Possible Supply Vessel...

British Fire On Ship

By The Associated Press

Britain said one of its warships fired on a surface vessel early today in the body of water separating the two main Falkland Islands, and Argentina threatened to attack any British ship or plane approaching the South Atlantic war zone.

British Defense Ministry spokesman Ian McDonald told reporters in London that the British ship was in the five-mile-wide Falkland Sound, just off Bold Cove, West Falkland, when it opened fire. He said a "large explosion" occurred.

It was the closest naval engagement to the Falklands since Argentine forces seized the islands from Britain April 2, and McDonald said: "The incident and its location show how tight our grip is on the Falkland Islands." He gave no other details.

Other reports identified the target vessel as an Argentine supply ship or tanker, and said it was fired on by the radar-controlled, 4.5-inch gun of a British frigate, which was said to have been accompanied by other British warships in the Falkland Sound.

From the armada, British correspondents, whose dispatches are subject to censorship, said the ship that was attacked was thought to be carrying supplies and possibly troops to Stanley, capital of the Falklands.

Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher convened her inner "War Cabinet" in London amid growing speculation that British marines would soon attempt to storm the Falklands capital of Stanley.

Argentina retaliated with an announcement that any British ships or aircraft approaching the South Atlantic war zone or considered a threat to Argentine security would be regarded as "hostile" and subject to "consequences."

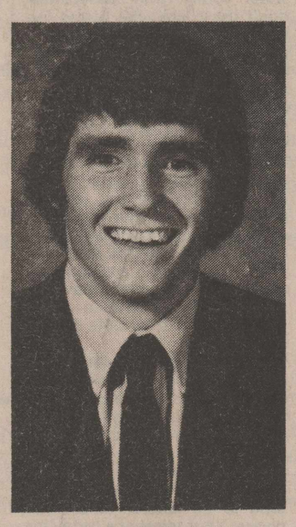

Britain, which last week extended its 200-mile blockade around the Falklands to within 12 miles of the Argentine coast, said the Argentine threat "will in no way affect" the operations of its task force.

British military sources said the liner Canberra arrived Monday night off the Falklands bringing 2,500 British marines and paratroopers. The sources said the liner was accompanied by five landing craft carrying helicopters, the 4,100-ton destroyer Exeter and two frigates armed with French-made Exocets, the missile that set the British destroyer Sheffield afire last Tuesday.

Military analysts in London said troop, tank and landing craft reinforcements due today would give the task force "all it needs."

Bradley Dale Robertson and Valeta Lynn Wheeler have been named valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, of Snyder High School's 1982 graduating class.

Top 10 students in all four classes at SHS were to be honored this afternoon at the annual awards assembly.

Robertson, recently announced as winner of a Merit Scholarship to Texas A&M University, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Robertson. A member of the National Honor Society, he has served as student council president, has been named to the all-state orchestra, to the all-area orchestra for two years, to the all-area band for two years, to the all-region orchestra for three years and to the all-region band for four years. Action Due On Food Contract

Snyder School Trustees are scheduled to hear recommendations for a food service contract and a request for a summer session at Snyder High School in their meeting tonight.

The meeting is set for 7:30 p. m. in the board room of the school administration building.

Bids on food service were opened at a special meeting on April 27 and were referred to E. D. Flynn, assistant superintendent-business, for study. He is scheduled to make a recommendation at tonight's meeting.

A proposal for a summer session to offer junior English at the junior and senior level will be presented by Ray Courtney, high school principal. It would be available only to students who have failed one or more English courses, thus giving them an opportunity to keep up with requirements for graduation.

Other items on the agenda for tonight's meeting include the renewal of the school district's agreement with the U. S. Department of Agriculture for commodities; some requests for use of school facilities during the summer; and an increase in fees for collection of delinquent taxes from 15 percent to 20 percent.

The board also plans to hold an executive session under the statute concerning property negotiations following action on the remainder of the agenda.

Winning Play Performances Are Scheduled

Snyder High School Drama Department will present its one-act play, "Ah Wilderness," by Eugene O'Neill tomorrow night and Thursday night at 8:30 p. m. on the SHS stage. The play won top awards at the state one-act play contest in Austin on May 1, and also set a new state record of eight wins for a single school.

According to Jerry Worsham, drama director, the 8:30 p. m. curtain time was set to avoid coflict with church-related activities. The show is only 40 minutes long, and patrons should be out by 9:30 p. m.

"Ah Wilderness" is a gentle comedy which concerns itself with a young boy's growing up. It is Eugene O'Neill's only happy play. O'Neill, considered to be the most outstanding of America's playwrights, wrote the play to present "what he wished his boyhood had been like." The play has evoked strong response from audiences across the state and the number of acting awards won by this cast exceeds that won by any other cast in SHS one-act play history.

Tickets for the play will be on sale at the door prior to each performance. Prices will be $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Okay Given For Tentative Budget

Trustees of Western Texas College approved a tentative budget of $4.5 million for 1982-83, including an 8 percent pay increase for all personnel.

Action came at Monday night's monthly meeting of the board where two administrators were granted promotions in rank. Dr. Ben Brock, vice president, was named executive vice president; and Gay Hickman, business manager, was elevated to vice president for business and finance.

On a unanimous vote, the college agreed to maintain its contract for tax collections with the county tax office at the rate of .6 of one percent,

The college was the last taxing enity to make a decision on tax collections. The three county public schools and the city of Snyder had earlier voted to contract with the apprasial district for collection of taxes.

The projected budget is an increase of $264,000 over the current spending figure with $209,000 of that total representing the 8 percent across-the-board salary increase.

Democrats Prepare Own Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats, highlighting their differences with President Reagan and Senate Republicans, are floating a 1983 budget that leaves Social Security unscathed but calls for much higher tax increases over the next three years.

The new plan, outlined Monday by Rep. James Jones, D-Okla., chairman of the House Budget Committee, also calls for sharper cut in the defense buildup and smaller cuts for benefit programs such as Medicare and Medicaid than are contained in a White House-backed plan passed last week by the Senate Budget Committee.

No Vacancies In Texas Prisons

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — A state order barring any more inmates from being sent to the jammed Texas prisons is putting the squeeze on county officials, and one lawman says the only solution is to "stop arresting people."

The nine-member board of the Texas Department of Corrections voted Monday to turn away all incoming convicts, citing U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice's order that the state ease overcrowding. The board received a report Monday from a court-appointed expert saying the system isn't complying with the

Sirhan Testifies For First Time At Hearing

SOLEDAD, Calif. (AP) Insisting he has felt morse ever since he kill- Robert F. Kennedy, rhan Sirhan told a parole ard that keeping him hind bars after 1984 uld be wrong and "two rongs don't make a ght."

In a dramatic finale to o weeks of hearings hind the walls of Soledad ison, the Jordanian im- igrant said that while he lt remorse for his act, voking his 1984 parole uld violate the law.

"I sincerely believe that Robert Kennedy were ve today, he would not untenance singling me t for this kind of treat- ent," Sirhan said Mon- y.

Board Chairman Ray own said it would take e panel at least two eks to decide whether to revoke a 1975 decision that gave Sirhan a Sept. 1, 1984, release date.

"I am no longer a naive, impressionable person who feels he could change the world," the 38-year-old Sirhan said, reading from a typed statement he had composed in prison over the weekend.

But Los Angeles Deputy District Attorney Larry Trapp, who addressed the board first, said Sirhan is still a danger to society — a politically motivated killer who "is prepared to resort to violence if necessary in the future to achieve his goals."

Sirhan addressed the panel in a heavily guarded hearing room where a closed circuit camera broadcast his remarks to a nearby press center.

"The issue is not whether I am liked or not but whether the laws of this country should be subverted," he said.

Sirhan told of his "agonizing and trying times" in prison, his reflections on the value of human life and his remorse over the Kennedy slaying.

"I have time and again reflected on the taking of Robert Kennedy's life and what that did to his wife and family," he said, noting he had seen his own brother and sister die at young ages.

"I have always experienced remorse at what I did, from the beginning, not just seven years afterwards.

"But just as I saw full well that there is nothing I can do to restore Robert Kennedy to life, I also know that violating the laws of this country and changing my sentence...cannot be said to legitimately show much reverence or respect for human life.

"The simple statement, 'Two wrongs don't make a right,'" perhaps says it best," he said.

But Trapp said Sirhan was wrong in thinking he had adequately paid his debt to society.

"Sirhan, who took it upon himself to rewrite history, is like a debtor who is in a state of bankruptcy," Trapp said. "He can never repay his debt."

The prosecutor, who said Sirhan's freedom is "unthinkable," suggested his release would cause more political killings.

Sirhan's attorney, Luke McKissack, urged the board not to be swayed in its decision by public opinion.

Cerebral palsy and Rh factor

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I read with interest your column where you said the Rh factor was less serious for the first baby. In our particular case, we found just the opposite. Our first child was born with cerebral palsy. My wife is Rh negative and I am Rh positive. I'm writing you to clear up your statement.

DEAR READER — I am sorry to hear that your child has cerebral palsy. However, there are many things that cause cerebral palsy and most cases are not the result of Rh factors. In other words, I cannot be sure that your statement that cerebral palsy was caused by the differences in Rh factor is factual.

It is generally true that the first Rh Positive baby born to an Rh negative mother is less likely to have a problem than successive births. Here is why: The Rh negative mother develops an immunity to the Rh positive factor. You can't develop an immunity until you are exposed to a substance that stimulates the response. It is just like being immune to mumps. You get the immunity after you have had the mumps.

Each successive Rh positive pregnancy exposes the Rh negative mother again to the Rh factor that causes her body to develop Rh positive antibodies. With each succeeding pregnancy the chances that her increased levels of antibodies to the Rh positive blood of the developing baby will cause a reaction is increased.

That is the basis for giving an Rh negative mother a shot to prevent antibody formation after she gives birth to an Rh positive baby, or even after a miscarriage of an Rh positive baby. That is also why Rh positive blood transfusions are not given to an Rh negative female. The blood will stimulate formation of antibodies.

Now, that is not to say that you absolutely will not have a problem with the first pregnancy with an Rh positive baby, but the chances are much less. Of course if the baby, whether it is the first or the tenth, is Rh negative there will be no reaction and the pregnancy should proceed normally.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 6-4, Blood Type, Rh Factor and Transfusions. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I always read reports on exercise, what's good and what's bad. Most experts write that golf stinks. The same experts say walking is "peachy-keen." And be sure to stretch those back muscles, etc. at the end of the exercise.

Hey, Doc, why is an exercise of toting about 20 pounds of equipment up hill and down dale, setting it down and picking it up 60 times or more, stretching every muscle from toes to ears the same number of times for about four hours not as good as an hour's walk or less?

DEAR READER — I agree with you entirely, provided you don't use a golf cart from hole to hole. If golf didn't provide some exercise heart specialists would not worry about their golfing patients playing golf too soon after a heart attack. Walking is walking, whether it is from hole to hole or block by block.

The biggest danger for most people on the golf course is the club house after the last hole with its bar, food, snacks and cigarettes. If you avoid these, golf itself can be a very healthy exercise and fun, too.

Aerobics classes usually happen without incident.

You just drag in and do it before you wake up and realize where you are.

But this morning was different.

Someone took my "spot."

It's one of those things where you know someday it will happen, but you're never really prepared for it when it does.

Acutally no one is assigned to any one place. It's all on a first-come-first-served basis, but your "spot" is "understood," like your row at church or your booth in the restaurant where you eat lunch every day.

Mine is the best spot in the whole room. Back row, right next to the door. You get a breeze from the fan, you don't have to worry about bumping into someone behind you and it's right next to the water cooler. I eyed it for months and when the woman who had it before moved to Pittsburgh, I moved right in.

College was all "open seating," yet wherever we sat on that first day, we sat for the rest of the semester. No one would have dared take my place in History of Russia (8 a.m., Mon., Wed., and Fri.). They all knew I was working on a tan and needed the Eastern exposure.

I promised myself I wouldn't get paranoid about staking off unmarked areas as my own ever since I used to ride the bus. I got on at the Loop and for four years rode in the same seat, left hand side, four back, window. I cannot tell you the frustration I felt when I boarded the bus one day and discovered another person in "MY SEAT!"

Of course, I don't get upset about those things now that I'm older and more mature. Someone took "my parking spot" the other day at the grocery and it hardly bothered me at all. What can you expect when you see a bumper sticker from someone who's against the school levy?

Hey, I don't own the spot, right?

Besides, it's not really important. It's not like I'm a seal in mating season. If someone doing aerobics in "my spot" for an hour upsets me, then I've got a problem. It's all so silly. I mean, it's not worth getting excited about.

And it's certainly not worth doing a whole column on!

13-Year-Old Given Maximum Prison Term

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — An Albuquerque girl convicted last month of second-degree murder just three days before her 13th birthday has been sentenced to spend up to two years in the New Mexico Girls School.

Children's Court Judge John E. Brown imposed the maximum two-year sentence on Sheryl Trujillo Monday before a packed courtroom. Brown also recommended Miss Trujillo receive intense psychiatric treatment while confined.

The dark-haired, dark-eyed youngster remained impassive for a few seconds after the sentence was imposed and then began to cry, clinging to her mother.

Miss Trujillo was convicted April 6 by a juvenile court jury in the July 1981 drowning of an 8-year-old girl in a city-run swimming pool.

Witnesses testified during the two-day trial that they saw two or three girls repeatedly dunking, holding and sitting on Veronica Rodriguez's head while in 5 feet of water at the swimming pool.

Several witnesses also said they saw the girls watching a clock as they held the struggling child under water. Miss Rodriguez died at an Albuquerque hospital five days after the incident from what a medical witness described as "the delayed effects of drowning."

Despite Brown's sentence, a three-member Juvenile Parole Board will determine the actual length of confinement for Miss Trujillo.

Has Huge Collection Of Valuable 45 Records

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — If you're proud of your handsome record collection which occupies part of your den wall, your envy would spin at 45 rpm at the sight of Bob Pinson's collection.

Pinson, acquisitions director for the Country Music Foundation, oversees a collection of 85,000 country music records worth an estimated $500,000. Officials believe the records — 33s, 45s and 78s — represent half the country music ever recorded.

The foundation, which operates the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum, began collecting the records in 1967. They are stored in a temperature-controlled (68 to 72F), basement-level floor below the hall of fame.

The records, dating back to 1922, are cleaned, clogged, placed in standard record jackets and stored vertically. Smoking is prohibited in the stack areas and there's a sprinkler system for further protection.

The foundation gets the records from record companies, donations, exchanges with the Library of Congress and from purchases at flea markets and garage sales.

"We have enough room for another three years in the stack areas," said Danny Hatcher, deputy director of the foundation.

A few of the records are worth hundreds of dollars on the collectors' market. "Blue Yodel No. 12" by Jimmie Rodgers, a 78 rpm recorded in 1933, is worth up to $1,000. "Movie MZAGG" BY Carl perkins, a 45 rpm recorded in 1955, is worth a couple of hundred dollars.

There are some old records the foundation doesn't have, and Pinson would like to talk to you if you have any Depression-era records by these string bands: Dilly and His Dill Pickles, Reave's White County Ramblers, Hugh Gillis' String Band, Smith's Garage Fiddle Band, the Carter Brothers and Son, and Wilmer Watts.

However, don't think you have a windfall just because you have a 1940 record by Roy Acuff. Pinson says a record like that is probably worth a couple dollars at most.

He has this advice for record collectors even if you're on a less spectacular scale than the foundation:

"You should try to get shelving where you can store vertically; when you store flat, there's a tendency for breakage. Plus it's much easier to get to a record vertically. If you have 78s, the shelving should have vertical partitions every five or six inches. This avoids shifting which could crack the record on the end."

Snyder Police Probe Mishaps

Snyder police investigated two minor traffic mishaps Monday afternoon.

Local officers were called to the scene of a hit and run incident in the 2700 block of Eastridge around 2:35 p.m. Monday. A 1982 Ford pickup owned by H & L Services, Golf Course Rd. in Snyder, was struck by an unidentifed vehicle which fled the scene.

Only minor damages were reported to the truck and the accident is thought to have occurred sometime between May 8 and May 10.

Monday's second minor mishap was reported around 2:45 p.m. in the 3000 block of College Ave. Involved in the collision were a 1974 AMC driven by Russell Earl Loyd of Rt. 3, Snyder and a 1981 Cadillac driven by Constance Wrestler Stom of 4107 Denison.

State Farm Agent Announces New Health Insurance Program

Roy J. McCloskey, State Farm Insurance Agent at 3904 College Avenue in Snyder is announcing a new Health Insurance program that has just been made available by State Farm as of May 1st.

The new policy features up to one million dollars in coverage with increased benefits for the emergency room, ambulance service, intensive care benefits available up to $480 per day, if desired, along with a number of other features not previously available in the State Farm Hospital Surgical policy.

In order to get the details on this new policy, Roy suggests that you call him for complete information on it or come by his office at 3904 College. If you are in need of a good hospitalization coverage, then he feels that you need to get the information on this new policy before you consider any policy.

Also offered in the health program is a Disability policy. For those who would like to protect their income in case they were disabled for a period of time or perhaps permanently disabled, the State Farm Disability Income Policy will maintain a specified monthly income. Then if misfortune should strike, there is not the additional worry about how the house payments, car payments, utility bills, etc., or even food for the table are taken care of. Call Roy and let him explain how you can have a guaranteed income of several hundred dollars per month, in the event you should become disabled. You will find that the cost will be extremely small for the benefits you might receive.

He invites you to come by his office at 3904 College Avenue for any of your insurance needs. For insurance on your home, business, car, life and health, see Roy today. Also if you are going on vacation and need a new 1982 State Farm Road Atlas come by and get your copy while the supply lasts.

The Mollo-Gardener analysis of today's hand can well be changed to show the application of our acronym 'ARCH.'

"A" for *A*nalyze the lead. "R" for *R*eview the bidding. "C" for *C*ount your winners and losers, and "H" for *H*ow can I make my contract or beat the contract, depending on whether you are declarer or a defender.

North's fourth hand opening was an effort to make a part score. Hence, he passed when South responded two hearts.

You are West and open the deuce of diamonds. Your partner produces the king and returns the 10 of clubs to dummy's queen. A trump is led and you are on lead with the ace.

It looks as if declarer is going to make his part score. Ask yourself "How can I beat this contract?"

You see that you need two spade tricks and a spade ruff. Accordingly, you lead a low spade. If South is kind enough to duck in dummy, your partner will take his queen, cash the ace of diamonds and return his eight of spades to your ace. You will lead another spade and get a plus score.

Why did we say that declarer would have been kind? Because if he had used "ARCH" he would not have played East for the ace of spades.

Slumber land

A good night's sleep is essential if you always want to look your best. And what you eat and drink before you go to bed often determine how soundly you sleep. Heavy foods make it difficult to sleep well because your digestive system is forced to work overtime. Your body doesn't get a chance to slow down and rest. Drinking may put you out with ease, but it dehydrates you, and you may wind up thirsty, dizzy or nauseous during the night and the next morning. So avoid big meals or excessive alcohol before bedtime, and you'll be rewarded with pleasant dreams.

A friendly blend

A blender can be a dieter's best friend. Mix up this delicious gazpacho in a snap. Drop these seven ingredients into your blender jar: one 1-pound can of tomatoes, drained; one large cucumber, chopped; one small onion; one green pepper, chopped; a teaspoon each of Worcestershire sauce and wine vinegar; and two ice cubes. Whirl the ingredients on low speed for about 15 seconds, until well blended. You'll have enough for five half-cup servings at 40 calories each.

Diet facts & fallacies

These nutritional tips brought to you by DIET CENTER

To most of us, a meal would not be complete without red meat. We live in a society that has abundant quantities and varieties of meats. Americans now eat record amounts of red meats in their diets. Unfortunately, along with meat comes large amounts of hidden animal fats that contain more calories per gram and ounce than any other food. Did you know that 80 percent of the calories in a hot dog can be attributed to fats or 64 percent of the calories in a hamburger? A combination of saturated animal and vegetable fats comprise nearly half of the calories in an average American's diet.

For example, a 16-ounce broiled sirloin steak yields 1,316 calories, 71 grams protein and 112 grams of saturated and unsaturated fats. Diet Center suggests frequent use of fish or chicken as an alternative meat entree. The same 16 ounces of halibut have approximately 1,000 less calories, 60 percent more protein (55.9 grams), and two-thirds less total fats (only 3.2 grams)! To lower consumption of animal fats, Diet Center recommends switching to lean sources of protein such as fish, chicken breasts and tofu.

Early Attention Is Needed To Help Prevent Foot Problems

NEW YORK (AP) — If your baby lies in one position almost all the time — for example, sleeping face down with toes invariably pointed inward or outward — the habit should be corrected early, an orthopedic specialist advises.

Otherwise, foot problems can develop which may impair walking, warns Dr. Rosamond Kane, associate clinical professor of orthopedic surgery at Presbyterian Hospital here, where she also conducts the Children's Foot Clinic.

She has found during her 20 years of experience that some babies who appear perfectly normal may develop foot problems right in their cribs. She offers this advice:

—A young baby's feet are very malleable and the constant pressure of the legs and feet against the mattress when lying prone may result in a deformity. For instance, the baby who consistently sleeps with toes pointed outward could end up walking like Charlie Chaplin's "little tramp," while the one with toes pointed inward may develop a pigeon-toed gait.

—Check up on your baby's sleeping position at least twice a night, and if either habit is observed, tell the child's doctor. The most common corrective measure is a splint which keeps feet and legs in proper alignment until bones and muscles develop sufficiently.

—Tuck in your baby's blankets and sheets loosely to allow the feet to move freely. If your newborn baby looks adorable in a snug stretch suit, it's probably too tight and it can squeeze toes and actually deform them. The same thing goes for too-tight stretch socks, and cotton socks are recommended because they "give" and absorb perspiration.

—Shoes are a "must" when your baby starts walking. He becomes an inveterate explorer and his feet need protection from objects that lie in his path or drop on his feet.

—Buy shoes with a firm, high toe box to provide as much protection as possible along with adequate growing room. Be sure the shoe fitter measures both feet, and if your child's second toes are longer than the big toe, which is not uncommon, call that to the fitter's attention. If this condition is ignored and the protruding toes are forced into a shoe, they will curl, and hammertoes may result.

Awards Won In Industrial Arts

Eighteen Industrial Arts students at Snyder Junior High School earned awards in last weekend's state competition in Waco.

In team competition, the Industrial Bowl team of Justin Webb, Bill Sherrard and Brian Sitton placed second in the state.

In the Individual Exam Competition, Brian Sherrard took first place in the 7th grade exam while Brian Sitton took second place and Justin Webb finished in fifth place on the 8th grade exams.

Winners in the Project Judging phase of the contest were Randy James, Arturo Martinez, Stacey Browning and Tim Mitchell. These four recieved first place awards for their projects.

Taking second place honors in the project competition were Randy James, Kyle Lane, Ricky Hunter, Michael Carter, Mark Helms, Bobby Gutierrez, Steve Lee and Kevin Burns.

Third place ribbons for projects went to Lenora McVey, Randy James, Ricky Hunter, Tony Ramirez and Eddie Titus.

In the team and individual exam contests, students compete head to head with teams and individuals from other schools around the state.

In the project judging, the entries are judged on their individual merits and rated either first place (superior), second place (excellent) or third place (outstanding).

Industrial arts students at the Junior High are taught and sponsored by Ron Rohan, Ed Raborn and Terry Huestis.

Nude Sunbathers Fight To Keep Their Beach

MIAMI (AP) — Sun worshipers who believe it's better to bask in the buff are hoping that a pitch to Miami's tourism-conscious officials will help preserve one of the Sunshine State's nude beaches.

"I'm optimistic about our chances with the city," said Gary Bryant, head of the pro-nudism Florida Free Beaches, a statewide organization. "We're offering a viable asset.

"Nude bathing is an accepted norm for the people in cosmopolitan areas. Europeans and American tourists are spending their money in the Caribbean islands, which have a lot of areas designated for nude swimming. Why not bring those tourists here?" Bryant reasoned.

The Miami City Commission is deciding whether to convert Virginia Key's beach into a public park, and Florida Free Beaches was to present its case to the commission today.

Rigid Enforcement Of Fishing Rules Slated

In the interest of safety, Western Texas College will rigidly enforce fishing rules at the WTC golf course pond.

According to WTC President Dr. Don Newbury, fishing is permitted and encouraged on a fee basis, with the clear understanding that persons fishing in the pond must--in the interest of their own safey--fish between the signs posted at the dam at the east end of the pond.

Noting that some persons are crossing the fence and using the pond both for fishing and for picnicking, they are subjecting themselves to serious physical injury in an area where golf balls are traveling at high velocity. Dr. Newbury indicated that measures will be taken immediately to maintain safe and authorized use of the pond.

Effective immediately, fishing will be permitted only upon payment of fee and during designated hours. No persons will be allowed to fish from boats or other foating devices at any time.

Persons guilty of any violation of fishing rules face the probability of being charged with trespassing and fined by the Snyder police department.

"We appreciate very much the cooperation and understanding of all persons, the support of the Snyder police department, and the disposition of all concerned with the importance of safety," Dr. Newbury said.

Man Survives 29 Heart Failures

BLUEFIELD, W.Va. (AP) — Buford Muncy's heart has thumped to a stop 29 times in the past 3½ years, but the 44-year-old Baptist minister has confounded the experts each time by living to die another day.

Muncy was released Monday from Bluefield Community Hospital after recovering from his latest heart ailment. His wife, Mary, said she's lost count of the times doctors have pronounced her husband dead and been proven wrong when his heart restarted.

She also said she's lost track of the times health officials have announced he couldn't hope to live beyond a few months.

"And he's still living — that's the best thing," Mrs. Muncy said as she waited for her husband to go home once again. "I just give glory to God."

Mrs. Muncy, who would not allow her husband to be interviewed, said he was a surface mine safety inspector with Allied Chemical Co. when he suffered his first heart attack at Beckley's Raleigh General Hospital on Nov. 6, 1978.

Since then, he's suffered three more heart attacks, his heart has stopped 29 times, and he's been defibrillated with electric current to restart his heart 36 times.

Bluefield Community Hospital public relations director Jim Worsham and Dr. James Lesnett, Muncy's doctor, confirmed the number of stoppages.

Dr. Bhasker Pujari of Bluefield, who has watched the case from the beginning, called Muncy's repeated recoveries "amazing."

"It certainly is," Pujari said Monday night. "As far as I know, I don't know of anyone who has been defibrillated 36 times and he has walked out of the hospital.

"I know several people who were defibrillated as many times, but they all died."

Defibrillation is the process of applying electric current to restore a normal rhythm in a heart that is undergoing rapid and uncontrolled contractions and producing ineffective heartbeats.

In one eight-month period, Muncy's heart stopped 13 times, Mrs. Muncy said, and doctors in Beckley said on four occasions that her husband was dead.

"But then the nurses and the doctors would go to work and defibrillate him, and then they would come out and tell me to straighten up, that he was still with us," Mrs. Muncy added.

The couple traveled to Cleveland Heart Clinic in March 1979, where doctors said Muncy had only 10 months to live, Mrs. Muncy said.

"They just didn't give us any hope at all," she said.

Muncy's latest heart attack came on Dec. 19, and his latest heart failure was in March after he entered Bluefield Community Hospital.

"The doctors told me there was no way he'd make it," she said.

They will next travel to Richmond, Va., to see if Muncy can qualify for a transplant of his enlarged, fluid-surrounded heart, Mrs. Muncy said.

Psychiatrist Says...

Hinckley Had No 'Psychosis'

WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. Hinckley Jr.'s psychiatrist says the man accused of shooting President Reagan didn't show any "psychosis or thought disorder" in the months before the attack on the president.

Dr. John Hopper of Evergreen, Colo., also testified under cross-examination Monday that his young patient may have exaggerated his "anxiety spells."

But Hopper, a defense witness, maintained Hinckley was unable to sort out his life, and was concerned with his failure as a writer and inability to get a date with actress Jodie Foster.

Hinckley has admitted firing the shots that hit Reagan and three other men outside the Washington Hilton Hotel on March 30, 1981, but he has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

Hopper said he held 12 counseling sessions with Hinckley between Oct. 28, 1980 and Feb. 27, 1981. Questioned by prosecutor Roger M. Adelman, Hopper said he saw "no psychosis or thought disorder" in Hinckley.

Hopper spent Monday on the stand and was returning today. Hinckley's sister, Diane, and brother, Scott, were expected to be called as the next witnesses.

Although he was called by the defense, Hopper is not one of the "expert" witnesses that Hinckley's lawyers plan to call to testify that their client was insane at the time of the Reagan shooting.

Hopper also said Hinckley's father, John W. Hinckley Sr., was so concerned his son might be addicted to Valium that he wanted to send him to a treatment facility outside Phoenix, Ariz.

But Hopper said he dissuaded the elder Hinckley from doing that because he felt the Valium dose the younger Hinckley was taking was not enough to cause addiction.

Hopper said he tried to get Hinckley off Valium with "biofeedback" treatment. The therapy uses a machine that gives a patient an aural indication in headphones of how tense he is, thus teaching him to relax.

GM Ordered To Recall 78 Caddies

WASHINGTON (AP) — General Motors Corp. has been ordered to recall 50,000 1978 Cadillacs to correct an air pollution emissions problem similar to one which arose in the 1976 and 1977 models.

The Environmental Protection Agency said Monday that the recall affects Cadillac Sevilles with 5.7-liter fuel-injected gasoline engines. It said defects in the exhaust gas recirculation systems are resulting in excessive nitrogen oxide emissions.

The EPA, which two years ago required GM to fix a similar problem on 1976 and 1977 Sevilles, said that the recirculation systems on the 1978 Cadillacs have become clogged with carbon-like deposits.

Under the order, GM has 45 days to submit a plan to remedy the problem or request a hearing. Once EPA approves a plan, General Motors is required to notify car owners and to repair the problem at no cost to the owner.

47 Die In Fighting

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Street fighting between rival militias in Tripoli flared for a fifth day today, and police said the week's bloodshed already has killed 47 people and injured 215.

Clashes between the pro-Syrian Arab Knights and Moslem fundamentalists of the Popular Resistance have also caused acute shortages of food, milk, drinking water and electricity for the northern port city's 500,000 residents, a police spokesman said. He refused to be identified in accordance with government policy.

Schools and businesse9s remained closed and only one or two pharmacies were open in areas far away from the embattled neighborhoods of Bab el-Tabbaneh and Baal Mohsen. Bakeries in safe areas were packed, the seokesman said.

No Conditions On Soviet Aid

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Junta President Daniel Ortega says no conditions are attached to the Soviet Union's first major aid pact with Nicaragua.

The five-year agreement involves $166.8 million in technical assistance and credits for Soviet-built projects.

Ortega said Monday that the leftist junta's relations with Moscow are "exemplary" because the assistance was "given without conditions."

The Reagan administration stopped aid to Nicaragua in March 1981.

Lutheran Weddings Don't Always Stand on Ceremony

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1982 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Having been a Lutheran pastor for over 40 years and having performed more than 1,200 marriage ceremonies, I was shocked that you accepted without question all the statements made by "Ohio Lutheran" concerning Lutheran wedding practices.

"Ohio Lutheran" stated: "No secular music is allowed; the floral arrangements must conform to specific regulations; the bride and groom may not write their own marriage vows."

While the above is true in some Lutheran churches, it is not true in all of them.

I personally have officiated at weddings where the soloist sang "Because," the couple wrote their own vows and a friendly neighbor brought in the flowers. There were even guitars and jeans. In some cases, the bride was obviously pregnant. But I'm sure there was just as much rejoicing in heaven over those marriages as in marriages where the strictest regulations were enforced.

A LOVING LUTHERAN

DEAR LUTHERAN: After "Ohio Lutheran" had his say in this space, I learned that under the umbrella of the Lutheran church are 11 different kinds of Lutheran churches, each operating under its own rules. My apologies.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I had houseguests over the Easter holidays. They were my husband's cousin and his wife. Another couple made the trip with them, but they stayed at a nearby motel because we couldn't accommodate them at our house.

This other couple did everything but sleep here. They came for every breakfast, lunch and dinner. A day after the two couples left, my husband and I received a very nice bouquet of flowers. On the card was, "Thank you for being the world's greatest host and hostess." The names of both couples were on the card.

I thought it was very nice of them to thank us for our hospitality by sending flowers.

Next thing I know, my husband tells me that his relatives were still waiting for a "thank-you" for their flowers.

Abby, is it necessary to send a thank-you for a thank-you? The flowers were their way of thanking us, so why should I have to thank them for their thank-you?

If you think I should thank them, I will. But personally I can't see why. Thank you.

BEWILDERED IN MINNESOTA

DEAR BEWILDERED: Your guests expressed their thank-you with flowers. To thank them for their thank-you would be gilding the lily.

DEAR ABBY: Last Mother's Day everyone told a favorite story about his mom, and this was mine:

Mom and Dad had some friends (acquaintances, really) who made a habit of dropping in at dinnertime so they could get invited to stay for dinner. Mom was bighearted and she always asked them to stay. Finally, it got to be a little too much, especially when the wife (I'll call her Mrs. Jones) always ran off without offering to stay and help Mom with the dishes.

One night while the Joneses were here for dinner, Mom decided to do the dishes while they were still eating. She calmly put all the dishes on the floor and whistled for our dog whose name was Nanny Goat. Nanny Goat came into the dining room and proceeded to lick every plate clean. Mother then picked up the dishes and nonchalantly placed them directly into the cupboard!

Needless to say, the Joneses never dropped in at dinnertime again.

In Assembly Yesterday...

Snyder High Athletes Are Honored

ATHLETES OF YEAR – John Wilson and Brenda Anderson were presented as Snyder High School Male and Female Athletes of the Year last night, during an annual assembly to recognize student athletes. Marshall Spence, not pictured, was awarded as Booster of the Year. (SDN Staff Photo)

For their performances on the basketball court, the baseball diamond and the cinder track - and for their leadership - John Wilson and Brenda Anderson were chosen Male and Female Athletes of the Year at the annual All-Sports Ceremony, held at Snyder High School yesterday evening.

Both also received special awards in the sports they had competed in, or are competing in, this season.

John Gary, SHS athletic director, presented the awards to the two seniors, who were chosen by the student athletes and approved by the various head coaches.

In another special award, Marshall Spence was named Booster of the Year by the coaching staff.

Wilson participated in basketball and is a member of the baseball team. He was also chosen as a co-captain of the basketball team and was cited as the Best Defensive Player by Coach Larry Scott. Wilson was also selected co-Most Valuable Player of the Tiger baseball team, an award presented by Albert Lewis.

Anderson participated in basketball and track this season. She is a three-year state qualifier in track, for her efforts in the shot put, and was chosen as Trackster of the Year for the second season in a row.

The ceremonies were compact, lasting only about an hour and a half, despite focusing some attention on volleyball coach Joyce Elrod, who announced her resignation earlier this season.

Head girl's track coach and assistant volleyball coach Patty Grimmett took several minutes to reveal Elrod's eight-year statistics, which include three state and regional championships and seven district championships. Her emotional tribute was met with a standing ovation for Elrod by the students and parents in audience.

The volleyball team - Class 4A state champions for two years in a row - was the first group to be introduced to the audience. Chosen by their teammates as Most Valuable Players were Shana Koonsman and Toni Elrod Gafford.

In boy's basketball, Mark Shaw was chosen for the Fighting Tiger Award and Riley Kitchens was Most Improved. D.W. Lofton was selected co-captain along with Wilson.

In girl's basketball, presented by Ken Housden, Pam Perceval received the Tiger Sport Award and the Free Throw Award. Tonya Mitchell was Most Improved.

Girl's track produced two awards, the Trackster of the Year to Anderson, and Most Improved to Andrina Kitchens, who placed fifth in the 200 meters at the district meet. The awards were presented by Coach Grimmett.

Coach Robert Crawford presented Glenn Parham as Most Valuable Trackster in boy's track. Parham qualified for the regional meet in three events, the long jump, 110 high hurdles and 300 intermediate hurdles.

Jesse Hernandez, catcher, was chosen as co-Most Valuable Player of the baseball team, along with Wilson. Perry Echols received the Robert Hodge Award.

Players of the Year in tennis were Kelly Scott and Chris Wiman, as presented by Coach Charles Crane. Both Scott and Wiman advanced to the regional level this season.

Girl's golf medalist was Lisa Franklin, who aided the team to district and regional championships and a berth in the state tournament this season. Jan Kruse is the girl's golf coach.

Boy's golf medalist was Paul Erwin, as presented by Coach Mackey Greene.

Gary also introduced the football team, which had given out its only award - Most Valuable Player - to Raymond Jeffrey at the Football Banquet earlier this season.

Also presented to the audience were cheerleaders Penny Fulks, Jessica Richardson, Aimee Williams, Kim Byrom and Vera Lopez.

Jerry Worsham was master of ceremonies. Special music was provided by Lori Sealy and Katrina Humble.

SHS Contest...

Rodriquez Is Lifting Champ

Ramsey Rodriquez was the overall winner in Snyder High School's boys Power Lifting Contest, held recently.

Rodriquez charted a 6.37 to edge out Tracy Neves, who had a 6.18.

Participants competed by weight division in the bench, squat and deadlift. Weights lifted were divided by body weight to determine points.

Rodriquez, who weighs 139 pounds, also won the 134-144 pound class, both by total weight (885 pounds) and by points.

The 145-pound Neves, competing in the 145-155 class, also won both categories in his division. He lifted a total of 895 pounds.

Ross Bawcum and David Delce were other division winners, both by total weight and score. Bawcum, 228 pounds, lifted a total of 1,110 - the most by anyone - and charted 4.87 to win the 189 and over division. Delce, 158 pounds, won the 156-166 division by lifting a 920 total and charting 5.83.

David Miller, 172 pounds, won the 167-188 division in points with 4.45, and tied with Sterling Williams, 182 pounds, for total weight lifted with 765 pounds.

The 133 and under division had two winners. John Stanley, 123 pounds, charted a 5.65 to win on points, while Weldon McFatridge, 130 pounds, lifted a total of 715 for most weight.

Detroit Belts Out 3-1 Victory Over Rangers

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Mike Ivie's first home run in the American League not only gave the Detroit Tigers a 3-1 victory over Texas Monday night but vindicated Manager Sparky Anderson's decision to sign him as a free agent.

It was Ivie's first home run since 1980. He had spent two seasons in the National League with San Francisco and Houston battling what doctors called mental fatigue.

Released in the spring by Houston, the Tigers signed him to a one-year contract.

Ivie picked on a two-out, one-ball pitch off knuckleballer Charlie Hough and drilled it deep into the leftfield seats in the first inning.

Milt Wilcox evened his record at 2-2, scattering eight hits as Hough suffered his third loss in five decisions.

"Ivie is not near in the (hitting) shape that he will be after he hits 50 or 60 times," said Anderson. "Can you imagine how he can reach the seats in our park? In the Astrodome, he had no chance to hit one. However, that shot he hit tonight would have gone in the Dome."

The Rangers, who have now lost 15 of their last 16 games, scratched Wilcox for a first inning run on Lamar Johnson's RBI single. Texas has only scored three runs in the last 40 innings.

Ivie, who was signed last Friday, said he hit a "knuckleball that didn't knuckle" off Hough.

"I'm glad to get to the American League because I think I'm a better breaking ball hitter than I am a fastball hitter," said Ivie. "I know this--I love Sparky. Being released was the best thing that happened to me."

Anderson said Ivie "can give us that fourth hitter we have needed. We plan to work him in at first base eventually. He has the greatest, softest hands I've seen."

Anderson said he used to watch Ivie, now 29, when he was a 19-year-old catcher for San Diego.

"I used to love to watch that kid hit and catch," said Anderson. "He was one of the best young players I saw."

The victory snapped a three-game losing streak by the Tigers.

Sutton Key Force As Pittsburgh Falls

HOUSTON (AP) - Astro righthander Don Sutton considers himself a control pitcher, and it seems his control extends to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The 37-year-old Houston pitchers stopped the Pirates for the 26th time in his career to lead the Astros to a 7-3 triumph Monday night.

Sutton scattered nine hits, struck out six and walked none in the complete-game victory that raised his record to 5-1, one of the few bright spots amid otherwise sagging Astro fortunes

"You look at Nolan Ryan. His gift is that he can throw with power. Bob Knepper's is that his ball runs on hitters. My gift is control," said Sutton.

"I can't explain it. I just appreciate it. Without it, I'd have to get a legitimate job," he said.

Sutton also can't explain his dominance over the Pirates.

"There's not any logical reason for it," Sutton said. "I lost my first 13 starts against the Chicago Cubs. Against this ballclub it's an extra thrill. You can't make a mistake against them because they just punish the ball."

However, Pirate Manager Chuck Tanner could give one reason.

"With 246 career wins, he's got a good record against a lot of teams," said Tanner.

The complete game was the first of the season for Sutton, the second for the Astros and also meant a night off for Houston's battered bullpen.

"It sure helped," said Houston manager Bill Virdon. "We needed it bad."

Pittsburgh scored an unearned run in the first inning when Omar Moreno singled and was safe at second on shortstop Craig Reynolds' error on the attempted steal. Johnny Ray's single to right brought Moreno home.

Tigers Put Future On Line Tonight

Snyder High School, looking to extend its 13-game winning streak, takes on the Pecos Eagles tonight, 7:30 at Moffett Field.

Senior righthander John Wilson, 9-1 with two saves, is expected to start for the Tigers tonight. Tommy Gressett, 3-1 with one save, will work in relief, if needed.

Wilson battled Pecos' Bobby Rayos to eek out a 3-1 victory when the two teams met in first-round district play on April 20. Wilson gave up three hits; Rayos four.

Rayos is expected to get the nod as Pecos' starter again tonight.

Both Snyder and Pecos come into tonight's game with undefeated second-half records, making the contest a key one in the District 2-AAAA race.

Pecos is 2-0 and a half-game behind the Tigers, who are 3-0 in the second half. The Eagles are 11-10 on the season.

Fort Stockton is also undefeated, at 3-0. The Panthers defeated Andrews 6-3 in a makeup game last evening.

In other District 2-AAAA games today, 0-3 Lamesa is at 1-2 Monahans and 1-2 Andrews is at 0-3 Ector.

The Tigers, 21-5 for the season, finish out the regular term by traveling to Lamesa on Friday, then hosting Fort Stockton on May 18.

Owls Sign Cunningham

HOUSTON (AP) - Rice University announced Monday that it had signed basketball player Mike Cunningham, a 6-foot-7 forward from Memphis, Tenn.

Cunningham averaged 12 points and nine rebounds per game at Forest Park Junior College in St. Louis last winter. Two years earlier he averaged 13 points and 13 rebounds per game at White Haven High School in Memphis.

A hooked shot in golf, one that curves sharply to the left, is caused by counter-clockwise spin on the ball.
