Three Americans Win '58 Prize In Medicine

Cancer Battle Is Aided

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Three American scientists won the 1958 Nobel Prize in Medicine and Physiology today for solving some of the basic riddles of heredity.

Their discoveries were credited by a member of the prize-awarding body with opening new avenues in cancer research.

The winners are Dr. George Wells Beadle, 55, of the California Institute of Technology; E. L. Tatum, 49, of New York's Rockefeller Institute; and Joshua Lederberg, 33, of the University of Wisconsin.

The Royal Caroline Institute of Medicine said half the $41,420 prize would go jointly to Beadle and Tatum "for their discovery that genes act by regulating specific chemical processes."

The other half went to Lederberg "for his discoveries concerning genetic recombination and the organization of the genetic material of bacteria.

"Genetic recombination" is a term for sexual fertilization in the bacterial world. Lederberg found that from the geneticists' point of view, "this corresponds exactly to the normal sexual fertilization in higher organisms."

Describing the work of the prize winners, Prof. Torbjorn Casperson of the Caroline Institute said the research of Beadle and Tatum in the early 1940s "led to the discovery that the individual gene acts by directing individual steps in the course of chemical synthesis in the cell. All the substances in the cell are built up step by step in a long series of synthesizing processes.

"The individual steps are governed by individual genes by their regulation of the production of specific enzymes for each separate step."

Casperson, himself a world authority on genetics, said this discovery "offered the first chance to understand the mode of action of the genes" and is one of the foundations of modern genetics.

Their research was based largely on a red bread mold called neurospora crassa, which Beadle described as "one of the most useful genetic guinea pigs."

Any strain of this mold can be multiplied a million times in a couple of days without genetic change.

CHEATS DEATH—Okey Donaldson, a buggyman at the Ogley-Norton Company coal mine near Summerville, W. 12 Trapped Miners Brought To Surface

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP) — Twelve miners brought to the surface today after being trapped nearly a week in a wrecked coal mine told of praying and singing hymns to keep up their courage as they waited out the long, dark hours.

Some of the sturdier ones told of the ordeal after their dramatic rescue early today from the Cumberland No. 2 coal mine, where they were trapped by a massive earth shift last Thursday night.

The force of the shift tossed them against the roof of the tunnel where they were working more than two miles from the mine entrance.

Hugh Guthro, 31, said he was buried up to his chest but remained conscious. He said he knew some of his comrades were dying along the coal wall. Other miners dug him out.

The 12 found themselves trapped in a pocket 100 feet long and 3 feet high. By some miracle, there was no gas and some fresh air seeped in through the debris, Guthro said.

"At first we tried to dig our own way out but soon we got so weak we had to stop," he said. "We had no food and no water since Sunday or Monday. The last thing we ate were a few crusts of bread.

"We rationed our lights and cut some batteries off the dead men but on Monday we were in darkness. I'd say Caleb Rushton kept us going."

Rushton, 35, perhaps the strongest of the group when rescuers arrived, sang hymns.

The air gradually became bad. There was no room to stand. In their struggle to stay alive when the last water was gone, they drank urine mixed with bark, they told physicians.

By Monday the men had given up hope of being rescued. Hope also had been abandoned on the surface, but the rescue crews kept digging.

Then Wednesday rescue crews stumbled on a broken air pipe leading to the entombed men and heard the muffled voice of Gorley Kempt, 37, say:

"There are 12 of us here, come and get us. Get us water."

Soon after the men got their first sustenance in at least four days, Coffee laced with sugar and vitamins was fed to the men through a copper tube inserted in the air pipe.

The men waited while the rescue crews dug through about 60 feet of debris. Then a hole appeared in the wall of rubble that had trapped the men and the rescuers appeared.

"We were all so happy to see them the whole bunch of us just started to cry," Guthro said.

The rescue raised hopes that other pockets of survivors would be found in the depths where 55 miners still are missing.

Their rescue brought to 93 the number saved. Twenty-six bodies have been recovered. There were 174 men below when disaster struck.

The news Wednesday that the 12 men had been located alive electrified the town, scene of two mine disasters in as many years. Church bells rang. Horns honked. Stores emptied. Families came running to the mine in a drizzle of rain, hoping and fearing.

Among them were those who already knew their men had died in the mine.

Even as they waited two more bodies were brought out from elsewhere in the mine.

Kempt already had whispered to his nephew Percy Weatherbee, the man who had tapped the air line with his pick, the names of the men trapped with him — Holloway, Brine, Leadbetter, Hunter, Rushton, Milley, Michniak, Maddison, Lowther, Guthro, McDonald.

"I asked 'How are you?' and Gorley answered, 'We're good but we need water badly,'" Weatherbee reported.

The rescuers, some near exhaustion from almost continuous efforts since Thursday, dug again with superenergy.

They clawed and picked at the nearly 60-foot-thick barrier of upturned stone and debris.

As the men dug, warm coffee braced with sugar and vitamins was poured down the air line to the thirsty, trapped men. Finally, a narrow passage was opened and shored up and the imprisoned men began to crawl out.

Rescuer Tells Of Happy Discovery

Editor's Note — Here is Earl Wood's story of how the rescue crew of which he was a member found 12 men alive in the Cumberland mine. Wood, 48, has worked in the mines for 31 years.

By EARL WOOD
(As Told to The Canadian Press)

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP) — I was working away in a shaft leading from the main slope, digwhen all at once the coal became very loose and with a roar a cloud of dust and hot air blew into my face.

This was about 11 o'clock Wednesday morning and we sat there half an hour or so waiting for the dust to settle. We were hopeful because we felt sure we had reached the opening we were hunting for. There was some gas and it was terribly dusty.

I went back again with two of the officials. We had high hopes that there might be a hole big enough for a man to crawl through.

All we saw was a stump of six-inch steel compressed-air pipe. It was broken off and we could not hear or see anything.

After we had been sitting and watching for some time we thought we heard someone speak. It was just a piece of a word and very faint but it hit us like an electric shock.

We looked back toward the loader, which was on the way back to the slope, and found about 40 feet away that the pipe was broken off.

We figured that the voice we heard must have been someone in the tunnel and we sat down to wait.

About 2 o'clock the superintendent and the engineer decided to check the air. Blair Phillips, the engineer, took his testing bottle and went to check the air coming from the pipe I had uncovered.

I guess the reflection of the bottle must have sent light into the hole because the next words I

Biggest Underground Atomic Blast Fired

By STEVE LOWELL

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) —The biggest underground atomic explosion ever touched off by the United States blasted up through the top of a mesa today and shot a column of dirt more than 1,000 feet into the air.

The shot rocked the ground where newsmen were stationed 4½ miles away and shook large boulders off the edge of the mesa.

The completion of this test in a tunnel left just one more to go today before the test deadline set by President Eisenhower at midnight tonight.

Actually the deadline will be 4 p.m. here because that will be midnight, Greenwich time. How long the ban remains in effect depends on the outcome of talks between the United States, Britain, and the Soviet Union.

The underground explosion, Blanca, was touched off in a tunnel that had dug 2,600 feet into the side of a mound and under a mesa.

The great column of dirt that spewed up, probably 500 feet thick, began subsiding five minutes later and drifting away.

This explosion was rated as having the force of 20,000 tons of TNT, the same power as the atomic bombs dropped on Japan in World War II. This force is equal to that of a 40-car trainload of TNT.

Windup of testing brought sadness to Atomic Energy Commission scientists and officials.

Col. Ernest Tinson, technical director of Defense Department participation in atomic tests, said: "Lots of us who have been in it a long time sure hate to see today be the end."

When the last of the Los Alamos, N.M., scientific laboratory's test weapons was detonated Wednesday night, "Taps" sounded over a loud-speaker at News Nob observation point.

This series has operated on the most stepped-up schedule of any ever conducted here in order to beat the suspension deadline. Three weapons were exploded on two separate days—the first time this had ever been done here.

Five shots were scheduled Wednesday but two had to be held over until today.

Disheroon Service Set

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow for Mrs. Fannie A. Disheroon, who died at 2 p.m. yesterday at the home of a son, W. A. Disheroon, west Thirty-seventh Street.

Mrs. Disheroon, almost 88, was an ordained minister of the Church of the Nazarene. Ordained at the age of 43 at Mena, Ark., she preached eight years before her health failed.

She was born Fannie Stephens at Woodville, Ala., Nov. 6, 1870. She was married to W. Z. Disheroon at Woodville Sept. 7, 1889. He died in 1950. Mrs. Disheroon had lived in Snyder seven and one-half years.

The Rev. Fred Ferraez, pastor of the Snyder Church of the Nazarene, will officiate at service at that church. Following the Snyder services, a service will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow at the First Methodist Church at Ranger. Mrs. Disheroon formerly lived in Eastland County. Burial will be in the Colony Cemetery near Ranger under direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be Floyd Allmand, O. C. Brown, O. R. Brown, W. W. Brown, P. M. Calhoun, and H. T. Hardy.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. E. S. Covington of Goodrich, and four sons, W. A. Disheroon of Snyder, J. E. Disheroon of McKees Rocks, Pa., E. H. Disheroon of Clute, and W. R. Disheroon of Houston.

Heavy Snow Falls At Marfa As Showers Move Southward

Light, but soaking rains added .14 of an inch to Snyder's 1958 rainfall Wednesday. That made a total of some .26 of an inch for a two-day period, according to the official gauge of David Strayhorn.

Meanwhile, cool weather prevailed, with the thermometer dropping to a minimum of 39 degrees early today. The mercury never got out of the forties Wednesday.

Weather Bureau forecasts called for more cloudy weather, but it appeared that the rains might be tapering off, except in far West Texas.

By The Associated Press

Heavy snow fell Thursday at Marfa in the mountains of far West Texas. More rain soaked coastal and Central Texas and clouds covered nearly all the chilly state.

The mercury at sunup showed 32 at Marfa, right on the freezing mark. Snow fell off and on throughout the night. Heavy snow was reported Wednesday in the Ft. Davis area, ranging up to 3 or 4 inches at places. All roads were open.

Rains extended north from the Coastal Plains as far as Austin and Waco.

Rain soaked nearly all of Texas Wednesday and the first snow of the season fell over Guadalupe Peak, Fort Davis, Alpine, Marfa and as far east as Midland. Sleet hit the Davis Mountains. Most of the snow was mixed with rain and the falls were light.

Highs Wednesday ranged from a cool 59 at Dallas and Fort Worth to a cold 40 at Van Horn.

Rainfall for the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. Wednesday included Cotulla 1.52 inches, Victoria 1.09, Beeville 1.07 and Laredo an even inch.

Abilene, Austin, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Brownsville, El Paso, Galveston, Houston, Lubbock, Midland, Presidio, San Angelo, San Antonio, Waco, Van Horn, Lufkin, Palacios, Kingsville, Junction, College Station, Wink, Big Spring and Del Rio all showed less than an inch.

Llano, Colorado City and Eagle Pass also reported rain.

Rains of up to six inches, unofficially, drenched parts of South Texas. Some creeks spilled over their banks and closed schools at Poth, south of San Antonio.

Small craft warnings were hoisted all along the Texas coast as gusty winds buffeted the area the second straight day.

A few snow flurries fell at El Paso Wednesday night and gusty winds and light rain hit Corpus Christi.

The Rio Grande continued to fall in the Lower Valley. The river was expected to remain at flood stage from below Rio Grande City to Brownsville for a few days, however.

Light rain and drizzle continued Thursday in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Brownsville had .53 inch in 24 hours giving the city 17 inches for October, the most ever recorded there during October. McAllen had .79 inches and Edinburg .41.

Mrs. Watson Dies Today

Mrs. Lillie Mae Watson, 49, of Lion Oil Camp died at 5:30 a.m. today in Root Memorial Hospital at Colorado City after a long illness.

She was the wife of James O. Watson, employe of the Lion Oil division of Monsanto Chemical Co. here. They had lived in Scurry County since 1951, coming here from Eldorado, Ark.

She was born May 20, 1909, at McCaskille, Ark. She was a member of the Union Baptist Church and the Sisters of the Knights of Pythias. They were married in 1931 at Eldorado.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Union Baptist Church with the Rev. Roy Womble, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Hillside Memorial Gardens under direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Survivors include the husband, one son, Orville Wayne Watson of Andrews; two sisters, Mrs. Robert Rowland of Prescott, Ark., and Mrs. Robert O'Bryant of Arlington; and two brothers, James R. Long of Fort Worth and Eunice L. Long of North Little Rock, Ark.

UF Leaders Map Campaign Plans

Division chairmen of the Scurry County United Fund campaign for 1958 met yesterday afternoon with the organization's executive committee and mapped plans for opening this year's drive.

The campaign will get underway next week, with the various divisions kicking off on Wednesday and Thursday.

Stanley Noah, UF president, and Renal Rosson, campaign chairman, headed yesterday's meeting, in which the division chairmen reported on progress of lining up drive captains and other workers.

About 300 persons are expected to be working in the campaign, in which workers will shoot for a record budget of $47,336.26 for the nine participating agencies in the United Fund. The agencies are West Texas Boys Ranch, Girl Scouts, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Scurry County Boys Club, Heart Fund, United Service Organizations, Salvation Army, and Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation.

Three divisions will not hold kickoff breakfasts or dinners but will begin their drives next week. They are those of industrial employes, headed by A. J. Shaw; branch house, headed by Frank LeFeuvre; and schools, headed by Pat Falls.

The advance gifts drive will be the first to open. That division, headed by Wayne Boren and Herman Doak, will hold its kickoff breakfast Wednesday morning.

On the next morning, two more divisions will hold kickoff breakfasts. The are general business, headed by Jake Phillips, and business employes, headed by R. E. Patterson.

That evening, at a supper, the rural division will have its kickoff. Ross Williams and Pat Moore head that division, which will have chairmen and workers in each community of the county.

No Injuries In Car-Train Crash

A car was damaged, but there were no injuries in a collision of a car and a freight train here yesterday afternoon.

The accident occured at about 5:20 o'clock at the Seventeenth Street crossing of the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railroad tracks in north Snyder.

Driver and owner of the 1955 Oldsmobile involved was Hugh Cattern Smith, 1505 Avenue R.

Engineer of the RS&P train was W. V. B. Slater, Roscoe, and the conductor was Bill Beaver, Sweetwater.

Four Die In Factory Blast

CLEVELAND (AP) — A sharp explosion ripped through a three-story brick factory building on the near East Side today. It killed four men, hurt eight others and sent waves of toxic smoke pouring from shattered windows.

Twenty-five firemen were overcome by the fumes, and were treated at hospitals with oxygen.

Fire Chief Elmer Cain said the property loss at Erico Products, Inc., manufacturer of welding equipment, would be about $50,000. There was a brief flash of flame, but no further fire.

Negroes Seeking To Nullify Birmingham's Bus Ordinance

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A group of Negroes go into U.S. District Court today in an effort to have Birmingham's bus segregation ordinance declared unconstitutional.

The 22 Negroes who filed the suit against city officials and Birmingham Transit Co. were arrested in a mass demonstration against a bus segregation ordinance in December 1956.

Since then, city commissioners have repealed the ordinance which provided for separate seating of Negroes and white persons. But they replaced it with one making the transit company responsible for maintaining segregation.

The Negroes earlier this week filed an amendment to their court suit seeking to include the new ordinance. Federal Judge H. Hobart Grooms will be asked to rule on the amendment before the hearing gets under way.

Grooms is expected to be asked to throw out the suit, since the original ordinance no longer exists.

Negro leaders have accused city officials of subterfuge in adopting the new ordinance, which authorizes bus drivers to assign seats, although the law makes no mention of race.

Signs on city buses ask Negro passengers to sit in rear seats, just as was the custom under the old bus segregation ordinance.

A mass meeting of Negroes Wednesday night cheered when they were told there would be no letup on a fight for racial integration on the city's buses.

A statement was read to a meeting called by the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights from the group's president, the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, who did not attend.

Shuttlesworth said he caught a cold while being held in the city jail for five days after a demonstration against the city's new bus segregation ordinance last week.

In his statement he said, "I will not try to keep you from riding the buses. We will ask for courteous treatment and Negro bus drivers."

Halloween Moved Up

Snyder youngsters will celebrate Halloween tonight.

By official proclamation of Harold Bennett, mayor, trick-or-treat expeditions will be made by the small fry tonight instead of Friday night.

Bennett issued the proclamation yesterday. He said the action was prompted by numerous requests of Snyder residents who want to attend the Snyder-Sweetwater football game in Sweetwater tomorrow night.

Consequently, Bennett issued a dubl-barreled proclamation, setting trick-or-treat night for tonight and proclaiming Friday night as "beat Sweetwater night."

Red Lull Means Little On Quemoy

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

QUEMOY (AP) — Red China's new "every-other-day" war policy doesn't mean a thing to the people of shell-scarred Quemoy.

Exemption of supply landing areas from attack on even-numbered days — such as today — is academic to them.

"What difference does it make?" asked a Quemoy City shopkeeper. "One day they shell the beaches. The next day they don't. But they land."

"Just another plot," said Col. Richard Kung, the city's supply director. "They are still shelling the people."

So far the Communists have lived up to their peculiar odd-even-day plan. No shells have hit the beaches or airstrips on even-numbered days.

Two planes from Taipei landed today without interference. Rough weather in Formosa Strait again barred sea supply convoys from testing the Communists' pledge.

The lightening of the daily bombardments in the past 10 days has generally relaxed tension on the island, however. Electricity has been restored. Shops stay open most of the day. Children play and soldiers and civilians stroll the streets of Quemoy City.

Nationalist defense headquarters in Taipei said the Reds lobbed only 164 rounds on the Quemoy islands during Wednesday night, and 221 in the 18 hours after 6 a.m. Thursday.

The United States further bolstered the Nationalists' armed forces. U.S. commanders turned over 46 fast M41 Walker Bulldog tanks, which the Nationalists may eventually send to the Quemoys as a precaution against invasion, and four amphibious barges with a capacity of 100 tons of cargo or 100 troops.

Ike Denies Stand In California Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House denies President Eisenhower has taken any stand on whether California should wipe out its tax exemption for parochial and other private schools. Vice President Nixon describes as "falsification . . . at its worst" any suggestion that he backs such a move.

The announcement of the administration leaders' position came late Wednesday on the heels of word that the Federal Communications Commission and the FBI had had complaints about California broadcasts on the subject.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said more than 50 telegrams had been received at the White House protesting the broadcasts which implied that Eisenhower and Nixon favored a proposal to cancel the tax exemption.

Hagerty would not discuss the content of the broadcasts, but he said there was an implication as to the stand of Eisenhower and Nixon.

Other government agencies said they had received protests that some of the broadcasts had sought to incite religious hatred.

Hagerty said religious leaders of several faiths in California—Roman Catholic, Episcopalian, Baptist and Lutheran—had signed protests received at the White House.

The school taxation proposal is on the California ballot for next Tuesday's election.

The FBI declined to comment on the protests it has received, but the FCC said it had asked stations named in the complaints to supply information on the broadcasts. Names of the stations were not released.

heard I will remember all the days of my life:

"We are alive in here — How about some water."

It was a great thrill and we all laughed and cried and hollered at the same time. I don't really remember what was said for the next few minutes but I can tell you we were whooping it up for a minute or two.

Two of the fellows with me—Arnold Reese and George Hodges — had a brother-in-law, Harold Brine, in there so we let them do most of the talking. They told us they were in pretty good shape although Joe MacDonald had a broken leg.

They still had time for jokes and when Scott (first name unavailable) a Scotchman with a burr to match, yelled to them, somebody from inside told him to take the marbles out of his mouth and talk English.

There were lots of other jokes but it might be better if I didn't tell them—They were good pit talk.

It was something we never dreamed could happen. I had given up all hope. It was far beyond a miracle.

Bonds Are Forfeited In 2 Cases

Bonds were forfeited in two county court cases this week when defendents failed to appear in court, but one of the forfeiture judgments was vacated the next day when the defendent came in and pleaded guilty.

One of the bonds ordered forfeited was that for $250 on John Earl Brock, who was charged with driving while intoxicated. When Brock did not appear in court Monday, Judge Edgar Taylor entered a judgment "nisi," which means the sureties must pay unless they can show good reason for the defendent's not being on hand for the trial.

Brock was in court the next day, according to George Killam, county attorney. He pleaded guilty and was fined, and Taylor vacated the judgment. His bondsmen had been R. L. Terry and G. C. Taylor.

The other forfeiture was a $500 bond on Frederick Eugene Sanford, charged with illegal transportation of intoxicants.

Taylor entered a judgment "nisi" on Sanford's bond, sueing his sureties, T. C. Goss and H. H. Knipe, for the bond unless they can show cause by the next term of court.

A county court jury panel had been scheduled to come in today, but the civil case scheduled was continued.

New Effort Made To Settle Strike

DALLAS (AP)—Federal Mediator T. F. Morrow scheduled a meeting for 10 a.m. today with company and union representatives in a renewed effort to end a 4-month-old strike against Continental Bus.

It was announced yesterday Bus Employes Local 1142 had rejected, 284-41, an offer by the company to end the strike.

The vote was taken Oct. 14 in five Texas cities, but Dist. Judge W. L. Thornton impounded the ballots after six mechanics complained they had been denied the right to vote in the election.

1948 Class Sets Reunion

The Snyder High School Class of 1948 has set Nov. 29 as the date for its planned 10-year reunion.

The renunion will include an afternoon family gathering from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the exhibit barn in Towle Memorial Park for class members and their families.

That night at 7:30 there will be an informal dinner at the high school cafeteria for class members and their wives, husbands, or dates.

Letters have been sent out by a planning committee to all members of the class who can be located. More than 60 were graduates in the class.

Still not located are Sue Dever, Edward Boyd, Leonard Neeper, Annette Perdue, Mary Tarver, Margaret Reese, and Purris F. Williams, who was high school principal at that time.

The committee has asked that any persons knowing where any of these persons now live contact Mrs. Leon Sterling at HI3-6017 or Mrs. J. N. Eicke at HI3-7833.

Federal Aid Okay Without Any Strings

DALLAS (AP) — Roy Whittenburg, Amarillo Republican running for the U.S. Senate, said last night he favored federal help to state and local governments as long as no strings are attached.

He cited the hot lunch program in schools as a type of aid he favored. No strings are attached, as far as he knows, he said.

Whittenburg also said he favors foreign aid under the same circumstances.

"But you can't buy friends—either individuals or countries—with charity," he said. He plans to campaign in San Antonio tomorrow.

Mrs. Bowles Convicted

KOUNTZE, Tex. (AP) —District court jurors decided last night Mrs. Elma Bowles, 28, shared her husband's guilt in the shotgun slaying of her brother-in-law.

They let her off, however, with a five-year suspended sentence.

The jury convicted her of murder in the death of James Harvey, 35, at Loeb, Tex., last May 4. Witnesses said Harvey slapped her and Mrs. Bowles tried to hit him with a board the day before during an argument punctuated by curses.

Another jury convicted William Bowles, 38, in the shooting and recommended a life sentence Aug. 5. Pending the outcome of an appeal, he is a prisoner in the Liberty County jail. Bowles founded the National Assn. for Advancement of White People before moving to this area.

Armed Guard Is Needed

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Judge John R. James objected Monday when two armed guards were posted in his courtroom for the trial of Earl Ward on a second-degree murder charge.

Ward wasn't going to run away, said the judge, and there was no need for the guns. Sheriff Arvid Owsley argued that Ward was a dangerous character, and the judge agreed to let one deputy, with pistol, remain.

Wednesday, as the jury deliberated Ward's case, he asked for permission to step into a corridor for a drink of water. Once there, he broke for freedom. The judge, at that instant walking down the hall, shouted for him to stop.

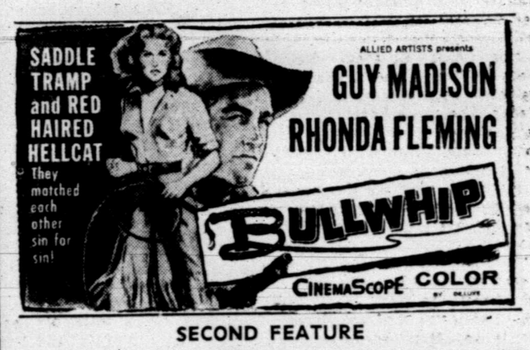

"He stopped, looked at me and walked back," Judge James said.

It's probably that Ward also saw Deputy Clyde Hatfield's leveled gun when he stopped.

Pressure Believed Cause Of Pasternak's Prize Refusal

By The Associated Press

Three Western Nobel Prize-winning authors agreed today that Boris Pasternak turned down his 1958 award because of pressure from the Soviet government; not because he agreed with the Kremlin's condemnation of his work.

The 68-year-old Russian writer was awarded the $41,420 prize a week ago for his poetry and his novel, "Doctor Zhivago," which describes the loss of freedom in Soviet society. The novel is a best-seller in the West but has been suppressed in the Soviet Union.

Wednesday, after a government campaign of vilification in which the Nobel committee was accused of playing cold war politics, Pasternak cabled the Swedish Royal Academy of Letters that he was refusing the prize "because of the meaning attributed to this award in the society I live in."

"Do not take my voluntary refusal with any ill will," he added.

Previously he had messaged that he was "immensely thankful, touched, proud, astonished, abashed" by the honor.

France's Albert Camus, winner of the 1957 Nobel Prize for Literature, commented, "I don't believe Pasternak refused the Nobel Prize of his own free will. . . ."

Earl Bertrand Russell, 86-year-old British philosopher who won the 1950 prize, said he was "disgusted with the Russians' attitude to this from the start. Knowing the Russian way of life as we do, we may well think that Pasternak had no alternative but to reject this prize."

He joined another Nobel winner, poet T. S. Eliot, and several other leading British writers in a plea to the Soviet Writers Union not to victimize Pasternak. The union, a prime organ of government control of Soviet writers, already has expelled Pasternak from its ranks.

In a telegram to the union president in Moscow, the British writers termed Pasternak "one of the world's great poets and writers" and said: "We appeal to you in the name of the great Russian literary tradition for which you stand not to dishonor it by victimizing a writer reversed throughout the entire civilized world."

The signers included novelist Graham Greene, Aldous and Julian Huxley, E. M. Forster, Somerset Maugham, J. B. Priestley and Rebecca West.

Pearl Buck, American author of "The Good Earth" and the 1938 winner, said she was "deeply saddened" that Pasternak was not permitted to accept the prize.

"The rejection, which no doubt was made under pressure, does not alter his world stature as a writer," she added. "It does reflect, most unfortunately, upon upon his government and his compatriots."

In Communist Poland, leading writers said they were sure only government threats had forced Pasternak's action. The Polish Writers Union, a hotbed of independent sentiment in the Red-ruled country, already had congratulated Pasternak on his honor and there was consternation at his rejection of the award.

In Moscow, the author was the target of the severest attack yet. Before a crowd of thousands in the Lenin Sports Palace, Secretary V. E. Semichastny of the Young Communist League pictured him as a slanderer who should leave his country. He said he was sure the Soviet government would place no obstacle in Pasternak's way if he wanted to go "to his capitalist paradise."

Pasternak was still living at his home in a writers' colony outside Moscow but asked Western reporters not to visit him there any more. He told them he acted on his own in rejecting the prize. "I speak for myself," he said.

Dr. Anders Oesterling, secretary of the Swedish awarding committee, said Pasternak would still do down in history as the 1958 Nobel Prize winner whether the Russians like it or not.

"Our judgment cannot be changed by what is now happening," he said.

Vegetables On Bargain List

By The Associated Press

Snap beans and sweet corn, cabbage and carrots are the bargains at most Texas food stores this week.

With large shipments for these vegetables from Georgia, Florida, Louisiana and California prices have declined to about the low point of the season, the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture reports.

Both cabbage and carrots wear lower price tags than a week ago.

Lettuce runs a shade lower in price than a week ago but tomatoes and onions run higher.

Sweet potatoes, celery, turnips and rutabagas are about unchanged.

Big news at the fruit counter is the increase in supplies of Texas oranges and grapefruit at slightly lower prices. California citrus fruits remain scarce and unchanged.

Apples hold the bargain spotlight with small and medium fruits lower than a week ago. Cranberries declined a little this week.

Eggs, milk and some manufactured dairy foods are inching upward in price. Broilers and beef remain about the same, but some markets are posting lower prices for fresh pork, bacon and ham.

Cub Scout Pack Holds Meeting

Cub Scout Pack 35 of the North Elementary School held its regular meeting last night at the school.

Aubrey Headstream, new cubmaster, was introduced by D. M. Foree, chairman of the pack committee. Headstream succeeds Bill Babcock, who has served the pack for three years and will now work with Boy Scouts.

A number of Bobcat pins were presented to boys.

Games and refreshments followed the meeting.

Crip Tucker Back In Jail For Year

Luther (Crip) Tucker, 45-year-old resident of South Avenue M, is in jail again.

Tucker, one of Snyder's leading bootleggers for the past several years, yesterday entered pleas of guilty to four charges in county court, and in three of them County Judge Edgar Taylor gave Tucker one-year sentences, all to run concurrently.

Those charges included one of illegal possession of intoxicants, one of sale and possession, and one of aggravated assault against his wife. The bootleg cases had been filed for enhancement, in which he could have gotten up to four years in jail.

The fourth charge was one of disturbance which Tucker had appealed from corporation court after being fined $200 there. When Tucker pleaded guilty to all four charges in a package and got the one-year sentence, Judge Taylor allowed him to pay $1 fine plus $23.50 costs on the disturbance charge.

Tucker has been in and out of jail and prison many times during the past several years, spending about as much in the cell as out.

In 1951, he was given a year in jail and $1,000 fine for bootlegging.

In 1953, he was given a four-year penitentiary sentence for forgery.

In 1957, he was fined $1,000 for bootlegging. He served 326 days in jail that time in lieu of fine, then paid the rest of it to get out of jail last January.

Priests Rule Out UNICEF Campaign

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Two Roman Catholic pastors today held firm in their decisions to prohibit parish children from joining a Halloween fund drive for a U.N. child relief program tabbed as Communist-affiliated by an American Legion report.

The priests declined to change their positions after the director of the organization's U.S. committee said "We categorically deny the charge and its implication."

The pastors, heads of churches in small communities in neighboring Waukesha County, refused to let the children collect in tonight's trick or treat drive for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

The priests are the Rev. Joseph Stier of St. Mary's Church in Pewaukee and the Rev. Casimir Kuszewski of St. Theresa's Church in Eagle.

They acted after reading a report which said that "16 or more members of the UNICEF organization are either convicted Reds or in some way affiliated with communism." The report was made by an American Legion antisubversive committee in Washington State.

Norman Acton, executive director of the U.S. Committee for UNICEF, said in New York that "We have seen the original false information on which this is based and we categorically deny the charge and its implications."

Three Men Killed In Jet Plane Crash

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Three men died Wednesday when an RB47 jet from Little Rock Air Force Base plummeted into a cotton field and burst into flames.

Air Force officials identified the dead as Capt. Walter Thomas Berninger, 36, Catawissa, Pa., instructor pilot; 1st Lt. Luther Edgar Connon, 30, Leavenworth, Wash.; and Maj. Harry George Johnson, 38, Lake Charles, La.

Ambitious Party Worker Is Injured

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Bernice Ashmore, 54-year-old Democratic party worker, tried to climb a tree to do a good turn for the party and wound up in a hospital.

She took on the chore of providing table decorations for a Democratic rally Wednesday night.

She had no trouble providing leaves, red berries and wild corn for table decorations. But in trying to get some persimmons, she fell out of a tree and suffered three broken ribs and a punctured lung.

She is reported resting comfortably.

No Change In Acreage For Rice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rice growers may plant 1,652,596 acres in 1959, the same as the past three years and the minimum allotment under the law, the Agriculture Department said yesterday.

It fixed Texas' 1959 allotment at 422,147 acres, or 169 less than the state's allotment of 422,316 last year.

Officials said the department will announce marketing quotas, if they are to be invoked, and price supports for the 1959 rice crop shortly after Nov. 15.

They said that with average yields, the allotted acreage next year is expected to yield about 51,200,000 hundredweight of rice. Counting the estimated carryover next Aug. 1 and additional imports, the department said such a harvest would put the total supply at 63,800,000 hundredweight.

With a national reserve of 950 acres deducted, 12 other states share the 1959 acreage allotment with Texas.

These states and their respective 1959 and 1958 allotments are Arizona, 229 and 229; Arkansas, 398,355 and 299,767; Louisiana, 474,821 and 475,011; Oklahoma, 149 and 149, and South Carolina, 2,845 and 2,846.

Many a good argument is knocked down and ran over by progress.

Man. 90, Loses Home In Auction

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A 90-year-old man living alone on a meager pension lost his rural home at a sheriff's sale Wednesday. But the woman who bought it firmly told him he could live there until his death.

Miss Rose Farber was an unexpected bidder for the three-story stone house and 18 surrounding acres where Cadwallader Clegg has lived for 50 years.

Quietly announcing her bids, she finally got the home and land for $10,000. Clegg's creditor's bowed out at $9,700. Miss Farber said she represented a real estate investment company. She didn't say what the company plans to do with the rundown property.

But she told the men gathered at the county courthouse for the sale: "Mr. Clegg will be allowed to occupy the house as long as he lives."

It's not quite what Clegg wanted. He wanted to own the home in Lower Providence Township too. That was out of the question.

Thirteen years ago a car he was driving crashed into a motorcycle, injuring Robert H. Smith of Doylestown, Pa., and William Reiff of Kulpsville, Pa.

They brought suit in 1951. Smith won $18,000, Reiff $1,860. Interest now has increased the total to $28,360. Miss Farber's purchase is subject to this judgment and any other liens.

Clegg was unable to meet the claim, much less the mounting interest. The retired machinist, a widower, has only a $54-a month social security pension, barely enough to feed himself, his dog and his two cats.

Attorneys for the two men wanted him to sign over his property, assuring him he could go on living there.

Clegg refused. Stubbornly he held on to the title of his home—a home with neither running water nor electricity—and the acres he likes to roam with his beloved animals.

Last month Montgomery County Judge Harold G. Knight authorized the sheriff's sale—and Miss Farber showed up.

Success formula: A man thoughest competitor should be himself.

Seeks Part Of Estate

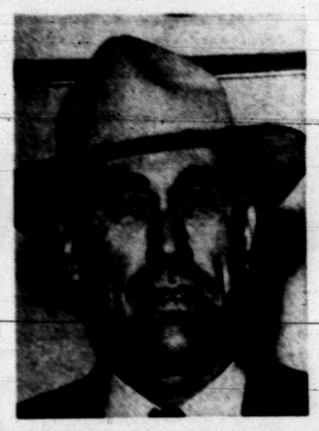

DETROIT (AP)—A Waco, Tex., woman has filed suit in Federal Court here claiming part of the estate of a Detroit industrialist who died two years ago.

Mrs. Mollie Amason, 52, said in her suit filed yesterday she was the long-deserted wife of James D. Adams. Adams, 56 when he died, was president of Pressure Cast Products Co.

Mrs. Amason said she and Adams were married July 12, 1924 and never were divorced. Her suit asserts Adams went through a marriage ceremony with another woman in 1935.

She charged Adams deserted her and their son some time prior to 1935 and eloped with a woman she identified as Corinne McFerrin Adams, 48, of suburban Grosse Pointe Farms.

Defendants in the suit are Mrs. Adams and R. L. Sanders Jr., a major stockholder with Adams in Pressure Cast. They were sued in their capacity as administrators for Adams' estate.

Judy Now Denies Harsh Treatment

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Judy Garland, who said in an affidavit last March that husband Sid Luft had beaten and tried to strangle her, has denied it on the witness stand.

"I'd say he had a very good disposition," the singer testified Wednesday. She was helping Luft resist the effort of his ex-wife, actress Lynn Bari, to regain custody of the Luft-Bari son, John, 10.

Luft won custody last month on grounds the youngster needed home and family life instead of living in a boarding school. Miss Garland was subpoenaed to answer questions about the boy's adjustment to life in the Luft-Garland home.

Miss Bari's lawyer picked up the divorce complaint Miss Garland filed last March in which she said in a sworn affidavit that Luft had beaten and attempted to strangle her.

"Has he ever attempted to strangle you?" the attorney asked.

"No," the singer replied in a low voice.

"Did he ever beat you?"

"No."

Miss Bari's present husband, Dr. Nathan Rickles, Beverly Hills psychiatrist, testified earlier to a telephone exchange with Luft when the boy was being prepared to go to the Luft home. He said Luft called him an unprintable name and said if the child weren't delivered in half an hour "he would bring four men and take him forcibly."

"I said, 'Look, I don't take swearing from anybody, especially you,'" Dr. Rickles related. ". . . He said he didn't give a darn what my wife's feelings were, that I was a psychiatrist and maybe I should treat my wife. I told him I thought I was treating my wife a lot better than he was taking care of his wife. . . ."

Coleman's Dam Plea Is Studied

AUSTIN (AP)—Coleman's application to build a million dollar dam on Jim Ned Creek is being studied by the Board of Water Engineers.

Chairman Durwood Manford indicated a close look would be given to the operation of Brown County Water District No. 1, which opposed the city's request and uses water from Lake Brownwood.

"It looks as if they've violated practically every law in the books," Manford told newsmen yesterday, after various witnesses testified to the district's past operation.

Coleman is seeking approval to build its dam and take 11,200 acre feet of water annually.

The district claimed the permit request was too high and pointed to testimony by Coleman's consulting engineer, James Cotton of Dallas, that the project would produce nine million gallons of water daily. He also testified that the city's needs in the year 2000 would be 2,620,000 million gallons daily.

Most of yesterday's testimony closing the 3-day hearing centered on the Brown County Water District.

Various witnesses testified the district violated its water permit by using more water per acre for irrigation than authorized, impounding 136,500 acre feet of water in Lake Brownwood although the permit called for 125,000 acre feet.

Ike Helping Bruce Alger

DALLAS (AP)—President Eisenhower has thrown the prestige of his office into the Dallas congressional race.

The President sent Rep. Bruce Alger, Texas' only Republican member of Congress, a telegram praising his contributions to the cause of good government and wishing him success.

Alger, who is seeking a third term, is opposed by former State Rep. Barefoot Sanders, Democrat.

The President's telegram said: "Congratulations on the vigorous campaign you are waging. I want you, our friends and neighbors—my good friends in the Fifth District of Texas—to know how highly I value the contributions you have made to the cause of good government. May you have every success on Nov. 4."

Alger, who has been criticized by Democrats for opposing some administration programs, commented "It proves that Republicans can have differences and still work together as a team."

New Group May Follow Hoover Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The end of the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report has brought a hint that a new group may be formed to hunt for further ways to streamline government operations.

The citizens committee, announcing it has gone out of business, said 64 per cent of the government reorganization proposals made by the second Hoover Commission have been put into effect. The citizens committee was formed to push for adoption of those proposals.

Former President Herbert Hoover, who headed two commissions on organization of the executive branch, estimated that ultimately three billion dolars a year would be saved through changes advocated by his second commission.

President Eisenhower, in congratulating the citizens committee for its work on behalf of government efficiency, promised that his administration will work along lines suggested by the Hoover Commission.

A hint of a possible new group along the lines of that commission came in Eisenhower's statement that "the time will come when there will be need for a new comprehensive review such as inspired Mr. Hoover's monumental missions."

The first Hoover Commission functioned during the Truman administration. The second one operated during the Eisenhower administration and went out of existence in 1955.

Sees Harm In Campaign

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—U.S. Rep. Carl Albert (D-Okla) told a Tulsa Democratic party rally Wednesday night that political campaigning by President Eisenhower may have caused irreparable harm to America's foreign policy.

Albert, Democratic whip in the House, spoke at a $10-a-plate party dinner attended by 1,100 persons.

Albert accused Eisenhower of "cruel and unfair tactics" against the Democrats, adding that "in the cold war against communism, it is important that America remain united."

Presidential utterances, designed to cast aspersions upon a large segment of our population," said Albert, "are calculated to divide and not unite our people."

He said Democratic leadership in Congress cooperated with Eisenhower, who is the only person who can speak for America in foreign policy.

"We believe politics should stop at the shore line," he said.

"The job of selling the Eisenhower foreign policy as now administered is not an easy job and nobody knows this better than I as Democratic whip."

Nixon Starts His Final Bid

By The Associated Press

Vice President Nixon returned to the corn belt today as he headed west on his final bid for election of a Republican Congress in next Tuesday's voting.

Nixon, en route to a weekend of campaigning in Alaska, stopped overnight in Chicago before traveling to Fort Dodge, Iowa, and Wichita, Kan., today.

His Friday schedule takes him to Billings, Mont., and Everett, Wash., before he heads for Alaska. Voters of the prospective 49th state will name two U.S. senators and a representative in a specail election Nov. 25.

Campaigning in California Wednesday night, Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler renewed his suggestion that Democrats who won't support a civil rights plank in 1960 get out of the party.

Butler told a news conference at West Covina that Democrats who couldn't go along with such a plank should either stay in the party and try to put over their own viewpoint—or support a Republican ticket or a third-party movement or stay home and not vote.

At Greenwich, Conn., GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn ripped anew into what he called Democratic "radicals."

"Would you rather have government in the hands of the left-wing gang or see it in the hands of the Republican party?" he asked a GOP rally.

President George Meany of the AFL-CIO appeared to hit mostly at Republican campaigners in telling a nationwide radio audience he wanted to "puncture the big labor political scare balloon of 1958."

But he mentioned neither parties nor candidates by name in assailing what he called campaign talk that organized labor is trying to take the nation down the road to socialism. Speaking from Washington, Meany said:

"The hidden purpose behind this cry of socialism, and such phrases as leading America 'down the left lane' is to plant in the minds of the American people the idea that labor is pro-Communist.

"This is an unforgivable and completely unjustified trick."

With the campaign going into its final days, President Eisenhower prepared to wind up his speechmaking with a nationwide radio-television talk in Baltimore Friday night.

The White House announced that the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will vote Tuesday at Gettysburg, Pa., and then return to Washington to receive the election returns.

Nixon voted Wednesday before flying to Chicago. Aides said he voted the straight Republican ticket on his California absentee ballot. But they declined to say how he voted on a right-to-work referendum which has divided major California GOP candidates.

Mrs. Nixon and the two Nixon daughters—Pavricia, 12, and Julie, 10—fly to Seattle Friday to join the vice president for his flight to Juneau, Alaska, Saturday. It will be the first campaign trip for the Nixon girls.

The Nixons plan to fly to Fairbanks for a Monday appearance before returning to Washington.

Pope Starts Reign In Tight Robes

By STAN CARTER

ROME (AP)—Pope John XXIII started his pontificate in too tight robes even though the papal tailor had a set of stylish stouts cut to his size.

The tailor, Annibale Gammarelli, disclosed today that Angelo Cardinal Roncalli was one of the four prospective pontiffs to whose varying shapes he cut a papal wardrobe in advance. The idea was that the new Pope could appear properly dressed immediately after the College of Cardinals elected him.

But Gammarelli said when the princes of the church elected Cardinal Roncalli Tuesday to succeed Pius XII, attendants in their excitement grabbed the wrong robes a set made for a smaller man.

Pope John appeared in the snug garments on the balcony of St. Peter's Basilica in the traditional follow-up to the election. It was not until Wednesday that he received the larger set.

The tailor had figured that one of his four models would become pope, and that anyone else chosen would approximate one of his models in size. His choices in additional to Cardinal Roncalli were Gregory Peter Cardinal Agagianian, patriarch of Cilicia of the Armenians; Ernesto Cardinal Ruffini, archbishop of Palermo; and Giuseppe Cardinal Siri, archbishop of Genoa.

The Pope's new wardrobe includes three gowns of white wool, three cassocks of white moire silk, one mozzetta (short cape) of crimson satin, one camauro (cap) of crimson satin, three sashes of white moire silk, three skullcaps of white moire silk, three pairs of shoes of crimson satin, one hat of crimson satin.

Actress' Son Dies In Crash

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Collision of two light planes over the San Fernando Valley killed three men, including actress Maureen O'Sullivan's 19-year-old son.

He was Michael D. Farrow, first of seven children of the Irish-born actress and movie writer-director John Farrow. The parents are in London, where the elder Farrow is completing production of a picture.

Michael, who had a student flying certificate, was killed Wednes- Johnson, 21, a flying instructor at a small airport in suburban Pacoima.

The other victim, flying alone in the other craft, was Donald W. Preneville, 39, of nearby Glendale.

The single-engine planes collided at about 600 feet in clear, sunny weather and fell 200 yards apart at opposite sides of a gravel pit near the airport.

Eastern Star Ends Its Annual Session

HOUSTON (AP)—Texas members of the Order of the Eastern Star wound up their annual meeting today.

The final order of business for more than 6,000 at the gathering was to elect and install new officers.

The lodge's Grand Chapter of Texas honored Katherine Poulis of San Antonio, associate grand matron, and Lewis Davis of Kerrville, associate grand patron, at a breakfast.

Says Critics Fail To Support Demands

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The trouble with critics of television is that they talk one way and dial the other, a New York advertising executive says.

"People like to imagine themselves as more erudite than they generally are," John P. Cunningham told the San Francisco Advertising Club.

More Wheat In Storage

AUSTIN (AP)—Wheat stored in Texas Oct. 1 was 38 per cent more than in October a year ago, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said today. Other grain stocks also were high.

The USDA estimated the wheat total at 153,800,000 bushels.

Rye stocks at 247,000 bushels were 46,000 or 23 per cent above that stored on the same date last year.

Stocks of feed grains—corn, oats, barley and sorghum—are more than double the holdings of last year. This increase, said the crop reporting board of the USDA, is due to the fact that sorghum stocks are nearly three times greater than those of Oct. 1, 1937.

The sorghum figure reflects the record-large production in 1957 plus reduced feed needs during the greater part of 1958, the USDA said.

Two Texas Cities Leading In Safety

CHICAGO (AP)—Two Texas cities pace the nation in their population groups on holding down traffic deaths this year.

The National Safety Council said yesterday Victoria, Tex., Medford, Ore., and South Euclid, Ohio, with no fatalities in the first nine months of 1958, lead the 10,000-25,000 population class.

It listed Amarillo, with a score of 0.5 deaths per 10,000 registered vehicles, as co-leader with Hartford, Conn., and Lincoln, Neb., in the 100,000-200,000 class.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

THE TIGER-BIG SPRING game this fall out-drew the Big Spring-Abilene game, according to the official figures.

Total paid attendance for the Tiger-Steer game was 5,214 while the attendance for the Abilene-Big Spring tilt was 4,501. Total receipts for the two games showed $5,659.50 for the Tiger-Steer game to $4,525.80 for the Abilene-Steer tilt.

Both games were played in Big Spring.

After expenses were deducted, Snyder and Big Spring netted $2,703.64 each to $1,902.29 Abilene and Big Spring netted.

Year-in-and-year-out the game with Big Spring is one of the biggest drawing cards on the Tiger schedule whether the game is played here or in Big Spring.

And, to date, the 5,214 that showed up for the Tiger-Big Spring game this fall is the top home crowd for Big Spring this season. Big Spring has already played five home games and still has two more to go.

In all likelihood, the game with Sweetwater Friday night will top the Tiger-Big Spring attendance. Last year's Tiger-Sweetwater game attracted 6,975 fans here and this figure may again be reached this Friday night at Sweetwater.

And speaking of attendance figures, only 2,503 paid to see Sweetwater and Lamesa clash last Friday night at Lamesa.

Tiger Fans Hard To Beat For Loyalty

We can say this for Tiger fans, they may grumble now and then when things aren't going just right on the football field but they are about as faithful as any group of fans you'll see.

Yesterday's ticket sales here proved that. Despite the bad weather, cold and rain, and coming on the heels of an unexpected 12-12 tie with Colorado City, the fans made a big rush at the ticket headquarters yesterday, purchasing some 600 tickets for Friday's game at Sweetwater the first day the paste boards were placed on sale.

There'll be a lot of fans who'll wait until Friday to see what the wait until Fjkay to see what the weather man is going to do before making final plans to attend the game.

By having "trick or treat" night tonight it will release a lot of mothers and dads to go to the game tomorrow night.

If the weather is right, there'll possibly be at least 1,500 Tiger fans in the stands tomorrow night.

Sweetwater fans are pretty sure their charges will win tomorrow's game in a walk but the Mustang coaches do not know what to expect from the Tigers.

According to Galyn Wilkins, Sweetwater scribe, the Mustang coaching staff is at a loss on just what kind a team the Tigers have. Tough 2-14

Says Wilkins:

"It's a tough one to figure. When we saw the Tiger-Breckenridge blood-letting several weeks ago we said the Tigers had a long way to go. What else could anyone think? The next week they did come back to blow apart Midland 34-22. But last week they got tied by Colorado City. Strictly by the record there is nothing to worry about."

But the coaches theory is this, according to Wilkins:

"It would have been easier had the Tigers plastered everybody on the schedule. There would be no problem. We'd know Snyder was coming armed to the teeth with a good, solid working club. But they have been up and down all year."

We just hope there won't be any fans staying away tomorrow because of the Tigers' listless showing against Colorado City last week. We're mighty afraid they'll be sorry if they do. We feel like the Tigers will turn in their top performance of the season against the Mustangs. And if the ball bounces just right, who knows but what the Tigers will shock the football world with a victory tomorrow night.

Don't forget the bonfire and pep rally tonight in Towle Park when Tiger boosters get their pre-game festivities in full gear. The bonfire will be lit at about 7 p.m.

Blue Devils Play Lamesa Here Tonight

The Snyder Junior High Blue Devils will entertain Lamesa Junior High tonight in a doubleheader at Tiger Stadium.

The 7th graders of the two schools will open the program at 6:30 p.m. The 8th graders will clash immediately following the 7th grade game.

Snyder's other two lower-classman teams, the Tiger "B" and Freshman teams, will play on the road this afternoon and tonight. The "B" team plays San Angelo "B" at 4 p.m. in San Angelo today while the Tiger Freshmen will meet Lamesa at Lamesa tonight at 7:30.

In previous games with Lamesa, Snyder 7th won by 46-0, the Blue Devil 8th graders won by 18-0 and the Tiger Freshmen won by 24-6. San Angelo measured Tiger B by 13-12 in an earlier game.

Snyder 7th currently sports a 5-2 record, Snyder 8th is unbeaten but tied twice in seven outings, the Tiger Freshmen have won five of seven and the Tiger B team is all even with three wins and three defeats.

Probable starting lineups for the local teams tonight will be as follows:

7TH GRADE

ENDS — Jackie Stewart and Roy Rice.
TACKLES — Larry Lee and Tommy Christian.
GUARDS — Eddie Kirby and Jimmy Tullos.
CENTER — Bobby Lieb.
QUARTERBACK — Benny Mihor and Ygnacio Benitez.
FULLBACK — Edward Schulz.

8TH GRADE

ENDS — Melvin Gunnells and Pat LaFountain.
TACKLE — Riley Boothe and Weldon Duke.
GUARDS — Billy Kitchings and William Robinson.
CENTER — Kenny Wellborn.

HALFBACKS — Pat LaFountain and Dean Howard.
FULLBACK — Bob Pena.

TIGER FRESHMEN

ENDS — Darrell Rains or Ronnie Merritt and Freddie Miller or Wiley.
TACKLES — Dahl Edelman or Wayne Dower and Joe Byrd.
GUARDS — Butch Browning and Bill Weaver.
CENTER — Larry McNair.
QUARTERBACK — Eddie Phy.
HALFBACKS — Spencer Dyer and Joshua John.
FULLBACK — Mike Morris.

Gifford To Be Fit For Brown Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Gifford, New York Giants' gifted halfback, likely will be ready for limited action against the Cleveland Browns Sunday, but it'll probably be in a new role.

Gifford, his right knee heavily taped, participated in the Giants' workout Wednesday and according to Coach Jim Lee Howell will see limited action, possibly at quarterback.

REMINISCING BIG VICTORY—Pictured above are four of the starters for the Tigers in the 1929 football season, the year the Tigers registered a 26-7 victory over Sweetwater, the biggest margin of victory for the Tigers over the Mustangs in the history of the series between the two schools. From left to right, they are guard Jack Isaacs, halfback M. M. Clark, tackle J. T. Trice and halfback N. R. Clements. They are the only remaining members of the starting 11 that fall who still reside here. Trice was the team captain that season. (Lee Watson photograph)

Tigers, Mustangs To Battle 13th Time Tomorrow Night

Snyder and Sweetwater will clash for the 13th time tomorrow night when they get together in a crucial District 3-AAA contest at Mustang Bowl in Sweetwater.

The Tigers missed a chance last season to catch up with the Ponies in number of victories chalked up by each team in the series when they dropped a 21-7 decision to the Mustangs.

Instead of squaring the series at 6-6, the Tigers dropped two behind at 7-5 following last year's contest.

The Mustangs broke a three-year drouth by winning last year's tilt, the Tigers having won in 1955 and 1956.

Sweetwater will be heavily favored to win the 13th meeting between the two rivals tomorrow night.

The Mustangs will carry a 5-1 record into the game to the Tigers' 4-2-1. Sweetwater leads the district race by virtue of a 26-0 win over Lamesa last week in its 3-AAA opener. The Tigers, meanwhile, were being held to a surprise 12-12 tie by Colorado City in their district lid-lifter.

As has been the case in the past three Tiger - Mustang meetings, the district title hinges on the outcome of the tilt tomorrow night. Winner of the game will be favored to proceed to the championship.

Snyder won the district title by beating the Mustangs in 1955, 26-14, and followed suit in 1956 by winning on Joe Reaves' field goal, 3-0. Each time the Mustangs finished second to the Tigers in the final district standings.

The Mustangs then turned the tables on the Tigers last year, 21-7, to win the district crown, the Tigers finishing second.

The Tigers and Mustangs are all even at three wins apiece since they began playing each other again in 1952. Prior to '52, the Tigers and Mustangs hadn't met since 1937.

Sweetwater won in 1952-54-57 while the Tigers emerged victorious in 1953-55-56 since the series was resumed.

The biggest margin of victory by the Tigers in the series was 26-7 in 1929. Four starting members of the Tigers in '29 are still residing here. They are guard Jack Isaacs, tackle J. T. Trice, and halfbacks M. M. Clark and N. R. Clements.

Sweetwater's biggest win was 49-0 in 1937.

The "toe" has decided two of the Tiger - Mustang games. The Mustangs won by a conversion attempt in 1954, 13-12, while the Tigers won in 1956 by the aforementioned field goal by Reaves, 3-0.

Following are the scores of past Tiger-Mustang games:

1925—Snyder 0, Sweetwater 30.
1927—Snyder 6, Sweetwater 0.
1928—Snyder 12, Sweetwater 21.
1929—Snyder 26, Sweetwater 7.
1931—Snyder 0, Sweetwater 32.
1937—Snyder 0, Sweetwater 49.
1952—Snyder 7, Sweetwater 47.
1953—Snyder 13, Sweetwater 0.
1954—Snyder 12, Sweetwater 13.
1955—Snyder 26, Sweetwater 14.
1956—Snyder 3, Sweetwater 0.
1957—Snyder 7, Sweetwater 21.
1958—Snyder ?, Sweetwater ?.

Psychology Being Used In Southwest Conference Drills

By The Associated Press

An outsider looking in on some of the Southwest Conference football training camps Wednesday might have been confused.

At SMU he would see a flock of guys wearing white jerseys with the numbers of the Texas Longhorns on them.

At TCU he would have glimpsed a couple of fellows they called "Buddy Humphrey" and "Larry Hickman" of Baylor.

At College Station he would see "Jim Mooty," "Mike Cooney" and "Donnie Stone" playing like mad against Texas A&M. Mooty, Cooney and Stone are from Arkansas.

It was just the way the Southwest Conference teams prepare for each other—they want battle conditions to see if they can take care of the opposition.

Coach Jim Myers of Texas A&M was pretty discouraged when his team worked against Arkansas plays and couldn't stop a bread-wagon. "I don't know whether or not we've quit playing Baylor," Myers grumbled, "but I do know we didn't stop Jesse McGuire or Rodger McFarland, who were running Arkansas plays."

The Aggies had two guards on the injury list—Buddy Payne and Bill Godwin. Ted Allen and Ladayne Johnson of the reserves came up to the varsity to replace them.

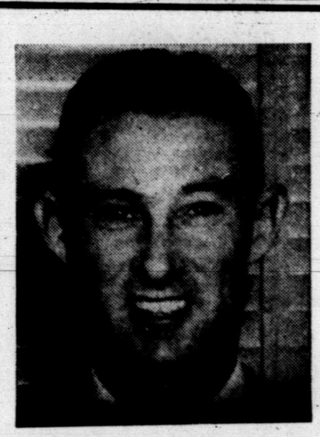

TCU tried stopping Humphrey and Hickman but didn't do very well at it. Guard Roy Rambo, out with a leg injury, returned to the squad.

A reserve team that showed up wearing Texas numbers and using Longhorn plays at SMU. The varsity had a very sharp workout against them and appeared to be doing very well at handling the situation. Ken Lowe, the No. 3 quarterback, missed the practice because of bruised ribs but is expected to be back Thursday.

Baylor found itself in top physical condition, with No. 3 tackle Mike Cobb the only absentee, but Coach Sam Boyd shied away from contact work. He held a long drill and praised the quarterbacking of Humphrey and Bob Starr.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal cautiously commented that he thought his team had a reasonable chance of victory over SMU. "I think it's going to be another of those toss-up games," he declared. "We'll be ready to play."

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles sent his team through a long pass defense drill, observing that "We'll have to be on the lookout. They (Texas A&M) pass more than any other single wing team I've ever seen."

3 New Leaders In College Offense

By The Associated Press

Three new individual offense leaders bobbed up in major college football this week, all taking over with spectacular performances.

Sonny Randle of Virginia nabbed nine tosses last week and raised his season total to 32, the most any player has made in six games since 1952. This despite the fact Virginia's ace passer, Reece Whitley, has been sidelined with injuries the past two weeks.

Bill Austin, Rutgers' man of all work, scored three times against Lehigh last Saturday, bringing his total to 66 points. He now has scored more touchdowns in five games than any major college player in recorded history — 10. Howard Cook of Colorado is in second place with 53 points, including eight touchdowns.

Dale Hackett of Wisconsin took over the punt-return lead with a 64-yard touchdown gallop which blotted Ohio State's perfect record with a tie.

Only Georgia's Bob Walden, with a 47.4-yard punting average; Drake's Tom Newell, with 278 yards on kickoff returns, and Don Black, New Mexico's spectacular pass catcher who has averaged four points for every catch, retained their leads in their respective departments last week.

Bill Kreitling of Illinois, who has covered 426 yards on only 13 pass receptions for a 32.8-yard average, is in a class by himself in that department.

Black caught three passes against Wyoming Saturday. Two of them were for touchdowns, bringing his six-game record to seven touchdowns in 10 receptions.

By throwing for two touchdowns, in addition to scoring three himself, Austin brought his touchdown-responsibility total to 17 in five games.

Only two others this season have contributed even half as many points as Austin in the touchdown-responsibility department. Cook has been responsible for 71 points, and Bill Holsclaw of Virginia Tech for 58. Austin's total is 114, including six extra points.

Roberts In Top Comeback In National

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—"I felt better and was throwing better."

That's how Robin Roberts summarized his 1958 pitching record of 17 victories and 14 losses that won him the Comeback Player of the Year title in the National League.

Roberts got 59 of the 98 votes by members of the Baseball Writers Assn of America in the annual Associated Press poll. Bob Friend of Pittsburgh got 21 votes and Bobby Thomson of Chicago 13.

The 32-year-old Philadelphia hurler referred to his dismal 10-22 record for 1957 and said it "definitely made me a candidate for the (comeback) honor, didn't it?"

The strapping right-hander did not make any excuses after that fiasco. "I just got clobbered. That is all," he said.

But Roberts, in Savannah to look after his seafood packing and restaurant business, had a ready reason for his improvement.

"I suppose I made a comeback this year because I felt better and was throwing better," he commented. "I wasn't throwing any different stuff — not too much anyhow — but I was throwing better.

"I can tell you one thing. I'm looking forward to next season and I personally hope to do better. I feel fine and I suppose this feeling comes from winning. It makes a lot of difference the way you feel when you're out there winning."

Roberts' 1957 mark was the worst in his major league career. He won 20 or more games for six straight years, 1948-55, before dropping to a 19-18 mark in 1956. Then in 1957 his earned run average soared to 4.07. But his 1958 performance trimmed this to 3.27.

Haynes A Valuable Man At North Texas

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Two guys watch Abner Haynes every step he takes on the football field but the mighty halfback of North Texas State keeps on winning games.

He will do it as a decoy, catching passes, running back punts, carrying the ball or blocking.

Haynes, the 175-pounder who was the first Negro to play in Texas college football last Fall, frequently looks like a sitting duck for enemy guns.

When he comes out of the huddle, he often lopes over to a wide flanker position. But he knows he won't be lonesome like Army's end—there's always an enemy end and linebacker out there to keep him company.

The defense's caution is understandable. As a sophomore on the North Texas State second unit last year, Haynes led the Missouri Valley Conference in rushing with 639 yards.

This year he's a marked man. But in spite of the concentration on the shifty halfback he leads the league in pass receptions, with 12 for 216 yards and three touchdowns; in scoring with 38 points, and in punt returns with 123 yards on six. In rushing he has carried the ball only about nine times per game but has gained 254 yards for a 4.5 average.

"He's a threat any time he touches the ball," says Coach Odus Mitchel.

Here's the evidence:

He took a 14-yard scoring pass and ran 14 yards to set up his own scoring plunge against Texas Western. He powered off tackle 18 yards for a touchdown and then took a 22-yard scoring pass against New Mexico A&M.

Against Tulsa he took a 19-yard pass on a third down, 14 yards to go situation to set up a touchdown, furnishing the key block for it. Then he took a pass and ran to the conversion that gave North Texas an 8-7 victory.

Tiger-Pony Tilt One Of Key 3A Games

By The Associated Press

They're playing for keeps on every front in schoolboy football this week. There'll be a cascade of district favorites emerge from a schedule of 248 games.

Twenty-seven of the 33 undefeated, untied teams left in the state put their records on the line but there's only one certainty of a team falling from the list. That comes in Class AA where Electra plays at Bowie. Both have perfect records and they will be battling for the undisputed lead in Dist. 9.

Defending champion Highland Park of Class AAAA goes to Sherman to help the latter open the Dist. 7 race. Abilene, the other top-rated team in this division, is idle.

Class AAA has some important conference games with two of the leaders in Dist. 4—Breckenridge and Mineral Wells—colliding. Sweetwater, the state championship favorite, rolls against Snyder in Dist. 3.

Mighty Terrell, winner of 21 straight games—the biggest victory string in Texas—will be in conference warfare in Class AA against Seagoville.

Class A's co-state champion White Oak, unbeaten but once tied over a 22-game stretch, takes the week off. But the other co-champion, Mart, will be playing Clifton in a conference test.

The feature game of Class A matches White Deer and McLean in Dist. 2. Both are unbeaten but tied and they will be fighting for the undisputed lead.

Class AAAA has no undefeated, untied teams but Tyler and Longview, moving toward a showdown in Dist. 8, are unbeaten but tied. Tyler is idle this week. Longview plays at Marshall.

Phillips, Weatherford, Carthage, Nacogdoches, San Marcos and San Antonio Sam Houston have perfect records and all are risked this week.

Luck is the crossroad where planning and opportunity meet.

Cleveland's Jim Brown Well On Way To New Rushing Mark

By ROBERT L. SHAFFER

CLEVELAND (AP)—"That was Jim Brown."

The announcer's voice boomed over the public address system but most of the people in the vast stadium knew without being told. They had watched the opposing team in a huddle moving down the field—the wrong way—and at the center of the huddle was Cleveland's fullback Jim Brown.

But there is more than bulldozing behind Brown's wholesale attack on National Football League statistical records.

He is fast, one of the best sprinters on the squad. Give him a little space and he's off.

What makes Jim Brown go?

The 6-foot-2 former Syracuse star scorns statistics which many cite when they predict he will become one of the greatest stars of professional football. What gives him the greatest satisfaction is not the long touchdown run but "knowing that I played a good game."

Brown in five games has averaged 163 yards per game—more than twice his average last year as a freshman when he led the league in total yards gained rushing. With seven more games to go, he seems to be a cinch—barring injury—to better the record of 1,146 yards Steven Van Buren of Philadelphia set in 1949.

"These things (statistics) don't count to the football player," Brown said.

"I could run 150 yards and look good on Sunday, but that doesn't mean anything if I come in here on Wednesday and hear him (Coach Paul Brown) saying I missed this assignment or that."

"The thing that makes you proud," he continued, "is knowing you did everything right, that you played a whole game without making more than one or two mistakes."

Coach Brown calls Jim the "best draft choice we ever made." Brown points to Jim's muscular physique as part of the answer to the mystery of the fullback's spectacular success.

Sandie Coach, Aide Tender Resignation

AMARILLO (AP)—Homer Simmons and Jim Ranck, head coach and assistant coach of Amarillo High School, resigned last night amid charges that they had a former football player spy on Tascosa High School.

Amarillo and Tascosa play Saturday.

Superintendent of Schools Bob Ashworth announced after a meeting of the school board late last night that the two had turned in their resignations and that Sam Pecchia, former assistant football coach and now assistant principal of the schools, had been named acting head coach for the remainder of the season.

Coach Bill Ellington of Tascosa said he discovered a former Amarillo High School player watching his workouts and that the man had in his possession diagrams of the Tascosa plays. Ellington reported it to De Walker, the athletic director of Amarillo High Schools, who told the superintendent.

Simmons, former Oklahoma football player, told newsmen that "I don't know what I could say" and Ranck said he had no more comment than the head coach.

Simmons, former line coach, had become head coach this year. His record for the season was two victories against four defeats.

Gonzales Wins Close Decision Over Dupas

ODESSA (AP)—A furious slugging match over the last three rounds gained Manuel Gonzalez of Odessa a split decision over Davey Dupas of New Orleans in a welterweight 10-round fight last night.

Gonzalez weighed 145, Dupas 147.

Nuclear Stakes Are High

THE CORPUS CHRISTI CALLER:

The Pandora's Box opened by the July 16, 1945, explosion of the first atomic bomb in Alamagordo, New Mexico, may never be closed again. This gloomy conclusion was almost unanimously shared by scientists attending an international meeting last month in Vienna, Austria.

The stockpiling of nuclear weapons has made an effective system of nuclear disarmament controls extremely difficult, and perhaps impossible, scientists from both Communist and western countries agreed. They also agreed that a climate of mutual trust for enforcing any nuclear disarmament agreement does not now exist.

Evidence has been accumulating for some time now that the West as well as the Soviet bloc, primarily Russia, have ample stockpiles of nuclear weapons. Both sides of the great power divide have enough of these weapons to ensure mutual destruction. Intermediate range missiles to carry them are reportedly in production in Russia, as they are available in the West, and intercontinental missiles with nuclear warheads have reached, or soon will reach, the production stage.

Since you can kill someone only once and two nuclear blasts on the same target merely waste ammunition, there seems to be little incentive to build up a greater store of the weapons. Yet testing continues in an effort to refine the weapons or the means of their delivery.

There is now no alternative to peace, as President Eisenhower observed four years ago when Russia exploded its first hydrogen bomb. But how to achieve it? A mutual suspension of testing appears to be the most promising beginning. If that can be achieved and no violations occur, then the great powers can move toward more comprehensive agreements, building good faith with successive agreements. The fact that our experience with the Communists on the score of agreements has been an unhappy one should not deter us from trying again. The stakes are too high to neglect any avenue of approach to the problem of preventing mutual suicide.

Profits Off, But Gap Is Closing Up

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — American business profits are trailing those of last year by 25 per cent with two out of three firms showing declines for the first nine months of 1958.

But the gap slowly but steadily is being narrowed since the grim first three months of the year.

In the first quarter of 1958, the decline from the like period of 1957 was 33 per cent with the industrials off 36 per cent.

At the halfway mark, profits looked a bit better — all business running 32 per cent behind the 1957 figures, with industrials down 35 per cent.

Today a better third quarter for many companies gives the nine-month net profits after taxes of the first 461 companies to report a combined total of $5,603,763,000, compared with $7,517,376,000 for the same companies in 1957, a drop of 25.4 per cent.

Declines were reported by 316. Net losses were reported by 23, compared with 13 in the previous year. Red ink was splashed notably over the reports of the auto industry and the Eastern rail roads.

Of the 391 industrial firms reporting so far, 276 declined. Combined profits came to $4,415,504,000, against $6,215,264,000 in 1957, a drop of 28.9 per cent.

Utilities mostly went their steady way, showing a gain of 7.7 per cent this year over last. The railroads were down by 38.5 per cent.

In many cases the third-quarter reports were notably improved over the April-May-June quarter.

And tomorrow looks brighter. Many corporate executives seem sure that the last three months of the year will bring a profit gain over the third quarter and further narrow the gap, with the total for 1958 being not too far behind that for 1957.

The 25 per cent drop for the first nine months of 1958 compares with a 7 per cent gain for the 1957 period over 1956, which ran just about even with 1955.

The decline this year is marked in some of the nation's leading industries. With two of the Big Three auto makers operating at a loss, the decline for that industry as a whole was 66 per cent.

Most steelmakers are behind last year and the profit decline at the three-quarter mark of the year is 44 per cent. Business is looking up for them now and they predict a better final quarter.

Coal companies suffered along with steel and are trailing 1957 by 42 per cent. Nonferrous mining and metalworking companies slipped until recent weeks and are 36 per cent below year ago earnings.

Rail equipment makers trail last year by 45 per cent, almost as bad as the railroads themselves.

Almost all oil companies are making less this year than last, the gap now being 29 per cent.

On the happier side, the office equipment makers, tobacco companies, food and beverage firms, and airlines join the utilities in reporting better profits this year than last. Most drug companies do too, but three of them had declines enough to pull the total for the 11 down by 4 per cent.

A further flood of earnings statements is still to come and it will be the end of the year before the government gives definite figures for business as a whole.

Campaign Tough, Nixon Discovers

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, determinedly striving to push the Republican elephant into a stretch gallop, has found the going heavy and the footing slippery.

The durable Nixon was showing fatigue and irritability when he stopped here between tours this week. He had taken some rude blows. He was obliged to defend and explain the damaging words and actions of other Republicans. And he had seen new threats develop to his own political future.

His temper frayed out in Minneapolis, where he barked an angry denial to a charge that hadn't been made—that he had avoided a stand on civil rights. Earlier, in Chicago, he had glared at a photographer who miscalled him "Mr. Truman." The impolitic glare was captured on film.

As the vice president took off Wednesday for a final grueling, hop-skipping tour to Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Montana, Washington state and Alaska, it seemed to some of his supporters that sheer bad luck was dogging his footsteps.

For Nixon, a record of success in this campaign is important to his own presidential aspirations in 1960. Any outcome short of a Democratic sweep could be credited partly, at least, to his talents as a vote-getter.

Certainly his efforts have helped to revive dispirited Republican organizations in many spots. Further, he has helped to add more than a million dollars to GOP finances by his fund-raising appearances and his personal efforts.

But there was still doubt whether any significant shift in voter sentiment has been wrought by Nixon or by President Eisenhower in their strong attacks on "radical" and "spendthrift" opponents.

An Associated Press check across the country indicated that neither the Republican headliners nor their opposite Democratic numbers, former President Harry S. Truman and Adlai E. Stevenson, had changed the minds of many voters.

So it was uncertain whether, as Nixon proclaimed in Lincoln, Neb. and elsewhere, the GOP has rebounded from what looked like sure defeat and that the campaign has become a brand new contest.

Neither Nixon nor Eisenhower, it became apparent has succeeded in healing the seemingly ruinous split of the top California Republicans, Sen. William F. Knowland and Gov. Goodwin Knight. The intraparty bitterness could do nothing but damage to Nixon's party in Nixon's state — and to Nixon's prestige as a leader of the state GOP organization.

And suddenly an alarm bell rang in a state which may be even more vital to Nixon's 1960 aspirations. The political pollsters decided that personable Nelson Rockefeller has edged to the fore in the New York governorship race against Gov. Averell Harriman. All Republicans could cheer, but what would the emergence of this new political phenomenon do to Nixon's chances for the nomination two years hence?

Rockefeller's gains owed nothing to Nixon. Would a Rockefeller victory give the party a potential new standard-bearer?

Other incidents plagued Nixon. The Gallup poll people issued a late-campaign report; it spoke of a Democratic landslide How come this, asked reporters, if Nixon's optimism was justified? Nixon said that hard work could change the outcome, and that the poll results already were outdated.

And why didn't Eisenhower—or if not the President, somebody else at the White House—receive the leaders of the thousands of Negro and white students who staged a pro-integration rally in Washington last Saturday? Nixon's associates did not disguise their view that the White House had goofed.

Paris Determined To Be Wicked City

PARIS (AP)—The last time I saw Port Washington, N.Y., the boulevardiers on the 8:05 were leering.

"Going to Paris, I hear," said a felow commuter on the Long Island Railroad, with a knowing elbow in my ribs.

"Man! Paris! Man, oh man, oh man!" another man groaned.

Thus, long before I took my first walk in the narrow streets of Montmartre, I felt a heavy sense of national obligation, as though it were part of the franchise of American manhood, to be thoroughly wicked in Paris.

Now I know where this national leer comes from. It comes from Paris.

"Are you alone, monsieur?" asked the hotel clerk when I registered.

"I am alone."

"Ah, yes, monsieur, you will enjoy Paris."

On the Rue de la Paix, the lady in the perfume shop refused to believe I wanted perfume for my wife.

"Mais oui, monsieur," she said, snickering.

And sure enough, going into the Louvre, I was stopped by a man in a beret who laughed like a muffled hyena. He flashed some postcards; and when I shrugged him off, he laughed again. By the time I got inside the museum even the Mona Lisa's smile seemed unduly familiar.

Coming out of Notre Dame I noticed a funeral on a side street, the mourners walking solmenly behind the hearse. In front of the cathedral another man in a beret tried to sell me postcards.

That night I joined a group of eight American men on an American express bus investigating "Paris by night." We made three stops and at each were served a single glass of champagne, no more, no less.

The first stop, the guide said in Brooklyn-accented English, was "to get us in the mood." This was a tiny Russian restaurant where we eight hel-raisers grimly watched a Russian soprano and a Hungarian guitarist.

Things picked up at the second stop, a night club called La Nouvelle Eve, where we saw some strippers. The last stop was Moulin Rouge, full of acrobats, dancers, and pantomine comics. No sex.

Junior Editors Quiz on HISTORY

QUESTION: Why is Texas called "The Lone Star State?

* * *

ANSWER: Six flags have flown over Texas: the flags of Spain, France, Mexico, the Republic of Texas, the Confederacy and the United States. Asearly as 1819, when Texas was still under rule of Spain, a group of Americans who settled there adopted a flag with one huge star as their emblem. In 1836, when Texas finally won its independence from Mexico after many battles, including that of the Alamo, a flag with one star was adopted officially as the emblem of the newly proclaimed republic. It had been designed a year earlier by Joanna Troutman at Washington-on-the Brazos, where delegates met to form the new republic. Texas entered the union in 1845 as the 28th state. The flag that had flown over it as an independent republic became its state flag, thereby giving Texas its nickname of "the Lone Star State."

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is a little Texas girl dressed in the Spanish fashion that prevailed there in 1836. She is sewing a lone star flag to hang over the patio on holidays. In coloring this picture for your scrapbook, make the star white and the background of the flag blue. Now that you know about the "Lone Star State," perhaps you might be interested to read at the library how the expression "Remember the Alamo" came about. This is another famous and thrilling story in Texas history.

Rachel Gonzalez Term Suspended

GEORGETOWN, Tex. (AP) — Rachel Gonzalez, 22, an attractive brunette, was convicted today of killing the father of her illegitimate child. She was given a 5-year suspended sentence.

Miss Gonzalez broke into tears when the verdict and sentence were announced. She was enveloped by her family and friends after Dist. Judge D. B. Wood pronounced sentence.

The woman was charged with gunning down Deputy Sheriff R.R. Solis of Brownsville in his own doorway. Solis' wife was in the house at the time.

The verdict followed two hours of deliberation by the jury, which returned at 12:25 a.m. A night session was held for final arguments.

Mrs. Gonzalez testified yesterday Solis had threatened her and told her to leave town. She said she first met him when he approached her on a Brownsville street in October of 1955. She said he telephoned her frequently and she started dating him.

In July of 1955, she said, she discovered she was pregnant. When she told him, she testified, Solis told her for the first time he was married.

She said he gave her $50 for an abortion. Instead, she said, she visited a sister in Idaho where the baby was born. She said she signed papers permitting it to be adtoped.

Miss Gonzalez said when she returned to Brownsville, Solis threatened her and told her to leave town.

She said she bought a pistol and tired to shoot Solis but the weapon misfired. On Jan. 15 of this year, she said, she went to his home.

She said he met her at the door with a pistol and raised it as if to shoot her. Then she shot him, she testified.

Testimony In Caril Fugate Trial Begins

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Presentation of evidence begins today in the trial of Caril Fugate, 15, charged with being an accomplice of Charles Starkweather, 19, in a murder rampage last January in which 10 persons were slain in Nebraska and Wyoming.

Caril is charged with being an accomplice of Starkweather in the rifle slaying of Robert Jensen, Bennet, Neb., school boy. Starkweather was convicted of the slaying and sentenced to death in the electric chair. He admitted shooting Jensen.

Caril maintains she was not an accomplice but was a hostage, and Charles McArthur, her attorney, told the jury she was an immature person cowed by an armed and desperate killer.

County attorney Elmer Scheele countered with the contention that Caril had ample opportunity to get out of the presence of Starkweather but instead she voluntarily accompanied him.

Caril is expected to take the stand to tell her story. Starkweather did not take the stand in his trial.

The hunt for Starkweather and Caril began after the bodies of Caril's mother, step-father and half-sister were found in their home. Caril has maintained she did not know of these deaths until she and Starkweather were captured in Wyoming.

But Scheele told the jury Caril knew all along what had happened at her home.

A jury of seven men and five women is hearing the case.

Hypnotism Aids Deal

CINCINNATI (AP)—Sometimes it even takes hypnotism to run big business.

Executives of the Kroger Co., a large Midwest grocery chain, found this out recently when they tried to complete the purchase of a Dallas, Tex., chain.

A problem cropped up — a stock certificate worth roughly $100,000 was missing.

The paper was essential for Kroger's purchase of the Texas chain.

Jacob Davis, Kroger vice president, told how a hypnotist helped track down the missing paper and save an executive $3,500, to boot:

Jack Evans, vice president of Wyatt Food Stores of Dallas, found he had misplaced the stock certificate, probably three years ago.

Evans, having no luck with his own memory, met hypnotist Franz Polgar near Dallas, and asked him to help.

In a trance, Evans said the certificate was wrapped around his will in a safety deposit box.

A quick check showed this was true.

The sale was completed, and Evans was saved from paying $3,500 for posting an indemnity bond.

Jobless Detroiter Weeps Over Squirrel

DETROIT (AP) — Jobless and jailed on a bad check charge, Charlie Spurlock wept. But not for himself.

He cried while police carried his pet squirrel away to the dog pound in a sack.

The little squirrel, about 4 months old and with an injured hind leg, became Charlie's friend about a month ago.

"She goes everywhere with me, clinging to my shirt under my jacket. At night she sleeps in my jacket pocket. I feed her peanuts," Spurlock, 28, told police. "Please don't put her to sleep."

Police said the squirrel would be released to its natural environment.

Marines Have New Case Of Maltreatment

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—This Marine Corps training center has another case of alleged recruit maltreatment.

Six young Lisbon, Ohio, trainees charged they were slapped around and forced to contribute to a $690 payoff to three drill instructors.

A formal investigation is under way and the instructors, now at Camp Lejeune, N.C. have been relieved of dufy and restricted to base pending the outcome.

They were identified as S.Sgt. Ralph A. J. Grant, Racine, Wis., Sgt. Ronald J. Heller, Milwaukee; and Sgt. William B. Poss, Augusta, Ga.

The six recruits told their parents the incidents took place during 12 weeks of basic training here last summer. The recruits graduated after four weeks of advanced training at Camp Lejeune and now are home on leave.

They said they were slapped and pushed by the instructors and also charged that each of the 69 trainees in their platoon had to shell out $10 to the trio. Instructors are prohibited by military regulations from taking gifts from recruits.

The accusations were made by Arthur Lynn Browne, Richard J. Koffel, John W. Coie, Robert L. Tafini, Roger A. Magaffick and John R. Hull.

The Marine Corps' tough training program here has prompted a series of maltreatment investigations, which have resulted in several convictions. The center's most serious case involved S.Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon, a drill instructor who forced his platoon to march into a tidal stream at night. Six recruits drowned. McKeon was convicted by a general court-martial.

Jellied Explosives Blow Pair To Bits

SPANISH FORK, Utah (AP) — One thousand pounds of jellied explosives blew a shed and two workmen to bits Wednesday.

American Cyanamid Co. officials listed the two employes as "missing." The victims were Ross J. Jex, 40, Spanish Fork, and John David O'Neal, 30, Springville, Utah.

They were veteran powder men in the company's plant near here. The shed was one of several — embedded in a hillside for safety reasons — making up the plant's gelatin packing unit.

Cause of the blast was not known. Probers said identification of the pieces of clothing and bodies they found was impossible. No one else was hurt.

Suicide Control Center Proposed

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A nationwide "suicide control" system was proposed today by a public health specialist.

Dr. Edward Press of New York, director of field services for the American Public Health Assn., suggested:

1. Establishment of a kind of "suicide control center" in every community of substantial size. The around-the-clock center would receive reports of all attempted suicides in the area. It would promptly initiate a system aimed at preventing a further attempt in a given case — a system involving various local government agencies.

2. Establishment of a nationwide network of state and local "societies for the prevention of suicides." These would operate something like present organizations aimed at the control and prevention of such conditions as cerebral palsy, deafness and blindness.

Dr. Press outlined his suggestion at the 86th annual meeting of the APHA.

Under his idea, any person attempting suicide would be transferred, after receiving physical treatment, to the psychiatric division of a hospital and kept under constant surveillance for at least 48 hours.

Once the patient were returned to his home, follow-up visits, aimed at rehabilitation would be the responsibility of the local health department.

"Suicide, with from 16,000 to 18,000 annual fatalities in the United States, claims more lives than such conditions as diabetes, muscular dystrophy, multiple sclerosis and infantile paralysis combined," Dr. Press said.

"In addition, the problems, costs and sorrows surrounding both the successful and the much larger number of unsuccessful attempts make the impact of the over-all aspects of suicide a major national problem."

Colombo Plan Group Looks To Ike Talk

SEATTLE (AP)—Colombo Plan delegates meeting here looked forward today to a vigorous statement of future U.S. economic policy toward underdeveloped South and Southeast Asia, possibly from President Eisenhower himself.

A White House announcement that the President hopes to address the opening ministerial meeting of the 10th Colombo Plan session here Nov. 10 aroused both hopes and fears among representatives of 18 nations and three colonial governments gathered here.

There were fears from some delegates that any hard-hitting discussion of the cold war in Southeast Asia would embarrass neutral nations attending the meeting.

At the same time, there were high hopes that the United States would announce magnified efforts to save this densely populated region of 650 million people from economic stagnation.

U.S. officials attending the Colombo Plan meeting expressed certainty that either Eisenhower or Secretary of State Dulles, who also is due to come to preside at the five-day ministerial meeting, would state positive U.S. aims without becoming involved in controversail cold war issues.

Agreement on economic problems discussed at the meetings here have been possible because political issues sharply dividing the countries are left outside of their closed committee meetings.

Little Parcel Causes Stir

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A little package in the Post Office at San Francisco International Airport wasn't just buzzing. It was jiggling, too.

No traffic was halted, but employes gingerly picked up the eight inch package and carried it outside on the apron, still buzzing and jiggling.

While an Army demolition officer was rushing from The Presidio in case the thing needed disarming, sheriff's officers checked the addressee, Mrs. Lulu Hale, San Diego. When she didn't know what might be in the package carrying the return address of H. C. Lee, general delivery, San Francisco, the officers got serious.

The Army officer came and froze the little package with carbon dioxide. Then he opened it, to find a small battery-power vibrator used for facial massage, which cheerfully resumed vibrating as it thawed.

LAUGHS AND MORE LAUGHS—President Eisenhower had a rib-tickling time listening to comedian Herb Shriner at the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame dinner at the Hotel Astor in New York. This sequence of the happy president was made by AP Photographer John Rooney. (AP Wirephoto)

Newsman In Corpus Dies

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Death took Robert B. (Bob) McCracken, a newspaper editor and columnist known to thousands of South Texans, at his home here last night. He was 47.

He had been associate editor of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times since 1954. In more than 25 years with the newspaper he had served in nearly every other editorjal capacity, including the job of managing editor.

McCracken probably was best known for his column "The Crow's Nest," in which he identified himself as "The Lookout." It had appeared in the Caller for more than two decades.

Born Dec. 15, 1910, at Marfa, Tex., he attended schools at Floresville, Tex., and Corpus Christi, and later was a journalism student at the University of Missouri.

McCracken moved here 32 years ago, and took his first job with the Caller-Times as a reporter in the early 1930s. He started writing his daily column a few years later.

He leaves his wife; a son and daughter, William Richard and Sally McCracken, both students at the University of Texas, and a brother, Richard McCracken.

Funeral arrangements were being made today.

Prime Minister Of Lebanon Has Bosisterous Followers

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Rebel leader Saeb Salam was talking to American newsmen. Outside machine-gun-toting rebels were whooping it up in a victory celebration.

The door burst open, and a band of beefy street brawlers burst in carrying a well-dressed little man on their shoulders. They abruptly deposited the Prime Minister of Lebanon on the floor in front of Salam and left the room.

Rachid Karami, Lebanon's new prime minister, is accustomed to this kind of treatment from his boisterous followers. Soft-spoken and smartly dressed, Karami comes from Tripoli, a hotbed of pro-Nasser Arab nationalism, famed for its street brawls and violence. It takes a robust politician to keep such a following in line, but Karami so far has measured up.

He was a key figure in the Lebanese rebellion against pro-Western President Camille Chamoun last summer. Karami's rebels took over the old section of Tripoli, threw up heavy barricades all around, and held out nearly five months.

There was almost continous firing and sniping between rebels and army. Tripoli was gripped by a general strike. Garbage was left to lie in the streets. Food and medicines were scarce.

Those were trying months, but rebel morale was kept high, largely by the relaxed, unruffled temper of 37-year-old Rachid Karami.

The rebellion ended with the election of Gen. Fuad Chehab, Lebanese army commander, as president of the republic. Next day he named Karami prime minister.

It was hard for Karami to hold his followers down after that. When he tried to walk through the Basta quarter of Beirut to see his friend Saeb Salam, rebel fighters left their barricades and lifted him to their shoulders. They carried him all over Basta before delivering him to Salam.

Another crisis developed when Karami named the members of his Cabinet. It looked as if a counterrebellion might break out. To ease the crisis, Karami placed his resignation at the disposal of the President. Followers, many of them armed, collected outside his house.

"We just want you to know that if you resign, we will kill you," a big man said.

Karami stayed in office.

He is considered one of the most pro-Nasser leaders of Lebanon. He once called Nasser a superman and said that he personally favors federation of Lebanon with the United Arab Republic—provided all the Lebanese want it.

To balance these views is his recent policy statement promising to maintain Lebanon as an independent Arab state.

Actress Agrees To $175,000 Settlement

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Wanda Hendrix has signed a pre-divorce property agreement that could bring her nearly $175,000 from millionaire sportsman James Langford Stack.

Stack agreed to withdraw his own complaint charging mental cruelty and not oppose his wife's Reno, Nev., suit.

The agreement gives Miss Hendrix $20,000 and, if she doesn't remarry, $1,100 a month for 10 years.

Nevada Celebrates

An exciting new kind of car!

Makes history by making sense

The car you hoped would happen! Looks right, works right. Priced right. Luxurious without overdoing it. Roomy without useless length. Powerful without hogging gas. Styled to last. Soundly engineered. Solidly built. Priced with the most popular three!

Add it up. You get solid new distinction rivaled only by cars costing much more! Bold new vertical grille. Strong new lines. Graceful new rear flight deck.

You get beautiful new efficiency. Wonderfully spacious interiors—with less length outside. Six adults ride in comfort, but Edsel's compact 120-inch wheelbase fits any normal garage, swings easily in and out of tight spots.

You get lots of go for little gas. Pounds and pounds of useless car weight are gone. And four new Edsel engines are here! Including a thrifty six with a powerful test track record. And a new kind of economy V-8 that uses regular fuel and wrings big mileage from every ounce! You get all the magnificent quality that marks a superior car. Super-smooth ride. Big, self-adjusting brakes. Luxurious carpeting, electric clock and four other customary "extras"—at no extra cost.

Yet the challenging new 1959 Edsel is priced with the most popular three! For example, you'll find that a new Edsel Ranger is priced almost exactly the same as many models of Chevrolet, Plymouth and Ford. See for yourself—this comparison is actually based on the factory suggested list prices.

It's easy to see why this is the car that makes history by making sense. The new kind of car you've been waiting for. See it and drive it now at your Edsel Dealer. Ten history-making new models!
