Named as the top two honor students of the 1962 graduating class at Hereford High School are Drew Kershen and Kathryn McClain. It was announced this week by L. B. Russell, high school principal.

Both of the students, in taking the top honor of the graduating class, maintained an "A" semester average during their three years of high school and participated in extra-curricular activities.

In announcing the honors, Kershen was named the valedictorian of the class, and Miss McClain as the salutatorian. Both of the students will speak during the commencement exercises.

Kershen is the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kershen. Since he maintained a high average during high school, he was named as member of the National Honor Society.

He served as a probationary member of the society for one year as a sophomore and then became a member during his senior year.

When the Key Club was chartered at the school, Kershen was elected as the first president of the service club. He has helped to build the club during the year into one of the outstanding groups serving the school.

Kershen has also participated in the athletic program of the school and lettered three years on the varsity baseball team.

Among his other activities, Kershen was an active member of a county 4-H club until a year ago and is an active member of his church's youth group.

Named as the salutatorian of the class is Kathryn McClain, 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. Vinita McClain, Wildorado. She has kept a straight "A" semester average during her three years of high school.

She has been a member of the National Honor Society for the past two years and was a probationary member as a sophomore for one year. Sophomores are accepted for membership in the organization from the top five per cent of the class.

Dameron Park Site For Pony League Tryouts

Dameron Park will be swarming with boys and baseballs again this week. Tryouts for the Hereford Pony League get started at 5:30 p.m. Monday, May 7, and will continue through Thursday.

All boys 13 and 14 years of age who want to play baseball are asked to report to tryouts. This includes boys who are returning from last year's teams. League president Gwynne Owen said that boys who have not filled out application blanks may do so at the first workout.

Following try-outs, team managers will select their rosters at a player auction Friday, May 11, with results announced the following day. There will be 15 boys on each team.

First game of the season will be May 28.

Coaches this season will include: Tigers, Don McNeese and Dale Wynn; White Sox, Roy Hartman and Jerry Murphy; Red Sox, Raymond Lueb, Glen Watts and Gene Cope; and Indians, Charley Sowell and Wayne Stark.

HEARING DATE SET

Brucellosis Control Asked In Petition From Cattlemen

Notification was received here Friday that a petition had been received from Deaf Smith County asking for Type II Brucellosis Control, according to a letter from Dr. R. G. Garrett, executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission.

The letter stated that a proclamation had been issued by the governor and a hearing on brucellosis control for the county set for June 11 at 9:30 a.m. in the Texas Animal Health Commission office in Austin.

All those in favor of or who are opposed to the designation of the county as a Type II Brucellosis Control Area are invited to attend the hearing.

The announcement concluded, saying: "If no opposition is presented, Deaf Smith County will be designated as a Type II Area effective Aug. 11."

In explaining the Type II control program, Lefty Thomas, county agent, pointed out that it calls for the testing of all dairy cattle, all pure-bred beef cattle NAMED BOYS' STATE representatives from Hereford are David Dowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dowell, and Austin Hodges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hodges Jr. David's trip is being sponsored by the Hereford Lions Club with Dennis being selected by the American Legion Post. and 20 per cent of all other cattle over three years old in each herd.

An area is certified as controlled, he continued, when not over one percent of the area cattle population in not more than five per cent of the herds is found to be infected.

In discussing the requirements for certification of an area as a Brucellosis control area, Thomas added: "I don't think Deaf Smith County will have any trouble in getting the Type II Control Area designation."

Infected herds will be quarantined and "reactors" must be removed, Thomas said. The herds will be tested again and must produce a "clean test" in not less than 120 days.

As he explained the regulations, Thomas commented that "reactors" — cattle showing a reaction to the test — must be branded with the letter "B", isolated, and sent to slaughter.

"In hardship cases," he emphasized, "infected cattle may be retained for one year provided they are isolated. The herd must be tested every six months except calves under six months, animals that have been vaccinated by a veterinarian at less than 30 months of age and steers and sprayed heifers.

Thomas pointed out that cattle designated as reactors may be tested again. The test must be made by an inspector from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The request for the test, he commented, must be filed within 10 days after the animal is known as a reactor. A test will be made within 30 days, according to the regulations, and the (Continued on page 3)

Around Town

After a lot of hard work, Little League president Rocky Lee has gotten five more coaches lined up for additional Minor League teams. All boys who did not make a Minor League squad are to report Tuesday, May 8, behind the Little League field for one day of try-outs before being assigned to a team. Starting time is 5:30 p.m. Coaches for the additional teams include C. E. Leasure, Dennis Sims, Gerald McCaskill, Bill Brady and H. A. Tuck. These teams will play each other and probably will not compete with the other six Minor squads.

Mrs. Claude McDougal, head of the American Cancer Society in this county, reported this week that collections so far had totaled $2,127.50. This is just $62.41 short of the goal. Anyone wishing to contribute, who has not been contacted, is asked to contact Mrs. McDougal or mail her a check.

Jaycees To Sell Seatbelts Sunday

Members of the Hereford Junior Chamber of Commerce will be selling and installing seat belts at the Hereford Community Center from 1-7 p.m. Sunday.

As a part of the month-long campaign to install seat belts in every auto in Deaf Smith County, the Jaycees have set up the sales location Sunday afternoon as a public service, according to Dale Barkley, Jaycee president.

Jaycees will install the belts that are sold Sunday, it was pointed out.

The club has joined in the drive which was set up by the Safety Sub-committee of the Deaf Smith County Program Building Committee.

"A seat belt in every vehicle" has been the goal of the drive which has enlisted the aid of many local civic clubs.

Jaycees will have a wide selection of belt colors. There will be two belt styles, going at different prices which include installation.

Charges And Suits Fill Court Lists

Three Hereford men have been named in Federal Court suits filed to collect unpaid notes on mortgages for ammonia tanks. The suits were filed by finance companies.

School's Study Group Asked To View Sketches

A meeting of the special Citizens' Study Committee on Hereford public schools has been called for 8 p.m. Monday, May 7, in the Hereford High School cafeteria.

Purpose of the meeting will be to look at sketches of proposed new additions to Hereford schools. It was called by Denzil Pullum, chairman of the committee. He urged all members to attend, in order that they might see what has been done and find out how closely it followed suggestions made by the group in February after a two-month study.

In turn, one of the men filed eight suits in 69th District Court in Hereford seeking to have mortgage agreements on tanks set aside on the grounds of fraud. He also is seeking $100,000 exemplary damages on each of the eight cases.

Walter E. Heller and Company of Chicago filed suit in Federal Court in Amarillo last week against E. A. Edwards of Hereford. It seeks payment of $138,966 due on a mortgage Edwards allegedly signed on Aug. 12, 1961, for 180 1,000-gallon Superior Manufacturing Co. ammonia tanks and trailers. The lease was to General Leasing of Fort Wayne, which assigned to the note to Heller the same day.

Edwards last month filed suit against Heller seeking to cancel the obligation.

CIT finance company has sued J. D. Greeson for $18,178.24 in Federal Court in Amarillo for the unpaid balance of a note allegedly signed July 8, 1960.

CIT also sued John Gallagher for $94,534.31 for two mortgage notes which are now delinquent. S. T. Thornton, now of Hereford (Continued on page 3)

Deaf Smith County voters, more than 2600 of them, turned out to vote on a massive slate. In the Democratic primary, they gave approval to the office-holders seeking election. The first county Republican primary turned out just slightly more than 100, compared with the 2500 who voted in the Democratic primary.

Marshall Formby got an overwhelming vote of confidence from his former place of residence as he sought the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. He polled 1851 votes, with the next highest candidate getting just 187. Two of the six candidates for governor failed to get a hundred votes in the county.

On the county level, Treasurer Velma Hodges won out over Lois Rutter. Mrs. Hodges polled 1442 votes, while Mrs. Rutter got 950. And Justice of the Peace Berry Miles got 1288 votes against 998 for his opponent, Jim Neill.

R. Donald Hicks got the nod as the incumbent County Commissioner from Precinct Four as he got 142 votes more than his opponent as both sought the office of County Commissioner from Precinct Two. The present Commissioner did not announce for re-election. Latham got 877 votes, while Austin Rose Jr. added up 687.

Generally, voters in both primaries turned down the proposals on horse racing, either controlled or uncontrolled. In the Democratic vote, they rejected the proposal to allow pari-mutuel betting on horse racing, by a vote of 1276 to 696. The second proposal, for controlled racing, was rejected by a vote of 1218 to 736. Democratic voters, by a slight majority, said they favored abolishing the poll tax. Some 1033 voted in favor of abolishing the poll tax as a requirement for voting while 950 were in favor of retaining it.

With approximately 750 votes still out in Parmer County, the issue was still in doubt for the Democratic nominee for State Representative of the 91st District. Incomplete results show Bill Clayton of Springlake ahead, with B. M. Nelson of Dimmitt likely to be in a run-off for the nomination. Bill Millen of Muleshoe was third.

Incomplete results show Clayton with 3961, Nelson has 2775 and Millen has 1877.

In Deaf Smith County, Nelson got 914, Clayton polled 721 and Millen had 448. In Lamb County Clayton tallied 2097, while Millen had 607 and Nelson had 558. In Bailey County, Millen had 420, Clayton got 361 and Nelson had 161.

Carver Heads UF Campaign; Set Budget Hearing

Russell E. Carver, president of the Hereford State Bank, has been named campaign chairman of the 1962 Deaf Smith County United Fund drive. The announcement was made Friday, along with details on an upcoming budget hearing for the group.

Making the announcement was Wayne Thomas, UF president for the year. He said that Carver would have charge of directing the annual campaign which will raise about $26,000 for local organizations. Carver succeeds Henry Sears, who directed the successful campaign in 1961.

A meeting of the budget and admissions committee of the county United Fund will be held at 8 p.m. Monday, May 14, in the Hereford Community Center. All organizations seeking United Fund allocations are asked to submit written budget requests, Carver said. This includes organizations now participating in the United Fund.

Thomas explained that each organization now included, and those others which might wish to be included, must submit information to the committee as to what its operation has been in past years and what it will do with funds which might be allocated.

There are eight local organizations now receiving operating monies from the county United Fund. These include Little League, Pony League, Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Hereford Council on Alcoholism and Hereford Athletic Association.

SHOWS AGAIN AT ZIEGFELD NEW YORK — The Ziegfeld Theater is to become a legit house again — but only temporarily.

The ornate memorial to Florenz Ziegfeld has had a varied career as a cinema and TV studio since first opening in 1924 as showcasemusical comedy. With expiration of a long-term lease to the National Broadcasting Company, the owner, Billy Rose, plans to make it available once more for stage shows. "My present plans are to operate it for a couple of years as a legitimate theater," Rose said. "After that, I'm afraid the land is too valuable for the theater to be able to continue to support itself there." The Ziegfeld is at 6th Ave. and 54th St.

'CAESAR' RESET

NEW YORK — Cuban dictatorship is causing a theatrical flurry here over Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar."

An off-Broadway group recently staged a modern dress version of the bard's original text which was described as "depicting the crisis of Cuba today."

A somewhat freer adaptation was submitted to Broadway in inspection under the title "Infidel Caesar." The locale was less precisely given as "a Caribbean island at the present time."

son got 185. In Castro County, Nelson added up 957 while Clayton got 449 and Millen had 140.

In the governor's race, Formby carried every precinct but he got his largest margin in the three biggest boxes in the county. In Precinct One, he got 355 votes with the next closest getting 28. In Precinct Two, he marked up 686 votes while the next best was 90. It was more of the same in Precinct 11, where he tallied 527 and the next candidate got 49.

In the County Treasurer's race, Mrs. Hodges carried nine of 11 boxes. And both of those were small ones. Berry Miles carried every box in his race for another term as Justice of the Peace.

Incumbent Donald Hicks carried three of four boxes, with the Palo Duro Church vote going heavily for Allred.

In the wide-open race for the Precinct Two Commission Job, Latham carried both boxes and the absentee ballots.

On the Republican slate, Jack Cox carried four boxes, Roy Whittenburg got one and they split the absentee vote.

Due to errors in reporting returns, the Republican vote on that party's three proposals are incomplete. However, they also voted against horseracing and generally against any type of Federal or State Park on Padre Island.

He talked on "The Care and Treatment of Tourists and the Coming Symphonic Drama in Palo Duro Canyon." Cowart and other convention delegates saw a performance of "Ramona" staged in an amphitheater 50 miles from Banning. The play opened in 1923 and last year attracted more than 30,000 people during its six-night run last year. The Palo Duro production, of course, will be running five or six nights a week for about 10 weeks during the summer. That could add up to a lot of people.

Biggest one of course, is money. The board is trying to build large enough for at least five years, yet is trying to keep costs down as much as possible.

We got some competition on our rhyme-writing. Mrs. Virgil Dodson brought us a poem written by one of her fifth-graders: Kim Williamson. He insists on writing free verse, while I generally favor something that rhymes, even if the pronunciation has to be stretched a bit. Anyhow, here is his poem, called

ed My Dream:
As I sit upon a grassy hill,
Where the water are so still,
As I look up into the sky,
A cloud floats by,
And in the oak, above my head,
Is an arrow still unbroke,
From a friend who won't sin.

Firemen Conclude Campaign For Ranch Fire Equipment

A seven-year drive by the Panhandle Fireman's Association to get fire protection for the nearly 300 boys at Cal Farley's, nationally-famous Boys Ranch comes to a climax Saturday, May 12, when the new fire station will be dedicated during the Association's semi-annual meeting at the Ranch.

The firemen of Hereford have joined hands with approximately 1,200 others of the Panhandle and South Plains to present the Ranch with a 500-gallon pumper truck and a 300-gallon booster fire truck. Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Hafner of Chillicothe donated the funds for the fire station which has been completed.

An estimated 75 communities are expected to be represented by the firemen when they will be the guests of the boys and Ranch personnel during their convention. All but five of the towns have volunteer fire departments.

Officers of the association are Cliff Delano, Dalhart, president; Dub Reeves, Hereford, second vice - president; Paul Sublett, Shamrock, first vice-president; V. E. Hafner, secretary-treasurer; and Glenn Phillips of Amarillo, assistant secretary.

Earl Phillips of Hereford is chairman of the fund-raising committee. The four area sub-chairman are R. A. Massey of Dumas, John Wilkinson of Canadian, Thomas Clayton of Memphis, and Ralph Shirley of Friona.

To raise funds for the 500-gallon pumper the firemen sold candy, chewing gum, fire extinguishers and other products for the $12,650 that was needed. The Howe Manufacturing Co. of Anderson, Indiana, built the pumper at cost. The 300-gallon booster was built by Lubbock sketches will be Lubbock architect Herbert Brasher. All members of the school board are to be present to answer questions or explain what the building program will be expected to accomplish.

Elementary School. The high school would be expanded to the north with a two-story addition that would include eight classrooms and two science laboratories. Also added would be a clothing lab for homemaking classes, girls' health and physical education facilities and other special classrooms. The present vocational agricultural building would be expanded to provide more room for various shop and crafts classes. A major addition would be made at Northwest, with 17 more classrooms, revamped administration area and a large multi-purpose room that would include two cafeteria lines.

Thomas pointed out that movement of cattle between certified areas and those which have no brucellosis control program is not regulated. However, movement of cattle from a non-regulated area to an area with a control program is controlled, he commented.

Since this area is not controlled now, Thomas stated, it is hurting Deaf Smith County as far as sales in controlled areas are concerned. Thomas pointed out that there will be no charge for the testing program. Costs will be limited to the work involved in cooperating with the Texas Animal Health Commission officials.

It has been pointed out by the commission, he concluded, that testing will be done at a time when it is most convenient with the cattle producers.

ford, has been sued by CIT in Federal Court for $19,872 in payments and attorneys' fees for allegedly defaulting on chattel mortgage payments. The chattel papers were filed in Parmer County.

J. D. Greeson has filed papers in District Court seeking to have his mortgage contracts annulled on the grounds that they were obtained by fraud. Named as defendants in one or more of the suits were seven finance companies, Coleman D. McSpadden, Associated Growers of Hereford, Harold E. Orr and Ruel Alexander of Amarillo, Superior Manufacturing Company, Lubbock Machine and Supply Company and Commercial Solvents. Also named in one of the suits was Robert K. Graham. He also seeks $100,000 exemplary damages on each suit.

Greeson filed against Humphries and Company of Lubbock to set aside a note allegedly signed about Sept. 15, 1960 for $58,250.16 payable in 36 months for 911,000 gallon ammonia tanks purchased from Lubbock Machine.

His suit against CIT is for $33,455.36, payable in 36 months from July 8, 1960, for 30 1,000-gallon ammonia tanks, one 8,000-gallon storage tank and purchased from Superior Manufacturing Company.

His suit against Pacific Finance is on a note for $99,216 payable in 48 months from Oct. 25, 1961. It was for 42 1,000-gallon tanks, 50 applicators, one 18,000-gallon storage tank and one 12,000-gallon storage tank.

His suit against Associates Investment Company Inc. is for a note for $44,220, payable in 60 months from Sept. 13, 1961. It covered 20 applicators, and 32 1,000-gallon tanks.

Greeson's suit against Kuykendall Investment Co. of Lubbock was in three parts. One part covered a note for $40,000 dated Sept. 15, 1960 for 60 monthly payments for 73 1,000-gallon tanks. Second was on a note for $45,792.00 from Feb. 12, 1962, and payable over 36 months for 72 1,000-gallon tanks. Third part was on a note for $17,600 for 36 months from March 20, 1962, for ten ammonia-acid applicators and ten ammonia applicators.

His suit against Heller was in two parts. First was on a note for $213,556.20 payable in 60 months from Sept. 15, 1961, for 206 1,000-gallon tanks. Second was on a lease contract dated Feb. 20, 1962, from General Leasing to Greeson, assigned to Heller. It was for $24,288 payable over 60 months. Greeson says he has no copy of this lease agreement.

Final suit was filed by Greeson against McSpadden and First Acceptance Division of James Talcott Inc. of Minneapolis, Minn. It is for a note in the amount of $83,200.20 payable in 60 months from Sept. 15, 1960, for 116 1,000-gallon tanks.

By JIMMIE GILLETTE

Well, the election is over, and the average old boy can't see a lot of difference. Candidates are not average. Some of them are glad and some are sad, but 10 years from now I doubt if they will be too upset. Fact is, the fellow who lost might be the luckiest one after all is said and done.

Dandelions are something else. They are still with us, and likely will continue to be unless the general population is willing to listen to A. S. Higgins, who sends me two sure-fire methods of eradication. No. 1, he has a neighbor, a widow, who likes to eat the things. He says just ship them freight paid, and she will be glad to have them. Mr. Higgins indicates that some of the other neighbors are taking up the fad — and vows that the widow says she would rather have dandelions than lettuce — anytime. If you don't want to package the dandelions and pay the freight, he says the simple thing to do is feed them to the chickens. The only trouble with this solution is that you have to cut them up into thin strips so the chickens will think that they are green worms.

Mr. Higgins, who seems to know all of the answers, further advises not to get upset about the price of haircuts. He says to have your wife place a bowl over your head and clip the edges. If there are any edges, you didn't need a haircut in the first place!

I have been wanting to ask Florence Traweck if those geese she imported to weed cotton would also eat dandelions, but every time I see her she is talking politics — and I can't get

In a word edgewise. Maybe now that the primary is over I can find out. If a man could buy a goose, fatten him all summer on dandelions, then eat the goose for Thanksgiving, he would really be on the way to success — including a big saving on the cost of his annual turkey.

Marcus Latham and Jack Bradley tell me they never saw so many pheasants as we now have in the country. Jack says if they don't get drowned in the rain he is predicting May 20, we will have a bumper crop. He also says if it doesn't rain by May 20, it will be a really dry year, because that is the date that tells the story in this country.

Meanwhile, I hear a lot of talk about the early lettuce crop which Joe Deavenport is growing. The lettuce is an early, resistant-to-hot-weather variety, developed in Arizona — and if it does well here, it may easily make a tremendous difference in the entire economy of the country. The crop comes off between June 10-20, when prices are good and the demand is strong. It could open a new vista for the territory — and reports have it that Joe's 1962 crop "couldn't look better".

More than half of the cotton is planted, and Jr. Rose has already thinned his beets, all of which are good indications for the year.

I overheard Mrs. Doug Pittman, just back from foreign travels, telling someone that Hong Kong and Bangkok were probably the two favorite cities she visited on the tour. This was interesting to me, because I have heard so many people say the same thing. It also set me to thinking how many area people have been abroad in recent years, and I decided we live in a rather cosmopolitan community. When you include the World War II veterans, along with Mexico and Canada, it is hard to find anyone who has not set foot outside the Continental United States. Even characters like Dub Reeves and Pappy Tinnin get across the border occasionally.

I was most surprised at the little amount of interest in Hereford over the horse race vote. In most other Panhandle papers, folks were publishing ads galore against the bill, but the only one published here was for it. All in all, it just doesn't sound like Hereford.

Monday is Dollar Day again, and it looks as if the merchants have gone all out. I notice a couple of places advertising specials on canvas gloves, which is a surety trick during Clean-Up week. Last year I developed some blisters right off, and managed a neat bit of gold bricking. It is gruesome to think what some of those dry goods boys will do to a friend just to make a sale. Furthermore, I wish the banks would open earlier. I ran out of matches the other morning and almost had a nicotine fit before 9 a. m.

Carlos Vaughn is the first bonafide World Fair tourist I have run across. He has his plans all set, and figures on having the time of his life.

Right now I would guess that the high school seniors are about the busiest people in Hereford. In addition, they figure to have more problems than the average person. Graduation, like a lot of other things, has changed tremendously in the past couple of decades, and only those who are blessed with seniors in their immediate families can appreciate the modern day experience. Finding a place to park, for instance, is a problem few of the parents faced at graduation time — and there are many other modern woes.

Meanwhile, if your wife turns on a water sprinkler outside the front door, and installs another at the back door, then remarks, "Now, doesn't that help cool things off", it is time to start thinking about that annual chore of putting up the air conditioner.

Hereford Horses Take Honors At Cattle-King Show

Two Hereford-owned cutting horses took honors at the annual Cattle-King Horse and Colt Show Thursday in Paducah. "Hollywood Lin", owned and ridden by Gayle Borland, took first in the registered junior cutting event, and then tied for first in the open cutting division. In the open cutting, the Hereford horse shared top honors with "Tame Miss Typo", owned by Robert A. Harris of Navasota, which had taken first in the senior registered cutting contests. Another Hereford cutting horse, "Showdown Jean", owned by O. G. Hill Jr., shared in a three-way tie for third in the senior registered cutting event. The two horses competed with 81 entries in the concluding performances of the 20th annual Paducah show.

METHOD FACES THE CLASSICS
NEW YORK (AP) — Lee Strasberg, director of the Actors' Studio, says the time has come for young American performers "to face classic roles" in public performance.
The move, he says "would end some of the criticism that Method Acting has received." Its naturalistic aspects, which contrast with traditional formal acting style, he feels have been overexaggerated.
THEATRE BRIEFS FILLERS SEEKING BRECHT RIGHTS
NEW YORK (AP) — Producer Cheryl Crawford is joining the current vogue for the plays of Bertolt Brecht.
On a recent trip to Europe, Miss Crawford conferred with the late dramatist's son, Stefan. Having previously obtained rights for production here of "Mother Courage," she is seeking performance rights to three other Brecht works, "Saint Joan of the Stockyards," "A Man's a Man" and "The Caucasian Chalk Circle," not previously done here.

Crosthwait at the piano; "Old Man River" by Kern, a piano solo by Mrs. J. R. Deadline Set For Windbreak Trees By SCS

The Board of Supervisors of the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District is announcing that the deadline is May 15 for making application for trees for windbreaks. Applications may be obtained at the Soil Conservation Service and Extension Service offices.

Farmers and ranchers interested in securing trees for windbreaks are urged to make application immediately so the trees can be delivered as soon as possible.

Research has shown the value of windbreaks. The Lakes State Forest Experiment Station conducted experiments in Nebraska and Kansas. Exact fuel requirements were recorded in identical test houses.

One house was protected from north winds only and the other was exposed to the full sweep of wind. A constant house temperature of 70 degrees was maintained in both. The experiment showed that the amount of fuel used in the house protected from north winds was 2.02 per cent less than that used in the unprotected house.

A well located windbreak protects buildings and livestock from north and west winds. Such evergreens as Red Cedar and Arizona Cypress are very effective for this purpose, and they are the two that can be ordered at this time.

Yellow Pages Representatives
Call on Hereford

Starting tomorrow, six Yellow Pages representatives—important members of our telephone team—will be in Hereford to call on businessmen and to discuss the many benefits of Yellow Pages advertising. Since I can't get around to introduce them to each of you personally, I thought you might appreciate "meeting" them in this column.

They are Carl Gauggel, E. A. Little, Larry Farmer, Richard Graham, Frank Scott, and Robert Seifert.

These gentlemen represent many years of Yellow Pages advertising knowledge and experience. They have specific information—facts and figures about the growth of businesses and changing economic conditions in Hereford. These facts and figures can help businessmen make the most of their Yellow Pages advertising program.

Easy Way to Shop

You know, national surveys show that 9 out of 10 people turn to the Yellow Pages when they're ready to buy. This is not hard to understand when you consider that the Yellow Pages are in virtually every home and place of business—available night and day, 365 days a year.

People just naturally reach for the Yellow Pages to find what they want and where to buy it. In this way the Yellow Pages save them time and energy. Shopping the Yellow Pages is the easy way to shop.

Mister Businessman:

Ask yourself these questions:

Can your customers and prospects find you when they reach for the Yellow Pages?

Can you afford not to be represented under each product, service or brand name item you sell?

Can you think of a better place to advertise to reach people who are ready to buy?

Talk it over with the Yellow Pages representative when he calls on you. He'll help you work out a program that fits your business needs.

Don't forget that the Yellow Pages are "whose who" of business firms in Hereford. They will be in use by hundreds of telephone customers here for many months to come. Your name prominently listed in an ad or listing will be read by hundreds of people. Some of these are sure to be prospects for your products or service. Again, can you afford not to be there?

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

'Hope And Despair' Subject Of Study

Miss Viola Chisholm was hostess to members of the La Plata Study Club on April 20 in her home. Mrs. Raymond White, president, was the presiding officer for the session.

The program chairman, Mrs. Viola Chisholm, introduced Mrs. J. M. Madison who gave the program on "Hope and Despair". Her opening words were, "In all things it is better to hope than to despair." sector of Viet Nam for the southern Nationalist sector. She quoted, "I live on hope as I think do all who come into this world", and "Our hope is ever livelier than despair, our joy livelier and more abiding than our sorrows are". "To live with both hope and despair is the fate of man everywhere." Quoted from "Poor Richard" was "What's the use of a new-born child? To raise the dead heart? — to set wild the fettered hope? All men and all life alternate between hope and despair." Mrs. Madison ended the program with a cheerful note: "Hope carries us forward for despair is brief — hope wins out in the end."

The blood typing program was discussed and an announcement made that the next meeting would be in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

Members present were Mesdames Bill Thompson, Louis Woodford, Ullin Stree, Jay Boston, T. E. Seigler, Jack Brown, George Warner, Frank Prowell, Raymond White, J. M. Madison, Joe Smith, Viola Chisholm, Leroy Aven and Lloyd McGee.

CHANGE IN NAME
NEW YORK (U) — The 48-year-old Church Peace Union, an organization of Protestants, Roman Catholics and Jews seeking to foster international peace, has changed its name to the Council on Religion and International Affairs.

BROTHER CALLED TURN
NEW YORK (U) — Just before the season started, St. Louis Cardinal third baseman Ken Boyer had this to say about Clete Boyer, his younger brother who plays third base for the Yankees:

"I think he's just now getting to the stage in his career where he will hit pretty good. He is getting to know the pitchers better. He missed two years by sitting on the bench because of his bonus."

In Clete Boyer's first nine games with the Yankees he led the champions with a .448 batting average on 13 hits.

VAIN AMBITIONS
NEW YORK (U) — Like Prometheus, mankind still is trying to steal the holy fire from the mountain of the supernatural, says Thomas Merton, philosopher and Roman Catholic monk in a book, "The New Man" published by Farrar, Straus and Cudahy.

CLASS RUNS TO FORM
NEW YORK (U) — The 11-horse Wood Memorial field at Aqueduct included only four winners of stakes. They finished among the first four colts.

Admiral's Voyage and Sunrise County finished in a dead heat but the latter, ridden by Willie Shoemaker was disqualified and placed second. Donut King came home third and Prego was fourth.

Previously, Admiral's Voyage won two Santa Anita stakes in January. He also took the Louisiana Derby in March. Sunrise County won the Seashore at Atlantic City last August. In March, Sunrise County finished first in the Flamingo at Hialeah but was placed third for drifting out. Donut King won the California Thunderbird last October. Prego won the Flamingo on the disqualification of Sunrise County, mainly because he stayed close to the rail. In that race, Sunrise County bothered Ridan, third place finisher who was moved up to second.

TAABC Unit 10 Meets Tuesday

Unit 10 of the Texas Association of Accredited Beauty Culturists of Hereford met in regular session on Tuesday evening, May 1, at the Le Colfeur Beauty Salon.

Gladys Carroll, vice president, presided at the business meeting. Verna Terrett gave a report of the Great Plains Beauty Show held in Amarillo Sunday, April 29.

Jerry Kern of Amarillo, guest artist for the evening, gave a demonstration of a new hair trend, "dancing hair." Using a model, he did a contest style: a flip-up, with the hair standing high to the front and sides of the crown, with the rest of the hair being smooth, hugging the sides close to the ears. He also demonstrated dancing hair in a modified salon style.

Members from Dimmitt, Friona and Hereford were present. They were Lorene Tittle, Marie Hutton and Wayne Paschell, all of Dimmitt; Pat Fallwell and Dorothy Vaughn, both of Friona; Gayle McNeese, Verna Terrett, Pearlene Powell, Edith Hudson, Addie Stallings, Betty of Hereford. Jerry Kern of Amarillo was also present. Le Colfeur beauty operators served refreshments during the social hour.

Batley, Mary Helen Askew, Sunny Hudson, Lela Meharg, Jewel Hargraves, Molly Jo Schofield, Gladys Carroll, Peggy James and Carolyn Shelton, all

Now Is Time To Write Congressmen Your Ideas On Socialized Medicine

American Medical Association leaders and White House officials, including President Kennedy and Welfare Secretary Ribicoff, were far apart concerning Kennedy's proposed plan to handle medical care through Social Security.

As individuals, most of us can think of cases which would provide arguments on both sides of the controversy. We cannot escape, however, from the fact that Social Security is one of the most expensive and least stable portions of our 1962 economy; in addition, its benefits have been riddled with inflation — and the average American workman already feels that enough is being withheld from his salary each week.

The Brand definitely feels that any plan channeling through Washington can lead only toward further socialism, and minimum service in return. At the same time, we must admit to a need for medical assistance in certain income groups.

Frankly, we have no cure-all plan to offer on the question. We do feel that some sort of plan should be organized, sponsored and activated by members of the American Medical Association. Perhaps charity clinics, held on specific days, might provide a possible answer; after all the doctor is the one who stands to lose or gain the most. Unless something is initiated it seems inevitable that we will sooner or later face the introduction of Mr. Kennedy's proposals in some form or fashion.

Meanwhile, we do not feel that people want a Social Security plan. Supporting this idea was a nation-wide survey among newspapers in April. By an overwhelming majority the editors voted against medical aid plan as follows:

For 20%
Against 78%
No Answer 2%

In many instances, the editors may not vote the will of the community but, with such a huge majority involved, it is logical to believe that public thinking would be fairly well represented.

In addition to another withholding bite each week, the average American is prone to consider the fact that longevity and health in this country are well beyond those achieved in other nations. Why, he will ask, should I throw away a good condition for one which has resulted in chaos in other nations around the world?

And, without doubt, government intervention into the field of medicine will ultimately lead along the shortest road to socialized medicine.

Land Is Basis Of U.S. Growth

Despite the tremendous number of honors which have been heaped on Hereford students participating in 4-H and FFA programs, school and community leaders are worried about the sharp drop of interest these days in farm centered classes.

One of the reasons, they feel, centers around the fact that very few people live on the farms. Also to be considered is national emphasis currently placed on science and space achievements, especially since many other facets, including journalism, are on the wane. And we cannot help but wonder if our youngsters are being lured beyond the point of practical conclusions.

Agriculture, for instance, presents what is probably the nation's most dramatic challenge. No other field in the past 25 years has advanced so much. American agriculture is the one achievement which Russia and other communist nations envy most, and it is the one phase where they have been completely left behind.

Population statistics, at the same time, indicate that America will be hard pushed to feed and clothe the coming generations. The only way we can meet this challenge is through scientific application and pursuit of continued development in agriculture. More draft deferments were extended to farmers than any other profession or trade during World War II because food and fiber were often more important than even guns and ammunition.

And when it comes to enjoying life, we know of no other profession which has so much to offer, especially when land is already in the family. The farmers live in the biggest houses, drive the biggest automobiles, and do more world travelling than any other cross-section in the county, state or nation. Because a 1962 farmer must be an educated sound thinker, you will find more of them on boards and advisory committees than any other professional group you can name. Take the school board for instance, and check for yourself.

Boil it down any way you choose, and the greatest asset the United States has owned since its first settlers has been good land, and the ability to produce food and fiber. Without doubt, all achievements in other fields trace back primarily to the land and its people.

Ample food and clothing is the cherished hope of every leader, be he dictator, monarch or president. This is the one thing for which other nations strive. America has such an abundant reserve that we are often inclined to forget and appreciate our No. 1 blessing.

About Taxes —And Growth

A great number of people agree this country is falling behind in economic growth. Most of the other Western industrial nations are exceeding us, some by large margins if the surveys are correct. In these nations, generally, there is a shortage of workers; we face an unemployment problem.

Why should this be so? A summing up in a recent issue of U. S. News and World Report provides some of the big reasons.

One is corporation taxes, which are so high as to destroy incentive. Only Britain, with a 53.75 per cent tax, exceeds our tax of 52 per cent.

Another is double taxation of dividends—once at the corporation level, then the second time at the individual income level. U. S. stockholders are given a four per cent tax credit, and there is even a movement to eliminate that. In the other Western nations, credits ranging from 17.5 per cent to more than 38 per cent are given to stockholders for taxes paid or withheld by corporations. Thus, new investment, new pourings of financial lifeblood into their economies, is encouraged.

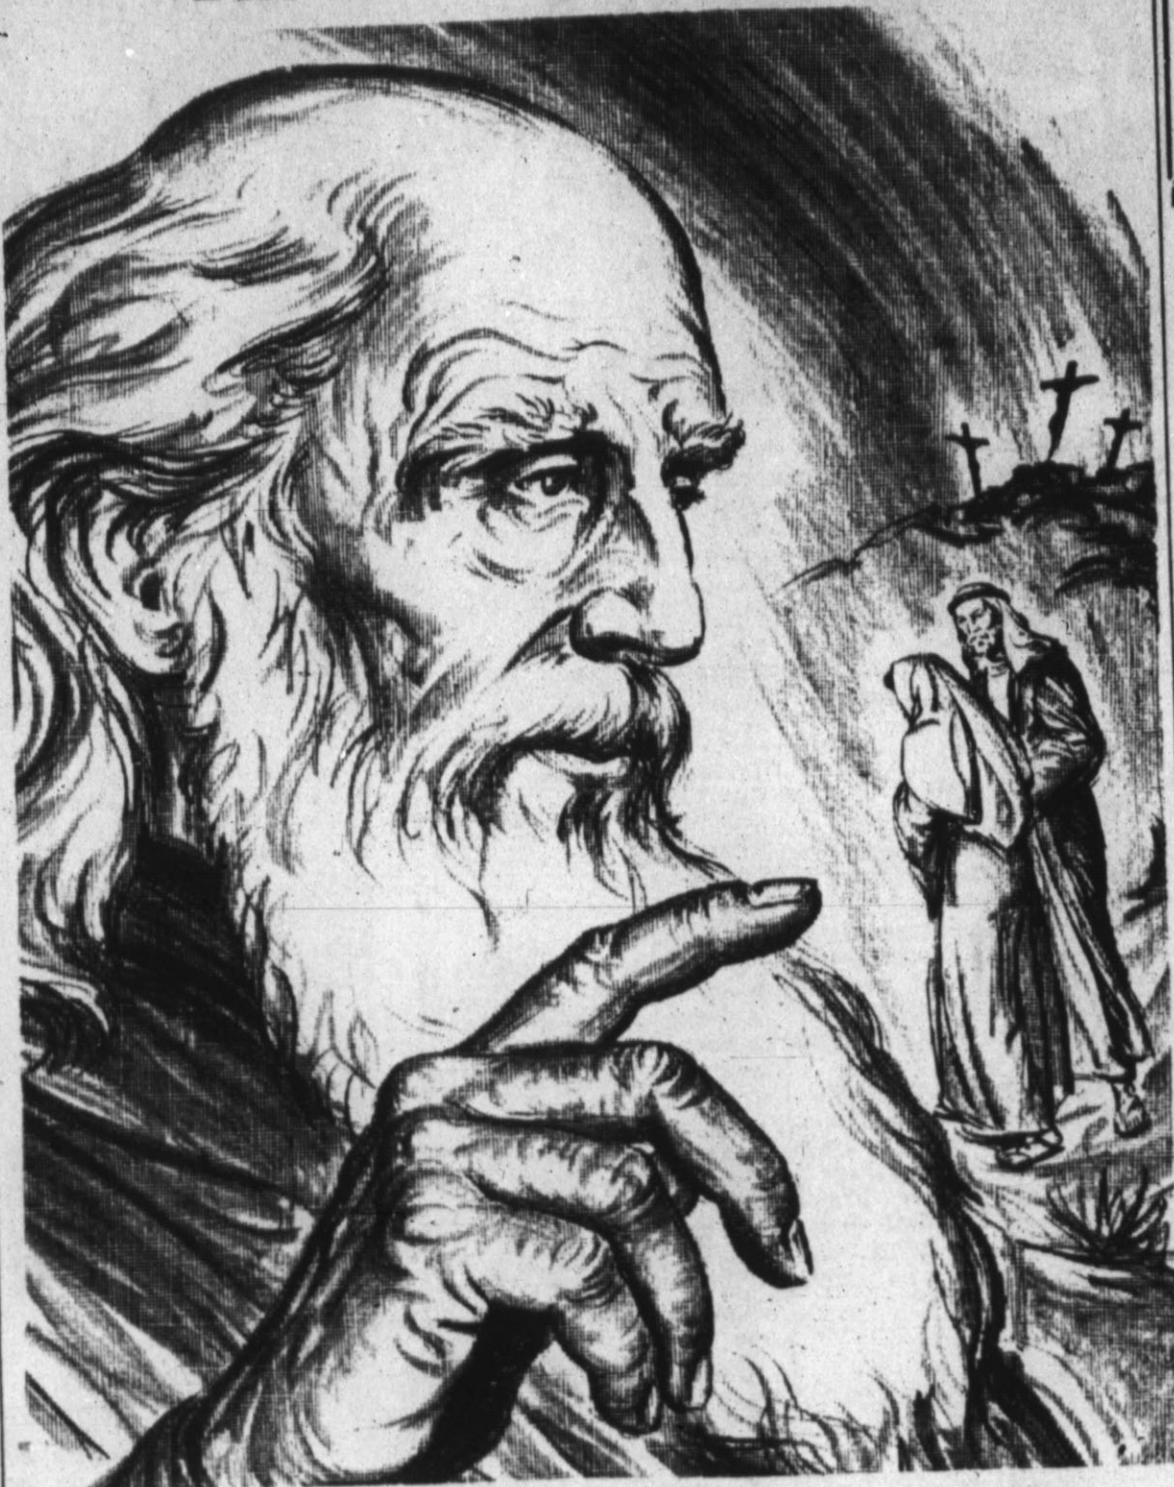

A third is the capital gains tax—and here, says U. S. News, "This country's rules are stiffer than those of any other major nation." Indeed, in most of the other countries only the capital gains of professional traders are taxed at all.

Finally, depreciation of plant and equipment, for tax purposes, is much more restricted here than elsewhere. Add that fact to the vastly increased costs of new tools—and the result is increasing industrial obsolescence.

We are falling behind, comparatively, in economic growth—and the primary reason is destructive tax laws and policies.

The POWER of FAITH

The Apostles—II
JOHN

Son of Thunder was the surname Jesus gave to John when he became one of the twelve disciples. But through the power of faith and love, John became known as the Apostle of Love.

Because of this love, it was John whom Jesus appointed to take care of Mary.

The older John became, the more he talked and wrote of love. "Beloved, let us love one another: for God is love. . . . There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear. . . . God is love, and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him. . . ."

When he became very old and feeble and could no longer preach, he would say again and again, "Little children, love one another." When asked why he repeated those words, he answered, "And if this alone be done, it is enough."

Ex-Seabee Has Large Collection Of Butterflies

By Mrs. R. L. Criswell

There are few things more beautiful than a cloud of monarch and viceroy butterflies in their flight migration on a bright fall morning. Many moths and butterflies migrate others form cocoons to spend the winter. There are many kinds of butterflies and moths in the United States and some of them are quite large and very beautiful.

Among the moths are the Cecropias, Black Witch and Fritillaries. Few of these grow more than four or five inches from wingtip to wingtip. The larger ones live in the tropics. However one, the Luna, is a pale green swallowtail moth with large phosphorescent spots. It is a native of Mississippi.

There is a distinct difference in a moth and a butterfly. The butterfly has a clubbed antennae, that is it is much heavier at the ends, something on the order of a club at its outer end and others have a distinct knot, while the moth has a featherlike antennae. When magnified they look like tiny feather plumes, others are threadlike, and some with a toothed edge.

The bright color of these two insects is made up of colored scales, some like a blade of grass, but more like a ruffled end of a feather. The butterfly scale looks much like the fins of a fish in miniature with the end indented in one or more scallops.

This story is all about butterflies and moths but other interesting phenomena as you will see J. J. Calrk of 316 Ave. J has a wonderful collection that is of great beauty and interest.

"I had never been particularly interested in butterflies until going to the Texas Centennial in Fort Worth in 1936," said Clark. "The exhibit was so beautiful that I formed a habit of watching them. I do not know names, species or other scientific data about them, but frame them for their spectacular beauty."

"I began my collecting in Beniaka, an island of the Solomon group; it's three degrees south of the equator and 30 miles from Guadalcanal.

"I was stationed there with the Naval Seabees for two years. I had quite a bit of spare time and spent most of it reading everything I could get my hands on. Many of the boys had been capturing the butterflies and framing them for trays to be sent home and in due time I became interested and learned how to prepare them for framing. The boys were partial to, and captured many of, the large blue ones as they have a spectacular beauty against the white background of the frames. The framing was simple.

"The butterfly or moth was placed in a 25 cent pocketbook, spreading the wings carefully in the proper position, then the book was closed after spraying the thorax with a bit of lighter fluid, which killed them almost instantly.

"Butterflies are so constituted that the wings lock in whatever position they are in when the butterfly dies. The proper position, I might add, was placing them head first with the lower wing tips to the outside of the leaves of the book, with head near the binding. They were now ready for framing.

"A snow white turkish towel was used as a background for the butterflies and the insects were placed carefully against the glass which held them in place. Proper arrangement was done as the number increased. The whiteness spotlighted the many beautiful colors, making an attractive tray or picture to be hung where their beauty could be enjoyed for a long time. Cotton makes a much better backing as the insect will sink into it without breaking. But the towels were our only backing and we used it gladly.

"It may not be very well known, but butterflies make and follow a pattern or trail in their daily search for food. They will follow this pattern each day and at almost the same time of day with very little variation. They will continue this pattern until something frightens them, then they will never return to this particular trail again, but will make a new one in their hunt for the different nectars from different plants.

BUILDING PERMITS JUMP

Building permits for April jumped to $169,350 for April according to records in the City Manager's office. This brings the total for the year to $365,000. These figures are considerably higher than for the same period last year when only $100,240 had been issued. The total for April 1961 was $14,400. At the present time there are 13 new homes either being constructed or laid out for construction in Crescent Park, three in Canyon Terrace and several others throughout the rest of the city. A spokesman for the building industry said this is the largest building boom in Littlefield, in the past several years. No apparent reason was given for the increase in building activity.

HOSPITAL DONATIONS URGED

An appeal was made this week for all persons who intend to donate to the Hospital Memorial Fund to mail or send in their checks immediately. The request was made at a called meeting of the Hall County Commissioners Court last Saturday by Evan E. Roberts, architect for the County Hospital. Roberts explained that the time had come when Phase No. 2 of the plans were to be submitted to Austin for approval or revision.

EQUIPMENT AND GIFTS ATTACKED

Randall County Commission candidate Hugh Porterfield presented two written charges to the Commissioner's Court this week aimed at his opponent, incumbent C. Y. Johnson of precinct 4. One, referring to bids on road graders bought in 1959, was disputed. The other, in connection with gifts to election officials, was held to be legal. "We would like to have a copy of the specifications for road graders purchased in July and August of 1959," Porterfield said, adding: "County auditor E. E. Cummings stated that he felt sure that bids were circulated but he could not find a copy of the specifications and only one bid." Johnson excused himself from the meeting and placed calls to companies involved in the bidding. He returned with information showing multiple bids were received.

SCHOOL RENOVATION CONTRACT LET

The Dimmitt School Board was elated last week to find that renovation of the present High School building would not exceed the amount they had to spend. Total amount of the bid to completely remodel the old building is $106,245. After their experience with bidding on the New High School building, there was considerable apprehension on the part of school officials. The program includes new floors, ceilings, lighting and heating systems, windows, doors, painting and other general renovations. Work will begin as soon as school is out and will be mostly completed by the beginning of the fall term. The contractor plans to have everything done except the final coat of interior paint and finishing the floors by school time. These two items will be completed the following summer.

CITY RETIRES LAST OF BOND ISSUE

Bond burning ceremonies at the City Hall on Thursday marked the end of the last of the City of Friona Refunding Bonds, series 1945. The last three of the thirty-five $1000 bonds which replaced bonds valued at $41,500 were redeemed by the city last week. The bonds were originally issued to finance city improvements and in particular to expand the water system. Retirement of the bonds was due on April 19 and were reclaimed at the Friona State Bank on April 19.

SCHOOL ACCIDENT INJURES FOUR

Accidental dropping of a nitric acid bottle during a laboratory experiment at Wheeler High School on Tuesday caused burns to three students and their teacher. One of the students was seriously burned receiving second-degree burns on his stomach, one leg, hands and arms. The biology instructor and two other students suffered only minor burns. The instructor reported the accident occurred while an experiment testing for proteins and sugar in food was in progress. He said the acid bottle was slick and slipped from a student's hands hitting the edge of the table.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his blindweed farm discusses scientific farming this week, a subject rather strange for him.

Dear Editor,

A lot of people have been talking about scientific farming, I've been noticing, and I have been giving this idea considerable thought.

They say a farmer has got to get scientific if he intends to make it on the land these days, I guess they're right in one way, but in another I'm afraid they'll find it takes more than science to farm. What more, I can't put my finger on right now.

I mean, scientific farming is sort of like scientific fishing. If you've got a high-powered boat to get you to the fishing spots and all the modern gear and tackle to catch them with, you can catch some fish, maybe more than the man sitting on the bank with a pole, but you won't catch them all the time.

You can have all the farming equipment available to man, all the scientific know-how on insects, poisons, fertilizers, soils, etc., but that doesn't mean you're going to wind up every year with a profit, or even with much of a crop some years.

I read in a newspaper last night where a farmer was talking to a group of city people studying the farm problem and he told them "It's not just a matter of intelligence as to whether you make a success of farming or not," and of course he's right. Intelligence helps, I suppose, I'm not too experienced along that line, but I doubt if you could say the most successful farmer around here is the most intelligent, any more than you could say the most successful business man in town is the most intelligent.

Or, take politics. Politics is sort of like farming. Intelligence helps, provided you haven't got too much, but there's a whole lot of luck involved. That is, the successful politician's luck, not necessarily the people's.

Understand, I'm in favor of scientific farming. It works, I know, I've seen my neighbors do it. But it takes more than science to farm, just as it takes more than science to raise a kid. What that extra is, don't ask me.

Yours faithfully,

two and learn which particular flower they stop on. Then go to that particular spot and remain perfectly still and the butterfly or moth will come and go as it is not afraid of man. It has been said they will light on a person who is still enough, but this never happened to me. I was too anxious to capture the insect and could not stand still long enough.

"Butterflies love the Banyan tree for its dense shade which made it much cooler than anywhere else. This tree grows tall and its branches are 50 to 60 feet long, with a root every so often to support its great length. (This is the tree in whose shade as many as seven thousand soldiers were hidden in ancient wars. The Japs used them also, for their wood is large but soft and a bullet will not ricochet but spend its power in one of the large roots, thus making an ideal place for them to hide. (A hit was almost impossible unless the bullet accidentally found a clear path to its victim). One of the boys rigged up a bosc's chair in which he would pull himself as high as he wished, strap himself in, rested his net on one knee and waited for the butterflies to come by. When Mr. Blue came fluttering along, up would go the net and the blue would be made ready for the frame, while the sailor again waited for another to come along.

"There was a particular butterfly that had a phosphorescent glow that I watched as it went on its pattern for food. I followed it almost an hour before getting near enough to capture it, but its beauty was worth the chase.

"Of course there was the one that got away. This one was a pure white with only a single black spot the size of a nickel. I watched it for a couple of days, then set about capturing it. I followed it and just when I brought my net up, it darted away with the net only touching one wing. It could easily have tipped into the net, but instead it tipped out and I lost it.

"There were fewer moths than butterflies and the fellows did catch quite a few of them. In preparing the moths we used the same procedure as for the butterflies, but after killing them with the lighter fluid the moth would be pinned firmly to something heavy enough that the ants could not move it. The ants would eat out every edible bit of the moth, leaving only the outer skin and the bony structure. Ants would never touch the moth or butterfly wings where the scales were covered with the colorful dust, but if the dust was removed the wing membrane would be eaten also.

"There are many curious and beautiful trees, one that we named the 'Christmas Tree' as its blossoms were about finger-length and a fire engine red. The trees were densely covered with the red blooms and were very fragrant. When the blooms dropped to the ground to a depth of six inches or more the whole area was heavy with the perfume until fermentation began. The trees were rather scarce, and widely scattered.

We were camped on what was called the dry side of the island, on the east. The west side was called the wet side and all the vegetation would be dripping with dew before the sun had been down an hour. The grass made a perfect green turf, but on the other side there was plenty of vegetation but no grass. If a road was made through the vegetation, but not used for six weeks, it was almost impossible to find it. The average rainfall is 245 inches per year.

"Everyone has heard of the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. I was lucky enough to see a perfect rainbow with only 500 feet between the bow's ends, and I can assure you that there was no pot of gold at either end for the two ends reached and rested on either side of the concrete runway, which was only 500 feet wide.

"On this particular day we were all busy on the runway when a small cloud came up just over us and almost at once we could see the rainbow. The colors were so brilliantly bright they were breathtaking and so near that we felt we could reach up and touch them with one hand. It was indeed curious.

"And speaking of phenomena, there was another instance at night. Nights in the tropics are especially beautiful, almost velvety-blue instead of black. This is caused by the moisture in the air. On this night there was a haze between us and the moon, very light and misty. The stars seemed only an arm's reach above us and the moon, very light above us. The brightness of the moon as it reflected on the mist, made a perfect circle of color, all the colors of the rainbow so bright and beautiful we could hardly believe our eyes, each color so perfect and glorious that we stood in awe. This rainbow around the moon is not a usual occurrence; I only saw it twice in the two years I was there and the other time the colors were beautiful but very faint. Only once in a great while are the colors so vivid and glorious.

"There were, of course, many pretty flowers but one very beautiful one grew in the sand some 50 or 60 feet back from the beach and always grew in sand. It was a sort of vine, as it ran along the sand several feet but was 20 to 30 inches tall. The flower was of many shades of pink. The leaves or petals were attached to a tiny base no larger than a dime and the colors varied in each flower. I gathered some of the seed and sent them to my mother and she raised some, but they were much smaller and the colors not so pretty, but they never made any seed so we eventually lost them.

"There were a few boa constrictors on the island but none very large. The only one we saw was no more than five feet long, and it was hanging over the roadway which had been built through the numerous roots of the banyan tree. We traveled in some of these 'tunnels' in almost complete darkness as it was all but impossible to see the sky through the upper leaves and branches.

"There were some coral snakes, all yellow and black and they would lie in the edge of the water, their colors so washed out they looked more like a dead stick than a snake. A number of people lost their lives before they learned not to pick up anything they weren't familiar with.

"There were many kinds of fish. The stone fish, about two inches square, was dark brown and hard as a rock. Only the fins and mouth were movable and the mouth resembled a small rubber balloon stuck on the rock. There also was a miniature squid that the natives used as food and made soups and even bigger. They were scavengers and followed the ships to pick up the refuse thrown from the ship.

DISPLAYING AN EXTENSIVE collection of butterflies caught in the South Pacific and in the Texas Panhandle is J. Clark, 316 Ave. J. Clark began collecting during World War II when he was stationed on an island in the South Pacific and continued after his

"Those were two years of much learning for me, in many ways, some sorrowful and others interesting. I would like to go to Borneo to capture some of the butterflies that live there, some that reach 10 to 12 inches in wing length and with more brilliant color than any we saw in the Solomon Islands, but it is still fun to hunt and capture the many colorful butterflies of our own country," he concluded.

"We often set off dynamite in small lakes or inlets so we could watch the sharks and barracuda swim in and devour the smaller fish that were stunned from the explosion. We were all amazed that none of us were bitten or harmed by either the sharks or barracudas as we went swimming in many of the inland lakes.

"We were never able to get to any of the crippled planes that went down near the shores of the island. As the plane sank the sharks and barracudas flocked to the area and not once did we rescue a man that went down in a plane off shore.

"The guards were monsters, so ugly, we saw some 20 feet long

"Lawyers dot every 'i' and cross every 't'!"

TRUE — Lawyers, by training and experience, are careful and precise people. THEY MUST BE, because they are representing YOU, and are dealing with YOUR PROPERTY, YOUR MONEY, and YOUR FREEDOM.

"LAWYERS ARE TOO TECHNICAL!"

FALSE — What the average person thinks is a "technicality" is often a time-tested guarantee in the law for YOUR PROTECTION.

"LAWYER-DRAWN INSTRUMENTS SOMETIMES CONTAIN LEGAL PHRASES WHICH ARE HARD FOR THE LAYMAN TO UNDERSTAND!"

TRUE — But there is a good reason for this. Because of many court decisions over the centuries, certain phrases have come to have an exact, fixed meaning. Lawyers use these phrases to avoid future misunderstanding and litigation.

WHAT NEXT?

There's just no limit... now it's an electric toothbrush. Who knows what it will be tomorrow? Next year? Ten years from now? One thing you can be sure of — electric service is the biggest bargain in your family budget and when better ways are found to do things, you can be sure electricity will be the key — like brushing teeth, electrically.

sociation annual meeting in Banning, Calif., had their eyes opened, Sam, to the real scenic beauty of the highway they had been boosting. I went along with Sam Bell, former Hereford citizen now with the Panhandle Automobile Club, Buck Holman of Amarillo, Pete Cowart, Concession manager at Palo Duro State Park and former Hereford Chamber Manager, and Bill Thompson, present Deaf Smith County Chamber manager. Earl Phillips and Mrs. Phillips were in a second car, Ernest Kendall and Mrs. Kendall in a third and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Buckingham, of Pampa and present state president of the association, and their children filled the fourth car.

The caravan of cars, decorated with highway 60 stickers, left from Hereford on Monday, April 23. Lunch stop was at Vaughn, N.M., where the New Mexico president, Bill Cassidy, was host. The caravan made a brief stop in Mountainaire, N.M., to visit the loyal boosters in that city. Mountainaire is in the heart of a very historic part of that state with many very old Spanish missions in the immediate area. Those missions are so old, Sam, that by comparison you and I are not even pioneers. From Springerville, Ariz., we took a brief trip off of Highway 60 over Arizona state routes 73 and 173 through the White Mountains. All agreed that this was one of the scenic highlights of the trip and would recommend it to any travelers headed west. The group spent the night in Show Low, Ariz., a tourist and lumbering community in a very beautiful mountain setting. Show Low is the home of the Association's national president, Bill Huso.

On Tuesday the caravan followed 60 through some of the most dramatic and awe-inspiring scenery in the West. No one can journey through the Salt River Canyon of Arizona without being impressed. After lunch in Phoenix, the group hurried on for a meeting in Blythe, Calif. The Chamber of Commerce of that city had a pool-side buffet for the Texas delegation that was most enjoyable. Blythe is a tourist and agricultural center irrigated from the Colorado river. There are many large cattle feeding lots in the area.

Getting an early start Wednesday the group drove into Indio, Calif., where the local Chamber of Commerce had arranged a sand storm just to make us West Texans feel at home — so they said. From Indio we made a side trip to the Salton Sea where Mrs. Phillips claims to have caught a very large fish in just a few minutes and had the picture to prove it. Earl, Mrs. Phillips and Pete Cowart were in the Phillips' car at the time and had separated from the rest of the group. They had a very hard time convincing the rest of us about the fish, but Earl will gladly show you the picture. Even the picture smells fishy.

From the Salton Sea, elevation 235 feet below sea level, we returned through Indio and rejoined U. S. 60. Warnings were out though to go around by Palm Springs because of blowing sand on 60. Route 111 will take the traveler through the fabulous Palm Springs area and all of the other desert developments.

The conclusion of the group was that we never expected, even in California, to find that many idiots assembled in one area. Why anyone would invest one nickel, let alone the millions that have been, in that sterile, wind-blown desert is beyond anyone's comprehension.

Our destination, Banning, Calif., is a beautiful city in the San Geronimo Pass. It nestles between southern California's two highest peaks and, in addition to being a tourist center, is in the heart of some of the most productive peach orchards anywhere. Banning is a city where it would be a pleasure to live, accessible to the Los Angeles metropolitan area but where an individual still can maintain his identity. Convention headquarters were in the historic San Geronimo Inn.

Thursday was given over to sight-seeing with planned trips to Disneyland, Knotts Berry Farm and other points of interest. Business sessions were held Friday and Saturday. At the final session Bill Thompson was elected national secretary — more work for his office help — but bringing some recognition to Hereford and, in effect, making Hereford the administrative headquarters of the national association.

The group arrived back in Hereford on Monday, April 30; tired and glad to be home and thoroughly convinced that of all the places visited, this area right here is still the best. All agreed that they could now recommend Highway 60 as the most scenic route west with enthusiasm born of personal knowledge.

That's my scouting report for this week, Sam. Sure covered a lot more territory in this week than I used to be able to on horseback and all the Indians were tame!

FFA Judging Teams Are High In Competition

By Dan Thomas
The poultry team consists of Robert Higgins, Johnny Pool and Roddy Allred. These boys participated in a contest at Canyon, where they placed sixth. In the Amarillo district contest they placed third. Roddy Allred was the second high point man in the contest. They recently participated with Nazareth but the results have not been received. This team also traveled to Lubbock for the Area meet. They were eighth in the area and qualified to go on to state contests in College Station.

The crops team is made up of Robert Callaway, Billy Johnson, and Terry Hill. In their meet with Canyon, they were sixth. They contested Dimmitt and placed fourth. At the district meet they didn't place.

Three weeks of school left is the good word going around. Many pupils are happy and some are very sad. We get out of school May 28 for the summer. We will have an awards program May 24 for pupils who have earned various honors.

On May 15 at 7:30 in the high school auditorium will be the final concert of the year presenting the seventh grade band, the Stanton Junior High School Band, and the Big Domino Band. The Stanton Band will present its three contest numbers, "Prelude," "Storm King" and "Balladair," plus "Overture for Winds."

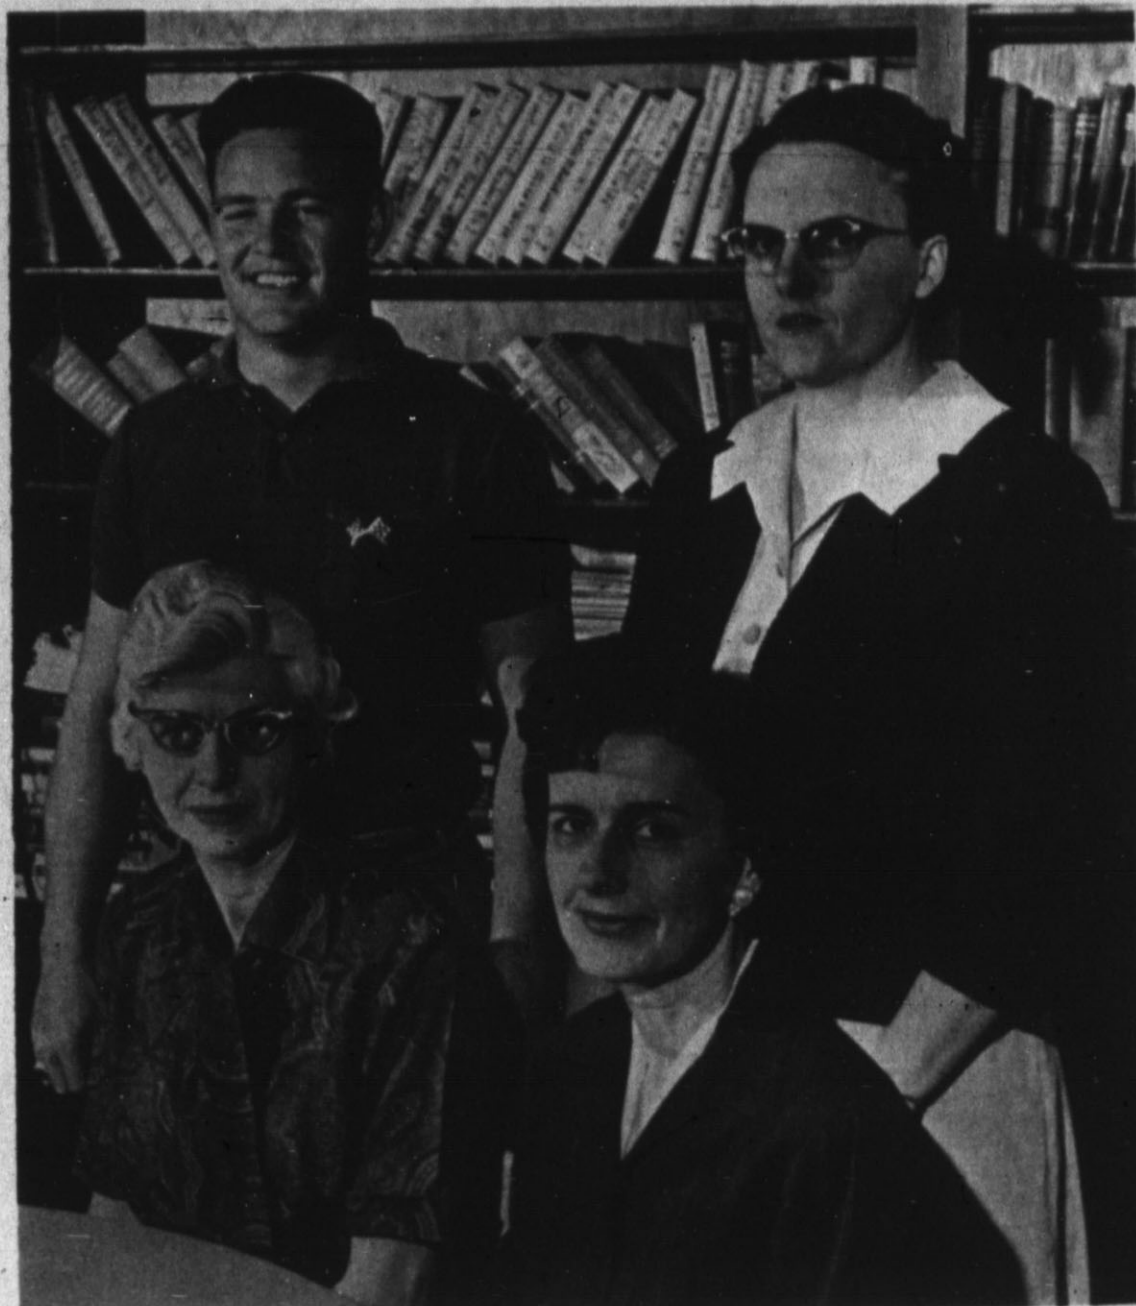

Red Cross Group Stays Busy With Varied Projects

The Stanton Junior High School Junior Red Cross is exchanging with foreign countries. In 1960 the group sent a scrapbook to the Ikuta Junior High School in Kobe, Japan. In return they sent us about 20 Christmas cards.

We have sent about that many Valentines back. Several Christmas cards were sent to Washington, D. C., and were to be displayed in the "Carnival of Ideals" at the end of April. Later they will be taken to Seattle, Wash., to be on exhibit at the World's Fair.

During 1961-62 members stuffed animals for the children's hospital and sent 400 crossword puzzles to the Veterans' Hospital. Members have also been collecting puzzles, games, and books. They have prepared favors at Christmas and Valentines for Veterans' Hospital and others.

Safety projects have dealt with gun safety and fire drills. Junior Red Cross has distributed to all homerooms the personal health and information cards in cooperation with the county planning committee.

All-School Play Nets $200 And Fun For Those Involved

By Ann Atchley
The Stanton Junior High Annual All School Play, which was presented on April 5 and 6, was a complete success. The proceeds which amounted to over $200 will go to the improvement of the auditorium.

The play was presented only through the co-operation of everyone involved. Produced by special arrangement with the Dramatic Publishing Company of Chicago and directed by Mrs. Fred Mercer and Mrs. Spicer Gripp, the play, "We Shook the Family Tree," is a comedy based on the book of the same name by Hildegard Dolson.

The stage crew, promoters, and sound effects played an important part for a play needs all of these things. Those people were Doris Parsons, Gail Witherspoon, Nancy Gripp, Gwen Bainum, Ann Atchley and Lynn Brisendine. Mr. Frank Jones, Mr. Wendell Maloney, and the shop boys were responsible for the stage setting.

Our actors needed make-up so we had to have a make-up crew. It was under the supervision of Mrs. Martha Sullivan and consisted of Joe Ella McGee, Barbara Langley, Judy Crume, Patricia Maxwell, Pamela Williams, Cheryl Parker, and Marilyn Tice. The publicity was under the direction of the Dogie Staff.

Mrs. Marie Ratcliff had charge of ticket sales. The homeroom representatives and the play cast had the responsibility of selling the tickets. Those selling the tickets participated in a contest. First place was won by Bob Reinauer who received $5. Gary Story won second place and received $2.50, and Patricia Price won third place and received $1.85. The price of two adult and one student tickets.

Every play must have ushers and ours was no exception. Mrs. Eleanor Hudspeth led the homeroom representatives through the battleground of ushers. Entertainment between acts arranged by Mr. Wesley Hopp. It consisted of the boys' quartet, composed of Bruce Miller, Tim Hoffman, Darrell Sparks and Wayne Edwards. Our freshman girls' sextet also performed. This sextet was composed of Joe Ella McGee, Barbara Langley, Beth Ballard, Wanda Holt, Linda London, and Penny Johnson.

McGee Furniture allowed us to use their furniture in the setting of the living room of the Dolson home for which we are very thankful. We also wish to thank the Brand and station KPAN for their publicity.

All in all the second annual all school play at Stanton Junior High has been a pleasure to produce and a success in many ways. Among the many things gained besides $200 was experience in producing a play and getting to know some students whom we might otherwise have never known. We hope the third annual all school play will be even better with even more interest, enthusiasm and cooperation than this one was.

Band Personality

By Ann Mercer
The band personality for this month is Carolyn Boynton. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Boynton of 404 Star Street. Carolyn is in the eighth grade and is first chair saxophone player in the Dogie band.

Her ambition is to finish high school and college and to become a secretary.

She joined band because she likes music and thought that marching would be exciting. Her most exciting incidents in band this year were going to solo and band contests.

Carolyn's advice to young band members is to put a lot into band, because you get out of it what you put into it.

Variety Enjoyable To Four Stanton Teachers

Mrs. Melva Fortenberry was born in Groom, Tex., and her birthday is on March 19. She was married in 1942. Mrs. Fortenberry attended West Texas State College and received both her Bachelor's and Master's degrees from this school.

The reason that Mrs. Fortenberry likes to teach is that there is always something new and different happening, and the work is very interesting. She thinks that Stanton is a very nice school, and she especially thinks that the teachers of Stanton are very friendly and very helpful. She has taught school for 14 years. Ten of those years were at Central School and the other years were taught in rural schools.

Mr. Archie Souter was born in Oilton, Tex. He went to West Texas State College where he received his Bachelor of Science degree. He and his wife have one son, Jeff. Coach Souter teaches athletics and social studies; he began his teaching career here four years ago.

When asked why he enjoyed coaching he said, "I like to instill a winning spirit in the boys because if boys love to win and hate to lose this will carry into other phases of life. If he gets in the habit of losing, he will lose games, jobs, and other opportunities in life that he should have won."

Mrs. Marie Ratcliff was born in Chillicothe, Tex. She attended Amarillo Junior College and West Texas State College. She has both her Bachelor's and Master's degrees from West Texas State as well as several hours of work beyond her Master's Degree. Mrs. Ratcliff has been teaching 19 years and has taught in Amarillo, Kress, Stinnett, and Hereford. She became a teacher because she always loved to read and always loved school. Too, she enjoys teaching because education gives everyone a better chance to use his abilities.

Mrs. Ratcliff has two grown sons. One lives in Washington, D.C., and the other lives in Fort Worth. Her opinion of Stanton Junior High is, "This is one of the best schools because our principal and teachers expect the best and when a student knows he is expected to do this, he usually does."

Mrs. Betty Mercer was born in Hereford in the year that the market crashed; she says that there was no connection between the two events, though. She received most of her elementary education in Deaf Smith County and Hereford schools. Mrs. Mercer received her B.S. and M.E. degrees from West Texas State College, and she also attended Panhandle A. and M. College one summer. Mrs. Mercer was married on May 27, 1956.

Mrs. Mercer is qualified to teach English, history, and physical education. When asked if she enjoyed being Stanton Junior High librarian she commented, "Not especially; I would much rather do classroom work, especially English." When asked her opinion of Stanton, she replied, "I think it is one of the smoothest run schools I have ever worked in. I like the students and the teachers." Mrs. Mercer taught in Perico in Dallam County for one year, Hartley High School for four years, Stratford High School for four years, and here at Stanton for three years. Mrs. Mercer likes teaching very much because she likes young people and likes to see them grow and learn.

Two Girls Attend State Convention

By Deborah Lee
Recently 16 F.H.A. members and sponsors from Hereford, including Linda Pulliam and Joe Ella McGee from the junior high chapter, went to the state convention in Dallas.

In the junior high chapter the two girls with the highest number of points go to this meeting; however, in the high school chapters the new presidents, high point girls, and those receiving state degrees of achievement attend.

Some of the girls participated in a dance, which was also given at the Area I meeting in Amarillo early in March in the program with the theme of Miss America F.H.A.

According to both Linda and Joe Ella, they had "the times of their lives, but sleep was rare."

Roving Reporter

By Cynthia Leasure
After a period of absence the roving reporter is again nosing around and getting answers to questions wise and otherwise. This week the reporter roved the halls asking for information and opinions on our "question of the week." This week's question was, "As our school year is coming to an end, are you excited about the coming summer months? If so what are your plans?"

We asked Jo Ann Ferguson our question and she answered, "Yes, I am excited about the summer. I plan to see Austin with the Rainbow girls and visit my grandparents and other relatives. When I'm finished, I probably will be looking forward to returning to Junior high for another wonderful year."

Jo Ann is the 13-year-old daughter of Mrs. Louise Ferguson of 306 Roosevelt. She has dark brown hair, brown eyes, and stands five feet three inches tall. Among her favorites are blue, shrimp, "Three Faces of Eve" and "Gidget Goes Hawaiian."

Freshman Picnic Slated On May 15

By Judy Crume
The freshmen of Stanton Junior High are looking forward to their annual picnic which will be held this year on May 15. This tradition began when the freshmen were moved to junior high, thus ending eighth grade graduation. In the past years the weather has been wonderful and both students and teachers have enjoyed it very much.

Spring Training Concludes Sports

By Gene Duvall
All three grades at Stanton Junior High had spring training in football for three weeks. For the first week, coaches Souter, George and Glass paid most attention to fundamentals. The boys also worked on starts and stances. For the second week

Freshmen are all hoping for the good weather the classes before us have had.

The picnic is a good time for students and teachers who have not met to get acquainted. The students may choose from such activities as horseback riding (providing you can find a horse), tennis, bowling, baseball, and if some want to spend a beautiful day in the dark, dreary show, that's fine too.

The picnic itself is held in Dameron Park with the food and drinks being prepared by homemaking students and mothers.

For the past two years this event has marked the graduation from junior high to senior high school.

Seventh and Eighth Grades Wresttle Achievement Tests

By Cindy Sanders
Last Wednesday and Thursday, April 25 and 26, achievement tests were given to the Stanton seventh and eighth grade students. The purpose of these tests is to see whether or not the student is improving or standing still in his work and whether or not he is working to the best of his ability. It has nothing to do with other grades.

The tests this year were somewhat different from the ones given before. Separate answer sheets were given to the students and these sheets were sent to the testing company to be graded by machine. This will save all the teachers a lot of time.

Gayle Newell Is Third In Spelling

By Gary Payne
Gayle Newell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Newell, won the county spelling bee which qualified her to enter the Area Bee which was held Saturday, April 28, in Amarillo. Gayle misspelled "garrulous" after her 29th round. Gayle missed the word because she thought it had been misspelled. Gayle placed third after Vivian Salazar of Potter County, who won first, and Mike Skipper of Hale County, who took second.

Garden Beautiful Club Hosts Guest Day Tea

The Garden Beautiful Club had its annual Guest Day Tea April 27 at the Hereford Community Center.

Club members and their guests enjoyed a book review given by Mrs. Ansel McDowell, entitled "The Judas Tree" by A. J. Cronin. She said "It is a gripping story of the disintegration of a normal, attractive personality. David Moray. It is in the relationship with four women that his character is revealed."

"His actions are exciting and realistic," she commented, "revealing the struggle within him; his feeling of guilt; his obsession for redemption; and his weakness to stand up against hardships. Instead, he thoughtlessly takes the easy way out, the typical method for solving problems of a large number of people. The story is dramatic and fascinating every turn of the page."

Winning prize rose bushes were Mesdames Louis Woodford, Bruce Beene, Charlie Noland, Lloyd Pool, John Seiver and Ansel McDowell.

Guests present for the tea were Mesdames Richard Barnard, R. R. Wills, John Seiver, Owen Stagner, H. E. Miller, Bruce Beene, Roy Grubbs, Norman Moore and Louis Woodford.

Members present were Mesdames Jessie Stanford, Ansel McDowell, Gwynne Owen, E. W. Young, Charlie Hood, Wesley Owen, Charlie Noland, Ray Cowser, V. O. Hennen, Homer Newton, Howard Walker, Jess Robinson, B. E. Roberson, Lloyd Pool, Tom Carter, Mary E. Seigler and G. P. Owen.

Lead parts in the pageant will be portrayed by Wayne Phillips as Prince Edward; Ben Childers as Benjamin Franklin; D. C. McWhorter as George Washington; Roy Lilley and Eldon Lilley as Lewis and Clark; Bill Davis Jr. as Sam Houston and Hubert Lilley as Anson Jones. Other members of the pageant cast will be J. W. Veleda Club Members Complete Study Of Book 'Stay Alive All Your Life'

Veleda Study Club members met Tuesday, April 24, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Robert Strain for the election of officers and the scheduled program.

Officers elected for the new year are Mrs. Don Baugous, president; Mrs. Gwynne Owen, vice president; Mrs. John Seiver, secretary and reporter; Mrs. Dale Barkley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Gene Matthews, treasurer; Mrs. H. A. Tuck Jr., historian; and Mrs. Wendell Burdine, parliamentarian. These officers will be installed at the next meeting which will be an installation dinner on May 8.

The program was the third in the three-part series review of Dr. Norman Vincent Peale's book, "Stay Alive All Your Life". Mrs. Gerald McCaskill began the program with the quote, "Many people, perhaps most people, never utilize the potential strength within their own personalities. There is a reservoir of force-the power of the subconscious mind. Faith releases this power. Mental, emotional and spiritual strength emerges which is more than enough to override your defeat." This quote was from the chapter titled "Self Confidence and Dynamic Achievement". In part, "the strength of belief helps you to overcome your difficulties and obstacles. Successful living depends on acquiring confidence. If we have faith and never stop trying, some of our dreams are bound to come true. The power we all have within us is sometimes so tremendous that under stress and crisis, people can perform the most incredible feats. In illustration, the author told of the farmer's wife of average strength, who when her husband was pinned under an automobile was able to lift the automobile enough to enable him to get out. Ordinarily she could not budge the vehicle an inch. This strength doesn't suddenly come from without but comes from within where it has been waiting all the time. The moment you decide that nothing can defeat you, from that instant nothing will defeat you."

The next chapter reviewed "Living Above Pain and Suffering". "Life can be a long hard row when you have to work with pain as a constant companion. But even so you can make it a creative experience by using your faith, prayer and belief. In the last analysis the secret of life isn't what happens to you but what you do with what happens to you." Continuing, she said, "I'll will can create pain as painful as physical pain so you must strive for spiritual harmony. God never lays a burden or pain upon us that He does not give us equivalent strength to bear it."

The final chapter of the book titled, "Live Forever", contained research work done by scientists on the theory of the soul. The author stated, "The theory of the soul has been proved according to the minimum standards of science." He talked of what it means to die. "The Bible says that Christianity is a process of addition and not subtraction." The writer says "When life is finished here, it is not subtracted from you but immortal, eternal life is added to you." "He compared the experience of death to the process of a baby's birth. To a baby being born, it is like dying because he is removed from the life he knows right then. When he is born he finds himself in living arms and he will think what a wonderful place this is. What a fool I was to dread and fear it. This is how we feel about dying. We fear death because we do not know what is on the other side, but like the baby we'll probably find how foolish we were to dread and fear it."

A great thinker said this "Life is the dull side of death. Life is filled with uncertainty so we must pray to fill our lives with love and goodness. Put your trust in God. Have faith in the accuracy and dependability of your spiritual instruments. They will guide you throughout the overcast of life to a perfect landing in that beautiful land of beyond."

Mrs. Gid Brownd held a brief summary and a question and answer period on the whole book. A discussion of what had been learned from the book was held by the club members.

Members present for the session were Mesdames Don Baugous, Bill Brady, Gid Brownd, Wendell Burdine, Hugh Clearman, Kenneth Malone, Gerald McCaskill, Gwynne Owen, George Ritter, Don Johnson, Gene Matthews and the hostess, Mrs. Robert Strain.

'Compassion' Is Timely Subject For La Plata Study Club Meeting

La Plata Study Club members met in the Community Room of the First National Bank on Tuesday, May 1, with Mrs. Clint Formby as hostess.

Mrs. Raymond White was the presiding officer for the business session. Mrs. J. M. Madison read the minutes of the previous meeting. A report was given by the recording secretary, Mrs. Joe Smith.

Members present were Mesdames Raymond White, Frank Prowell, J. M. Madison, Joe Smith, Clint Formby, Elmer Patterson, Jay Boston, Viola Chisholm, A. J. Schroeter, Jack Brown, Urlin Streu, Joel Treadwell, T. E. Seigler, Louis Woodford, George Warner, Bill Thompson, Lloyd McGee and Ansel McDowell.

Mrs. Viola Chisholm, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Ansel McDowell who gave the program on "Compassion". She defined compassion as one of the most beautiful words in any language. "Compassion is helping others; knowing and caring about them. There are many ways to find out about others. Before we can have compassion, we must have a belief in God and in mankind. The only true gift we can give is a portion of ourselves: giving love, hope, understanding, the giving of our mind and of our spirit."

"Never before in history has it been more important that people of high principle band together. There is a revival of the awareness of the importance of literacy. Free government cannot stand if people are illiterate. If we are to win the cold war we must teach people to read and write. Russia has a compulsory education system. The standards in China and Russia have risen. We are urged to promote literacy, to educate people. Now there is hope for illiterates. These people are beginning to know that with knowledge comes power. They will either hate us or love us, depending on whether we love, understand and help these illiterates or not. Helping to educate the illiterates of the world will help us to win the cold war."

To complete the program, Mrs. McDowell read this poem: "Sympathy is your hurt within my heart; O Friend, may I come in and take your hand And say a healing word and have a part in this your grief? How well I understand! For I have gone the whole long weary way; I know how steep the slopes, how rough the road; But also, Friend, I know there comes a day when God's own hand will lift your heavy load. Take heart! Tomorrow's hills will shine with light, And happiness again will heave your breast: Have faith and know that after this dark night Will come release and peace and needed rest. Trust now, and God, whose Word is ever true, is sure to reach a hand to comfort you."

El Nino Club Members Study School Problems

El Nino Study Club members met April 30 at the home of Mrs. W. J. Reeves for the regular meeting.

At the business meeting, officers for the coming year were elected. They are Mrs. Melvin Young, president; Mrs. W. J. Reeves, vice president; Mrs. Wayne Thomas, recording secretary; Mrs. Bettie Walker, corresponding secretary; Mrs. G. D. Caison Jr., treasurer; Mrs. Gilbert Davis Jr., parliamentarian; and Mrs. R. A. Daniels Jr., historian.

Plans were made for the next meeting, a dinner at the Western Wheel Inn at which time installation of officers will be held. The program, "What Teachers Expect of Children", was given by Mrs. Ben Childers. She commented on the following points: preparing pre-school children by teaching them to take care of their own clothing; teaching children to accept responsibilities at home; the importance of parent-teacher cooperation, and the importance of helping with homework rather than doing it for the student.

The meeting was attended by Mesdames Ivan Block, Jim Bookout, Ben Childers, R. A. Daniel, Gilbert Davis Jr., John Jacobsen Jr., Sam Nunnally, W. J. Reeves, Wayne Thomas, Bill Waldrup, Kendall Williams, Melvin Young, R. B. Walker and Jack Meredith.

er's team, and Mary Frances Marcum each picked up the 5-10. Marcie Maddox got the 5-7.
