Bond election set for April 2

At their meeting on Tuesday night, the Colorado City Council set the date for a $750,000 bond election for April 2, the same date as the city council election.

One of the reasons for doing it at this time is to save money, said Colorado City Mayor Elmer Martin, as they could use the same judges, etc., and also the city is being pressed by state authorities to get the program underway.

The $750,000 is needed to update the city's sewer system which is badly in need of repairs and does not meet state regulations.

If the bonds do not pass, City Manager Rick Crowley says, the affair will be taken out of local hands; the state can step in, build the sewer plant and levy whatever tax rate is needed to pay off the city's obligation.

Crowley added that, if it is done in this manner, it will probably cost more than the current estimate of $750,000.

The renovations that are needed include: installation of all new mechanisms on the trickling filter and both clarifiers, cleaning out the digesters, construction of new transmittal lines to the storage lagoons, construction of treatment lagoons and construction of an outfall line.

Also, the money will purchase 13.2 acres owned by Morris Hammond, build a mile and a half of pipe to it and pay for the easements needed to carry effluent to a holding pond which will also be built.

Crowley added that the number of lagoons will be reduced from the current six to two.

The sewer bonds will be paid for with general obligation bonds and add from approximately 18 cents to 21 cents per $100 valuation to city taxes, depending on the amount of time chosen to pay them off.

According to Crowley, if the city takes 10 years to retire the bonds, the rate will be in the 21 cent area but if it takes 12 years to pay off, the rate will be in the 18 cents area.

However, Crowley said that the 10 year option would allow the COLORADO CITY POLICE OFFICER Tommy Headrick puts a sticker on the windshield of this vehicle which warns the owner that he has a limited amount of time to get rid of it or risk being cited for a misdemeanor.

Junk cars are being removed

Since the Colorado City police department has been given the authority to enforce the "junk car" ordinance, many old and decrepit cars have disappeared from public view, some at the "request" of the city and some because the owners have voluntarily complied with the ordinance.

A junked vehicle is defined as one that is inoperative, does not have a valid safety inspection sticker and current license tag and is wrecked, dismantled, partially dismantled or discarded.

Colorado City Chief of Police Ed Wheat said that he appreciated the help and cooperation of those citizens who have voluntarily removed their junked vehicles, but nevertheless, between February 9 and February 23 the police department has "stickered" 63 vehicles belonging to 27 people.

"Stickered" means that a red tag has been affixed to the vehicle warning the owner that it has been found to be in violation of the city's ordinance.

When a sticker has been placed on a vehicle, the officer writes a description of the vehicle, tag number, owner's name, etc. in a ledger and then a registered letter is sent to the owner informing him that he is in violation and has 10 days from the time he receives the letter to get rid of the car.

Thus, if the sticker blows off, falls off or is pulled off, the owner is still notified of the violation.

Water problems delay motel construction

The Colorado City council discussed growth north of Interstate 20 at Tuesday night's meeting, following the revelation that a 60 unit motel was on "hold" because the city would not be able to supply water to it.

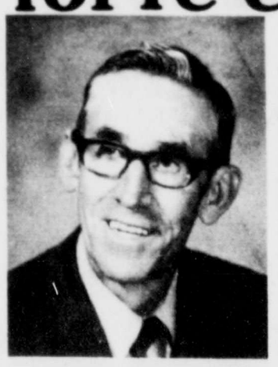

City Manager Rick Crowley said that contractor O. T. Tilley had appeared in his office asking for a building permit to construct a motel north of the Dairy Queen. Crowley told the council that he had to turn him down because of a short supply of water on the other side of Interstate 20.

"The waterline running under the highway does not supply adequate water to what is out there now," Crowley said.

Dairy Queen owner Loyd Ledbetter said that he loved to think of

Mayor Martin files for re-election

Elmer Martin

"I decided to run again because we have several things started and it takes time to do the projects that are needed and can benefit the city," Mayor Elmer Martin said of his decision to file once more for Colorado City Mayor.

"You like to see those things through," he added.

Martin has a political background; in addition to having been mayor of Colorado City for one full two year term and part of another after the resignation of Marion Bassham, he was state representative from the 61st district for many years and was a part of the Constitutional Convention.

"It takes a lot of time to serve in that capacity," Martin noted, speaking of the mayor's office. "You do have to take off and see after the necessary things."

He continued, "The sewer plant is one thing we're hoping to get fixed up."

There are other projects, too, that he wants to work on: "We have a lot of industries wanting to come in here but we have some problems. We have a water problem–low water pressure on the north side of Colorado City. But the Council is going to get on that immediately in order for a new business to be put in soon."

In conclusion, Martin said, "It's a good community and I like to give community service. I've always liked to work for the benefit of the community."

Martin is also a mem-

Piland files for third term

A member of the Colorado Independent School District Board of Trustees, Eddie Piland has decided to run for a third term on the Board.

Piland said there were several reasons for this decision, most of them having to do with some major issues coming before the Board in the relatively near future.

"One of them is converting a lot of our accounting system and a lot of our record-keeping system to computer," he said.

"Secondly, we have changes that we're looking at in the curriculum, where we can perhaps better improve our curriculum. That's one of my primary interests."

Ray Mason files for City Council

Ray Mason

Ray Mason, assistant administrator at Root Memorial Hospital, has filed for re-election to the Colorado City Council.

He said he has two reasons for running for city council, the first one being, "We've had a good two years. We've got some things going right now that I think all of us want to see continued."

"We're right in the middle of the sewer project and we've got some plans going on our water–just a lot of things going that we want to see completed," he explained.

Mason's second reason for wanting to serve on the city council again is simple: "I enjoy it."

He is no stranger to city government, as he was city administrator in Tahoka before serving as city manager of Colorado City for 1½ years; he has served on the city council for two years.

Mason's wife, Brenda, works for Lone Wolf Electric and their two sons, Richard Ligon and Michael, are in Colorado High School.

Officiating at basketball games in one of Mason's favorite "leisure time" activities and he is a member of the Sundown Lions, as well as working with the Mitchell County Ambulance Service. He and his family are members of the First United Methodist Church.

Savings and Loan to get new building

Jack Hollis, vice president at Colorado City Savings and Loan, has announced plans for a new building for that facility to be built on Hickory Street between 19th and ~~10th~~ Streets.

In a Board of Directors meeting on Thursday, February 24, the architectural firm of Gary and Company from Big Spring was hired to work out plans for the new structure.

One of the architects with the firm, Phillip Furqueron, told the group that preliminary plans would be completed within 45 days and Hollis said that the project should be ready for bids with 120 days, and hopefully, construction could start within six months. He added that the completion was projected for late 1983 or early 1984.

Some of the features planned for the new building include a drive-in window, adequate parking, a meeting room for

Thomas seeks re-election

Pat Thomas

Dr. Pat Thomas, one of the members of the current Colorado Independent School District Board of Trustees, has filed to run for a second term.

"We've had some goals during my initial term that I feel I'm still involved in," Thomas commented about his filing.

"We've got several things accomplished that have been good and I think we've got a really harmonious board, but we do have some things that I'd like to be involved with in the future, in terms of upgrading our educational programs," he said.

Thomas and his wife, Cindy, have two children, Lindsey, who is in kindergarten, and Mamie, who is in the second grade.

"I'm not really involved in a lot of other activities," Thomas noted, "other than church, work and Lions Club," but he does enjoy basketball, tennis, racquet ball and "I have livestock that's more of a hobby than anything else."

He cited computer science as one of the areas that the school system may have to explore in order to prepare students for the future. Another area he is interested in is reading.

"I feel that reading is our primary subject area that needs probably the greatest attention because everything else is dependent upon a child's ability to read," he added.

Piland also commented, "Our students (those that have gone on to college) are in the upper levels of the graduating classes, for example, the top 25 percent...This tells me that we are doing something right."

"Education is the equalizer in our society," he concluded.

Piland is the owner of Eddie's Pharmacy and said that he "persuaded" his wife, Joy, who holds a degree in education, to work there with him. They have two sons: Mark, a sophomore at the University of Texas, and Jay, a sophomore at Colorado High.

In addition to being vice president of the school board, Piland has been involved with the Industrial Team, the Chamber of Commerce Board. Ross found guilty, receives five years

A Mitchell County jury found Welvin Edward Ross, 27, guilty of "entry of a habitation with intent to rape" and assessed his punishment at five years in the state penitentiary, in connection with the attempted rape of a 41 year old former Colorado City woman on June 5.

The four woman,eight man jury received the case at 7:22 p.m. Wednesday but were unable to agree on a verdict and were released at 11:30 p.m. by 32nd District Judge Weldon Kirk.

The jury reported at 9 a.m. Thursday and debated an hour and fifty minutes before coming in with the guilty verdict.

The jury took only 38 minutes to fix on his punishment. The jury, with a range of 5 years to life to choose from, picked the lower end of the punishment scale.

Fred Smith, of Abilene, probation officer for Taylor and Callahan Counties, testified Thursday that Ross was on probation from Taylor County after conviction on an aggravated kidnapping charge in Abilene on February 29, 1980.

the owner has the right to request a hearing before the expiration of the 10-day period by notifying the Municipal Court located in the Colorado City Police Department.

If the owner of the vehicle does not remove it within the 10-day period, the city will have it towed off to a designated area, Wheat said.

If the owner refuses, fails or neglects to remove the junked vehicle or refuses to allow the City to remove it, he can be cited for a misdemeanor and can be fined up to $200 per day for each day he is in violation.

Wheat is asking for the full cooperation of Colorado City citizens in getting rid of these junk cars, because "They're not only an eyesore, they can be dangerous to small children playing around them and they can provide breeding places for mosquitoes, rodents and other small animals.

For citizens interested in investing in the bonds, Crowley stated that they should contact their bankers.

Crowley said that the bonds, which carry nine percent interest, will be offered for sale on an "all or nothing" basis at first, but usually the person or institution who buys them will resell them in parcels and an indvidual's banker can help in this process.

Crowley said Friday that Freese and Nichols, the city's director of public works and O. T. Tilley and himself will meet March 3rd in an attempt to find some way to increase the water flow to the area north of the highway. "Hopefully," Crowley said, "we will find some answer to the problem and can issue that permit on the 4th."

Hollis said that the Savings and Loan was making these plans because "We're growing so fast. We gained approximately $3 million in assets in 1982, pushing our total to over $22.5 million. So far in 1983, we've had an increase of over $2 million."

He stated, "We plan to be a leader in our community and take care of the needs of homeowners on their mortgage needs."

"This will be a really beautiful place, as well as being functional and will enable us to care for our customers much better," he added.

Hard work, dedication and long hours are still essential to success in farming or ranching. But they no longer assure it. Today, it takes capital. Griffith learned from mother

Like many women, Georgie Griffith learned most of her cooking skills from her mother. "I'll probably never be as good a cook as my mother, but I do a lot of things like she did," Mrs. Griffith says.

She was one of four girls and they spent a lot of time in the kitchen. "She didn't turn it over to us," Mrs. Griffith explains. "We just helped, did whatever particular thing she pointed out to us, because she was not one to leave the home very much. She was always there to do the cooking."

Mrs. Griffith's own family consists of her husband Orvel, two sons, a daughter and a grandchild.

Her favorite kind of cooking is baking–"Sweets are my love. I love to eat them and that's my favorite thing to cook."

The three recipes she is sharing are for her favorite sweets. The Vanilla Sauce is excellent on the Gingerbread, she said, although it can also be used as a basic cream pie recipe.

GINGERBREAD

2 eggs
¾ c. Brer Rabbit Molasses (Blue Label)
¾ c. melted shortening
¾ c. brown sugar
½ c. flour
2 t. soda
½ t. baking powder
2 t. ginger
½ t. cinnamon
½ t. cloves
½ t. nutmeg
1 c. boiling water

Combine all ingredients and bake for 40 minutes in 350 degree oven.

VANILLA SAUCE

One-third c. flour or ¼ c. cornstarch
Two-thirds c. sugar
¼ t. salt
2 c. milk
3 beaten egg yolks
2 T. butter or margarine
½ t. vanilla

Mix flour, sugar and salt, gradually add milk. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens slightly.

Remove from heat and add small amount to egg yolks. Stir into remaining hot mixture. Cook one minute, stirring constantly.

Add butter and vanilla. Cool and serve over gingerbread.

Anderson, Gale united Feb. 5

Arin Elizabeth Anderson and Robert Bruce Gale were united in marriage at the First Baptist Church in Colorado City on February 5. The Rev. Glenn Roenfeldt officiated at the candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dale Anderson of Colorado City. The groom is the son of Richard Gale of Colorado City and Betty Gale, also of Colorado City.

Grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Yancey of Colorado City. Grandmothers of the groom are Mrs. Ollie Gale and Mrs. D. C. Stubblefield, both of Colorado City.

The vows were repeated before a brass archway decorated with greenery and bows of burgandy and pink. Two seven-branch brass candelabra flanked the archway.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown designed with a soft pleated skirt and fitted bodice of lace and illusion featuring a Victorian neckline and long sleeves. The veil was of lace-trimmed bridal illusion cascading from a crown of flowers. She carried a bouquet of burgandy and pink silk roses.

The groom wore a black tuxedo with a burgandy silk rose boutonniere.

Denise Gregory, maid of honor, wore a burgandy dress with a long pleated skirt and crocheted blouson bodice.

Bridesmaids were Jennifer Hill of San Angelo, Carla Calaway and Tonya Balentac, both of Colorado City. Their dresses were identical to that worn by the maid of honor.

The flower girl was Hope Gale, cousin of the groom.

Tony Turner served as best man.

Groomsmen were Dalton Maddox, Todd Neff and Lynne Bradbury.

Gary Gale and Joe Stinson were ushers.

The groom's attendants, the bride's father and the groom's father wore burgandy tuxedoes with pink silk rose boutonnieres.

A reception was held at the church following the ceremony.

The bride's table, presided over by Glenda Edwards, sister of the bride, and Cherrel Bell, cousin of the bride, featured a three-tiered wedding cake topped with pink satin wedding bells and pink punch which was served from a cut crystal punch bowl. Assorted nuts and mints were also served.

The groom's table was draped with a burgandy cloth and centered by a German chocolate cake and coffee was served. Dana Lynch, sister of the bride, presided.

After a brief honeymoon trip, the couple is at home in Colorado City, where the bride is a student at Colorado High School and the groom a graduate of Colorado High School, farms with his father.

Logan honored with reception

A reception honoring Mabel Hood Logan, a long-time resident of West Texas, will be held on Sunday, February 27 in the home of her sister, Mrs. Tom Moore.

Born on February 24, 1898 in Erath County, Mrs. Logan settled near the Spade Community in 1901 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. Hood. The Hoods were both active in the early development of Mitchell County and passed away in 1963.

After graduating Summa Cum Laude from Hardin-Simmons University in 1921, Mrs. Logan earned her masters degree, also from Hardin-Simmons, while teaching at Big Spring.

She taught school at a number of locations in Mitchell, Oldham and Howard Counties, working at Spade in 1918-19 and Conway in 1921-22 and retiring from the Big Spring school system in 1965.

On October 8, 1922, she married B. F. Logan, an early settler near Coahoma. He died in 1971.

Mrs. Logan has five children, 18 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Energy Aid is a program designed to help people who have severe financial hardships pay their essential energy bill and will be in operation year-round or as long as the program is working and funds are available.

Residents of the county seeking energy assistance should apply directly to the agency at Rt. 1, Box 66, Telephone no. 728-5060 on or after March 7, 1983.

Texas Electric customers who wish to make donations to the fund may do so when they pay their electric bills, beginning in February. News from.....

Middle School

By CHARLIE GARRETT

The Colorado Middle School student body was thrilled by the fact that they have Friday and all of next week off for Spring Break. Since the teachers have to work on Friday, the students get a head-start on spring vacation.

What better way to start spring vacation than a play, directed by Carl Moore, "Of Poems, Youth and Spring." This play was put on for the students and faculty on Thursday morning and then again at 7 p.m. for the public and parents. The play, by John Logan, was a complete success.

The Sixth graders were pleased to get to go to the Spade Ranch as an award for their high attendance.

The six weeks tests were completed and the students are sighing now that the brain-racking studying is over.

Hearings set

Public hearings will be conducted by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in all counties under its regulatory authority during March to air proposed changes in hunting and fishing regulations for 1983-84. In Mitchell County, the hearing will be held at 10 a.m. on Thursday, March 24 in the county courthouse.

The public is invited to testify on the proposals at the hearings, or comments may be sent to the Parks and Wildlife Department, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, TX 78744.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission is expected to review all testimony received from the hearings and adopt regulations by late April.

"The Need of Repentance"

The Bible teaches that before a person can really come to God, there must be a brokenness in their spirit over their sinfulness. Proverbs 28:13 declares: "He that covers his sins shall not prosper; but who confesses and forsakes them shall have mercy." In Matthew 3:2 and 4:17 both John the Baptist and Jesus preached: "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand."

There is no better example of brokenness over sin and confession and repentance of that sin than is found in Psalm 51. This Psalm records for us the humbling of David after his awful sin with Bathsheba and the ultimate murdering of her husband. God sent Nathan the prophet to David (see II Samuel 11 & 12) with the message of his sin. Once David realized the error of his way, he admitted; "I have sinned against the Lord." Psalm 51 records for us David's prayer of confession and repentance to God. In it he cries out for God to cleanse his heart and to restore the joy of his salvation. David also makes a commitment to return to walking with God and not to continue in sin.

Whenever sin is present in our lives, you and I must do the same. I John 1:9 promises us that "If we confess our sins, God is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." Yes, just as David and other great saints needed repentance in their lives, so do you and I need it regularly in our lives.

Tarter, Rose head All Mitchell County team

The RECORD'S first All Mitchell County Basketball squad is headed by underclassmen, which means there will be plenty of quality hoopsters in Mitchell County next year.

Of the twelve members of this year's squad, five are juniors and two are sophomores.

The girls are headed by Loraine junior post player Leslie Rose. For the second consecutive year Rose has led the Bulldogs in scoring with a 20 plus average.

This season she averaged 22.2 points over the year, and 23.6 during the district season. She also led her team in rebounding, averaging 11 per contest and making 49 percent of her shots from the field. Rose also sunk 48 percent of her free shots.

Rose's teammate Stephanie McAdams was Loraine's second leading rebounder averaging 10 per contest. Stephanie was probably the best offensive rebounder on this year's squad. She shot 46 percent from the floor and 42 percent from the free throw line, while averaging 6.8 points per contest.

Westbrook's Lynn Dawson fills another forward spot. Although she is the smallest forward on the squad, she still managed to pull down five rebounds per contest while averaging 9.1 points per game. She put on a "shooting clinic" versus Loraine scoring 23 points in one half. Dawson shot 36 percent from the floor and 69 percent from the line.

Tomika Randle fills the last forward position. Randle led the Wolves in rebounding averaging over eight per contest, and was their best free throw shooter sinking 66 percent of her shots. She shot 30 percent from the field.

Laura Baum and Janie Barrera occupy the guard spots, and both are fine outside shooters.

Baum is probably the best outside shooter in the county, and proved it by leading the Wolves in scoring with an 18.0 average. She is a good ballhandler dishing out just under four assists per game, while shooting 35 percent from the field and 62 percent from the line.

Barrera averaged 11.4 points per contest making 31 percent of her shots and 55 percent of her shots from the free throw line.

Wolves forward Stacey Tarter gets the nod for Most Valuable Player. Tarter is an all around player who could take control of a game with his shooting and jumping ability. He is the best "leaper" on the squad and led the Wolves in scoring (14) and rebounding (eight).

Stacey made 51 percent of his shots from the floor and 57 percent of his free throws. Westbrook's Donald Burnett also led his team in scoring and rebounding averaging 13.7 points and 7.5 rebounds. He sunk 45 percent of his shots from the floor and 43 percent from the line.

Loraine forward James Griffin could be one of the most dominating players in the area next year. Although he did not play last year, Griffin had a supurb season leading the Bulldogs in scoring (20) and rebounding (15). Griffin has a soft touch from the outside making 47 percent of his shots and 62 percent from the line. He has good jumping ability as indicated by his 88 blocked shots.

Stacey's twin brother Tracy rounds out the list of forwards. Tarter averaged seven points and five rebounds per game while helping the Wolves to a near playoff berth with his leadership.

Wolves dininutive point guard Dennis Rivera gets the nod as one of the floor leaders. Dennis was a very consistent player who averaged 10 points per contest. He was the best ballhandler on the Wolf team, and shot 54 percent from the field and 60 percent from the line. He also dished out two assists per game.

Loraine guard Aundra Rose, much like Rivera, is a good floor leader which averaged 13 points per game. Rose's best asset is his quick hands which collected him 120 steals. Rose was also the best "assist man" on the squad averaging six per game.

So there you have the 12 best players in Mitchell County, seven of whom will be back next year, which should provide for some more very exciting basketball next season.

Wolves place three girls on All District

All District selections have been made for 6AAA girls basketball and the Wolves placed three players on the squad.

Junior guard Laura Baum was selected first team, while Tomika Randle and Stacy Hamrick were named to the honorable mention squad.

Joining Baum on first team were Coahoma's Melissa Page and Vickie Buchanan, along with Crane's Shonda Enos and Ballinger's Angie Jones.

Making the second team were the French sisters from Sonora, Lindy and Lori. Crane's Terri Grooms and Jo Mitchell were selected and Jana Griffin from Coahoma and Tracy Cole of Ballinger.

Joining Randle and Hamrick as honorable mention were Ozona's Sherri Buckner and Kristal Williams. Kathy Piel of Ballinger was chosen as the district's Most Valuable Player while Sonora's Walter Holik was named Coach of the Year.

Hamrick, was a forward for the Wolves this year. She started out slow, but ended strong, scoring in double figures in three of her last five games while being the Wolves third leading scorer averaging five points per game.

In district competition she was tied with Randle as the team's leading rebounder, averaging just under 10 per game. The 5-8 senior was also the team leader in free throw percentage, shooting 65 percent during 10 district contests.

Post gets best of Wolves netters

The Post Anelope tennis team got the best of the Wolves netters Tuesday afternoon at the Colorado High School tennis courts.

In other boys action, Aguillon was defeated 4-8 by Chris Belongia, while Trey Cade and Yardy Powell were defeated by the sae score.

Gerry Hamilton lost his match 0-8, and Aguillon came back to defeat Lynn Allen 8-4.

In other doubles action Cade and Tim Norwell lost 0-8, while Hamilton and Bucy lost by the same count.

Arispe, Gaona win Regional Golden Gloves

Last week the Mitchell County Boxing Club travelled to Odessa to compete in the Golden Gloves Regional Tournament, and two boxers Rudy (Chato) Arispe and Gabriel Gaona came away with first place trophies.

Arispe won two bouts in winning the Football Division, while Gaona, the son of boxing coach Vince Gaona kept his record unblemished by winning three fights. In the championship bout he TKO'ed his opponent in the first round.

Sammy Rivera and Bobby Arocha lost in the early going, while Vince Gaona, Jr. was runner-up in the open division. Coach Gaona was very pleased with his team's effort. According to Gaona, up to the next to the last day of the tournament, Mitchell County was tied for first with the Odessa fighting Tigers, Odessa Permian and Big Spring. All these other teams had 15-17 boxers while Mitchell had only five. The local team finished the tournament in fourth place.

Earlier the boxing club won the Westbrook boxing tournament, but due to American Boxing Federation rules the host team cannot claim the team trophy, so the trophy went to runner-up Snyder.

Joey Arispe and Chato Arispe lost their opening bouts. Jamie Rivera, Sammy Rivera and Mark Strawcutter were runner-ups. Jeremy Strawcutter remained undefeated, while other winners were Greg Gaona, Mark Alvidrez, Bobby Arocha, Vince Gaona, Jr. and Gabriel Gaona.

Coach Gaona said that his team would rest a while before boxing again, with Eagle Pass being the next tournament they would compete in.

Hines' students entertain senior citizens

The Loraine Senior Citizens met at 6 p.m. February 15, for their monthly meal and party time. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wheeler were hosts for the evening. More than 50 attended.

Following the pot luck meal, Mr. Roy Wells, president, asked Mrs. Joan Merket, local Justice of Peace, to install two new members into the Board of Directors. They were Mrs. Augusta Matejowsky and Mr. Jack Richey.

After the business was completed the fun began. Mrs. Laura Lewis, a Senior Citizen, delighted the group with a reading "My Old Sweetheart (Rose)" which proved to be the old milk cow.

The youth group, composed of girls from Loraine, Colorado City, Westbrook and Hermleigh, under the direction of their instructor, Miss Cheryl Hines from Colorado City, delighted the senior group with their unlimited talent as dancers and twirlers. Their beautiful costumes added to the beauty of their performance. Girls performing were Stephanie McAdams, Melissa Clifton, Jennifer Clifton, Crystal Church, Jaren Ware, Amy Chitsey and Glenda Wallace.

After their performance, the Senior Citizens had their Valentine Box. All those who had made a Valentine to drop in "the box," was allowed to draw a Valentine from the box (not their own) then stand and read the homemade verse.

In judging the prettiest Valentine, Fern Coon won a prize and for the most unusual Valentine, Effie Wheeler was the winner.

Loraine Leisure Lodge

By MARSHA RICKARD

February brought a hint of spring with it making us want to plant seed and rake yards. Along with spring like weather came a beautiful Valentine party given by the First Baptist Church BMW Class of Loraine. There were red and white balloons, red tablecloths, a variety of delicious heart-shaped cookies, punch, a Valentine sack of personal Valentines for each resident, lots of laughter, smiles, and lively conversation. Many thanks to the wonderful ladies who did such a good job.

Rosa Benitas, teacher for the 4-5 grade Catholic Church Bible Class, also contributed a lovely Valentine poster arrangement for the lobby. It is indeed great when youth becomes involved with the wisdom of the aging.

Making our lobby more attractive is an array of poster art and verse contributed by Ann R. Gregory of Loraine. Come by and enjoy it.

Welcome to Ben Barrera, a new guest.

A special recognition to Juanita Byrant, M.A. who has been in our nursing department for eight years. Also Rosa Garcia who has been in dietiary for seven years.

Residents to be honored for birthdays in February are: Allene Williams, Blossom Green, Sandra Jones and Callie Thweatt. Birthdates range from 1894-1951.

Our next musical is Friday, February 25 Everyone is welcome t come and watch or take part. Our last musical was well attended and enjoyed by many from the community. We appreciate the support for our programs.
