End of Harvest and Marketing Wheat for 1947

Final chapter of the wheat harvest is being written in Floyd county for the season of 1947, biggest production year in history, as growers with late crops work with the combine to salvage six to 12 bushels per acre from their May hails.

Strips of such areas across the south side of the county below and adjacent to Blanco canyon, around Center and Muncy, where the big-est in extent of any in the county, some of these reported around 15 bushels per acre, but the majority salvaged 6 to 10 bushels.

As one of the paragraphs in the finale, this week an ample supply of grain box cars, a bit late, were being offered to elevators of this and other communities in the county. The Santa Fe sent out empty box cars the first of the week which couldn't use after wheat war-

Loading Out Some Wheat

The elevators are loading a carload or two a day each in Floydada this week, but most of their customers have what wheat they have left under cover and are giving all of their attention to plowing stubble expecting to move their remaining bushels as marketing conditions appear to be favorable.

First to get out from under the immediate pressure were the elevators on the Quanah route east of Floydada at Booth Spur and Dougherty. One of the few dealers still handling cars the first of the week was the Muncy elevator at Muncy.

W. C. Cates at Farmers elevator in Floydada said reports he had indicated bulk of the wheat is off the properly marketing of the remainder of the crop in farm storage along for weeks or months. Farmers with wheat in good farm storage buildings will not be anxious to sell in a hurry, he thinks.

Most of the wheat went to town on an "up" market, which was helped to an extent to wheat men who took 10 cents to 20 cents per bushel less shipping to points out of the area in order to keep from putting the grain on the ground. Estimates vary on the amount of the crop that went to buyers outside of the critical wheat growing area. Some put the bushels at 25 per cent of the total crop. In every instance these estimates are critical of the railways which "could find empties for dealers in outside areas but couldn't deliver the box cars in Floyd county."

There seems to be no doubt the crop proved fully up to pre-harvest estimates above six million bushels in this county and in other counties of the area in proportion, and that the crop grossed above $10 million dollars to the growers.

Award Scholarship at Hardin-Baylor To Hazel Patton

Hazel Patton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Patton, is one of two applicants from district 9, who have been awarded a scholarship in the amount of $90 by Mary Hardin-Baylor college at Belton, Texas. This information reached Hazel last week in the form of a letter from Gordon G. Singleton, president of the college.

The letter in part read, "You are to be congratulated that your high school scholarship and activities, together with the high esteem in which you are held by your associates, have won for you this distinction that has an important monetary value and yet has a far greater value from a historical point of view."

Cultivated 55 Years This Wheat Land Produces Pretty Fair Crop

The first field the Fawvers broke out after they got to Floyd county, from Missouri, filed on land and took up their residence in 1892 is still producing in a pretty fair way, after being in cultivation for 55 years, said Geo. L. Fawver, last week after finishing harvest.

The 160 acres averaged 26 bushels this year, counting good spots, some not so good and a bit of weather damage in occasional areas. Mr. Fawver still farms the land which has been growing crops every year of the 55, and the last 15 years in wheat.

"We weren't fixed up hardly as good for that first crop we made

Floyd county irrigation farmers are going in for deep study on how to make their operations pay under Floyd county conditions. It was clearly indicated yesterday at Lockney when an attendance of 175 was recorded at the one day school held at Plains theatre.

These saw and heard some of the top specialists of the state and nation on water handling, soil conservation, cover crops, fertilizers, grass pastures and related subjects.

And late in the evening they saw a demonstration of fertilizing alfalfa by airplane, done by Ralph Brown, flying farmer, on the J. C. Taylor farm near Lockney.

Guests at Barbecue

At high noon those attending the irrigation school were guests of Lockney businessmen at a barbecue served at the American Legion hall. The meat was prepared by Jack Brian.

Ivan D. Wood, of Denver, Colorado, was featured speaker of the day. Mr. Wood is in charge of conservation and reclamation work in 17 western states for the Soil Conservation service. Several other top-flight speakers on related subjects were on the program, including several Extension service experts and experiment station managers.

County Agent A. L. Hartzog served as moderator for an open forum that preceded the fertilizer demonstration.

Stanolind Is Major Taking Leases Here

It's Stanolind that's interested in getting up the block of leases in and around Floydada townsites.

Last week-end the brokers who are operating here taking leases on parcels of townsite ground began writing in the name of the Stanolind Oil and Gas company. This is taken locally to mean that the company considers it has sufficient lease coverage in all portions of the townsite that there is no further need to keep their identity under cover.

There has been no new developments in connection with lease-taking here. When the company will have all they want and "chop" the brokers off is to be learned.

Work Fast at Cedar

Out at Cedar where the Humble Oil & Refining company has their test going down on the Marcia E. Meriwether tract, the drilling has been going down fast. On Monday of this week, the 24th day of drilling since the well was spudded in the drill was bottomed at 5200 feet plus.

C. L. Gray, Father of Mrs. Grimes, Is Buried at Crowell

C. L. Gray, 75, of Crowell, the father of Mrs. W. E. Grimes, died at his home there early Sunday and last rites for him were said Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First Baptist church. The service was conducted by Rev. Moon, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. Everman, pastor of the Assembly of God. Interment was made in Crowell cemetery.

Ill six or seven weeks, Mr. Gray's death was not unexpected. Mrs. Grimes had been spending much of her time at Crowell during his illness and at the home of her parents, when Mr. Gray succumbed to Judge Grimes, their son Billy Bert and daughter, Mrs. Gene Aylesworth, the latter of Kermit, and her husband, went to Crowell Sunday afternoon. They returned home Monday night.

A native of Missouri, C. L. Gray lived at Durant, Oklahoma for many years before moving to Ford county in 1915.

He is survived by his widow, seven sons and five daughters, the latter including Mrs. Grimes and Mrs. L. L. Statser, of Tulsa. His descendants also include 39 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

At Saturday night's session of the Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons B. F. McIntosh was the installing officer with Roy Patton as the master of ceremonies.

Gets 50 - Year Pin

An outstanding event in the history of the local lodge of Masons was the recognition given R. C. Scott for his long years of membership in and service to Floydada lodge. Ray F. Lowe, of Plainview, 96th district deputy grandmaster, awarded a 50-year button to Mr. Scott for having been continuously in good standing as a member of the lodge here for 50 years or more.

Mr. Scott was made a Master Mason on April 17, 1887. He served as master of the lodge from June 22, 1901 to June 24, 1902, and from June 24, 1904, to June 24, 1905, and from June 24, 1905, to June 24, 1906. (See Masonic Lodge, back page)

Better Milling Wheat Is Sought in Floyd County

County Agent A. L. Hartzog, said this week that while only a very small percentage, perhaps less than 20%, of Floyd county wheat acreage is composed of wheats that are definitely objectionable to the baking trade it had been called to his attention by F. T. Dines that the mills are making an effort to supply improved seed of better baking varieties for the use of growers who would like to prevent any possible future discrimination against wheat produced in Floyd County. The agent quoted F. T. Dines, agricultural agent of the Tex-O-Kan flour mills with headquarters at the Burrus Panhandle elevators, as follows:

"The areas of high Chiefkan and Red Chief acreage are each year noting more and more discrimination. This year our organization has tried to avoid, in so far as possible, taking very much wheat from any of the bad areas. It is necessary to do this in order to fill our elevators with high quality wheat for our mill units. Due to the increasing danger of the poor quality wheat variety growers finding difficulty in marketing their wheat I should like very much to see if a lot of good seed wheat can be placed in Floyd county for seeding this fall."

Certified Wheat Seed

Mr. Dines requested information as to the production in Floyd County Certified Wheat Growers and attempted to determine how much seed of the improved wheat varieties such as Comanche, Westar, Temmar, and Early Black Hull are available to growers for planting this fall. The agent quoted Mr. Jarrett, Inspector for the Oklahoma Grain exchange, who paid a recent visit to Floyd county to determine the amount of poor baking wheat grown here as follows:

"The 15 to 20% of poor baking varieties which you estimate as being (See Quality Wheat, back page)

Llano Visitors Entering Rodeos Tulia, Plainview

The party of seven Llano residents here last night for the match roping with the Floydada club are making it, a full round of rodeo events while on the plains.

In the party are Mr. and Mrs. Smoky Kuykendall, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Hohmann and family, Kenneth Kuykendall, James Hohmann and George Epperson.

The men folks are entered in the rodeo contest at the Swisher county re-union in Tulia yesterday and today and will follow the contests there by entering the roping events at the rodeo in Plainview Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Smoky Kuykendall will be Llano sponsor in the Plainview rodeo cowgirl sponsor contest.

The Llano boys are here well-heeled as to quality of horse flesh and they have class as ropers. George Epperson, roping yesterday afternoon at Tulia took first money with a time of 13.2. They rope there again this afternoon.

Visitors Win and Lose

Pitted against the best ropers that Jack Johnson and Floydada Roping club could get together from three counties hereabout, the Llano ropers were winners and losers last night. In the five-man team roping on three calves each, they lost to Floydada by 50.5 seconds in total time. The judges announced total Llano calf-roping time at 510.1 seconds and the total Floydada calf-roping time at 459.6 seconds.

But George Epperson won the calf-roping time at 459.6 seconds. (See Llano Visitors, back page)

Gas Company Extends Line

Extensions of distribution lines of the West Texas Gas company finished last week were made to take care of several new customers, with an outlay of 1,700 feet of pipe.

Additional extensions likely to amount to 1,300 feet have been worked out by the local office and will be made soon, if approval is given in the general office, said Roy Leslie, manager, this week.

About 30 new customers will be cared for by the extensions, when they are completed, he indicated.

DDT Spray Saturday

Guy Ginn was drafted by the Floydada Junior Chamber of Commerce as their leader again for the Jaycee year which began last week. Prime mover in many civic efforts, Ginn is a leader in the effort to get full discussion of the town's needs in a monthly Community council, where leaders of thought and work in the community can coordinate their thinking.

Jaycees Name Committeemen For the Year

In a busy season little formalities marked the beginning of a fiscal year for Floydada Junior Chamber of Commerce last Wednesday night when Guy Ginn took up renewed duties of the office of president and named his standing committeemen for a year of active work.

Beginning a year which will be full of community betterments in Floydada if the Jaycees have their way, the junior organization set the ball to rolling with a clarion call to citizens of the community to clean up and make preparations to foil the deadly polio virus.

There was little formality in the meeting, and no ceremony incident to the introduction of officers for the year. Standing committeemen named by President Ginn for the new year are as follows:

Rattlers Hem McCraveys In

The R. B. McCraveys, who live in the southwest part of Lakeview School district are looking for some kind of a fice dog that will help them mind the rattlers away from the house.

Right now rattlesnakes are getting quite a bit too familiar at the McCraveys domicile. In fact, so familiar they are trying to move in the Mes had just as soon they wouldn't.

Mr. McCravey the other day said the rattlers are the worst this season they have been since 1934. He met one as he started out the front door one day last week and another took up a front porch location on another day. In all, they've had 42 rattlers up around the residence quarters in the last several weeks. That was the last count.

A dog of the fice type is not only not afraid of rattlers but dislikes them very much and makes them keep their distance, McCravey said.

VFW and Phillips Opening Winners Softball League

Second half of City League Softball got under way auspiciously Monday night when a rejuvenated and much-pepped up Veterans of Foreign Wars team took the opening game from the Lions club handily, and were followed in the second game by the Fire Department youngsters in a last-inning win over Hagoods.

In the seasons first half the VFW and Fire department were shoved about and finished with very low percentages. - The VFW, in particular, looked like a hustling ball team Monday night with power at the bat. VFW beat Lions 11 to 6 and Fire department won from Hagoods 8 to 7.

Tuesday night Phillips and Stansell-Collins renewed their first-half feud, the odds slightly in favor of Phillips with a little more base-knock power. The score was Phillips 4, SC 3. In the second game the Old timers oiled up their joints and played right peartly to take the Fireboys 8 to 7. Playing their second game in two nights the firefighters almost repeated their first-night seventh inning rally but fell a score short of a tie.

Crowds were not too good either Monday or Tuesday nights. Also the boys will have to start their games more promptly and hustle through if they are interested in the fans having fun, too, according to the grandstand talk.

Tonight's bill of fare for the fans will be Stansell-Collins vs. the rejuvenated VFW in the first tussel and the powerful Phillips nine against Hagoods.

Friday night's schedule calls for the John Deere boys to play the Lions club and Phillips to take on the Old timers.

Monday night it will be Hagoods vs. VFW in the first game, Phillips vs. Fire department in the second. Tuesday night Hagoods tangle with Lions club and VFW will take on the Old timers.

Closer Cooperation Urged; City Mayor Says Cleaner Town Need

Yesterday Mayor F. C. Harmon departing with his family for Los Angeles and San Francisco on a vacation trip of some two weeks, was much interested in the progress of the clean up campaign he left behind in Floydada and said he regretted that plans already made called for his absence while the campaign is on.

However, the mayor called attention to the fact that the city has been centering its attention on clean up efforts for many months, an effort that is now represented by a crew of men at work practically around the clock.

The mayor is disappointed in the fact that more people of the community have not been working with the city in its efforts to get a cleaner town, free of the danger of epi-

You don't have to remember to buy U. S. Savings Bonds if you let your bank do it for you regularly through the Bond-a-Month Plan.

The Floydada Jaycees have arranged with the Lubbock Health department to spray Floydada business and residential areas Saturday morning, July 19, with DDT without cost to the public.

This announcement, made the first of the week by Guy Ginn, president of the Jaycees and Dr. Jno. W. Kimble, chairman of a special health committee, came as a result of an abrupt change in plans for the clean-up and spray campaign. The up-and-at-them young business men found that a much better job could be done at considerably less cost. Instead of a campaign on an individual basis to get every resident of the community spray conscious enough to help finance the project, the Jaycees now point their campaign to getting every resident to open doors and premises when the power spray moves into their respective areas. The cost, estimated at $125 for the first spraying, will be cared for by the City of Floydada. A later spraying will be done in two to three weeks.

Spray Makes Dense Fog

The spray is 5% solution of DDT and 1% Lethane which is a non harmful spray to animal and plant life. The spray unit is a power driven and throws out a dense fog. The unit will be driven down the streets and alleys at approximately 8 miles per hour throwing out the mist behind it. The vapors will penetrate and settle into the insect breeding places and eliminate flies, mosquitoes and other similar types of insect life. The public is urged to open houses and business buildings to allow the DDT to be as effective as possible.

Lubbock has been sprayed three times this year with this equipment. The Lubbock Health department has taken this equipment to Morton, Wolforth, Idalou, Plainview, Ralls and Crosbyton on similar missions. This method of distribution of DDT is the most modern and effective system so far devised. The equipment will be operated by Dan Cook of the Health department of Lubbock.

The public is urged to have premises clean and the alleys passable in order that the spraying can proceed through the alleys without hindrance.

Water System Crowded to Care For User Demand

Municipal water system in Floydada is being crowded just a bit closer every day of continued dry weather, as demand of new and old customers grows for water on lawns, gardens and shrubbery.

All the production that the wells can put into the mains is being pumped and City Superintendent Floyd Johnston is having to keep an eye on a reserve against possible fire, while the consumers watch the pressure drop each afternoon and evening.

An effort by the city to meet the situation, started with the close of warm weather last year has been thwarted by lack of materials. Early this month Mayor Harmon indicated there is no likelihood of relief from shortage of the supply this summer with the new well and lines that will go in to supplement present supply. Only work under way at this time is the construction of a quarter million gallon storage tank site of the new well. Pipe for the main extensions had not begun to arrive yesterday.

Eighty-five thousand dollars is scheduled to be spent by the city for wells, mains and extensions in the expansion program.

HOME FROM WISCONSIN

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Mayo returned home last week from Madison, Wisconsin, where they spent several days with their daughter, Mrs. L. H. Hodges and Mr. Hodges.

It was a delightful visit, said Mr. Mayo. Cool, pleasant days and nights and a trip on north of Madison into even cooler areas of the Badger state made the trip more enjoyable.

demics, and in this connection gave out a good word for the activity of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in trying to get something done to improve conditions in the community.

"We need more cooperation from more people in getting alleys and premises clean, in getting grass cleaned off from around fences and 'buildings', said the mayor. "The city can do all it can do but unless the citizens join in the effort there's a lot lacking."

The Mayor and Mrs. Harmon, together with their daughters, La Nell of Lubbock, and Ruth, left yesterday. They expect to be absent from Floydada some two weeks. Los Angeles and San Francisco are the two principal points at which they expect to visit.

HONEST AND DISHONEST THEFT

You can't help feeling sorter kindly or sympathetic and respectful toward a man who steals to get a bite to eat for his wife and children. By this we mean, when ill fortune and mischance has dealt a man a blow that is beyond his capacity, and in spite of utmost effort he finds himself unable to provide the ordinary comforts and necessities of life. In sickness and health, good fortune and bad, he gave his troth he would cherish and protect, and as a self-respecting man he cannot go home and admit to a good wife and mother that he has been unequal to the occasion. He promised more than he could deliver.

Having so promised he leaves at dark on business and comes home in time for breakfast with some bacon and eggs or the equivalent.

If you've been hungry and if you've a spouse and children you cherish whose natural demands for nourishment you've sometimes lacked a bit of fulfilling, then something will come up inside of you when you hear such a story. You hope, indeed, he did not forage where they couldn't afford for him to forage. You hope the sheriff doesn't find out who got that side of bacon.

However, when a theft occurs where the evidence indicates indubitably that its as a six wheeler or a bobtail that was used and the profit of the operation ran into the hundreds, you don't think of a little woman and her brood crying at home for a bit of nourishment. You immediately think something far different—perhaps another woman somewhere, maybe an anxiety to take profit without the gamble of honest adventure money.

And so you hope the sheriff finds out who it was and a jury gets a chance at that bird to put him about as far back in the jail as a postcard will carry.

FEW GRASS HOPPER LEGS

The writer has not been to all parts of Floyd county during this year's harvest season but we have been to some, and one of the things that came to mind as we viewed the wheat pouring into the combine hoppers and elevators was the absence of grasshopper legs in the wheat.

In the usual year the harvest of a field of wheat disturbs a good many hundred or thousand grasshoppers, and a good many of these are run through the combine, where the bodies go with the straw, the wings or flickers out with the chaff, but the legs seem too much like grains of wheat to the automatic machinery, which throws many of them in the hopper.

This year it was different. There weren't any hoppers to speak of in the wheat for some reason of nature.

DIFFERENT IN MOTLEY COUNTY

How a grasshopper infestation hits one area and leaves another alone is another one of the things that nature gives attention and leaves you and I to wonder about.

In our wanderings around through fields and dry lakes, little wooded patches and the like this season we found two little spots of grasshoppers in Floyd county. Both of them together covered less than an acre probably.

But get down under the hill and the story is quite different. There farmers have spread tons of poison bait to head off the grasshoppers in one of the heaviest infestations in a good many years. County agents generally keep an eye out for any threatened onslaught of insects, and so when the grasshoppers hit in Motley the people were all set to fight them and stop their depredations.

You and I would know of no reason why grasshoppers should have hit in Motley and missed in Floyd, that is the part of Floyd about the escarpment. Something or other was just right there for the insects and here it wasn't.

THE STORY OF TEXAS

Every two years it takes just a little more time and space to tell the story of Texas. The story of its traditions as it gradually turns the pages of history and unfolds the present.

Reminder of these things about our great state is the Texas Almanac and State Industrial guide for 1947-48 first copy of which has reached us from the publishers, The Dallas Morning News. Latest edition compared hastily with one published a few years ago is strong reminder of the fact that the "state industrial guide" division is becoming one of the more voluminous parts of the book. A good many years ago cotton and cattle and a bit of oil, along with sheep, told the story of our state. But not so now.

It is quite likely that Texas' "middle of the road" governor Beauford H. Jester is going to make a niche for himself in the roster of governors of our state. Free and easy in his relations with those about him, a trait which Texans like, the governor does not appear to be "taut" nervously. Sure of himself the chief executive is not cocky whatsoever. He is not "burning up" either with fervor over some "colossal issue" which many statesmen surround themselves. A man who has wrapped the mantle of a Messiah around himself is an extremely difficult person to get to come down to earth and administer affairs of state in a common-sense and practical sort of way for all the people.

"Middle of the road" doesn't make many headlines but it does make for the general welfare.

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

Mrs. M. C. Pearson, 71, of South Plains died Wednesday, July 12, after a lingering illness, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. L. Jarrett.

Additional machinery is being installed at the Boothe Mill & Elevator company's flour making mill this week, the new equipment being installed in line with the company's expressed hope of making a superior flour in Floydada.

Judge L. G. Mathews was elected Commander of McDermitt post American Legion, of Floydada at the annual election meeting of the post Monday night.

Hitchhiking Not Prohibited By Traffic Code

AUSTIN, July—Contrary to inaccurate reports, the new Uniform Traffic Code does not prohibit hitchhiking. George Clarke, managing director of the Texas Safety Association, said today in Austin.

The Code, which goes into effect September 5, was supported by the Texas Safety Association and 58 outside cooperating groups in the recent sessions of the legislature as a safety measure.

The two-line subsection of the traffic code pertaining to hitchhikers reads:

No person shall stand in a roadway for the purpose of soliciting a ride from the driver of any vehicle."

A roadway is defined in the bill as "that portion of the highway improved, designed or ordinarily used for vehicular travel."

The bill defines a highway as "the entire width between the boundary lines of every way publicly maintained when any part thereof is open to the use of the public for the purposes of vehicular travel."

Clarke emphasized that the bill does not forbid any person to stand on the shoulder of the road for the purpose of soliciting a ride from a driver.

He said that it is a prevalent practice in the state for hitchhiker to stand on the concrete or corrugated surface of the road, and that this action constitutes a definite hazard to the hitchhiker, as well as to traffic.

Penalties for violations of the act range from $1 to $200.

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like aches and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. ## Marshall Tells About California Farms and Texas

Rio Oso, Calif.
July 6, 1947

I am here in the Sacramento Valley about 80 miles east of San Francisco. I thought it might be of interest to the farmers back home to know how they do things in California. I still feel inclined to want to help the farmers because they do more work and get less pay than anyone. I served the farmers around Floydada for 30 years. I made them thousands of dollars they did not even know about by boosting the prices of grain. It made them money even though I did not handle it.

First, California is a sandy desert except where it is irrigated. Their rainy season is in the winter. It rains, drizzles and fogs most every day all winter. It is a cattle and dairyman's paradise. All winter the dirt (not rock) mountains are covered with green grass. It looks like a bluegrass lawn.

Then comes spring. Rain ceases. All this vegetation dies and now July it would burn across most of the state.

I am in the peach district. Marysville, California claims to be the peach bowl of the world. Farmers here are like those in Texas. They plant what their neighbor does so if their neighbor plants peaches, they do too. Other districts or neighborhoods plant apricots, plums or boyberries.

The land here in orchards sells for around a thousand dollars per acre and grosses about that much each year. Peach price to canners (Libby, Del Monte, etc.) this August

Tonsillectomies in Polio Season Up to Physician

Although summer is popularly considered a favorable time for removal of children's infected tonsils or adenoids, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, through its local chapter, urges parents to seek the advice of their own personal physician on whether such operation during the polio season is advisable.

Scientific investigations carried out with March of Dimes funds indicate that there may be more of a predisposition to infantile paralysis infection as a result of tonsil and adenoid operations performed during the seasonal polio months—June through September.

Consequently, the National Foundation points out, parents should be guided by their own physician's advice in each individual case.

WELL, SON!
NOW LET'S SEE

is set at $50.50 per ton and orchards yield from 14 to 23 tons per acre. Farmers here are like at home, they work union hours only. That is 8 before dinner and 8 after.

The people's attitude toward one another seems unfriendly compared to Texas. It is true they have a quarter in every pocket and are not interested in other people. They are in too big a hurry trying to make another quarter. No time to talk unless they wish to sell you something. They are not buyers they are sellers. That I believe, is one reason of financial success. Ninety percent of them belong to a union or co-op sales arrangement.

The peach growers, walnut growers, egg producers, rice producers, prune grain, cattle and dairy -- every line of farming has its co-op or union and they make it pay off.

One of their secrets of success is that the directors are selected from the most successful growers of that particular article. Say walnuts--the directors manage the selling of the finished product. They see it through to the finish. To illustrate what I am trying to say - Floydada has a wheat co-op elevator. They should have a man in control of the Floydada directors who stays at Fort Worth and really sees after the wheat grower's interest the year round. That would make them plenty of money. The peach growers out here keep an office and personnel in San Francisco the year around to make the one sale -- that is, the peach crop to the peach packers.

Floyd County is on the right track. They have several co-ops, but they do not carry through. California beats Texas selling their products. Their land does not compare with good level Floyd County land. California land is worth a thousand dollars an acre. Better land in Floyd County is worth about a hundred and acre. Why? Californians are advertisers and salesmen. They sell the products from an acre of their land for a thousand dollars and buy milo from Texas because it is smart. They cannot afford to raise much of it here. Texas farmers will raise it for them at about a hundred dollars an acre. Unless we are a salesman, the other fellow will get the money we have worked for.

Barley is the principal grain crop in this valley. Texas is far ahead when it comes to harvesting grain. Here they combine the barley and sow the sacks on the combine and dump the sacks about 5 in a dump. There is practically no grain elevators out here. They haul grain in to big warehouses and store it in the sacks. Sacks cost nearly 30c each. Texas would go broke buying sacks.

California is very interesting to a Texas guy. I am having a lot of fun observing how they do things and why. It is a land of all kinds of special equipment for farmers and others because there is such a variety of crops and products.

Among the noticeable things is no wind, no flies, hot in afternoons and cold at night. They have many county services free to farmers. Soil conservation service comes on calls and makes a diagnosis and test of the land and tells them what fertilizer is needed. No tomato plants or trees are planted unless inspected by a county paid man. They have a mosquito and fly service. They come around at night and spray all farm buildings with D. D. T. and mosquito dope sprayed with the exhaust of an engine. All school children are x-rayed for T. B. once each year. That locates and gives

The Japs and Chinese are smart in their way. Many Japs own orchards. I saw a Jap family riding yesterday in a new automobile as long as a piece of rope.

I noticed in passing the cemetery at Wheatland (a nearby town) in the corner was a brick furnace or out door baking oven. I asked what was that for. Was told that it was the furnace the Japs cooked rice in to sprinkle on the graves of their loved ones. An American, thinking he would have a little fun at the Japs expense, asked, "Why do you Japs sprinkle scorched rice on the graves. You know the dead Jap can not eat that rice." The Jap says, "The dead Japanese can eat that rice just like the dead Americans can smell the roses you put on his grave."

'Western Round Up' Is Motif at Shower For Miss Powell Tuesday

Miss Joe Powell, bride-elect of Edward H. Wester, was honored Tuesday evening, July 15, at a "western round-up" held at the home of Mrs. W. S. Poole in Dougherty, Texas.

Guests, dressed in garden clothes, were met at the door by Mrs. Poole and were ushered to the bride's room, which was beautifully hand painted with western designs by Mrs. E. J. Barker. Miss Jane Johnson presided at the bride's book. Guests were directed out to the beautiful back yard by Mrs. Dick Sparks.

On the terrace the guests were served lemonade and Old Fashion cookies from a table laid with a linen cloth with designs of western brands which also were on the napkins. The serving dishes were western styled with brands for designs. Around the punch bowl were shrub branches with flowers fashioned from a red bandana. Western music was played on the radio - phonograph during the serving of the guests. Miss Kay Sparks presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. O. G. Glassmoyer pinned the plate favors of miniature lassos tied with a green ribbon on the guests. Mrs. Fred Cardinal seated the guests on lawn chairs.

The honoree, dressed in a western outfit, was presented with a corsage of red roses fashioned from a bandana intermingled with Feverfew. Her mother, Mrs. H. N. Powell, was presented with a corsage of the same design. Mrs. J. C. Wester wore an old fashioned corsage made from a blue bandana with Ester reed daisies.

A special musical number was given by a group of girls dressed in blue jeans and plaid shirts. The selections included, "Deep In The Heart Of Texas," and "Let The Rest Of The World Go By."

Gifts were drawn in on a covered wagon and carried to the honoree.

Home Canning Gives You A Ready-to-Serve Desert

In search of an always ready-to-serve dessert? Then have canned baked apples in your pantry! The Ball Blue Book of home canning contains a recipe for canned baked apples that you're bound to thank your lucky star for following. Wash and core apples. Fill cavities with sugar to which a little cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg or ginger has been added. Bake in small amount of water, just enough to prevent sticking. When apples are tender, pack them into hot jars. Cover with hot sirup made of equal parts of sugar and water or with water and honey. Process 15 minutes in hot water bath.

And while you're working with apples, don't forget apple jelly. Tart apples, alone or combined with other fruits are old standbys for jelly. If you have a supply of canned, unsweetened apple juice, you are all set to make jelly throughout the winter.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames R. C. Ross, Jake Greer, O. C. Vinson, Woodrow Wilson, M. J. McNeill, Travis Lightfoot, Frank Dunn, J. L. Montgomery, James Green, Oliver Allen, J. A. Hartwell, H. B. Mankins and C. M. Meredith. Visitors present were Mrs. Jefferies and Lella Petty, county home demonstration agent.

Club Plans Schedule of Year's Programs
The Business and Professional Women's club met Monday evening at the American Legion hall with twenty-three of its new members present. Mrs. Cleveland, president, called for reports of the standing committees recently appointed to plan the new year's work.

It was decided that the club will have year books printed, scheduling the meetings and programs for the coming year. Mrs. Angus, chairman of the social committee, preparing the books stated that they expect to have them ready for distribution at the September meeting.

Mrs. Cleveland is asking each committee to suggest a project for the club to sponsor this year, to be brought before the membership for discussion at the meeting in August. There will not be another meeting until August 11, when the club will have a short business session and a "paper sack picnic." Since the plans are still incomplete, the time and place will be published at a later date. This will be the only meeting next month.

Mrs. Arnold, the club parliamentarian, furnished entertainment for the evening by conducting a true and false quiz on parliamentary law.

National Soaring Contestants Land Near Center School

There was some excitement in the Center community Tuesday when a glider landed in the pasture on the farm the J. B. Jordans occupy. It was soon learned that Wm. Briegleb, of Los Angeles, California, was the pilot, and Frank Rose of Wichita Falls, was the navigator, and that they were contestants in the National Soaring meet.

12:03 Tuesday and glided this far before they had to land at about 6 p. m. They had hoped to reach Lubbock.

Not finding anyone at home at the
J. B. Jordan residence, the pilot went on to the teacherage and got Mrs. J. H. Moody to carry him to town to make the call to headquarters for a truck to pick up the glider. The glider was then pushed to the Center school house to wait for the truck. The two occupants took supper in the C. L. Ashton home.

It will be remembered that one of the other gliders landed in the La-ta pasture the same day.

Effective Way of Worming Hogs

LUBBOCK, July.—Most effective and practical method of worming hogs is by feeding a mixture of one pound sodium fluoride per 99 pounds of dry feed, according to John H. Baumgardner, assistant professor of animal husbandry at Texas Technological College.

Feeding hogs this mixture exclusively for one day proves about 97 per cent effective, much higher than any other method, he said. If pigs are given plain dry feed three or four days previous to treatment to get them used to it, he suggested. The treatment, developed recently by the USDA, is suitable for any class hogs of any age after weaning. Baumgardner recommends that market pigs be treated twice, first immediately after weaning and again when about four months old. He cautioned that sodium fluoride is very toxic and the feed should not be left where it will be accessible to children or livestock.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

Wilda is in the kitchen and a tantalizing smell of sweet-sour spicy pickling comes in the open door. Margaret Nell is asleep. Maybe I can write this column without her begging, Grandma, please, I just have to write my column.

This Monday morning has held plenty of work. I planted peas and beans where the potatoes were dug gathered the rest of the English peas and pulled up the vines so more beans may be later. Margaret Nell and I went to what we call the "plum thicket". It is the old surface tank and around its dry bed grow many plum bushes. We rested a few minutes under the big pecan and wished as we have a thousand times that it was in the yard. The red plums were picked and so soon jelly was boiling on the stove near a big pot of plum butter. Will Snoderass please take note!

Altho we would like to see a good rain, we have not yet got to the point where we hold up our hands to the clouds in pleading and wish we could reach them and wring the water from them onto the starving crops.

Seems to me that Grandma Jones always had the best garden in the world. It was in the sand. Somehow the bugs never bothered her large cabbage heads. And the pepper, hot as a firecracker! Little round beads of pepper that we liked to eat with the cabbage. Long red hot pods that grandma removed the veins from so that the children could eat it. And never were tomatoes so big and red. A handful of salt and soon tomato juice was dripping on small hands. We had the run of grandma's garden, but we never imposed on her or that is how I recall, she never scolded.

And after a good vegetable dinner there was a time to turn the peaches drying under the fierce sun. So good they smelled and we looked forward to winter when they would be on the table with sugar and cream to make them unforgettable in our memory.

Corn was also drying for the cold months ahead and usually grandma had some strips of beef drying on a stretched wire. He had so much patience with children. He would trim the hard dry outside of the jerky and give each child a piece to chew. For us he peeled the sweet sorghum stalk, showed us his toes that he almost cut off with an axe when he was a boy in Tennessee and his parents bound them back on and they were always crooked. He told us about sliding down a tree only to land in a pot of hot water and he always said, my skin came off with my clothes.

Better than being born with a silver spoon in our mouths was having both grandparents on both sides and it is a pleasure that my own children got to see all four of them.

Life is. Vera Johnson
Then let me know
That nothing is eternal except life;
Not war, nor hate, nor man's ingratitude.
Truth can be warped until it bows itself into a lie,
And human love is something that can die.
But let spring come and on the branches appears
Cherry buds swelling into bursting bloom;
Purple and yellow crocuses come laughing through the lawn,
Surprised that winters gone
So let me hold one firm, unshattered thought:
Life is eternal.

HOW TO USE THE TELEPHONE SKILLFULLY

Even the simplest things—and telephoning is one of them—are easier and more satisfactory for the person who knows the best way to do them and then DOES them that way.

If you know the right answers to these four questions about using the telephone, you'll have a key to better telephone service.

Question: What is the best way to answer the telephone?

Answer: It's usually best to identify yourself at once. "Mr. Hopkins speaking" helps start things off right—especially if the caller may not recognize your voice. It's much better than "Hello."

Question: Can the person I'm calling hear me better if I talk loudly?

Answer: It's better to speak in a normal voice—clearly and distinctly—with your lips about a half inch from the transmitter.

Question: Can I get the operator's attention faster by "jiggling" the receiver hook up and down rapidly?

Answer: No! When you move the hook too fast, it often brings in no signal at all. Move it slowly for better results.

Question: When I'm talking on a party line, how do I know if another party wants to call?

Answer: You may hear him lift the receiver. If so, the neighborly thing to do is finish your conversation as soon as convenient so he can make his call.

Conservation District News

This is the time of the year, with the harvest almost completed, when farmers are beginning to think about installing conservation practices and irrigation systems on their wheat land. With the wheat cut some farmers are noticing evidences of erosion and others the value of conservation practices they have installed on their land.

Perhaps some have found that water has been draining to one side of the field due to deep furrow drill rows leading the water in that direction, or maybe gullies have been getting started especially down old one-way corners. Many farmers are sadly looking at these evidences of erosion and have decided to "get the contour off their brows and get them on the land."

Contour farming and terraces where needed have been two mechanical practices which have greatly assisted farmers in conserving moisture and controlling erosion. While mechanical measures are important it has been pointed out that these are often the first steps to a sound soil management plan. Proper crop residue management, good tillage and cultivation and maintenance of soil fertility are some of the equally important factors in a sound conservation program.

Soil Conservation service technicians assigned to the District assisted Wade Davenport install an irrigation system on some 200 acres south of his farmstead. Mr. Davenport, a District cooperator of long-standing, has several miles of terraces on the land to be irrigated. He plans to water between these terraces by cutting laterals below the terraces.

The Soil Conservation service boys were on the farm of R. G. Dunlap this week where they laid out a system of lines on about 300 acres of land. Mr. Dunlap, who already has installed a complete conservation program on his home place, expects to go into an equally extensive program on the remainder of his land.

During the week Lee W. Burton signed a cooperative agreement with the District for assistance on his farm. The District technicians laid out contour lines to be followed in cultivation and planting. Mr. Burton lives three miles east of Fairview in the Fairview conservation group.

John C. Fortenberry, Jr., who lives three miles south of South Plains in the South Plains conservation group, last week finished his contour program by having the District technicians lay out contour lines on his west 100 acres, which had been in wheat. Mr. Fortenberry believes this will help him spread his water and assist in healing the washes in the one-way corners.

Other work in which the District technicians assisted was the installation of an irrigation system on 400 acres of land on the Horton Howell farm which he expects to plant to blackeyed peas (peas to the laymen). They also assisted Raymond Rucker locate a short ridge ditch. Aside from this they also noted a very fine stand of Hubam clover which Mr. Rucker had over sown in his wheat.

Predicts Phone Vision Replace All Other Types

CHICAGO, Illinois.—Commander E. F. McDonald, Jr., president of Zenith Radio corporation, today announced Phone vision, a new system of television that will present, without commercials, such top flight entertainment as first run movies, current news reels, Broadway plays, etc. These features, said McDonald, are not available for ordinary television because their production costs which in some cases exceed one million dollars per hour, make them far too expensive for any advertising sponsor.

Phone vision, he said, will enable set owners to receive free all standard television broadcasts, and in addition to receive and be charged for top flight entertainment features that may otherwise be seen only in theatres. The "admission fee" for home reception will vary with the nature of the entertainment. For example, the charge to see a new super-picture such as "The Yearling" will be greater than for a Grade B film of yesteryear.

Replace Other Types
McDonald said that although Phone vision is a Zenith development, license will be granted to all qualified manufacturers who apply. He predicts that Phone vision receivers will replace all other types since they will receive both standard television and "pay-as-you-see" feature programs. It works equally well with color television, projection receivers, or black and white. He said that the price of Phone vision receivers will be no greater than ordinary television receivers now on the market.

How Phone Vision Works
McDonald said that Phone vision works by splitting the complicated bundle of frequencies that make up a television picture, and sending certain key frequencies to the subscriber over his telephone or electric power wire. The remaining frequencies are broadcast in the usual manner, but the resulting picture is a confused blur unless the key frequency is received by wire.

In operation, the subscriber will call his telephone operator and tell her the program he wishes to see. When he tunes his set to the station, the key frequency will arrive to straighten out the picture. At the end of the month he will be billed for the programs he has received, just as he is now billed for long distance calls. Use of the Phone vision receiver will not in any way interfere with use of the telephone.

Soon Be In Production
McDonald said that arrangements will be worked out with major film producers, telephone broadcasters and the telephone company, and that Phone vision sets will soon be in production. He estimates that it will take from six months to a year for the system to get into production, and said it will probably become available first in such key cities as Chicago, New York, Washington, and Los Angeles, which now have television transmitters in operation. Existing television transmitters can easily be altered to handle Phone vision.

NURSES ARE EMPLOYED AT CROSBYTON GEN. HOSPITAL

CROSBYTON, July.—The Crosbyton General hospital lacked only the arrival of three registered nurses this week and a few smaller items and supplies before the doors of the hospital can be opened to the public.

OUR WHEAT CROP COMES OF AGE

A QUARTER CENTURY OF PROGRESS

About 25 years ago, wheat came into its own in the territory we serve. Last year alone wheat farmers here harvested about 40 million bushels of high protein wheat . . . in fact almost four-fifths of that produced in Texas is grown in our area.

Today, good bread from our wheat helps keep a healthy America healthy.

We have so much confidence in the wheat industry—and all other industries we serve, that we are investing 35 million dollars in a building program. This expansion program in our territory will bring more dependable electric service to industry and farms and better living—electrically—to everyone!

Quality Wheat

ing grown in Floyd county is not likely to cause any discrimination against wheat producers there as long as the wheat supply is short. He said further, "Standard Black hull is a good 'family' baking wheat and is not to be condemned, however Early Black Hull represents an improvement and we would like to see more of it and improved varieties grown."

The Agent said that W. A. Gorth, state seed inspector for the State Department of Agriculture recently inspected acreages of Floyd county wheat on which certification was requested and that considerable amount of certified or first year from certified seed from improved varieties is now available to producers.

What Terminologies Mean
The Agent called to the attention of growers considering the buying of certified wheat for planting that the terminology describing wheat seed is somewhat confusing in that a No. 2 certification on wheat simply means that it is in its second year from the foundation breeder - for example the experiment stations produce Foundation seed wheat which if on inspection proves quite pure it will be designated as No. 1 Certified seed, the next year if still almost pure it will be designated as No. 2. If however the inspector considers the acreage to be absolutely perfect he might possibly continue the No. 1 designation.

Seed from certification blocks of Westar, Comanche, Tenmarq, and Black hull grown in Floyd county this year on summer fallowed land were designated by the inspector for No. 1 and No. 2 certification. Some of the growers were: Adrain Crawford, Bobby Kincheloe, R. G. Dunlap, Robt. L. Smith, Bill Norman, Fred Zimmerman, Jr., Collins Walker, and Roe Jones.

Picture Not So Bad
The Agent emphasized, however, county wheat growers secured and planted improved seed this year as they have been doing the last three or four years for their own use. Most of these fellows will make some seed available to their neighbors if requested which along with seed available from certified growers makes a fairly bright picture for the quality of wheat available to mills from the Floyd county area.

Floyd county with 315,000 acres ranks 3rd among Texas wheat producing counties.

FINISHES DUSTING JOB: HOME FOR COTTON SEASON

W. D. Burke, who has been at Hereford, Texas, for the past month during potato season serial crop dusting, has returned to Floydada with another dusting plane which he has just picked up at Stuttgart, Arkansas.

Herschell Hinson will fly the new duster and both boys are in Floydada getting ready for cotton season.

Llano Visitors

dividual calf-roping match against W. E. Burleson, Floydada entry, on three calves. His time was 50.5 and Burleson's 87.3 seconds.

With 25 entries in the jackpot roping which was the last event of the evening Kenneth Kuykendall Llano, won first money with a 13-second job. W. E. Burleson got second with 15.2 seconds and James Hohmann of Llano third with 15.6 seconds time. George Epperson had hard luck in the jackpot contest and had no time, and Rudy Hohmann did also, but Smoky Kuykendall tied his calf in 17.4.

Neighbors' Hands Borrowed
Jack Johnson and his club went out and borrowed some of the top hands from the neighbors to put up against the Llano ropers in the contests here last night, as he had warned them he would do in an effort to give them a real contest. The "Floydada team" was composed of Snooks Beard of Silverton, Ward Rattan of Matador, W. E. Burleson of Fismot and Floydada, Deb Behrens of Crosbyton and Quin Martin of Rails.

Dr. A. B. Hamner of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Hamner and Mrs. Elita Roper of Austin spent the week-end here, guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glad Snodgrass, and Mrs. C. Snodgrass.
