Capital Prepared For JFK's Inauguration

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The capital squared away today for John F. Kennedy's presidential inauguration—one of the biggest in history.

Every plane, train and bus fetched in politicians, celebrities, school children, brass bands and ordinary precinct-run democrats eager to whoop it up over regaining control of the White House.

All were here for a solemn occasion that lasts but a moment. Around 12:30 p.m. Friday, Kennedy takes the simple oath, and as he does the awesome responsibility for leading this country in the challenging days ahead quietly shifts to him.

Rarely has there been such an all-star cast.

Kennedy is here. Harry Truman is here. Dwight Eisenhower is here. Herbert Hoover was expected late today.

For a short time Friday four men who have taken this high oath will be together at the Capitol—two Democrats, two Republicans—who by their very presence are an illustration of democracy at work.

Only one chilly note threatens to mar the festivities.

The weather man is sticking by his prediction that the thermometer will hover around freezing and that there will be a brisk wind. Those who are at the Capitol, and those who line Pennsylvania Avenue for the parade that follows, are in for a frigid afternoon.

But today the emphasis is nearly all on celebrating.

Kennedy will drop by a reception for governors late this afternoon, take in a couple of private receptions, go to a special inauguration concert of the National Symphony and wind up the evening at a Democratic gala in the National Guard Armory.

Led by Frank Sinatra, an all-star cast has been lined up to entertain those who contribute $100 apiece for the big party fund-raising affair. Performers to appear tonight are Harry Belafonte, Gene Kelly, Jimmy Durante, Nat King Cole, Leonard Bernstein, Ethel Merman, Louis Prima, Keely Smith, Mahalia Jackson and on and on, with a special mention for Ella Fitzgerald. She's coming all the way from Australia.

Peter Lawford, film star married to Kennedy's sister, estimates that at going television rates the entertainment would cost $488,000. Instead, most of the artists are donating their services.

Cold Front Hits State

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Strong northerly winds whipped a cold front across Texas Thursday bringing an end to unseasonable but pleasant weather which covered the state.

The mass of cold air which moved into the Texas Panhandle Wednesday, Thursday continued to push rapidly southeastward. The front spread into northwestern Louisiana to just south of Lufkin and 40 miles south of Cotulla early Thursday.

It continued westward across the northern portion of Mexico.

Temperatures toppled into the lower 20s in the Panhandle early Thursday and ranged up into the lower 60s south of the front and along the coast.

The front, continuing southeastward during the day, was expected to spread over the entire state sometime Thursday.

Scattered rain fell along and ahead of the cold front over South Central and Southeast Texas but was expected to end in most sections by early afternoon.

The powerful winds prevailing throughout the cold air reached velocities exceeding 40 miles per hour in gusts at many locations.

Among the cities reporting light rain near dawn Thursday were San Antonio, Houston, Laredo, Corpus Christi, Alice, Beaumont and Galveston.

Skies generally were cloudy early Thursday except at Abilene, Waco and portions of the South Plains and Panhandle.

Laos Program Is Changed

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The United States announced today its economic aid program in war-torn Laos is being changed to a stopgap operation with sharply reduced personnel.

John H. Tobler, U. S. aid director for Laos, told a news conference a streamlined force of 40 American specialists will provide assistance in small self-help projects.

Johnson Gets His Biggest Reception

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson had the biggest reception of his political career Wednesday night—and he shook hands in double-time to keep up with it.

Thousands jammed the street outside and the corridors of the Statler-Hilton Hotel in a teeming crush to get to a big Texas wingding—the biggest thing so far in pre-inaugural partying.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn and the Texas State Society of Washington invited 6,000 guests at $5 apiece to the affair.

President-elect John F. Kennedy got the party off to a good start with a 12-minute stint in the receiving line, flanked by yellow roses.

Johnson confided to the president-elect that he has lost 20 pounds since the election on a strict diet.

In the lineup were incoming Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, ex-President Harry Truman, his wife, Bess, and daughter, Margaret Truman Daniel.

Rusk was summarily ordered to move along by a policeman on receiving line duty who didn't recognize him. He got a shove as well, but took it all with a quiet smile.

Johnson shook hands for almost 2½ hours, perspiring but game and smiling to the end.

Mrs. Johnson, who had come from an afternoon of handshaking at an inaugural reception for distinguished ladies at the National Gallery of Art, held forth for about an hour in the receiving line.

The party spread over the first floor and featured 16 bars and 9 buffet tables serving Texas roast beef sandwiches.

"It's a crime," one woman said as she watched Johnson using a hand-over-hand technique to speed up the line of hand-shakers.

There was even a lady who insisted, "How about a kiss?" And Johnson complied.

Toward the end Johnson propelled the line forward in double time, using both hands and virtually pulling people past him. No one seemed to mind in the friendly atmosphere.

Hunt Pressed For Gunman In California

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — An intensive hunt was pressed today for a stocky gunman with bushy hair who killed a brilliant University of California graduate student and wounded an English professor late Wednesday.

Fatally wounded by a sawed-off shotgun blast in the back was Stephen Mann Thomas, 29, member of a pioneer ranching family at Ukiah, Calif.

He was a teaching assistant to Prof. Thomas F. Parkinson, 40, who was shot in the face as he arose from his desk in his quiet office on the second floor of Dwinelle Hall.

Parkinson and Thomas had been in conference after classes. The younger man's back was to the open door when the hatless gunman entered and, without warning, fired twice with the double-barreled weapon.

Birdshot from the second blast didn't hit Parkinson full in the face. But it ripped away part of his jaw and blasted out a window behind him. The student writhed on the floor with a gaping hole in his back. Two empty 12 gauge shotgun shells were ejected onto the floor.

Two professors in a nearby office, Brendan O'Hehir and Ralph W. Radar, rushed into the corridor. The slayer ran toward them brandishing the shotgun.

"Outta the way," he said grimly, "or I'll kill you."

Then he darted past them, down the stairs and fled out the main east entrance. Another English professor, Gardner D. Stout, caught a glimpse of the gunman as he ran past a corridor poster advertising a French Quaker film entitled: "We Are All Murderers."

"I never saw the man before," Stout told police.

Relatives of the victims were at a loss for any possible motive for the shootings.

"We have no tangible leads, and we can't learn of any motive," said Police Sgt. Joseph Halleran.

Thomas died in Herrick Memorial Hospital an hour and a half after the shooting. He had been studying for his doctorate in English. He already held masters degrees in fine arts (Iowa, 1957) and English (California, 1959).

Parkinson, a native of San Francisco, is recognized as an outstanding poet.

It was the second campus slaying in slightly more than six months. A pretty coed, Sonya Hoff, 21, was shot in the head in the library July 13. A jury returned a verdict of first degree murder against a Moslem convert, Mohammed Abdullah, 21,—about the time of the latest shooting.

Missing Child Is Found In Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH (AP)—Searchers found brilliant Linda Sue Farmer, 10, an adopted child who had been missing since 3 p.m. Wednesday. First reports said the child was unharmed and was located in a house in the general neighborhood of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin L. Farmer.

INHERITS MILLIONS—Heiress Fredericka (Bobo) Sigrist Juarez holds key at her 21st birthday party in London when she inherited more than ten million dollars. She is the only child of the late Frederick Sigrist, a British aviation pioneer. Under terms of Sigrist's will, Bobo was to get the first instalment of his large fortune when she reached 21. New Decrees Announced

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government announced today it is holding six Americans accused of sailing to Cuba Jan. 7 to join counter-revolutionary forces here.

The announcement said all six were seized in Havana the day after they made a pact in Florida with a Castro foe, former Sen. Rolando Masferrer, to join other dissidents trying to overthrow Castro's regime.

Several Americans were executed by Castro firing squads last year after they were captured with "invasion" groups in Cuba.

The announcement identified the six as George R. Beck, 2, Norton, Mass.; Tommy L. Baker, 28, Dothan, Ala.; Donald Joe Green, 28, Clover, S.C.; James E. Beane, 34, Cedar Falls, N.C.; Alfred Eugene Gibson, Durham, N.C.; and Leonard Louis Schmidt 21, Chicago.

The account said the six sailed from Marathon Key, Fla., with a refueling stop at Key West Jan. 6 after undergoing training at Masferrer's anti-Castro training camp in Florida.

Castro's Cabinet needled the United States with a series of new decrees.

In a session lasting until after midnight, the cabinet:

1. Ordered all Cubans and foreigners employed on the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo and living outside the base to get special work permits from the Cuban government.

2. Ordered all other persons entering the base—meaning Cubans trading with it—to get special permits.

3. Ordered drastic changes in the Spanish-American War Monument in Havana.

4. Ordered dissolution of the Cuban-American Cultural Institute, charging it has been converted into a propaganda outlet for the State Department.

Nearly 4,000 Cuban nationals work at the base.

The new law indicated that one aim of the regime was to get its hands on all dollars paid by the base to Cubans. It said that applications for permits to work on the base must be accompanied by a declaration of income.

The eagle atop the Spanish-American War Monument was ordered replaced by a dove of peace, the decree saying that the eagle was a "tragic symbol of aggression, vassalage and exploitation."

Military firing squads executed three members of the Cuban Electrical Union Wednesday as Castro pressed his purge of opponents in the ranks of labor. The three men shot in the dry grassy moat of ancient La Cabana fortress were accused of sabotaging electrical equipment last November, when the capital was partially blacked out by bomb blasts.

The three electrical workers raised the unofficial total of executions to 584 since Castro took over power on New Year's Day of 1959.

8-Day Crude Pattern Is Set For February

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission ordered today a slight cut of 25,610 barrels a day in the statewide oil allowable for February.

The commission fixed the daily allowable at 2,804,477 barrels a day based on an 8-day production pattern.

Oil production has been based on a nine-day pattern for two months.

Most buyers and independent oil producers recommended a switch to an eight-day pattern for the short calendar day month of February.

Humble Oil Co., the state's largest oil buyer, recommended a nine-day pattern and said Humble had not been able to buy as much spot oil in January as it desired, even on a nine-day pattern.

Charles Shaver, speaking for Humble, said he seriously doubts if Humble can find sufficient spot crude on an eight-day pattern.

Eight of the 13 companies suggested the eight-day schedule.

E. L. Wilson, representing 45 independent oil operators of Dallas, urged the commission to make no material change in the daily allowable. He said the 25,000 barrel cut at the beginning of the month would be offset during February by new allowables for discovery wells.

"We well remember the bad situation we found ourselves in last year when we over produced at the beginning of a bad demand season. It took the rest of the year to get the house straightened out," Wilson said.

He added that his group could not see anything in the nominations or general industry situation to justify an increase of more than 173,000 barrels a day which would result if a 9-day pattern were fixed.

His position was backed up by representatives of independent operators from San Antonio, Abilene and Wichita Falls.

John Crutchfield of Corpus Christi advised the commission to go to a nine-day order because of an increase in nominations, lower crude oil stocks, except for gasoline, and a substantial increase in crude oil being brought into Texas for refining.

Nominations by companies: Texaco and Humble; eight days, Indiana, Sinclair, Continental, Cities Service, Shell, Phillips, Standard of Texas and Gulf.

Legislature Sets Brief Meet Today

AUSTIN (AP) — Members of both houses will meet briefly today, then go home for the weekend with committee jobs still unsettled.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey apparently will name his Senate committees Monday but Speaker James Turman probably will hold back his selections until mid-week.

Meanwhile, the 181 members had plenty to keep them occupied in analyzing the recommendations of Gov. Price Daniel and the Legislative Budget Board.

Reaction Wednesday indicated the governor's taxation program will run into trouble but until, and unless, a better tax plan is offered in the house the payroll plan will ride the middle of the road.

Silence greeted Daniel when he told them Wednesday that "the time has come when we must face the fact that a broader based growth tax is necessary to meet the present and future needs of Texas."

General agreement was found, however, for solving the state's estimated $63 million deficit as the first major task. His deficit dissolving plan seemed to find more favorable response that the payroll recommendation.

Daniel told them that if they did not like the payroll route then he would recommend "a broadened excise tax which would increase some of the present selective levies and add many other items to the present selective sales or excise taxes."

The governor left the door open a little farther by adding that "if any of you has a plan which receives wider acceptance, short of a general sales tax or an income tax, I will work for and support that plan."

Some figured the payroll tax was an income tax by another name.

"I can't support the payroll tax. That's a gross income tax," said Sen. Bob Baker of Houston.

Others such as Senate President pro tempore Ray Roberts of McKinney feel the payroll tax would leave open too many escape hatches for those not on payrolls to avoid paying their fair share.

Sen. Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio said "the bulk of the program is very sound and very well thought out."

Will Crowder Dies Today

Willie (Will) Henderson Crowder, longtime rancher and stock farmer of Scurry County, died at 1:45 a.m. today at Cogdell Memorial Hospital. His home was on the Old Post Road.

Born Nov. 11, 1891, in Denton, he married Miss Bernice Thompson at Ira on June 8, 1913. The couple made their first home at their present location.

Survivors include his wife, one daughter, Mrs. D. Marvin Foree of Snyder; two sisters, Mrs. Walter Grant and Mrs. Lloyd Holly, both of Snyder; one brother, Ed Crowder of Snyder; four grandsons; and a niece, Mrs. Hope Lewis of Snyder.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p.m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church, with Rev. Harry Vanderpool officiating.

Burial will be in the Hillside Memorial Garden under the direction of Bell Funeral Home.

Ike, Kennedy In Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and President-elect John F. Kennedy canvassed the nation's major problems in a White House conference today lasting more than two hours.

When he came out of the conference, Kennedy told reporters that he and three of his top appointees had had "the opportunity to get the thinking of the President and the responsible officers of the government on some of the major problems facing the United States."

Kennedy, bronzed and smiling, was asked how he feels with his inauguration as president scheduled Friday.

"[illegible]ood," he replied.

A reporter asked if he was excited.

"Interested," Kennedy replied with a broad grin.

A joint statement issued by the press secretaries of the outgoing and incoming presidents said that world areas discussed at the conference included the Far East, Africa, Western Europe and the Caribbean.

Eisenhower and Kennedy met alone first in the President's office. Then they met in the Cabinet Room with the incoming and outgoing secretaries of state, Treasury and defense for continuation of their discussions.

The statement said that during their discussions, the president-elect and the incoming Cabinet members "were brought up to date on a number of matters affecting the security of the United States."

It was the second time Eisenhower and Kennedy had met for pre-inaugural discussion. They conferred for nearly three hours Dec. 6. Today's meeting lasted about three hours and 15 minutes.

Kennedy told newsmen the two conferences will make the transition from a Republican to a Democratic administration easier.

Kennedy was reminded that Eisenhower had said Wednesday that the transition was going smoothly. Kennedy agreed.

Among the problems touched upon today, Kennedy said, was the outflow of gold. He said this was touched on briefly.

Kennedy said, in reply to a question, that the talks were virtually restricted to foreign affairs as distinguished from domestic problems.

He said that Eisenhower and his associates had offered to continue to help in any way they could after leaving office, if the new administration had any questions they could answer.

He indicated, in reply to a question, that there had been no discussion of any specific mission Eisenhower might undertake for him after returning to private life.

Appointees Are Reminded Of Rules

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said today he expects all 10 of the top civilian defense team designated by President-elect John F. Kennedy to comply with "a very harsh rule" on private holdings.

The rule will require Robert S. McNamara, named to be secretary of defense, and nine Pentagon subordinates to sell all their stock in companies doing any direct defense business.

McNamara testified he would do anything the Senate Armed Services Committee says must be done to qualify for approval. Russell heads the committee.

After two days of public hearings and more than two hours of closed-door discussion, the committee decided Wednesday to apply the same "harsh rule" to defense appointees in the new Democratic administration that was used for Republican defense officials in 1953.

McNamara, who was president of the Ford Motor Co., told senators he would establish a special trust for his stock holdings. He would not control it or even know about its operations while in government service, to avoid any hint of conflict of interest.

McNamara said the trust — resulting from selling his Ford stock worth more than $1½ million—probably would invest in the same corporations with defense contracts.

But Russell said this would not do. He said McNamara's trust must not buy any stocks which he himself could not buy as defense chief, even though McNamara knew nothing about what the trust was doing. He required McNamara and the others to file written statements to this effect to gain final comimittee approval.

The committee action was a victory for Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who first pointed out that the McNamara trust could violate an 1873 law prohibiting any government official or employe from receiving benefits from a concern doing government business.

Given conditional approval along with McNamara were these nominees:

Roswell L. Gilpatric, deputy secretary of defense; Elvin J. Stahr, secretary of the Army; John B. Connally, secretary of the Navy; Eugene M. Zuckert, secretary of the Air Force; Paul H. Nitze, assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs; Charles J. Hitch, assistant secretary of defense (comptroller); Cyrus R. Vance, general counsel for Department of Defense; Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense (public affairs); Thomas D. Morris, assistant secretary of defense (supply and logistics).

AREA OIL

Re-Entered Well Tests

Gulf Oil Corp. No. 1 B. S. Welton, re-entered opener of the Rafter Cross, South field of Borden County, was testing the Pennsylvanian through perforations between 8,298-308 feet. The formation had been acidized with 500 gallons.

On an earlier test between 8,241-50 feet, oil and water had been recovered.

Original completion was in the Ellenburger on Sept. 24, 1960.

It is located in Section 23, Block 30, SN, T&P Survey or six miles southeast of Gail.

Two Grass Fires Are Extinguished

The Snyder fire department was called out twice Wednesday afternoon to extinguish grass fires.

A grass fire behind the Co-op Gin on Thirty-seventh Street had gained headway in the wind before firemen arrived, but the wind was not strong enough to hinder the firemen in extinguishing the blaze.

The other grass fire occurred at Avenue Z and Twenty - eighth Street and was reported as small.

Eddie Taylor To Be In Inaugural Parade

A Snyder youth will be a color bearer in the inaugural parade in Washington, D. C., tomorrow.

He is Eddie Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Van Zandt, 302 Thirty-sixth Place. Taylor will be marching in the Inaugural parade with the Wainwright Rifles of Tarleton State College where he is a sergeant in the ROTC.

Bandit With Knife Gets $2,500 Loot

DALLAS (AP) — A knife-wielding bandit dipped into three Safeway Food Store cash registers and a safe Wednesday night then fled on foot with loot estimated at $2,500.

Dallas Marshall, a store employe, told police the man, about 40, entered the checker's line, pulled a 14-inch knife and said: "This is it and don't take too long."

Marshall said the man marched him from one cash register to the next and finally to the store's safe —then ran from the store.

NEW HAIR FASHION—A wide sweep of soft wave movements, but no deep wave pattern, give a candid note for spring and Summer in this new "Allure Coiffure," designed in the Honey Hug hair fashion trend by the Official Hair-Fashion committee. Hair at the sides is dressed into forward curls that brush the cheeks, lending a hugging effect. The closely fitted nape treatment repeats the hug. Professional permanent waving and shaping give the hair a soft and natural movement, allowing it to fall easily into place in a casual swing.

Lamar P-TA Has Science Tour At Meet

The Lamar Junior High Parent-Teachers Association held its regular monthly meeting Monday night with Mrs. Mark Williams, president, presiding.

Mrs. Ralph Wesson brought devotional thoughts on "The Builder." Minutes from the Nov. meeting were read and approved. A financial statement was given by the treasurer, Mrs. Charles Snyder.

Mrs. Williams reported the progress on the annual memory book. It was stated that the book would be sold for $1 each. The cover for the book was designed by Mike Poe and Janelle Scrivner.

All persons interested were reminded of the district conference of the P-TA to be held March 21 at Rotan. Mrs. Nan Lee's seventh grade room won the room count award.

Following the business the group adjourned to science lecture room for the first part of the program. Marshal Parham demonstrated one of the machines used in visual education in the science department.

In science lab "B" there were bottled specimens to be viewed and microscopes through which a closer look at various things could be taken. Harry Newton was in charge and answered questions.

There were experiments by students, Scooter Harbour, Mary Ellen Ainsworth, Isabel Biscoe, Dan Kennedy, Robert Martin, Dwain Butler and Bobby Easterwood. As a conclusion Al Young performed several experiments with the use of liquid air.

Refreshments of punch, coffee and cookies were served in the cafeteria.

Fabrics Is Program For D&D Meet

The Desk and Derrick Club of Snyder met Tuesday evening at the Martha Ann Woman's Club for a dinner meeting.

Lois Leech, president, presided at the business session during which Marjorie Price, Tootsie Favors, and Edith Krasner were appointed to serve as a nominating committee to select a slate of officers for the new club year beginning April 1. Mrs. Leech also announced that Farmington, N. M. will be the site of the 1961 Region V meeting of the Association of Desk and Derrick Clubs of North America. The meeting is scheduled for May and full particulars will be made available to local club members well in advance.

Following the business meeting, Jan Roberts, program chairman, presented "Fabrics and Fashions." She explained the various ways in which petroleum is involved in the making of clothing and noted that many of the modern day fabrics are made from oil derived products. Some of the materials named were nylon, orlon, acetate, dacron, vinyl, acrilon and, of special interest, dynel, the fur-like material now used in making women's coats. To conclude the program, Mrs. Roberts showed a color film entitled "Fashions-1960-61."

Guests present for the meeting were Elaine Haskell and Naomi Wilson. Members in attendance were Lois Leech, Jan Roberts, Marjorie Price, Trudie Wood, Edith Krasner, Jewel Pinkerton, Marsha Robinson, Jewel Roemisch, Juanita Farquahar, Pat Gilmore, and Lue Morgan.

Gown For First Lady Made Public

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy's gown for Friday night's Inaugural Ball is in sharp contrast to the usually fussy, full-skirted gowns worn by first ladies at inauguration balls.

It is a floor-length sheath with a simple, sleeveless and extremely blousy top.

The dress — which eventually may wind up among the memorabilia at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington—was made public today by the president-elect's press secretary, Pierre Salinger.

The very slim skirt is made of white silk peau d'ange (a sheer silk) veiled with white chiffon. The collarless, sleeveless bodice, richly embroidered in silk and brilliants, is fitted, but it is covered by a transparent, very full overblouse that puffs out like a cloud at the hipbone.

While traveling to and from the three (or four) locations of official inauguration celebrations in the capital Friday night, Mrs. Kennedy will button a floor-length cape around her gown. It is made of the same white silk peau d'ange and is completely veiled in silk triple chiffon.

The cape arches from shoulder to hem with soft waves to the back. It is fastened by twin embroidered buttons under a ring collar.

The new first lady, highly regarded for her understated high fashion sense, is expected to wear 20-button white glace kid gloves with her ensemble and carry a matching white tailored clutch purse. Peaking from the hemline of her stride-limiting slim skirt will be white silk opera pumps, medium high.

The designer, Ethel Frankau, of Bergdorf Goodman's, left for Europe without waiting to see Mrs. Kennedy wear her creation at the ball.

The store, which had been guarding the costume sketches as if they were a top secret, refused to comment on the cost.

Mrs. Sawyer Hostess To Circle Meet

The Saunders Circle met recently with Mrs. Billie Sawyer for Mission study.

Mrs. Elaine Lambert, circle chairman presided. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Jo Ann Fields. Following the business, Mrs. Fields gave two chapters from the book "The Dreamer Cometh".

The first chapter was "Meet The Dreamer" who was Luther Rice a Baptist missionary to Asia. The second chapter was "The Dreamer At Work", telling of Rice encouraging people to contribute to missions.

The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Sylvia Gafford.

Refreshments of doughnuts and coffee were served to Mrs. Wanda Adams, Mrs. Lynn Bethel, Mrs. Sylvia Gafford, Mrs. Janie Coskey, Mrs. Janis Valentine, Mrs. JoAnn Fields, Mrs. Elaine Lambert and Mrs. Billie Sawyer, two new members, Mrs. El Wanda Culvahouse and Mrs. Mary Slate and one guest, Mrs. Shirley Ontes.

Mrs. Jeanie Waggoner will be hostess for the next meeting.

Modern Dancers Hold Regular Monthly Meeting

The Modern Dancers held their monthly meeting recently at the Lambert School of Dance studio.

During the meeting plans were made to have the mothers as guests at their next meeting. Awards were also presented to the following members as showing the most improvement in their work: Nancy Vaugh, Paula Redwine, Julie Newsom, Trix McMullin and David Cockrell.

Sandwiches and punch were served to members by Mrs. Lambert according to Cheryl Rutledge, reporter.

Probers Disclose Saga Of 'Unknown' In Investigation Of Plane Collision

By ARTHUR EVERETT

NEW YORK (AP)—The flight of "The Unknown" began at 9:11 a.m. Eastern Standard Time when United Air Lines jet flight 826 left Chicago's O'Hare Field, picked up altitude and headed eastward at a cruising speed of 591 miles per hour.

Aboard the sleek Douglas DC8 were 77 passengers and a crew of seven, in charge of Capt. R. H. Sawyer, 46, of Hemet, Calif. They were bound for New York, due at Idlewild Airport at 10:45 a.m. Many were homeward bound for Christmas, and gay gift packages sparkled in the luggage racks of the big United Mainliner.

Thirty-one minutes earlier, at 8:40 a.m. Trans World Airlines' Super-Constellation flight 266 was airborne from Dayton, Ohio. The four-engine Lockheed airliner carried 39 passengers and five crewmen, in charge of Capt. David A. Wollam, 39, of Huntington, N.Y. She headed east at 318 m.p.h. for La Guardia field, due there at 10:36 a.m. Like the jetliner, her luggage racks bore bright evidence of the approaching Yule.

And so 128 human beings—from a three-weeks-old babe in arms to a man of 79—flew east on a gray late autumn morning toward a cruel historic destiny.

The date was Dec. 16.

Both flights were uneventful and in midmorning, coming in from Phillipsburg, N.J., TWA 266 radioed La Guardia that she was at 9,000 feet. There was an overcast at the field of 500 feet, visibility of one mile, and light snow swirling down.

There followed a period in which La Guardia, by radar and radio, shepherded TWA 266 through the "Linden" holding pattern over New Jersey and started her on her descent with the observation:

"That appears to be jet traffic off to your right now, 3 o'clock at one mile, northeast bound."

There was no radio response from TWA 266, and her radar image mysteriously vanished from the screen. La Guardia tried with mounting concern to re-establish contact with the Constellation. All efforts failed.

Meanwhile, UAL 826 had reported in at 14,000 feet over Allentown, Pa., to New York Air Traffic Control Center at Idlewild and was directed to enter the "Preston" holding pattern. At Idlewild—about 10 miles across Long Island from La Guardia—the overcast was at 1,500 feet, visibility was a half mile and there was light rain and fog.

The "Preston" pattern is a counterpart of the "Linden" pattern, through which TWA 266 was passing. Both are rectangular areas in the sky in which planes are held in a circling position one above the other until they are cleared to descend to their airport destinations.

The "Linden" pattern is about five miles north of "Preston."

A plane cannot be tracked by radar after it enters such a pattern. Its blip merges with others because altitude does not register on a radar screen. Only when the plane leaves the circling area does its blip regain identity.

After UAL 826 was directed to "Preston," the control center radioed that it was terminating its radar surveillance, which was to be resumed by Idlewild approach control when the jet left the pattern.

Thirteen seconds later, UAL 826 reported to Idlewild approach:

"United eight-two-six approach Preston at 5,000."

The time was 10:33.28 a.m.

Idlewild made a routine reply, got no answer, began its own frantic series of calls in an effort to reestablish radio contact with UAL 826—just as La Guardia was doing with TWA 266.

There then began on the ground a drama of mounting horror.

La Guardia approach called New York control center to report:

"All right, now we got troubles, but we're not sure of it. We lost contact with a TWA, two-six-six I believe his number is. He was on collision course with an aircraft, an unknown aircraft, heading northeast from Preston toward Flatbush. That aircraft now is a mile outside the La Guardia outer marking, heading northeast bound."

"The unknown, you still have [illegible] in radar contact?" asked control center.

"No, we're not talking to the unknown, but we see him, yes," La Guardia replied.

TWA 266, whose blip had vanished so suddenly and mysteriously from La Guardia's radar screen was at that moment a tangle of smoking wreckage on the snow-bound earth of Staten Island. All 44 persons aboard were dead.

For at 10:33.32 o'clock that morning of Dec. 16, "The Unknown"—UAL's 826—had crashed into TWA 266 about 5,000 feet over Staten Island.

While the Constellation plunged to earth, UAL 826 continued on a straight course, streaking as "The Unknown" across La Guardia into a crowded section of Brooklyn.

It was the worst disaster in the history of aviation—with 44 killed aboard TWA 266, 84 aboard UAL 826 and six more casualties on the ground in Brooklyn, for a toll of 134 deaths.

The exact cause of the tragedy may never be determined. But toward that end, at any rate, on Jan. 4 there began in a ballroom of the St. George Hotel in Brooklyn the biggest hearing in the history of the Civil Aeronautics Board. It came to an end last Friday, Jan. 13, but it is expected to take months to assess the testimony and arrive at a finding, if any.

There was general agreement on only one thing. UAL flight 826 was 11 miles off course, going too high and too fast when the collision occurred. When Capt. Sawyer radioed he was approaching "Preston" at 5,000 feet, he actually was approaching Staten Island within seconds of disaster.

Evidence showed UAL 826 overshot "Preston" at 8,700 feet and a speed of 411 m.p.h. Her top speed at the time should have been 207 m.p.h. She still was barreling along at 346 m.p.h. when the crash came. But why?

Three pilots testified to a faulty signal from the Colt's Neck, N.J., radio beacon, that led them off course while their instruments showed they were in the "Preston" pattern. Was UAL's Capt. Sawyer thus led astray?

United vigorously defended its dead pilot, claiming he should have received continuous radar observation from Idlewild. Charles F. McErlane, UAL vice president for legal affairs, said:

"This accident could not have happened had Air Traffic Control properly utilized the equipment, personnel and facilities available. Frankly we have been shocked at some of the things we have learned since this investigation started."

The last word for the government—and the men on the ground—came from Wayne Hendershot, a Federal Aviation Agency official. He was asked of UAL 826, "The Unknown" of last Dec. 16:

"If the air traffic controller was not providing radar vectoring (guidance) to the plane, who was responsible for the plane's navigation"

Replied Hendershot:

"The pilot."

Rigid Security Is Set For Inaugural

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Security precautions as rigid as any ever imposed in this security-conscious capital will be directed at thwarting any potential assassin in Friday's inaugural crowds.

About one million persons are expected. The total security force will top 5,000.

Secret Service agents will stand on every rooftop, peer down every manhole, and scan every human cluster along the inaugural route between the Capitol and the White House.

Other agents will be hidden beneath the special platforms on which the incoming president will stand—at the capitol where John F. Kennedy will take the oath and at the White House where he will watch the inaugural parade.

Preparations for inaugural security began under Secret Service coordination soon after last November's election. While fewer than 200 Secret Service agents will be involved, they will get help from several thousand Washington police, hundreds of servicemen and a team of plainclothesmen from Washington and other cities.

The Secret Service is also counting on spectators to help protect Kennedy.

"If anyone in the crowd should make a threatening move," said Chief Inspector Michael Torina, "you can be sure someone nearby would have the courage and alertness to act."

The Secret Service credits a woman with deflecting the aim of Giuseppe Zangara when he tried to assassinate President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933 in Miami. Zangara's shots went wild but Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago was mortally wounded in the fusillade.

Inauguration Day presents special problems for the Secret Service because the President is in the public view for a longer period than usual. Also, the event attracts extraordinary attention, and, by its nature, might prove the focal point for action by the violently disgruntled.

June, Dick May Patch Up Quarrel

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Maybe June Allyson, 37, and Dick Powell, 56, will live happily ever after all.

Maybe, said Powell, "if people will only leave us alone."

"That's absolutely right," said June.

The movie couple talked to newsmen Wednesday outside their Beverly Hills home—a day after June filed suit for divorce and Powell flew home from Europe. They didn't say the divorce was off but Powell said: "I still love her, and I'm sure she still loves me."

The actor said, however, that he is moving to the couple's Newport Beach home for a rest.

Miss Allyson would get $2.5 million under a property settlement submitted with divorce papers. They have been married 15 years.

The 18 million union workers in the United States include 3½ million women.

Two Youths Sentenced In Theft Cases

Two Colorado City youths were sentenced to 10 days in the county jail after pleading guilty in county court today to a charge of stealing hubcaps in Snyder.

"Crime is exciting...but it is a foolish excitement and looks pretty silly when you are caught," County Judge J. Ray Martin told Ray Prescott and Donald Ray Howard, both 18, of Colorado City as he pronounced sentence.

A recommendation was made by County Attorney George Killam that the judge be lenient in pronouncing sentence in a charge having a maximum sentence of two years and a fine of $500. Killam stated that investigation by the Snyder Police Department had revealed that this was a first offense for both and the boys had good reputations with the Colorado City police.

The pair was tried jointly on a charge of taking hubcaps from the car of Geral Greene, 201 Thirty-sixth Place.

Other hubcaps recovered were two spinner caps and two green fender skirts from the James Spradlin auto at 2302 Forty-first Street and two hubcaps from the car of Ronnie Dupree, 2306 Avenue V.

Identification of the hubcaps was possible through identification numbers painted on the caps through a club at the Snyder High School.

Griffin To Head Assessing Officers

L. E. Griffin, tax assessor-collector for the City of Snyder, has been elected president of the South Plains Chapter of the Texas Association of Assessing Officers.

The South Plains chapter embraces 16 counties in this area.

Other new officers named by the chapter include Bob Turney of Midland, vice president, and J. J. Maxey of Slaton, Assessor Stanley of Brownfield and Dollie Berry of Seagraves, trustees.

Local Fisters Face Abilene Here Saturday

The Snyder Boxing Team will face one of its biggest tests of the year here Saturday night, when it meets the always-potent Abilene team at 8 o'clock in the Towle Park Barn.

Approximately 15 matches are on the tentative card, and Snyder coach Lacy Boles will have a wealth of boxing talent from which to draw including Leon and Donnie Deere, Ruben and Abe Gonzales, Joe and Jesse Costello, Peter and Alex Rios, Robert Garcia, and the Benitez brothers—Martin, "Tiger", Freddy, and Rudy.

No admission will be charged, but donations for the defraying of incidental expenses will be accepted.

Also, the reminder is issued to all townspeople who would like to have a hand in the supporting of the local boxing program of the jars which have been placed in various business houses for the purpose of collecting money for the purchase of a suitable portable ring. The boxers themselves have distributed the receptacles in hopes of eventually securing such a ring.

Milwaukee's Lew Burdette hit only five batters last season but one of his pitchers broke the left wrist of Dick Groat, Pittsburgh shortstop.

QB Club Banquet Tonight; Tech's King Is Speaker

One of the annual sporting highlights of the year will have as a setting tonight the High School Cafeteria, when the Snyder Quarterback Club holds its annual banquet there beginning at 7 o'clock.

Topping the evening's slate of events will be an address as delivered by J. T. King, who last month was elevated to the head coaching post at Texas Tech College in Lubbock. Prior to that time he had served as first assistant to DeWitt Weaver, who held the athletic directorship and head mentorship at the school through the '50's.

King is a 1938 graduate of the University of Texas, where he was a football letterman as a guard. His initial coaching ventures were at Kenedy and Enid (Oklahoma) High Schools, where he compiled the enviable record of five district championships and unofficial state title holder on three occasions during his six-year tenure at the Oklahoma schools.

He stepped up to the collegiate coaching ranks in 1946, when he became assistant to Henry Frnka at Tulane University. He returned to the state of Texas to coach in 1949 at Texas A&M, and then the following year returned to his Texas U. alma mater. During his 1950-56 tenure there the Longhorns hooked three Southwest Conference championships.

While at the University he served as end coach, line coach, and head defensive coach under Blair Cherry and Ed Price.

Then it was back to A&M in 1957, as King heeded a call from "Bear" Bryant. When Bryant pulled up stakes and reverted to the University of Alabama, King left College Station and took the post at Tech under Weaver in 1958.

The banquet itself will honor all of the gridders in the local school system, plus the Tiger state finalist baseball team, the Snyder High regional track champs, and the high school basketballers.

Emcee for the program is Johnny Boren. Plans call for him to introduce Coach John Conley, who will in turn recognize the various coaches and teams by group.

Capping off the program will be a filming of the Tech-Tulane football game of the past season, in which the Raiders scuttled the Green Wave by 35-21 in a game which matched a pair of eventual all-Americans in the forms of Tech's center, E. J. "The Beast" Holub, and Tulane's halfback Tommy Mason.

Tickets for the fete are $1.50, and will be available for sale tonight "at the door," with the public—primarily dads of the boys and all other men interested in the local sports program—invited and urged to attend.

Houston Ogled As Possible Pro Site

HOUSTON (AP) — Pittsburgh sports promoter Lenny Litman said Wednesday he would return to Houston next month after looking over the city as a pro basketball franchise site.

Litman indicated that he would like to move the Pittsburgh NBA franchise in the new American Basketball League to Houston.

More Inkings Typify Texans

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Texans have signed three more free agents, including a tackle who spent most of the 1960 season on the American Football League's taxi squad.

Bill Beck, a 6-0, 240-pound tackle from Gustavus Adolphus who Texan Coach Hank Stram stamps as a "man of potential," was on the Dallas reserve squad for most of the final part of the past season. His work on the taxi team earned him a contract for 1961.

Other signees announced today were Denis Clark of McNeese State College, a 6-2, 190-pound end whose coach claims "could be a real surprise," and Pat Fruehan, a 6-5, 210-pound end who played one season at West Point and one at Indiana.

A fourth free agent, fullback Jerry Brown, was announced by the Texans Wednesday. Brown was named the "nation's most outstanding service player" for his performance at Brooke Army Medical Center this past season.

Jam-Packed Cage Weekend Looming On Local Horizon

The usual full card of Thursday night junior high basketball games will not be in evidence on the local front tonight, with the annual Quarterback Club Banquet holding the city's sports spotlight. It is no more than the calm before the weekend cage storm, however, as a top-notch array of games is on tap beginning tomorrow night.

Snyder's prospering Tigers will be on the road in hopes of padding their District 3-3A lead against Sweetwater's Mustangs, who are also undefeated in league play. The Bengals are 10-7 for the season, and hold a spotless 2-0 record within the 3-3A family circle following impressive victories over Colorado City and Lake View. The Ponies possess a shiny 11-5 mark for the overall campaign, and ripped Lake View, 83-42, in their only conference outing to date.

Lamesa's defending state champion Tornadoes are also 1-0 in the district chase following Tuesday's 93-46 clobbering of Colorado City. Lake View and Colorado City are deadlocked for the bottom rung with 0-2 records.

As an added incentive, the Snyder five will be trying for its fourth win in a row, as the locals ended their non-district slate on a pleasant note with a 73-49 clouting of 2-4A Big Spring.

The Tiger "B" team will test Sweetwater "B" in a preliminary contest tomorrow night. Coach V. V. Shearburn's charges stand at 4-5 for the year, with all four of their triumphs being realized in their last six ventures.

Bulldogs Face Tough Test

A showdown of the first order looms on the area front in other action of tomorrow night, as the Ira Bulldogs and Westbrook Wildcats tangle in Westbrook in a pair of District 92-B "deciders." The conference setup calls for the first half champion to meet the second half victor in a best of three playoff for the district crown, and tomorrow's winners of the Ira-Westbrook clashes will gain the first half titles.

The situation as it now stands sees both the Ira and Westbrook boys and girls teams with perfect 4-0 tabs for the campaign, and tomorrow's games cap off the first half chase.

Additional area action of tomorrow will have the Loraine boys and girls, both of whom are winless in the campaign with 0-4 records, doing battle at Fluvanna, whose boys are 0-4 and girls are 1-3. Then the Hobbs boys (2-2) and girls (1-3) take a jaunt to Hermleigh to complete the slate. Both Hermleigh delegations are even-up for the race with 2-2 tallies.

Travis In Action

Tommorow evening will also see all three Travis Junior High quints in Big Spring for a trio of tussles against Goliad.

Travis 7th (1-8) will be looking for revenge for an earlier 25-23 edging as handed them earlier in the season by Goliad in the lid-lifter of the evening beginning at 5 o'clock. Travis 8th will be next in line at 6:30. They stand at 3-6 for the year, and were downed by Goliad, 35-25, in early-season action. The night's finale features the Travis Blue Devil 9th aggregate, which boasts a 5-3 record for the year, the best mark of any junior high outfit within the city. One of those wins was posted over Goliad, 47-31, and the local five will be engaging them once again in an 8 o'clock encounter in search of number two.

Texans To Angelo

Lamar 7th and 8th will be idle until Monday, but the Texan 9th will be keeping in tune by taking part in the San Angelo 9th Grade Tournament of tomorrow and Saturday.

The Texans drew a tough assignment for their first game—tourney favorite Jefferson (Abilene), a team which they'll tackle in initial action at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon.

Other teams in Lamar's bracket of play include San Angelo Edison and Sweetwater, and the Texans, if successful against Jefferson, will play the Edison-Sweetwater victor at 11 Saturday morning in their second rounder. The losers of those initial games will meet at 8 Saturday morning.

The remainder of the teams in the tourney are Cooper (Abilene), Brownwood, San Angelo Lee, and Lake View. It is a meet in which the teams entered will vie for all eight places, rather than reverting to a consolation bracket.

SCARBOROUGH Suffers Injury

Broken Jaw Befalls Ace Tiger Gridder

"Mr. Lineman" of the Snyder Tigers, veteran 198-pound senior center Reg Scarborough, met with an accident here yesterday which resulted in a broken jaw.

The mishap occurred at approximately 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and ironically came about during a physical education "touch football" session. Both Scarborough and Jackie Watson made a lunge for a pass at that time, with Scarborough striking his chin on the top of Watson's head, knocking both boys unconscious.

Scarborough was hospitalized, and it was found that his jaw was broken "clean" on both sides, but luckily there were no shattered bones in evidence and the injury, though painful, is not thought to be of a serious nature. He will remain confined for approximately two days and will be forced to follow a liquid diet for a short but indefinite period.

Watson's injury was minor and he was not hospitalized.

Earlier in the day Scarborough had completed his last mid-term exam, so that the forced confinement will not appreciably affect his school work.

The big, affable senior is a two-year first team all-district selection, recipient of the Abilene Reporter News area "Lineman of the Year" award, and a top college grid prospect. He was also a Tiger tri-captain for the past season.

Dutchman, Vikings Come To Terms

By JIM KLOBUCHAR

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — The restless Dutchman embarked today on a new career as head coach of the Minnesota Vikings, bringing with him the prestige of a great quarterback and the prospect of fireworks.

Norm Van Brocklin, named to direct the fledgling National Football League club Wednesday under a three-year contract, made no pledges of radical offenss of forecasts of quick success.

But he made this point: "We'll use the orthodox T formation with most of the variations. You can bet, too, that we'll throw that football plenty if we have to."

Nons of that throwing will be by Van Brocklin, for 12 years one of the premier passers in the NFL and the guiding hand last year behind the Philadelphia Eagles' ascent to the league championship.

Van Brocklin, 34, is through as an active player, "with no regrets," he said. He starred for nine years with the Rams, quit, abandoned retirement plans to join Philadelphia and quit again rather than be a playing assistant coach.

Vikings' owners were aglow over the acquisition of Van Brocklin. They needed a man of national stature to lend his reputation to their inaugural year in the competitive jungle of the NFL. They also needed the savvy of a NFL vet to help them pick the 36 players from the league pool who will form the core of the Vikings' roster.

Van Brocklin, of course, is untested as a coach. Yet General Manager Bert Rose expressed confidence that he has the ability to make it.

The Vikings declined to reveal salary terms. It was assumed, however, that Van Brocklin stands to make somewhere around $75,000 in the three years," the exact figure depending on attendance, year-to-year improvement and other factors.

Van Brocklin plans to name four assistants, two for defense, one as offensive line coach and one as end coach. Not surprisingly, he will handle the offense himself.

Cancer Fatal To Dr. Dooley

By RAY KOHN

NEW YORK (AP) — Thomas Dooley, lion-hearted young doctor who battled disease in the Laos jungle even when he himself became ravaged by crippling cancer, died in his sleep Wednesday night at Memorial Hospital.

Death came just one day after his 34th birthday.

Dooley, brought to the hospital Dec. 27 wearing a brace from shoulder to hips, insisted he was going to continue his work if his "iron maiden" enabled him to get around — and characteristically added:

"I am not going to quit. I will continue to guide and lead my hospitals until my back, my brain, my blood and my bones collapse."

Dooley's dedication to relieving the plight of the underprivileged and ailing began seven years ago while he was a Navy doctor.

He spent a year of premedical training at the University of Notre Dame before serving (1944-46) as a Navy medical corpsman attached to the Marines.

Upon leaving service, he studied at the Sorbonne in Paris for a year. A native of St. Louis, in 1953 he was graduated from the St. Louis University School of Medicine.

Dooley rejoined the Navy as a lieutenant (j.g.) and took his internship first at the Naval Hospital, Camp Pendleton, Calif., and then aboard the attack transport USS Montague.

In 1954, at the end of the war in Indochina, his ship aided in evacuation of refugees from Communist North Viet Nam.

Seeing—and feeling—the plight of the hundreds of disease-wracked inhabitants of the area made up Dooley's mind.

He had no money. But he had a fighting heart, boundless energy and a burning zeal.

After leaving the Navy in 1956 Dooley wrote a best-selling book, "Deliver Us From Evil." He used the book's proceeds, and supplies donated by pharmaceutical firms, to return to Laos with three former Navy buddies and set up a small hospital at Nam Tha. He brought in his medical supplies by train, plane, oxcart and dugout canoe.

For his work with the refugees, Dooley won the Legion of Merit, and was the youngest officer in the history of the Medical Corps to receive it. He also was awarded the National Order of Viet Nam, that nation's highest decoration.

Dooley turned over his first small hospital in 1957 to the Laotian government. Then it was back to this country to raise more funds. He lectured and appeared on TV.

In 1958, with Dr. Peter Comanduras, a Washington, D.C., physician, he founded MEDICO (Medical International Cooperation Organization), a nonprofit agency.

Dooley had raised more money with another best-seller, "The Edge of Tomorrow," and returned to Laos to establish a hospital in the village of Moung Sing near the Chinese border.

At first there were only mats for beds, but Dooley considered this his own hospital. It soon was handling 100 patients a day.

It was back again to the United States for more lectures and fund-raising.

In 1959 a $10,000 annual award Dooley received from an insurance firm went to another MEDICO hospital in Kenya. But that same year he learned that a tumor on his chest was malignant. A New York operation was termed successful and he went back overseas.

Even though told by some doctors his cancer was arrested, he remarked to newsmen that his type of cancer was the fast-growing kind, but added:

"I figure that what I have crammed into my life makes me really 65."

He managed to get his own plane and flew back and forth directing the hospitals. An admittedly avid fund-raiser, he once wryly described himself as "begging, bumming, borrowing and, from time to time, just stealing a bit" for his and other MEDICO hospitals.

Last November Dooley, in Hong Kong to discuss a new hospital program collapsed from sheer exhaustion. Came the brace and a diagnosis of "bony destruction to the vertebrae."

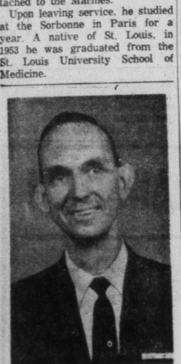

After a funeral mass at St. Louis Cathedral, Dooley will be buried in Calvary Cemetery beside his father, Thomas A. Dooley Sr., and a brother, Earle, killed in Germany during World War II.

Among survivors are his mother, Agnes, and two brothers, Malcolm, of Huntington, N.Y., and Edward, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Dr. Dooley, semiconscious much of the time during his final hospital stay, was sufficiently alert on his last birthday to receive a visit from Francis Cardinal Spellman.

A birthday message from President Eisenhower epitomized the career of the selfless young doctor. The President said in his greeting:

"It must be a source of heartened gratification to realize that in so few years you have accomplished so much for the good of distant peoples and have inspired so many others to work for all humanity."

DR. W. LeRAY FOWLER

Dr. Fowler Speaker For Baptist Men

Dr. W. LeRay Fowler, pastor of First Baptist Church in Sweetwater will be principal speaker at the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Brotherhood Association meeting this evening at First Baptist Church in Colorado City.

The meeting will begin with the evening meal at 6:30 p.m. at the host church.

Dr. Fowler, a well-known minister, was recently invited to preach in Scotland, Europe, the Middle East and Africa next May and June. The invitation came directly from churches in Europe and the U. S. Air Force. The Sweetwater church has granted Dr. Fowler a leave of absence and voted to sponsor the pastor's tour.

He is scheduled to preach in Baptist Churches or missions in Edinburgh, Belgrade, Rome, Munich, Cairo, Istanbul, Madrid, Kano and Accra in Ghana.

At the Thursday night meeting in Colorado City, G. C. Coleman of Snyder will preside, and Dr. Robert Hargrove of Snyder will be in charge of the program. Ralph Wesson will be pianist for the song service, and the Rev. Walter A. Mitchell, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Snyder, will be in charge of the awarding of banners.

Capt. Tinney Attends Army Staff College

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kan.—Army Capt. Joe R. Tinney, son of William S. Tinney of Snyder, is attending the 36-week associate course at the Army Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kan. The course is scheduled to be completed May 4.

Captain Tinney is a member of the 22rd class to be enrolled in the course. The class, consisting of 374 U. S. Army officers and 28 allied officers from 12 countries, was addressed by Maj. Gen. Harold K. Johnson, college commandant and post commander and Brig. Gen. William A. Cunningham III, assistant commandant at opening exercises.

The college, the Army's senior tactical school, was established in 1881 as the School of Application of Infantry and Cavalry. The associate course was established in 1947 and is designed to prepare selected officers from all components of the Army for duty as commanders and general staff officers. The class includes 68 Army Reserve and National Guard officers on temporary active duty. The attendance of the civilian component officers is indicative of the Army's effor to train and maintain "One Army."

Captain Tinney is assigned to Headquarters, Redstone Arsenal, Ala. He entered the Army in 1947.

Night Club Destroyed

ODESSA (AP)—An early morning blaze, squirting flames 50 to 55 feet into the air, destroyed one of Odessa's largest night clubs, the Silver Saddle.

There were no injuries.

Firemen arrived at the burning building around 4 a.m. and battled the blaze for nearly an hour before bringing it under control.

Assistant Fire Chief Bill Parker, who estimated damage in excess of 25,000, said flames were shooting up 50 to 75 feet and the roof collapsed just as he arrived.

He said he was afraid to send any of his men inside to fight the flames because it appeared the walls were about to explode.

Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

The club, located just west of the city limits on U.S. Highway 80, was still smoldering near dawn.

Space Age Health Stressed

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The ground crews need to be as healthy as the pilots in the space age, the top medical officer in the Strategic Air Command of the Air Force believes.

Ballistic missile sites often are in sparsely-populated areas where medical attention may be hard to obtain, and missile units have so few men that they can be seriously hampered by loss of personnel due to illness or injury, Brig. Gen. Theodore C. Bedwell Jr. explained.

Bedwell, SAC surgeon, addressed more than 300 scientists and technicians attending a series of lectures on space medicine at the school for aviation medicine today.

Bedwell said the Air Force considered attempting to provide a medical unit for every missile unit, but decided against it because "manpower costs, medical training requirements and the lack of evidence to support the requirement for such service indicates that doubtful benefits would be received from such an idealistic operation."

Personnel assigned to missile units are given more first aid training than the average airman receives, Bedwell said, to enable injured or ill personnel to have proper care pending arrival of medical personnel or an ambulance to carry the patient to a hospital.

The emphasis, however, must be on selecting the type of man least likely to become ill or to be injured for missile units, the general said.

This, he said, will help keep high levels of efficiency and skill in the units as well as keeping the personnel healthy.

Bedwell said analysis of "a large number of missile failures and accidents reported by the headquarters of the Air Research and Development Command has indicated that the vast preponderance are traceable to human failure or human error."

"Poor nutrition, job dissatisfaction, mild or even serious personality and emotional conflicts with co-workers or supervisors, family problems, boredom and fatigue as a result of off-duty recreational or social excesses" may contribute to increases in the illness and accident rates, the general said.

Youths Convicted On Assault Counts

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Two teen-age youths were assessed 40 years in prison Wednesday by a district court jury after they were found guilty of raping a 16-year-old Wichita Falls girl.

The convicted youths were Cecil Tonguet, 18, and Willie Don Preston, 17, both of Shamrock, Tex.

Three other youths arrested in the same case are being held for trial after they become 17 years old.

The attacks occurred last November on a rural road near here.

Breathless Mood Prevails As Inauguration Approaches

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The atmosphere in Washington today is like that breathless moment in a theater when the curtain begins to rise on a great new drama.

People do not know exactly what to expect, but they expect something, something new and very different. During his presidential campaign, John F. Kennedy promised to "get things moving." Whether the movement will be forward, sideways or a roller coaster of ups and downs, remains to be seen.

Nevertheless, a sense of excitement, of some kind of moving already tingles in the capital.

It is quite unlike the atmosphere in January, 1953, on the eve of Dwight D. Eisenhower's inauguration.

There appears to be, for example, little or no hangover of campaign bitterness. The Republicans, noting Kennedy's razor-thin margin of victory, are chagrined but by no means downhearted. Some of them, while taking a wait-and-see position, grudgingly concede that Kennedy seems to be off to a good start.

The "transfer of power" period seems to have gone off unusually well.

In 1952, the transition between Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman was not a happy one.

But when he was questioned about the Kennedy transition operation at his news conference Wednesday, Eisenhower said:

"I think it is going splendidly, splendidly. As a matter of fact, there are no complaints on our part."

Traditionally, an incoming president enjoys a honeymoon with Congress, a period when the legislators are disposed to be—as generous with him as possible. Sooner or later, of course, it ends.

Eight years ago at this time, the Washington wisecrack was, "When does the honeymoon begin?"

Kennedy's nominations for his Cabinet and other top offices have had smooth sailing so far.

But in 1953, one of Eisenhower's key nominations—Charles E. Wilson to be secretary of defense—was heading for a collision with the Senate Armed Forces Committee before an agreement was reached. It pivoted on the question of Wilson's stock holdings in General Motors and whether he would dispose of them.

Kennedy has some advantages that Eisenhower did not enjoy. He has had 14 years in Congress and an even longer acquaintance with politics as such. Eisenhower, the soldier-turned-statesman, had none.

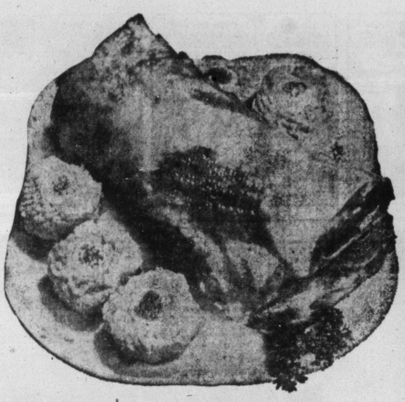

Eisenhower had a shooting war on his hands, with Americans dying in Korea. Kennedy confronts critical situations in Cuba and Laos, but out outright war.

In 1953, Americans assumed that the U.S. was the strongest military power in the world. Four years were to elapse before the first sputnik went into orbit. Today, that assumption is open to challenge. So Kennedy probably can demand and get far greater sacrifices from the American people than would have been possible for Eisenhower.

'Jacqueline Look' Is Making Rapid Sweep Across Country

BY INEZ ROBB

Don't look now, but when you have a chance to do so unobtrusively, make a tally of all the Jacquelines you can count from the spot where your are now sitting or standing.

Yes, I shall accept in the tally mannequins as well as mademoiselles and mesdames.

During the past four weeks I have been under the impression most of the time that I am being followed, even haunted, by the incoming First Lady. At first, there was just one here, another there. I would catch a glimpse of a Jacqueline in the theatre, a bus, across a crowded room.

But then they begin to proliferate. Even the spots before my eyes were Jacquelines. And then all those Jacquelines on Fifth Avenue, in the subway, in the ads!

So I went to my doctor, a notoriously unsympathetic Republican. "Tell me, doctor," I cried, "am I losing my mind, am I suffering from hallucinations, has the Democratic victory—after eight years in the wilderness—unhinged this birthright Democrat?"

"Hell, no," he said (he's a blunt Republican), after testing my reflexes and whacking that little rubber hammer against my knees.

"I've been seeing Jacquelines, too, and every place I go. Why, I've seen as many as three and four in some of the best, most conservative Goldwater - Republican families in town.

"And, by God, aren't they pretty?" he asked, using deplorable Republican language. "Every woman under 50 is trying to look like her—same hairdo, same makeup, same clothes. And you know what? If the new Administration consisted solely of Jacquelines, I'd join the party!"

"You disgusting old goat," I bellowed and stalked out of his office.

At least the visit to my doctor had reassured me that all these Jacquelines I am seeing are a reasonable facsimile—well, truth to tell, some are pretty unreasonable even if recognizable—of the new First Lady.

New York's Seventh Avenue and the hair-dressing fraternity have never seen anything quite like it—this urge to look like Jacqueline Kennedy, with her enormous wide-brown eyes, the heavy, dark eyebrows, her soft semi-bouffant hairdo with that wisp brushed across her high forehead, her fresh, glowing complexion and innate, simple chic.

If imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, then Jacqueline Kennedy is, today, the recipient of Sincerity, Unlimited. Her imitators include do-it-yourselfers in the subway crowd to women who walk into Fifth Avenue beauty salons and say, "Give me the whole Jacqueline works—haircut, eyebrow, lipstick and send out for a single strand of pearls."

It is impossible to open a newspaper and scan the ads for bargains at the January sales without encountering a reasonable likeness of Jacqueline smiling from every advertisement. Stores were lightning quick to order their ad artists to incorporate her bewitching type of good looks in the company layouts.

Models, a shrewd bunch of cookies, raced to remake themselves, if not nearer to their hearts' desires at least nearer to the Kennedy original. Anyone who goes to a fashion show on or off Seventh Avenue today can expect to see Jacqueline, 12 to the dozen, come tripping down the gangway.

Mannequins bearing a recognizable likeness to Jacqueline are just beginning to appear in New York's store windows. Once I felt that the only answer for blue-eyed girls was to kill themselves. But with the Jacqueline makeup and coiffure, they are doing pretty well in this sweepstakes.

All that remains is for some genius, a friend of womankind, to invent a magic potion called "Instant Jacqueline."

B52s Now On Full Alert

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Strategic Air Command now has B52 bombers on an around-the-clock airborne alert in keeping, its commander says, with United States policy of preparedness to reduce to an absolute minimum time required to respond to an attack on the nation.

Gen. Thomas S. Power, in announcing the airborne alert Wednesday, did not say how many bombers are in the air at any given time and SAC headquarters would neither confirm or deny the presence of nuclear weapons on the aircraft.

"But we can say the training is conducted under the most realistic conditions possible," headquarters added.

All combat ready crews are being utilized in the program that keeps each bomber in the air for a 24-hour period. Refueling is by KC-135 jet stratotankers. About two dozen bases scattered over the nation are being used.

Pilots Get Tired Of Hearing This

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks an airplane pilot gets tired of hearing:

"Young man, are you the driver?"

"Remember, this is my first flight—so take it easy. I don't want any speeding."

"Let me out of here. I've changed my mind."

"The hostesses are busy, captain. Would you mind holding the baby while I fix this diaper?"

"Would you mind flying a little lower? My wife and I would like to see more of the countryside."

"I hear he and the copilot just sit up in that little room playing gin rummy. The automatic pilot does all the work."

"No, I'm not sure just what those stripes on his sleeve mean. I think he gets a stripe each time he brings the plane back."

"Hey, boy, isn't there something wrong with this plane? It doesn't have any propellers on it."

"Sir, would you mind sitting down here and explaining all about airplanes to my little grandson? I'm trying to talk him out of becoming a fireman."

"They say he studied flying in correspondence school — and ranked 29th in a class of 30."

"Listen, if Kansas City is fogged in and we have to fly on to Los Angeles, you're the one who's going to phone my wife. She'll never believe me."

"Have you tried your meal yet? The pilots must do the cooking on this airline."

"Sure, they're away from home a lot of the time—but what's wrong with that? And they get paid more than a U. S. senator."

"Yeah, he's the boss aloft all right, but he doesn't have as much authority as a ship's captain. He can't marry people."

"You call this real flying? Why, man, when I was flying a B17 in the war, I used to let down the wheels and roll home on the flak."

"When they get these planes fully automatic, what'll you boys drive—trucks?"

"That was a nice ride, young man. Now, if you'll just help me get my bags into a taxi, I'll give you a quarter for yourself."

Oldest Weekly Paper Now In 111th Year

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—The oldest weekly newspaper in Texas, the Huntsville Item, began its 111th year of continuous publication today.

There was no fanfare.

The Item was established in 1850 by George Robinson whose son, Fred, later established the Waco News-Tribune.

William R. Woodall has been co-publisher and general manager of the weekly and its affiliate, the Item Stationers, since 1945.

Don Reid Jr., noted for his coverage of executions at the Texas penitentiary here and his fight against capital punishment, is the editor and has been associated with the weekly since 1937.

Hollywood Lawyer Back In Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hollywood attorney Jerry Giesler, 74, taken ill again Tuesday, probably will remain in Mt. Sinai Hospital until the end of the week.

Giesler, troubled in recent years by a heart condition, was reported resting nicely Wednesday.

Junior Editors Quiz on WAX

QUESTION: What is sealing wax composed of?

* * *

ANSWER: Sealing wax is used for sealing documents and making imprints of seals. It is believed to have been invented by the Chinese about the year 600. For many hundreds of years, it was very important. It was used to seal letters, and to place official seals at the bottom of important documents. Wealthy men had their own private seals. Sometimes these seals were on rings. They would drop hot sealing wax on a document or letter and then press the ring into the wax. When the wax dried, the imprint of the seal would be in it. The wax can be made in many ways, but most often it is made of rosin, shellac, turpentine, magnesia, chalk, or gypsum. Today sealing wax is used only occasionally. Envelopes have gummed flaps, so there is no need to use wax to seal letters. Most seals are printed on paper and pasted on documents.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: "The time has come," the Walrus said, 'to talk of many things: of shoes — and ships — and sealing wax — of cabbages — and kings —" Did that come from "Pilgrim's Progress", "Twas the Night Before Christmas", or "Alice in Wonderland"? Find out and then read the story.

Newsmen Bid Ike Hearty Farewell

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was a sentimental journey and a different kind of President.

On Feb. 17, 1953, when President Eisenhower held his first news conference after taking office, reporters jarred into the high-ceilinged room in the old State Department building near the White House.

He was 62 then and he seemed unsure of himself and tense.

Wednesday, eight years and 192 news conferences later, reporters jammed into the same room to see and talk with the same man, now for the last time as President.

He was 70 now and very sure of himself. And he was at ease.

The reporters didn't really go looking for news. They didn't expect much and, as it turned out, there wasn't. Eisenhower had only three days left in office and there was no reason to think he'd light a firecracker.

They went for various reasons, besides asking questions and jotting down answers. For instance, they were curious, remembering how he had looked in his first meeting with reporters as President, to see how he looked in the finale.

But there was also a sentimental reason for jam-packing Wednesday's news conference. Somehow by this big turnout the reporters wanted to wish him a hearty goodby.

In the end they never said the word goodby at all.

They just stood up in respect and applauded as he walked out quickly, his hands high in that familiar gesture of good will he always used when standing in the back of an open car to greet crowds in New York, London, Paris, New Delhi.

But time and the presidency had wrought changes in Eisenhower.

At that first news conference Eisenhower, fresh out of a lifetime in the Army and still a greenhorn in the intricacies of government, faltered as he tried to answer the questions flung at him.

It was painful, so painful this writer, sitting in the back row, gripped his hands together, wishing Eisenhower could do better or that the collective wish of the newsmen would help him to. He was indeed ill at ease.

You wouldn't guess it, of course, if you went back now and read the transcript of that first news conference put out by the White House at the time.

It has no direct quotes. It said Eisenhower said this or Eisenhower said that. All the uncertainties had been eliminated by avoiding the direct quotes.

Wednesday Eisenhower, after eight years of government, was cheery, sure of himself, untense and fluent. His sentences still got jumbled a bit but no more than any man's might in any conversation.

Perhaps most remarkable of all was this:

Wednesday Eisenhower, who had a heart attack in 1955, a stomach operation in 1956 and a minor stroke in 1957, was not only pink-cheeked but appeared in every way to be in excellent health.

One thing was sure: He was in good spirit, as a man might be expected to be just a few days before laying down the burdens of the presidency and knowing he was as well-liked at the end as he was at the beginning.

Acquit Pair On Misuse Of Bank Funds

TYLER (AP) — Two kinsmen were acquitted here Wednesday of misapplying funds of the Cotton Belt Bank of Timpson.

All 24 counts against the pair, Darrell Yarbrough and Floyd Yarbrough, were dismissed by Federal Judge Joe Sheehy.

Sheehy told the jury that the government had not proved that Darrell Yarbrough, 35, former executive vice president of the bank, was in charge of the account involved.

The judge added that it followed that Floyd Yarbrough, 48, Darrell's uncle and former operator of a Garrison, Tex., feed store, thus could not have aided his nephew in any misapplication of funds.

Sheehy noted in his speech to the jury that the bank's board of minutes in July 1958 specifically removed the younger—Yarbrough from any dealings with his uncle's account.

The government claimed that manipulations resulting in loss of $53,180 began in September of 1958.

The minutes assigned the account to Robin Hooper, then cashier of the Timpson bank. The government maintained that Yarbrough still held authority over Hooper in the account. But the defense denied that contention.

Sheehy added that he found no attempt at fraud by either of the kinsmen.

The government's case was based on drafts drawn by Floyd Yarbrough which were passed around banks in the area and in Dallas. The drafts were on Floyd Yarbrough's feed store in Garrison. The feed store went bankrupt.

Texan To Carry Colors In Parade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Sgt. Fred G. Gonzales of Corpus Christi, Tex., will carry the national colors in the presidential inaugural parade Friday.

Each of the five services is represented in the color guard, which will carry the national, presidential and vice presidential colors in the parade.

Gonzales is from the First Battle Group, 3rd Infantry, stationed at Ft. Myer, Va., across the Potomac from the capital.

Tucson, Ariz., Municipal Airport has the longest commercial runway in the United States: 12,000 feet.

Many Texans On Hand For Inauguration

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texans arrived by the hundreds today for the inauguration Friday of John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson.

An estimated 5,000 Texans may be on hand for the event, said Dale Miller, Washington representative of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce. Miller is Johnson's aide on the inaugural committee.

Virtually all of Texas' 22 House members got word from 30 to 40 constituents who were arriving with wives and friends.

A special train came Wednesday bringing a group of Texans who attended a reception for Sen. William Blakley, D-Tex., and Mrs. Blakley.

Among highlights was the $5-a-head buffet reception honoring Johnson and his wife, Mrs. Gib Sandefer, the Texas State Society's entertainment committee chairman who arranged the affair, said requests for tickets had come in from Democratic leaders from practically every state.

Numerous parties and receptions are being held at hotels and homes throughout the city, especially for or by Texans coming to Washington for the inauguration.

One of note was that given in honor of Speaker Sam Rayburn by his friends, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Boyd of McKinney, and attended by most of the Texas congressmen and their wives.

Mrs. Burris Jackson, wife of the Hillsboro cotton man, gave a reception in honor of Rayburn's two sisters, Mrs. W. A. Thomas of Dallas and Mrs. S. E. Bartley of Bonham.

Rep. W. R. Poage, Waco Democrat, and his wife passed the word around that their Capitol Hill home will be open to Texans after the inaugural ceremonies.

Negro Church May Buy Liberian Land

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The purchase of 5,000 acres of Liberian land for American Negroes is contemplated by the executive board of the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc.

The Negro religious organization named a commission Wednesday to meet with Liberian officials March 14 to discuss the purchase.

Dr. J. H. Jackson of Chicago, president of the 5-million member convention, said the land would be divided into small farms and sold without profit to American Negroes in an effort to teach Liberian natives Christian living and modern farming methods.

VETERAN SOLONS CONFER—Rep. Truett Latimer, left, of Abilene and Rep. Renal Rosson of Snyder confer in the Texas House of Representatives as the legislature prepares to get down to business following inauguration festivities at the capitol. Rosson is beginning his second term, while Latimer is starting his fifth consecutive term in the House.

New Secretary Is Acting Governor

BOSTON (AP)—Kevin H. White, secretary of state only since 11 a.m. Wednesday is Massachusetts' acting governor today. He's only 31.

After administering the oath of office to White, Gov. John A. Volpe left for Washington for the presidential inaugural ceremonies. That left the reins with White, next in line of rank.

Apparel Club Disappointed

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Men's Apparel Club of California likes everything about Jack Lemmon's clothes, but not everything he says about them.

The club had just named the actor the best-dressed man in the movies Wednesday when he confided to news photographers that he himself designed the suit he was wearing.

"No, no," groaned club president Allen Mathews. "Say you didn't . . ."

"But I did," insisted Lemmon, 35.

Mathews put his hands over his face.

The whole idea of the award is to play up ready-made suits—not to get men to suit themselves.

Highball May Aid Fracture Victims

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A highball may be just the thing for someone recovering from a bone fracture, says a University of Kansas expert.

Dr. Leonard F. Peltier told a regional group of the American College of Surgeons Wednesday that alcohol helps prevent formation of dangerous fatty clots in the bloodstream.

Such clots tend to form in fracture cases, explained Peltier, a professor of orthopedics.

He urged an ounce of whiskey every four hours for four or five days in fracture cases.

Embezzled Funds Went Into Stock

SHELDON, Iowa (AP)—Part of the assets held by Burnice Iverson Geiger, 58, who had admitted a $1-million bank embezzlement here, went into the purchase of 130,000 shares of Northern Biochemical Corp. of Sheldon, officials of that company said today.

This fledgling industry, organized about a year ago to deal in the manufacture and sale of special animal feeds, started with $8,000 but is now capitalized at $500,000. Mrs. Geiger, assistant cashier of the Sheldon National Bank until it collapsed Tuesday, had held a controlling interest in the chemical firm.

The extent of her holdings in the company was the first concrete figure turned up during an investigation of what she did with the $2,126,859 defalcation that resulted in the closing of the bank. Held in jail at Sioux City, the town's prominent citizen and philanthropist, has remained silent.

Although substantial, the investment in the chemical firm stock, represents only a part of the embezzled funds. Mrs. Geiger paid for the stock in excess of $130,000 with blocks at $1.08 and $1.16 a share.

Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president and economic consultant for Northern Biochemical, said Mrs. Geiger bought about one third of the corporation's capital stock of 350,000 shares.

Records indicate that in the early months of the corporation, outstanding shares totaled only about 200,000 and Mrs. Geiger held 65 per cent. The firm also has two subsidiaries.

There were these other developments in the affairs of the chemical company which was reported to be one of the biggest depositors in the Sheldon National Bank:

Roosevelt, speaking at a midnight news conference after a lengthy meeting of the company directors, said he owns no stock in Northern Biochemical and will have to wait to see if "this will be a good investment." He said, however, that he thought the corporation had a bright future.

The State Securities Department in Des Moines reported that Biochemical stock has not been registered in Iowa and therefore it is illegal to sell it in this state. Securites officials said they had advised the corporation to offer refunds to stockholders who had already bought stock.

Harold E. Kistner, president of Northern Biochemical, said all stockholders have been asked if they want their money back and none has requested a refund. He said Mrs. Geiger bought her shares about last April or before.

Kistner said the corporation will meet this week's payroll for 135 employees and will continue in operation without interruption.

Fight Ban Of Foreign Items On Road Work

AUSTIN (AP)—Legal action began Wednesday to strike down a Texas Highway Commission order forbidding the use of foreign products on Texas road construction projects.

A Houston group filed suit in district court here to have the order declared unconstitutional. Dist. Judge Herman Jones set for Jan. 24 a hearing on the group's request for a temporary injunction to keep the order from being applied.

Jones denied a request for a restraining order to keep the embargo out of contracts to be let by the commission Friday.

The suit, which names the three-man commission as defendants, was filed by the Texas Association of Steel Importers Inc., European Steel Products Corp., Richard J. Mason and Jordan J. Parsley.

The plaintiffs asked a declaratory judgment holding the commission order illegal. Their petition alleges the embargo violates Texas constitutional provisions against regulation of trade and manufacturing and against monopoly, discrimination and diversion of public funds for public use.

The commission order was handed down Oct. 28, 1960, and went into effect Jan. 1. It says all materials furnished for highway construction in Texas must have been manufactured in the United States or its territories.

The petition also says the embargo violates the equal protection under law clause of the U.S. constitution and a state law requiring competitive bids.

Beef, Pork Cuts Are In Spotlight

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Expensive cuts of beef and bargain cuts of pork are featured at many of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood groceries this week.

The slightly more numerous offerings of beef are mainly such cuts as rib roast, top or bottom round roast and a variety of steaks—rib, club, T-bone, sirloin and porterhouse. A few Midwest and Far West stores favor ground beef, while there are scattered specials on chuck roast and short ribs.

Pork items, run more to loins and the smaller picnic hams than to the more expensive hams and chops.

Grain-fed beef, which yields the better cuts, is fairly plentiful just now while pork is still on the scarce side.

Leg of lamb is the top item in parts of the East and Midwest, but poultry specials are few and far between, what with fryers up 2 to 10 cents a pound over a wide area.

Fruit and vegetable bins show a good assortment of winter bargains.

Best buys among vegetables are Danish, or white, cabbage, endive, escarole, green onions from Arizona where they're available from nearby stocks, Eastern potatoes, radishes, romaine lettuce and Hubbard and butternut squash. Medium size yellow onions remain an outstanding buy.

Fruit experts recommend golden delicious apples as an outstanding buy.

Other best bets are Macintosh and Cortland apples, cranberries, grapefruit, tangerines and limes.

Announcement In Harvard Bulletin

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Note as it appears in the current Harvard Alumni Bulletin:

"John F. Kennedy, LLD '56 and Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy announce the birth of a second child and first son, John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr. on Nov. 25, 1960. Harvard grandfather: Joseph P. Kennedy '12. John Kennedy has resigned as U.S. senator from Massachusetts. On Jan. 20 he will move his family to a house in Washington occupied for nine years by the late Franklin D. Roosevelt '04, LLD '29."

Soviets Say Ships Buzzed

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviets claimed today that American warships or planes harassed four more of their merchant vessels in the Atlantic Ocean and the Red China seas in the past four days.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, listed these incidents:

Jan. 16 — Two amphibians "piratically buzzed" the Dubossary in the Atlantic; Jan. 17—The Destroyer 692 (Allen M. Summer) came close to the Fryazino in the Red Sea and asked the ship's name; Jan. 18—The same destroyer, with its guns trained, maneuvered for 15 minutes near the tanker Izyaslav in the Red Sea.

The Soviets have made such charges repeatedly. The Americans say their ships and aircraft are only making the identification customary for ships and planes at sea.

Paper ballots were used as early as 1634 in Massachusetts. These were unofficial and provided by the voter himself.
