In Brief

Note arrest

MOSCOW (AP) — Authorities arrested a member of Moscow's only known unofficial peace group, members of the organization told Western reporters.

The group members said the arrest Wednesday was the third time Nikolai Khramov, 21, has been arrested since he joined the unsanctioned group six months ago. He was held for 15 days each of the two previous times, they said.

The earlier arrests were in connection with Khramov's refusal to be drafted into the Soviet military, the group said.

Khramov was arrested in a public square by a militiaman and a plainclothesman and taken away in a car, the group members said. They were unsure what charges were made or how long he would be held.

After joining the peace group, Khramov was expelled from Moscow State University's journalism department, group members said.

Found dead

IRAPUATO, Mexico (AP) — Maria Gonzalez Valenzuela, one of Mexico's most notorious criminals three decades ago, was found dead in her prison cell, police report.

Police said Wednesday that her age was not known, nor was the cause of her death, but that her body showed no sign of violence.

She had not been seen out of her cell since Sunday, and guards found her body Tuesday.

Miss Gonzalez Valenzuela and her two sisters were members of a gang blamed for the deaths of at least 12 women. They operated in the central state of Guanajuato and were convicted of murdering women after forcing them into prostitution.

Girl, 12 ordered to TYC

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A 12-year-old girl who admitted killing her young friend with a shotgun blast was committed today to the custody of the Texas Youth Commission.

Juvenile Court Judge Scott Moore handed down the ruling against Patricia Dempsey in the Sept. 8 shooting death of Kerry Thomas, 11.

According to state law, the TYC, which operates the state's juvenile detention facilities, will decide how long the girl will remain in custody. She could be held until her 18th birthday.

Defense attorneys immediately filed notice of appeal.

A jury ruled Oct. 12 that Patricia did not intentionally kill her best friend, but that she did "recklessly" cause the schoolgirl's death with a shotgun blast to the face — a verdict roughly equivalent to involuntary manslaughter.

Patricia had insisted the shooting was accidental, and that she allowed the body to remain hidden for four days only because she was afraid "I might get put in jail."

Moore had the choice of putting the girl on probation, into a children's home or TYC.

Senior citizen housing deal closed

Closing papers were signed and the first draft of an expected $653,100 loan from the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) was issued Wednesday — signaling the final go-ahead for construction of Snyder's first senior citizen housing area.

Actual construction work is now expected to begin within the next few days, culminating a project with planning stages dating back into the early months of 1983.

This planning also prompted the formation of a new entity in Snyder, Senior Citizens Inc. — a non-profit group charged with overseeing the current project as well as future housing units targeted for senior citizens.

To be called Golden Terrace Village, the project will entail 12 structures of single-story duplex and quadraplex design. These 12 structures will entail 24 housing units spread over a 4.3 acre tract.

The project itself will be located just west of College Ave. and south of 37th St. The housing units will range in size from 655 sq. ft. up to 815 sq. ft.

The FmHA loan — initially approved at $633,000 in the spring of 1984 — includes interest at 10.75 percent and is to be paid back over a 50-year period.

Rent monies from the project will go toward the payback on the loan.

The project received a setback April 12 when all bids submitted for it were in excess of budgeted FmHA funds.

The low bid estimate of three submitted equaled $639,639. The FmHA approval of $633,000 included only $537,000 for actual construction costs.

A second bid letting was held July 16 and a new low bid of $556,853 was accepted from Gulf Coast Construction of Sweetwater.

This was still some $20,000 over the budgeted expense for construction, and representatives of Seniors Citizens Inc. went back to FmHA officials seeking a new loan amount of $653,100.

The closing Wednesday was made possible by the approval of this new loan figure.

A construction period of 180 days is estimated.

Pianist, vocalist to appear

A piano performance by Dr. Robert Blocker — one-time chairman of the Fine Arts Division at Western Texas College and currently Dean of the School of Music at Baylor — will be featured Sunday at a concert sponsored by the Cultural Affairs Council of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce.

Blocker will be joined by vocalist Cody Garner, now a professor of voice at Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches.

Their performances will begin at 3 p.m. in the Fine Arts Theatre on the campus of WTC. Tickets are available at the chamber and are priced at $5 for adults and $2 for students.

A reception is planned afterward with food catered through American Food Management.

Presentations at the concert will feature the works of Handel, Chopin, Ravel, Debussy and Verdi.

Blocker began his musical studies at the age of 5, debuting at age 15 with the Charleston Symphony Orchestra in Charleston, S.C.

While heading the Baylor Music School, he has continued to pursue his concert career as well as serving as a guest lecturer, clinician and music adjudicator.

He currently serves as a member of the National Board of Regents for Pi Kappa Lambda, the national music honor society.

Performing with him will be Cody Garner, a bass-baritone singer.

His singing credits include most recently solo performances with the Bach Aria Group at the State University of New York. He has also sung solo with the Bev

Square dancers plan annual Snyder event

An activity dating back to early American community involvement will take place Saturday when the Sparkle City Squares hosts its 13th annual Square and Round Dance Festival at the Scurry County Coliseum. Some 600 persons are expected to attend.

The public is invited, at no charge, to enjoy the floor activities from the bleacher sections during afternoon workshops beginning at 1 p.m. for rounds and at 3 p.m. for squares, and also during the festival activities which begin at 7 p.m.

Local auto insurance expected to decrease

Scurry County residents who carry the normal "package" of automobile insurance coverage are expected to receive an approximate 6 percent reduction for policies written after Feb. 1.

For the vehicle owner who carries only liability insurance, an increase from $149 to $156 per year is projected locally.

Wednesday, the State Board of Insurance in Austin voted unanimously to give Texas motorists an overall $100 million decrease in auto insurance.

Exact rates will vary with the driver's age, sex, marital status and driving record as well as the make and model of car and how it is used.

In Scurry County, the 6 percent decrease for drivers who carry a typical insurance policy — to include collision and liability — is projected to equal some $37 yearly.

The insurance industry in Texas had sought a 3.3 percent increase in policies.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "My wife has a cookbook, but she's waiting for someone to make it into a movie."

It happens every year. We get calls here at the newspaper suggesting that we change the date of Halloween. We admit to having an office full of characters, but we just don't have any control over Halloween.

The suggestions have merit, however. Mothers concerned about goblins running about the neighborhoods on a school night is valid. Most are suggesting that trick-or-treat be staged on Saturday night since Halloween this year falls on a Wednesday.

Even though it's a good idea, getting an entire community to go in the same direction on the same night just isn't practical. On Saturday, however, there are some group activities planned such as a Stanfield Halloween Carnival at the National Guard Armory and a Spook House put on by a WTC group.

Here's some advice for Halloween. Beware about complimenting a person on his mask until you're sure he's wearing one.

City Manager John Gayle was seen wearing his Halloween mask this week. He's the fellow with the long face.

The new state sales tax that became effective Oct. 2 has caused considerable discussion in the community. At the coffee shops, just bringing up the word tax causes most to slam down their cups to make a point.

'Monsters' to begin 3-day run

The Halloween production of "Monsters, the Beast Things in Life" begins a three-day run Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Snyder Junior High School Auditorium.

The 45-minute children's musical features a student cast and is to be presented under the direction of SJHS Theatre Instructor Eleanor Dryden and Choral Director Barbara Perkins.

In addition to five of Transylvania's leading citizens, a 22-member chorus will be featured.

The play will be repeated Saturday and Monday at the same time. Tickets for the three performances are priced at $1.50 for all seats and are available at the junior high office.

Nurse Jones to appeal conviction

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — The prosecution's heavy reliance on circumstantial evidence may form the basis of an appeal of former nurse Genene Jones' conviction on a child injury charge, her attorney says.

"There were lots of people around that could have done it," defense lawyer Royal Griffin told reporters after Ms. Jones was convicted and sentenced to 60 years in prison.

"There was no dripping needle," he said.

State district judge Pat Priest Wednesday, ruling in a non-jury trial, told Ms. Jones, "From the evidence before me, I find that this child received a massive dose of heparin during the 3 to 11 shift Jan. 9, 1982, and that Genene Jones did it."

The charge was filed in the overdose of 4-week-old Rolando Santos with the blood-thinner heparin. The incident occurred while he was hospitalized for pneumonia in the pediatric intensive care unit at Medical Center Hospital.

The child has since recovered and been released.

The former nurse will serve the 60-year term concurrently with a 99-year sentence she drew for murder in the death of a 15-month-old Kerrville girl. That child was killed with an injection of a muscle relaxant.

She still faces seven other child injury charges in Kerr County.

Special prosecutor Nick Rothe said he expects no more indictments against Ms. Jones in connection with dozens of mysterious infant deaths at Medical Center Hospital.

However, he said a grand jury investigating the suspicious deaths will continue its probe.

Priest made his ruling after the prosecution rested its case early Wednesday and the defense presented no witnesses.

During final arguments, prosecutor Ray Fuchs recounted the Santos child's stay in the hospital, pointing out the baby suffered cardiac arrests twice, dehydrated dangerously once and bled seriously on the 9th.

"Four times this woman brought him near his death," Fuchs told the judge.

Rothe, in his final statement, called the crime horrifying and said, pointing at Ms. Jones, "This person's got a real problem. Why (injury occurred) is something we'll never know."

Rothe recalled a Centers for Disease Control investigation of infant deaths at Medical Center report which showed baby mortality rates increased 178 percent while Ms. Jones worked there.

"The CDC report has determined there is a disease and that disease is sitting right there," he said, again pointing at Ms. Jones.

In his final arguments, Griffin told the judge, "The state has done absolutely nothing to prove Genene Jones did anything. Does the mere presence of the defendant at the scene of the event have any probative value at all. The answer is obviously 'no.'"

Armco to close plants

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — The National Supply Co. division of Armco Inc. says it will shut down two drilling-equipment plants employing 459 workers in California and Texas because of a slump in the oil drilling and steelmaking industries.

"We regret having to take these actions, particularly since both ... plants have been productive parts of National Supply for years," said Robert Harris, chief executive of National Supply and a group vice president of Armco.

But he added, "In today's smaller marketplace, we simply found ourselves with too many manufacturing facilities."

The plants to be closed are in Torrance, Calif., and Houston. The former, with 230 workers, is to shut down Feb. 28, while the the Houston facility, with 229 employees, is to be shuttered May 31.

National Steel said it will seek buyers for the plants and, failing that, will help displaced workers find other jobs.

Dr. Lamb

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — What is meant when it is said that in bodybuilding the muscles are "torn" and "repaired"? How do they grow? Is extra protein needed for this? What percent of a professional bodybuilder's total calories should be from protein, fats and carbohydrates? Thanks for your help.

DEAR READER — The common statement that the muscle is "torn down" in strength exercises is wrong. The truth is much more exciting. When you don't use your muscles they do lose protein. Most of your muscle is protein and water, along with some fat. Inactive people lose muscle size and strength because their muscles lose protein.

When you exercise for a sufficient length of time, your body does use an increased amount of protein, but it does not come from the muscles. Protein, which is always broken down to its amino-acid building blocks, is processed in the liver. It is liver protein, not muscle protein, that supports your exercise effort.

The liver converts amino acids to glucose to form new glucose. That glucose is supplied to your working muscles so you can continue to exercise. The liver also provides glucose from glycogen stores within the liver. Glycogen is simply glucose molecules bonded together for storage.

As you continue to exercise, your body starts to mobilize fat, and fatty acids become a major source of energy for your working muscles.

The best way to build a muscle is by contracting it against as much resistance as you can. A few strong contractions — less than 10 — are more important than a large number of less vigorous contractions. Those few strong contractions use muscle glycogen that is already stored in your muscles. You need a day between workouts to permit your muscles to recharge with glycogen. That is the building day, and after vigorous exercise, the muscles will store more glycogen than before exercise.

You need enough calories for your energy needs, regardless of the source. You need enough protein to provide the building blocks for new muscle and you need a balanced diet.

Be sure and include enough carbohydrate in your diet. You need it for your muscle glycogen.

I have discussed the dietary requirements in a new issue of The Health Letter, Special Report 19, Strength Training: How and Why, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My fiance and I are going to be married shortly. When he was a child, he lost a testicle in an accident. This has not affected his sexual performance, but can it affect his ability to father a child? Would our chances of conception be lower as a result of his accident?

DEAR READER — Probably not. You may have read of the identical twins, one of whom had been born without adequate testicles. He received a transplant of his identical brother's testicle and later became a proud father.

The important point is how many healthy sperm he produces. He can certainly produce an adequate amount with just one testicle. Also, when one testicle is lost, particularly at an early age, the other testicle tends to enlarge to compensate for the loss.

Dressing Room Policy Gets Dressing-Down From Shopper

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1984 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: A friend told me that the best department stores in Boston have installed two-way mirrors in their dressing rooms so they can watch for shoplifters.

I think this is terrible! I would feel very uncomfortable undressing to try on clothes knowing that a detective (male or female) was watching me. And when I think of trying on bathing suits and lingerie, it really disturbs me.

Is this practice legal? I can't believe it's really going on in Boston.

APPALLED IN BOSTON

DEAR APPALLED: I checked with the best department stores in Boston and was assured that there are no two-way mirrors in their dressing rooms. Your friend is full of beans.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I nearly fainted when I read the letter signed "Needs Advice." Our situations were identical! I was a 21-year-old girl, dating a 23-year-old guy who told me he was living with "Diane," a 30-year-old woman, but it was just a platonic relationship. He told me he loved me, but he didn't want Diane to know he was dating anyone else because she had a crush on him, and he felt he "owed" her.

He also told me if I called him and a woman answered to hang up. I did as he asked until one day instead of hanging up, I talked to the woman, told her who I was and asked if we could meet and talk. She invited me over, and I found out in a short time what a fool I'd been.

This so-called "30-year-old woman" who had a crush on him was a beautiful 27-year-old woman to whom he had been married for four years! They had three children —the baby was 3 months old.

She told me her husband had a bad drinking problem and she was seeking help for him and their family. It was very plain to me that she really loved this man.

The next time my "boyfriend" called me, I told him I had met his wife and saw his children and he never should come near me again. I also told him what I thought of him for cheating on a beautiful family like his.

I am very thankful to Diane for inviting me over and opening my eyes.

NEVER AGAIN

* * *

DEAR ABBY: So "Celeste, Texas" thinks that only virgins have a right to wear white wedding gowns and marry in a church. Who gave "Celeste" the right to act as God's judge on earth?

If women are expected to save themselves for marriage, so should men. In fact, if men would try to save themselves for marriage, then more women would be able to!

As for wearing white, if a bride wants to wear purple and a bone in her nose, and walk up the aisle to "Shake Your Booty," that's her business. And whether she's a virgin or not is strictly between her, her husband and God.

Dissenting voice stirs controversy among justices

DALLAS (AP) — The newest appointee to the Texas Supreme Court has fellow court justices alarmed after he wrote an emotional anti-abortion opinion in dissenting to a court decision last week, officials say.

Justice Raul Gonzalez has been on the state's highest court for less than a month, but his attack on pro-abortionists in his dissenting opinion has caused consternation in the governor's office, angered pro-choice activists and has led others to say they feel he may not rule impartially in similar cases.

Gonzalez was appointed earlier this month by Gov. Mark White. The dissenting opinion was issued Oct. 17 in a "wrongful birth" case only nine days after he was sworn in.

"It would obviously have been better if he had not gone out of his way to inject himself into the abortion issue," a governor's aide who declined to be named told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Gonzalez' opinion "talked about murder and killing kids" until other justices prevailed on him to tone it down, court insiders said. The sources said there was concern that the opinion would be interpreted as Gonzalez being ruled by his religious beliefs, the newspaper reported Wednesday.

The opinion proves Gonzales cannot be an impartial justice in possible future abortion cases, said Janet Friese, executive director of the Texas Abortion rights Action League.

"I was extremely surprised to see a Supreme Court justice make such a biased statement," she told the Houston Chronicle.

The opinion might draw attention from fundamentalist political organizations to future Supreme Court races, some sources said.

"They didn't want him to do it because it will draw all these single-issue people into judicial races," an unidentified source told the Star-Telegram. "That is bad in Supreme Court races. Then you get them on gay rights, school prayer and all the rest."

"Opinions speak for themselves," said Gonzalez, the state's first Hispanic Supreme Court justice. He declined further comment.

"I have no comment on any of my judgments beyond what is in the opinion," Gonzalez told the Chronicle.

Inspection reveals hidden gaps in home

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Periodic inspections of your house reveal structural openings you did not know were there. Ignore these gaps and you will have trouble later on in the form of water, heat and air leaks.

It isn't always easy to tell when caulking is required. You have to search out its absence. Since small openings are not always visible, especially when they are higher than eye level, you need a ladder and a flashlight. Most especially, look around doors and windows where dissimilar materials meet. Such materials contract and expand at different times, thus producing the conditions that cause separations.

When you are making your inspection to see whether repairs are needed, don't trust your memory. If you do, you'll find that, as you move along from one part of the house to another, you are inclined to forget where the trouble areas are located. Carry along a pencil and paper, marking down where the gaps are, but more important, placing chalk marks at those spots. Should a heavy rain wash off the chalk, you will at least have a record of the locations.

Before caulking any opening, remove or scrape off any of the old caulking compound. The new compound will act as a filler, also expanding and contracting with parts of the house so it won't come out of place too quickly. Depending on how the job is done and other conditions, good caulk will last from two to seven or eight years, in some cases indefinitely. Since there are many different kinds of caulking compounds, ask questions of your dealer to be certain you get the type needed for the job at hand.

Some people do not know that caulk can be used to reinforce and aid old and crumbling mortar which no longer is keeping out water, but be sure to ask for a kind that features good adhesion to concrete. Remember, too, that compound acts to keep out insects that invade a house.

Shrimp and grape salad

By Cecily Brownstone
AP Food Editor

Since the 1950s, recipes for chicken salad to which grapes are added have abounded. Much less known is shrimp salad made with grapes.

Two varieties of seedless grapes are excellent to use in this recipe: Thompson Seedless, which varies from light green to golden, is available through November. Ruby Seedless, brilliantly red and comparatively new in markets, is available through January.

SHRIMP AND GRAPE SALAD

2 tablespoons olive oil
3 tablespoons white wine vinegar
2 teaspoons Dijon mustard
Salt and pepper to taste
¾ pound medium shrimp (cooked, shelled and deveined)
1 cup halved seedless green or red grapes
Lettuce
Avocado slices
Scallion or fresh chives, finely chopped
Mayonnaise, preferably homemade

In a 3- to 4-cup shallow bowl, whisk together oil, vinegar, mustard, salt and pepper.

Cut each shrimp in half lengthwise; fold into oil-vinegar mixture with grapes. Cover tightly and refrigerate for about an hour.

At serving time, arrange lettuce on individual serving plates; add shrimp-grape mixture. Garnish with avocado and scallion. Pass mayonnaise.

Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Note: If you buy cooked shrimp, you will need 8 ounces.

New museum features only African art

NEW YORK (AP) — A new museum, the Center for African Art, opened recently with a major traveling exhibition.

The exhibition, "African Masterpieces From the Musee de l'Homme," includes "some of the rarest and most renowned works of African art in the world drawn from one of the foremost collections." The bulk of the objects in the show have never been on display outside France.

The exhibition at the center, the second museum in the United States dedicated exclusively to African art, will be on view through Jan. 22, 1985.

Gramm stays with issues

DALLAS (AP) — U.S. Rep. Phil Gramm says that he remains committed to focusing on the issues in his race for the U.S. Senate and that he will talk about his Democratic opponent only when his rival levels charges against him.

Campaigning in north Texas Wednesday, Gramm said, "I'm going to run on the key issues facing Texas ... and I urge my opponent to do the same."

The College Station congressman's campaign trek was cut short Wednesday when stormy weather forced him to cancel several east Texas visits, but Gramm was back in action today, stumping throughout West Texas.

At a news conference in Wichita Falls on Wednesday, Gramm said the Senate contest between him and state Sen. Lloyd Doggett "really boils down to one issue — who can be effective in representing the interests of ... the people of Texas."

Stressing the importance of his work in Congress the past six years and especially his work with the Reagan administration, Gramm said he is the better qualified candidate because he is a "congressman who for six years has stood up and fought and won on behalf of issues that are important to the people of Texas."

In answering what he said were allegations leveled by Doggett, Gramm denied that he may have violated federal election laws by accepting more than $110,000 in primary election campaign contributions long after the May 5 primary.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported on Wednesday about the possible financial irregularities.

Gramm, contending that Doggett was responsible for starting the "untrue" report, said that what appeared to be a discrepancy in financial reporting resulted from "a bookkeeping procedure, not a legal problem."

Late primary campaign contributions are legal only if spent on primary campaign debts, according to Federal Election Commission spokesman Fred Eiland.

"If a campaign ends up without debt ... any contributions that were sent in for the primary have to be returned to the contributor," Eiland said. "It's as much a violation for the one making it (the contribution) as the one receiving it."

Gramm's report for the period ending June 30 showed no debt, but he has since reported paying more than $214,000 in campaign bills from the spring primary.

Gramm said there was no primary debt listed on his financial report because his campaign filed a consolidated report for both the primary and general elections.

"By the end of the primary, we had received substantial contributions for the general election. We ended up with a primary debt, but we had a balance in the general election account larger than the primary debt," Gramm said.

He said his campaign's legal adviser had checked out the situation and his initial belief was that there was no problem.

In trying to address what he believes to be issues in the Senate campaign, Gramm said that he "stands for a philosophy that is deeply rooted in the traditional values of our state" and that he can be effective in working with President Reagan.

He identified the key issues of the race as being a balanced budget amendment, voluntary prayer in schools, right-to-work legislation and a strong defense.

Leader attacks selection

HOUSTON (AP) — Harris County Republican Chairman Russ Mather has attacked a Democratic judicial nominee, alleging he was found guilty of driving while intoxicated, had failed to pay federal taxes and was sued by the state for failing to pay a student loan.

Mather said Gov. Mark White must have been blindfolded Aug. 17 when he appointed State District Judge Jay Burnett.

"The governor should appoint judges who set a good example by their records, not a man who has a DWI, didn't pay back his student loan and has not paid his income tax," Mather said in a news release Wednesday.

Burnett said he was arrested for DWI some six years ago but received a deferred adjudication from the judge and had no notation of the arrest on his record.

"In the eve of this election, this is a last desperate act of desperate men to sling mud rather than look at who's qualified," Burnett said.

The judge also confirmed he had been sued by the state for failing to pay a student loan, but said he had paid the loan off several months ago.

Burnett said "hard financial times" had made it impossible for him to pay $45,000 in back taxes he owed the federal government, but said that he had been making monthly payments to the government and owed only $20,000 more.

"This does not speak to my qualifications or issues in the race," Burnett said.

Webb earnings reported

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Del E. Webb Corp. profits for the first three quarters of 1984 nearly doubled those of the equivalent 1983 period, though the third quarter itself was down, the company reported Wednesday.

Webb, which has interests in the leisure, real estate and construction industries, reported net income of $4.3 million or 53 cents per share on revenues of $120.8 million for the quarter ended Sept. 30, compared with 1983's third-quarter earnings of slightly more than $5.8 million or 78 cents per share on revenues of $103.6 million.

Chairman Robert K. Swanson attributed the drop to lingering effects of a city-wide culintary union strike in Las Vegas and reduced earnings from the Claridge Casino and Hotel in Atlantic City.

But for the first nine months, the company said, earnings soared to $10.9 million or $1.34 per share on revenues of $356.9 million, compared with last year's slightly less than $5.8 million or 65 cents per share on revenues of $256.4 million.

That increase stems mainly from strong performances by real estate and development subsidiaries, the company said. Swanson added that its construction services subsidiary hasn't been doing well in Dallas though it showed profits in Phoenix and Los Angeles.

The Pilgrims aboard the Mayflower went ashore in 1620 at what is now Plymouth, Mass.

Cleaning woman to repay bank

HOUSTON (AP) — A judge says a cleaning woman who stole $11,706 she found unguarded at the bank where she worked must repay the money out of her $600-a-month wages.

At the rate of $100 a month, it will take Willie Mae Dawson, 48, almost 10 years to repay the debt, U.S. District Judge George Cire said Tuesday.

Ms. Dawson took the money Sept. 23, 1983, from a drive-in window at Ameriway Bank in northwest Houston. Prosecutors said she apparently was cleaning out a drive-in cubicle when she found the cash, and slipped it out in a trash bag.

Tigers working to correct mistakes before Pecos tilt

Snyder Coach Dennis Tomlin said after last week's loss to Lamesa the Ragin' Tigers would try to work out their mistakes, and much of the preparation for Friday night's game with Pecos has been directed at that.

Turnovers and penalties have cost the Tigers - thus the emphasis on avoiding mistakes - and would seem to be the glaring difference between themselves and the Pecos Eagles heading into Friday night's ballgame.

On paper, the 3-3 Eagles are not particularly impressive but have been fairly consistant in keeping opponents from the end zone. Pecos is ranked seventh in District 2-4A in rushing (123.5), fifth in passing (76.6), seventh in overall offense (200.2) and seventh in points scored (12.5).

Defensively, the Eagles look better. Despite being sixth against the run (170.8), seventh against the pass (89.0) and fifth overall (259.8), they rank fourth in total and average points allowed (76 and 12.6).

The points-allowed statistic may be one of three key statistics heading into Friday night's ballgame. Though ranking fourth in overall offense accumulated (256.0) and just behind Pecos in yards allowed (260.2), Snyder is giving up an average of 24.3 points a ballgame.

The other two areas of concern are penalties and the kicking game. Snyder is last among 2-4A members in penalties, having been flagged 46 times for 412 yards, an average of 68.6 yards a game.

The Tigers also rank eighth in punting (27.1 per game), and have fumbled two kick returns in the last two weeks. Those muffs have helped put Snyder in the minus-category on turnovers. The Tigers, who have fumbled seven times and been intercepted five, are a minus-two in takeaways - turnovers committed compared to turnovers received.

Pecos is averaging 35.2 a punt, a more-respectable 48 yards in penalties a game, and is plus-three in takeaways.

"We've worked hard on those situations in practice to try to give us an opportunity to improve in that area," said Tomlin on Wednesday afternoon. "Monday was a learning practice for us. Tuesday, we tried to have a perfect practice, that is, executing without mistakes and knowing our assignments. Wednesday, we are having a total concentration practice. Thursday, we'll have an intensity practice," he said.

"On a scale of 1 to 10 we were at about a 7 last week, which means we executed well but when it came time to really produce we didn't. We weren't totally ready. I feel like we missed on intensity at times, and being able to keep it. We've worked hard on that. We've probably had our best practices of the year during these past two weeks. Now we just need to put it all together in the same game. We've had good offensive games and good defensive games and we had both last week but we made too many mental errors," the coach related.

Unlike the Pecos teams of the past, the 1984 bunch depends more on the pass. The Eagles have two receivers with 10 catches apiece. Over one-third of the Pecos offense is its passing game.

Snyder also has a balanced attack. Quarterback Jimmy Cain is the leading passer in the 2-4A in terms of yardage while tailback Justin Webb ranks third in total rushing yards and Willie Greathouse and Kyle Freeman are both in the top nine in pass receiving.

4-1A grid roundup

Barring an upset, the District 2-4A South Zone race could be decided as early as Friday night when playoff hopeful Borden County plays host to defending state champion Highland.

Borden Coyotes, in fine shape until last week's 38-12 loss to Ira, are in a must-win situation Friday. Another zone loss for the Coyotes would give them a 1-2 record and leave them solidly in third place in the district.

But all is not a breeze at Ira, where the Bulldogs entertain a fast-improving Grady team. Grady is only 2-4 for the season but 1-0 in zone play after defeating McCaulley 42-26 a week ago.

Obviously though, a loss for Ira this week would put the Bulldogs' playoff thoughts in jeporady.

Should Highland defeat Borden County this week, Ira - which faces 1-6 McCaulley in its final ballgame - would be all but a shoo-in for the runnerup spot. If the Coyotes can pull off a shocker against Highland however, it trips the zone into a three-way tie.

2-4A grid roundup

Though you might get an argument from Lamesa, Fort Stockton or another team or two, it's generally accepted that the District 2-4A championship game will take place this Friday night in Sweetwater.

That's when the No. 8 ranked and undefeated Monahans Loboes take on the fuel-injected offense of the once-beaten Sweetwater Mustangs. Both teams are 3-0 in district play and with little exception have manhandled their conference opponents this season.

As stated, however, Lamesa and Fort Stockton may protest. The surprising Golden Tornadoes are looking to go to 6-1 (and 3-1) Friday as they entertain winless San Angelo Lake View. Fort Stockton, 5-1 and 2-1, may have a tougher time at Andrews. The Mustangs, mauled by Sweetwater 33-6 last week, are 3-3 and 1-2.

In the only other 2-4A game on the market, Snyder is at Pecos. Coach Dennis Tomlin's Tigers are hoping to shake off mistakes which have led to a 1-5 season. The Eagles, 3-3, are looking to rebound from last week's 20-7 whipping at the hands of Monahans.

Jr. High hosts Ponies tonight

Snyder junior high teams were scheduled in football action here today while the local underclassmen high school squads were to play out of town.

Games were to begin at 4 o'clock and are also scheduled for 5, 6 and 7 at Travis Field as two Snyder seventh grade teams and two eighth grade teams entertain Sweetwater.

On the road, the junior varsity bunch was to play Lubbock Monterey in Lubbock at 4. Also, a freshman B-squad was to play in Sweetwater at 4 and a freshman A-squad will play in Abilene against Madison at 6.

Meyer booted

BOSTON (AP) - Ron Meyer was fired this morning as coach of the New England Patriots and will be replaced immediately by Raymond Berry, a former assistant coach of the football team, Patriots spokesman Tom Hoffman said.

A news conference was scheduled for 11:30 a.m. to formally announce the action.

The action came the day after Meyer stunned his defensive coordinator, Rod Rust, by firing him in an unexpected move, citing "unreconcilable differences" in defensive philosophies.

It was not immediately clear if Meyer's unilateral decision had any bearing on his own ouster. Meyer said Wednesday that he had not discussed his move with General Manager Pat Sullivan or Player Development Director Dick Steinberg.

Meyer said he told Sullivan of his decision Wednesday morning and Sullivan interrupted his trip to National Football League meetings in New Orleans and rushed back to meet with Meyer Wednesday night. Sullivan refused comment at that time.

The firings of Rust and Meyer follows Sunday's 44-24 loss to Miami, which dropped the Patriots' ranking to 5-3.

The move also came 19 days after Sullivan met with players who spent part of the session complaining about Meyer. On Wednesday, players flocked to the defense of Rust, praising him as a coach and a person.

Meyer, formerly head football coach at Southern Methodist University, was hired as the Patriots' head coach in 1982, replacing Ron Erhardt.

White terms starting role Band-Aid instead of cure

DALLAS (AP) - Quarterback Danny White says getting to start Sunday doesn't answer his questions about what kind of future he has with the Dallas Cowboys.

"This is kind of a Band-Aid and not really a cure," White said after hearing the news about his return to a starting role on the radio driving home from practice.

Cowboys Coach Tom Landry said Wednesday that White, replaced by Gary Hogeboom as Dallas' No. 1 quarterback at the beginning of the National Football League season, would start Sunday against the Indianapolis Colts.

Landry said he was impressed with White's performance against the New Orleans Saints last Sunday, when White came off the bench to rally Dallas to a 30-27 overtime victory.

"We thought after the game the other night that he deserved a chance to start," Landry said.

It was the third time in a row White has replaced Hogeboom, who injured a hand in the Saints game.

Earlier this week, Landry said he wanted to see how Hogeboom threw with a bruised hand before deciding whether to change starting quarterbacks.

After practice, Landry said Hogeboom will probably be able to play Sunday. He said his decision to start White hinged on the veteran's performance, not Hogeboom's injury.

"I said all along, since the start of the season, that we need both quarterbacks to win," Landry said.

Landry said Hogeboom was "disappointed" about not starting Sunday. He said he had not spoken with White.

"I guess I have mixed feelings," White told The Associated Press. "I'm happy for the opportunity. But its not a solution to the question that I've been trying to deal with."

That, he said, is what's going to happen on a permanent basis.

"That's really what I'm interested in. I don't know when he'll (Landry) make that decision or even if he'll make it before the end of the year," said White, who was backup to Roger Staubach until 1980.

"I'm interested in getting with a team that wants to pay the price to get to the Super Bowl. I certainly hope it's the Cowboys. But I'm not at a point in my career where I'm willing to sit on a bench or alternate," White said.

Also on Wednesday, starting middle linebacker Bob Breunig was listed as doubtful for Sunday.

Dusters ready to open 1984 season

Coach Joe Cushing gave a good report on his Dusters' scrimmage with Wayland Baptist here Wednesday night and said the team is looking forward to the first game of the season.

The Western Texas College women's basketball team will entertain Chihuahua, Mexico at 8 p.m. Friday in the Snyder High School Gymnasium. There will be no admission charge.

The game with Chihuahua was added to the schedule only recently. The original opener for the Dusters was to have been the Wagstaff Classic in Tyler on Nov. 1-2-3.

"We'll be able to get those first-game jitters out of the way Friday and hopefully be ready to get after it in Tyler," said Coach Cushing.

Meanwhile, the coach was pleased with the Dusters' performance against the Flying Queens. Western did have some trouble rebounding early against the taller team, and did not have a good night at the freethrow line. Otherwise, the Dusters looked strong.

"You're going to have nights like that, where you don't do well at the freethrow line. I don't anticipate that being a problem for us this year though," said the coach. "I was real pleased defensively in holding Wayland to 62 points. It was a good matchup for us. We've still got a ways to go offensively. They are really sagging in on "Speed" (Clara) Campbell and our outside people are not taking up the slack," he added.

"Once we get into the season and get some experience, we'll be fine I think. Our pluses far outweight the things we are doing wrong right now."

As for Chihuahua, Cushing is expecting a tough matchup.

"They've got three starters back from a 22-1 team. They play hard, aggressive man-to-man defense and they have a 6-3 post girl who averages something like 20 points a game. So we're expecting a buzzsaw. From everything I've heard they are real tough," the coach commented.

Starters Friday for the Dusters will be sophomores Clara Campbell, 6-2; Renvy Evans, 6-0; Lyndy French, 5-11; Rhonda Hoelting, 5-6; and Patti Hayes, 6-0.

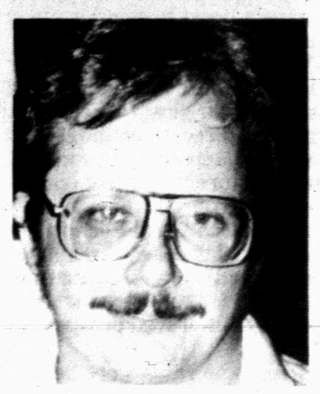
Sideline glances...

Races could clear up some this week

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Sports Editor

District 2-4A, the 4-1A South Zone and the Southwest Conference are in one of those pivitol weeks were everything either becomes clear or clouds over like Snyder in October.



Sweetwater and Monahans clash Friday to help settle the 2-4A race while Borden County and Highland go head-to-head in the South Zone. As for the Southwest Conference, matchups between SMU and Texas, Baylor and TCU and Houston and Arkansas help to separate the conference elite from the also-rans.

It makes for an interesting week on all levels, but as arm-chair prognosticators like me might imagine, a tough one for the pickin'.

Last week's guesses came out 29 right and 11 wrong for .725. For the season, it is 183-75, or .709.

Let's get to it...

Snyder at Pecos: Despite too many mistakes, Snyder is looking stronger. They'll play well Friday and...RAGIN' TIGERS 24, PECOS 14.

Andrews at Fort Stockton: The Panthers go into the game with a 2-1 district record, but should come out batting .500. Pick it...ANDREWS 28, FORT STOCKTON 14.

Lake View at Lamesa: Lo and behold, meanwhile, the Golden Tornadoes climb above the break-even mark. Believe it or not, 6-1 on the season...LAMESA 20, LAKE VIEW 13.

Monahans at Sweetwater: The No. 1 and 2 teams respectively on defense in district 2-4A. Reverse the order and you have the top two offensive teams as well. At home and with that high-octane offense, I'll go with Sweetwater...MUSTANGS 21, LOBOES 14.

In area six-man battles, pick Ira to crush Grady 45-14 and Highland to stop Borden County's playoff hopes, 42-24.

Southwest Conference...

Some tough picks in the Southwest Conference this week. Texas will win at home over the Ponies of SMU, 24-21; Houston will do likewise over Arkansas, 31-28; Baylor will nip TCU, 24-21; and Texas A&M will finally win a conference game, defeating Rice 28-17.

Top Twenty...

Go for No. 1 Washington to axe Arizona, 21-7; No. 2 Oklahoma to blast Kansas, 34-17; No. 4 Nebraska to kick Kansas State, 31-14; No. 5 Brigham Young to beat New Mexico, 27-20; No. 6 Ohio State to wax Wisconsin, 27-7; No. 7 LSU to outstruggle Notre Dame, 27-17; No. 9 South Carolina to nip East Carolina 19-14; No. 10. Oklahoma to pop Colorado, 24-14; No. 11 Boston College to romp Rutgers, 41-20; No. 12 Auburn to tackle Mississippi State, 17-14; No. 13 Georgia to clout Kentucky, 24-21; No. 17 Iowa to ink Indiana, 21-9; No. 18 West Virginia to ease past No. 19 Penn State, 20-17; and No. 20 USC to cover California, 14-9.

Also...

Go with Georgia Tech over Tennessee, 21-17 and Michigan over Illinois, 19-7.

The pros...

What the heck, I'll give Houston another chance. Select the Oilers in a mild upset of Cincinnati, 28-21; Dallas to romp over Indianapolis, 24-7; Green Bay to finally win again, 21-17 over Detroit; Chicago to tag Minnesota, 27-18; New Orleans to edge Cleveland, 23-21; New England to trap the New York Jets, 34-13; Atlanta to crack Pittsburgh, 27-21; St. Louis to pluck Philadelphia, 31-17; Kansas City to handle Tampa Bay, 21-16; Miami to maul Buffalo, 42-17; Denver's defense to outplay the LA Raiders, 17-14; San Francisco to nip the LA Rams, 31-28; and Washington to bounce back against the Giants, 35-14.

Playoff berth on line as spikers host Loboes

Not counting on an upset to help them out, Coach Penny Bane's Tigers put an apparent District 2-4A volleyball playoff berth on the line here tonight as they host the highly-touted Lady Loboes of Monahans.

The match is scheduled for 7:30 in Snyder High School Gym. It will be preceded by a 6:30 junior varsity tilt. Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. Concessions will be available.

The Tigers are in a must-win situation if they hope to enter the playoffs, though they could still find the connection if Sweetwater were to upset Pecos tonight - an unlikely probability.

Snyder and Pecos go into their final regular season matches with equad 11-2 district records. Monahans leads the loop with a 12-1 mark.

Obviously, Snyder's best chance of staying in the playoff race is by defeating Monahans and throwing the conference into a three-way tie. If that happens, the teams would stage a coin flip to determine seeding order for a three-way playoff. The eventual district playoff winners would represent District 2-4A in post season work.

Tech game capsuled

TULSA (4-3) at TEXAS TECH (3-3), 2 p.m. - Teams have rebounded well in October, Tulsa enjoying three-game winning streak and Raiders winning two of last three SWC starts after dropping close one when Baylor scored two TDs in final 79 seconds. Tulsa has won four straight Missouri Valley championships, is 3-0 in quest of fifth straight. Hurricane riddled Raiders last year, 59-20, most points ever allowed by a Tech football team, eclipsing old mark of 49 allowed to Texas national champions in '63 and '69. Hurricanes' three losses have been to No. 5 BYU, No. 10 Oklahoma State and Arkansas. Tulsa offense gaining almost 400 yards a game on running of Gordon Brown, who gained 123 yards in first half of last week's 55-20 victory over Wichita State. Raiders last in SWC in offense (277.0 yards a game) and second in defense (290.5), could be 5-1 except for last-minute losses to New Mexico and Baylor. Tech has led SWC in pass defense throughout season, now yields 120.7 yards per game and allowing only 42.3 completion percentage. Tech offense has been in and out with 68 points in first two games, 30 points against both A&M and Rice, but one TD vs. Baylor and shut out vs. Arkansas. Robert Lewis sparked ground game vs. Rice, while Tim Smith remains No. 7 SWC rusher with 64.3 yards per game and 5.1 per attempt. Frosh Aaron Keesee, who inherited QB job after senior Perry Morren was injured in opener, has thrown sparingly but hit four TDs while allowing only two interceptions. Raider specialty teams successful as soph Bruce Perkins leads SWC punt returners with 10.1-yard average, frosh Keith Henderson ranks second in kickoff returns with 23.9 average. SWC seeking best nonconference record in 21 years, is now 15-7-2 for 66.7 winning percentage; SWC was 18-9 for 66.7 in '63. Hurricane holds 12-8 lead over Raiders with 5-5 mark in Lubbock. SWC has aggregate 58-23-3 lead over Tulsa.

Qualifiers noted in Gold Coat shootout

Qualifiers have been established for this weekend's Snyder Shootout, a golf event hosted by the Snyder Gold Coats.

Proceeds from the tournament will go to the Snyder Gold Coats Scholarship Fund at Western Texas College.

The tournament will be held Oct. 27 at 10 a.m. at Snyder Country Club.

Qualifiers over nine holes, and their scores, are: Dave Minimier, 33; Jim Patrick, 36; Ernie Armstrong, 37; Pete Greene, 38; Larry Anderson, 38; Joe Fowler, 40; Phil Fortune, 45; Tommy Lay, 47; Paul Thompson, 49; and Morris Sewell, 50.

Prize is a weekend for two at Snyder's newest motel, the Willow Park Inn, which includes a special supper and a continental breakfast.

For a $10 donation, the gallery may select a "favorite golfer." If that golfer is the winner, the spectator will receive a free lunch at the awards banquet immediately following the shootout.

Texas crop report given

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Rain — good, soaking rain — fell over much of Texas the past week, bringing some relief from the dry weather that has plagued the state for more than a year.

The rains, ranging from 1 to 2 inches in western areas to as much as 10 to 20 inches in some coastal locations, filled many stock tanks and gave a boost to small grain crops (wheat and oats) planted for fall and winter grazing.

While the rains were too late for this year's crops, they should bring improved fall and winter grazing and should replenish some of the soil moisture lost to the extensive dry weather, said Dr. Zerle L. Carpenter, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The moisture will allow for an additional hay cutting in eastern and coastal areas if warm, open weather prevails for a while, noted Carpenter. That would be a big help since hay supplies have been cut short by this year's drought.

The rains also have caused a slowdown in livestock marketings and have given a lift to market prices. Feeder cattle prices are up some due to improved prospects for small grain grazing, Carpenter said.

Although the rains were beneficial in some areas, they did put a damper on harvest operations. Some soybeans, peanuts, grain sorghum and sweet potatos remain to be harvested in central areas. Most of the cotton crop is still to be harvested in the plains and western sections of the state.

Also, corn, grain sorghum and sugar beets remain to be harvested in the Panhandle and South Plains. Soybeans are ready to harvest along the Upper Coast and are suffering some wet weather damage.

Pecan harvesting is under way in southern, central and eastern sections, with yields and quality generally below normal due to the dry growing season, Carpenter said.

Reports from district Extension directors showed these conditions.

PANHANDLE: Cool, damp weather is delaying cotton maturity and slowing harvest operations. Most of the corn crop is in, with good yields. Sugar beets are about 35 percent harvested. Most grain sorghum will not be harvested until after a hard freeze. Carrots and cabbage are still being harvested in Deaf Smith County. Young wheat is making good growth.

SOUTH PLAINS: Drizzling rain over the region has slowed harvest operations. Corn harvesting is in the final stages while most grain sorghum and sugar beets remain to be harvested. Some cotton has been desiccated and is being harvested as weather conditions permit. Cool, wet conditions are hurting cotton quality. Wheat is making good growth.

ROLLING PLAINS: Some cotton harvesting is under way in southern counties; this year's crop will be short due to the drought. Some emerging wheat has been damamged by high winds and blowing dust. Recent rains have improving grazing and stock water conditions and have slowed beef herd liquidations.

NORTH CENTRAL: Heavy rains over much of the area filled stock tanks and provided needed moisture for small grains. Early planted wheat and oats are making good growth. The rains halted peaunut harvesting; some peanuts have been baled for hay due to poor crop prospects. Pecan harvesting has started; crop prospects are poor. Some livestock remain in poor condition.

Residents upset at name of street

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Saying they are tired of being giggled at for living on "Gaywood Street," some Arlington residents are asking that the name of their street be changed.

They are particularly upset since it is near the site of a publicized police crackdown on homosexual activity.

Every resident of the one-block street near Randol Mill Park has signed a petition asking the city for a new street name.

"People laughed at us when we gave them our address," one homeowner complained.

Mexican gas imports are suspended

HOUSTON (AP) — Border Gas, Inc. will suspend natural gas purchases from Petroleos Mexicanos, the Mexican national oil and gas company, beginning Nov. 1, officials announced.

Officials for Border Gas, Inc., a consortium of six interstate gas pipeline companies, said Wednesday the move was made because of lower demand for natural gas in the U.S. market.

Border spokesman Tony Dehaas said both companies have agreed to meet periodically after Nov. 1 to discuss whether natural gas sales should resume.

Border began buying gas from Pemex in 1980, but has reduced its purchases by 60 percent since April 1983, Thomas said.

Teacher celebrates 81 years

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — Lenora Dorian Jones has been sitting on a piano bench for almost as long as she can remember. At the age of five, she began piano lessons at St. Joseph's School here on the island and has been playing ever since.

Now 72 years later she is celebrating her 61st anniversary as a teacher of voice and piano. Recently, old and new friends of Mrs. Jones got together for a reunion recital.

"I can't remember my first solo, but I played a duet called "The Crescent Waltz," said Mrs. Jones. "I still have the music to that song." She wonders now how a 5-year-old was able to play such a difficult piece of music.

As her mother before her, Mrs. Jones was born in an upstairs room in the high-rise white frame family home on 23rd Street. The house also serves as her music studio, where she began giving formal piano lessons at about the age of 16, although she taught a few of her classmates and friends at an even earlier age.

The room in which she was born has been used by five generations of girls and is now occupied by Mrs. Jones' great-granddaughter, Jennifer. Mrs. Jones, whose only daughter is deceased, shares her home with her son-in-law and her granddaughter's family.

The old screened-in-porch on the southwest side of the house was once used by the family in the evenings. Mrs. Jones recalls they would sit and visit with neighbors and catch the southern breezes from the Gulf. "In those days we knew all our neighbors," she said.

Now the porch has been enclosed and serves as a small waiting room for students who take piano from Mrs. Jones. It would be difficult to count the students she has taught, but Mrs. Jones says she is now on the second and third generations of some of her former pupils. Many a student can recall waiting in the little alcove either for their lesson or to be picked up by parents.

The music studio is through the hall to the left. Seated at the grand piano, where she plays and students get to practice at recital time, Mrs. Jones tells about some of the mementos and keepsakes scattered about the room. The items reflect a colorful family history, gifts from family and friends and her love of music. Stacks of piano workbooks and sheet music fill the shelves and another upright piano for students' lessons, as well as a small work table and chair fill the room to capacity.

Proud of her family heritage, Mrs. Jones, explains that her maternal great-grandfather's family came here from Germany in the early 1840s, and her father's family from France soon after that. She still has her grandfather's service revolver from when he was in the Galveston police force, along with other family keepsakes and certificates. Her father's family — except a twin brother and other members who were in New Orleans — all were lost during the disastrous 1900 hurricane that killed thousands in Galveston.

She says her father, Charles Dorian, retrieved the bodies of his family and buried them himself. In 1906 her father married her mother, Agnes Pfuger, and moved into the family home on 23rd street. In 1907 Lenora, named for her great-great-grandmother, was born.

Mrs. Jones graduated at age 16 from St. Joseph's High School, the first parochial high school in Galveston which opened in 1876 and finally closed in 1926. The school was a co-educational, nondenominational institution advertised in the early 1900s as "St. Joseph's German and English Catholic School for boys and girls." It was operated by the Sisters of Divine Providence.

These sisters were the ones who taught and instilled into her the love of music, she says.

Felony charges are filed here

Snyder police jailed a 25-year-old California man on charges of felony possession of marijuana early Thursday morning.

According to reports, Eric Knight Heasley of North Highlands, Calif. was aparently driving through Snyder at 2:48 a.m. Thursday when he was stopped by city police for a routine traffic violation.

Officers discovered a quantity of suspected marijuana in his vehicle, believed to be approximately one pound.

The Heasley vehicle was stopped on College Ave. near the intersection of 32nd St. and College.

He remained in Scurry County Jail at 11 a.m. Thursday in lieu of a $3,000.

Investigators also reported filing additional charges of possession of prohibited drug paraphernalia and possession of a controled substance against the suspect.

In more routine action, city police jailed seven suspects Wednesday evening on charges of public intoxication.

Injuries noted following mishap

A Snyder woman was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital for treatment of minor injuries following a two-vehicle traffic accident Wednesday afternoon.

According to reports, Shirley Faye Geer of Rt. 2, Snyder was taken to the local hospital by private vehicle after her 1970 Ford was in collision with a 1974 GMC Blazer driven by Debbie Lynn Cooper of Rt. 3, Snyder.

The accident occurred around 6:32 p.m. in the 3600 Block of Ave. M.

Square dancers slate event

Reminiscent of the do-si-do and alemande lefts performed by our forebears, the routines have expanded through the years to include over a hundred movements which are musically interwoven into the caller's numbers.

With each square of four couples decked out in various designs, the coliseum floor becomes a kaleidoscope of moving color with over 600 people executing calls in unison.

Rounds are executed by couples forming a large circle around the floor with each performing to the cuer's calls.

Squares will be called by John Gorski of Lawton, Okla and Sleepy Browning. Gorski, the regular caller for four clubs, is on the board of Oklahoma State Callers Association; president of the Red River Callers Association and is on the staff at Fun Valley, South Fork, Colo. This is the second year for him and his wife, Judy, to return to Snyder for this event.

Browning is the regular caller for the Sparkler City Squares. He and his wife, Rogene, live in Jayton. Much in demand at festivals, he also calls for clubs in Abilene and Lubbock and at Fun Valley in Colorado. He is a member of the National Callers Lab and records on the Bogan Recording label.

Ron and Marilou Webb, who will cue the rounds, live in Lubbock. They have taught at several local festivals and cued in Texas and New Mexico.
