Labor Day Holiday Not To Be Observed By Local Merchants

Page I

Monday, September 2 is Labor Day, and although Muleshoe merchants will not observe the holiday, the following offices will be closed all day:

Both the First National and Muleshoe State Banks, the Bailey County Courthouse, the Muleshoe postoffice, and the offices of the federal government.

Schools will begin Monday, so the holiday will obviously not be observed by school personnel and students. And since it's Dollar Day, merchants are not looking for a holiday.

Western Wrecking Destroyed In Fire At Noon Tuesday

Western Wrecking company building, on the Clovis highway and several cars, were destroyed by fire about noon Tuesday.

Officials said the fire started when an employee left a weed patch where he was burning weeds. The flames got out of control, and firemen were unable to save the building or its contents.

Billowing black smoke could be seen for miles from the fire, and amid the crackling of the flames could be heard the muffled explosion of gasoline tanks and the wails of auto horns as short circuits caused them to blow until heat melted the wiring.

Several vehicles were pulled to safety by bystanders.

Dr. J. R. Johnson Guest Speaker At Annual Soil Tour

Johnson's talk will come at the conclusion of the barbecue luncheon held at the end of the tour. Location for the barbecue and stops on the tour will be set this afternoon (Thursday) by members of the board of supervisors.

The Muleshoe State and First National Banks will sponsor the barbecue, which will be served by members of the Muleshoe Rotary Club.

City Budget Approved; Tax Rate Is Set At $1.10

The Muleshoe City Council met Wednesday afternoon and approved the city budget, and set the tax rate on current taxes at $1.10 per $100 valuation. The ten cent increase in the tax rate was set to take care of the recent bond issue passed to provide water and sewer extensions in town, and to retire other bonded indebtedness. Members of the Council pointed out that the ten cent increase is less than was originally thought probable at the time of the bond election. At that time, the Council thought an increase as high as 25 cents might be necessary.

Total disbursements for the year, according to the budget adopted Wednesday amounted to $134,654.34, from revenue from taxes based on $5,665,510.00 valuation. The budget is set up on an estimated 95 percent return.

In other action, the Council voted to purchase 1200 feet of two inch fire hose, and 200 feet of 1½ inch hose, to replace faulty hoses now used by the fire department.

Bennett Company of Clovis was authorized to move the two large water storage tanks, recently given the city by Santa Fe Railway Co. The cost to the city will be $3,000, plus incidental fees for covering the tanks, etc.

Copies of the budget may be examined at City Hall.

'Too Early To Tell' How Mules Are Shaping Up In Early Practice Sessions

By Billy Ellis

After three days of working out — actually just two and one-half because of rain late Wednesday, Coach Wayne Mantooth says it's "too early to tell" how the Muleshoe Mules for 1957 are shaping up. The flu bug has hit some members of the squad, but aside from delaying their getting in shape was not expected to hamper the teams chances when it opens the season Sept. 6 at Clovis.

Only a few positions are "nailed down" at this time. On the line, senior guards Royce and Doyce Turner, both lettermen, seem to have their positions pretty well clinched. In the backfield, fullback Bill Black and quarterback Dick Johnson, seniors going after their third letters, will be hard to beat out as starters.

Otherwise, the Mule coaches agreed that it was a dogfight for the starting post at the other positions, although in some cases it is just a question of 'which position the boys will play."

BULLETIN

Voters in the Lazbuddie Independent School District went to the polls Wednesday and voted 98-35 in favor of increasing school taxes from $1.50 per $100 to $1.65.

The Wednesday election marked the second such held in the Lazbuddie community in recent weeks; the first one failing to carry.

The tax increase is allowable through the invocation of public law 116, which grants school districts the right to increase their tax rate.

The debt last year was $16,890.-88, primarily for the construction of four new teacherages, sealing the gymnasium and building a new agriculture building.

The school tax roll was $40,-552.75. Collections amounted to $41,012.15, of both current and delinquent taxes, with delinquent taxes for all prior years amounting to only $2072.64.

The school has added a new science laboratory, new window shades and about $700 worth of new library books, all this summer. All playground equipment has been repaired and painted.

Within the next few years, several additions are planned for the curriculum, including shorthand, physics, chemistry and trigonometry.

The greatest need of the school at present is for health records and a visiting doctor or nurse. A new lunch room is also planned.

Local Couples Roll 10,000 Miles On Canada And Alaska Sightseeing Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Reagan Looney, of Friona, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dunn, of Muleshoe, are back home after a trip to Canada and Alaska that put 9,998 miles on their speedometers.

They camped out and cooked most meals outside, all except five; and they spent a night in a motor inn at Walsenberg, Colo., because it was raining.

They went from here to Yellowstone National Park, through Glacier National Park and into Alberta, Canada. After admiring Calgary and Edmonton, they struck out for Dawson Creek, some 1600 miles from the Canadian border. There they got on the Alcan highway and turned their vehicles toward Fairbanks, Alaska, 1523 miles away.

Make Side Trips

They made several side trips to points of interest, including a visit to Haines, Alaska, and its Port Chinook, the fishing place; to Valdez, where glaciers were "close enough to touch", and watched the unloading of the huge river barges.

In Fairbanks they visited the Harold Freeman family, former Muleshoe residents; they saw Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Disch, of the Church of Christ, she is the daughter of Mrs. Joe Jarman; and saw another Muleshoe boy, Leroy Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Thomas. Leroy is employed by a large firm that develops farming lands.

The local quartet went through the widely known new farming area at Palmer. Alfalfa looked good and theres lots of dairying; they plant short season crops like carrots, cabbage, tunips, etc; and nearly every farm has a hothouse for growing tomatoes.

Everywhere they went the mountains kept in step and they never wearied of looking and snapping pictures. Flowers were beautiful everywhere. And mosquitoes, they said, are worse than reported.

On the way back they toured Frazier River Canyon, which impressed them with its spectacular beauty. The local folks were gone five weeks. They were amazed that it takes Harold Freeman's family a month to get their copy of The Muleshoe Journal.

And speaking of papers: Mrs. Dunn brought The Journal a copy of The Anchorage Daily News for August 6; and a copy of The Whitehorse Star, Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, for Thursday, August 8.

The latter is a sprightly 7-column 12 page weekly, very similar to those printed in hundreds of Teas towns. Whitehorse is the capital of Yukon territory, but there are only a few thousand people in the big province.

Anchorage is the largest city in Alaska its 8-column 12-page Tuesday paper would compare well with the Lubbock, Amarillo, or San Angelo papers in typography, printing, make - up, news, and advertising content.

CANNING NOT A LOST ART

Very often we hear someone say, "People don't can food any more, they freeze it," but you would not have this impression if you could have been at a meeting which was held in Plainview Tuesday for the purpose of training women to judge canned foods. Mrs. Sylvan Robinson and Mrs. W. R. Bowers and I attended the meeting which was conducted by Miss Marie Tribble, Extension Service Specialist in Foods and Nutrition.

Score cards were used and the women scored canned beans, blackeyed peas, tomatoes, corn, squash, beets, peaches, plums, tomato juice, apples, pickles and jelly in the canned foods division.

Baked foods were also judged and these included cakes with fat which included plain butter cake and chiffon cake, sponge cakes which included true sponge and angel cake, cookies, drop cookies, corn bread and biscuits.

The purpose of judging foods at a fair or a food show is not, principally, for honor or prizes but for helping the women to learn to improve the products that they prepare. A high quality product will be enjoyed whereas a poor product may be fed to the garbage can. Food waste is money waste. Lets work for high quality foods that will be enjoyed by the family.

We will be looking forward to a time when Mrs. Robison and Mrs. Bowers will help women in Bailey county to know some of the fine points of scoring foods.

Home demonstration agents and club women from Hale, Lamb, Lubbock, and Swisher counties also participated in the judging of the food.

ITS PICKLE TIME

Two important points in making good pickles are:

Use plain salt. Bag salt or dairy salt will give best results. Table salt has a chemical content that prevents lumping.

Use the best quality of vinegar that you can get. 5% acetic acid or 50 grain is required to make good pickles. Read the label to see what you are buying.

Other points of pickle making can be found in the extension bulletin, "Pickles and Relishes". Call, write or stop by the home demonstration agent's office and ask for a copy.

Here is a bread and butter pickle recipe that I have recently used and like very much. If you do not care for the recipes containing tumeric you will probably enjoy this one:

12 cucumbers.
1½ quarts sliced onions.
2 tsp. salt.
1 quart vinegar.
4 cups sugar.
1 tsp. ground nut meg.
4 — 1 inch sticks cinnamon.
1 pod red pepper or ½ teaspoon cayenne.

Slice cucumbers and onions thin. Add salt and let stand one hour. Drain well and add the other ingredients. Bring to a boil and boil until the pickles glisten (about 30-40 minutes). Seal in sterilized jars.

THIS IS THE EDSEL, Ford Motor Company's newest entry in the medium price car field, available in 18 models in four series—Ranger, Pacer, Corsair and Citation. The entire line will go on display in all Edsel dealerships Sept. 4th. Shown is the Pacer four-door hardtop. Unorthodox Methods Paying For Joe Weeks Farming In Lake Section

"You're the only one I know who is crazy enough to try it", Buck Moss told Joe Weeks, when Weeks leased the lake bottom west of town early this spring.

Now Joe feels he was crazy like a fox, as he surveys one of the most prolific cotton and milo fields he has ever grown in 37 years of cotton farming. Two hundred acres flourish with cotton, milo, and vegetables, and so far, flooding has been no problem.

The lake is situated right at the western edge of town, and for many years was either flooded or growing in wild grasses when it was part of the old ranch land.

But now two irrigation wells have been put down and a fine crop is growing there. Weeks has 12 acres of cucumbers which he plowed under last week when the price went down; 25 acres of Rutgers tomatoes, five acres of corn, three acres of okra, four acres of Lankart cotton and the rest in milo.

"I'm shooting for better than two bales to the acre", Weeks said late last week when interviewed. And to even the most unpracticed eye, it appears certain he will attain his goal.

10 Inch Rows

Planting this cotton in double rows, 10 inches apart as an experiment on part of the cotton land, has a good chance to more than double the production on the single, check rows. Weeks set has planter boxes on five inch offsets and then turned around and came back down the same guide furrow to get the inch rows. It's an unusual method, but unless something disastrous happens, it will pay off for him.

Tomatoes

The tomatoes too are showing signs of record production. Almost any vine picked at random will have from six to 12 tomatoes clustered on nearly every limb. Joe plans to sell the tomatoes to individuals rather than commercially, since they are a variety ideal for home canning and eating.

He had fine production from his cukes also, but labor problems and deflating selling prices caused him to abandon the field and plow under the vines.

The land was broken out for the first time early this year. A cat tractor was used to break out the sod to a depth of 12 inches. But when the plow turned up huge slabs of soil, Weeks had to go back in with the cat and drag a tandem disc and harrow over the lumpy ground.

Recharge Well

When asked about flooding Weeks replied that he had an idea to take care of that eventually when it happens. He plans to put in a recharge well as soon as he locates the low point on the land.

His recharge well will be unique also, in that it will be relatively inexpensive. He plans to drill a regular irrigation well, case it with perforated casing all around and then install a system of progressively finer filters in an area around the well to take up the recharge water and prevent silting.

Cotton Insect Report

Beneficial rains fell in the southern part of the area during the past week. Growth and fruiting of cotton has continued at a satisfactory rate in most fields. Although some shedding of forms occurred in many plantings, such shed was generally not due to insect damage. Actually, except for leafworms, reports indicate little increase in insect infestations on cotton.

Small leafworms and heavy egg populations were present in many fields in Dawson, Howard, Mitchell, Scurry, and Terry counties. Some cotton in a number of other counties had sufficient infestations to require control. Cotton should be checked frequently for the small worms so control may be effected before serious ragging of leaves has occurred.

Bollworms were reported in medium infestations in Collingsworth, Dawson, Garza, Lynn, and Scurry counties. Infestations were generally light in most other localities.

While a considerable acreage has been treated for control of the worms, most infestations were not heavy. Since cotton is in a very attractive stage of growth, the crop should be checked frequently for appearance of eggs and small worms.

Cabbage loopers were present in light infestations on cotton in many fields. In some plantings a majority of looper populations have been killed by disease.

Lygus stink bugs, spider mites, aphids, and garden webworms were reported on cotton in occassional fields. In most cases infestations were not heavy.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

ANNUAL TOUR PLANNED

September 10 is the date set by your board at its regular meeting in July for the Annual Field Tour sponsored by the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District. This will be an all-day activity with barbecue lunch, speaking, and a tour on the ground conservation practices. Dr. J. R. Johnson of the Amarillo Experiment Station is to be the principal speaker. Chairman Sherman Inman urges everyone to be sure to attend. This is your tour. Circle that date on your calendar so that you can remember to spend this day with your neighbors. Business leaders of Muleshoe and agriculture workers cooperate to make this tour a joint enterprise which reflects their mutual interest in soil and water conservation.

What Others Are Doing

F. R. Friend, south of the sandhills, is planting about 300 acres of rye and vetch. This is the second year he has planted this cover crop and has increased his acreage this year to include nearly all of his farm. Last year, his rye and vetch reached the height of about six feet, completely protecting the land from erosion. Hail in June destroyed most of the crop that he planned to harvest for this year's planting seed. Also cotton planted on vetch and rye land was completely destroyed by hail. Next year, however, the soil - improving benefits should be realized from cotton yields following two years of rye and vetch.

Others planting, or planning to plant, cover crops are Oliver Glenn, R. L. Fields, W. T. Gibbs, and Jack Schuster. Cover crops being planted include rye, rye and vetch, Madrid clover, and Austrian winter peas. Winter legumes are profitable in a number of ways. These include: (1) the addition of organic matter and soil fertility; (2) the improvement of soil structure and plant soil moisture relationship; (3) preventing soil from having a plowsole; (4) increased production of cotton and grain sorghum from 25% to 50%; (5) prevention of soil losses from wind and water; and (6) the additional profit from some legumes which may be grazed, hayed, or seed harvested. Be sure to inoculate legumes with correct culture.

Conservation farming doesn't cost — It pays.

See you September 10!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Forbes:

Your edition of August 15 carried an aticle on the action taken by the Chamber of Commerce in recommending that the Muleshoe City Council approve the proposal before it covering rural telephone expansion and extended area service to Lazbuddie and Needmore.

In view of the time that has elapsed since the subject was first discussed at a joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and the City Council June 5, 1956, I think it appropriate to state the Company's present position on the matter.

You will recall that the request or extended area service to Lazbuddie and then to Needmore was initiated by the businessmen of Muleshoe. On June 30, the city sent the Company a letter requesting information which required considerable time to prepare. This was furnished the city early in November 1956, and to date no action has been taken. The proposal made by the Company was a package deal and covered the furnishing of extended area service to Lazbuddie and Needmore, and complete coverage of the resulting rural areas around Muleshoe. The rates requested for the new service were based on our best estimates of the cost for the entire job at cost and wage levels in effect last year. As you well know these costs have continued to rise and unless the city acts within the next few weeks, the Company will be forced to withdraw its proposal.

The statements attributed to Mr. Lancaster would seem to indicate that he is not aware that our proposal is a package offer, and that the rates we requested are for the entire new service arrangement. We do not propose to build up the rural area without EAS to Lazbuddie and Needmore. Nor do we propose to furnish ESA to those exchanges without, at the same time, furnishing complete coverage in the resulting rural area. This I have stressed in previous meetings. As to the Cooperative's reaction to the contract we offered them, I can only say that it has been acceptable to others in this State and has full endorsement of the Washington office of the REA.

I am sorry to have had to make this such a lengthy letter, but I know that you and your readers are vitally interested.

Yours very truly,

J. L. KEMPER

GASOLINE TAX REFUND DEADLINE NEAR

You barely have time to make a last-minute rush to the Internal Revenue office for that gasoline tax refund.

The first day of September is the deadline for Texas farmers to apply for refunds on gasoline used for farming between July 1, 1956, and June 30, 1957. The rebate amounts to three cents per gallon on gas used in farm operations during that period.

The opportunity for a small return is also available on gasoline purchased during the first six months of 1956. The Dallas office of the Internal Revenue Service says that two cents will be repaid on each gallon used during that period.

Texas farmers are reminded, however, that only one refund claim per farm operator will be permitted. Each claimant is cautioned to make certain that his refund request includes all eligible fuel used.

Form 2240, for filing the 1957 tax refund claim, has been mailed to each farm and ranch operator who applied for the tax refund in 1956.

Farmers who desire to claim their refunds and have not received Form 2240 can probably obtain them from their county agent or from the nearest Internal Revenue office.

The procedure for filing is simple, but just to make it easier, a bulletin has been published explaining the methods. Publication 308, "Farmer's Gas Tax Refund", is available for those who request it.

The pamphlet also explains how the new federal excise law relieves farmers from federal excise taxes on diesel and special motor fuels.

UNDERWENT SURGERY

Mrs. Gil Wollard, who underwent surgery at West Plains Hospital & Clinic here Wednesday, is reported to be recuperating satisfactorily today.

Muleshoe Mules

A major overhauling has occurred at the end and tackle positions. Moving to the wing posts are former tackles Don "Okie" Alexander, a rangy junior letterman, and big Bob Sanders, another senior seeking his third numeral.

The battle for starting tackle might be an interesting one. Seemingly with an edge are Wendell Durrett, a 205 pound senior who was ineligible last season, and junior letterman Jack Wright, who saw action as an end last year. Giving these boys a run for their money are sophomore Thurman Clark, one of three freshmen to letter in 1956, and Jack Dunham, a senior who formerly was a backfield candidate.

The center position is the only one which has no returning lettermen in the scrap. James Williams, a senior who saw mostly B-team action last fall has the edge at this point, athough he has competition from sophomore Bob Camp.

The battle for starting berths is especially encouraging pertaining to team depth. Even at the positions described as "set" there are boys capable of starting a game, which means a lot to any team.

As Coach Mantooth said after he and Coaches Taylor and Mcclure had concluded a two-hour "skull practice" at the Mule Barn last night, "If the new faces come through, we'll be all right. If not, we'll just be so-so."

Following is a list of the boys who have come out for the team, by position, including their weight, class, high school experience.

TACKLES: Wendell Durrett, 205, sr., B-team; Jack Wright, 160, jr. letterman; Thurman Clark, 165, soph., letterman; Jack Dunham, 170, sr., B-team; Don Taylor, 165, sr., B-team; Ronald Julian, 155, fr., no experience.

GUARDS: Doyce Turner, 155, sr., letterman; Royce Turner, 160, sr., letterman; Edgar Martin, 150, sr., B-team; Joe King, 150, jr., B-team; Henry King, 145, jr., B-team; Eugene Hawkins, 140 soph. B-team; Mike Barron, 130, fr., no experience.

Cargile - Menefee Vows Read In Lazbuddie Baptist Church Friday

In a double-ring candlelight ceremony Friday evening, August 23, at 7:30 in the Lazbuddie Baptist church, Miss Danny Rue Cargile, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cargile, became the bride of Kenneth Dwain Menefee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Scott Menefee, of Corpus Christi.

Rev. Bill Curry officiated before an archway of pink candles flanked by a basket of greenery and pink and white gladioli. Miss Nealy Steinbock played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Jim Gordon, who sang 'Because", "I Love You Truly", and "The Lord's Prayer".

Miss Mona Hall attended as maid of honor, and wore a pink cotton dress with a bouffant skirt and carried a bouquet of pink rose buds.

Candles were lighted by Jim Gordon and the rings were carried by Carolyn Menefee, sister of the bridegroom, on a white taffeta pillow trimmed with pink lace. Best man was Troy Shirrock from Muleshoe, and ushers were Ted Treider, cousin of the groom, and Joe Cox.

A reception was held in the Baptist parsonage following the ceremony, and the serving table was laid with a pink cloth covered with a white crochet cloth. The centerpiece of pink and white roses held the attendants bouquet with a tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bridal pair. Miss Alice Gordon and Miss Maudine Barnes assisted with the serving.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Corpus Christi, where Dwain will be employed and will attend school to finish out work to complete his graduation. The bride is a 1957 graduate of Lazbuddie high school.

Pineapple Sauce Glamorizes Meat Balls

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

YOU'LL enjoy this unusual combination of little beef balls tenderized and made wonderfully different by a special pineapple sauce. It's a perfect dish, served with fluffy rice, for a summer porch party.

Pineapple Meat Balls
(Serves 8 for dinner)

Meat Balls: One-half cup milk, 1 slice bread, 1 pound hamburger, 1 pound ground round, 1 egg, 2 teaspoons salt, pepper to taste, dash garlic salt, 2 tablespoons salad oil or shortening.

Pineapple Sauce: 1 can beef bouillon, 1 No. 2 can pineapple chunks, ½ cup chopped green pepper, ¼ cup wine vinegar, ½ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons soy sauce, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon monosodium glutemate, 2 tablespoons cornstarch.

Pour milk over crumbled bread to soften. Add to combined meats, egg, 2 teaspoons salt, pepper and garlic salt. Mix well. With wet fingers form into walnut-sized balls (the meat mixture will be soft). Brown in hot oil, shaking pan frequently so balls will keep their round shape.

Meanwhile, simmer together about 15 minutes the bouillon, pineapple, and syrup, green pepper, vinegar, sugar, soy sauce, salt and monosodium glutamate. Moisten cornstarch in a little water and stir into boiling liquid. Simmer and stir until sauce is clear and thickened.

Add browned meat balls and simmer 10 to 15 minutes until flavors are blended and meat balls are heated through. Serve from chafing dish or candle warmer with fluffy hot rice or noodles.

Pineapple chunk sauce over small tenderized meat balls lends a different, enticing flavor to the summer meal. Serve with fluffy rice.

OBSERVE 50th ANNIVERSARY

MR. AND MRS. A. D. THOMAS, of 608 West Avenue G, observed their golden wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon, with more than 50 friends calling to offer congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas were married August 21 in Dallas, in 1907. He is a retired druggist and farmer. They moved to Muleshoe from near Morton where he operated a ranch for 12 years. Staff Photo

First Baptist Church Ceremony Unites Miss Goodson, Frank Ford

Miss Lena Goodson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Goodson, of Muleshoe, and Frank D. Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ford of Morton, pledged wedding vows at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the First Baptist church, with Rev. Vernon Whittenburg of Lubbock officiaing at a double-ring ceremony.

White candelabra with blue tapers lighted the altar which was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and stock and small fern plants.

Miss LaVon Copley, organist, accompanied her brother, Don, as he sang "Walk Hand In Hand", and "Because."

Given in marriage by her brother, Marion Goodson, of Amarillo, the bride wore white nylon lace and tulle over net and satin, designed with portrait neckline framed with escalloped lace, fitted bodice with yoke enhanced with lace applique and a full length skirt, with bands of lace holding a deep ruffle. Her silk illusion veil was joined to a lace cap embroidered with irridescent sequins and seed pearls, outlined with tiny ruffle of pleated tulle. She carried a white lace covered Bible topped with a bouquet of white rosebuds and stephanotis.

Mrs. C. M. Privitt of Dallas, who served her sister as matron of honor, wore blue tulle over net and taffeta, made ballerina length with full skirt of tiered ruffles. She carried a colonial bouquet of white feathered carnations on a blue tulle background.

Sue Nell Goodson, of Amarillo, the bride's niece, was junior bridesmaid. She wore blue ruffled tulle and net over taffeta and carried a bouquet identical to the honor attendants.

Miss Glenna Ford of Morton, the bridegroom's sister, lighted the candles.

Bill Ford, of Morton, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, and ushers were Jerry Adams of Muleshoe and Gene Norman of Las Cruces, N. M. Charles David Gupton, nephew of the bride, served as junior groomsman.

Reception

The reception was held in the church parlor. The bride's table was covered with white organdy and lace over blue satin. The attendants' bouquets formed the main decorations. Serving were Mrs. Connie Dale Gupton and Mrs. Frank Cox, both sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Marion Goodson, sister-in-law of the bride, of Amarillo.

After a trip to Santa Fe, N. M., the couple are at home in Muleshoe. The bride traveled in a skyway blue knit suit with brown accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds. She is employed at Pool Insurance Agency here.

Mr. Ford, graduate of Texas Tech, is principal of Richland Hills Elementary School in Muleshoe.

Social Evening Honors Husbands Of WSCS Ladies

Ladies of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church entertained with a social honoring their husbands in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Jennings Tuesday evening.

Mrs. H. Jay Wyer and Mrs. D. B. Lancaster directed games of "42" and conducted a Bible quiz. Mrs. Jennings played several piano selections, and the group sang old time religious hymns.

Attending were: Messrs. and Mesdames Clyde Bray, Dean Bishop, Mervin Wilterding, J. E. Day, H. Jay Wyer, C. R. Farrell, and Arnold Morris; Mrs. E. R. Wright, Mrs. D. B. Lancaster, Mrs. Frances Blair, Mrs. E. L. King, Mrs. N. J. Matthiesen, Mrs. F. B. Pierson, Mr. and Mrs. Jennings.

The group proved too few to consume five gallons of home made ice cream and the cake served with it. To show their appreciation of the evening's entertainment, the men sang a song backwards: they turned their backs to the group and sang "Goodnight, Ladies."

Riddle - Coffey Vows Exchanged In Double Ring Ceremony In Tahoka

Miss Martha Lou Riddle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Riddle of Tahoka, became the bride of Mr. Joe Edd Coffey, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Coffey of Muleshoe, in a double-ring ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Tahoka on August 25 at 3 p.m. Rev. J. C. Koen, pastor of the West End Baptist Church of Lubbock, officiated.

The young couple stood before an archway of greenery and white carnations and candelabra on each side.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white satin, with fitted bodice and lace Peter Pan collar with a high neckline. She wore a nylon tulle veil and carried white feather mums atop a white Bible. She was given in marriage by her father.

Billy Ellis attended the bridegroom, and also sang, "Because" and "O, Promise Me", accomanied at the organ by Mrs. Clay Bennett of Tahoka.

Reception

At a reception held in Fellowship Hall of the church, the table was decorated with the attendants' bouquet and the three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature figure of a bride and groom. The table was covered with a white linen cloth and decorated with yellow tapers.

For travel, the bride chose a two piece charcoal dress of nub weave with black accessories and white mum corsage.

Growers' Ass'n. Talked At Rotary

Buddy Myers, local farmer, and Durwood Speights, of the Extension Service discussed the current movement to encourage more vegetable growing in the area before the Rotary Club Tuesday.

Mr. Myers explained the need for the Vegetable Growers Association, which was to be organized Tuesday night. He said he believes an association such as has been proposed would help to eliminate cut-throat competition among vegetable growers; and would encourage growing of quality vegetables here.

Mr. Speights, who is Extension horticulturist, will be in the area covered by Bailey, Lamb, Hale and Floyd counties the next two and one-half months. The Service will do whatever it can to promote vegetable growing and marketing; he will act principally in an advisory capacity. Some of his time will be spent in this county.

Rotarian Jim Tollett, of Sudan was a guest of the club. Rotarian Senn Slemmons introduced the program.

Grade B Eggs Good Food Buy

Grade "B" eggs are just as high in food value as Grade "A" and "AA", according to extension foods and nutrition specialists. They cost considerably less in most food markets, especially right now when they are in plentiful supply.

Grade "A" and "AA" are a "must" only for poaching, where a high, firm yolk and thick white are essential to the appearance of the dish, and for soft cooking in the shell, where delicacy of flavor is all-important.

For all other ways to cook eggs —scrambled, baked, in omelettes, souffles, and in the countless dishes of which they are essential part (custards, puddings, ice cream, cakes, sauces) — Grade "B" eggs can be used with complete success and at lower cost.

Thrifty homemakers need not shy away from Grade "B" eggs, but rather take advantage of the plentiful supply and lower price by serving egg main dishes often and by stepping-up the richness of many other foods with added eggs.

Babson Discusses . . .

SHOPPING CENTERS

Babson Park, Mass., Aug. 29 — Merchants ask me as to the future of Shoping Centers. My answer is that each must be judged on its own possibilities according to location, surroundings, and "backbone". They also ask whether we are facing either World War III or Disarmament.

THREE RULES FOR SUCCESSFUL SHOPPING CENTERS

The first requirement is that each one must have a strong backbone or core in the form of a large, successful, and well-known department store or supermarket. The second requirement is that each Shopping Center should be able to support itself on the suburban development surrounding it. The third requirement is that it must be well financed.

Certainly the well-established downtown stores of nearby cities must wakeup. These new Shopping Centers are started and operated by active young men. Too many of the leading stores in adjoining cities are coasting on the past work and policies of a father or grandfather. These older "Main Street" stores are also now benefiting from valuable locations selected years ago. But good locations are not permanent. Every city is slowly growing in some one direction. The most valuable downtown "four corners" is gradually moving. Even good will is temporary. The founder of the business could always be found (excuse the pun) at his store, but his children and grandchildren have too often "gone out to lunch" or are at some cocktail party.

CITY AND TOWN GOVERNMENTS

Some Shopping Centers are profitable because of the jealousies, stupidities, and shortsightedness of the nearby local city governments. Different councilmen selfishly favor different sections. As a result, nothing is done until the Shopping Center draws business away from all sections.

As all merchants are dependent upon the production of the consumers of their community, so every consumer is dependent upon these merchants. These merchants are the life blood of all. If the stores are profitable, every citizen should be prosperous. If there are many vacant stores, then the entire community will suffer. I hope that no newspaper editor will say: "But this does not apply to us. We are too small." Let me reply that my comments are more important to the small communities because they can now avoid the trouble from which the larger cities are suffering, plus possible Fallout threats.

PARKING IS THE GREAT PROBLEM

The automobiles may be robbing your city of money by sending away so much money collected for cars and gasoline. These automobiles demand parking privileges. If parking space is not provided, they can block traffic, handicap productive industry, and choke every other business. Small cities and towns have not yet suffered from this economic blight; but it is on its way. Every community will some day surely suffer from lack of parking space unless a courageous and farsighted local government now grapples with the problem.

Until the parking problem is solved, merchants should be given some relief from taxation. Merchants are the veins through which the blood of the city flows from producer to consumer. When merchants are not prosperous, the community suffers from "high blood pressure". Instead of reducing taxes on vacant stores, the taxes thereon should be increased until the owner gets them rented. Every merchant should buy the building which he successfully occupies.

CAPITALIZING THE EVENINGS

The most practical way for communities to lick Shopping Centers is to capitalize the evenings and encourage stores to keep open longer. Every live merchant should keep his store fully lighted throughout the evening. Next to good newspaper advertising, bright lights are the best "fertilizer" for merchants to use.

Some readers believe that old-fashioned two-and-three-story office buildings may be demolished and our business streets may consist only of modern, one-story buildings without a basement. I dont believe this. I believe that the second and third stories will be developed into apartments for ambitious clerks who work in the stores below or nearby. These clerks will be responsible for their respective stores for the evening, perhaps up to midnight. In Europe many successful bankers and merchants themselves live over their stores and are available at any time, day or night.

TODAY'S MEDITATION

TRIUMPHANT FAITH

Read Matthew 25:1-13.

They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them. (Matthew 25:3.)

During a motor trip to New York City, we passed along a section of the road on which the shoulder just off the right side of the concrete had been dug out. This was in preparation or making the road wider.

The right lane, in which we were traveling, was just as wide as ever. Nevertheless, a growing uneasiness took possession of us as we realized that just one wheel over the edge could mean disaster. It is the extra that really counts!

Many times we are content to perform only the necessary requirements of our faith. We have no reserves of love, patience, understanding. In the story which Jesus gave us of the ten virgins, all of them had lamps, but only five had brought enough extra oil to keep their lamps burning. Only the five wise virgins were ready when the call to the marriage came at midnight.

PRAYER

Our Father, help us in our prayer life, in our thinking, and in our actions, to be ready for the unexpected. Help us that we may never be caught without a reserve of patience, understanding, and love. Help us to see the necessity of coming daily to Thy fountain of worship and drinking deeply of the eternal waters of strength. In Chist's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

God helps us to prepare even for the unforeseen.

Christian Science Services

Man's responsibility for demonstrating divine healing power will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus".

Readings from the King James Version of the Bible will include the account in Luke of Jesus' healing of Peter's mother-in-law (4:39): "And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her; and immediately she arose and minisered unto them."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (25:22-26): "Through demonstrating his control over sin and disease, the great Teacher by no means relieved others from giving the requisite proofs of their own piety. He worked for their guidance, that they might demonstrate this power as he did and understand its divine Principle."

On the Job

THIS WEEK
—In Washington
With
Clinton Davidson

This week some random notes on reporting Washington for more than 650 newspapers with millions of readers in this country and abroad.

There are more than 1,000 newspapermen regularly covering the Nation's Capitol. Washington is, without doubt, the most thoroughly and accurately reported city in the world.

It is one of the few capitals in the world that has a completely free press. A newsman can ask any question he likes, even of the President, and expect to get an answer.

Sometimes the answer, of course, is that "it is none of your business," but that type of official is rare and newsmen have developed ways of persuading them to be more cooperative.

News always is a surplus commodity in Washington. Some of it is important, but much of it is trivial. A good newsman learns to distinguish quickly between the two.

The Federal government employs more than 3,000 publicity experts. They write and print enough releases each day to fill two freight cars.

Take the Agriculture Department for example: The 120 publicity employees are so busy publicizing the Department that the releases each day would fill a good-size truck.

Government news releases supply copy for only a small part of the more than a million words a day sent out from Washington in news stories and columns. A good newsman goes searching for his facts.

Publicity men can be helpful, but after all they work for the government and their job is to get out stories favorable to their agency or boss, and to prevent, if they can, unfavorable stories.

Newsmen are interested in the facts—not whether they are favorable or unfavorable. This results in a constant battle between newsmen and some agencies and officials who resort to labeling legitimate news as "secret" or "confidential."

This often gets to the point of absurdity. Timid officials resort to such labels when they are in doubt, just to be on the safe side. Where there is legitimate reason for secrecy, such as national security, newsmen respect the label.

Many of the best stories out of Washington are "news leaks." Someone inside an agency will whisper a story to a newsman because he doesn't like his boss and wants to get him into trouble, or for some other reason.

A good newsman checks such stories and, if they are true and are legitimate news, he uses them. Usually the offended official starts tearing the place apart, trying to find out who "leaked" the story.

There are two important rules no good newsman ever breaks: Never violate a confidence, and always protect your source of information. Anyone who breaks those rules soon finds he has no news source and must rely entirely on government releases.

"Few of us get dizzy by doing too many good turns!"

THE horses have an infallible system for keeping a friend of ours broke.

Sandhills Philosopher Finds He's Up . . . .
Alongside The Experts In Fighting Against Inflation

Editor's note The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is back on the topic of inflation, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editar:

Like a lot of other people, I have been giving considerable thought lately to the problem of inflation, which is not the most exciting topic to think about but it beats plowing.

According to the economic index and my grocery bill, the cost of living has been going up a little every month for the last 18 months, and every time it goes up, it means a general increase in prices and wages, which in turn sends the cost of living up a little more, and if it keeps it up anybody can see it'll get completely out of hand.

Consequently, I was pleased to read in an article in a newspaper yesterday afternoon which I had been using to put on my tractor seat while I went to get a drink of water to shade it from the sun, anybody knows what happens to a tractor seat when it's left in the sun fifteen or twenty minutes in August, and when a puff of wind blew this paper off and left the seat too hot to sit on, there wasn't anything else for me to do but take the paper to the shade of a tree and read, and consequently as I started to say, I was pleased to read that some of the best minds in the country are working on the problem of inflation.

According to Gardner C. Means, one of the top economists in the country, inflation is caused by "administered prices", by which he means prices aren't allowed to follow the law of supply and demand, people just set a price they figure they ought to get or can get, and by a quirk of human nature, the price is always up, not down.

Therefore, he says what we ought to do is stop raising prices and wages for one year, while we study the problem of mounting inflation.

I think this is a good idea and I am pleased to know that one of the nation's top economists has finally caught up with us farmers.

As you know, me and the rest of the farmers of this nation haven't raised prices in the last 12 months. I will go even further. We haven't raised em in the last 5 years. I'll pay my subscription to The Muleshoe Journal five years in advance if anybody will point out to me any farmer or rancher in Bailey county who has raised the price of anything he sells in the last five years. Personally, the last time I raised the price of anything was the time I raised the price of a steer in 1949. I priced it at what I figured I ought to get and bowed my neck andheld out. The steer died of old age.

So, if American business and American labor will follow the pattern set by us farmers and flat refuse to raise prices for one year, we'll give this new idea a complete test. It sure is lonesome testing it all by ourselves.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Washington News Letter

In the closing days of the session, one important fact is being overlooked. It is that Congress has succeeded in the economy drive — succeeded to the tune of at least $5,500,000,000.

The President opened the year by presenting Congress with the largest peacetime budget in history — $71,800,000,000. The country was staggered. Eyes turned towards Congress to see what would happen.

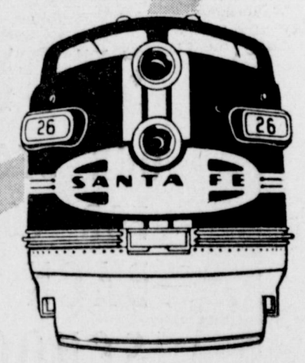

Part of the budget couldn't be touched. It consisted of good faith obligations of the United States — interest on the public debt; veterans pensions; fixed charges. But the rest was examined carefully and thoroughly. Now, with all but three of the appropriation bills acted upon, it is apparent that the savings will amount to at least $5,500,000 — 9 percent of the total outside of the fixed charges

At the time this is written, we are still considering the appropriation for mutual security. The President originally asked for $4,400,000,000. The people protested and President Eisenhower agreed to withdraw $500,000,000 of the request. Congress doubled the savings and the authorization figure now stands at about $3,386,000,000 Further saving is in order and will be made.

The House has voted a Mutual Security appropriation of $2,524,760,000. This is $1,875,240,000 below the original budget request. The Senate must still consider the appropriation, but it is clear that the final result will be at least $5,500,000,000 in savings and probably much more.

Simple Device May Tell Farmers When It's Time To Water

Farmers may someday tell when their crops need irrigating by using a simple electrical device tested recently by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It measures moisture stress—an indicator of a plant's moisture needs.

For a rapid reading of a plant's water requirements, two small prongs of the device are stuck into the stem of the plant. The prongs are two stainless steel electrodes connected to an ohmeter which measures the electrical resistance in the plant. The lumber industry uses a similar instrument to measure moisture in wood.

In experiments with cotton plants, the researchers found that electrical resistance went down as moisture amounts up. Within four hours after irigation, a sharp drop in resistance was observed on the ohmeter.

The experimenters believe that the increase in electrical resistance with increasing moisture stress is the result of the drying out of the solid framework, or cell walls, of the plant. This creates in the woody tissues of the plant either longer conducting paths between electrodes, or decreases gaps in conducting paths—readily indicated by the ohmeter.

The method has promise as a tool to help the average farmer determine when to irrigate, according to scientists of USDA's Agricultural Research Service who are making the studies. They point out that research is continuing, aimed at making the method easy to use by any farmer who irrigates.

Turkeys and Pears Top Foods List For Month of Sept.

Turkeys will be the big food value in meat departments for a third successive month,, the Agricultural Marketing Service reports, in announcing its September plentiful foods list. Supplies are ample and prices are expected to remain low.

Bartlett pears are a co-feature on the list, as a larger than average crop is expected. Canned pears will also be plentiful.

Other September plentiful listings suitable for main dish family meals will include broilers and fryers and fresh and frozen fish. These plentifuls are the result of high broiler and fryer production and the good catches following the height of the fishing season.

Milk, with a back to school emphasis on good nutrition, is a September plentiful. Vegetable fats and oils, dry peas and Italian prunes plums round out the listings.

Dove Season To Begin September 1

It's time to drag the shotgun from the corner in the closet and wipe off the lint. The 1957 shooting season will begin Sunday noon, Sept. 1, for mourning dove in the north zone, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game & Fish Commission.

The seasons extend: north zone, Sept. 1 to Oct. 17 inclusive; south zone, Oct. 1 to Nov. 17, inclusive.

The dove bag limit is 10 per day, with 10 in possession.

Shooting is allowed from noon until sunset.

Under federal and state regulations all shotguns must be plugged to three-shell capacity. Shooting from vehicles or across the highways is prohibited.

The director issued warning to shooters to make sure to make arrangements with land owners for their hunts.

Among visitors at Texas Longhorn Cavern, near Burnett, last week were Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Beene and children, of Needmore.

Boating Safety Rules Are Urged

More and more Texans are taking to the water. Swimming, fishing, and boating are among the most popular recreational activities. But with the increased participation in these activities has also come the chance for more accidents, warns Ed Cooper, extension wildlife spelialist.

But Cooper points out that boating can be much safer if certain precautions are observed.

First, advises the specialist, never overload a boat with passengers. Always find out how many passengers the boat can safely carry. Wear shoes and clothing that can be easily removed in case the boat sinks or capsizes. Have a life preserver for each passenger in the boat, especially non-swimmers.

If a motor is to be used, make certain that it is the proper size or horsepower for your particular boat. Be as cautious when steering a boat as you would steering a car. Learn and observe the rules of the water such as speed limits, yielding right of way, forbidden zones, etc. And, continues Cooper, be certain you ask an informed person about hazards in the lake or stream such as location of swift water, whirlpools, hidden obstructions, etc., before leaving shore.
less necessary and be careful of less neecssary and be careful of your balance when doing so. Always have an extra paddle in the boat in case one paddle is broken or lost.

Wear clothing which will protect you from sunburn, concludes the specialist. Sunlight is intensified by reflection off the water.

Ruidoso Plans 2 More Weekends Of Horse Racing

Many local people have been enjoying weekend trips and longer stays in Ruidoso this summer. Beginning of school will bring most of these excursions to a close.

Ruidoso Downs race track will, however, stage two more race programs, this weekend and the following weekend, according to word received from the Downs publicity staff.

Last Sunday a crowd of more than 6,000 people were in the stands for the 12-race program.

Many of these people come from the Plains and West Texas.

A goodly number of the visitors play golf in the morning at Cree Meadows Country Club, then visit the races in the afternoon.

THE JOURNAL'S NIGHT BEAT . . . . .

Reporter Finds Officers Job Means Long Hours, Many Tasks, Small Pay

It was 11:30 p.m. Saturday, when the phone rang. It was Irene Splawn, the radio dispatcher from the sheriff's office.

"Don't shoot", she said, "The sheriff said to call you and tell you there will be a raid tonight in about 10 minutes."

She hung up, and the writer hastily climbed into some comfortable clothes, and headed for the courthouse.

11:40 p.m.: Three units of the city police and the sheriff's car converged on the site of the raid. Two of the cars had been staked out near the raid location to keep the suspect from taking off prematurely.

Quietly, and with frequent checks by radio to determine the position of all units, the cars moved up on the area.

Lights came on all around the suspected bootlegger's quarters, and curious neighbors, aroused by all the lights came out to see what was going on. While several officers searched the premises, the sheriff was talking to a portly man who had been asleep on a cot outside the building.

The sheriff had a message for the man that one of his relatives was ill. The entire family was aroused by now, except for two small boys asleep in an old car parked near the man's cot. They were finally awakened and as they drove off, the officers returned to the sheriff's car to report no luck in finding either the suspect nor any of the illegal liquor. They had "shaken down" the small rooms and even climbed into the loft to flash their lights around, looking for the loot. But no luck.

A little bit disappointed, the raiding group broke up to return to regular patrol downtown and elsewhere, for it was not yet midnight, and it was Saturday, and downtown Muleshoe looked like double stamp day at high noon, there was so much activity.

While millions of moths whirled around the streetlights, the sheriff drove through the streets. A group of teen-age boys broke up their planned drag race as the patrol car moved slowly by. One of the city units reported sighting a drunk going north on Main. Our unit wheeled through several alleys, flashing a powerful spotlight. We returned to Main in time to see one of the city units pick up the drunk. The unit reported its "20", or location, and that the drunk would be taken home to sleep it off, since he was anxious only to stay out of trouble.

About this time, the sheriff and the deputy decided they would check the Mexican dance out in the country and we wheeled off.

As we were enroute to the dance, the dispatcher signed off the base radio station, closing it down until 7 a.m. Monday morning. Each mobile unit acknowledged the intelligence, and one unit added "Ten-four. Goodnight, Irene".

As we drove over the rough roads, the sheriff remarked that he was sure taxpayer Jim White would cringe at the treatment the big-engined Ford police car sometimes received. Keeping up a steady chatter was the car radio, with traffic from neighboring community police units, the highway patrol, and county officer's cars. Adding to the noise, the sheriff and deputy chatted about recent events that had occupied them both for the past 20 hours without sleep or very little rest.

The deputy had been out until 3:30 a.m., Saturday on a case in the south part of the county, and the sheriff had just returned from a fast trip to Albuquerque to bring back a car theft suspect.

We checked the dance, and while the deputy watched a suspected trouble maker inside,, the sheriff walked through the darkness outside, looking for bootleggers, possible fights, bottles, or anything else out of line.

He found plenty of quart beer bottles, but most of them had been hastily dropped, and many still gurgled as their contents emptied into the dust. But no drunks or any other trouble. We checked out quite a few cars and trucks but still no luck.

The dance broke up at 12:30, and we stood around outside, watching the crowd go home. Many spoke to the officers, and one woman urged the law men to send her sons home if they saw them in bad company, or out too late. There was a feeling of friendly familiarity, but no one got out of line, and there was no incident.

Driving back toward town, the car hit bottom on several low spots in the bumpy road. As we bounced along, the sheriff kept his searchlight busy checking for parked cars, and the deputy pleaded that we stop for a cup of coffee before he got too sleepy.

Meanwhile a group of boys had raided a melon patch south of town, and escaped after crashing into a six inch irrigation pipe. So the sheriff decided we would case a few melon patches before stopping for coffee. The deputy groaned.

It was now nearly 1 a.m. Sunday. As we drove east, we checked one melon field, and could not discover the guards, although we knew at least one man, armed with a loaded 30-30 rifle lay concealed in the milo nearby. The road had been wet down to prevent any cars from making off too speedily, and we hit two or three spots that we mentally calculated would add to Jim White's tax bill.

As we paused to return to the highway, a car came down the road, making high speed, and showing only one headlamp. We set out in pursuit, and the speedometer registered 120 mph before we overtook the car driven by a middle age man and his family. As we drew alongside, he promptly slowed to a more reasonable speed, and shortly we turned back toward home.

It was now after 1:30 a.m., and the deputy suggested we either get a watermelon or a cup of coffee, as he was still sleepy. We vetoed the idea of the melon, figuring a photo of the sheriff snitching a watermelon would not look too good in The Journal.

We checked the two-city patrol cars and when they reported all quiet, we took the deputy to his car, and the sheriff and the writer returned to the courthouse to end the patrol.

As we discussed the events of evening, we heard the deputy call one of the city patrolmen over the radio and ask him to join him for coffee.

"Well, it was pretty quiet tonight", the sheriff said, "but maybe next time The Journal rides with us we can find a little more excitement."

Yawning, and remembering the words of Boswell, we bade the sheriff goodnight and . . . so to bed.

"You wouldn't believe what that AMALIE L. P. G. Oil can save when you're burning butane or propane in your engines. Butane's a problem; common, ordinary oil thickens up till it looks like gear-grease. Dust and grit cake up. That sure is rough on engines. But no more — with AMALIE L. P. G.!" Nothing but the finest Pennsylvania crude in AMALIE L. P. G. Oil — no other crude like that on earth. And AMALIE chemists have done two great things; In refining, produced an oil that holds its "viscosity," or flowing quality, and developed additives to keep grit, dust, etc., in solution, so they filter out. That's why we say —

Give YOUR engines—and your bank balance—a break!
