Snyder Area Shivers At 15-Degree Reading

Winter-jaded a haymaker on the Snyder area last night and early today, but bright sunshine this morning held promise of better weather.

The mercury dipped to 15 degrees in Snyder, by far the lowest reading of the season. The low reading came on the heels of a light ice storm which had slowed activities to a minimum here Monday.

Today, with the sun out again, schools resumed operation, and other community activities were getting back on schedule.

Despite the 15-degree reading this morning, Snyder was relatively warm compared to areas of the Panhandle and High Plains.

The state from Austin northward was in a deep freeze as day broke with the temperature at Dalhart 12 degrees below zero at 6 a.m.

Other temperatures included: Amarillo 3 below zero, Lubbock 6 below zero, Midland 23, Alpine 28, Dallas 22, Abilene 16, Fort Worth 20, Waco 27, Austin 32, Brownwood 21, Wichita Falls 16, Texarkana 23, San Antonio 38.

The Weather Bureau said the freeze line extended east-west across the state from Palestine to Austin to Kerrville. Forecasters said clearing skies would continue Tuesday night with South Texas getting colder, continued cold in North Texas becoming not quite so cold by Wednesday.

The intense cold promised to keep glazed highways dangerously slick at least part of another day.

A hard freeze was in the forecasts for Tuesday night with temperatures expected to dip as low as 5 degrees below zero in the northern Panhandle, to 10 above in North Central and Northeast Texas and as low as 20 in extreme southwestern portions of the state.

While all main routes remained open, the highway department had appealed for travelers to make only essential trips in the Panhandle and elsewhere across Northwest Texas.

Up to 3 inches of snow in the northwest corner of the Panhandle around Dalhart and a mixture of freezing rain and sleet fell on streets and highways. The icing occurred nearly everywhere in an area north of a line linking McKinney, Abilene, San Angelo and Midland.

In Dallas, a car skidding on ice paved a high speed race, and the driver, identified from papers as Lee W. Ray, 41, of Dallas, suffered fatal injuries early Tuesday.

West of Roby in West Central Texas, Richard M. Gilbert of Marlin, Ga., was killed Monday when a car slid across U.S. 180 in front of a truck. Five other persons suffered injuries.

Traffic became a nightmare in numerous cities hit by the ice storm.

Spectacular pileups were common in Fort Worth, where one accident left debris on two of the three levels in a traffic interchange. Two of the vehicles involved were a police car and an ambulance answering the same call. Thirty five children escaped injury in a school bus accident.

The numbing cold hampered workmen trying to repair ice-scraped power lines near Lubbock in the Lubbock area, where schools closed for lack of electricity. It also slowed efforts to restore telephone service between Muleshoe and Littlefield, where 10 of 15 circuits failed.

Snow blanketed most of the Texas Panhandle with 1 to 3 inches before it stopped falling about midnight Monday.

Wind blew much of the snow well toward routes, however, and left them in surprising good condition. Before the snow and freezing rain ceased, a few flakes fell as far south as the northwest edge of Fort Worth and the Euless vicinity nearby.

Outside the ice sector in the south part of the state, light drizzle or an occasional shower still fell in early morning around Beaumont, Lufkin, Galveston, San Antonio and Laredo.

TAKING PITY ON THEIR FEATHERED FRIENDS are Dee and Sawanna Roach, children of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Roach, 3797 Avenue V. They bundled up against Snyder's coldest weather to go out and scatter crumbs for the birds. Snyder temperatures skidded to a low of 15 degrees last night.

TWO WRECKERS WERE NEEDED to separate these two cars involved in an accident about 12:40 yesterday at Thirtieth and Avenue T. No injuries were reported. The cars were driven by Roy Radford Taylor of 308 Twentieth and Sharon Paulette Jones of Rt. 2. City of Snyder Police investigated the accident. Hazardous driving conditions contributed to several minor accidents in the Snyder area yesterday.

One Firm Quits Plans For Sharon Ridge Oil System

MIDLAND — One firm abandoned plans for a new crude oil gathering system in the Sharon Ridge area, while another proceeded with the acquisition of right-of-way for a similar project today.

The Permian Corp. announced that it had decided not to construct its previously announced system to serve the Sharon Ridge producers of Scurry and Mitchell Counties.

After a further evaluation of the economic factors involved in the project, Permian decided not to proceed with its previously announced program, said W. D. Bill Kleine, Permian vice president.

"We have notified various producers in the area who have committed themselves to us," Kleine continued. "The plan is still being considered."

The Permian Corp. is selling to us, we will continue to be able to do so on the same basis as now. Meanwhile, the Mesa Pipe Line Corp. at Midland is acquiring right-of-way for a 60-mile pipeline and operating system and actual construction on its project is scheduled to begin in late December. Mesa announced its plan for a crude gathering system in the Sharon Ridge area recently. It is continuing to offer services of its gathering system to other producers and contracting to install salt water disposal facilities, said Marjory Baxter, Mesa president.

Another development in the Sharon Ridge marketing situation today was the revelation that Shasta Oil Co. of Abilene will purchase oil gathered by Southwest Hydrocarbon Corp. of Corsicana. Shasta will pay an additional five cents per barrel for the oil, and Southwest Hydrocarbon will pass on the increase to producers. Couden Petroleum Corp. of Big Spring will buy the Sharon Ridge oil from Shasta.

Wall Street Calm

NEW YORK (AP) — Traders on the American Stock Exchange reacted calmly today in the wake of the resignation of its president, Edward T. McCormick. Prices were mixed with gains and losses of key issues ranging from a few cents to a share to a point. Trading was freely with 400,000 shares changing hands in the first hour, compared with 300,000 in the one period Monday. McCormick, head 2nd grad 1st

Ikedda Regime Threatened

By CONRAD FINK

TOKYO (AP) — Police today claimed to have smashed an ultra-rightist plot to assassinate Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda and other leading members of Japan's pro-American government. Thirteen men were arrested and weapons and uniforms seized in pre-dawn raids.

Police said the conspirators planned mass murder because they felt Ikeda's government was incapable of preventing a Communist revolution in Japan.

Authorities said a Japanese industrialist apparently financed the plot.

Arrests are 90 per cent complete, police said, and an attempt is being made to learn if there is a man behind the scenes.

Daisuke Imoto, chief of public safety, said the conspirators apparently were given a spur by the success of the South Korean military junta that took over the Seoul government in May.

Conspirators' reports circulated that the plan called for attempts on the life of Ikeda and 16 Cabinet members and bomb attacks on police headquarters, the giant leftist Sohyo labor union and Communist party headquarters. Officials said the 13, who included a pre-war general, tried to win over members of the nation's 240,000-man self-defense force but failed.

Police raiders in Tokyo and at various places on the island of Kyushu in southern Japan seized rifles, gas masks, swords, helmets and work uniforms of the type worn by the self-defense service.

The plotters hid their activities behind a study group known as the Society for Japanese History, led and financed by Toyosaku Kawanami, 59, president of Nichinan and Kawarami Industrial Co. Three hundred helmets and 150 gas masks were found in his Tokyo home.

A top leader of the group was Tokutaro Sakurai, 64, a former lieutenant general in the pre-World War II imperial army. Another member was Taku Mikami, 52, a former lieutenant in the imperial navy, who served 13 years in prison in connection with the 1932 assassination of Prime Minister Tsuyoshi Inukai. Mikami now is president of Eiko Industrial Co. in Tokyo.

Police said they learned of the plot in September and mapped an earlier crackdown. Plans leaked and the raids were called off.

Ikeda showed no outward concern over the plot. He walked in his garden as usual after awakening today and later attended a routine Cabinet meeting.

Ikeda showed no outward concern over the plot. He walked in his garden as usual after awakening today and later attended a routine Cabinet meeting.

Police estimate that Japan—scene of 17 major assassination plots against government leaders in the past 100 years—still has about 1,000 dangerous rightists banded together in some 20 organizations.

Postwar victims have included Socialist party chairman Inejiro Asanuma, who was stabbed to death by a 17-year-old disciple of the Greater Japan Patriotic party in October, 1950; and Premier Nobusuke Kishi, who was wounded in the thigh by a rightist fanatic in July 1960.

Big Push Urged In UF Campaign

The Scurry County United Fund Campaign awaited another report session set for Wednesday morning, as E. H. Williamson, general campaign chairman, issued a new appeal for all area residents to help in successfully concluding the drive.

The report session is set for 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Village. The United Fund Campaign leaders hope to wind up the drive this week. A total of about 54 per cent of the $33,000 goal has been accounted for at the last report session held Saturday.

Addressing his remarks to all local citizens, Williamson stressed the importance of the campaign.

"I wish it were possible for me to express in words how important it really is for you to share in our United Fund effort," Williamson said.

"We have eight organizations that play a great part in making America a better place for each of us to live. They make a great contribution in many ways, physically, mentally, morally and spiritually. These things, I think, concern every one of us in a direct way, whether we are in the rural or city area.

"I believe if you think it over, you will want to share in these fine organizations. I would not say they take the place of our churches. I don't think any organizations could possibly do this. But, next to our churches I think organizations such as these in their service to humanity play a great role in helping prepare us for better church people and surely better citizens in every way."

"So, please give this your serious consideration and make a liberal gift when one of your friends and neighbors comes by for your gift. If someone has already called on you and you failed to share in this fine effort, please call them and let them you have changed your mind and to please call back for your gift. If you were missed by a worker, please send your gift to the Scurry County United Fund Office, and please keep in mind that you are making your contribution to eight organizations.

"Whether your gift is great or small, be sure that every citizen has a part in this worthy cause."

"It is so important that we reach our goal of $38,000 so that none of our organizations will suffer in their operations as they minister to our needs. I believe this is a reasonable goal and we share in it. Please give!"

Asks Consideration Of Veterans Program

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro has asked Gov. Price Daniel to open the general session of the Legislature in January to an insurance program bill affecting veterans in the state land program.

Martin, a likely candidate for lieutenant governor, said the bill he has in mind would provide that veterans be able to contract for mortgage cancellation life insurance.

Veterans would assume the premium cost he said, and in event of death, the insurance would cancel their loans, removing the burden from any survivors.

Hermleigh Athlete Is Hurt In Mishap

A high-speed delivery of blood from the Lubbock Blood Center was credited with possibly saving the life of Neil Beeks, 17, after he was seriously injured in a hunting accident shortly before noon yesterday.

Beeks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Beeks of Hermleigh. He is a junior at Hermleigh High School, and was honored just a week ago as one of the outstanding football players for Hermleigh.

Late this morning his condition was still described as serious although improving.

Beeks had been bird hunting 10 miles east of Snyder. He had returned to his car, leaned the 410 gauge shotgun against the car, was cleaning his glasses when the gun slipped to the ground and discharged. The full load of No. 7s shot struck him in the upper right arm and shoulder. He was unable to start the car, and walked four-tenths of a mile to his home.

Beeks had lost a lot of blood by this time, and had become quite weak. In attempting to call for help his mother found the phone to be out of order. She ran a quarter of a mile to a neighbor's home to call for a Bell ambulance. The temperature at the time was about 22 degrees.

NEIL BEEKS

At the hospital the need for blood was immediately seen and the call went out. Sheriff Earl Abercrombie sent a car to meet the blood being sent from Lubbock. It was delivered in time. Young Beeks was in surgery for about three hours. An arterial graft was performed, and the arm is apparently saved.

U. N. Installations Bombed

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Unidentified aircraft attacked Elisabethville airport during the week-end, dropping 26 bombs without damaging U.N. installations, the U.N. command announced.

The U.N. headquarters in the Katanga capital also came under heavy attack during the night. The U.N. spokesman said, from Katanga, that the bombers had hit on a ridge west of the headquarters.

The spokesman said he did not know the origin or type of the aircraft that attacked the airport or if more than one plane made the attack. Bombs were dropped over a five-hour period beginning at midnight.

The Katanga mission in Brussels said the United Nations attacked President Moise Tshombe's residence, a veritable stronghold in Elisabethville. It was not clear whether the attack referred to shelling or an attack by planes.)

Two Indian Gurkha troops were killed and one wounded in the attack on the U.N. headquarters, the United Nations announced. It said this brought U.N. casualties in the Katanga operation to 10 dead, 37 wounded and 13 missing.

Katanga casualties are unknown, but Gen. Sean McSwain, the Irish commander of U.N. forces, said the U.N. headquarters in New York had received reports that 50 to 60 dead tempted an invasion alone and that Katanga army units already had employed other parts of the plan in the week-end fighting with U.N. troops in Elisabethville.

The Indian army officer claimed that 12 French veterans of campaigns in Indochina and Algeria had drafted the plans for dynamiting the Union Mine. A $400-million Belgian-British firm whose taxes provide the largest measure of support to President

Moise Tshombe. The U.N. headquarters in New York, however, said that the government wants control of Katanga. The dynamiting plan is opposed, Rikhye said. A Maj. Bouquie and a Maj. Fiquie, are in charge of Katanga strongpoints in the current fighting and that stores of dynamite have been accumulated by Katanga for use in the dynamiting plan is opposed.

In Elisabethville, Tshombe claimed that U.N. planes heavily damaged facilities on the big copper and cobalt company in a weekend raid at Kolwezi, site of a Katanga air strip 150 miles northwest of Elisabethville. He said the attack also knocked out the town's fuel supply, scoring hits on diesel oil and water tanks.

Tshombe condemned the raid and disputed a U.N. declaration that the U.N. military action is a defensive one aimed at restoring law and order.

From Brussels, Belgian Foreign Minister Pierre Wypstalens said that the U.N. military action is a defensive one aimed at restoring law and order. He said that the U.N. military action is a defensive one aimed at restoring law and order.

Court Concludes Reading Of Judgment On Eichmann

JERUSALEM (AP)—The special Israeli court concluded the reading of its judgment on Adolf Eichmann today with a summary finding the former Gestapo colonel guilty on all 18 counts of an indictment handed down last April.

The summation, preceded by detailed examination of Eichmann's role in the extermination of six million Jews in Europe, was a blanket verdict of guilty. The maximum penalty under a special Israeli law is death.

The three-man court convicted Eichmann Monday of capital crimes against the Jews, then proceeded to outline its views on the details.

The conclusion-supported every claim that Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner placed against Eichmann after the former SS officer was captured in Argentina, flown here, interrogated, indicted and then tried.

At no time during the long reading did the judges say a word for Eichmann and there was no evidence of mitigation in the entire 100,000-word judgment. The counts charged Eichmann with joining the Nazi conspiracy to exterminate the Jews as a race, killing non-Jews as part of the forced labor program in Poland, contributing his help to the murder of Gypsies in the Hitler racial plan, helping to round up the children of Lidice in revenge for the assassination of Gestapo chief Reinhard Heydrich, plundering Jewish property and deliberately joining the Nazi SS, security police and Gestapo and full support of all such activities.

The defendant himself sat motionless as a statue. He heard over two days one judge after another destroy his defense that he was an unimportant cog in a big wheel and replace it with blanket conviction of Eichmann as a giant in a giant conspiracy.

The judgment determined that Eichmann, 55, knew of Hitler's plan to slaughter the Jews as early as June 1941.

The court said Eichmann helped to organize the extermination plan, was associated with the first murder squads and later with the supply line that shipped a special gas to the death chambers.

The court said Eichmann was a worse criminal than the underlings who actually operated the gas chambers.

Russians Demand Heusinger Trial

By PRESTON-GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government demanded today that the United States hand over West German Gen. Adolf Heusinger, chairman of the permanent North Atlantic Treaty Organization military committee in Washington, for trial in Moscow as a war criminal.

The demand was made in a note delivered today to the U.S. Embassy and publicized before cameras and bright lights at a Foreign Ministry news conference.

Heusinger was accused of war crimes, crimes against the peace and crimes against humanity.

The Soviet government charged that Heusinger, who was chief of operations for the German general staff until the 1944 bomb plot against Hitler, "organized bloody reprisals against the civilian population" in the Soviet Union and that he issued instructions for punitive detachments "which sanctioned every possible atrocity in regard to the peaceful population."

Michael Kharlamov, press director of the Foreign Ministry, told the news conference Heusinger is now quartered in the Pentagon.

Officials in Washington, commenting privately, took much the same line. They said it is a long cause trouble and "stir the pot" before the regular December meeting of the Atlantic Community Ministerial Council, that NATO groups gets together in Paris Wednesday.

Heusinger was arrested by the Western Allies after World War II, interned until 1946, but never brought to trial on war crimes charges. He has been a frequent Soviet target since he became the first chief of staff of West Germany's new armed forces in 1955.

Heusinger, 64, became chairman of the NATO military committee a year ago. Before that he was general inspector of the West German army, and helped draft plans for the new postwar army modeled along American lines.

'Copters Set For Combat

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Army service troops today began reading some 40 U.S. combat helicopters for use against the Viet Cong rebels.

The helicopters, with nearly 400 U.S. Army pilots and ground crewmen, arrived in Saigon Monday aboard the converted U.S. carrier Core. They reportedly will be ready to start flying missions in about two weeks.

The U.S. crews manning the helicopters will fly Vietnamese troops and equipment to attack positions when Communist rebels are sighted. The Vietnamese ground forces have had great difficulty trapping the roving Viet Cong units because of the lack of speedy transport over the jungle.

It will be the first time U.S. personnel have flown such missions against the rebel forces.

The helicopters are part of expanded U.S. military aid to South Viet Nam agreed upon a week ago.

AAUW Completes Project To Aid Able College Students

The Texas Division of the American Association of University Women has recently completed the project "Directory of Scholarships, Fellowships, and Student Loans" to aid able students to go to college. The Directory lists scholarships, fellowships, and student loans available in the senior colleges and the universities of Texas. Copies were placed in all accredited public high schools, in senior colleges, and in accredited junior colleges of the state to aid counselors in their guidance programs.

Now the Texas Division has exciting news of interest to mature women students. Texas is included in the eleven southern states, the area in which a program of graduate study will be initiated over a three-year period in an effort to relieve an acute shortage in college faculty and to advance mature college women in higher education.

AAUW Release No. I: Program To Meet Current Faculty Shortage.

Washington, D.C.—A program of graduate study through which mature women may qualify themselves for teaching, research, or administration in higher education has been announced by the American Association of University Women Education Foundation.

Financed by a $225,000 grant by the Rockefeller Brothers Fund, this nationally significant program will be initiated over a three-year period in eleven southern states—Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia. Designed to add fully-qualified women to the nation's resources of college faculty, the program will not only help to relieve the acute shortage of trained college personnel, but will provide the usual opportunity for the mature woman to embark on a professional career in higher education. Some of the "students" accepted for the demonstration will be wives and mothers whose family responsibilities are lessened as their children reach high school or college age. Others will be women whose plans for a professional career have had to be deferred for financial or other reasons.

Approximately fifty candidates, thirty-five years of age or older, who hold the bachelor's or the master's degree, will be selected each year for further education in one of the cooperating graduate schools. Universities which have already expressed interest in the plan include Auburn, Duke, Emory, Louisiana State, Tulane, North Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia.

Grants-in-aid for tuition and necessary expenses will be awarded on the basis of need in those candidates who live within commuting distance of the universities they attend.

The first group under the program will enroll in September 1962. Applications should be made no later than April 15, 1962. Inquiries should be addressed to Dr. Eleanor F. Dolan, AAUW Educational Foundation, 2401 Virginia Avenue, N.W., Washington 7, D.C.

AAUW Release No. II: Expansion of Roster of Women Holding Earned Doctorates.

Washington, D.C.—A unique locator service which will assist colleges and universities to find trained, able professional personnel will be developed by the AAUW Educational Foundation, according to Dr. Anna L. Rose Hawkes, President.

A $30,000 grant from the Fund for the Advancement of Education is making possible a two-year expansion and development program for the Association's Roster of Women Holding Earned Doctorates. The project has been undertaken as a result of the response by educational administrators and of women holding doctorates to the limited service offered by the AAUW since 1958.

Updated roster files will contain more detailed information. In addition, institutions will be able to ask that files be checked for each opening. Copies of the records of women, whose training and experience seem to qualify them for the position available will be sent to the inquiring institutions. Since the roster is not a placement service, no references will be kept, nor recommendations made. The expanded roster will help to meet the critical faculty shortage in higher education and will help women advance within the educational profession.

Over 12,000 women holding earned doctorates will receive questionnaires this month asking if they are available for college faculty positions. The list of women was compiled with the cooperation of the National Research Council of the National Academy of Sciences and over 130 doctorate-granting institutions in the United States which supplied addresses.

Women wishing to be included in the listing will pay a small registration fee and there will be a fee for institutions using the service. The AAUW Foundation expects the roster to be a self-supporting service by the end of the development period.

Detailed information about the roster service may be had by writing to Mrs. Lorraine B. Torres, Roster of Women Holding Earned Doctorates, AAUW Educational Foundation, 2401 Virginia Avenue, N.W., Washington 7, D.C.

King Spices Up New Barn

I SHOULD HAVE KISSED HER MORE. By Alexander King. There are some skeptics who say that Alexander King couldn't possibly have crammed into one lifetime such a collection of oddballs as he has exhibited in his three galleries of characters.

But does it matter very much? There is little doubt that King holds a triple - A license in the raconteur's fraternity, and if he flavors his yarns a bit highly at times, so much the better for the results which titillate the reader.

After "Some Enemy Grows Older" and "May This House Be Safe From Tigers" he has completed in this volume a somewhat disjointed account of the females in his life, not counting the ones he married.

If some of these salty narratives are a little hard to believe, it is only because we are not wholly accustomed to that suspension of disbelief which the reader must give to a talented tale-teller.

King has the priceless quality of being able to project into his stories the non-conformist notions of his own personality. He has contrived this book in a fanciful spirit of wondering who would attend his funeral services - which, of course, would be as unorthodox as possible. The mourners - if that is the word - would include some pretty fantastic two-legged creatures.

The contemporary world needs such books as this to give it a saving sense of the ridiculous, of which King is an acknowledged master.

Vermicelli Rice

2 tablespoons butter
1/4 cup vermicelli (broken into 1-inch pieces)
3/4 cup converted-type rice
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1 chicken bouillon cube
In a 10-inch skillet over low heat melt the butter. Add vermicelli and cook, stirring almost constantly, over moderate heat until golden brown. Stir in rice and boiling water in which bouillon cube is dissolved. Cover and simmer until bouillon is entirely absorbed and rice tender - 30 to 35 minutes. Add a little more water if necessary. Makes 4 servings.

Stewed Raisins

2 cups raisins
2 cups boiling water
Rinse raisins in hot water; drain. Place raisins and boiling water in a small saucepan and boil gently about 10 minutes. Cool. Serve with cereal and light cream. Makes about 2 1/2 cups.

Simmering a chicken to use cold in sandwiches or salads? Strain the stock and "up" its flavor by adding a little monosodium glutamate. This protein derivative has no flavor of its own, but it does wonders in pointing up chicken flavor. Chinese cooks use monosodium glutamate a great deal in making the base for their egg-drop and wonton soups.

Although mothers and daddies sometimes disagree about the suitability of tight fitting long pants for big girls, there is 100 per cent family unison on the subject of crazy pants for minor misses.

Certainly nothing is more perfect for the pre-schooler's important date with Christmas morning? Consider the fashion and service requirements that a garment must meet for this particular event.

Eager toddlers always beat the sun up to check up on Santa's generosity. They are out of their pajamas and into their holiday morning clothes long before the night's chill has worn off the house. What warms them down to their toes? Two piece knits.

Bounty such as pogo sticks, hobby horses and new tricycles must be initiated. What permits more action and modesty than a set of stretch pants and topper? A little glamor girl must hold her own amidst the Yule season background of tinsel and twinkles.

The designers of Lilliputian sports-wear have captured every bright hue possible for little mix match pants sets.

And girls must get into goody goodies despite the stains. Still knits suds clean and hang up to dry without ruining mother's holiday with more ironing.

Lastly, a little lady must be lovely. And she is in her lacy snug fitting knits which rival those mother and sisters also wear on a Christmas morning—despite vague masculine disapproval.

Labor Chiefs Get Wage Floor Goal

By NORMAN WALKER

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP) — AFL-CIO chiefs today set $1.50 an hour as organized labor's new goal for the federal minimum wage.

A policy statement cleared by the resolutions committee for expected approval by the AFL-CIO convention also urged Congress to raise the minimum wage to $1.25 immediately instead of in 1963.

As part of President Kennedy's program, Congress earlier this year raised the required pay level for about 25 million workers engaged in interstate commerce from $1.10 to $1.15 per hour, with the proviso the minimum should go to $1.25 in September, 1963.

The AFL-CIO resolution says that as soon as the $1.25 figure becomes effective, it will shoot for another boost to $1.50.

"The need of America's working poor for fair labor standards, the resolution said, 'has by no means been fully met.'"

Extension of the law's coverage to 16 million additional workers was also urged. Many such workers, the resolution said, "are paid excessively low wages and work excessive hours." The law requires overtime pay for hours worked beyond 40 a week. This and other resolutions called for a drive both by legislation and in labor contract negotiations with employers to accomplish a reduction in the present 40-hour week.

Other developments at the 12.5-million member AFL-CIO's biennial convention included:

Feuding building trades and industrial unions stood far apart as ever in negotiating a peace formula for labor's internal wars. The building trades rejected a dispute settlement formula favored by Walter Reuther. It was indicated that AFL-CIO President George Meany was siding with the building trades and preparing for an open convention break with Reuther.

Differences over civil rights legislation appeared about to reach a boiling point. A Philip Randolph, Negro union leader, readied an appeal to convention delegates to cancel a two-month-old statement of concern from fellow AFL-CIO leaders that accused Randolph of stirring up racial prejudices among workers.

Negro integrationist Martin Luther King told the convention Monday that Randolph had not deserved to be so ridiculed and reviled. Calling on the AFL-CIO to wipe out racial discrimination in unions King said "your conduct should set an example for others, as you have done in other crusades for social justice."

Santa Claus Freed Quickly Following Arrest On Sunday

PENNDLE, Pa. (AP) — Santa Claus was hauled into court, accused of breaking a law 187 years old, but almost before anyone could say "Rudolph the Red-nosed Reindeer" he was free of the north wind again.

The judge—a squirrel, or justice of the peace, really—who all along acted as if someone had mistaked the Christmas spirit, apologized Monday night to the ruddy defendant for all the fuss.

Santa, in the general person of Earl Steger, 58, was arrested Sunday as he was listening to the kids pour out their holiday wishes at Butch's Discount Market.

Police Chief William Riempp

and Sgt. Norman Rigby told him he was playing hob with the blue laws, which forbid the sale of nonessentials on Sunday.

But to get Santa on that rap sheet he was selling nothing, the authorities had to invoke the bluest code of 1794 rather than the revised version of 1868. Under the old, old law it is unlawful to be gainfully employed on Sunday.

Santa just stood silent, smiling wide, now and then fidgeting. Mrs. Santa's hand in his own.

His lawyer, Ed the talking "Your honor, my client shouldn't be here. Plainly, he is, without guilt or guile. What crime is he charged with? I'll tell you—simply wanting to do good for children. Heinous, isn't it?"

After listening to both prosecution and defense, the squirrel hesitated to say, "It gives me great honor to discharge this defendant. This is the last place Santa Claus belongs. Gainful employment, indeed! Everybody knows Santa gives—that he doesn't take." He shook hands with Santa and wife.

Steger, who has been Santa to thousands of children at the store in the last three years, is a building superintendent.

"I have a great love for children," he said, "and I'd probably play Santa even if I didn't get paid for it. The happiness of the kids is pay enough."

The squirrel went on: "I've never had anything like this in my court before. Having Santa Claus arrested, I mean. It is most upsetting."

2 Indicted In Price-Fixing

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Two optical company officials, who earlier won dismissal of antitrust charges, were re-indicted in U.S. District Court Monday on price-fixing charges.

Akon K. Marsters of Rochester, N.Y., a vice president of Bausch & Lomb Inc., and Victor D. Kniss of Southbridge, Mass., vice president of American Optical Co., were given until Jan. 8 to appear before Judge Kenneth P. Grubb to answer the charges.

The two executives and their firms were indicted last summer under the Sherman antitrust law. Last month U.S. District Judge Robert H. Tahan dismissed the indictments against the executives, saying they should have been brought under section 14 of the Clayton act.

The re-indictments, Monday were based on Judge Tahan's decision, naming the officials under the Clayton act. No move has been made by the corporations for dismissal of their indictments, which stand under the Sherman antitrust law.

Discovery May Control Parasite

A recent discovery may prove of great value in future efforts to control or eradicate a very expensive livestock parasite, the screw-worm. The discovery was a black screw-worm fly. Normally, the flies are blue-green.

The first black screw-worm fly was found by Dr. Leo E. LaChance, insect geneticist of the USDA's Agricultural Research Service at Kerville, in a laboratory colony obtained from Orlando, Florida. Since these flies had not been irradiated, the black one is believed to be the result of a naturally occurring mutation. Several generations of the black screw-worm fly have been produced by LaChance and his associates.

The black color is important as a genetic marker, a distinguishable physical characteristic that is heritable and could prevent a problem which delayed the eradication in the Southeast, a quick, effective way to identify the released flies.

Irradiation does not alter the appearance of screw-worm flies, and they are not radioactive when recovered in traps. Dye or other markings are not sufficiently permanent for accurate identification. An easily distinguishable marker, such as the black color, could eliminate this problem and speed progress in future eradication programs.

The ARS entomologists are now conducting studies to determine how the newly marked flies compare with wild flies in mating activity, longevity, and flight range. If the black screw-worm flies prove biologically successful, they will provide a valuable new tool for use both in entomological research and in control and eradication efforts.

This discovery could mean much to the program now getting underway in Texas under the sponsorship of the Southeast Animal Health Research Foundation.

Tigers Trek To Stamford

All even for the season with three victories and a like number of losses, Snyder's Tigers take to the road this evening for Stamford and a non-district tilt with the Bulldogs of District 6AA.

Coach J. P. Ward's Tigers—fourth place winners in the recent Andross Invitational—now may boast of a pair of wins over Hamlin and the other over Dumas. Their losses have been sustained at the hands of Robert E. Lee of Midland, Andrews and Sweetwater.

Snyder starters will include Steve Free and Eddie Puy at guards, Pooch Hatter and Larry McNair, at forwards, and either Freddy Miller or William Robinson at center.

Free is the team's leading scorer with 74 points for the campaign, or an average of 12.3 per contest. Game time is 8 p.m. Preceding that will be a "B" game matching the two schools, as Coach V. V. Shogbaum's charges go out in quest of their seventh win in eight starts. Their most recent activity saw them gaining runner-up honors in the Fluvanna Tournament of the past weekend. Following tonight's action, both Snyder quints will be entrants in Snyder's Canyon Reef Tournament of this Friday and Saturday. The Tigers will kick off play in the tourney at 9:30 Friday morning against Haskell, and the Tiger-B will get its feet wet that afternoon at 1 o'clock against Apertmoor.

Other Reef tournament entrants include Winters, Seminole, Robert E. Lee, and Stamford.

The Tigers will depart here this afternoon at 3:30 for Stamford, then return at conclusion of the games tonight.

Between You And Me

BY JERRY JACKSON

Granted, Ronnie Bull played a fairly good game Saturday for his five-to-five (five wins, five losses) Baylor Bears when they upset humbly Utah State, the Skyline scourge, by 24-9 in the infant Gotham Bowl.

Although hampered in his play by an early-season injury and a report that he had become the property of the Chicago Bears rather than the Baylor Bears, he went ahead and played, rumors of his having signed a pro contract to the contrary. And Bull with a back brace seemingly better than no Bull at all, if you'll be so kind as to pardon the expression.

However, on at least one notable play—the final one of the first half—he failed to measure up to his number one pro draft billing when he made a strictly sandlot slip-up. In an open field and touch-down-bound, he dropped the ball and erased the six points which had been written on it. A freakish flub, but one that stood out like a sore thumb.

Had it not been for the TV hookup, the Gotham venture, would have been one of the bigger financial flops of the year. The reported throng hit 15,123, which may or may not have included the popcorn vendors.

Maybe a bigger turnout would have been on hand at the ancient Polo Grounds had a polo game been on tap. Or possibly a donkey hussball game.

Probably the highest contributing factor to the lean attendance was attributable to the teams playing. Unless foreigners are highly heralded, they just don't draw well in this part of the country.

State, of course, was undefeated and once-tied going into the game, with only that 6-6 stalemate against Wyoming marring their state. Their opposition, however, had red blood for the most part, against the likes of Texas Western, Montana, Washington State, New Mexico, Colorado State, Idaho, Brigham Young, Western Michigan, and Utah.

Baylor played a conceivably tougher schedule, undoubtedly. But their 5-5 season reading and tie for sixth place within the Southwest Conference can't be expected to draw New York fans in like Bilek. It takes entirely too much time to do up a record like that for public consumption in order to make it a paying proposition.

So—algebraically—West plus Southwest is at least as sauerkraut plus egg plant is to strawberry shortcake.

It'll be interesting to see what comparable showing the upcoming Sun-Bowl will have on the attendance scene. The governing powers down El Paso way have stepped out on the limb by plucking a pair of teams from the Midwest and Far East for their annual grid extravaganza—Wichita and Villanova.

Wichita's visitors (7-2) hail from the Sunflower State of Kansas, while Villanova (2-2) is mired deep in Pennsylvania.

Oh, well. It should be warmer in El Paso, by the time game time rolls around than it was in New York Saturday, a factor that shouldn't be overlooked.

Tugboat Prospect For Vacant Post

DALLAS (AP)—Thurmond (Tugboat) Jones, long a successful high school coach, has been added to the interview list for the vacant post of athletic director at Wichita Falls, Texas, which is currently vacant at the latter school, had been put on the list along with three others down for interviews this week.

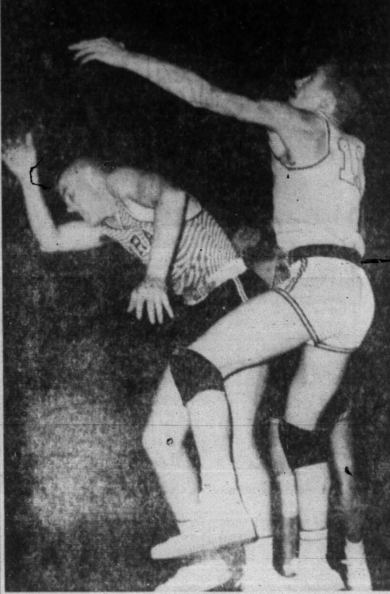

Bo Hagan, former assistant coach at Southern Methodist and now holding the same position at Rice, was here Monday to talk with Bell and the faculty committee on athletics.

Claude Gilstrap of Arlington State was to be interviewed today. Hilden Frys, assistant at Arkansas, was here Wednesday.

Monday's results: Chicago 137, Los Angeles 121. Today's schedule: Philadelphia at New York. Wednesday's schedule: Syracuse at New York.

Monday's results: No scores published. Today's schedule: Washington 70, Hawaii at Los Angeles.

Texans Take Blue Devils To Cleaners

Lamar's Texans ripped and scooped to three cage triumphs over cross-town rival Travis here in Tiger Gym Monday, the Texans 8th nipping the Blue Devils 40-30, and Lamar 8th and 7th by more comfortable tallies of 34 and 32-20, respectively.

Drew Bullard and Jerry Vestal teamed up to lead the Texas 9th to their triumph, sinking 13 points apiece to lead the way. Leslie Brown was the big gun for the Blue Devils with 11.

Brown was also the top rebounder of the game with 15 grabs, while Phillip Floyo sparked Lamar in that department with 9.

Travis capitalized on 35 of 53 free throws for 65 per cent to Lamar's 14 of 35 and 40 per cent over the course of the contest.

Marvin Mayfield had a starring role in bringing the Texas 8th to its capping 15 points for the evening. Jackie Rice was tops for the Blue Devil 8th with 4.

Sandy Wellborn broke open a tight game in the third period of the 7th grade game, as he began to hit from all angles to break a 15-15 tie and shoot his Texas five to a 26-15 lead, from which point they coasted in to the win.

Wellborn and Blue Devil Cadena shared high point honors for the game with 15 each.

Thursday action will see Lamar entertaining Sweetwater here in Texas Gym beginning at 5 p.m. in a tripleheader and Travis 8th and 9th in Stamford for a pair of contests beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Lamar 9th-Drew Bullard 23-11, Tom Russell 19-2, Phillip Vestal 13-5, Jerry Vestal 6-11, Kenneth Dwyer 1-3, Danny Fenton 1-2, Tommie 12-14.

Travis 9th-Leslie Brown 8-11, Leslie Anderson 2-4, Gary Bergerson 0-1, Jimmy Ferguson 0-2, Bobby Ray 2-3.

Longhorns, Aggies Tumble From List

By The Associated Press

Texas and Texas A&M fell Monday to remove the last unbeaten teams in Southwest Conference basketball.

Texas took a 77-75 licking from Louisiana State, Texas A&M was edged 62-60 by Memphis State.

Martin Among Lobo Letter Winners

ALPINE (Special)—Twenty-nine Sul Ross State College football players won letters during the 1961 season, announced David Slaughter, athletic director and head coach, on Monday.

This is the first Lobo letter of the lettermen, the second for 10, the third for 6, and for one, Captain Oscar Becker of Cotulla, it is the fourth.

By class, 13 of the lettermen are juniors, nine are seniors, four are sophomores and three are freshmen.

Senior lettermen are Jim Hingsworth, Vernon; Jerry Cantrell, Ranger; Clinton Humphreys, Eastland; Frank Crockett, Alpine; Pat Hamilton, Wichita Falls; James Hamilton, Breckenridge; Jack Gray, Robert Lee; Rance Smith, Midkiff; and Becker.

Sophomores are John Roberts, Van Horn; Mickey Hamilton, Wichita Falls; Marvin Agnew, Eastland; Ted Benton, Midland; Freshmen are Paul Pasqua, Dallas; A. C. Lex, Goerne; and Ronnie Stephens, San Angelo.

Coach David Slaughter said the King have just completed their third season at the helm of the Sul Ross team, despite improvements each season, but having lost heavily in the Lone Star Conference this year. Reserves and replacements are being contemplated in the next future, in time for Spring training in April.

Baugh Takes Boss' Threat In Stride

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry says he's going to demote Sammy from head coach to backfield assistant and Sammy says that would be wonderful.

That's the latest twist in the verbal duel between owner Harry Wisner and coach Sammy Baugh of the American Football League's New York Titans.

The feud reemerged Sunday after the Titans had been belted out of Eastern Division title contention by the Houston Oilers, 48-21. Baugh took some sharply barbed swipes at Wisner's competence as club chief and dared Harry to fire him. The ex-Washington Redskin passing star still has a year to go on his Titan contract, which pays him a reported $28,000 a season.

Monday Wisner retaliated, charging Baugh with disloyalty and claiming he had plans to drop Sammy from head coach to assistant backfield coach. Harry further claimed that as a replacement for Baugh, he's considering the "coach of a leading university"—unnamed.

Baugh said the demotion "would be just wonderful. I'd like to be an assistant at these prices."

A big point of contention between owner and coach has been Wisner's preoccupation with Syracuse's All-America halfback and Heisman Trophy winner, Ernie Davis. Although draft rights to Davis belong to Buffalo in the AFL, and Washington in the rival National Football League, Wisner has persisted in saying he was after the halfback, offering a $25,000 bonus for signing and a three-year contract at $100,000. Harry says Buffalo gave him permission toicker. Buffalo says may.

Three-State Affair

TEXAS (AP)—A 10-0-1 struggle Memphis State, 110 Aggies were behind by eight points with only 50 seconds left when they scored three field goals before Memphis State could talk. Again Memphis State gave the Aggies a field goal in the last second to avoid making a foul.

Benny Johnson of Texas A&M led the scoring with 23 points. Rice took a 63-63 lead with 1:25 left as Ole Shipley, the Owls' top scorer with 20 points, sank a lay-up. The Owls built the margin to 69-63, and Tulane went into a full court press that handed Rice some foul shots.

Clutch shooting by sophomores Roale Phelps and Roy Wolfe pulled Baylor across in its battle with Oklahoma City. Phelps shot Baylor into an early lead and continued his pace to lead all the scorers with 22 points.

Oklahoma City pulled within two points with nine seconds left but Wolfe sank two free throws to clinch the victory. Larry Jones led the Oklahoma City scoring with 20 points.

IT ISN'T OFTEN YOU STEP ON TWO AT ONCE

'The Twist' May Be Answer To Physical Fitness Program

When President Kennedy came to New York last week and in a matter of speech, urged each and all of us to get up off our self-sophisticated exercise, improve our muscle tone and even walk, I felt mighty low in my mind.

"We are underexercised as a nation," he said. "We look instead of play, ride instead of walk."

In shame, my head hung from my floppy neck. Here was a clarion call to action to one (me) who has been longing with all her heart to do something, anything for her country. But, honestly, I am simply too old to learn to play touch football.

One minute of touch football, and I would be a basket case. It occurred to me that for the first time in my life there is a President who is my junior. It was bound to happen eventually, but even before that psychic shock has worn off, it is urging me not only to pay my taxes and support lower tariffs but simultaneously to do push-ups and sit-ups.

All of a sudden I felt like (speech forbidden) a senior citizen. I began to wonder what in the world had ever happened to my gym bloomers. Then, in a spirit of a reckless derring-do, I decided to see if I could still touch my fingertips to the floor, even in three-inch spike heels.

"Well, I can. Yes, I can, but my husband had to help me straighten up. As a Republican, he just laughed and laughed."

Now the point of all this is that I might have brooded overtime about the nation's physical well-being if my husband and I had not given a dinner party the other evening. Since then I have realized that this nation is as much as nails physically and that both Mr. Kennedy and I live rather isolated lives out of the main stream.

Let me interpolate here to say that I am a little late in a discussion of the twist. Every other writer who has access to a print has discussed this new social phenomenon ad nauseam. Since I scowled charity balls as the devil does holy water, and have never been to the Peppermint Lounge, the high temple of the twist, I had never seen this new craze, described to us by one of our perceptive friends, as a re-enactment of old fertility rites.

However, one of our guests the other evening definitely belongs to the younger generation. Appropos of nothing, he said it was very easy to do the twist.

"Just pretend," he began, "that you are stubbing out a cigarette with each foot and rubbing your back dry with a towel after a shower."

That did it. It sounded so simple, really. And, after all, we are each younger than the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, who are said to be devotees of the twist, as well as Elsa Maxwell, who has any number of laps on us, and no pun intended.

Before you could say "physical fitness," every guest was stubbing out cigarettes on the parquet. And then one guest, carried away by this stubbing, said, "Can't we have towels?" So I raided the linen closet and distributed the towels.

"Try stubbing out one cigarette first," cautioned our young friend. "And it isn't your shoulders you're supposed to rub dry," he added delicately. "Lower, lower! No, not the waist, either. Lower."

The evening pointed a powerful moral to me. This nation, far from being flabby, is in the pink. Any country that is twisting from coast to coast and border to border can lick its weight in King Kong.

Honey, hand me that towel! Two more lessons and I'll be asking Santa for a football.

Lift Sanctions, Guatemala Urges

WASHINGTON (AP)—Guatemala asked the Organization of American States Monday night to lift all sanctions against the Dominican Republic.

The Guatemalan note to Ambassador Alberto Zuleta Angel of Colombia, president of the OAS Council, said there no longer is any reason to consider the Dominican Republic a threat to the peace and security of the hemisphere.

Sanctions were imposed in August 1960. The Dominican government of slain dictator Rafael Trujillo was found to be involved in an attempt to assassinate Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt.

Columnist Jumps At Conclusions

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions:

Fat women are more generous than skinny women—at least to panhandlers. They are more likely to fall for a hard luck story.

I never trust a man who is too fond of those gooey cocktail canapes. Any man who can really enjoy that kind of food must have a deficiency of judgment or character in more important matters.

Nurses make the worst of all hospital patients, because they know how much a doctor doesn't know—and suspect some of the things he thinks he does know.

I never intend to name a cat in my will until, when I have a fever, one of them spends a sleepless night putting its paw to my forehead to take my temperature.

A boy gets a deeper thrill out of learning to make a shrill whistle through his teeth than a man does the day his bank account tops a million dollars.

The great virtue of much modern art is this: It gives as much pleasure to a blind person as to one who can see.

The least impressive executives to me are the ones who, when you phone them, have secretaries who invariably demand, "Who's calling, please?" What difference does it make who's calling? They're either there or they're not there.

You're a real married veteran if, no matter what your wife says to you, you figure she's picking on you.

No man has a really happy life who has to start every morning off by taking bicarbonate of soda or a fizz tablet in water.

Whenever I meet anyone who is a chronic good loser, I don't particularly admire him. I think he is merely putting on defeatism and ought to get out of the game for a while, no matter what the game is.

It isn't true that no one ever said a memorable thing at a party after midnight. But for every memorable remark a man makes at that hour, he usually spends two days wishing he had said something less memorable.

You hear a lot of jokes about the waiter who puts his thumb in the soup, but in all my life I have never seen this happen. Nor can I recall ever seeing a waiter spill hot soup on a patron.

The most annoying borrower in the office isn't the one who asks you for money. It's the one who always has a fresh set of both cigarettes and matches. A man who runs out of cigarettes ought to at least have a match in his pocket.

More things make a man feel more like public benefactor than giving away a two-bit cigar to someone who really appreciates it.

I instinctively like a man who wears a vest and carries an old-fashioned pocket watch in it. They give him an air of sturdy independence, a disdain of the opinion of the mob.

You're middle-aged if you have to make two trips to the front door to fetch in your big Sunday newspaper.

A man who never does anything to excess in public always raises the suspicion in others that he is practicing a secret vice of some kind.

Views Differ On Court Decision

By The Associated Press
Southern officials generally found little, if any, significance in the U.S. Supreme Court decision overturning the conviction of 16 sit-in demonstrators, but Negro leaders viewed it as the dawn of a new day for their race.

Jack Gremlion, attorney general of Louisiana where the case originated, said it seemed to him Monday's unanimous ruling was based merely on grounds of lack of evidence.

"The constitutionality of Louisiana's so-called sit-in laws has not been passed on and so far as the state is concerned, they are valid legislation," he said.

The Negroes, all students of Southern University at Shreveport, were convicted under a Louisiana law making it a breach of the peace to "act in such a manner as to unreasonably disturb or alarm the public."

Chief Justice Earl Warren, who delivered the court's opinion, said there was no evidence the Negroes "disturbed the peace, either by outwardly boisterous conduct or by passive conduct likely to cause a public disturbance."

The ruling left unanswered broad constitutional questions raised by the sit-ins, including freedom of expression and equal protection.

The Southern Regional Council, a biracial group with headquarters in Atlanta, estimated 3,700 sit-in demonstrators have been arrested in the South in the past two years. It figured "Freedom Riders" arrests at 500.

Arrests have been made under breach of the peace laws in Louisiana, Florida, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky and Texas. Anti-trespass laws have been used to try and curb the sit-ins in Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Maryland.

The Congress of Racial Equality, sponsor of most of the rides and a number of sit-ins, issued a statement in New York hailing the Supreme Court decision as the dawning of a new day for Negroes.

Blast Claims 2nd Victim

GALVESTON (AP)—A second person died Monday of injuries suffered in a West Texas pipeline explosion.

He was Thomas P. Warren, field superintendent for Vaughan & Taylor Construction Co. of Odessa. Warren was burned over most of his body.

The first victim, Elton E. Sanders, 35, died Sunday.

They were in a crew dismantling a pipeline for scrap when the explosion and fire occurred. They were flown to John Sealy Hospital here after treatment at Crane, near where the accident occurred.

A third workman, L. D. Koonce, 45, also was burned. He was not brought here.

No Statement On Unhumanitarian Acts

GENEVA (AP)—The International Committee of the Red Cross said Monday it has no reports of alleged unhumanitarian acts in Katanga.

A spokesman said the committee's man in Katanga "had made no public statement on the subject of alleged observations on the conduct of the military operations."

He refused to confirm or deny opposing charges that U.N. forces fired on a hospital or that Katanga troops used Red Cross-marked vehicles for fighting.

Panama Assembly Urges Cuba Break

PANAMA (AP)—The National Assembly urged President Robert Chirari's government Monday night to break relations with Cuba immediately.

All but three of the 40 deputies present voted for the resolution. Two cast negative votes and one abstained.

Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, in a speech last weekend admitting he is a Communist, openly invited Colombia and Panama to sever relations. Colombia did Sunday.

Carter Will Head New State Board

AUSTIN (AP) — Joe D. Carter, chairman of the Board of Water Engineers, has been elected chairman of the new Water Pollution Control Board.

The board held its first meeting Monday and reviewed the legislation creating it. Members agreed to accept decisions by the State Health Board on sewer specifications and by the Board of Water Engineers on injection of waste materials into the ground.

The board also decided the State Health Department shall continue until July, 1963, to be the state agency receiving federal aid for pollution control.

David Smallhorst, executive director, said he would place proposed rules and regulations in the hands of board members before they meet again Jan. 18. He submitted drafts of permit application forms and permits to dispose of waste in state waters.

"If we can get this permit show on the road in the next 18 months, I think we'll be doing quite a job. I've been awfully worried about the particular area of just who should be required to have permits," he said.

Associate Justice Joe Greenhill swore the members in. They were congratulated by Gov. Price Dan-

Members besides Carter are Dr. J. E. Peavy, state health commissioner; Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission; Sam Wohlford of Stratford, representing agricultural and soil conservation interests; C. M. Shigley of Freeport, assistant general manager of Dow Chemical Co., representing industry; and J. S. Hudnall of Tyler, representing oil and gas producers.

The board was created in the first called session of the 1961 Legislature.

Vadim Will Fight Film Censorship

By PATRICK MCULTY
 PARIS (AP)—I am going to the United States to make certain that not one frame is cut of the derriere of my ex-wife, Annette Stroyberg.

The speaker is Roger Vadim, young French movie director who made the world realize that B.B. stands for Brigitte Bardot.

Vadim is off today for New York to take a few boxes next week at the premiere of his controversial movie, "Les Liaisons Dangereuses." He said he expects a battle also with U.S. censors.

"There are a few erotic shots in the film," said Vadim, "including one of my ex-wife's bare derriere."

"But I'm going to insist that not one frame is cut. I am against censorship. American audiences will either see all of my ex-wife, or not at all."

If American censors insist on snipping, Vadim said he will pack up the movie and bring it home.

A classic of French literature, "Les Liaisons Dangereuses" has been transferred to modern times and recast as the bedroom adventures of a French diplomat. Until a few months ago French officials banned its export, contending it presented France in a bad light.

Vadim discovered Miss Bardot, married her, lost her, married Miss Stroyberg and parted with her. Earlier this year he directed Miss Bardot in a new film.

The director said there's no violence or sadism in "Les Liaisons Dangereuses" — the audience won't want to kill their grandmother or push the little sister down the stairs.

"And if my movie makes a boy want to kiss his girl, well, that's bad-like the atom bomb!"

Brothers Suffer Similar Mishaps

PITTSBURG, Kan. (AP)—Steve Sumner, 14, delivering newspapers, was knocked off a bicycle in a collision with a car at 5:30 p.m. Monday. The car driver didn't stop.

Steve's brother, Scott, 13, delivering newspapers, was knocked off a bike in a similar collision 30 minutes later a few blocks away. The driver didn't stop.

Neither boy was hurt. The bikes, both borrowed, weren't damaged.

Connally In Governor's Race, But Texas Retains Navy Post

By MIKE COCHRAN

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—John B. Connally, President Kennedy's first secretary of the Navy, will leave his post Dec. 20, come back to Texas and run for governor.

He disclosed his decision Monday. The President appointed Fred Korth, a Fort Worth banker, to succeed Connally as civilian head of the Navy.

Connally, 44, is a Fort Worth attorney. As a friend and confidant of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn, he has been a background power in Texas politics. His move promised a scramble for Democratic party leadership in the state.

In Korth, 52, Kennedy picked another Democrat known to associates as "a cool veteran of Washington politics."

Last June 2 Korth became an aide to Secretary of the Army Elvis S. Stahr Jr., primarily responsible for liaison with civilians on Army policy and missions.

Also a lawyer, Korth served with the Air Transport Command in World War II, attaining the rank of lieutenant colonel. He was named deputy counselor for the Army in 1951 and served as assistant secretary of the Army in 1952-53.

Korth received the Army's outstanding civilian service award in 1959. He was appointed a director of the Panama Canal Co. this year.

President Kennedy considered Korth for secretary of the Army but he declined. He said the Defense Department should not have two men from the same city in key posts, as would have been the case with Connally running Navy.

"That situation of course has changed now," Korth said. "I feel this is a tremendous challenge and presents an opportunity to do a job which is extremely important."

Connally has been a campaign manager or consultant for John F. Kennedy since the vice president first ran for U.S. representative in 1957.

His departure is the first top-ranking personnel change at the Pentagon since Kennedy became president.

"The great threat we face is a Communist challenge to our political, economic, moral and spiritual institutions," Connally said in announcing his political plans. "This (the state) is a vital front

FRED KORTH... new Navy Secretary

today, and this is where I think I can best serve.

"In announcing for governor, I do so with the conviction that military strength alone cannot guarantee our security and our way of life," Connally said.

Connally's move clearly took Texas Gov. Price Daniel, now serving a third term, and State Atty. Gen. Wm. Wilson, an announced Democratic candidate for governor, by surprise.

Daniel has hinted he might seek re-election if the Texas Legislature fails to approve his program in a special session starting Jan. 3.

Wilson said it was inconceivable to him that Connally would "abandon ship in the face of peril to come home and politic."

The shadow of Lyndon B. Johnson is cast over this event, Wilson asserted. "Lyndon Johnson is doing his job as vice president—and one office at a time is enough."

Republican Jack Cox, a Breckenridge business man, also has said he is running for governor.

Former State Highway Commission Chairman Marshall Formby, a Plainview lawyer and a Democrat, has said he will enter the governor's race next month. There are expected to be half a dozen other candidates.

Daniel said Connally telephoned to tell the governor his plans several hours before holding a news conference in Fort Worth. Connally told reporters he also phoned U.S. Rep. Jim Wright, another Fort Worth resident, and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex.

"I expressed the hope when I talked to Daniel that I might have his support in this race," Connally said. "He was less reassuring than I had hoped for."

In the conversation with Wright, Connally said he expressed hope "I would not be in the race with Wright but was not assured he would not be a candidate."

The retiring secretary said "I couldn't be more delighted" when newsmen told him about the appointment of Korth as his successor.

Kennedy told Connally in a letter that his abilities would be missed. The President commended him "for your earnest desire to make a further contribution, in a different field, to your state and to the nation."

"I know that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, the members of the Cabinet and American fighting men all over the world join me in extending to you our deep felt thanks for a job well done, and our sincerest wishes for your success and happiness," Kennedy wrote.

Korth said he would resign as president of the Continental National Bank in Fort Worth at a directors' meeting Thursday. He plans to leave for Washington in a few days.

A native of Yorktown in South Central Texas, he was educated at the University of Texas in Austin and went to George Washington University, where he received his law degree in 1935. He practiced law a number of years before becoming a banker.

Korth is a former president of the Texas Bar Association and the Young Democrats Clubs of Texas. He and Mrs. Korth have three children—a daughter, 26, who is married; a son, 23, now in the University of Texas law school, and another daughter, 16 at home.

Solons In Squabble Over Liberty Island District

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

A quiet, gentlemanly squabble is rippling in Capitol Hill over whether a New Yorker should continue to represent Liberty Island. A New Jersey representative claims it should be part of his domain.

Caught midstream in the dispute is the 12-acre island in New York Harbor from which the Statue of Liberty lifts its torch.

Rep. Leonard Farberstein, D-N.Y., who represents the area of the famous Lower Manhattan skyline, also officially represents Liberty Island. He can point out chapter and verse in the law books to support his claim.

Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher, D-N.J., says this shouldn't be. After all, he says, Liberty Island—formerly Bedloe's Island—actually is within the city limits of Jersey City and is carried on its tax rolls.

Besides, he argues, Liberty Island is closer to New Jersey than it is to New York and its utilities come from the Garden State.

What is Farberstein's reaction to this?

"He's a very nice fellow and I like him," the New Yorker said of Gallagher. "But we're not giving up the Gateway to the New World so easily."

Farberstein said the Statue of Liberty has always been in his district, still is and will remain there.

As far as votes go, Liberty Island is insignificant. Gallagher said 13 people who maintain the island and statue live there. But its prestige value is immeasurable.

Gallagher voiced his claim to the island last year when he found out the Census Bureau would continue to count Liberty Island residents as New Yorkers.

But his appeal fell on deaf ears as far as Robert W. Burgess, then Census Bureau director, was concerned. He cited an 1834 law which spelled out New York's jurisdiction. He said there was nothing to indicate New Jersey ever claimed the island.

Gallagher was undaunted. He wrote to the Library of Congress but got a similar answer.

"The library said the island was burned over to the federal government by New York during the last century on condition the Empire State retain some of its legal rights there."

administered by the Interior Department, Gallagher referred to the island as part of his congressional district.

The proposed visit is intended to convince Udall that a national park should be established on the Jersey City shoreline and a causeway built from it to the island.

The only way to reach the island now is by ferry boat from New York.

Udall hasn't answered the letter.

Officials are exploring the possibilities of a settlement on proposed increases in wholesale natural gas rates in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas.

A hearing on the increase was postponed from Monday until today as efforts to reach an agreement continued.

A company official said a closed-door discussion was held at Federal Power Commission offices, by representatives of Cities Service Gas Co., intervenor, and FPC staff members.

Cities Service officials were to be cross examined on testimony previously presented before FPC examiner Samuel Binder.

The company applied last June for an $8,684,500 a year, or 16 per cent, increase in wholesale natural gas rates to utility customers in the five states. It contended it is entitled to a 6.75 per cent rate of return on its investment instead of the present 6.25 per cent.

Cities Service had proposed to put the increase into effect July 23. The FPC on July 21, however, suspended for five months until Dec. 23—$6,366,900 of the proposed increase. This is the portion applicable to all sales other than industrial.

The commission also can rule on the part of the increase asked on industrial sales. An FPC spokesman said, but any increased amount the company may have collected in the meantime for industrial sales would not be subject to refunds.

Anti-Trust Suit Trial Near End

DALLAS (AP)—Trial of a $807,113 anti-trust suit of Metzger Dairies, Inc. against the 2,200-member North Texas Producers Association is expected to end Wednesday.

An Oklahoma dairyman testified Monday in federal court that the producers association received legal advice while it allegedly boycotted products of the Dallas Dairy.

Board member N. W. Terry of the association testified under cross-examination by Charles Storey, who represents Metzger Dairies.

Terry, of Gate, Okla., said the legal advisor for the association advised the board members in 1958, during the alleged boycott, against certain types of boycotts and also against the use of force in boycotts.

Asked if the association's counsel gave any reason for the advice, Terry answered, "no, he didn't."

Attorneys for the dairy alleged that the North Texas Producers Association refused to sell milk to Metzger after they protested the price hike and later ordered a general boycott of their products by all association members when the dairy began importing out-of-state milk.

Banker Raps Escheat Law

DALLAS (AP)—Bank of Texas are being used as "common fodder" in a game of political warfare, the Texas Bankers Association said Monday.

This comment was in a statement prepared by TBA President L. S. Goforth in reply to Gov. Price Daniel's proposals for applying an escheat enforcement law to banks and other banking institutions.

The letter was backed by both the TBA's legislative committee and its administrative council, convened in regular fall session at Dallas.

An escheat enforcement law, requiring all businesses except banks and savings and loan associations to report to the state treasury accounts dormant for seven years or longer, was enacted at a called session of the legislature earlier this year. It requires them to advertise in quest of owners of the accounts and makes the accounts subject to reversion to the state.

Gov. Daniel now has called a third special session to convene Jan. 3 and consider applying the law to banks and other banking institutions.

In a letter to Goforth dated Nov. 29, Daniel urged the TBA chief to "assume the responsibility of working out a proposal which the Texas Bankers Association can support at the special session," he stipulated these three "minimum provisions":

1. That no bank deposits of lost owners or missing heirs shall be transferred to the profits or capital of any bank or otherwise be reduced by charges or assessments while in a dormant condition.

2. That after depositors have been lost or unknown for more than seven years, reasonable diligence should be made to locate them, including the advertising of their names at least once in a local newspaper.

3. That any remaining deposits on which owners cannot be located for more than seven years be returned to any bank or otherwise be shall be reported to the state and conserved by the state, still subject to delivery to owners or missing heirs who may be located at any time thereafter.

Goforth said in his reply: "We were met at the outset by the 'minimum requirements'..."

A proposal by the Texas Bankers Association which included these would be, essentially, an acceptance of premises which the association has determined are vital in the public interest."

Ready To Stand Trial

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Richard P. Pavlick, 74, of Belmont, N.H., says he is ready to stand trial on a charge of plotting to assassinate President Kennedy.

Pavlick was arrested a year ago in Plain Beach, Fla., after FBI officers found several sticks of dynamite in his car and motel room he planned to kill Kennedy because of "the underhanded way he was elected."

Pavlick has been held at the Federal Prison Medical Center in Springfield, Mo., under a law that permits an accused person to be held until he is mentally competent to stand trial.

An attorney filed in U.S. District Court Monday a petition asking that Pavlick be returned to Florida to stand trial, claiming he is mentally competent.

Casals To Conduct Concerts In U. S.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—In a break from his long-held pledge not to appear in public in countries recognizing Franco Spain, Pablo Casals announced plans Monday night to conduct concerts in New York and San Francisco and in Europe and Israel next year.

The decision followed his recent widely acclaimed playing at the White House at the invitation of President and Mrs. Kennedy.

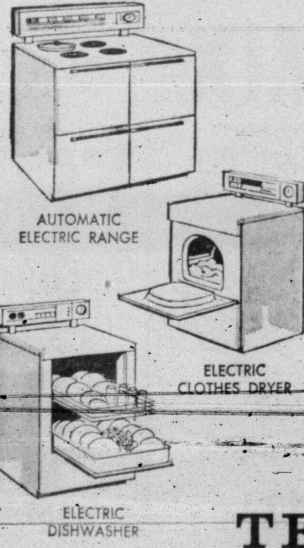

The concert conductor, who will be 85 next month, said he plans to conduct three concerts in San Francisco next April, plus two concerts in New York following next June's Casals Music Festival here as part of a "personal crusade for peace."
