Klan 'Lifer' to Face Governor

EX-GRAND DRAGON NOW IN PEN AS CONVICTED KILLER TO TAKE STAND IN INDIANA LITIGATION

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 9. (AP) D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, may be the state's first witness against Governor Ed Jackson whose trial on a charge of attempting to bribe former Governor Warren T. McCray was resumed in criminal court today.

A subpoena for Stephenson has been prepared and will be served after a jury has been obtained for Jackson's trial. Stephenson, now serving a life sentence in the Indiana state prison, was implicated, the state alleged, in a conspiracy to bribe McCray in 1923 to appoint a man favored by Jackson and Stephenson as prosecuting attorney of Marion county. A grand jury named as other parties to the conspiracy George V. Coffin, Marion county Republican chairman, and Robert I. Marsh, a local attorney.

Efforts toward obtaining a jury were progressing with seven men in the box accepted definitely by the state. The trial opened yesterday.

With selection of jurors in the hands of the state for the third time since the trial started yesterday, indications for the impaneling of a full jury before adjournment today were excellent. Each side, however, has exercised only two of the ten peremptory challenges allowed.

The governor and his two co-defendants are charged with offering former Gov. Warren T. McCray $10,000 and immunity from embezzlement charges then pending against him if he would appoint their choice

HOME TOWN TALK

By B. N.

Substituting for B. D. D.

The list of members of the business council of the chamber of commerce for 1928, announced Wednesday afternoon, discloses a wealth of material for constructive leadership. So many of the members are well qualified for the positions of chairman and vice chairman, to be filled at the first luncheon meeting Friday, that the chief difficulty facing the council in choosing its officers is to select only two when scores are splendidly equipped for the task. However, no matter whom they elect, the quality of the membership assures a body of aggressive and intelligent workers for the advancement of Wichita Falls.

Northwest Texas and Southwest Oklahoma citizens have shown in no uncertain manner during the past few weeks their appreciation of the work of Wichita Falls progressives in bringing the Chicago Civic Opera company here to present "Aida" and "Resurrection" on successive evenings, February 29 and March 1. Representatives of the opera backers who have visited many of the cities and towns in this territory report great interest in the coming of grand opera here, which is also evidenced in a substantial manner by the volume of advance mail orders for tickets. Success of this initial ambitious experiment will undoubtedly mean much for the future of Wichita Falls as a center for great musical attractions. The support of Wichitans, of course, forms the backbone of the structure upholding the grand opera movement.

The Memorial auditorium has been directly responsible for the bringing of many other attractions this season in addition to the Chicago Civic Opera company, Marion Talley and John McCormack have filled the great hall with enthusiastic audiences and Madam Amelita Galli-Curci is

EXPECT REPORT OF GRAND JURY IN FEW HOURS

A report was awaited here Thursday afternoon from the special grand jury impanelled Wednesday by Judge W. W. Cook of the 78th district court.

More than 50 witnesses had been questioned by the body when a recess was taken for lunch Thursday. Still others were to appear before the Thursday afternoon session, during which it was expected that all work could be completed so as to adjourn.

The number of witnesses to be called was a cause of much speculation in court house circles. The number, it was declared, is more than would be required if the jury's investigation was confined alone to matters which led to the calling of the special session.

Among the witnesses were those who previously have given information contributing to the filing of various of four serious charges during five days of last week. Three capital offenses, including one each of murder, robbery with firearms and a statutory violation were among the number, as well as one charge of burglary of a private residence in the night time, which may be punished by life imprisonment.

The special grand jury, it also was said, has made an investigation of all felony cases which have originated since the regular January grand jury was discharged late last month.

FORMER WICHITAN TO BE PLACED ON TRIAL AT RANGER

Special to the Times.

RANGER, Texas, Feb. 9.—Jimmy Echols, Wichita Falls, 30 years old, will go on trial Monday, February 13, charged with theft. District Attorney J. Frank Sparks announced today. Echols is charged with theft of $2000 from another teller's safe compartment in the Citizens State bank, Ranger. Late in 1925, Echols is alleged to have taken the money from another teller's safe and secreted it in a stove in his room. The money was found there by officers and recovered. Echols left Ranger before his indictment and was only recently located in Kansas.

He is being returned to Eastland authorities.

"N. Y.-LONDON TELEVISION" TEST SUCCESSFUL TO NOVEL DEGREE

"LIGHT SOUND" CARRIES VISION ACROSS OCEAN

Invention of British Electrical Engineer Makes Staggering Feat a Possibility

HARTSDALE, N. Y., Feb. 9. (AP)—The eye of man, aided by science, has at last been able to peer across the Atlantic, although what it has been able to see so far has been but a distorted vision of the reality.

Transatlantic television has been taken out of the inventor's star chamber and demonstrated for just what it is, the youngest child of science, weak like any child but also potentially of great strength.

In the televisor of John L. Baird, British inventor, have been shown the images of a man and a woman sitting fully 3000 miles away. The images were crude, but they were there.

Secret Tests Conducted

For three months secret one-way ocean tests of the Baird televisor have been underway, with the transmitting apparatus in London and the receiving machine, a box the size of a steamer trunk, in the home of R. M. Hart, a short wave radio operator in this Westchester county village just outside New York.

Success achieved was only partial, but it was enough to convince the inventor and his associates that the time had come to take the newest wonder of science out into the light of inspection.

Last night transatlantic television was demonstrated with newspapermen at both ends of operation and they were invited to tell just what they saw, without exaggerating the merits or minimizing the defects of the experiment.

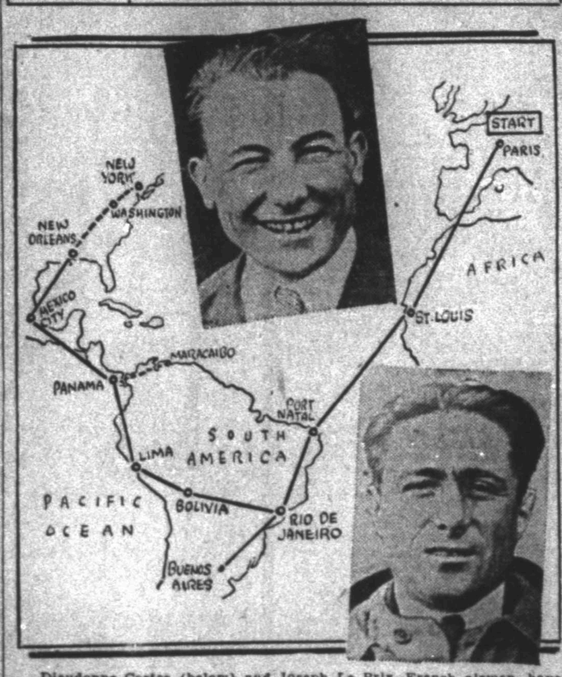

The group at this end gathered in the Hart home during the evening and Hart opened Morse communication between 2KZ, the London station, and 2CVJ, his own set. This communication was maintained during the experiment.

"Bumble Bees Buzz"

Shortly before 10 o'clock Hart announced that the "vision sound" was coming through from London. This noise was very much like a bum-

PARIS-NEW YORK FLIERS NEAR GOAL

Dieudonne Costes (below) and Joseph Le Brix, French airmen, have reached Washington on their way to complete the first Paris-to-New York flight. Here is the route of their aerial journey upon which they set out on October 16 last in their Breguet biplane "Nungesser-Coli." It has included a 2700-mile hop from Paris to St. Louis, Senegal; a jump 'cross the South Atlantic and a 1100-mile flight from Mexico City to New Orleans and on to Washington.

French Aviators En Route From Paris to New York City Guests of Honor Friday at National Capital

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—Lieutenants Le Brix and Costes, French transatlantic aviators, plan a transcontinental flight to San Francisco after they reach New York.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—Their aerial wandering almost over with for a time, France's two good will explorers, Lieut. Dieudonne Costes and Lieutenant Commander Joseph Lebrix, settled down here today to four days of rest.

Their flight of nearly 25,000 miles, from Europe to South America and thence through Central America to this country, will be completed when they arrive in New York. There their plane, the Nungesser-Coli, will be dismantled and shipped to France.

U. S. NAVY AIR CHIEF LAUDS FRENCH FLIERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—In a letter to M. Georges Jouard, editor-in-chief of the Lee Ile, Paris, Edward P. Warner, assistant secretary of the navy, in charge of aeronautics, expressed admiration today for the achievements of the French aviators, Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Lebrix.

DARK-EYED LASSIES CROWD FORWARD TO WELCOME YOUNG DEMIGOD

ACE OF SKIES PLANS HOP TO ST. LOUIS ON MONDAY

Camera Men Battle Troops in Rush To Snap Pictures of Flier's Arrival

HAVANA, Feb. 9. (AP)—A smiling young man, who 10 months ago startled the world by flying across the Atlantic today was enshrined in the heart of Cuba.

His face reddened by his flights under a tropical sun to 14 other countries included in his present tour, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed at the last port of his good will tour nine minutes ahead of scheduled time, yesterday afternoon.

The silver winged Spirit of St. Louis had covered slightly less than 800 miles since it hopped off at 6:35 a. m. from Fort-Au-Prince, Haiti. It landed at Columbia field, site of the original encampment of American forces in Cuba during the Spanish American war at 2:15 p. m.

Swords Bar Rush.

Cavalrymen and infantry with drawn sabres and bayonets quickly formed around the plane to guard it from the eager rush of those who surged forward to acclaim the Lone Eagle. Not only Cubans were in the welcoming throng, but also many representatives of the 21 American nations gathered here in the pan-American conference.

Today the mechanical half of "we" had 465 hours of flying behind it. But, said Lindbergh, it is not a museum relic yet, referring to his plan to eventually place it in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

Some time during today's round of entertainments in his honor, the flier intended to slip away to the field and thoroughly inspect his plane. For his hop to St. Louis, his home, Monday, he said, "no special overhauling will be necessary."

"I believe the ship will be in perfect condition," he added.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY TELLS JURY HE HAD HARD TIME TO KEEP OUT OF MOB TO LYNCH 'ARCH FIEND'

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9. (AP)—Arguments in the William Edward Hickman sanity trial were completed today and the court recessed until 2 o'clock (4 o'clock local time).

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 9. (AP)—Only the fact that he was an officer of the law kept him from wanting to be "in the front ranks" of a mob and put a rope about the neck of Edward Hickman, District Attorney Asa Keyes today told the jury in the trial of the youth on a charge of kidnaping and murdering Marian Parker.

Keyes made this statement in summing up the argument of the state.

Keyes spoke "for the rights of not only the people of California, but for the rights of the people of the entire United States."

"It was only for the fact that we are civilized," Keyes shouted, "that a mob did not take this man from the officers of the law and if it was not that I was an officer of the law I should have wanted to be in the front ranks of such a mob to help put a rope around this man's neck.

"I'm going to be fair to this man, although I loathe the ground he walks on. But I'm going to be fair to the other side of this case, too."

Keyes shouted to the jury his conviction that since the day "this man Hickman was arrested, the day the 'Fox was trapped' he has laid his plans to escape the gallows by the insanity 'dodge.'

"From the day of his arrest, when he threw a fit in Pendleton jail, the Fox knew he was trapped and he has played his insanity dodge to fool the police, fool the district attorney, fool his attorneys, the alienists, and you, the jury, because he knew it was the only chance to escape the punishment of the law."

Final Act of Drama.

The final act of the drama enveloping William Edward Hickman's fight for life through a sanity trial was opened today in the court room of Judge J. J. Trabucco.

Richard Cantillon, defense attorney, went into the details of testimony given by defense alienists and by William Thomas Hickman, father of the youth who kidnaped and killed Marian Parker.

In a quiet voice the young defense attorney rapidly rolled out his clos-

FUND FOR AID HOUSTON MEET GROWS TO $70

A check for $25 from J. B. Marlow and one for $10 from N. Henderson Thursday swelled the Times fund to aid Houston in entertaining the Democratic national convention to a total of $70, an increase of exactly 100 per cent over Wednesday's figures.

Many more Wichitans and other readers of the Times will doubtless employ this means of showing their appreciation for the Democrats' selection of a Texas city for their quadrennial meeting.

Checks may be made payable to Democratic Convention Fund. All contributions received by the Times will be acknowledge in these columns. The record to date follows:

BECK WINS FIGHT FOR CONGRESS SEAT BEFORE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—The right of James M. Beck to retain his seat as a Republican representative from Pennsylvania was upheld today by a house elections committee by a vote of 5 to 3.

Beck's eligibility to house membership was challenged by Representative Garrett of Tennessee, the Democratic floor leader, on the ground that the former solicitor general of the United States was not a legal resident of Philadelphia. The house must still pass on the question.

Chairman Vincent of the committee said that the report to the house would be delayed for several days until a minority report could be drawn.

Beck admitted to the committee that his principal home was in Washington and that he owned a summer home in Seabright, N. J., but said he had leased an apartment in Philadelphia a year and a half ago and had removed his citizenship to that state with the intention of re-identifying himself with it politically.

VERNON GRAND JURY INDICTS C. E. HOLLEY

VERNON, Feb. 9.—An indictment charging robbery with firearms was returned by a special session of the grand jury here Wednesday afternoon against C. E. Holley, in connection with the recent series of "arrests" of couples parked by the roadside in automobiles.

Holley's bond, which was set at $20,000 at his hearing in justice court was reduced to $10,000 by Judge Robert Cole of the 46th district court. He had not perfected his bond Thursday and was still in the Wilbarger county jail.

Holley is said by officers to have preyed upon couples parked on a by-road near Vernon, and with a fireman's badge and a gun forced his victims to pay "fines."

Date for his trial has not been set but attorneys were of the opinion that he would not be tried at the present session of court.

BOND REFUSED MAN HELD FOR DUAL SLAYING

Special to the Times.

WAURIKA, Okla., Feb. 9.—Green Smiddy, 25, who has been held in the Waurika jail since Saturday, January 29, in connection with the fatal shooting of Louis Harwell, Jefferson county deputy sheriff, and Arthur Hood, constable, was denied bond at a preliminary hearing completed here Thursday morning.

Smiddy, who lives in Addington, was arrested with his father and brother, shortly after the shooting on the main street of Addington, Saturday night, January 29. His father and brother have been released.

The two officers were said to have been walking down the street when a volley of shots was fired from a gun in the hands of a man in a car parked nearby. Harwell fell mortally wounded and died within a short time. Hood was brought to the Waurika hospital where he died the following Thursday.

"LOT'S WIFE" TO SEASON PICKLES

JERUSALEM, Feb. 9. (AP)—The famous pillar of salt identified as being the Lot's wife of the Old Testament story is reported to be in danger of being torn down for the manufacture of salt by the people holding the concession to work the Dead Sea deposits. The threatened extinction of this noted pillar is causing dismay in many quarters.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—John D. Rockefeller Jr., chairman of the board of trustees of the Rockefeller foundation, has been summoned to appear Saturday before the senate Teapot Dome committee.

Service of a telegraphic subpoena was accepted in New York City today by Rockefeller who is to be asked to relate all the information concerning the transactions of the Continental Trading company of Canada given to him by Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, who refused to divulge whether he knew of any one who received liberty bonds from the Continental.

In addition to Rockefeller the committee also has issued subpoenas for a number of clerks employed in the New York branch of the Dominion Bank of Canada in which were kept the accounts of the Continental and its president, H. S. Osler Jr., of Toronto. Some of these clerks are expected to be here Saturday. Chairman Nye said photostatic copies of the ledger sheets of the Dominion bank branch had been obtained and that they had some peculiar notation on the margins, presumably made by those who entered the accounts.

In correspondence with Senator Walsh of Montana, prosecutor of the oil inquiry, Rockefeller had expressed regret that Stewart refused to answer all questions of the committee regarding the bonds, some of which the government claims figured in the lease of Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair.

TWO OFFICERS MISSING WITH TWO CONVICTS

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Feb. 9. (AP)—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of John P. Grove and Wallace McClure, Tippecanoe county deputy sheriffs, and their prisoners, Samuel Baxter and John Burns, remained unsolved today. The deputies and prisoners left here by automobile early Tuesday en route to the state reformatory at Pendleton, a drive of about 70 miles, and nothing has been heard from them since their departure.

Fifteen posses spent a day of fruitless searching yesterday.

Burns and Baxter, facing sentences of five to 21 years for robbery, may have decided to resort to desperate measures, althorities believe.

The prisoners were handcuffed together in the rear seat of the automobile when the party left here.

Special Train Carrying 65 Wisconsin Dairymen and Farmers to Pay Visit to Wichita Irrigated Valley March 26-28

The chamber of commerce is now perfecting arrangements to bring at least 65 Wisconsin dairymen and farmers on a tour of the Wichita irrigated valley in March, it was announced Thursday by J. W. Chatham, manager of the manufacturers and jobbers division.

The special train will leave Milwaukee March 23 and arrive in Wichita Falls at 7:45 p. m., Monday, March 26. The visitors will remain here until 12:05 p. m., March 28.

Mr. Chatham has been working on the proposition since his return from Chicago recently. Details of the trip were announced by him Thursday.

Assurances have been received from people in Wisconsin that they will assist in making the tour. The plan has also been endorsed by officials of the Kraft Cheese company, who have offered their assistance in arranging the trip.

Mr. Chatham will leave early next week for Chicago and points in Wisconsin to establish an office there for the sale of tickets for the tour. He will also distribute publicity material and data regarding the trip. The chamber of commerce is now issuing 2000 attractive folders advertising this tour and setting out the advantages of this section as a dairying and poultry raising center.

These folders will be distributed from the Wisconsin office to successful farmers and dairymen and through various agencies in that section so that the right class of people will be solicited, Mr. Chatham said.

He announced that the total cost of the tour should not exceed $105, which will include a round trip ticket, round trip lower berth and all meals en route.

Upon arrival in Wichita Falls the visitors will be placed in charge of the Wichita Falls Real Estate board, which will have complete charge of the party during its stay here.

An elaborate entertainment is being planned by the local realtors for the party, including a trip through the Wichita valley to Lake Kemp, an inspection of the oil fields and a visit to manufacturing plants here. Their visit will end with a banquet in Wichita Falls.

The chamber of commerce has already received inquiries regarding this tour and officials feel confident that it will result in great good to the dairy industry of this section

Self Confessed Slayer Thirteen Condemned to Die Friday Morning Still Hopes to Escape Execution

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, Feb. 9. (AP) George J. Hassell, self confessed slayer of 13 persons, 10 of them small children, whose electrocution in the state penitentiary here has been fixed for sometime after midnight, at a good breakfast and entered on the last day of his life with no apparent change in his calm demeanor.

He was not told until this morning that physicians sent from Austin by Governor Dan Moody to examine into his sanity had found him sane and that the governor had declined to intervene.

He not only received the news with composure, but appeared to be hopeful. Warden N. E. Speer said, that through some fortuitious circumstances he might yet escape the electric chair.

"But then they are always hopeful up to the last minute," the warden observed.

Hassell confessed that he killed his housekeeper and three small children in Whittier, Calif., in June, 1917, and buried the bodies under their home. In December, 1926, he said, he slew his wife, the widow of his brother, and her seven small children on a farm near Farwell, Texas, and three days later when the boy returned home, killed the woman's 21-year-old son. All the bodies, Hassell told the prison physician here, were buried on the farm.

Hassell professed no motive for the murders. "I wish some one would tell me why I did it," he said in the confession.

Unless plans ar anged another man will be executed tonight also. Robert Lee Benton, alias Robert Sta. ..., a negro, is scheduled to be executed for the murder of B. E. Brown, a farmer of near Crosbyton, Texas.

Morgan was short to death by Benton and another negro. The negroes confessed. Governor Moody declined to commute Benton's sentence. The other negro was sentenced to 30 years imprisonment.

CUBA EN FETE AS LINDBERGH LANDS

the filer clashed with soldiers stationed at the field to preserve order. Three Cubans and several American photographers were understood to have been injured in the melee and many cameras broken.

Cuban photographers went on record as opposed to taking pictures of any event in which the Cuban army participates. They charged that press badges issued by Brigadier General Herrera were ignored by officers. A formal accusation was made by the Reporters' association of Havana against a number of army officers.

Offering Lindbergh his congratulations at the field, Charles Evans Hughes, chief of the American delegation to the pan-American congress, said:

Hughes Praises Flier.

"Lindbergh is tracing the route that future commerce will follow. The best part is that it is a route of good will and what he is doing is of first importance in the development of pan-Americanism."

Thousands thronged the plaza in front of the national palace when Lindbergh arrived there. In the great reception hall President Machado and his cabinet welcomed him. To Lindbergh, the president said:

"You represent one of the world's greatest nations as ambassador of the air. I extend to you a welcome from every Cuban.

Lindbergh Great Man.

"You yourself are one of the greatest men of a great nation and will always be considered one of the world's greatest citizens. Every moment of your life, in glory or in sorrow, you will always have a friend in us. You will always find welcome in Cuba.

"We love our liberty and independence. You are an ambassador of the air, but also an ambassador of American freedom."

The president, Lindbergh and American Ambassador Nobel Brandsen Judah then went to the balcony overlooking the spacious Avenida Misiones, where President Coolidge had also appeared at the opening of the pan-American congress, to answer the applause of the crowd.

As Lindbergh left the balcony he received a motherly blessing in English from Madame Pouvert Terry, wife of a prominent Cuban who made her way to his side.

So great was the desire of Cubans to see the Lone Eagle arrive that they cast aside an ancient custom. The tradition that an unescorted woman must not seat herself beside a man in any public conveyance was defied by dark-eyed Cuban senoritas and women of all ages who traveled the eight miles to the flying field.

Lindbergh said the Spirit of St. Louis had covered nearly 40,000 miles since he took off from San Diego for New York and ultimately Paris. It was estimated that some 6,000 miles of this were part of the good will tour in which he visited Mexico, Guatemala, British Honduras, Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Panama, Colombia, Venezuela, St. Thomas, Porto Rico, the Dominican Republic and Haiti.

Plane In Fine Shape.

"Most of the motor and plane is now in at least 95 per cent of its original condition and the plane is capable of flying more than the distance already flown," Lindbergh said. "Planes of this type should be good for 1500 hours with proper care."

Exact plans for his flight to St. Louis Monday have not yet been completed.

"I plan, however, to go along the west coast of Florida," Lindbergh explained. "I expect to leave with a comparatively light load. In fact, the Spirit of St. Louis has in it now enough gasoline to take it to St. Louis."

The first airmail service between the Islands of the Antilles was inaugurated with Lindbergh's arrival. Two sacks of mail from Santo Domingo and one from Port-Au-Prince were delivered at Havana by the plane.

The flier's program today called for luncheon at Camp Columbia as the guest of army officers and aviation authorities attached to the camp. Ambassador Judah and Mrs. Judah issued several thousand invitations to members of the American colony and visiting Americans for a reception in honor of the flier late this afternoon.

Lindbergh was invited to be an honor guest at tonight's grand ball at the Havana Yacht club, but whether he would attend was not known.

A conference with his legal adviser, Colonel Henry Breckenridge, was also scheduled for today.

LINDBERGH'S LEGAL AIDE ARRESTED BY CUBAN COPS

HAVANA, Feb. 9. (AP)—Colonel Breckenridge, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's attorney, was detained several hours at military headquarters last night. He was charged with having violated orders issued yesterday by General Alberto Herrera, chief of staff.

Shortly before the arrival of Colonel Lindbergh at the Camp Columbia flying field yesterday afternoon, Breckenridge ascended in a plane, in violation of the orders prohibiting flights in the afternoon hours, and until Lindbergh had landed. Because of this he was held for the disposition of the chief of staff until 7 o'clock last evening, when through the personal appeal of Colonel Lindbergh he was released.

scheduled to appear this spring. This will be the second visit of the great diva. During her stay here she sponsored the completion of an oil well in the K. M. A. field, an event well remembered by many Wichitans.

The auditorium has also proved its suitability for dramatic productions. "Abie's Irish Rose," perennial in its popularity, entertained 2963 persons at its single performance last month, setting a record for theatrical attractions in Wichita Falls—and many other cities. TEAPOT INQUIRERS CALL ROCKEFELLER

William J. Burns and four others because he received reports of the detectives who shadowed the Fall-Sinclair jury. Henry Mason Day hired the detectives on instructions from Sinclair. Clark was mentioned less than a dozen times in the testimony during the contempt hearing.

Sinclair Seeks Delay

An effort to hold up the far-reaching decision of Justice Frederick L. Siddons that shadowing of the Fall-Sinclair jury by detectives hired by Harry F. Sinclair had a tendency to obstruct justice, was made today by Daniel Thew Wright, counsel for Henry Mason Day.

In view of the admitted shadowing the lawyer felt that the decision virtually closed the door to any defense by Sinclair and Day, his associate, to the charges of criminal contempt.

A motion by Wright to hold up the decision relating to the court's interpretation of "indirect tendency" in connection with the obstruction of justice in the case was overruled.

The justice said in regard to his ruling yesterday that "too much stress is being laid on the questions the court put and observations the court made in disposing of the matter."

In answer to a request by Wright that as the court had not ruled shadowing was contempt, he keep his "mind open" on the question.

"My mind is going to remain open on every question," Justice Siddons replied.

"Shadowing" Unlawful

E. C. Brandenburg, counsel for Sheldon Clark, wealthy Chicago oil man, moved that charges against his client be dismissed, asserting there was no evidence against his client.

The Chicago oil man, government testimony said, was connected with the case because reports made by detectives were left with him two times to be passed on to Day, who hired the detectives for Sinclair.

When Brandenburg said he understood yesterday's decision held shadowing was a crime, Justice Siddons interrupted him to say he had held "surveillance of the jury was unlawful."

"I understand your honor to say," replied Brandenburg, "that shadowing a jury was unlawful."

"Yes, you did," replied Justice Siddons with a smile.

Justice Siddons said he was convinced the evidence against Clark was not such that he could find him guilty and send him to jail or fine him.

There was nothing, the court said, to indicate Clark's connection with the case other than "casual and accidental." Clark came to Washington during the oil trial as a character witness for Sinclair.

Clark's Answer Clear

The justice characterized Clark's answer to the government's charges as a "clear cut and unevasive meeting" of the allegations and absolved the Chicagoan entirely of any wrong intent in his connection with the shadowing.

Justice Siddons refused to entertain at this time a motion for the dismissal of the charges against C. L. Vletsch, Baltimore manager for the Burns detective agency. Vletsch brought $1500 here to pay the detectives who shadowed the oil jury.

Charles A. Douglas, counsel for W. J. Burns, then introduced the prison record of Wm. J. McMullin, the government's star witness. McMullin testified he prepared false reports and a false affidavit about an oil juror at direction of Burns officials.

STEWART OFFERS TO QUIT STANDARD OIL POSITION

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP)—John D Rockefeller Jr. today revealed that Col. Robert W. Stewart, one of the central figures in the senate's Teapot Dome inquiry, who at previous hearings has refused to divulge certain information, had told him personally that "nothing could change his position."

Mr. Rockefeller also said that Colonel Stewart said the stockholders could have his resignation whenever they desired it. The stockholders will consider this "as the matter develops," Mr. Rockefeller said.

Mr. Rockefeller's statement was contained in a telegram he sent today to United States Senator Thomas J. Walsh at Washington.

The telegram read as follows:

"I have seen Colonel Stewart, and have told him in person what I have said to him in my letter of January 24, of which you have a copy, namely, that in my judgment the public interest demands that the fullest possible light be thrown upon the matter now under investigation by the senate committee.

"I also told him that I greatly regretted he had not answered the questions put to him. Colonel Stewart confirmed the position which he had taken before the committee and said nothing could change his decision. He further stated that he did not wish to embarrass in any way the stockholders of his company and that they could have his resignation whenever they desired it. This is a question which the stockholders should of course and will naturally consider as the matter develops.

"While greatly regretting the present situation and frankly at a loss to know what more I can do, I stand ready, as heretofore, to render any service in my power to help the committee in its efforts to expose wrong doing.

"In my talk with Colonel Stewart he refused positively to discuss the case except as above stated. I, therefore, am still without any information which has not already been submitted to the committee. I have wired the sergeant-at-arms of the senate that I would accept his night letter as service of the subpoenae the senate committee has issued and appear before the committee on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock as directed.

"An invitation would have been equally effective.

(Signed) "John D. Rockefeller Jr."

'RADIO EYE' LOOKS ACROSS ATLANTIC

ble Lee's hum and was the representation in sound of the lights and shadows of the face of the subject before an electric eye in London.

Captain O. G. Hutchinson, general manager of Baird's company, Benjamin Clapp, Baird's chief engineer, and an Associated Press reporter, went to the darkened cellar of the house, where the televisor was installed, and saw the sound being turned back into light.

On a whirling screen about six inches by four a myriad tiny rectangles of light appeared, looking like a row of tip-tilted skyscrapers at night. These rectangles began to move, jostle each other, shift and swirl, and at last formed in the outline of a head.

Vision Becomes Plain

This head became suddenly more distinct and though the vision flattered and dimmed it was plain. Hart telephoned down to say that London reported the head was that of a ventriloquist's dummy and that next, Fox of the London Press association, would take the seat before the electric eye.

The tiny oblongs of light went through another dance and formed another head, but this time it was not so distinct, more fluttery, more broken by flashes of light. But this time the mouth was seen to open and the vague head moved from side to side and nodded solemnly.

London announced then that the next subject would be the wife of James Howe of the London staff of the Associated Press who was present with her husband.

And following this the rectangles shifted and swirled again and a different head appeared, more vague even than before and yet evidently that of a woman. It turned from full face to profile once, twice, and then suddenly was gone.

Images Are Not Distinct

None of the images was so distinct as to be surely recognisable to people who knew the sitters, though Captain Hutchinson felt that he would probably have known that Fox was on even if he had not been warned in advance.

They were not, for instance, anything like as clear as the images carried from Washington to New York last year by the American Telephone and Telegraph company. But that was done by wire instead of radio and only over a distance of slightly more than 200 miles. They were comparable to the visions brought in at the A. T. & T. demonstration by air from no farther away than New Jersey. The vision of the dummy, in fact, was clearer than these, but the moving faces were not so strong.

Captain Hutchinson was elated at the results of the demonstration, predicting that with more power (only two kilowatts was available from the London station used) transatlantic television would shortly approach perfection and that in a short time two way television across the ocean would be a commonplace.

Light Made Into Sound

The televisor works on the system of turning the light waves reflected from a face into electric waves for transmission, to be picked up as sound and turned back into light. Given perfection of this system the only needed aid is sufficient power for transmission.

The greatest obstacle to good reception is interference by static or other stations. At last night's demonstration the visions were time after time scattered into a thousand specks of light by the sending of one short wave Morse operator in Paris and another in Mexico City.

KLAN 'LIFER' TO FACE GOVERNOR

as prosecutor of Marion (Indianapolis) county. All three defendants pleaded not guilty yesterday. Coffin and Marsh were granted separate trials.

The defense indicated in its interrogation of panel members today that it would center its efforts on an attempt to prove that Jackson did not place Governor McCray in a state of fear to prevent him from exposing the alleged attempted bribe, as charged in the indictment.

"Concealment is a vital and material matter and without proving concealment the state has no case," Attorney Silas C. Kivett declared during examination of prospective jurors. He explained in detail the statute of limitations, telling each juror that the time limit was two years in a case such as confronted them. He said the alleged crime was committed nearly four years before an indictment was returned and that the true bill was issued only through the charge of concealment.

The indictments charged that Jackson, Coffin, and Marsh threatened McCray if he should expose their offer of a bribe. At the time McCray was under indictment in the county court on a charge of embezzlement.

Quality Is Our Failure Insurance

A successful merchant once said that he considered honesty the greatest single factor for success in retailing. "Build integrity into your business" he advised, "and you not only safeguard it but your contribution to the community you live in is immeasurable."

Wise words! And that is one of the reasons why we pay so much attention to the quality of the goods we sell. It is so easy to skimp on a lining, or substitute inferior leather in the inner sole of a shoe. But then we would not be running an honest business, and it would gradually crumble into ruins.

Selling honest merchandise at a fair price is more than an ideal with us. It is our "insurance policy" against failure.

AIRPLANES ESCORT TRAINS IN REBEL INFESTED DISTRICT

REBEL STRONGHOLDS IN JALISCO STATE RAIDED

Many Rebels Reported Shot by Federals in Despatches to Headquarters

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 9. (AP)—Military airplanes have been ordered to escort trains moving in districts where rebels are now active, the war department announced today. The move was made to further ensure the safety of passengers aboard the trains which are already traveling under armed guard.

The planes will scout in advance of the trains. If they see a massing of rebel forces they will fly back to the train and it will be halted while troops rush forward to clear its path.

Dispatches from Guadalajara, state of Jalisco, said that both federal forces and rebels had suffered casualties in the government's drive to exterminate the rebels. Nine rebels were killed and one executed. One federal officer and four soldiers were killed and four soldiers wounded.

The army stormed the rebel strongholds at Cerrillo and Joya Hills on the slopes of the volcano of Colima in the southern part of the state.

Unofficial estimates placed the number of federal troops engaged in the campaign at from 10,000 to 15,000. Reinforcements numbering 3,000 arrived in Jalisco from Sonora.

The rebels are understood to have broken up into small bands and sought safety in mountain strongholds. A virtual blockade is in operation in the district to prevent food, arms and ammunition or recruits from reaching the rebels.

Dispatches from Guadalajara today told of an encounter Sunday in which 15 rebels and Mayor Elias Gallegos were killed at El Sabinito in the Los Altos district, which has long been a stronghold for rebels. Two army officers and one soldier were wounded in the encounter between 150 rebels under a chieftain named Pedroza and federal forces under General Miguel Martinez.

Pedroza was believed to have been badly wounded and carried from the field of combat by his men. The rebels were dispersed.

STATEWIDE BOLL WORM CONFERENCE CALLED FOR SWEETWATER FEBRUARY 25

ABILENE, Feb. 9. (AP)—Following the suggestion of Governor Moody, President R. W. Haynie of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce late yesterday called a statewide pink boll worm conference for February 25 at Sweetwater, with the warning that the people must either stamp out the pest or "accept" it. The latter course might mean eventually that the state would import cotton instead of exporting it, he declared.

The date named by President Haynie makes the conference fall just two days before the initial meetings of the state pink boll worm commission which yesterday announced postponement of its Lamesa and Big Spring meetings until February 27. A third and fourth hearing by the commission will be held at Midland on February 28 and Marfa on February 29.

Governor Moody and representatives of the state department of agricultural members of the federal pink boll worm commission are to attend the Sweetwater meeting. The official call declares also that "the business and agricultural interests of Texas should be represented in the meeting in large numbers," together with "county judges, mayors of cities, chambers of commerce, agricultural organizations and the public in general."

If the people of Texas show a willingness to do everything possible to cooperate, the federal government will help stamp out the pest, the official call of President Haynie declared.

ROMANS RIDICULE KELLOGG PROPOSAL FOR BAN ON SUBS

ROME, Feb. 9. (AP)—The recent signature of the new Franco-American pact has drawn critical remarks from Il Tevere which at the same time ridicules the anti-submarine position of Secretary of State Kellogg.

"The day when America feels the need of carrying dollar civilisation into another Central American Latin republic and advances detachments of marines; the day in which France will be summoned by the Geneva council to march against an aggressor state, in that day this condemnation of war will appear more than insipid—it will appear hypocritical," the paper says of the Franco-American treaty.

Il Tevre declares both France and the United States are now on a war footing in territory of other nations, and the United States in Central America and France on the Rhine. "A better and more sincere faith in arbitration might make many inquietudes and many bayonets disappear."

Under the caption "An Invitation to Suicide," Il Tevere publishes a cartoon ridiculing the Kellogg submarine proposal and bearing a subtitle saying that it was proposed because the United States has launched only six submarines while Japan has at least 50 afloat.

DRINK WATER TO HELP WASH OUT KIDNEY POISON

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. —Adv.

The Constant Flame

By Winifred Van Duzer Author of "THE GOOD BAD GIRL," "GOLDEN ROADS," "THRILL HUNTERS" and Other Popular Serials (Copyright, 1927, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

What Has Happened So Far

Emily Day, daughter of very poor parents has a great yearning to make a success. She finds it impossible to mingle with the socially elect of the little town where she lives owing to her poverty and the fact that her father is a factory worker. She loses her heart to Kent Rossiter, a rich young man, who is supposed to be engaged to Marilee Grainger. One moonlight night at a party, Kent kisses Emily and calls her beautiful. He goes away to study law, but she never forgets him. Meanwhile, Marty Nolan, whose father keeps a "speakeasy," tells her he too is going to be a lawyer and that some day he intends to marry her. She gets a job with Mrs. Frances Halden, a wealthy interior decorator, who tells her the only aristocracy is that of work. Mrs. Halden introduces her to Kingdon Coles, a dramatic critic, who proposes to her in vain. Meanwhile, Kitten, Emily's younger sister, is wildly seeking for thrills. She meets Ted Lanier on the sly. Stella Brent, a school girl friend of Emily's finds herself deserted by Skeets Bradley, reckless son of a rich family. Kitten goes on a wild party with Ted without letting her sister know.

Emily gets a raise. Kitten climbs in a window late at night to elude her sister.

Kent comes home for the wedding of his sister Avis, who has thrown herself at Marty Nolan. Fearing her father's wrath she marries a man she does not care for.

Kent almost proposes to Marilee but cannot quite bring himself to do it.

Now On With the Story.

CHAPTER XXV

He put Emilly into a taxi andthey started downtown. She was shaking with eagerness.

"Who was he, King? What did he want you to do?"

"Fellow't wrote the play. You won't mind waiting while I do my review? Frightful bore. Sorry to bother."

"Of course I won't mind. How thrilling! He wrote the play? A playright and such a kid! Well, I see now; he wants you to say pleasant things so people will like it? You'll do that, King? Such a nice young fellow and so anxious to please."

"Listen, Emily," he answered coldly, "there's no sentiment in this game. I've got my public to think of."

He repeated that: "My public." And it struck her now that there was in him a ruthlessness she hadn't suspected. The glamour which had surrounded him dulled a bit.

But she forgot this when the cab threaded the traffic cross-currents of Park Row; it was a long time before the memory of it returned with such stinging force that she told herself bitterly, "That was Kingdom Coles; that was the real King and I paid no attention. If he would be so once—arrogant and cruel—he'd always be so. And I thought—well, it doesn't matter now, I spose—"

A lumbering old elevator arose by jerks to a high floor in a tall building and Coles led Emily through corridors to an immense room where she immediately was dazed by noise.

Dozen of young men were sitting at typewriters pounding like mad; they were coatless and collarless and had their sleeves rolled up and they smoked cigarets which they didn't bother to remove from the sides of their mouths.

In a far corner was a desk where two seemed to be directing the turmoil of the place. One, gray-haired and distinguished would look up and yell down the room, "Lead coming on that murder story. Bill. Keep it in a stick—"

And the man called Bill would dash for the phone booth where he would talk in a brusque, hurried manner, making scratchy notes on a margin of newspaper.

Or the gray-haired man would call "Copy!" and one of a row of boys would spring from a bench and scurry around like a frightened mouse. Sometimes he would take the typewritten sheets to a solemn looking person in the middle of a U-shaped table; this man would make quick marks on it before tossing it to those who sat facing him.

This was the copy-desk and the man in the "slot" was head of it, Coles explained to Emily; the others were copy-readers. It was they who wrote the "heads" she would see at the top of the columns in the newspaper next day.

Over in the corner, he went on, was the "city desk" where all the local news came in; the gray-haired man was city editor.

"Well, I expect he's marvelous, isn't he, King? No one so important—"

"Oh, yes. There's managing editor and editor-in-chief. And the publisher seems to figure prominently."

She though it very complicated and asked about Bill. "Who's that young journalist?"

He grinned. "Don't ever let this gang hear you call them journalists."

"Trained seals?" She felt rather dizzy.

"Yes—novelists and playwrights and such brought in for special stuff on big stories. Bill's only a re-write man. See the little guy with the dumb looking face? He's star of this outfit." And he mentioned a name that was world-famous.

"But you'd never think—"

"Certainly not. Seen enough?"

Telephones shrilled; typewriters rattled; from another room came the deafening clatter of telegraph instruments; great brass pipes which Coles said were pneumatic tubes running upstairs to the composing room sighed and snored; shouts of "Boy!" pierced the racket.

"But how do they write here?" Emily demanded. "With so much going on, how can they?"

He turned upon her a look of genuine surprise and declared the place was quiet now.

"Ought to see it when something breaks! Of course they're a little rushed—edition going in. And say, I'd better be coming."

He took her to a small office at the end of the city room and uncovered his typewriter. In hardly a minute he was bent over the machine, pounding as madly as the reporters and re-write men. His face was drawn with concentration; she knew that for him at this minute, though she was sitting beside him, she didn't exist. And she wondered how he could think as fast as his fingers moved.

Words sprang out at her from the white sheet unrolling from his machine. "Inadequate—" "rehash—" "flabby plot—"

She turned away. A cruel thing to do—destroy a man's work this way. Perhaps the young fellow with the anxious eyes would be discouraged—never try again. She had a feeling Coles was not being wholly sincere in his condemnation; that he was "acting up" rather like a small boy trying to be smart. In spite of her excitement it depressed her.

Through the glass partition she could see the city room. A girl was coming in now and Emily watched her with interest. She was vaguely like Frances Halden, though much younger and with more of an alert air.

There was a certain carelessness about her clothes, a sort of hurried look as if she gave them little thought. But they were plain and well-tailored and her whole appearance was one of sleek efficiency.

She went to the city desk and, leaning over it, talked hurriedly to the city editor. He nodded once or twice and glanced at the clock; the girl, moving very fast, sat down at a typewriter. With a half nod at Bill who looked up briefly, she ran paper into the roll and her fingers flew.

When she had finished a page she called "Boy!" without raising her head. One came and took what she had written to the city editor who ran through it and sent it on to the copy desk.

"Mark that 'must,'" he bawled at the solemn personage. "Exclusive on the Rawlings divorce."

Emily thought it the most fascinating thing she ever had seen. Fancy a girl doing that—working out there in that noise! She felt anything marked "must" surely would be very special.

Coles told her it was. That was after he had closed his desk and they were on the way to the ferry. "Means it must run no matter what else is thrown out. That girl's a good reporter; digs up stuff no one else can get."

He smiled down at her and shook his head. "No job for a golden girl. Reporters are out at all hours, in all places, going without food or rest. Work is different for a kid going into a shop like Frances Halden's just for the fun of it."

She started to say, "But I'm not working for the fun of it; I've a family to take care of!"

She didn't say it. They came to the ferry just then and she didn't remember to say it. Long afterward she wondered why she hadn't remembered.

Dr. Caldwell's 3 Rules Keep You Healthy

W. B. Caldwell, M.D. AT AGE 83

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds. Always have a bottle in the house, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

Bullets Replace Love Darts After Romance Crashes

BRYN MAWR, Pa., Feb. 9. (AP)—An apparent murder and suicide of the youthful principals in a love affair was discovered early today in the finding of the bodies of a young man and girl huddled together in an automobile in Haverford township, near here.

The girl, Bella Alexander, 17, was not dead when police came upon the couple, but died several hours later in the Bryn Mawr hospital without gaining consciousness. Death was due to a bullet wound of the head and another of the abdomen.

Her twenty-one-year-old sweetheart, Louis Shapiro, is believed to have died instantly from a bullet which pierced his temple.

The pair had been sweethearts for three years, police learned, and were to have been married in two weeks. For some unknown reason, the girl postponed the wedding recently and her parents advanced the theory that Shapiro shot the girl and then himself when she refused to accede to his requests for an immediate ceremony.

Miss Alexander was a member of William Penn High school for girls. Shapiro was an electrician. Both lived in South Philadelphia.

DETROIT, Feb. 9. (AP)—Another death by bullets in the feud between extortionists and rum smugglers has started police on a general roundup of bad men.

Floyd Beck, 33, whom police knew as a rum racketeer, was caught in a volley of pistol shots last night as he and his brother Roy, 36, were leaving a warehouse. Floyd was killed and his brother probably fatally wounded.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9. (AP)—The Rev. W. Herbert Burk, founder and rector of Washington Memorial chapel at Valley Forge, winner of the annual $10,000 Philadelphia Box award for public service, invested his money today within a few hours after receiving it.

"The gift," he said, "can be only for the work to which I have devoted my life and for my glorious country. Half of the amount I give to the endowment fund of the Washington Memorial chapel, and the other half to the Valley Forge Historical society."

What do YOU do when the bowels need a little assistance? If you clearup the condition with some laxative made with CASCARA, there is nothing better for the system—for the blood.

But if you don't KNOW the laxative you have learned to depend on is of harmless cascara, here's some truly valuable advice:

The bark of a tree called cascara is the most marvelous conditioner mankind has yet found. It stimulates the bowel's muscular action, but does NOT weaken. A violent laxative forms the laxative HABIT. You always need more on the morrow. With cascara you don't. It's gentle influence carries on sometimes for days. With less and less need of any aid, as time goes on.

So, the very next time you feel sluggish, take a candy cascaret. Delightful to the taste, sweet and acceptable to any stomach, and just as efficient as the powerful purges that fairly paralyze the peristaltic walls of one's intestines. The only habit you'll get from cascarets is the one of going weeks and months without ANY help of the kind. And when you do invoke their aid again, the same small dose suffices. Any doctor can tell you about cascara; and any druggist has the candy cascarets.—Adv.

324 farm housewives say: "This eases tired backs"

WHAT a fresh, wholesome, healthy-looking class of women the farm housewives are! They fly from one task to another with the quickness and suppleness that so many women lose with their first youth.

Yet, if you ask, most of them will confess that often their backs are lame—their feet and ankles aching with fatigue.

We inquired around among farm housewives to find out what they do to relieve the aching and stiffness in overtired muscles, and to take care of the countless small hurts that are always happening around the farm home.

324 of them said that they found Sloan's the very best remedy they can use.

Used everywhere for muscular pain

In one out of every three homes you'll find Sloan's Liniment the standby for every kind of muscular ache, for rheumatism, for colds and chest congestions and for all kinds of minor injuries.

Read this letter from a farm housewife telling of quick relief from an injury:

"I fell out of a cherry tree. The branch I was on broke and I fell fourteen feet. I hurt my hip and I suffered agony. I used Sloan's, and I don't even feel it any more. I think Sloan's is splendid."

And this—telling the help that Sloan's gave to a persistent case of muscular pain:

"I could not sleep or do my work, but now I sleep well, walk and do my work with ease. I used Sloan's Liniment only once and it relieved me of my pain. It is just wonderful."

Sloan's works by the quickest, most effective method known for relieving pain. It stirs up the circulation—sends a healing tide of fresh, germ-destroying blood direct to the spot that hurts—gives you quick, positive relief.

Always keep a bottle of Sloan's Liniment on hand. At your druggist's you can get one that lasts a long time for 35 cents. Use it for:

Rheumatism Lame muscles
Sciatica Stiff neck
Lumbago Colds and congestions
Neuralgia
Sprains and bruises

The farm housewife has learned that she can ease tired, aching muscles with Sloan's

A doctor whose practice takes in numbers of men and women who work hard under all kinds of trying conditions, says of Sloan's: "People whose work exposes them to strain or to damp and cold usually suffer from a good deal of muscular soreness. We find that Sloan's gives them quick, positive relief."

SLOAN'S Endorsed universally by those who do the world's hard work

AUSTIN PRISONER MAY BE MAN WHO RESCUED PRINCESS

NICHOLAS TROTZKY NOT SURE NEW YORK VISITOR IS ONE HE SAVED

REPUTED DAUGHTER OF CZAR NOW IN AMERICA

Fact and Fiction Mingle to Snarl Real Identities of U. S. Visitors

AUSTIN, Feb. 9. (AP)—Dr. Bob Lukan, held in the Travis county jail on federal charges, and who claims to have saved the life of the youngest Princess Romanoff, daughter of the late Russian Czar, when the family was executed in 1918 declares that he does not know whether the Princess Anastasia Nikolevna is the young girl he had saved.

"I did not know her by that name," he explained. Princess Anastasia arrived in New York Wednesday from Europe.

Federal officers said today that investigation of the man's activities was being continued and that he probably will remain in confinement here for several more days, or until a removal order is issued by the United States district judge.

The prisoner who declares his correct name is Nicholas Trotzky, and that he is a nephew of Leon Trotzky, deposed soviet leader, still insists that all details of his story told to Governor Dan Moody are true.

He was the physician in attendance at the time the czar and royal family were executed at Ekaterinburg, he maintains. The firing squad failed to kill the youngest of the princesses, and he later helped her to escape to England, Lukan says.

REPUTED DAUGHTER CZAR ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP)—The silent and mysterious young woman who has been the enigma of Europe for a year, Mme. Anastasia Tchaikovsky, said by many to be the daughter of the late Czar Nicholas II of Russia, was in seclusion here today.

She and a companion, Miss Agnes Gallagher, were on the fogbound liner Berengaria, held in the lower harbor since Tuesday night by poor visibility. Newspapers have said she has come to be the guest of Mrs. William B. Leeds, the former Princess Xenia of Russia, at her home in Oyster bay.

Her identity unknown to fellow passengers until the arrival of ship news reporters, Europe's mystery woman remained in her cabin during the liner's delay in the lower bay, refusing to grant interviews.

Gleb Botkin, who says his father was physician to the czar and was killed with the imperial family in Siberia in 1917, acted as spokesman for Mme. Tchaikovsky. He has been described by newspapers as the agent for Mrs. Leeds, who is absent on a cruise of the Caribbean.

Playmate of Duchess

Asked by reporters if he believed her to be the Grand Duchess Anastasia he said:

"I do. There is nothing else I could believe, knowing as I do that she is."

Botkin says he played with the Grand Duchess Anastasia when he was 5 and she was 7; that he was with her when the imperial family was exiled to Siberia where the family was killed by bolshevik guards. The grand duchess, one version says, was saved by a young soldier named Tchaikovsky with whom she fled to Rumania and whom she later married.

W. W. Boulmistrow, president of the Russian Refuge Relief Society of America, issued a statement saying he had received a cable from the Grand Duchess Olga Alexandrovna of Russia, now residing in Copenhagen, emphatically denying that Mme. Tchaikovsky is the Grand Duchess Anastasia. The Grand Duchess Olga, sister of the late czar, visited Mme. Tchaikovsky while she was a patient in a German hospital, the statement says.

One Arm Paralyzed?

During the trip across Mme. Tchaikovsky took dinner in the dining saloon a few times but did not mingle with the other passengers. One of the stewards who served her said that a waiter was forced to cut her meat for her, as she seemed to have suffered a complete paralysis of the right arm. He described her as a slender woman of medium height who seldom spoke. He remarked that she did "not seem quite as if she were aware what was going on about her." She always thanked him for the meal, he said.

Mme. Tchaikovsky is 26 years old and speaks only in German, Botkin explains this by the fact that she suffered a loss of memory from the terrible experiences she went through when she escaped the fate of the rest of the imperial family and does not remember her Russian. The children of the late czar were all well schooled in German and English, in addition to their native tongue.

Here for Medical Aid

Botkin said that Mme. Tchaikovsky came to this country for a rest and to receive medical and dental treatment. Her jaw had been broken at one time and badly reset. She says it was caused by a blow from the butt of a guard's rifle in Siberia.

Through special arrangements the medical and immigration authorities interviewed the Russian woman in her room, instead of with the other passengers. They said she answered only one question direct, that as to the length of her stay in this country. She said she would be here eight months. All other questions she wearily referred to her nurse.

SANDINO PILLAGES NICARAGUA COFFEE GROWING DISTRICT

BRITISH PROPERTY SEIZED IN BANDIT CHIEFTAIN'S LATEST OUTBREAK

ENGLISH CONSUL ASKS U. S. AID FOR REPRISAL

Refugees From Interior Arrive at Marine-Guarded Cities to Escape Robbers

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 9. (AP) Advices received here indicated today that the rebel general, Augustino Sandino, had established himself in the rich coffee growing district around Matagalpa. American marines were being rushed into the region. Matagalpa is more than 50 miles south of El Chipote, mountain stronghold from which American marines drove the Sandino forces a fortnight ago.

The coffee plantation of Charles Potter, British vice consul at Matagalpa, was seized by Sandino, Harold Patteson, British charge at Managua was informed. He immediately conferred with the American minister, Charles C. Eberhardt as to the steps being taken to protect British lives and property.

Additional marines had been sent to Matagalpa since Sunday and more were sent yesterday, Mr. Eberhardt said. Matagalpa is about 90 miles from Managua and marines can make the trip in from eight to nine hours.

Sandino is believed to intend to seize the coffee now ready for the market and to intend to sell it. Thus he will be able to pay his troops and buy them provisions. He can get plenty of food and supplies by raiding the wealthy coffee plantations in the district. Most of these are owned by Americans, Britons, Germans and other foreigners. In official circles there is no fear that Sandino will attack the town of Matagalpa.

Nevertheless many refugees are arriving in Managua from Matagalpa and they come here in fear Sandino will attack the town.

Two members of a band of 20 guerillas were believed to have been wounded in a skirmish between them and marines near Somoto, Nueva Segovia. Most of the band were armed only with machetes and disappeared into the brush when marines opened fire.

Harold Patteson, British charge d'affaires, today said he had received confirmation by telephone of the presence of Augustino Sandino, rebel leader, in the vicinity of Matagalpa with a well-armed and mounted force of 150 men.

Mr. Patteson said that he had spoken with Charles Potter, brother of Alexander Potter, the British vice consul at Matagalpa, during which Mr. Potter said:

"My foreman, Mr. Frankel, a German, advised me at Matagalpa that Sandino had entered my plantation called 'La Fundadora' at 4 p. m. Tuesday, leaving at 3 a. m. Wednesday for the hills around the plantation. Sandino had 150 mounted and well armed and disciplined soldiers. Sandino behaved extremely well and as far as I know Sandino did not take anything.

"During Sandino's stay at La Fundadora, Sandino wrote a threatening, menacing note to the chief Nicaraguan authority in that district complaining of the cowardly actions of the marines in Nueva Segovia and that he would be delighted to meet the marines in the hills around Matagalpa when blood would flow."

Turkish "Prexy" Gets Right Hot Adjacent Collar

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 9. (AP)—One lira notes of Turkey's new paper money can no longer pass from hand to hand without minute scrutiny on the part of the receiver.

Some one has pin-pricked the eyes of President Kemal in several hundred of the bills where his picture is printed in the paper. The pin pricks are visible only when the bills are held to the light.

Anyone caught by the police with a pin-pricked note is immediately arrested unless he can tell where he got it. Arrests will continue until the culprit responsible is found and sent to Angora where heavy judgment awaits him.

Local Merchants Lose $30 to Two 'Check' Artists

Police officers are searching for two young men in a Chrysler coupe who received more than $30 in cash from several local grocers and a lumber yard on "hot" checks during the past few days.

In each case one of the men went into the store, ordered a bill of goods sent to a fake address and gave a check for about $10 more than the amount of the bill, escaping with the change.

City officers trailed the two men Wednesday but were unable to catch up with them. The pair became suspicious finally and left town by way of the Henrietta road.

PRODUCER OF DISPUTED FILM TO DEFY GERMANS

LONDON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Doubt was expressed by newspapers today as to the power of the British censor to stop the showing of the film depicting the career of Edith Cavell British nurse, executed as a spy in Belgium during the war. In face of a protest from th German foreign office, Herbert Wilcox, the producer of the film, said he intended to show it in Berlin.

Spangler of the Matador schools, secretary of the Motley County Chamber of Commerce in his annual report, reviewed the accomplishments of the chamber during the past year, and proposed the following objectives for the work of the chamber this year: Natural gas, paving, sewer system, completion of road program, a star route to Childress, county park and fair grounds, a bigger and better Motley county fair and a diversified farming program for the county.

Judge G. E. Hamilton of Matador presided as toastmaster, President Farris Fish of the Motley County Chamber of Commerce made the welcome address to which Secretary Ed Bishop of Floyada responded. The Rev. E. Thorpe of the Matador Methodist church delivered the invocation.

The first entertainment feature was a concert by the Matador Municipal band, followed by music by the Matador High School Ukulele club. Readings were given by Marian Warren and Allie Traweek.

A feature of the evening was the old time fiddling by J. D. Morris of Whitefiat, Texas, assisted by his son, Harry, and son-in-law, A. Watson.

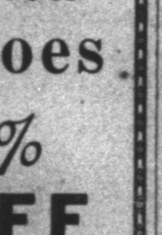

The banquet was served in the basement of the Methodist church, by the girls of the Four H. clubs of Motley county. The preparation of the meal was in charge of the Parent-Teacher association of Matador under the direction of its president, Mrs. B. M. Sudduth.

LAKE WORTH PLEASURE BOAT IS DESTROYED A'D ENGINEER IS INJURED

FORT WORTH, Feb. 9. (AP)—The Alvez Lake Worth pleasure boat, which was destroyed in a spectacular fire on the lake yesterday afternoon, probably will be rebuilt, Captain R. R. Dalehite, owner, said.

The cause of the fire which started with a terrific explosion in the engine room had not been determined today. J. M. Landrum, engineer, and Clyde Gladden, pilot, were the only two persons on the craft when it caught fire about 600 feet from the shore. They were rescued by a passing motor boat. Landrum was burned slightly about his face but Gladden was not injured.

The damage to a privately owned boat house and the loss of the craft was estimated at $40,000.

—If you do not recognize this hybrid word, we will try to use it often enough within the next 10 days that it will become a household phrase with a definite message.

—At the City National bank, the First National bank, Perkins-Timberlake and the Wichita State bank are stationed members of the Woman's Forum who are supplied with grand opera tickets of all prices.

—They hope you will buy your tickets from them at the same wage you pay elsewhere and give the votes which are allowed for every seat sold through the Woman's Forum.

—Call at one of these stations today and consult the auditorium seat plan and select your seat without having to stand in line at the box office. Help them to help themselves and the grand opera sponsors.

This hard-water soap soaks clothes whiter!

I USED to be dead tired every washday because I had such a heavy wash and it was such a hard job for me.

But no more drudgery for me! Now I use Rinso, the granulated hard-water soap. It loosens the dirt and stains like magic! Clothes come out so white and snowy that I scarcely have to rub a thing. I don't even bother boiling any more.

Rinso alone—without a softener—makes our water wonderfully soft and sudsy. And the suds stand right up until I'm ready to rinse.

One of my neighbors uses Rinso in her washer. She says it's great, too—no other soap comes up to it.

Just ask your grocer for Imitate "Canada Dry"? Gild the lily?

It can't be done!

"OH, yes it can," a lot of people thought. And so they tried it. But those people were wrong. For to imitate "Canada Dry" is as impossible and futile as trying to gild the lily. It can't be done.

Why? First, because this ginger ale is made from the purest ingredients. Second, because it contains high-grade Jamaica ginger. Third, because this ginger ale is blended in an exact proportion to produce a balanced beverage.

But most important of all—the formula from which "Canada Dry" is made is a secret known to only three men. There ultimately rests the reason for its marvelous, subtle, characteristic flavor. There rests the reason, too, for its world-wide popularity and reputation.

ZOË BECKLEY'S CORNER

Look Elsewhere

"Dear Zoe: How can I regain the love of a young man who left me because I refused to go with him to a tough dance hall my mother had forbidden me to go to? —BABE."

Why should a girl want to regain the love of such a youth? Besides, it is not a question of love at all. Haven't we scolded and scolded about using the word "love" to designate everything from enjoyment of a frosted chocolate to the admiration of a young man's shoulders.

Love? What are you talking about? No boy who loved you would drop you like a hot potato because you refused to go to a place he had no business to ask you in the first place.

Now be sensible, forget this chap and look round for someone who will lift you up, not pull you down.

A Mysterious Something

"Dear Zoe: I am a young man who has a certain girl constantly in his thoughts. I dream of her too. I love her. But there is something I don't understand. What to do? —B. H."

There will always be something you don't understand about girls! But we can't help you much unless we know more about this mystery.

If you mean you don't know whether she cares for you or not you can find out soon enough by asking. Why not ask anyhow about the mystery-thing?

We could all do with a little more frankness. Many of life's miseries, mysteries and injustices come from our not being willing to speak up about things and thresh them out

Can This Be Love?

"Dear Zoe: The young woman I am engaged to is 25 and we have known each other over three years. Have bought lots of household things and will soon be married. One evening lately she did something which shocked me because it showed such lack of self-control. I do not like girls to do such things and she has kept them up. She cries afterwards and says she doesn't mean to be vulgar. But I am losing respect for her and don't love her as I did. Please advise me. —W."

Perhaps you are the least bit prudish. Men are, you know—Oh, often! Don't take your girl's outbursts too seriously. Use tact and a little reserve, and when she realizes you are displeased at her too passionate lovemaking, she will curb it.

There's this about it. Marriage mostly cures this super-warmth. Many a couple wish to goodness they had a little more of the enthusiasm of pre-marriage days.

On the other hand, a big blaze soon burns out, and it is well to have self-control and keep some love in reserve.

Tell her that.

Don't Handcuff Him

"Dear Zoe: This boy and I go out a lot and I like him better than anyone else. He likes me so too. But there is another girl who makes all kinds of advances and behaves like a fool toward him. This makes me mad. What can I do to be sure of him?

—E. L."

You will be surer of him by giving him a little rope than by clamping him down and getting mad whenever he looks at another girl. If he is worth two cents he will care for you all the more because your behavior is in contrast to the flapper who drapes herself around his neck.

A little laughter is often a cure for such carryings-on. Don't get angry; be amused. Ridicule ends such things oftener than getting mad and teary, or resentful and cold.

Feminine Credo

"Dear Zoe: Is a girl thought any the less of if she smokes moderately and drinks moderately? Which girls are sought after more, the ones who pet or the ones who don't. We are regarded as wet blankets if we don't, yet we aren't much better off if we do. We want to be good sports, yet not flat tires. We are not gold diggers, but sometimes we think 'spongers' get more out of life.

—TWO WONDERERS."

We don't think if a girl knows how to "drink moderately and smoke moderately" she is thought the less of. But few of them know how to draw the line. There is nothing more repellent to men than a girl who cannot take a glass of claret punch without acting like an idiot, or getting sick.

Generally speaking, girls don't need to drink in order to be lively. Older persons often do. Drink has a deadening effect on many young folks, which is just the opposite effect to what they want.

Smoking is greatly overdone. Most girls cultivate a taste for it just because others do. Then it takes hold of them and they can't do without it. Any habit which can't be controlled is a handicap.

Men tolerate smoking for girls, even encourage it. But you will never find a man who isn't glad when a girl declines to smoke.

As for petting, there is always a way of giving men a taste of this sort of thing without ever overstepping the mark of decency.

The prude who draws back and sniffs at others' vulgarity is a pest. But the girl who knows how to kiss just a little, pet just a little, smoke just a little, drink just a little, without cheapening herself, is the girl men like, admire and run after.

This can be managed by showing a gay, fun-loving spirit but absolutely refusing to go in for the heavy stuff. Get us?

Don't be a gold digger or a sponge. Accept invitations in moderation, but never hint for things and never allow a man to spend on you more than he can afford or more than he feels like spending.

By ANNE AUSTIN

Quite suddenly, as if her decision were an answer to the prayers she had been frantically hurling toward heaven in Cherry's behalf, Faith sprang from the couch where Bob had lovingly made her comfortable with many cushions, and hurried to the telephone. Rhoda was in the kitchen, preparing sandwiches and fruit punch for a late supper; Bob and Nils were still in the sun parlor, absorbed in plans for Nils' new home and dairy farm. No one would know, she assured herself, as she breathlessly but in a guardedly low voice called the number of the Marlboro Country club.

"Hello! I want to speak with Miss Cherry Lane, please. Yes, she's there tonight, attending the dance, she gasped into the telephone when a steward of the club answered.

After an interminable delay, during which Faith imagined Cherry in Bill Warren's arms, plighting her troth to him in a desperate attempt to salvage whatever happiness possible out of what she considered the wreckage of her life, the steward's crisp, English voice again came over the wire:

"Sorry, Madame, but Miss Lane is not in the ballroom or anywhere in the club house, so far as I can discover. Any message, Madame?"

"No." Faith answered dully. "Thank you."

She was so weak with disappointment and with the sickening conviction that tragedy had again overtaken the ill-fated Lane family, that she was staggering drunkenly as she moved toward the haven of the living room couch. Before she reached it the door opening directly from the living room upon the little patio was torn open, then banged shut, and Cherry, casting her jade green velvet evening coat from her, stood there, a tense, rigid little figure in the jaunty costume which she had hired for the masquerade ball. She had shed the goggles somewhere, and her golden eyes glittered wide in her shockingly white face. Even her lips, on which there was only a faint trace of the geranium-colored salve that she used, were bloodless and curled back against her teeth, as if with disgust of herself.

"Cherry!" Faith held out her arms then dizziness overmastered her and she fell heavily to the couch.

Instantly Cherry sprang forward, the blind brightness of her eyes giving way to human pity. "Oh, Faith, I've frightened you! I'm sorry. But I thank God you're alone." And she dropped to her knees and burrowed her green-helmeted head in her sister's lap.

"Where's Bill, Cherry?" Faith asked soothingly, as she put her arms about the storm-shaken little figure that crouched against her.

"I don't know! I ran away!" Cherry sobbed. "Oh, Faith, I've had a horrible time, but I'm safe now! I—I—"

"Tell me, darling," Faith urged, and, illogically, her heart was flooded with happiness.

Tomorrow: Cherry crucified.

"Smooth Beautiful Skin strongest fundamental appeal"

says Gregory La Cava, director for PARAMOUNT

"The public takes to its heart only the fortunates who have that first essential for stardom—'studio skin,' that exquisite velvety bloom that keeps its perfection even in searching close-ups.

"Make-up, no matter how clever, cannot fake this flawless beauty.

"The most universal appeal any star has is her exquisite smooth skin." . . Gregory La Cava.

ANNA Q. NILSSON and the modernistic bathroom designed for her blonde loveliness.

EXQUISITE skin—"studio skin"—means even more to stars than it does to most women—it means their very career!

Nine out of every ten screen stars use Lux Toilet Soap. It cares for their exquisite skin the real French way—keeps it soft, velvety. For Lux Toilet Soap is made by the very method France developed and uses for her finest toilet soaps. In Hollywood, nothing is watched more jealously than loveliness of skin.

The great film companies following their stars' example have put Lux Toilet Soap in all their studio dressing rooms as the "official" soap. White, fragrant, delightful!

You, too, will find that Lux Toilet Soap's caressing lather is wonderful for a woman's greatest charm—her softly smooth skin. Order some today—enjoy the caressing, fragrant lather you loved in French soaps, but until now could only get at 50c or $1.00 a cake! Now it is just 10c wherever soap is sold. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Nine out of ten screen stars use it. Miss Nilsson says—

"IF a star's skin isn't beautifully smooth, her popularity wanes. Lux Toilet Soap has solved my problem—it leaves my skin like velvet."

PROHIBITION AND HOMICIDE.

Members of the W. C. T. U. in a regional convention at Chicago were told recently by one of their officials that "there has not been a single shooting on the part of the United States enforcement officers that was without warrant, nor a single instance in which the offender did not either shoot first or threaten the life of the officer."

Assuming that the lady's information is accurate, it still doesn't explain why enforcement officers should be exempted from trial in state courts when they kill. If they have been so consistently in the right in their homicidal activities, why is it deemed necessary to take them into federal courts, where they are usually whitewashed, instead of treating them as other slayers are treated? We hope, for the sake of the cause of law enforcement in general, that the information given the W. C. T. U. is correct, and that the killers among the enforcement officers have always been in the right. We would be more ready to believe it if all such officers had not been formed into a sacrosanct group, exempt from the ordinary processes of law

HELPING HOUSTON

We hope that the plan to raise funds here to assist in entertaining the Democratic convention at Houston will meet with a ready and liberal response. It is an undertaking in which every Texan ought to want to share.

Houston had to put up $200,000 to get the convention. Democratic national committees know what a campaign costs. They do not have the means of raising campaign funds that some other parties seem to enjoy, and $200,000 looked good to them. Houston must now provide an auditorium for the convention; this will be a temporary structure, but even then will hardly cost less than $100,000. Then there will be many other items of expense that will raise Houston's total expense to at least half a million dollars.

Houston will derive immense benefits from the convention, in return for its part of the expenditure, but so will all of Texas be benefitted. It is a great opportunity for the state as a whole to sell itself to the rest of the nation. Houston has not asked for outside help, but Texas should be proud enough to give it, anyhow.

THE KLAN'S STATUS

The New York Times publishes dispatches from 16 different states anent the present political power of the Ku Klux Klan, showing, in general, that the organization "has lost the greater part of its membership and influence" and that "only in spots" is the klan's fight on Al Smith making noteworthy headway. Klansmen will oppose Smith's nomination in the South, the New York paper finds, "but are not regarded as being in position to oppose him openly for election."

If Smith is the Democratic nominee, he can thank the klan for helping to bring about his nomination. Not that the klan intentionally helps him, but the memory of the klan's methods and preachments has undoubtedly prompted many people to support Smith as a sort of protest against the klan. Many who would ordinarily be opposed to putting a Catholic in the president's chair would now like to see this nation make the gesture of tolerance that Smith's success would represent. They have seen the horrible example of intolerance.

There are, of course, sections where the klan is still powerful; but, generally speaking, it is in the position of helping the New Yorker by combatting him.

MAYBE A CRUMB WILL FALL FROM THE TABLE

Dallas, Fort Worth, Greenville and Corsicana are among the Texas cities scheduled to get new postoffice buildings, under the pending appropriation bill. We don't begrudge them anything they can get. We doubt like thunder whether any of these cities needs enlarged postal facilities worse than Wichita Falls does, but at any rate they have been able to convince somebody of their needs and are going to get some relief.

We of Wichita Falls wouldn't presume to insist on a new post office, too. We must pay the penalty for doing something that no other city, so far as we know, has ever done—build an addition to the post office ourselves because it just had to have it. We can get by, somehow or other, with the post office we have.

It may be brazen and audacious to suggest it. We hope no one will take offense. But while the government is spending a few millions for buildings in cities that don't need them any worse than Wichita Falls does, couldn't it, we wonder, scrape up just a few hundred dollars and replace the wood block paving on Ninth street?

RUNNING TRUE TO FORM

Things are running about as usual in the New York legislature. It is a Republican legislature, and it is trying to put the axe to everything that Governor Smith has recommended. True, there is a bit more viciousness than usual, in the axe-swinging, for this is a presidential year, but the session doesn't differ much from former ones since Smith has been governor.

Governor Smith is dealing with the situation as usual, too. First, in messages, interviews and speeches, he blesses out the Republican legislators to the best of his ability along that line, which is considerable. Then he asks the people to make the legislature do as he says. The people do so, the Republican legislators change their minds and Mr. Smith has his way.

You'd think the Republicans would get tired of opposing his program, after a while, and vote with him without being made to. But it doesn't seem to make any difference, in the end.

FOR A SOBER CONVENTION

The prohibition enforcement officers who have announced, four months ahead of time, that the Houston convention will be "bone-dry" are now, we presume, the same ones who made similar announcements prior to the conventions in 1920 and 1924. Efforts to dry up the San Francisco convention in 1920 might be described as almost totally unsuccessful, and it has been reported that drinks were to be found, if one sought a little, at New York in 1924.

Houston is a better-behaved city than either San Francisco or New York, and enforcement agents may have greater success there. We shall hope so. It will be a time when the party will need all the deliberate, sober judgment that it can command. The results of the last two conventions, wet ones, were not such as to convince us of the efficacy of liquor as an aid to political deliberations.

The Role of Compromise

By GLENN FRANK
President of University of Wisconsin and Former Editor of the Century Magazine

Some fights go on forever.

The eternal differences between people keep many fights going regardless of the changes that mark every generation.

The intellectualists will always fight the emotionalists.

The adventurers will always fight the assenters.

The doubters will always fight the dogmatists.

The apostles of severity will always fight the apostles of sentiment.

The eternal dilemma of appearance versus reality keeps many fights going alike in primitive and in progressive lands.

Reality says stop before you are full if you would be healthy and happy; appearance says eat your fill if you would enjoy life.

Reality says, if you would improve men, take the slow road of moral persuasion; appearance says, if you really want to improve men, take the swift route of force, and save time.

On a thousand and one fundamental human issues, half the race follows the lead of reality, half the lead of appearance, and on many issues this division will persist until the world is old and cold.

But many fights are settled permanently in one of the three following ways:

First, by one side capturing or convincing the other.

It is by this method that one set of fashions, whether of dress or demeanor, whether of impulse or idea, triumphs over another set of fashions.

Second, by an amalgamation of the two sides, both merging their partial principles in a larger and more comprehensive principle.

States rights and federal centralization, for instance, may cease to fight and merge in a nation-wide agreement that some problems can best be handled nationally and some can best be handled locally.

Third, by a division of labor between the two, or, more accurately, by each side confining its operations to a field that does not overlap the field of the other.

In a fight between transportation by motor bus and transportation by train, a clear division of labor may yet come that will give each an undisputed field in which to operate.

But now and then it seems necessary to arrive at temporary settlements of fights—and it is here that the method of compromise appears, and compromise may serve two valuable purposes, viz:

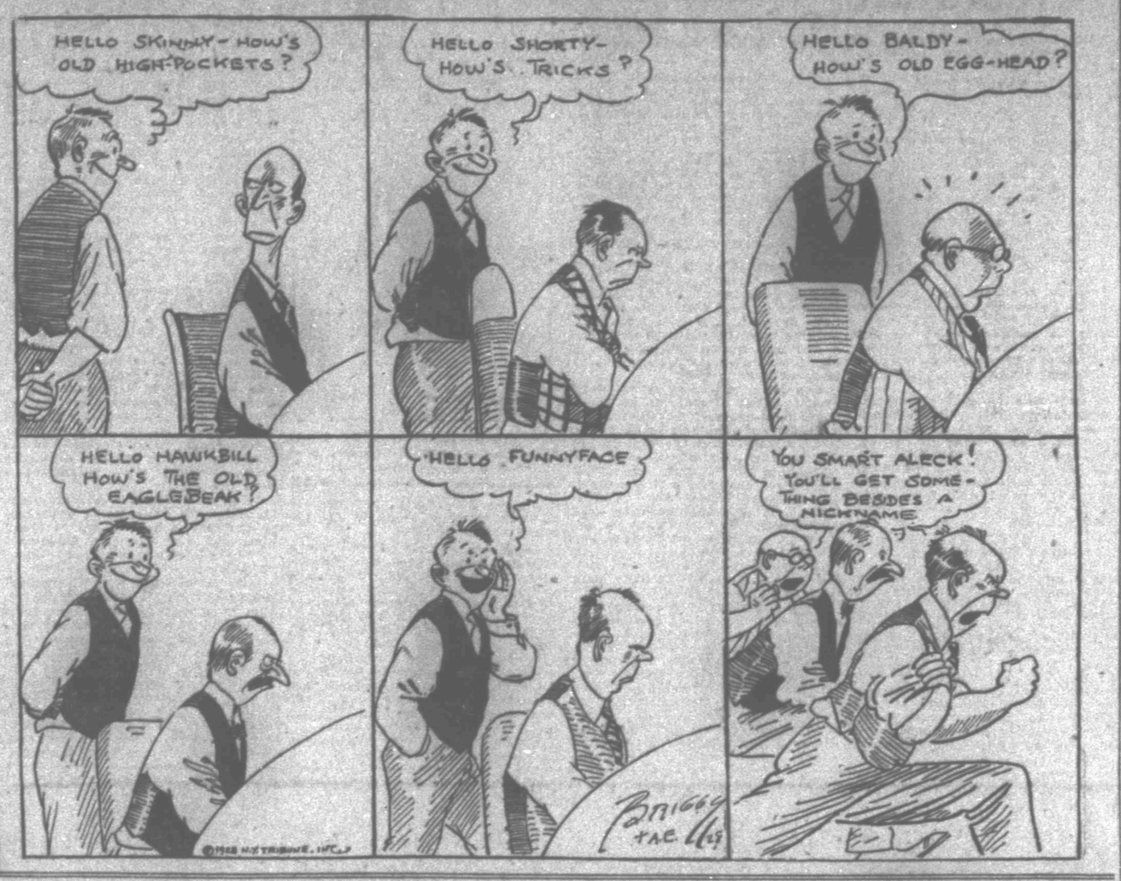

First, compromise may break a costly deadlock.

Second, compromise may give us the benefit of a half loaf while we are waiting for the whole loaf.

But compromise is a tavern on the way; it is not a permanent home at the end of the road.

There's at Least One in Every Office

Your Boy —and— Your Girl

By ARTHUR DEAN, M. D.
The Parent Counsellor

Dr. Dean will answer all signed letters pertaining to parents' problems with their boys and girls. Writers' names are never printed. Only questions of general interest answered in the column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Address Arthur Dean, in care of this paper

"Who cares? Time enough when it comes! I'll get my diploma and take a good long vacation (for it's the last big one I'll ever have) and then I'll look around for a position some time in the fall when business picks up."

Meanwhile Willie Wise has been giving part time to a job to see if he likes that sort of work. Sally Sane has been making candy and selling it to discover her capacity for business and whether she really wants to take a special course later fitting her to become an expert at the candy game. Sam Slick has already tied up with an automobile agency man and is selling cars on Saturdays and evenings. Dora Dumb has made up her mind that it is high time that she buckle down to school work and get that diploma, proving that she's not so dumb as her past reports indicate. Bill Loskahead is figuring out how he can go to college when he has not even the price of admission. Questioning Quentin debates whether college education pays.

This column would like to come into this game. We are on the last lap of the school year 1927-1928. For many, June marks the end of school and the beginning of a life sentence at hard labor; to others it means a life lasting opportunity in expressing the creative spirit which lies dormant in all of us.

Over the door of a school house I know, is this legend: "Work is one of our greatest blessings. Every one should have an honest occupation." To youth this sounds sentimental. To age it speaks truth. "Long ago," a young woman of thirty writes me, "you told us girls in your class room that the greatest thing in life was creative work, and the next greatest was love, and the third was someone to whom one could bring the fruits of both. At the time I didn't get you. Now, God knows, I do. I've hunted for happiness and forgotten creative work. And in forgetting creative, useful work I've lost happiness."

Let's ask ourselves, my young friends, a few plain questions. And if you would like my answers in much more detailed form than is possible here, in the space at my disposal, I'll send them in "Helplets" if you will draw a circle around that number where the questions trouble you. This is with the compliments of this home newspaper.

1. Would you like to be a secretary instead of a stenographer and how should you go about it?
2. Have you a desire to write and what is the second step?
3. Having missed your schooling are you thinking of taking a correspondence course and are you wondering how you can test the truth of their advertisements?
4. What's the value of a college education? Is one just as well off without one?

Draw a circle, clip and S. A. S. E. and please ask for only two.

OUR CONVERSATION CORNER

Dogs Again.

The poem and letter in your column about the immortality of dogs pleased me. There is a Hindu story of a brave warrior who, after his death, would not enter heaven because his faithful dog was refused admittance. Then was the god Indra pleased with the warrior's nobility. He touched the hero's dog, making him a god, and they entered heaven together.

—HOPEFUL.

Comment: I'd rather think a nice thing that wasn't true than to know a true thing that wasn't nice. That's why I stick to the idea that my Marco Polo, Paul Pry and Peter Beewulf are going where I go.

Married and Therefore.

What is the case against married teachers?

—ENGAGED TEACHER.

Answer—There is only one. It is the difficulty of serving two masters. Nevertheless I do not favor dismissing teachers who marry. Many women would teach better if they were married. Others would be more successful if their minds were on their work instead of home troubles. There is universal rule. It depends upon the individual and her home conditions. From legal standpoint I agree with a recent California decision:

"Marriage is not a valid legal objection to a woman's right to teach. Causes for dismissal as outlined in the political code cover immoral or unprofessional conduct, incompetency, evident unfitness for teaching, persistent violation of, or refusal to obey, school laws in California, or reasonable rules prescribed for the government of the schools.

"Marriage is not immoral, nor incompetency, or persistent violation or refusal and to violate the code the only remaining grounds would be refusal to obey the 'reasonable rules.'"

I cannot conceive that the fact that the teacher, male or female, who gets married, can be considered as violating any reasonable rule prescribed for the government of public school.

By the Way in Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The harmony bloc in the Democratic party has been gradually gaining strength since the whole party woke up with a bad headache in November, 1924, and realized the seriousness of the after effects of its orgy of strife in Madison Square garden.

The harmony bloc is likely to dominate the Houston convention. It may even show such strength as to make the hell-raising bloc in the party look sick and silly. Or, as some bitter-end members of the hell-raising bloc insist, the worst internal struggle of the party's history may lie ahead. But the harmony bloc has a program of logic and common sense to which most of the biggest men in the party have subscribed, and it will take more than Tom Heflin to upset it.

Senator Pat Harrison, the great orator from Mississip' who made such a swell-elegant keynote speech to the 1924 convention only to see his good work go for naught as Smith and McAdoo attacked each other, outlined his harmony bloc program by request of this writer. It may be summed up by the question: If the Republicans can bury their numerous factional differences at convention time for the "spoils of office," why can't the Democrats use their heads and do as much for the good of both the party and the nation?

"If the Democrats will just profit by the mistakes they made in 1924," said Senator Pat, "and will eliminate those matters about which there is always a difference of opinion which divides parties; if they will agree on the principles and policies upon which the party was founded and to which it has always adhered, we will be in a most advantageous position to go before the country in the coming campaign.

"The Democrats must exercise enough common sense to refuse to accept those controversial differences which the Republican party always shuns but is ever alert and smart enough to hand to us. Then we can present united front,

"If we can't do that, we might as well break up the two big parties and form them along new lines. But the Democratic party has too great a mission to allow itself to be swerved from its course through mifor differences. It is the only interest through and by which the rank and file of the American people—and that includes the laboring man, the farmer, the clerk and the honest business man—can get a square deal. The Republican party, with its special treatment for special interests, its favoritism to certain classes and its subsidies and protective tariffs make the road for the average man and woman rough and almost impossible to travel.

"Corruption in office and stacking of the federal commissions with persons to carry out the dictates of dishonest big business is now synonymous with Republicanism. These abuses are the barnacles now infest this government and becomes more apparent the longer that party stays in control.

"It is against these abuses, inquities and injustices that the principles of Democracy have always been opposed, and it is those principles of honesty and decency to which Democrats can subscribe and unite upon. In the coming fight, Democracy should dedicate itself to removing these conditions, steering clear of other questions upon which all Democrats cannot agree and which inevitably lead to disruption.

"Anything other than a harmonious and united course on the part of the Democratic party plays into the hands of our political enemies. What we need is patience, toleration and common sense in laying down our battle lines for the campaign. The Republican party is more divided than the Democratic party. There are as many brands of Republicans as there are designs in a crazy quilt. The trouble is that they are wise enough to appease their appetites on the spoils of office and special treatment and bury their differences as to detail.

"I'm against allowing Republican leaders and Republican newspapers to dictate the Democratic nominee and the Democratic issues.

"The Democratic party isn't a minority party except when Democrats themselves make it a minority party."

Senator Pat Harrison . . . "If the Democrats will just profit by their mistakes!"

Little Benny's Note-Book

This morning ma hert her rist trying to raise a stuck window, and pop put iodine on it for her, saying, Tee gods, why dident you ask me to raise that window?

"Worst Story I Have Heard Today"

By WILL ROGERS

A lot of ailments are just imaginary, they say. Now, there was a Scotchman, according to a fellow in Chicago, that stuttered like everything right up to the time he graduated from college. There was a big rumpus in the family about what kind of work the young man should go into, and the folks couldn't decide, because almost any job they could think of had some talking in it, and they was afraid the favorite son would be embarrassed on account of the stutter.

So his dad got him a job in his own brokerage house. He was put in charge of a telephone line between the Chicago office and the broker's office in New York, and had to talk on this long distance line about 20 times a day.

The very first night that guy come home cured.

"They didn't tell me what the tolls was, Dad," says the bright son, "but I knowed they was too high to be stuttering over dimes. I found out I could say nickels and cents without any trouble at all, and so I just had 'em bid a nickel or a cent at a time. Now I'm so good I guess I'll be able to bid dimes and dollars tomorrow."

"Nay, nay," says the sire, "you needn't mind. We'll make you vice president tomorrow."

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The old woman who waddles through City Hall square in the late hours of the afternoon, balancing upon her head a great bundle of rags and papers. . . . Just as the setting sun begins to carve its last cubist angles about the towering Wall street skyscrapers, you will see her slowly trudging along, her bulky body bent under the weight of her load. . . . A second bundle of rags and papers loads down her hands. . . . As she toddles she mumbles to herself something that is half a chant and half a monologue. . . . It is no language known to the human ear.

The sleek, immaculately dressed young men of "the street" Sweep by her. . . . In the late afternoon rush they jostle her. And the bundle, so well balanced upon her head, sways precariously but does not fall. . . . She disappears finally under the City Hall arch, her shuffling steps carrying her in the direction of the tawdry lanes of tenements that lie beyond. . . . In the fantastic patterns of light and shadow she becomes a startling symbol of poverty that creeps past unnoticed in the midst of wealth and power.

Those strange curbstone merchants who crowd the narrow lanes just back of Chinatown. . . . Each one carries his wares in his hand or in his pocket. . . . Each tries to trade upon the other, or upon some passing vagrant from the Bowery. . . . The merchandise in which they deal is nothing short of incredible. Here is an old fellow in a skull cap, a mammoth beard bulging over his chest and he is holding out an ancient pair of suspenders from which elasticity is fast parting. . . . Here is a younger man with two well-worn belts over an arm. . . . Here is one with a pair of patched overalls. . . . Another with a well-worn coat. . . . Another with an old alarm clock. . . . Here you will find ancient watch chains, cheap wrist watches, made-over shoes and battered hats. . . . As though engaged in some mad pantomime they mill about each other, passing and re-passing in a sort of circle. . . . From a distance the little crowd resembles a throng gathered to watch a fight.

They approach their customers with a furtive whisper in the air. . . . At the same time they hold up their sad-looking wares. . . . Now and then they exchange confidences over the dullness of business and try to strike a bargain among each other. . . . Now and then a new delegation arrives and disappears into one of the many strange-looking outfitting stores that line the side streets. . . . These emerge from the stores eventually with the day's stock in trade.

These are the most primitive of Manhattan's merchants. Their means of barter is not unlike the ancient street methods of the Orient. This is their particular bazaar, and to it comes the tag-ends and down-and-outs of the city.

From this curbstone business, the merchants generally graduate to the dignity and affluence of a push-cart business. The next step is a little store over on the East Side, with some push-carts on the side in case business is bad. Many a Manhattan merchant prince has built his success over such a route.

SAVING the PIECES

(Explanations from other publications appearing in this column are chosen for the information they give on subjects of interest; they do not necessarily reflect the editorial viewpoint of The Times.)

Why France Is on the Rhine

On Thursday Dr. Stresemann, foreign minister of Germany, made another plea in the reichstag for the evacuation of the Rhineland by French troops. He argued that Germany is disarmed, that France has good reason to feel sure that Germany is disarmed, and that the charge is no longer being made that Germany is arming secretly. He argued, again, that Germany has signed the Treaties of Locarno and that the pledged word and the enormous power of Great Britain stand behind these treaties. In these circumstances, he declared, the presence of a small body of French troops in the Rhineland was of no real value to France and only an incentive to ill-feeling. "What we Germans wish," said Doctor Stresemann, "is that this iron curtain shall no longer hang between France and Germany, that it shall be raised in order to make possible a real rapprochement."

To this statement Mr. Briand, speaking for France now makes this reply:

Locarno gives us all the security on the Rhine we need, but the small force we keep there is there by virtue of the treaty of Versailles, and so long as the treaty of Versailles is unfulfilled we must regretfully stay where we are. If you Germans want us out sooner than 1935 you will hurry along with the commercialization of your reparation debt and the fulfillment of all disarmament conditions, then we will be only too pleased to go.

This is an unusual statement and an important statement. It is unusual for the frankness with which it discards the old argument of "security" as a reason for continued occupation of the Rhineland. It is important because it states for the first time formally and officially that the Rhine occupation is now tied solely to the question of German reparations.

If this question itself is difficult and dangerous, at least Europe has come some distance toward a restoration of good-will when spokesmen of Germany and France can talk to one another so directly.—New York World.

Barber Shop Wisdom

The other day we lay in a barber chair and soaked up some wisdom. The father of three boys was discussing with another the cause of boys of high school and college age becoming bandits and murderers in order to obtain money. The father blamed the public school system. He said he managed to clothe his boys, fed and house them and pay for their school books but the added demand for tickets for football and basketball games, school plays, socials and clubs, coupled with money for the school paper; the spring annual and what not had made an educational bolshevik out of him. The other man laid the blame to the home. He said boys were not taught the value of money. Failing to get an easy, white collared job they seek money through the channels of crime.—Kansas City Star.

DAILY HEALTH TALK

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

More and more as the value of the vitamins in the diet of human beings is being realized, new sources of these valuable elements are being sought.

Experiments made some years ago indicated that watercress is an excellent source of vitamin A. The animal body can store both vitamin A and vitamin D.

If the supply of these vitamins is stopped the animal continues to grow and thrive until its reserve of these vitamins is exhausted. Then it must be fed additional vitamin or it will cease growth and die.

Vitamin D is found largely in cod liver oil and its place may be taken by rays of ultraviolet. Vitamin A is found in butter and in cod liver oil.

Experiments just announced by Drs. Katherine H. Coward and F. Eggleton of the department of physiology and biochemistry of the University of London indicate that there is a seasonal variation in the growth-promoting properties of the watercress.

Spinach is richer in vitamin D in the summer than it is in winter. The same is true of watercress. Summer watercress is a remarkably rich source of vitamin A and contains a goodly amount of vitamin D.

Vitamin C is the anti-scurvy vitamin. When animals fail to receive adequate amounts of vitamin C they develop symptoms of scurvy in from 12 to 14 days. The British investigators found that a feeding of watercress shoots would successfully protect the animals against the onset of scurvy.

Thus the watercress, which is considered by restaurateurs and by most of their patrons as merely a sort of handsome decorative substances to be served as a garnish on orders of meat, is found to be exceedingly valuable because of its content of vitamins.

EXPECT COUNTY BOARD TO VOTE AGAINST AUDIT

PUBLIC HEARING SET FOR MONDAY ON 1927 PROPOSAL

NICHOLSON AND BUNDY OPPOSE EXPENDITURES

Special Session of Court Friday Also to Consider Report On Finances

Predictions were current in official circles Thursday that the county commissioners' court will vote down a proposal to order a special audit of county records for 1927 when the board convenes Monday for the second of two meetings which will concern themselves chiefly with matters of audits.

The first of the two meetings is scheduled for Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock when the court will attempt to make a final disposition of any claims for excess fees from the estate of A. F. Kerr, former district clerk.

The second meeting, which is the regular monthly session of the court, will devote some of its time to a public hearing on the proposal to order an audit of 1927 county records. The public hearing is a necessary preliminary, after which the court may reject or approve the actual order for an audit.

E. W. Nicholson, county judge, and M. A. Bundy, commissioner from the Wichita Falls precinct, both have declared their opposition to ordering the audit. Both, however, voted to submit the matter to a public hearing so that citizens might have an opportunity to put their opinions concerning the proposal on record.

The cost of the audit, which is estimated at about $2,500, and the fact that there were no changes in officers during 1928 from those of 1927 were among reasons advanced by the two members of the court for their stand. Belief was further expressed that if the audit is ordered, it is almost certain to result in an opposition which will be carried into the courts where the contention will be raised that insufficient cause exists to permit the court to legally take such a step.

Little of an exciting nature was expected by Judge Nicholson to develop at Friday's meeting, at which a report will be made on a recheck of certain items relating to Mr. Kerr's accounts as listed in the special audit completed recently by Smith, Allred and company. T. R. Boone, attorney for the Kerr estate, contended that the special audit failed to give Mr. Kerr credit for all salaries paid to his deputies and that there were inconsistencies in amounts received from the state comptroller. His contentions resulted in the recheck, which was made by Clinton E. Smith, head of the audit firm, and Frank Johnson, representing the estate.

Mr. Smith declared Thursday that the recheck had confirmed the accuracy of the special audit.

Costuming Opera Company Problem Expert Employed

Stand a brilliant titian against a green background, or turn a blue light upon a red costume and see what happens. Such experiments with fabrics, designs, light and shade, Mr. Antoine Oberding, master of wardrobe for the Chicago Civic Opera company, to appear in Wichita Falls, February 29 and March 1, is constantly making in the warehouse at Twenty-sixth and Dearborn, Chicago, that every costume will give the desired effect—subdued, brilliant or even slenderizing when need be. He could often explain the secret of some fair Chicagoan's sudden success at some party—the wall paper, lights, gown, her coloring would tell him a story many women would long to know.

All costumes used by the chorus of the Chicago Civic Opera company and many used by principals, are designed and produced in the wardrobe department. During the season this keeps 25 persons busy all the time in the shop, and eight in action at the Auditorium theater. It takes hours of careful planning and research, and a touch of genius to have these costumes always right even to a small bit of embroidery, buttons or braid.

Perhaps you think stage lights camouflage cheap goods to like a courtier's velvets. On the contrary, not only the principals, but all chorus members wear brocades and velvets that would be a king's envy.

"If cheap they wear cheap—all to pieces in no time," explained Mr. Oberding. "We cannot afford the labor cost of remaking our costumes."

Even the very best materials, however, require constant care to hold that beautiful new look. Every costume is washed on the premises, in the laundry, or sent out to be cleaned after being worn. All are mended, brushed, pressed and kept in perfect repair.

When the company goes on tour all the costumes for every opera are packed carefully in special wardrobe trunks—men's trunks red banded, women's trunks banded with natural oak.

Between operas they hang, row on row, along great metal poles close to the ceiling of the costume storage room. In this amazing room one finds a fortune invested in clothes, a row of nuns' costumes, next a row of cavalier suits, again beggars' tatters, further the white robes of angels, costumes of all ages and places here together.

Each costume has its number and is as carefully tabulated and located as a card in a filing cabinet. Some have on the label the number of a chorus person, for many of the chorus return year after year, and their costumes are made just to fit.

ACID STOMACH RUINS APPETITE

Thin pale people—the despondent sort who never have an appetite, and complain of headaches, indigestion, dizziness, biliousness, usually have too much acid in their stomach. And unless they displace it, any food they eat turns into sour bile and foul gases, which poison their system.

Pape's Diapepsin dissolves that poisonous acid, sweetens the stomach and digests your meals. Many thousands of people have brought back the appetite of their youth and gained weight simply by chewing one of the pleasant tablets of Pape's Diapepsin after meals.

It does what it promises. That's the reason 5 million packages are used a year—ask your nearest druggist for it.—Adv.

CONGRESS ADVISED TO 'REVEST' LANDS GRANTED RAILROAD

NORTHERN PACIFIC IN WAY TO LOSING TITLE FOR GIGANTIC TRACT

GOVERNMENT HAS CLAIM TO FIVE MILLION ACRES

Railroad in Turn Insists That It Still Has 3,750,000 Acres Due in Grant

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—In an opinion of the land grant case of the Northern Pacific Railroad company, the department of justice today recommended that congress declare title to the disputed three to five million acres forfeited and then suit be brought in the courts for final adjustment.

The case, a long pending one, grew out of the claims by both the government and the railroad that they were entitled to part of the land, and the department's opinion was submitted at the request of a special joint congressional committee appointed at the last session of congress to investigate the grants.

The government claims that the railroad company should turn back approximately 5,000,000 of the 44,000,000 acre grant because it had absorbed land belonging to forest reserves, Indian reservations and mineral deposits.

Railroad Claims More

The railroad company claims that the government should cede them an additional 3,750,000 acres which they were entitled to under the original grant.

All questions of authority would be eliminated and the way cleared for a judicial determination of the whole matter just to both sides, the opinion read, if the following were carried out:

That congress shall declare its determination that the grant be forfeited for "breach by the railroad company of conditions subsequent."

That the lands remaining in the possession of the company be revested in the United States, making proper provisions for readjustment of the grant.

That proper suit for an equitable adjustment of the whole controversy be instituted.

Court Suit Suggested

That the executive branch of the government institute in court proceedings directed to accomplishment of the same end.

"The United States by virtue of the reserved right to add to, alter, amend or repeal the grant," the opinion added, "has the right to revest in itself and repossess all or any part of the granted lands remaining in the ownership of the company, having due regard for the rights of the company. The power to alter, amend or repeal the granting acts rests only in the congress."

"The United States by reason of the breach on the part of the company of conditions subsequent contained in the grant, has the right to declare the grant forfeited, thereby revesting in the United States the legal title to any part or all of the granted lands remaining the ownership of the company.

"As to lands wrongfully acquired by the company from the United States and now disposed of and as to lands rightfully acquired but wrongfully disposed of, the company can be required to account to the United States on an equitable basis. The company is entitled to credit for all it has earned under the grant.

Court Orders Conflict

"Whether the effective power to declare a forfeiture and revesting in the United States of lands granted to the Northern Pacific Railroad company for breach of conditions subsequent rests in the legislative or executive branch of the government, has been the subject of conflicting court decisions.

"Whether some of the conditions under consideration here are conditions subsequent requiring legislative declaration of a purpose to insist on a forfeiture for their breach is a question that might be litigated with consequent delay and expense. Whether the executive branch can make necessary provision for an equitable adjustment of the grant is not certain."

MRS. CUNNINGHAM OUTLINES PLATFORM

Delivers Address Before League of Women Voters, Washington Thursday Night

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Women as candidates and the issues in their campaigns was the topic of the speeches at the dinner held by the Voteless District of Columbia League of Women Voters last night in Barker hall at the Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, candidate for the United States senate from Texas, spoke in regard to her campaign, telling of her plans to cover the state. Presenting the issues, Mrs. Cunningham said: "As far as I can make it so, this is one campaign which will be waged on questions the elected candidate will have to vote on in the senate. And on these questions I mean to declare my position unequivocally and as briefly as possible—for instance, I shall say:

"I am for prohibition.

"For tariff reform as a measure of farm relief and as a means of lowering the cost of living.

"For other measures of farm relief, including the reorganization of the department of agriculture's crop reporting system so as to make it a benefit to the producers and consumers. (The price Texas farmers received for the cotton crop in 1927 was greatly lowered by the September crop report issued by the department of agriculture, and so far no redress has been made.)

"For a reduction in taxes and an adjustment of the tax burden according to the distribution of wealth.

"For an adequate flood control program based on scientific engineering principles applied to the problem.

"For a water power program framed with an eye single to the development of these great natural resources for the public good.

"For a foreign relations policy which will have in mind the whole citizenship of the United States and their genuinely friendly feeling toward the people of the world.

"For a revision of the treatment being accorded Central and South American countries.

"For full cooperation with the League of Nations as the most workable machinery yet devised through which nations may cooperate to adjust their differences and preserve the peace of the world.

"For the use of the world power of the United States to insure the peace of the world."

"I shall, of course," Mrs. Cunningham continued, "elaborate on each of these and other points so that some picture of the situation and the various phases of the question may be presented, but I hope that I shall never make a speech which will leave the people who hear me in doubt as to where I stand."

FORMER WICHITA POLICEMAN OBEYS INJUNCTION RULE

W. M. Davidson, former city police officer, Thursday complied with the order of a mandatory injunction to sign a check for $500, thereby clearing the way to bringing here the portion of a reward made payable to four city officers for their part in the capture here nearly two years ago of two Arkansas bank robbers.

W. E. George, attorney for Mr. Davidson, announced that the instrument had been signed, but explained that the former policeman had not thereby waived his claim to a portion of the reward. The money to be derived from the check, it was explained, will be placed in escrow in a local bank until its disposition has been determined.

The application for the injunction was made on behalf of trustees of the relief fund of the local police department. The trustees contend that the entire sum should be paid into the fund. Mr. Davidson contends that a portion of the reward should be paid to him individually. Four officers are alleged to have participated in the capture of the bank robbers, who later were tried in Arkansas and sentenced to long terms in prison. The reward was posted by the Arkansas Bankers' association.

The trustees are R. E. Shepherd, mayor; Frank Burns, chief of police, and W. E. McBroom, city clerk, and they are represented in the action by Harry Bunnenberg and the local law firm of Heyser and Hicks. The proceeding is pending in the county court at law.

Fog Holds Ship in Iron Grip Just One Hour's Cruise Short of Goal as Passengers Wait on Deck of Liner

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP)—The heaviest fog this port has experienced in years lifted when the sun broke through after 42 hours today, freeing incoming liners, which had been held in the lower bay since Tuesday night.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP)—Just an hour's run from their destination with 1136 passengers on the Berengaria, third largest ship afloat, today had been held fogbound in Gravesend Bay, in the outer harbor, since Tuesday night.

An effort late yesterday to bring the passengers ashore on a ferryboat failed when the fog settled down heavier than ever and the captain of the harbor craft refused to make the trip.

As the passengers chafed aboard the liner, 500 relatives and friends who had waited on the pier since Tuesday afternoon gave up the vigil and dispersed.

The United Fruit liner Zacapa brushed the bow of the Berengari in the fog but the only damage was loss of the jackstaff and a few feet of rail on the smaller ship and paint scraped off the Cunard liner.

Only one other accident was reported, the collision of a ferryboat with a Standard Oil barge tied up alongside the ferry slip. The damage to both boats was slight.

Passengers on the Berengari include P. V. Bowyer, former mayor of Southampton; Captain Malcolm Campbell, noted British automobile driver; A. H. G. Fokker, airplane builder; George E. Getz, of Chicago, promoter of the Tunney-Dempsey fight at Soldier field last fall; Sir Robert Kindersley, director of the Bank of England; Sheldon Whitehouse, charge d'affaires of the United States embassy at Paris, and Mme. Anastasia, described as daughter of the slain Czar Nicholas II of Russia.

Raising her child on common sense

"Just the thing," said Doctor

HERE'S a baby that is being brought up in the way he should go, on a plain, sensible kind of rule. His mother learned it from her own experience before he was born. "Just keep your system in good working order", her doctor told her, "and you'll never have anything to worry about."

So, of course, when the baby came she made up her mind to follow that same plan with him. The doctor gave his hearty approval. "Go ahead and use Nujol", he said. "It's just the thing for the baby. Harmless. Safe. Contains no drugs or medicine. It's the most natural way in the world to keep everything normal. For Nujol not only prevents any excess of the body poisons (we all have them) from forming, but also aids in their removal.

Let me give you another suggestion, too. Use Nujol on the outside of the baby. In place of powder. Just swab his skin, after the bath, with a bit of cotton moistened with Nujol. That's the new method they're using in the big hospitals. It has a wonderfully soothing, softening effect on the skin. There's no need for any baby to have rashes and chafing if you use Nujol. Get a big bottle and keep it specially for the baby. Get a separate bottle for yourself."

Why don't you try Nujol in your household? It was perfected by Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey.)

Nujol can't do anyone—baby or grown-up—the least bit of harm. And so many people have found it beneficial. Be sure you get the genuine.

Wife Will Stay True to Baron Held in Prison

VIENNA, Feb. 9. (AP)—Baron Ludwig Havtang, noted Hungarian publicist, who was sentenced last week to seven years' imprisonment for the alleged calumpination of the Hungarian government, has offered to free his wife from their marriage.

Proposing that she divorce him, he wrote: "I am passionately attached to you, but cannot expect you to await my release."

The baroness, who was broken down with grief, replied: "Prison can separate us, but can never kill my love for you."

MOTOR BUS FARE FROM FORT WORTH TO DALLAS WILL BE EIGHTY CENTS

AUSTIN, Feb. 9. (AP)—A one-way motor bus fare of 80 cents and round trip of $1.45 was ordered Thursday by the State Railroad Commission for the Fort Worth-Dallas run of the Texas Motor Coaches, Inc., which, after gaining control of the route and eliminating competition, applied some time ago for a $1.15 one-way rate instead of 50 cents.

The compromise rate was granted on the stipulation that the bus company not later than 30 days install "modern up-to-date motor busses" as promised at the hearing on the application. Failure to do this "shall be sufficient cause to set aside and cancel this order authorizing the increase of fares here granted," the commission said. Minimum fare of 25 cents also was prescribed.

The order is effective February 15, a minute after midnight. It was handed down by Commissioners C. V. Terrell and Lon A. Smith, bearing the signature of Chairman Clarence E. Gilmore.

The interurban car fare between Fort Worth and Dallas is 93 cents. The traction company is interested in the bus line and is popularly believed to control it.

Home-made Supply of Fine Cough Syrup

Better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about $2. Easily prepared.

If you combined the valuable properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real healing power as there is in this home-made syrup, easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup, or clarified honey, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the throat tickle and heals the irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and it is splendid for bronchitis, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, which has been used for generations to break severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Turn Hair Dark With Sage Tea

By JEAN MACON

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product for only 75 cents, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

Maybe you have a High Compression Motor—RIGHT NOW

THERE are two kinds of high-compression motors. In one the compression ratio has been raised purposely by the car manufacturer to produce more power; the other is a high-compression condition caused by the natural formation of carbon in the combustion chamber. This condition exists, to some extent, in every motor.

But in either case there is one best fuel to release the full power caused by high compression. That fuel is Winter Conoco Ethyl Gasoline, the super-gasoline that knocks out the "knock," turns carbon into power and assures a smooth-running motor at any speed and under practically all operating conditions. It gives the extra pull you need for snow and slush and muddy roads. It is the last word in motor fuels.

Drive up to a Conoco Ethyl pump—and convince yourself.

Skin eruptions successfully treated from within

SKILLED physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system.

This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful skin annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself and friends to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build rich, red blood—those vitalizing elements in the blood that build and sustain the body.

In building rich, red blood cells, S.S.S. improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight, I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy."—Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

—purely vegetable

When your system is filled with rich, red blood, you don't have that tired, languid feeling when you awake in the morning. Instead, you feel, refreshed, ready to meet the world.

Your appetite is keen—you enjoy work or play—your skin is clear, cheeks naturally rosy.

All this because rich, red blood builds and sustains the body.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

ROTARY LITTLE BROTHERS TELL OF PRINCIPLES

Hal Ray and Henry Helgerson, two of "Rotary's little brothers," told members of the Wichita Falls club Thursday noon what they thought of the principles of Rotary International.

The Rotary code of ethics is the declaration of independence, the constitution and the Magna Charta of better business, Hal Ray told the local Rotarians. He praised the work the club is doing for the boys, stressing the "knot hole gang" the local organization has established at Spudder park.

Henry Helgerson pointed out how the Rotarians teach their "little brothers" the principles of sportsmanship and cooperation. He also said special praise to the organization of the "knot hole gang."

Wilson Gray gave a saxophone solo. He was accompanied on the piano by J. S. Pitman.

The program was in charge of Larry Hanlin, chairman of the boys' work committee.

Dr. S. S. McKenney, pastor of the First Methodist church, welcomed Rabbi S. J. Schwab into the club as a new member.

Mayor R. E. Shepherd led the club in a singsong with P. S. Pitman playing the piano.

METHODISTS DECLARE SMITH'S NOMINATION WOULD BE UNFORTUNATE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 9. (AP)—The educational association of the Methodist Episcopal church adopted a resolution today at the closing session of its annual convention, declaring it to be the "sense of this association that the nomination of Al Smith for president would be unfortunate."

Several "noes" were heard when the resolution was voted on, but it was declared passed.

The resolution declared also that Governor Smith's nomination "in our opinion would not enlist the support of educational leaders in the South."

Election of officers closed the session. Dr. J. M. Williams, president of Galloway college, Searcy, Ark., was chosen president; Dr. C. C. Selecman, Dallas, and Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory university, Atlanta, vice presidents; Dr. W. E. Hogan, Nashville, reelected secretary-treasurer.

The junior college group, a subsidiary of the convention, chose Dr. E. R. Stanford of West Moreland college, San Antonio, Texas, as president.

Waits 15 Years to Eat Fried Onions

"After 15 years I eat anything I want—even fried onions. Adlerika ended sour stomach and gas and I enjoy life again."—Mrs. L. Branton.

The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, saline, etc., (known as Adlerika), has a most surprising DOUBLE action. First, it acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only) and removes foul matter that often poisoned the system for months. Second, Adlerika clears all GAS and sourness from stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition Adlerika removes metabolic poisons which cause neuritis, rheumatism, etc.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, writes: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria and bacilli."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

It will astonish you the great amounts of poisonous matter Adlerika brings out—matter you would never believe was in your system. In chronic constipation, gas bloating, sour stomach and sick headache, just ONE spoonful Adlerika brings wonderful relief. Sold in Wichita Falls by Renfro Drug Co., and other druggists.—Adv.

MINISTER CARRIES GUN AFTER SECOND THREATENING NOTE

TEXARKANA, Ark., Feb. 9. (AP)—The Rev. L. Q. Orr, Baptist minister and merchant of Texarkana is carrying a gun and taking every precaution against an attempt on his life today, following the receipt of a second threatening note within 24 hours.

This morning when he opened his store, he found a note under the door saying: "It is all a joke, but a bad one." Yesterday morning he found a note in the same place threatening his life unless he left $1000 in the fork of a tree in his yard.

The second note was in the same handwriting as the first.

Police at first were inclined to take the first note as the work of a crank, but the second has caused them to believe that precautions are necessary.

I. Schwarz, Texarkana merchant, received a similar threat about two weeks ago, but investigation failed to lead to any arrests.

DATE SET FOR TRIAL OF ALLEGED SLAYER OF SAN ANTONIO MAN

KERRVILLE, Texas, Feb. 9. (AP)—Trial of Pat Forrest, 22, alleged slayer of Will Gray, San Antonio bus driver, in Bandera county in August of 1926 today was set for February 14 and a special venire summoned.

Last August, Forrest was tried on the murder charge and sentenced to a life term in the penitentiary after a jury had found him guilty. The case was reversed and remanded by the court of criminal appeals.

At the first trial the state declared Forrest killed Gray after both men had taken several drinks. Forrest then drove his automobile over Gray's body, the state attempted to show. Forrest admitted responsibility for Gray's death, but pleaded self defense.

It is expected defense attorneys will ask a change of venue when the case is called here.

OKLAHOMA DELAYS STATE DESIGNATION PLAINS HIGHWAY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 9. (AP)—The Oklahoma Highway Commission will not decide upon the request of Kansas And Texas road boards to designate a 28-mile stretch across Beaver county as a state highway until it has visited the county and investigated local conditions, it was said today by R. L. Seaman, commission secretary.

Representatives of the Texas and Kansas commissions were here yesterday to request the designation which would link the great plains highway systems of the two states.

"If the road was to be routed through a county seat town it would be designated immediately," Mr. Seaman said, "but as it is proposed it runs through the entire county from north to south, touching only one small village."

The Oklahoma commissioners will visit Beaver county within the next 30 days, Mr. Seaman said.

Gives Your Hair Unusual Beauty

The attractiveness of even the most beautiful women depends upon the loveliness of their hair.

Fortunately, beautiful hair is now easily obtained. It is simply a matter of shampooing.

Proper shampooing makes the hair soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and luster, all the natural wave and color, and leaves it fresh looking, glossy and bright.

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women, everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It leaves the hair soft, silky and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and luster.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.—Adv.

Boat Figures in Three-Cornered Fight Over Debt

Andrew J. Chambers, a deputy constable whose special work during many years as a peace officer has been the serving of civil papers, added a new item Wednesday to the types of property he has "attached."

The newest is a metal row boat, which has become the center of a three-cornered controversy because of the conflicting claims of two creditors against the boat's owner. The boat thereby takes its place, and one held by it alone, on Mr. Chambers' list which already includes such items as goats, automobiles, ladies' undies, buildings and almost every other type of property one could imagine.

In the particular case, it is alleged, the owner of the boat placed it as security with a garage man for work on an automobile. Then, it is alleged, a second garage man sued the owner of the boat for payment of a debt to him, and "sequestrated" the boat as security. Mr. Chambers was ordered by the court to seize the boat, to be held as security for the sum owed the second garage man.

STURDY JAWS KEEP FOREIGN THREATS IN CONTENDER CLASS

HEENEY AND PAULINO FAIL TO IMPRESS WITH BOXING SKILL BUT BOTH CAN TAKE PUNCHES

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.(AP)—Two of the most durable chins in existence have kept the foreign element represented among Tex Rickard's hand-picked heavyweights for an entire year and are showing no signs of serious wear.

These all-important adjuncts to pugilistic prominence are worn respectively by Paulino Uzcudun of Spain and Tom Heeney, the transplanted Irishman from New Zealand, who together constitute two-fifths of the "Big Five" named by Rickard as contenders fpr the world's championship.

In part this foreign pair perhaps can owe its survival in the "upper sixteen" to Rickard's well-known prediction for imported prize-fighters based on a belief they are easier to ballyhoo, but even this wouldn't have saved them had it not been for a peculiar hardihood of jaw. Habitually they take about everything an opponent has to give and they seem to like it.

Announcement from Chicago is to the effect that the Cubs this season are to don freshly cleaned and pressed uniforms daily. Quite a contrast that is with some of the Texas league clubs. At the fag end of a road trip Texas league clubs make a sorry appearance. At home most of them—those willing to pile up the laundry bill for the sake of appearance—are more tidy. In order to have fresh unis every day the Cubs are to have three sets. Presumably the every-day change will be in effect on the road, too, so in all the team must have six sets. The expense of such a practice would be all but prohibitive in a class A league, but the Texas league surely could do no harm by putting more stress on cleanliness.

One Texas clubowner, Prexy J. Alvin Gardner in particular, we know, would be willing to do almost anything for the sake of appearance. He goes in strong for appearances and never misses a chance to dress up his baseball plant or his players. This season the Spudder unis, which were purchased last fall for the Dixie series, will be adorned with "CHAMPIONS" in red letters across the shirt fronts. Gardner's idea, is a brand new one in this league and the Spudders will be the first pennant winner to take advantage of the advertising possibilities of uniforms.

Another product of Wichita Falls' sandlots is likely to take a shot at professional baseball this spring. Jack Thurman, former high school and junior college athlete, has been offered a contract by the Palestine club of the Lone Star league. At last accounts Jack was undecided whether he would accept. Thurman was an all-around athlete in his school days, playing basket ball, football, and baseball on junior college teams. His specialty is second base and he has always been a splendid hitter in sandlot circles.

Tank Horton, another product of the Twilight league, has received orders to report to the Houston Buffs, the club with which he signed several weeks ago, on March 1. Basket ball has kept this youngster in good shape and he should be ready to do some catching by the time he reaches Houston.

The game of basket ball has been definitely and undeniably proven a short passing and short shooting game. This fact was never more clearly demonstrated than Wednesday night when Landon-Hill-Electrics defeated Continental Oil company far more decisively than was expected. The two teams had tied for the first half crown and there was no reason to expect anything but a tooth-and-toe-nail scrap. But the Conocos' is a long game and it couldn't compete with the opposition's short game. There is lots of difference.

Elem R. Hall in his column in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram carries a communication from a reader that is worth printing anywhere:

"Golf is a form of work made expensive enough for a rich man to enjoy it. It is physical and mental exertion made attractive by the fact that you have to dress for it in a $200,000 clubhouse.

"Golf is what letter-carrying, ditch-digging and carpet-beating would be if those three tasks had to be performed on the same hot afternoon in short pants and colored socks by gouty-looking gentlemen who require a different kind of implement for every mood."

"Golf is the simplest looking game in the world when you decide to take it up and the toughest looking after you have been at it 10 or 12 years. It is probably the only game a man can play as long as a quarter of a century and then discover that it was too deep for him in the first place.

"The game is played on carefully selected grass with little white balls and as many clubs as the player can afford. These balls cost from 75 cents to $35, and it is possible to support a family of 10 people (all adults) for five months on the money represented by the balls lost by some golfers in a single afternoon."

"A golf course has 18 holes, 17 of which are unnecessary, and put in to make the game harder. A 'hole' is a tin cup in the center of a green. A 'green' is a small parcel of grass costing about $1.98 a blade and usually located between a brook and a couple of apple trees or a lot of 'unfinished excavations.'

"The idea is to get the ball from a given point into each of the 18 cups in the fewest strokes, and the greatest number of words.

"After each hole has been completed the golfer counts his strokes. Then he subtracts six and says 'Made that in five. That's one above par. Shall we play for 50 cents on the next hole, too, Ed?'"

Compared With Scott

It has been said of the late Young Griffo that he could stand on a pocket handkerchief and defy anyone present to hit him on the jaw.

The difference between Griffo and these visiting heavyweights is that they wouldn't have to duck.

Both of the invading gladiators started their campaigning in the United States in January, 1927, and have just passed the first milepost without a knockout scored against them. This record is seen in its true significance when compared with that of Phil Scott, the Englishman, who lived up to the popular idea of what a foreign heavyweight should do by taking the count a few days after arrival.

Draw With Sharkey

In addition, both have won more battles than they have lost, and Paulino knocked out the black menace, Harry Wills, while Heeney disposed of Jim Maloney in less than a minute in his own most impressive fight. More recently Paulino battered Ed Keeley, of Bridgeport, Conn., into technical unconsciousness in two rounds and knocked out Ronico Rojas of Chile in three, and Heeney weathered Jack Sharkey's best blows to get a draw.

Placing chief reliance in sheer power of jawbone, however, the two have fought few brilliant fights. In two battles between themselves—one of which went to Paulino on a decision and the other of which was called a draw—they proved that the visiting jaw from New Zealand is just about as lasting as its rival from the Pyrenees and vice versa.

CHARGES OF CROOKED WRESTLING ARE MADE

CHICAGO, Feb. 9. (AP)—Charges of fixing wrestling matches in which Johnny Meyers, middleweight wrestling champion, is alleged to have been involved, have broken out again.

In a suit filed against Ed White, former manager of the champion, Jim Logas, Greek middleweight wrestler, charges White promised him $1,000 to lose matches to Meyers. He threw the matches, Logas charges, but "White failed to give me the money."

White termed the suit as an attempt to "shake me down." Logas recently took his complaint before the Illinois Athletic commission but failed to score a single point. Walter George, secretary of the commission, said.

Last summer, a legislative committee investigated similar charges, together with charges that members of the athletic commission played favorites with certain promoters in return for campaign funds. The legislative committee termed the charges as baseless.

AMATEUR SCRAPPERS DELIGHT FIGHT FANS

The amateurs went over big in the first round of the elimination tournament at The Gym Wednesday night, seven bouts serving to more than please the crowd of fistic fans. The seven amateur tussles were augmented by two other scraps and, all in all, it was a big evening for the patrons of swat.

Further eliminations will be held in about two weeks, it was announced by Alec B. Ross, who is conducting the tournament.

Results of the amateur bouts follow:

R. U. Flatt defeated Monroe Byerely, lightweights.

William Daley defeated Owen Donaldson, featherweights.

Alfred Ayers defeated George Polhemus, lightweights.

Vernon Robinson defeated John Corgins, middleweight.

Jack Lewis knocked out Cran Weir, middleweights.

Martin Craig defeated Rud Peters, welterweights.

Bill Hollis defeated Lon Darnell, light heavyweights.

Bloody Lusk and Spike Stewart and Alvie and Floyd Anderson, professionals, appeared in exhibitions.

The judges were Morris Wolff, Dr. C. E. Graves and Barney Morgan.

HORNED FROGS TRAVEL SOUTH FOR TWO GAMES

FORT WORTH, Texas, Feb. 9.—Coach Matty Bell and his Horned Frogs will leave here Saturday morning on their first invasion of what is generally termed the southern division of the Southwest conference circuit.

They meet the Texas Aggies at College Station Saturday night and jump to Houston over Sunday for a clash Monday night with the Rice Owls. The Saturday night battle will be the Frogs' second with the Aggies, having won from the Farmers by a close score here recently.

The game at Houston will be the first of a series of two contests, the Owls coming to Fort Worth February 24 for the second game. The Frogs next home game will be with Texas university February 20.

Second Half Hostilities Start in Girls' Basket League

P. B. M.-WHIPPETS AND L-H-E TEAMS COP TITLES OF FIRST HALF WITH WINS IN PLAYOFFS

Festivities in the first half titular race of the girls' basket ball league closed Wednesday night when P. B. M.-Whippets defeated Texas Electric Service company, 11 to 9, in a playoff contest, and the second half chase gets under way Thursday night at the junior college.

The program Thursday evening:

Draughon Business college vs. Texas Electric Service company.

P. B. M.-Whippets vs. Continental Oil company.

The two first half leaders are scheduled against the tail-enders in the opening night's games, the first starting at 7:30 o'clock. Both the Whippets and Electrics should have no great amount of trouble recording victories, unless the Conoco and Draughon teams show marked improvement over their earlier play.

Two Champions

Two first half champs were elected Wednesday night on the college floor, the Landon-Hill-Electrics trimming Continental Oil company, 24 to 4, to decide the commercial league half honors.

The girls' game put the big kick in the evening's cage show. A great rally by the Whippets in the last few minutes of play decided the issue. The end of the third period found the Electrics holding a 5 to 3 advantage. The first five minutes of the final quarter brought no change, but with about three minutes to play the return of Addie East to the Whippet lineup started the winning splurge. The star from Burkburnett had caught a wallop in the eye and retired late in the first half, but she returned to the scrap just in time to take the heroine role. She counted the first goal of the period after dribbling from the enemy end of the floor, with a beautiful shot from the corner.

A minute later she repeated the dribble and passed to Walker who tied it up with a neat shot. With seconds to play it was East again who broke through and dribbled to the goal for the winning shot.

Strong Defense

Both teams put up strong defensive games, with the single exception of the Electrics' timidness in wading into East's long dribbles. Had the Kilowatt players smashed these dribbling efforts as well as

M'CARTHY'S CUBS TO BE BEST DRESSED OF ALL BASEBALL CLUBS

CHICAGO, Feb. 9. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs may not win the National league pennant this year, but they expect to be the best dressed club in organized baseball.

Like most other major league clubs, they will have three uniforms each, but unlike other teams, they will be of different colors. Strict orders will be issued so the players appear daily in fresh, clean uniforms, club officials said.

FEEDING WALTON LEAGUERS!

Mrs. J. O. Presley (left), J. O. Presley (center), Mrs. John Gill (right).

When the Wichita Falls chapter of the Izaak Walton league of America decided to put on a game banquet last week, Ollie Presley and Mrs. Presley were entrusted with the chairmanships of committees to furnish fish and game.

The above photos tell only a small part of the story. Only a few of one of the greatest catches of crappie since Lake Kemp came into being are shown in the photos. The Presleys and Mrs. John Gill led a party of anglers into the deep water of the old river channel at Lake Kemp near the dam and everybody in the crowd turned in the limit of crappie that were real crappie.

All the fish on the two strings displayed by the ladies are crappie, while in the center photo Presley is proudly displaying one of the not rare species of Namatognathi. Just how he came into possession of the Silfuridae or was caught by the camera in the act of fondling it is not easily explained, as Ollie really rates as one of the most skillful, not to say exacting, anglers of this section. Possibly, some means of trick photography was resorted to. At any rate, the Walton leaguers know who to send after their fish.

Nebraska Takes Place of Navy On Army's Card

Cornhuskers and West Point Institution Sign for Lone Game; Third Eastern Game

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 8. (AP)—The Nebraska Cornhuskers will play the Army at West Point next November 24, H. D. Gish, acting athletic director of the University of Nebraska, announced today.

There is no chance for a return game at Lincoln in 1929, Gish said, but the Army may play here in 1930.

The one-year contract was signed several days ago at West Point following negotiations with military academy officials. Gish returned from the East Sunday.

Army will be unable to come west in 1929, it was understood, because of the fact that the cadets play but two or three games away from home each season and contracts for these contests in 1929 have been signed.

The addition of the Army game will make three eastern teams on the 1928 Cornhusker schedule. Pittsburgh is booked to play at Lincoln and the Huskers will go east to meet Syracuse.

CHICAGO CLUB GIVES UP HOPES OF GETTING HORNSBY FROM BRAVES

CHICAGO, Feb. 9. (AP)—William Veeck, president of the Chicago Cubs baseball club, as back home from an eastern visit with the information that Rogers Hornsby is not for sale by the Boston Braves.

"I didn't even get to first base with President Fuchs of the Braves," Veeck explained. "I mentioned Hornsby, and Fuchs told me that Santa Claus had never been to Boston before and now that he had paid one visit, by bringing Hornsby to his club from New York, he didn't wish to injure Santa's feelings by letting the gift get away."

EASTERN ELEVENS BALK AT PROSPECT ONE MAN NAMING ALL OFFICIALS

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP)—The proposal to invite Walter R. Okeson of Lehigh university with earlike powers in the selection of football officials in the East, suggested along with the abolishment of the old central board—Wednesday developed widespread and unexpected opposition.

While some college officials adopted a "watchful waiting" policy, others, particularly in the New England states, expressed resentment that the central board should leave them "high and dry," as one coach put it.

The central board announced last Monday it would disband and suggested, that the 60 odd colleges it had served for more than 20 years apply in the future to Okeson for any aid they might need in selecting officials. Okeson, at the same time, was appointed commissioner of officials of the eastern association for the selection of football officials, an organization of 12 of the leading colleges in the East, including Army, Navy, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Pittsburgh, Syracuse, Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, Brown and Penn State.

A survey by the Associated Press among officials of representative colleges indicated many were skeptical of the success of any plan that would give such arbitrary power to one individual. There were indications that in New England at least, several colleges would ignore the central board's recommendation and organize their own system for selecting officials.

PELTZER AND DODGE TO SETTLE ELBOW ARGUMENT

CHICAGO, Feb. 9. (AP)—The "elbow" argument between Dr. Otto Peltzer, German running ace, and Ray Dodge, Illinois Athletic club star, will be settled at the I. A. C. track meet Friday night, if at all.

Dodge has charged and Peltzer has denied that the German runner elbowed the former in their race at the Millrose games at New York last week. Dodge lost the event to Peltzer by about six yards.

"If Dr. Peltzer had not elbowed me," Dodge said, "I would have won that race."

"Anyone who has ever seen me race knows that I do not follow orthodox running style," Dr. Peltzer explained. "At the Millrose games, with my arms swinging sideways, in my natural style, I perhaps did bump Dodge, and he accidentally fell off the track. But it was unintentional. I assure him there will be no bumping on the track Friday night."

The thletes will meet in the 1,000 metre distance Friday night. Dodge says it will be his final appearance on the track and that he is out for a win.

GENARO MATCHED

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 9. (AP)—Frankie Genaro, National Boxing association flyweight champion, has been matched to box Frisco Grande, Filipino, here February 17. The Filipino recently won a decision here over Frenchy Belanger of Toronto on a foul in the fifth round. Genaro defeated Belanger at Toronto Monday night.

Large Field to Start Hot Springs Tourney

South Central Event, With $5000 in Prizes, Attracts 150 Leading Professionals; Amateur-Pro Best Ball Event Thursday

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 9. (AP) Indications were Thursday that more than 150 of America's professional golfers would be entered for the opening of the fourth South Central golf tournament here.

Although the 72 holes of medal play does not start until Friday, the tournament will get under way Thursday with the holding of amateur and professional events, all of which will figure in the $5,000 prize offers.

Many professionals had arrived Wednesday, but a majority of them will reach Hot Springs Thursday from San Antonio, where the Texas open was finished Tuesday.

Thursday's events will include the pro-amateur matches and a driving contest. With ideal weather prevailing, the course is expected to be fast.

TAYLOR AND SANGOR TO MIX IT THURSDAY NIGHT

CHICAGO, Feb. 9. (AP)—Two contenders for the world's featherweight championship, Bud Taylor of Terre Haute, Ind., and Joey Sangor of Milwaukee, will match punches and hooks in a 10-round bout Thursday night.

Because of his two victories over Taylor, who is recognized as bantamweight champion in most of the states where boxing is legalized, Sangor was a 6 to 5 favorite. Both fighters assert they are in the best of condition and will have no alibis if defeated.

Taylor's crown will not be at stake as both are over the 118 pound bantamweight limit. The fight will mean much to both, however, as each is anxious to win and to get a crack at the winner of the Tony Canzoneri-Benny Bass fight at New York Friday night.

Sangor, a hard, straight puncher, will outweigh the shifty Taylor by several pounds. Taylor, a boxing puncher and one of the fastest ring masters of the sport, hopes to outwit and outlast his opponent.

The main event of the show will be supported by six bouts of five rounds each.

DECATUR TEAM DEFEATS BURLESON SECOND TIME

DECATUR, Texas, Feb. 9.—Decatur Baptist college again defeated Burleson college here 27 to 13. The defense of the locals was the outstanding feature of the game, allowing the visitors only five baskets from the field. Christian and Counts were largely responsible for the low score of Burleson, while Lewis and Barkesdale were Decatur's offensive stars, making 11 and nine points, respectively. Fulps also played well for Decatur.

These two defeats handed Burleson greatly lowered their championship aspirations, placing them in third place while Decatur climbs to second.

PUEBLO TAKES ON TRIO OF EASTERN PLAYERS

PUEBLO, Colo., Feb. 8. (AP)—The purchase of two pitchers and a shortstop for the Pueblo club of the Western league was announced Wednesday by Spencer Abbott, president of the club, in a telegram to the Star-Journal.

The new players are Walter Smallwood, pitcher, from Hartford of the Eastern league; Woodward, pitcher, from Haverhill of the New England league, and Knothe, shortstop, from New Haven of the Eastern league.

ILLINOIS SPRING PRACTICE

URBANA, Ill., Feb. 9. (AP)—One hundred and thirty-eight men have answered Coach Robert Zuppke's spring football practice call at the University of Illinois.

Two Big Ten football coaches, Dick Hanley of Northwestern and Burt Ingwersen of Iowa, watched the initial practice Wednesday.

"MANTELL'S UNKNOWN" TO WRESTLE KETONEN IN NEXT WEEK'S BOUT

Dutch Mantell failed to beat Waino Ketonen, but he says he has a wrestler who can!

Promoter Alex B. Ross Thursday announced that the feature match of Monday night's mat show at The Gym would find Ketonen pitted against "Dutch Mantell's great unknown." The identity of Ketonen's foe is unknown to all save Dutch, the promoter announced, and the only requirement is that the mysterious grappler weighs 162 pounds or less.

Teddy Waters of Childress and Cyclone Hayes are scheduled in the preliminary.

SEVENTEEN ARE KILLED AT GRADE CROSSINGS IN TEXAS DURING DECEMBER

AUSTIN, Feb. 9. (AP)—Thirty-three grade crossing accidents in Texas during December resulted in 17 deaths and 33 injuries, Louis A. Gueringer, engineer for the state railroad commission, reported Thursday.

Automobiles figured in 32 of the accidents, 16 of the deaths and 32 injuries. Some of the cars crashed into the trains.

FLOOD IN STREAM CONCEALS BODY OF MURDERED WOMAN

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio, Feb. 9. (AP)—A two-foot rise in the Tuscarawas river today impeded efforts of searchers to recover the body of Miss Viola May, 22, alleged to have been slain and thrown into the river Tuesday night by her brother-in-law, William De Herron, 41.

Herron was in a state of collapse today in the Tuscarawas county jail. Late last night newspapermen who were at the jail talking to Sheriff Abe Laird heard a shout from the cell room that "has tried to kill himself." The sheriff rushed from his office and a few minutes later Dr. Paul Alspaugh was called. Later the sheriff refused to discuss the incident, but information trickling from the jail said that Herron had slashed his wrists with a safety razor blade.

The reported attempted suicide followed a few hours after Herron had taken Sheriff Laird and a group of deputies to a gravel pit near here where Miss May's shoes, coat and handkerchief were found.

The trip to the gravel pit came after Herron had been closeted for more than three hours with the sheriff and Prosecutor James Patrick. At the conclusion of the session a stenographer was called in, but both the prosecutor and the sheriff refused today to confirm the statement that Herron had signed a confession.

Miss May disappeared after she had started to her home with Herron after a visit at his residence near Dover. She was a sister of Mrs. Herron.

OVER-PRODUCTION SHUTS DOWN MEXICO OIL WELL

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 9. (AP)—Dispatches from Tampico today said the Huasteca Petroleum company has suspended all activities on instructions from the company's new York headquarters. The world overproduction of oil was given as the reason.

Second Half Girls Basket Loop Opens

the Whippets did the equally skillful dribbles of Maud Garner. Electrics' ace, it would have been a different story. Neither team was up to its normal passing game, the Electrics losing out time after time in efforts to put through passes that were too long to be effective.

In the commercial league half of the program, the Landon-Hill-Electrics eliminated most of the thrill by making it a walkaway. The score of 26 to 4 is sufficient evidence of the superiority of the winners on this particular occasion. The L-H-E passing game was the best of the season and it was supported by deadly shooting of short used registered in the scorBFWJ shots. Every one of eight men used registered in the scoring column.

The Continental long shooting attack could never get started and was totally ineffective.

BIDS ON TEXT BOOKS CONSIDERED AT MEET OF BOARD AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Feb. 9. (AP)—The state text book commission met here Thursday in special session under call of Gov. Dan Moody, chairman, to consider bids of about 40 text book companies for state adoptions of free school books in contracts worth several million dollars.

Successful bidders may be announced by next Monday night.

The geography contract alone will cost the state more than $1,000,000 during the next few years in which the successful bidder's books will be used. The state will save money by making a new contract, however, State School Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs said, because all bids, including that of the American Book company, holder of the present contract, offer prices lower than the one being paid now.

Adoptions will be made to cover 11 courses. The geography text book now in use is one of the only two main course books offered for readoption. The other is grade school writing.

New courses are to be adopted in algebra, physics, chemistry, civil government, physical geography and Latin, all for high schools, and a primer, first and sixth reader, supplementary books for grade school courses.

The state paid an average of only 85 cents for each public school child last year to maintain its free book system. This accounts only for replacements and such new books as were needed for the year since some books in use were bought before this year. The per capita cost always has been less than $2 since the free book system was provided in 1919, however.

Soldier's Yarns May Assure Him Job at Capital

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—President Coolidge is believed to be about to make his first appointment in which sentiment figures prominently.

The possibility is of great interest in army circles where it is believed that the president intends to name Col. Quinan Latrobe as his military aide, succeeding Col. Blanton Winship, who was transferred to the Philippines recently.

Latrobe met Mr. Coolidge in the Black hills last summer and his interesting yarns pleased the executive so much that he invited the colonel back for dinner after he had eaten luncheon with him. Then, a short time ago Mr. Coolidge inspired an order that brought Latrobe to duty in Washington, and they have had many pleasant hours together here.

The president has been without a military aide since Colonel Winship went to Manila as legal adviser to Governor General Stimson, and a successor will be named within a few days.

HINDU SWAMI APPEALS FOR COURT PROTECTION

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 9. (AP)—A petition filed in circuit court here by Swami Yogananda, Hindu lecturer, for an injunction against police interference with his assemblies was held under advisement today by Judge A. J. Rose. The hearing of evidence was completed yesterday. Yogananda was recently ordered by police to leave Miami following protest by a group of citizens concerning his meetings.

COLOGNE WANTS U. S. TO SCRAP HER BATTLESHIPS

COLOGNE, Feb. 9. (AP)—The Gazette in granting that Secretary Kellogg's plan for scrapping submarines is admirable in itself, contends that it would simply result in making strong powers mightier and small powers weaker. The paper suggests that it would be better if the United States gave proof of its good will "by scrapping her giant battleships and deciding to build no more."

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 9. BULL-ETIN

(Associated Press.)

LONDON.—Antonio Marquez, famous Spanish matador, spending his honeymoon in London, will stage a "painless bull fight" here. He hopes to demonstrate that bull fighting is not cruel. "I won't attempt to hurt the bull," says Marquez. "I will merely pet it."

The contest should be over when Marquez kisses the bull squarely in the mouth.

IT'S ONLY A LITTLE THING, BUT IT MEANS SO MUCH TO FRISBY!

This is Joe Doakes, who is in charge of the Girls' Volunteer Committee that has offered to peel the bananas for Mr. Frisby.

WASHINGTON.—Unable to eat anything but bananas, due to the loss of his false teeth, Congressman Frisby spent the morning penning an appeal to the American people, which follows:

Friends
And Fellow Countrymen

It is not easy in this, my moment of sorrow, to give myself to affairs of state. And yet I go about, assuming my duties as though nothing had happened. In that way I hope to forget. I find I can eat bananas. Many have written to ask if there was anything they could do for their favorite Congressman. I do not want charity. But if you care to give a banana to this cause I will accept it in the spirit it is given. It takes but a moment of your time to slip a banana in an envelope, and the cost is small. Yet it brings cheer to your Congressman. It is more the thought than the deed. If we can flood the capital with bananas it will be a testimony to the things I stand for.

Your true friend,
CONGRESSMAN FRISBY.

CURB MARKET QUOTATIONS

Sales of stocks 616,000.
Sales of bonds 4,763,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP)—Trading and movements on the curb market today were almost a sensational character. Business continued at an extremely high volume and many stocks that were prominent in the day's dealings, made advances ranging from one to over 10 points, establishing new high records in many cases.

There were some issues which after sharp advances, fell back and one sugar stock, Central Aguirre, made a new low record on a decline of a point. The trading in that issue was affected by the suspension of dividends yesterday in that issue was affected by the suspension of dividends yesterday on American Sugar refining. Bancitaly was a special feature, making a further advance of over 9 points to a new peak. Aluminum stocks were active and strong, Aluminum and Bohn Aluminum each being up 2 points.

Sparks Witherington rose 5 points and Spalding, which made a gain of 15 points yesterday, had a further advance of 2 points. Richmond Bros., was one of the weak features, falling 8 points during the first half of the day. Sanitary Groceries rose 4 points. Grand moved up over 2 points and Mercantile Stores advanced 10 points. Firestone Tire was in renewed demand gaining 4 points and Ford Motor of Canada also rose 4 points.

Electric Bond & Share was a strong feature in the utilities, advancing 4 points to 93. United Gas Improvement and Southeastern Power each made gains of about a point.

Newmont Mining after making a new high record at above 173 had a quick reaction to 169.

Oil stocks were irregular. Standard Oil of Indiana was in special supply, possibly in connection with the senate investigation and had a further decline to 74½. Anglo American was weak, falling 2 points while Humble Oil rose a point.

COTTON PRICE HIES TO EASIER LEVELS ON STRONG BUYING

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP)—An opening decline in the cotton market today on prospects for showers in West Texas, was followed by advances which carried prices into new high ground for the present movement. Trade buying and covering were inspired by relatively steady Liverpool cables and reiterated reports of a steady spot situation in the South. Business was only moderately active, but the market was very steady, active months showing net advances of about 13 to 16 points in midafternoon.

The cotton market opened steady today at decline of 3-5 points. Buying on the firm showing of Liverpool was readily supplied by realizing combined with local selling promoted by rather better prospects for rains in the Southwest.

May contracts sold off to 17.71 and October to 17.52 after the opening, net declines of 7 to 10 points, but there was very little Southern selling in evidence and after initial offerings had been absorbed, prices steadied on covering and trade buying. May sold up to 17.78, and active months generally were within 2 or 3 points of yesterday's closing figures at the end of the first hour.

The market showed increasing firmness later on local and new orleans buying accompanied by continued talk of a steady spot situation and reports of a better tone in the goods market. May contracts sold up to 17.92 and October to 17.69, making net advances of about 10 to 12 points and the market was within a point or two of these figures at midday.

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 9. (AP)—An early decline was followed by a moderate recovery in the cotton market today when shorts, disappointed by the small early dip, covered freely and on some buying inspired by fears of the reported rapid spread of the pink boll worm in West Texas. Prices advanced during the late morning and into the early afternoon. March trade up to 17.55 and July 17.62, or 22 to 25 points above the lows and 11 to 14 points above the previous close.

Exports totaled 19,949 bales.

Despite higher Liverpool cables the cotton market was easy in early trading today on expectations of rain in the Western drought section and fears of a bearish textile report by the cotton textile institute to be issued either today or tomorrow.

First trades were 2 points up to 1 point down. Following a small rally of 1 to 2 points the market eased off until March contracts reached 17.35, May 17.33 and July 17.37 or 11 to 13 points under the initial prices.

At the end of the first 30 minutes of trading the undertone was still easy.

The market rallied later on covering by ring shorts disappointed at the smallness of the early decline. There was also some buying induced by reports of the rapid spread of the pink boll worm infestation in Western Texas. Before noon March reached 17.54, May 17.55 and July 17.58, or 21 to 22 points above the lows and 10 to 11 points above the previous close. At noon the market was quiet, but at the highs.

Cotton futures closed steady, net unchanged to 7 points up.

CORN GETS MAJOR INTEREST OF GRAIN PIT SPECULATORS

CHICAGO, Feb. 9. (AP)—Aggressive late buying on the part of speculators hoisted corn prices in the last hour today to a new high point since early in December. The fresh advance was in the face of favorable weather for the movement of the domestic corn crop. Wheat also firmed up sharply on account of late advances at Liverpool. Bullish wheat crop reports from the Southwest and better demand from domestic millers.

Corn closed unsettled, ⅛@¼c to 1½c net higher, provisions varying from 2c decline to a rise of 22c.

Crowds in the corn pit today attested greater general interest at present regarding corn than any other board of trade commodity, but unlike yesterday the selling side of the corn market attracted the greater number of brokers. Much of the selling appeared to be of a profit-taking character, but the fact was also evident that foreigners were not following yesterday's advance.

In connection with signs of a pause in corn export demand, advices were received that although United States mixed corn and Liverpool continues to undersell old crop Argentine corn, the new crop Argentine corn is quoted lower. It was also stated that Argentine weather is more favorable for the new corn crop and that the official argentine corn acreage estimate looked for tonight is generally expected to be in excess of the figures for the two previous years.

INDUSTRIALS LEAD PRICE RECOVERY IN MOST OF STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP)—After an early period of irregularity today, the stock market swung upward under the leadership of the standard industrials. Lowering of the call money rate from 4½ to 4¼ per cent, reports of further improvement in the steel industry and expectations of a special dividend disbursement by General Motors directors after the close stimulated the buying movement, which embraced a wide assortment of stocks.

General Motors changed hands in enormous volume, climbing nearly 2 points to around 139, as against a record price of 141 for the present stock established last year. U. S. Steel common was bid up more than 2 points to 147 on buying influenced by predictions of an unusually favorable steel tonnage statement at noon tomorrow.

Sharp gains also took place in some of the high priced industrial specialties. International Harvester soared 8 points, Midland Steel Products preferred 7, and Case Threshing, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, American Zinc preferred, American Republics, Westinghouse Electric, and Continental Can advanced 4 to 5 points above last night's final quotations.

Rails which have been sluggish for the past few weeks in reflection of poor 1927 earnings statements, moved forward with the industrials, although the gains were held to a point or two.

Prices were considerably mixed at the pening of stock market today. Aggressive buying was resumed in Consolidated Gas and American Can, forcing them up to 137 and 80 respectively. The first transaction in American Can was a block of 10,000 shares. Heavy profit taking developed in Montgomery Ward which opened 3 points lower.

Buying expanded somewhat in the subsequent dealings, carrying a number of stocks up 1 to 3 points. Little in the government news had any definite bearing on the market, although there was considerable belief that improvement in the steel trade reported by the weekly reviews might well presage the expected expansion in general business.

Motor shares were quiet in the early trading on the eve of the General Motors dividend meeting. Montgomery Ward soon attracted support and recovered its initial loss. American Can soon extended its advance to 82, a record price and Consolidated Gas went up to 138, the highest in 5 years. Johns Manville, newly listed, opened at 125, but quickly fell back to 123½. Among the early strong spots with gains of 2 points or more were Sears Roebuck, which reached a new high of 92½, Vick Chemical, Victor Talking Machine, American Railway Express, American Zinc, Brooklyn Edison and a few others. Early weakness was displayed by American Sugar, Freeport-Texas and Air Reduction, the last named dropping back 5 points.

Foreign exchanges were somewhat easy at the opening, but sterling cables were quoted unchanged around $4.87½.

The market became more of a two-sided affair, as bears pressed their advance in certain stocks, causing sympathetic weakness in related issues. Vanadium Steel, International Paper, Radio and Greene Cananea Copper dipped 2 to 4 points. Meantime a number of selected shares were elevated to new high levels, United States Industrial Alcohol touching 117, the best in ten years. Adams Express rose almost 10 points to 210. Circumstantial reports of the formation of a new holding company to include the local gas and electric companies was behind the bulge in Consolidated Gas to 139½. The renewal rate for coal loans was unchanged at 4½ per cent.

The closing was strong. Speculative attention in the final hour was riveted on a number of industrials, Du Pont climbing 8 points and General Electric, Tobacco Products, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Burroughs Adding Machine, and Commercial Solvents rising 3 to 6. Many low priced shares were in growing demand, especially Spicer Manufacturing and United Cigar. Big buying orders for Independent Motors were executed, especially Chrysler, while General Motors worked up around 140. Total sales approximated 2,950,000 shares.

GORE DECLINES PLACE DRY AGENT FOR TEXAS

Staff Special to the Times.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Frank H. Gore, business manager for the veterans' hospital at Kerrville and the one man on the eligible list for prohibition administrator of the Texas district acceptable to the department, has declined to accept that appointment. A telegram to this effect was received from him today through Commissioner Doran who stated that it will now be necessary to hold another civil service examination to select eligibles for this position. Meanwhile it is indicated that Charles Warnken, acting administrator will be named legal advisor for this district. He took the civil service examination for this position and is known to have been on the eligible list as well as acceptible to the department.

Commissioner Doran indicated that he will name an acting administrator at once but that the selection probably will not be determined until later in the day.

STAGE TRADITION KEPT IN DEATH

AUSTIN, Feb. 9. (AP)—The theatrical tradition that "curtain must go up" was borne out here Wednesday night when George Gaul, star in the Bernard Shaw comedy "Arms and the Man" played by the New York Theater Guild Repertory company went through his part after receiving a telegram from Philadelphia that his mother was dead.

Market Review

R. O. Harvey & Co., rooms 630-37 Harvey-Snyder building, received the following Thursday on cotton and grain from their New York and Chicago correspondents:

Cotton

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The market continues to show a firm undertone. Offerings are small and the market seems to be gathering more friends. Textile conditions, however, show no departure from the recent reports. Should these conditions change for the better, the market could improve very rapidly.—E. A. Pierce & Co.

Grain

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—Wheat was slightly easier at the start in sympathy with Liverpool, but market firmed up sharply on reports of sale of 325,000 bushels cash wheat to eastern mills overnight and March went to a fractional premium over the May compared with ⅝ under at close on Tuesday with cash interests and commission houses buying the March and selling May, and it was said that there were further inquiries in the market. Shorts covered on the way up. Some enlargement was reported in commission house trade.

Liverpool rallied sharply after being lower early and closed ⅛ to ⅞c higher. Export sales in all positions were estimated by the Seaboard at 300,000 to 400,000 bushels.

Profit taking was on in corn early and there was also pressure from local bears, but aggressive buying headed by strong local professionals made its appearance and prices advanced sharply to a new high since early in December. There was further covering by shorts on the way up. Buenos Aires was ⅜ to 1 cent higher at noon. Weather over the belt was generally favorable for the movement with local spot basis half lower to 1 higher. Kansas City basis was steady to ½ lower. Less was heard of export demand.

Oats somewhat unsettled and failed to reflect the strength in corn to any great extent.

Rye was helped by strength in wheat and rallied after an early break.—E. A. Pierce & Co.

Grain Pit Notes

CHICAGO, Femb. 9. (AP)—All Chicago and New York markets will be closed Monday, Lincoln's birthday. Domestic grain exchanges will also close while Winnipeg and Liverpool will be open as usual.

May corn touched its highest level since December 13 when it rose to 94½ just before the close yesterday and finished at 94½ to ⅝. Prospects are that the annual winter movement of cash grain to terminals was nearing its end and sentiment after the close was more bullish than of late. It was said outside speculation was entering the market on the buying side.

Sugar and Coffee

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP)—There was no change in the raw sugar market early today. It developed that late yesterday 29,700 bags of Porto Rican sold to a refiner for March shipment at 4.24, and today 5,000 bags more of the same sugar sold to an operator for February shipment at the same price, and about 35,000 bags of Cuban to operators for February shipment at 4.27.

Raw sugar futures opened irregular at 2 points advance to 2 points decline. The March position showed the maximum advance, due to covering by a large Cuban interest, while the later positions were off under liquidation and selling by houses with Cuban and European connections. There was a good deal of covering and new outside buying on the decline, however, and rallies followed, with the market at midday net unchanged to 2 points higher.

The refined sugar market was unchanged at 5.70 for fine granulated with a fair inquiry, although buyers were still limiting purchases to nearby requirements.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP)—Coffee, spot steady with a fair demand. Rio No. 7, 14 13-16; Santos No. 4, 21⅞. Rio futures, firm; sales 20,000 bags. March 12.90; May 12.73; July 12.52; September 13.30; December 13.17.

Ticker Ticklers

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP)—The British American Tobacco company has no intention of waging a tobacco war with the American industry, it has a minor interest in America and is satisfied, Sir Hugo Cunliffe Owen, chairman, said on his arrival for his annual visit. "It would be rediculous to attempt to compete against tobacco manufacturers in the United States," he said. "There is no reason for it and we have no intention of doing so. Our various interests are showing satisfactory progress. Business is good and we are optimistic."

George Urquhart has been elected president of the American Piano company, succeeding C. Alfred Wagner, who resigned. Officials of the company denied reports that a reorganization was contemplated. The company discontinued payment of common dividends last November to conserve cash resources.

Continental Can company earned $7.54 a share on the common stock in 1927, against $6.72 a share in 1926. Net income was $4,435,646 compared with $3,734,183.

Coty, Inc., earned $10.80 a share in 1927 against $9.52 a share the year before.

The New York cotton exchange membership of Charles C. Payson has been sold for $25,000 to Gardiner H. Miller, for another, unchanged from the previous transaction.

The Denver & Salt Lake railroad is preparing for operation through the Moffat tunnel which is expected to be opened about February 15. The laying of track is in progress. No recent developments in the proposed use of the tunnel by the Denver & Rio Grande Western have been reported.

Operations in the steel industry are at a slightly higher rate, despite a small decrease in ingot production by subsidiaries of the U. S. Steel corporation. The gain is due to higher rates among independent steel companies. The steel corporation's rate is just above 85 per cent compared with almost 89 per cent last week and 82 per cent two weeks ago. The slight drop is not considered significant. Independents are averaging around 80 per cent against 78 per cent a week ago and below 72 per cent two weeks ago. The average for the entire industry is about 84 per cent of capacity, against 82 per cent last week and 77 per cent two weeks ago.

Public offering of a new issue of 25,000 shares of Neisner Bros. convertible preferred stock at $115 a share, yielding about 6.09 per cent, will be made shortly by George H. Burr & Co. Bond Market

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP)—The bond market today showed no signs of changing from the dull hesitancy which has characterized it for several weeks. An increasing volume of new offerings combined with the unsettlement of the money market to keep commitments at a low level, while the belief that a large flood of new issues is nearing the market added to the caution.

The reinvestment demand, which last year caused a rapid expansion of the bond market in the early weeks, has fallen far short this year. Prices of bonds are well above the levels of a year ago and the turn in the credit situation has had a tendency to restrict buying.

Only a few issues showed outstanding activity today. Kayser company 5½s were at a new high for the year, and there was very moderate buying of a few prominent railroad liens. Pathe Exchange 7s continued to fall back sharply and Montana Power 5s sustained a loss of about a point.

United States government obligations were again quiet in the early dealings.

Prompt oversubscription was reported of the $10,750,000 Paris-Orleans railroad issue.

SANITY SOLE ISSUE IN HICKMAN TRIAL

ing argument. He pointed out bits of testimony that he claimed were evidences of insanity in the prisoner's family. He often told the jury "I think" from this or that evidence that the evidence of the prisoner's insanity was preponderant.

Cantillon referred to the sobbing father's testimony of "fits" which afflicted the grandfather, of an epileptic cousin and of a mother who was in an Arkansas insane asylum for a period.

"I think," he told the jury, "these constitute a back ground of heredity which should have made even the state's alienists suspect the defendant suffered from dementia praecox.

Big Crowd Gathers.

The final hours of the trial drew even larger crowds than on some of the more sensational days. Extra seats were within the court rail and a double line of them in the aisles were not enough to set all the curious. The doorway to the judge's chambers framed a dozen straining heads of spectators who stood on chairs to see over each other and view the scene.

"You can't tell me," Cantillon argued, "that when a brilliant scholar suddenly turns into a criminal whose ghastly career has not been equalled in the dark archives of criminal history, you can't tell me that's anything but insanity."

The closing argument of the defense, made by Cantillon, was delivered in an hour's time. The court then declared a brief recess.

Final Test Near

Only three hours of argument, the judge's instructions and the jury's verdict stood this morning between William Edward Hickman and his fate.

Barring unforseen delays, attorneys for prosecution and defense will have painted their last word pictures of the kidnaper and murderer of little Marian Parker and the case will be in the hands of the jury before night. The jury must decide whether Hickman is a calloused criminal or a madman, he having pleaded "not guilty by reason of insanity."

By his plea Hickman has legally admitted commission of the offenses charged—kinaping and murder.

If found sane, Judge J. J. Trabucco is required to pronounce sentence not less than two and not more than five days from the time the verdict is returned. The choice between a sentence of life imprisonment or the death penalty is discretionary with the judge where the jury makes no recommendations, and in this case the jurors—sitting only on the sanity or insanity of the youth—legally can make none.

Walsh Denounces Hickman

After Jerome Walsh, young chief of defense counsel, in his argument to the jury yesterday labeled the kidnaping and slaying of the school girl as "the most dastardly thing that a human ever set out to do," court attaches remarked that his course left little chance for a plea of mercy for Hickman if the youth were found sane.

"For Hickman, the murderer, I hold no brief. It is for Hickman, the madman, that I come to speak to you," the boyish Kansas City attorney said in opening his impassioned plea to the jury.

Quoting the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," Walsh declared it applied to every human being, to the jurors as well as to Hickman.

"The antics of a madman," he called Hickman's placing of the body of Marian Parker in his car and its delivery to her father.

The horror of the slaying led Walsh to the belief, he said, that its pepetrator was insane and he pleaded with the jury to agree with him.

Hickman's Flight Careless

"The carelessness of his flight, the very fact that he took his guns with him, show he was not primarily anxious to save himself," he said of his client. "He escaped capture as long as he did only because the officers were not looking for a man like Hickman—they were looking for a fiend."

He turned a flood of sarcasm on all the prosecution alienists except Dr. Thomas Orbison. He spoke of "little Dr. Reynolds" (Dr. Cecil Reynolds, the brain specialist), as "chanting a hymn of hate, prejudice and passion," and mentioned "good old Dr. Williams."

"A verdict finding Hickman sane would label him as the normal average American boy of 19 and would be an indictment against every 19-year-old boy in the country," Walsh argued.

The apex of the state's case came just before Walsh made his opening argument, when Perry M. Parker, father of the slain girl, was beckoned to the witness stand by District Attorney Keyes. For the first time since Hickman took $1500 from the banker at the point of a gun and in turn dumped the body of Marian Parker almost at the father's feet, Parker looked into the face of the youth.

Hickman was not prepared to meet his gaze. The slayer kept his face turned slightly aside. He wriggled down into his chair behind his attorneys and bowed his head.

Parker Stares at Boy

Parker looked at Hickman but once. It was a long, intense stare. Then without any outward show of emotion the banker said:

"He is the man who took the money."

Swiftly then the state rung down the curtain on its testimony.

Preceding Walsh in the final arguments, Deputy District Attorney Forrest Murray opened the prosecution's analysis of the case, leaving the heavy fire of the closing plea to District Attorney Keyes.

Murray pinned the jurors down to a single issue—was Hickman sane or insane when he committed the act? "And the law presumes that he was sane," Murray quickly added.

Calls Hickman Calloused

Murray's picture of Hickman was that of a murderer with feelings so calloused and greed so great that human life meant nothing to him, but knowing clearly right from wrong—the legal mark of sanity.

"One of the clearest witnesses in the case was that poor old lady, Mrs. Eva Hickman, who struggled all her life to give that greedy, selfish creature an education," said Murray of Hickman's mother, held by the defense to have shown evidence of insanity.

Richard Cantillon, associate defense counsel, merely covered the introduction of his argument before adjournment last night and had slightly more than an hour of defense time to fill at today's session.

Ten Days for Appeal

In event that Hickman is found sane, his attorneys have 10 days from date of sentence to give notice of appeal. The appeal, if filed within 30 days, automatically delays execution of sentence if it is the death penalty. The prosecution has an additional 30 days to file answering briefs. If death is the penalty the execution is required to be set from 60 to 90 days from date of sentence. Appeals in capital punishment cases are made directly to the state supreme court and, in the Hickman case, legal authorities said, could be made on constitutional grounds or errors of the trial judge only.

An Avenue of Escape

If Hickman was found insane, under the new and untested California law, he would be committed to a state institution for the criminal insane. Persons committed may make application for release one year after admittance and demand sanity hearings. Then if found sane they must be freed.

STORY OF HICKMAN CASE
TALE OF SUPREME FIEND

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9. (AP)—A few hours after Marian Parker, 12-year-old twin daughter of Perry M. Parker, Los Angeles bank official, was lured from a high school here last December 15 by a young man, one of the greatest man hunts in American criminal history was launched.

The chase ended December 22 near Pendleton, Oregon, when Chief of Police Tom Gurdane and Motorcycle Officer Buck Lieuallen, watching for a green sedan which the Los Angeles office of the Associated Press reported had been stolen by the kidnaper and murderer, stopped the car and arrested William Edward Hickman on the Columbia river highway.

But before Hickman had been captured he had, according to his confession later, killed the Parker girl, dismembered her body and sold the torso to Marian's father for $1500.

When Marian failed to return from school her father notified the police his daughter had disappeared and the man hunt was on. Parker received two telegrams signed "George Fox" and "The Fox," instructing him not to do anything until further orders and telling him not to notify the police.

The following day December 16, a special delivery letter, signed "The Fox" threatening death to Marian if 1500 ransom in $20 treasury notes were not paid. A letter from Marian urging her father to comply with the demand was enclosed.

On Saturday December 17, another ransom letter came, chiding Parker for notifying the police and insisting the police withdraw before anything more was done. Parker complied. At 7:15 o'clock that night Parker received a telephone call setting what proved the final rendezvous in a dimly lighted street. It was there that Parker paid Hickman the $1500 and received a part of his daughter's body, thrown into a gutter by the murderer.

Posses of citizens and police began the search which soon disclosed the murderer to be Hickman. Rewards totaling more than $50,000 were pledged for the capture of the killer.

The first clue consisted of finger prints on the automobile abandoned by the kidnaper-slayer. The apartment where Hickman lived was searched as a result of finding a towel from the apartment wrapped around one of the girl's amputated legs. While police searched the apartment Hickman sat up in bed and told them he hoped they found the fiend.

On December 18, Hickman held up the driver of a green sedan, stole the car and started north. He was identified by a Seattle haberdasher who changed one of the $20 bills during a purchase.

From Seattle Hickman started south again to Portland and then east over the Columbia river highway where he was arrested. He said he was going to Kansas City where his mother lives.

On his way back to Los Angeles Hickman confessed his crime. He obtained as his attorney Jerome Walsh, who instructed him to plead "not guilty by reason of insanity," under a new California law.

Hickman's trial was set for January 25 but began a day later after the trial judge disqualified himself.

Judge J. J. Trabucco was named to preside and after a jury was obtained testimony relating principally to insanity was started. The final witness was the father of the kidnapped and slain girl who identified Hickman as the man to whom he paid $1500.

(AP)—The American Book company, whose contracts with the Ferguson text book commission to furnish public school books were attacked by Governor Dan Moody when he was attorney general offered the Moody commission a proposition Thursday to cut the prices in their speller contract if the state will readopt their geographies. Cuts on their five supplementary readers and general science book also were offered.

The geography contract, which will cost the state more than $1,000,000 ultimately, is the biggest prize in the power of the text book commission to bestow and competition is hot among five bidders. Their bids were opened by the commission Thursday morning. About 40 companies are bidding on 11 books eight of them being basic books of the courses.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

YOUNG COUNTY CITIZEN SENDS IN CANCER REMEDY

Orth, Texas, February 6, 1928.

Editor the Times: I am sending the cancer recipe and it is certainly a Christian act on your part to publish it in your wonderful paper. In doing so you will save me lots of time and trouble writing it for people who need it and know nothing about it. I could refer you to a number of people here in Young county who have been cured by this remedy. I am an old timer, 76 years old. Am a retired farmer. Was raised in Hopkins county and served as justice of the peace four years in that county. Have a son in your city working in the bookbindery, also a number of old friends in your city who I would be glad to see. I may write you a long letter (if you wish it) of the good old times when men were honest and women wore some clothes, hey?

Respectfully,
W. M. McDOWELL.
Orth, Texas.

For Cancer.

Take equal parts of galangal root and blood-root, finely pulverized; work in enough chloride of zinc to make a tough salve and apply to parts affected. Have plaster completely cover diseased parts. Can be kept in place with adhesive plaster, or court plaster. Let remain twenty-four hours. Then put on new plaster and let remain same length of time. Remove and apply healing salve as follows: One ounce of either mutton tallow or pure lard, beeswax, resin and one-half ounce of oil of spike and venice turpentine. Warm so ingredients will mix. Put on salve until the cancer comes out, and the wound heals. About a week will be required and it is very painful but nearly always proves a cure. British oil can be used in place of the turpentine.

South Carolina, Not North.

Editor The Times: In your editorial of Tuesday, "Both Pork and Pie," you give North Carolina as the home of Senator Blease. Again, you have forgotten something. I am a North Carolinian, and as such, resent the accusation. The senator has his domicile in South Carolina, the originator of many revolts. She broke the jute bagging trust, the fertilizer trust, sold liquor under the dispensary plan and before the Civil war she seceded from the Union, and away back yonder she boycotted British-made goods.

She is the only piece of dirt in all creation that could have given birth to Cole Blease. Say what you please about North Carolina, but never teach the world to believe that Cole Blease is a product of it. If you do not do this, I shall boycott your editorial page, which I have learned to admire. I can't stand for it, I can't. Respectfully,

F. W. ROBERTS.

AMONG the DERRICKS

By JIMMIE MAXWELL

The Humble Oil and Refining company is pulling pipe after testing out a dry sand at 1595 feet in its No. H-1, L. F. Wilson test, located in block 10½, A. T. N. C. L. survey, Archer county.

The Texas company is preparing to drill out the plug from the oil sand at 725 feet in its No. 1 J. R. Garvey, located in section 1856, T. E. L. survey, offsetting the Panhandle producer in South Archer county.

The Grayce Oil company and J. H. Cotton have deepened their No. 2 well on their lease in blocks 45 and 32, Wichita Valley Farm lands in South Wichita county, to the 850 foot pay and it is reported good for a nice pumper. No. 1 on the same lease, completed some time ago, is producing, having made 71 barrels in the first 19 hours.

Lee Wilson No. 1 Carr, located in E. L. R. R. survey, Archer county, northeast of the Swastika pool, is drilling at 1276 feet.

Texas company No. B-3, Castleberry, located in section 66, block 14, east of the South Vernon pool, Wilbarger county, is drilling ahead at 856 feet.

Camp-Hedrick No. 1 Lynch and Stahl lease in the Muenster pool, Cooke county, was drilling out the plug Thursday from the sand at 1362 feet.

The Texas company, putting down its No. 1 Street, located in section 1655, T. E. L. survey, in Young county, is drilling at a depth of 1755 feet.

L. P. Hammond No. 1 John and Jeff Waggoner, located in the Hezikiah George survey, abstract 454, southwest Wichita county, is drilling at 1629 feet.

Harry Hines is drilling at 1790 feet in the Austin chalk on his No. 1 Baker wildcat, located to the town of Carthage in Panola county. The same operator has shut down his No. 1 Jones at a depth of 2543 feet. This test is also near Carthage in Panola county.

Hammon and Garrett No. 1 G. C. Booth in the Washington county school lands, abstract 902, in Jack county, spudded in and is down 100 feet.

Crump and Conklin No. 1 Williams brothers in B. S. F. survey, No. 1, Jack county, is plugging back to shoot a sand at 4400 feet that showed considerable oil and gas. The total depth of the well is 4550 feet.

Everts to Make Second Test in Electra Region

ELECTRA, Texas, Feb. 9.—After several months of repeated efforts to dislodge a bit and piece of pipe lost in the hole below 1200 feet, C. A. Everts skidded his derrick this week to begin a second test on the N. D. Cooper farm, sub-division 29, Waggoner colony lands, eight and one-half miles northeast of Electra. The contract in developing that block of acreage secured early last year by Mr. Everts, calls for a test to be drilled 2000 feet if oil is not found at a lesser depth. Mr. Everts drilled a duster on the Gibson farm, one mile southeast of the Cooper test, but the log of the first well and recommendations of geological experts give hope of uncovering a new pool in that area.

C. C. Bradford, Fort Worth operator, has made location and has the derrick up for his No. 1, H. C. Obenhaus, 600 feet north of the nearest production in the Sheldon-Obenhaus pool, eight miles northeast of Electra. The new location offsets the Mart Honaker tract on the east and will extend the pool in which C. P. Sheldon has been the lone operator up to the present time. Mr. Sheldon, who discovered the pool in December, 1926, has production in the Obenhaus, Frankl and Honaker leases, all within a small area. Other tests on the southwest and north have failed to find profitable production.

Mardi Gras Will Be Given Feb. 27 At Junior College

A real Louisiana Mardi Gras, the first ever attempted in Wichita Falls, will be given at the junior college Monday, February 27, according to an announcement made by the French club of the college Wednesday. The affair is to be sponsored by all of the clubs of the school, headed by the French club, and proceeds will go to the Wal-Kun, college annual.

FOUR WINNERS IN POPULARITY CONTEST NAMED

Katherine Weldon, Camille Avis, John Emmett Lyle, and Kenneth Mills were honored by their fellow students at the Wichita Falls High school recently, according to results posted Wednesday in the popularity contests.

Miss Katherine Weldon, president of the Girl Reserves and prominent in all school activities, carried out the old custom of having the Girl Reserve president the most popular girl in school by winning the popularity contest. The title of most popular boy was given to John Emmett Lyle, editor of the 1928 Coyote. Both Miss Weldon and Mr. Lyle are seniors.

Miss Camille Avis, who ran Louise Carpenter a close race in the beauty contest recently, won the distinction of most attractive girl. Camille is a sophomore.

Kenneth Mills received the highest number of votes of any candidate in any contest, winning the title of favorite athlete with hardly any competition except that of Maurice Allred. Kenneth, who is a junior, received the largest majority of votes ever cast for anyone except Leo Baldwin.

The voting was done by secret ballot, each student being entitled to one vote. The pictures of each will appear in full-page rotogravure in the "Favorites" section of the 1928 Coyote, as will also a surprise feature, "Teacher's Pet." Votes were cast in this classification at the same time as the others, but the winner's name will be kept secret until the issuance of the books in May.

WICHITA OFFICERS GO TO SHERIFFS' MEET AT VERNON

Twenty or more Wichita Falls officers made preparations Thursday to attend the two-day convention closing Friday at Vernon of the West Texas Sheriffs' association.

Those from Wichita Falls attended as a good will delegation to extend an invitation to officers at the Vernon meeting to be present in Wichita Falls February 23 and 24 at the convention of the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma Peace Officers' association.

Warren Belcher, deputy sheriff, and S. O. Hamm, state highway officer for 14 Northwest Texas counties, headed one group of officers who went to Vernon Thursday. Ben Allred, district attorney here, Chief of Police Frank Burns and Constable Frank Morgan planned to go Friday. Officers from Iowa Park, Electra and Burkburnett also were expected to attend.

The Vernon meeting was to be held that the convention here is expected to be probably the largest assembly of peace officers ever to gather in Texas. Every county in Oklahoma and every section of Texas is expected to be represented here, it was said.

BARNEY COHN SUFFERS MINOR HURTS IN FALL DOWN STEPS AT THE HUB

Barney Cohn, tailor employed at the Hub clothiers, Seventh and Indiana, suffered bruises and minor injuries when he fell down several steps at the store shortly after 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The injured man was taken to the Hargrave-Walker hospital in a Burris-Shepherd ambulance. Fellow workers said that Cohn struck upon the back of his head when he lost his balance while climbing the steps with his arms loaded.

AT THE THEATERS

'Broadway' Show Here Friday Night Praised by Press

Theatergoers are to have the opportunity to witness "Broadway" the smart play of New York night life that has proven such a sensational success in Chicago, New York, Boston and Philadelphia, where the play is now current and taxing capacity of the theaters.

"Broadway" is to be the attraction at the Memorial auditorium Friday night. It is a play of exceptional merit and if it is accepted here as elsewhere it should prove the event of the year. Never in the history of the theater has an attraction come to us so highly recommended by the critics of the press. It is the first time in many years that the reviewers in all the papers acclaim the merits of a play, and some have even said that "Broadway" is a play that there is danger of under-praising, while one of New York's brilliant critics said, "I cannot for the life of me think of a man or woman that would not heartily enjoy this play, it is the most vivid-absorbing and amusing of all the shows that has struck the great white way in many years." While another said that Jed Harris had produced "Broadway" in such a perfect manner that many in the audience really forgot that they were enjoying a performance and wondered why they had not been taxed with a cover charge which is a customary practice of the New York night clubs.

Jed Harris, who is responsible for the tremendous success of "Broadway," has selected the company that is to present the play in Wichita Falls with great care and discretion and it is said the company that is to present the play here has a larger payroll than the one that is playing in New York, Chicago, Boston or Philadelphia and not excepting the fact that the theaters in the above cities charge almost double the amount for the seats as charged here.

SPANISH ADDRESS ON "MEXICO OF TODAY" IS FEATURE OF CLUB MEET

Members of El Circulo Espanol, Junior College Spanish club, were entertained with an unusual program Wednesday morning at the school.

Several jokes were told in Spanish by Maurice Mount and Jewel Jennings. Katherine Keller and Loneta Smith played some ukulele selections. The feature of the program, however, was an address in Spanish on "Mexico of Today" by R. O. Jonas, who hitherto had been hiding his linguistic ability under a bushel in his education and psychology classes.
