

A mother and her young son were having a conversation and it went something like this:

"What did Dad say when he had the flat tire Junior? And you can leave out the cussing."

"If I leave out the cussing, He didn't say a word," the boy replied.

Last Thursday we ran into Togo Moorhouse and he asked that we run an ad in this week's paper asking for two inches of rain.

We told him we had all the confidence in the world in our advertising paying off, not only because we really believe in it but mostly because it's our living, but said it might not work this time.

We have been contacting our church friends seeking help in raising the trace of moisture we received this year to at least a car-spotting rain.

Speaking of church reminds me of one of our "discussions" held recently in Sunday School.

We put "discussion" in quotes because that's what we try to have and so far no one has received a black eye while discussing some controversial issue.

Anyway we were discussing the part of love thy neighbor and two characters we will refer to simply as Joe and Bill were discussing it more fully.

"That's fine to love thy neighbor," Bill explained, "but although I try there have been some neighbors who wouldn't let me."

"That meant the neighbor — not the neighbor's wife," Joe replied.

BUSY DAY — Last Thursday we awoke at 4 a.m. and got up and helped open each of the cafes here in Knox City then went over to Benjamin where we had coffee with Togo and his son before daylight. It was one of those days when we just couldn't sleep.

No, the reason wasn't because of what we put in the paper, but for what we didn't.

Anyway, after riding all over the county, we ran into Charlie Clarke and talked him into going to Abilene for another ride, and after we returned home at 5, we received a call that our mother was in the hospital with, of all things, the measles!

We saddled our old Ford and left KC 30 minutes later to go to San Angelo.

Since then my conscience hasn't bothered me one bit for I haven't been able to stay awake.

Knox City received at least state-side recognition last week when papers all over the country were either plastered with pictures or stories about the oldest soldier in the Army, Sgt. Emmett Stephens. A large number of folks here remember Emmett but believed that he had passed on to his reward.

We didn't know it until Paul Hoge informed us, but Emmett is the father of Benny Stephens, a youngster we've known here for some time. Benny was discharged from the Navy in 1961 and is presently attending college in Arlington and working the rest of the time for Texas Instrument.

Capt. Tom R. Edwards of Ft. Sheridan, Ill., sent us a clipping from the "Army Times" with the story we had last week in the Herald. Thanks, Tom.

Murrell Green, assistant coach at Texas Technological College in Lubbock was a visitor to KC Wednesday. Coach Green was here on business, however, and signed Eddie Williams up for a four year contract with the Red Raiders.

It is possible this is the first scholarship of this nature ever awarded a Knox City boy. We sent a picture of the occasion to Abilene and will have it in next week's Herald.

State Representative Roy Arledge Says Migrant Farm Labor Depleting

State Representative Roy Arledge said last week that migrant farm labor would be virtually eliminated by a bill which is now pending in the Motor Traffic Committee of the Texas House of Representatives.

"H.B. 401," Arledge said, "is almost the same piece of legislation which I campaigned against during the past election. Because of the totally unreasonable restrictions in this bill on the transportation of migrant workers, it would be almost impossible for the farmers in our district to secure the needed labor to produce and gather our crops."

"This proposal, H.B. 401, is even more restrictive and unreasonable than was H.B. 113 of the last Legislature, which I explained during the last campaign," Arledge stated. "As a member of the Committee considering this measure, I shall do everything possible to stop this bill so that it will not become law," he continued.

Arledge received outstanding Committee assignments for his first term: He is a member of the all-important oil and gas committee, the livestock and stock raising, motor traffic, public lands and buildings, state hospitals and special schools committees.

Merrick McGaughey, County School Superintendent, announced Tuesday that the School Trustee election for all school districts will be Saturday, April 6.

The law requires that all candidates file their names to be placed on the ballot 30 days prior to election. Deadline for filing will be March 5, he said.

Common School District, County School Board members and Independent School districts with fewer than 500 scholars must file with the County Judge and all larger school districts must file with the Secretary of the Board of the local superintendent.

Postmaster Graham Describes Third Class Mail Enclosure

"Golf, grandchildren, the weather, and third-class mail have much in common," says Postmaster Jeff Graham. "All are perennial subjects for both polite and impolite conversation."

According to Postmaster Graham, third-class mail is not the constant villain that it's frequently claimed to be. On the contrary, it is a legitimate and important part of America's system of free enterprise.

Those who do not wish to receive advertising circulars, or "junk" mail, should write directly to the mailer and request that their names be removed from their mailing list. "Though such requests are not always heeded, compliance is usually immediate," the postmaster said.

If unwanted circular matter continues to be received, patrons may write "Refused" on items placed in their box and promptly re-deposit them in the mails. Matter that has been refused by the addressee is returned to the sender if it bears the sender's endorsement, "Return Requested." The sender is charged a minimum of 8 cents per piece for the services performed.

Third-class mail which is refused and which does not bear a return request is destroyed at the office of address.

Postmaster Graham emphasizes that all classes of mail carrying the proper rate of postage and properly prepared for mailing must be handled by the post office in accordance with postal regulations. However, patrons who don't want unsolicited mail matter of any kind can usually find relief through refusal to accept delivery or through written request that their names be removed from the mailing lists involved.

Uncle Ben from Benjamin says:

The older I git the more I'm certain that politics comes ahead of religion in the soul of a heap of perfessional politicians. Fer instant, right now some of the old line Republicans is licking their chops over farm prices falling a little bit here and there. I know a heap of Republicans that would be glad to go broke and chase rabbits for a living if this condition was brung on by a stomp-down depression during the Kennedy administration.

On the other side of the fence, the happiest Democrat politicians I have ever seen was during the depression in the Hoover administration. They was even trying to poison the rabbits to make things worse.

I know we got to have politics afore we can have free government, and I know we got some mighty good folks in politics, but we need more of that kind to put their shoulder to the wheel. Gitting good men to take a interest in politics is like the feller that sets back and enjoys a good roaring fire in the fireplace. He likes the fire but he ain't willing to help cut the logs.

Outside of politics, the news was a little dull last week. But I did note where them boys in the Pentagon building has done it agin. A pay clerk in the Pentagon is now known as a "compensation specialist." It looks to me like everybody, as soon as they git to Washington, swallows the dictionary. I recollect back in 1944, when the OPA reduced the price on cabbage seed, they announced it in a bulletin that took 2,527 words. One of them Washington column writers counted 'em at the time. The Declaration of Independence ain't got but 1,321 words and I'm expecting any day now fer them broom closet boys in the Pentagon to git hold of it and enlarge it to New Testament size.

Another item in the papers that caught my eye last week was where the Fair Trade Commission ordered a girdle manufacturer to stop advertising that his girdles "slims you two inches." Their order allowed as how a "girdle can only change the configuration of the body by moving soft tissues up or down." The government feller that wrote that line must be a first cousin to the feller that changed the name of broom closets in the Pentagon. What he was trying to say was that all a girdle can do is squeeze the fat from hither to yonder.

And I was reading where the State Department says we have met with them Communists at one level or another 863 times since 1946, that 1,700 hours has been took up in talk at them meetings, and about 18 million words used. If you ask me, we're back where we started about 863 meetings ago.

But the item that made me throw my papers away and pick up the Bible was a Bank ad I noted in the Sunday paper. It said: "Start Now To Save Your Next Year's Taxes."

Jesus said, "This is my Father's World." According to the teaching of the scriptures, no one can have peace, joy, and blessed assurance unless you are fully trusting in Jesus Christ as your personal Saviour and let Him be the Lord of your life.

You cannot go on without standing upon His Word, for it is the only sure foundation. He welcome you who labor and are heavy laden to come unto Him for you shall find rest for your souls. Ye who weep shall be comforted, the weak shall be made strong. They who wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength. The afflicted shall be made whole. The hungry shall be filled.

The Phamest said, "My flesh and my heart faileth; but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion forever." God made you for His own pleasure and put you in this world, which is His, as you surrender your heart mind, soul, and body unto Him, He blesses.

You cannot keep God out of your life and be a success. You have to make the choice. Will you accept Him and the con-

Four different ways to make going more fun than getting there

You can see why one of America's favorite outdoor sports is driving Chevrolets, with four entirely different kinds of cars to choose from. There's the Jet-smooth Chevrolet, about as luxurious as you can go without going overboard in price; the low-cost Chevy II, a good-looking car that would send any family packing; another family favorite, the sporty Corvair, whose rear-engine traction will make you think that ice and snow are kid stuff; and for pure adventure, America's only sports car, Corvette—now in two all-new versions with looks that can stop traffic like a rush-hour blizzard. Picked your favorite already? The next thing is to take the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's. If that doesn't have you thinking of places to go, maybe you'd rather just have a ball around town!

Official Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute Report:

PLYMOUTH WINS PERFORMANCE TEST. PLYMOUTH WINS GAS ECONOMY TEST.

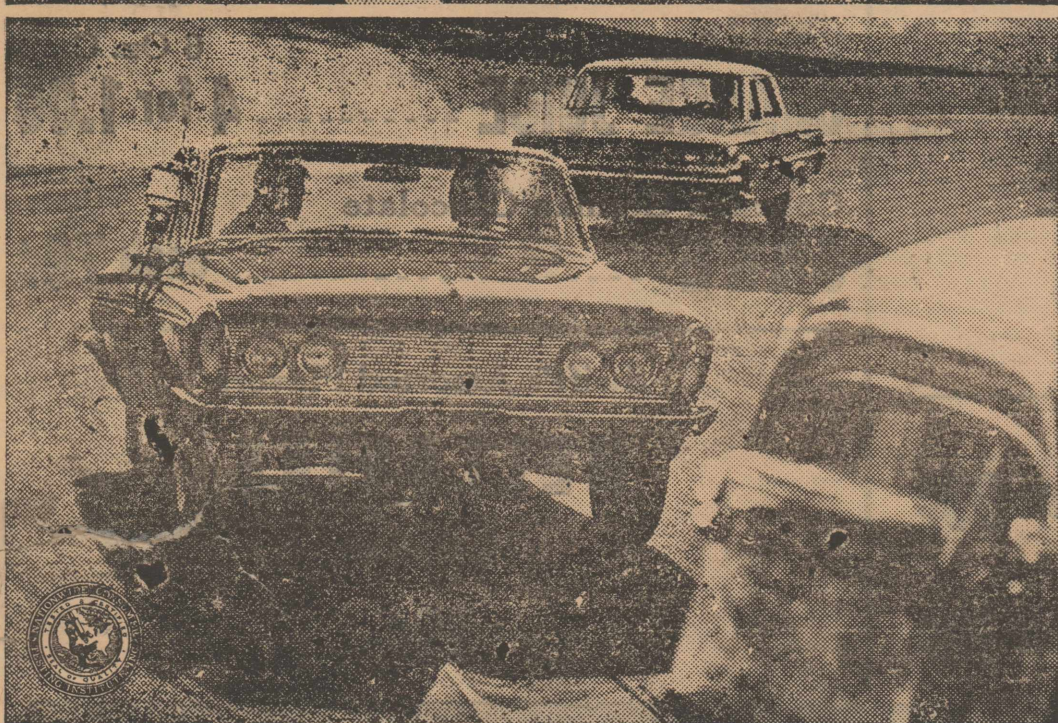

It happened in the second big meeting of Ford Galaxie "500", Chevrolet Impala and Plymouth Fury at Riverside, Cal.—in a "Showdown" Plymouth asked for. The cars were all V-8s, comparably equipped. And Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute was there to conduct the competition and see to it that its strict rules were followed. When it was over, Plymouth had victories in almost every performance test, plus victory in the all-important economy run. Plymouth for '63 also has the only 5-year/50,000-mile warranty* in the tough Plymouth-Ford-Chevrolet league.

Do you know that...

Today the United States has more power capacity than the next 5 nations combined and almost three times the power capacity of the Soviet Union.

West Texas Utilities has increased its electric generating capacity over 6 times since 1942.

In terms of residential use, the American home uses nearly eight times the electricity of the Russian home. Americans use twice as much for lighting alone as the Russian total.

The average cost of a kilowatt hour to residential customers served by WTU has decreased 35% in the last 20 years.

1946 Study Club Has Meeting Tuesday

Eighty-three members and guests of the 1946 Study Club attended the Valentine salad supper Tuesday night at the Methodist Church. Hostesses were Mmes. A. J. Keathley, Archie Lieb, Bobby Joe Helton and Jerry Guinn.

Special recognition was given Mrs. E. F. Branton as "Mother of the Club."

Mrs. Curtis Hines gave the invocation. The salad supper was served from a buffet table which was covered with red net over a white cloth. Red cupids on a carousel of milk glass and red net covered the table. Red tapers in milk glass holders flanked the centerpiece. A milk glass punch bowl was used.

A Valentine carriage surrounded by red satin hearts was used at the head table and other tables were decorated with her cupids and hearts on styrofoam. Party favors were miniature Valentine baskets filled with candy hearts.

Entertainment was provided by the Nine Teens of Haskell, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bell. The girls sang medleys of love songs. They were presented gifts by Mrs. Guinn.

Next meeting of the club will be Feb. 19 at the home of Mrs. Ben Farmer. Hostesses will be Mmes. Don Reeves, Rufus White and S. J. Mesecher Jr.

Home Demonstration Council Meets

When the Knox County Home Demonstration Council met on February 1, Mrs. Marion Chowning, Sr., had charge of the program. She stated that the purposes of parliamentary procedure are to enable groups of people to reach conclusions and plan work in a short time and without confusion. The etiquette of organization is another term that might be applied to parliamentary procedure.

Mrs. R. M. Almonrode in reporting on the T.H.D.A. Training Meeting stated that the District Meeting will be held in Vernon on May 7. All club members are invited to attend but reservations for the luncheon should be made in advance.

Plans are in progress to have a program on Communistic infiltration in three communities of the county on March 5, according to Mrs. O. R. Miller, Chairman of the Civil Defense Committee.

The programs are to be open to the public. It was announced that Miss Frances Reasonover of College Station and Mrs. Agness Marrs of Kent County will be in Knox County on Feb. 19 to conduct a program on food selection and management.

All the Knox County H.D. clubs were represented at which time Mrs. R. M. Almonrode presided. Plans were made for a leader training meeting on food management and one dish meals to be given by the H. D. Agent. Those receiving training will give this program in their clubs soon.

The 4-H Adult Leader Training Meetings are continuing each Monday night at the Court-house in Benjamin. The next session on Feb. 18 will cover "Recreation and It's Use in the 4-H Program." The meetings are beginning with a covered dish supper at 7 p.m. and will be over with by 9.

An economical method of controlling pocket gophers will be demonstrated in Knox City and Munday on Feb. 18. The demonstrator will be Jodie Webb, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. He will show a "burrow-builder," a machine that makes an artificial burrow that intersects the natural burrow of the gopher. An ordinary planter box feeds poison grain into the artificial burrow. The gopher then eats it and presto, no more gopher. It only takes about one and one-half pounds of poison grain to the acre.

held at the homevbgkqjetaoin The demonstration will be held at the home of Jesse Gilpin, on the Brazos Valley road north west of Knox City at 10 a.m., Feb. 18.

Better records will be needed by farmers and ranchers in 1963. Greater emphasis on the need for complete and accurate records is being placed by the Internal Revenue Service officials. It is now necessary to keep more complete records, to substantiate certain expenses, particularly travel expenses incurred in doing business. The carry-back and carry-forward features of the new seven per cent tax credit for making investments in machinery and equipment entail keeping records longer than was previously necessary. In addition to helping the operator file better tax returns, complete and accurate records may: 1. Improve the farm or ranch business by locating strong or weak points in the organization of his production enterprises, 2. Show the net worth of the business and measure financial progress which aids in securing adequate credit.

RECORD KEEPING TIPS:

Use a good account book
Keep account book up to date
Identify items on deposit slips
Write on check what it is for Record and save cash tickets
Keep depreciation records on a depreciation schedule.
Keep hired labor record and FICA depository receipts

Keep records of gasoline purchases
Keep records of cost of improvements
Keep sales slips on livestock sold
Keep information on Co-op patronage refunds
Make Entries REGULARLY.

The County Committee concerned with Screwworm Eradication will meet Tuesday, Feb. 19.

Maid of honor was Miss Judith Williams of Lincoln, Neb. Best man was David S. Dungan of Salem, Oregon, brother of the groom.

Ushers were Thomas L. Williams of Beatrice and George Cramton of Haskings, Neb.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the Church Fellowship Hall.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Knox City, where the groom is pastor of the First Christian Church.

19, at 2 p.m. in the Courthouse to map plans for the fund raising drive in Knox County. Livestock producers must raise $1 million in the next month in order to keep the program going.

Paula Thompson and Brad Partridge, Munday, and Leon Groves, Benjamin, sold their calves through the sale at the Wichita Falls Junior Beef Show last week. Each brought 40 cents per pound. This was the lowest that any calf sold brought that was in the sale. Paula's calf placed twelfth in his class which was commendable. Leon and Brad could not show but were eligible for the sale because some exhibitors did not wish to sell. There were 102 steers entered. These were culled down to 60 which sent a world of good steers to the barn. Durwood Lewter, Lubbock, sifted and judged the show this year and did a very thorough and competent job.

Larry Thompson, Munday and Johnnie Cook, Gilliland, had their calves sifted and sold them at the livestock auction.

Release the cotton acreage which you do not intend to plant so you will preserve the allotment history on your farm. It must be filed before March 4. See Jesse Gilpin at the ASCS office in Knox City today.
