Big Three And Polish Leaders Set Moscow Meeting June 15

All Factions Of Poles Represented And Solution Of Problem Expected

(By The Associated Press)

THE Polish dispute will be threshed out in Moscow at a conference beginning June 15, with representatives of the Big Three and Polish leaders of all factions seeking a settlement of Poland's vexing reorganization problem, it was announced last night.

The news came only a few hours after Harry Hopkins, President Truman's special envoy, had returned to Washington from Moscow and reported to his chief.

All Factions Join In

At the Big Three meeting, to be held in Moscow, representatives of the Big Three will be joined by leaders of the Warsaw provisional government and democratic leaders from within and without Poland to seek a settlement of the Polish reorganization problem, it was announced today.

A statement released simultaneously in London, Washington and Moscow said that U. S. Ambassador to Moscow W. Averell Harriman, Russian Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov and British Ambassador Sir John Archibald Clark Kerr would confer with leaders of the three Polish groups "about reorganization of the provisional Polish government on the broad democratic basis . . . provided for in the Crimea agreement on Poland."

Some of Polish Leaders

Among the top Polish leaders who are to meet with the representatives of the Big Three are Boleslaw Beirut, president of the provisional government; Wincenty Witos, aged former premier whose disappearance about the same time 16 other Polish leaders were arrested by the Soviets on sabotage charges caused wide speculation; and Stanislaw Mikolajszyk, former premier of the exiled Polish government in London and leader of the Polish peasant party.

The great city of London forgot all post-war problems long enough to give Gen. Eisenhower, the boy from Abilene, Kas., a tumultuous reception and to bestow upon him its highest honor of "Freeman." Crowds lined the streets to cheer the victorious Allied commander at his every appearance.

First Time To American

The King presented him with the Order of Merit—first ever awarded to an American soldier—at an informal reception at Buckingham Palace, and in the evening he visited the Dowager Queen Mary and dined with Prime Minister Churchill. Modestly Eisenhower accepted the tributes, saying "if all the Allied men and women who have serviced with me in this war can know that it is they this august body is really honoring today, then indeed I will be content."

The general will be honored in Paris on Thursday, and on Saturday he will board a plane for the United States.

The Vatican issued an 18-page booklet outlining the Pope's efforts to prevent Italy's entering the war in 1940. Two months before Italy invaded France, it revealed, the Pope sent a letter to Mussolini appealing to him to spare the country "such a great calamity."

On being told that his policy was irritating Mussolini, the Pope was said to have replied that he was "not afraid even of being sent to a concentration camp."

Authoritative sources in Germany said that the U. S. Second Armored division would be the first American unit to enter Berlin

Luzon Yanks Lash Out In Final Battle

By DEAN SHEDLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Wednesday, June 3—American forces resumed their advance Monday toward the broad Cagayan valley of northeastern Luzon, where the last major battle of the Philippines may be fought, Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today in a communique.

The 37th (Buckeye) division, pushing north along Highway 4, destroyed seven enemy tanks as the Japanese increased their resistance in an attempt to block the advance on the broad valley.

Jap Convoy Caught

Fighters caught a Japanese convoy out on the highway and demolished 48 vehicles, MacArthur said.

Far to the north, the Japanese rear was harassed by light naval units, which pounded enemy positions along the northern coast of Luzon.

American soldiers on the northeastern Luzon front pressed toward the Cagayan valley against increasing Japanese resistance. They knocked out seven tanks. Yank planes dumped 322 tons of bombs in the valley sector.

Once more far-flung air raids were cutting into Japan's vanishing sea and air power within the radius of the Philippines bases.

Air patrols sank two coastal vessels and a launch in Macassar strait between Borneo and Celebes, and carried out other harassing attacks on airdromes and additional targets in the area.

Heavy bombers struck at remnants of the enemy's northwestern garrison in Sarmi village in New Guinea while fighterbombers attacked villages near Wewak in support of the ground forces.

Night patrol planes started seven fires in Toshien, in central Formosa and search planes struck into Indo-China, damaging rail communications and shore installations.

In the mop-up of the southern Philippine island of Mindanao, MacArthur said a Japanese stand around the village of Mandog, northwest of Davao port, had been broken, forcing the enemy deeper into the mountains.

The main struggle, however, appeared shaping up in Cagayan valley on northern Luzon.

All-Out Smash Starts For Okinawa Clean-Up

Aussies Take Muara Island

MANILA, Wednesday, June 13—Australian invaders of northwest Borneo, switching from helmets to broadbrims under the broiling sun after Japanese resistance continued light. Have pushed in force four miles from the coast to within 10 airline miles of Brunet.

This drive toward the capital city of the British protectorate, vita because it leads toward rich oil fields, drew the personal attention of Gen. Douglas MacArthur who visited the front with Rear Adm. Forrest Bretton, Royal Australian assault group commander.

New Gains Reported

Official headquarters reports today listed new gains on Brunei from demolished Brooketon village.

An important staging point for supplies to support the mainland push was assured when the "Diggers" completely occupied four-mile-long Muara island, lying athwart Brooketon. The narrow channel does not permit direct unloading of supplies on the mainland.

On the larger island of Labuan, which commands the entrance to Bruei bay, the seasoned Australian troops who landed Sunday drove two miles north of the captured air field.

Planes Join Attack

Heavy, medium and fighter bombers continued to smash at the enemy positions along the jungle-tangled trails leading inland.

Light naval units on night patrol attacked shore targets in the Brunei bay area and at Sandakan on the northern tip of Borneo.

The advance on Brunei city placed the Australians about 14 miles from the capital and 38 miles from Seria oil field, one of the prime objectives in this strike at one of the richest of all prizes

Japs Ignore Plea To Quit

GUAM, Wednesday, June 15 — Using ropes for scaling and pre-dawn darkness for cover, U. S. 10th Army forces seized vital heights at both ends of the Yaeju escarpment on southern Okinawa Tuesday and held on grimly in daylight against heavy counter-attacks of the no-surrender Japanese.

The two separated and fast dwindling forces of the enemy on the island brought every weapon to bear, even ripped machineguns from wrecked airplanes as they elected to die with a typical flourish of defiance.

Hold Out Grimly

Japanese Navy men, trained originally as a landing force, held out grimly in a small pocket on Oroku peninsula.

On the east flank of the escarpment line, the 17th regiment of Maj. Gen. Archibald V. Arnold's Seventh Infantry division pulled their way with ropes up a sheer face of the escarpment northwest of the town of Hanagusuku. They reached the top of a cliff fronting the plateau.

Southwest of Hanagusuku, other Seventh division elements pushed down the south slope of Hill 95 from captured heights. Gains of the division ranged up to 500 yards.

First Marines Advance

On the west flank, Maj. Gen. Pedro A. Del Valle's First Marine division opened an attack at 3:30 a. m. which won advances up to 1,000 yards. The Leathernecks reached the crest of Kunishi ridge by their surprise move and moved forward against light resistance until daylight. Then the Nipponese struck back but the Marines hung on and were reinforced under heavy fire.

In the center, the 383rd regiment of Maj. Gen. James L. Bradley's 96th Infantry division captured all of the town of Yuza after a rough, seesaw battle. The 383rd beat off a small enemy counterattack, then pushed forward about 200 yards. This advance reached high ground south of Yuza on the approaches of the irregular escarpment.

Nose of Escarpment

Today's fleet communique of Adm. Chester W. Nimitz made no mention of the 381st regiment which scaled the forward nose of the escarpment yesterday but apparently the Yanks were holding their positions.

Core Of New World Charter Is Unanimously Approved

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—The heart of a new world charter—provisions for a security council to enforce and back up its decisions with armed might—was approved unanimously late today by a United Nations conference commission.

Accepted by diplomats of 50 nations at a public session in San Francisco's Opera house was a committee report which termed these provisions "a great historic development" and the keystone of a peace structure.

Council membership is restricted to the United States, Russia, Britain, France and China permanently, plus six smaller powers on a rotating basis.

The council could take whatever measures it considers necessary to erase the threat of war. It could make recommendations, drift terms for peaceful conciliation of quarrels, and apply military and economic sanctions.

If it takes military persuasion to prevent war, the council will have at its call some of the air, sea and land forces of great and small powers. Directing them will be great power chiefs of staff—the experts who engineered the defeat of Germany.

Voting Procedure Undecided

Still to be decided, however, is the voting procedure by which the council will make its decisions and the question of whether each of the Big Five will have the right they demand to veto peace-enforcement action. A conference committee was working toward a critical ballot on the issue tonight.

British delegation chief Lord Halifax told the committee the result would show whether we shall or shall not have a charter.

The commission action on enforcement arrangements is subject to final approval of the entire conference, but that will be more or less routine.

Slender Wilhelm Morgensterne of Norway rapped the commission to order and declared that the security, peace and very existence of freedom may very well depend on the security council.

He presented France's chief delegate, Joseph Paul Boncour—"that veteran of international co-

OPA Starts Intensive Drive In Area For Meat Control

DALLAS, June 12. (AP)—Harry Hall, regional enforcement executive of the Office of Price administration, said here today the most intensive OPA meat control and enforcement program ever launched would be conducted in this six-state area.

He said the enforcement staff throughout the region has been doubled within the last 60 days, and he anticipated even further large increases in preparation for what he called the "all-out offensive to wipe out black market operations and insure a more equitable distribution of meat."

Three Main Points

He said three main fronts are encompassed in the new enforcement program.

Two are already underway and the third is scheduled to go into effect July 1, Hall reported. They are:

Enforcement of ceiling prices in the purchase and sale of live cattle.

Enforcement of regulations governing the purchase and storage of meat in frozen locker facilities.

And the OPA's new slaughter order, to go into effect July 1, which is designed to channel large supplies of meat from non-federally inspected slaughter houses to those which are federally inspected.

Enforcement agents will be assigned to each of the three phases of the program and each agent will be a specialist in his field.

Hall said the slaughter order is expected to materially increase the meat supply for the armed services and certain metropolitan areas which have not been getting a fair share of meat.

It will mean a twenty-five per cent cut in production, over last year's figures, for non-federally inspected slaughterers, which will provide additional cattle and calves for federally inspected slaughterers, Hall said.

Investigations into meat hoarding in frozen food lockers in the Dallas region is already underway, although no report on its results is immediately available, according to Hall.

Anderson Warns On Food Plan

MINNEAPOLIS, June 12. (AP)—Clinton P. Anderson — the man who will decide what civilians eat in the months ahead—cautioned them today against being optimistic as to possible improvements in supplies of short items for some time to come.

"In fact," he said, "we have a bitter path ahead of us as far as food is concerned."

Guessed Wrong On Food

Anderson told a luncheon gathering of dairymen, poultrymen, businessmen and civic leaders that present shortages resulted in part from the nation's failure to anticipate the extent of war needs.

"We planned a world wide war as far as weapons were concerned but failed to plan for a world wide war as far as food was concerned," he said.

Anderson's statements were made in connection with a hearing the House food shortage investigating committee held here on causes of shortages of butter and poultry products. He is chairman of the committee now on a cross-country tour in search of ways of obtaining greater production.

Up To Farmers

The farmer and only the farmer, he said, can provide more food.

He said it was the duty, however, of all those wanting more food—the government as well as civilians—to be willing and ready to back up the farmer in preventing a farm price collapse and another agricultural depression should a "full production" program bring surpluses.

A predominant theme running through testimony of farmers at hearings held here today and at Omaha yesterday was an expressed fear of a break in farm prices soon after the war with Japan is won.

Damages totaling $79,000 were asked in two petitions filed in 99th district court Tuesday against E. G. Abbott, doing business as Domino Taxicab company, and Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches, Inc., in connection with a collision May 23 of a cab and bus at Eighteenth and Texas Ave.

Mrs. Henry Todd, 512-B Eighteenth, asked $39,000 and J. H. D. Johnson, 512-A Eighteenth, theater projectionist, asked $40,000 as compensation for injuries allegedly received in the accident. Each petition named both the cab and bus companies. Mrs. Todd and Johnson were passengers in the cab.

The accident resulted in the death of 12-year-old Fairy Lou Bounds, daughter of Cpl. and Mrs. James Bounds of 905 Ave. M. She was also an occupant of the cab.

Texas Near Bottom Of Education Scale

AUSTIN, June 12. (AP)—Texas stands 44th among the states in the percentage of enrollment in public and private schools, Paul H. Good, education director of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce said here today.

Speaking before a meeting of educators, business men, and state officials, arranged by the Austin Chamber of Commerce, Good said "Texas needs great educational development."

Representatives were present from Elgin, Austin, Brownsville, Bastrop, San Marcos, Seguin, Georgetown, Kyle, La Grange, Manor and Taylor.

Storms And Floods Wreak Havoc In Many Parts Of Texas; At Least Two Are Dead

(By The Associated Press)

Several Texas communities today were fighting rain-swollen streams, aftermath of storms which brought death and damage yesterday.

Rivers and creeks were out of their banks and several roads were closed in Hopkins county.

Rainfall totalling 5.55 inches fell in a nine-hour period from 10:30 p. m. Monday to 7:30 a. m. yesterday. Over four inches fell within two and a half hours in the area.

7.14 In 18 Hours

All streams in the Mt. Pleasant area were flooding after 7.14 inches of rain in 18 hours. All crops in the bottomlands were ruined.

In Hill county, highway 171 north of Hillsboro was closed by high water. Rainfall during an electrical and windstorm amounted to 2.75 inches in a five-hour period. Wind was so strong it blew down corn.

Creeks overflowed and washed out bridges near Sherman. Rains totaled 6.53 inches, and delayed harvest of small grains. Erosion during the downpour damaged wheat, barley and oats.

Storms Widespread

Storms were widespread yesterday. A military policeman from the Brady prisoner of war camp was killed by a brick blown from a bus station by high winds. Two other soldiers were injured by flying bricks. Extensive damage to the Brady business district was reported.

A second death was reported at Copesville, near Farmersville. A Santa Fe employe was killed while trying to warn an approaching train that high water had made the track ahead unsafe.

Otha Cumbest, 49, was killed while attempting to flag the Santa Fe freight train. His body was badly mangled.

Bill Creighhead, another employe with him, succeeded in stopping the train.

World War I Veteran

Cumbest was a veteran of World war I. He is survived by his widow.

In south Taylor county a twister swept a narrow path, and a man and his son narrowly escaped possible death.

Tommy Hodges, working on the S. A. Bavon ranch, saw the twister approaching. Unable to reach a storm cellar, he tied himself and his son to a tree. The storm uprooted nearby trees, but miraculously left their tree standing.

Two were injured yesterday morning when a twister demolished or damaged almost every home in the Walton community 12 miles north of Athens.

Heavy At Terrell

Rainfall at Terrell as 5.75 inches, heaviest of the year. This brought Terrell's rainfall for the year to 33 inches, within 7 inches of the total average rainfall for an 18-year period. Heavy damage to crops and roads was reported.

The Dallas weather bureau said the storms covered north and central Texas, extending as far west as Abilene and as far downstate as Austin and San Antonio.

A two-hour wind and rain storm at Mexia caused damages estimated unofficially at $500,000. Trees were blown down and signs smashed at Waco, but damage was not serious.

Abilene had 2.48 inches of rain, bringing the year's total above normal. A woman was injured slightly there when lightning struck a home.

Wind knocked out the lighting system at the Austin airport. Rain totaled 2 inches there.

Hail At Longview

Hail damage was reported at Longview, which recorded 3.30 inches of rain.

Brady, where one soldier was killed and two injured, suffered material damage. The Planters gin, the Home Lumber company and the Brady Motor company buildings were damaged. The downtown area was without lights.

Wichita Falls, struck by a storm with winds of tornadic fury last week, received 1.75 inches of rain which farmers said would threaten unharvested grain crops.

Rainfall in many areas was considered beneficial to drouth-threatened crops.

Truman's FEPC Plea Defeated

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 12—President Truman's request for a permanent FEPC was turned down flatly today by the House Rules committee, with a Democrat from the President's home state casting the deciding vote.

By a six-to-six count, the committee at a closed door session refused to send to the floor for a vote legislation to make permanent the Fair Employment Practices committee created by the late President Roosevelt to prevent employment discrimination because of race, creed or color.

Virtually Killed

The action virtually killed the legislature, since it will stand as long as none of the six committee opponents changes his mind, and there was no indication that this would happen. The House could take the bill from the committee if 218 members signed a discharge petition, but such a petition has been in circulation more than a month and still is far short of the necessary signatures.

Representative Slaughter, Kansas City Democrat whose district adjoins the Missouri community in which President Truman lives, flew from Kansas City to provide the sixth and deciding vote of opposition.

"I came back just for that purpose," Slaughter told a reporter.

Despite the fact the President, in a letter last week to Chairman Sabath (D-Ill), personally requested the committee to approve the legislation, Slaughter said he had no intention of changing his mind and breaking the deadlock that has bottlenecked the bill.

House Votes To Abolish Poll Tax

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—Overriding objections of southern Democrats, the House passed today and sent to the Senate legislation to abolish the poll tax as a requirement for voting for federal offices.

It was the third time in successive congresses the House has approved the measure, and—as in the past—foes predicted it would die in the Senate.

Vote Is 251 TO 105

Passage came on a 251 to 105 roll call vote, after hours of sharp debate before a crowded House. Spirits ran high during the argument, and at one time the chair had to admonish spectators not to applaud.

Most southerners, and a few Republicans, assailed the legislation as an invasion of states' rights and termed it unconstitutional. Proponents denied this, and contended the bill is needed "to provide freedom of the ballot" for millions of southerners.

The measure declares illegal any regulation imposing the poll tax as requirement of voting for president, vice president or congressmen. Such laws are now in effect in Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia.

Not Federal Obligation

Several southerners told the House they opposed the levy, but did not think the federal government had the power to abrogate it.

"The evidence before us is that the states themselves one by one are abolishing the tax," Chairman Sumners (D-Texas) of the judiciary committee commented. "Give us time."

Rep. Patrick (D-Ala), one of the few southern supporters of the measure, commented that the voters of the South are more progressive than the office holders—they want to see this tax done away with."

Mystery Of Blazing Buzzards Is Solved

MARSHALL, June 12. (AP)—The mystery of the blazing buzzards has been solved.

Famed Texas Officers On The Way Home

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, deputy chief of air forces and former commander of the Mediterranean Air force, is en route from Washington to San Antonio, Texas, for a homecoming reception tomorrow, the War department reported tonight.

Eaker, who is due to arrive at San Antonio at 1 p. m. (cwt), will share honors at the reception with Lt. Gen. Alexander Patch, former 7th Army commander in Europe; Lt. Gen. Lucian Truscott, 5th Army commander, and other officers returning from the European theater.

The department said that Generals Patch and Truscott had arrived in the United States and are on their way to San Antonio.

It added that Eaker would continue on to San Angelo Thursday for an all-day celebration there. He will spend Thursday night with his father, Y. Y. Eaker, at Eden, Tex.

Lend-Lease Aid For China Sharply Up

WASHINGTON, June 12. (AP)—Lend-lease aid to China in April was more than 15 times that of the same month a year ago, it was announced today.

Foreign Economic Administrator Leo T. Crowley said in a statement that April's $61,000,000 worth of materials and services brought total lend-lease assistance to China since March, 1941, to $458,874,000.

AUGSBURG, Germany, June 12. (AP)—More than 420,000 displaced persons in the U. S. Seventh Army occupation area still are awaiting evacuation to their homes, military government authorities said today.

Travel Space To Be Cut Sharply

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—Fifty per cent less Pullman space and 10 to 12 per cent fewer railroad coaches will be available for civilian travel in August and thereafter, Transportation Director J. Monroe Johnson said today.

The critical shortage will last through next March as "battle-bound troops from Europe move from eastern ports to western embarkation points, Johnson said.

Will Ration If Necessary

The Office of Defense Transportation will seek to avoid travel rationing or train priorities, he told a news conference, "but if necessary, we'll ration."

Stringent tightening of air travel was also predicted, especially west-bound.

"I understand that in another two or three weeks you might as well stay home unless you hold a No. 2 airplane priority," Johnson said.

Dumping of Wheat

Commenting on a report that wheat was being dumped on the ground in Oklahoma because storage space and freight cars were not available, the ODT chief said some wheat was so handled but that more cars have been moved than were handled last year.

"I suppose most Easterners and even some newspaper people probably think it a high crime to dump wheat on the ground," Johnson said. "There never has been a harvest year when there wasn't some grain on the ground."

Georgia Prayers For Rain Are Answered

METTER, Ga., June 12. (AP)—The people prayed for rain here today and the rains came—first a sprinkle and then a shower of about 30 minutes.

Several hours after 500 townspeople closed shop and met for prayers seeking relief from a long drouth, a light rain fell in parts of Candler county of which this is the seat.

The sprinkle only dampened the dust, but the rolls of distant thunder gave hope despite the fact a hot sun beat down on this baked community.

About 5 p. m., what residents described as "a good shower" came down. Reports from outlying precincts reported even better results and generally, it was agreed that "the crops are saved.

The citizens had followed the bidding of Mayor L. C. Anderson in closing up and joining in prayer with the farmers, whose tobacco plants and corn stalks had had no rain since May 13.

Growth Of Holstein Herds Forecast At West Texas Meeting At College

Members of the Holstein-Friesian association of the West Texas region met in the agriculture building at Texas Tech college Tuesday in their second annual session to discuss business and to hear two talks dealing with phases of their industry.

Those attending heard G. Raymond Appleman, fieldman of the Holstein-Friesian association of America, talk on duties and opportunities of pure-bred breeder; and O. W. Thompson, dairy husbandman of the Texas Extension Service, speak on new developments in dairying.

Notes Enthusiasm

Appleman said that Texans should keep 'hammering long enough and hard enough" and Holsteins would grow into one of Texas' leading herds. He noted the enthusiasm in the state for the cows and said the herds were due to grow and spread in the future.

Stressing the importance of better cows and better herds, along with benefitting the neighbor's herds, Appleman cited six important pre-herd considerations as follows: A good herdsman, reasonably good land to grow roughage, a decent set of buildings, good foundation of stock, both male and female, and a market for products.

Must Be Good Manager

Going from this into other phases of running a successful dairy, Appleman said a good manager was needed who would study farm, feed and home; be a good caretaker down to minute details; have a good health program; keep records; work out an advertising program, in many details; and be honest with himself, his neighbor and his laborers.

All these, Appleman said, constitute being a better breeder.

Producers Serve Lunch

After a lunch in the agriculture pavilion served by the milk producers of Lubbock, members returned to the auditorium to hear Thompson delve into artificial breeding, prevention of calf scours, prevention of bloat, the lack of correlation between size of milk veins or milk wells and production, and the calf's udder index to future production capacity.

Stangel Recounts Trip

W. L. Stangel, past president of the Texas association and head of the department of animal husbandry at the college, closed the day's talks with a short summary of his trip to the Columbus national convention of the association last year.

J. V. Lipscomb, president of the Texas association and a resident of Dallas, presided over the meeting. Minutes were read at the opening of the session and a general business meeting closed the day's work at the college.

Water Works Group To Meet June 19

All water works men, mayors and city officials in the Permian basin and surrounding area will meet in Midland June 19 at the regular monthly session of the Permian Basin Water Works and Sewage association, according to Joe Stanley, district sanitary engineer for the State Health department here and program chairman of the association.

Stanley said that James W. Bradner, jr., regional director of the Bureau of Community Facilities in Ft. Worth, will deliver the principal address on "The Value of Engineering Services in the Expansion and Operation of Various Municipal Functions for both Large and Small Cities."

A barbecue and "son-of-a-gun" will be served at the Cloverdale park in Midland at 7 o'clock p. m. prepared by Midland school Superintendent A. B. Cole. Following this will be an 8:15 meeting in the City auditorium at the health unit building with Bradner's speech as highlight of the program.

Stanley said that invitations have gone out to all city officials of the area and requests have been made that all interested parties attend what is expected to be the largest of such meetings held this year.

The local engineer added that Bradner has a background of invaluable experience well qualifying him to head the program. Bradner is former regional director of the Federal Works agency program. Subject of his talk was requested by the association after the May meeting in Brownfield.

Paul Revere was president of the first Board of Health in American history.

Construction In Transition Period

John W. Gailey, priorities analyst of the War Prouction board, said here Tuesday that "lumber is scarcer now than at any time during the war."

"Now is the transition period for construction," he said. The fact that the WPB has revoked some orders "does not necessarily mean you can get materials," he said.

One cause of the lumber shortage is the scarcity of labor in milling industries and another is that the large stock pile of lumber which was available earlier in the war is "practically all gone."

Lumber yards have 20,000 board feet of lumber yearly that may be issued without priority ratings for repair and maintenance. Beyond that "free" footage, however, priorities may be required.

The WPB recently raised from $200 to $1,000 the amount in new material and labor that may be spent for residential construction, alterations and repairs, including farm houses, for each family unit, and also raised amounts that may be spent for business buildings, public buildings and factories and other plants.

Approximately 125 orders have been revoked recently by the WPB. Gailey will remain through today in Lubbock to give information regarding priorities, restrictions lifted and applications. His office hours, at the chamber of commerce, are 9 to 12 and 1 to 5 o'clock.

Personal Appeal By Pope Is Revealed

VATICAN CITY, June 12. (AP)—The Vatican, in an 18-page pamphlet outlining the Holy See's efforts to keep Italy out of war, disclosed today that Pope Pius XII personally appealed to Benito Mussolini in a letter April 24, 1940, to "spare our and your beloved country such a great calamity."

Te letter was written less than two months before Italy entered the conflict.

On May 13, less than a month before Italy declared war, the pamphlet said, Dino Alfieri, newly-named Italian envoy to Berlin, told the pope that Mussolini was "irritated" at the pontiff's telegrams of sympathy to the low country rulers following the German invasion.

The pope, the pamphlet said, replied that he merely had done his duty and "we are not even afraid of being sent to a concentration camp."

Sutherland Cites Progress Made Against Maladjustment Problems

By GEM BOB CALLEY
Avalanche Staff Writer

Education and industry are developing newer and more satisfactory methods of coping with problems of maladjustment, Dr. Robert L. Sutherland, director of the Hogg foundation at the University of Texas, told a large audience in a public address last night at Texas Tech.

"Establishing general conditions which will help children develop normally and adults live harmoniously is the goal in school and factory," Dr. Sutherland said in presenting a round-up of personnel projects throughout the state. "It is realized that habits and attitudes of maladjustment begin early, so personnel work is developing towards early detection and correction of these traits," he said.

Ohio Survey Cited

Dr. Sutherland cited results of a survey conducted in Columbus, Ohio schools which proved his statement that maladjustment problems begin at an early age. The study of these school children revealed that one-third were lacking in ability to get along with others and 12 per cent were seriously maladjusted.

"Personnel work is entering education in an attempt to help each student develop to his fullest potentialities," the speaker declared.

"In every branch of industry and business, the human equation is being studied," Dr. Sutherland said. He explained that personnel work is simply an attempt to establish policies and conditions which will free individuals to work well on the job and to live satisfying lives.

Regimentation Unsound

Dr. Sutherland said even the Army has found that regimentation is not a sound personnel policy, therefore the armed forces' system of classification, counseling and morale work is being perfected. "Rejection and discharge rates in military service, based on emotional adjustments, are relatively high," he related.

"The need in personnel work is urgent," Dr. Sutherland proclaimed. But in closing he added that with "progressive, intelligent actions being undertaken by education, industry and military services, maladjustment problems can be effectively handled, if not eliminated."

This lecture was sponsored jointly by the City Federation of Women's clubs, Lubbock Parent-Teachers association council, Junior Welfare league, the Lubbock Ministerial association, and the American Association of University Women.

Concludes Series Thursday

Dr. Sutherland, who is delivering a series of school and public addresses on Tech campus this week, will conclude scheduled lectures when he speaks on "Wartime Lessons for Educators" at 8 p. m. Thursday on the green of the Tech administration building.

"How to Obtain the Fifth Freedom" will be the subject of Dr. Sutherland's address to be delivered from 9:30 to 11 a. m. today in the agriculture building auditorium where combined classes will meet.

NEGRO GETS LIFE TERM

HOUSTON, June 12. (U.P.)—Lifelong imprisonment faced Melvin Adams, 49, negro, today for the murder April 9 of his wife, Belle. The life sentence was imposed on the negro in Judge Frank Williford's court yesterday.

News Briefs

An appreciative audience heard the first in a series of Texas Tech summer band school concerts presented by the college concert and intermediate bands last night at Texas Tech. The intermediate band, composed of 50 pre-college students and directed by R. A. Dhossche of San Antonio, presented the first part of the program. A flute trio, composed of Misses Norma Hammer of Wink, Mary Lou Stewart of Lubbock and Mary Lou Boone of Crane, played "Serenade" (Cavalini). Seventy-nine members of the college concert band presented the latter part of the program. Tech students Richard Young and Ted Crager played a cornet duet, "Tifolium" (Erik W. G. Leidzen). Next concert is scheduled June 19, according to Prof. D. O. Wiley, head of the band school.

Juvenile Offenders Average 61 Daily

AUSTIN, June 12. (U.P.)—Police authorities in Texas are handling an average of 61 juvenile offenders each day, Director Homer Garrison of the department of public safety said today. A great many of the persons reported "missing" are runaway girls, he added.

Garrison based his statement on statistics in Texas for the first quarter of 1945, in which local officers reported the arrest of 5,472 minor offenders.

This compared with 5,343 juvenile arrests in the same period of 1944.

As evidence of the uncertainties of the times, Texas officers are being called upon to search for missing persons at the rate of 20 a day. The quarterly report showed 1,796 persons reported missing, more than double the 850 for the same period last year.

From field telephones ...to farm telephones

The army field telephone set is a rugged product of telephone science. The same research and skill which go into these tough little battle talkers are going today into plans for postwar farm telephone service.

Already, research has found new ways to extend and improve farm service. Practical telephone men are busy right now with such developments as a system for sending telephone messages over electric power lines—new types of wire to string on poles or bury underground—dial telephone systems for small communities and surrounding farms—radiotelephones to reach remote spots.

When the wartime job eases up, plans for postwar farm telephone service will be ready to go.

WE ARE PROUD

THE gift of knowing what to say and of saying it well is now possessed by all Army generals but certainly we can be proud of the talks given by American leaders who are coming back and who are being lavishly feted in cities and hamlets by adoring relatives and admiring friends and people whom they don't even know.

When Generals Patton and Doolittle addressed the throngs in Los Angeles Memorial coliseum Saturday night, they were all right we thought, on reading the account. But Tuesday General Eisenhower in London was magnificent.

SALAD CUSTOM

THE American Women's Volunteer Services of San Francisco certainly made an outstanding contribution to the United Nations conference by providing the several hundred volunteers needed to serve luncheons five days weekly to as many as 2500 persons each day and the afternoon tea provided for many of these.

Delegates were acquainted with many West Coast products and many of them likely will take home the pleasing American habit of serving salads. They were introduced to salads featuring typical food products from California, avocados, raisins, prunes, dates, figs, olives, lettuce, walnuts, almonds, oranges, lemons, grapefruit and California wines. Quantities of lemon slices were available to Russian and English delegates for their tea hours.

Typical Salads

HERE are typical salad patterns designed by George Mardikian, famous San Francisco restauranteur, who assisted the AWVS in serving typical American foods:

California fruit and nut special made of a bed of lettuce with layer of orange slices, one each; prune stuffed with cheese; date stuffed with half walnut; spoonful of seedless raisins. Lemon and oil dressing.

Or a cupped lettuce leaf. Mound of cottage cheese covered with orange slices and garnished with fresh cherries.

A colorful salad and coleslaw Californian with shredded carrots, green pepper strips and olives adding interest. Served with oil dressing and lemon dressing.

OVERSEAS SONG

FIRST LT. BEATRICE F. CARRUTH, an Army nurse now stationed in Rome after 30 months in North Africa and Corsica, recently wrote her mother, Mrs. L. J. Carruth in Meadow, that they are singing a song now-a-days to the tune of the famous "Lily Marlene," adding, "We have no idea when we'll get to come home but we are singing it anyway." It goes like this:

"Dear Mr. Truman:
Won't you send us home
We have conquered Napoli
And we have conquered Rome.
We have subdued the master race
And now there is some shipping space
So won't you send us home
And let the troops at home see Rome!"

WHAT'S THE MATTER?

THERE'S nothing in the world more natural than for an American overseas to spend his spare time in wishing that he was at home again. That wish is often put into writing. According to reports, one of the favorite topics in sessions between battles is home and what the men are going to do when they get away from their battle stations.

And yet, in recent days we have heard that many of the men, once they are at home, wish they could go back and are discontented with what they find when they arrive home. Absence and distance have lent a glamour that actually never existed in some cases; thinking of comrades still out there somewhere engaging the enemy while they are at home amid comforts is a reason for unrest.

Another reason for this unhappiness of heroes at home is the distance felt between them and their homefolks. Thousands of words have been written on this subject and we are not going to add any except to suggest that these returning service men might feel more comfortable if they found their home folk doing all they could to support the war effort. Things such as actually sacrificing to buy war bonds, or planting gardens, helping at the Red Cross and planning to spend the summer at home, rather than to add to the transportation snarl that will result if vacationing people insist on climbing aboard trains and buses for pleasure trips, despite suggestions from President Truman to remember the service men's needs come first.

Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith Speaks At Knights Of Pythias Meeting

Rank of Knight was conferred on more than a dozen South Plains candidates, including three Lubbock men, when the Knights of Pythias lodge was addressed by Lt.-Gov. John Lee Smith, past supreme chancellor and past grand chancellor of the Texas Grand lodge of the order, at a meeting Tuesday night in the East ballroom of Lubbock hotel.

Mr. Smith talked on a fraternal subject.

Approximately 150 persons were in attendance. In addition to those from Lubbock, candidates were present from Clovis, Paducah, Spur, Tahoka and Lamesa. The rank of Knight was bestowed on Newton Walton, Walter F. Smith and John Allen Ater, all of Lubbock.

ADDRESS E. AND P. W. TODAY
Lt.-Gov. John Lee Smith will speak to members of the Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club today at the noon luncheon of the organization in Hilton hotel.
The official will hold a series of conferences this morning at his headquarters in Lubbock hotel, it was announced. He will leave this afternoon for his home in Throckmorton.

Fulfills Promise

The official's appearance here was in fulfillment of a promise made to Dr. G. H. Ater of Lubbock when the Supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias, met in Chicago last year. Mr. Smith said he would be present here when John Allen Ater, son of Dr. Ater and a candidate for Pythian honors, became of age.

J. D. Lawson is chancellor commander of the Lubbock lodge.

At 6:30 o'clock last night, Smith was guest of honor at a past chancellor commanders dinner in the private dining room of the hotel. Past presiding officials of the Lubbock lodge are H. G. Brock, C. A. Brock, Ralph Brock, J. D. Corcorran, Acie Cope, M. F. Dagley, R. E. Hendrix, Russell Hardin, Bob Ingram, Victor H. Lindsey, Elmo Payne, Dr. J. W. Philips, Ralph Thompson, M. M. Wadsworth and O. T. Ryan.

SMITH TALKS FREELY ON VARIOUS SUBJECTS

Texas' lieutenant-governor, John Lee Smith, will "set a spell" with the most casual.

Here Tuesday for Knights of Pythias lodge ceremonies, Smith talked with those who dropped into his Lubbock hotel suite on everything from politics to Latin-America's relations with the U. S. A., from his son's raising of the colors on Okinawa to the Rainey controversy as it related to John Dos Passos' stormy book "USA," and from deer hunts to the program of the Knights of Pythias.

Comment On Race

Asked if he would run for governor next election, he cited political dictum of William Jennings Bryan who said, in substance, "If my candidacy merits so scant attention that it will cool overnight if not announced immediately, then I wouldn't stand a chance, anyway." By that, he explained, he had no intention of making any announcements now; "when a nation is engrossed only in its prosecution of war and not interested in the political destiny of anyone."

Asked if he believed Governor Stevenson would seek reelection, he said:

"I'm afraid I'll have to let the governor answer that one."

Reminded that some political reporters had quoted the governor as saying he wanted to retire to his Junction ranch after this term of office, Smith replied that he too had heard that. But, Smith said, that made no difference in his own intentions to "let the war be fought before politics."

The lieutenant-governor was accompanied here by T. M. Leshe of Austin, a member of Texas Highway patrol.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Purina Wins Behind Second One-Hit Game By Davidson

Hurling his second straight one-hitter in as many starts this season, Denny Davidson pitched the Purina Millers to a 16 to 3 win over the Hunt Oilers Tuesday afternoon at Chapman field in the belated league opener in the National League junior baseball race.

Davidson's first one hitter was in an exhibition game last Thursday against the Dickison Motor company team.

R. J. Mathany robbed the Davidson of no-hit honors in the fifth inning when he slashed out a single, the only clean blow combed from the little right hander.

The Millers turned loose a 17-hit barrage against Walter Higginbotham, with Joe Arrington setting the pace with a home run, double and a single in five trips to the plate. His homer came in the fourth inning with two on.

Bob Galey, Hunt Oiler ace, was late in showing up for the game, and got in for only one inning, the seventh, and fanned three Purina batters in succession in his only appearance in the game.

Texas Aggies Start Summer Grid Drills

COLLEGE STATION, June 12. (AP)—Summer football practice has started at Texas A. and M. college with 105 candidates among whom are eight lettermen and one squad member from 1944.

Brightest spot of the opening session was Monte Moncrief, stellar tackle who was getting around well on the leg he broke in a motorcycle accident last January. Moncrief, All-Southwest Conference lineman, is in his third varsity season.

Five additional lettermen are expected to be out for practice shortly. The crop of new men include 15 ends, 18 tackles, 18 guards, 6 centers, 32 backs and 7 who did not list positions they played in high school.

Last year men at the opening session were Moncrief; Bob Butchofsky and Stubby Matthews, backs; Grand Darnell, end who may be shifted to center; Bill Geer, Scooter Yeargain and Norton Higgins, ends; Sleepy League, guard, and Cush Denton, tackle.

Also expected back before long are Hub Ellis, center; Tom Daniel, quarterback, and a possibility of Morton Shefts, tackle, and Oscar White, end, reentering in the September semester. Bullet Gray, guard, is in school and is expected to come out later.

During the illness of Coach Homer Norton, Lil Dimmitt is directing the practice, assisted by Pete Jones, Boochey Koch and Bill Carmichael.

Rotary Defeats Jaycees, 19-6

With little Lefty Jack McCabe going the route in grand fashion, Manager Stoney Wall's Rotary club junior baseball nine came from behind Tuesday afternoon at the Boys club diamond to win 19 to 6 over the Junior Chamber of Commerce club.

Jack Keiling, who last year helped lead the Rotary club to the American League pennant, was making it rough on his former mates Tuesday afternoon, both at the bat and in the field.

Keiling helped the Jaycees to get off to an early lead with a lusty home run in the second inning with two men on the runways, and threw out two Rotary club players trying to steal at second.

The Jaycees went into the fourth inning with a 5-1 lead, but the Rotary nine exploded with a seven run attack that sent them ahead, and they were never headed.

Another big inning, the seventh, found the Rotary icing the game away with an 11 run spree that broke up a well played ball game. Bo English started the deluge in the seventh when he doubled with the bases full, and came in on an error.

McCabe started rather wildly, but settled down after the second inning, and hurled great ball. The Rotary infield was air tight behind him, with Marlin Smith making some great catches in the outfield, and Neil Sikes turned in a great catch of a line drive for the final out for one of the star plays of the game.

Tiger Rookie Beats Browns In Eleventh

DETROIT, June 12. Phils Set New Losing Record

BOSTON, June 12. (AP)—The stumbling Philadelphia Phils equaled their own record for straight losses today when they were shut out 10-0 by the Braves' Johnny Hutchings.

It was the cellar dwelling Phils' 15th consecutive loss, equalling a record the same club established in 1883 and which the Quakers equalled in 1936.

The Phils, however, have an unfinished game in the books. They were leading the Pirates 11-9 in Pittsburgh June 3 when the game was suspended after six frames because of Pennsylvania's Sunday law. That contest will be completed in Pittsburgh July 12.

Pavot Looms As Threat In Race

BALTIMORE, June 12. (AP)—The Preakness stock of Pavot, the 1944 juvenile champion, skyrocketed today as the dark son of Case Ace ran a sensational 1:59 1/5 over the stake distance of a mile and three-sixteenth in his final heavy workout before the Maryland classic next Saturday at Pimlico.

Obviously jubilant, Trainer Oscar White declared after the trial:

"The race will be between this horse and Hoop, jr.," winner of last Saturday's Kentucky derby. "He's ready to go."

The blistering pace of Walter M. Jefford's star together with the announcement that Georgie (The Iceman) Woolf would ride him Saturday, and that Eddie Arcaro would not be on Hoop, Jr., to try and duplicate his derby triumph—really scrambled things Arcaro must keep an engagement to ride Devil Diver in Saturday's suburban at Belmont.

Pavot, with his exercise boy, Orlando Hearn, carried 120 pounds as compared with the 126 he will have in the Preakness. He jogged around the oval once, then cut loose on a soft track, estimated to be a full second or more lower than normal.

He turned the half in 59 1/5 seconds and the mile in 1:38 2/5. His time for the mile and three-sixteenth — the Preakness distance — compared with Alsab's 1:57 for the stake in 1942, and Riverland's track record of 1:56 2/5 in 1943.

Lawson Charged In Death Case

Charges of murder have been filed against John Troy Lawson, 41, for allegedly driving an automobile on a public highway while intoxicated, as an outgrowth of fatal injuries early Sunday to Mrs. Edna Fitzgerald, 50, whose body was found in a bar ditch at Thirty-third and Ave. H five hours after Lawson's truck had struck a concrete culvert there.

D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, set bond of $1,000 in the case, binding Lawson, a wholesale grocery truck driver, over to grand jury investigation.

Verdict Is Returned

A verdict of accidental death was returned Tuesday morning by C. E. Lynn, another justice of peace, after a coroner's inquest. He found that the woman had died, probably instantly, as result of the impact of her body against the culvert, against which she probably fell through a door of the truck's cab. Lynn evidenced belief wheels of the heavy "bob-tail" truck had run over her when the truck whipped out of a bar ditch into which it had skidded, and onto Ave. H adjacent to the Slaton-Tahoka "Y."

Lawson had been arrested Monday morning by the sheriff's department after a series of radio pickup orders had been broadcast over KGZW, police shortwave station.

The charge was prepared by District Attorney Burton S. Burks.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, mother of several sons and daughters, was buried Monday afternoon.

Essair Set To Start Service About July 1

DALLAS, June 12. (AP) — A feeder airline service between Houston and Amarillo will begin about July 1 when Essair, Inc., inaugurates service, Maj. William F. Long of Dallas, president, said today.

Essair is one of several companies which have applied to the Civil Aerounautics board for similar service through Dallas to small nearby towns.

The feeder line will use ten-passenger Lockheed Electras, and will fly one round trip daily, making intermediate stops at Austin, San Angelo, Abilene and Lubbock, Long said.

Only mail and express will be carried during the first month of operation, with passenger service to be added later.

World Conference

operation, that gallant leader of the mother country of freedom" —to read a report on the month of committee toil that produced the peace-making mechanism for a new world organization.

From the point of view of security, Paul-Boncour said, definite and considerable progress has been made over the old league of nations.

In case of aggression, he said, military assistance ceases to be a recommendation to member states and becomes an obligation 'which none can shirk."

"If these proposals are adopted," the elderly diplomat asserted, "the international organization will cease to be unarmed in the face of violence; a collective force the size, the degree of preparedness, the composition, and the general location of which will be determined beforehand will have been placed at the disposal of the council to carry out these decisions."

Connally Moves Adoption

Senator Connally (D., Texas) moved adoption of the report and there was no dissent.

The security council will have power to:

Determine the existence of any threat to peace, breach of peace, or act of aggression and measures to maintain or restore peace.

Call upon disputants to accept temporary, provisional suggestions to keep an ominous situation from getting worse.

Call upon league members to apply diplomatic or economic pressure, including "complete or partial interruption of rail, sea, air, postal, telegraphic, radio and other means of communication and the severance of diplomatic and economic relations."

Take such action "by air, naval or land forces as may be necessary to maintain or restore international peace and security," including demonstrations, blockade and "other operations."

Agreements on Calls

Initiate the signing of agreements with member states for making available on call "armed forces, assistance and facilities, including rights of passage." Any state not represented in the council would be consulted and allowed to vote if its forces were to be used.

It would be the duty of the military staff committee to advise the council on "military requirements for maintenance of international peace" and on questions regarding regulation of armaments and possible disarmament. It could delegate some of its responsibility to regional subcommittees.

Little powers were on the losing side of a battle against granting the Big Five veto authority in the security council. They were giving in grudgingly to the idea that a veto over investigation and peaceful settlement of disputes has to be accepted if the great powers are to become part of an effective United Nations organization.

High Nazi Officials Captured By Allies

WIESBADEN, Germany, June 12. (AP)—Rudolf von Ribbentrop, son of the Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim vno Ribbentrop, has been discovered hiding in a prisoner-of-war pen in the Third Army sector, the Twelfth Army group announced today.

Capture of Dr. Baldur von Schirach, former Nazi governor and district leader in Vienna and former chief of the Hitler Youth, also was announced.

Noted Violinist To Present Concert At Texas Tech Tonight

Texas Tech's summer Artist Course will present the "violinist with a message," Waldemar Geltch, in a violin recital at 8:45 o'clock tonight on the administration building green.

Geltch, who comes to Lubbock for the first time, has played for more than 130 educational institutions, many times for repeat performances. He has appeared in all but three states of the union and played over 1,300 concerts.

Geltch will be assisted at the piano by Winifred Hill-Gallup. First selection on the program will be the suite, "Much Ado About Nothing" (Korngold) which includes "Bride in Her Wedding Dress," "March of the Nightwatchman," (in style of a grotesque funeral march), "Garden Scene," and "Hornpipe." Three movements from the "Concerto in G Minor" (Bruch) will be "Vorspiel," "Adagio," and "Allegro Marziale."

Other selections to be played by Geltch are "Humoreske" (Tor Aulin); "Nocturne" (Henri Ernst); "Dancing Doll" (Poldini-Kreisler); "Bird as Prophet" (Schumann-Auer); "Turkish March" (Beethoven-Auer); and "Perpetual Motion" (Ries).

In the event of inclement weather, the recital will be held in the auditorium of the agriculture building, according to Dean J. G. Allen, director of the summer Artist Course.

Tickets, selling for $1 each, may be obtained at the concert.

Borneo Invasion

seized by the Japanese in their drive toward Australia.

American and Australian naval forces firmly held Brunei bay itself, where the Japanese warships used to refuel when they were roaming virtually unchecked southward.

On this fourth day of the Borneo invasion Japanese opposition continued almost negligible but Austrian commanders predicted "some strife" as their forces move through mangrove swamplands and jungle-tangled wooded areas on the road to Brunei, capital city.

After invading the Borneo mainland near the bomb-wrecked village of Brooketon, the Aussies pushed southward. Some 40 miles from their starting point is the Seria oil field and another 35 miles farther is the Miri field. In normal times they produced 7,000,000 barrels of oil a year.

Airstrip Being Readied

On Labuan island engineers worked like beavers to ready the 3,600-foot airstrip, near bomb-ruined Victoria city, for Allied planes. Aussie ground troops met their main opposition at the airfield. They liquidated stubborn pockets of resistance in a clean-up that required several hours.

Reporting from Brunei bay, Associated Press war correspondent James Hutcheson pictured the Japanese as still confused after the speedy, almost bloodless landings. He said the biggest force of Japanese encountered during the first two days was met by the Aussies about 12 hours after the invasion. Seven Nipponese soldiers in a truck blundered into the Australian lines in the Brooketon sector. Six were killed, one wounded and captured.

Center At Jesselton

It was estimated that the Japanese have between 2,000 and 5,000 soldiers in the Brunei bay area, most of them at Jesselton, about 60 miles northeast of the invasion beaches.

The American Seventh Fleet had a major part in the invasion. Rear Adm. Forrest B. Royal, amphibious commander, said that more than 25,000 Yank naval personnel participated. The American men-of-war in the 200-ship invasion armada teamed with Australian warships in clearing the bay and blasting the beaches. Daring swimmers from the fleet braved Japanese fire to chart the bay bottom prior to the actual invasion.

All ground forces in the invasion are Australian.

Jap Government Now In Complete Control

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12. (AP) —The Suzuki government of Japan obtained from the Diet today virtually absolute power to rule the empire in its "gravest crisis" by decree.

With little debate the House of Peers completed passage of the wartime emergency measure, Japan's Domei news agency reported, which puts the Diet on a rubber stamp basis.

Domei, as recorded by the FCC, said the measure is limited to the duration of the war and authorizes the government "to issue orders" in the event of "urgent necessity." The whole field of Japan's war economy is affected, "regardless of the stipulations in other laws and regulations," Domei asserted.

Before the special session adjourned, Toshio Shimada, speaker of the House, reminded Suzuki that the wartime powers were intended "to cope with a graver situation than that now prevailing," probably referring to an expected invasion of the homeland. He urged "great care" in use of the new authority.

FBI Solves The "Case Of The Two Johnsons"

DALLAS, June 12. (AP)—Henry Johnson registered for the draft at Terrell and another Henry Johnson registered at Jefferson, but somehow their papers became mixed.

The FBI got after Henry No. 2 for being delinquent with his board at Jefferson, but had no trouble catching him since he really wasn't delinquent and was not hiding.

But he had Henry No. 1's papers, which now made the Terrell Johnson the delinquent one.

Henry No. 1, too, was eventually caught and pleaded guilty to failure to report for induction.

Henry No. 1's in jail and Henry No. 2 is free, and now has his correct papers.

Okinawa Battle

assaults Monday on Okinawa shipping and hit a light vessel, the 54th American ship damaged by such attacks. (The Navy in Washington has announced, additionally, that 25 ships have been sunk.) Ten raiders were shot down.

On Oruku peninsula, where the Sixth Marine division already had compressed Japanese naval landing forces (sometimes erroneously called Marines) into a mile square pocket, the enemy continued to offer heavy resistance with hoarded artillery and other weapons. Nimitz said the Leathernecks "further reduced" the pocket but gave no estimate of the area the enemy controls.

Oroku Pocket Tightens

Maj. Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, jr.'s Sixth division Marines have the Oroku pocket surrounded on three sides. The enemy's only escape outlet is to Naha harbor.

Nimitz confirmed earlier Tokyo radio reports that Liberators had entered the aerial action in the enemy's home area by announcing that Liberators and Privateers of Fleet Airwing 18 sank two small cargo ships off the southwest coast of Honshu yesterday. They also ranged to Tokyo bay, where they sank two more cargo ships, and damaged two cargo ships and a number of fishing craft off Kozu island.

They started large fires in the island's harbor area.

Nimitz did not say where the Navy Liberators were based. Tokyo said a few days ago they were based on Okinawa. Yesterday's strike was their first reported action in that far western Pacific area.

Army Liberators bombed airfield and other installations on Marcus island and Marine bombers and fighters raided the Palaus.

Planes identified only as "our" by Nimitz downed four Japanese fighters in a raid over Kyushu Monday.

Escort carrier planes made their third attack in as many days on the Sakishima islands in the southern Ryukyus Monday, causing a number of fires in airfield installations.

POWs Are Terrorized By Drunken Soldier

A drunken soldier allegedly terrorized the civilian negro driver and a group of German prisoners of war on a bus en route late Tuesday afternoon to the POW camp at Lubbock Army Air field. The soldier was a guard.

Police arrested the soldier and released him to military authorities. The negro had stopped the bus in 700-block Twenty-third.

The prisoners were being returned to the field from their work at a local cotton compress.

Officers said that the soldier had struck the negro several times and had threatened the prisoners. They arrived to find the guard slapping the negro, they said. He was reported as the only guard on the bus.

Police said the guard resisted their efforts to arrest him.

Officers rushed to the vicinity in force when a report came to them that "prisoners of war were giving trouble." They reported that the Germans were staying calmly to their seats and apparently had made no attempt to subdue the guard.

More Aid To Farming

New Equipment Promises Much

NEWS that farm machinery output is to be stepped up is an omen that soon the prairie farmer, in particular, will have available some new types of implements to hold down wind and water erosion of the soil and to conserve moisture in the subsoil.

Implementation of the prairies got a good start after the dust storms and before the war began. Several types of implements were devised to till farm land without turning under crop residue and thus keep a mulch on the surface. One new machine takes straw from the unplowed side of a furrow and strews it over the plowed land. Some farmers report worthwhile results by removing the curved part of the plow and plowing only with the blade edge. That doesn't turn the mulch under.

Other innovations are:

Field cultivators that break the ground ten inches under the surface without disturbing the surface;

Rod weeders that cut the weeds one to four inches below ground without disturbing the surface, leasing the dead weeds on top to protect the soil;

Subsoil plows that break hardpan 18 inches deep, permitting subsoil moisture to rise;

Listers that leave a trough on each side of the row to catch and hold moisture.

Deep-furrow drills that plant without disturbing the surface.

Agriculture is marching ahead, and it is confidently expected that as a result of these scientifically tested implements, the prairies will become more productive than ever before.

All this promises much to the farmer and the business men of the great agricultural belt running from across the Canadian border in the North, down through our own South Plains country in the South.

Fair Play Is Essential

THE country has awaited with interest the plan under which industries which have been converted to war work will be aided to return to peace work. Something of the policy was revealed when the War Production Board authorized the automobile industry to produce 200,000 cars this year for civilian use.

But the board gave no assurance that the material will be available. It is up to the manufacturers to find the material to rebuild, retool and resume the production of cars. The industry will have little market worry, for the cars are to be rationed by the OPA.

There was a noteworthy lack of price discussion in the anonuncement. It is assumed, since the plan was worked out with the industry, that there will be enough profit incentive in the resumption program to finance the reconversion as soon as possible. Only in this way can unemployment in the industry be minimized and the market for new cars taken care of as a service to the people.

The process in this, as well as other industries, will be watched carefully for evidence that the country is fair to the industries which it drafted for war work. The gearing of a country's industry to war is, of course, a war job and a war expense. But it is also the duty of the country, as war work and a war expense, to restore the war-diverted industries to peace production.

Following the First World war, some industries were badly handled. They were left without money to finance conversion, and their credit was hurt when the government dumped surplus war goods on their potential market. There should be none of that this time, especially since so much of profit has been seized for taxes.

The prosperity of the country demands industrial fair play in reconversion.

The Danger Signal Flies

THE American Bankers Association is the latest organization to take up a banner against inflationary prices for farm lands. It has sent a warning to banks in rural areas to follow conservative lending policies in an effort to check a land boom which is getting under way in many parts of the country. Land prices are up 52 per cent above prewar level as a national average.

What is especially alarming is the fact that purchases in many instances are for speculative purposes. In the land boom following World War I investors were confined almost entirely to farmers. When prices of crops dropped, many farmers were in trouble.

No thinking American wants to see a repetition of the postwar period following the 1917-18 conflict and it is good to note that careful, sober, conservative men and organizations are sounding a warning against such a possibility.

THE GRAVE ROBBERS
XXIX

There in the snow just beyond the monument they stood. Three of them. They had come from behind the hill beyond the barren lilac bush. And in the print of my memory is a picture that grows no dimmer with the years: Brenda's face white, drawn, stricken; curiously unbelieving and that bulky figure before her leaning on the shovel.

"Father!" she said. There was no surprise in her voice, merely scorn and conviction.

"Why did you come here?" Bruce Temple asked roughly.

"That is a curiously irrelevant question."

The second of the unholy three stepped forward. Even after a bout with a shovel in an unspeakable business, he managed to look immaculate, but his appearance was not enhanced by the ugly-looking Luger pistol in his hand.

"Nicholas," said Eric Woolf, "drop the little sack there."

And he pointed to a spot on the ground. I tossed down the sack and the third man stooped.

"No, Block." Eric put out his hand. "Those things have a way of going to a man's head."

He thrust his hand into the bag as if it were a sack of walnuts and drew out a handful of diamonds.

"Kismet!" he said.

Bruce Temple stood motionless and stared woodenly at his daughter. Eric stuffed the jewels into his overcoat pocket.

"Block," he said, "we need some rope. Is there some in the car?"

"Aber, nein." Block grinned as he drew a coil of rope from beneath his coat. Eric smiled. "It is a good trait — this thoroughness."

He pointed.

"Mr. Trent, first." Eric's eyes never left Temple's face. "Then the lady."

"Can't we leave the lady out of it?" I said.

"She is in it." Eric edged towards Bruce Temple. "Very much in it. I think, Temple, I had better have your gun."

* * *

Block must once have worked in a shipping room for he made many indisputably expert and secure knots. I saw him as he moved towards Brenda, saw the long knife-scar on his cheek and knew him for the grease-covered mechanic who had sabotaged Charley's plane.

"Just like a Christmas package," murmured Brenda when he had finished binding her.

Then I heard Eric speak rapidly in German to Block. Block came, fished the keys out of my pocket, and started for my car.

"If I'm not too curious," inquired Brenda sweetly, "what are you going to do with Nick's car?"

"Block will let it topple off the road by the granite quarry," replied Eric simply.

"An accident," she said.

"Regrettable." Eric took out a cigaret. "There will be a slight flurry, I imagine, when Nicholas is found in the wreckage."

"And me?" asked Brenda. I saw Bruce Temple's back stiffen. Eric glanced at him covertly, flicked the ash from his cigaret and said nothing.

"Very triste," said Brenda.

"And what will you do then, polish off Block with your Luger?" I asked.

I do not know whether or not Block actually heard that last remark of mine but, in any case, something seemed to bring him up short. He considered a moment, then turned back and went up to Eric. There was some more guttural gargling between them. I don't understand German but I got the idea. Block was demanding his share of the loot before he went any farther.

"You will do as you're told," Eric said finally in English. His tones were carefully measured.

"Warum?" asked Block very quietly. "For a congratulatory letter from Der Fuehrer? Nein."

He shook his head and I saw the beginnings of a madness in his eyes. He took a step and put out one hand."

"Geben—"

He stiffened at the first shot and the second spun him around like a top. Eric never gave him a chance. The next thing I saw was Eric leaning down and placing his pistol behind the fallen man's ear. Brenda closed her eyes. The sound of the shot was not very loud. Block's body straightened spasmodically. He twisted and lay still.

"The wrong man won," I murmured.

Eric swung around. All of the jauntiness had gone out of him.

"Nicholas, you've been asking for it a long time!" he said to me as the Luger came up again.

"Woolf!" Bruce Temple's voice cut into the tension of the moment. "You can't get away with this."

That split-second of indecision, that tiny moment of choosing swiftly a response to a word or deciding not to respond was what I hung my hat on. I had been cuffed, kicked, bound, and shot at and never a chance to strike back. Now I took a deep breath, lowered my head, and rammed Eric. All the magnificent fury of a rage long pent up went into that butt. I struck and the gun went off at the same time. I felt the hot powder blast on my cheek. I threw my feet up, and jackknifed viciously with my heels, but they merely swished the air. I hit on the back of my neck and the gongs started in my head again.

Then I heard a noise, like the hark crack of a stout stick breaking. I rolled on my side and saw Temple draw back. Eric sagged, but Temple hit him again a second time. He moved slightly to one side and let Eric fall at his feet. And I lay there thinking that it was almost as good as doing it myself.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

LAST night we sat down to a supper of spaghetti with tomato sauce, a green salad, stewed rhubarb and bread with just a trace of butter.

It was one of those menus published in our newspaper as a "ration menu."

For lunch we had split pea soup, peanut butter sandwiches, cookies and tea.

We tried to be very brave about this menu, but after dinner I said to my wife: "You know, I've just been thinking about something."

BRANDEIS

"I've been thinking about something, too," she said. "Maybe it's the same thing that came into your mind."

"Maybe it is," I agreed. "I have been thinking how we used to complain before the war that we wished that somebody would invent some new kind of an animal."

"Yes, that's exactly what I was thinking about," she said. "You used to say that you got so tired of nothing but beef and lamb and pork and veal, and how I used to give you chicken or squab every once in a while just to break up the montony."

"I remember how I used to go to the butcher and tell him just exactly what kind of a steak I wanted—not too much fat and it had to be exactly an inch thick and a particular cut.

"And then you'd complain that it wasn't tender enough and wouldn't I try the other butcher the next time."

"Yes," I replied with a far-away look in my eyes, "and the butcher and the grocer used to make daily deliveries, and when they were an hour late you'd go to the telephone and raise the dickens about their poor service."

Then, over my second helping of spaghetti, I reminded her of the August furniture sales and the spring white sales, and how one merchant used to undersell another, and how the clerks were polite and really anxious to have you trade, and how, when you called the plumber or the electrician or the carpenter, he came the same day and seemed so eager to please you.

After supper we talked some more, and pretty soon it was ten o'clock and I was hungry and went down to the refrigerator that used to be so liberally stocked with ham and cheese and butter and bologna—and what did I find? Two hard-boiled eggs and a bit of cottage cheese. So I ate an egg sandwich and drank a bottle of beer and stayed awake half the night with indigestion.

* * *

ABOUT two o'clock in the morning I was thinking how we always hope for that far-away Utopia, that land of milk and honey, of happiness and plenty.

And, suddenly, it occurred to me that here we had been living in Utopia right up to December, 1941, and that the trouble with human beings is that they don't know when they are well off.

Tonight, I understand, it's going to be creamed codfish with carrots and peas.

Will Utopia ever come again?

For Private Enterprise

Mr. Truman's Position Clarified

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

HARRY S. TRUMAN'S pre-White House enunciations of his attitude toward business and industry warrant the belief that he is partial to private enterprise and relies on its impluses for postwar recovery. He believes that reconstruction should not depend upon Federal funds or centralized planning.

It is fair to conclude from his earlier remarks that, unlike his predecessor, he stands squarely on center or slightly to the right. It is only to be expected that, as a man from rural and small-town Missouri, he should take quite a different position from FDR's.

TUCKER

As a New York Democrat and one who became President in the midst of the nation's severest depression, Mr. Roosevelt saw Wall Street and its affiliates as a seat of selfishness and wickedness. He made himself — or his administration — its master, as he said he would do in his 1936 Madison Square Garden windup speech.

President Truman was reared in an entirely different political and economic atmosphere. Despite stock-jobbing and high financing, he saw how the West thrived under the beneficent influence of remote, capitalistic forces. He recognizes the need for regulation, but he seeks to refuse government control to the absolute minimum.

Thrice — once in a Truman committee report, once in a Senate debate and once in a Chamber of Commerce address — he declared that Uncle Sam should be the arbiter, not the dictator, of other people's business.

HST differs in another vital respect, as his frequent expressions on the subject show, from Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Truman, whose highest year's take was $6800 until he entered the Senate, has a horror of personal or public debt. Mr. Roosevelt, who never had to worry about money, seemed to think that the taxpayers' tithes grew on trees.

CONTROLS: President Truman favors, as such an authorized spokesman as National Chairman Bob Hannegan recently declared, a fairly speedy return to prewar conditions in the field of manufacture and agricultural production and distribution. He does not intend to perpetuate wartime controls in the postwar era, as did so many New Dealers now on their way out.

Discussing this all-important subject before the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce in May 1944, Mr. Truman said:

"Some of those in the armed services have opposed any reference to the fact that many of our requirements, particularly those of the War department, have been met or shortly will be met. They believe that the truth should be kept from the public in order to avoid overconfidence. That is a strange argument. I think the public is entitled to know the facts at all times . . .

"I believe, and the committee has stated, that the time has come to relax rather than increase the number of restrictive regulations. Of course, a military setback or a change in the course of the war could reverse this situation. But a wartime government must be flexible. The present trend requires that thought be given to re-establishing a free and self-sustaining industry . . .

"It is normal and human for men who are regulating industry to think that industry cannot get along without the regulations. Each person tends to believe that his job is the most important. But this war is being fought to preserve freedom and individual initiative. We must take care that in winning the war, we do not create some of the evils we have fought against. . . .

"There is too great danger that such controls would become self-perpetuating, especially if the war should last a long time. If that should happen, we would indeed have won the war and lost the peace."

PRODUCTION: President Truman has also spoken frankly regarding several problems which he is now beginning to meet — the disposal of surplus plants, postwar wages and prices, peacetime unemployment.

"We have proved our ability to produce in wartime," he said last September in Detroit. "Now let us prove a similar ability to produce in peacetime, so that all of us can enjoy the benefits of that production . . . . We have built the plants and facilities with which all of this can be accomplished. Now let us see that they are operated . . .

"With these new plants added to those we had before the war, we can produce a wealth of peacetime goods beyond anything we ever dreamed of. But the Doubting Thomases say this will flood the markets and exceed our purchasing power."

Here is his answer to this school of economics thought — an answer which War Mobilizer Fred Vinson is even now hammering into a legislative program for prompt submission to Congress:

"As our machines produce more, our own labors must be lightened. That is what we face now. We shall not, for the sake of price and profit, restrict our output of the good things of life.

"Rather, for the sake of the people, we shall return to the forty-four hour week and increase basic wages in terms of actual purchasing power—that is, we will enable labor to buy and use an ever-increasing amount of the good things of life."

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

"BULL" Halsey's roaring challenge to the Jap fleet to come out and fight is the cue for more naval power to congregate in enemy waters.

Larger numbers of carrier-based aircraft will go into action to supplement long-range planes now "softening up" Nipponese industries.

The weight of these combined attacks will dwarf the blitz on Nazi targets. A B-29 is three and a half times more powerful than a B-17. When we read — as we have in the past few days— that 500 Superforts plastered Japan, we must visualize the equivalent of 1,750 Flying Fortresses.

LEMAN

Reports may be received any moment that B-32s or Super-Liberators have joined the fray; these new monsters are more formidable than the mighty B-29s. In addition, "technological improvements" — description censored — make possible more direct hits and greater devastation.

Admiral Halsey's objective is to tighten the blockade with ships and aircraft. As plants in the enemy homeland vanish in clouds of smoke and mortar dust, it is even more important to make certain that neither raw materials nor finished goods slip through from Manchuria.

Convoys will be harried by Helldivers and torpedo planes. From now on enormous quantities of mines will be showered on Japan's harbors to tie up shipping. In the early days of the European war the Luftwaffe often dropped mines and paralyzed the British merchant marine until ports were swept. Our operations will be continuous and on a grander scale.

Tokyo realizes that Halsey's arrival spells fresh trouble. The new shake-up in the Japanese navy high command brought in Admiral Takijiro Onishi as vice chief of staff. He immediately ordered all branches of the fleet to use suicide tactics similar to those of the fanatical Kamikaze fliers. Onishi was the originator of this form of attack.

Halsey promptly dared Tokyo to send more suicide squads, dismissing them as a "damned nuisance rather than a menace."

"Chicago Man Steals Four Tombstones." — Headline. That's a rather grave offense, isn't it? (We don't like puns, either, but we have our off days,, too.)

Intra-Party Woes Pile Up For Democrats

Trouble Seen Ahead For Truman

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—It hasn't taken President Truman long to find out how hard it is to handle that assortment of strange horses which travel together under saddle blankets all reading "Democratic party," but are constantly rearing up and charging off in all directions.

Thus far he has done a remarkable job by occasional gentle words and by frequent lumps of sugar. But there are signs of trouble ahead.

STOKES

The basic difficulty, of course, is that the Democratic party is not really one party at all. It is a conglomeration of parties of divergent purposes. They range from the Southern wing which has more in common with regular Eastern Republicanism on some major issues than it does with New Dealism clear across to the CIO and the left wing which abhors nearly everything that the Southern conservatives stand for.

In between are lots of other elements, including the big-city machines at which both the Southerners and the New Dealers are inclined smugly to look down their noses. But they grab them to their hearts in election years with embarrassed explanations.

FDR Performs "Miracle"

How the late President Roosevelt held this conglomeration together for 12 years is somewhat of a miracle and should inspire an essay for posterity on political finesse. After the Chicago convention last year there were those who predicted that the party could hang together for only one more national election. This conclusion was based on evidence at hand — the left wingers shouting down the Southerners and conservatives in their corner, and the Southerners conducting revival type of meetings in the evenings, singing Southern songs, and listening to rabble-rousing talkers who perdicted the end of the republic if the left wingers weren't rooted out—or sent back to Russia.

With the help of the war, Mr. Roosevelt somehow held the party together for that election, though it was too close for comfort of some politicians who are in business year year in and year out with the Democratic party.

THE party got a sort of new lease with Mr. Truman, who didn't inherit the hates of his predecessor. He was nominated for Vice President because he had built up no important antagonisms. He had been in Congress and made friends with conservatives, and he had been inclined always to be a regular organization man, which sits well with politicians.

There was an "era of good feeling" which, incidentally, seems to be waning. The names of people who hadn't been in the White House for years — Democrats as well as Republicans — were found on the appointment list of the President, and still are.

But the tempo of these times is swift. And the new President had to make decisions. He has not hesitated to make them, and, when he makes decisions he is bound to step on somebody's toes in the Democratic party because of its conflicting elements. It's impossible to satisfy everybody on any issue.

Fooled Many People

Mr. Truman has fooled lots of people. They didn't take it too seriously when he announced he would follow the Roosevelt program. They thought he would straddle and be easy-going. Thus far he has hewed to the line.

In so doing, naturally, he has riled the Southerners on such issues as a permanent FEPC and federal compensation for those who lose their jobs in reconversion. Nor has he been entirely soothing to ardent New Dealers.

* * *

THEY are skeptical about the influence of Bob Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, who in the interest of trying to hold the shaky party together is active in rewarding organization people, those commonly known as politicians. The New Dealers are worried that the big economic interests they have fought for so long may get back into the picture in key jobs, some of which may seem relatively minor jobs, and work their will despite the President's good intentions. The New Dealers are watchfully waiting.

They know that the wrong people in the right places can undo progressive statutes. That happened to the Woodrow Wilson reforms.

Mr. Truman's job is neither easy nor simple.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Buses are overburdened as never before. A crisis is near. With more men, tires and gas going to war, present service can barely be maintained. Each day brings greater loads. When you must travel locally, let this be your creed:

1. Do Not Ride in Rush Hours, except to and from your job.
2. Have Exact Fare Ready, saves time and fuss.
3. Move Back When Driver Asks, speeds your ride.

This simple creed will work wonders.

THANKS FARMERS
IN BEHALF of our boys in the armed forces, we wish to thank you for the way you responded to our plea for large clean grade A eggs. Because of your patriotic cooperation, we have been able to get their eggs to them much faster than could have been possible otherwise. We still have many more war department orders to fill, and the government is looking to you to help us meet our increased quotas.
If you haven't heard of the way that you can make more money, and still be helping our soldier boys, ask your neighbor, or we will give you the information. Your large clean grade A eggs are still desperately needed. Thanks again.

More Personnel Due At SPAAF

A group of overseas veterans is due "in the near future" at South Plains Army Air field.

That announcement was authorized by an officer of the field this morning in connection with an "emergency appeal" of the Red Cross for equipment for a day room at the field.

"It is anticipated that personnel on the field will be increased in the immediate future," said the officer. He said combat veterans would make up the increased personnel.

Arrival of the group will not change status of the field as a storage depot for B-17's, except to give it more personnel.

Equipment Requested

Lounge chairs, sofas, desks, lamps and books are being requested for day room equipment.

"Most of these men are returned veterans and have had no comforts in the last few years, and the public is requested not to be war weary until provisions have been made for the returned service men," it was said in the county Red Cross office.

The equipment is being requested as a "direct gift." When the field is inactivated, it will be passed on to welfare groups in Lubbock, it was said.

Previously, the Red Cross had furnished a day room at the field. When the field was inactivated, equipment was returned to owners and given to welfare agencies. Under military orders, it was necessary that the furnishings be disposed of since the Army requires that the field commanding officer have all civilian equipment removed from a field upon its inactivation.

To Call For Gifts

Persons wishing to give furnishings may telephone the Red Cross executive office, 8534, and either the Red Cross or military personnel will call for the gifts. Furnishings either in good condition or needing repairs may be given.

Members of the camp and hospital committee, through which the Red Cross aids in establishing a day room, include Mrs. E. S. Hall, chairman, Mrs. A. C. Sanders, jr., Miss Helene Blattner, Miss Reuby Tom Rhodes, Mrs. Frank Bronner and Mrs. Morley Jennings. A Slaton member is to be announced.

The Red Cross field director is assisting military personnel in establishing the day room.

Liquor Boys Make Big Haul But Move It About Gingerly

The Liquor Control board made quite a haul Tuesday afternoon near Acuff, bringing in enough beer and whisky to sustain total fines of $800 and county court costs against two defendants — but, taking a lesson from last week, kept its distance from the beer.

Said beer appeared to have approximately the high octane quality of a bottle that "went off" in the board's office the other night in the courthouse and "almost wrecked a chair."

Inspectors Tell Story

Frank Mitchell and John Truly, inspectors, told the story.

"We picked up some of the home brew in Slaton and, because the weather was so hot, we put the stuff in a five-gallon metal can and put the lid on," they said.

"A little ways out of Slaton there was a bang and we were showered with home brew. Sounded like every tire on our car had blown out.

"That night we left the rest of the bottles in the can, but tied down the lid with the bale and put a heavy office chair on it. It wasn't long until another bottle went off and blew that chair clear over there!"

Earl Horton Assists

Mitchell, Truly and L. N. Yantis, another inspector, were assisted in Tuesday's raids by Dep. Sheriff Earl Horton.

German Fisher, about 40, had 50 gross (7,200) new bottle caps, 44 12-ounce bottles of home brew, five empty cases of bottles, 10 gallons of choc beer "making," 12 pints and five quarts of pre-war unstamped whisky, two crocks for making beer and 30 pounds of canning sugar.

"German got all mixed up and got the rest of the sugar in the bottles," Truly said.

Yantis Made Purchases

Yantis had bought a pint of whisky for $7, a case of home brew for $8, to make out other complaints against the negro, officials said. They found the whisky "a quart here and a pint there; you'd find a quart hanging in a feed bucket in an outhouse, another buried, and the rest of it in other outlandish places."

L. T. Andrews was the other negro charged. His place is three miles east of Acuff, a mile and a half from Fisher's. Here officials found 15 bottles of home brew, a six- and a five-gallon crock of choc beer and five empty cases of bottles.

Fisher was fined a total of $700 and costs in three cases, Anderson $100 and costs in one.

Soldier From Odessa Knows His Finances

ODESSA, June 12. (AP) — Sgt. William Alden Rogers, former Odessa accountant, is one finance officer who really knows his finances.

With the United States occupation forces in Germany, Rogers recently sent $1,000 home for deposit in a local bank.

He said the money came from sale of a fraternity pin he designed for his buddies in Hamborne, Germany, where he is stationed. He sold 20,000 of the pins in April and has 16 employes, he added.

"All that is keeping us from doubling production is getting enough silver from manufacturers in the states," explained Rogers.

His father, R. W. Rogers, lives in Mexia, Tex.

STUMBLING PRICES CHECKED

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Buying of assorted aircrafts, rails and utilities put props under today's stock market although many leaders continued to stumble.

Special situations and a mild revival of peace-time optimism inspired much of the bidding. Transfers totaled 1,320,000 shares compared with 1,490,000 Monday.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .2 of a point at 65.9. Of 922 issues appearing 413 were up against 317 declines.

Aviations were spurred by the belief heavy fighting plane demand would keep manufacturers busy for some time to come.

At peaks for 1945 or longer were Grumman, Boeing, American Airlines, Electric Power and Light, United Corp., Standard Gas preferreds and M-K-T preferred. Ahead were Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Sears Roebuck, Eastern Air Lines, Lockheed and Johns-Manville. Steels and motors were narrow.

Studebaker was off ⅛ and, after the close, the Army disclosed it had canceled $100,000,000 of truck contracts with this company.

Losers included General Motors, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Western Union "A," Anaconda, Montgomery Ward, Westinghouse, Eastman Kodak and Du Pont.

Railway loans improved.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Senate passage of the price control law brought a renewed upturn in cotton futures with final prices 25 to 50 cents a bale higher. After registering early gains of 65 cents a bale, the market sagged on heavy commission house profit taking but subsequently turned firm on renewed covering and outside demand. Traders anticipated higher mill textile ceilings under the extended price control law, and expect the purchase program to be continued for another year. Private advices indicated that there was favorable rain in western part of the cotton belt.

New York exchange service estimated May cotton consumption at 835,000 bales compared with 770,000 in April and 833,000 a year ago.

Puebla Students Are Back In Classrooms

PUEBLA, Mexico, June 12. (U.P.) Students at Puebla university took their seats beside visiting summer school students from Sam Houston college, Austin, today when university authorities persuaded them to abandon a boycott project.

The Puebla students, irked by failure of the Texas legislature to pass an anti-discrimination law, had hreatened to stay away from the courses if the Texans attended. It was explained to them, however, that Sam Houston college had taken the lead in fighting Texas discrimination practices.

The Mexican committee against racial discrimination issued a statement protesting Texas racial discrimination, but advising the Puebla students "not to imitate Nazi-style racial ideas."

A student lead said "we are always polite to foreigners in Puebla."

One Vet Group Reports Violence; Two Say Hospital Conditions Good

By PAUL HARRISON
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 12—The American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars today demanded immediate and drastic reforms in the Veterans administration to avert an imminent breakdown of veterans' hospitalization.

In separate reports to the House Veterans Affairs committee, the two major veterans organizations presented exhaustive documentary evidence of the steadily increasing handicaps under which veterans hospitals have been operating.

Tough Job For Bradley

It appeared that Gen. Omar N. Bradley, soon to become Veterans administrator, will have a home front job just as difficult in its way as his battle assignment in Europe.

"Hospital treatment and care should be at the same high level as that in the famous Mayo clinic and Johns Hopkins hospital," the Legion said. The VFW agreed and said 47 per cent of the veterans' hospitals now give inadequate treatment.

Actually, the reports of both groups revealed, standards in veterans hospitals can be compared favorably only with those in state, county and municipal institutions in the same areas. A VFW investigator in Montana observed "that's nothing to brag about."

In individual reports on veterans hospitals from coast to coast, the Legion and VFW found service impaired almost universally by overcrowding, staff shortages, low salaries and red tape. These conditions were hindering claims and legal services as well as medical care.

Severe Adjectives

They found, in addition, a wide range of complaints—from the type of pajamas issued to patients to building sanitation. "Disgraceful," "terrible," "deplorable," were frequent adjectives.

The legion, on the basis of its investigation of 80 of the 97 veterans hospitals, proposed a 10-point reorganization plan which would establish a new post of deputy administrator. Also proposed was a realignment of authority under six assistant administrators instead of the three now functioning.

The Legion called for a complete overhauling of the medical division under an outstanding medical man, with the title of, or status equal to, assistant administrator. The other administrators would handle insurance; finance, loan guaranties, readjustment allowances; vocational training, rehabilitation and education; adjudication of compensation, pension and retirement claims; construction, supplies and contracts.

Undercover Inquiry

"Our first recommendation," the report said, " . . . is for this (House) committee to set in motion an undercover probe" into allegations of maltreatment and neglect in several facilities. Particular mention was made of the Northport, L. I., neuropsychiatric hospital, where complaints have been "numerous."

The VFW put Northport highest on its blacklist. It found two attendants in charge of 48 violent patients, a ration of 460 patients to one doctor and one nurse.

Windows were found unprotected on the inside and violent patients attempted suicide by smashing windows and cutting themselves with glass, it was said.

Col. John H. Baird, assistant medical director of the Veterans administration in charge of neuropschiatry told the House cimmittee last week these conditions were being looked into and that 15 soldiers were court martialed and seven civilians suspended or discharged for alleged mistreatment of patients. Baird said the investigation was not completed.

The reports of both veterans organizations were based on independent surveys of hospitals throughout the country. The investigations were made at the suggestion of Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, whose resignation as administrator was accepted by President Truman last week.

In only one state, Virginia, did reports of both groups find veterans hospitals outstanding. In strong contrast with the usual findings, the conditions at the Roanoke neuropsychiatric hospital were described as "splendid."

In Indiana, Alabama, California, Florida, Missouri, Ohio, Kentucky, Washington, there were complaints about the type of medical men assigned by Washington to the hospitals.

Texas Hospitals Said Efficient

AUSTIN, June 12 (U.P.)—Hospital facilities for U. S. war veterans in Texas are being operated in a "thoroughly satisfactory and efficient manner" with a "few minor exceptions."

That was the statement here today by Harry E. Rather, adjutant of the Texas department, American Legion. Rather said veterans' facilities had been inspected by vice-commanders of seven legion districts and by a legion committee.

Report of the investigation was sent to the national organization headquarters.

Resolution Adopted

A resolution adopted by the Texas department said in part:

"With a few minor exceptions, the veterans' administration facilities involved are being operated in a thoroughly satisfactory and efficient manner, due consideration having been given to handicaps related to manpower shortages and other wartime conditions."

Veterans' hospitals are situated at Waco, Dallas, Amarillo, El Paso and Legion. In addition the Marine hospital at Galveston and the Navy hospital at Corpus Christi were checked as they hold contracts to aid veterans, Rather said. He did not announce what the "few minor exceptions" to satisfactory care were.

Maj. Horace Shelton, Austin, senior vice commander of the Veterans of Foreign wars in Texas, said the facilities had been inspected by Dr. D. S. Meyers, San Benito, VFW commander.

Major Shelton said Dr. Meyers' findings were "practically identical" with those of the American Legion investigators.

Louis Pasteur's discovery that germs cause infection led to an understanding of the true relationship between cleanliness and health.

Thomason Follows Brother In Death

HOUSTON, June 12. (AP)—William E. Thomason, 44, followed his younger brother in suicide by hanging himself last night, Justice of the Peace Tom Maes said.

The younger brother, Alton Parker Thomason, 41, instructor in English at the University of Texas, leaped to his death from the tower of the main building at the university in Austin yesterday morning.

The Houston man, a shipyard electrician, was discovered hanging from a rafter in the garage at his home. Justice Maes said the noose was made of a length of electric cord. Mrs. Thomason said her husband had read a newspaper report of his brother's death shortly before.

Endocreme has helped thousands to recapture youthful look of face and throat

Eight years ago, eminent scientists gave the world ENDOCREME, a sensational contribution to the beauty of the feminine face and throat. Today, ENDOCREME is aiding thousands to regain the charm of a youthful skin to a degree hitherto thought impossible. This it does by helping to improve the skin itself, not merely its superficial appearance. ENDOCREME, you know, is the only face cream that contains ACTIVOL. This precious ACTIVOL is a scientific replacement for woman's own natural skin-vitalizing substance. When you apply ENDOCREME, it is absorbed by the skin and helps to restore the normal growth of cells and tissues. It thus aids the skin to recapture its youthful freshness, firmness, smoothness and allure. What bigger value can one get for her cosmetic dollars than this? You, too, should try ENDOCREME. Many report truly astonishing results in only 30 days.
