FATHER TO PLEAD UNWRITTEN LAW IN SLAYING OF HIS DAUGHTER'S LOVER

Principals in what may be one of Colorado's most dramatic murder trials are shown here. Roy G. King, right, Colorado Springs church deacon, who confessed the slaying of 19-year-old Lewis J. Palmer in "lover's lane" in a Colorado Springs park, will plead the unwritten law, and his daughter, Genda, 18, left, is expected to be the star witness for the defense. Palmer was killed while in the park with the girl. The trial is scheduled to start Oct. 20.

LUBBOCK HIGH SENIOR HURT WEDNESDAY

THOMAS McMILLAN IN CRITICAL CONDITION AFTER ACCIDENT

The condition of Thomas McMillan, 15, a senior in Lubbock High school, whose neck was broken Wednesday afternoon as he and a companion attempted to execute a somersault trick, remained unchanged, attendants at Lubbock sanitarium said at noon. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam B. McMillan, 1904 Sixteenth street.

Attending physicians said young McMillan's condition was extremely critical and that chances for his recovery were remote. X-ray pictures showed that his sixth cervical vertebra was fractured and dislocated.

Tells Of Mishap

The youth, in recounting the accident, said he and Hollis Carroll, a classmate, after attending a pep squad meeting, had stopped in the gymnasium to practice turning backward somersaults. Both attempted to turn a somersault at the same time, not knowing each other's plans, he said. McMillan was of the opinion that Carroll's head struck his neck. The other youth was unhurt.

Carroll, also 15 and a senior, is a Westerner cheer leader. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Carroll, 1911 Broadway. The two boys had been chums several years. Shocked by the result of their unsupervised practise in the new high school gymnasium, Carroll last night said:

"Thomas and I had just been informed we were to participate in a tumbling stunt at the football game Friday afternoon along with seven other boys," he explained. "We decided we would try it out this afternoon, although the regular practice was not scheduled until Thursday night.

"Thomas started rapidly down the mat turning forward somersaults and I followed closely behind him," he continued. "When Thomas got to the end of the mat

Baptist Canvass Is Planned Here

CENTRAL COMMITTEE TO BE FORMED IN EACH CHURCH

A central committee will be organized in each of the 15 churches in Texas Baptist district No. 9 to conduct an every-member canvass. An organizer, a Sunday school superintendent, a Baptist Union People's union leader, a Woman's Missionary union representative, a publicity director, and two other persons will compose the committee.

That was decided at a meeting of 300 Baptists, representing seven associations in this district, at the First Baptist church here Wednesday to formulate plans for a stewardship revival campaign. Attendance was limited considerably by road conditions caused by inclement weather. Rev. R. C. Campbell, pastor of the First church here, said. He was chairman of the conference.

Explanatory and inspirational talks were made at the morning session by Howard J. Williams of Dallas, secretary of the Texas Baptist association; Dr. Harlan J. Matthews, pastor of the First Baptist church of Marshall; Dr. W. M. Wright, pastor of the First Baptist church of Paris, and Rev. Campbell of Lubbock.

Remain In City

Dr. Matthews and Dr. Wright remained in Lubbock to address the prayer meeting group at the First Baptist church last night.

Associational conferences, in charge of associational organizers, were held Wednesday afternoon, and definite plans of action outlined.

The campaign will be staged in the district from November 29 through December 8. During that period of time, leaders of the campaign hope to obtain 5,500 tithers and raise $25,000 for missions and additional amounts for church budgets. The $25,000 quota has been prorated among the 15 churches in the district, it was said.

SEEK TO CLOSE UP SCHOOLS

CHICAGO TEACHERS TO TAKE ACTION UNLESS SALARIES PAID

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—A proposal to close Chicago's schools for lack of money is being considered by some of the city's 14,000 public school instructors.

The proposal was made yesterday by Clyde A. Crowley, one of the thousands of Chicago's teachers who have not received any real money for their services since last spring—due to a tax muddle. Instead they have been paid until recently in scrip, acceptable in exchange for merchandise at some Chicago stores.

Speaking at a Southside mass meeting of about 4,000 teachers, Crowley, a high school instructor, said it might be well to close the schools to give the pedagogues a chance to seek other lines of endeavor to keep the wolf from the door. He added that North Side teachers also had the plan under consideration.

AZANA CHOSEN PRESIDENT

SPAIN'S NEW CHIEF TROUBLED BY ROW OVER RELIGION

(By The Associated Press)

MADRID, Oct. 15—Spain's new president, Manuel Azana, picked up the reins of government today in an atmosphere of religious dissension fraught with danger for the future of the republic.

Under the provisions of the new constitution, he was designated by the national assembly last night as leader of the radical opposition to succeed Niceto Alcala Zamora, who resigned with his cabinet in protest against anti-church legislation. He reappointed the former cabinet with two changes.

Strength Pictured

President Azana told the Associated Press "the republic is immovable. We are as strong as if we had held power a long time. Our fundamental mission consists of fabricating a great strong, prosperous republic with peace and justice to all. The government is republican but the republic is for all Spaniards."

The change in authority was accompanied by vigorous demonstrations against the church and threats of revolt against the government. Bands of communists and anti-clericals ranged through the streets, shouting violence to Catholicism and the Jesuits. Polisce engaged in running fights with them. A dozen or more were badly beaten and a score were arrested.

STAND ON BEER REAFFIRMED BY LABOR

AMERICAN FEDERATION FOR LEGALIZATION BY CONGRESS

(By The Associated Press)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 15—The American Federation of Labor reaffirmed its stand today for legalization of 2.75 per cent beer in the coming session of congress.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 15 (AP)—Elbowed out of the spotlight yesterday by a spirited fight over unemployment insurance, the prohibition question was brought to the platform again today for action by the American Federation of Labor.

Leaders of the resolutions committee, who also are chiefs of the "beer movement," said they wanted 2.75 per cent brew, which they said was equivalent to draft beer served in Canada.

Their resolution was regarded as the second most interesting of the convention, the anti-unemployment insurance resolution of yesterday being the biggest issue.

Vote on the insurance or dole proposition came only after hours of debate in which a dozen speakers attacked and defended the British unemployment insurance plan and assailed capital for "failing to do anything to help the workingman." President William Green settled the fight with an eloquent speech.

The convention was unanimous in approving resolutions asking temporary and permanent plans for relieving unemployment, and in reaffirming the principle of persuasion rather than force in setting internal disputes.

American Diplomat To Accompany Laval

PARIS, Oct. 15 (AP)—When Premier Laval leaves tomorrow for the United States to confer with President Hoover he will take as his press liasion man an American diplomat, Robert Pell.

Pell won M. Laval's esteem when he interpreted for Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Ambassador Edge during the Franco-American debt negotiations in July. The premier asked for his services on the coming visit and the state department consented.

On the shoulders of Pell, who is Ambassador Edge's private secretary, will fall the task of answering the many questions which M. Laval expects the American press to ask.

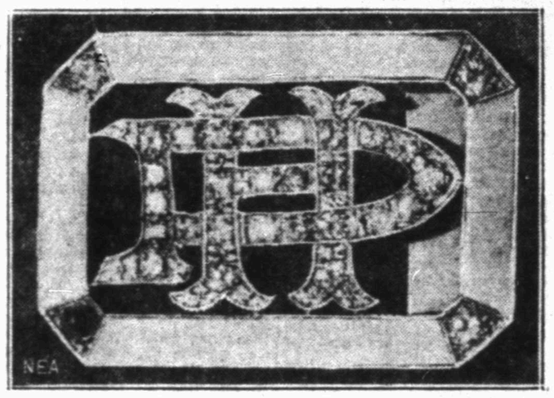

Gangster Funeral Is Held At Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 15 (AP)—Dallas looked upon its first gangster funeral today, as friends and relatives prepared to give final rites to Del McCabe, gang leader under indictment for the slaying of Chester A. "Keggy" Jones and his wife at Houston. McCabe "shot it out" last week at Des Moines, Iowa, with a detective seeking to arrest him.

Friends, relatives and crowds of the merely curious filed by the coffin to look upon the man who Houston police claim was a member of the most extensive band of robbers that ever operated in Texas.

WHAT CAPONE GAVE HIS FRIENDS

The belt buckle shown below was offered as evidence in the trial of Al Capone, Chicago gang lord, for income tax fraud after a Chicago jeweler had testified that Capone had bought 30 of the diamond-studded buckles at $275 each. Al is said to have bought the buckles for distribution among his friends.

DIRECTOR OF FEED-SEED LOAN OFFICE ARRIVES IN LUBBOCK TODAY TO TALK DUTIES OF NEW DISTRICT FIELD MEN

The director of a United States feed-seed loan office at St. Louis, R. H. McElveen arrived in Lubbock this morning. He was to confer with C. C. Ellis, supervisor of Texas agents for the drouth loan office, and six new field workers assigned to the Texas district, Ellis said at noon that nothing would be done before afternoon.

Contrary to press reports current this week, McElveen is not scheduled to confer with farmer borrowers, landlords and other persons interested in the repayment of cotton production loans, Ellis said. The primary purpose of the director's visit to Texas is to confer with the new field men, he said.

"I have not been advised of Mr. McElveen's plans for conferences, other than with field men, but he may confer with other interested parties after the meeting with agents is over," the state supervisor said. "However, I cannot say when that will be. Mr. McElveen will go to New Mexico from Lubbock for a similar meeting there."

Calls Received

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and local cotton associations received a deluge of long distance calls yesterday from persons in many parts of West Texas requesting information on a general meeting. Executives of the chamber of

Bride Is One In Hundred Thousand

CHICAGO, Oct. 15. (AP)—Mrs. Helen Smith, 21-year-old bride is one woman in a hundred thousand.

Although she shot herself in the heart Tuesday night, she was still living today and was expected by surgeons at the Edgewater hospital to win her fight for life.

Dr. Charles G. Shannon her physician said that when she fired the shot her heart was dilated between beats and the bullet grazed it and lodged in her back. This could not happen again, he added, in a hundred thousand times.

Mrs. Smith shot herself because she feared she would have to undergo a serious surgical operation. For three hours afterward she worked at cleaning up her apartment and preparing her husband's evening meal.

CAPONE'S LOSSES RELATED AT TRIAL

CHICAGO, Oct. 15 (AP)—"Scarface Al" Capone, the man who seldom won a horse race bet, according to book makers, improved with practice, defense witnesses testified at his income tax evasion trial today.

The bad luck of the big gangster grew to such proportions that he lost $110,000 in one 48-day Florida race meeting in 1929, said Clarence "Bud" Gentry, itinerant bookmaker and former partner of Capone. Added to losses previously estimated by other bookmaker witnesses, this brought the total losses to $327,000 from 1924 to 1929. The defense holds such losses should be deducted from taxable income.

ROCKY, MUSTY CAVE SERVES AS HOME FOR WIDOW, FIVE CHILDREN, ROOMERS

(By The Associated Press)

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Oct. 15.—The rocky, musty cave, deep in the West Virginia hills, where a widow and her five small children and three "roomers" had made their home for months, stood deserted today, while authorities sought "real" homes for the little ones, and aid for the mother.

Meanwhile, bright-eyed, curly-headed Jessg James Hinkle, one year old, and Alice, three; Albert, six; Alma, eight, and Ulah, 10, munched warm food and wore new clothes, in the care of probation officers.

Mrs. Hinkle doesn't know what she'd have done had it not been for the fact she found three unemployed men to board and "room" with her. They couldn't pay much rent but with what little money they gave her she managed to buy some food to go along with the berries and roots they found in the mountains.

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 15 (AP)—The clown act stole the show of Louisiana's political circus today when unemployed men came forward to claim the office of lieutenant-governor which they claimed Paul N. Cyr deserted when he reached out for the governorship now held by Huey P. Long.

GERMANY'S PRICE FOR PEACE BEFORE AMERICA ENTERED WAR IS REVEALED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 — German's price for peace two months before America entered the World war was revealed today by the state department as "a slice of France" and general allied indemnities.

The information was contained in a hitherto unpublished cablegram from Ambassador James W. Gerard February 4, 1917 to President Wilson. It was part of a 708-page compilation of official correspondence made public by the state department. "Even if there is war," it said, "German military calculated they can starve England before American can do anything. These people have only one god—force."

"If you decide to make any threats," Gerard advised the president, "threaten war. Germans not afraid of break of diplomatic relations which simply means they can go ahead and do what they please and attack us if they win."

CALL ON JAPAN TO WITHDRAW OBJECTION

LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS FOR PARTICIPATION OF UNITED STATES

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 15. — The Geneva correspondent of the Havas News agency reported this evening that the five principal powers represented on the League of Nations council had prevailed on Japan not to interpose an objection to participation by the United States in the council's deliberations regarding the Manchurian conflict.

GOVERNMENT ASKS FOR WITHDRAWAL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—The American government is making an effort to have Japan withdraw objections to a representative from this country participating in efforts by the League of Nations for peace in Manchuria.

Secretary Stimson today called in Ambassador Debuchi of Japan and explained to him the status which Prentiss Gilbert, American consul general at Geneva, would have if invited to participate in the league's discussions.

Would Be Observer

Gilbert's part would be that of an observer to help efforts by the league to invoke the Kellogg-Briand pact for the renunciation of war.

The secretary of state explained the American representative at Geneva would not participate in any procedure under the league covenant's instruments to avert war.

The ambassador is communicating this information to his government.

The Japanese position in the Manchurian troubles, as outlined to the American government by the ambassador, is that Japan will withdraw its troops to within the railway zone at any moment guarantees are given for the safety of Japanese lives and property in the sections now occupied ;that military measures so far taken are of a defensive nature and that war with China is unthinkable. Upon leaving the state department, the ambassador emphatically denied that any

PULSE OF INVENTOR GROWING WEAKER; COMA EXPECTED

(By The Associated Press)

WEST ORANGE, N. J. Oct. 15—Thomas A. Edison today was on the threshold of the coma from which his physician does not expect he will ever awake.

Dr. Hubert S. Howe, the aged inventor's personal physician, said the "deep stupor" into which Edison has now lapsed is closer to a coma than he has been at any time in the past few days and that Edison's pulse is showing definite signs of weakening.

The pryscian said he could not at this time tell how long it would be until the end comes but he intends to keep in closer touch with the Edison home throughout today and tonight.

In his morning bulletin, Dr. Howe said:

"During the past twenty-four hours, Mr. Edison has not roused. He shows no signs of discomfort, simply resting quietly. There is no evident emergency."

Later he explained he was worried about the change in the inventor's pulse and had no way of being certain as to how far off the "evident emergency" might be.

All members of the inventor's immediate family were at the Edison estate today when Dr. Howe made his report.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education Clevelapd College, Western Reserve University

DESTRUCTIVE CHILD

WHILE my youngest lad and I were washing dishes the other evening, he, as is usual in such instances, became very chipper and volunteered a number of observations. Something in the conversation led him to say: "Don't you know, dad, some terrible things have happened at our school?" "What, for instance," I inquired. "Oh, the kids break things," was his retort. "Last Hallowe'en they broke several windows and wrote on the outside walls. Also the kids of the neighborhood destroyed some of our school gardens."

Be it noted that this school is in a suburban area where virtually all own their homes. The population consists largely of old American stock. Having inquired about the attitude toward school property in a strictly Italian area of our main city, I have learned from the school principal that there was practically no destruction there. The comparison was not at all favorable to my home neighborhood.

Some while ago I arrived at a city church in a section of moderate social and economic status, not a foreign area. The first thing that caught my eye on approaching was the fact that the basement windows of that church were nailed shut by heavy clapboards. Upon inquiry, I was informed that the children of the neighborhood broke so many of these windows that to board them up seemed necessary. Before I entered I saw a well-dressed, attractive lad of about 12, as he passed the church across the corner lot, toss a pebble against the large stained glass windows of that church in about the same spirit as any one might leisurely toss a pebble into a brook.

I was to make the morning address on "We Parents and the Church," but I found most of my talk turning to a discussion of the need of teaching young childlren basic restraints and respect for property as a first step in religious instruction, without which reverence and a worshipful attitude is hardly possible, and the necessity of engendering such basic habits in the child while he is still very young.

One thing we parent educators have woefully neglected is the indispensability of teaching children very early some basic inhibitions and the alphabet of regard for property rights.

Business men will awake soon to the need of the A. B. C's of citizenship. No child can become a good citizen until he learns to be careful of his own property, his neighbor's property, and the property of the public. The public school does more than we realize to teach these attitudes. But by the time the child enters school his fundamental attitudes toward others' rights are pretty well established or, if not established well, are not readily guided.

The time to begin is when the child begins locomotion, when he most easily can learn the meaning of "No" and regard for authority. Let him learn then that there are a few things he must not have and a few things he must not do.

The day will come when civic organizations and chambers of commerce will be spending money to teach and encourage parents to guide their children while very young in adequate restraint essential to good citizenship and to the reduction of crime. They, moreover, will pension those well meaning persons who are telling parents practically to let their children do as they please. I discuss this matter at length in my pamphlet, "Punishments and Rewards."

EDITOR'S NOTE. Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr Garry C. Myers, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1436 East Twelfth street, Cleveland O. The pamphlets are: "Punishments and Rewards" and "Fear."

Double Career Highly Interesting

BY MADELIN LEOF

IT IS NOT only possible but highly interesting for a woman of executive ability to live two lives. She can take care of her public duties and at the same time give the proper attention to her home and family. This is the opinion of Mrs. I. Albert Liveright, recently appointed deputy secretary of welfare of Pennsylvania by Governor Gifford Pinchot.

"I do not intend to neglect my home in Philadelphia," says Mrs. Liveright. "I shall stay in Harrisburg five days a week to execute my official duties. I shall reserve weekends for my family. It seems to me that managing a home requires just as much ability as managing a state department.

"The woemn who can select her household help, arrange the household routine with the proper judgment, and use the necessary amount of efficiency to make the home run smoothly, should be free to devote the greater part of her time to some outside project in which she is interested.

"Of course, the average married woman is not entirely free to devote herself to outside interests until her children are in school, but once they aer old enough for that, she is free. I did not enter public work until my son, Alexander, who is now 23, was at school, and I felt I could enter into social work with thoughts of leadership and responsibility."

Mrs. Liveright has long been connected with social welfare in Philadelphia. She is vice president of the Community Center, director of the Federation of Jewish Charities, and the Juvenile Aid Society, and has done active work with the Bryn Mawr Summer School for Industrial Workers.

"To me welfare work offers the same challenge to young, ambitious men and women as the foreign diplomatic service," Mrs. Liveright continued. "I think that people who are interested in welfare work should be trained in our schools and universities just as much as they are trained for other professions. It is not only important, it is interesting, fascinating work, with plenty of romance."

When Mrs. Liveright was asked whether she thought a woman was the right person to be appointed as deputy secretary of welfare, she replied in the affirmative. "I am the third woman for this post," she points out, "and this proves that the other two, Dr. Ellen Potter, who now is in charge of welfare work in New Jersey, and Mrs. E. S. H. McCauley, were as satisfactory and perhaps more satisfactory, for this post than men."

"Heart Balm" Suit Reaches Settlement

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—A settlement out of court resulted in discontinuance today of a $1,000,000 alienation of affections suit brought by Muriel Johnston, night club entertainer, against Adele Ryan, granddaughter of Thomas Fortune Ryan and heir to part of his $125,000,000 fortune.

Attorneys who agreed to the discontinuance refused to disclose the terms of the settlement, but it was reported the amount was $40,000.

Robert Johnston, over whom the suit arose, drowned in Long Island sound with several companions last summer when the sloop Sea Fox foundered during a week-end cruise.

One, At Least

Lots of people, no doubt, have begun to believe there isn't such a thing as a full dinner pail in the country in these deadening days of depression. But here's a pictorial denial. We'll admit you may have to enter the exclusive ranks of society at Newport, R. I., to find it, but here's one in possession of Eugenie Morris, deb. She is taking it to the beach for a picnic.

Sterling's Action Praised By Roeser

FORT WORTH, Oct. 15 (AP)—Charles F. Roeser, independent producer and acting president of the Texas Oil and Gas Conservation association, commended action of Governor Ross S. Sterling in enforcing martial law in the East Texas Oil field, in a telegram Wednesday.

In his wire to Governor Sterling, Mr. Raeser said: "Your prompt and courageous action in enforcing martial law in East Texas will have the support of ninety-five per cent of the oil producers and royalty owners in this state and will force upon those who are attempting to dissipate and waste this state's natural resources, the knowledge that there is still law and order in the land. This association tenders you its unqualified support in the present situation."

BRIGHT SPOTS IN BUSINESS

FINANCIAL NEWS OF YESTERDAY GIVES ROSY OUTLOOK

(By The Associated Press)

Favorable items in the day's business and financial news provided new bright spots on the economic horizon yesterday. The more encouraging items included:

The weekly report of the movement of revenue freight, showng the sharp gain of 39,808 cars from the previous week, boosting the total to the highest of the year, usually attained in October.

A large department store organization announced distribution of a bonus of $19,500,000 to stockholders, in the form of a $2 extra dividend, largely from the $27,000,000 received from the recapitalization of its British subsidiary last June.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co., world's largest corporation, reported record breaking net earnings for the first nine months of the year of $128,456,315, approximately $5,000,000 more than for the like period of last year, and $6,800,000 in excess of dividend requirements. For the third quarter alone, however, earnings showed some shrinkage, and were about $2,300,000 less than dividends.

"Iron Age" reported a moderate improvement in the demand for steel during the past week, from the automobile, farm equipment, and radio industries, as well as the railroads, although it estimated ingot output as unchanged from the previous week at 29 per cent.

The census bureau reported cotton consumed during September showed increases over both August and September of last year, amounting to 527,570 bales for both line and linters, against 486,538 in August, and 456,698 in September of last year.

Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury, said in Boston that New England had shown an increase in customs collections, and as it had been the first section to show a decrease, it was hoped that the upturn indicated business improvement that would spread to other sectons of the country.

The securities markets were heavy, but held up better than they did Tuesday.

Sterling, Murray To Attend Reunion

of Texas and Oklahoma who have clashed at different times on oil and bridge policies will both attend the reunion of the 36th division here this month but probably will not meet.

Calendars of the two governors today indicated that Governor Ross S. Sterling of Texas would attend the reunion to be held at the state fair on the first day, Oct. 24, while Governor William Murray, Oklahoma, expected to attend on the closing day, Oct. 25.

An unusually large attendance at the reunion was expected because Major General William R. Smith, commanding general of the division during the World war, will be present. General Smith is superintendent of the military academy at West Point.

DISMISS JURY IN TRIAL

JURORS ARE UNABLE TO REACH VERDICT FOR YARBERRY

SINTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—The jury which tried Newton Yarberry, accused slayer of 18-year-old Dorothy Dorcas Symons, was discharged last night after failure to agree. Court officials said the case probably would come up again at the February term.

For nearly 32 hours the jurors had struggled over Yarberry's fate. Twice yesterday they reported themselves "hopelessly deadlocked," but the court ordered them back. When they came in last night they looked spent and melancholy.

"Could you," asked Judge T. M. Cox, "get together if I kept you until Monday?"

"No, judge, and prorably not by a week from Monday, either," said foreman R. L. Dycus, who later revealed they stood 11-1 for conviction.

Judge Cox then asked Yarberry if he was willing that the jury be released. The defendant arose and answered, "yes, sir."

Miss Symons disappeared on the night of July 30, after attending choir practice and the prosecution sought to show she was with Yarberry when last seen alive. Her body was found in a hole on Aransas Pass bay front, August 1.

H. G. WELLS HAS ECONOMIC PLAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—H. G. Wells came to the United States last night for a month's visit and brought with him a six point economic plan, which he thinks would solve the world's ills, but which he said he has no hope of anyone adopting.

For an hour the author talked of revolutions, the imminence of another world war he thinks will be fought principally with gas and planes, of the futility of all economic schemes, and of the crash he expects twentieth century civilization to take in the near future.

But he predicted all the dire events to the accompaniment of frequent chuckles and his face was continuously wreathed in smiles.

His program follows:

1—Solution of governmental and economic problems by experts instead of politicians.

2—Treating such problems in a scientific manner.

3—Wholesale redistribution of wealth and incomes.

4—Control of speculation.

5—World control of currency.

6—Disarmament.

"WILD BILL" RETURNS FROM YEAR OF VOLUNTARY EXILE IN FLORIDA WOODS

FORT MYERS, Fla., Oct. 15 (AP)—William T. Belvin, known as "Wild Bill," a former preacher and boilermaker, emerged from the Florida woods yesterday after what he said was a year's voluntary exile to prove he coud live without civilization's devices.

On October 14, last year, he disappeared into the woods with the intention of eking out an existence without modern things, except his false teeth and spectacles. He wore a bathing suit at the time, but doffed it as soon as he was out of sight, he said.

He said he had subsisted on fish, wild game and the eggs of wild birds, and that everything he has eaten or worn was obtained from nature with his hands. He had kept his beard short by occasional singeing, but his hair hung to his shoulders.

Belvin has gone attired in a skirt of palmetto leaves and grass. His hut was a thatched affair of palmetto leaves, he said.

The only time he was inconvenienced, he said, was for a few weeks last winter when several cold spells kept him busy trying to keep warm. He was somewhat inexperienced at that time, he said, and had not yet made the comfortable blankets of woven grass which he later used.

CROWD FIGHTS TO HEAR EINSTEIN

VIENNA, Oct. 15 (AP) — A huge crowd battled with police yesterday to hear Professor Albert Einstein, father of relativity, outline a new scientific theory, even though the theory concerned such a highly technical subject as the use of vectors in three-dimensional space, something understanding only by very competent mathematicians.

Professor Einstein addressed an audience of scientists at the Vienna institute of physics.

The famous scientist was unable to begin his address until university authorities and police had weeded out the authroized listeners from a struggling crowd which was determined to hear the sage of relativity even though they could not understand him.

A photographer who exploded a flashlight while Professor Einstein was in the midst of his formulae was ejected bodily from the room.

Hugh Evans of Santa Monica, Cal., has an orchid which bore flowers each day for 500 days, although it is growing in the open.

House Bill Upheld By Federal Court

HOUSTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—House bill No. 335, by which the state seeks to regulate the private contract truck, has been held constitutional by the three-judge federal court before whom it was attacked, federal Judge T. M. Kennerly announced briefly from the bench yesterday.

The written opinion of the court is being prepared by Circuit Judge J. C. Hutcheson, jr., who presided, and probably will be received here from New Orleans within a week or ten days, Judge Kennerly said. Judge Hutcheson, Judge Kennerly and Federal Judge Duval West of San Antonio comprised the court.

Arkansas Acreage Measure Is Signed

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 15 (AP)—Governor Harvey Parnell late yesterday signed the cotton acreage reduction bill passed last week at the specal session of the legislature.

Similar to bills passed by the Texas and Mississippi legislatures, the Arkansas act provides for reduction of cotton acreage in 1932 and 1933 to thirty per cent of the land in cultivation this year.

NEGRO IS HELD IN SLAYING

LUBBOCK BLACK UNDER ARREST IN FATAL SLASHING HERE

New evidence having led to belief that a man instead of a woman fatally slashed Bertie Robinson, 32-year-old negro woman, at the close of a negro baseball game at Merrill park July 6, a Lubbock negro man has been arrested at Hillsboro for the murder, Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, said.

Bettie Lou Heron, who suffered minor stab wounds in the affray, was charged with murder following the Robinson woman's death. She was released under bond to await the action of the county grand jury.

A complaint was filed in Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter's court Wednesday against George Mayberry, Lubbock negro, charging him with testifying falsely before the grand jury in connection with the murder investigation.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

What would have happened if the game had been played on a dry field? One guess is about as good as another, and since there will be no way of proving who was right we offer the suggestion that Tech would have made a touchdown or two had there been no rain, and add that so would Haskell.

A glance at the summary reveals, of course, that Tech was outdistanced in every department except punting, Shorty France kicked the ball over a hundred yards further than Rabbit Weller, but in scrimmage and punt returning the Indians had a decided advantage. The gains from scrimmage ran something like 217 to 85 yards, favoring the Tribe.

There's little call for going ahead and launching into an extended thesis about what might have been, now that it's all over, but the game will be the subject of conversation for months to come. It was colorful, even if it was played in the rain. What the results would have been had there been no rain will be the main subject for conjecture. It is not hard to picture at least a couple of Matador touchdowns had the ball and the field not been slippery, and it is just as easy to feature that Weller guy running up and down the field with ease for more Haskell touchdowns. It might have been a free scoring spree for both sides.

Yancy Price and Harrold Crites were practically helpless with their power plunges against the stiff Indian line and the rain. The smaller lads, Slick Close, Shorty France and Speed Moffett, had a better day. Crites and Price can go on a dry field, but they've got to have solid footing. Passes that were missed in the game would have been completed had the ball been anything like dry. It just slipped through the hands of the receivers, that's all.

Ralph Wolf, the Baylor University scout, was in the press box Tuesday and that was another break for Tech. According to their agreement, Tech and Baylor are not to scout each other but once before they play on October 31. Wolf couldn't have learned very much Tuesday, but his comment on the Tech gridders was full of praise. Since they don't expect to win many conference games this year, the Bears are hoping to set the Matadors back. Wolf intimated, and when the teams play on October 31 the Bruins will be primed for the Cawthon men.

The toughest break of the whole game came when Rabbit Weller made his long punt return to place the ball within striking distance. Bill Teal, Cawthon's star end, went down on the punt like nobody's business. He was near the spot where Weller caught the punt when a couple of big Injuns trampled him into the mud. Teal never whimpered when he was carried off and to a clinic where a broken leg was treated and is being treated now. We've probably seen the last playing of the little fellow, one of the classiest of the class, a fighter if there ever was one and, above all, a man.

The eyes of the state are turned on Pampa this week as the Texas schoolboy grid race rounds the first turn. District 1 is counted upon to go places in the 1931 race and Pampa and Amarillo are ranked near the top of the ladder. The wagering seems to be about evenly divided, with followers of both clans represented hereabouts. Pampa still ranks third in our "seeded" list and we look for a Sandie victory Saturday.

Both Pampa and Amarillo have looked potent in previous games, but Amarillo has faced the tougher opposition. Pampa has played against more or less set ups, the Harvesters to get their first real test Saturday. Amarillo showed its strength last week against Lawton, Okla., always a strong club and stronger this year than usual.

The Westerners, experiencing the easiest schedule ever arranged for a Lubbock team, are in danger of becoming a bit stale before they enter the thick of the fight. They, too, have had setups. Tomorrow afternoon they meet Snyder High, a Class B school but a tough one. Snyder defeated Slaton in the first game of the season and is the standing champion of its district. The Westerners need a hard game at this point. They are idle next week, no game being scheduled until they play Pampa on October 31, and a real tough game now, even a defeat, would do the locals a world of good. They're likely to get it, too, tomorrow afternoon. In fact, we believe in Snyder so much we're going to predict a 26 to 0 victory for Lubbock.

MATADORS RETURN AND RESUME TRAINING

LUBBOCK HIGH TO MEET "B" TEAM HERE

GRID BATTLE FRIDAY RECALLS VISITORS' DEFEAT IN 1917

The Lubbock Westerners and the Snyder High school eleven will meet on the Texas Tech field tomorrow afternoon in a football game that undoubtedly will bring back memories pleasant and otherwise to Lubbock residents who have been such for the past fifteen years.

An open date until early this week, Friday will mark the first game between Lubbock and Snyder since the great days of 1917, when Lubbock boasted an undefeated team, unscored against save for Wayland college. On a cool fall day of 1917 the Snyder team came to Lubbock and went home with the tail end of an 88 to 0 score. Several men in Lubbock will see Friday's game and reflect upon the day which saw them in uniform against the Snyder forces.

The game will start at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon on Matador Field. At the time the game was matched, local officials were wearing fall clothes and thinking in terms of cold weather so that a night game was not planned. Too, an afternoon contest will make it possible for the Snyder team to return home Friday night.

The Lubbock Westerners, opening their district championship race with a decisive 46 to 0 victory over Slaton here Friday night, face a rest before jumping into the race again. They meet Pampa at Pampa on October 31 in the next important game. Coach Chapman will not present his charges before a Lubbock fandom until November 11, following tomorrow's game.

Fearing a let down before the heavy work comes on, Coach Chapman is driving his men at a rapid rate this week and is keeping things moving in an effort to allay any staleness which might become evident. Workouts at Tech last week against Pete Cawthon's Tech Matadors had a fine effect on the high school gridsters.

GRIDIRONS TO DRAW CROWDS

LARGE ATTENDANCE IS EXPECTED SATURDAY AT MAJOR GAMES

CHICAGO, Oct. 15 (AP)—Western conference football attendance figures for 1931 will take a big jump Saturday with two capacity or near capacity crowds just about assured.

The traditional rivalry between Michigan and Ohio State has all the elements to induce a sellout in Michigan's huge stadium and 70,000 or more spectators are expected to watch the Wolverines and Buckeyes struggle to remain in the championship race.

There have been few sellouts at the University of Chicago in recent seasons but the appearance of littleAlbie Booth and his Yale squad, along with the ceremonies in connection with Amos Alonzo Stagg's fortieth consecutive year of coaching the Maroons, have stirred the imaginations of the customers to the extent that 50,000 spectators, all Stagg Field will accommodate, are virtually certain.

Wisconsin and Purdue, another pair of teams with elimination from the championship scheme facing them, will battle at Madison, and another 35,000 probably will be added to the attendance figures. Iowa will hold its homecoming at Iowa City, with Indiana as its foe, which probably be good for 25,000 or more. The appearance of the University of California's southern branch at Northwestern does not rate as a big attraction, but Wildcat followers are proud of their team and the contest at Evanston should attract about 40,000. Illinois and Bradley will play before the Illini student body and, plus about 25,000 Illinois school children.

Football Trophy To Honor Knute Rockne

CHICAGO, Oct. 15 (AP)—The new trophy to be awarded to the 1931 national championship football team, on the basis of the Dickinson rating system, will be known as the Knute M. Rockne memorial.

The first edition of the award was won permanently last year by Notre Dame, the first institution to win it three times over a period of ten years. Its donor, Jack F. Bissman, has offered another one under the same conditions, with Professor Frank G. Dickinson of the University of Illinois, who formulated the rating system, deciding to make it a memorial to the late Notre Dame football wizard.

Notre Dame won possession of the first trophy by ranking as the best eleven in the country in 1924, 1929 and 1930.

Gridiron Carnival Looms For Charity

QUICK RESPONSE GIVEN OWEN YOUNG'S PLEA FOR FOOTBALL TO HELP THE UNEMPLOYED

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—A quick response to Owen D. Young's call for football to help the unemployed has brought prospects of the greatest gridiron carnival in the first two weeks of December the United States ever has seen.

Today, less than 24 hours after the chairman of President Hoover's committee on the mobilization of relief resources issued his request for football's aid, games have been arranged involving ten of the east's outstanding football schools, the Western conference has laid the groundwork for most battles and various other colleges and even professional teams have fallen in line.

Tourneys Planned

The Army-Navy game at New York Dec. 12, originally the one big charity clash, now takes place as the climax of a great football festival with two gridiron tournaments involving Yale, Dartmouth, Holy Cross and Brown on the one hand and Princeton, Pennsylvania, Cornell and Columbia on the other taking place during the week preceding the service clash.

The two tournaments, which bring a new idea into eastern football, were anounced last night through E. K. Hall, chairman of the intercollegiate football rules committee, at the request of the colleges. The four New England institutions will meet in the Yale bowl Dec. 5, while the others will come together at New York Dec. 9. In each tournament two 20-minute preliminary games will be played, with the opposition decided by lot, and the two winners will meet in a 20-minute final.

Although no games have yet been arranged in the Western conference, the rules have been amended to permit members to engage one another in charity games and to extend their seasons to Nov. 28. Major John L. Griffith, Big Ten athletic commissioner estimated that five such games would net close to $1,000,000 for the unemployed.

Swim Mark Broken By Helene Madison

SEATTLE, Oct. 15 (AP)—Helene Madison, champion woman swimmer, set a new world's record for the mile swim and broke seven American records in a swimming exhibition last night.

The records were set up at different distances over the mile course. The world mile record was held by herself and the American marks by Ethel McGary, New York.

Miss Madison's time for the mile was 23 minutes, 37 1-5 seconds, breaking her own mark of 24 minutes, 34 3-5 seconds. Miss McGary's time for the distance was 25 minutes, 36 seconds.

MINERS WILL BE NEXT FOE OF TECH TEAM

PICADORS WILL MEET AMARILLO BADGERS THERE FRIDAY

The Texas Tech Matadors are back on their own practice field this afternoon and the program for the practice hours consists of a light workout tending to loosen tired and strained muscles and bring back a bit of pep and ginger to the slack spirits of the gridsters.

Returning late last night from Dallas after a restless overland trip by bus over muddy roads which delayed them many hours, the Matadors were in fairly low spirits upon their arrival. The long trip to Dallas, the defeat there, 8 to 0, at the hands of the Haskell Institute Indians, the permanent disablement of their star end, Bill Teal, so far as football is concerned, and the trip home was enough to tire them.

Coaches Cawthon and Smith were busy this morning laying out a campaign for the week. The Matador mentors were well pleased with the showing made by their charges in Tuesday's game at Dallas, Smith, commenting for the coaching staff, said this morning. With the exception of the small crowd and Teal's injury everything went to suit the Tech coaches so far as the game itself was concerned. On a dry field, the coaches say, it might have been a different story, but playing in the rain as they did, the Matadors turned in a creditable showing.

Attention now will be centered upon the game next Friday week with the Colorado School of Mines. It will be the first intersectional game played at home by the Matadors, and they will be drilled hard next week as coaches and players attempt to get back on the winning side of the column. The game will be played at night, provided weather is suitable, Smith said this morning.

Coaches Del Morgan and Weir Washam will take their Tech freshman Picadors to Amarillo tomorrow for a game with the Amarillo Junior college Badgers. It will be the first game for the Picadors since the opening of the season when they held the Matadors to a 13 to 7 count.

Aggies Seek To End T.C.U.'s Supremacy

MUSTANGS TRAIN FOR BATTLE WITH RICE OWLS SATURDAY

(By Associated Press)

Victorious each year since 1925, Texas Chistian university's football aggregation will lose Saturday if daily practice of Texas A. and M. means anything.

With only two casualties, the Aggies are drilling each afternoon with a firm determination to end Texas Christian's football supremacy over them. It started back in 1925 when Texas Christian won a 3 to 0 game. Last year the Aggies unreeled a brilliant game, but again Texas Christian won, 3 to 0. It will be the first 1931 Southwest conference game for Texas Christian and Texas A. and M.

Revealing ginger and snap, Southern Methodist whipped through a hard workout yesterday in preparation for Rice Saturday at Houston. Coach Morrison sent his regulars against the freshmen in a lengthy scrimmage. Bob Gilbert, regular quarterback, will be out of the lineup with an infected heel but Travis, who will replace him, is a ranking star. Last week, Southern Methodist beat Arkansas, and Rice walloped the University of Texas.

Gloom hangs over the University of Arkansas campus as Coach Thomsen prepares his cohorts for Baylor Saturday at Waco. Kyle went out o fyesterday's scrimmage with an injured back, Stout, tackle, is on the sideline with injuries, and Johnson, end, is out with malaria. At Austin, the University of Texas worked on a pass defense to stop Oklahoma Saturday at Dallas.

Thought For Today

Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.—Galations 5:26.

Vanity indeed is a venial error; for it usually carries its own punishment with it.—Junius.

Speeding

Studies carried on by psychologists of Ohio State University under the auspices of the National Research Council show that the slow automobile driver manages to get involved in more accidents than the fast one; and whether this is simply because there are more of him, or because there is something inherently dangerous about slow driving, it is bound to be of interest to motorists everywhere.

One reason, as the psychologists points out, is that a truly competent driver tends to travel faster than a poor one; and the poor one, plodding along at what he conceives to be a safe pace, manages nevertheless to get into accidents which a better driver would avoid.

Chiefly, however, the study is interesting as a demonstration of the fact that mere speed, by itself, is not necessarily dangerous. A good driver, hitting a 45-mile clip, can be far less of a menace to public safety than a poor one whose car does not go over 25 miles an hour all the way.

England's Troubles

The real seriousness of England's domestic troubles did not become apparent to the ordinary American until cable dispatches began to come in telling of serious rioting in various English cities.

If it were some other nation, these stories of riots and bloodshed would not be so impressive. Pitched battles between police and unemployed are not uncommon elsewhere in Europe. They appear now and again in hard times and cause little comment.

But England has long had the reputation of being the most orderly nation on earth. The English do not get out and break windows and fight the police unless things are getting pretty bad. The average newspaper reader on this side of the Atlantic is beginning to realize that Britain is passing through a more trying time than he had supposed.

A Survey

Recent arguments in favor of restriction of short sales in the stock market make it imperative that someone conduct an impartial survey to show precisely what the effect of short sales is on market trends.

It has been claimed that the short sale prevents excesses by tending to stabilize prices; that is, it prevents prices from rising to unreasonable heights in a bull market, and the "hurrying to cover" by short sellers in a falling market keeps prices from falling too low.

But, as the Aexander Hamilton Institute points out, there is no complete data available to prove or disprove these contentions. Such data would be fairly easy to assemble; once assembled, the task of working out a sound policy to cover the matter would be much easier than it is now.

The Phenomenon

The American public seems to have saved itself the unspeakable folly of making popular heroes out of its gangsters.

To be sure, children at play will often pretend they are underworld gunmen, and many a lad of eight or ten has been put on the spot, with cap pistols, on suburban street corners and vacant lots. But as a general thing the gangster is recognized for what he is.

Witness, for example, the fact that Al Capone was roundly booed when he visited a college football game the other day; booed so thoroughly, in fact, that even his tough hide was pierced, and he got up and walked out.

As long as we have the sanity to keep that attitude, there is plenty of hope for us. Capone got his start in an unspeakably vile trade, and the fact is remembered.

Capone looked over his jurymen and said he didn't like their type. Probably weren't hand set.

THE story is going around that Ross McWhorter is going to leave town over Friday. He intended to see the Lubbock High school Westerners strut their well known touchdown stuff, but when he discovered that Snyder was to furnish the opposition, he changed his mind. He has an antipathy toward Snyder—and here's why, according to Pinky Lowery, nickle-nurser of the Westerners and a former teammate of Mr. McWhorter's on the Lubbock high team of two or three generations ago.

Back in 1917, Lubbock high had a swell football team. In fact, the team was undefeated all season, even thumping the Wayland college eleven. Ross, then known as "Fleetfoot" McWhorter, tipped the beam at 175 pounds and was a line smashing fullback like nobody's business.

In November, Snyder high, playing its first year of football, came to town and "Fleetfoot" was all set to run up his impressive scoring total by at least 50 points. He started out well—but on the third play some Snyder lad hit him on the shoestrings and the damage was done. The local fullback's knee was injured—and to this day he has trouble with the member occasionally.

INCIDENTALLY, Lubbock won the 1917 Snyder game, 88 to 0, and tomorrow will try to duplicate the stunt. Lubbock and Snyder have not met on the grid since 1917 but Pinky says Ross isn't taking any chances.

He's not even going to be in the grandstand—because one of those Snyder boys might run up there and ruin his other knee!

AIMEE Semple McPherson (Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton at the present writing) has long been one of The Plainsman's pet peeves. As time rocks along and the red-haired Los Angeles spell-binder gets herself mixed up in more and more distasteful affairs, this pet peeve is growing beautifully—not because The Plainsman dislikes to see someone rig up a racket that, under the law, brings fruitful financial results, but because he hates to see trusting people flim-flammed so impudently.

This column submits that if Mrs. Semple-McPherson-Hutton is sincere in her preaching and in her patented, catchy-phrased "Four Square Gospel" she would not pull the stunts she pulls to get and keep in the public eye.

If she were really religious and honestly desireous in walking in the footsteps of the Christ she pretends to follow, she'd be more like His teachings, rather than like those made popular by the late Phineus T. Barnum, whose slogan "There's A Sucker Born Every Minute" has been added to by Mrs. McPherson with "and most of them live".

INCIDENTALLY, Aimee's latest publicity vehicle is the release to newspapers of "Aimee's Love Story" in serial form. It is composed of a lot of drivel about the evangelist's long search for "her man", which has led not only through the courts but through a national scandal. It finally ended with her recent marriage to a baritone choir singer, sued in the courts of California for breach of promise after allegedly seducing, then deserting a nurse.

It is hard to understand why thousands of people will fall for the kind of guff Aimee puts out while the dollars roll in to Angelus Temple's treasury but the mere fact that they fall for it is no reason why it should be continued without objection.

We have laws which protect the public from quack doctors and quack lawyers. Why not a law to protect the unsuspecting from quack preachers, who really come under the heading of "blue sky operators"?

LUBBOCK and other convention centers will watch with interest the efforts being made by Amarillo to hold the Texas State Medical society to its agreement to stage its annual session in the North Plains capital in June of 1932. The situation now portending in Amarillo may some day bob up for Lubbock and a precedent may be set there.

At the Beaumont meeting of the medical society it was voted that the 1932 session would be held in Amarillo. Amarillo's invitation was accepted after the city had offered, in good faith, to entertain the doctors and had spent in the neighborhood of $1,000 in securing the convention.

Just the other day, directors of the doctor's organization voted not to hold the convention in Amarillo, but instead, to meet in Waco.

Naturally, Amarillo is up in arms. They object to being treated in in any such fashion.

AN organization which votes to convene in any certain city should stick with its decision. If the medical society thinks its membership should not be permitted, by ballot, to select the meeting places, let its officers change the method of choosing convention sites; but let them do it between times—not after agreeing to accept an invitation.

It costs a good piece of money to get conventions, now-adays, and a good piece of money to entertain them. It isn't fair to cause expenditures and then repudiate an agreement.

The Plainsman hopes that Amarillo, with the help of Texas doctors everywhere, will succeed in showing the few directors of the organization that they can't get away with such high handed procedure.

When Banks Fail, Offers Are Made To Government To Rent Them For Postoffices, But Most Proposals Not Feasible

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15—Hundreds of failed banks develop ambitions to become federal post offices.

DUTCHER

Fifty or more have been leased, it is estimated at the Post Office Department, but most of them are unsuitable or too expensive.

The heavy run of bank failures in the past few years has been followed by a correspond i n g flood of offers to rent the properties to the government. Members of Congress are often besought to put over such deals. Usually however, the bank offered has a big vault in the center of the floor space which can't be removed feasibly or it isn't fit for handling mail in bulk. Bank buildings are generally so well constructed and located that the rental is high—and the Post Office Department is looking for low bidders.

Few things cause such a buzzing on Capitol Hill as an attack on the old familiar practice of nepotism—which means placing relatives on the government payroll because they are relatives. Members of Congress are sensitive on this point, with considerable reason.

Their secretaries and clerks, paid from a government allowance, are forever beefing about it—usually in confidential whispers. Many of them are doing the work for which a member's wife, brother, son, cousin or nephew is being paid, or fear that they may some time share the fate of those they have seen fired to make way for such a relative. Those who aren't any relation to the boss seethe with indignation at each new example of such favoritism. Lately they have been nursing copies of the current Atlantic Monthly, which carries an extensive survey of nepotism here, naming scores of names and proving that the system is widespread.

The practice of placing a relative on the government payroll who never does any work in order to capture the money indirectly is ordinarily considered disgusting, but there are all degrees of nepotism and the non-relative secretaries usually condone them when the relative employe comes to the office regularly and works efficiently. No one, for instance, criticizes blind Senator Schall of Minnesota, whose wife is his secretary as well as his reader and constant companion. There are relatives on the payroll who couldn't get as good a job elsewhere, but some members place in their offices relatives who have always worked with them and whom they believe to be as loyal and efficient as anyone they could get. Young Senator LaFollette married his secretary and Mrs. LaFollette, who was both efficient and fond of her job, said she was going to stay right on. Well, what of it?

The government is getting out a leaflet describing six very special ways to make nice, comfortable rompers for kids—ample room for stooping and crawling, instructions about fabrics that don't collect dirt, designed to simplify the business of dressing. Page the Bureau of Home Economics.

The Prohibition Bureau is emphatically opposed to the practice adopted by certain gents in a favorite speakeasy of the recent American Legion convention at Detroit who discovered a prohibition agent in their midst, stripped off his clothes and deposited him in the street completely unclothed. There used to be much agitation for putting agents, border patrolmen and other enforcers in distinctive uniform when they were shooting at motorists who thought they were bandits, but the demand has passed now that prohibition killings are down to a minimum and officials say that trick was uncalled for.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1439 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining." "Feminine Hygiene." "Indigestion and Constipation." "The Care of the Hair and Skin." "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet." "List of Books for Mothers." "Bed Wetting." "Diet of the Expectant Mother." "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

VITAMIN A NECESSARY

A newspaper story of a few days ago described the success of certain chemists in perfecting a method of isolating pure carotene in an inexpensive form. Carotene is the vegetable substance which holds Vitamin A in combination. Hitherto, it has been very expensive in pure chemical concentration.

Dr. Clendening

It is a curious fact that in most animal products vitamin A appears as a colorless product—cod liver oil for instance. In the vegetable kingdom, it is associated with pigment, particularly yellowish pigment, but also the green of leaves. Thus carrots, squash, green corn, yellow turnips, and pumpkins contain it—but so do parsnips and spinach. Animal products which combine pigment and vitamin A are the yolk of eggs and butter. It has been suggested that carotene in vegetables is the precursor of animal vitamin A, and that when these vegetables yield the vitamin to animal economy, it becomes colorless.

Vitamin A is certainly very important in nutrition. If it is absent from the diet of an experimental animal, the animal suffers from infections, particularly of the eyes—a condition with the jaw breaking name, Xerophthalmia. This disease is occasionally seen in human subjects who have omitted substances with vitamin A from the diet—green and cooked vegetables, eggs and butter.

Vtiamin A is also necessary for proper growth and bodily development. It is fortunate, therefore, that late investigations have established beyond doubt what definite members of the vegetable kingdom furnish this valuable substance.

Limiting the diet too exclusively to these products however causes certain not entirely favorable results to follow. When a few years ago carrots were hailed as a particularly good food for infants, it was found that a peculiar yellowish discoloration of the skin occurred. This condition has also been found in diabetics who, of course, eat a diet in which vegetables predominate. Yesterday in this column was told the story of a patient who had a similar condition developing after the use of an exclusively vegetable diet for purposes of reducing.

The yellowish discoloration of the skin in these people resembles jaundice and is often mistaken for it. No permanent harm is done in these cases, however, if the condition is recognized and the diet is changed so that the green and pigmented vegetables are balanced by other food substances.

Legion Post Will Name New Officers

Allen Brothers post, No. 148, of the American Legion will elect officers tonight at the Legion home, post officers have announced.

At the last semi-monthly meeting of the post two nominating committees were appointed by Glen Hess, commander, to select candidates for the offices. Each committee is to name a complete ticket. The new officers will be installed at the regular meeting Thursday, October 29, it was said.

And Gov. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray stood on his head just to show newspaper men he could do it, but wouldn't give photographers a tumble.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Oct. 15—One of the pet cliches of writers describing New York is "the milling throng." Some change this slightly and refer to the "milling millions," or, the "turbulent stream of humanity," or the "endless river of humans."

Yet they all remain anonymous. Instead, we who write columns about New York are prone to tell of the folk whose names flash in bright lights.

The other night, I got a refreshing lesson: It was at a first night performance of an important play. During the intermission of this premiere, a half hundred assorted young folk, with note books and programs in their hands, rushed about spotting the celebrities and begging for an autograph.

Most of them were girls, aged from 18 to 25.

They had waited in the street during an entire act, fearing that they might miss the opportunity to get certain signatures. This bit of writing on a scrap of paper, for some reason or other, meant a lot to youngsters who took their pen scratching home and showed them to friends and families. And got a big kick out of this second-hand contact.

One young lady mistook me for at least two other people, so I stopped to question her. We fell to talking.

"Say," she questioned, "Who do you think makes up Broadway anyway? Well, it's me and Sadie Jones and our boy friend and other girls and others boy friends. Do you think the birds you know keep the street going? . . . Yeah . . . ? Do you think we can pay first night prices? Don't be silly!

"We go to a movie and then drop in at a chop suey place. And that's what keeps Broadway going. It's the boys and girls going to movies and to sandwich counters. Do any of your high-hat folks go there? Say what do you think is going on out in the street when the rest of you are walking in on passes or paying your way? Well, the rest of us are out in the street—and we're spending a quarter here and a dime there—and it's this small change that mounts up. When you write about Broadway, big boy, don't forget that it couldn't last one night without me and Sadie Jones and Sammy Smith and the rest of us.

Nor could it!

What's more, the Sadie Joneses and the Sammy Smiths are the folk who get the real thrill out of something going on. They're stenographers and clerks and phone girls, ready for any free show that may be staged. When there's a first night event they arrive a half hour early and take up their stand near the theater marquee. They look for the movie stars they know, they joint to their heroes and they spot familiar faces quicker than many an old-timer. They're "on the know" about anything and everything.

When cops arrive and mounted police ride up they stand for shoving and discomfort and fatigue. No dyed-in-the-wool rounder would stand such treatment for a moment. But they are the "milling throng" and it's their carnival. They get more sheer enjoyment out of looking upon a movie queen as she steps from a taxicab than the others do out of the party this movie lady tosses later in the evening. They are not bored, and they seem never to be tired.

They're the people that seem to have the fun and get the thrills—and I, for one, envy them.

An adventurer has forsaken Arctic exploring and elephant hunting to enter the stock exchange. Evidently doesn't know when he's safe.

LUBBOCK MOTHER COMMENTS UPON DR. WAIT'S REMARKS AND ON MILK AND ICE FUND

Dear Plainsman: Having always enjoyed your column in our daily paper, I especially appreciated your article in reference to President Wait's address.

Having been a teacher and a mother, my heart goes out to the youth of today. They are smarter and more capable than we were and are entirely too smart to be driven or tongue-lashed as some try to do. Far better it would be for those who lead to live in deed the simple teaching of our Master, who went about doing good and He, though divine said, "Let the one without sin cast the first stone".

And I want to take this opportunity to thank you for making it possible, as one of a committee who served in the Milk and Ice Fund and tried to put into practice the teaching of the One we would always wish to emulate, in going about doing good and loving our neighbor as ourselves.

Again thanking you for making it possible to do what good we could this summer, I am,

Sincerely,

Mrs. G. W. Scott.

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP) — The stock market rallied slowly today but made rather substantial advances despite the small turnover.

Utilities, rails and specialties were prominent. American Telephone, New York Central, Atchison and Norfolk & Western rose 3 points or more, while Eastman and Allied Chemical gained 4 and Auburn 7. Advances of 2 to 2½ appeared in North American, Consolidated Gas, Corn Products, National Biscuit, Pullman, New Haven, Westinghouse and Loew's. U. S. Steel sold about a point higher in common with General Motors, American Can and General Electric.

Call money renewed at 2 per cent.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 3 points on October but generally unchanged to 7 points lower under southern selling and selling by commission houses here. Relatively steady Liverpool cables may have accounted for the advance on October, but had little effect on the general market.

Traders seemed to be more influenced by reports of improving weather in the south following the rains or showers of the previous day, while the buying was in comparatively small volume. December sold off to 6.13 by the end of the first half hour and March declined to 6.43, with active months showing net losses of about 7 to 8 points.

Liverpool cables attributed the steadiness in that market to covering and trade calling and reported a sustained demand for cotton cloths and yarns in Manchester.

Offering were light after the early selling had run its course, while Liverpool became a buyer here after selling at the start and the decline to 6.13 for December and 6.43 for March seemed to bring in a little more trade and investment buying. This was sufficient to rally prices above yesterday's closing quotations with December selling up to 6.24 and March to 6.54 late in the morning or 3 to 5 points net higher. Trading was quiet at midday.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 15 (AP)—The cotton market experienced a quiet but steady opening today. As Liverpool came in better than due, first trades here showed gains of 2 to 5 points. Hedge selling soon developed, however, and the pressure of these offerings caused prices to gradually ease off until December traded down to 6.14, and January to 6.26, or 4 to 8 points under the opening figures and 2 to 3 points down compared with yesterday's close.

Near the end of the first hour, the market continued quiet and barely steady.

The cotton market ruled comparatively quiet all morning. After prices had eased off 4 to 9 points from opening figures, on hedge selling the market rallied owing to the strength of stocks. December advancing to 6.27, January to 6.34 and March to 6.55 up 8 to 14 points from the lows. Near mid-session the market was steady and near the highs.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 15 (AP)—Wheat averaged lower and corn higher early today. Liverpool wheat quotations showed more of a decline than had been expected. Black sea exports of wheat were larger than either a week or a year ago, with Russia asserted to be again offering wheat. Opening at 3-8 cent off to 1-8 up, wheat later underwent a general sag. Corn opened unchanged to 3-8 advance and subsequently rose all around.

Marriage License Basis For Claim

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 15 (AP)—A marriage license, issued here when Texas was a republic, was advanced today as a link in the claim of Mrs. Fred E. Mooty for a share of the estate of the late Miss Ella Wendel, wealthy New York recluse.

The license, found in the records of County Clerk Jack R. Burke, shows that John Wendel and Mrs. Maria Anna Zimmerman Wendel were married in Castroville, Tex., May 31, 1840. Mrs. Mooty contends Miss Wendel was a daughter of the two. She further claims Mrs. Wendel was her aunt, making Miss Wendel her cousin.

Mrs. Mooty said that she had three brothers and seven sisters who would share in the estate if her claims are proved legal.

Gerard added that "If Bernstorf (the German ambassador) has given the president any other terms he is fooling him, but do not quote me to Bernstorff."

trampling through the hills when he came upon the cave. Smoke was rolling from the hole in the hill. Going up to the entrance he found the woman cooking on a battered stove.

The cave, under a steep cliff, with jagged rocks for a ceiling and the bare ground for a floor, was divided into two compartments. In one of these was an old wooden bed. Boxes served as chairs and tables. Boards were the other beds.

The mouth of the cave was walled up with rocks, timbers and clay, but when it rained, Mrs. Hinkle explained, sometimes even the stones and the boards that served as a door, failed to keep out the water.

Despite the hardships, the children seemed in perfect health, Farley said.

Mail Fraud Cases Given Continuance

DALLAS, Oct. 15 (AP)—Trial of 11 persons, charged with mail fraud and conspiracy to conduct a lottery through the mails, in connection with the operations of a marriage insurance company here, was continued in federal court here Wednesday in the January term.

Judge William H. Atwell granted the motion of Assistant U. S. Attorney Sarah C. Menzes because Charles B. Hedrick, alleged by the government, to have headed the marriage insurance company, had not been arrested.

Others under indictments in the case are: Hix Smith, Earl Ragland, C. G. Erman, W. A. Hedrick, Fred N. Irvin, Lawrence W. Adkins, Georgia A. Boyd, Leon H. Goodchaux, W. A. Bell and C. L. Phillips.

McADOO ENDORSED

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 15 (AP)—William G. McAdoo yesterday was endorsed by the Tennessee branch of the National Democratic Women's Law Enforcement league for the presidential nomination.

The little sundew plant of Newfoundland eats insects. When one alights on the little red hairs which cover the flower of the plant, it is caught by a sticky liquid. The hairs roll inward and drop off the insect in the center of the flower. Here it soon dies and is digested.

DR. JACKSON IS KIWANIS SPEAKER

Declaring that the world is seeing a repetition of Columbus' feat of centuries ago and that Europe is discovering America anew, Dr. W. A. Jackson, head of the department of government at Texas Tech, told Lubbock Kiwanians in Hotel Lubbock today noon that the time has come when every American citizen should move with care in considering ideas foreign to this country.

"Columbus' discovery marked the most important discovery of the age," Dr. Jackson said. "It marked the beginning of the individualistic idea which was developed in America after being substituted by cooperative effort. It resulted in the production of world famed characters such as Washington, Jefferson, Calhoun, Roosevelt and Wilson and even in our own day such as Bill Murray and Huey Long."

"Europe is discovering America anew," he continued. "When any great disaster happens there, immediately the people of European countries turn to America for relief, they seem to think that all they have to do is to appeal to the United States. It is true that we have wealth and influence but we should use it in the proper way."

"The United States has been sort of a 'dumping ground' of all things in the past, every political idea was presented in this country. But the time has come, gentlemen, when every foreign idea dumped into this country should be viewed with a great deal of concern. It behooves us even more than it did our forefathers of the colonies to advance with care. This is no time to listen to any and every theory advanced, be swept off our feet by them and rushed into situations which would practically ruin the result of the efforts of those who have cradled and developed this great civilization."

The program was in observance of Columbus week. A. C. Jackson was in charge.

David Humphreys, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. R. F. Humphreys, gave a flute solo.

R. Q. Silverthorn of Plainview was a visiting Kiwanian.

LUBBOCK YOUTH

he made a reverse somersault while I continued going forward. We collided violently. I think my head struck his neck but I am not sure. I was dazed for a few minutes and really was unable to determine what happened. When I came to I saw them working over Thomas."

Mr. McMillan, the injured youth's father, said he and Mrs. McMillan had returned from San Angelo only a short time before they were informed of the accident. Mrs. McMillan, who is said to be in poor health, had gone to San Angelo to consult a respiratory specialist there.

The father said his boy had never been active in athletics until this year. The boy was taking a great deal of interest in his physical education work at the high school, Mr McMillan said.

The youth's body was paralyzed from the neck downward. In the event the injury should not prove fatal at this time, physicians said he probably would be paralyzed during the remainder of his life. His spinal cord was believed to have been severely bruised.

Accident Unavoidable

R. W. Matthews, high school principal, said as far as he could determine the accident was unavoidable. The two youths and several other boys and girls were in the gymnasium for a pep meeting and after the boys had received their instructions the girls were taken to another part of the gymnasium for drill practice.

"There is a rule that students may not use the equipment in the gymnasium except under the supervision of an instructor," he said. "But, of course, students cannot be watched at all times when they visit the gym for other meetings."

M. H. Duncan, superintendent of Lubbock schools, made a similar statement.

"Of course I regret exceedingly the unfortunate accident, but I do not see where the school authorities are to blame." A similar accident might occur on the playground, at the home, or at any place where boys play. The boys' exercises in the gymnasium were no part of their school work."

AGED WOMAN TO HUNT REST OF MONEY AFTER DRESSES YIELD LARGE FORTUNE

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (AP)—Just as soon as her ankles get better, Mrs. Ida Wood intends to "go out and look for the rest of my money."

The folds of her old-fashioned gowns and hiding places in her hotel room already yielded a fortune in currency and bonds—nearly a million dollars. The 70-pound, 93-year-old lady insists, however, there is more.

Her ankle weakness, physicians said, is due to lack of nutrition during the months she lived frugally in her simple quarters with bundles of $10,000 banknotes, diamonds and other costly jewels within arm's reach.

Mrs. Wood, after years of living on such a slender budget as to call for the purchase of a single egg at a time, would be dismayed at the amount already expended in her behalf since the court has taken over her affairs.

The bond of Mrs. Wood's guardian, Otis Wood, was raised from $225,000 to $1,000,000 yesterday after other claimants to relationship had filed protests. Wood is a nephew. The opposing faction is headed by Mrs. William C. Shields, a stepgranddaughter.

Five trunks belonging to Mrs. Wood were opened yesterday, and another small fortune in gems was found. There were watches set with rose diamonds, rare necklaces and heavy bracelets.

Finds Honesty Is The Best Policy

"Honesty is the best policy," an Abilene resident has decided.

This week, the manager of a local store received a letter bearing an Abilene postmark with a money order for thirty cents and the following note enclosed:

"Dear sir:

One day several years ago I was in your store and I stole a pair of socks. I want to pay for them since the Lord has saved me from sin and I am trying to live a clean Christian life. I decided I'll have to pay for the thing I stole."

The note was unsigned.

LONG-CYR

cation and replied to Cyr "that I have the honor to decline your demands in toto."

As an anti-climax to the Long-Cyr dispute, Walter A. Aldrich, an unemployed resident of Shreveport, unheard of before in politics, took the oath of office of governor and said he too would file an ouster suit against Long, go to Baton Rouge and take over the capitol as it was "abandoned property" if Cyr's claims were true.

Long in a statement last night based his legal claim to keep his office on the point he had promised the people he would finish out his term as governor if they elected him to the senate and the fact he had not yet been administered the oath of the senate.

Louisiana was held in wide suspense in the battle of officialdom, and Long gave orders for his policemen to throw Cyr out and put him in jail if he entered the secretary of state's office in any capacity other than that of a private citizen.

Long now holds that Cyr vacated the lieutenant-governorship in taking the governor's oath and has informed state officials Alvin O. King of Lake Charles president pro tempore of the state senate, who took the oath as lieutenant-governor late yesterday, was in fact the holder of the office.

Mr. Ellis said as far as he knew there had been no change in the policy of the feed-seed loan office from that announced early in the week.

A policy of liberality in the collecting of federal loans was announced in dispatches Saturday from Abilene. At that time Ellis said he had received instructions that when a borrower had deposited warehouse receipts on sufficient cotton collateralized at six cents per pound to cover the amount of his loan, the government will release its mortgage on the remainder of the crop, enabling him to dispose of that surplus as he sees fit.

Defense Rests In Sullivan's Trial

LINDEN, Oct. 15 (AP)—Defense had rested its case today with the testimony of William Sullivan, 21, on trial for violation of the anti-mask law in connection with the kidnaping of J. N. Boyd.

Sullivan testified yesterday he did not recall signing a confession which District Attorney Elmer L. Lincoln introduced as state evidence. He admitted the signature was his but asserted he was not in his right mind when the paper was signed. The confession was introduced by the state in an effort to show Sullivan's hands and face were blacked to resemble a negro at the time Boyd was kidnaped.

Ask Capone Not To See Football Games

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 15 (AP)—Al Capone has been invited to stay away from Northwestern university football games in the future.

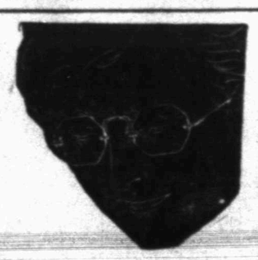

Jack Leach, chairman of the editorial board of the Daily Northwestern, student publication of the university, issued the "invitation" yesterday in the newspaper, commenting on Capone's recent appearance at the Northwestern-Nebraska football game.

Under the caption, "get this Capone," Leach said:

"You are not wanted at Dyche stadium nor at Soldier field when Northwestern is host. You are not getting away with anything and you are only impressing a moronic few who don't matter anyway."

Leach complained that Capone at the Nebraska game, "swept in with an escort of motorcycle police like an emperor going to his coronation."

GIN PROBE IS REQUESTED

ATTORNEY GENERAL IS ASKED TO PROBE IN CROSBYTON ROW

CROSBYTON, Oct. 15.—(Special)—An investigation by Attorney General James V. Alred of activities of oil mills owning cotton gins was asked in a resolution adopted by directors of Crosbyton Cooperative gin No. 2 Wednesday afternoon.

Directors of the local gin charge that certain oil mills have entered into unlawful combines to put the independent and cooperative gins out of business by cutting ginning prices, Perry Roberts, president said. Gins operated by oil mill companies are cutting the ginning prices so low that the revenue will not take care of the operating expenses, he said.

Roberts said one gin in Crosbyton had cut its ginning price to 20 cents per 100 pounds. Directors of the cooperative gin in addition to Roberts are: I. V. Freeman, C. I. Seiber, J. R. Holman, W. K. Davis and G. T. Heath.

PARNELL PLANNING TO CALL CONFERENCE OF EXECUTIVES

(By The Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 15—Governor Harvey Parnell said last night he would take steps soon to bring about a southwide conference to seek an agreement on a uniform cotton acreage reduction law, as proposed in a concurrent resolution adopted by the Arkansas legislature last week.

Name Committees

Under the resolution each governor would be asked to name a committee of five members of the legislature to attend the conference, and the respective legislatures would be "morally obligated," to enact any plan upon which a majority attending the conference agreed.

Governor Parnell said the plan adopted at a conference at New Orleans yesterday for keeping 7,000,000 bales off the market at least a year will "undoubtedly help the market."

"However," he said, "the cotton states will have to get together on a uniform acreage reduction law to give it any lasting effect in solving the price problem."

NAPOLEON SUFFERED FROM EPILEPSY

New York, N. Y. Leading scientists have for some time tried to discover the causes of Epilepsy. During the war a new treatment was used on thousands of sufferers with remarkable results. An interesting booklet describing this new treatment for Epilepsy will be sent to any reader who writes the Educational Division, 50 Fifth Avenue, New York City, Dept. 885. It tells how attacks of fits can be quickly stopped without taking harmful habit forming drugs. This terrible affliction, it seems, has at last been conquered.

Complete ventilation of airplane cabins is being provided by slip stream suction.

Sister Airship Of Akron To Be Spared

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—The knife which is slashing the navy's budget has spared the proposed sister ship of the Akron, queen of the world's dirigibles.

Provided the Akron's official tests, which neared completion yesterday with a ten-hour speed cruise over Ohio, meet the present expectations of the department, the navy plans to ask funds for building another ship.

Secretary Adams said today the proposed dirigible would not be among the items cut from the $401,000,000 budgetary estimates for 1933. President Hoover has set $340,000,000 as the amount he desires the navy to have.

The U. S. Forest Service is employing airplanes to guard Michigan forests against danger of fire. Two planes now on duty patrol the four national forests of the state.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
