Lee Roy Tidwell Tells Of Services Of The Red Cross

Dr. J. M. Harrington, chairman of the local Red Cross drive, received the following article this week from Leroy Tidwell of the Navy, who is stationed at Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania. The article is entitled "This War Will Never End," and is printed below:

Though World War II should end tomorrow, there is a battle which will not cease, which is never wholly won. In war time and in peace it will be fought, against suffering wherever it may be, against want, injury, disease, disaster, by a great civilian army of millions of Americans under the insignia of the Red Cross.

Through the Blood Donor Service it has saved lives of countless wounded men. In the hospitals it gives them special services suited to their needs.

Clubs are established both at home and overseas to provide entertainment and relaxation for the fighting men on leave, to perform for them those little helpful things which give them a sense of home. Field directors live and travel with the troops, helping them with personal problems and communicating with their home if necessary.

Food, clothing, and medical supplies are carried to Europe by the Red Cross Fleet, and reach our prisoners of war and refugees of war torn countries through the International Committee of the Red Cross in Switzerland.

Cotton Insurance Obtainable Here Until April 10th

Approximately twenty farmers met at the local AAA office Wednesday morning, March 14, to hear a discussion on cotton insurance. A. H. Jefferies, district field man was present at the session, and made a talk and local AAA administrative officer, C. E. Tarter explained cotton insurance to the group.

Dawson County farmers have until April 10 to place their 1945 crops of American Upland cotton under protection of the all-risk Federal crop insurance program according to Joe M. Peterson, chairman of the county AAA committee. Under the new insurance program, farmers will have a choice of two insurance contracts, one providing coverage up to 75 per cent of the average yield, and the other up to 50 per cent. The insurance provides coverage against crop losses from drouth, floods, hail, wind, frost, winter-kill, wildlife, hurricanes, plant disease and other hazards determined by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation to be unavoidable.

Contracts are now being written by county AAA committeemen and other authorized agents in the county, Peterson said. Contracts must be signed before the crop is planted, and at least 50 applications (or the one-third provision if it applies in the county) must be made before crop insurance becomes effective in the county.

The stage of the cotton crop's development will determine the maximum indemnity to be recovered in the event of loss, Peterson said. If a loss occurs after it's too late to replant to cotton, but prior to the first cultivation, the indemnity would be 40 per cent of the maximum insured production. The land, of course, would be released for another crop. Losses occurring after the first cultivation and the end of harvest would be indemnified to the extent of 75 per cent of maximum coverage. Indemnity for losses occurring after harvest but before delivery to the gin would be 100 per cent of the maximum coverage. Indemnities payable under the program may be used as collateral security for government-sponsored commodity loans.

Cotton crop insurance provides assured returns from the day of planting, protection against all unavoidable losses, insured returns from planting to delivery at gin, and choice of maximum coverage up to 50 per cent or 75 per cent of insurable average yield, according to officials. These protections are given if your application is made before planting or the FCIC closing date; if applications are received from at least 50 farms in the county, or one third of the farms producing insurable crops.

Insurable yields are determined from area and farm production history, and rates determined from area and farm loss experiences and factors.

Insured production varies according to the stage of the crop's development.

"Crop insurance is the only means of protecting crop investments from the innumerable hazards that go with cotton growing," Peterson explains. "It offers assured production returns from planting to delivery at the gin. It seems to me that most farmers who need returns from their cotton crops, need crop insurance."

It is further reported that if you fail to see your community committeemen about crop insurance, you may call at the local AAA office, and they will take your application for insurance.

COTTON OFFERS YOU MORE PER ACRE

Cotton has the highest value per acre of any of the five major crops which occupy 80 per cent of all cultivated land in the United States. During the 10 years, 1932-41, Cotton and Cottonseed produced an average farm value per acre of $27.97, compared with $14.79 for corn, $10.32 for wheat, $8.65 for oats, and $10.77 for all hay. And, in 1944 the return per acre from Cotton and Cottonseed averaged approximately $73—nearly three times the 1932-41 average.

Your Cotton acres are your most valuable acres—select your best land for them, and use good planting seed and other sound practices that will make them more valuable. To profit most from your balanced farming and conservation program, be sure that you have enough good land in your best "pay crop"—COTTON.

Farmers Request Cotton Harvesting Machines At Meet

T. A. Barfield, county agent, was notified that in order for Dawson County to receive cotton harvesting machinery, a request must be presented to the War Production Board at Washington, D. C., signed by farmers of this county, asking for the amount of machinery to harvest cotton that would be needed.

The county agent called a meeting for Saturday, March 10, at which all farmers of the county were invited to be present. Fifty-four farmers met with the agent, and W. R. Tillson, farmer of Terry County, was present.

A resolution was drawn up and unanimously adopted by the farmers present. The resolution reads as follows:

To the Allocation Division War Production Board Washington, D. C.

Be it resolved in open meeting of a representative group of 54 farmers of Dawson County, whose names are attached to this resolution, that this group requests an allotment of sufficient steel and other material to manufacture 500 cotton harvesting machines for use in Dawson County during the year 1945.

Be it resolved further that this group request an allotment of 3 railroad carloads of Aero-Cyanimid defoliant for use in Dawson County during the 1945 cotton harvesting season.

This action was taken after careful consideration of the prospective available labor supply for 1945 and the need for additional harvesting machinery. With this resolution, we also submit a solemn pledge that this group will do all within its power to bring in enough scrap iron to equal the amount of new material used in the manufacturing of the machines included in this request.

Signed: Joe M. Peterson, chairman resolution committee. Ben Dopson, Jack Broyles, S. C. Motley, and A. S. Riddle, members of the Resolution Committee.

Plans Complete For Council Meet

The home demonstration council will meet Saturday afternoon, March 17, at 2:30 p. m., in the home demonstration agent's office.

Mrs. Luther Peterson, council chairman, says that several important business matters will be brought before the group Saturday. Although there is some doubt as to whether the district Texas Home Demonstration Association will be held in Brownfield on April 21, as formerly planned, the council will elect delegates in order to be prepared in case the conference is held.

High Producers Are the Profitable Cows In Any Herd

The high producers are the profitable cows. This rule applies to the little herds as well as to the big ones, and has been verified in all parts of Texas. O. W. Thompson, dairy husbandman for the A. and M. College Extension Service, submits supporting facts in an analysis of the 1944 annual reports of the Harris, Hopkins and Lamar County Dairy Herd Improvement Associations.

Forty-three herds averaging 53 cows each on test for the full 12 months in the three counties produced an average per cow of 5,287 pounds of milk and 244 pounds of butterfat for the year, or more than 100 pounds in excess of the butterfat yield of the average Texas milk cow. The return above the feed cost on this basis was $108 per cow. Comparison with the overall production, however, showed that the highest yielding herd in each association brought an ever larger profit.

The average unit production in the three high herds was 7,083 pounds of milk and 346 pounds of butterfat. The average return above feed cost in this group was $186 per cow. Comparatively, the average cow in the three low producing herds gave only 3,477 pounds of milk and 162 of butterfat. The return feed cost was $46 per cow. Further comparison shows that the high herds returned $58 per unit more than the and kept that way, but digging tools should not be sharpened to too thin an edge. Dirt should be cleaned off digging tools each time they are used.

Here are some other safety pointers on use of ordinary tools: Carry cutting tools with the blade facing downward.

Never leave a hoe, rake, or fork lying or standing with the head pointing up.

Do not use any substitute for a hammer.

Never leave a scythe or sickle hanging in a tree.

Apply first aid to any cut or scratch, no matter how slight.

Along with these safety suggestions, Mrs. Claytor recommends good care of tools. Rusty spades and the like should be brightened with kerosene and steel wool or emery cloth. Tools should be sharpened

Medal Awarded Posthumously To Sgt. G. Keathely

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, Italy—Staff Sergeant George D. Keathely, Lamesa, recently was awarded the Medal of Honor, America's highest decoration, posthumously. He is honored for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at risk of life, about and beyond the call of duty, on the Fifth Army front in Italy.

Keathely, guide of the 1st Platoon of Company B, 338th Infantry Regiment, 85th "Custer" Division, continued to fight and to lead all survivors in his company for 15 minutes after he had been mortally wounded in action on the ridge of Mt. Altuzzo.

Fifty yards short of B Company's objectives, where the company had been stopped by intense fire of German mortars, automatic weapons and snipers, the Germans counter-attacked fiercely three times, suffering heavy casualties among themselves and reducing the 2nd and 3rd platoons of Company B to 20 men without an officer or non-commissioned officer to lead them.

Crawling from casualty to casualty, giving first aid to the living, Keathely collected ammunition to replenish meager supplies. He then distributed it among his active men, preparing each for the imminent fourth counterthrust.

Germans, two companies in strength, attacked from the front and both flanks at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Closing in under a heavy curtain of mortar fire, they brought into effective play a preponderance of automatic fire and potato masher hand grenades.

Fighting with feverish determination, under Keathely's leadership, the defenders repeatedly drove back the Germans with heavy casualties.

Then a potato masher exploded in front of Keathely, fatally wounding him in the stomach. Keathely immediately rose from the ground, fired and killed a German. He continued for 15 minutes to shout orders and to fire his rifle effectively.

Inspired by this, his men fought with unwonted determination, holding off the enemy until friendly artillery found the range. The Germans drew off, leaving great numbers of dead and seriously wounded. Keathely died a few minutes later in the arms of Staff Sergeant Charles J. Dozier, Frost Proof, Florida.

"Please write my wife a letter," he told Dozier, "and tell her I love her and I did everything I could for her and my country."

"So long, Dozier. Give 'em hell for me. In God's name."

"Had it not been for his indomitable courage and incomparable heroism," the official citation stated, "the remnants of three rifle platoons of Company B might well have been annihilated by the overwhelming enemy attacking force. His actions reflect only the highest credit upon himself and the military service."

Keathely is the second member of the 338th Regiment to receive the Medal of Honor. The same honor was earlier accorded to 1st Lt. Orville E. Block Streeter, North Dakota.

The sergeant's widow, Mrs. Geneva Keathely, lives at 502 Miller Street, Lamesa.

Education For Fascism Is Now Italian Headache

AP Newsfeatures
ROME—Fascists ideas implanted in Italian textbooks had little effect on children, but exaggerated respect for authority and abuse of authority practiced by Fascists have become serious school problems. Allied educational experts have learned after more than a year in the country.

More than a million Italian textbooks have been stripped of Fascist propaganda and five million Italian children are studying, often in barns, churches and theaters because of wartime destruction and military use of schoolhouses. But more than textbook revision will be needed to eliminate undemocratic attitudes toward constituted authority, Allied officials say.

To this end, Italian teachers have been subjected to close scrutiny. However, it has been found that most teachers are not career Fascists and a large majority of them have been returned to their classrooms.

This is not the case where superintendents and some of the university professors are concerned. Ninety per cent of the superintendents were dismissed. Of the school principals, 20 to 30 per cent lost their jobs.

The professors provide a more difficult problem. They have the right of appeal on several levels and dismissal takes time even when their Fascist tendencies are apparent. Editing of the textbooks was a difficult job because Fascism was included even in arithmetic problems and in prayers. Current history texts end with World War I since Maj. Carleton Washburn, chief of the Allied commissions' educational section, believes no one can write an objective history of the period since that time. In the same way, political science faculties in all universities have been suspended and the textbooks confiscated.

D. Downing Will Speak At Ladies Night Program

An especially interesting program has been planned for the observance of Ladies night by the Lions Club, according to an announcement from club officials. Ladies night is to be held Thursday evening, March 22, at the Plaza Hotel at 8 p. m.

Delbert Downing has been secured for the main speaker for the occasion. Downing, a former grocery store manager and now manager of a tire and accessory store in Midland, is reported to be an excellent speaker, and is widely sought after as an after dinner speaker.

At one time he served as field director for the American Red Cross in Puerto Rico and Guinat. He received his medical discharge in September of 1944.

In addition to Downing's address, a musical program will be presented. Mrs. Don Emory and Mr. and Mrs. Randolph East are making plans for the musical portion of the program.

All Lions are urged to be present for the occasion and to bring their wives. Ladies night is held every 5th Thursday of a month. The regular Lions Club meeting which was slated to be held at noon Thursday will be dispensed with this time, in order that ladies night can be observed that night.

Sgt. and Mrs. Oliver Gates of Midland spent Sunday here visiting with friends and relatives.

In the county 400 baby chicks and 30 pounds of baby chick feed.

The chickens to be given to 4-H club members will be one of the following breeds: Hybrids, White Rocks, or New Hamps. They will be given to the boys and girls of the local clubs free of charge. Four-Hers will work with the chickens under the supervision of the agents, and when they are 3 months of age, will return 16 chickens to Henningsen Lamesa, Inc.

Each boy or girl accepting the chickens must promise to show 4 of their flock, including 3 females and 1 male at a fall poultry show to be held in Lamesa.

Henningsen Lamesa, Inc., will present various prizes at the Fall show. First, second and third place prizes will be given according to the following divisions in the show: highest number of chickens raised from the flock of one hundred; most pounds of chicken raised; largest male bird and largest female bird raised, and best breed exhibited out of all divisions of the birds. There are to be seven divisions to the show and twenty-one prizes.

These divisions are subject to change, and demonstrators will be notified as to further plans.

Barfield, the county agent, states that this is the first time in the history of the 4-H Clubs in Texas, that girls have been eligible for club prizes.

Plans were formulated with Mr. Holladay, head of the Poultry Department at Henningsen Lamesa, Inc., and others of that firm and were approved by the policy committee of A. & M. College.

Rev. D. Walter Of China To Speak At Lamesa Church

The Rev. Deane C. Walter of Tsining, China, will speak at the Presbyterian Church in this city Sunday morning, March 18, at 11 a. m., and the public is cordially invited to hear him.

He will be in this city for three days, during which time he will direct a school of missions at the local church, which will include classes for men, women, young people, junior boys and girls. The classes will begin Sunday evening at 8:30 p. m., and continue through Monday and Tuesday evenings. Information about China, Southeast Asia, and islands of the South Pacific will be given by Rev. Walter at the classes, and all members of the church are urged to attend.

Rev. Walter will also be the guest speaker at a fellowship supper planned for Monday evening. The supper will be served at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Walter has led an interesting life, having gone to China in 1926, when that country was suffering from civil war. He was to see the devastation of flood and famine as well, and to live through enemy invasion. Living at Tsining in Shan-Province, he worked as an evangelist throughout the vast country field that extends south into Kiangsu Province and west to the borders of Honan Province.

Traveling, usually by bicycle, into the country districts, he visited unorganized groups of Christians. Sometimes they had a leader — a Chinese man or woman who had been taught in a mission Bible school and returned to his own district to hand on what he had learned. Rev. Walter helped solve their problems, encouraged and made suggestions, examined those who wanted to be baptized, and held special services, acting as pastor to hundreds of such groups. The field was so large that he could visit each center only about twice a year. In addition he taught rural Bible classes, staying from three days to a week at each place. In the mornings he would hold meeting or classes for the Christians, while in the afternoons their heathen neighbors were visited. Then in the evening there would be a large popular meeting with preaching. For a time he was an instructor in the high school at Tsining.

At various times, Rev. Walter was active in flood relief service, working with China International Famine Relief Commission. In 1935 he went to villages, many of them buried in several feet of mud after the waters went down, and investigated needs and administered aid. After 1937 there were war refugees to help in hospital and camp. Before he left China Rev. Walter had seen the growing self-reliance of many little church groups to the point where, should missionaries be taken away, they could work and grow by themselves.

Born in Pennsylvania, Rev. Walter is a graduate of Grove City College and Western Theological Seminary in Pittsburgh, and attended the Kennedy School of missions.

Pfc. Slough Sends Poem From His Station In France

Editor's Note: The following poem was sent in by Pfc. Henry Slough, an ambulance driver with the Medical Corps, now stationed in France.

In service for approximately 3 years, Pfc. Slough has been overseas 1 year. He is the son of W. E. Slough of Rt. C in this county, and his wife and 2 sons, Marvin and Donald, reside in Lamesa. Prior to entering the service, Pfc. Slough farmed.

AMBULANCE DRIVERS BALLAD

There's the Joe who pleads for water,
Mile after pleading mile,
With his guts shot out by shrapnel,
All you give him is a smile.

Then the boy right down below him,
With an amputated leg,
Says his feet are numb and cold,
It's hell to hear him beg.

The boy below my buddy,
Begs to have a smoke,
My buddy holds it for him,
All his arms and legs are broke.

Down below the other Joe,
Is calling for his dad,
You drive a little faster,
That kid is bleeding bad.

Yes, it seems to be a thankless job,
Devoid of thrills and praise,
But it pays in dividends,
A dozen different ways.

It's swell to walk into a ward,
And have a boy say "hello."
That single word is praise enough,
You've saved another Joe.

For there's a boy you counted gone,
A bullet in his head,
You know your driving got him through,
He's sitting up in bed.

Let 'em save their decorations,
Our job is saving lives,
We want the praise that really counts,
From thoughtful moms and wives.

For those lives are dedicated
Those boys who drove in France,
Who save sons for wives and mother,
In a G. I. ambulance.

C. Glick Explains Varied Services Of The Red Cross

"Personal Experiences in Red Cross Service Overseas" was the theme of an address given by Curtis M. Glick, former assistant field director in Australia and the Southwest Pacific at the Methodist Church in this city on Monday evening, March 5.
A Presbyterian minister, Glick joined the Red Cross staff after failure to meet the age qualifications in the Army Chaplain Corps. He served in an Army Camp, operated a recreation hall at the New Castle Naval Base, and served on a furlough ship running between the Southwest Pacific Islands and Australia.

"Wherever our American forces are stationed around the world, the Red Cross is serving," said Glick in his Monday address. "Every worker is an important link in this chain of military and welfare service that encircles the earth. Without your contributions of money and other material supplies we, Red Cross workers across the seas would have been unable to have served effectively."

"These Red Cross materials are actually reaching the fighting men in every war theatre." As an example, Glick told of meeting an Australian ship which was landing survivors from a torpedoed American Liberty ship.

"The men were cold," he said. "All they had been able to salvage was just the few clothes on their back. We gave each man a box of comfort materials and gave each a sweater."

The Red Cross provided beds for the men at their big service clubs until they could be taken care of otherwise.

Stationed on a Furlough Ship running between Australia and the Islands, Glick had more opportunity to see Red Cross action.
"The boys came daily to get help and supplies," he reported. "Books and magazines provided on the ship by the Red Cross were extremely popular." Books meant so much to the boys," he asserted.

He also published a daily mimeographed newspaper.

On the trip from New Guinea to Australia, Glick safely kept the money of furlough bound soldiers in the Red Cross safe. "I don't know how much I took in," he said, "but they stored away thousands of pounds. Money thus deposited was safe not only from possible theft but from dice games en route," he pointed out. The money was returned to the soldiers when the boat docked, assuring those who took advantage of the service some spending money when they reached Australia.

"In the leave areas of Australia, there were tremendous Red Cross Service Clubs," he continued. "We took over the best places obtainable to carry on the work. One such club formerly was a hotel and one a country club surrounded by a beautiful golf course."

"The Clubs were beautifully decorated and the atmosphere was somewhat American," Glick said. "It gave the boys a little bit of home and meant a great deal to them. It was like coming out of the darkness and stepping suddenly into the light."

In the combat zones of New Guinea and of the other Islands, the Red Cross built huts and provided reading rooms and game rooms for the soldiers.

"The channing system in Red Cross is most unique," reported Glick. "A boy in some far away out post in the jungles can contact his home in America for, news of any emergency, or if a home in the United States wishes to convey a message to the serviceman overseas, the same channel is followed."

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heath spent several days this past week in Fort Worth visiting with friends and attending to business.

Miss Aubrey Faye Ford and J. A. Havens of Tahoka spent Sunday here visiting in the home of W. B. Stovall.

Before the war, tanker ships delivered about 1,250,000 barrels of oil daily to eastern seaboard points.

Scott's Cleaners & Laundry Will Store Furs In Cold Storage Vault

One of the most complete businesses of its type is Scott's Cleaners & Laundry, which is owned by Leonard Scott of this city and which offers a variety of services. In addition to their regular cleaning and pressing of clothes, Scott's Cleaners & Laundry offers storage for furs and other articles. The equipment in their shop includes a cold storage vault which is kept at a 40 degree temperature the year round. The vault is 10 feet long, 8 feet high, and 6 feet wide. It is large enough to accommodate 400 hanging garments, and a limited number of blankets, quilts, and comforters.

Within the next two months you will want to have your furs, blankets, comforters and quilts cleaned and stored away in Scott's cold storage vault. They use the latest approved methods and you will find that by storing your garments, they will keep their original luster and beauty. Garments which are put in the vault are sealed in a bag, which preserves their life and beauty.

One service that you will be interested in is the fact that Scott's Cleaners & Laundry will store clothes for the boys in military service. These are placed in moth proof sealed bags, and will be kept for you year after year in the cold storage vault.

Placing your clothes in cold storage is not expensive, as it only costs $2.50 to store a bundle of clothing valued at $80.00.

The cleaning and blocking of mens hats is another service offered at the firm. The business also handles custom tailored suits for National Tailors. Scott's Cleaners & Laundry has been connected with the National Tailors company for 10 years.

Reflecting the satisfactory results they have had with their custom tailored suits is the fact that as many as 350 mens and women suits have been ordered there in one season until the war opened and quotas were cut.

Another division of the business is Above are pictured the firms owned by Leonard Scott, which includes Scott's Cleaners & Laundry and Scott's Cash Grocery, which are located 1-2 block south of the City Hall. The cleaning shop offers a variety of services. They have a cold storage vault, will block and clean hats, do laundering and dry cleaning, as well as handle made to measure suits. In the grocery you will find a complete line of quality foods and meats.

Let Experts At The O. K. Rubber Welders Do Your Tire Recapping

Today when maximum tire service is so important it's just plain good sense to get the best recapping possible. O. K. Rubber Welders give you the best. All their recapping work is done the expert O. K. Rubber Welder way. The latest factory-approved methods and modern equipment are used. That's why you can be sure you're getting the most mileage for your recapping money when you bring them your tires.

You must make the best of the tires you have during these war time conditions. They will require frequent inspection—careful inspection by men who have the equipment and the knowledge to tell tire ailments—and how to cure them. Anything less than doing everything possible is not enough.

O. K. Rubber Welders are equipped with machinery that make a tire tell its innermost secrets. They know how to diagnose those cracks and breaks and how to repair them.

They have learned much during the emergency on how to make tires last longer—a knowledge and experience which is at your command.

Leaks must be repaired quickly. Small cracks must be vulcanized before they spread. A few hundred miles driven on a damaged tire may prove a costly drive—cause the break to spread so it is beyond repair.

J. W. Elam, owner of O. K. Rubber Welders, stresses the importance of checking tires for recapping. He advises you not to run on your tires too long, because the breaker strip becomes hard against use on the road. Check your tires regularly, and if repairs are needed on the tube or tires, take them to O. K. Rubber Welders on South Dallas Street, where grade A camelback materials are used in recap work, and where the service is satisfactory.

THE Army Answers Your Personal War Problems

Your questions on allotments, insurance, legal problems or other matters as they relate to Army personnel and their dependents will be answered in this column or by letter. Write Headquarters Eighth Service Command, Dallas 2, Texas.

Q. Can a serviceman's insurance be made to more than one person and the payments divided?

A. Yes. National Service Life Insurance may include more than one beneficiary, provided they fall into these classes: husband or wife, child, parent, brother or sister.

Q. My husband is in the Army. Our baby was born four months ago and we have just filed the application for his allowance. Will the payments date from the baby's birthday or from the time the application was filed?

A. Payments will date from the first of the month in which the baby was born.

Q. I was discharged from the Army six months ago. I am working now but have a chance for a better job. Will I have to have a statement of availability?

A. Veterans of the present war are not required to secure or present statements of availability in order to change jobs.

Q. Our son was killed in action with the air corps in Germany. It is unlikely that his body will ever be recovered and returned here for burial. Would the government still give us the flag that is usually given for a serviceman's burial ceremony?

A. Yes. In cases where bodies of servicemen are not recovered following their death, their next-of-kin may request flags by writing The Quartermaster General, Washington, D. C.

Q. If a husband is in the service here or overseas, does his wife have to pay an income tax?

A. When the wife of a serviceman files a separate income tax, she must pay the tax due, regardless of where her husband is serving. When she files a joint income tax with her husband, its payment may be postponed if he is stationed overseas. Length of the postponement is until the fifteenth day of the fourth month after his return from overseas.

Sprinkling and Infant Baptism

How can one know that sprinkling for baptism was not practiced in New Testament times?

In the first place, history records that several centuries after the New Testament was written, the Pope of Rome "Legalized" sprinkling for baptism.

1. The people were baptized in Jordan (not out of it).
2. Jesus after being baptized, went up OUT of the water—the must have been in it.
3. John was baptized where there was MUCH water—(why if only a CUPFUL is sufficient?)
4. Philip and the Eunuch went DOWN INTO the water—wonder why? Do those who sprinkle today GO DOWN INTO the water?
5. Paul says, "We are BURIED with him—Planted together in the LIKENESS of his death. WHY? IN ORDER TO BE IN THE LIKENESS OF HIS RESURRECTION."

What in sprinkling portrays the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ? Nothing but a burial and a coming forth from the water can picture that. For references on above statements read the following: Matt. 3:6—Matt. 3:16—Jno. 3:23—Acts 8:38—Rom. 6:4-5.

How can one know that no infants were baptized in New Testament times?

Because every time baptism is mentioned other things are connected with it that an infant would be incapable of doing.

1. They were baptized CONFESSING their sins. Matt. 3:6. (Can a baby confess? If so, does it have sins?)
2. Repent and be baptized. (Can a baby repent?) Acts 2:38.
3. When they believed they were baptized. (Can an infant believe?) Acts 8:12.
4. After baptism there was rejoicing. Acts 8:39.
5. Some even spake and magnified God. Acts 10:46.
6. Paul had sins to be "washed away." Does an eight day old baby have sins to be washed away? Acts 16:22.
7. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved. The infant can do none of the things that are mentioned above. Babies are PURE and INNOCENT and do not need to be baptized. They are SAFE as they are. Some become a certain kind of Sectarian by virtue of (baptism by sprinkling) at such an early age in life that they could not "believe." Mk. 16:16; "repent" Acts 2:38; "confess" Matt. 10:32; "Have their sins washed away." Acts 22:18; "rejoice" Acts 8:39, nor "have their heart opened." Acts 16:14. If that was your case remember that neither SPRINKLING nor INFANT BAPTISM can be found in the NEW TESTAMENT. Why submit to a "yoke" that Christ does not ask you to wear? THE BIBLE IS RIGHT.

GLOBAL AIR EVACUATION SYSTEM SPEEDS WOUNDED YANKS HOME
 Nearly 800,000 wounded, sick and injured American servicemen have been transported by airplane from battle zones in all parts of the world in the two and a half years since air evacuation became an accepted part of the Military Medical Program, the Office of War Information says in a comprehensive report on air evacuation for our wounded serviceman abroad.

One out of five American war casualties who returned to this country last year came by plane. They totaled 43,000—a number 10 times as great as the number brought home by plane in 1943.
 Military authorities today are enthusiastic about air evacuation and term it one of the five greatest life-saving measures of modern military medicine. Without air evacuation, reported the Air Surgeon General of the Army Air Forces, "Neither sulfanilamide, plasma nor surgical skill could have availed to save the lives of the wounded."
 Not only does air evacuation provide the speediest means of removing the wounded from battle zones to rear areas, but it has proved its value logistically, the Army told OWI. The same planes that fly the wounded out of battle areas, have flown in laden with vital supplies—food, munitions or medical necessities.
 In the fighting zones it is likely that the roads are limited in number and capacity, and that rail lines are either non-existent or consist of one-track lines. By moving patients out over these surface lines, sometimes it is impossible to move supplies in. Air evacuation relieves the roads so that there is no interrup-

Australia Plays Important Role In Today's Events

Delivering his address before a group of approximately 350 here Friday night, M. P. Greenwood-Adams, Australian author and lecturer, presented many interesting facts to those attending the Rotary Institute of International Understanding.
 He pointed out that with the Southwest Pacific front line being pushed farther away from Australia, the main body of American troops who have been based in the Commonwealth for the past two years and more have been moved out. Australia, however, was not left without guests for long, for the British Pacific Fleet, is based there.
 Greenwood-Adams pointed out, that though Australia and New Zealand had built up small navies, they were dependent on the British naval power in the Far East to serve as a buffer between the Japanese and the Southwest Pacific.
 Australia, the great temperate zone base for American troops, is invaluable, he said, because when troops are fighting or working in the tropics, apart from injury and disease, it is essential that they be removed from the climate of the tropics in order to be rehabilitated. In fact, without an Australia, a South Pacific tropical campaign would be extremely difficult.
 Australia is playing a great part in feeding American troops as 83 per cent of all food consumed by American forces in that area is supplied by the commonwealth under lend-lease.
 Australia and New Zealand have already made an agreement to stand together in the discussing of postwar plans for the Southwest Pacific and it is hoped that the U. S. A. will take over the Japanese islands held under the mandate and that an agreement will be made between the powers interested in the area to operate for trade, transportation and for air and naval

SPRAY FRUIT TREES NOW
 Oil up your spray guns because the time is near to treat vines and fruit trees against damage by worms, bugs, and disease.
 Two or three applications of spray or dust may mean the difference between a good crop of fruit and one which is almost worthless, says County Agent T. A. Barfield. The first spray should be applied as soon as most of the blossoms have fallen, especially on plum and peach trees, to control worms. The spray is easy to make. Simply mix a half pound of lead arsenate with sixteen gallons of water and shoot it.
 Barfield says that in applying the spray you should try to get it on all of the young leaves and also to thoroughly coat the whole surface of the tiny peaches and plums. About ten to fourteen days after the first one give the trees a second spraying. This is to prevent early disease damage, decay of the fruit, and as a further control of worms. The second spray mixture consists of one half pound of lead arsenate, two and one half pounds of wettable sulphur, and sixteen gallons of water.
 A third and final spraying should be applied three to four weeks before the fruit ripens. Use a sprayer with enough pressure to create a fine mist which will cover the entire surface of the fruit. This will prevent rot spores from getting a foothold on any mixture, but the same amount of wettable sulphur and water as in the second spray remain.
 While you're among the trees take a last look at the trunk and framework branches for any remaining San Jose scale. If any are found, apply a mixture of one pound of dry lime sulphur in three gallons of water with a paint brush to the infested area. Don't neglect this, Barfield says, because the scale will increase so rapidly that the tree may be killed before Fall. In applying the mixture, don't let it come into contact with new foliage. The solution will injure it.

tion in the flow of needed supplies. Air evacuation has also been endorsed because of its strategic value to the Military Commander in battle. It is reported to have contributed to the success of every major land offensive involving American Forces in this war. The success of a campaign, it is said, sometimes may hinge on an army's ability to evacuate its non-effectives. In Tarawa, for instance, the retention of the wounded on the island would have hampered military operations. In New Guinea, where the only other form of evacuation was by foot or on pack animals over the Owen Stanley Mountains, all casualties were moved by air.
 The Army, Navy and Marines all use air evacuation today. The Troop Carrier Commands of the Army Air Forces transport wounded from battle zones to rear areas of safety, and the Air Transport Command flies those who are returned to this country. The Naval Air Transport Service carries out a similar program for the Navy.
 Both the army and navy maintain schools where the medical flight personnel is trained, and recently a group of 24 navy nurses was selected for the first class of the newly-established navy school for air evacuation. Alameda, California. The AAF School of Aviation Medicine is located at Randolph Field, Texas, where a new class of 10 nurses starts every three weeks. Each group is given an intensive nine weeks-course.
 Today more than 800 Army Flight Nurses are engaged in air evacuation duty—more than 100 in this country and the remainder overseas. A nurse is aboard every army plane bearing wounded or sick personnel. Often times she is the only American woman the wounded soldier sees until his return to America. Her presence in the plane and her ministrations with medicine and food are recognized by military authorities as being important factors in the first steps toward his recovery or rehabilitation.

BEES NEED BUMBERSHOOTS ?

They say that "bees never get caught in the rain." Maybe you claim you've seen different. But the changed natural light as a storm approaches is supposed to make bees get busy and fly home. Temptation Spice Cake

Made by the Betty Crocker New Method—(Use only Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" Enriched Flour)

Beat vigorously with spoon for 2 minutes by clock (about 150 strokes per minute). You can rest a moment when beating by hand; just count actual beating time or strokes. Or mix with electric mixer on slow to medium speed for 2 minutes. Scrape sides and bottom of bowl frequently.

Add (2 large)

Continue beating 2 more minutes, scraping sides and bottom of bowl frequently. Pour into prepared pans. Bake 35 to 40 minutes in moderate oven (350°). When cake is cool, frost with your favorite white icing, to which have been added 1/2 cup cinnamon, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 1/2 cup cut-up raisins. Or frost with Creamy Raisin-Nut Icing (recipe in folder in Gold Medal sacks).

Sift together into bowl

- 2 cups sifted GOLD MEDAL "Kitchen-tested" Enriched Flour
- 3/4 tsp. double-action baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 1/2 cups sugar*
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/2 tsp. nutmeg
- 1/4 tsp. cloves
- 1/2 cup high grade vegetable shortening
- 1 cup milk
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Add

*SUGAR SAVING SUGGESTION: Use 2/3 cup sugar and 2/3 cup white corn syrup. Reduce milk to 3/4 cup plus 1 tsp. Add syrup with milk to dry ingredients.

Warning! Recipe above has been developed only for Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" Enriched Flour. Don't attempt to use it with another flour! Furthermore, don't try to adapt the Betty Crocker New Method to old-method recipes. But Gold Medal itself is unchanged. It performs exactly the same as it always did with all your old recipes.

Seaman Weaver Writes About His Life On Midway

Editor's Note: Below is printed a letter sent to this office from William Weaver S 1-C. Seaman Weaver's wife makes her home in this city and is employed at Collins Dry Goods Company here.

Somewhere on Midway Island March 3, 1945.

Dear Editor:

Just a few lines to let you know that I am getting the paper and sure do enjoy getting it from week to week. You don't have any idea how much we do enjoy it down here, although we are sorry to read about so many of the boys getting wounded from Lamesa. At the present time I am somewhere on Midway and it's not so bad down here as you folks back home think it is. We have plenty to eat and a dry bed to sleep in. We can buy most anything we want. Midway Island is the home of the Goonies birds. It is the only island where they are raised. They are the most beautiful bird that I have seen, and are the number 1 bird of the Navy.

I see another Lamesa boy ever once and awhile. His name is Jimmie Collum and he is a member of the Seabees.

I have seen a lot of places but the Panama Canal is the most beautiful of them all. As far duty, however, I take Midway. It's got them all beat.

Yours truly,
William Weaver S 1-C

The following article was enclosed

ed in Seaman Weaver's letter. It is entitled "Life On Midway."

Life at Midway as in any place, has many interesting points for anyone willing to receive and enjoy them. The lives of all of us have been enriched by the friendships and associations we have made during our tour of duty here. The same friendships and association will bring many happy hours later on, when we meet again either by chance or intent after the war is over.

There will probably be times in later life when we men on the island will look back with many pleasant memories of our stay here.

Just a small thing can serve to carry one back to a forgotten experience. A certain combination of shadows cast by bright hard sunlight across the smooth sand of a beach at home may cause one to remember their many bright days that were spent on the glistening beaches of Midway.

Maybe while fishing on one of the lakes, you will be reminded by the clearness of the cool water of the many strange fishes and beautiful coral heads we saw in Midway lagoon.

Another maybe plowing his fields at dusk and see a beautiful flaming red sunset which will remind him of a similar one seen from the sandy shores of these islands. A flock of swallows swooping around the chimneys of a group of homes in a small town may remind another of the thousands of moaning birds that he saw overhead in the evening on Midway. While to a duck hunter the honk of a lonely goose flying high over chilly rivers and marshes in the early morning may bring back memories of the goonies and their intricate dances. It may be that sitting out on the lawn some warm summer night surrounded by our family we will look up at a clear sky and the sight of the many stars twinkling there will recall the brilliance of starlit nights on Midway when it seemed that there were more stars in the heavens than ever before shining so brightly that we were almost able to read by their celestial light.

Then there will be the many Fall nights when returning home in the late evening, we will come over the brow of a hill and see a full harvest moon throwing its yellow light across the fields and be reminded of the nights on Midway when, with the stars not shining so brightly, a full moon moved through a darkened sky filled with ruffles of fleecy white clouds casting the reflected moonbeams earthward in a silvery mist of enchanted light which etched on the coral sand in bold masses of black and white the silhouettes of the buildings spread over the island. All of these memories and many more will go with us when we leave this small spot in the center of the Pacific Ocean which has been home to us for so long. I wonder if some time in the future, we will be able to return and see what changes peace will have made in our islands?

Music was printed for the first time in 1465.

CHECK TIRE YOUR WEEK

THE PUBLIC MUST REALIZE ITS OWN RESPONSIBILITY IN TIRE CARE
HAVE YOUR TIRES INSPECTED TODAY—AND DO IT REGULARLY!

"Battle experience has resulted in a substantial increase in the requirements of the Army for truck and combat tires. A greater proportion of our greatly increased tire-making capacity therefore needs to be directed into the production of military tires. It is obvious that we must exercise every possible precaution to extend the life of the tires we now have if we are to maintain the civilian economy so essential to the support of our war effort. I am sure that the public will continue to respond with careful tire maintenance, if it is fully advised of the necessity as a war measure. Your publicity campaign should help materially to this end."

JAMES F. BYRNES, Director,
Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion

Here Is The Local Story of Needed Cooperation

During the past few days experienced tire men have been checking tires on passenger cars in various areas as a measure of service to motorists in this city.

This Tire Survey is the result of visual observation only. Closer inspection on proper equipment may show needed repairs. Have your tires inspected at regular intervals. Conserve your tires by prompt recapping and RECAP IN TIME. Tire care is your responsibility in order that the full requirements of the Army may be met.

The Lamesa Tire & Battery Co., owned by Jack McLaughlin and Henry Norris are sponsoring the above tire survey. We will be more than glad to inspect your tires and help keep your car running.

You will also find a complete line of new Truck, Passenger and Implement Tires at all times. Let us check your old battery to get Peak Power. For more Auto Accessories pay our store a visit.
