets through a 12-inch pipe.

The project is a joint demonstration between the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University, Ralston-Purina Company, and Central Power and Light Company. The project is partially funded by Texas A&M University's Sea Grant college program through the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

The project, adjacent to Laguna Madre, is designed to determine the feasibility of using Laguna Madre waters for commercial shrimp farming operations. While commercial shrimp farming is being tested in Florida and along sections of the upper Texas coast, this study is determining the effect of higher salinity Laguna Madre water on growth and development of shrimp.

Continuing research will possibly use warm water discharged from the new CPL Davis power station which will hopefully allow year-round production and a longer growing season for the shrimp.

Other studies have shown several types of marine life grow faster in warmed water. Different types of feed are studied by Ralston-Purina to determine the best feed for each species of marine life.

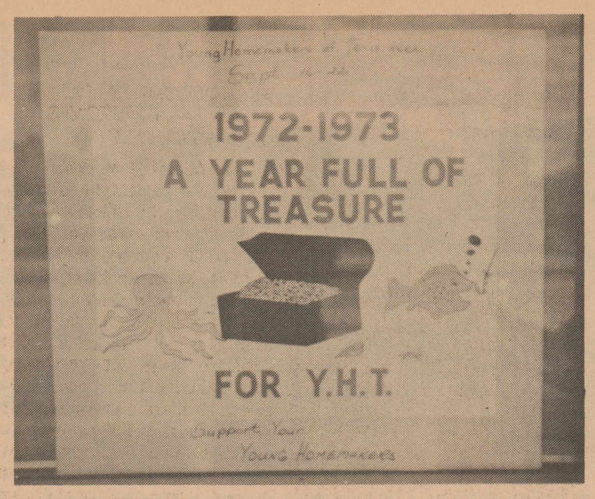

CPL is furnishing the site for the study, which will hopefully find a commercial use for warm discharge water. The Davis power plant will take water from Laguna Madre for cooling and discharge it into a 1,100-acre lake. By the time the water leaves the lake it will be within one degree of ambient waters.

The first 325,000-kilowatt electrical generating unit is planned to be in operation next spring.

Young Homemakers Week Scheduled

By CAROLE CRAWFORD

September 16-22 has been set aside as Young Homemakers of Texas Week. The especially appointed week came on the heels of the Area 10 Young Homemakers of Texas Workshop in Victoria September 15. The workshop was originated to display the work accomplished by each chapter during the past year. The Rockport group submitted an original and imaginative display portraying each member, her family and some interesting memorabilia on each.

The first community project the local chapter has undertaken this year is the collection of Kimberly-Clark Premium Seals to be redeemed by the Kimberly-Clark Company for a contribution to the Muscular Dystrophy Fund. Anyone wishing to donate seals should call 729-5201.

As a way of introducing the local chapter and its purpose to the homemakers of Rockport the group is giving a membership and get acquainted tea Sunday, September 30 at the home of Mrs. Jane Browning. All local homemakers are invited to attend.

Zollie Glass, president, conducted the business meeting, after which Jack Horton introduced Ed Fickett of Potpourri Shop, who gave an interesting talk on handcrafts. Those present were asked to complete Special Interest questionnaires, prepared by Mrs. Ruth Langham, president of Concerned Women of Aransas County, and Mrs. Clyde Townsend, A.A.R.P. Community Affairs chairman. After evaluation of questionnaires, the membership will divide into groups for pursuit of special interests. Covered dish luncheon was enjoyed at noon hour.

The next meeting will be September 26 at V.F.W. Hall, beginning with social hour at 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Mary Haynes, Assistant State Representative, A.A.R.P. will be present from Austin, to bring information on the many benefits offered members. L. D. Nuckles of Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will be speaker.

Fix-It Tip

Quickly now — if you couldn't turn off the hot water faucet in the downstairs bathroom, would you know where to find the proper shutoff valve? If the light went out in the living room, do you know where the fuse box or multi-breaker box is and which is the proper one for the circuit?

The time to determine certain information about your home is before an emergency arises. Simple baggage tags fastened to water and gas shutoff valves will quickly identify them.

Most fuse boxes have labels stuck inside the metal door with blanks provided for each circuit. Fill these in as clearly as you can by checking each one and what it turns off.

SOCIAL SECURITY TO PAY SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME

The Corpus Christi social security office is now taking applications for supplemental security income payments, a Federal program scheduled to start in 1974 that will establish an income floor for people in financial need who are 65 or over, or blind, or disabled, according to Arthur L. Finck, Jr., social security district manager.

But people already getting State old age assistance, or State aid because they are blind or disabled, don't have to apply, he said. They'll be getting more information later this year about how the program will help them.

"The first monthly payments under the Federal program will be made in January 1974," Finck said. "Until then, State public assistance offices will continue to make payments in the usual way."

People not getting public assistance now who think they may be eligible for the new Federal payments should call or write social security to find out if they should apply.

"Federal supplemental security income payments will be made by the Social Security Administration," Finck said. "But the program will be financed by Federal general revenues--not by social security contributions from workers and employers. It's not the same as social security."

The aim of the new program is to provide supplemental payments in cases of need so that people 65 or over, or blind, or disabled will have a basic cash income of at least $130 a month for one person and $195 a month for a couple.

Not every eligible person or couple will get that much from the Federal Government every month. The amount of the Federal payment any person gets will depend on how much other income he has. Also, eligibility for Federal payments will depend not only on the amount of income people have but on the value of their assets, according to Finck.

Single persons - or married but separated persons, can own things worth up to $1,500 and still get Federal payments. A couple can own things worth up to $2,250 and get payments.

Not everything you own has to be counted toward your total assets, however.

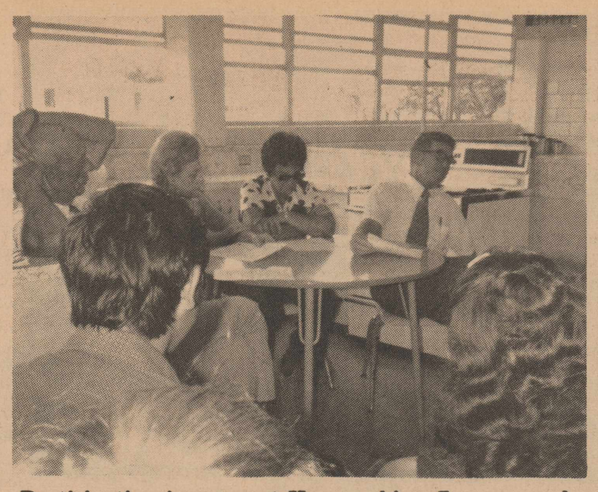

"A home of reasonable value will not be counted as an asset," Finck said. "Personal effects and household goods won't count in most cases. Insurance policies or a car may not affect eligibility either, but it will depend on their value."

Certain income also will be disregarded in deciding on an application for supplemental security income. The first $20 a month of income generally won't affect the Federal payment at all. People who are working part time will have the first $65 a month of earnings disregarded in counting their income and only half of the rest of their additional earnings will be counted.

Apart from earnings, other income above the first $20 a month generally will reduce the Federal payment. This includes social security checks, veterans payments, workmen's compensation, pensions, annuities, and gifts. If you live in someone else's household, your basic Federal payment will be reduced by one-third before other income that may affect your payment is deducted.

People who need more information to decide whether they might be eligible for the Federal payments should see the social security representative at the Courthouse here in Rockport on next Tuesday morning. Or you may write to or call at the office at 5733 South Padre Island Dr., Corpus Christi, Texas 78412.

"Even though payments cannot start until January 1974, we're starting to take applications now so we can process them ahead of time and avoid delays that might occur if there's a rush of applications right at the end of the year," Finck said.

Two Homemaking Courses Added

Two new courses have been added to the Homemaking Curriculum this school year. They are Home and Family Living and Home Management. The specialized courses are offered to boys and girls of Junior or Senior classification.

The home and family living course is to assist students in securing abilities, information, attitudes and understandings which help them in the preparation for the establishment of their own homes. Learning experiences are provided in the homemaking areas of housing, clothing and feed the family, family relationships, health, care of the sick and child guidance.

The Home Management course includes knowledge related to the establishment and operation of a home and responsibilities of family members in maintaining effective living. Learning experiences make possible increasing skills in the management of human and material resources.

A panel of discussion was presented to the 5th period class on the subject of Relationships with Parents. Members of the panel were: Mrs. Betty McMeredith, Mrs. Corky Agler, Sevill Pickett and Richard Marksbary. The panel discussed communication between parents and teenagers, teenagers choice of friends, how to teach a child self-respect and other related topics.

The class and their teacher Mrs. Janice L. Spears wishes to thank the panel members for giving them their time and sharing their knowledge and experience with them.

What Are Alcohol Problems?

(This is another in a series of articles on alcohol, its use and abuse, and alcoholism, prepared by the Coastal Bend Council on Alcoholism, 310 Jones Building, Corpus Christi, Tex.).

As mentioned in a previous article, it has been found through surveys that 68% of American adults use alcohol, at least occasionally. Most of these people drink rather lightly and infrequently, only one or two drinks on each occasion, and just a few times per year. Others drink daily, and some drink the equivalent of a fifth or more whiskey each day every day. At what point between these two extremes does alcohol use begin to cause problems, and what kind of problems result?

This varies with the individual and the circumstances and with the length of time the drinking continues. Alcohol problems are cumulative. An amount of drinking which if indulged in at widely spaced intervals, such as only on New Year's Eve, may not cause difficultly, is much more likely to cause trouble if done more frequently and continues for some time.

A heavy drinker, according the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, may be one of two types: the first is the person who drinks almost every day and occasionally has five or more drinks on the same occasion; the second is the person who drinks only occasionally, but usually has five or more in one episode. Of course there are many variations of the two basic types.

Heavy drinking usually causes a person problems of three different categories, which are physical, psychological, and social. Under the last category we will include vocational and legal or criminal difficulties.

Social problems usually start in the home, between husband and wife, and extend later to the children, then to outside family members and friends, and on to trouble with the law, and usually last of all to the job. The problem drinker frequently starts out with a wife or husband, children, good job, and a good reputation. The longer the excessive alcohol use continues, the more he loses until he winds up alone and friendless, unemployable, and with a criminal record.

Alcohol damages every part of the body, and is especially hard on the brain, liver, lungs, and heart. Of course, we occasionally see people, such as Winston Churchill, who have been drinking heavily for years and have lived relatively long lives, but these are people with unusually strong constitutions. Most people who use alcohol heavily have many illnesses caused directly by the alcohol, as well as others resulting from the weakening of the body by alcohol. They also have many more accidents.

Alcohol is frequently taken as a temporary relief from psychological distress such as tension, anxiety, or boredom. The more often it is used for this purpose, however, the less ability the user has to cope with his own personal problems and the more alcohol it takes to achieve the effect. This leads to a vicious cycle wherein the person drinks to cure the ills caused by drinking. Eventually his personality disintegrates and he feels that he simply cannot live without alcohol.

It is estimated that alcoholism is the third or fourth largest killer of the illnesses in the United States; but many authorities say that if we include deaths due to such indirect effects as associated illnesses, accidents, murders, and suicides, it would be by far the number one killer.

The Kinsey Report

My wife and I are excited. For the first time, we have a granddaughter. We had three grandsons and they are all great little guys, but for years we had hoped that some day our daughter or daughter-in-law would have a baby girl.

Last Saturday our daughter-in-law obliged. Mr. and Mrs. David R. Kinsey of San Ramon, Calif., became the parents of a baby daughter, Lynda Lee.

It's a long way from here to San Ramon, Calif., so my wife and I will not have too many opportunities to "spoil" our granddaughter, as we would like to do.

But we are hoping that things will work out so that both of our children, their spouses and their children will be able to spend Christmas with us.

We can do a pretty good job of "fussing" over the children in a week or so.

Value of Deer Meat Set at $12 Million

AUSTIN - Texas deer hunters took home almost $12 million worth of venison during the past season, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

The figure is based on the amount of boneless meat from 14,400 mule deer and 362,000 white-tailed deer killed during the 1972-73 season and the November, 1972, price of ground beef chuck which averaged $.85 per pound statewide.

The average field-dressed deer weighed 106 pounds and yielded an estimated 53 pounds of boneless meat, while whitetails field dressed at approximately 73 pounds and yielded slightly more than 36 pounds of boneless meat.

The total amount of boneless mule deer meat harvested in Texas was approximately 762,000 pounds and valued at more than $647,000.

Whitetails yielded approximately 13,174,000 pounds of boneless meat valued at more than $11,198,000.

Department officials say that rising beef prices should raise the value of venison considerably during the coming season.

GREEN ORANGES ARE RIPE

COLLEGE STATION - Some oranges turn green when ripe.

"Sound improbably? Well it's true -- Valencia oranges undergo a natural phenomenon called regreening," Mrs. Karen Walker, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, noted.

"As the fruit ripens on the tree, it turns orange and appears ripe long before it is. But when temperatures rise in the spring, chlorophyll (the green color) returns to the skins.

"The longer these oranges remain on a tree, the sweeter and greener they become. So, when green around the stems, Valencia oranges are sweet, juicy and fully ripe," the specialist said.

These green ripe oranges currently appear in supermarkets since they're in season from February to November.

"A calorie-saving nutrition bonus, oranges provide an adult's daily requirement of vitamin C, yet have only 65 calories each.

"Everyone needs vitamin C daily--it holds body cells together," she added.

For a taste treat that's hard to beat, Mrs. Walker suggested combining orange sections with watermelon, cantaloupe and fresh pineapple. Top with a scoop of sherbet for a finishing touch.

Texas Prison Rodeo Set for October

HUNTSVILLE -- There's no current law on the Texas Penal Code books forbidding "stealing the show at the Texas Prison Rodeo." If such a law did exist, though, the Goree Cowgirls would be in trouble.

Why? Well, these prison pretties purloined the hearts of rodeo fans last year in their debut season as active participants in a one-of-a-kind rodeo. And the girls are just as likely to repeat that feat this year, too.

The Goree Cowgirls -- 10 two-women teams -- made their initial appearance last October competing in the calf tussle, greased pig sacking contest, and a donkey barrel race.

No, they didn't wear the striped uniforms associated with prisons -- they wore colorful gym-type jump suits. Chartreuse, lavender, pink -- yes, the Texas Prison Rodeo, billed as the wildest and toughest of its kind, took on a new dimension last year.

Iris West of Fort Worth became the first all-around champion of the Goree Cowgirls last October in putting together top performances in all three events, and it's quite likely that she'll return to defend her title next month, although she is up for parole consideration this month.

All ten teams compete against each other in the calf tussle and in the greased pig sacking contest at each Sunday performance in October. Five Goree Cowgirls challenge each other in the donkey barrel race during the four-Sunday rodeo schedule this year.

How do the cowboys and redshirts feel about the invasion of the fairer sex into the once exclusive male domain of the prison rodeo arena? Women's Lib and all aside, they couldn't be happier. "Who wants to look at a bunch o' old male convicts all day long?" one veteran cowboy was heard to remark when questioned about the presence of women in the rodeo. "Besides, they're a lot easier on the eye, too."

Arena action gets underway at 2 p.m. with the traditional grand entry parade -- with the Goree Cowgirls set for their first event just a short time later.

Ticket information concerning each Sunday performance is available by writing to the Rodeo Ticket Office, Box 99, Huntsville, Texas 77340.

FRIDAY IS THE DAY OF THE CAT
SEE ALL THE NEW 74's AT YOUR MERCURY DEALER

Marquis Brougham
Today a great ride is just not enough. So we designed the '74 Marquis to be more economical to maintain. Gave it steel-belted radials, standard. And Marquis does not require premium gas.

Montego MX Brougham
This personal-size Mercury is designed to ride like a big car. On an extra-wide stance and the same type suspension system as Lincoln-Mercury's most expensive luxury car. But with the economy of a mid-size car.

Comet with Custom Option
Who says gas economy comes only in plain little cars? Even though Comet's stingy on gas, it's generous on luxury. Because this Comet's got a little Cougar in it. Now you don't have to give up luxury to get gas economy.

Not shown: Mercury Monterey, the medium-priced car with the famous Mercury ride.
See the whole new family of wagons, too. The kind only Mercury could build.
It all happens "The Day of the Cat."
