BUILDING "TAKES IT ON THE CHIN"

Flash! The world's tallest building, the Empire State in New York, is struck by lightning! But don't be alarmed. It has been struck 100 times or more and there has never been any damage. That's because the building's metal covering, acting as a lightning rod, always sends the current into the ground. Here's the remarkable scene of the latest "strike" as recorded by an amateur photographer's small camera.

JOHNSON PUTS REQUEST TO CITIZENS

ATTEMPT TO UTILIZE BUYING POWER IS BEING PUSHED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The plea to "buy because buying supports your job" started today the recovery administration's attempt to utilize the increased purchasing power it feels is being created by hour-shortening, wage-raising agreements of the government with business and industry.

Along with that request from Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, went this boycott threat:

"Where should you spend? Can there be any question? You should spend under the Blue Eagle. If you spend there you are spending for increased employment. If you spend elsewhere you are hurting the chance to end unemployment because you are helping to destroy the business of the men who are paying more for help, you are aiding them who refuse to do so."

"The "buy now" campaign had been in contemplation for some time. But for a while the recovery administration feared production was increasing too fast for purchasing power—that more goods were being manufactured than could be bought.

Agreements Offered

Temporary agreements with the president to raise pay and shorten hours, pending development of permanent codes of fair competition with the same objective, were offered business and industry.

Yesterday, Johnson looked over the score sheet. He found five industries—cotton textiles, coats and suits, shipbuilding, electrical manufacturing and woolen textiles, each employing thousands—operating under permanent codes.

Other Groups Functioning

He found 26 other groups working additional thousands, functioning

RESCUE EFFORTS PROVE TO BE IN VAIN IN THIS CASE

GREEN RIVER, Wyo., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Rodney Rollins, 22, unnoticed, joined a group of anxious people on the Green River's bank near here. They were searching for a body.

Rollins pulled with a will on the ropes and hooks, then asked a man whom he did not know who the drowning victim was. "A fellow named Rollins," said the man, "Disappeared about an hour ago."

Startled, Rollins recalled he had dived, while swimming with Miss Lillian Russell, had paddled under the water and come to the surface beyond a clump of willows where she could not see him. She had left the river, he learned, and reported him drowned.

He convinced the searchers he would do no more underwater disappearing.

FRENCH FLIERS ON LONG HOP

ROSSI AND CODOS ARE ON RECORD FLIGHT ACROSS EUROPE

(By The Associated Press)

RAYAK, Syria, Aug. 7. (AP)—Maurice Rossi and Paul Codos, French airmen, completed a non-stop flight from New York when they landed here today at 4:00 P. M. G. M. T. (11:00 A. M. E. S. T.).

ORLY, France, Aug. 7 — Maurice Rossi and Paul Codos, French airmen who took off from New York Saturday morning, said today in a wireless message received here at 3:17 p. m. (10:17 a. m. Eastern Standard time) that they planned to fly until nightfall and thought they would land at Rayak, Syria, 50 miles north of Damascus.

The message, which was relayed by an Air Union plane, indicated that the fliers had abandoned their plan to reach India. There is a French military field at Rayak.

Aviation experts figured that by landing at Rayak the fliers would break the distance record of 5,340 miles they set out to lower. But the air ministry, in the absence of official information, declined to speculate about whether the record would be broken, although Rossi estimated this morning that by noon he and his companion would have set a new mark.

SIX PRISONERS CHARGED IN ATTEMPT

JAILER AND TRUSTEES ENGAGED IN FIGHT WITH REBELS

In a furious hand-to-hand battle, six Lubbock county jail trustees Sunday morning squelched an attempt by six accused felons to escape.

The six rebels, locked in dark-cells by the trustees after being subdued, were charged with assault to murder Parum Posey, jailer, in a complaint filed Sunday afternoon in Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell's court.

Trials Set For Friday

The peace justice this morning said examining trials were set for Friday, as District Attorney Daniel A. Blair will return late Thusday fom a vacation.

Sunday afternoon, the six trustees and the jailer lounged upon the shaded green beside the jail building. Nearly all had suffered minor bruises and abrasions, one or two lacerations, in the struggle in which makeshift but effective weapons changed hands frequently.

Trustees Praised

Sheriff Abel and Jailer Posey were free in their praise of the prisoners who proved no mistake had been made when they were elevated to trusteeships. They were: Truett Cooper, serving sentence for assault; Frank Lewis, charged with attempt to murder; Joe Murphy, charged with burglary; James Arnold Shaw, charged with violation of the national motor vehicle theft act; Tony Self, serving sentence for theft, and E. C. Chapman, negro, serving sentence for assault.

Six Attempt Escape

The six who attempted to escape, Sheriff Abel said, were:

Leslie Hobgood and Columbus Perry, charged with robbery with firearms in the same holdup; Jack Kinsley, Jack ("Happy") Weeks, alias Woodson, and Fonzie Winslo Gressett, charged with two robberies with firearms in the same holdups, and Lloyd Demock, charged with forgery.

PREHISTORIC MAN HUNTED MAMMOTH, MUSK-OX AND A NOW EXTINCT TYPE OF BISON NEAR CLOVIS, N. M., IS BELIEF

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 7 — Paleontological discoveries made in New Mexico are pointed to by scientists as authoritative evidence that prehistoric man once hunted the mammoth, musk-ox and a now extinct type of bison there—but in a climate much colder and wetter than at present.

Announcement was made today that a joint expedition from the University of Pennsylvania museum and the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences has found near Clovis, N. M., bones of ancient animals, including the horse and camel, together with flint and open hearths, all buried in the same stratum and in such close association as to remove all doubt they belonged to the same period.

A statement by officials of the museum and the academy said that several eminent paleontologists from this country and Europe visited the site near Clovis and after examination "concurred in the opinion the bones of the mammoth and extinct type of bison, and the hearths and flint implements were associated and belong to the same period."

"The spot near Clovis where the finds have been made," the statement said, "is locally known as Black Water draw,' and evidently originally was a string of small lakes or water holes which emptied into the Brazos river, whose course is now at some distance. This indicates that at that period, the region was far less arid than at present.

"Furthermore, the discovery in a cave, not far distant, of

COURT ACTS ON PETITION FOR VOTE TODAY

VOTERS TO DECIDE ON 3.2 BEER SALE HERE ON AUGUST 26

County Commissioners court in a called meeting this morning ordered, after examination of a petition asking it, an election August 26 to determine whether Lubbock county shall have local option prohibition of 3.2 per cent alcoholic beer, if it is legalized in a state-wide election the same day.

The Texas Liberal league unit here supervised circulation of the petition, which bore more than 800 names when filed this morning with County Commissioners court.

Examination by the court showed more than 535 names were those of citizens who had paid poll taxes, in addition to persons having exemptions, Judge E. L. Pitts said.

Result In Saving

E. H. Robertson, district chairman of the Liberal league, had pointed out calling of the local option election to be conducted concurrent with the state election, upon light wines and beer and repeal of the eighteenth amendment, would result in a saving approximating $1,000. Innumerable counties have called local option elections for August 26.

Lubbock and other counties which had local option regulation before establishment of the state dry law would remain dry, even though beer were legalized in the state, unless their citizenship were of a wet majority in local option elections.

Boy With Stitched Heart Is Expected To Live Through It

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 7—A 16-year-old youth with a sewed-up heart was alive today and his physician said the delicate operation performed after the victim was mysteriously stabbed probably would be successful.

The boy, Elihu Garmissa, was rushed to the Lutheran Deaconess hospital Saturday night by police immediately after the attack, and with not a moment to waste, Dr. J. D. Koucky, assistant professor of surgery in the University of Illinois school of medicine, operated.

"The heart had stopped beating when the boy was placed on the operating table," Dr. Koucky said. He said he knew he took four stitches to close the inch-long wound, but that in his haste he may have taken five.

Following the operation the heart was massaged until it resumed its normal beating. In giving Garmisa a 75 per cent chance to recover Dr. Koucky said the greatest danger lay in the possibility of infection.

The attack occurred as the youth was walking home. His assailant fled.

Fourteen Killed In Election Fighting

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 7 (AP)—Fourteen slayings, most of them attributed to quarrels over Saturday's state-wide primary election occurred over the week-end in Kentucky mountain counties. In addition ten were wounded.

The total was believed to be a record for the state. Most of the shootings were in isolated communities, attributed by officers either to intense feeling over county races, to renewal of old grudges on meeting at the polls, and in at least one instance to a quarrel over a liquor deal.

Fear Of Flood On Rio Grande Dispelled

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 7 (AP)—Early fears of a flood on the Rio Grande as an aftermath of heavy rains carried into Mexico by last week's hurricane were dispelled today by an announcement from W. J. INSPECTION STARTS ON PLOWED COTTON

A few forms on which returns to be given for cotton plowed under, were received this morning by Mr. Tumlinson. More are expected this week.

Proof blanks are to be sent to Washington and it is expected that checks will be mailed out shortly after receipt of these blanks in the cotton reduction bureau.

HERE'S ADDITIONAL QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON PROBLEMS OF THE N.R.A.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7—What does the N. R. A. mean?

The following questions were developed and answered today by officials of the National Recovery administration.

Q—Are small businesses employing only a few persons required to pay stated wage scales and observe the hours specified in the blanket code?

A—They are.

Q—How are unchartered home industries, such as home laundries, affected by the N. R. A.?

A—Where only one person is engaged in such industries he or she is not affected. Where more are at work, the business is expected to come in under the blanket code.

• • •

Q—What about firms having curb service and employing several small boys or young men to serve cars at the curb?

A—The minimum wage for a part time worker in such businesses is expected to be such that if the employe worked at that wage for a full week or 40 hours, he would receive the minimum weekly wage prescribed for him by the president's reemployment agreement.

Q—Is an employer expected to discharge employes where he has been spreading work by means of the "share-the-work" movement so as to give regular work for a less number of workers?

A—No. Compensation of employes above the minimum wage group, whether now fixed by the hour, day, week or otherwise, shall not be reduced, either to compensate the employer for increases that he may be required to make in the minimum wage group in order to comply with the president's reemployment agreement, or to turn this agreement into a mere "share-the-work" movement without a resulting increase of total purchasing power.

• • •

Q—Is an employer who has signed the president's reemployment agreement abiding by its provisions if turns off any of his employes?

A—He is not complying with the spirit of the agreement.

ARIZONA VOTES ON TUESDAY

ANTI-REPEALISTS ARE FACING HANDICAP IN STATE BALLOTING

(By The Associated Press)

PHOENIX, Aug. 7.—Arizona voters will decide tomorrow whether this state is to become the twenty-first in the union to sanction repeal of the Eighteenth amendment.

Having lost five days before the date of election, a court battle to restrain the casting of ballots, anti-repeal forces conceded that the popular vote of the state likely would be overwhelmingly in favor of ratification.

Drys Face Odds

In a contest at the polls, "dry" forces are confronted not only with a record of a two to one vote by which the state prohibition enforcement laws were repealed last November, but with the fact that their's must be a write-in campaign for convention delegates.

Under an enactment of a recent special session of the eleventh Arizona legislature, fourteen delegates—one from each county—were to be nominated by counties and elected by a vote of the state-at-large, en bloc. No anti-repeal candidate was nominated in any county.

Western Electric Increases Salaries

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Western Electric company announced today an 11 per cent increase in wages and salaries of 15,000 employes, effective as of August 1.

The announcement said the company had signed the president's reemployment agreement under the industrial recovery act and had granted the pay rise to all hourly rated employes and to salaried employes receiving up to $3,240 annually. The increase affects both men and women employes, and will increase the company's annual payroll $2,250,000.

TWO BUILDINGS ARE BURNED IN BLAZE EARLY MONDAY

(Special To The Journal)

LAMESA, Aug. 7. — Fire which followed an explosion caused a loss $40,000 to two brick buildings on the southwest corner of the court house square early today. Heroic work on the part of a volunteer fire department prevented the flames, which were fed by a light southwest breeze.

The first alarm came at 2 o'clock. The blaze was in two structures owned by T. F. Vaughn, local automobile dealer, one vacant and the oth r occupied by Horne and Hanson. Loss to stock of this concern was estimated at $8,000 to $10,000. The other building was unoccupied at this time. It was formerly the home of the Ayers Dry Goods store.

District Threatened

A second alarm came at 3:30. For a time it appeared that the business district was threatened. Five streams of water were played on the blaze before it was brought under control. The fire is believed to have originated in the larger building.

High fire walls and absence of a high wind prevented spread of the flames.

This is the first time since 1924 that a blaze has threatened the business section. In that year the entire south side of the square was burned.

WORLD'S COTTON CONSUMPTION UP

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (AP)—World consumption of cotton, all growths, for the season just ended was the largest since the 1929-30 season, the New York Cotton exchange reported today.

During the twelve months ended July 31 world spinners used approximately 24,725,000 bales compared with 23,007,000 in the previous season.

The increase of 1,718,000 bales in consumption of all growths from 1931-32 to 1932-33 was almost entirely due, said the exchange service, to the large increase in the use of American staple, which rose from 12,506,000 bales to 14,132,000. Consumption of foreign cottons rose but slightly, from 10,501,000 bales to 10,593,000.

The service reported the world's carryover of all kinds of Cotton on July 31 at approximately 15,530,000 bales on the basis of preliminary returns against 17,412,000 a year ago.

ADVISOR PLANS WORKS SETUP

CLIFFORD B. JONES IS TO SET UP OFFICE IN FORT WORTH

(By The Associated Press)

SPUR, Aug. 7—Clifford B. Jones, regional adviser for the federal recovery program for the states of Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas, today said that his immediate plans would include the establishment of headquarters at Fort Worth and the completion of the executive organization for his territory.

Jones returned to his home here from Uvalde and San Antonio where he conferred with vice president Garner and members of the Texas Advistory committee.

To Formulate Plans

It is the outlined duties of the federal regional administrators, Jones said, to assist the planning board in Washington to formulate plans for each region. He expected to be called to Washington in the near future for a conference, and pending this meeting he said he would have no definite announcement concerning the nature of public works to be undertaken.

He intimated, however, that a wholesale program of small water-soil-conservation and irrigation projects in headwater regions would receive his sympathetic interest. He believed such a program of vast importance in flood control as well as to agriculture.

Children Urged To Read In Summer

BY MRS. J. M .CRAIN
Special Correspondent

CLAUDE, August 7 (Special)—Children's reading, a standing committee of Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers well-adapted for vacation months, has as its chairman, Mrs. J. T. Robison, Texarkana. By reading good books children gather information quite valuable through life.

"A man is a man, plus the influence of the books he has read," some author writes, so in the light of this truth Texas Congress is building up in the hearts and minds of "Young Americans in Texas" a desire for the right type of literature.

"Treasure Island Club" is the name of a selected reading course in the Texarkana Public Library which has many children enrolled for summertime reading. As each child enrolls, he is given an outline map of Treasure Island with the privilege of putting different colored stops on the map as he reads books which are selected by the local library committee. When he reads ten books, his map is not only completed but he is given a certificate for completing the course.

Why They Should Read

Children should have books to read to imbue them with a love of reading so that there may be opened up to them the wonderful world of literature, and the wisdom handed down to them through the ages; to give them a good and adequate vocabulary; to teach them to reason and think for themselves and draw their own conclusions; to teach them the great fundamental truths; to teach them to appreciate beauty in every form of art, literature, and life; to so inspire and train them as to bring out the best that is in them.

Mrs. Robison passes on the following plan as suggested by the principal of a junior high school relative to the wise use of children's leisure summertime: "In every neighborhood there is at least one young man or woman interested enough in the younger children that with adult leadership he or she could be persuaded to have a story hour every day or so, under some one's big shade tree, or under the electric fan in some one's spacious living room. Where the community has no public library, books for such an hour could come from the libraries of families in the group. If the locality is fortunate enough to have a public library, perhaps one of the adults would loan his library card for such a purpose."

When the above suggested plan proves successful, perhaps this same group would be happy to help with a story hour in some adjacent rural community.

What To Do

"'Spread the gospel of good books and magazines' in the home, the school, and the community," adds Mrs. Robison.

In the home encourage every parent to read books on the subject of children's reading; furnish parents with book lists for home libraries; seek the aid of teachers in teaching parents the effect of good reading upon child life and character building; supply speakers in the parent-teacher association who will inform the membership about the necessity of providing children with suitable reading material and the high privilege involved.

Further such educational projects in school as plays and tableaux story telling periods, making posters, book markers, book jackets; with cooperation of teachers sponsor wholesome reading contests or book reviews by pupils; help the school keep its library up-to-date by urging the local unit to purchase, where it is practical and feasible, books for the school library.

Use space in the local newspaper for articles on children's reading so the community will become interested; supply speakers on the subject to various local organizations; wherever possible use radio programs.

Are the children in your locality doing some constructive reading these long, lazy, vacation days? Is your library having a selected reading course for its youth?

A book list for a child's library may be procured upon request from Miss Fannie Wilcox, state librarian, Austin.

Longer Skirts Are Fashion's Dictate

BY ADELAIDE KERR

PARIS, Aug. 7 (AP)—Longer skirts for wear after five o'clock were decreed by the larger houses today in fashion shows crystallizing rules for winter styles.

Following a mode of elegance which Paris has determined to launch, ankle-length skirts appeared in tea-time costumes, while evening gowns touched the floor, or nearly so, many having slight trains.

There were numerous slit skirts for evening, slashed one to eight times. Daytime skirt lengths were measured according to milady's height, varying from eight to 13 inches from the ground.

New afternoon ensembles, fashioned of velvets and broadcloths, were designed with long sleves and long skirts, and had hip-length jackets, richly furred. They were black, burgundy, dark green, and navy.

Seductive Silhouette

The evening mode, of the greatest elegance, was based on a seductive form-fitting silhouette, with decolettes high in font nd low in back. Fabrics included velvets, crinkled crepes, lames, moires, and ottomans. Colors included black, pink, burgundy, pale blue, sapphire, light green, bottle green, and mauve.

Evening wraps varied from flower-trimmed, waist-length capes matching frocks to straight, three-quarter lengths and sweeping full-length models. They were designed of colorful velvets, lames, and rich fox, mink, and ermine furs.

Long white gloves were worn again. There were velvet gloves, too, matching the frocks.

Walks were laid last spring and a lawn started.

City water will still be used inside the building, it was said.

WARNING GIVEN ON NRA ACTS

ACTION IS PLANNED AGAINST "CHEATERS" OF RECOVERY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. — The Industrial administration today day contemplated strict action against what it considers "cheating on the blue eagle" by certain retail stores which have been reported here as opening later and closing earlier to avoid hiring new employes.

From within the administration it was disclosed that an effort was afoot to have Hugh S. Johnson, the administrator, issue a statement within the next day or so publicly flaying retailers who have knowingly dodged the provisions of the code now temporarily in effect.

In another quarter, Gen. Thomas S. Hammond, director of the president's re-employment, or blanket-code, agreement, said emphatically investigations would be made and that "if we find anyone hitting below the belt, the blue eagle will come down from their store front."

Vail was taken to Huntsville November 21 by Sheriff B. L. Parker. He was indicted on a felony theft charge with Jack Sullivan and Mary Cuban, but the case later dismissed for lack of sufficient evidence, on motion of T. L. Price, then district attorney.

FORMER POLICE WOMAN, BOOSTED TO STATE POST, TAKES OPPORTUNITY TO BATTLE FOR FAIR WORKING CONDITIONS

* * * *

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 7 (AP)—A woman who "pounded a beat" on the Brooklyn waterfront during the world war directs the Pennsylvania department of labor and industry through a period of widespread strikes and labor difficulties.

She is Miss Charlotte E. Carr, close personal friend and associate of Miss Frances Perkins, United States secretary of labor. For 18 years she has been active in rehabilitating children and improving the condition of women in industry.

In 1918 Miss Carr patrolled the Brooklyn navy yard section at night, working the "6 to 2" shift and seeking runaway girls. Today, with the full confidence of Governor Pinchot and the active support of his tireless, colorful wife, she is waging an intensive campaign for minimum wage laws and elimination of children from industry.

Uncovers Sweatshop Conditions

Governor Pinchot credits her with bringing to light "the serious sweatshop conditions" in the state. Under her direction, first as chief of the bureau of inspection and later as secretary, the labor department gathered for a legislative committee voluminous data of pittance wages and poor working conditions.

The legislative investigators, in a preliminary report, found:

"It has been convincingly shown that sweatshops exist, that they unfairly exploit the labor of women and children, menace the health and the dignity of childhood and womanhood and enter into unfair competition with reputable business."

Miss Carr's predecessor, Dr. A. M. Northrup, charged she fomented strikes, but Governor Pinchot repeatedly scoffed at the charge.

Strikes Increase

Dr. Northrup asserted Pennsylvania strikes increased 400 per cent as the result of her activities. The new secretary obtained federal figures, announced the correct percentage was 524 and pointed to a national increase of 420 per cent for the same period.

Miss Charlotte E. Carr, secretary of Pennsylvania's department of labor and industry, takes office at a time of widespread strikes and other labor difficulties in the keystone state. One of her chief supporters in a fight against sweatshops is the governor's wife, Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, shown here (wearing dark coat) leading a march of picketeers in front of a Pennsylvania factory.

Roosevelt Seeking To End Mine Strike

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt went directly into the Pennsylvania coal strike situation today, receiving a report from Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, industrial administrator and talking things over with him.

Mr. Roosevelt designated Johnson and Miss Frances Perkins, the secretary of labor, to make a special study of the coal strike.

Reimbursement Bill Asked For Counties

BIG SPRING, Aug. 5. (AP)—Officials of Howard, Martin, Glasscock, Midland and Dawson counties, in meeting at Stanton Friday, decided to ask Governor Miriam A. Ferguson to submit a pink bollworm reimbursement bill to the coming special session of the legislature as a means of providing relief for farmers in a drouth-stricken area who bore the expense of quarantine for several seasons.

It was brought out that farmers of the area, whose crops in some instances have failed, were in need of aid. A resolution was adopted asking the state highway department and the bureau of public roads to give road projects in the drouth area preference and let contracts immediately. C. T. Watson, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, and Senator A. P. Duggan of Littlefield, were named to represent the counties before state and federal authorities. A third committeeman will be named by them.

JUNE'S COTTON EXPORTS HIGH

MONTH IS GREATEST IN PAST 24 YEARS; FARM INDEX HIGHER

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Cotton exports during June were the highest for that month in 24 years.

As a result, the department of agriculture says the farm exports index reached its highest point for any June since 1926, being 72 per cent of the average exports for the pre-war period, 1909 to 1914.

The heavy cotton exports contrasted with exports for other commodities which reached a new low monthly record, being only 45 per cent of the pre-war rate. The sharp decline in exports of wheat and flour was principally responsible.

Europe Buying

The department said that normally cotton exports drop off during June but that the upward price movement this year greatly increased European buying of the American staple.

Exports of wheat, including flour, aggregated less than 2,000,000 bushels in June. As a result, exports of wheat and flour for the twelve months ending with June totalled only 41,225,000 bushels compared with 135,797,000 bushels exported for the twelve months ending with June 1932.

PNEUMONIA CURES HELD SUCCESSFUL

LONDON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Two cures of influenzal pneumonia by serum similar to that for immunizing ferrets against "flu" were claimed today by Dr. Ronald Hare, a London investigator.

In telling how he treated two women, one of whom was dying, Dr. Hare said "both cases reacted in a very drailatic fashion" and recovered.

The serum was prepared from human beings convalescing from influenza. Recent announcements that ferrets could be infected with the "flu" virus were considered highly important because of the possibility that the germ could be isolated and an antidote be found for humans.

Dr. Hare added that additional experiments and investigtaion are desirable.

The "Lancet," British medical journal, listed as discoveries of the reaction on ferrets three doctors, Wilson Smith, C. H. Andrews, and P. P. Laidlaw. Previously the inability to find an animal susceptible to "flu" infection hindered experiments.

Firemen of St. Louis by resolution declined to contribute to the campaign fund of a political faction in control of the city administration.

Three Minute Relief From Periodical Pains

It is so unnecessary to suffer month after month from inorganic pains, because "B. C." will bring soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neuralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B. C.," in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold.—(adv.)

●ABOVE—IN RATING THE POPULAR CIGARETTES, Shute says, "Camels are milder, and what is even more important to any golfer, they do not jangle the nerves."

●ABOVE—TWO CONTINENTS CHEERED when slender Densmore Shute, brilliant young American golfer, with wrists of steel and nerves that never wavered, won the British Open—the tenth American champion in ten years!

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

When it comes to healthy nerves, "DENNY" SHUTE speaks with authority. "I couldn't have won the British Open if my nerves hadn't been in perfect condition," says Shute. "Healthy nerves are essential to any golfer who wants to turn in a good score. The enjoyment of cigarettes has not interfered with my golf game because I have smoked Camels right along. I have tried all the brands and long ago found that Camels are milder, and what is even more important to any golfer, they do not jangle the nerves."

* * *

"Denny" Shute offers conclusive evidence that Camels are milder. That they don't interfere with healthy nerves. That smokers like Camels better, the more they smoke them. Consider the fact that Camels are made from costlier tobaccos—and switch to them yourself. You will also discover that Camels are better for steady smoking.

●RIGHT—"I'M NOT A CHAMPION GOLFER—not even a fair one, according to Mr. Shute's standards! I'm a young married woman, interested in home and children. But I'm inclined to be the nervous type. So I switched to Camels, for the sake of my nerves, and because Camels are definitely a milder cigarette."

How are Your Nerves?

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. Leaf tobaccos for cigarettes can be bought from 5¢ a pound to $1.00...but Camel pays the millions more that insure your enjoyment.

SPORTS

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

A new staff takes a hand in the third annual Texas Tech coaching school today. Noble Kizer of Purdue and Andy Kerr of Colgate will divide time with football, the former teaching the Notre Dame system, the other the Warner of "double wingback" system. They have a tough job to do in replacing Harry Kipke and Bernie Bierman, but they're equal to the task and the football department is not due to lag at any time.

• • •

Ed Gallagher, coach of many national championship wrestlers, arrived yesterday and will begin his instructions today. Captain C. M. Woodbury, N. M. M. I. boxing coach, will instruct in the manly art of fistic self defense. Craig Ruby, one of the better known cage coaches, will start his basketball lessons today.

• • •

There is no disappointment relative to the attendance at the coaching school. Although the crowd lacks more than a hundred of touching last year's enrollment figure, promoters and officials of the school are pleased. They have broken even on the financial end and everybody is happy. The world's fair, competitive coaching schools, salary slashes and folding up of many athletic departments contribute to the falling off in enrollment, but nobody is squawking.

• • •

But it's a great pity that more coaches were not present Saturday and Sunday to meet and hear Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of Big Ten conference athletics. The man is a wizard at taking the situation in hand and making of it a great thing. To say that he "went over big" is putting it mildly. You'd think that a man with the responsibilities which Major Griffith carry would be the hard-boiled, snappy, overly-serious type, particularly if he was a graduate of Uncle Sam's army—but not the major. His talks on organization and administration of athletics and ethics of coaching have sunk to the depths of his hearers hearts, more than likely disturbing the minds of many of them. Anything but pretentious and overbearing, the major put it out in a manner that made you take it—and like it.

• • •

A champion of interscholastic and intercollegiate and amateur sports, Major Griffith lost no time in refuting statements and beliefs current among athletic critics that college athletics was over-emphasized, that the coaching game was going to the dogs, that now is the time to cut down on athletics and that intramural sports should replace inter-school athletics. Rather he insisted that it was no time to cut down, that young coaches should be encouraged, provided they were not in the game for the sole purpose of getting rich; that it was a "lot of hooie" about the great expense connected with running an efficient athletic department, and that there is NO SUBSTITUTE for intercollegiate athletics.

• • •

We could write columns about Major Griffith and his talks here . . . it's just too bad that more coaches and fans couldn't hear him, and a pity that there aren't more like him. The major, in our humble estimation, is the biggest man in our amateur sport circles of today. If his message could be carried to every school head and every coach in the country, there'd be no sour grapes coming from anybody save lunatics. And we're not going to pass up the opportunity of repeating another of the major's sincere statements: "The sport pages of our country's newspapers are the cleanest pages published." He followed this up with reasons why, and implored coaches, athletic game officials and players to help keep the sport pages that way.

What's hapening to our city soft ball leagues? Never was a sport so well received from the participants' point of view, and never was there more player enthusiasm than when the soft-ball leagues were organized a couple of months ago. There weren't enough leagues to take care of the teams desiring admission. But interest seems to have reached its high point. At least three teams definitely have dropped out, and a fourth is on the verge. Others have been added, of course, but enthusiasm is declining, and there's a half season to go. Let's whip it up and carry on. It's inexpensive, entertaining and provides the necessary physical exercise which the participants need.

The Chicago Cubs, National league champions in 1933, by mid-June this season had twice suffered two shutout defeats on successive days.

BROUILLARD SEEKS SECOND RING WIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—Lou Brouillard, French-Canadian southpaw from Worcester, Mass., will seek his second fistic crown here Wednesday night when he meets Ben Jeby, recognized by the New York State Athletic commission as world's middleweight champion, in a 15-round battle at the Polo grounds.

Brouillard held the world's welterweight title for a short time, lost it to Jackie Fields at Chicago and a little later joined his lot with the middleweights. His most recent—and most spectacular—victory was a decisive triumph over Mickey Walker at Boston.

Southpaw May Worry

Jeby recently made a successful defense of his disputed championship against Young Terry of Trenton, N. J., but probably will be no better than an even choice, if that, against the Worcester slugger. Jeby never before has faced a southpaw and the betting fraternity will take that fact into serious consideration when quoting their odds.

Otherwise the national program is marked by a double-windup card at Los Angeles tomorrow night with Maxey Rosenbloom, world's light heavyweight champion, and Gorilla Jones, Akron, O., holder of the National Boxing association American middleweight title, appearing in non-title ten rounders. Rosenbloom will meet K. O. Christner, Akron heavyweight, and Jones will face Earl Whitehead of Santa Monica.

Ten seniors, each with two years' varsity experience, will be among 18 football lettermen returning at Iowa this fall.

In its recent session, Congress added $62,000,000 a year to gasoline tax revenue.

LEADERS IN CHASE FOR PROFESSIONAL GOLF TITLE

The cream of the nation's professional golfers are polishing strokes, trying to stifle jumpy nerves and otherwise get ready for the match play tests which start at Milwaukee August 8, to determine the P. G. A. championship of 1933. Olin Dutra is present champion, Gene Sarazen is the favorite to take the crown from him and Horton Smith and Johnny Revolta are expected to be contenders.

AMERICA'S STAR GOLF PROS TO BATTLE IT OUT THIS WEEK FOR NATIONAL PGA TITLE; SARAZEN FAVORED; FIELD LARGE

(By The Associated Press)

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 7—Headed by the defending champion and eight members of the American Ryder cup team, the leading golf pros of the nation were gathering here today for the annual Professional Golfers' association tournament which opens on the Blue Mound Country club course tomorrow morning.

Olin Dutra of Los Angeles will defend his championship.

102 Entered

The internationalists among the 102 players who will enter the qualifying round of 36 holes are Leo Diegel of Agua Caliente, Calif., Horton Smith of Oak Park, Ill.; Gene Sarazen of Miami, Fla.; Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y.; Ed Dudley of Wilmington, Del.; Craig Wood of Deal, N. J., and Billy Burke of Greenwich, Conn.

The other two Ryder cup team members, Densmore Shute, British open champion and Walter Hagen, are playing exhibitions in the British isles.

Play Displaces Talk

Not in years has there been so much shouting among the nation's pros as this season, and as a result everyone of the outstanding stars is anxious to grab the title away from the big senor from California.

First there was a big uproar because of the Ryder Cup selections, then a shout over the scarcity of winter tournaments promoted by the P. G. A., and finally a big squawk over the movement of the big show from September to August.

Gene Sarazen ranks as the outstanding favorite to win the title over the fairly short but treacherous Blue Mound course.

Gene Back In Form

Craig Wood, Paul Runyan, Johnny Farrell, Billie Burke, Dutra, Ed Dudley, Leo Diegel, Horton Smith and young Johnny Revolta stand out as the biggest threats, but Ralph Guldahl of St. Louis, runners-up to Johnny Goodman in the national open at Glenview, is another.

Sarazen, shorn of his two major titles, demonstrated he was back on his game during the British open, despite that disastrous eight on the 14th that biasted his hopes abroad.

Par for the course is 70, and not many have been able to beat the figure in practice rounds. Reggie Miles of Cleveland turned in a 66 Saturday, and yesterday Johnny Revolta of Menominee, Mich., went around in 68. Len Mattson and Ernest Penfield of St. Paul, carded 68s in earlier practice rounds, while Henry Picard of Charleston, S. C., and Gunnard Johnson of St. Paul reported 69s.

Francis Gallett, Blue Mound pro, holds the course record of 65.

More Funds Received On State Oil Rentals

AUSTIN, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Shell Petroleum company has remitted $81,734 to the state for bonuses and rentals due the permanent free school fund on West Texas lands.

This brought the total paid by oil companies for bonuses and rentals to $163,000 for the past three days, the attorney general's department announced.

Suit was filed Saturday against the Grisham-Hunter corporation of Abilene for $27,487, claimed due in rentals and bonuses.

The attorney general's department announced other suits would be filed this week, one for approximately $150,000.

HELEN JACOBS' BRILLIANT RALLY IS RESPONSIBLE FOR WIGHTMAN CUP WIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—Out of one of the most dramatic Wightman cup series in history, Helen Jacobs emerges as the tennis rock on which great Britain's spectacular come-back finally crumpled.

The Californian's courage under terrific pressure, her gallant rally when she was within two points of the defeat that in all probability would have won the cup for Great Britain, overshadowed all other developments including the remarkable showing little Sarah Palfrey made as the injured Helen Wills Moody's substitute.

Beaten in all three of the opening day's matches, the British squad rallied to win the first two singles tests Saturday and seemed to have the cup all but won when Peggy Scriven won the first set of her duel with Miss Jacobs.

But the American champion rallied to take the second set and then, trailing 3-5 in the third, reeled off four games in a row for set, the match at 5-7, 6-2, 7-5, and the victory that gave America the cup for the third successive year.

The 7-5, 6-2 triumph Betty Nuthall and Frieda James earned over Alice Marble and Mrs. John Van Ryn in the concluding doubles match to make the final score 4-3 in America's favor shows just how badly Miss Jacobs' victory was needed.

America's victory was its eleventh since the series began in 1923. Great Britain has won four times.

Californian Is More Elated Over Getting Job Than Golf Title

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 7 (AP)—Charles Ferrera was more excited today over the possibility of getting his job back in a San Francisco foundry plant than he was over winning the National Public Links golf crown for the second time.

"I'm glad to have won the championship again but I'll be a lot happier if the old cup helps me get the job back which I lost a year ago," said the Californian, who scored a 4 and 2 triumph over the defending titlist, Robert Lee Miller of Jacksonville, Fla., in their 36-hole skirmish at the Eastmoreland Municipal course here Saturday.

Ferrera is the second golfer to capture the championship more than once, but he still is behind the record of Carl Kaufman of Cleveland who won the trophy three consecutive years beginning in 1927.

A'S CUT DOWN MARGIN OF SENATORS

PHILADELPHIA PROVING TROUBLESOME TO LEAGUE LEADERS

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Athletics, ten games or more out of the American league pennant race, has caused some bad moments for the contending New York Yankees and the Washington Senators as the leaders moved toward today's opening of another "crucial" series.

After handing the second place Yankees three straight defeats to knock them four games out of first place, the A's swung their bludgeons against Washington yesterday and helped reduce the margin to three games. The A's slammed Ed Chapman, making his first appearance for the Senators, off the hill in less than three rounds as Jimmie Foxx helped with his thirty-first homer. Then after the Senators had taken advantage of the wildness of "Sugar" Cain and Rube Walberg to tie the score ,they moved ahead again on Pinkey Higgins' homer in the seventh and finished with another burst for a final score of 12-8.

Yanks Down Red Sox

The Yanks, meanwhile, downed the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 4, largely because of Boston errors and George Pipgras' lack of control. The victory left the Yanks three games behind Washington and ten ahead of the A's, who in turn increased their third-place margin to 2 1-2 games as Detroit's Tigers captured the remaining first division berth from Cleveland with a double victory.

After pounding Oral Hildebrand to win the opener 7 to 3, the Tigers took the second game 2-1 on a five-hit pitching job by Fred Marberry. Chicago's White Sox and the St. Louis Browns divided the other American league twin bill. The Sox won the first game 6-5 in eleven innings when Red Kress drove in the odd run but George Blaeholder's four-hit flinging evened the count with a 7-1 St. Louis victory.

Reds Sensation

The Cincinnati Reds were the day's sensations in the National league as they took a pair of brilliant extra-inning pitching duels from the St. Louis Cardinals. Red Lucas went 11 innings to beat Tex Carleton 2 to 1 in the opener, then Paul Derringer, a former Cardinal, held St. Louis to three hits in 12 frames to win the second clash from Jess Haines, 1-0.

The league leading New York Giants got no better than an even break with the Brooklyn Dodgers, losing the first game 6-3 when Carl Hubbell weakened in the eighth, then winning 3-2 with the aid of some brilliant relief pitching by Adolfo Luque. But they increased their lead over Pittsburgh to 3 1-2 games as the Chicago Cubs and Pat Malone handed the Pirates a 6-0 whitewashing.

The Phillies and the Boston Braves waged a pair of close duels that got them nowhere. The Phils won the opener 1-0 when Spud Davis' homer in the second decided a struggle between Ed Holley and Dutch Brandt. Boston came back with a 2-1, ten-inning victory as Buck Jordan smacked a single with the bases loaded to break up a battle between Fred Frankhouse and Austin Moore.

Soft Ball League To Open Second Half

The second half of the American softball league season gets under way here today with Lubbock Compress meeting Quicksall-Pryor at the 22nd street and Ave. R field. The game is scheduled to begin at 6:15 o'clock.

Second games in the last half of the National league get under way tomorrow afternoon with Meinecke Bros. meeting the Avalanche-Journal team at Fair Park.

By winning their last two games, the Huie-Ribble combination swept the first half of the American league, finishing ahead of Quicksall-Pryor with whom they were tied before last week's games were played.

The Auto Parts team finished in a tie for second place with the Federal Employees and the A. W. McKee company.

Kerr, Kizer Take Charge At Tech's Coaching School

COLGATE AND PURDUE MENTORS LECTURING IN SESSIONS TODAY

Andy Kerr and Noble Kizer, director of football destinies at Colgate and Purdue respectively, took charge of that department of the Texas Tech coaching school this morning, each appearing in a one-hour lecture. Kizer, who shall teach the Notre Dame system at the school of more than 200 coaches, arrived Sunday. Kerr, diminutive mentor of Colgate's high stepping Maroons, has been here since Friday.

Ed Gallagher, coach of national intercollegiate wrestlers at Oklahoma A. & M. college, and Van Bebber, one of his stars, also put in appearance yesterday. They are to teach and demonstrate the college style of wrestling at this week's school. Captain C. M. Woodbury, New Mexico Military institute, will teach boxing this week.

Ruby Arrives

Another arrival yesterday was Craig Ruby, recognized as one of the leading authorities on basketball and ranking with Dr. Forrest C. "Phog" Allen and Walter Meanwell in this respect, who shall teach his style of basketball this week.

Accompanying Kizer is Jesse Harper, director of athletics at Notre Dame university, who shall make an informal address at some time during the early week program.

Bierman Concludes Talks

Kizer and Kerr succeed Harry Kipke of Michigan and Bernie Bierman of Minnesota as football lecturers and demonstrators. Bierman concluded his part of the school with two appearances Saturday. Kipke finished with the "short punt" formation and the Michigan system last Thursday.

A large crowd of coaches and townspeople were at the gymnasium yesterday afternoon to hear the final of a series of lectures on organization and administration of athletics by Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics for the Big Ten conference. The major previously had pleased the coaches in two lectures. Yesterday's program was open to the public, and a goodly number of fans heard his inspiring talk on othics of coaching.

The coaching school program will be "doubled" up this week to allow the five instructors plenty of time to teach their systems. Classes will begin daily at 8 o'clock a. m. and continue, for at least three days, until 10 o'clock in the evenings.

HUBBERS WIN FREAKISH GAME SUNDAY FROM SLATON; LOCALS UNORGANIZED

A freakish ball game, scheduled as a South Plains League contest, was transformed from a near-rout into a tight affair indeed yesterday afternoon when a pick-up team representing Lubbock scored eleven runs in the eighth frame to defeat a good Slaton team, 12 to 11.

In the absence of Manager Sled Allen and several of his Hubbers, who are attending the Amarillo tournament, Assistant Manager Ed Hambright was forced to call upon nearly everybody from the mayor to the batboy yesterday, even borrowing a catcher from the visiting club. This catcher helped score the winning runs for Lubbock, batting in one in the fifth for the Hubbers' first and slashing a four-baser in the eighth with a mis-mate aboard.

Lineup Pitiful

It was a pitiful lineup that represented Lubbock. Of the regular Hubber lineup, only three were available yesterday. Hambright had to pitch the game, and was in trouble from the start. Evo Marshall moved up to shortstop, and Cowboy Kyle played first base. The handful of fans, however, stuck it out and got a wallop out of the eighth-inning proceedings.

Hambirght's first offering was tapped on the nose by Third Baseman Kraft for a round tripper. The next man went out at first and the next seven men up were safe on five base hits and three errors. Four of them scored. An error in center field allowed another home run for a Slatonite in the second. Two more came in the fourth, results of four consecutive base hits, one a double. Still two more in the fifth, errors contributing largely to the slaughter of Hambright.

Slow Ball Worrier Locals

Meanwhile Otis Neill's slow ball was worrying the Hubbers to death, and they were going down almost in order. Luby Gregory, borrowed from Slaton to catch for Lubbock, pounded out a triple first time up, and in the fifth, making his second appearance, he singled to drive in Clinton Lackey, who also had singled, for Lubbock's first run.

Pair's four-bagger in the seventh increased Slaton's lead, and was the last score for the visitors. Then came the eighth. Everybody on the Hubber batting order, save two, scored at least once. Hack Galey's long drive to center field rolled untouched for four bags, and it found Hambright and Marshall on the sacks. Two already had scored Leuenberger singled and the next two men went out, and it seemed that the Lubbock cause was lost. Luby Gregory pounded out his homer then, scoring two men. Hits by Kyle, Hambright, Marshall and a triple by Hack Galey, in that order, tied the score, and Galey came in on a single by Leuenberger to score the winning run. Hambright retired the Slatonites in the ninth with one man going safe.

MUNN IS FACING SLATON GOLFER

LUBBOCK YOUTH MEETS ALLAN FARRELL AT RUIDOSO TODAY

(Special To The Journal)

RUIDOSO, N. M., Aug. 7—John D. Munn, 17-year-old Lubbock youth, meets Allan Farrell, sharp-shooting ace from Slaton, in a 36-hole match today for the championship of the second Ruidoso invitation golf tournament.

Munn, who qualified for the championship flight with even par, and who is shooting nine under par through his semi-final victory over Minton of El Paso, is a slight favorite to beat Farrell, who trounced Jo Dick Slaughter of Lubbock in his semi-final Sunday. Slaughter reached the semi-final round by beating Sid Thrash, Cotton McAfee and Edgar Doherty of Lubbock.

In the play-off for medalist honors, Blane McNutt, El Paso Country club ace, defeated Clinton Bussey of Lubbock, 1 up yesterday. They qualified with 71's in the original medal round.

Manson Allen, Lubbock Meadowbrook ace, yesterday broke the course record here, posting a 29, three under par, to do the stunt. He missed a putt on the 9th hole which would have given him a 28.

Straw Hat Problem

As if the world was not borne down enough by weighty problems, this is the season of the year when to every man comes the moment when he must decide what to do about his straw hat.

The chances are that, going into August, that straw hat is not what it used to be. It's a little soiled, to begin with. There are faint gray streaks under the scales of the brim. The band frays distressingly along the edge of the bow. The brim is a little floppy from the after-effects of that rain storm that descended, unannounced at that June picnic.

What's to be done? Many a man's reason has trembled on the edge from contemplating less weighty problems than this. Get it cleaned? All right so far as general polishing-up is concerned, but it's never quite the crisp affair that caught the eye in early summer. Throw it away? The late-summer prices, down to half or less from spring, are tempting. But then it will be still good next summer, and by that time the style will diabolically have changed. Wear it on through the dog-days? Then it will be the same fading, untidy-looking object that now causes distress, and there is always the risk of wifely sarcasm.

London conferences may come, and Geneva sessions may go, but the problem of the late summer stra what goes on forever.

LENNIS BAKER, the printer, brought in a little article culled from the Ambassador, publication of the Southwestern Paper company, that is a downright jewel.

Called "The Parable of the Cow", it illustrates in every-day language how some of our erstwhile most profitable businesses were organized and operated, much to the delight of the big shots and the sorrow of the little ones.

The article is so good and so timely, with NRA codes fluttering here, there and everywhere, that The Plainsman is reproducing it.

Here's the way successful financiers and corporation tycoons are made:

* * *

"TEN MEN who were financiers chipped in ten dollars each and and bought a fine cow that gave ten gallons of milk every day. The milk was divided at night and each received one gallon as his share.

"Soon the neighbors, far and near, heard about the wonderful cow and said to one another: 'Think of getting a whole gallon of milk every day! What a wonderful return on a ten dollar investment I wish I had a share in her'.

"When this talk was repeated to the ten men they held a meeting and one of them said: 'Let us give these people what they want. Our shares in the cow cost us ten dollars each and we sell other shares at the same price'.

"So they went to a printer and obtained one thousand sheets of paper bearing the legend 'One Share In The Cow'. Then they sold five hundred of these shares at ten dollars each, which brought them five thousand dollars, and divided the other five hundred shares among themselves as their reward for being smart.

* * *

"EACH man of the ten now had fifty-one shares, whereas in the beginning each had but one.

"But one of the ten began to worry. 'Look here', he said. 'Every fellow who bought a share in this cow will expect a gallon of milk tonight and the cow gives only ten gallons. When the milk is divided into one thousand and ten parts these new shareholders won't get a spoonful. Shares will drop to nothing. We'd better unload while we can.'

"So the ten men went out on the street to find investors, each of them sold the fifty shares that had been awarded to him and thus they obtained a second five thousand dollars to divide among them. But now night was drawing near and again one of the ten began to worry. 'There will be a row at milking time', he said. 'Hasten abroad and persuade each of the shareholders to sign a proxy, which is a joker, authorizing you to cast as you think best the vote to which his share entitles him. Then return with the proxies and we shall do some voting'.

* * *

"AT twilight the men met at the barn and in their hands were one thousand signed proxies to represent the absent shareholders and the ten were entitled to vote in their own right, for each still held his original share. 'Now', said the one who did the talking, 'we must reorganize. This company needs a president, a treasurer and eight vice-presidents. That gives each of us a job and since there is ten of us, and the cow gives ten gallons it is moved and seconded that each of us receive a salary of one gallon of milk per day. All in favor say aye'. The motion carried without a dissenting vote.

"And then they milked the cow."

SENATOR MORRIS SHEPPARD, stumping the state against beer and repeal, has resorted to the time-honored political stunt of hopping on the daily newspapers in order to stir up sympathy for himself.

There is nothing new or nothing original about Senator Sheppard's method of attack. But he does have an unusually good cause to go after discerning Texas editors, who have a habit of watching their senators and representatives in Washington in an effort to find out what, if anything, they are giving their constituents in the way of representation.

* * *

Without arguing whether Senator Sheppard is right or wrong in his stand against beer and repeal, it may be said in all truthfulness that the senior solon from the Lone Star state has received few orchids from Texas newspapers during the past few years.

Editors have a hazy recollection of his having figured in some good railroad legislation something like a decade ago, but aside from that have been blandly unimpressed by anything else he has done.

Even the dryest of the dry newspapers in the state have tired of the spectacle of Senator Sheppard sending his time acting as office boy deluxe to Bishop Cannon, Dr. Clarence True Wilson and the Anti-Saloon league.

* * *

NOBODY can fairly criticize Senator Sheppard for his stand for prohibition, for aiding the cause which he believes to be right or for stumping his home state in that regard.

Neither can they blame him for hopping on the newspapers which have done little in the way of boosting the Texarkanan since he has practically retired from active duty at Washington.

But neither can the newspapers be blamed for telling the folks just what the Senator has against the newspapers, and why he is giving them 'down the river' at every opportunity.

No. 10—Reorganizing the Railroads

Text by John M. Gleissner — — — — — — — Sketches by Don Lavin

8-8

President Roosevelt said: "History probably will record the National Recovery Act as the most important and far-reaching legislation ever enacted by an American Congress. It represents a supreme effort to stabilize for all time the many factors which make for the prosperity of the nation."

The law authorizes formation of trade and industrial associations which will draw up "codes of fair competition" for self-government, which must have presidential approval. The codes will regulate working hours, fix minimum wages, ration production, and regulate competition. The government can force minorities to comply, compel organization of associations, and prevent abuses, through a licensing system.

The Recovery Act stipulates that no worker can be compelled to join a company union to get or hold a job, and guarantees to workers the right to bargain collectively through their own unions.

The act also provided $3,300,000,000 for public works to make jobs. Part will be spent on warships, federal buildings, river and harbor improvements, and the Tennessee Valley development. Gifts—not loans—may be made to states and cities for roads, docks, sewers, etc. A separate organization will have charge of this, under direction of Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes.

NEXT: The Blanket Code for Industry.

No Monetary Policy Fixed By Roosevelt And Indications Are That He Will Wait Until Recovery Plan Works Out

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Evening Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 — One school of economists believes that the best possible monetary policy at this time is no monetary policy at all.

Butcher

There are reasons to belive that Roosevelt has been taking advice from that school.

He has vast powers for inflation of currency which he has not used. Some time ago he let it be known that he was figuring on a return to the 1926 price level and his decision to refuse to participate in currency stabilization at London was explained in a way to conform that intention.

Prices shot up in anticipation. But they paid no attention to purchasing power. Economists here—there are hundreds of them—went into agitated huddles. That development simply didn't square with the big recovery campaign. The economists felt that Roosevelt, by dwelling on the 1926 price level, was queering his own game.

* * *

No Plan at Present

Some of them told him that, diplomatically. He should have no policy until the recovery program had been worked out—or, at least should pretend he had none. Meanwhile, the administration was being forced to call for the NRA blanket code in an effort to avert the crash that was threatened by the yawning gap between production and prices on one hand and payrolls on the other.

Roosevelt has flirted with various currency plans, but the best information is that he is at present embracing none. Recently, after he had denied reports that he was about to devaluate the dollar, a correspondent asked him for confidential advice as to what might be expected. Roosevelt laughed and replied:

"If you asked me to write a story about it for you, I couldn't write it myself. There just ain't no story!"

* * *

NRA Stamps To Be Issued

You will be putting specially issued NRA three-cent stamps on your letters very shortly now. The stamp will be oblong-shaped and will show the "NRA" initials in large size with an engraving of figures representing capital, labor, government and consumers marching into the foreground.

* * *

Andrew W. Mellon's aluminum industry had a bright idea. It would bring in a code with the sugestion that no hearings on it need be held. The idea was brought to Washington, but it never got to first base.

* * *

An Example of Speed

Everything goes so rapidly here these days that no one pretends to be able to keep track of it all. But probably the speediest performance is that of the treasury's colored messenger boys as they cover up their race track sheets with newspapers whenever anyone approaches their desks in the corridors.

* * *

Someone was asking the other day: What's become of General Lincoln Andrews, Roy Haynes, Amos Woodcock and the other fellows who used to be national prohibition administrators?

Gets Fee, Anyway

PHILADELPHIA. — Another $3,540 for Philip H. Johnson, this time for drawing plans for a hospital which won't be built.

Johnson has received approximately $1,750,000 in fees during the past 29 years as architect of the department of health. The city administration gave him a 30-year contract, authorized by ordinance, and it has withstood many court attacks.

The latest fee is for plans which the city pigeonholed as an economy measure.

Woodcock Buys

WASHINGTON—So Amos W. W. Woodcock, who used to be prohibition administrator, bought the drinks.

He bet Maj. Thompson A. Lyon and Capt. Joseph C. Cissell that the line "the evil that men do lives after them" came from Hamlet's soliloquy; they said Shakespeare wrote it, but in Julius Caesar.

Lyon had a chocolate soda, Cissell a milk shake.

Powerful Puff

LOUISVILLE—A terrific explosion in a two-story apartment building blew out the roof and an entire side wall. Detective Captain William Oeltjen said Verna Hughes, 17, admitted she lit a cigaret after turning on three gas jets in a suicide attempt. She was slightly burned.

Under The Capitol Dome

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Aug. 7. (AP)—Appointment of Adrian Pool of El Paso, to be collector of customs of his home city port, was seen by some as indication of former Governor Dan Moody's influence with the national administration.

Appointment of James Shaw, former state banking commissioner, to a desirable federal office also was recognized by prominent party men as the handiwork of Moody. Selection of other federal appointees would indicate the former governor's advice, is being sought in Washington.

Cold Toward Smith

Many will ask why should Moody be consulted? He always has been a loyal Democrat, always voting that way at the polls, but he was not enthusiastic in 1928 when former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York was his party's presidential nominee. He wasn't even lukewarm. He was cold.

While many Democrats were busy helping the Republicans carry the banner Democratic state of the nation for Herbert Hoover, Moody was not raising a hand to befriend the Democratic nominee. He finally consented to make one speech in the closing days of that campaign, but it could have been taken as an anti-Smith argument. He did not mention Smith's name, confining his words to eulogy of the party "of our fathers" and pleaded for adherence to the south's traditions of always "going Democratic."

Foe Of Tammany

He always has been strong against Tammany Hall, and it is not recorded that he ever was a staunch admirer of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Regardless, Moody evidently has some weight in Washington these days. He spends considerable time in the national capital.

He denies any interest in the distribution of patronage in Texas and claims only legal business takes him to the banks of the Potomac.

Avalanche-Journal Want Ads Pay

MARY LOU
GOES SHOPPING

SHE is only eight, but, even at this tender age Mary Lou is a daily customer at the neighborhood stores. Perhaps it is a package of crackers, and a pound of coffee at the grocer's. Perhaps it is some tooth-paste or toilet soap at the drug store.

Of course Mary Lou doesn't decide on what she is going to buy. Her mother writes a list—this brand of crackers, this brand of coffee, this make of tooth-paste, this kind of soap. She knows the prices, and gives Mary Lou just enough money, with an extra penny or two, perhaps, to spend for herself.

Buying is just as simple and easy as that because of just one thing—Advertising.

Advertising has given all of us a lot to be thankful for.

Because of advertising, people in Texas know about and buy Michigan motor cars. People in New Hampshire buy oranges raised in Florida and California. Because of advertising, merchants and manufacturers are forced to improve their products. It has standardized quality. It has increased consumption and thereby lowered costs. It promotes competition and thereby keeps dealers and merchants wide awake to secure for you the most for your money.

But best of all it writes "Finis" on the business career of any merchant or manufacturer who attempts to fool the public or give them less than value received.

NEGRESS IS TAKEN TO "BEST HOTEL IN TOWN"

When a negro woman stopped beside an automobile occupied by Constable L. H. Holt and Deputy Constable Nat Mullins on Avenue C between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets Saturday night and asked to be taken to Avenue M they thought little of it. There was a suggestion of beer on her breath but not until she staggered away was the suspicion confirmed. They drove alongside her, said they had decided to grant her request, and she tumbled in. Although all smiles when informed at county jail that they had brought her to "the best hotel in town," she was offended upon entering and learning more about it.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (AP)—Cotton opened easy, 8 to 13 lower under active pre-bureau liquidation. Oct. 10.07; Dec 10.32; Jan 10.35; Mch 10.46; May 10.62; July 10.78.

Trading was quite active while December sold off to 10.27 and May to 10.61, or about 10 to 16 points net low. In addition to further liquidation, there was scattered southern selling here and a little selling through houses with Liverpool connections but offerings were absorbed by covering or commission house buying and prices stiffened a few points after the call.

At the end of the first half hour December was ruling around 10.31 with active months generally showing net losses of 5 to 7 points.

A private crop report placed the condition figure at 67.6 and the crop with allowance for acreage removal at 10,930,000 bales. According to a canvass, members of the New York Cotton exchange on the average are expecting a crop estimate of 10,998,000 bales.

These figures were without apparent effect on the market which was comparatively quiet later in the morning with the fluctuations narrow. At midday December was ruling around 10.28 and May 10.67, or about 8 to 10 points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 7 (AP) — Cotton opened quiet and easy today. Liverpool remained closed for bank holiday but New York stocks started steady. First trades here showed losses of 5 to 11 points and the market continued to react after the start on liquidation in advance of the government crop report due tomorrow. October dropped to 10.01 and December to 10.25, down 14 to 15 points from Saturday's close.

Late in the first hour the market was a shade steadier and 3 points up from the lows.

The market ruled quiet all morning and prices steadily eased under continued pre-bureau liquidation. October dropped to 9.92 and December to 10.13, down 24 to 26 points from Saturday's close.

Near mid-session there was a rally of 2 to 3 points from the lows on covering.

Six private crop estimates were issued today in advance of the bureau, ranging from 10,900,000 to 11,500,000 bales. The average guess of New York Cotton exchange members was 10,998,000 bales.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 7. (AP)—Grain prices averaged higher early today, after a hesitant start. A return of high temperatures in the Canadian northwest, where wheat crops have already suffered severe losses, tended somewhat to stimulate buyers.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (AP)—Dullness ruled in the security markets today as both bulls and bears apparently observed a momentary truce while convertly attempting to estimate the strength of each other's ammunition.

Trading activity in stocks was at the lowest ebb since the 1933 upswing got under way.

Stocks generally mulled about in a fractional range. Among the steadier issues were American Telephone, Case, Celanse, United Aircraft, Chesapeake & Ohio, Delaware, & Hudson and Chrysler. Consolidated Gas, Ex-dividend, was off 2 points while shares down fractionally to around a point included Montgomery Ward, General Electric, Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, National Biscuit, American Can, Santa Fe, Western Union and Auburn.

While security prices generally were inclined to move uncertainty at times, financial observers pointed out that the technical condition of the market had been highly improved during the past week or so and that much of the recent overhanging liquidation has been eliminated without many unusually severe casualties.

LIVELY BORDER WAR

ANKARA — (AP) —A "war that finds no place in history but that is a lively war, is being waged on the Turko-Syrian frontier.

Almost daily battles have been fought since the Turkish government launched an offensive last year against Syrian smugglers. The list of casualties runs into the hundreds.

A normal week this July showed four encounters with 36 smugglers captured, one killed, and several tons of cigaret paper, matches, silks, bombs, cartridges and other contraband seized by Turks.

AUSTIN, Aug. 7 (AP) — Ross Thompson, sentenced to 50 years imprisonment for the slaying of H. M. Poland in Sterling county, has filed an appeal with the court of criminal appeals.

In five years Michigan has produced more than $37,000,000 worth of salt.

DRIVING CHARGE IS FILED TODAY

A charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated was filed against W. W. Harvey, 29, of the 2100-block of Fifth street, in Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell's court late this morning.

Stacey Ashley, 29, living at a tourist camp here, who signed the complaint against Harvey, earlier in the morning had been charged with "Hiki" Gholson, 24, of the 1900-block of Avenue L, with aggravated assault upon Harvey.

Ashley was charged with hitting Harvey with a beer bottle and Gholson with cutting him on the wrist with a knife, County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson said.

Harvey at noon still was in city jail in lieu of a $10 fine imposed upon him after he voluntarily appeared at the police station Saturday night and said he wanted to plead guilty of fighting, police said. He asked that Ashley and Gholson be arrested. Police took them into custody Sunday morning. They were transferred to county jail.

MISSING GIRL IS FOUND LAST NIGHT

Missing since late Saturday afternoon, pretty 16-year-old Rosélle Pendley, 2708 Ruby street, was found Sunday night at a home about eight miles north of County Line, police and sheriff's departments reported. The girl, a junior in Lubbock High school last year, had boarded a truck driven by a man named Cox at the edge of Lubbock. She was a friend of one of his daughters, officers were informed. A filling station operator told deputy sheriffs he had seen a girl he believed to be Miss Pendley board the truck. That she was at the Cox home subsequently was confirmed, Sheriff Tom Abel said.

Police here reported two boys, named Shultz and Bassett, who left their homes near Levelland, Sunday afternoon, were taken into custody and released to Shultz's father later Sunday.

GALVESTON MAN AND WIFE START OUT ON TRIP AROUND WORLD ON HORSES

GALVESTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Robert R. Carr and his wife embarked on a horseback trip around the world, declaring they would cover more than 10,000 miles in two years. Carr has had so many experiences that demand the staunch courage and determination of an adventurer that this trip will merely be another long horseback ride.

The gypsy spirit has always ruled his actions.

Stowed Away At 14

When he was only 14 years old Bob stowed away on a boat that eventually landed him in South Africa where he cast his lot with the citizens of the city in the 123 day siege of Kimberly during the Boer war. His contemplated trip will take him through South Africa where he will visit many old friends.

Carr holds medals for service during the siege and other medals seem to identify him as an international citizen.

Carr has the distinction of being awarded a medal for bravery and a citation by the former emperor of Germany for service as a soldier of fortune after the Boer war.

Chased Heirritos

Carr was one of 80 soldiers of fortune in the service of Germany who chased 500 rebellious Heirritos under command of their chieftain Marengo 88 miles into the Kalahari desert, killed the chief and dispersed the native horsemen after a battle of several hours.

It is his love for horses that inspired the four-year circuit of the globe, Carr explained.

Carr's wife, Grace, is also an experienced rider and as fond of their two horses, Franklyn and John, as is her husband.

Born in Honolulu

Carr was born in Honolulu, while his helpmate is a native of Mississippi.

Besides soldiering in German, English and United States armies he has served the United States coast guard and as an agent for the United States department of justice.

Activities Varied

His activities also include participation in fulfilling Cecil Rhodes dream of the cape to Cairo railway and a broncho-husting in Australia.

In his praise of horses, Carr said "I have seen the wiry little Basuto ponies of Africa carry a load of 300 pounds at a jog trot all day. That shows what a horse can do. Our horses won't have to travel under such a severe strain. We have reduced their load to the barest essentials. For example, my horse will carry 190 pounds including my weight while Mrs. Carr's pony will carry less."

The Carrs want to surpass the record of A. F. Tschiffely, the Argentine schoolmaster who rode 10,000 miles from Buenos Aires to New York in two years with a packhorse. The Carrs will not have packhorses and will earn their expenses as they travel.

About 2000 persons could be accommodated in the Baths of Diocletian in ancient Rome; six of these establishments were constructed during the days of the Empire.

LOAN QUESTION UP TUESDAY

CABINET ADVISERS TO DECIDE TOMORROW ON PAYMENTS

BY ROY F. HENDRICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP) — President Roosevelt's cabinet advisory board will seek a solution on Tuesday for the newest problem facing farm administrators in carrying out their extensive plans for curtailing production of farm crops.

It was decided today that the board will be asked to determine whether administrators will be required to withhold amounts owed to the government by farmers who are scheduled for benefit payments in consideration for agreements to cut their output.

The board will be given an opinion prepared by Attorney General Cummings at the request of Secretary Wallace. Already this has been referred to President Roosevelt, on whose behalf the question has been turned over to the board for determination.

Farm administrators regard as essential to the success of their program a waiver of the government's claims for the time being. They desire such a decision to make possible prompt forwarding of checks to cotton growers who have agreed to plow up from 25 to 50 per cent of their crop. The checks are being withheld pending final action. About $100,000,000 is being held for distribution.

Waiver Is Desired

Administrators desire the waiver also in order to assure acceptance by farmers of their domestic allotment plan for wheat. The wheat campaign will be under full headway in a few weeks, with about $90,000,000 scheduled for distribution this fall.

Administrators, however, have been advised from many sections that unless obligations including seed, feed and crop production loans are waived, the response will be luke-warm in some areas where farmers are heavily indebted to the government.

Would Retard Campaign

Likewise, they are anxious for the waiver in connection with plans now being developed for paying benefits to tobacco, corn, hog and rice growers. Some administrators are convinced that few farmers would consent to reduce their acreage if their payment would be withheld as an offset to what they owe.

Protests against the delays in forwarding cotton payments already have been received, with farmers in some areas asserting that they were assured by campaign committees that they would be paid cash without offsets, and that otherwise they would have refused to take areas of their growing crop out of production.

Law Is Bar

Attorneys said the main bar to a full waiver is a law enacted in 1875. That statute is interpreted by some officials as requiring that when government payments are made, sums owing the government must be withheld.

Members of the staff of the attorney general and the farm administration who have studied it together with other laws bearing on the subject, refused to discuss it pending the decision by the advisory board. Others said they were vague as to its history and whether subsequent legislation opened the way for making an exception of benefit payments.

In seed, feed and crop production loans farmers now owe the government more than $139,000,000. Large additional sums secured by crops have been advanced by the regional agricultural credit corporations and the intermediate credit banks.

Cotton and wheat farmers, it is estimated, owe the government about $100,000,000. Non-waiver of these claims would reduce substantially the amount these two groups would receive in benefits.

SPECIAL VENIRE IS LIKELY IN TRIAL OF ED STANTON

TULIA, Aug. 7. (AP)—A special venire probably will be called on September 4 for the trial of Ed (Perchmouth) Stanton, charged with slaying Sheriff John C. Moseley of Swisher county last January.

L. G. McDonald, chief deputy sheriff, said today the fall term of court would open on that date, and that Stanton's trial would receive immediate attention.

Stanton also is charged here with robbery with firearms, McDonald said. He was indicted on both charges at the spring term of court. Bond has been denied in both cases.

Stanton, who also is wanted in connection with the deaths of three other Texas and New Mexico officers, has been removed from the Potter county jail in Amarillo to the Hale county jail at Plainview, where he will be more convenient to local officers.

Four years are required to grow a good ash plant suitable for making into a first-class walking stick.

Pays Neighbors To Plow Under Cotton

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Aug. 7 (AP)—A cotton farmer of the first water is Ed Keithley, of Webbers Falls, but he has the heart of an artist.

When he started to plow up one-seventh of his 190 acres of cotton in compliance with the government's acreage reduction program, he watched the waist-high stalks, bearing an average of fifty bolls to the plant, topple into the warm earth down only a few rows.

Moist-eyed, he stopped plowing and hired two neighbors to finish the work of plowing up cotton he estimated would make a bale to the acre.

WEEKLY DETAILED REPORTS ON COTTON GINNINGS TO BE ISSUED OVER SOUTH

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The agriculture department has announced that weekly reports on the quality, including grade and staple, on this year's cotton crop would be released each week from the field office of the bureau of agricultural economics.

The weekly reports of the quality of cotton ginned in the principal producing areas were issued last year from Washington. Growers and the cotton trade, however, asked that the information on the quality of cotton ginned be made available more promptly to be used in marketing the crop.

To Give Details

The report will include the number of bales ginned, and what percentage is middling, detailed according to the various grades, and also the percentages under middling. Along with this will be reports on the length of the staple.

The weekly reports will be released on Saturdays at the following points:

Atlanta, for the state of Georgia, Alabama, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia; Memphis, for Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Missouri; Dallas, for Oklahoma; Austin for Texas and Louisiana; El Paso, for Arizona, California and New Mexico.

First Report August 12

The first reports on early ginnings in Texas will be released at Austin on August 12. Reports for other states will begin as soon as sufficient samples have been classed to be representative of a state or one of its major cotton producing subdivisions.

The regular periodical reports for the cotton belt as a whole will continue to be released from Washington, showing estimates of the number of bales of each grade and staple length ginned to specified dates.

MILEAGE! SAFETY! VALUE!

here are the tires that have EVERYTHING

WITH cotton and rubber and tire prices all on the way up, it's more important than ever to get the most for your money—the biggest value—when you buy.

That means the most safety in the tread—the best protection from blowouts—and the biggest mileage.

And that means GOODYEAR TIRES! Read the facts and judge for yourself.

More SAFETY in the tread

Every tire claims safety. But Goodyear builds it right in the tire—by putting traction in the center of the tread where the tire contacts the road.

Result: in careful, accurate, scientific tests with actual cars and actual tires on wet concrete, Goodyear Tires proved they can stop quicker than any other tire.

Even the next best tire skidded 10% farther — and other tires skidded up to 77% farther than the world's safest tire.

Safety from Blowouts in Every Ply

Blowouts result from plies breaking down. And every ply in a Goodyear Tire stands the gaff—every ply in every Goodyear Tire is built with patented Supertwist cord, and every ply runs from bead to bead. Supertwist prevents blowouts, because this ply material will stretch and come back long after ordinary cords break down under the heat and strain of driving. Ask any Goodyear dealer to show you proof, right before your eyes.

Mileage greater than ever!

One of the toughest tests of tires in actual service is found on the great bus fleets of the country. These fleets roll out millions of tire miles per year. And bus fleet records show that Goodyear Tires now average mileages which represent an increase of 97% in the past five years! That shows how Goodyear is stepping up quality—stepping up value—stepping up mileage regardless of price.

Don't miss these prices!

Goodyear Tires today offer greater values than you may ever see again—because prices are going up. Look at cotton—up 100%. Look at rubber—up 100%. Then look at the prices at which you can buy Goodyear Tires today—and you'll agree, it's wise to buy Goodyears—and buy them quick.
