Sue's Views

We were so excited this week when Evangelynn Coleman called us and said, "Ask me about my grandbabies." We were aware of the fact that Sandee was expecting to be the mother of two, but when we found out she had given birth to three, we just couldn't believe it!

Sandee and my daughter, Susan, have been chums since we moved to Olton about 13 years ago. Of course, her mom and I were school chums back to the "olden" days. So we are especially happy for Sandee and Jim. We hope all goes well with the little ones.

******

A little moisture fell here Thursday night and it was still quite damp Friday morning. I'm sure it was a welcome sight to area farmers and probably they'd like to see it keep it up for about a week. Sure would help out on those gas bills.

Now, we have to brag a little.

We received a request from a representative in Austin for our paper and we (being the pessimists that we are) decided it was a mistake, because he didn't represent our district.

So, on the form we have to fill out for a legislator to receive a paper, we asked if they really wanted the Olton paper.

When the letter arrived back in Austin, a secretary called us asking what the question was. So we explained that since the representative did not represent this area, we wondered if maybe it should have been sent to another newspaper office in the State. So the secretary checked it out and sure enough! Buddy Temple wanted our paper . . . . he'd heard it was a good paper and he wanted to subscribe. We welcome Mr. Temple to our list of subscribers and we'll try to keep up our reputation of putting out a good paper.

Former Olton Girl Is Mother Of Triplets

A former Olton girl became the mother of triplets Tuesday in El Paso.

Mrs. R. James Akers, the former Sandee Coleman, gave birth to two boys and a girl in the William Beaumont Hospital in El Paso. James Dan weighed three pounds and two ounces; Robert Shane weighed two pounds and 10 ounces; and Jill Suzanne weighed two pounds and six ounces.

Mrs. Akers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F.B. Coleman who live east of town. Proud great grandparents also live in Olton, Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Burrows and Mr. Floyd Coleman.

The babies, although premature, were reportedly doing fine at press time, as was their mother.

The triplets' father, 1st Lt. Akers, and Sandee were married in Olton in July of 1973. He is with the U.S. Army and had been stationed in El Paso for the past several years.

Veteran Walker

Two Miles An Hour

FLOYD COLEMAN

"Walking is as natural as breathing," says Dr. Paul Dudley White. It is a statement of literal fact as well as a personal philosophy for the renown cardiologist.

Enthusiasts of the activity Webster defines as "to move along by foot," abound locally but none are more devoted than Floyd Coleman.

"I wouldn't be here if I hadn't kept exercising," says the 89-year-old Oltonite who has lived in the area since 1925. Weather permitting, he traverses the town section twice each day.

Temperatures have to drop "a little below freezing" before it is too cold for the veteran walker to make his "rounds." Strong winds, too, can force him to get his exercise within the confines of his home.

Coleman has made his home with a daughter, Mrs. Ivin Wozencraft, since his wife's death in December of 1972. Parents of seven children who lived to be grown, they lived on their farm east of Olton until her poor health prompted their move to town.

Grandfather of 18, Coleman's number of great-grandchildren was boosted last week to 31 when a granddaughter, Sandee Coleman Akers, became the mother of triplets.

Eyes twinkle when he says he has not "always walked."

"There were several months before I did," he says smiling.

Nor did he always walk to school. His early life, when his family lived at Grapevine, he rode in a buggy even though they lived just two and a half miles from school.

When his family moved north of Hereford in 1901, he recalls that he did walk the three miles distance to a small one-teacher summer school.

Growing up, he walked countless miles back of a walking plow. "We still used walking plows even after there were a good many riding plows," he recalls.

His lifelong pleasure in walking however did not lesson his appreciation of that modern advancement when it came.

Remembering his years of tilling the soil of his farm east of town, Coleman says, "I've walked all over it."

"I remember lots of times," his daughter remembers, "when he'd get out and walk over the fields on Sunday, even if he'd just walked over it the day before. After a week of hoeing, we weren't interested in walking, but he was."

Coleman's cane and florescent cap have become accustomed sights to local motorists. When he spent some time last year in Hale Center, at least two Oltonites driving in that city were taken aback when they spotted his familiar frame.

When temperatures are low, Coleman dons coveralls and coat and says he has no problem keeping warm except for his hands and ears. His cane is carried primarily for balance. When his walking is confined to the house, he does without the aid.

Coleman's walking begins with the four blocks from his daughter's house to the mid-point of the town's south boundary. By the time he covers those blocks twice each day, circles the city two times and retraces the four blocks back home, he has added more than nine miles to the untold number already trod.

Variety is added to his "route" by alternating directions but one soon believes that the strolling senior citizen would not find monotony if there were no change.

His course is also adaptable to "damp" weather. He avoids the mud by retracing his steps along the drier ways.

Coleman walks about two miles per hour. "I used to be able to get three miles an hour but I just can't do that any more," he says.

When confined to the house, he walks for two hours each morning and two in the afternoon, figuring that is about equal to his achievement in the great outdoors.

"They're real good to me," he says of his daughter's family. "They let me walk all I want to and they feed me good."

The Wozencraft household is a home spanning four generations, including two young grandsons, Darrell and Danny Wozencraft.

Dimming eyesight keeps Coleman from recognizing most of the people he meets on his outings but a tip of the can still says "hello." Frequently friends and acquaintances will tell him they honked at him in passing. He acknowledges that honking motorists must be "someone who knows me."

Comfortable shoes (he completely wore the heels off one pair) aid his walking but he admits he still has some discomfort with his feet. "Nothing serious, but my feet hurt some. My legs bother me at night some -- I don't know, maybe they're trying to tell me not to walk," he laughs.

One who knows Floyd Coleman, knows that he says that only in teasing jest.

Baseball Meet Set

A meeting for all persons interested in the summer baseball program has been called for Monday, Feb. 14, according to Dale Haynes.

Olton Representatives At Seagraves Banquet

Representatives of Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture were in attendance at the 54th annual Seagraves Area Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Guest speaker at the event was Gov. Dolph Briscoe. Chamber officials stated Briscoe's visit was the first in Seagraves by a Texas Governor while still in office.

Held in Community building in Seagraves, some 250 people were in attendance.

"Energy" was the main theme of the Governor's address, and he stated that he felt Texas had done her part.

He said that he was "tired of energy short states accusing Texas of withholding oil and gas from the rest of the nation. It is time for other states to do their part in producing energy."

He continued to say that Texas resources should be used to solve Texas energy problems. He feels that other states have failed to develop energy problems to protect their own ecology.

He further admitted that if we are to maintain adequate resources we must turn our attention to coal and other areas for energy. He feels that this is of utmost importance and he acknowledged the importance of West Texas in the total economy of the State.

Producer Director To Be Elected

Lamb County cotton producers and agribusinessmen will elect a Producer Director to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. at a 7:30 a.m. breakfast meeting on Friday, Feb. 18 at the Sagebrush Inn, Littlefield. PCG will host the breakfast.

Smith of Sudan, current Producer Director. Each of the counties in PCG territory has two directors, one a businessman and the other a cotton producer. They are elected on alternate years to serve two-year terms. Each is eligible for re-election every second year.

Bennett and Smith are urging all interested parties to attend and take part in the election, in which both farmers and businessmen are eligible to vote.

Donald Johnson, PCG Executive Vice President, will conduct the election and present a brief summary of PCG objectives and activities and answer any questions concerning the commodity organization and its work.

Hearing Set By Water, Inc.

Area residents are invited to attend a public hearing Friday, Feb. 18 at 2 p.m. in Lubbock's Hilton Inn. The hearing, on revisions of the 1968 Texas Water Plan, is being conducted by the Texas Water Development Board in conjunction with the 10th Annual Membership Meeting of Water, Incorporated.

The Texas Water Development board is authorized by the Constitution to prepare and maintain a state water plan to insure that adequate resources are available to meet the current and future needs of Texas residents.

WITH REVISIONS of the water plan nearing completion, the TWDB is expected to present its recommendations to the state legislature during the current session. Rose has said the revisions will address the water needs of all sections of Texas.

Rose joins U.S. Rep. Jack Hightower and New Mexico State University President Gerald Thomas as speakers for the Water, Inc., meeting. He was a special assistant and executive director of the division of planning coordination under Gov. Briscoe before he was named executive director of the TWDB.

Olton Lions Accepting Applications For Camp

Olton Lions are accepting applications for summer camping fun for handicapped and/or diabetic children in the Olton area.

Texas Lions League has operated a crippled children's camp at Kerrville for 24 years and is again offering two camping sessions at two different locations for its 1977 program.

The first two-weeks session for crippled children at Kerrville opens Sunday, June 5. Four sessions will be held during the summer for youngsters from seven through 16 years of age.

A two-week session for diabetic children six through 16 will be held at Camp Manison near Friendswood from June 6 through 17 and is limited to 150 campers.

An additional 150 campers may attend a diabetic camp Aug. 1-12 at Kerrville.

The camps are free to diabetic youngsters and to handicapped children who are blind, deaf, mute or crippled. All requests for the summer camps are handled locally by members of the Lions Club.

For more detailed information, contact Dale Cary at 285-2653 or 285-3301.

Blood Drive To Be Held

A blood drive will be conducted here Tuesday, Feb. 15 from 8 a.m. to 12 noon in the Ag Community Building. The drive is sponsored by Olton Lions Club and South Plains Blood Service.

South Plains Blood Services opened as a donor station in Lubbock in 1952 at the request of the Lubbock-Crosby-Garza County Medical Society. Today, service extends to three hospitals in a 22-county area and provides over 18,000 units of blood and blood components each year. This facility is augmented by mobile units capable of drawing blood donors at virtually any location within the service area.

Blood Systems has entered a new era in terms of an all-volunteer blood donor program. The community need for an adequate and available blood supply must be the primary motive for the donating of blood. By eliminating, as far as possible, donor related costs, the charges to patients for blood and blood components now relate more directly to the actual cost of drawing, processing, storing and delivering the blood.

Donor qualifications have been established. Persons must be 18 to 65 years of age (17-year-olds may be accepted with written parental permission. Minor donor permits may be obtained from South Plains Blood Service.)

Additional qualifications for donors will be posted in the ag building.

Little Boys & Valentines Day

By Rex Boyles

Little boys are on the run all year long, throwing rocks, kicking footballs, chasing dogs, and pulling pigtails. They make it clear that in all their throwing, kicking, chasing and pulling they want nothing to do with little girls. Their word for girls is "yichie", which can be translated, 'icky" or "yucky".

Somewhere around the first of February those same little boys begin to slow down, not nearly so interested in rocks and dogs and such. This "cupid-like" change can first be noted by the absence of such words as "icky" or "yucky". There also seems to be the increased interest in baths and Dad's shaving lotion.

One certain sign of this "February affliction" is a clean closet. That pile of junk (commonly called "valuable stuff") in the bottom of the closet, untouched by human hands all year round and off-limits to Mother, has finally been cleared out. It disappeared not because the little boys had any rash of cleanliness but because of their frantic search for a shoe box. Not any box will do. It must be a shoe box, because a shoe box is just right for Valentines.

Finding the right box is just the first step. Those little boys want something special to hold those sweetheart cards. They borrow the tin foil to cover it. That makes it look shiney and "neato". They raid Mother's sewing scraps, wanting to find some red felt, for making those romantic hearts. They have a special hope that there may be some glitter in the house, for putting their name on the box in elegant style. Everything just has to be right for the Valentine party at school tomorrow.

On Valentine day at school each little boy will carry his box (red hearts, glittered name, and all) to the front of the room and put it down in just the right spot with a special prayer that at the end of the day it will be filled with sweethearts and candies.

I remember such days. I can remember the searching for the box, the hoping for the red felt and glitter and the praying for a box full of Valentines.

All of those memories are not pleasant though. I remember Valentine's day in particular. All of us had brought our boxes, placed them at the front, and sat down to wait for the end of the day and the count of our Valentine cards. It was the usual party day at school, a mixture of study and games, programs and pranks. After the party was over, we finally got to check our boxes. (What we really did was count our Valentines to see who had the most girlfriends.) While a bunch of us "little boys" were keeping count I noticed another little boy across the room. He had gone through the same searching, hoping and waiting; but when he opened his box, there was no Valentine.

I can remember the strange feeling I had. All of that love around and that little boy had none . . . all the love we were sharing and that little boy had no share.

There is a whole world like that little boy. There are so many people whose lives are as empty as that boys box. They are surrounded by love, and yet they share in none. They do not know that God poured out enough love at Calvary for everyone, for every little boy or girl, man or woman, mother or daddy, grandma or grandpa.

I hope that on Valentines day there are no empty boxes, but more than that I pray that on the Judgment day your life will not be empty of the love of God . . . Rex

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

Project yourself into another decade or perhaps 2000. (Awful isn't it?) Do you suppose we might listen a bit and hear, "Whatever became of the 20 cent candy bar?"

Or "What this country needs is a good five cent chew of bubble gum?"

This is one of those, "Dearie, do you remember?" things. And, it really makes one aware of her - or his - birthdays!

Recently, going through the painful task of dividing up the remnants of our parents' lives, we discovered some memorabilia that prompted this phase of nostalgia.

Remember the popularly latched on phrase, "What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar?" Then you recall they also came cheaper?

Old family pictures were among our Mother's keepsakes and there were some within an old,worn cigar box

Old family pictures were among our Mother's keepsakes and there were some within an old, worn cigar box which proclaimed its product at "2 for 5 cents."

A tiny tin "safe" which had belonged to our maternal grandfather held numerous old papers including tax receipts dated as recently as 1947 and '48. It was eye-opening to rediscover that 1947 city taxes on his lot and five rooms and sleeping porch were less than 50 cents!

That, of course, was also the era when he received $150 an acre for his irrigated farm land not far from Olton.

Perhaps one of the saddest things about that fading era is the possible "phasing out" of the U.S. dollar bill and the lowly little copper penny.

They can't take our pennies from us! Imagine growing up without an awareness of the little penny!

Think of missing the pleasures obtained from a sack of penny candy! Sure, penny candy is still around only now it's marked "ten cents."

Remember the anticipation of reading your fortune on the little card when you dropped a penny in the weighing machine?

Imagine reading accounts of future marriages. Will they report "the bride carries a quarter in her shoe"?

The two penny coin faded away many decades ago and perhaps there were those who mourned that time in our history. They may be shaking heads and clucking, "What's the fuss?" as they look down upon this nut who's fussing over the lowly penny and, all the whole, grasping after bigger stuff!

MRS. JOE VILLANUEVA

In The Mixing Bowl

Homemaking Class Helpful

"Most of my recipes are ones I got in homemaking," says the young and pretty homemaker who holds this week's spotlight for "In The Mixing Bowl."

Mrs. Joe Villanueva recalls the recipe experimenting of her foods classes at OHS and at Goliad High School and the opportunity for trying unusual and foreign dishes.

Growing up on a farm near Goliad, Hortencia came with her family to Olton when she was a sophomore in high school. Her family returned to Goliad but came back to Olton when she was a senior.

Joe's family came to Olton when he was a freshman at OHS. Joe is employed with High Plains Corn.

"Taking care of Joe and Carlos" are Hortencia's first interests. Little Carlos is nine months old. In addition to being housewife and mother, she is teacher's aide in the bi-lingual program at H.P. Webb Elementary School so there's little time left for hobbies.

Plants are included in her interests and a hobby she picked up from Joe's mother.

The young Villanuevas are members of St. Peter's Catholic Church.

In the Grant Program the paving description stated paving would be placed from Avenue A to Avenue B: 14th and 15th streets. Now, because of a balance of funds the city has decided to extend the paving two additional blocks. The paving will be from Avenue A to Avenue D on 14th Street. The city has determined that the project will be substantially unchanged by the addition.

Lil Dribblers Practice Schedules Announced

Kenneth William states, "This practice schedule is pubished for the benefit of all coaches, players and parents so that each person will be aware of the time when their team is scheduled to practice. I know that this does not allow each team the amount of time needed to teach and to learn all that is needed.

"All I can say to each and every person who is involved in this program is bear with us for the time being. And maybe if we can make this a successful program, things will be better for the next year.

"All the coaches and players can do, is try to use the games as a learning session in lieu of practice sessions. Your patience and cooperation will be greatly appreciated."

More 9 and 10 year olds are needed to sign up to complete that age group teams.

Contact Kenneth Williams for more information.

Hearings Re-Set

James M. Rose, Executive Director of the Texas Water Development Board, announced Friday the rescheduling of two adjudicative hearings on applications for permits to engage in weather modification and control operations in parts of the Texas High Plains. Both hearings will be held simultaneously on Wednesday, Feb. 16, at 1 p.m. in the courtroom of the 99th District Court in Lubbock.

"The hearings will continue as long as necessary," said Rose, "so that all persons desiring to speak will have an opportunity to do so."

Plains Weather Improvement Association, Inc., and Atmospherics, Inc., have applied for permits to conduct weather modification and control operations to increase precipitation and decrease hailfall within two adjacent target areas on the High Plains. The requested areas of operations would exceed the smaller target areas.

More than 400 residents in the region have protested to the Texas Water Development Board, asking that the applications to decrease hailfall be denied.

The 64th Legislature amended the Weather Modification Act to provide for a hearing in the area if 25 or more people requested a local hearing. The Administrative Procedures Act, also passed by the 64th Legislature, requires hearings if objections are made.

Hearings on the applications were originally scheduled Dec. 6 in Morton. However, the hearings were postponed until after Feb. 15 to give the Legislature an opportunity to consider legislation providing for a public vote on weather modification activities and to give opponents to the applications time to engage legal counsel.

Docket Number WM-008 concerns the application of Plains Weather Improvement Association, Inc. If the permit is granted as sought, aircraft flights would be authorized over portions of Hale, Lamb, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, and Floyd Counties for the period as soon as authorized and ending Dec. 31, 1980.

The other application, styled Docket Number WM-009, is from Atmospherics, Inc., for operations over portions of Deaf Smith, Randall, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Cochran, Hockley, and Lubbock Counties. This application requests authority to commence operation beginning upon authorization and ending Oct. 30, 1980.

Bruce Bigelow, General Counsel of the Texas Water Development Board, will be the presiding examiner, Rose said. Protests, pleadings, or motions relating to the hearings shall be filed with the presiding examiner on or before Feb. 11, at the Texas Water Development Board, Post Office Box 13087, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas.

If fuel costs are squeezing the profit out of your corn crop, plant

PIONEER® BRAND 3780

The Cost Cutter

One Less Irrigation • Lower Harvest and Hauling Costs • Less Moisture Dockage • Lower Drying Cost • More Income and Profit per Acre

Pioneer brand 3780 improves corn profits four ways. It is an early hybrid that takes one less watering than the hybrids you've been planting. It also dries faster after maturity than other corns. Since it has good standability and ear retention, you can leave it in the field to dry. This means you harvest less moisture, haul less moisture, and have little or no dockage and drying cost.

SINCE IT DOESN'T COST AS MUCH TO GROW, IT CAN MAKE MORE MONEY

In 1976, farmers found that "Cost Cutter" 3780 produced significantly more net income per acre than competitive corns of much later maturity. Though the green weight yield of later maturity corns was greater, 3780 was usually much lower in moisture and thus higher in dry yield per acre. When the saving in irrigation fuel cost was added to the higher dry yield, it made a difference of $20 to $30 net income per acre.

This hybrid matures 11 to 13 days earlier than our famous 3369A but it doesn't concede yield for its earliness. Under most growing conditions, it will yield pretty close to the full-season varieties and harvest several points drier.

TOUGH ENOUGH TO TAKE IT

3780 is also a tough little hybrid that can take some stress. Head smut didn't bother it in 1976. It has good roots and stalks and holds its ears well. It is sensitive about getting pre-tassel water right on time, however. That critical irrigation time is fairly short since it passes quickly through each stage of growth.

Here are actual examples of 3780's ability to make more profit than later maturing, high yielding competitors:

		Yield wet weight lbs./acre	% Moisture at Harvest	Pay Weight after drying 1	Gross return per acre 2	Harvest and hauling cost 3	Difference in irrigation cost 4	Gross return per acre for each hybrid	Dollar per acre advantage for 3780

Oklahoma Panhandle and West Texas – six locations for 1975: Muleshoe, Stinnett, Guymon, Hereford, Black and Dalhart.	PIONEER brand 3780	8,156	13.6	8,156	$ 326.24	$ 40.78	—	$ 285.45	$ 26.37

	M17N28* Station Cross	8,661	20.7	7,760	$ 310.40	$ 43.31	$ 8.00	$ 259.09

*The most widely sold station cross on the Plains. It is sold under several different brand names and variety designations.

1). Drying and dockage charge was 2% per point of moisture above 15.5%. 2). Returns figured with corn at $4.00 per cwt. 3). Harvest and hauling costs at 50¢ per cwt. 4). The savings of one irrigation by 3780 at an estimated cost of $8.00 per acre.

STAGGERED MATURITY

If you're farming big acreage, 3780 is the perfect hybrid to use with Pioneer brand 3306 and 3195 in a Staggered Maturity planting program. This new Pioneer program allows you to:

Hedge against weather problems.

Use water, labor and machinery more efficiently.

Harvest each variety at the optimum time.

Your Pioneer dealer has a brochure which gives you the whole Staggered Maturity story. Talk to him right away.

Arthritis Tales Might Hurt

The myths and folk tales surrounding arthritis can really hurt people when they prevent sufferers from getting proper care, according to Dr. David Mills, Chairman of the Medical Committee for 1977, West Texas Chapter, The Arthritis Foundation.

"Those who put down arthritis as just minor aches and pains are just as bad as those who think nothing much can be done," Dr. Mills said. "In fact, some forms of arthritis can cause constant pain all over the body and severe joint deformity -- if allowed to progress unchecked."

Over 3.5 million Americans have become handicapped in this way. Yet, with proper modern treatment, a great deal can be done. Pain can be alleviated. Much and sometimes all crippling can be prevented. Crippling which already has occured can be greatly reduced and corrected through selective surgery, Dr. Mills pointed and added that the patient should see his physician in the earliest stages of the disease for proper diagnosis of the nearly 100 types of arthritis. Only then the optimum treatment can be initiated.

To get all the facts straight, Dr. Mills suggested writing for a free booklet, Arthritis - The Basic Facts," available from the West Texas Chapter's Division office at 1940 - 34th Street, Lubbock, Texas 79410, (806) 747-5125.
