SCORES OF ISSUES GO TUMBLING FROM $1 TO $20 A SHARE

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The stock market closed practically at the bottom today after another storm of distress liquidation had carried scores of leading issues down $1 to $20 a share.

Further distress selling developed on the exchange and prices generally moved lower although a few of the recent leaders showed moderate initial gains. Early declines in active shares ranged from a few cents to $3 a share. Trading was again in heavy volume with several blocks of 5,000 to 50,000 shares changing hands in the first few minutes of trading.

ANNUAL SALES SENT PAST BILLION MARK

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Annual sales on the New York Stock exchange were over the billion share mark for the first time in history today after another session of heavy liquidation in which new lows for the year were set.

When the ticker stopped running two hours and 12 minutes after the close yesterday a day's sales of 6,452,700 shares had been recorded and the total since the first of the year was 1,001,010,230 shares.

Selling Is Persistent

Persistent selling which overwhelmed several incipient rallies during the three-hour session drove market leaders down two to 20 points while net losses of 25 to 100 points were suffered by some of the less active issues.

The Curb market with a turnover of 2,204,700 shares kept pace with the Stock exchange. The slump also was reflected in the commodity markets with wheat showing a

Texas Cotton Raisers To Get Farm Board Finances

FARM BUREAU CHOSEN AS MEDIUM FOR LOAN DISTRIBUTION

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 13.—Cotton growers of Texas today had tangible promise of speedy aid from the Federal government in marketing their crops at profitable prices.

With two loans from the Federal Farm board totalling $2,473,000 approved, the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association was ready to go forward with the work of meeting requests of farmers. It was made clear that the Texas Farm Bureau association, in acting as the Farm Board's intermediary, will extend aid, not only to its members but to all farmers in the state who meet requirements.

To Stablire Market

Jubilant over the Farm Board's announcement yesterday, E. H. Linsteadter of Dallas, assistant secretary-treasurer for the association, declared the funds would prove the "greatest stabilizing agency the market has seen for years." Directors of the association met here yesterday and went through necessary formalities so that others beside members might benefit from the funds.

Harry Williams, manager of the Texas Farm Bureau association, was with the Farm Board all day yesterday. He kept in touch with Texas through Representative Lawrence Westbrook, chairman of Governor Moody's cotton committee, who relayed Mr. Williams' information.

Williams advised Westbrook the Farm Board had approved the Farm Bureau association as a lending agency and placed funds at its disposal without restriction.

A clouded sky which dropped over the region Tuesday was cleared last night.

TEXAS SHIVERS IN BRISK NORTHER

DALLAS, Nov. 13. (AP)—Texans rolled the moth balls out of their great coats today to greet the first real norther of the year.

From freezing weather at Amarillo to sharp shivering breezes at Corpus Christi, the gale, sweeping down across the state from northwest to southeast yesterday, left gusts of snow, rain, and consistently lower temperatures in its wake. Coast points reported a temperature of 55 degrees above zero, while Amarillo and Pampa, with 27 degrees above the zero mark, had their first freezing weather.

Rain Is Frequent

Rain accompanied the sharp north winds in many areas. At Austin a half inch fell in exactly fifteen minutes, and an accompanying bolt of lightning disrupted electric light service momentarily. Low temperatures were reported from Houston: Waco, San Antonio, Galveston, and other southern and central points, while near freezing weather was apparently general through northern Texas.

INEBRIATES APE GRID STARS IN SCRIMMAGE ON STREETS OF CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 13. (AP)—What the Messrs. Blozek, Kolasa and Popeka didn't know about football was plenty.

Vincent Blozek was impersonating Henry Bruder "of Ohio State," and Joe Kolasa purported to be "Nagurski of Northwestern." They lined up at Lawrence avenue and Broadway.

Blozek tackled and Kolasa recovered to shoot a neat straight arm into Blozek's proboscis.

Andrew Popeka leaped from the sidelines and announced himself as "Albie Booth of Princeton."

"Who?" shouted Blozek.

"Benny Friedman of St. Olaf's," replied Popeka, changing teams just like that.

"Come on, Benny, we'll show you how Bruder of Ohio State and Nagurski of Northwestern can spill you," said Kolasa.

"Nagurski" was just going around a streetcar behind "Bruder" for interference and with "Benny Friedman" hanging on his coattails when police officers stepped from the crowd and took them to jail.

Kolasa said the affair started when Popeka said Northwestern was no good. "So," said Kolasa, "I showed him how Nagurski of Northwestern can tackle"

"I still insist," said Popeka, "that Bruder of Iowa is a better end than Nagurski of Indiana."

"That probably makes Babe Ruth a goal tender at a chess game," said a spectator, sotto voce, as Judge Philip Finnegan sentenced the three gridders to buy football guide books.

TEXAS JURIST AND VICTIM OF KNIFE

A grand jury will convene tomorrow to investigate the case. Brady has long been prominent in state legal and political circles and at one time was a member of the Court of Civil Appeals.

TEXAS REPORT ON CROPS OUT

COTTON AND FEED ARE DOWN; SOME OTHERS SHOWING A GAIN

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 13.—Thirteen of 22 important field and orchard crops in Texas produced more this year than they did a year ago, the monthly report issued today by H. H. Schutz, statistician for the United States Department of Agriculture, showed.

All of the small grain crops except rice were greater, as were also the various fruit varieties, but cotton, corn and grain sorghum, the return from which last year constituted 72 percent of the total farm income, excluding livestock and its products, fell considerably below the 1928 production.

Income Is Cut

Shortage in the cotton crop alone was said to reduce the aggregate of the Texas farm income this year by almost $100,000,000. Production was the smallest since 1921 and 1922, and the crop had the lowest outurn on record owing to the combined widespread loss from drouth insects and disease. Instead of 35 percent of the total American crop as in 1928, Texas this year is producing only 26 percent, the report stated. The Texas output was estimated at 3,950,000 bales.

Corn Loses, Too

The estimated production of 90,611,000 bushels of corn was reported to be the lowest since 1925. The report indicated an average yield of 44 bushels of rice as compared with 42 last year. Most of the rice crop turned out of excellent quality, harvest conditions having been ideal until late October.

Lack of rainfall reduced the grain

GRAND JURORS TO GET FACTS

INVESTIGATION OPENS THURSDAY ON FATAL STABBING CASE

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 13.—Inquiry into the death of Miss Lehlia Highsmith, 28-year-old statehouse employe stabbed to the heart in front of her home Saturday night, was at a standstill today pending deliberations of the grand jury called for Thursday apparently to investigate John W. Brady's connection with the affair.

Meanwhile Brady, former member of the third Court of Civil Appeals and prominent in state politics, was held in jail without bond. It was considered probable the bond hearing would be postponed until the grand jury acted, since another bond would have to be made if an indictment was returned.

No New Facts

Little new has been added to known facts of the slaying. Friends of Brady said he had known Miss Highsmith for several years, some of them adding he helped her obtain her position as stenographer in the Supreme Court Commission of Appeals, Frank Graham, jr., student at the University of Texas and presumably an eye-witness to the stabbing, consistently refused to tell what he saw, except to the county attorney. F. R. McNaughton, who ran from the house to wrest the knife from Brady's hands after the stabbing, could not add to the story he told the day after the killing.

One Man Being Held As Robbery Suspect

While one suspect is being held for investigation in connection with the looting Saturday night of about $500 worth of merchandise from Hemphill-Wells store, Lubbock officers are continuing a search today for clues in the robbery.

No charges have been filed against the suspect, who was arrested by the sheriff's department. "There has been nothing so far to substantiate a charge," said Sheriff Wade Hardy. "Unless we receive further information we probably will release the man."

PAVING PLANS EXPLAINED IN HEARING HERE

CHAS. O'NEALL TAKES STAND AS WITNESS BEFORE COURT

One witness was used on the stand this morning, before the Lubbock County Commissioners' court, in the hearing as to whether or not an election shall be called in road district number two, for paving Highways Number 7, 9 and 53 through the county and State Highway Number 124, from Lubbock west to the Hockley county line.

Charles F. O'Neall, chairman of the Lubbock County Good Roads association, was the witness heard, the procedure taking on the appearance of a trial before the bar, but without witnesses being sworn.

E. L. Klett, acting as legal representative of the general committee headed by O'Neall, conducted that organization's part of the hearing. The court room was almost filled to capacity with interested spectators from Lubbock, Slaton and other communities of the county. The hearing opened at 11 o'clock.

Prior to opening of the meeting, representatives of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, headed by J. H. Brewer and Lloyd A. Wilson, met with O'Neall's committee in a last minute effort at arriving at a compromise on the road project muddle, but resulted in the Lubbock and Slaton men sticking by their respective guns. Lubbock is for calling the election in road district number two for paving highways throughout every section of the county included, while Slaton stands for a county-wide election to pave either Highway 7 and 9, or 7 and 9 and 53, east.

"This hearing," remarked E. L.

CHURCH OPENS ITS CONCLAVE

PAMPA IS SCENE FOR ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF METHODISTS

(By Associated Press)

PAMPA, Nov. 13.—The twentieth annual session of the Northwest Texas conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, opened here today with Bishop John M. Moore, of Dallas, presiding.

Much discussion was heard relative to the likelihood that the general conference in Dallas next year will merge the Panhandle conference of Oklahoma with this area, adding 5,700 square miles. Under this plan, the east and west Oklahoma conferences would be consolidated.

Finances Are Poor

Presiding elders interviewed said that while Northwest Texas churches have had many additions during the last fiscal year, their finances were in poor conditions, due partly to the drought, and that many pastors had not received their full salaries. This, they said, would necessitate readjustments, and with changes caused by many pastors having served four years, or longer, the largest number of changes in assignments in recent years was expected.

Sweetwater has asked for the 1930 conference.

Two Permits Taken Out In City Today

Building permit valuations in this city for November were increased to $20,215, for nine permits, with the issuance this morning of a $1,000 permit to J. J. Clements, contractor, for erection of an office and warehouse at 502 Avenue Q.

Valuations for the year are $3,090,699, for 551 permits.

Mesdames P. L. McKnight, W. B. Price and J. H. Howze are leaving for Mineral Wells tonight, and the following have announced their intention of making the trip by automobile tomorrow: Miss Louise Jennings and Mesdames O. K. Peters, F. V. Brown, Clementine Vaughn and N. S. McBride.

Officers present were Truett Brocks, Lynn Gray Gordon, Jesse Cooper, Cecil Kersey and Grace Thompson.

HIGHWAY BONDS

Klett, in stating the road district contentions, "is to receive evidence as to the improvements proposed in this election being of benefit to the property owners in road district number two." He stated that in view of unanimous opinion that road paving is a benefit, there would be no need of taking up the court's time in giving such evidence, but Judge Robert H. Bean being of the opinion that the formal demand of the statute regulating such hearings demanded such evidence, this was the following procedure:

Efforts Are Outlined

O'Neall declared that repeated efforts had been made to arrive at a county-wide road bond project, but that the propositions made by Slaton representatives were such that his committee believed the only equitable way to serve all parts of the county was as outlined in the petition on file. He testified that the paving of these highways was essential to the county and a necessary improvement, giving a saving of money to property owners in going over the routes with their farm produce to sell.

Highway 53, O'Neall contended, is of more importance to Lubbock county than any other road, because of the Carlsbad Cavern route from Oklahoma City to El Paso. As Lubbock pays about 62 per cent of the county's taxes, he said that this city would be called upon to pay approximately 75 per cent of the cost of building these roads and that the country districts would be getting the greater benefit, while paying only about 28 per cent of this cost.

Pinkston Asks Questions

Upon questioning by Commissioner J. T. Pinkston, of Slaton, O'Neall testified that the increase in taxes, because of the $1,025,000 bond issue in the road district, would be only from about eight to 10 cents per acre. Pinkston asked him if it is not a fact that the highway department of Texas has a policy not to build roads in districts unless they go to the county line, to which he replied that he had been told by one of the state engineers that, although it might be difficult to get state aid on Highway 7, through the district, he believed it could and would be done.

Asked by Commissioner W. L. Brashear, of Idalou, if the State Highway department had not said they would not pave the road to the west with concrete, O'Neall replied that the department had not made any expressions as to what kind of roads they would build.

"Our figures on all roads," O'Neall stated, "are based on concrete construction."

When quizzed as to what percentage of the voters in Lubbock would vote for the district bonds, O'Neall said he believed the vote would be about thirty to one. On the two other projects, however, he stated there would be not very much enthusiasm for either in the city of Lubbock.

Brewer and Wilson, of Slaton, questioned him as to which would be the better project, either of their two propositions as expressed in petitions before the court, or the district, considerable discussion arising over how the efforts at having upon a project were obtained. Slaton men contended for the road from that city to intersect highway 53 near Idalou. Other discussion was about results in the past two elections. Brewer, Pinkston and Wilson denying that Slaton votes had defeated them.

O'Neall declared that there had never been a hostile attitude prevalent in Lubbock against Slaton, in regards to their desires for highways and that the reason the request for an election now is on a district-wide basis is "because we believe that if we get the roads we want we must form our own district and [illegible]"

This afternoon's session of the hearing began at 1:30 o'clock.

Court Undecided

The court is faced with either taking action on calling the district election, as petitioned, or passing the hearing over for another day, perhaps days, or by refusing to call a district election put action on either of the two petitions presented from Slaton [illegible] program.

KIZER GIVEN SEVEN YEARS

JAIL BREAKER WILL BE IN JAIL FOR NINE YEARS IN ALL

Seven years were added to the original penitentiary sentence of Leroy Kizer, alias J. B. Brown, by a jury yesterday afternoon in 72nd District court, following a trial on charge of robbery with fireams, in connection with his jail break here October 18.

Kizer was sentenced two months ago to two years in the penitentiary on a charge of forgery.

Willie Hammond, Willie Smith and Jake Hill, negro prisoners, testified that they saw Kizer, assisted by Mrs. Bessie Phillips, hold up Will Ernst, deputy sheriff and jailer and escape from the jail.

Mr. Ernest testified that the prisoners removed money from his trousers and stole his hat, pistol and coat.

Mrs. Phillips and Kizer were recaptured in north Lubbock a few minutes after they broke jail.

O'DONNELL FINDS PROSPEROUS YEAR

(Special To The Journal)

O'DONNELL, Nov. 13.—More than 20,000 bales of cotton have been ginned in Lynn and Dawson counties to date, which is four times as much as had been ginned on the same date last year. O'Donnell's seven big gins are all busy and hundreds of loads of cotton have been streaming into town during the past week until the general rain which struck this territory on Friday.

O'Donnell has more cotton gins than any other town of its size in West Texas and has ginned approximately as much cotton as all the rest of Lynn county combined.

The yield per acre is surpassing the highest estimates of a month or town age and the reported crop failure and business retrenchment is more apparent than real and more of a psychological condition than an economic one. Business is good as is evidenced by the fact that the Chevrolet Motor company is selling more cars than any other agency in this section of Texas, in the same sized town in this section of the state. The two hundred thousand dollars stock in the Powdered Milk plant, at Lamesa, which was subscribed during the summer, is being paid in rapidly and business in general is satisfactory. All of the country schools are now in session, cotton pickers are plentiful, and most of the children have quit the cotton fields for the school room.

WESTERNERS DIG IN FOR APPROACHING INVASION OF COYOTES

NOTRE DAME-TROJAN CLASH HEADS INTERSECTIONAL CARD

ROCKNE SHIFT OF PACK WILL FEATURE TILT

BRISK WORKOUT HELD TUESDAY FOLLOWED BY LECTURE

With promise that they will meet a much more dangerous Pack of Coyotes than the 1928 Wichita eleven, the Lubbock Westerners put in full time Tuesday afternoon despite the cold north wind that swept down on this section.

Unless the Coyotes have changed their style of attack entirely, the locals will be well acquainted with the intricate Rockne shift employed by Coach Holton, before the Pack arrives here Thursday morning. Yesterday's lengthy workout on the south side of the high school building found the Westerners brushing up on their offense and devoting a lengthy session to defensive tactics on Wichita plays.

Get Blackboard Drill

Following the workout on the high school campus, the Westerners were brought indoors and given a long blackboard drill by the coaches, Henry Frnka and Del Morgan.

Yancey Price, fleet Westerner wingman who has recently been shifted to the backfield, appears to be a permanent fixture at halfback for the locals insofar as the remainder of the current season is concerned. Price proved his worth as a ball carrier in the skirmish with the Golden Sandies, breaking away for long sensational gains against the 1928 district champions. His speed in the open will add greatly to the Westerners' running attack and he is certain to see action against the Coyotes here Friday.

Lawson Back in Camp

W. D. Lawson, Lubbock's versatile line plunger, and Moody Smith, regular halfback, were back in uniform yesterday following an extended period of illness, during which time both were confined to the sick-room with influenza. Both show signs of their confinement, but will probably have gained back enough strength to break into the lineup against the Pack.

Green, Martin, Watkins and Teel continue this week to work regularly in the Westerner backfield and the starting quartet against the Holton aggregation remains questionable. Except for one of the end positions, the same line that played 60 minutes against the Sandies Nov. 2 will likely get first call this week. Watson or Hardberger is in line for the wing post vacated by Price.

Plan Pep Rally

A city-wide pep rally will be held at the high school auditorium Thursday night, it was announced late yesterday by school authorities. A number of local business and professional men are scheduled to address the assembly, including J. J. Clements, president of the Rotary club; Clark Mullican, president of the Kiwanis club; C. F. Drexel, Lions club head, and Chas. A. Guy, managing editor of the Avalanche and Journal. The high school pep squad will be in charge and the school band will also be on hand.

In a telephone conversation with the Wichita Daily Times last night, the Avalanche-Journal was informed that a special train will be run from Wichita to Lubbock, bearing approximately 400 Coyote fans. Ticket sales at the Coyote stronghold are being conducted through the cooperation of the high school, chamber of commerce and the business mens club of that city.

The special will leave Wichita at 5:30 Friday morning and arrive in Lubbock at 12:30, leaving that night at 7 o'clock on the return trip. Coach Barry Holton and his squad of gridsters will arrive here Thursday morning.

TECH ELEVEN DRILLS FOR YELLOW JACKETS

Following their hard tussle with the A. C. C. Wildcats, the Matadors of Tech took things easy Tuesday afternoon with a cold north wind making a workout on the practice field virtually impossible.

The weather, however, did not interfere with the program for the day, as Coaches Higginbotham and Payne sent their charges through a strenuous calenthenics drill inside the college gymnasium, serving the purpose of working out the sore muscles received in the Armistice day game.

They Face Good Team

Facing a tough foe in the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets, who come here next Tuesday, the Matadors will resume serious preparation today for their skirmish with the strong Texas conference eleven from Brownwood. Monday the Jackets humbled the St. Edwards Saints, 21 to 7, thereby eliminating the Austin entry from the title chase.

Tech emerged from the scrap with Abilene Christians with no serious injuries, and the entire squad will likely be in the pink of condition for the encounter with the [illegible] Tuesday.

Pitt Panther May Get Call For Pasadena Mix

SUTHERLAND'S ELEVEN ONE OF COUNTRY'S TRULY GREAT

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 13 — If the Pitt Panther is victorious in its remaining games against Carnegie Tech and Penn State, and a splendid record indicates the prowling cat will be Jock Sutherland's boys are looked upon as having an even chance to make the long trek across the continent for their second Tournament of Roses football game in three seasons at Pasadena.

Undefeated in its first six starts and with a total of 202 points scored against 23 by the opposition, the Panther aggregation truly would ably represent the east in this annual intersectional battle New Year's Day in southern California. Thousands of loyal Pittsburghers and Panther fans question superiority of Notre Dame over Pitt. A game alone could settle that dispute.

In a certain respect the Panthers and the Ramblers are alike, in that both meet their opposition with a machine-like precision that is seldom matched on the gridiron. Both elevens boast stars of the first water, but in the general play the individual is overshadowed by the marked smoothness of the attack and defense as a unit.

Dr. J. B. Sutherland, he of the dental profession familiarly known as "Jock," has a team powerful in its running and aerial attack and well-nigh impregnable on the defense, as the combined scores of the opponents show. The team is made up of more than 11 players. The silent "Doc" has a wealth of man-power.

Ray Montgomery in the Panther forward wall has been termed the "perfect guard" by Coach Sutherland. Poker-faced Joe Donchess at end does his work so smoothly that he seldom excites attention from the stadium. Burley Jim MacMurdo, at a varsity tackle position in his sophomore year, has been a whole line in himself. Captain Luby Dimeolo, a guard, is a fiery leader, and both Daugherty, center, Collins, end, and Tully, tackle, lend able assistance to Montgomery, MacMurdo and Donchess in clearing the path for Sutherland's charging backs.

Big Tom Parkinson, a senior in his third year as varsity fullback, is almost certain to make the majority of All-American selections. Biff "Whitey" Walinchus, a substitute halfback only because it's his misfortune to be in school at the same time with Toby Uansa and Josh Williams, ran wild against Nebraska. Uansa, like Parkinson, seems destined for many honor selections.

No football team in the country boasts a player like Jim Rooney, another Pitt reserve halfback. Rooney is perhaps the season's best punter. And at field goals he's not so shaggy either.

Pitt is blessed with two great quarterbacks in Eddie Baker and Edwards. The latter was varsity field general for two seasons until Baker blossomed out this fall, his sophomore year. With these two handy men, able play directors of more than ordinary kicking and passing talent, Coach Sutherland never worries about his team not being able to seize a scoring opportunity.

Pitt's season is almost identical with that of 1927 when the great Gibby Welch, All-American halfback, led his Panthers to the Pacific coast to meet Stanford in the Pageant of Roses classic. Pittsburgh had an unblemished record that year, except that Stanford won from them 7 to 6 in the Pasadena contest.

Parkinson, Edwards, Uansa, Montgomery and Donchess were regulars of the great team Gibby Welch led against Stanford two years ago. They're winding up brilliant careers this fall and each would like nothing better than to take a crack at the western representative, be it California, Stanford or Southern California, in the great Pasadena bowl.

WISE GUYS DIVIDED ON TEAM EXPECTED TO WIN; ROCKNE TO BE BACK ON SIDELINE AGAIN

MANY SEE CALIFORNIA TEA MAVENGING AN EARLIER DEFEAT

BY ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—The already well-established theory that they do come back, even if it take a trip of 2,000 miles for the purpose, Southern California's Trojans figure to be the team to stop Notre Dame's rush Saturday before 120,000 spectators at Soldier Field, Chicago.

On the also well-established fact that Notre Dame, even with Knute Rockne able to direct them only on a part time basis, has turned out the greatest Hosier array since the "Four Horsemen," the South Bend Cyclone figures to sweep over the Trojans and on toward a national championship.

Big Game Seen

It is an argument that depends on the point of view. It won't be settled probably until the dusk settles along the shore of Lake Michigan, but if this intersectional battle doesn't turn out to be one of the greatest of the season, it will not be for the lack of spectacular elements.

Those who like the chances of Southern California see the Trojans bounding across the country to atone for their unexpected setback at the hands of California. U. S. C. has finished its big-game schedule on the coast and can "shoot the works" against Notre Dame, whereas the Hoosiers still have Northwestern and the Army to worry about.

Micks Hit Stride

Notre Dame, on the other hand, has taken its last two games "in stride" to be at the peak for Southern California. For the first time since beating Carnegie, Rockne himself will be on the sidelines, even though his ailing leg will keep him in a wheelchair. Psychology of this alone will be a big stimulant to the Hoosiers.

Though it may be argued most of Notre Dame's victims so far have also been manhandled by other teams, the fact remains that Rockne's Ramblers have convincingly disposed of one of the severest schedules tackled by any team. The workmanlike play of the team, directed on the field by Frank Carideo, one of the best quarterbacks of the season, has impressed even its critics. The polish and punch is unquestionably there.

Father's education is beginning all over again. Junior has home work.

PICADORS ARE READY TO MIX

TECH FROSH TO CLASH WITH ACC RESERVES HERE SATURDAY

Texas Tech's freshman football forces will make their initial bow of the 1929 season before the home fans Saturday afternoon when Coach Rhodes Ingerton leads his charges out to battle the reserves from Abilene Christian college.

The second freshman eleven in the history of the local institution has been training hard since late September and has developed into a formidable grid unit, capable of holding its own with the average college team. Coach Ingerton has discovered in the ranks of the Picadors a number of the most promising recruits that have ever reported to the Scarlet and Black.

Whipped Cadets

Against the Cadets of N. M. M. I. at Roswell, the Picadors were complete masters from the standpoint of running plays, but succumbed to an overhead attack which netted three touchdowns.

The A. C. C. reserve eleven boasts a strong scoring threat, reports reaching here indicate, and the Picadors will likely have their hands full in turning back the visitors. In scrimmage with the varsity gridders this season, the Tech frosh have displayed worlds of fighting ability and are certain to give the customers plenty of action Saturday.

Recent practice has found the freshmen clicking off plays with marked precision, produced by constant drill throughout the season.

The game Saturday will start at 3 o'clock.

Brownsville Boxer Wins Over Veteran

IN THE REALM OF SPORTS

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

Fielding H. Yost, Michigan's versatile mentor, says that scoring plays that work seem to be conspicuously absent in modern football. In a study of the major games played on a recent Saturday, Yost discovered that 51 touchdowns were made from the field back of the ten-yard line. Only sixteen touchdowns were made when a long run or pass carried the ball to the two or three yard line, the score in these instances usually coming on the first down.

Additional figures given out by Yost revealed that eight scores were made on marches which swept the ball across the last white line of advances of two and three yards. In something like 20 instances, the defending team held when the offense had a first down somewhere near the ten-yard mark.

"Spectators frequently attribute this holding on the goal line to the greater fight of the defending team," Mr. Yost points out, "but they forget that the offensive team also is making a supreme physical effort.

"The offensive problem is to find a play with deception or to rely on a field goal. The good field general will not attack the line unless he has at his disposal the super-line crasher. End runs which might gain much ground up field are dangerous because of the concentration of backs to break through and throw runners for losses.

"The wily signal caller resorts to strategy which includes an occasional trick play or a bluff delayed or bluff lateral pass to cause the end to hesitate. He may actually use one of these plays aiming at a point between tackle and end. A momen's hesitation of some player on defensive gives time to make the offensive play a success."

It seems that a delegation of Lamesa rooters, not satisfied with taking away the long end of the score and nice fat long-green rolls, decided to pull up a set of goal posts on the Slaton gridiron. They were halted, however, by an infuriated mob of Tiger fans, who rushed in pell-mell to stop the proceedure. An old time free-for-all resulted and considerable blood was shed. One enthusiastic Lamesa booster, emerged from the battle, with both eyes closed and his blood-stained clothes ripped to shreds.

A timid spectator inquired concerning his condition with the remark, 'Looks like they nearly got you."

"Humph!" he replied, "the other guy never has come to. You ain't seen nuthin' 'til you see him."

Shades of the olden days when every football game furnished the scene of numerous fist fights were recalled at Slaton Monday when several hundred enthusiastic grid fans rushed on the field following the Class B battle between the Slaton Tigers and Lamesa Tornadoes.

A pair of football battles are on tap for Lubbock fans this week-end that should furnish plenty of action. The Westerners encounter stiff opposition when they tackle the Wichita Falls Coyotes on the college field and the Tech freshman eleven will make their first home appearance of the season Saturday against the reserves from Abilene Christian college. Dope favors the Westerners to subdue the Wichita crew, but Coach Barry Holton has served notice that his club is capable of defeating both Lubbock and Amarillo on succeeding weeks to win the district title. This means that the Pack will be primed to a high pitch for the battle here and the locals will have to take the field with all cylinders in working order to turn back the snarling Pack.

Last year the Westerner eleven had reached its season's peak in the Wichita game on the latter's field and the result was a 21 to 0 victory for the Gold and Black. The 1929 Lubbock team is stronger in several departments than last year's team that finished runner-up in the district, but the Coyotes appear to be an in-an-outer this year under Barry Holton, and anything can be expected. After losing, 2-0, to the Electra Tigers, the Pack came back to trim the Vernon Lions by the impressive score of 14 to 0. This indicated that the Wichita gridders had mastered the intricate style of play taugh by their new mentor, and if the Pack turns in the same performance against Lubbock that it did in defeating Vernon, the customers are certain to

BIG SIX SEES ITS HANDICAP

CONFERENCE HAS LOST TOO MANY GAMES TO OUTSIDE CLUBS

(By Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 13.—Two intersectional games in which Big Six football teams participate this month offer little hope of glory for the conference if it be true history repeats itself. Of nine games played out of the conference this year, Big Six teams have lost six, tied one and won but two.

Missouri will invade Yankee stadium to battle the Violets of New York university Saturday with the shadow of that record over them. Kansas Aggies, already beaten 19 to 0 by Texas A. and M. will face Marquette in Milwaukee Thanksgiving day with the same handicap. Marquette already has scalped Iowa State another Big Six member 14 to 6.

Defeats Numerous

Nebraska beat Syracuse 13 to 6 and Oklahoma defeated Creighton 26 to 0 but overbalancing those victories is a time game between Nebraska and Southern Methodist and defeat of Kansas by Illinois, Kansas Aggies by Purdue, Oklahoma by Texas and Nebraska by Pittsburg.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Ia.—Bear Cat Wright, Omaha, Neb., knocked out Cowboy Owen, Guthrie, Okla., (2).

FLINT, Mich.—Johnny Ciccome, Schnectady, N. Y., outpointed Eddie "Kid" Wagner, Chicago, (10).

NEW YORK—Georgie Goldberg, New York, outpointed Johnny Dundee, New York, (10).

BETHLEHEM, Pa.—Joee Diaz, Cuba, won on a fouf from enri Devancker, New York, (4). Mickey Blaze, Los Angeles, knocked out Charlie Matz, Bethlehem, (1).

LOS ANGELES—Goldie Hess, Ogden Park, Calif, outpointed Gaston Charles, Paris, (10).

TEXAS COTTON

...member farmers should form ... groups, Westbrook said, along such lines as is desired to meet conditions in various communities. It is estimated that 98 percent of the growers are not members of the association, and by forming their own cooperatives, they may receive loans of as much as they could sell cotton for today without becoming permanently affiliated with the state association.

CROP REPORT

sorghum crop from 69,000,000 bushels in 1928 to 48,331,000 bushels this year. Sweet potato, peanut and pecan crops showed a decline.

BETTER LIVESTOCK CONDITIONS SEEN

AUSTIN, Nov. 13 (AP)—Better livestock and range prospects for Texas were indicated in the monthly report made public today by H. H. Schutz, statistician for the United States Department of Agriculture.

October rains were beneficial, the report stated. Grass and weeds are making new growth in many localities and winter range prospects have improved. Hay and roughage are adequate for local needs in most areas as herds have been culled closely. Cattle have maintained their flesh well and are entering the winter in good condition. Sheep and goats are in fair condition. Local demand for all classes of animals is dull, but the market demand for cattle is strengthening somewhat.

80 Per cent Nov. First

The November 1 condition of ranges was said to be 80 percent, one point lower than last month and six points lower than both last year and the average. Condition of cattle the first of the month was placed at 83 percent, the same as a month earlier but below last year and the average. The report said hot weather and lack of rain during the summer and early fall caused a steady decline, but cattle would enter the winter in fair condition.

Condition of sheep and goat ranges was better than one month earlier but considerably below the average. Sheep and goats held their own during October but were many points under their average condition. The rapid and wide expansion in the sheep and goat industry which has been taking place for some time has apparently slowed down as local demand is dull and comparatively few are changing hands.

ton embassy, first from 1905 to 1907, when Lord Bryce was ambassador and Theodore Roosevelt president of the nited States, and later in 1919 and 1920 when he was counsellor at the embassy during President Wilson's fight for American entry into the League of Nations.

Married An American

He was married in 1924 to Elizabeth Sherman Hoyt, daughter of the late Colgate Hoyt of New York. His first wife also was an American woman, Martha Cameron, daughter of former Senator J. Donald Cameron of Pennsylvania. She died in 1918.

Sir Ronald once was Ambassador to Turkey and again Ambassador at Berlin. He also served at St. Petersburg, Teheran, Paris, The Hague, and in Egypt. He became permanent under-secretary in the foreign ministry in 1928.

COLD WEATHER

and gave rise to apprehension for the sugar beet harvest.

The lowest temperature reported was in Gallatin canyon near Bozeman, Mont., where the thermometer registered 20 degrees below zero. A five-inch snow fall accompanied the cold. Temperatures generally in Colorado, Wyoming and Montana were only slightly above zero.

Boy Is Storm Victim

Alfred Salazar, 17, was the only victim of the storm sou far as known. He and two companions set out to gather wood in the Sangre de Cristo range, southwest of Pueblo, Colo. A sudden snow storm caused their team of horses to break away, leaving the youths to walk their way to shelter. Salazar died in the arms of one of his companions.

Sugar company officials said there would not be serious loss as nearly the entire crop had been harvested. The crop, however, is likely to be short of expectations.

INJURED MEN

not been located, disappearing shortly after the accident and has been unheard from.

Two Bynum Brothers ambulances rushed the injured men, whose home addresses have not been ascertained, to the Lubbock sanitarium. Reports from Roundup stated that the accident occurred when the car in which the three men were riding, struck the back of a heavily loaded truck and was overturned. Witnesses to the accident said that the wrecked automobile evidently turned over several times but that when found was lying on its side and almost demolished.

No Identification Found

When brought to Lubbock the two men had no letters or items of identification.

O. B. Bradberry and his son, T. M. Bradberry, of this city, were behind the party when the accident occurred and picked one of the men up while another car carrie dthe other, starting toward Lubbock. They were met by the ambulances a short time later.

STOCK MARKET

maximum drop of seven cents a bushel and cotton going off more than $1 a bale.

Steel Beaten Down

The force of the selling pressure was demonstrated in a battle over United States steel common. It opened at 158 1-2, went up to 163 1-2, then was beaten down to 152 1-4, closing at 153 1-2, a loss of six points for the day.

In the absence of adverse financial news and with abundant funds available at rates of five to six per cent, brokers confessed they were unable to locate the source of the flow of liquidation.

LONDON OPENING IS SUBDUED WEDNESDAY

LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Stocks opened today with a subdued tone and without prominent feature. Transatlantic issues as usual adjusted themselves to New York partity with little stock changing hands. Hydros opened at 3¾ and went down to 32. Brazil tractions opened at 37 1-2 and nickels at 31.

An undercurrent of worry has developed in Stock exchange circles as to how the continued slump on Wall Street finally will affect securities, both here and in continental centers.

Others Hit Hard

Paris, Amsterdam and Brussels have been hit more severely than London by th crecent American debacle and some apprehension exists as to whether the continent will liquidate further here to meet losses in American speculation.

Additional uncertainty has been created by lower prices of tin, copper and rubber.

BORAH HINTS AT INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—An investigation of the New York Stock exchange is suggested by Senator Borah of Idaho in answer to Fred Kent, a banker, who asserted the recent collapse of security prices was caused by the tariff activities of the Senate's democratic-independent republican coalition.

Borah, leader of the independent group, hinted at such an inquiry but did not introduce a resolution providing for this course.

TO BUY LAND

AUSTIN, Nov. 13. (AP)—The Board of Control today decided to purchase 95 acres of land adjoining the State Orphans' home at Corsicana at $125 an acre. The land will be used for agricultural purposes.

INJUNCTION GRANTED

AUSTIN, Nov. 13. (AP)—District Judge J. D. Moore has granted a permanent injunction to the retail credit men of Austin restraining Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, from collecting a franchise tax from the corporation, which has no capital stock.

FIRE AT DALLAS

DALLAS, Nov. 13. (AP)—The barrel and stave wareshouses, and part of the planing mill of the Dallas Cooperage and Woodenware company were almost completely destroyed by fire early today. Three railroad freight cars on a siding were burned.

STAHL TRIAL

used as evidence failed.

Thelma Bailey stated on the stand that she heard Mrs. Stahl mention that she was carrying a gun in her dress when she accompanied the defendant to the jail.

Others who testified were D. T. Worley, Policeman H. B. Brown, W. H. Walker, Mrs. E. Lightfoot and Mrs. Flora Green Atchison.

The case will be concluded probably late this afternoon. V. H. Lindsey and George Berry are defending Mrs. Stahl, while Burton S. Burks, is representing the State.

WHEN THE CHEAP CAR SETS THE PACE
YOUR car may not be the best on hills, but you'll pass a lot of the best ones when you have -TP- in the crank-case. A cheap car with a perfectly lubricated engine will run by many an aristocrat of the road that is grinding away on broken-down oil.
-TP- Aero Oils are produced from pure, paraffine-base crude by a process for which patents are pending.
This process preserves all the lubricating bodies of the crude oil just as they occur in nature, eliminates the necessity for blending light and heavy oils to produce various grades, and it positively removes all the paraffine wax.
This means perfect lubrication at all times, smoother, more efficient operation for your engine, longer life, reduced repair bills, and more mileage at less cost per mile.
It is wise economy to pay 45c a quart for -TP- Oil.

Thought For Today

He that hateth dissembleth with his lips, and layeth up deceit within him.

When he speaketh fair, believe him not: for there are seven abominations in his heart.—Proverbs, xxvi 24-25.

Second-Hand

The chief criticism of American sports has always been that most people participate in them as spectators rather than as players.

Several million people will enjoy our college football games this autumn—but only a few hundred will do any of the playing. The rest will sit in the grandstand and watch.

It is the same with baseball. Millions of people are extremely fond of the game—but not one in a thousand ever plays. Most of us get our baseball at second hand, watching someone else get the exercise that we might be getting.

Now, however, comes Dr. A. A. Brill, famous psychiatrist, to say that this state of affairs is altogether proper.

Writing in the current North American Review, Dr. Brill declares that sitting in the grandstand is good for us—better for us, in fact, in most cases, than actually playing the games themselves.

Here's the way he explains it:

The average man has an itch for athletic supremacy. He longs to display a physical prowess. But the cards are stacked against him. It simply isn't in him. No matter how hard he tried, he could never make a good athlete.

Yet his spirit demands that he become one. So he goes to a baseball game as a spectator and subsequently identifies himself with the men on the field. When Babe Ruth slams the ball over the scoreboard the fan, in the secret recesses of his heart, does the same thing himself. He shares in Ruth's triumph. His psychic urge for supremacy is satisfied—and he is, actually, healthier than he would have been if he had stayed at home.

Perhaps this explains more things than our fondness for watching baseball, football and boxing contests. It may explain, also, our age-old tendency to be hero worshippers in other walks of life.

Lindbergh, for instance, did something that none of us can ever do, but that all of us, secretly, would like to do. He triumphed over darkness, loneliness and fear. Quite aside from the mechanics of flying, we know that we ourselves could never do that. We should not have the nerve. So we transfer our desires to Lindy's shoulders, and share in his victory.

Then there was a president named Roosevelt. He was the very thing that we would like to be and are not. He was outspoken always. He feared neither man nor devil. He had a genius for defying powerful people, powerful forces.

We—most of, anyhow—are too submissive for our own good, and we know it. But Teddy—couldn't we identify ourselves with him, bare our teeth when he bared his, thunder when he thundered, rage when he raged? We could and we did; and Roosevelt, in consequence was idolized by million of people.

It'll be a long time before the race gets over its hero worship. If the day comes when all men are brave, loyal, honest, farsighted and energetic, the Roosevelts and Lindberghs will lose their lustre—just as Babe Ruth and Red Grange wouldn't excite a race of athletes.

Until then, however, most of us will have to take our triumphs at second hand.

Not So Many

Every literary magazine and every newspaper column of literary criticism and gossip remarks quite frequently that the country is fairly being deluged with a flood of new books. One gathers that more books are being printed in America than ever before.

Statistics, however, prove the contrary to be true. As long ago as 1919 there were 13,740 different books published in this country. In 1928, when we were supposed to have many more authors and publishing houses, the total had fallen to 10,345.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says the fellow who tries to kiss a girl in a car had better be careful for the light that lies in her eyes may be a stop light.

Although The Plainsman has hoped that by some way or another the recalcitrant forces of Lubbock and Slaton could be brought together under a county-wide hardsurface roads campaign it begins to look like there isn't a chance for such an event to occur. For that reason this column has reached the conclusion that the only thing for Lubbock and this part of the county to do is to get behind the District Two campaign and put it over.

Let Lubbock's proposition be passed, contracts let and actual construction begun and Slaton, plus its allies in the southern part of the county, will get some action—don't you fear. This county, in the opinion of this column, needs a county-wide system of roads. If we can't get them all in one lump we should get it by what folks used to call "dribblings". Half a loaf, you know, is better than no bread, and likewise, part of a system of paved roads is to be desired if we can't get the whole business.

The Plainsman wouldn't bet a plugged nickel, one way or another, on the outcome of the next road bond election. Some folks believe it will carry—that the people in this section of the county will refuse to be flimflammed again and will not permit the issue to be clouded with a lot of hokum. Others believe the Slaton-Lubbock split will prove disastrous and for the third time the voters of this county will be content to inform the world that Lubbock county is perfectly satisfied with the ancient practice of careening over slippery and bumpy roads. Time alone, will tell the story.

Behind the clouds of this uncertainty, however, The Plainsman sees on ray of sunshine. That is, the leaders and business men of Lubbock and this part of Lubbock county are determined that some day—as soon as possible—Lubbock county will have paved roads. When a condition like that prevails it means only one thing—namely that paved highways for all of us are going to come in time.

If the next election goes by the boards there will be another. If it is beaten there will be another—and so on down the line. Sooner or later the voters, generally, are going to get tired of bad roads and are going to stop looking at them through rose colored glasses. When that happens there will be action and plenty of it.

We can probably get along for a few more years without paved roads. We have already gone too long without them and most of us are still eating three squares a day and are not faced with the necessity of sleeping in the rain. But since it is evident on the face of things that the paved roads are coming this column can't understand why people don't go ahead and vote them now and get it over with. Those of us who are only going to be sticking around for a few more years will be given a longer opportunity to enjoy them before shuffling off this mortal coil!

The only thing we heed to get this bond issue over and to get the roads to insure Lubbock's future economic position, is for people to start looking just a few inches past their noses in this matter of admittedly great import. When that happens everything will be lovely and the goose, if any, will be hanging high.

That Man on Avenue Q says one touch of scandal makes the whole world chin.

Looking at Lubbock's augmented skyline and the rows upon rows of fine, comfortable dwellings, the casual observer is certain to make the mental comment that here, in the center of an economic empire, is a city of promise. And he'll probably continue to hold that opinion—if he doesn't pay too much attention to the way the average person drives an automobile along the streets of the South Plains capital.

Honest and no foolin', The Plainsman is of the opinion that it is easier to drive in Chicago or New York than it is in Lubbock, not that he has ever driven in either of those places but he has talked to folks who have. He does, however, know that its easier to drive in Dallas or Fort Worth, or any one of several of the other larger cities of the Southwest.

If it weren't for our broad streets we'd be in a terrible predicament. Having plenty of space to zig-zag around drivers, with their hands on the wheel and their minds in Arkansas, does help some but it doesn't make driving in Lubbock a bit more pleasant. What most of us need to do is to remember that the other fellow has a few rights, too, and think about it while we're driving. That's about the only way there is to benefit conditions.

We don't suppose that Texas Tech has a greater percentage of literary students than any other college but the rumor persists that many of them write short stories home to the folks.

There are two times in the life of every man when he could not understand a woman—before he married her and afterwards.

Being frank is saying things to people that you wouldn't want them to say to you.

"Without-Or-With, Offense To Friends Or Foes, We Sketch Your World Exactly As It Goes"—Byron

Uncle Andy Mellon Is Not Happy—The Stock Market Hit The Bottom And He's Displeased, Rodney Dutcher Avers

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—It's a sad world and at the moment nothing in it seems much sadder than the case of Uncle Andrew Mellon, the second or third richest man in the world.

To goodness knows how many flattened stock market speculators Uncle Mellon has suddenly become a fallen idol. There was, you may recall, a suspicion rife in the land that as long as Uncle Mellon remained in charge of the national finances nothing could happen to business and the stock market but bigger profits and better prices. Thus, untoward business developments and bad days on the exchange were frequently attributed to the most recent reports that he was going to resign.

Suddenly Mr. Hoover stamped down on those annoying reports with the public announcement that Uncle Mellon would serve out his four-year term as secretary of the treasury. The explanation was that this announcement would serve to make Wall Street happy and encourage investors. After that, everying was supposed to be rosy in the world of commerce and finance.

And Then It Happened

After that, as a matter of fact, came the deluge. Within a fortnight after the country had been reassured about Uncle Melon the stock market plunged into the grandest series of crashes in its history. It couldn't have been any worse had the secretary been summarily fired. Of course you can't blame it on "the greatest secretary of the treasury since Hamilton," but it does seem to have punctured what might be called the Mellon myth.

Uncle Mellon remains a remarkable man for all that. He is going to serve 12 years at the head of the treasury, breaking all records. And the strangest part of it is that in the last eight years he has been subjected to a steadier and more vigorous stream of criticism than any other cabinet member who can be recalled. The Mellon critics never let up. There is little of which he hasn't been accused. Various attempts have been made to force him out. And yet here he is, still active in his 76th year and holding onto his dearly beloved job like grim death.

Mr. Hoover, there is every good reason to believe, had expected Uncle Mellon to resign within a year after satisfaction of his playful ambition to serve under three presidents. All the boys "close to Hoover," on and off the White House payroll, seemed to agree about that. They were pretty well agreed as to whom Hoover had picked to succeed him. As time went on, however, some began to express the fear that Uncle Mellon might forget.

Now one story is that he suddenly grew very sour about these constant rumors of his impending resignation and went right over to the White House about it. And that the president hastily assured him that nothing was further from the presidential mind than the hope that he would quit. Because, after all, Uncle Mellon is a very powerful person and it would not do Mr. Hoover the least bit of good to have him walk out in a huff. It might even have seriously disturbed the stock market. So Mr. Hoover announced to the world that Mr. Mellon was in until 1933.

Another current explanation—and perhaps a more likely one—is that, as Mr. Hoover began to override his policies and push him farther and farther into the background, Uncle Mellon began to freeze him. He missed some cabinet meetings and sat silent and grime at others. Thus he got Mr. Hoover to worrying until the president decided the best thing to do was to make that announcement.

Up to that time it looked as if Mellon had kept his job but lost all his tail feathers. Hoover had been boldly snubbing him. Mellon had defied many senators for years with his policy of secrecy for tax refunds. After ten days in office Hoover stood Mellon on his head by declaring a policy of publicity. Mellon declared against appointment of Robert H. Lucas as commissioner of internal revenue and Hoover promptly appointed Lucas. Mellon said one thing about the impossibility of tax reduction and Hoover said another. Mellon said France would be given more time to pay her $400,000,000 debt due last summer and Hoover said it couldn't be done. Mellon recommended one man to be assistant secretary of the treasury and Hoover appointed someone else.

And Now We'll See

These and other things rankled with Uncle Mellon and strengthened the rumors of his prospective resignation. It almost semed as if Mr. Hoover were implying to Mr. Mellon that the days of his power and glory were over and that the sooner he resigned the better.

Further developments in the relations between Hoover and Mellon will be interesting and possibly instructive.

The president probably is thinking how lucky it is that he didn't let Uncle Mellon out just before the crash came to Wall Street. Otherwise Wall Street would now be piling the blame high on the White House steps.

The Horse Laugh

NEW YORK—An airplane has been given a horse laugh. Richard F. Hoyt, chairman of the Curtiss-Wright corporation, had to come from Warrenton, Pa., by automobile, abandoning a disabled plane. His party had left the plane in a pasture for the night. In the morning they found so much of the fabric eaten from the tail that the plane could not be used. A horse who showed little appetite for grass was nearby with stray threads of wing fabric hanging from his teeth.

Quite An Idea

NEW HAVEN—Somebody is planning a $5,000,000 transoceanic plane that will carry 500 passengers and a crew of 104, if Harry R. Westcott, an engineer, has things straight. He says he has seen drawings and his firm has been asked to bid on some phases of the construction.

A Tough Break

BASEL, Switzerland—There is a serious objection to the selection of this city as the site of the International bank. No golf course seems to be handy. "That is a great drawback to directors' meetings," said M. A. Traylor of Chicago after he came from Brussles and looked over things.

A New Wrinkle

NEW YORK—One of the football coaches at New York university dictates a running story of every game into a recording device. The transcription runs to about 25 pages. The idea is to have complete information as to the team's errors of commission and omission.

Smart Fella

PRINCETON, N. J.—A great boon to alumni and other football nuts seems possible. A contributor to the Princeton Alumni weekly has a simple method by which everybody at a game can have as good a seat as anybody else. It is to build a stadium on a track and have it revolve during the game.

The Karolyis finally have been admitted to this country. That was the reason, of course, for the recent market crash.

THE WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Fair tonight and Thursday; colder in southeast portion tonight, temperature 16 to 24 in north, and 24 to 30 over south portion Thursday morning.

EAST TEXAS: Generally fair tonight and Thursday; colder tonight with freezing near yto the coast and hard freeze north portion. Fresh to strong northerly winds this afternoon and tonight, diminishing Thursday.

OKLAHOMA: Fair tonight and Thursday; somewhat colder in the southeast portion tonight, temperature 18 to 24 over north and 25 to 30 over south portion Thursday morning.

ARKANSAS: Generally fair, colder with hard freeze in north and west, and freezing in southeast portion tonight; Thursday fair, continued cold.

It begins to appear that some of the protective tariff people failed to protect thmselves.

The New York judge who sentenced a man to jail because he was lazy probably merely sent him up for a stretch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—The days of the old lantern slide gent of the Chautauqua circuit, who regaled us with words and views of travels in Mongolia, are not only numbered—but the numbers look strangely like 13.

The "talkie travelogue" has suddenly appeared in the land and not only can the pictures speak for themselves, but they can use the voices of all the celebrated explorers of the moment.

What's more, the inventive young man from General Electric, Radio Corporation and way laboratories have made it possible for the machinery to be placed in the family Ford and taken from town to town. Thus, there seems no reason why the most provincial outpost should not hear Captain Dyott discoursing on "Hunting Tigers in India" or listen in on William Beebe, Dr. Raymond Ditmars, the Martin Johnsons or Harold McCracken.

As a matter of fact, all these names will be connected with talking pictures of their exploits in the future. A number of pictures made under the auspices of the American Museum of Natural History are to be tied up with dramatic talking sequences by the persons who engaged in the adventure, and Talking Pictures Epics will turn them out.

This innovation in the picture field, following on the heels of William Fox's announcement that he will turn out talkie courses for the schools and Sunday sermons for the churches, indicates the beginning of the educational trend in sound pictures. Since the films and the equipment can be carried about the countryside and distributed in thousands of places upon a single evening, it appears to be the end of the old-fashioned travel lecturer with his colored slides.

At the moment, the Johnsons are recording, in a New York studio, a lecture to accompany their next picture.

Whenever a Manhattan skyscraper is finished, the steel worker marks his final efforts by planting an American flag atop the metal spire above the building.

Wherefore, at the moment a flag waves from the highest point yet achieved by any national emblem—to-wit, the spire of the Chrysler. But I'd as soon that someone else had watched him placing it there. I've had an uncomfortable feeling in the belt region ever since.

Which reminds me that when the new Waldorf is completed, inbound trains will stop directly beneath the giant structures and, for the first time in history, passengers will be able to walk directly from their trains will stop directly beneath the giant structures and, for the first time in history, passengers will be able to walk directly from their trains into an elevator which will hoist them to their rooms if they care to stop there.

Also the competition for the skies which has been going on between the Chrysler and the new Manhattan Life buildings has amused more than a few New Yorkers.

Each tried to grab off the title of the world's tallest edifice, though it would be a short-lived distinction. For many days each building refused publicly to divulge its exact height, and as fast as one made an announcement the other would add a few inches. Finally it came to a question of the flag spires and the competition finally ended in something of a draw.

Among the paraders of Fifth avenue who appear nightly with a dog in leash has suddenly been added a heroic young man who appears occasionally with an elegant looking cat. Seemingly unembarrassed by the attention he attracts, he marches the well-behaved feline up and down and disappears around a fashionable corner in the Fifties.

An American, visiting in London, says the English girl who drinks, smokes and goes without stockings doesn't shock anybody. That must be disappointing for her.

By the way, what ever happened to that fellow who started out in spring with the avowed intention of curing his alice?

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

WEIGHT LOSS IN STARTING ENCOURAGING
Hunger In Reducing

"I have your rules for reducing weight and have attempted to carry them out several times, but each time have failed. My problem is hunger: I am incessantly hungry, and can eat at all hours of the day or night. Each time I started to diet, I have either fainted, been seized with nausea, or have suffered violent headaches. I would be nervous and irritable until I had eaten the accustomed meal, at the usual hour. I seldom eat bread, potatoes or fatty foods but I do crave desserts.

"I am 28 years old, height 5 feet 5 inches, and weigh 148. Have stayed at this weight since the birth of my baby three years ago, and prior to that I weighed 125. Please help me. MRS. K."

In our reducing instructions, we advise going on a shrinking stomach period of one to three days' liquid diet, consisting of 600 to 800 calories of milk (whole, skim or buttermilk,) soups, fruit juices, fruitades, etc. This not only causes a lot of the body fat to be burned for fuel, but it also causes the stomach to contract so that not so much food is demanded, and it rids the body of a lot of stored water which was necessary before because of the concentration of the blood and tissue fluids. From six to ten pounds in weight are usually lost during this period. This, of course, causes great elation and a noble impulse to carry on.

Oftentimes, if a headache develops while on the liquid diets, a slice of bread with one of your liquid refreshments will dissipate it. There are some who cannot go on this liquid diet without burning the'r own fat so rapidly that they get an acidosis, with severe headaches and other disagreable symptoms. As this immediate shrinking of the stomach isn't a necessary procedure, it should be ommitted and meals taken at the regular time. But enough food must be omitted from them so that not enough is taken to supply all of the needs for internal and external activities and heat, and cause the body fat to be called upon to supply the deficit. You must learn the caloric values of foods and the general principles of diet so you will know what you can omit.

You might try making one of your meals a fruit meal — two or three ordinary sized apples or oranges or other fruit—200 to 300 calories.

You're not very much overweight Mrs. K.—only about 10 pounds—if you are 5 feet 5 inches in your stocking feet, for, according to our rule of allowing 110 pounds for 5 feet in height (in stocking feet,) and 5 1-2 pounds for each inch over that, you should weigh 137. We grant 5 per cent from this weight to allow for heaviness of framework, and it may be possible that your bones are small and you should weigh some under this figure.

I don't imagine your problem is hunger. It's appetite. Hunger means real contraction of the stomach, sometimes painful, due to an actual need for food, while appetite is more related to pleasant remembrances of tastes and smells of foods, so has psychic elements in its composition. Naturally, appetite and hunger are inter-related, hunger usually being associated with appetite—not always. But appetite is not necessarily associated with hunger. Appetite, to the extent you are experiencing it, and as all overweight experience it, is a habit which you will overcome by not giving in to it. The thing that helps me, when appetite alone assails is saying to myself: "It won't be any easier tomorrow!"

Our pamphlet giving instructions on Reducing and Gaining can be obtained by following column rules.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. If she considers your questions of general interest, they will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles on hand must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin for each; for the pamphlets on "Reducing and Gaining," "The Kidney and Its Excretions," and the "Hygiene of Women," 10 cents in coin (for each) and full, self-addressed, stamped envelope must be enclosed. (These charges are to cover the cost of printing and handling.) Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

STOCK RECOVERY ON CONSERVATIVE BASIS ADVOCATED
BY JOSEPH T. ROBINSON, Senator From Arkansas

(Joseph Taylor Robinson was born at Lonoke, Ark., Aug. 26, 1872. He was educated at the University of Arkansas. Admitted to the bar in 1895, he is now a member of a law firm at Little Rock, Ark. Elected to congress in 1903 from the sixth Arkansas district, he served until 1913 when he was elected governor of that state. He resigned from office the same year and was elected senator. In 1918 and 1925 he was re-elected. He is a Democrat.)

Confidence in business conditions in the United States has been disturbed and somewhat upset by the recent collapse of the stock market. The finanfial world has witnessed an amazing spectacle. It was the culmination of unprecedented speculation in stocks, a process which has been going on for many months.

J. T. ROBINSON

As anyone might have anticipated, and as some did foresee, millions of small investors lost their resources and are involved in bankruptcy and ruin. Hundreds of thousands, perhaps several millions, of citizens of limited resources have seen their savings disappear in a financial maelstrom which has also drawn into its vortex some who until recently believed themselves rich.

Never in the history of the world have the values of stocks advanced so rapidly, and perhaps with so little justification, as during the last several months. Funds were withdrawn from all forms of conservative investments and employed in speculative ventures. Securities, including bonds which were unquestionably safe, have found no purchasers.

Political agencies and large financial concerns are censurable for encouraging speculation in preference to conservative investments. No one in authority stood in the way or resisted the movement—a movement which clearly from its inception foreshadowed disaster.

Until the storm had come in full fury little if any warning was given to the helpless to seek shelter from its wrath.

The power and prestige of the United States has been greatly lessened in the eyes of everyone. All Americans shrink with shame at the humiliating spectacle. In justice and in fairness the hope is born that readjustment will be prompt and recovery speedy. That in the future prudence and sound judgement will predominate; that political authorities will refrain fro mfanning speculative enthusiasm into a flame and then refusing to quench the flame before it has consumed so much of the wealth and destroyed so much of the happiness of blameless and innocent people.

Confidence will return and stocks will recover so that their prices will bear fair relationship to actual values. These conditions and results, however, may best be promoted by frank recognition of the certainty that conservatism will supersede recklessness in business affairs and that this may mean some shrinkage in the volume of business transacted for a considerable time.

WALL STREET OPEN EASIER

GAINS AND LOSSES IN EARLY TRADING ARE EVENLY DIVIDED

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Stock prices opened irregular today with gains and losses about evenly divided in initial transactions. U. S. Steel common opened 2 1-2 points higher at 156 and consolidated gas recorded a similar gain. Radio and commercial solvents each opened a point higher. American telephone dropped 2 3-4 and Grigsby Grunow and Missouri, Kansas & Texas each fell back about 2 points. Early trading was not as heavy as yesterday although several blocks of 5,000 to nearly 30,000 shares changed hands.

Selling in the first half hour was in hugh volume, as thinly margined stock was spilled overboard as result of yesterday's precipitious drop, but selling was readily absorbed, and strong buying came into leading shares. U. S. Steel soon ran up 6 1-4 points to 159 3-4. American and Foreign Power gained 4 1-2 points, General Electric 11 1-4, Montgomery-Ward 11-2, and Kennecott 1.

News Is Favorable

The day's news was largely favorable. Freight car loadings declined sharply during the latest week, and further curtailment of steel production was reported, but these developments are largely seasonal.

Most early losses in leading stocks were about 1 to 3 points. The largest block to appear on the tape was 50,000 shares of Packard at 14 7-8, off 1-8. Before its upturn, General Electric sold down 2 1-2 points, and such shares as United Corp., Standard of New Jersey, Commercial Solvents, Atlantic Refining, and International Nickel lost a point or more.

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with sterling unchanged at $4.87 11-16.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 13. (AP)—All grain scoured quick early advances today, helped by unlooked for upturns in Liverpool wheat and by a better tone in the stock market.

NEW ORLEANS OPENING EASY

LOWER CABLES BACK OF EARLY LOSSES IN SOUTHERN CITY

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13 (AP)—Owing to much lower cables than due, the cotton market had an easy opening, and first trades showed losses of 13 to 15 points. The market eased slightly after the start, December trading down to 16.37; January to 16.68 and March to 16.99, or 15 to 16 points below yesterday's close. As the stock market opened somewhat better, there was short covering, and prices toward the end of the first hour, rallied, December trading at 16.69, January at 16.80 and March at 17.10, or 11 to 12 points above the lows and 3 to 4 points under yesterday's close.

After the first hour of trading the market improved on early reports from the stock market. December traded up to 16.73 and January to 16.85, or 16 to 17 points above the early lows. Prospects for freezing weather probably helped the improvement. Less favorable reports from the stock market later caused prices to drop back and December traded down to 16.56 and January to 16.71, or 1 to 3 points above the previous lows.

NEW YORK HAS STEADY START

DECLINE OF 7 TO 15 POINTS IS NOTED AT OPENING

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. — The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 7 to 15 points, but active months sold 14 to 22 points net lower under selling inspired by weakness in Liverpool an reaction of yesterday's market. Initial offerings were absorbed by trade demand around 16.76 for January, and prices became steadier. January rallied to 16.85 and a good part of early closes were recovered with active months holding steady at net declines of five to seven points at the end of the first half hour.

The rally from the opening decline carried the market up to 16.92 for January and 17.46 for May, or a point or two above yesterday's close. There was not much Southern selling, and the market showed indications of its improved technical position, but offerings increased slightly at the advance and prices eased, influenced by the easier tone of stocks and wheat. At midday January was selling around 16.84 and May 17.38 with the market 7 to 9 points net lower.

PERPETUAL CARE

REASONS WHY!

The purchase of a cemetery lot is an obligation that sooner or later will have to be met. Being indispensable, it is better attended to when we may, than when we must. The time to make such choice is when there is abundant opportunity for deliberation and wise selection; not to wait until distracted with grief or worn out with weary watching and care in a sick room.

It is a comforting thought to the survivors to have a place of interment already secured at beautiful Memorial Park. Prudence suggests that we look forward to future requirements, as the purchase of a lot should be but once in the history of the family.

Interested persons are solicited to visit and inspect beautiful Memorial Park.

RECEPTION IS PLANNED HERE

WICHITA FALLS FOLKS TO BE FETED HERE AT GRID GAME

We are planning a hospitable reception for 400 or 500 Wichita Falls football fans who will arrive here Friday for the Westerner-Coyote game, M. H. Duncan, superintendent of city school, announced this morning.

"The Lubbock high school band and the pep squad will meet the train at 12:30 p. m. and there will be an ample number of automobiles to provide transportation for the visitors," he said. "Encouraged by recent victory and the possibility of tying for the district title, in the event that the Coyotes win all remaining games, Wichita Falls has become ambitious in the district football race. The special train is being sponsored by the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce and we are expecting the local chamber to assist us in receiving the visitors.

"We will give Wichita Falls a real welcome, but we will not give the Coyotes the game."

Adults, Too, Prefer 'No Dosing' for Colds

Millions Adopt External Remedy Made Famous As Treatment For Children's Colds

A generation ago, when Vicks VapoRub was originated, the idea of treating colds without "dosing" was almost unheard of. Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Mothers of young children especially have been quick to appreciate this better, external method of treating colds, because there's nothing to swallow and, of course, nothing to upset the little ones' delicate stomachs. Year by year more and more adults, too, have found Vicks equally good for their own colds.

Just rubbed on, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster; and, at the same time, it releases medicated vapors which are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages.

Ever-increasing demand for this better method of treating colds is shown in the familiar Vicks slogan. Made famous when Vicks reached "17 Million Jars Used Yearly"—later raised to "21 Million"—there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly." (Adv.)

Even on cold winter nights your motor starts "right now" when fueled with Phillips 66. Here's a gasoline with volatility controlled to fit the season and the climatic conditions of the locality in which you buy it. Combines for the first time, instant cold weather starting and quick warm-up—flexibility at all engine speeds—mileage and power—at no extra cost. CONTROLLED VOLATILITY

WHEN THE THERMOMETER GOES DOWN THE VOLATILITY GOES UP. Gasoline must vaporize before it can be fired in the cylinders of your motor. Volatility refers to the ability of gasoline to vaporize. With volatility controlled, Phillips 66 vaporizes as quickly in cold as in warm weather.

CITY PLAN IS STUDIED HERE

LEADERS HOLD FIRST OF SERIES OF MEETINGS

Preliminary discussion toward forming a definite city plan for Lubbock was advanced last night at a meeting of City commissioners, the city plan committee, the Board of City Development and visiting engineers.

Julian Montgomery and Joe Ward city plan engineers, of Wichita Falls, outlined what they considered a feasible proposal at the meeting.

Another Meet Soon

Leaders of the movement here contemplate another meeting of similar nature within the next three or four months in order that they may obtain plans from other engineers. Various engineering firms are sending representatives here on the invitation of the city plan committee of the Board of City Development and at the suggestion of the city commission.

Many Lubbock citizens have voiced a desire during the past few months for an adequate and economic plan to be adopted by which property values may be stabilized for the future and restricted in a reasonable measure the encroachment upon residential property by business and vice versa, and the definite establishment of industrial areas, whereby those owning property in the areas affected may rest secure that the purpose for which the improvements were made are concerned. It has been pointed out that there is nothing in the city plan idea which is calculated to work any serious injury to anyone but is a carefully thought out plan for Lubbock's future development.

SEEK BETTER COTTON

SNYDER, Nov. 12—With the cotton outlook bad in Scurry county, agitation has become insistent against the planting of half and half cotton. A longer staple from a well-known seed concern is being argued. Hermleigh farmers are endeavoring to concentrate on one breed, who in turn are going to try and line up the entire county.

CITY ELECTION PLAN AT BORGER GAINS POPULARITY; PETITION SIGNED BY MANY

(By Associated Press)

STINNETT, Nov. 13—Citizens of of Borger who objected to the arbitrary manner in which Governor Dan Moody, with the aid of martial law, replaced the county and city administrations following the assassination of District Attorney John A. Holmes last September, gathered their strength today in an attempt to force a city election.

County Judge H. M. Hood arranged to hear a petition signed by at least ten percent of the qualified voters of Borger, asking that an election be called to select a mayor and a city commission.

Calhoun Made Choice

The former administration resigned when representatives of Governor Moody announced, while the town was under martial law, that civil rule would not be restored until an administration satisfactory to the state was installed. A set of officers approved by District Attorney Clem Calhoun was then installed.

Those seeking a new election said they had no protest to make against the officers so installed, but asserted that when a whole administration resigns in one day the law requires a new election. Some of the most prominent men in the oil fields, including A. P. Borger, townsite promoter, signed the petition.

Motorcyclists Are Facing Austin Ban

AUSTIN, Nov. 13. (AP)—After the fatal injury of two people in motorcycle accidents here last night, Adam R. Johnson, city manager, said that he would seek an ordinance preventing two persons from riding on a motorcycle.

Johnson also ordered the drafting of ordinances prohibiting more than two persons from riding in the front seat of an automobile and restraining persons from riding on the sides of automobiles.

Ima Ree Wheeler of Bryan, and Clarence Alexander, university freshman from Runge, were fatally injured in two motorcycles accident in and near Austin last night.

Some people believe in law and order — if they can lay down the law and give the orders.

BOY HELD FOR BANK ROBBERY

PAROLED LAD, SPOUSE AND RELATIVES ARE CAUGHT IN CHASE

(By Associated Press)

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Nov. 13—Accused of looting five central Indiana banks since his release on parole from the state reformatory last May, Gene Alger, 25-year-old former Butler university student, was held in jail here today.

Alger was captured by Sheriff Hal K. Hughes yesterday near Henryville, Ind., after an automobile chase in which several shots were fired. With him were his wife Josephine, 23; his brother, Gail, 17, and Gail's wife, Burnette, 17.

Wanted to See Mother

The chase started when the four were recognized on a street here. Mrs. Gene Alger, red-headed daughter of a Jeffersonville police sergeant explained they had come to this city because she was "sick to see her mother."

"They maintained their innocence of bank robbery charges. Officials of the state Bureau of Criminal identification, however, said the girl sat in Alger's car ready for a getaway while he robbed banks at Paris Crossing, Summitville, Gaston, Matthews and La Fantaine, all small Indiana towns.

FIELD EXTENDED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 13 (AP)—The south Oklahoma City oil field was extended one-half mile northeast today when the Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas company Number 1 Browning oil well was brought in with an estimated flow by heads of 8,000 barrels a day.

I've Tried It Out And I Know Says Amarillo Man

J. J. McKnight Says: "Orgatone Beats Anything I Ever Saw In My Life."

J. J. McKnight, a well known groceryman of 113 N. McMasters St., is one of the best pleased men in Amarillo, and when he talks of what Orgatone has done for him, the genuineness of his enthusiasm never fails to convince his hearers that his faith is well founded.

"I've tried it out and I know," he stated, "and I want to say right here and now that what five bottles of this Orgatone has done for me beats anything I ever saw in my life! I was so bilious that when I'd get up in the morning I would feel more tired and worn out than when I went to bed.

"The fact is, I hadn't felt like a well man in over ten years, for my stomach just seemed to go back on me entirely and I couldn't digest anything right and I didn't get any nourishment from what I'd eat. My appetite failed me and things got so they didn't taste right, and most of my food didn't seem to have any taste at all.

"I would have severe headaches a great part of the time and couldn't sleep at night, and would have pains all through my stomach and would feel sore and stiff. I had little or no energy and was so blue over my condition that I was out of sorts most of the time, for I didn't see how I was going to keep up much longer if my condition kept getting worse.

"Since I got onto this Orgatone, and took a few bottles of it, I feel one hundred per cent better, and just as cheerful as the next one you'll come across. I eat good, sleep good, and everything tastes good and don't disagree with me the least particle. To make a long story short, all these old troubles have left me, and I am feeling simply fine.

"I've told a lot of my neighbors about this medicine and I know a good many that are taking it, one of them a friend of mine, who began taking it about the same time I did, says it has done him a world of good. He was in bad shape but now looks just like a different person.

"I can't say enough about this medicine—it's certainly great."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Lubbock at Bowens Drug Store. Adv.
