Raiders Topple Marquette For Tenth Victory

Regular Season Of Undefeated And Untied Play Is Ended With 21-2 Win Saturday

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

TEXAS Tech soared to its greatest football heights in the history of the institution yesterday with a climaxing 21-2 victory over the Marquette Golden Avalanche to round out the regular 1938 season as one of the nation's undefeated and untied major elevens.

It was the tenth victory in a row for the season, the 18th in a row against scheduled opponents. Only the Sun Bowl setback last New Year's mars an otherwise perfect record since the Raiders bowed to an unmerciful Detroit team early last season.

Greatest Scoring Team

Not only undefeated and untied, but also the greatest scoring team among the country's big teams, Texas Tech had to thwart a hard running, dangerous passing team from Milwaukee yesterday to protect its defensive record. The Red Raiders took advantage of one nice break for their first touchdown, passed through the ozone for two others to make up for an absent running game to pile up their 274th point. The opposition has made 35. Only the Centenary Gentlemen, who play here next Saturday, can mar the 1938 record for the Raiders.

Tech last won the national scoring title in 1932 when a team probably more powerful from a physical standpoint but with less "on the ball," ran up more than 300 points during the regular season and added more in extra games.

Tech Line Is Outplayed

For the first time this season, Tech was overwhelmed yesterday in line play. Tech linemen, particularly Line Captain Abe Murphy, at tackle; G. L. Webb and Prince Scott at ends, and Rex Williams at center, performed right nobly, but for once the Tech forwards met their matches in a determined gang of Wisconsin lads who had everything to gain, nothing to lose. In speaking of linemen, it isn't fair to go further without remembering the fine work of Leonard Latch at tackle, and the two guards, Dixie White and Holt Waldrep. The ex-Slaton High star, Waldrep, seemed to be in on as many tackles as Murphy, the big red-head who did himself proud and promoted his bid for all-America honors.

As individuals, the linemen looked good; as a wall of resistance, they let the opposition dribble through and around for 104 yards, which isn't a whale of a lot, but which was 29 yards more than Tech could gain on running plays at the Marquette line.

Marquette Takes To Air

Marquette outdid the Techs in first downs, 15-6, which was something else new and strange for the statistical department to worry about. A lot of the first downs, however, were made through the air. The Marquettes really took to the ozone yesterday, tossing 38 passes and completing 14 for 172 yards. They outgained Tech in that department, too, but the Tech passes, particularly two of them, counted most because they resulted in touchdowns. Tech attempted 15, completed 5. Mr. Gene Barnett, for the first time since he started tossing major league passes, missed a few of his marks.

Although it didn't cut much ice in mid-field, Tech's defense tightened when it had to, and Marquette's frequent knocks upon the touchdown door always were turned back. Tech's secondary defense, assisted by Linebacker Rex Williams, and featured by Elmer Tarbox, Walter Rankin, Dudley Akin and Gene Barnett, gets the orchids for holding the Marquette offense. Never did Tarbox play a more alert defensive game in the backfield, and he came up with tackles and batted down passes time after time, to enhance his chances for all-America honors this year. In the local books he's already that, and if the word gets around, it'll be hard to keep him off. The Marquettes had his number on offense, and he failed to add glory to his gaining ability. Yesterday it was the DEFENSIVE TARBOX, rather than the end-circling, line-plunging boy from Higgins, Texas, who never played football until he became a freshman at Texas Tech.

Strike Twice In First

Twice in the opening quarter, before the game was 8 minutes old, the Raiders struck for touchdowns. And Jodie Marek was there to add the extra points. In the second, an attack was bottled up, and Marquette got its only counter of the day, a safety when Marek's punt was blocked by Marquette's fine tackle, Raymond Busler. Marek recovered the blocked punt in the end zone, and was promptly tackled by Busler.

From there on, it was a case of Marquette's line outplaying the Tech line—and Tech's backfield, offensively and defensively, taking the fight to Marquette.

The news preceded him, but this sophomore lineman Marquette has

Hijacker Takes Man's Car And $2 Last Night

At the point of a gun, a young, unmasked bandit, who said he had just been released from a penitentiary in Missouri forced J. K. Jackson, manager of a gin at County Line in the northwest part of Lubbock county, to drive him out of Lubbock, then escaped with the car and Jackson's money.

At midnight officers continued their search for the bandit, but efforts had proven fruitless.

Jumped Into His Car

Jackson told officers the bandit jumped into the car as he (Jackson) was driving away from a Lubbock grocery store at Broadway and Avenue Q. The holdup was between 7 and 8 o'clock.

Officers were told the bandit stuck a gun in Jackson's side and commanded him to "get goin'." Jackson said the bandit explained he had just hijacked a filling station in Lubbock and had to leave quickly. The bandit said he had a car, but that officers were watching it and that he could not escape in it.

Both police and the sheriff's office said they had received no reports of a robbery of a filling station or any other place of business in Lubbock Saturday night and said they believed the bandit's conversation was made to frighten Jackson.

Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, W. C. Alder of the Texas Highway patrol, and Louie Ayers, officer for the Santa Fe Railway company, headed investigations.

The bandit, officers said they

Ralph Scott, Los Angeles fire chief, threw 1,700 reserve firemen into the fight along the mountain ridge and County Fire Warden Spence Turner brought several tractors to clear new fire breaks.

Dallas Cabbie Loses Faith In Human Nature At This

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 26. M. E. Sizemore, Dallas taxi driver, looked upon the world as a fine place for cabbies early today . . . but not for long.

He was cruising down a main street in Dallas, he told officers here, when he picked up a fine looking girl named Jean who wore a fur coat and offered to buy him something to eat.

After 85 cents worth of riding Jean decided an hourly rate would be better. Sizemore checked out of his office at 2:06 a. m. and a few minutes later Jean picked up two boy friends, one called Ralph and the other Honey.

Honey suggested a ride toward the Dallas airport which seemed reasonable to Sizemore because many night spots bloom there. After passing a few, Sizemore thought it well to inquire where the passengers wanted to stop.

"Oklahoma City," said Honey. Sizemore thought he was fooling and suggested "That's a pretty long ride."

"I don't care how long a ride it is," said Honey, "just so it's

Clifford B. Jones Chosen President Of Texas Tech

Spur Man 'Top West Texan'

New College Chief Long An Outstanding Citizen; He's Essentially "A Man's Man"

By OPAL McMAHON
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

A MAN of scholarly bearing sat in the office of the Editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal a few months ago and with customary grace and firmness of speech turned aside the suggestion that he consider himself as a possible successor to the late Dr. Bradford Knapp as president of Texas Technological college.

As applications for the position piled higher on his desk a few weeks later, this same man sat in the office at Spur that serves as headquarters for his vast interests and issued a statement to the effect that "the place should seek the man."

The Place Finds The Man

Today, the place has found the man—the same who at first would not consider himself in the light of prospective president.

He is Clifford Bartlett Jones—an executive since he became at 24 the vice-president of a steel company—one of the leading builders of West Texas—a director of Texas Tech since it was founded in 1925 and chairman of the board of directors for 11 years—holder of past or present positions as president or vice-president or other official of a dozen important organizations. — possessor of a Chesterfieldian manner that does not vary whether he speaks to a governor or a day laborer.

AS chairman of the directorate, Mr. Jones led the search for an able man who best would fill the vacancy left by the death of Dr. Bradford Knapp on June 11.

With farseeing eyes, he weighed the qualities expected of the man who would fill the presidential chair of an institution that had enjoyed phenomenal growth and was fast growing higher in the educational sun.

He looked afar, even after clamoring became louder that he himself was the most likely candidate.

Heeds Widespread Urging

Upon insistence of groups of alumni, of fellow board members, of personal friends, of friends of the college, some of whom did not know him personally but only knew of his reputation, he lifted his eyes from the career he had made for himself to a new career as president of the institution he had helped guide through 13 years.

Mr. Jones is the only person who has continuously served on the directorate since opening the college.

He is owner of a cattle ranch near Spur, manager at Spur for the extensive Swenson interests, president of Spur Security bank, and a director of Stamford & Northwestern Townsite company, Stamford & Northwestern Railway company, Wichita Valley Railway company, Wichita Falls & Oklahoma Railway company, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and Spur Chamber of Commerce.

He is a member of the Episcopal church, Scottish and York rite Masonic bodies, Sons of the American Revolution, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Fort Worth club, Rotary club, and Espuela Golf club.

HE came to West Texas in 1911, when 26, to become assistant manager of the Spur interests of S. M. Swenson & Sons of New York. He has been manager since 1913 except for leave during 1933 for the United States government at Fort Worth.

Mr. Jones was one of the organizers and first president of the Fort Worth-Roswell Highway association, which sponsored early highway construction in West Texas.

He was one of the organizers and third president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Active In War Work

During the World war, he either was serving as chairman of the Dickens County Draft board or at Fort Worth as member of the district or appellate draft board for the Northern Judicial District of Texas. He also served as special agent for the Texas State Council of Defense.

Other past positions he has held include those of street commissioner and mayor of Spur, vice-president of the Texas Highway association, president of the Spur Chamber of Commerce, first president of the Spur Rotary club, president of the Spur Cattle Loan company, regional advisor for Texas, Louisiana, and New Mexico of the Public Works administration, with headquarters in Fort Worth, president of the Texas Transcontinental trail, and director of the regional Agricultural Credit corporation, Fort Worth.

Listed In Who's Who

He is listed in Who's Who in America and the "Texian Who's Who."

A part of Wharton's History of Texas is devoted to the life of Mr. Jones. "Clifford B. Jones has proven himself a resourceful figure in connection with important development enterprises in Texas," the book points out. Before listing a long line of his activities, the writer

CLIFFORD BARTLETT JONES

Congratulations To The Directors Of Texas Tech

They Chose The Best Man!

THE AVALANCHE-JOURNAL joins with thousands of Texas Tech Alumni, ex-students, patrons and friends in hailing selection of Clifford B. Jones as the institution's third president.

Readers of The Morning Avalanche and Evening Journal have, upon countless occasions, seen editorial references to the new president, praising him for his civic leadership in West Texas; commending him for many an unselfish action in behalf of his city of Spur, the South Plains, or Texas as a whole; and calling attention to the fine work he has done as a director of Texas Tech since the college was begun, and as the directorate's chairman over the past 11 years.

For instance, in The Morning Avalanche of July 26, 1933, upon the occasion of his appointment as Public Works administration advisor for Texas, New Mexico and Louisiana, it was said of Mr. Jones:

"Mr. Roosevelt, himself, had made a personal search he could not have chosen a better public works advisor for Texas, New Mexico and Louisiana.

"Mr. Jones is known all over West Texas as a tireless worker and a most capable executive.

"He long ago marked himself as a leader among West Texans.

"Unselfish, straightforward, honorable and able—these words best characterize him."

AFTER the lamentable death of Dr. Bradford Knapp here last June 11, when friends of Tech began giving thought to selection of a new president, The Evening Journal, of Tuesday, June 21, 1938, said:

"We can't think of anything better for Texas Tech than securing Clifford Jones for its next president.

"It is extremely doubtful that anyone, anywhere, could serve Tech better. It is axiomatic that no one can be found who could serve as well."

So as Mr. Jones prepares to unselfishly give up a highly successful business career to take up the task for which he was drafted—and he was drafted for he did not seek the appointment—Avalanche-Journal papers in all sincerity congratulate the college directorate for its wisdom and foresight in making the selection.

That they found the best man available for the position there is no doubt and in so doing the directors again proved their abiding interest in the institution.

Jones Once Quit Board But Stuck At Allred's Request

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26. — As Clifford B. Jones today was made president of Texas Technological college, those close to the institution found themselves subscribing to the old saw that "everything happens for the best."

Two years ago last June, Clifford Jones resigned as a director of Texas Tech. The death of his father, Charles A. Jones which had occurred a short time before, and the multifarious duties connected with his own and the Swenson interests were then keeping him so occupied that he felt it for the good of Tech, as well as for himself, that he relinquish his position.

Allred Refused Resignation

But when Gov. James V. Allred, himself deeply interested in the good of the college, received the Jones resignation he declined to accept it. Instead, he prevailed upon Mr. Jones to continue at his post and, later, at the expiration of his second term as a director, reappointed the Spur man to a third term on the board.

Had it not been for Governor Allred's far-sighted refusal to accept the Jones' resignation, Tech directors today still would be searching for "the man for the place."

Two Long-Term Alcatraz Convicts Found Guilty Of Murder; Get Life Terms

New Trial For Pair Refused

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Two long-term Alcatraz prisoners were convicted of first degree murder today for slaying a guard in a futile attempt to flee from the island prison. They escaped lethal gas deaths, however, when a federal court jury added "without capital punishment" to its verdict.

Judge Harold Louderback immediately passed life sentences on James C. Lucas, 26, Texas robber, and Rufus Franklin, 24, Alabama murderer.

New Trial Denied

Defense Attorney Harold Faulkner asked for a motion for a new trial which was quickly denied.

The prisoners received the verdict without much display of emotion. Franklin's hands trembled and his lips tightened. A grim look around Lucas' eyes relaxed slightly.

Alcatraz prison guards immediately surrounded the men, manacled them and hustled them from the courtroom.

Faulkner asked a new trial on the grounds of insufficient evidence and alleged errors of instruction to the jury.

Failed To Give Proof

"The government has completely failed to prove the instrument that caused the death," Faulkner said, referring to a claw hammer the prosecution claimed was used to slay Guard Royal C. Cline in the escape attempt last May 23.

U. S. Attorney Frank J. Hennessy approved the verdict.

"The evidence was ample to sustain it," he declared.

Faulkner, who has five days to appeal the verdict, said he would talk with the convicts to determine his action.

The sentence meant a third life term for Franklin, who has two life sentences in Alabama hanging over him after he finishes the 25-year federal sentence in Alcatraz for robbing a bank at Birmingham, Ala., plus five years for automobile theft. He was convicted of robbery and murder and of breaking his parole by robbing the bank.

Lucas already was serving a 30-year term at the island prison for robbing a bank at Albany, Texas.

Hale Center Counts Many Automobiles In Game Parade

HALE CENTER, Nov. 26 — The movement of Amarillo fans to and from the Thanksgiving grid battle in Lubbock over state highway 9, through this city, without a mishap or wreck is to be credited to the State Highway department's safety measures adopted for the day.

An extra large staff of both motorcycle, and auto patrol officers guarded against "wreckless" driving and assisted motorists in obeying highway safety laws.

Safety Is Required

The trip to Lubbock was less a problem for the officers to handle than the return journey. Before the game, hundreds of cars moved toward Lubbock some going down as early as Wednesday night, but most of them making the trip early Thursday. On the return ride, both night driving and heavier traffic presented hazards.

To control the movement back to Amarillo, highway officers patroled the highways, stopping long lines of autos, and then releasing them in groups of 50 or less. No speeding was allowed.

Parade Lengthy

To Hale Center residents, it was interesting to watch a large group of cars coming through, then to see no traffic at all for several minutes, to be followed by another large group.

One resident here, Mrs. Charles Hosier, seated in the front room of her home on the highway, Thursday night counted 640 cars in an hour's time, headed for Amarillo. The cars passed through here Thursday night for more than four hours, leading Hale Center people to estimate at least 3,000 automobiles carried fans to and from the match.

Two 'Coffeepot' Refineries Are Located In Lubbock

Acrid fumes of oil and gasses blend with the smell of tankage from packing houses, the rising odor from stockyards and shipping pens and the smoke from gins and compresses in Lubbock's east side.

Right in the middle of an industrial nest is Petrol Refining company, which daily turns out 8,500 gallons of gasoline, 2,000 of kerosene, 1,800 of distillate and an equal amount of gas oil — not to mention residium that has a market value.

Since he bought the plant three months ago, Marvin Bourn has kept the boiler roaring continuously except on Sundays. He refines 500 barrels of crude each 24 hours. He sells his products to railway companies, to the wholesale trade in Lubbock trade territory and hopes to get a city of Lubbock contract soon, something the refinery had three years.

Two Refineries Here

The plant is one of two so-called "coffee pots", small refineries, in Lubbock Farmers' refinery, capable of handling 500 barrels of crude each 24 hours, is at 402 Avenue O, but has been shut down since September. Established by the late B. B. Walker, who died in early June, the Batch system refinery had bought Hockley and Cochran county crude almost exclusively. It turned out white and bronze gasoline and various other products.

Whereas the Petrol Refining company runs KMA high gravity sweet crude and has a cracking tower where, from the top downward, there are trays that collect gasoline, kerosene, distillate, gas oil, fuel oil and residium by a gravity process, the crude at the Farmers' refinery goes into two stills, 10x40 feet and holding 600 barrels; is heated to 600 degrees, goes through several hundred feet of 3-inch condenser pipes from stills to a fractionating tower, condensers, a receiving house, treaters, settling tanks and to shipping storage.

Principle Is Involved

Petrol's plant preheats oil to 525 degrees fahrenheit in steam coils and pumps it into a still unit at 350 degrees and holds it at that temperature until products are recovered, after which the temperature is stepped up to 450 or 475 degrees so that heavier products will "go over", more heat being required for lower gravity products.

Risky business, the heating of oil products to such temperature — or so the public would believe. But Bourn and his six plant employes laugh aside the reference.

"Refining is refining, the world over."

The gasoline goes out of the cracking tower into condensation coils, thence to three settling tanks, into settling coils, to an agitator where it swirls under pressure of air, falls by gravity when the pressure is removed, allowing impurities to fall, then is pumped into delivery tanks.

And it more than satisfies state requirements for quality. The law requires 437 degrees end point, but gasoline recovered by Petrol refinery tests 400 degree end point, which means a more volatile product that burns evenly and does not cause late firing and heating of motors.

Tax Problem Great

Bourn and M. D. Fanning, associated with the proprietor at the refinery, had a wry grimace to the question regarding taxing of crude.

"It's about like this," said Bourn. "There is a tax of 2 3-8 cents a barrel on production of crude, a 1 1-8 cents pipeline tax, a cent process tax due at the refinery, 4 cents a gallon state tax and 1 cent federal tax."

Bourn has been in Lubbock since 1933, when the plant was established under different ownership.

He began working in refineries in 1923, at South Bend, Young county, Texas, where his father had constructed a refinery. He was associated until 1930 with refining and production of a major oil company at Houston and at Corsicana.

Physics and chemistry at Lake Forest, "an hour north of Chicago", gave him his first inclination toward refinin gof petroleum products.

He, Mrs. Bourn and their young son live at 1913 Texas avenue.

Former Fugitive From A Chain Gang Now Is More Optimistic About His Chances

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26. (AP)—Paul Johnson, 19-year-old former fugitive from a Georgia chain gang, was more optimistic today about his chances in life.

The youth, who, records show, attempted suicide after his arrest in Los Angeles, went to court yesterday and had William Jones, Lancaster, Calif., farmer, appointed his guardian.

The move was necessary since several motion picture studios have expressed interest in the possible purchase of Johnson's life story, and a guardian would be necessary to protect his interest.

Johnson, suffering from a lung ailment, was released by Los Angeles police after Georgia authorities wired they no longer wanted him.

The youth told police he was originally sentenced for an attempted burglary when he was 15 years of age, and escaped five months ago after six futile attempts.

New Tech President Called "Biggest Man In Section"

explains that, "Mr. Jones, in the midst of multifarious administrative duties, has still found time for study, observation and civic service."

CLIFFORD BARTLETT JONES was born April 9, 1885, in Rico, Colo., son of Charles A. and Virginia (Bartlett) Jones, pioneers of southwestern Colorado.

His father, a native Georgian, was son of Major B. F. Jones, who was an officer on Bragg's staff.

His mother was a New Yorker and had gone west with her father when he left the Pennsylvania oil fields for a career in the Colorado mines. In Southern Colorado, she met and married C. A. Jones, a young newspaper man who at 19 was owner and editor of the Dolores News.

Moves To Kansas City

In 1886, the family moved to Kansas City, Mo. C. A. Jones became assistant to his father in management of the Kansas City Water company, a subsidiary of the National Water Works company of New York. He later became general purchasing agent for Armour & Co. for all plants west of Chicago.

Clifford Jones was graduated from Central High school in Kansas City in 1903. He was editor of the school paper and annual.

HE was preparing himself for Yale university when he was offered his first job, as purchasing agent for the Kansas City Bag Manufacturing company. He filled the job with such success that at 24 he was made vice-president and treasurer of the Jacques Steel company of Kansas City.

Two years later, when his father became manager of the Spur Swenson interests, he came to West Texas. He was not unprepared for ranch life, having learned the cattle business as a cowboy on the ranch of Gov. John Sparks of Nevada.

Father Leader In West Texas

It was through Frank Hastings, who had been in charge of Armour's thoroughbred herds when the elder Jones was purchasing agent for the Armour organizations, that C. A. Jones became connected with the Swenson interests. Hastings had come to Texas to manage the interests of the Swensons at Stamford. The Swensons asked Hastings if he knew where they could find "an outstanding man" to manage their 500,000-acre Spur ranch west of Stamford that had been purchased from the Espuela Land & Cattle company of Scotland for millions of dollars. Hastings knew one—C. A. Jones.

The ranch originally took in one-half million acres in Dickens, Kent, Garza and Crosby counties. The antelopes had to be shooed out of the way when the elder Jones helped lay out the townsite of Spur.

THE Swensons built a bank, a cotton gin, a sewer system, and a hotel, and gave a bonus to the Burlington railroad to have a line constructed westward 83 miles from Stamford to Spur. They bored the then deepest well in Texas, 4,489 feet, and at 2,000 feet found potash.

In 1913, the elder Jones went to Freeport, where for the Swenson interests he initiated the sulphur business in Texas. He later became vice-president in New York for the Freeport Sulphur company. His son had been left in charge at Spur when he went to Freeport.

Clifford Jones was married to Audrey Barber, daughter of a pioneer Dickens county family, of Spur, on Sept. 27, 1922. Charming Mrs. Jones will accompany him to the president's home on Texas Tech campus when Mr. Jones comes here to fill the position to which he was appointed Saturday as third president.

Is Third President

Presidents who have preceeded Mr. Jones are Dr. Paul Whitfield Horn and Dr. Bradford Knapp. Dr. Horn was appointed president in November of 1923 and died April 13, 1932, when 62 years old. Dr. Knapp accepted the position in July of 1932 and died June 11 of this year.

A writer, in a sketch once written about Clifford B. Jones as a builder of West Texas, pointed out that: "In his case, being educated consists of having a proper understanding of the balance of things, acquired from intelligent observation and fact-storing. He knows history, and where, how and why it has pivoted on this or that circumstance or date; he knows literature very thoroughly for a busy man; he knows men and what they are thinking about; and more particularly he knows West Texas, its needs and aims; and then he knows his own business, which is land selling and colonizing."

HIGHLY cultured, of courtly manner, widely read and experienced in many lines of business, the new president of Texas Tech also is essentially "a man's man."

He is at home in the saddle and in the branding pen. He smokes cigars and, upon occasions, a pipe. During the quail and duck hunting seasons the booming of his shotgun frequently is heard in the game sectors of Dickens, Kent and adjoining counties and at least once each year he goes on an extended fishing and camping trip, usually in Colorado, or Wyoming.

Called "Biggest Man" In Area

A "top West Texan" for many years, Mr. Jones frequently has been referred to as "the biggest man in West Texas," and his counsel is frequently sought not only by his West Texas neighbors, but also by leaders in various sections of the state.

As he takes charge of the largest educational institution in West Texas and one of the Southwest's No. 1 colleges, he brings to the academic field a well rounded background indicative of a wise choice on the part of the Tech directorate in filling the important position for which he has been chosen.

Dallas Branch Of Tech Alumni Will Be Organized Dec. 9

Formation of a Dallas branch of the Alumni and Ex-Students association of Texas Technological college is to be completed the night of Dec. 9 in Dallas, said Calvin Hazlewood, administrative secretary of the association.

Manuel DeBusk, who has charge of the Dallas FHA office, Friday night was named chairman of a membership committee. Dallas ex-students met after a Tech banquet Friday night in Dallas to draw preliminary plans for organizing a branch.

Hazlewood will attend the Dec. 9 meeting and show motion pictures of the Marquette-Tech game played Saturday. R. C. Browning operated the motion picture camera at the game.

Motion pictures of the Loyola-Tech game will be shown Thursday night at a meeting of the Amarillo Texas Tech association in Amarillo. Hazlewood will attend.

Pope Seized By A Slight Chill

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 26. (AP) — Vatican sources said tonight that Pope Pius XI was seized with a slight chill about 5 p. m. (10 a. m. C.S.T.) after he had left his sick bed to carry on his official duties. The chill lasted only a few minutes.

The pope had been helped from bed and had sat up part of the day despite the heart attack from which he collapsed yesterday morning. He had been warned that his weakened heart might not survive another such attack.

Extraordinary Fortitude

The supreme head of the Catholic church, 81 years old last May 31, gave proof of extraordinary fortitude by holding a one-hour conference with Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, papel secretary of state.

Most of the day the pope matched his will against that of his chief physician, Dr. Amita Milani, head of the Vatican state's sanitary department.

Dr. Milani said his patient expressed for tomorrow the firm desire to receive Cardinal Pacelli, Mgr. Filippo Soccorsi, director of the Vatican radio station, and Camillo Serafini, governor of Vatican city—receipts which have been part of the pope's Sunday routine.

The physician was as firm as the pope in his objections. He said he would not permit his holiness to receive even members of his family let alone any other visitors.

An official communique said the pope passed "a calm night, resting without any disturbance.

"The improvement which was noted yesterday evening continued, happily, so that this morning his holiness has returned to a more or less normal condition."

Thousands who had prayed for the pontiff were reassured by the communique.

Two Are Dead In Shooting

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP) — An attractive young red-haired woman was shot and killed today on the seventh floor of the Grand Central terminal building in the heart of the midtown section as she fled from a man, described by police as a disappointed lover.

The man then shot himself through the right temple and was dead when police arrived.

The woman was identified as Marion Wheeler, 32, of Yonkers, N. Y., a clerk in the office of L. V. Porter, comptroller of the New York Central railroad. Her slayer was tentatively identified as John McNeal, 52, a widower, of Yonkers, N. Y.

Feared For Life

Police Captain Patrick Kenny said fellow employes of Miss Wheeler's told him McNeal had argued with her in vain to marry him, and lately had become so abusive that she was in fear of her life.

Scores of persons in the crowded Park Avenue office building which adjoins Grand Central terminal heard the shots.

McNeal met Miss Wheeler by accident or design as she was going to work. Captain Kenny said he learned the two quarreled bitterly as they rode up to the seventh floor in the elevator and were still arguing as Miss Wheeler started down the corridor to the office. Suddenly she began to run. Captain Kenny said the man then drew a .32 calibre revolver and fired three times. All of the bullets hit Miss Wheeler in the back, felling her at the entrance to her office. McNeal then shot himself.

Interpreter For Lindbergh Will Be Speaker In City.

J. B. Mareno of Wichita Falls, private interpreter for Col. Charles A. Lindbergh on one of his South American flights several years ago, will be principal speaker at the semi-monthly meeting of Allen Bros., post of the American Legion at the hall Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, according to W. E. Lavender, program chairman.

Mareno also is a professional magician, having played the more important theatrical circuits including a recent three weeks' run in Chicago, Lavender said. He will exhibit some of his feats for entertainment of the Legionnaires, according to the announcement.

A. I. Glassman is to arrange musical entertainment and Dr. C. B. Qualia is scheduled to make a report of the progress of the membership campaign he is directing.

Repairs Of Toys Gathered In Boy Scout Pickup Drive Will Be Started On Tomorrow

Repairs of toys gathered in the annual Boy Scout pickup Nov. 19 will be started Monday, according to information given Saturday by J. Ray Dickey, chairman of the scout committee.

KFYO's studio at the Panhandle-South Plains Fairgrounds will be scene of the work. Toys will be stored in the adjoining Merchant's building, the transfer having been completed Saturday.

Supervising will be Texas Technological college students who are National Youth administration enrollees especially trained for that type of work. Ten to 12 Boy Scouts will be on duty from 3 to 6 p. m. Monday through Friday and all day Saturday, Dickey said. The work will be rotated among the scouts, more than 100 of whom will assist.

Must Determine Amount

Just how many toys can be reconditioned so as to become attractive gifts remains to be determined. However, according to Earl M. McClure, scout executive, nearly twice as many toys were collected as in any previous pickup. Expectation is they will net some where between 1,000 and 2,000 gifts, representing a value of probably more than $1,000.

When repaired, the gifts will be displayed downtown if a place can be found. They then will be turned over to Lubbock Goodfellows for distribution on Christmas day.

CUB COURSE TO OPEN

A series of cub leadership training courses will begin at 2 p. m. Monday in room 218 of Junior High school building, will continue through Tuesday and be completed Monday night, Dec. 5, according to Dr. C. C. Schmidt, cub commissioner for South Plains council.

The session from 2 to 3:45 p. m. Monday and Tuesday will be for den mothers and cub mothers. From 3:45 to 5:30 each of those afternoons, training for den chiefs is to be provided. A joint session for both those groups and cubmasters, assistants, committeemen and fathers is set for 7:30 to 9 p. m. Dec. 5.

Assisting Dr. Schmidt in conducting the course will be Donald A. Petersen, field executive, Tom Ingram, neighborhood commissioner, and McClure.

WHITEFACE BANQUET SET

P. O. Smith, superintendent of Whiteface schools, will be master of ceremonies at the annual banquet for western district of South Plains council in Whiteface High school at 8 o'clock Thursday night, according to McClure's announcement. George W. Dupree of Lubbock will be principal speaker.

The district comprises troops in Hockley and Cochran counties.

Officers will be elected and plans for the next year discussed.

M. K. Young of Levelland is the present district chairman.

TRAINING COURSE RESUMES

E. V. Hicks, president of Lubbock Scoutmasters roundtable, will be principal speaker at the fourth session of a leadership training course in the basement of the First Baptist church here at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night, according to Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, director. Only one session then will remain to complete the course, he said.

State Highway To Be Sought

OLTON, Nov. 26.—Forty-two citizens of three counties, Lamb, Castro and Hockley, have formed an organization to secure a state designated highway from Anton to Umbarger, by way of Spade, Olton, Hart and Arney.

T. D. Cox was chosen president; Stanley Ross, vice president; D. M. Vann, second vice president and J. A. Ellis, Anton, secretary. Directors include, M. R. Cavett and R. E. Dennis, Olton; Loyd Buck and Mr. Nanus, Hart Camp; Edgar Roach and Ed M. Hart, Anton; Otto Dinwiddy and Frank Brown, Hart; Joe Warren and Frank Benhans, Nazareth; Walter Graham and Jeff Rodgers, Arney; Mr. Donnell, Umbarger and Henry Love and Mr. Stokes, Spade.

The state is being contacted to secure a survey. Property owners will be asked by the directors to secure right-of-way.

Starting at Anton, the new road would give eastern Lamb county a north and south highway, give Olton a paved road to its nearest railroad depot, Hart; touch six towns and connect with six intersecting east and west highways. Shorter routes to Lubbock and Amarillo would be provided, it was explained.

Sharp Attacks Upon Those Who Sympathize With Jews Launched In Germany

Treatment Is To Be Harsh

BERLIN, Nov. 26. (AP)—Nazi anti-Semitism was extended today by sharp attacks on those who sympathize with Jews.

"These creatures, these friends of Jews, these servants of Jews deserve no other treatment than accorded Jews themselves," the Nuernberg newspaper Fraenkische Tageszeitung declared.

The Westdeutscher Beobachter of Cologne maintained that "our fellow citizens must not commiserate where commiseration is out of place; the elimination of the Jew from our life must be carried to the bitter end."

Beginning Of Campaign

Some observers believed these attacks were the beginning of a campaign against Germans who think nazi treatment of Jews unworthy of German traditions.

There were other restrictive measures:

Indigent Jews were forbidden to seek aid from public welfare bureaus but must turn to Jewish agencies.

All Jewish student loans were cancelled and repayment ordered within two weeks. All hunting licenses held by Jews were ordered cancelled.

Special Pawn-Brokerage For Jews In Germany Set Up

BERLIN, Nov. 26. (AP) — Nazi financial officials established a special "pawn-brokerage" office today to buy, at their own final evaluation, jewels and other art objects from Jews.

Some Jews, short of ready cash, need money for emigration. Others need it to pay their share of the $400,000,000 fine the nazis levied against Jews for the slaying of the German diplomat Ernst Von Rath by a young Polish Jew in Paris.

Objects that will be offered for sale to the government doubtlessly will include priceless heirlooms that have been in Jewish families for generations — comparable to the precious articles Russian aristocrats sold after the bolshevist revolution.

Water Consumption Increase Reflects Growing Lubbock

Water out of city wells continues to supply the evidence—if any was needed—of Lubbock's growth.

Report to City Auditor D. D. Martin Saturday disclosed that city pumpage during October totaled 79,642,000 gallons, an increase of 37 per cent—more than one third—over the same month of last year. Gallonage in October, 1937, was 59,049,000.

Maximum pumpage during the month was on Oct. 4, with 4,029,000 gallons, the largest for any October day in the history of Lubbock.

October pumpage represented a drop of 18,243,000 gallons below the 97,885,000 gallons of last September. The decline, however, was seasonal, officials said.

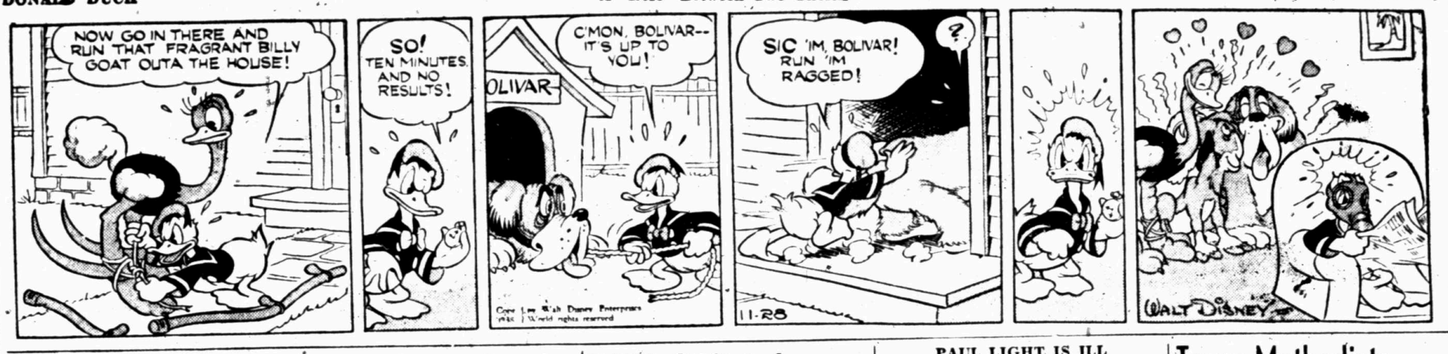

Relatives And Friends Of Player Here For Game

Several realtives and friends of Leonard Latch, tackle of the Texas Technological college football team, were here Saturday to visit with him and see the Tech-Marquette football game.

Among his relatives here were his mother, Mrs. Z. W. Latch of Cisco; a sister, Miss Lela Latch of Cisco, and three brothers, Billie Latch of Cisco, and Van and Paul Latch of Jal, N. M. Van Latch was accompanied by his wife.

Troy Stewart and Mrs. Laura Gunn of Cisco also were here. Mrs. Gunn is mother of R. E. Gunn of the mechanical department of Avalanche-Journal Publications, Inc.

Teachers Who Can 'Rough-It' Being Sought By Indian Service; Hardships Are Ahead

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. — The Indian service called today for "school marms" who can "rough it."

It said it was through with teachers who "had the necessary intelligence" but lacked a rural background and a pioneer spirit.

A government announcement explained:

"Until recently, it would have been possible for a 23 or 24-year-old girl who had never lived anywhere except in a modern apartment building where she turned on the heat, pushed a button, and telephoned for groceries . . . to pass brilliantly a civil service examination for an Indian service teaching job.

"Subsequently, she might find herself living in a cottage sixty miles from the nearest town and forty miles from medical help via dirt roads; stoking a wood stove for heat, cleaning oil lamps and teaching a varied group of Indian children who understand little English and little of white ways, and whose main concern outside of school hours, was helping their parents to get enough to eat from inadequate land."

New examinations will take into consideration, not only the applicant's educational qualifications, but also her rural experience and understanding, initiative, ingenuity and fortitude.

"The Indian service regards its education job not merely as teaching what is in books, but as helping young Indian people to understand their resources and the most modern methods of developing them," the service explained. "In this type of work Indian office experience has shown that the teacher with rural background can be most effective."

More Than 800 New Residences To Be Lubbock's 1938 Building Contribution

All Past Marks Are Shattered

By H. I. KEIFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Lubbock's total of new residences constructed during 1938 will be in excess of 800, costing an aggregate of nearly $2,000,000.

These facts became apparent Saturday from a compilation of the year's residence building permit records to that time.

They revealed that permits already had been issued for 722 residences representing a building investment as shown by the official records of $1,685,927.

There is nothing to indicate, according to Jim Reid, city building inspector, any slackening of the residence building pace during the remainder of the year.

On the contrary, he said, apparent probabilities are that it will continue at a level approximating that of the past four months which have supplied an astounding climax to an amazing year.

Building officials emphasized that the figures cited are for residences, and no other type of construction. They do not include apartment houses, garage apartments or improvements to residences.

Saturday's tabulations did not include detailed figures for those types of construction, but they unquestionably have added several hundred new places to live this year to those previously available in Lubbock, Reid said.

All Records Broken

Previous record for number of new residence permits issued in any one year in Lubbock was 277 in 1937. Their total cost was $678,846.

Those figures put Lubbock ahead of any city in Texas below the 100,000 class, according to tabulations by the state department of labor.

Indications are, according to building authorities, that Lubbock will be fourth among all Texas cities in aggregate of residence building this year, trailing Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth in that order.

Lubbock's residence building record by months this year is shown to be:

Month	Number	Cost
January	42	$ 55,216
February	48	95,757
March	68	146,770
April	43	118,684
May	53	148,691
June	79	182,540
July	55	130,626
August	93	199,275
September	85	196,950
October	85	208,683
*November	70	202,735

* Including permits of Nov. 26.

TEAGUE, Nov. 26. (AP)—W. R. Moore, 62, postmaster at Freestone and former county school superintendent of Leon county, was instantly killed today when his car was struck by the Houston Zephyr of the Burlington, Rock Island railroad at a grade crossing just north of Freestone, six miles north of Teague.

Wreckage of Moore's car was carried 500 yards down the track after Moore had been thrown clear by the impact.

The Zephyr was delayed about two and one-half hours.

MEETING IS SET

HALE CENTER, Nov. 26. (Special)—An open meeting for merchants, farmers and others interested is scheduled the night of Dec. 6, in the ward school auditorium, when the need for a larger and modernly equipped auditorium will be discussed. Need for such a structure here has already been endorsed in resolutions passed by the Hale Center Parent-Teacher association and the Pioneer Study club. The meeting in December is being arranged by the local merchants club, to stimulate interest in the proposed civic project. Figures on the cost of both an auditorium, and a gymnasium will be discussed in the meeting, and the cost to taxpayers will be brought out, according to Mrs. Orlena Church, one of the committee members arranging the program.

New Jefferson Nickels Make First Appearance In City

The new Jefferson nickels made their first appearance Saturday in Lubbock parking meter receipts, according to Ethridge W. Eagan, assistant city manager.

The receipts also reflected the approach of the holiday season, he added.

Collections totalled $238, representing two and one-half days, a daily average of $95. The normal day's average is approximately $85, but during the holiday season, it likely will reach a peak of around $115 if last year's experience is repeated.

Two among the 4,760 coins included in the collection were the new Jefferson nickels, he reported.

FAMILY HAS NARROW ESCAPE

ABERNATHY—The Wesley Curry family living in a residence at Tuco, the Texas-New Mexico Utility Co., town north of here, had a narrow escape from death by asphyxiation recently. Funds from a gas stove aroused Fred Abney, who was asleep there and he managed to rouse the Currys and to restore them before he himself passed out from effect of the fumes. No ill effects were reported by the trio.

Criminal Cases Are Scheduled In Court

Judge Daniel A. Blair of 72nd district court this week will hear approximately a dozen criminal actions to highlight court activities.

Judge Blair will call his docket at 10 o'clock Monday morning, setting cases for the week, and a jury will report at 1:30 o'clock that afternoon to begin hearing on bills of indictment.

Last week was devoted to criminal cases.

Burton S. Burks, district attorney, and his assistant, Victor H. Lindsey, will represent the state.

Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court will devote the week to hearing of civil jury actions. He will call his docket for the week at 10 o'clock Monday morning and a jury will report at 1:30 o'clock that afternoon.

"Eight or nine" cases are subject to call this week, it was ind cated.

They were charged with theft of an $18.50 radio from Clayton Gammill; three pairs of pajamas costing $4.75 a pair and a housecoat valued at $3.75 from Penn Allen Garment company; and two bolts of piece goods valued at $10 from J. A. Hodges of Hodges Dry Goods store.

Amanda Smith alias Amanda Wortham was charged with receiving and concealing a pair of pajamas allegedly stolen from Penn Allen Garment company.

The negro woman was released on bond of $250. The two men were held in the county jail, officers said.

Centenarian No Curiosity In Japan; Many People Over 100 Years Old Live On Isles

BY RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Nov. 26.—There are many men and women in Japan today who can remember the year 1838.

They were playing games when Martin Van Buren was president. They were married before the California gold rush of '49. And they were in their thirties on that April day when southern shots crashed against the walls of Fort Sumter.

In Japan, the centenarian is no curiosity.

Oldest Was 114

Sixty persons, all more than 100 years old, recently were honored by a Tokyo newspaper. The oldest was 114. Seven others—all women—were 110 or older. One was a school-mistress, who is just 100 and is still teaching school.

Unquestionably, there are many centenarians sprinkled through the islands.

The Japanese conception of age is considerably different from any held in America. To a Japanese, "middle age" means the middle fifties. Not until that age, is a man considered ripe enough for a responsible post in the government.

Without Half-Trying

The Japanese lives a long time without half-trying.

In his daily life, he upsets virtually every canon of hygiene, dietetics, and health. As a child, he rides around strapped to mother's back, a prety of both wind and rain. After the nursing period, he drinks little or no milk, gets very few vegetables.

Spinach, in Japan is a dessert, served in thimbleful portions!

As an adult, he smokes and drinks to what would be called excess. Drunkenness, itself, is no shame in Japan, it is only an amiable weakness, like chewing tobacco. Rice (too much starch), fish (too little protein) and pickles (a stomach irritant) are the staples of his diet.

He lives in an unheated room, where pneumonia seems to lurk in every corner. He would shudder in stark horror over the thought of a cold shower. On the contrary, he parboils himself in a daily hot bath even in the dead of winter.

But—he frequently lives to be 100!

Aerial photographers, taking pictures of Haskell county, Kansas, farm lands for mapping purposes, saw lines across dozens of negatives and thought they were scratches. Closer examination disclosed they were ruts that had been made by wagon trains 70 years before.

New President To Be Honored

The general public will have opportunity to meet the new president of Texas Technological college, Clifford B. Jones, at a banquet to be conducted in his honor under auspices of the Alumni and Ex-Students association.

That announcement was made, shortly after notification of Mr. Jones' selection had been received in Lubbock, by Calvin Hazlewood, administrative secretary of the association.

Fred Fairly, president of the association, and Mr. Jones will decide on a convenient date for the banquet.

The banquet will be sponsored by the association but attendance will not be limited to members, Hazlewood emphasized.

The executive committee, at a meeting before opening of the fall semester, made a decision to sponsor a banquet in honor of the next president.

The association had sponsored a banquet in honor of the late Dr. Bradford Knapp after he arrived to become president, but attendance had been limited to alumni and ex-students.

Officers of the organization will begin plans immediately for the event.

Woman Is Given Life Term For Slaying Of A Child

EL RENO, Okla., Nov. 26. (AP) — A middle-aged woman convicted of poisoning her small granddaughter to collect a $200 insurance policy, was sentenced to life imprisonment here today.

Mrs. Romie Sullivan, 49, the grandmother, formerly of Monroe, La., received the sentence without a word and without apparent emotion.

She was meted the life term by District Judge Lucius Babcock after he overruled a motion for a new trial on the charge she poisoned Clara Jean Hay, her 2 1-2 year old granddaughter.

Kelvinator Line Is Added By Ince

Western Auto stores, 1212 Texas avenue, Saturday assumed dealership for Kelvinator refrigerators, washing machines and cook stoves, according to R. W. Ince, manager.

Ince will carry a complete line of Kelvinator products, he said.

The company is the oldest domestic refrigerator manufacturing firm in the United States. This year the company is featuring the "Polar Power" unit on refrigerators.

Nearly 2,000 Kelvinator refrigerators already are in use in Lubbock homes, Ince said.

The store has received a large supply of Christmas recipe books to present to showroom visitors requesting copies. The book contains unusual Christmas menus.

"We will gladly give the book to all who come to our display room and ask for it," Ince said.

A new Kelvinator refrigerator will be given winner of an essay contest starting Monday. In addition fifty other prizes will be offered.

School Building Parley Tuesday

Important matters dealing with the building program of Lubbock city schools are scheduled for discussion at the monthly meeting of the board of trustees in the office of Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, president, in Lubbock sanitarium Tuesday night, according to information given Saturday.

While no definite action likely can be taken, officials said, preparations can be made which will insure that there will be no loss of time in starting the building program when definite word is received as to what action is taken in Washington on an application for a Public Works administration grant of $125,000.

Officials said they expected to know one way or the other early in December and the building program must be adjusted in accordance with action on the application. If the application is approved, it will mean approximately $275,000 for expansion of classroom facilities. Otherwise, only the $150,000 voted in bonds last September will be available.

If the grant is approved, officials have been advised, one of the requirements will be that work must be started before Jan. 1. If it is not approved, expectation is that a start will be made on what can be done almost as soon.

While the definite program is yet to be determined, one proposal under discussion was revealed as including two new buildings, each of an architectural design to permit enlargement when enrollment requires.

Tech Protects Record; Frogs Take Southwest Pennant

Only Centenary Has Chance To Spoil Season

named Raymond Apolskis did more than live up to advance notices. Apolskis is a 19-year-old, 185-pound sophomore from Chicago, who plays guard and center for Marquette. And he played a lot of guard and center, and line backing, for the Golden Avalanche yesterday. Marquette holds out Apolskis as its all-America candidate, and it is doubtful if there are any others in the country who can do Apolskis' job as well as Apolskis. He was in on practically every tackle, be it from the left or right, or straight ahead. He's a star in any man's language, and he can play for All-America money.

Thomsen Is Fine End

Next to Apolskis, it's hard to name a Marquette star, but Gilbert Thomsen, another sophomore, and captain for a day here yesterday, is one of the finest ends you'll see from here to there. Marquette linemen stood out above the backs yesterday, and Apolskis and Thomsen were two of them. The other end, Donald Vosberg, was a star in his own right, and the Hilltopper center, Edwin Neimi, was a great player. At guards, David Braden and Apolskis, did their stuff in starring fashion, and the tackles, Busler and Siefert, were among those whose numbers were looked up by seven thousand fans yesterday.

Marquette boasted no outstanding backs, but a couple of passers named Norman Woods and John Maltsch gave the Tech players and patrons plenty to worry about. They threw passes from first to last, and from their own 5-yard line to Tech's 4-yard line. Only the pass defensive ability of Tarbox and Akin kept them from going for touchdowns.

Richard Bilda, a halfback, and Stephen Seskowski, fullback with 195 pounds in him, crowded the Tech line and made up for most of the yards gained from rushing. Reginal Coldagelli, halfback, was one of the more prominent men on the field yesterday. In addition to his line rushing, he played a battering defensive game, and, back to offensive, was a capable pass snatcher.

Raiders Strike Early

The Red Raiders struck early, taking advantage of the second break of the game after being held for downs shortly after the kickoff. Milton Hill, starting at right half for Elmer Tarbox, punted 40 yards to the Marquette 20. Quarterback Leysenaar of Marquette fumbled it, and as the Tech forwards charged, the ball bounded back to the 6-yard line, where Dudley Akin recovered for Tech. Fullback Walter Rankin made a yard, and Coach Cawthon sent Tarbox, Gene Barnett and Flusche to the backfield. Barnett opened with his passes, but the first was incomplete to George Webb. Barnett, who has done very little running this season, faked a pass, then circled right end for touchdown.

Jodie Marek, who up to today had accounted for fifteen points after touchdown, rushed in for Rankin, donned his rubber kicking toe plate, and booted the extra point.

Barnett's Pass Connects

Not long afterward, Barnett flipped a pass to Tarbox in the flat, and stepped through five would-be tacklers for a touchdown. The pass originated on the 50, Tarbox caught it on about the same spot, and raced down the field, going over untouched after stiffarming and sidestepping the last two defensive men. Marek again kicked goal. There was time for an exchange of punts before the quarter ended.

Tech missed its first scoring opportunity, which came on the opening kickoff. Elbert Overton, who does a lot of Tech's kicking off, got off a short one which Vosberg fumbled on the Marquette 28, and Prince Scott recovered there. Two running plays failed, and a couple of passes from Sims were incomplete.

Marquette made its first serious threat in the second period, after ten minutes of ding-dong line crashing and punting. Maltsch completed a third down pass to Captain Gilbert Thomsen for 35 yards and a first down on the Tech 20. Another pass was good for three yards, but the Tech line held on the 12, a running play making some yardage. The ball went over, and Marek, kicking from his goal line, was rushed. The punt was blocked by Raymond Busler, tackle. Marek recovered the ball, but Busler fell all over him.

Marquette returned the ensuing kickoff 27 yards to the Tech 38. Woods passed complete to Coldagelli for 18 yards, then shot one to Thomsen for 12. Tech held the Hilltoppers there until the half ended.

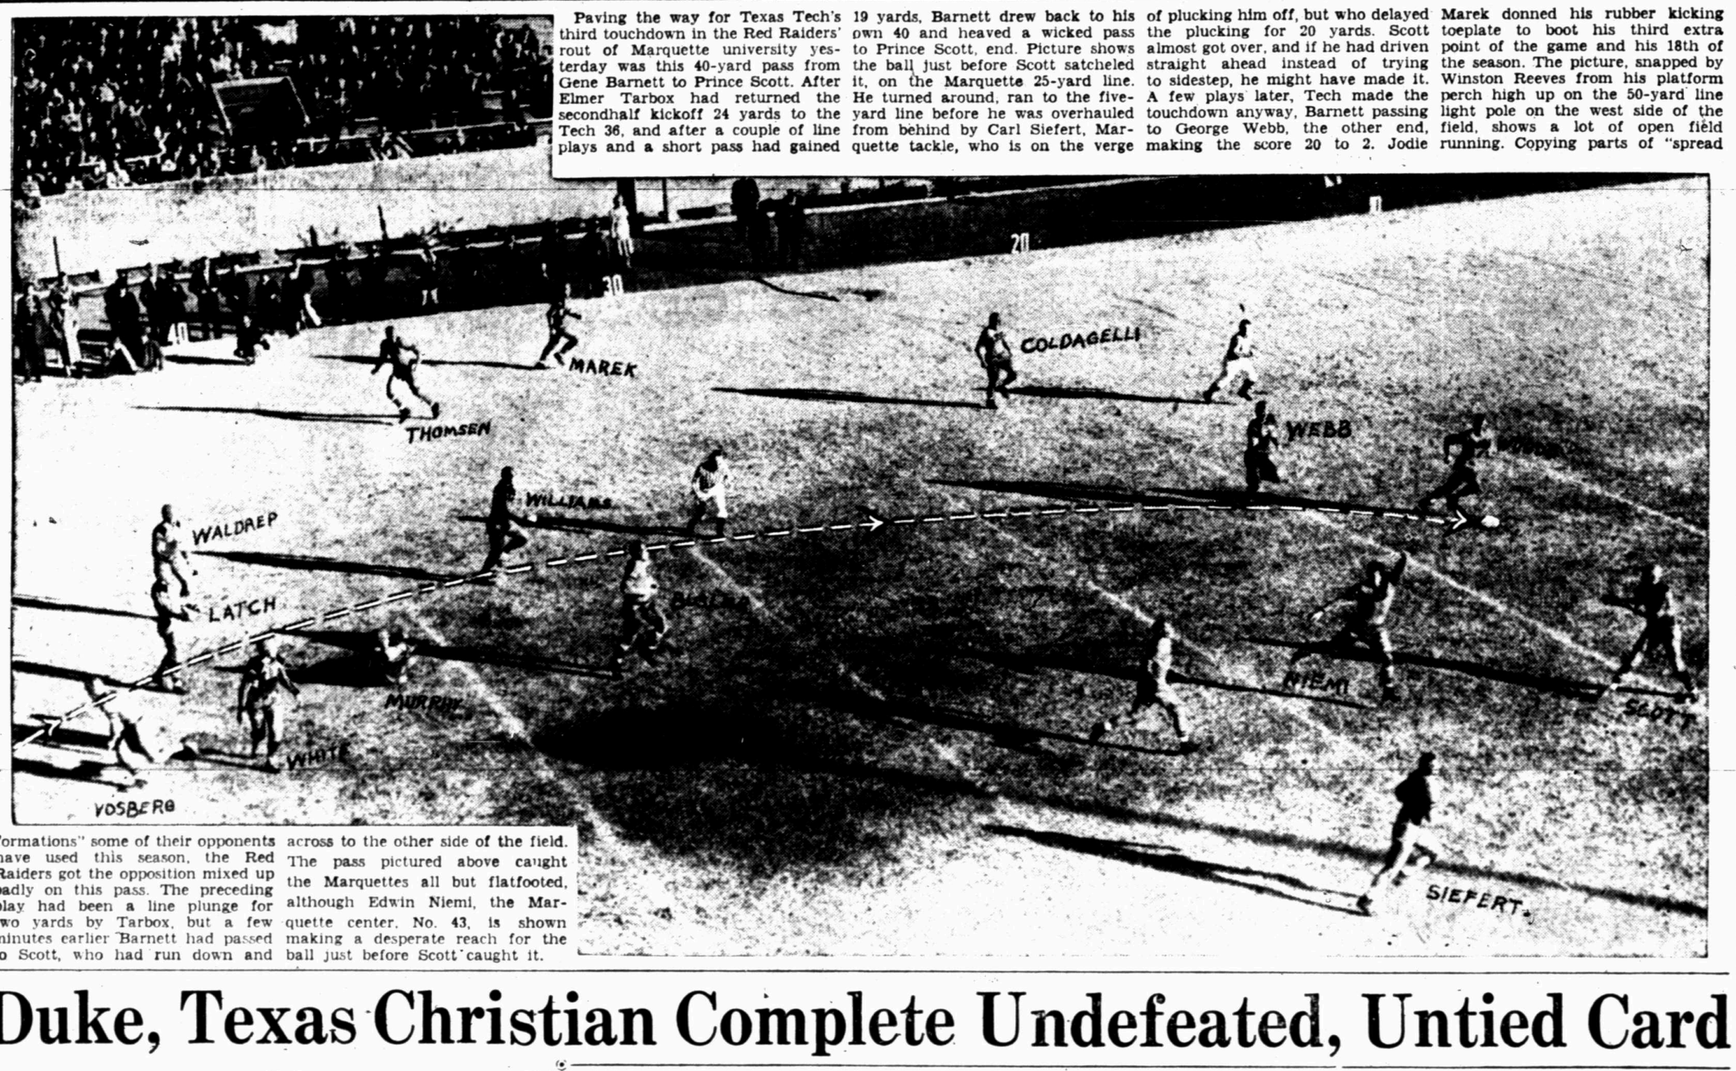

In the third period, Barnett passed to Webb for 34-yards and a touchdown shortly after the game resumed. Tarbox had returned the kickoff 24 yards to his 36. Line plays gained six yards, and Barnett passed to Prince Scott for 12 yards. Tarbox made 6, and Barnett faded back to toss a 40-yarder to Scott. He was brought down from behind on the 5. Barnett fumbled a couple of plays later, and Marquette recovered on the 1-yard line.

The next punt came out to the 33, and on the first play, Barnett passed to Webb, who received on the 9 yard line, and stepped over unmolested. Marek donned his rubber kicking plate for the third time and propelled his 18th extra point of the season through the upright.

Marquette drove to Tech's 7-yard line later in the period, but could not score on passes.

Coach Cawthon sent in his shock troops for the fourth quarter, but recalled them after Marquette made a desperate threat. Marquette was still throwing passes, and Tech was punting on second and third downs for the remainder of the game.

Barnett Passes To Scott To Set Up Tech's Third Counter Over Marquette

Paving the way for Texas Tech's third touchdown in the Red Raiders' rout of Marquette university yesterday was this 40-yard pass from Gene Barnett to Prince Scott. After Elmer Tarbox had returned the secondhalf kickoff 24 yards to the Tech 36, and after a couple of line plays and a short pass had gained 19 yards, Barnett drew back to his own 40 and heaved a wicked pass to Prince Scott, end. Picture shows the ball just before Scott satcheled it, on the Marquette 25-yard line. He turned around, ran to the five-yard line before he was overhauled from behind by Carl Siefert, Marquette tackle, who is on the verge of plucking him off, but who delayed the plucking for 20 yards. Scott almost got over, and if he had driven straight ahead instead of trying to sidestep, he might have made it. A few plays later, Tech made the touchdown anyway, Barnett passing to George Webb, the other end, making the score 20 to 2. Jodie Marek donned his rubber kicking toeplate to boot his third extra point of the game and his 18th of the season. The picture, snapped by Winston Reeves from his platform perch high up on the 50-yard line light pole on the west side of the field, shows a lot of open field running. Copying parts of "spread formations" some of their opponents have used this season, the Red Raiders got the opposition mixed up badly on this pass. The preceding play had been a line plunge for two yards by Tarbox, but a few minutes earlier Barnett had passed to Scott, who had run down and across to the other side of the field. The pass pictured above caught the Marquettes all but flatfooted, although Edwin Niemi, the Marquette center, No. 43, is shown making a desperate reach for the ball just before Scott caught it.

Christians Now Will Consider All Bowl Talk

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 26. — Unbridled Texas Christian nailed up its regular season today with a sledge-hammer lick that felled Southern Methodist, 20-7, won the Southwest conference title and lifted the hook for phone calls from Pasadena.

Tenth victim of the Southwest's finest team of history, the Methodists, as expected, were the toughest on the list and gave up only after sending 24,000 numbed fans into a dither in the closing period.

Frogs Stay On Ground

Little David O'Brien, operating behind seven Goliaths up in the line, brought out his passing wizardry only occasionally in the bristling wind but he personally led a ground game that netted two touchdowns and 231 yards.

Once the little fellow warmed up his passing arm and heaved 25 yards to Johnny Hall, halfback, who went ten more for a touchdown in a half-trot. But for the main, he stuck to the ground and with Sophomore Connie Sparks, and Halfbacks Hall and Clark, rode rousing excursions through the Mustang wall.

Immediately after the game the Cotton Bowl Athletic association, sponsors of the annual New Year's Day post-season classic at Dallas, issued an invitation to the Christians but a reply was not expected for several days.

Hustle Aids Methodists

The hustle that made Southern Methodist, undefeated in Southwest conference play until today, a dangerous outfit, brought in their only touchdown.

Only 13 minutes remained and they trailed, 20-0, when a swarm of Methodists led by Jack Sanders, big tackle, poured in on Connie Sparks as he attempted to kick from his own 32 into the gale. The kick was blocked and Bob Collins, reserve end, caught it on the bounce and plunged on 18 yards for the touchdown.

Three times the Christians drove deep into Methodist ground for what seemed more touchdowns, but the Methodist line stiffened and held them on the six, seven and seventeen stripes.

Mustang Captain Injured

On the first scrimmage play of the game, S.M.U.'s Capt. Charlie Sprague playing his last game, at end, went out with a severe leg injury after he had tackled O'Brien on a line plunge.

Ten minutes after the kickoff the Christians fell in behind O'Brien and marched 36 yards on 14 plays for the first touchdown. Using, incidentally, only one of their famed passes.

The Methodists resisted on the three-yard line, holding Sparks twice before he finally plowed over. O'Brien kicked the point.

Aldrich Recovers Fumble

Rangy Don Looney, great Christian left end, threw in a rowdy tackle that set up the second Christian score.

He slammed Mallouf on the Methodist 36 after he had bagged Sparks' long kick and the Methodist dropped

Duke, Texas Christian Complete Undefeated, Untied Card

Dartmouth Ousted From Select List

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. — Duke's Blue Devils, the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian university and the gray-clad Cadets of the United States Military academy waded through the snow and mud of the last big Saturday of the 1938 football season to greater gridiron fame today.

Duke completed an undefeated, untied and unscored-on season with a rather surprising 7-0 conquest of Pittsburgh, one of the East's strongest teams, before a Southern record crowd of 52,000 spectators. T.C.U. finished a perfect season in the tough Southwest conference by routing Southern Methodist, its only challenger for the conference title, 20 to 7.

102,000 See Service Game

The season's largest football crowd, 102,000, in the Philadelphia Municipal stadium, saw Army wipe out those two defeats that marred an ordinary season by whipping Navy 14 to 7 in the 39th game of the colorful service rivalry.

The Cadets staged a remarkable comeback to score their winning touchdown on an uninterrupted 81-yard march in the third quarter after Navy had pushed them all over the frozen field to tie the score at 7-7 in the first. A 79-yard runback of a punt by Charles (Huey) Long, brought the first Army score.

Duke's Eric (The Red) Tipton virtually kicked Pitt into defeat with booming punts that set the Panthers back toward their goal line, but it was Willard Perdue who finished the job of making it a perfect season. He blocked a punt and recovered it for the only touchdown that made the Blue Devils likely candidates for an invitation to play in the Rose Bowl New Year's day.

Tech Remains Undefeated

Texas Christian also got in line for a bowl bid, probably the Cotton bowl, by overpowering S.M.U. Connie Sparks blasted the Mustang line and Davey O'Brien tossed troublesome passes behind the big Horned Frog line and it was all over before the Methodists could score on a blocked kick in the last quarter.

One other team, Texas Tech, continued an undefeated and untied campaign by whipping Marquette 21 to 2. Oklahoma's Sooners, who have one more game to play, rang up their 13th straight victory and their ninth this season by beating Oklahoma A and M., 19-0. Boston college, twice tied, met its first defeat of the season when Holy Cross, paced by Bullet Bill Osmanski and Ronnie Cahill, smashed its way to a 29-7 victory in a renewal of one of the East's old rivalries.

Ole Miss Can Tie Vols

Fordham's Rams picked up a little glory by whipping their Bronx rival, New York university, 25-0.

Mississippi earned a chance to claim some of Tennessee's honors in the Southeastern conference by trimming Mississippi State 19-6. Ole Miss plays Tennessee next week and could earn approximately equal status by upsetting the unbeaten Vols. Tulane's Greenies moved up just behind Tennessee and even with Alabama in the conference standing by trimming Louisiana State 14-0.

Florida's Gators brought about one of the big upsets of the conference campaign when they stood off Auburn's attack and finally beat the Plainsmen 9-7, on a blocked punt in the last quarter. Georgia and Georgia Tech played a scoreless tie in the other Southeastern game.

Stanford's Indians, who had a miserable season in the Pacific Coast conference, pulled off the day's outstanding "upset" when they beat Dartmouth, a power in the East, 23 to 13. The Indians finally got their scoring plays to work and after maintaining a one-point margin through three periods, drove 70 yards for a final tally and added a safety when a Dartmouth pass was incomplete behind the goal line. The scoring in the first three quarters was done mostly through the air

Stanford Drops Dartmouth In 23 To 13 Rout

(By The Associated Press)

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 26. — Stanford's Red Indians, one of the doormats of the Coast conference this year, beaten six times and expected to take another licking, provided a stunning climax to an otherwise dull football season with a 23 to 13 victory over the green-jerseyed warriors of Dartmouth.

For three periods Stanford clung to a one-point lead. In the last quarter, the game switched from a close airtight encounter, to a rout, with Stanford pounding and passing to the nine more points and a convincing decision over the runnerups for the Ivy League championship.

Stanford's first touchdown came on a lateral to Byron West, tackle, on the 20 from Halfback Pete Fay, who had just snared a pass. West scored unmolested.

In the second Dartmouth scored on a 66-yard drive, but Stanford came back in the third on passes to put the ball on the three, and Quarterback Standlee scored.

Dartmouth scored next on MacLeod's 55-yard run with a pass. Stanford retaliated in the fourth period with a 70-yard drive for a score, and then the winner got two more points on a Dartmouth pass which fell behind the goal line.

Patterson, Boyd Lead Baylor To Win Over Rice

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, Nov. 26.—That Lank and lean kid, Billy Patterson, should get his degree in football at Baylor university Monday because he rounded out his required three years of varsity football today as passing, kicking and running Rice institute ragged and leading his team to a 21-6 victory.

Patterson and Sam Boyd, end, had Rice so befuddled when the game was in the last quarter that Ernie Lain, Rice's great passer, was passing to Ken Whitlow, Rice center, and twice Rice lost the ball because Whitlow was ineligible to receive passes.

Patterson set up the first Baylor touchdown in the first quarter by a series of forward passes that carried to the Rice three-yard stripe. Milton Merka, Baylor fullback, smashed over for the score.

Penalty Hurts Owls

In the third period Rice was penalized half the distance to its goal line, giving Baylor the ball and a first down on the Rice 19.

Bullet Bill and Fred Graham hacked at the Rice line, pulling up with a first down on the Rice nine. Patterson of fourth down passed to Boyd for Baylor's second touchdown

Patterson Intercepts Heave

In the last period Rice got the ball on their own 35 and Lain passed to Walter Williams, end, who was downed on the Rice 49.

Patterson on the next play intercepted Lain's pass on the Baylor 18 and kicked to E. Y. Steakley on the Rice 20.

Lain, rushed, passed to Center Whitlow, who ran and then lateraled to another Rice man deep in Baylor territory. The referee caught sight of the rule violation and called the play back and gave Baylor the ball on the Rice 30, Because of the ineligible receiver.

Patterson passed to Boyd on the Rice 18, then shot one to Malcolm Lider, Sub Baylor back, who was standing on the Rice eight and sped over the goal.

Rice Passes Illegally Again

Robert Nelson kicked the extra point, just as he had the two previous ones.

Later the Baylor line rushed Lain and pinned his ears back on the Baylor 30.

That was the crowning blow. Lain threw another pass to Whitlow this time on the Baylor 28 yard line. Baylor again was given the ball.

Baylor pounded away at the line for three plays and then kicked to deep Rice territory, where the ball remained until the end.

Rice scored its touchdown in the second period, when Big Moose Hartman, Rice lineman, intercepted a lateral on the Baylor 46 and ran for the score. Landry missed the try from placement.

Hard-Hitting Bob Seeds Has Had Up-And-Down Career On Minor And Major League Diamonds

Bob Seeds was around the other day—the same Shamrock lad who shagged flies and powdered the horsehide with such precision the Irish got to talking and an Oklahoma City scout got around to looking him over.

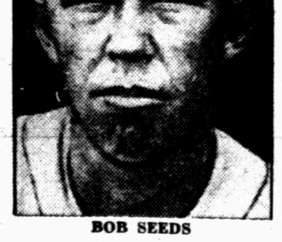

You read about him in recent years all over the country, or over a considerable section of it.

And last year, which is about as representative a season as you'd care to pick from his varied career, Bill Terry (whom Seeds admires "plenty") paid $40,000 to grab him for the Giants after he, starting with Newark Bears, hit 28 home runs in 56 games and drove in 96 runs.

Has Pleasant Memories

There've been plenty of false starts for the 6-foot 180-pound right-hander since he went up from the sandlot and intermediate to his joining the big show. Even after he had demonstrated conclusively he could throw and bat, circle bases and be a "team ball" player, there was a bit of lean with the fat on occasion.

But there are pleasant memories strewn around from those days. At Buffalo, N. Y., in the International league, Bob personally took in hand an evening or two of attention with his war club, and mouths of sports writers and baseball statisticians sagged then erupted with accounts and figures devoured from coast to coast.

For in one afternoon, Bob smacked four home runs in one game. He came back the next day to hit three consecutive homers, which totaled seven in two games in a row. In addition, he drove in 12 runs the first game, which tied Jim Bottomly's National league record with the St. Louis Cards in 1926, and exceeded the American league record of 11 runs batted in during one nine-inning game, established by Tony Lazzeri of the New York Yanks.

He holds the record for runs batted in (International league); four homers in four consecutive times at bat (International league), and the seven home runs in two days, which was better by two than the old mark.

Bob was signed in 1926 by Roy Allen, brother of Sled Allen, former catcher for the St. Louis Browns and now a Lubbock sports promoter, to play in the Western league. Farmed out to the Southwestern league after spring training, he went to Mexia of the Texas association, remained two weeks, was recalled by Oklahoma City, then went to Enid in the Southwestern.

That didn't seem to bother him so much, the moving around. He hit

Sun Bowl Bid Given Lobos

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 26. (AP)—The University of New Mexico was invited today to play in the New Year's Sun Bowl football classic at El Paso—an invitation expected to be accepted at a meeting of the Athletic council Monday.

With one team virtually decided, speculation centered upon Western Reserve university of Cleveland and Georgetown university of Washington, D. C., as favored candidates for the opposition. Both have undefeated records.

New Mexico won 8 of its 10 games this season, losing by one point to Texas College of Mines in an upset, and dropping another tight one to Texas Tech.

Next Sunday: Relaxation

By Collier Parris

ONE more river to cross!

Bring on the Gents, now and hold your breath for another week. That Big Relaxation next Sunday is sure going to be swell. It would be nice to look forward to another tightening of the throat between Christmas and New Year's, but we'll skip the "bowl" possibilities for the time being.

One trouble with a bowl game is that you're liable to get beat, and we'd hate to see the Techs get beat. From all indications, they're in for a long winning streak. If it hadn't been for dropping that last bowl game, at El Paso, Tech would at this moment be pointing for its 19th consecutive victory instead of its 11th. The boys beat themselves at El Paso last Jan. 1; the West Virginia team just happened to be on the other side of the scrimmage line.

Well, University of New Mexico will try to uphold, or gain back, the honor of the Sun Bowl this New Year's and we wish 'em luck. It's a nice team, even if it did refuse to change jersies when Tech was over there. And we hope the opposing side's band doesn't try to drown out the visiting band's alma mater number.

Those Lions Again

THE pressure's off in the high school football department, and everyone is breathing easier and happier since Thursday.

There were some gloomy moments out there Thursday—moments when it seemed that the more "natural" team and the better line would win a ball game. But smart generalship, the more alert team, and the team that just HAD to win brought Lubbock a well deserved victory.

Bi-district combat is coming up, and maybe after that there'll be more action in the state race, but Lubbock is as happy over beating Amarillo and winning the District 1 title as most any other team would be over winning the state championship.

QUOTING from Sportometer of Oct. 16 (we're a little chesty over that):

". . . When the Lions and the Westerners meet again, the weekend after Thanksgiving week, this reporter will be on the Westerner bandwagon!"

It seems that we fumbled one on the first Lubbock-Vernon game of 1938, choosing the Lions over the Westerners. That was mainly because Rusty Johnston was out of the lineup, and partly because the Lions did, and still do, have a good, heavy bunch of footballers. We said in the same column, after Lubbock had nudged the Lions by a touchdown, that were the teams to meet the following week, we'd still have to choose Vernon—but not when they meet next Friday.

Vernon still will have the edge in weight and experience and in the fact they'll be playing at home. But Jumbo Webster is better than Jack Judd, and the Lubbocks have a little more on the ball than the Vernons. If Harold Parsons "calls" as good a quarterbacking job next Friday as he did last Thursday, and if lightning doesn't strike the Westerner practice field this week, the Lubbocks should advance through bi-district competition.

Wanted; Press Box!

WE let Thanksgiving get by without giving thanks for the fine new press box to be erected at Tech Stadium between now and come another football season.

Oh, we haven't been officially informed of the good news yet, but it's pretty sure to come about. We're "big league" in this town now, and it calls for a big league press box . . . or at least one large enough for the "working press" to have room to work. Such is certainly not the case now.

In campaigning for a bigger and better coop atop the Tech Stadium, this dept. knows it has little or no sympathy from the cash customers who will say, as usual, "Boy, you have it soft up there in that nice, warm enclosure. Wish I had your job." (And we think: Gee, it would be nice just to sit out there in the grandstand and "watch" a football game like human beings!)

The press box situation here is not unlike that at most other places these days—and it's really not the newspapermen's fight. To put it bluntly, and without trying to hurt anybody's feelings, the radio boys have "moved in on us." This is not meant in a resentful tone, although us of the ink do figure that "we got here first, begged and pleaded for workable press boxes, and now the ether wavers should do a little begging and pleading for themselves."

IF IT'LL do any good, we're willing to do a little pleadings for them, because we have nothing against radio; it's fine stuff, and has a rightful place at every sports attraction. But the radio department should have its place—an EXTRA place—at the game.

Of course, our friends at Texas Tech and Lubbock High school, after enjoying such a swell season as this one has been and is being, will go in together and build a big double-decker out there at the stadium, one floor for the working press, the other for the microphones and scouts. These scouts, by the by, should do some pleading and begging, too.

Three times this year, the Tech box has been overcrowded to the point of exhaustion, not to mention exasperation, and it'll be the same Saturday, and for any more games the high school might happen to have here this year. It's a situation that could be easily remedied, maybe at the cost of a few cash customer seats (although it would be a good investment), and which no doubt will be remedied.

Webster Third In Grid Voting

Wild Walter Webster, captain of the championship Westerners, is in third place in the "All Texas Football Star of the Year" contest according to reports from Texas State Network headquarters in Fort Worth.

The broadcast sponsoring the series is heard at 5:45 o'clock each afternoon over KFYO. Lubbock and South Plains fans are striving to give Webster the coveted silver-gold trophy to be presented the outstanding high school football star.

Play Vernon Friday

The trophy reads: "Presented to the High School Football Star of the Year—1938—by the Radio Fans of Texas." The contest closes Friday. On that date "Jumbo" will be leading the Westerners against the powerful Vernon Lions for the bi-district title at Vernon.

Vernon was selected as site for the clash Friday by school officials of Lubbock and that city. The game will start at 2:30. A large delegation of Lubbock rooters probably will follow the team by special train and automobile. Lubbock High officials were to make plans for a train on their return.

Both Lines Powerful

Lubbock's 29-19 victory over Amarillo and the Lions' 7-0 defeat of Wichita Falls on Turkey Day set the stage for Friday's battle. Coach Chapman's lads took a mid-season thriller from the Lions, 7-0. Since then the Vernon eleven has shown steady improvement and will pit the deadly passing of Southall against Webster and his backfield mates. Vernon's win over the Coyotes was attributed to the Lions' slashing line. Lubbock, also, can give its great line credit for much of its march to the championship of District. 1.

Trojans' Rose Bowl Hopes Soar Higher

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26. (AP) — Southern California's Rose Bowl hopes, to make a simple understatement of fact, soared higher than the moon today as followers of the Trojan warhorse continued to celebrate the 42 to 7 annihilation of the University of California at Los Angeles.

The Thanksgiving day triumph was hailed here as the clinching argument in Southern California's bid for the Far West's Rose Bowl nomination. A mere victory over the dreaded Uclans from across the city was all the Trojan supporters had asked for, but a 42 to 7 demonstration of strength left the boys and girls barely able to do anything more than yell their heads off.

The win left Southern California in a tie with the California Bears of Berkeley for the conference title, and the machinery was set up today for the conference to begin voting on which team will be selected to carry the colors of the Far West into the annual Rose Bowl encounter.

Navy Fumble Is Turning Point; 102,000 Watch

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—Army bounced off the ropes with a recovered fumble and a devastating 81-yard march in the third period today to sweep Navy's hard fighting, never surrendering football forces into defeat, 14-7, before 102,000 half frozen fans at Philadelphia Municipal stadium.

The victory was 22nd for the Cadets in a series of 39. Navy had fought back to gain a tie at 7-all and was driving deep in Army territory when one of its heroes of the game Emmett Wood of Wilkesburg, Pa., fumbled. Harry Stella, Cadet guard from Kankakee, Ill., recovered and the stage was set for the merciless drive that meant victory.

Army, off to a lead in the first period when Charley (Huey) Long of Chevy Chase, Md., raced back a punt return for 79 yards and the first touchdown, was beaten and sore when the big break came. Navy had outplayed the Cadets so badly that their backs only ran one play from scrimmage in the second period as the Middies climaxed a 50-yard drive by land and air to score and then came back to shove the West Pointers back to their 17-yard line for a first down.

Wood was a bit too anxious as he grabbed the leather and prepared to hit the line. The ball squirted out of his numbed hands and Stella pounced on it on the Army 19. Ten plays later and the Army backs, reinforced by Sydney Martin of Gilmer, Texas, who made 46 yards on the first two plays, rode over the Middie line for the final, winning touchdown.

Behind a line that stiffened suddenly, the Cadet backs slashed the enemy wall and swept the ends almost at will, long, Art Frontczak of Dowagiac, Mich., and Woodrow Wilson of El Paso, assisting in the winning drive. It was Wilson who lugged it over from the one-foot line where the last of three crashes by Frontczak, good for 9 of the 81 yards, missed going through.

Hero of the Cadets in the chill and the gloom was Long. It was he who set them off for the first score on the most brilliant run of the day. It was Long who kicked the two extra points and it was Long who kicked several beautiful punts and several times split up the Middie defense with some of the few passes Army attempted.

Fordham Bowl Hopes Raised By Victory

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—The once-beaten Fordham Rams kept alive their bowl hopes by pile driving the New York university Violets, 25 to 0, in the final game today before 50,000 frost-bitten spectators in Yankee stadium.

Wearing basketball sneakers for half the game to afford better footing on the icy grass, Fordham's plunging backs struck swiftly for two touchdowns in the opening quarter and finished with a couple more in the fourth.

There was no question of the result after Don Principe, big Fordham fullback, charged across the goal line to climax a 54-yard drive in the opening minutes.

CRUSADERS BEAT BOSTON

BOSTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—The powerful Holy Cross Crusaders, apparently inspired by the wavering attitude of Coach Eddie Anderson toward his lucrative Iowa bid, today smote the Boston college Eagles for a 29-7 victory before 35,000 chilled football fans.

Danny McShain Is Back For Rassling Show; Program Is Postponed To Friday Night

Look who is fighting!

Danny McShain, well known bad man and claimant to the light heavyweight championship of the world, meets another ill-tempered soul, Sailor Kirby "Tex" Watkins, in this week's main wrestling event at Sled Allen's Auditorium.

The grunt and groan show will be held on Friday night this week because that is the only time that "Gentleman" McShain could be secured. He leaves soon to fight on the West coast.

Ringside seats should be at a premium because the reputations of the "gentleman" and the Sailor are known to all. It has been some time since two wrestlers of the rough quality mixed it up and this week's bout should make up for lost time. Neither wrestler follows the "scientific" school of torso-twisting and the use of chairs, ring posts, in fact, just anything handy as an implement of "war" is not against their ethics.

McShain was one of the top notch wrestlers of this circuit when it was going its strongest and has been making quite a name for himself in California having advanced to possession of the title since leaving here.

The Post ex-cowboy needs little introduction. In fact he battered Gus Johnson into submission in the semi-final attraction last Wednesday. Meeting of the two rockem and sockem boys should appease appetites of wrestle fans who like the bone crushers to do just that.

The semi-final pits Joe Banaski against John Nemanic. Scotty Williams and Gus Johnson mix it up in the curtain raiser.

Sooners Defeat Aggies, 19-0

(By The Associated Press)

STILLWATER, Okla., Nov. 26.—Oklahoma's Sooners, unbeaten champions of the Big Six, traveled the air lanes today to a 19-to-0 victory over the Oklahoma Aggies before 9,000 shivering fans.

Stymied on the ground by a stern Aggie line, the Sooners took to the air to set the stage for two touchdowns in the second period and added an end zone pass for the third in the last quarter.

The first touchdown came in the second period when Bob Seymour drove over from the 6-yard line. Two passes, Hugh McCullough to Frank Ivy for 17 yards and McCullough to Dick Favor for 21, late in the first quarter, set the ball in striking distance.

Later in the same period, from the Aggie 47, Otis Rogers tossed two passes to Gene Corrotto, one for 5 yards and one for 29, which carried Oklahoma to the 8-yard stripe. Rogers went over from the 4.

Early in the final period, Rogers shot a pass for 17 yards to Jennings in the end zone.

The victory was the ninth of the year for the Sooners, who still have Washington State to play.

Cubs Play Rotan On Home Field

Brownfield's doughty Cubs start the quest for higher honors Friday afternoon on their home field, meeting Rotan's District 6B champions.

At a meeting in the Hilton hotel Saturday Brownfield High school officials won a coin toss and elected to play on Cub field at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Business firms of Brownfield probably will declare a three-hour holiday, closing for the game, Supt. M. L. H. Baze said. Spirit has reached its peak there since the Cubs defeated Olton for championship of District 5.

Special train or bus facilities likely will be available to Rotan fans.

Attending the meeting here were: Brownfield representatives, Baze, Prin. W. M. Vernon, Coach Aubra Nooncaster, Assistant Coach Nolan Tipps, Tom May and Roy Wingerd; Rotan officials, Supt. Collingsworth and Coach Little.

RIDEOUTS WIN RACE

STILLWATER, Okla., Nov. 26. (AP)— The Rideout twins, Wayne and Blain, led the North Texas Teachers two-mile team to 26 to 29 victory over the OCMC runners in a race between halves of the Sooner-Aggie football game today.

After setting the pace most of the way, Forest Efaw, Aggie ace, was overtaken on the last lap by the twins. The Aggies defeated the Texas team at Denton earlier this year 25 to 30.

Fans And Players Fight As Tulane Defeats Tigers

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 26. (AP) Tulane's fast football team trounced Louisiana State today, 14 to 0, before 40,000 fans and players.

The Tigers could do nothing to stop Tulane's shifty halfbacks, Bob Kellog and Fred Cassibry who scored a touchdown apiece.

The game was one of the fiercest. Bronco Brunner, Tulane's brilliant back, and Jack Staples, Tiger fullback, were carried from the field with injuries.

In the fourth quarter, officials ousted James Stell, Tiger halfback, and Tom O'Boyle, Tulane guard, for swapping punches. The Tigers were penalized for clipping, unnecessary roughness and slugging. Bruce Hedric, L.S.U., field general, was put out on the slugging charge.

Then the players cut loose with wallops. Fans streamed out of the stands, some with sections of stands used as clubs.

Coaches quieted the fighting, a few more plays were run, the last whistle blew, some Tulane admirers ripped up the Tiger goalposts, and the battling started all over again. It went on till darkness put an end to it.

It has been estimated that there were between 50,000,000 and 75,000,000 head of buffalo in the world in primitive times.

Mighty Panthers Fall Again As Blocked Punt Gives Duke Win

By DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press Sports writer

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 26.—Stocky Willard Perdue of Duke smashed through the weary Pittsburgh line and into football immortality today.

The Duke end, alternate blocking back a year ago, banged into one of John Chickerneo's frequent punts from the snow-covered end zone grabbed it on the bounce and scored the touchdown that defeated mighty Pitt for the Blue Devils, 7 to 0, and ended the most remarkable season in the history of Duke football.

Score Early In Fourth

The touchdown, scored on the fifth play of the fourth quarter, was enough to send the 52,000 spectators into transports of joy and maintain the Blue Devil's position as the nation's only major undefeated, untied, unscored on eleven. As the crowd, largest in Southern gridiron history, filed out through the snow storm that had swirled into the stadium since morning, there was talk of the Rose Bowl, the Sugar bowl and almost every post-season fixture.

But if Perdue's touchdown won the game, the trusty right foot of Eric (the Red) Tipton saved it. The senior tailback on Wallace Wade's 20th and greatest eleven kept the Blue Devils in and the Panthers out of the ball game with 20 punts that averaged 39.4 yards from scrimmage and which held the weary Pittsburgh backs pinned in their own territory in the last quarter.

Pittsburgh Grows Weary

By then Jock Sutherland's eleven, which played through with only six substitutions was dog tired. Twice in the first half it had battered terrifically hard for touchdowns with the great Marshall Goldberg leading the attacks with reckless running and deadly blocking.

Each time the surge fell short. The solid, seaworthy Duke line halted the first savage charge on the 12. The second failed when Larry Peace, replacement for the injured Goldberg fumbled on the 19. Goldberg was the spearhead of each drive.

Georgia Tech Plays Great Defensively For Deadlock

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 26. (AP)—Out played throughout, but rising to great defensive heights when their goal line was threatened, Georgia Bulldogs battled Georgia Tech to a scoreless tie today for the second straight year with the odds overwhelmingly against them.

Georgia Tech could not carry across the pay-off stripe after thrice penetrating into the shadow of the goal posts.

American Naval And Military Air Missions Will Be Sent To Aid Of Colombia

Defenses Will Be Improved

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP) — The United States government announced today that naval and military air missions would go to the republic of Colombia soon to cooperate with that country in improving its defensive forces.

The step symbolized, to some students of Pan-American affairs, the growing bonds between the United States and Latin America for the common defense of the new world against any foreign aggressor. Five such missions already are on duty in other Latin American countries.

Of Particular Importance

The action is of particular importance to the United States because of Colombia's proximity to the Panama Canal, a vital artery in the American defense system. The Panama Canal Zone, now owned by the United States, formerly was part of Colombia.

The announcement was accompanied by publication of a friendly exchange of notes between President Roosevelt and the Colombian senate.

The senate in a formal resolution expressed its gratitude to the president "for his effective defense of Democratic ideas and systems, for his intervention to safe-guard peace within and without the continent, and for the loyal and constant carrying out of the good neighbor policy which is based upon the respect of the sovereignty of all peoples."

Christians Win

everything, including the ball.

Ki Aldrich, as usual, was there to recover for the Christians.

On the first play, O'Brien shot a 25-yard pass that Mallouf stabbed for and Hall snagged on the 10, poking across for the score. O'Brien kicked another point across. It seemed as if Mallouf had intercepted O'Brien's shaft, but it whistled right on through his hands.

O'Brien Misses Goal!

The Christians tallied their third touchdown early in the third period. First they tossed Mallouf for a 14-yard loss on an attempted pass, forcing him to kick, and then started from the Methodist 38 after O'Brien had squirmed back 18 yards with a punt return.

Sparks belted over tackle for 14 and Clark came back with the same poison for 15 more. Sparks punched through for five, O'Brien added four more to the one and Sparks carried over his tenth touchdown of the season. It took them seven running plays to go the 38 yards.

O'Brien missed that kick, which is strictly news. He had made 28 successful boots in ten games.

Rose, Sugar, Cotton Bowls In That Order For Frogs

DALLAS, Nov. 26. (AP)—Over ten tough hurdles and with the Southwest conference title in their pockets, Texas Christian's mighty Horned Frogs tonight started thinking about a New Year's Day game.

No official comment was forthcoming, but from authoritative sources came the word that the Christians—should they receive invitations—would vote in this order:

1. Rose bowl.
2. Sugar bowl.
3. Cotton bowl.

THE LONE RANGER

THE SHERIFF AT THE END OF HIS ROPE

.309 that first year, played shortstop and nicked the ball for 13 round trips.

Came another year, 1927, and he returned to Oklahoma City for spring training. Mid-June and he was released outright, unconditionally. He could have given up and gone back to Shamrock, where they still knocked around in the cool of the day or on Sundays on the sandlot.

But he swallowed his pride, if he stopped long enough to call it that, and figured last year's .309 average wasn't batted out by a fellow old enough to retire the following year. He did go to Shamrock, but as a semi-pro, and he played that year at other places, as well—Hollis and Lone Wolf, Okla.

The latter town about then had a sort of "significant name," he recalls.

Sled Allen Enters Picture

Then Sled Allen enters the picture in more than a nepotistic capacity. He signed Bob and chased him into the outfield, "one of the best things ever done for me," said Bob. The converted outfielder batted with the Amarillo club, managed by Allen, .340, drove in more than 100 runs and scored more than 100 himself.

That primer bloomed. In 1929 he was with Kansas City in the American association. He hit .342 and was instrumental in Kansas City's winning the pennant and the "Little World series."

A dicker in 1930, when he was sold to Cleveland for $25,000, was not the only index to how important he was beginning to be considered. For he was broken into an outfield combination of Averill, Dick Porter, Eddie Morgan, Bib Falk and Charlie Jameson. Pitching was tougher, though, and he hung up only .285.

Vosmik Beats Him Out

And his "worst year" was yet to come. In 1931 he was with Cleveland only about 65 games. It was the year of the nonpareil Joe Vosmik's appearance on the baseball horizon, and the new arrival beat Bob out for left field. Bob had managed to hit .306, however.

Came 1932 and he was traded to the White Sox for Bill Cissell, a second baseman who had cost $123,000. He played with the Sox as a regular, hitting .288.

Seeds and Hodapp were traded in 1933 to the Boston Red Sox for Durham and Hal Ryan. Seeds hit .290.

Then traded back to Cleveland in 1934 with Bob Weiland for Wes Ferrell and Dick Porter.

Goes To Detroit Club

In 1934, he was sold to Detroit for $10,000 from Cleveland, then sold to Montreal the middle of June; he was a member of the club that won the International league, but there was no Little World series that year between the American association and the International league. He managed to bat .317 and hit 50 two-base blows; seven short of the league record.

In 1936 he started the season with Montreal, was sold in July to the New York Yankees and played in the World series of that year, winning from the Giants. That season he had played second base and once hit two homers in a single game, off Dietrich of the White Sox.

Hence To Newark

But 1937 was another year, and he found himself with the Bears at Newark, sent down the river by the Yanks. But the Bears developed with such punch and power they became known as the wonder team of all major league baseball, winning the pennant by 25 games. Seeds hit 20 home runs and batted out a .305 average.

Last year, as related, he went to the Giants. And did right well.

"Bill Terry plays as good a brand of baseball as any manager I ever played under, and I have played under several," said Seeds.

"Give him a fair baseball team and he'll do wonders with it. What do the rest of them think of him? Just ask them. They'll all agree with what I'm saying."

Daladier Hits Drastic Blow

(By The Associated Press)

Premier Daladier of France aimed a drastic blow at labor opposition last night by decreeing military control for the principal French railroads, whose workers have voted to join next Wednesday's one-day general strike.

The French premier moved to crush in advance the strike called by the powerful Confederation of Labor after using similar tactics to stop a walkout of miners, metal workers and local railroad hands in the north of France.

Show Of Strength

The confederation ordered its 5,000,000 members to participate in the one-day strike as a show of strength in its mounting opposition to government decrees lengthening the 40-hour work week. Scores of strikers already have affected the nation's industrial life.

The labor crisis was put aside for a moment when the government fulfilling its promise to boost France's military air strength, proposed a 1939 air force budget of 2,322,000,000 francs ($60,604,200) or 766,000,000 francs (about $19,992,600) over the current budget.

Strained Relations Seen

There were multiplying signs meanwhile of strained relations between the United States and Germany.

In Washington, Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles announced that Hugh R. Wilson, ambassador to Berlin, had been assigned to an indefinite tour of duty in Washington.

Wilson arrived home yesterday in response to an order from President Roosevelt for detailed information of the situation caused by the treatment of Jews in Germany.

In Berlin, the German press turned its guns on the United States, charging Washington with imperialistic designs in connection with the forthcoming Pan-American conference at Lima, Peru.

The nazis also continued their campaign against the Jews, directing attacks on those who sympathize with them.

Great Britain saw signs of weakening in the Arab revolt in Palestine, but a long area of trouble appeared in prospect before she accomplished her aims of peaceful rule.

The question of how long Britain would have to keep a large military force in the holy land was expected to be answered largely by the outcome of the Arab-Jewish conference in London planned for early next year.

Poland and Soviet Russia affirmed their existing treaties, including a non-aggression pact, in a step regarded as strengthening the corridor separating Germany from the Soviet Ukraine.

Bad weather brought a virtual halt in hostilities on Spain's civil war front. In the world's other war Japanese invaders reported considerable progress in South China but on the central Chinese front their campaign appeared to still be bogged down.

RECOVERY CONTINUES

DALLAS, Nov. 26. (AP) — RFC Chairman Jesse Jones, visiting friends in Dallas today, expressed the belief the current trend toward recovery will continue "reasonably". He said private employment would be a deciding factor in the progress of recovery.

Officials expected to hear early today the results of matches entered by Texas Technological college's senior livestock judging and grains judging teams in Chicago Saturday.

The livestock team, which left Lubbock Nov. 17 for the inter-college competition in Chicago, was accompanied by Ray C. Mowery, animal husbandry professor and coach.

Playing a deadly accurate game, Revolta, established himself apparently as the man to beat in tomorrow finals for the first place money of $1,200.

His three nearest rivals were Ben Hogan, White Plains, N. Y., Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, L. I., and John Melutic of Girard, O. who were dead-locked at 141.

Brother Of Lubbock Men Will Be Buried At Livingston

Kirby C. Carpenter, 46, of Livingston, a brother of W. Hurley Carpenter and Bedford F. Carpenter of Lubbock, and a former resident of Lubbock, will be buried at Livingston early this week, according to information received here Saturday night.

He died in a hospital at El Paso Thanksgiving afternoon after a long illness. He had been in the El Paso hospital five months, relatives here said.

Kirby C. Carpenter lived in Lubbock a short time about eight years ago.

Hurley Carpenter, associated with South Plains Motor coaches, will attend services. Illness may prevent attendance of Bedford F. Carpenter.

Body of the man will leave El Paso Monday. Time for burial services had not been decided Saturday night.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Eton, about 9; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Carpenter of Sudan; four brothers, the two here and Elmer Carpenter of Littlefield and Buford Carpenter of Divine; and two sisters, Mrs. O. A. Lowe of Livingston and Mrs. Ed Workman of Olton.

The United States has 3,800,000 Jews within its boundaries. This is the greatest Jewish population of any country in the world.

Higher Tension Is Being Seen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — Signs of strained relations with Germany multiplied today when the state department assigned its ambassador to Berlin to an indefinite tour of duty in Washington and published new protests against nazi treatment of American creditors.

Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, announced that Ambassador Hugh Wilson, who returned here today from Berlin on his way to confer with President Roosevelt at Warm Springs, Ga., had been assigned to the department as an advisor on relations between the two countries. Other officials said later the assignment, while for an indefinite period, was a temporary one.

Complaint Is Made

Thereafter the department disclosed the United States embassy in Berlin had complained to the Germany government yesterday against "acts or policies of foreign governments which discriminate against American creditors and give foreign creditors more favorable treatment than Americans."

This referred to the fact that Germany has not continued service on Austrian debts outstanding in this country when Austria became a part of the reich. An exchange of notes published by the department said Germany already was making payments on Austrian obligations to creditors in Great Britain, France and some other nations.

The German government, in a note of November 17, said that while it had been possible to recognize and pay certain Austrian obligations in those countries because of Germany's favorable trade balance with them, it had been impossible to make any American arrangement because of unfavorable trade relations.

The reich is on the United States' economic "blacklist," being deprived of tariff concessions granted other countres because she allegedly discriminates against American goods.

Ambassador Wilson, who conferred with officials here briefly before his scheduled departure at midnight en route to the "little White House," told reporters he could make no statement as to the purpose of his visit nor probable length of stay in the United States until after he had seen the president. He came home at the president's request, for report and consultation, leaving Mrs. Wilson in Berlin.

Ouster Of Those Using WPA For Political Purposes In Last Campaign Is Sought

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP) — Senator White (R-Me), a member of the senate campaign expenditures committee, called on authorities today to discharge every relief official or worker found to have used WPA for political purposes in the last campaign.

The committee is scheduled to meet Monday to consider final reports on its campaign investigations.

White attributed the blame for WPA political activity, which committee investigators have reported finding in several states, to the administrative branch of the relief organization.

He said he would support a proposal by Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex) that the campaign expenditures committee be made a permanent organization to "police" political campaigns and to recommend legislation to halt political corruption.

The Maine senator suggested a joint organization, with jurisdiction over both house and senatorial campaigns.

"There should be a congressional committee familiar not only with the federal but state statutes dealing with political corruption," White said. "If such a committee were on a permanent basis it could maintain the nucleus of an investigation force."

White indicated he would propose that the committee recommend that congress decide who legally can contribute to political funds, and that it ask for a congressional study of charges of political abuse of the free mailing and printing privileges.

Dr. R. C. Goodwin (head of the department of chemistry and dean of the graduate division at Texas Technological college)—I believe Mr. Jones will do wonders for Tech.

O. V. Adams (dean of engineering at Texas Technological college) —My association with Mr. Jones has always been most pleasant. As president of our board of directors he has befriended the division of engineering in many ways. His knowledge of Texas affairs, his long residence in West Texas and especially his part in forming the policies of Texas Technological college make him well fitted for the important office to which he has been appointed.

James G. Allen (dean of men and associate professor of English) — The profound respect which the faculty and student body have for Mr. Jones and the complete confidence in him will make for immediate and fine cooperation. Because of the breadth of his viewpoint, the fullness of his experience and the keenness of his interest, Clifford B. Jones will make Tech an ideal president.

(Attempts to get quotes from A. . Leidigh, dean of agriculture and rofessor of agronomy at Texas Technological college, and from W. B. Irvin, superintendent of Lubbock public schools, were unavailing. They were not in the city late Saturday night. Several other persons also were not found when sought).

STOCKS ARE UNLOADED

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Apparently tired of waiting for a rally that never came to materialize, traders unloaded stocks today and the market suffered its worst setback of the week with leaders down fractions to more than 2 points.

Until the final half-hour of the brief proceedings, the list duplicated its leading tactics of recent sessions. The bulk of selling wave, centering on steels and motors, modest recoveries were in evidence at the sound of the final gong.

Brokers, generally, attributed the reversal partly to more insistent adjustments for income tax returns and to some apprehension over foreign affairs.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .4 of a point at 50.8, and was down .7 net on the week.

Transfers for the two hours amounted to 687,020 shares against 437,080 last Saturday.

Principal losers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, Santa Fe, Dunhill and Philip Morris.

Dec. closed at 8.79, Jan. at 8.61-bid, March at 8.56 May at 8.36, July at 8.14, Oct. at 7.80@7.81, Dec. (new) at 7.88-bid and March (1940) at 7.86-bid. Spot cotton was quiet and middling closed unchanged at 8.68 on sales of 530 bales.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Cotton recovered from mid-session losses today on renewed near month covering. March advanced from 8.42@8.47 and closed at 8.45 with final prices 1 point net higher to two lower.

The market opened with near months steady on trade buying and distant positions under pressure of week-end hedge selling. December offerings increased later and commission house liquidation also developed as the stock market closed.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26 (AP)—The average price of middling cotton at ten southern spot markets today was 1 point higher at 8.64 cents a pound; the average for the past 30 market days was 8.64 cents a pound.

Sizemore looked over his shoulder, noticed Honey was covering him with a blue steel revolver and stepped on the gas.

Honey and Jean and Ralph, Sizemore said, ignored him except to boss him the rest of the trip. Arriving in Oklahoma City they left his cab and he telephoned the police station at 7:45 a. m.

Robbery, said Sizemore, apparently wasn't the object of the trio because they bought gasoline during the ride.

However, officers were investigating the possibility the trio got themselves into difficulties with federal officers by taking Sizemore across the state line in violation of the Lindbergh law.

Hijacker

were told, directed Jackson to drive out of Lubbock on the Littlefield highway until they reached a point about three miles northeast of Shallowater, then ordered Jackson to drive north toward County Line.

About three miles from County Line the bandit forced Jackson out of the car and searched Jackson, taking approximately $2 in change.

Went Toward Littlefield

The bandit drove away in the 1938 tan, Dodge, four-door sedan in a direction which would lead him back onto the Littlefield highway. Officers said they were inclined to believe the hijacker went toward Littlefield. License number of the car was 811-250.

Jackson walked to a farm house, then was taken to Shallowater. From there he telephoned the sheriff's department here.

Harrist said Jackson was unable to give a detailed description of the bandit. Jackson said he was warned not to look at the bandit, but that the bandit made no severe threats nor mistreated him in any way.

Descriptions of the car were broadcast and officers of this area warned to be on the lookout for the car, but early today no trace of the missing machine had reached officers here.

Cycle In Balkans Complete; Boris Nipping Rebels

By WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Writer

WITH revolution or attempted revolution shaking Bulgaria, Europe has now made the complete circle back to 1913, when sage correspondents wagged heads over "trouble in the Balkans in the spring," and a world swayed over Shaw's "Arms and the Man." Both were written around the traditional Balkan disorders of which Bulgaria has always been the arch-type.

Bulgaria was a dominant Balkan power in 1912. But today, she has only about 6,000,000 people, is hemmed in by enemies, torn by internal dissension and plots. Her comparatively progressive king, Boris III, has not been able to secure domestic peace or external tranquility.

Bulgaria is another of the crossroads of Europe where Slav and North European have clashed for centuries. Its dominant people, the Bulgarians are a mixture of Finnish and Hun conquerors and eastern Slavs. The ancient Bulgarian state was a menace to the declining days of the Eastern Roman Empire. But at the beginning of modern times, Bulgaria was a province of Turkey in Europe, the scene of bloody repressions, hopeless rebellions, and domination by atrocity which roused the sympathy of Europe.

RUSSIA AIDED INDEPENDENCE

IN helping to free Bulgaria from Turkish rule, Russia believed it had a sort of first mortgage on Bulgarian affections, and was distressed at the rise of an independent spirit among the Bulgars.

Though Bulgaria was a leader in the war on the Turks by the Balkan Alliance in 1912, in 1913 she had to watch the spoils divided so that she got the short end. Serbia got Macedonia, Greece took Salonika, and Rumania the Dutrudja region. Bulgaria did secure land fronting on the Aegean Sea, but she felt short-changed.

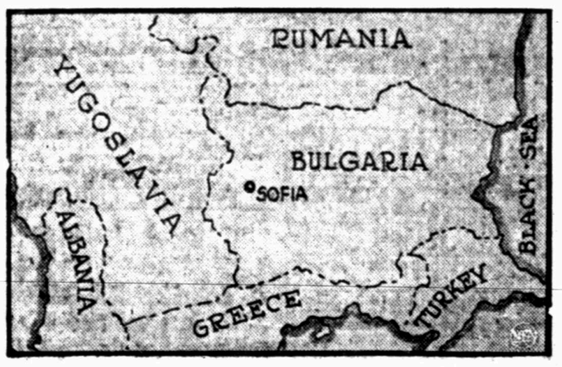

That made her ripe for revenge. When the World war opened, she waited for the highest bidder, and in October, 1915, accepted Germany's bid. The net result was conquest by the entente, desolation, and the loss of the Thracian sea-front on the Aegean and much more land to Serbia, now Yugoslavia. King Ferdinand lost his throne as well.

Hobbled by the Treaty of Neuilly, Bulgarian progress up from the war ruins was slow. Boris, long a prominent bachelor king, has reigned since 1918. It is a backward and agricultural country. Boris has had to face several peasant revolts, and one strong Communist bid for power by revolution. Twice Boris has escaped assassination.

Bulgaria today, surrounded by unsympathetic countries. The present crisis may be largely the result of agitation by Macedonians of northern Greece, southeastern Yugoslavia and western Bulgaria.

In 1934 he established a military dictatorship. Early this year tentative efforts were made to bring back a more democratic procedure, but the present revolutionary plot undoubtedly stops all that.

HIS marriage to Princess Iohanna of Italy was calculated to strengthen Bulgaria's ties with Italy and its satellite, Yugoslavia. It is with that country that many of Bulgaria's external disputes have arisen, for between the two lies Macedonia, a wild region with an independence movement which has at times been so strong in Bulgaria as almost to dominate that government.

New President

urgent insistence upon the part of many did he finally capitulate and consent to leave a business association in which he has carved an outstanding success over 27 years. He literally was drafted for service to Texas Tech, which he knows by virtue of his long association and 15 years of continuous effort better than any man alive.

Mr. Jones will not move to the president's residence on Tech's campus until at least 60 days have elapsed. "My taking up the active duties of the presidency," he said, "will begin at the pleasure of my present business associates with whom many details must be worked out. Mrs. Jones and I probably will move to Lubbock about Feb. 1".

All members of the board were present at Saturday's session. The eight left after Mr. Jones' resignation are: Mrs. John A. Haley of Midland, treasurer, Lisle L. Steele of Mexia, Joe T. Sneed, jr., of Amarillo, Mrs. W. R. Potter of Bowie, Tomas G. Pollard of Tyler, James M. West of Houston, and Charles C. Thompson of Colorado, and the new acting chairman.

Also present was W. T. Gaston, Lubbock, Tech business manager and secretary to the board.

Aside from the selection of Mr. Jones as president, few college matters were discussed as directors eyed the clock in anticipation of the football game. What little discussion there was of other matters was, Gaston said, "only routine". The meeting got under way at 9:45 and ended two hours later.

"Never In A Hurry" Is Phrase Often Used Regarding Jones

"Never in a hurry" is a phrase often used in description of Clifford B. Jones, and here is an illustration as once told by a former Crosby county judge:

While the judge was talking to a visitor, Mr. Jones entered quietly and sat in a convenient chair. Although wanting to leave his desk and give his new caller the preference, due to friendship and respect, the judge kept on with his conference while Mr. Jones peacefully waited his turn. The conference ended after a while and the judge turned to Mr. Jones.

"Just wanted to tell you goodbye. I have five minutes to catch the train from here. We are going to Europe for a few months and I just wanted to see you before leaving," Mr. Jones said calmly as he glanced at his watch.

That happening was referred to in a biographical sketch of Mr. Jones as an "outstanding Texan" in a 1937 issue of Texas Tech magazine.

Smith Assured Chairmanship Of Texas Rail Commission

AUSTIN, Nov. 26. (AP)—Two members of the Texas railroad commission and G. A. Sadler of Longview, commissioner-elect, agreed today that Commissioner Lon A. Smith would be chairman of the group next year.

At an informal conference with the present chairman, Ernest O. Thompson, Smith, and Sadler announced also that James Kilday, Houston attorney, was their choice for chief of the motor transportation department.

Two Naval Fliers Are Killed In Plane Crash At El Paso

EL PASO, Nov. 26. (AP)—A naval plane crashed from an altitude of about 50 feet at Fort Bliss army airport today, killing two of its crew of three. Collapse of a folding wing was believed to have been the cause.

The dead were Aviation Cadet L. T. Rowe, pilot, and Machinist's Mate C. K. Wise, both of San Diego, Calif. Howard Willis, Filipino mess attendant, escaped with minor injuries. Willis was in the tail section of the plane, the only part not smashed, and he was able to jump free when the ship came to rest.

The ship did not burn after striking, but wreckage had to be cut away to remove the bodies of Wise and Rowe.

Baby Beef Project Will Pay Youth's Entrance To Tech

TAHOKA, Nov. 26. — When J. C. Womack got ready to enroll in Texas Technological college at Lubbock, he found his baby beef project would pay his entrance fees. The boy, a 1938 graduate of Tahoka High school, lives at the Garland Pennington home.

Last spring J. C. bought a 320 pound calf, fed it and after five months the animal weighed 760 pounds. J. B. McPherson paid him 8 1-2 cents a pound.

City Slicker Who Tried To Hold Up Store Gets Shock

REDDING, Calif., Nov. 26. (AP)—That city slicker who tried to hold up the general store at Bella Vista, 13 miles east of here in rugged country, got something of a shock today.

Walking into the store close behind Mrs. L. Lofton, the storekeeper, he demanded in a voice stern and hard, "hand it over."

"What the hell do you mean?" she shot at him, whirling about.

It was a bit of a jolt. Fingering his blackjack, the bandit explained rather lamely that what he wanted was money. Mrs. Lofton gradually edged along the counter toward the door, and then—

"He made a lunge for me," she related afterwards. "So I slapped him across the head and chest with my arms and he reeled backward. I ran out the front door yelling 'hold-up'."

The bandit decided to call it a day. Leaping into his car, he sped away, amid a rain of bullets fired by Lofton, who had heard his wife's shout and rushed around from the rear, all prepared.

Threat Against Shirley Temple Brings Arrest Of CCC Worker

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 26. (AP)—Hinton C. Hardison, 22, CCC employe near Galice, Ore., was arrested by federal bureau of investigation agents today on a charge of attempting to extort $10,000 from Shirley Temple, juvenile film star.

J. B. Swenson, FBI agent, announced the arrest and said Hardison had admitted mailing the alleged extortion note on Nov. 17. Swenson said Hardison threatened death for the tiny film player if the money was not paid.

Martin County Voters Okay Bond Issue Of $50,000

STANTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Martin county voters apparently approved a $50,000 road bond issue today, returns from six of the county's 11 boxes showed. The bond held a 446 to 57 lead with probably not over 150 votes unreported in five small rural boxes.

Money from the issue would be used to open and surface roads from Stanton to Lenorah and west to the Andrews county line, and from Lenorah to west of Knott in Howard county.

Woman Jumps From 10th Floor Office And Still Survives

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 26. (AP) — Despondent over her own illness and her husband's inability to find work, Mrs. Howard Weaver, 47, today jumped from the 10th floor waiting room of her doctor and survived.

Detective W. S. Shaffer, who investigated, said the woman pinned a suicide note to her coat and stepped out of the window into the court of the building. Her fall was broken by a first floor skylight.

Attending physicians said she had more than an even chance to pull through.

BETTER HOUSING PROGRAM FHA

"no 2 ways about it..."

It is cheaper to own a home than it is to rent. What will you have in years to come? Worthless rent receipts or a deed to a home and security—Think over this problem seriously. How much rent have you paid in the last five years? Now think of how far it would have gone towards buying your own home. . . . It's easy to own your home thru FHA and it's convenient to let us arrange your loan. . . . FHA loan payments, less than rent, include principal, interest, taxes and insurance. ORDINANCE NO 603

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE REGISTRATION OF BICYCLES IN THE CITY OF LUBBOCK, AND PROVIDING A PENALTY FOR VIOLATION THEREOF.

Be it ordained by the city commission of the City of Lubbock:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to use a bicycle propelled wholly or in part by muscular power upon any of the streets or public highways of the City of Lubbock, without first obtaining from the City of Lubbock a license therefor.

Section 2. The City Secretary is hereby authorized and directed to issue upon the written application, bicycle licenses which shall be effective from January 1st 1939, to and including December 31st, 1940, and thereafter said license shall be issued for the calendar year commencing on the first day of January of each of said calendar years, and ending on the 31st day of December of said calendar year.

Said licenses when issued shall entitle the licensee to operate such bicycle for which said license has been issued, upon all of the streets, alleys and public highways exclusive of the sidewalks thereof, in the City of Lubbock.

Section 3. The City of Lubbock shall provide each year metalic license plates and seals, together with registration cards and holders therefor, said metalic license plates and registration cards having numbers stamped thereon in numerical order, beginning with No. 1 and indicating the year for which the same are issued, and the letters Lubbock stamped thereon. Such metalic license plates shall be suitable for attachment upon the frame of bicycles, and it shall be the duty of the owner to attach one such metalic license plate to the frame of his or her bicycle, and the City Secretary shall issue a corresponding registration card to the license upon the payment of the license fee herein provided for. Such metalic license plate shall remain attached during the existence of such license. The City Secretary shall also keep a record of the date of issuance of each license, to whom issued and the number thereof.

Section 4. All persons engaged in the business of buying second-hand bicycles are hereby required to make daily reports to the police department, giving the name and address of the person from whom each bicycle is purchased, the description of each bicycle purchased, frame number thereof, and the number of the metalic license plate found thereon, if any.

All persons engaged in the business of selling new or second-hand bicycles are hereby required to make a daily report to the Police Department, giving a list of all sales made by such dealer, which list shall include the name and address of each person to whom sold, the kind of bicycle sold, together with a description and frame number thereof, and the number on the metalic license plate attached thereto, if any.

Section 5. It shall be the duty of each person who sells or transfers ownership of any bicycle to report such sale or transfer by returning to the City Secretary the registration card issued to such person as licensee thereof, together with the name and address of the person to whom said bicycle was sold or transferred, and such report shall be made within 5 days of the date of said sale or transfer. It shall be the duty of the purchaser or the transferee of such bicycle to apply for a transfer of registration thereof within 5 days of said sale or transfer.

Section 6. It shall be unlawful for any person to wilfully or maliciously use, destroy, mutilate or alter the number on any bicycle frame license pursuant to this ordinance. It shall also be unlawful for any person to remove, destroy, mutilate or alter any license plate, seal or registration card; provided however that nothing in this ordinance shall prohibit the Police Department from stamping numbers on the frames of bicycles on which no serial number can be found or on which said number is illegible or insufficient for identification purposes.

Section 7. The annual license fee to be paid for each bicycle and tag shall be 35c, and shall be paid in advance, and pursuant to Section 5 of this ordinance, such license may be transferred when the ownership of said bicycle is transferred, and a fee of 25c shall be paid for the registration of such transfer. All license fees collected under this ordinance shall be paid into the general fund of the City of Lubbock.

Section 8. Every person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction, shall be punished by fine in any sum not to exceed $100.00.

In addition to the penalty hereinabove set forth, the Police Department of the City of Lubbock or any of the members thereof may impound and retain possession of any bicycle operated in violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance, and retain possession of the same until the license provided for herein is obtained by the owner of said bicycle.

Section 9. Should any section, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance be declared unconstitutional or invalid for any reason, the remainder of said ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

Section 10. All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed, but it is hereby expressly provided that this ordinance shall not repeal any ordinance or parts of ordinances not in conflict herewith, and it is so ordered.

More Cash For School Sought

AUSTIN, Nov. 26. (AP)—Substantially larger legislative appropriations for research, looking to establishment of new industries in the state and expanded uses of Texas' chief products are included in the University of Texas 1939-41 budget, now being studied by the state board of control.

After being sifted by the board, which will make recommendations thereon, the proposed budget will be presented to the legislature at its session opening January 10.

Research Foundation

An allotment of $380,000 a year was asked for a university research foundation, which would do work in a wide variety of fields. The university board of regents also requested that the appropriation for the division of conservation and development of natural resources be raised from $63,064 to $291,955 annually.

Dr. E. P. Schoch, head of the university's bureau of industrial chemistry, said today any revisions in the suggested research appropriations should be upward rather than downward.

"Natural gas now going to waste in Texas each year," he said, "is worth in excess of $200,000,000, or more than the value of Texas cotton and cottonseed production. There is no question but that this wasted gas can be put to beneficial use."

Works On New Uses

Dr. Schoch is working on new uses for Texas' vast store of natural gas and probably will have something to report before the end of the biennial legislative session.

"The research appropriations we are seeking," he said, "may seem large at first glance but as a matter of fact they should be doubled. This state must spend money to reap the full benefit from its many valuable resources."

Dr. Schoch is chairman of the University of Texas industrial and commercial research council, composed of the bureaus of business research, industrial chemistry, economic geology and engineering research.

Creation of three $7,500 a year positions in the bureau of industrial chemistry was recommended by the regents. Their occupants would work respectively on new uses for natural gas, new uses for petroleum and new uses for farm and ranch products.

Aggie School To Be Doubled

DALLAS, Nov. 26. (AP)—A school for young farmers of East Texas who have not had the opportunity to obtain agricultural training elsewhere, which was opened at Woodlake (Trinity county) last week with an enrollment of 30, will be doubled in size and even further expansion is expected it was announced today after a conference of representatives of the Farm Security administration and National Youth administration here.

The students combine actual farming operations with their courses of study. Five or six boys are housed in small cottages which were originally built for homesteaders on the FSA Woodlake project. With each house assigned to the students, three acres is given for crops which will later be used on the students' tables or sold to meet incidental expenses.

As they work the crops, the boys receive practical farming instruction, said C. M. Evans, FSA regional director.

The boys are now buying cows out of a cooperative fund, and are carrying out a study course in cow testing and dairy records. Meanwhile, they are also producing their own milk.

Each boy draws $28 per month from the NYA, in return for which he works 70 hours per month. Clothing is supplied by WPA sewing rooms—except for socks; and all buildings and equipment are furnished by the FSA.

Dance Nets About $300 For High School Band Uniforms

A dance in the Auditorium Saturday night added more than $300 to the steadily growing fund which will purchase new uniforms for the Lubbock Senior High school band, estimated Mrs. C. C. Born, Band Boosters' club president.

The club has set a goal of $500 to be reached "as soon as possible." Approximately $3500 is needed to outfit the band, and several hundred dollars more will be required to send members to the state and national contests, held at Plainview and Abilene respectively, early next spring.

Uniforms must be ordered by about Jan. 1 in order that the band will have them in time for the contests.

The Saturday dance was merely one in a series of events planned to raise money, Mrs. Born said.

Mr. and Mrs. Stancil Bagwell of Amarillo spent Thanksgiving day with Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Bagwell of 1633 Sixteenth street and attended the Amarillo-Lubbock high school football game.

It's Christmas Time at Hemphill-Wells Co.

As if by a magic spell Hemphill-Wells Co. has turned into a fairyland filled with the joyous atmosphere of Christmas time . . . and jolly old Santa himself, with his sly wink and ever smiling contenance, reigns supreme over this merry display that is symbolic of the happiest season of the entire year.

As you enter the store, you will be thrilled by the large beautiful candles and the soft, soft lights in their drapings of white fringe and cellophane and red holly berries . . . and you'll be delighted by the happy little snowmen all about as they watch over you and see that you smile every minute . . . too, we know that you'll like the timely use of those "Christmasy" colors, red and green, which are a symbol of the good old-fashioned Christmas that we intend to have . . . even the salesladies are merrily bedecked in glowing green smocks with a pert little corsage of holly and bells.

We are READY with the largest and finest collection of gifts ever to be assembled in this store . . . shelves and tables and racks find themselves filled to the limit with splendid gift thoughts . . . and our special gift wrapping and Post Office Sub Station are fully prepared . . . only 20 shopping days left . . . OUR NEW STORE FRONT IS NOW COMPLETE

And with the coming of Christmas season, our new, modern store front finds itself complete . . . with the possible exception of a few minor details, everything is ready . . . the litter and the debris have been removed . . . the wooden runway walk has been replaced by a brand new concrete sidewalk . . . all entrances are open . . . the beautiful new windows are lighted and trimmed and radiate the spirit of Christmas in all its glory . . . it's truly a sight to behold.

But behind this new front with all its modern trimmings is the same old Hemphill-Wells Co. . . . the same familiar group that revels in their many, many honest friendships with you and you . . . We're proud of this new front, of course, but we're prouder still of the beautiful fellowship and the sincere compansionship which exists . . . and in the passing of this, another milestone of progress for Hemphill-Wells Co., we want you to know our appreciation of your bearing with us during the past few weeks while the outside of our building was in "such a mess," and to express our gratitude for your indulgence throughout this period.

Yours for a Merry Christmas

ARMCHAIR TRAVELING

IT IS no sign of softening of the brain to admit that dreams are the sturdy stuff of which reality is made. In a universe that seems upside down, heaven be praised for men and women who can see things as they might be — not as they are and who make it their adventure to change them.

Have you been bored with your job? Yet, did it occur to you that maybe it isn't always your work that is hum-drum? That you might have had something to do with making it that way?

Mary Knight, who as a news correspondent for six years in Europe and the Far East, followed a road of journalistic adventure, tells wistful stay-at-homes how to find the same adventure without traveling.

COLOR YOUR LIFE

SHE suggests you make a bargain if you have a job without glamour. Learn to do it mechanically perfect; then you won't have to think much about it. You'll be free to figure out and plan all the things you DO want to do, someday. You can see the Eiffel Tower, Buckingham Palace, castles in Spain, the blue, blue ocean without getting out of town if you make up your mind to it.

What she is trying to get at is, give your life a pattern, if it lacks one or seems drab. Encourage imagination in yourself, your children, your neighbors. As she says:

"Adventure is inside of you. Are you willing to look for it, deep inside of yourself, and challenge it to color your life even if you are a bedridden cripple? Sure you are, because here's the payoff. The fantastic foot of the rainbow doesn't wear any Cinderella slipper or pot of gold. It comes dancing into your life barefoot, and stays with you through the rain."

SCATTERINGS

NOMINATION for the most inspiring music we heard during the Thanksgiving season: Doris Kolb's organ rendition of "The Evening Star" from Wagner's "Tannhauser," played at the union service Wednesday night . . . "Banana pulp" is the name for a new shade in dress materials . . . New York likes to interpret its sports with popular tunes of the day. At the big football games everytime there's a fumble or a juggled pass everybody yells in unison, "He dropped it, he drop-ped it — on the way he drop-ped it . . . "In redecorating its dance salon, an Eastern hotel gave the decorator one instruction: The lighting, color, furnishings must be the most flattering to feminine complexions that could be found . . . Walking on tiptoe in the bare feet is said to be the simplest slimmer and strengthener of ankles . . . Philosophy from Jimmy Walker, former mayor of New York City, "The cheers of yesterday have a short echo."

NOSTALGIA

"Each person, place and thing
That we have known
Is ours throughout all time, for we become
The total of the past." Oh, I will own
That there is truth in what the wise men sum
So glibly in those words.—Yet I would touch
The hand of one I may not see again
And live once more the moment when so much
Of vibrant, singing joy grew out of pain
I wonder if the dead are lonely, too
For sights and sounds and homely things they knew."

—Lillian L. Harris.

DO YOU COLLECT?

COLLECTORS don't think they're odd, as a general thing, but there are many of them who want nothing more as a gift than some old door hinges to clutter up their homes. One woman prizes iron "foot scrapers" that used to be found beside every front door. Old Valentines, the lace and cupid kind with silk fringe around them are the joy of other collectors. Dime novels that boys used to read in school behind their geographies bring a handsome price. Strings, papers, ribbons are cherished.

Irving Cobb once said "I'd be rich if I had only known what not to throw away."

LITTLE WHITE LIES

DO YOU believe Gelette Burgess himself was telling what is true when he said this:

"With men, a lie is a last resort. With women, it's a first aid. A man finds comparatively few people worth lying to. His self-esteem forbids him, normally, to falsify except to one he loves best — to save her a heartbreak, or himself a shrewing. To all others, 'None of your business' is good enough.

"With a woman, a lie is not a form of moral turpitude, but just a convenient little thing, like a hairpin, to do anything a little trouble-some. But to men, there is one incomprehensible thing about it — no woman, apparently, is ever in the least fooled by other women's lies."

Clothes For "Awkward Age"—13 To 16—Receive Flattering Attention From Designers

By ADELAIDE KERR
Associated Press Fashion Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. — The figure phobias that give black hours to the girl of the "awkward age" have received careful consideration in the design of her new clothes.

Dresses have been designed with modified waistlines and fairly full skirts to camouflage thick waists and lanky lines and to make the girl of from 13 to 16 happier about her figure and wardrobe.

Before they made her new clothes, designers in one of New York's leading shops consulted the teen-age girl herself. They learned that she loves quality, color and novel trims and they fashioned her clothes to fit the picture she drew. The same designs are now on sale at a number of shops throughout the country.

There are scores of versions of her first love—the two-piece costume. Jackets of hound's tooth-checked tweed, ribbed wool, quilted cotton or suede are paired with gored or umbrella pleated skirts made of plaid or plain wool. Nearly every costume has some bright accent, such as a row of tinkling bell buttons or an applique of felt fruit.

The same trend for intriguing touches appears in the snow suits which many suburban sub-debs wear to school when winter comes. Some jackets are lined with bright calico, others banded in vivid Indian braid and still others topped with peaked hoods tied with plaited thread "hair braids."

Christmas party frocks are colorful, too, but a bit restrained in design to please the sub-deb's mother who objects to extreme effects. They are made of light taffetas and nets and designed with full skirts, puffed sleeves or draped shoulders and decolletages which are neither high nor low.

Daytime frocks for after-school occasions often are fashioned of lightweight wool—gray, brown or teal blue. One is a dark jumper frock worn with a gaily flowered challis blouse and another is made of light gray wool brightly smocked at the hipbones in red. Black or dark colored velvet or velveteen dresses trimmed with a pleated neckline frill of striped ribbon seem to be favorites for daytime holiday occasions.

The coats made to wear with them are designed of gray, teal blue or brown wool, fitted slightly at the waistline and finished with a little fur trim such as military bandings or coachman's revers. The smartest school coats are made of plaid wool and lined with gabardine so that they may be worn reversed on rainy days.

DEANNA DURBIN, who represents teen-age chic to youthful film fans, wears a dark blue wool coat which buttons smoothly down the front. It is trimmed with a small school girl collar and big cuffs of mink. She wears it with a little dark blue mink trimmed toque, blue suede gloves and a tambourine bag.

Yule Bazaar Plans Almost Complete

As much a part of Christmas as Santa Claus, flickering lights and cellophane ribbons is the church bazaar and the spirit of cheerfulness and helpfulness it implies.

For weeks now, women of St. Paul's Episcopal auxiliary have been sewing and assembling pretty things and this week they will be cooking candies and cakes to be sold at the annual sale Saturday in Watson's Furniture store at 1112 Broadway. Proceeds from the sale are used in buying equipment for the church each year.

Featured at Saturday's sale will be maids' uniforms which in past years have been greatly in demand as Christmas gifts. Other things include rag, china and shuck dolls, toy dogs and cats and other stuffed animals and any number of useful household gadgets.

The bazaar at Christmas is a tradition with the Episcopal women. Discontinued for several years during the depression, the custom was revived last year with an unusually successful sale.

Go To Beauty Counter To Settle Gift Doubts If You Are Remembering Women This Christmas

BY BETTY CLARKE
Associated Press Feature Service

WHAT do women like for Christmas?

In any department store you'll soon notice they are pressing several deep, around every beauty counter.

So you're always safe in putting beauty gifts on your Christmas list. For instance:

Perfume and eau de cologne—You may buy one or the other or give both—in matching scents. Or you might consider a large bottle of perfume with a matching purse-size container. When the small flask is emptied it can be replenished from the large one.

Cosmetic bags—The woman who travels—even if it's only an overnight trip—will relish one of these. There's a new type that's stainless and waterproof. If cosmetics or perfumes are spilled in it you simply wipe it clean with a damp cloth.

Manicure sets—They are available for men and women. Either should include a pair of good scissors and a sturdy file. Masculine sets contain a neutral paste polish instead of the liquid type and usually have a strong nail brush. Feminine ones go in for more accessories—polish remover, cuticle oils and one or more shade of liquid polish.

Beauty mirror—Either to hang in the boudoir or to go with the comb and brush set. There's a new double-duty crystal-handled mirror with one side that magnifies, another that doesn't.

Beauty shop gift coupons—You can arrange with a local beauty parlor to send the women in your life a coupon that's good for so many shampoos, finger waves, permanents or whatever else she likes.

Over Four Hundred Women Attend November Club Programs

Demonstrators Tell Of Work

BY ORA MAE HARVEY

Bedroom improvement and home food supply demonstrators made reports of achievements at Home Demonstration club meetings in Lubbock county this month, according to Miss Clara Pratt, county home demonstration agent.

At the sixteen meetings with 465 women present each demonstrator told her plans for reaching her goal. Each club member was asked to plan and serve attractive, well-balanced meals for three Sundays and three week days; to prepare angel food cake, sunshine cake and jelly roll at least twice each week; and to present a sponge cake to her club for scoring. Reports from the members show that 176 women reached the first goal; 141 made the three cakes at least twice; and 156 presented a cake for scoring.

A goal for each club this year was to have at least five frame gardens. In the spring 64 producing gardens were reported. Several gardens have been built this fall.

"The thing that has been the most help and joy to me in my food work this year was my frame garden," Mrs. G. E. Blanton, home food supply demonstrator in the Idalou home demonstration club, said. "I had a garden 9 by 13 feet which I planted February 20 with turnips, radishes, beets, onions, and carrots. I cooked my first greens from it in just one month."

Because of illness in her family, Mrs. Elmer Edwards, food demonstrator in the Monroe club, has not done much canning this year. She has built shelves and arranged food canned several years ago.

Mrs. M. E. Winter, demonstrator in the Hurlwood club with the help of her husband, ceiled their cellar with plyboard and built 86 feet of shelving. Then she labeled the shelves and stored the food according to the approved order which places the preserves, jam, jellies, pickles and relishes on the top shelf; canned fruits and tomatoes on the next shelves; then leafy, green and yellow vegetables; other vegetables, and meats on the bottom shelf which is the coolest place.

Mrs. R. M. Middleton, home food supply demonstrator in the Hardy club, canned 697 quarts of food this year. This more than filled the shelves of the cellar so she added three, giving 36 feet of shelf space. She repaired the cellar steps and door and whitewashed the shelves and walls.

If You Don't Know Beans About The Dish That Made Boston Famous, Here You Are

Paul Revere liked baked Beans and steamed Boston Brown Bread with codfish cakes. So do most Americans.

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

Beans and Boston brown bread is a sturdy Saturday tradition. With fluffy codfish cakes, we rejoiced in this fare late one Saturday at the Colonial Inn at Concord, Mass., after a long green drive through New England. Paul Revere must have eaten them there, also Emerson and his neighbor, Louisa M. Alcott of "Little Women" fame.

The chef parted with his secrets when I appealed to his patriotism. "Baked beans make a good Sunday breakfast," he pointed out.

Colonial Inn Baked Beans
(Serves 6 to 8)

Three cups California pea beans, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 cup molasses, 1 cup sugar, 1-2 pound salt pork, scored, small onion if desired.

Soak beans over night or bring to a boil. Drain, then add other ingredients and cover with water. Bake in a slow oven for 8 hours, or until done. Keep beans covered with water while cooking.

Boston Brown Bread
(Serves 6)

One cup cornmeal, 1 cup graham flour, 1 cup white flour, 2 cups sour milk, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 3-4 cup molasses, 1 cup raisins.

Mix dry ingredients, add molasses and milk. Stir well and add the raisins. Pour into well buttered mold and steam for three hours.

Louisiana Baked Beans
(Serves 10)

Life and history flow leisurely under the ancient elms of Concord. Perhaps you must have quicker recipes. Try this compromise with tradition. It hails from a modernized Louisiana kitchen.

One large onion, 3 cans baked beans, 1-3 cup New Orleans molasses, 1-2 cup dark brown sugar, 3-4 cup ketchup, 3-4 cup boiling water, 1-4 pound salt pork.

Place onion in bean pot or casserole. Add beans. Combine molasses, ketchup, sugar and water. Pour over beans. Score rind of pork. Bury pork in beans, leaving rind exposed. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 hour.

Louella...

DEAR LOUELLA: When I promised you a description of the Paul Sherrod mansion I had no idea that a home could possibly be as beautiful as it is. I have never been in a more magnificently furnished and decorated home. It simply defies description.

The entire first and second floors except, of course, the kitchen and three baths, are carpeted in buff, and woodwork for the livingroom, entrance hall and den are in bleached gum. I hardly know how to tell you anything about the draperies and furniture unless I say it is Chippendale, soft satin, delicate in color, elegant and simple. In the living room is one picture, a huge oil painting by a French descendent of Napoleon which once belonged to Samuel Insull's collection.

Mirror Frames Hand Carved

Frames for three large mirrors in the house were handcarved in Italy. Every stick of furniture, every Venetian blind, every crystal chandelier, in fact, every inch of that interior was purchased for the house and every nook looks like a lovely picture.

I was not surprised when Mrs. Sherrod told me one of her very good friends fainted on the stairway and, when revived, said she was overcome by the elegance. The home is in the 3001 block of Nineteenth street, just west of Morris Levines'.

By the way, Winifred Sherrod and a guest from Abilene Christian college were here for the holidays. She hadn't seen the house, of course, and you can imagine the thrill she had upon arriving home.

I DIDN'T take time to do much ogling at THE FOOTBALL GAME and so I am not in a position to tell you what all your friends were wearing. In the two boxes just north of where I sat was a cheerfully clad group of handsome young people. Harriett Jarrett who was here from what people still insist upon calling C. I. A., Janelle Halsey and escorts, the John Harvey Scoggins, the Hop Halseys and the J. D. Jenkinses.

Janelle carried a heating pad and all were smartly arrayed in spectator togs and blankets. Ann Jenkins was wearing black in which she looks as striking as she does in her favorite red. She told me the other day that she had to change her color scheme because she had so many red clothes that J. D. was unable to tell when she had anything new. (Editor's note: Until he gets the bills!)

Many Fur Coats

Glancing over the crowd between halves I noted that the majority of the women were wearing fur coats. Bonnie Dean, I believe, was wearing the most colorful fur. From the distance it looked like a beautiful leopard skin. I noticed that green was the predominating color in men's apparel, and that fuzzy Swiss Alps hats with bright feathers and green or blue herring-bone wool trousers were favorites with the college boys.

Among the out-of-town people I visited with Thanksgiving day were the Edd McLaughlins of Ralls, Garnett Reeves of Pampa, the Jack Woodards of Plainview, Mike Garvin of Lamesa, the Jeff Neelys and Roy Greenhill of Amarillo.

I ATE turkey that was the gift of a friend who would be embarrassed to have her benevolence made public. I was one of at least five people to whom she gave turkeys. In fact, I've been faring very well of late as another of my friends brought me a venison roast and some steaks from the Big Bend country.

There is a bunch of little girls in Lubbock named Sarah Dean and so I don't want all their mammas to be offended because I tell this. But the kids at school call one of the little girls Sardine.

Mrs. J. R. Harmon has a lovely country home near Idalou. It is a happy, liveable place. As bedroom demonstrator in a home demonstration club, she recently improved her son's bedroom refurnishing it to blend with a huge picture of the Red Raiders. The son is Philip Harmon, who plays football for Tech.

Yours, Lou.

Federal Debt Is At New Record

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 — The federal debt has reached a new record high of $38,584,458 on the eve of another huge treasury borrowing operation.

The treasury said the record was attained on November 23, the last date for which complete figures are available and that Secretary Morgenthau would meet with federal reserve officials next week to discuss December borrowing.

The treasury head has not indicated how much the treasury will borrow, but since the deficit this fiscal year is expected to reach $4,000,000,000, the December borrowing has been estimated unofficially at a minimum of $500,000,000. Three months ago the treasury borrowed $800,000,000.

The debt, which may go above $40,000,000,000 by the end of the fiscal year, already is $1,419,472,143 larger than it was when the fiscal year began on July 1.

TAHOKA GINNINGS

TAHOKA—Ginnings here for the season have passed the 11,000 bale mark, last week's report showing 10,582 bales at mid-week. It is believed the county's total is now around 50,000, as on Nov. 1, 34,572 bales were ginned. The county is expected to approximate 60,000 bales.

American Elementary Schools Should Hang Out Sign: "Men Wanted; Too Many Women In Teaching Profession," Psychologist Believes

By JOSEPH A. RAWLINGS
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. — From a woman psychologist today came the suggestion that American elementary public schools could, with profit, hang out this sign:

"Men wanted; too many women in the teaching profession."

Mrs. Evelyn Mills Duvall, executive director of the Chicago Association for Child Study and Parent Education, made the suggestion in declaring that "feminine dominance," was helping to produce:

"Sissies" among boys, "dictatorial or weak-kneed husbands," "boy crazy girls," — and last, but not least "man-hating over aggressive woman."

Should Eliminate Lop-Sidedness

"If," she said, "educators are serious in attempting to develop the whole child—the personality as well as to teach the three R's—they need to move to eliminate the lop-sided existence children of today are leading in their woman-dominated world."

Mrs. Duvall, who has had a wide experience in studying and analyzing children's problems, said that one solution lay in improving the status of the teaching profession for men, and in placing greater emphasis on personality in the selection of teachers.

Will Cost More

"It will cost more to get the men into the schools," she said, "but more of them must enter the profession, and in finer quality than has been the case in the past, if the situation is to be corrected.

"But it is generally agreed that masculine example is urgently needed. Today's children lead a pretty lop-sided existence in their woman filled world.

"They go all the way up to high school without finding out what men are really like — with the possible exception of a school athletic coach."

Will Go To One Extreme

The result in adult life, Mrs. Duvall added, may be that the emotional reactions of men to feminine dominance, will go to one extreme or the other.

"When they get married," she asserted, "many men tend to be too easily influenced by their wives, or they go to the other extreme and become more dictatorial than is necessary, sometimes resenting even the tiniest suggestion that their mates may make. The wives, on the other hand, have the boss pattern because of the feminine dominance from the time they were little tots on, and because of their insecurity as women. They are the bosses, although inwardly they resent it because they want their men to be the more aggressive."

Crosbyton FFA Boys Doing Bit To Improve County's Production

CROSBYTON, Nov. 26 (Special)—Crosbyton Future Farmers of America are doing their bit to improve swine production in Crosby county.

Hank Smith chapter of FFA gives the following records:

In September, 1937, there were only three registered gilts in the vocational agriculture class, as compared with 31 head now, owned by 30 boys.

There are approximately 100 head of grade pigs on feed for the market.

Interest in quality of pigs was evidenced at the last Crosby County Pig show, held in March. Plans for the next annual show are designed to make a program more interesting than in the past. Exhibits will be much more numerous.

In fact, the show is expected to be the largest of its kind in the entire state.

R. C. Mitchell, vocational agriculture teacher, supervises the show and the hog improvement program in general.

Smallest Trifles Become Important When Placed In Christmas Sock

Inexpensive gifts, some candy and nuts, and a tangerine in the toe—that's what makes it fun to unload the Christmas stocking.

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
Associated Press Feature Service

With expectant squeals the youngsters tumble out of bed early Christmas and dash to see what Santa has left them. That exciting hour is Christmas at its old-fashioned best.

The glittering tree, for all its splendor, is just a background for the thrills of exploring those bulging stockings that were hung up so empty and sagging the night before. So it's well worth while for mother and father to take special pains in filling those stockings.

What goes in them? Well usually some trinkets, candies, nuts in the shells, a rosy red apple and a golden orange or tangerine and probably one real "special" present.

Wise mothers have kept their eyes peeled on shopping trips well in advance for little novelties that will make good stocking presents. She has kept the grown-ups in mind as well as the youngsters, getting jokes or knicknacks connected with a hobby. Shops are loaded with inexpensive gifts of that kind.

Scraps of the colored wrapping paper and ribbons left from doing up the big presents should be saved for the stocking-gifts. For unwrapping is such fun it's a good idea to tie up the things for the stockings, too.

Wrapping the gifts in surprise shapes is fun. For instance, handkerchief, rolled and done up in a red paper and with a cord inserted in one end as a fuse becomes a firecracker. Paper or cardboard nuts, animals and unique boxes are really just containers for hair ribbons, neck ties, cuff links, small notebooks and other gadgets.

How shall each stocking be known? A cooky name-card is just the thing. Cut cooky dough into two-by-three-inch rectangles, and prick a hole in a corner of each cooky to hold a cord. When cookies are baked, insert cards and write names with frosting to tag each stocking.

Animal and flower cookies always appeal to children. They are easily fashioned from rolled out cooky dough and cut out with cutter or a paper pattern. Gingerbread men and jaunty little figures fashioned from gum drops are intriguing creations to see peeping from the top of each stocking.

The gingerbread family can be elaborately dressed with raisins, cloves and piped frostings, the gumdrop children with coats, trousers and hats made of different shaped and colored gum drops.

A festoon of glistening cooky stars and wreathes hanging across the top of each stocking or used as a fireplace decoration is in keeping with the holiday. Cut out cookies in star shapes from light and dark dough. When baked spread with colored sugars and cocoanut.

And remember it would not be Christmas without candy canes — hanging over the edge of the stocking or along the mantelpiece.

'Oven Cell' Case To Trial Soon

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26. — Ten men will come to trial within a few days for the death of four convicts whose "baking" in an over-heated cell block last August aroused a nation-wide demand for prison reform.

Assistant District Attorney John A. Boyle, laying the foundation for the commonwealth's prosecution, said the cases would go to trial "early in December."

Five To Be First

Court attaches indicated five charged with murder and manslaughter probably would be summoned first. Five guards were indicted only for manslaughter.

Those charged with murder were William B. Mills, superintendent of the Philadelphia county prison at Holmesburg, where the tragedy was discovered early on the morning of August 22; Deputy Warden Frank A. Carven, Captain James McGuire and Francis J. Smith and Alfred W. Brought, guards.

Brought Prompt Reaction

The circumstances under which four of 21 convicts perished while confined in steaming-hot punishment cells known to prisoners as the "Klondike" brought a prompt reaction in requests for legislation to forestall similar occurrences.

How the four men died was not disclosed until several days after guards found them lifeless in the "isolation" cell block.

Detectives at first reported they succumbed of "over-exertion, exhaustion and undernourishment" after fighting among themselves during a hunger strike.

Coroner Charles Hersch and State Secretary of Welfare Charles I. Engard, began an investigation, climaxed with a spectacular announcement from Hersch that the men were "baked to death."

The specific cause of death, he said, was heat stroke.

Twenty-one others survived the ordeal in the narrow isolation building—its corridor lined with radiators through which heat poured into the cells for approximately 60 hours. Several were sent to hospitals.

Voices Of Old People May Echo Through Halls Of Next Session Of Congress

Pension Move Is Gaining Force

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Voices too feeble to carry across the family parlor may echo in stentorian tones through the halls of congress this winter.

Millions of the nation's old people are out after pensions and their clamorous insistence that the federal government meet their demands already is being heard here.

The coming session of congress seems destined to bring together two opposing forces in the field of security—those seeking pensions and those advocating expansion of the established old age insurance system.

May Transgress Party Lines

The ensuing melee may transgress party lines when congressmen sensitive to the wants of the folks back home decide whether their best interests lie in going along with the pension movement or sticking with a party program.

The administration has been at work for several months on its own program for expanding the social security act to cover millions of persons now excluded.

Would Head Off Others

Acceptance of this program by congress would serve to head off such old age pension movements as that of Dr. Francis E. Townsend, the country doctor who brought the $200-a-month idea into the world, and the general welfare federation, which claims that 125 new and re-elected members of congress are pledged to support its bill and that others are sympathetic.

President Roosevelt's advisers draw a careful distinction between old age pensions and what they call old age insurance. The latter, they explain, is provided in the social security act. Under it an employe and his employer actually pay taxes in advance for the insurance the employe will collect in monthly payments after he becomes 65.

Old age pensions are based on the double-barrelled theory that all persons over 60 and 65 should be assured of income and that payment of such incomes would bring about economic prosperity. They would be financed by a gross income or transaction tax on the general public or by a scrip system.

Residents In Southern Part Of Yoakum Couny To Get Road

PLAINS, Nov. 26.—A delegation of residents of the southern part of Yoakum county met with the commissioner's court and demanded a new road be built south to the county line, from the southeast corner of the townsite.

Mr. Dobbs, with the Humble Oil Co., headed the delegation They insisted that there was so much business to be transacted in Plains and other points, by residents of the area, that a road was necessary in order to make the trip here.

A motion was adopted unanimously by the court providing for the road. Construction is expected to start as soon as easements for right of way can be secured.

RESIGNS SCHOOL BOARD

ABERNATHY, Nov. 26.—A. N. Johnson, who has served for 10 years as a member of the Abernathy school board, has resigned that post to accept a place as driver of the new school bus, recently purchased here.

The bus is the eighth to be placed in operation here. Virgil Halford was named to Johnson's place on the board.

LAMB GINNINGS

AMHERST — Unofficial but believed fairly accurate figures, up to early this week show 26,000 bales had been ginned. Nov. 1 report showed 12,985 bales ginned in Lamb county.

GINNINGS AT MONROE

MONROE — The two gins here up to early this week had turned out 4,133 bales. The season is nearly closed.

Washington Cooper, well-known middle Tennessee portrait painter of a century ago, listed persons who failed to pay for their portraits as "dead horses" in his account books.

Mr. And Mrs. Lubbock—You're Living In A Strange Town; Just Look At Statistics

BY DAN TARPLEY
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

You, ladies and gentlemen, are unusual and are living in a strange town.

If you are Mr. Average Man of Lubbock, your shopping at retail stores in the last year cost you $516.13. If you, however, decide to be Mr. Average Man of the United States your shopping expenditures dropped to only $270.26. Well, maybe things are a little higher here, but you also have a little more money, perchance.

Not Near Metropolitan Area

Don't think for a moment you are living even near a metropolitan area. The Hub of the Plains is the biggest town between Wichita Falls and El Paso, a distance of 593 miles; Wichita Falls and Albuquerque, N. M., a disance of 540 miles; Amarillo and San Angelo, a distance of 316 miles; and Amarillo and Abilene, a distance of 286 miles. And besides Lubbock is bigger than Abilene.

Seven hundred fifty thousand head of turkeys and chickens were shipped away from here last year. Of course, the bodies were sent along, too.

If your wife did cook eggs too often, don't start cackling. Lubbock produce houses handled 4,500,000 dozens. A few were broken. Churning was quite a job, too. Five million pounds of butter were produced to lead all other points in Texas.

Many Are Young People

At least 12,096 of your neighbors and your neighbors' children are under 19 years of age. Incidentally, you have 30,543 neighbors. Would you believe that 3,359 of them are women between 30 and 44 years old. If you don't believe it, ask the chamber of commerce, by all means don't ask the women.

If you walked up and down the main streets of Lubbock Saturday afternoon, you probably got the impression that half the population was made up of negroes and Mexicans. Again you are wrong. If you rubbed everybody's elbows, nine out of ten were white, well maybe a little rusty if all had not taken their Saturday afternoon bath. Since you've got technical, they are attached to fundamentally white persons.

Winter's mean temperature is 40 degrees. Some thought it was meaner than that Thanksgiving morning. It also gets meaner than summer's 77.5 degrees.

If you don't like Lubbock, here's a suggestion: there are 18 daily passenger trains leaving eight ways; there are seven state and eight United States highway outlets with 50 passenger buses. There also are trucks and freights. Oh, yes, if you can't wait, you might catch a plane at the airport.

If you want to walk or ride off the blues, there are 41 miles of pavement in Lubbock and by the time you've walked them, there will be another nine miles paved.

Bed Waiting For You

There are enough hospitals, sanitariums, and baby clinics to put 230 persons to bed. There is a bed waiting for you if you are sick or expect to be sick.

For the younger set, if you have trouble finding a parking space, there are eight city parks, embracing 116 acres and a state park with 545 acres. But don't forget there are 39 churches, oh, yea, and two justice courts, a corporation court, a county court, two district courts, and a federal court—there's plenty of courting, too.

There are 3,507 students in Texas Tech with a campus large enough for each to have a little more than half an acre. Try to keep 'em on it!

If today is an average day, it will rain .057 of an inch. However, you've probably noticed it doesn't rain every day. Sometimes it even goes several days without even getting cloudy.

Those facts—and they are—are based on the latest compilation of "Facts and Figures" of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

LEVELLAND GINNINGS

LEVELLAND — Cold weather has slowed up ginnings but the total here at last report was 8,884 bales. Four gins operate here this year. The county total is estimated at 35,000.

An aggregate area of 3,680 square miles — nearly twice as large as the State of Delaware — has been planted in trees in the United States since 1924.

Annual Roll Call Meeting For Knights Of Pythias Scheduled

Entire membership of the Knights of Pythias lodge is expected to attend the annual roll call meeting Tuesday night or present written excuses for non-attendance, according to Russell Hardin, chancellor commander.

A banquet will be served at 6:30 o'clock in the Pythias temple, immediately preceding roll call. Approximately 125 are expected to attend.

Nominations for new officers to be installed Jan. 1 will be made. The meeting climaxes an encouraging membership drive, Hardin said.

Texas Farmers' Income Lower

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 26—Texas farmers pocketed far less cash income in October than they did in the same month last year.

The bureau of business research of the University of Texas reported today income from agriculture in October was $58,270,000, compared with $71,178,000 for the same month in 1937 and $101,000,000 for the October average in the 1928-32 base period.

After adjustment for seasonal variation the October index was 57.5, compared with 66.3 in September and 70.2 in October last ear.

Most of the decline was attributed to a decrease of income from cotton and cottonseed, the bureau said. Income from livestock and livestock products in October was practically equal to that of a year ago.

Rev. Marshall Rhew Pastor Of Abernathy Methodist Church

ABERNATHY, Nov. 26—Abernathy Methodists will have a new pastor Sunday, Rev. Marshall Rhew, a former Lubbock resident, who was transferred here from Vega by the Northwest Texas Methodist conference at Memphis. He and his mother will make their home here.

His predecessor, Rev. Ed A. Tharp, was assigned to Sudan and has moved there.

Rev. Mr. Rhew was educational director of the Lubbock First Methodist church. He also attended Texas Technological college. Later he was sent to Leuders and from there to Vega.

RAISES DOGS 'BY FEEL'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—When friends of Rudell McKenna, 60, decide to buy a dog, they ask McKenna to "look him over"—which is unusual because McKenna is blind.

McKenna has won scores of ribbons, silver cups and trophies with dogs he bred and trained but which he never has seen except through the medium of his sensitive hands.

Porpoise teeth are used for money in some South Sea islands.

Signs Indicate Czechs Under Germany's Thumb

Ten Prominent Ones Are Cited

BY MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 26.—Many brightly illuminated signs indicate that the new Czechoslovak state is under Nazi Germany's thumb.

Here are ten prominent ones:

1. The new government recognizes that Czechoslovakia's future economic policy must be oriented toward Germany.

2. The new government is on the right. Although not fascist, it sympathizes with authoritation regimes; "authoritary democracy" is the way some observers describe the new set-up.

Government Leans Backward

3. The government leans over backward to avoid offending Germany and takes counsel of Berlin in weighty matters. It has accepted the Nazi demand that Czechoslovakia remain a dead letter as far as international affairs are concerned. The Little Entente (Czechoslovak, Rumania and Jugoslavia) has been wiped from the boards as far as Czechoslovakia is concerned. Germany always considered the entente to be a French instrument forged against Germany.

4. There is a tendency to try to forget, if not to belittle, the democratic humanitarianism of Professor Thomas Masaryk, the founder of the republic, and the policies for which he and his successor as president, Edouard Benes, stood during twenty years.

Foreign Service Disrupted

5. Many members of the foreign service who were considered to be too closely identified with President Benes, whom Hitler drove from power with vituperative phrases, either have been dismissed or shifted to minor positions. Jan Masaryk, son of the republican's founder, and Stefan Osusky, who was Dr. Benes' right-hand man at the League of Nations in Geneva, are expected here to relinquish their posts as ministers to London and Paris respectively. Osusky, formerly of Chicago, has been minister in Paris since the foundation of Czechoslovakia.

6. A movement against Jews is under way. They are being ousted from government posts and a drive is on to diminish their influence in public life.

Flag, Salute Legal

7. For the first time in the history of Czechoslovakia the Nazi swastika flag and salute have been made legal in Slovakia.

8. German newspapers, long banned, now have free circulation. Czech papers, however, are not yet permitted in Germany.

9. The press, under censorship, is not permitted to criticize Germany.

10. Young Nazi enthusiasts are employed as counsellors in Slovakia.

Slaughter Pool West Extension Is Improved By Second Acid Treatment; Gulf Test In Garza Watched; More Locations Made

BY JOHN B. BREWER
Special Oil Writer

The University pool in eastern Crane county was promised a one-half mile northwest extension by Standard No. 1-6 University and the Foster field in Ector county was moved one-half mile northeast by M. B. K. Drilling Co. No. 2-C Foster as two of the features of West Texas development this week.

The Texas Co. No. 1-B Mallett, west extension to the Slaughter field in southwestern Hockley county, was improved by a second acid treatment; activity increased in the Wasson and Seminole pools in Gaines county and a wildcat in the west corner of Pecos county rigged up rotary to deepen after a long shutdown, its objective being the Delaware.

Garza Test Watched

Closely watched was Gulf's No. 1 Swenson, wildcat in the northeast corner of Garza county, which perforated 7 5-8-inch casing, cemented at 7,400 feet, to test reported favorable saturation at several levels in the lower Permian and Pennsylvania lime. Reportedly encountering water in the Ordovician in drilling to 8,104 feet, it had plugged back to 7,400. Location is in the center of the northwest quarter of section 25-2-H&GN.

Locations gained slightly while completed producers declined. Locations were staked for 28 field tests and two wildcats in 11 counties compared with locations for 26 field tests and one wildcat in 12 counties the week before. Twenty-three oil wells and six failures were finaled in 11 counties, 12 wells and two dusters less than during the preceding week. Ector county returned to the lead in locations for field tests, listing seven, after reporting only one the week before.

Flows 1,275 Barrels

M. B. K. No. 2-C Foster, northwest extension to the Foster pool in Ector county, flowed 1,275 barrels of oil in 24 hours for completion at 4,275 feet after a shot. It is in the southeast corner of the northwest quarter of section 8-42-2s-T&P. Bert Fields No.0 Owenwood, three miles northwest of the Harper pool, was abandoned at 4,501 feet, having bailed only a small amount of oil after acidizing several weeks ago. It was in the northeast quarter of section 6-44-2s-T&P.

Showing the first oil from 3,155-65 feet, Standard of Texas No. 1-6 University in Crane county filled 600 feet with oil in 10 hours while drilling to 3,205 feet. It is in the northeast quarter of section 6-30-U, one-half mile north and slightly west of production. There now are four wells in the area, which is 3 1-2 miles northwest of the Church-Fields pool.

Swabs 15 Barrels Hourly

The Texas Co. No. 1-B Mallett in Hockley county, in labor 1, league 52, Scurry county school land, two miles west of the north end of the Slaughter pool, swabbed 15 barrels of fluid hourly, cut four to 20 per cent with by basic sediment, after retreating with 3,000 gallons of acid at 5,035 feet in lime. It is in the southeast corner of labor 1, league 52, Scurry county school land. The Texas Co. No. 3 Slaughter on the north end of the field flowed 135 barrels of oil in six hours after treatment with 3,000 gallons of acid at 5,003 feet.

Murchison & Closuitt, farther east, drilled broken saturated, non-porous lime between 4,993 and 5,057 feet and was treated with 1,500 gallons without making a natural test. E. T. Marion of Midland and Penn Royalties, Inc., of Dallas traded 2 1-2-acre leases on the gin site at Sundown on which each spudded a test about six months ago, and Marion was rigging standard tools on what was Penn. No. 1 Lawlis, in the southwest corner of labor 58, league 39, Maverick county school land. The Texas Co. No. 1 H. T. Boyd, southeast outpost to the Duggan field in Cochran county, cemented 7-inch casing at 4,995 and was standardizing, bottomed at 5,000 feet.

Test Proves Disappointing

Shell No. 1 Ruyts, one mile southeast of the Bennett pool in Yoakum county, unloading the hole at 5,270 feet, had proven disappointing, swabbing at the rate of only three barrels of fluid hourly, one-fourth water. It is in the northwest quarter of section 743-D-John H. Gibson.

Adams & Bradley No. 1 Ohio-Crain in Gaines county, 3 1-2 miles north of the Seminole pool, topped the Yates sand (frostes quartz gains) favorably at 3,320 feet, 93 feet above sea level. Magnolia and Atlantic No. 1 Havemeyer & Jenny in the Seminole pool was swabbed in at 5,072 feet and flowed 20 barrels of oil hourly, choked, with five million cubic feet of gas daily. Amerada started No. 2 Riley offsetting two producers, and Phillips Petroleum staked No. 1 Wasson on the west side of the Wasson field.

Test Plugged Back

L. H. Wentz No. 1 Cowden, 2 1-2 miles southeast of the Emma pool in southern Andrews county, plugged back from 4,436 to shut off water.

Plymouth (formerly John W. Emch's) No. 1 T—P Land Trust, Reagan county wildcat 3 1-2 miles east of Big Lake in section 203-1-T&P, swabbed at the rate of 15 barrels of oil daily after acidizing at a plugged back depth of 2,665 feet, re-acidizing caused water to break in, however, and the test shut down for orders.

Trans-Pecos Oil Co. was rigging rotary to deepen No. 1-A Popham, wildcat in the extreme west corner of Pecos county, in section 23-11-GC&SF. It will drill from 2,385 to around 4,800 with rotary, then standardize to test the Delaware. Ohio No.1 Popham, wildcat in the south corner of Reeves county, in section 18-54-10-T&P, had had no shows in the Delaware in drilling to 5,425 feet in sand.

Stanley Thompson No. 1 Elsinore, Pecos county wildcat in section 53-D-GC&SF, showed no oil or gas when cleaned out following a shot from 7,038-80 feet and was to plug back to 6,409 feet and drill through the casing to test shows. George T. Abell staked No. 1 Baldwin-State in the southwest corner of lot 1, section 24-9-H&GN, scheduled 2,500-foot test 1 1-2 miles northeast of Magnolia No. 1-A McKee, which failed to produce from the Ordovician.

S. S. Owens No. 1 D. S. Wright, northwestern Howard county wildcat, struck a hole full of salt water from 2,960-67 feet and shut down for orders at 2,983 feet in sandy shale. It is in the southeast quarter of section 33-33-3n-T&P.

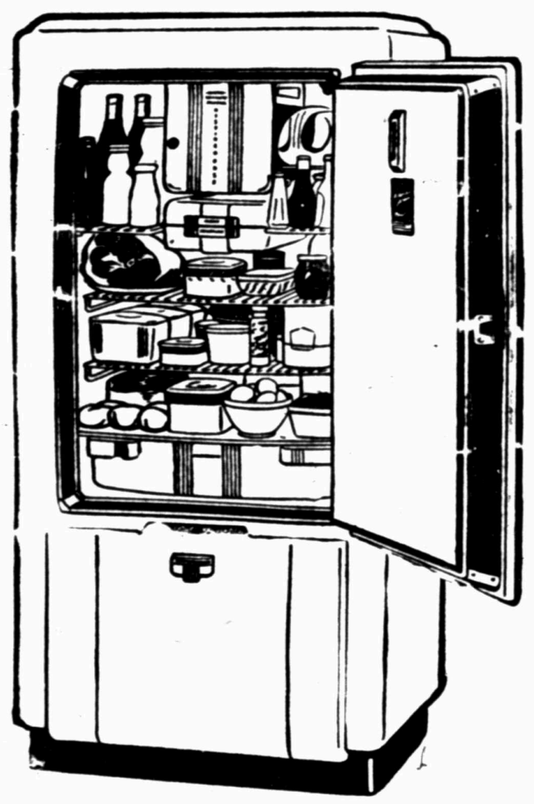

J. W. McLean No. 1 Pflueger, Runnels county wildcat 1 1-4 miles north of Rowena, in the southwest quarter of Asa Clark survey 506, was abandoned at 2,057 feet in shale, having had no shows.

MEASURE REA LINES

FLOYDADA — More than 75 miles of high line for the proposed Floyd County Rural Electric Cooperative, have been surveyed, A. Chetham Strode, resident engineer, says. When 100 miles have been surveyed, construction work is to start. H. J. Hall & Co., are contractors.

New Peak Hit In U.S. Credit Pool

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 — The national banking system's potential credit pool has reached an all-time high.

The Federal Reserve board reported yesterday that on Nov. 23 member banks had $3,350,000,000 in excess reserves leaving that amount available for lending and investment.

Board experts said this excess could provide the basis for more than $25,000,000,000 worth of credit.

Industrial Production Gains

At the same time, the board announced that industrial production increased sharply in October and the first three weeks of November. The board estimated October production at 96 per cent of the 1923-25 average, compared with 90 in September, 76 at the recession low in May, and 102 in October of last year.

Unofficial estimates placed the probable November index at about 100.

One Factor Cited

Part of the increase in bank deposits has resulted from the administration's discontinuance of formal gold sterilization last April.

The Federal Reserve board added $750,000,000 to the hoard by reducing reserve requirements.

Later, three federal banking agencies added another credit incentive by liberalizing slightly the examination rules and methods which usually influence loan policies of the banks.

DRIVE COST $1 A FOOT

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Francis Champeau's first auto drive covered 350 feet and cost him $350.

Champeau, 15, drove a truck through a police call box and a fire alarm box before crashing through the front of a tavern. The damage totaled one dollar a foot.

BACK TO LITTLEFIELD

LITTLEFIELD—J. I. Wingfield, jeweler, who moved to Fort Sumner, N. M., four years ago, has returned and has opened a repair department in the Palace drug store. He lived here eight years before moving to New Mexico.

BUYS STORE STOCK

LEVELLAND — D. Rothschold of San Antonio has bought the Webb Dry Goods Co., stock and is now in charge of the store.

Striking Dance

Striking workers of a New York phonograph record company made some kind of record for dizzy picket lines when they went jitterbug and, as pictured above, shagged up and down the sidewalk before their former employer's establishment. A merry time was had until police swung into action and stopped the swinging couples.

Four 500-Pound Bales Are Gathered From Five Acres

Edwin Earl McWilliams, 4-H club member at New Deal and a high school student there, has one of the best yields of club boys in the county in the Lions club's one variety cotton contest, according to John W. Palmore, jr., assistant county agent.

From five acres of paymaster cotton Edwin has gathered four 500 pound bales and has more than 200 pounds of seed cotton remaining. He is saving his seed for sale.

The average whale has a commercial value of approximately $100.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Civil service jobs are being created for deaf persons alone.

"In order to provide opportunities for deaf persons," the state personnel board has limited two examinations to those without hearing. The jobs to be filled are those of house mother and boys' counsellor at the Berkeley School for the Deaf.

GYM BEING BUILT

SNYDER — Steel and brick work on the new Hermleigh school gymnasium auditorium is finished and the roof has been almost completed. J. A. and Frank Farmer, Snyder contractors, have the contract. A PWA project, the federal government is furnishing $10,800.

Miliza Korjus Whoops Louder Than Lombard And Loves To Dance With Some Man

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 26.—Miliza Korjus is grateful to those customers who are deciding that they like her on the screen. Miss Korjus also declares that she will be ready, next time, if the fans' admiration reaches such a pitch that they mob her in public places and try to tear off souvenir swatches of her gown.

Miliza Korjus

"I would fix especially a dress that would come into many pieces!" whooped the movies' new singing star. "All in little squares, maybe, and on each one my autograph!"

But she is convinced that that isn't likely to happen often. "Even should people learn to know Korjus on the screen, they will not know Korjus in the—ah—flesh," she said, with a gesture that seemed to include her beaming, undecorated face and Junoesque figure.

Late In Amsterdam

"PEOPLE have never recognized me off the stage. Once at the border of Holland I was arrested. That night I was to sing in Amsterdam. Our train stop, a man say, 'Passports' 'Ja!' said my husband and showed him the passports. The man look at me and say, 'You get off here because maybe you have steal this passport. You are not Miliza Korjus.'

"We get off, and I am worrying that my husband will explode. All over the station are large pictures of me and saying I am to sing that night in Amsterdam. 'Look!' scream my husband, waving in his face one of these pictures. 'Yes,' said the man, 'this woman must have steal the passport of Miliza Korjus'!"

She stopped to laugh and laugh, rocking in a big chair in the big living room of her big house. She can whoop more loudly than Carole Lombard. And longer. There is nothing prim about this prima donna.

That Dancing Gets Her

"I LIKE the dance, with a man. I like most the tango and the waltz. Those are something that have beauty to the eye and meaning to the mind. I mean sex. The ballet is good for the eye but gives nothing to the mind. It leaves me—ah—cold. Yes?"

The new star is only about 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighs about 135 pounds. She has no reluctance about discussing her diet, which includes raw eggs, gulped before she sings, and raw steak or raw, chopped liver at one of her meals. Usually she rises at 6 o'clock, walks two hours before breakfast, sings two hours with her accompanist, swims for an hour, studies English two hours, listens to some of her 2000 records or the radio before a 9 o'clock bedtime.

She does some of her swimming in the chilly surf but most of it in a pool near the beach. A routine exercise is swimming for 20 minutes without once touching her feet and singing the while at the top of her voice. Fine for the diaphragm!

Wanted More Chances

DURING recordings for "The Great Waltz," she continually astonished technicians by pleading for additional chances to sing "maybe a little better."

Rehearsals alone would have sent the average singer to Palm Springs for a week's rest. She has such a big voice that a few years ago it would have blown out all the tubes in the sound apparatus. Today, the engineers tell her to sing as she pleases and not to spare the decibels. So she sings, loudly, effortlessly and naturally.

Her husband is Dr. Kuno Foelsch, who besides being a former teacher of physics at the University of Berlin is a practitioner of astrology. He works out charts by which she says she guides her career. Mostly he plays pinochle with a few new American acquaintances.

The other evening Miss Korjus went, alone, to the first local showing of "The Great Waltz." Louis B. Mayer, the boss of Metro in Hollywood, had reserved an adjoining seat for his protege. But she didn't occupy it because she arrived a little late and nobody recognized her. So she was shunted up into the balcony and sat on the stairs. Afterward she would have escaped had not a studio executive shouted at her over the heads of the crowd. That was when she was mobbed. She loves it!

War Study Is On At Lindsey

CLARK Gable and Myrna Loy as daredevils under fire, provide thrills, romance and action-packed drama in "Too Hot To Handle," story of the daring feats of newsreel cameramen, which is currently playing at the Palace theater.

Action gets off to a flying start in Shanghai. War, aviation thrills, the quest of a lost aviator amid savage tribes in South American wilds, the crackup of Miss Loy's plane, are among the rapid fire details of the picture.

Chase Scoops In Orient

The story shows Gable and his rivals ferreting out "scoops" in the Orient. Miss Loy starts on a mercy flight. Gable, in quest of a scoop, manages to involve her in a plane wreck. There is a hoax accusation and love dawns amid a melee of excitement.

Walter Pidgeon plays the part of Gable's chief rival; Walter Connolly is Gable's boss and Leo Carrillo has the comedy role.

Highlights include Miss Loy's plane wreck; Gable filming newsreel amid a rain of bombs, the trek into the South American jungles, filmed on location amid actual savage tribes, the filming of a fog-bound liner on fire from the air, daring aerial tricks in gliders, and the aerial rescue of the jungle imprisoned flier.

Ablaze With Action

Ablaze with action, a picture which reveals for the first time the almost incredibly heroic exploits of America's wartime fleet of "splinter boats"—those tiny, oft-ridiculed craft which convoyed troops and munitions across a U-boat infested ocean and wrote what is perhaps the most thrilling chapter in the whole history of naval warfare, is showing today at the Lindsey theater in "Submarine Patrol."

Richard Greene and Nancy Kelly have the starring roles. Greene appears as a wealthy young socialite, assigned to duty aboard one of the sub chasers. Nancy is the captain's daughter aboard a munition's freighter which Greene's boat is assigned to convoy across the Atlantic.

They meet and fall in love on the eve of their perilous voyage. They plan to be married when, and if, their ships reach port. But Nancy's father makes his objections known in no uncertain terms.

World Of Paroled Convict

The world of the paroled convict is a stern one and it is this world with which the film, "You An Me", deals, opening today at the Texan.

The production concerns itself with the struggle of Sylvia Sidney and George Raft to remain happily married despite extreme poverty, and the secret knowledge, on her part, that she should have never married until her parole term was over.

A day comes when Raft discovers his wife has married him under false pretenses. He is bitterly disillusioned, and despite all her efforts to keep their home together, he returns to his old life of crime.

Clark Gable and Myrna Loy have two of their best film roles in "Too Hot To Handle," which starts today at the Palace theater.

HE GOT THE PICTURE

HOLLYWOOD—Ken Dolan wanted a picture of Shirley Ross in her wedding outfit. She was married in a traveling suit so had a large picture made up gowned in the wedding dress she wears for one of the important scenes in "Paris Honeymoon".

A butterfly's leg, which it uses for tasting, is 1600 times as sensitive to taste as the human tongue.

LYNN'S SUBSIDY

"The Hurricane" Returns To Cactus; Hall, Lamour Star

Thrills Packed In Production

A MAN-MADE wind costing $500,000 in a $2,000,000 drama—"The Hurricane"—is in store for theatergoers of Lubbock at the Cactus theater. It will show there today and Monday after having opened at the preview Saturday night.

A galaxy of stars including Dorothy Lamour, Jon Hall, Mary Astor, C. Aubrey Smith, Thomas Mitchell, and Raymond Massey, appear in the South Set Island film.

No Punches Are Pulled

No punches were pulled, no feelings spared as players and technicians took a beating almost equal to that dealth out to the South Sea Island village, which Goldwyn spent a fortune to build and another fortune to demolish.

The storm was filmed piece-meal of necessity. By the time it was ended, one of the most complete and beautiful settings in all Hollywood was a shambles and Dorothy Lamour and Jon Hall, the love elements, were nearly nervous wrecks.

Their Wedding Day

It opens with a gala day on the Island of Manukura in the South Pacific. Captain Nagle's trading schooner has just arrived from Tahiti. To Dorothy Lamour, beautiful daughter of the native chief, Mehevi, it is an exceptionally great occasion. Jon Hall, her sweetheart, is first mate of the schooner. This is their wedding day.

It ends with a reunion. He sees the canoe bearing out to sea, but in answer to the appeal in his wife's eyes, he agrees with her that it is "only a floating log."

But there's plenty between the beginning and the end.

If you have seen it, you may want to see it again.

Dorothy Lamour and Jon Hall have the leading roles in "The Hurricane," one of the finest films in years, opening today at the Cactus.

Hepburn In "Little Women" Is Offered At Tech Today

Double Romance Makes Up Plot

THE TECH theater brings back an outstanding picture, "Little Women," for a two-day engagement starting Sunday. Every reader of this famous book will remember the rich sentiment, simple charm and beauty of its characters and backgrounds.

It is the story of the March family, revealing the development and ennoblement of the four sisters, Jo, Meg, Beth and Amy. Their tragedies and joys, their plights and plans, all are unfolded in the picturization with the appeal of the original story.

Top Cast Provided

Entrusted with the principal roles is a top-notch cast headed by dynamic Katherine Hepburn as Jo. Frances Dee, Jean Parker, Joan Bennett, Henry Stephenson, Spring Byington and Douglass Montgomery are also cast.

As in the original story Jo's double romance, first with Laurie, the rich boy next door, and later with the lovable Fritz Bhaer, provides the main plot, while the romances of Meg and Amy and the sweet life and tragic death of little Beth, the kindly deeds of the mother, Marmee, the kind heart of gruff old Mr. Laurence and the grumblings of tyrannical old Aunt March contribute the counterplots.

The old Alcott home at Concord, Mass., the surrounding acres, and backgrounds and scenes common to the time were duplicated in minute detail.

"Little Women" opens today at the Tech, starring Katharine Hepburn, Joan Bennett, Frances Dee and Jean Parker.

Boys Are To Receive Chicks For Work In Sears Gilt Contest

Four Lubbock county 4-H club boys placed in the high six in Lubbock county in the recent Sears Roebuck gilt contest. Each of the boys will receive baby chicks, at the proper time, for their records as presented at the time of the recent contest here.

Henry Kveton, of near Abernathy who placed second, started feeding his gilt an average of two pounds of milo and a gallon and a half of milk, with plenty of sudan pasture. He increased to an average of 4 pounds of milo and two gallons of milk a day. Total feeding was 415 pounds of milo and 306 pounds of milk.

Increased Rations

Douthit Grinstead, started his gilt on a pound and a half of milo and a gallon of milk a day, increasing to two pounds of milo and two gallons of milk. In the fall he increased it to four pounds of grain and two gallons of milk. He also had a quarter acre of sudan. The gilt received over 400 pounds of grain and 315 gallons of milk. Grinstead has a small wheat patch for winter green feed.

Burl Medlock started his gilt on two pounds of milo and a gallon and a half of milk daily, increasing to four pounds of grain and two gallons of milk. He also had sudan for grazing.

Melvin Johnson of near Slaton had a registered Hampshire. He had a half acre of sudan and started feeding green alfalfa leaf meal, and bone meal. He fed a pound of milo and a gallon of milk. The ration has been increased to 4 1-2 pounds of grain and two gallons of milk.

Kveton, Grinstead and Medlock had registered Poland China gilts.

LIVESTOCK SHIPMENTS

PLAINVIEW — Livestock shipments are increasing here. Sheep that have been on wheat and stalks are being shipped, as well as some cattle. Hogs go several times a week to California.

Larry Clinton, Composer Of 'The Dipsy Doodle,' On 'The Show Of The Week' Today

There are, according to recent statistics, over seven hundred and fifty recognized dance bands now functioning in this country. But few have achieved the popularity in recent months of tall tune titan Larry Clinton. His appearance along with his orchestra on the "Show of the Week" this afternoon from 5:30 to 6 p. m. over KFYO and the Mutual network, is a signal for all devotees of sweet and swing to be at their radio sets.

Along with the creator of "The Dispy Doodle," will be vivacious vocalist Bea Wain.

Is Outstanding Arranger

Known to the trade as an outstanding arranger, lanky Larry decided about two years ago to organize his own band, write those precious arrangements for his own organization. He tried the band out at college proms.

"If the college kids like the band then it must be good", reasoned the composer-conductor.

When he converted Claude Debussy's tone poem, "My Reverie," into a 1938 best-seller, the name of Clinton was their placed alongside of Dorsey and Goodman, as an outstanding dispenser of streamlined dansapation.

Ray Perkins is emcee on "The Show of the Week."

CONSIDER THESE FIGURES

If you feel like a fair target for that incorrigible pixie, Cupid, halt a moment and consider these irrevocable figures compiled by John J. Anthony, director of the Mutual network's "Original Good Will Hour", heard from 9:30 to 10 p. m. each Sunday over Station KFYO and the Texas State Network.

Seventeen per cent of all American marriages end in divorce. More than 35 per cent hit the rocks in some form of separation. Although a divorce is granted every three minutes in the United States, wedding bells toll every thirty seconds.

As alarming as these figures may show, a recent survey—however—proves that 75 per cent of all Americans have married for love.

REVIVAL SERVICE TONIGHT

"Old Fashioned Revival" with Rev. Charles E. Fuller at the microphone is heard each Sunday from 8 to 9 p. m. over Station KFYO and the Texas State Network. Each broadcast originates in Los Angeles, through facilities of KHJ, Mutual's affiliate in Los Angeles. Mrs. Fuller helps her husband conduct the hour-long broadcast with the reading of testimonials from listeners throughout the North American continent.

ma, written and produced by John W. Hughes, TSN dramatics director, will be enacted by the TSN players on the "Sunday Afternoon Revue," to be heard over KFYO today from 4 to 4:30 p. m.

The drama, five minutes in length, concerns a musician who is told by her doctor that she may expect to go deaf any moment. The anxiety of this great violinist over her possible future, and her fear of actually going deaf, make a dramatic and forceful sequence of stirring events.

TO SALUTE WESTERNERS

According to an announcement Friday by Zack Hurt, TSN sports supervisor, the Lubbock High Westerners, District 1 champions, will be saluted in a special Texas State Network broadcast Wednesday, November 30, at 5:45 p. m.

The broadcast, which will originate through facilities of KFYO, will be heard over twenty-three stations in Texas. R. B. McAlister, KFYO sports commentator, is in charge of the program, the details of which will be announced later.

DUGGAN TO BE HEARD

I. W. Duggan, director of AAA southern division, will be heard in a special broadcast over KFYO, Monday, November 28, at 6:30 a. m. Rural citizens are urged to hear this program as Duggan will explain the AAA program for the cotton referendum of December 10.

Cary Grant and Katharine Hepburn make love and laughs in "Bringing Up Baby," coming to the Tech Friday.

"Go-Getter" Introduces Old Character Of Cappy Ricks

Lovely Joan Fontaine has the leading role with Fred Astaire in "A Damsel In Distress," current attraction at the Broadway.

Brent, Louise In Star Roles

THAT irascible but lovable old seafaring character created by Peter B. Kyne—Cappy Ricks—comes to life on the screen in "The Go-Getter," which opens today at the Lyric theater.

Charles Winninger takes the role of Cappy. He isn't the go-getter. That individual is George Brent, who is in love with Cappy's daughter, portrayed by lovely Anita Louise.

Tragic Crash Shown

The episode that introduces the star is a reproduction of the tragic crash of the U. S. dirigible Macon into the ocean a few years ago. Brent is a member of the crew as she goes down. He escapes with his life, but loses a leg, and therefore has to quit the navy and get a job in civil life.

In this manner he meets up with Cappy.

The movie deals with the various tests through which old Cappy puts Brent before giving his consent to a courtship—and how Brent successfully emerges from them.

Others Listed In Cast

Besides the three stars, the cast also includes Henry O'Neill, John Eldridge and others.

The attraction which starts at the Broadway today, to continue through Monday, is "A Damsel In Distress," with Fred Astire, Joan Fontaine, George Burns and Gracie Allen.

Bids For Lamesa School Work To Be Opened On December 8

December 8 has been selected as tentative date for the opening of bids for construction of school properties for the Lamesa Independent school district, according to Haynes & Strange, architects.

Approximately $120,000 will be available for the work.

Construction planned included a 12-room elementary building, a gymnasium, a central steam plant and repairs to the high school and grade building.

Plans have been drawn and contractors are making estimates of costs.

A stadium at Lamesa is already being built. It represents a $21,000 program. The school district voted bonds months ago of $80,000 and Public Works administration is supplying the rest of the money needed.

Outgoing County Superintendent At Levelland Eleced To Post

LEVELLAND, Nov. 26.—W. E. Fry, outgoing county superintendent of schools, has been elected instructor in mathematics at the high school to take the place of Miss Clypstene Fry, resigned.

Mr. Fry was superintendent of schools here more than a decade ago, his fourth year closing at the beginning of the 1927-8 term. In 1930 he was elected county superintendent.

To "Build Up" Hopkins Would Be Big Task; Comrade John L. Lewis Is Pleased

WPA Chief Eyes Presidency?

If So, He has Rough, Rocky Road Ahead

IF Washington rumors are true—as probably they are—that a "buildup campaign" is in the making in administration circles seeking to win public acceptance of Harry L. Hopkins as presidential timber, the undertaking is not one to excite the envy of those who shun forbidding tasks.

The rumors are, in themselves, another corroborative hint that if President Roosevelt does not himself seek a third term, Mr. Hopkins is more likely than any other in the public eye at this time to receive the presidential blessing. As Works Progress administrator he has demonstrated times without number that as President he would attempt with as much energy though perhaps less ability to continue the Rooseveltian policies as has Mr. Roosevelt.

If a serious attempt to promote Mr. Hopkins is contemplated, about the only political asset which can be listed immediately for him is the personal strength the President himself can excercise with assurance. That, of course, will include all of those—of whom there are great numbers—who will be out of jobs should the present regime be upset.

Against this asset are these liabilities which are apparent even at this time:

Mr. Hopkins will face all the animosities the President has aroused. So bitter and so widespread are those animosities there is serious question as to whether the President's support, by 1940, would be a liability or an asset.

Mr. Hopkins also will encounter the political enmities he himself has incurred as Works Progress administrator. Those enemies are to be found in almost every locality in every state, and they include governors, senators, representatives, legislators and a host of others in very powerful political and industrial places.

Against him also his own personality which, though not negative, is far from positive. He makes a very poor platform and radio impression for a man who aspires to the Presidency.

Of course, politics being what they are, Mr. Hopkins with the aid of the administration may overcome these handicaps. But not even his staunchest admirers can hardly be elated at the prospect if they view the situation with honest eyes.

U. S. Becomes "Air-Minded"

IF evidence was needed that wars of the future are to become increasingly wars in the air, it was contained in a news item the other day relating to plans for our own national airplane production.

The story stated, in brief, that plants in the United States will be capable, within a few months, of producing 1,000 planes per month and within two years, the capacity will be 2,000 per month. Significance of these figures is that production at full capacity one year would provide more—and better—war planes than will be found in the combined air fleets in the world today.

While we are stepping up our production capacity, it is inevitable that other nations will be doing the same thing. It is certain too that the start of major war will signal full and accelerating production in neutral nations as well as those engaged in conflict.

Even then it will be true, say military strategists, that the private in the ranks will be the backbone of struggling nations. But indications are he will be a pathetically helpless sort of private unless he has plenty of help from the air.

With Our Contemporaries

"Farmers had just as well get ready to receive official notice of the announcement that another cotton acreage or production reduction is coming," advises J. A. Price in the Amherst Argus.

Dictators' Rise, Nazi Persecution Of Jews, And Widespread Fears Find:

Refugee Problem Is Staggering World

BY WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW and violent anti-Jewish and anti-Catholic persecutions in Germany spread still wider the blackest blot on modern civilization—the plight of hundreds of thousands of refugees.

At least 700,000 men, women, and children in Europe, hounded and persecuted in their home lands, can find no place of refuge. Their property confiscated, a chance to work denied them, rights of citizens and human beings taken from them, they are a problem washed up on the shores of the world by a rising tide of intolerance and hatred.

It is not a new problem. In a recent survey, the Foreign Policy Association notes that since the World War several millions of Russians, Greeks, Turks, Assyrians, Italians, Spaniards, and others have sought refuge in exile.

But since the economic crisis of 1929 the problem has been aggravated because country after country has closed doors of immigrants, or even barred doors against the persecuted who wish to leave. The rise of totalitarian states has created new classes of exiles, because in such states any who disagree with the current leadership or are presumed because of their background to be out of sympathy with it, are potential refugees.

MORE TO COME

AS many as 500,000 Jews may be driven penniless from Germany. Whichever side wins in Spain, thousands will find life there intolerable, and will become exiles. Thousands of Czechs now a minority in the Sudeten lands are being shuttled back and forth between Germany which does not want them and the remains of Czechoslovakia which can not handle them.

Disaster, the Foreign Policy Association fears, confronts 5,500,000 Jews in Baltic, Mediterranean and Adriatic Europe, in countries where they are a small minority. Thus the refugee problem, terrible as it is today, may be worse before it is better.

The world has tried to cope with it. But there has been little enough success. The League of Nations, through the Nansen International Office for Refugees, has done useful work. Lacking participation by the United States, and hobbled by League politics, however, the Nansen committee's work was limited.

As the problem grew more acute this year, the United States secured a meeting of 32 countries at Evian, France, in July. Under the leadership of Myron C. Taylor, machinery was set up to cooperate with the existing League work, and extend it. The United States promised as its contribution, to admit each year the full total of 27,370 immigrants whose entry would be permitted under the combined legal German and Austrian quotas.

But the practical problem remained. When it came down to admitting more German refugees, nearly every country bucked. The French, who already have received 200,000 refugees, said they couldn't handle more. The British said they were not "an immigration country." Belgium and the Netherlands, with 15,000 and 25,000 refugees respectfully, found it hard to receive more, and Denmark, Sweden and Switzerland followed suit.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRESIDENT Roosevelt could not have paid a more heart-warming compliment to John L. Lewis than he did when he named the C.I.O. chieftain's daughter Kathryn to the American delegation to Lima. The big, bulky miners' leader is inordinately fond and proud of his efficient aide.

Miss Lewis deliberately shuns the headlines, but if you want to see her famous father, you have to see her first. She is big, like her father, but extremely feminine, despite the fact that she doesn't use makeup. She handles a great deal of detail work—correspondence, reading of reports, admitting or dismissing visitors—for her harassed dad. Her desks at the office and at home are piled high with union statistics, biography, novels and economic tracts. She peruses scores of newspapers and magazines for items which might interest—or enlighten—John L.

Only 27 years old, she has been Lewis' executive assistant for five years now. Born in Springfield, Ill., she spent a few years at Bryn Mawr after a period at boarding school. Her friends suspect that college was too tame for her after her early years in the home of the struggling, striving union chief.

PRELUDE: The storm over removal of cherry trees to make room for the Jefferson Memorial recalls that the project was really revived a decade ago by a newspaperman seeking a story on a dull day. Here's the amusing prelude to the battle involving the President, Japan's gift to the United States in the reign of another Roosevelt and indignant tree lovers at the Capital:

When the young correspondent learned that the only statue to the great Virginian was a shabby affair in a dark corner of a House corridor, he decided to do something about it. He also wanted news, and that commodity was scarce at the moment. So he sought out a Tammany member—the late John J. Boylan—and asked if the latter would deliver a pro-memorial address on the occasion of Jefferson's approaching birthday. Then the reporter dashed to the Congressional Library, boned up on the famous founding father and hit for the headlines.

Mr. Boylan delivered the speech. What's more, he delivered it, virtually unchanged, on every succeeding Jefferson's birthday. The G.O.P. almost granted him the monument simply to stave off repetition of the speech, but didn't get around to it in those depression years. The people needed bread, more than statues. But the triumphant Democrats rushed through the 10-year resolution as soon as they returned to power with policies which, if you believe Carter Glass, would make all their distinguished dead turn in their graves.

CONTRAST: Recent headline happenings at the Capital hearten even the most lugubrious observers, including anti-New Dealers, as they contrast the Washington scene with spectacles of sadness in Germany, China, Spain. These convinced them that America is still the best place to live and bring up the kids.

The President's most exciting bit of news concerned the proposed destruction of cherry trees, and in giving it out he was at his operatic best. Professing his love for trees, he said that he hoped to return some year and see more of them than there are now. "In what year," asked an enterprising reporter, "do you plan to come back, Mister President?" To the echoing laughter in which he joined, F.D.R. replied: "Early and often!" Imagine putting such a question to Hitler, Stalin, Mussolini, Franco, the godlike Emperor!

Few nights later, with only a small Secret Service guard, the President partook of food and merriment with members of the National Press club. In cartoons and stereopticons he was ribbed gorgeously but good-naturedly. Then he asked for the cartoon which portrayed him most unfavorably. Next day he took off to eat Thanksgiving turkey with the crippled children at Warm Springs whose bodies may be untwisted partly through his inspiration and generosity. Read that batch of news—and cheer up!

POISE: Next to Thomas Jefferson, Woodrow Wilson is the predecessor whom President Roosevelt admires most deeply—and strives most to imitate. Time and again F.D.R. permits Wilsonian reminiscences to influence his action or inaction.

He can—and does—profit from the War President's mistakes, however. Of late there has been more of departure than imitation. In naming Alf Landon to the Lima delegation, Mr. Roosevelt took the advice Wilson spurned when he was urged to send a prominent Republican to the Paris Peace conference. F.D.R. has often said that he thought the omission was a major mistake. In failing to utter a general appeal for reelection of a Democratic Congress, Mr. Roosevelt spared himself the personal repudiation visited on Wilson in 1918. And there were some advisers who begged him to risk his prestige on a nationwide scale.

Whereas reverses irritated Mr. Wilson, F.D.R. preserves his good nature. His apparent nonchalance in the face of November 8 appears real; he has neither overdone nor undone his appearance of indifference. And, unlike the War President and Warren Harding and Herbert Hoover, he doesn't cancel press conferences in moments of defeat or embarrassment.

PORTENTS: Veteran House attaches predict privately that newcomers in the next Congress will be a cheeky, aggressive bunch. They base the guess on vocal and written demands for office space and special privileges since the election.

Most of the new members insist on a southern or sunlight exposure for their offices. Some seem to feel that a bedroom and bath go with their headquarters on Capitol Hill. A few want to know whether they enjoy mileage pay from the date of the election or only from the time they leave for the January opening. The biographical data they have supplied for the new Congressional Directory depicts them as men who speak well—and long—of themselves.

These surface portents indicate that the White House—and the leaders—may have trouble keeping them in order. You can usually tell what kind of Congressman a fellow will make by his advance demands and notices.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

EVEN if James A. Farley retires from the cabinet, as widely predicted, he will not be eliminated as a vital factor in the fortunes of the Democratic party. Shrewd New York observers figure such a move would be more likely to enhance than diminish his political stature.

Mr. Farley has indicated that he will not relinquish the Democratic national chairmanship before 1940 in any event. This means he will be at the helm during the critical period in which New Dealers and conservatories will be jockeying for control of tht party in the next presidential campaign. Farley's role will be primarily that of conciliator. His main objective—long-range as well as immediate—is to keep the Democratic party as united and harmonious as possible. That's a herculean assignment, but Jim should be able to handle it if anyone can.

His prospective resignation as Postmaster General will relieve a situation that has become somewhat embarrassing. His loyalty to the President has been put to severe tests, although they remain on friendly personal terms. He will be happier in a less ambiguous position—and better able to devote himself to the party's best interests as he sees them.

PARAMOUNT: As chairman, Mr. Farley will keep in close touch with state and local Democratic leaders all over the country. They will pay attention to what he says, even though he has no more patronage to dispense. He has taught them to look to him for guidance and the efficiency of his well-knit national organization will not be dispelled.

Rachel Field Is At Her Charming Best

"All This And Heaven, Too" Is 'True' Story Of Her Aunt

"ALL THIS AND HEAVEN, TOO" by Rachel Field; (Macmillan, New York).

WHEN her subject is right, Rachel Field can do it up brown. Her robust whimsicality, freshness and charm rank her, without disparagement, as the Louisa May Alcott of contemporary writers. "All This, And Heaven, Too," the "true" story of her great aunt, Henriette Desportes Field, is Miss Field at her charming best.

Henriette was the notorious governess, "Mademoiselle D," who in 1847 was one of the central figures in the internationally famous murder trial, in Paris, of the Duc de Praslin, who was accused of the hatchet-murder of his voluptuous wife.

In a brilliant self defense before a hostile court, Henriette won acquittal, went to the United States, taught in a fashionable girls' school in Manhattan. She married Henry Field, a preacher-writer ten years her junior, and for two decades until her death in 1875, reigned as a famous hostess in a Gramercy Park Salon frequented by William Cullen Bryant, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Samuel Morse, Fanny Kemble.

Rachel Field's fictionized biography centers on Henriette's six years in the Praslin household, emphasizes her genius with children, her unimpeachable tact in dealing with her violently jealous mistress, her innocence of the scandals that linked her name with the handsome Duc, the injustice of contemporaries (among them Victor Hugo) who characterized her as "a rare woman . . . at once wicked and charming."

The dramatic interest of the last 160 pages, concerned with Henriette's life in this country falls off sharply. But they make an interesting contribution to Americana, and Henriette's charming unconventionalities should please those who liked Margaret Armstrong's recent biography of Fanny Kemble.

Boys In Lions Club's One-Variety Cotton Contest To Hold Field Day Here

Cotton Will Be Auctioned Off

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Saturday will be field day for the more than 100 Lubbock county vocational agriculture and club boys who participated in the Lions club's one-variety cotton contest, when the expected cotton crop will be brought into Lubbock for sale.

Tentative plans call for a parade, starting at 9 o'clock at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair grounds, where boys with their cotton are asked to report before that hour. The parade will go through the business section, headed probably by the senior or junior high school band.

To Stop At Tech

At Texas Technological college the parade will stop at the textile engineering building and cars and trucks or trailers will be parked there. Each vocational agriculture teacher has been asked by M. E. Heard, chairman of the Lions club committee, to arrange for such banners as he deems best for his trucks.

Government licenses classers are to be asked to take samples and grade them at the college. Cotton buyers of the city, and from other towns that may desire to attend, are invited to come and bid on the lists available.

Must Exceed Loan

In the event that bids do not exceed the government cotton loan figures, it is expected the cotton will be placed in the loan.

At noon a lunch is to be served at the college, in the livestock pavilion. After the lunch, the boys are to be guests of the Texas Tech athletic council at the Tech-Centenary football game. Arrangements were made with the council for the boys to have admission, on payment of the government's amusement tax, which is expected to be 15 cents.

All Are Invited

"Boys who participated in the contest, whether they got a stand and had any cotton or not, are invited to the field day," said Heard. "We want all of the boys who participated this year to be with us. Not all of the boys were able to get a stand, but we hope they will come anyway."

Heard said he expected between 225 and 250 bales of high grade, long staple cotton, will be ready for sale this year.

There are 48 4-H club boys and more than 60 vocational agriculture boys who have harvested their crops. Last report indicated the vocational boys would have at least 140 to 150 bales. The club boys will have more than 100 bales.

May Return Seed

Under the contract with the Lions club, which furnished the seed, the boys may return bushel for bushel, the amount of seed they secured, or they may pay for it. There were four varieties used and the committee set a rate for seed, as follows. Paymaster, 85 cents a bushel; T. P. & L. No. 11, $1.35; Rogers Acala, $1.50 and Ferguson, 405, $1.65.

"We prefer that the boys pay us for the seed, rather than return seed," Heard explained. "First, the club does not have storage facilities; second, we want as much of the seed as possible, to be distributed over the county. We much prefer boys sell the seed and pay us the above quoted prices. The club will distribute seed again in 1939."

Can Plant 12,000 Acres

Heard said that it looked like there would be enough seed available in the spring for planting of 12,000 acres. "One of the men figured there would be that much seed," he said. "Our object is to get as much seed as possible distributed to farmers."

Each of the eight high schools in the county had boys in the contest. The eight vocational teachers were in charge of the work in their respective schools.

Heard is urging that farmers who want the planting seed, get in touch with these teachers or with John Palmore, assistant county agent. He is asking that boys arrange with their teacher or the assistant county agent, to store seed for them and to handle orders for seed.

Boys whose cotton is sold through the auction ring, or through the committee to the government loan, are eligible for prizes offered by the club for best records. Teachers and others are now preparing these records and they will be judged by a committee and awards made.

Farmers Of Panhandle Finding Terraces To Be Good And Profitable Investment

Broad-based, level terraces with closed ends retain practically all the water on the land where it falls, giving an equal distribution of moisture which results in a uniform crop stand. Farmers of the wind erosion area are finding that yields on terraced fields are higher and that erosion is checked. Terraces are recommended wherever contour farming is not sufficient to prevent loss of water. This farmer is constructing a terrace on a field in one of the Soil Conservation Service demonstration areas.

AMARILLO, Nov. 26.—Farmers of the Texas Panhandle are finding that terraces are a good investment. Not only do these broad-based, level structures aid in checking erosion, but they also tend to increase crop yields. Many farmers cooperating with the Soil Conservation Service demonstration areas report that terraces have more than paid for themselves during the first year by increasing crop yields.

Terraces already have been constructed on more than 160,000 acres in the Soil Conservation Service demonstration areas in the Texas Panhandle, and several thousand additional acres will be terraced during the winter, the farmers report. Thousands of more acres have been terraced in the nine Wind Erosion Conservation districts in the Panhandle, and hundreds of farmers are building such structures in other parts of the state not included in these areas, it is reported.

Will Hold All the Water

Properly constructed level terraces will hold practically all the rain water on the ground where it falls, thereby allowing the moisture to soak into the soil where it is available for crop use instead of flowing down the slopes to cause gullying and sheet erosion.

Water backed up behind the terraces results in an even distribution of moisture over the fold and a more uniform crop stand. During heavy rains this fall, tests revealed that moisture had penetrated the soil of terraced fields to depths from two to three times as great as on untreated land. This has resulted, Soil Conservation Service technicians point out, in sufficient moisture being stored to insure good crops next year as a general rule.

Cost Is Reduced

Most farmers report that they find the cultivation and harvesting of terraced fields no more difficult than straight-row tilled fields, and that in the case of steep slopes, the fuel operating cost of machinery is reduced.

Besides increasing yields, terraces tend to increase the possibility of growing a good crop which will provide stubble and residue as protection against soil blowing during the period of high winds, it is pointed out.

Canned Chickens Prepared By Boys And Girls To Be On Menu

Fathers of Cooper school vocational agriculture boys, when they attend an annual Father and son banquet in December, will eat chicken that the boys helped prepare.

The boys donated enough chickens and then killed and dressed them at the school. Girls of the home economics department canned the birds.

Work was done under direction of the vocational and home economics teachers.

Joe Doyle's Sorghum Demonstration Said To Be Outstanding

An outstanding grain sorghum demonstration was finished a few days ago by Joe Doyle, a 4-H club boy of the Shallowater community, according to John W. Palmore, jr., club leader and assistant county agent.

Joe harvested 15 acres of hegari that he planted early in the summer and when he had sold the crop, found he had received $417.78 for his labor and time.

Seed and twine cost $2.22. Joe harvested 10,000 bundles, which he sold for two cents a bundel. Planting, ground preparation, care and harvesting was done under instructions from the county agent's office.

"This is one of the most outstanding demonstrations in grain sorghums in Lubbock county," said Palmore.

Sugar Beet Subsidy Program Is Being Set Up In Floyd County

FLOYDADA, Nov. 26. — A sugar beet subsidy, said to be the first in Texas, is now being set up for Floyd county, D. F. Bredthauer, county agent, reports.

A thousand-acre program has been sought. It is expected the 1939 program may pay $4,000 to $5,000. The agent is receiving applications for the 1939 crop. He has a supply of blanks.

Cotton Chatter

HAD LARGEST ACREAGE

Floyd county had the largest acreage of one variety cotton in Northwest Texas says D. F. Bredthauer, county agent. At Aiken 7,875 acres were planted in Paymaster cotton; at Floydada another 7,500 acre tract was planted and at Lockney 12,200 acres were planted in another block.

YIELD TO BE HIGH

Wayne Slimmons reports he will gather 10 bales from his 15-acre tract near Meadow. He gathered 8 bales on the first round and expects two more.

BOYS TO GET SEED

Crosby county club and vocational agriculture boys, will have a chance to get improved cotton seed for 1939. The Crosbyton Lions club voted to sponsor a one-variety program, similar to one in Lubbock county. Details are to be worked out by a committee.

GROWS LONG STAPLE

O. A. Heath, who lived on the Bill Beakley farm four miles northeast of Levelland, recently ginned seven bales of cotton that showed 1 1-16 inch staple length. Heath planted Lyon's Acala cotton No. 8 on June 20 and it matured in less than 125 days. One bale graded strict middling and brought 9.65 cents a pound, the other six graded middling and brought 9.30 cents. From the plot Heath pulled 10,110 pounds of seed cotton, which brought 3,674 pounds of seed.

LATER IRRIGATION PAYS

H. T. Price of near Plainview, who is on a T. L. & D. farm, is selling his cotton, with an inch staple, for 9.20 cents a pound in the loan. He has 34 acres and expects to get nearly a bale to the acre. The land is irrigated, the last time after Sept. 1. Price says later irrigation pays.

PLACED IN LOAN

W. G. LeCroy of the Valley View community near Littlefield placed four bales of 1 1-16 inch staple in the government cotton loan with a price of 9.65 cents a pound. He has 100 acres of California Acala cotton.

BETTER VARIETY PAYS

County Agent Frank Buckley of Motley county reports a farmer got 9.40 cents a pound for 14 bales out of a 15-bale lot of cotton that graded strict middling staple and measured well over an inch. The cotton seed was California Acala.

EXPECTS GOOD YIELD

P. H. White, living four miles north of Littlefield, placed in the government loan 10 bales of cotton with 1 1-32 inch staple that brought 9.40 cents a pound. White has 55 acres from which he expects to gather over 30 bales.

HIGHEST POSSIBLE PRICE

C. M. Horn, living six miles west of Close City, in Garza county, who planted 12 acres of Rogers Acala cotton on June 6, has gathered four bales and he expects to gather four more. The first bales went into the loan at 10.75 cents a pound. This is the highest possible loan price and local cotton men believe it is one of the few lots in West Texas bringing that price.

HAS TWIN CALVES

ANTON, Nov. 26.—Frank Bishop's faithful 12-year old family milk cow recently surprised her owner when she dropped two calves.

She has had a calf each year for many years but this is her first twins, Bishop said.

LARGE CALF BARN

SEMINOLE, Nov. 26.—H. O. Williams, who lives 11 miles east of here, reports a 17-pound calf dropped by one of his Jersey cows recently. The animal is said to be about the size of a half grown dog.

MAY HIRE WATCHMAN

OLTON — Twenty-five business men here at a recent meeting discussed the employment of a night watchman here. Recent night fires, burglaries and other troubles have caused local men to consider the new work. H. A. Cates, X. A. Austin, William Yates and L. H. Trotter were named a committee to secure contributions.

Refuge Problem

immigrants, all wished to be very sure they got the kind they wanted, trained farmers and technicians. The British possessions, even Australia, which badly needs immigrants, were dubious about "creating racial problems where they now had none." Kenya Colony in Africa might take a few, it was proposed.

Even Palestine, which has been receiving 40,000 Jews a year from all countries, is in so disturbed a condition that its future is uncertain as a refuge.

THOUGH disappointing in direct and immediate results, the Evian conference resulted in formation of an Intergovernmental Committee under the leadership of the American George Rublee, now actively at work on the refugee problem. It is making an effort to convert the disorderly exodus from Germany and other countries into an orderly emigration.

But recent steps in Germany whereby refugees are first stripped of all property makes it more difficult to receive them elsewhere. They are all the more likely to become public charges. The problem of occupation is also keen, as recent surveys show that Jewish immigrants from German contained these divisions: Business men and office employes, 29 per cent; craftsmen, 19 per cent; professional men, 6 per cent; laborers, 4 per cent; and domestic workers, 4 per cent.

About 40,000 refugees have been able to leave Germany each year since the "anschluss" with Austria. At that rate it would take 16 years to find new homes for all those Germany wishes to eject. Conditions within Germany are such today that such a delay is unthinkable.

The problem stares the whole world in the face.

Metronoscope Is Purchased For Littlefield Public Schools

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 26.—With purchase of a metronoscope machine the Littlefield schools have the distinction of owning the first one of this modern equipment for the scientific teaching of reading. The machine was bought through help of the Parent-Teachers association committee.

At the same time, Dr. Ira E. Woods purchased an Opthalmograph, for use in his profession and also to assist in checking up on users of the other machine at the schools.

The machines were installed by J. Y. Taylor of Brownwood, a brother of Earle Taylor, who perfected both instruments. He made a preliminary survey.

TARZAN THE FEARLESS 91 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As helpless prisoners, Tarzan and Mary came to the palisade of the Zambeth village, where their captors cried out proudly: "We have captured Tarzan the Tree-Demon!" The village burst into a turmoil of excitement. The people ran shouting to the gates.

From his hut strolled Kagundo, the witch-doctor, putting on an air of solemn dignity to conceal his elation. When they saw him, Tarzan's captors yelled: "Behold, we have taken the demon; we deliver him into your hands! Mighty are the warriors of Zambeh!"

"Huh!" grunted Kagundo. "You were only the instruments of my power. It was I, the great Kagundo, who wove the spell of magic that weakened the demon so you could capture him." The clever witch-doctor never failed to take credit for any favorable event.

Fortune had played into Kagundo's hands, and he was resolved to take quick advantage of the situation. Tarzan and his friends must die at once. "Come!" he commanded with a flourish. "To the Tree-God. Never has our holy one had such a feast as this!"

Crop Measuring To Start Soon

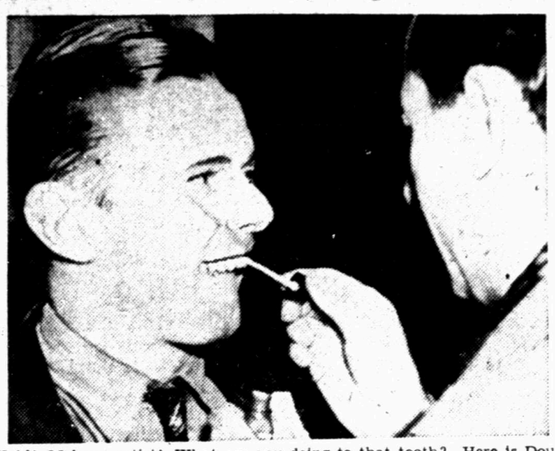

Measurement of wheat acreage planted this fall on Lubbock county farms, is to be started early in December, said Walter F. Johnson, AAA assistant in the office of the county agent. Date will be definitely announced this week.

The county has been alloted 19,348 acres for wheat. Farm allotments have been given the approximately 360, farmers who are entitled to plant the crop. It is not expected that more than 100 men will actually raise wheat.

By Dec. 15, farmers who have planted wheat above their allotment, must have the excess plowed under, if they are to receive the government payments. They also must have their crop established at that time in order to participate in the payments.

ABERNATHY, Nov. 26.—A new type of machine has been installed at the Struve Cheese factory, Arno Struve, manager, reports.

The machine automatically weighs milk, empties and washes the milk cans. Full cans are placed on a conveyor, carried to the machine, processed and cleaned and delivered to the truck at another door.

The plant will probably pay to farmers of this community between $75,000 and $100,000 for raw milk during the year. The plant has a capacity of 30,000 pounds of milk daily.
