Hard Surfacing of State Highway 16 South of Crowell to Start This Week

ROAD SURFACE TO EXTEND 4 MILES SOUTH

$25,000 to Be Spent; Will Take 3 Months To Complete

Construction on four miles of hard surfacing on State Highway 16, south of Crowell to the Wichita River, will start Friday Saturday of this week, according to Tom Seale, resident engineer, who will supervise the work. This work will be done with the $25,000 appropriated for hard surfacing Highway 16 north of Crowell, but the work has been referred to the road south of Crowell. This appropriation was made possible through the efforts of the Commissioners' Court, who met before the State Highway Commission in Austin February 10.

The job will last approximately three months as the money is to be spent at the rate of $8,000 per month and will supply labor and materials enough to complete about four miles of the hard surfacing.

This work has no connection with the WPA but is a special maintenance job and Foard County labor will be used.

Construction of the road will start at a point one and a half miles south and will be completed at Crowell. When this strip is paved, work will be continued on the original starting point of the remaining two and a half miles.

Travel for the first mile and a half of the road will be taken from the Grover Nichols farm, south of Crowell on Pease River, when work is resumed on the road to be constructed the other side of the Wichita River. Trucks will haul the gravel and dump beds will be used to haul the gravel.

Gravel and clay will be put in place making a hard, servicable road. Practically all of the concrete paving on 23 of the 25 bridges between Crowell and the Wichita River has been completed. Concrete pouring on two small bridges on Beaver Creek and the bridge on Main Street has not been completed, but will be in the near future. Razing of the bridge near Crowell was started Wednesday.

GIRL INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY CAR TUES.

Highway Intersection Scene of Accident; Sustains Cuts

Miss Pearl Brown received painful lacerations and bruises when she was struck by an automobile Monday night at 10 o'clock in crossing the highway intersection between the corner rock building and the Ringgold building. Miss Brown is of Eldorado, Okla., and is an employee of the Liberty Cafe at present.

A long, deep gash on the head was the most severe cut she sustained. Miss Brown was crossing to the north side of the street when the car, coming on to Main Street from the west, struck her. She was unaware of the car until the driver sounded the horn and when she heard it, she stopped directly in the path of the car. Eye witnesses stated that if the horn of the car had not been sounded the girl would have walked on out of the path of the car.

The fender of the car struck her and carried her a few feet before she fell to the pavement. Clinging to the bumper of the car to save herself from being run over by a wheel, she was dragged about ten yards, tearing her clothes to shreds, before the driver could stop the car.

She was rushed to the hospital by D. A. Rosenberg and R. L. Jones of Lockney, occupants of the car. They were going to Decatur to be at the bedside of Mr. Rosenberg's mother, who is not expected to live. The speed of the car had been checked and was not traveling very fast at the time of the accident.

City Health Officer Files Sanitary Report

Dr. Hines Clark, City health officer, has recently made the following report to the Mayor and City Council regarding existing sanitary conditions in Crowell.

"To the Mayor and City Council: The following observations were made in looking over the town this week: 'I found that tin cans and other rubbish have been dumped indiscriminately over vacant lots and along the roads that come into the city.

"There seems to be very much carelessness in disposing of waste papers in all parts of town. These have blown into the bushes on vacant lots and constitute an unsightly nuisance.

"There are quite a number of open pit toilets over town in violation of the city health regulations. One near the school building is particularly offensive in that it is made of gunny sacking stretched around some upright poles. This is particularly objectionable on account of the nearness to the school buildings.

"The alleys back of the stores and restaurants in the business section will bear a thorough cleaning and the exercise of more care in keeping them clean."

CONGRESSMAN W. D. McFarlane

Coal Legislation

The Vinson-Guffey Coal bill, H. R. 4985, was passed by the Senate on April 5th by a vote of 58 to 15. The measure had previously passed the House. It calls for Federal regulation of the soft coal industry. In conference, a provision in the bill to set aside a 1/2 per cent tax to cover administrative costs of regulation in the industry was changed to provide for a tax of 1 cent per ton ad valorem on coal produced. The Senate on adopted the conference report on April 9th, and the report is expected to be adopted by the House within the next day or two.

Insect Pests

S. J. Res. 75 by Senator Gilette of Iowa, which passed the Senate on February 24th and the House on March 15th, was signed by the President on April 6th. This bill makes available funds for the control of outbreaks of insect pests or plant diseases. It authorizes an appropriation of $2,000,000 to be immediately available in order to employ such methods for control of outbreaks of insect pests or plant diseases, including grasshoppers, crickets and chinch bugs, as the Secretary of Agriculture, in co-operation with state authorities may consider necessary.

These appropriations are to be administered by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine of the Department of Agriculture for surveys, purchase, transportation and application of poison bait, etc., for the control of the pests and plant diseases. No part of the appropriation can be used to pay the cost or value of farm animals, farm crops or other property injured or destroyed.

Farm Tenancy

On last Thursday, the Agricultural Committee of the House, approved H. R. 6240 by Representative J. Nes of Texas, a substitute for H. R. 8, which was rejected by the Committee about a week ago. This measure provides a $195,000,000 program for loans to farm tenants and farmers and for Government retirement of submarginal land.

The bill agreed to by the Agricultural committee, provides an appropriation of $50,000,000 annually for five years, for loans to tenants for the purchase of their own farms on easy 40 year terms. The selection of land and approval of the tenant under the provisions of the new bill placed in a county committee created by the measure. The sum of $75,000,000 annually is to be allotted for the next two years for rehabilitation loans to farmers, and $70,000,000 over a four year period is provided for Government purchase and retirement of land of a low productive value. This legislation is scheduled to come before the House next Thursday for action.

Sumners Court Bill Passes House

H. R. 2260 by Representative Sumners of Texas passed the House last Wednesday by a vote of 122 to 14. This measure provides that the Attorney General may intervene in litigation in the lower Federal Courts where the constitutionality of legislation is involved and if necessary to obtain direct review by the Supreme Court of any lower court decision against the validity of a Federal Statute, regardless of whether the United States is a party to the original action or not.

Sit-Down Strike and Un-American Activity Legislation Tabled

H. R. 162, by Representative Dies of Texas, to investigate sit-down strikes by the House, was tabled last Thursday by a strong vote after the house had voted 236 to 149 against the previous question, which would have shut off debate and prohibited an amendment. Under this resolution the Speaker of the House would be authorized to appoint a special committee of seven members to conduct an investigation of sit-down strikes and to gather facts regarding the causes producing sit-down strikes, the actual parties taking part in them, upon whose advice and instigation such strikes were called, the true conditions brought about by such strikes and all facts surrounding them.

The House also voted on the same day by a vote of 184 to 38 to table House Resolution No. 88 by Representative Dickstein of New York to investigate certain un-American propaganda of religious, racial, or subversive political prejudices which tends to incite to the use of force and libelous attacks upon officers of the Federal Government, whether such propaganda appears to be of foreign or domestic origin.

After one hour debate on each resolution, it was evident the overwhelming sentiment of the House was opposed to the gag rules under which these resolutions were presented, limiting debate and prohibiting amendment and the House felt these expensive investigations at this time were unnecessary in the light of previous investigations made and information available.

This Week in Congress—
The House of Representatives will devote most of this week to considering the Gavagan Antilynching Bill, H. R. 1507 and the Farm Tenant bill, H. R. 6240.

WHAT WE THINK

(By Frank Dixon)

There is a man in my town who does not like apples. He never eats them. It just seems too bad that it wasn't his lot to be in the Garden of Eden that morning when the serpent pulled a fast one on Eve.

As we understand it a rugged individualist is a person who buys shoes to fit his feet rather than the size they think they would like to wear.

My neighbor who is past 70 tells me that his son-in-law who lives with his wife's folks hasn't had much to say about the inefficiency of men past the age of 70.

Advice to the young man, work faithfully at your job eight hours a day and some day you may own the business and get to work twelve hours a day.

Some things I see in the papers these days cause me to shudder. One of them is the statement often found at the close of a write up of a rural neighborhood party:

"At a late hour pie and coffee were served."

I've eaten a lot of good food in my life but I have never run across anything that smelled better than a fresh baking of homemade bread just as it comes from the kitchen oven. I can still remember how indescribably delicious fresh baked bread used to smell when I was a boy and I came home from a long tramp and found a big pan of fresh bread on the kitchen table under a clean white towel.

I'd give a lot for an appetite like that now and food that would taste as good as that bread tasted.

One time a newspaper editor who ran the paper in my home town told me that the most difficult feeling to describe was the one he experienced when after boosting a candidate for election and telling his readers what a competent and honest man he was to have him walk out on him after election and forget to pay his bill. He said it almost made him feel that the voters sure knew what they were doing when they voted against him.

There is a merchant in my town who takes great pride in keeping his windows clean. He washes them every few days. I was talking to him about it the other day. He said "A window is like a man. If it is spotlessly clean, no one notices it, but let one spot get on it and every one notices it. As long as a man's character is above reproach no one notices it, but let one blemish appear and the whole town sees it."

Back in the good old days a man was considered educated if he could spell and do the sums in Ray's arithmetic, and parse, but nowadays he doesn't need to know much about these things if he can talk fluently on the relation of art to languages, or poetry to industry.

My state is the only state in the Union that makes any pretense of being bone dry. There are a lot of folks in Kansas who firmly believe that the other forty-seven states are wrong.

West Texas Chamber Commerce Meeting

May 10, 11 and 12

Brownwood, April 14.—President Roosevelt has been invited to attend the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Brownwood May 10, 11 and 12.

The President will leave Washington about April 28 for a two weeks fishing trip on the Texas Gulf coast between Corpus Christi and Brownsville. His vacation trip plans also include a visit to the home of his son, Elliott Roosevelt, in Fort Worth.

Governor James V. Allred, member of the Texas Railroad Commission, already has accepted invitations to speak at the convention.

General plans for the convention are being pushed to completion under the direction of Gus Rosenberg, Brownwood business man, who is chairman of the convention executive committee, Chester Harrison, secretary of Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, and Jed Rix, convention manager, and various local committee chairmen.

Convention visitors will be entertained Monday and Tuesday nights, May 10 and 11, with two outstanding shows, "West Texas Follies of 1937." Each town and city affiliated with the WTCC has been asked to name a sponsor to take part in the show.

More interest is being shown in the Home Town Speaking Contest this year than ever before, according to Rix. Twenty-five entries already have been received and at least 75 are expected.

Quality of Texas Cotton

By W. B. Lanham, United States Department of Agriculture. (Written especially for The Texas Cotton Farmer.)

There has been a great deal of talk in recent years about the decline in the quality of Texas cotton, and the relatively big production of untenderable cotton produced in that state.

One-half of all the cultivated land in Texas is devoted to cotton, and the growing, handling, and marketing of cotton are the main source of income for a large portion of the Texas population.

There are many different factors which enter into cotton quality, and required is developing new criteria for measuring the quality of cotton.

The staple length of Texas cotton has averaged somewhat shorter than that of the crop for the entire country each year beginning with 1928.

During those nine years there has been a marked improvement in staple length of cotton produced in the remainder of the Cotton Belt. A comparison of Texas with the rest of the Cotton Belt makes it appear that the staple length of Texas cotton has gone down hill.

It is interesting to break down the figures on average staple length into certain staple-length groups. The proportion of Texas cotton which is shorter than 7/8 in. has varied widely from year to year.

There are approximately 18,000,000 tons of usable cellulose in the unused stalks of the average American cotton crop, according to estimates of the All-South Development Council.

has always shown a larger percentage of untenderable cotton than the United States as a whole, with one exception, in 1930, when fourteen per cent of the Texas cotton was untenderable compared with fifteen per cent for the United States.

The proportion of the total American cotton crop that is produced in Texas has varied from year to year; also, the untenderable cotton produced in Texas in relation to the untenderable cotton grown in the Belt as a whole has also varied from year to year.

Many factors, of course, affect the volume and quality of Texas cotton. During periods of high cotton prices many farmers pay less attention to quality than to quantity of production.

In part of Texas, cotton is being grown under climatic conditions unfavorable to the production of high-quality cotton.

TID-BITS OF TEXAS TOPICS

A paradox of the dinner table, reported by the All-South Development Council, Texas vegetable-oil margarines have a natural yellow color that looks more like butter than does real butter.

Investment of capital in new chemical industry plants in the South, reports the All-South Development Council, has totaled $85,000,000 in the last three years.

Texas, nation's largest producer and marketer of natural gas, in 1935 exported to 14 other states 139 billion cubic feet.

There are approximately 18,000,000 tons of usable cellulose in the unused stalks of the average American cotton crop, according to estimates of the All-South Development Council.

ing the past two weeks. Crowell won the first game 25 to 0.

Margaret, led by Hubert Smith, Paul McKown and Malcolm Reinhardt, nearly slipped up on the Wildcats in the last half of the game but could not produce a scoring punch. They had the ball within scoring distance several times but could not crack the Wildcat line.

Crowell's first touchdown came in the middle of the first quarter as a result of a pass from Fitzgerald to Canup, who galloped the remaining 10 yards for the counter. J. S. Owens plunged over the goal line from the two-yard line to finish the Crowell scoring in the early part of the second quarter.

Hubert Smith entered the game at the half and the ball carrying of Paul McKown and the blocking of Smith placed the ball in scoring position several times but their lone touchdown was made by a 39 yard pass from Gordon Taylor to Garrett Middlebrook in the third quarter.

Aside from the scoring sprees shown by both teams, they played on even terms as the Wildcats put the ball on the three-yard line three different times and the Margaret boys carried the pigskin within 10 yards of the goal line on two different drives.

Margaret was strengthened by the services of McKown, Wildcat star in 1935. John Lee Orr, regular back, did not play with the high school team Monday.

Stilts Long in Use

A means of utility, as well as amusement, stilts have been used by all people in all ages. Their chief usefulness to man is in marshy or swampy regions, notably in France and Belgium. In some regions of the former country, shepherds, farmers and marketmen spend the greater part of their lives on stilts. A French baker walked on stilts from Paris to Moscow in 60 days in 1891.

Air Net to Catch Bombers

In the next war London may be defended from enemy bombers by great cable nets supported by balloons like that shown here. It is a revival of a plan of 1917 and provides a menace to low-flying planes, forcing them to fly higher, where searchlights, range finders and aircraft guns may be used against them more effectively.

vision by noing Riverside out in the final game. In the first round Riverside swamped the Crowell seniors to go into the finals with Thalia, who had drawn a bye in that place.

The Crowell senior girls copped the championship by defeating Thalia. Riverside and Foard City played for the third position and Riverside came through to claim that place.

Riverside took the junior boys' division by tumbling Thalia into a tie with Margaret for second place in a game played Tuesday afternoon to leave Crowell and Foard City tied for third.

The points made by the teams for their school follows: Riverside, 30; Thalia, 30; Crowell, 17½; Margaret, 5; Foard City, 2½.

Oldest Woman's Club in U. S.

The Ladies' Education Society of Jacksonville, Ill., is the oldest woman's club in the United States, says the Chicago Tribune. The Jacksonville society was organized in 1833. The second oldest society was the Maternal association, organized in 1838, consisting of all the white women of the Northwest. The club came to a tragic end with the killing by the Indians of its secretary, Mrs. Narcissie Whiteman. The third club was the Alpha Delphian of Alfred, N. Y., started in 1846. The fourth is the Ladies Physiological Society of Boston, organized in 1848. So strong was the opposition to any woman's club in Boston that no woman was brave enough to preside and for the first two years Professor Bronson of Harvard occupied the chair at its meetings.

THE WAKE

The custom of keeping watch over a corpse or holding a funeral wake is observed as a feast held on the occasion of a death. The neighbors of deceased assemble, and spend the night in the room with the corpse, chatting and telling stories. The conversation on such occasions naturally turns to a large extent of the virtues of the departed. Among the lower classes, wakes are still very prevalent; beggars have their own wakes. A wake is quite an expensive ceremony to a poor, struggling workman or tradesman; but he feels he would lose caste without holding it. — Spectator (November 30, 1889).

Selfishness Destroys Happiness

When we avoid our neighbor who is suffering, when we wrap ourselves in the cold blanket of selfishness, we forget the possibilities of real happiness, for true happiness comes only through sympathy and by comparison. The sufferings of others softens our hearts and makes us sensible to our own blessings.

COURT JESTERS EMPLOYED BACK IN THE MIDDLE AGES

Jesters, court-fools or professed sayers of witty things and makers of amusement, were maintained by princes or nobles in courts of the middle ages and later. The dress of the jester was usually showy, or even gaudy, and toward the end of the time when jesters were employed it was always typically many-colored or motley; but as jesters in some early courts were men of considerable intellectual ability, and in some cases of good family, their dress was not always conspicuously distinguished from that of those with whom they mingled.

The bauble, sometimes very small and of rich materials, was the only certain badge of the jester's employment.

The fools of Shakespeare's plays indicate a certain lowering of the rank of the jester in the Sixteenth and Seventeenth centuries. As far as is known, the last one employed in England was Archie Armstrong (died in 1672), the court of James I. and afterward of Charles I.

Rogers' "Doctor Bull" Returns by Demand

Acclaimed everywhere as his wisest, wittiest, most typical role, Will Rogers' "Doctor Bull," a Twentieth Century-Fox picture, returns tonight to the Rialto Theatre, as a result of popular demand.

As the genial, casual "Doctor Bull," Will finds more freedom "to be himself" than in any of his other pictures. For those who missed it the first time, as well as for those who asked to see it again, "Doctor Bull" is a generous helping of the inimitable, the real Will Rogers.

Directed by John Ford, Rochelle Hudson, Merian Nixon, Ralph Morgan and Andy Devine are featured in the cast.

Although Texas and Louisiana mines produce nearly 99 per cent of American mined sulphur, on the world market competition from government-subsidized foreign producers and from by-product sulphur in 1935 reduced America's share of world sulphur production to less than 26 per cent, reports the All-South Development Council.

Methodist News Notes
 Every one will be delighted, I am sure, to know that the young people of our church are sponsoring our spring revival. It should be a delight to the parents of our city that we have a group of young people who are interested in such a worthy work.

Rev. Clarence Bounds of Post has been selected to assist in this revival which will begin April 25 and run one week only. Rev. Bounds is a very successful young people's evangelist, and this combination should be a grand success.

The young people's committee on advertising met this week and outlined methods, and the committee to select a singer will meet before Sunday. It is expected that this committee will secure the assistance of a McMurray College student to assist in the singing.

Rev. Bounds will be here on Saturday night, April 24, before the meeting begins to confer with the Leaguers. Bishop Hiram A. Zoaz is scheduled to preach in Vernon next Sunday night. An invitation has been extended to the local church to call off services and attend services in Vernon. This will be decided Sunday morning.

By agreement, next Sunday has been set aside as "Benevolence Day" and eighteen committees will see every member of the church on that day to secure pledges on this year's church benevolences. Let every one respond to this worthy cause with delight. There is no more worthy work or cause anywhere. Let us make a great success of this work.

First Christian Church
 Preaching services will be conducted at the First Christian Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and at the Vesper Hour at 5 o'clock by the minister, Rev. John W. Tyndall Jr. The subject for the morning hour will be: "Christians In A Changing World." At the Vesper Hour the subject will be: "Flat Tires." The public is cordially invited to worship with us.

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, April 18.

The Golden Text is: "John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world" (John 1:29.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Afterwards he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen. And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature" (Mark 16:14, 15.)

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus' last proof was the highest, the most convincing, the most profitable to his students. . . The final demonstration of the truth, and for which he was crucified, opened a new era for the world. Those who slew him to stay his influence perpetuated and extended it" (page 43.)

Two Minute Sermon

A New Commandment I Give Unto You: Under the old Jewish dispensation a member of the Jewish church, if he faithfully and religiously observed the forms and order and the letter of the Jewish law, was above reproach and without condemnation. He could go to his priest with his sacrifice, with a heart full of hatred and bitterness toward his fellow man, and could discharge his obligation at the altar in the temple and come away with the same hatred and the same bitterness in his heart, yet in the eyes of the law of his church he had received absolution from his sins. But when Christ came he brought a new concept to religion, a thing that can only be defined by one word "Love," a word that in itself can never be fully defined. This one thing changed the whole scheme of man's relationship to his fellow man and to his God. Hatred for others and love for Christ can not occupy the human heart at the same time. No man can hate his brother and love his Christ and no man can love his Christ and hate his brother. Many are trying it even today. They deceive but themselves. It cannot be done. For back of this philosophy of living and under it and through it runs a principle that is older than the race, a principle that is eternal, a principle that was old even when the Christ said: "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another, as I have loved you, that ye also love one another."

Expectant Mothers Should Have Careful Family Physic

Austin.—In Texas during 700 mothers lost their lives through childbirth and conditions. Fatality statistics babies under one year of age, 4,000 more stillborn. On an al basis the figures reach a tragic total of nearly 10,000. These facts become more distressing when it is realized that at least two-thirds of this hood penalty could have been avoided, states Dr. Geo. H. State Health Officer.

"Never before in the history of obstetrics have scientific advances against complications so advanced and so rapid they are today. However, of the improvement in the techniques involved and the development of antiseptics, the maternal mortality pathetically indicate that knowledge alone cannot solve the problem.

"Generally speaking, a woman will be largely safe for the preventable deaths. It is to be emphasized the proper time for mothers to seek medical aid is when the expectancy is realized.

"Indeed, prenatal care great defense against many conditions that cause trouble. Consequently, as mothers should place under the supervision of a doctor at the beginning of pregnancy. If this fundamental advice would be adopted more of the present maternal mortality could be markedly diminished.

"As one authority says: 'To cut the appalling death rate, thoughtful and energetic initiative must be in the home.' In other words, the prospective mothers must be educated.

IS IT TRUE? How Can It Be?

We have a good photograph of every member of the family except Mother.

The reason is this—

"Mother love." Mother cares for you more than you care for mother; she thinks of you more than you think of her. Mother wants you to have a picture made while you are enjoying good health. Have you ever given thought that the health Mother now enjoys may be gone in the future? Perhaps you have never thought that you should have a picture made.

If not, Why?

A certain business man asked me for a number of photographs, of the mothers in the town, to display in his show window.

I have made pictures in Crowell for about 15 years. I have most of the negatives on file in my studio, but in looking through my books I find very few orders where the mother alone had her picture made.

Let's insist on Mother having a nice portrait herself. Some day it will be a treasure to you.

Parents are invited to visit their children's class rooms during the morning hours. The teachers will deeply appreciate the visit and any interest shown in the work they are doing.

The program promises to be unusually interesting and entertaining. Mrs. John Bay will have a panel discussion on the "Influence of Music on Children." The 4-H Club girls are to have a feature number which will be under the direction of Miss Myrna Holman, home demonstration agent. Mrs. L. A. Committees in charge urge that all mothers plan to spend the day next Tuesday with the school where a hearty welcome will await them.

4-H Club Girl Saves Garden from Freeze

The addition of gunny sacks to the canvas cover brought her garden through a 20 degree freeze which killed many other gardens in the county, announced Juanita Traweck, garden demonstrator for the Foard City 4-H Club.

LIBRARY NEWS

The new books in the library this week are "The Phantom Crown" and "Splendor of Eagles."

"The Phantom Crown" is a story of love, youthful ambition, political intrigue, majestic insanity and violent death. It tells brilliantly the history of Maximilian and Carlota and of the fantastic, all-starred empire which Napoleon III founded in Mexico.

Not long before the American Civil War, Maximilian and Carlota left their native land to come to Mexico to govern the depressed Mexicans. Thus began an adventure which brought Maximilian to death before a firing squad and Carlota to madness.

Berita Harding tells the story.

Life a la 1937—Baby Born in Trailer

That the auto-trailer has really become home sweet home in America is indicated by the above photograph which shows one of the first babies to be born in a trailer. Anna Abbey, the new-comer, who was born in a Sarasota, Fla., trailer camp, is pictured here in her rolling home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Abbey, of Buffalo, and her brother, Lyle.

F. F. A. Boys Plan Picnic at Meeting

At the regular monthly meeting of the Future Farmers of America held Tuesday night, April 13, a committee of three boys was elected to approve the work of the Vocational Agriculture boys in securing certificates of merit. The three boys, John Bowley, Glenn Shook, and James Welch, will encourage the boys to secure certificates of merit and, if needed, will aid them in doing the work.

The boys also decided to have a picnic to entertain their girl friends. Each V. A. boy is to invite the girl that he wishes to come to the picnic. It is undecided just when the picnic will take place.

Ben Barker, Richard Davidson, James Welch and Jim Whitfield were elected to arrange the entertainment for the next meeting.

Eponymous Hero

An eponymous hero refers to the fact that a people or place has been named for him, as Romulus for whom Rome was named. Tros for whom Troy was named. Usually the characters are legendary.

so brilliantly that you will never forget it.

"Splendor of Eagles" by Helen Topping Miller is the story of a girl who didn't belong with her mother and she couldn't remember her father. She was sent to her father who operated a paper mill in the South. Here she found the place where she belonged and she also learned the true meaning of love.

Attends Sweetwater Motor Truck Meeting

Howard Bursley of the Bursley Implement Co. has just returned from Sweetwater where he was guest at a big dealer meeting of the International Harvester motor truck organization. The occasion was the announcement of an entirely new line of International motor trucks.

Mr. Bursley is enthusiastic about the various improvements incorporated in the new International's. The complete, new line consists of twenty-six models in seventy-seven wheelbases, with gross vehicle weights ranging from 4,400 to 62,000 pounds.

Mr. Bursley also stated that much was said at the meeting about International Harvester's expansion of research, engineering laboratory, manufacturing and proving ground facilities. The two big truck works in Fort Wayne, Indiana, and Springfield, Ohio, have been enlarged by addition of new buildings and new, modern equipment.

DIVINING RODS UNRELIABLE

Scientists can find no scientific basis for the belief that divining rods (whether of witch hazel, willow, ash, peach, elm or even wire or metal) are able to locate water. The Bureau of Mines has stated in a report that the divining rod is either a fraud, whether deliberate or unintentional or is based on some physiological principles of which at present we know little or nothing. If these water diviners in some cases are successful in locating water in a higher percentage of the tests than can be accounted for by mere chance, it is probably not because of some mysterious power in the rod but because the person holding it is a quick observer and has had considerable experience in finding water.
