Market In New Swing To Recovery

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made another strong recovery swing today with trading moderately active early this afternoon.

Stocks were up from the start. Airlines recovered vigorously from their selloff of late Monday.

Auto stocks and other key issues put on one of their best performances in weeks.

General Motors leaped 2 points. Ford and Chrysler well over a point each.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 8.85 at 891.31. A half-hour earlier it was up 10.52.

Analysts saw the advance as a continuation of the technical rebound from an oversold condition which brought the list to its 1966 lows last week. The ability to recover so quickly from a selling squall also was an encouraging element, analysts said.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 3.3 at 325.1 with industrials up 6.3, rails up 1.4 and utilities up .4.

The airlines were able to weather news Monday that the Civil Aeronautics Board expect them to reduce air fares next year. This came under the heading of old news, analysts said.

Burroughs rose 1¾ to 65 on a 10,000-share block.

Prices rose on a broad front in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged. U.S. Treasury bonds declined.

Destructive Winds Churn Across State

By The Associated Press

Destructive tornadoes and thunderstorms whaled away at parts of Texas again Monday evening, and still more unsettled weather was in prospect today.

One twister slashed into Wolfe City, 17 miles north of Greenville, to wreck two homes, damage at least eight others and injure five persons. It also knocked down power and telephone lines, creating havoc for a time.

Halfway across the state to the south in San Antonio, a raging thunderstorm unroofed a department store in the Wonderland Shopping Center and a telephone company exchange. Other buildings suffered heavily, mostly in the northwest part of the city.

What was described as a baby tornado dipped down 5 miles south of Winnsboro in far Northeast Texas and wrecked a cottage at Lake Winnsboro. There was no report of other damage in the area.

Turbulence churned up across a wide sector as the latest cool front edged southward across the state. By early this morning it had progressed as far as a line linking Texarkana, Junction and Wink.

Hail pelted several points during brisk showers or thunderstorms, which capped a steamy day. Top temperatures Monday hit 107 degrees at Presidio, 103 at Junction and San Angelo, 102 at Laredo and 100 at Abilene, Mineral Wells and Wink.

At De Soto, just south of Dallas, a cloud described as a "black ball of smoke," accompanied by a roaring sound like a freight train, caused damage to farm buildings estimated up to $15,000.

Two De Soto city officials said they saw the "ball of smoke" about a half mile away. "I'd seen a cyclone before," said one of the men. "This one didn't look like a funnel. It was just a big, black cloud."

Mrs. Jack Ground said she was in her home when she looked out about 2:30 p.m. "to see tin flying in every direction."

At Wolfe City, a town of nearly 2,000 people, the twister whirled through from south to north. Injuries were suffered by Joe Butler, 83; his wife Effie, 77; their son Pete, 49, and by Luther Woodbury, 14, and his sister, Mrs. Odessa Wright, 25. All were believed to have escaped serious harm.

Several other pocket-size tornadoes spun across the Bonham area east of Wolfe City a bit earlier but there was no report of damage. They were sighted at Monkstown, in the northeast part of Fannin County, and near Dodd City.

The Weather Bureau posted and canceled tornado watches for numerous counties as the turbulent weather developed and shrank.

Hail up to the size of golf balls pounded rural districts near Commerce, Clarksville and Paris.

Forecasts carried a threat of fresh thunderstorms at scattered points across the northern half of the state by evening, plus scattered showers elsewhere in Texas.

Pair Charged With Marijuana Smuggling

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Two Florida men are being held on marijuana smuggling charges, U.S. Customs agents said today.

They were identified as Donald Roy Swensen, 25, of Miami, and Harry Korpela, 22, of Oakland Park, Fla.

Customs agents said one-half pound of marijuana was concealed in a heater air duct of a station wagon the men crossed from Matamoros, Mex., to Brownsville Sunday.

Navy Awaits Tow Call In British Strike

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Royal Navy today awaited a call from Prime Minister Harold Wilson to move into the nation's jammed ports and tow away strikebound ships.

Wilson was expected to issue orders to the navy soon under a state of national emergency proclaimed Monday by Queen Elizabeth II. But he assured the House of Commons that naval vessels would not be used indiscriminately.

"This is a highly delicate situation," said Wilson, "and we are going to be extremely careful about how it is handled."

William Hogarth, general secretary of the 65,000 striking seamen, warned last week that use of the navy as a strike breaker might result in a general strike of all workers.

Hogarth said Monday night that his National Union of Seamen would not object to the navy moving British ships to make way for other vessels bringing essential food or medical supplies into Britain. "But not for other ships," he said.

The strike for more pay is against British ships only, but foreign vessels are unable to reach berths due to the ship-jammed ports. The navy is expected to use minesweepers and naval tugs to move struck vessels out to parking areas in the estuaries.

Representatives of the union and the shipowners met Labor Minister Ray Gunter Monday but reported no progress later.

New Tremor Hits Tashkent

MOSCOW (AP) — Another strong earthquake hit the quake-battered central Asian city of Tashkent today, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Tass said the tremor was nearly as strong as the one that did extensive damage to Tashkent April 26. It measured about 7 points on the Soviet 12-point earthquake scale.

Three lesser tremors struck Tashkent later in the day, Tass reported.

"According to the information on hand, a number of buildings of the old type have been damaged in the city," Tass said.

"First aid stations sent medical help to the districts where the soil was most severely rocked."

The April 26 earthquake in Tashkent, a city of one million population, measured 7.5 points on the Russian scale. It was followed by more than 300 lesser tremors.

Senator Dirksen Returns To Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who broke a thigh bone in a fall at Walter Reed Army Hospital May 10, returned to his office today.

The senator, 70, suffered a fractured right thigh bone when he fell while getting out of a bed. He had entered the hospital to undergo tests.

More Rebels Rally Behind Premier Ky

By EDWIN Q. WHITE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The break in the ranks of the opposition to Premier Nguyen Cao Ky widened further today as the commander of the mutinous 1st Vietnamese Division in the Buddhist stronghold of Hue reportedly pledged his allegiance to Ky.

Defense Ministry sources said Brig. Gen. Pham Xuan Nhuan wired Ky saying he was giving up his opposition. It was not clear immediately whether he also spoke for the troops he commands. The 1st Division provides the military backbone of the opposition in the northern city.

It was the first break in the rebel front in Hue, the remaining stronghold of opposition to the premier.

Heartened by its victory over other rebels in Da Nang, the military regime exhibited little outward concern over the continuing dissidence in Hue, 50 miles northwest of Da Nang.

U.S. officials continued their backstage diplomatic role with contacts with the main figures in Hue, Thich Tri Quang and Gens. Nguyen Chanh Thi and Ton That Dinh, successively fired by Ky as commander of the army's northernmost 1st Corps.

Ky's ruling junta showed its confidence also by assembling 1,000 civilian and army representatives at a political congress in Saigon to reaffirm its power. Buddhists boycotted the meeting.

With U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge in the audience, the military chief of state, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, said once more the regime would carry out its promise of elections this fall for a constitutional convention. He added that the 10-man junta was considering a proposal to add five civilians to its membership.

While Ky defended his military action against Da Nang as essential to preserve the nation, 400 Buddhist demonstrators marched peacefully before the guarded U.S. Embassy to protest the crushing of the Da Nang revolt. The marchers included 150 robed monks.

U.S. B52s from Guam spearheaded the war against the Communists today by plastering a suspected enemy trop concentration of about 350 men 35 miles west of the South Vietnamese coastal city of Quang Ngai, but monsoon rains again curbed American attacks against North Viet Nam. Navy planes flew 32 missions and the Air Force only one.

On the ground, the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division reported killing 17 more Viet Cong in scattered actions in the central highlands, while the U.S. Marines claimed 28 killed around Da Nang and Phu Bai. U.S. 25th Infantry division patrols reported killing nine guerrillas 35 miles northwest of Saigon.

Rather than a direct troop move like the one against Da Nang, the government appeared to be planning to cut off Hue from the rest of the country to starve out the dissidents. Loyal troops held positions around the old imperial capital.

BOYS' CLUB FUND BOOSTED — Roger Mize, left, president of Snyder National Bank, hands a check for $1,000 to Buster Anderson, treasurer of the Scurry County Boys' Club. The contribution was made at the outset of the Boys' Club's drive to raise $25,000 to be applied on construction of a new building.

Two More Planes Lost

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American B52 bombers bombed a large Viet Cong troop concentration near the central coast of South Viet Nam today, but only small scattered ground fighting was reported in the war against the Viet Cong.

The U.S. Command announced the loss of two planes — one over North Viet Nam and one in South Viet Nam's central highlands. One of the pilots was killed.

An F8 Crusader jet from the aircraft carrier Hancock was shot down Monday 26 miles southeast of the North Vietnamese port of Vinh. The pilot parachuted into the South China Sea and was picked up by a helicopter after 30 minutes in the water.

It was the 246th U.S. plane lost over North Viet Nam.

An O1F light observation plane went down today — possibly because of Viet Cong ground fire — 25 miles northwest of Pleiku. Other U.S. pilots had voice radio contact with the pilot on the ground, but he was dead when rescuers reached him.

A military spokesman said it was possible that the Viet Cong "got to him."

The B52s attacked an area 35 miles west of Quang Ngai City. The formation from Guam unloaded their 750-pound bombs on what was thought to be about 350 men. A communique described it as a "major enemy troop concentration."

Monsoon storms again curtailed American air attacks on North Viet Nam Monday. The Air Force mounted only one mission, but Navy planes from the carriers Hancock and Kitty Hawk flew 32.

U Thant Decries Viet Intervention

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —U.N. Secretary - General U Thant declared today that the war in Viet Nam can no longer be portrayed as a mere contest between communism and liberal democracy.

In a speech to the convention of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America he said also that people only deluded themselves by believing that action by him and the United Nations can resolve the Vietnamese conflict.

"The solution lies in the hands of those who have the power and responsibility to decide," he added.

In referring to the present unrest in South Viet Nam, Thant said there is growing evidence that the so-called "fight for democracy" is no longer relevant to the realities of the situation.

"Twenty years of outside intervention and the presence of foreign armies have so profoundly affected Vietnamese political life that it seems illusory to represent it as a mere contest between communism and liberal democracy," he said.

"Indeed, recent events have shown that the passion for national identity, perhaps one should say national survival, is the only ideology that may be left to a growing number of Vietnamese.

"Thus, the increasing intervention by outside powers in the conflict—involving their armies, their armaments and above all their prestige—has tended to alienate the people of Viet Nam from their own destiny.

"And if, therefore, the issue in Viet Nam is not a struggle between two different views of democracy, what is really at stake, unless an early end to the hostilities is brought about, is the independence, the identity and the survival of the country itself."

Sukarno Agrees To Peace Talks

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno has yielded to his new government and has agreed to peace negotiations with Malaysia.

Radio Jakarta reported Monday night that Sukarno had told Foreign Minister Adam Malik he could meet with Deputy Prime Minister Abdul Razak of Malaysia to discuss ways of ending the 3-year-old undeclared war between the two countries.

Malik told newsmen today he probably would leave for Bangkok later this week. Razak arrived in the Thai capital Monday.

The Indonesian ambassador to Bangkok, M. Diah, returned to Jakarta for consultations and told newsmen that Malik and Razak probably would meet this weekend.

"We in Malaysia hope and pray that it will be possible to end this confrontation," Razak told a banquet in Bangkok Monday night.

The army-backed government dominated by Lt. Gen. Suharto has been trying to arrange an end to the sporadic war with Malaysia since it took power in February. But Sukarno, 64, who ordered the "crush Malaysia" campaign when the federation came into being in 1963, had steadfastly refused.

Malik told a student delegation Friday that Sukarno had "advised him" not to go to the talks in Bangkok.

"The president was furious at me. He advised me not to go abroad," Malik told the students who were protesting the government's failure to curb inflation and deal with the country's economic woes. Malik told them the anti-Malaysian campaign "has drained us financially" and "led to price increases."

Sukarno claimed that Malaysia, a federation of former British territories in Southeast Asia, was created by Britain to preserve its influence in the area and as a threat to Indonesia. He sent raiding parties into Malaysian Borneo and to the Malayan Peninsula and used the campaign to divert attention from economic woes at home and to enhance his prestige among developing countries.

Britain, Australia and New Zealand sent 50,000 army and navy personnel to the area to [illegible] Indonesian raids were a failure. They have virtually stopped since the unsuccessful Communist coup in Indonesia last Oct. 1.

SUPERVISION REVAMP

CIA Battle On Collision Course

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two powerful Senate committees — and their chairmen — embark today on a collision course over the Central Intelligence Agency.

At issue is a resolution to give Senate Foreign Relations Committee members a hand on the CIA rein — the Senate's strongest move in more than 10 years to revamp its supervision of the big intelligence agency. The Foreign Relations Committee approved the resolution 14 to 5 last week.

Leading the battle for the resolution is committee chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark. He plans to launch the drive today.

Leading the battle against it is Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Armed Services Committee and head of the Senate's present CIA watchdog panel.

But there were signs Monday of behind-the-scenes negotiations aimed possibly at softening the impact of the collision.

With cloak and dagger secrecy Fulbright and Russell hustled from a Viet Nam briefing held by Secretary of State Dean Rusk to a closed meeting to talk over the dispute.

Later they told newsmen they had discussed the situation with Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., author of the resolutions. No decisions were made, they said.

McCarthy's resolution would enlarge the CIA panel by adding three members of the Foreign Relations Committee and also give the group authority over the overseas intelligence operations of other U.S. agencies.

McCarthy, a perennial advocate of stronger congressional authority over the CIA, said Russell indicated at the meeting that he wanted to talk to his committee before deciding what strategy to use in fighting the resolution. The CIA panel now headed by Russell is composed of seven senior members from the Armed Services and Appropriations committee.

After the meeting, Russell said he still holds to his view that his committee has sole jurisdiction over the CIA.

The members of the Foreign Relations Committee argue that the CIA's influence on foreign policy is such that the Foreign Relations Committee should have some role in congressional supervision of its activities.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Recently I read a letter in your column by some who complaining because the people next door punished their son whenever he misbehaved by making him practice extra time on the piano. Quite aside from the fact that this can be annoying to neighbors, it is the surest way I know to mke a child hate music for the rest of his life. As a piano teacher I have always been under the impression that one studies music to find enjoyment in it.

SCHENECTADY MUSICIAN

DEAR MUSICIAN: As a piano teacher, you must surely know that not every child who takes piano lessons "enjoys" it. However, I have heard countless adults say, "I wish my mother had MADE me practice when I was young."

But I have yet to hear one person express regrets for having stuck with his music lessons. Even kids who have practiced with tears in their eyes are glad their parents didn't permit them to quit when they wanted to.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Would you please solve my problem? Who should take us boys to the barber shop, my mom or my dad? My mom says it's my father's place because father is a man and a barber shop is a place for men and boys.

My father says it's my mother's place because she has more time. There are four of us boys in the family and I am the 5th grade. The other three are nine, seven, and three. Thank you.

NEEDS A HAIRCUT

DEAR NEEDS: If it's at all possible, your father should take all you boys to the barber shop. All boys need some time alone with daddy, away. Besides while the barber gets in YOUR hair, it takes you out of your mother's for a while.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine, married 41 years, has confided her problem to me, and I would like your opinion. Three years ago her husband had a stroke. At this time he revealed to her that he had a "secret" bank account with over $5,000 in it, which he had had for 20 years. His wife was shocked and felt that the only reason he told her about it was because he thought he was going to die.

Since that time my friend feels that her husband cannot be trusted. And if he'd never had that stroke, she never would have known about the money. What prompts a husband to do something like this?

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Knowing nothing about your friend, her husband or their relationship, I can only urge this woman not to jump to any conclusions. Many husbands (and wives) have secret savings stashed away for the good of both. (Extravagance on the part of one or the other may make saving impossible.)

If this is the only evidence your friend has that her husband can't be trusted, she is probably doing him an injustice. P. S. Remind her that when her husband thought he was dying, he revealed his secret to HER.

Convict Innoculated By Stubborn Bovine

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — William Sheffield, 33, serving a life sentence as an habitual criminal, was inoculated by a cow Monday.

Sheffield, an inmate of the state prison system's Ramsey unit in Brazoria County, was trying to vaccinate the cow against anthrax.

But when he tried to inject the serum the cow reared and "bucked like a bronco," he said later from his bed in the prison hospital here.

The needle flew into the air and landed point-first in Sheffield.

He also was given penicillin. Attendants said his condition was good.

THERE'S EASY HOSPITALITY in this partnership of Chocolate Spice Cake and icy-cold milk. The cake is made with country good ingredients like buttermilk, eggs and butter, plus aromatic spices and a sprinkling of chocolate. Top with luscious butter cream frosting.

Cake To Spice A Good Snack

Summer desserts should be carefree ones, in the mood of the season. It's a relaxed time of family fun, outdoor cooking, casual drop-in visitors. So you need to be prepared with plenty of quick meal ideas and a few recipes for make-easy desserts. Here's one that fills the bill. Chocolate Spice Cake offers luscious flavor without a lot of fuss.

Spicy and inviting, this delicious cake can be baked in a 9-inch pan, then frosted and served from the pan for informal occasions. You'll find this cake ideal for taking along in a picnic basket, or serving at home, indoors or out.

The cake is fragrant with a bouquet of spices, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves. It's mellow with the old-fashioned goodness of buttermilk, butter and eggs. And here's the touch that makes it unique among spice cakes: a little grated chocolate goes right into the batter.

Top this moist, light cake with a simple butter cream frosting, also topped with a sprinkling of shaved or grated chocolate. Bring it out as a snack when friends drop in, or when the family wants a quick dessert or between meal treat. Chocolate Spice Cake is best served with tall frosty glasses of milk.

CHOCOLATE SPICE CAKE

½ cup (1 stick) butter
1 cup sugar
3 eggs
2½ cups sifted cake flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cinnamon
Dash of ground cloves
1¼ cups buttermilk
1 square (1 oz.) semi - sweet chocolate, grated

BUTTER FROSTING:

2 tablespoons butter, softened
1 cup confectioners sugar
5 teaspoons light cream OR half and half
¼ teaspoon vanilla
Grated chocolate

In a mixing bowl cream butter; gradually add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda, nutmeg, cinnamon and cloves; add to creamed mixture alternately with buttermilk, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Fold in chocolate. Spread evenly in 9-inch buttered square pan. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven 35-40 minutes. Cool completely on wire rack before frosting top of cake. To prepare Frosting: In a mixing bowl beat together butter, sugar, cream and vanilla until light and fluffy. Spread over top of cake. Garnish with chocolate. Yield: 9-12 servings.

Note: Cake may be frozen either frosted or unfrosted.

Opposition Prepares For De Gaulle's Step-Down

By DAVID MASON

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle is riding firmly the seat of power, but off in the political wilderness his opposition is struggling to prepare for the day when he will step down.

There is little now to give the lie to De Gaulle's old prediction: "After me, a mess" — Apres moi, la pagaille.

Trying now to form ranks for the day when De Gaulle goes are two main groups with fuzzy-sounding names and even fuzzier support. One is led by an old political hand, Francois Mitterrand, and the other by a Kennedy-style politician, Jean Lecanuet.

Mitterrand's group is called the Democratic and Socialist Federation and Lecanuet's is labeled the Democratic Center.

Considerable opposition voting polarized around the two men in the presidential election campaign late last year. Mitterrand came in second in the first round of voting and Lecanuet was a strong third. The two forced De Gaulle into a runoff round which he had no real trouble winning. But the Gaullists got a shock and they are worried that they might lose their parliamentary majority in elections to be held perhaps about a year from now.

If either Mitterrand or Lecanuet can paste together enough vofer strength to blunt or knock out the Gaullist parliament majority, he would obviously be in line as a strong presidential contender. De Gaulle took office in January for a 7-year term but he will be 76 in November and he could step down before 1973 if he decides his mission is completed, or if his health fails.

Mitterand, Lecanuet and others want to be ready for any such development. It is far from sure they can keep their troops together or enlarge their ranks significantly.

An indication of Mitterrand's problem has become evident recently. He rolled up 31.71 per cent of the vote in the first presidential electoral round last December with strong Communist party support although he never fully embraced the Communists.

Early this month, Mitterrand named a shadow cabinet, British style, to wait for the day when De Gaulle bows out. The Communists didn't rate a seat on Mitterrand's "cabinet." Suddenly their love affair with Mitterrand was over.

Lecanuet, who picked up 15.57 per cent of the vote last December, is trying to spread his political base, but with no clear evidence of great success.

Merchant Believes Views Worth Telling

By BOB UCHIMA

TOKYO (AP) — "I'm a little short of cash, but it is my duty to print what I believe," said a Tokyo merchant who paid $11,184 to spread his views on Viet Nam and world peace across two pages of the New York Times.

Morihiro Matsuda's advertisement appeared in the Times Monday morning. He is negotiating for a three-page advertisement in the Times of London, which he said would cost him $15,555.

Matsuda, 45, operates an apartment house and a mail-order business which sells body-building equipment. His wife runs a dressmaking shop. They have two sons, one 2 years old, the other 9 months.

Matsuda denied he was seeking personal glory. "If people say I am, then let them," he said, "but it's not true."

Matsuda said he put his advertisement in the New York Times after Japanese newspapers refused it.

In it, Matsuda called on the U.S. government to set up 50 "paradises" in South Viet Nam for victims of the Vietnamese war. He said these rehabilitation centers would cost $10 billion.

"I believe the United States can afford it if the Viet Nam war stops and America cuts down on its defense spending," said Matsuda.

He said the advertisement he has submitted to the London Times appeals for "British influence on the United States to stop the war."

Describing himself as "uneducated and nameless," Matsuda said he has no political affiliation and is interested in fishing. He said he goes fishing "every day" and thought of his plan for peace in South Viet Nam "four or five years ago while fishing."

He proposed dividing South Viet Nam into two parts, the northern part ruled by a Viet Cong government and the southern part by the present South Vietnamese government.

"I don't know who is right in the Viet Nam war," said Matsuda. "I don't know whether the Communist is okay or not, but I just want to publish what I think. I think everyone is obligated to reveal one's thoughts."

His major is horticulture and he will begin work at the South Plains Research and Extension Center on June 1 while working on his master's degree at Tech. A 1962 graduate of Fluvanna High School, he is married to the former Sammie Hagins of Snyder.

Box Saves Lives Of Four Men

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Three men who clung to a homemade wooden ice box for four and one-half days after their 65-foot yacht sank in the Gulf of Mexico reached shore Monday night aboard the Liberian motor vessel, Cape Marina.

Raymond Murphy, 46, owner of the yacht Sea Lark, and crewmen Bill Rogers, 36, and William Linn, 60, were rescued Monday afternoon after the first mate of the Cape Marina spotted Murphy waving his shirt from atop the bobbing 4-by-5 foot box.

The Cape Marina was the third ship sighted, and after the first two didn't stop the trio had all but given up hope, Murphy said.

"We kept drifting in circles," he said. "We wouldn't be here today except for that fishbox."

The Sea Lark, bound from New Orleans to Marathon, Fla., developed a leak early Thursday morning 61 miles off Dry Tortugas, a pinpoint of land 70 miles west of Key West.

Murphy said the 30-year-old yacht sank in less than half an hour apparently because several planks caved in as the yacht moved through a moderate swell at 10 knots.

"We just had time to dump the ice out of the fishbox and throw it overboard," Murphy said.

To bolster the bouyancy of the box — which was lined with plastic insulating foam — they lashed two 55-gallon drums alongside.

Some 70,000 tribesmen take part in an annual jamboree of singing and dancing in New Guinea. The date for 1966's "sing-sing" is May 14 and 15 in Goroka, a small town in the island's eastern highlands.

Tracy Stallard won 11 games for the 1965 St. Louis Cardinals, one more than he won for the 1964 New York Mets. However, with the Red Birds he lost only 8 times, 12 less than he dropped with the Mets.

Associated Press Sports Writer

John Roseboro, whose job last winter was to prevent trouble has caused some for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Roseboro helped Sandy Koufax win his seventh game Monday night by scoring the winning run in Los Angeles' 3-2 victory over the Pirates.

The Dodger catcher, who had gone hitless in his previous 13 times at bat, lashed a two-out double in the ninth inning and came all the way home as pinch-hitter Derrell Griffith beat out an infield single.

Roseboro remained near his home in the Los Angeles suburb of Compton last winter, working in riot-torn Watts as a community relations specialist for the Los Angeles police department.

"I wanted this particular job because it meant I could do something useful for my people," the 32-year-old veteran explained. I was sickened by what I saw during the riots. I could have had an off-season job like public relations for a large corporation, but that's sterile.

"A lot of Negroes thought I would whitewash the police department, but wherever I found criticism of the police out in the community, I carried it back to police officials."

Roseboro took the Dodgers' problem in hand Monday night. As Griffith topped a roller to the right of the plate, Roseboro headed for third. Pitcher Pete Mikkelsen fielded the ball and tossed it underhand to first base.

Griffith, however, beat the throw, for his first hit of the season, and Roseboro kept going. He crossed the plate without a play being made on him.

Elsewhere in the National League, Philadelphia walloped Houston 9-0 and Atlanta trimmed Cincinnati 6-4. Kansas City defeated Washington 5-3 in 12 innings in the only American League game.

Koufax, who has lost once, blanked the Pirates on three hits until the eighth when they tied the game 2-2 on singles by Bob Bailey and Manny Mota plus Gene Alley's two-run double. Ron Fairly homered for the Dodgers in the sixth.

Larry Jackson stopped Houston on three hits and didn't allow a runner to reach third. The Astros went hitless until Lee Maye singled with two out in the fifth. Doug Clemens hit a three-run homer while Tony Taylor belted a two-run triple for the Phillies.

Joe Torre hit a homer in the fifth inning, then powered a four-run sixth with a two-run double as Atlanta overcame Cincinnati. The Reds took a short-lived 4-1 lead when they erupted for four runs in the fifth, three on Tommy Helms' homer.

Phil Roof's first major league homer was the first major league homer off Washington's Casey Cox and gave Kansas City its victory. Roof connected with one on and two out in the 12th. Frank Howard and Jim King homered for Washington.

Braves Bomb Ellis

CINCINNATI (AP) — Baseball luck has turned its back on Sammy Ellis.

The slender right-hander, who last year won 22 games while losing 10, dropped a 6-4 decision to the Atlanta Braves Monday night and is now 2-6 for the season.

He has been the losing pitcher in three of the Reds' last four defeats. The Braves drove him from the mound in the sixth inning when they scored four times and overcame a three-run Cincinnati lead.

"I sure thought we had that game won after Tommy Helms' three-run homer," Manager Don Heffner said sadly afterwards. "The wall caves in in a hurry in this business."

Brown's Bump Benign

BALTIMORE (AP) — Oriole catcher Dick Brown begins undergoing routine tests today at Sinai Hospital, where he underwent surgery March 7.

Baltimore officials said the tests were to determine the extent of his recovery from an operation to remove a tumor from beneath the base of his brain. The growth was described as benign.

Seek Third Jewel

BALTIMORE (AP) — Owner Mike Ford and Kauai King left today for New York and the June 4 Belmont Stakes to complete their bid for horse racing's Triple Crown for 3-year-olds.

"Kauai King is taking this much better than I am," said Ford before leaving from Pimlico, scene of his brilliant colt's latest triumph in the Preakness.

"Nothing bothers him. That marvelous disposition is what makes him a good horse."

Ford accompanied Kauai King, winner of the Kentucky Derby two weeks before Saturday's Preakness victory, on the five-hour van trip to Aqueduct.

Austin Wins On Little Gomez' Big Shot

By The Associated Press

Little Rafael Gomez, a 5-foot-9, 165-pound third baseman from San Pedro, Dominican Republic, might have been the smallest player on the field but he swung the biggest bat in the Texas League Monday night.

Gomez reached outside for a low fast ball, pulled it over the left field fence and trotted home behind three teammates in Austin's 4-2 victory over Albuquerque.

It was the outstanding batting performance of a night in which the pitchers mostly starred.

Dallas-Fort Worth lefthander Jim Ellis pitched a four-hit 2-0 shutout over Arkansas and El Paso's George Sherrod and Gary Fischer limited Amarillo to five hits in a 3-1 triumph over the league leaders.

Gomez' blow came off starter Jim Strickland, who loaded the bases in the third inning on a single by Hal Breeden and walks to Walt Hriniak and to pitcher Bob Daniel.

Third place Albuquerque spoiled Daniel's shutout by scoring twice in the seventh inning.

El Paso collected 11 hits off four Amarillo pitchers but saw 15 of its batters strike out. Amarillo starter Paul Doyle fanned 10 but a double steal executed on him by Tom Egan and Mickey Dobbins produced El Paso's first run. Doyle's balk let in another score.

Ellis' shutout was his second of the season over second place Arkansas.

Albuquerque catcher Mike Stubbins was lost for possibly six weeks. He pulled a hamstring muscle and chipped a bone after running into the screen behind home plate while chasing a foul ball.

Babe Ruth pitched opening day victories for the Boston Red Sox in 1916 and 1917.

Grazing Improves

AUSTIN (AP) — Warm temperatures and scattered rains brought improvement of Texas ranges and pastures last week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported Monday.

"All classes of livestock are making economical gains," the department's weekly crop-weather report said.

The department also said the 1966 cotton crop is 66 per cent planted, sorghum planting is at 71 per cent, corn planting is practically complete, oat combining has begun in South Texas and flax and hay cutting is underway.

Pentagon Begins To Tire Of Duty-Shirking Nations

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sentiment appears to be growing in the Pentagon for a get-tough attitude toward North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations that shirk their common defense responsibilities.

Some key authorities have indicated they would like to see U.S. forces thinned down in Europe.

A source said failure of West Germany to meet a two-year commitment to buy about $1.3 billion in arms and military supplies from the United States could bring moves toward an American troop reduction there.

So far — with only a little more than a year to go in the commitment period — Germany is more than $1 billion short in its promised purchases, officials said.

The rising irritation in the Defense Department is stimulated by:

—Growing manpower requirements for the Viet Nam war at a time when the United States has the equivalent of six Army divisions and a total of nearly 225,000 fighting men massed along the iron curtain in Germany.

—Continued reluctance by NATO countries, including Germany, to maintain their defense budgets and contribute to their abilities in the defense of Europe.

It is understood that West German Defense Minister Kai-Uwe Von Hassel received little sympathy from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara during recent conferences here in which Von Hassel told of Germany's difficulties in meeting its agreement to buy war goods from the United States.

This agreement, and others that preceded it, are designed to offset U.S. costs in maintaining a major combat force in Germany.

In a speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Montreal last week, McNamara once again underscored his views that prosperous allies must do more.

"We have had, over the last few years, as many men in uniform as all the nations of Western Europe combined — even though they have a population half again greater than our own,' McNamara said.

"Now, the American people are not going to shirk their obligations in any part of the world, but they clearly cannot be expected to bear a disproportionate share of the common burden indefinitely."

The U.S. officials are particularly incensed by graphs showing economic growth and defense spending in the NATO countries.

What bothers them is a leveling off in defense spending in some of these countries at a time when their gross national products are rising.

The Institute of Strategic Studies estimates West German defense spending this year will total $4.37 billion — well below the 1965 estimate of $5 billion.

Germany has 12 divisions in its army but U.S. military leaders complain that Germany has not provided the backup forces, the support structure and logistic requirements that would make this 12 division force a first-class army.

McNamara is reported to have told the Germans that he will not stand by and see the U.S. 7th army in Germany in a position where its flanks are held by inadequate German and NATO forces.

Some 73,000 men and women developed cancer of the colon and rectum last year. About 43,000 died in 1965 of this disease. However, the American Cancer Society says that almost three out of four of its victims could have been saved through a "procto" exam as a part of an annual health check-up.

President Has Ingredients For Successful Shindig

EDITOR'S NOTE — When LBJ throws a party, or shows up at one, it swings. A wife of a foreign diplomat recently confessed she finally had learned what makes a successful shindig by watching the President in action. Here's what it is all about.

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is the life of his parties. They swing because he stays and stays.

And, lately, dinners, receptions and dances at the White House are lasting longer and longer.

The choicest ingredient of any White House party is, of course, the President. Everyone who comes wants to meet him — and his wife — and go home and tell the folks about it.

But, at White House parties nowadays, the guests get far more than they expected.

President Johnson may show a guest the room where Lincoln slept — or even his own bedroom.

When he stands in a formal receiving line in the elegant Blue Room, old friends coming through get a bear hug and many a lady gets a kiss.

At a party the President encourages his young daughters — and his guests from diplomats to secretaries — to swing out on the polished East Room floor in the frenetic frug, swim, monkey or the hitch-hiker.

He's even loosened up White House secretaries: Bill D. Moyers and Elizabeth Carpenter, to do the frug together.

At a recent dinner dance given in honor of Denmark's Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag and his blonde actress wife, Helle Virkner, Johnson summoned daughter Luci and told her to get a watusi going.

When the band swung into the booming beat of "Downtown," 18-year-old Luci and her fiance, Pat Nugent, set the pace. And the President led the applauding spectators from the sidelines.

A lot of careful planning goes into White House parties — and the President is first to give credit to his wife and her hard-working social secretary, Bess Abell, tall, attractive blonde daughter of a former Kentucky governor and senator, Earle G. Clements.

Lately, they've included a number of stars from the Hollywood and New York theatrical set to add to the glamor.

The most popular party — and usually the swingingest — is the dinner dance with the East Room set cabaret style and ringed with small candlelit round tables beneath the huge dimmed crystal chandeliers.

The President often table hops and sits out a few dances to chat with friends.

But, he can be indefatigable on the dance floor, often keeping up a marathon pace that brings beads of perspiration to his forehead.

Bachelor military aides from every branch of the service get special White House party duty. And the President gives them orders to keep the ladies dancing.

Often, he gives orders to the dance bands to play short segments so that he can change partners frequently and he's a master at that art.

There's hardly a lady that doesn't get a turn on the dance floor with him.

Mrs. Johnson keeps an eagle eye on her husband and pops up to rescue him anytime she thinks he's too surrounded by reporters or spends too much time with some favored guest.

Protocol once prescribed that guests stayed until the President left a party. But that idea has long been a thing of the past. Visiting heads of state and V.I.P. visitors to the White House usually leave long before President Johnson tires of the fun.

He smilingly sees them to the front door and goes back to the dancing. Sometimes the President even outlasts his wife, who is a devoted dancer hostess.

Approximately 100 students will be awarded Associate of Applied Arts, Associate of Arts or Associate of Science degrees.

Mahon was elected to the 74th Congress in November, 1934. Only 7 members of the House of 435 members outrank him in length of service in that body.

In 1939 Mahon became a member of the powerful House Appropriations Committee and was elected to the position of Chairman of the Committee May 18, 1964.

The congressman received a B. A. degree in 1924 from Simmons College (now Hardin-Simmons University), Abilene, and in 1925 received a law degree from the University of Texas Law School.

Congressman Mahon began the practice of law in Colorado City in 1925. His career in public life began in 1925.

Pay Raise Is Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Postoffice and Civil Service Committee Monday approved a $622 million annual pay raise for 1.8 million government employes effective July 1.

Chairman A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., said the vote to send the bill to the Senate floor was unanimous on the part of those present. He said he expected the Senate to act on it early in June.

The bill carries a 2.9 per cent pay boost for all the federal workers except those in the three supergrades who would get 2 per cent.

These figures are identical to those voted by the House in the bill it passed April 6.

President Johnson had urged that the pay boost become effective Jan. 1, 1967, in order to reduce the strain on his budget for fiscal 1967 which starts July 1.

But Monroney said there was no sentiment in his group for the Jan. 1 date. He said the administration offered an Ovt. 1 compromise but this too was rejected.

Lady, you'll just love flameless electric cooking ...it's so cool

You'll love your flameless electric range most of all during hot weather. Your kitchen stays cooler because electric surface units transfer heat by direct contact with utensil bottoms. They send their heat through the utensils and into the food, not the kitchen air. The oven is insulated all around, including the bottom, to keep heat inside where it belongs. There's no flame, so no intake and exhaust of air is needed to support combustion. The big difference in kitchen comfort is one of the many reasons why you'll just love flameless electric cooking.

Says Oscar Wrongly Awarded

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

PARIS (AP) — "How could they do that — give the Oscar to 'The Sound Of Music'?" Omar Sharif wanted to know.

The Egyptian actor played the title role in "Doctor Zhivago," which lost the Academy Award race to the sunny musical. But he claimed there was no sour-grape attitude in his reaction.

"The Oscar should have gone to 'Doctor Zhivago' or 'The Spy Who Came In From the Cold' or any other film that had artistic merit," he said. "But not to a purely popular concoction."

Surprisingly, Sharif concurred with the Academy's failure to nominate him as best actor, although "Doctor Zhivago" received a flock of other nominations.

"It would have been a gross injustice because the role was too passive," he said.

Sharif, who was nominated as best supporting actor for "Lawrence Of Arabia," doesn't fret about such things as awards. He is too busy pursuing his career as one of the most popular, if lowest paid, stars of the international film market.

Lowest paid?

"That's right," he said. "I'm still operating under the contract I signed for 'Lawrence Of Arabia.' Yes, I could no doubt hold out for better terms. But I signed a contract, and that is that. I will live by it."

He mentioned that he is earning $30,000 for his current film, "The Night Of the Generals," in which he plays an anti-Nazi officer. He probably could demand 10 times that amount for such a prestigious film as a free lancer.

"I made $14,000 for 18 weeks' work in 'Genghis Khan,'" he said with a trace of bitterness. "I don't mind making films like 'Night Of the Generals' and 'Doctor Zhivago' for little money. But my career cannot afford more than two 'Genghis Khans.'"

WHAT, ME WORRY?

GOPs Eye Romney, Javits As Compromise Candidates

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's suggestion of a 1968 Romney-Javits ticket gives Republican moderates a combination many of them might be willing to chance in an effort to retain party control.

Naturally, there are dissenters to the New York governor's statement Monday that there is "a growing feeling among Republicans it might be nice" to have Michigan Gov. George Romney run for president and Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., for vice president two years from now.

While not making a formal endorsement, Rockefeller said "with candidates of the caliber of these two great leaders we will be returned by the people of this country to national trust and responsibility."

Partisans of Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, who currently is on an inspection trip to South Viet Nam, gagged somewhat at Rockefeller's suggestion of a ticket they think their own man might well head.

There was no immediate comment from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who has been traveling through the country preaching a middle road approach to the Republican future. The moderates are looking toward him with less and less enthusiasm as he picks up more and more support from the conservatives who went down to defeat with Barry Goldwater in 1964.

Nixon, now a New York attorney, wouldn't say Monday whether he will be a presidential candidate in 1968, but told a Miami reporter that he and Romney probably are the top starters.

In Oregon, Republican Gov. Mark O. Hatfield is expected to be nominated for senator in today's primary. If he wins in November he will have a national stage from which to speak for the moderates.

Romney is obligated to win big in his bid for re-election in Michigan this fall if he wants to stay in the front ranks of potential contenders for the top nomination in 1968.

He currently is talking about how the Johnson administration is "leading the nation down the road of inflation" and also has taken a critical stand against Johnson's Viet Nam policies.

Most party leaders say that neither an all-out liberal nor an all-out conservative is likely to be nominated in 1968. Romney looks good to some leaders as a possible compromise candidate in this situation.

Rockefeller also indicated in his speech, at a GOP fund-raising dinner in Garden City, N.Y., that he will try to help set up a favorite son movement for Javits in 1968. This was regarded by some as part of an effort to bring the New York senator actively into the governor's re-election campaign.

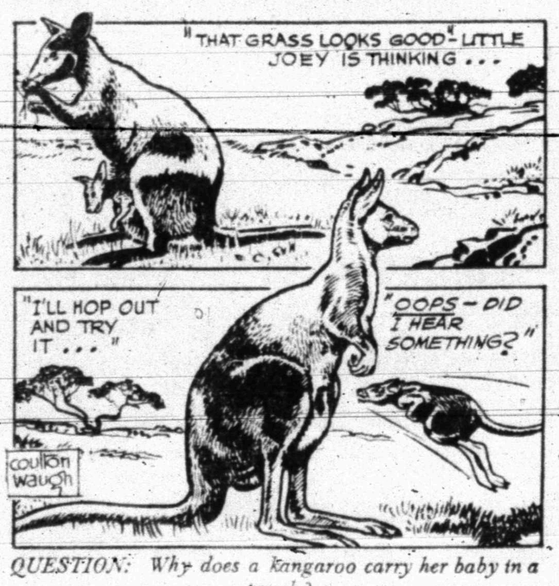
A favorite son arrangement of this kind could leave Nixon stranded for much support from his adopted state and hamper his efforts to get off to a flying start at the nominating convention.

Rockefeller's declaration that he is out of the presidential competition "forever" boosted moderates' hopes that he would not again put a stumbling block in the path of other moderate candidates as he did in the 1964 primaries.

Many party leaders at this point seem to agree that Rockefeller used the right word — "forever" — in renouncing his national hopes.

A nuclear gauge that measures snowmelt accurately may provide quick flood and avalanche warnings. Developed by scientists at the United States Department of Agriculture with the radioisotope cesium - 137, the gauge can measure density of a 10-foot snowpack in only 10 minutes. Previous methods required one hour for a comparable measurement.

Junior Editors Quiz on KANGAROOS



QUESTION: Why does a kangaroo carry her baby in a pouch?

ANSWER: A little joey, or baby kangaroo, is only an inch long when born. He's small, but he's possessed by a tremendously strong idea, which is to climb into the big comfortable pouch his mother has waiting for him. Once inside, he's happy. For weeks he stays there, feeding, resting and growing rapidly. Finally, he pokes his head out and takes a look at the world. One day, as in the upper picture, the joey will see something tempting and hop out. But he has the comfortable feeling that his mother is around. And if he loses his nerve (bottom picture), he can always take a flying leap back into his safe little home. It may be months before he is out on his own.

Young animals have a great need for security when they first grow up. Nature provides many methods. Birds have nests, and many animals bring up their young in caves or inside thickets. Kangaroos belong to the large group of marsupial animals which have developed their own way of caring for their young by carrying them around in a soft warm pouch.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Most marsupials live in Australia, but we have one kind in America, the opossum. Mother opossums have pouches like kangaroos, but they also have a most unusual way of carrying their young around when too big for the pouch. Try to find out what this is.

These Things We Could Do Without

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Some things we could do without:

Telephone numbers that are getting longer than Social Security numbers.

Dieters who tell you you're killing yourself because you enjoy eating what they can't have.

Any restaurant which claims its fried chicken is "lip smackin' good." Anybody who smacks his lips in public ought to go home and eat his fried chicken under the bed.

Fast-talking salesmen who try to sell you cemetery lots by telephone the day after you attend the funeral of a friend.

Girls who won't date a boy unless his hair is longer—and his slacks dirtier—than theirs.

Six-bit paperback novels that show on their covers a picture of a terrified beautiful maiden fleeing from a dark forbidden mansion. The truth is that houses don't haunt women—women haunt houses.

Homely secretaries who wear in the office dresses shorter than the bathing suits their grandmothers used to wear at the beach.

Any new cat or dog foods. Most city cats and dogs already eat better than their masters.

Alarm clocks that wake you up with rock 'n' roll tunes.

Chummy, chatty commercial pilots who start every announcement over the loud speaker system with a cheery "Well, folks—". Their lame ad libs give you a sinking feeling that you're riding, not with a plane driver, but with a frustrated vaudeville comedian.

Any place that charges a quarter for a cup of coffee that isn't worth a nickel.

Ladies with hair like a surprised porcupine who insist on sitting in the seat in front of you at the theater.

Toadying articles about successful business executives which claim they put in 17 to 18 hours a day on the job. Any executive who hangs around the office that long doesn't love his work: he just hates his home.

Guys who hold on to your arm while telling a funny story—so that you can't flee.

Mothers who let teen-age daughters pierce their earlobes.

Smart alec computers that try to tell people they would make ideal marital mates.

The new arithmetic.

Bank bandits who wear Halloween masks. If they are too ashamed to show their faces, they should get into some other line of work.

Cocktail parties which wind up with the host and hostess giving the guests free judo lessons.

Texas U Senior Named Miss Wool

DALLAS (AP)—Patricia Vincent, 21, University of Texas senior from San Antonio, is the new Miss Wool of Texas.

The brown-haired coed will assume the title June 24. She will compete in the national Miss Wool contest next year at San Angelo.

Miss Vincent, daughter of Mrs. C. D. Vincent, was selected Monday from 14 girls competing for the title of Miss Wool of Texas at the Apparel Mart.

Coach Eddie Yost of the Washington Senators led the American League six times in bases on balls.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

MEXICALI, MEXICO — The future of this Baja California city depends on its status as a duty-free port of entry. This being the opinion of the economic planners.

This status runs out at the end of 1966. It will have to be renewed sometime during the year by federal law.

The city, with a population of some 150,000 and an additional 100,000 in the surrounding valley, depends primarily on its production of cotton which has the biggest investment and employs more personnel than other industries. Dairy farming is second in the field of agriculture.

Industrially, Mexicali can boast of a few plants which produce chemicals for agriculture—insecticides and fertilizers; furniture factories, a canning industry is needed to relieve a heavy unemployment problem.

Although there is some water available, the economists point out there is no power shortage because only 40 per cent of the wattage capacity is being used. At the moment, a survey of the resources available and the needs of the area is being conducted.

This region could easily absorb a derivative plant which would make use of waste wood material. Lower labor costs would make it profitable to establish assembly plants for electronic products and for clothes.

The overall planning calls for converting from agriculture to industry and local authorities are hopeful of expanding the canning industry as a starter. One U.S. factory which had been projecting a plant for manufacturing paper for heavy duty packaging has postponed any definite decision, pending the possible change of duty-free status here.

Lower sales have been reported in Mexicali for the lst two years because the population buys heavily in Calexico across the border. U.S. canned goods are cheaper, are packaged better and are presented more attractively in the Calexico supermarkets.

"Leftovers" which don't make the grade, although still of excellent quality, in Los Angeles or San Diego are shipped to this border town and sold at lower prices than they could cost to be produced in Mexico.

Although some economists claim the salinization problem has been exaggerated, they agree that the projected drainage canal would eliminate the problem entirely.

Last year, the area produced 560,000 bales of cotton but since world prices can be determined by the quantity the United States has in reserve, efforts are being made to convince farmers to switch to other agricultural products.

The National Frontier Program has had little effect on the region's economy.

"All it has done so far," one authority said, "is pretty up the city a little so we're in a better position to attract more products."

The biggest problem, however, is still a lack of investment.

Unlike Tijuana, Mexicali has no tourist attractions. There is virtually no nightlife and perhaps half a dozen spots where entertainment consists of a pianist and vocalist.

There appears to be no prospects for great improvement in the near future. At least until a decision is made on continuing Mexicali's duty-free status.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

* * *

Q—What are some of the things that could delay a refund?

A—There are several major reasons for refund delays. One is that the return might be selected for examination before the refund is issued. A second is that insufficient or inaccurate information is supplied with the return by the taxpayer. Typical examples of this are missing W-2 forms, schedules, signatures and omitted or incorrect Social Security numbers.

While it may be little consolation to anyone who has a refund delayed for any of these reasons, most of the properly prepared claims for refunds are processed and the refund checks are mailed within six to eight weeks after the return is received. Delays occur in a very small percentage of the total refunds requested.

Q—Last year our garden club had a card party to raise funds and had to collect a 10 percent admissions tax on the tickets. Do we have to collect this tax again for this year's party?

A—No. This tax was repealed at the end of last year and is no longer applicable.

Q—We just moved here from out of state. I want to ask about my refund which hasn't arrived. Where should I write, to my old district where I filed my return or to the one that serves me now?

A—Please wait until the end of June for your refund before writing. It is most likely that you will have received it by then. A letter now will only add to the workload of our people who are trying to get the refunds out.

If your refund has not arrived by then, write to the office where you filed your return. Include your Social Security number in the letter.

In the meantime, be sure to file a change of address form with the postmaster at your old address.

Q—We are selling our house. What records should we keep for tax purposes?

A—Records showing the price you receive for the house as well as the expenses you incurred in making the sale should be kept. Records of advertising costs, brokers' commission and legal fees that were incurred because of the sale should be kept to verify the "selling expenses" that will be deducted from the sales price.

Records of the original cost of the property to you, including commissions and the cost of improvements should be kept so that you will be able to verify your cost basis of the sold property. If you buy another house, similar records on that purchase should be kept. There is a complete discussion of this subject in IRS Document No. 5017, "Selling Your Home," available by writing to the District Director.

Q—I filed an estimated tax declaraton in April and I now find the new withholding rates will take care of my tax liability. What do I do about the second installment of estimated tax due June 15?

A—File an amended declaration by June 15. You can use the reverse side of the June 15th bill to amend your estimate. No payment will be necessary if withholding is now sufficient to satisfy your tax obligations.

Q—I just took a parttime job. Is there anyway to keep them from withholding Social Security? They will take out enough to satisfy my year's requirements on my first job.

A—No. The law requires employers to withhold for Social Security on the first $6,600 of wages, paid by them, to each employee. Accordingly, your employer is required by law to withhold Social Security from your pay. However, if as a result of working for more than one employer, more than $277.20 has been withheld for Social Security, you may claim the excess as a credit on your 1966 income tax return, thereby either reducing the amount of tax due or increasing the amount of your refund check.

Economic Omens Closely Watched

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In jittery days the public joins business in watching more closely the signs that have gained a reputation for fore-telling good days or bad ahead. And right now some are pointing to caution. But most still seem to say that good times could last for quite a spell.

One of the economic tea leaves that is being studied at the moment is the highly important one of new orders for durable goods.

The bad news is that they turned down in April after months of steady advances. The good news is that, since shipments also dropped in April, the backlog of unfilled orders rose—meaning that there's plenty of activity assured for most durable goods makers for weeks and even months ahead.

Further reassurance to optimists can be found in last year's performance of the durable good orders as a direction-pointer. In 1965 orders turned down on three occasions, only to recover quickly and climb to new highs.

And a pause now in new orders might be welcomed by government economists because it could relieve pressure for higher prices of some industrial materials that have been getting in tighter supply. It was the long rise in new orders and backlogs that get much of the blame for price hikes in recent months in metals and other factory supplies.

How new orders for durables held up in May will be watched closely. In April they dropped to a seasonally adjusted $23.9 billion from the record $24.6 billion in March. But durable shipments declined also, so that the order backlog rose by $1.1 billion to $67.7 billion at the end of April. Even if new orders continue sluggish, the backlog means busy days ahead for many factories.

April was the 28th consecutive month that new durable goods orders topped shipments. And manufacturers have been increasing their shipments. So far this year average monthly shipments have been $2 billion higher than in the like period of 1965. But new orders grew so fast in the first three months of this year that the spread between orders and shipments is the biggest since the middle of 1956.

Unfilled orders are now equal to about 3¼ months' shipments. A year ago it was three months.

High as is the total of orders still on the books—$67.7 billion—in backlog still has a long way to go to reach the $78.8 billion of November 1952, when the Korean War buildup was at its peak. At that time the backlog equalled seven months of shipments from 1952's smaller factories.
