Farmers and ranchers agree

Disaster plea "just in time"

Most local farmers and ranchers feel that the recent request by County officials to declare Mitchell County a disaster area is coming not a moment too soon.

The request was turned into Secretary of Agriculture John Block three weeks ago by County Judge Bill Carter, the Commissioners' Court and Civil Defense Board in an effort that Mitchell County farmers and ranchers might receive aid for their crops because of the minimum amount of rain the county has received the past two years.

If the county's wish is granted, it is not known at this time specifically what types of aid farmers and ranchers will receive. The process of evaluating the situation usually takes three to four weeks, according to Carter.

The recent hot weather and lack of rainfall has reduced rangeland conditions below normal. So far in 1983, rainfall is 30 percent of what it normally is, stock water is 60 percent below normal, and grass production is 70-75 percent below normal.

According to the opinions of local farmers and ranchers the grass lands are in dire need of rain, and the cotton crops can hold out for a little while longer.

Charles Northcutt, a rancher at the Rendebrook-Spade Ranch located at the south end of the county, has had to reduce his stock about one-third so far because of the dry grassland.

"We have no irrigation so we have been shipping out cattle. We reduced our herds and that should help us get through September. So far we have had to feed the herds twice as much as we have to in the winter," he said. "The longer we go without rain the more cattle we will have to sell," he concluded.

Robert Holman, a cotton farmer in Landers Community located southeast of Colorado City, says there is nothing he can do but wait and hope that it rains. "The land is very dry. We do not have any type of irrigation. My cotton is up, but on two farms it is pretty poor." Holman thinks his cotton can possibly go another week without rain before things start to get drastic. "With some rain when the cot-

Dunbar given 30 years

By TOM JAY GOSS II

Clifford Bart Dunbar 23, of Santa Monica, California was found guilty of "Indecency with a child" (fondling) and given thirty years in the state penitentiary by a Mitchell County jury this past week.

Dunbar had been convicted of aggravated rape of a 13-year old the previous week in Big Spring and was given 15 years. The two sentences will run end to end for a total of 45 years. Dunbar is also indicted for the rape of a 16-year old during the same incident. This case has not been tried.

The story has all the bits and pieces of bad drama. A tragedy, where there are only losers.

It was wet that January 5th. Rain and snow had fallen and the roadsides were wet as three teenage runaways in a stolen car approached Dunbar on Interstate 20.

Dunbar was 22, he had been working for B. J. Hughes in Santa Monica and living there. He had returned to Pennsylvania to visit his four-year old daughter and his mother and was hitchhiking back to Santa Monica.

The runaways were Alicia 13, Holly 14 and Marie 16. They left Akron, Ohio on January 2nd. They were hitchhiking, too, probably to Lamesa, Texas, where one of the trio had friends.

Somewhere out of Akron, the girls were picked up by a friendly photographer named Jim. The three girls went with Jim to a motel in Tennessee where they showered. Jim fell asleep and the three girls took off with Jim's car, his photographic equipment and his money.

Watlington seeks help with bad checks

Judge Charles R. Watlington, Justice of the Peace of Precinct 1, has asked the County Attorney's Office to no longer accept bad checks for prosecution after August 15, 1983, if there is no valid driver's license number or date of birth on the check. The driver's license number is preferred.

This request has been made, and will be complied with by the County

Attorney's Office because of the extreme difficulty in obtaining the arrest of a bad check writer without these additional identifiers. An exception will be made See CHECKS, Page 2

PROUD OF THOSE TROPHIES—A. W. Phillips shows off some of the trophies his teams have won during his 31-year managing career.

Phillips known as Father of Baseball

By STEVE BELVIN

There are many nicknames you could place on him. You can call him the "Witty Manager," "Mr. Brave" or even "The Father of Organized Baseball in Colorado City," but whatever name placed upon him, A. W. Phillips will go down as one of the most legendary managers to ever direct teams in Colorado City.

Phillips has been managing local baseball teams for the last 31 years, 22 of the years he has been head mentor of the Junior Teenage League Braves. Although A. W. did not officially coach this season, he still had a hand in baseball as he was player representative for the Junior Teenage League, and did help coach the Braves a couple of times. "I wanted to rest for a while," he explained. "But I started missing it so I will be coaching next year," he concluded.

Phillips was born and raised in Mitchell County. As a youth he lived and breathed baseball. "I started when I was nine-years old and played until I was sixteen. After that, we played other pick-up teams until I was 20," he stated. Phillips stated that all surrounding communities had teams. "We used to play Cuthbert, China Grove, Lone Star and Loraine," he said. Phillips stated that his main positions were first base and catcher.

A. W. and his wife Louise have two children Randy and Brenda. In fact, Phillips says Randy had a lot to do with him getting into coaching. "Back then when Randy was coming up, there was no league for the little ones. So some of the men just rounded up some boys and played games in vacant lots," he explained.

The first year Phillips took on managing he was 28-years-old and his team was called the Blue Sox. The next team was the White Sox and then he moved up to the 10-12 year old teams and coached Randy on the Giants.

What few people know is that during that time Phillips had a lot to do with the organization of the Little League and construction of both the present Little League and Pony League diamonds. The Little League diamond was built in 1955 and the Pony League diamond was completed in 1961. Phillips welded the fences and bleachers for both diamonds.

In 1961 Phillips started See PHILLIPS, Page 9

Computer proves farming is bad

Farm records summaries from farmers who participated in Production Credit Association's Agrifax computerized record-keeping program in 1982 indicate how difficult the farm economy has been. Net farm earnings of 1,150 farmers from Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky, who kept Agrifax records averaged minus $800 last year.

These are among the findings reported in the July-August issue of PCA FARMING, which is sent to area farmers as a service of their local Production Credit Association. The records were tabulated and analyzed by Jim Weaver, Agrifax records coordinator from Louisville, Kentucky.

In spite of poor prices which continue to plague farmers, some farmers involved in the roughout the year for people who like to donate on a regular basis. The community blood program lies solely on the volunteer donor. By donating, it will insure that patients will not be charged for blood.

Everyone is urged to donate because summertime is the most critical time for donors. The reason for this is because people do not take time to give blood because of conflicting schedules or activities and the blood supply drops causing a demand for it. Less than five percent of the population donates and it is estimated that one out of every ten people will need a blood donation in their lifetime. If no one donates, the supply will diminish to nothing. Those who do receive blood will be thankful for the rest of their lives.

All donors must be between the ages of 17 and 65. Those who are 17 and under need their parents permission and people 65 or older need a doctor's permission.

ton starts to bloom, I think I can get an average yield," he concluded. Holman also added that he has had to cut back on some of his employees because of lack of work.

Holman also has some cattle and says he has been selling livestock and sometimes hauling water to the animals. "If it had been possible, Mitchell County should have been declared a disaster area sooner. But under the circumstances, I am pleased with the request," Holman stated that this is the driest he has seen the county in a number of years.

Alton Raschke, a farmer who has land throughout the county, said the dry fields have already led to a cut in his production and his employees. "My land is very dry. We could use about three to five slow inches of rain to put the cotton in good shape," he stated.

Van Mills, Director of the Soil and Water Conservation District says the present drought is taking its toll more on the rangeland, drying all the grass up. "The dry weather has dried the soil deep. An ideal situation would be for three to four inches to fall in the next week because the soil needs deep moisture."

Mills stated that none of the ranchers and few farmers have irrigation. "The cost of electricity and butane is so high that no one can afford it," he explained.

Mills feels the government will declare the entire county a disaster area. "This is the worst drought I've ever seen since 1974 when it didn't rain until August."

records analysis made a profit in 1982. Weaver compared these top profit groups of farmers with low profit groups. After analyzing other factors such as farm size and equity levels, he concludes that differences in profitability can be attributed largely to differences in management ability.

way, they would sell pieces of Jim's photo equipment. "We got about $100 from what we sold," Alicia says. "We didn't damage the car," she added.

At some point in Texas, they picked up a red bearded male hitchhiker-headed west. It was Clifford Dunbar.

Everything went well until about dusk on Wednesday, January 5th. The car was pulled off on the Conaway Road and Dunbar began attempting to have sex with the girls. He took out a knife and threatened them with it.

"I won't hurt you if you do what I say," he said.

He approached Holly, a 14-year old blonde and scratched her throat with his knife. He caressed her breasts—which was the crime being addressed by the Colorado trial—and which would cost him thirty years.

Holly broke free. She ran toward the lights of an oil rig in a nearby pasture. She ran thru the briars and the brambles and the fences. "We picked cactus out of her for a month," her mother says.

Holly was rescued by Wayne Lopera, an oil field worker.

In the meantime, Alicia, 13 and Marie 16, were forced to strip and Marie was raped.

After raping Marie, the trio continued into Howard County where according to Alicia, she was raped. He was tried for this rape in Howard County and was convicted and sentenced to 15 years.

In Howard County, the two girls were released and picked up by Highway Patrolman Jim Lasater. Dunbar was picked up in Midland.

Marie apparently had no desire to return to Texas and she did not come back for the trial at Big Spring or the trial at Colorado City.

Both Holly and Alicia were present for both trials.

for bad check writers who are well known Mitchell County residents for whom the complainant has a current address.

The request is being made because of recent legislative action which raises the JP jurisdiction from $500 to $1,000 on civil cases.

"My case load will probably double," Watlington said. "I need this information so we can track these people down," he added.

Tickets for "The King and I" available beginning August 8

Tickets for the Colorado City Playhouse production of "The King and I" will go on sale August 8 from 1-5 p.m.

The outstanding duo of Richard Rogers and Oscar Hammerstein created this masterpiece in 1951. For 17 years, beginning in 1943 with "Oklahoma!" the partnership of Rogers and Hammerstein reined over the American musical stage. Rogers, the composer and Hammerstein the lyricist, turned out one hit after another. In addition to "Oklahoma!" they wrote "South Pacific," "Carousel," "State Fair" (a film), "Allegro, Me and Juliet," "The King and I," "Pipe Dream," "Cinderella" (for television) "And The Sound of Music" which was their last collaboration. The masterful combination came to an end with the death of Hammerstein on August 23, 1960, at the age of 65.

When "The King and I" opened in New York in March of 1951, it not only received ecstatic reviews but won a Tony Award for Best Musical. "The King and I" is based on the 1944 novel by Margaret Landon, "Anna and the King of Siam" that portrayed Siamese history. It was set in the 1860's in the exotic city of Bangkok, Siam.

The story evolves around Anna Leonowens, an attractive English widow who was sent to instruct King Mongkut's royal children.

Before Rogers and Hammerstein made their musical adaption of the novel, it had been a successful picture, starring Rex Harrison and Irene Dunne and released in 1946.

Rev. Charles Casey

Calvary Baptist Church

Since childhood, I have known the name Jesus. My Christian parents conveyed to me the beauty and glory of Jesus. I came to know him personally when I was a ten year old boy. Through the years we have had a developing friendship. I have found by personal experience that what the Bible says about him is true.

- He is the Holy One - Mark 1:24
- The Prince of Life - Acts 3:15
- The Lion of the tribe of Judah - Rev. 5:5
- The Word of Life - I John 1:1
- The Author and Finisher of Faith - Heb. 12:2
- The Dayspring - Luke 1:78
- The I Am - John 8:58
- The Shepard - I Peter 2:25
- The Truth - John 14:6
- The Chief Cornerstone - Ephesians 2:20
- The Righteous Judge - II Tim. 4:8
- The Head of the Church - Ephesians 1:22
- The Lord - Acts 15:11
- The Chief Shepard - I Peter 5:4
- The Resurrection and the Life - John 11:25

- The Lamb of God - John 1:29
- The Lord Almighty - Rev. 15:3
- The Root of David - Rev. 22:16
- The Advocate - I John 2:1
- The Way - John 14:6
- The Lord of All - Acts 10:36
- The Son of God - John 1:34
- The Messiah - John 1:41
- The Savior - II Peter 2:20
- The King Of Kings - Rev. 19:16
- The Light of the World - John 8:12
- The Morning Star - Rev. 22:16
- The Horn of Salvation - Luke 1:69
- The Governor - Matt. 2:6
- The Alpha and Omega - Rev. 1:8

I thank God for the privilege of loving and serving such a wonderful Lord. Whatever I am and have and hope to become, I owe it all to Jesus.

May our mutual testimony be: "and it is no longer I who live, but Christ lives in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me, and delivered himself up for me" (Galatians 2:20).

Harrison stated that state and national awards are made to teachers and conservation districts for outstanding programs in environmental conservation education. These awards are made through a national recognition program sponsored each year by the Allis Chalmers Corporation and the National Association of Conservation Districts.

Objectives of the awards program are to create an awareness and appreciation of the value of environmental conservation education. These awards are made through a national recognition program sponsored each year by the

Sweek learns basics at an early age

Billie Sweek

Billie Sweek of Westbrook, learned to cook from her mother who she said was "an excellent cook." "I was about seven years old when my mother began teaching me the basics of cooking and ever since then I have truly enjoyed cooking. Mrs. Sweek is the wife of Bill and the mother of three daughters and one son. She said she was a very busy person and her husband really helps out in the kitchen. Her specialties are desserts and one of her tastiest recipes won her first place in the Colorado City RECORD Bake-Off last year at the Mitchell County Fair. The recipe was for Bohemian Coffee Cake and it sold for around $30.40.

Mrs. Sweek's favorite thing to cook is cream pies of all kinds. It seems that her mother's instruction has really paid off in making her a great cook. Here are two of her special recipes that she is sharing with RECORD readers.
EGG ROLLS
1 lb. pork sausage
1 head Chinese cabbage (shredded or finely chopped)

1/2 head regular cabbage (shredded or finely chopped)
1 lb. fresh bean sprouts
1 can bamboo shoots
1 can sliced water chestnuts
1/4 cup brown sugar
2 tsp. soy sauce
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 beaten egg

2 pkg. egg roll wrappers
Brown pork sausage in fry pan. Stir in soy sauce, worchestire sauce and brown sugar. Remove from heat. Combine with cabbages, bean sprouts, bamboo shoots, water chestnuts and beaten egg in a large bowl. Wrap approximately one-third cup of above mixture in each egg roll wrapper. Deep fry until golden brown. Makes 25-30 egg rolls.

BOHEMIAN COFFEE CAKE
1 cup Wesson Oil
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
1 cup buttermilk
1 cup pecans
2 eggs
2 1/2 cups flour
1 t. soda
1 t. salt
1 t. nutmeg
1 t. cinnamon
1 t. vanilla
Dump in all ingredients together and stir just until mixed. Pour in tubular pan and bake 45 minutes to an hour at 350 degrees.

Brownwood is site of reunion

The children of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Moore of Sand Springs held their annual reunion at the Brownwood State Park Group Hall on July 15-17.

All nine children attended the gathering and they were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore of Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Moore of Sand Springs; Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Moore of Roscoe; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Moore and Mr. Alvin Moore of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Jess L. Ferguson of Burleson; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. King and Mrs. Nelja Watts of Sand Springs and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hale of Westbrook.

About 120 were present but 47 were unable to attend. Church services were held on Sunday, July 17 with 89 attending. Larry Ferguson of Anna was the speaker.

The church contributions were divided between Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bynum whose daughter had undergone ear surgery and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn King of Sand Springs who recently had a boy. Also another amount was sent to an orphanage in Los Angeles. A gift certificate was given to Mrs. Billy Pinkerton who plans to purchase and prepare the meals.

A gift for the oldest and youngest present was also presented. Jess Ferguson was the oldest and Krystal Stevens of Sand Springs was the youngest.

Series E Bonds reach final maturity

The final maturity dates for Series E Bonds issued between January and December 1983 will soon be here. All of these bonds will cease earning interest 40 years after their dates of issuance.

The Bonds can be redeemed or exchanged for Series HH Bonds. HH Bonds pay interest semi-annually by treasury checks for 10 years. Such an exchange allows the person to further defer the federal tax on the earned E Bond interest until the HH Bonds are redeemed or reach maturity. The minimum HH bond denomination is $500.

Softball League Action

Tuesday night in Softball League action the Lowriders kept up their winning ways as they defeated the C-City A's by a score of 14-6.

The Lowriders took a 1-0 lead in the first inning, and never trailed after that. In the second stanza, the Lowriders scored six runs aided by Benny Arispe, Robert Garza, Santos Reyes and Victor Jackson.

C-City A's came as close as they would get in the fifth stanza as they scored five runs as they narrowed the lead to 7-6. David Silva, Fred Kitterman, Martin Molina and Ruben Molina all got hits to aid the cause.

The Lowriders put the contest away in the top half of the seventh inning as they scored seven runs with two outs. Arispe, Lucus Campos, Ruben Arispe and Jackson all keyed the inning with hits.

Little Chicago, powered by a three run homer in the third inning by Big Rock Smith came from behind to down the C C Athletics 15-8. The Athletics jumped to a 5-0 lead in the first inning, but Chicago scored eight runs in the third inning to take the victory.

In the other Thursday night contest, Nolan Russell singled home the winning run in the bottom of the 10th inning as the C-City A's nipped Little Chicago 12-11 in a thrilling contest.

Chicago looked like they might make a rout of the game as they jumped on the opposition for three runs in the first inning thanks to an inside the park homer by Efron Molina scoring Tony Franco and Andy Franco.

The 'A's narrowed the lead in the bottom of the inning when the ever-present Russell hit an inside the park home run scoring Joe Silva and Tanis Moreno leaving the count at 5-4.

The 'A's took the lead in the fifth 7-5 aided by a double by Russell, a double by David Silva and a single by Moreno. Chicago battled back in the sixth stanza and took the lead again 8-7 as Nick Molina doubled. Kirk Evans singled and Frankie Molina singled and all three scored.

With the count 11-8 and Chicago leading going into the seventh inning, Russell again got things going with a single. This was followed by another hit and then Danny Molina delivered the crucial blow, an inside the park homer to tie the game and send it into extra innings and set the stage for Russell's 10th inning heroics.

Baseball playoffs for district get underway

The time is here for the best 10-12 year-old baseball players in the area to get together and decide which team will advance to the state tournament.

Starting Monday, the Texas Freshmen League District Playoffs will get underway, with Colorado City being the host city. The six-team double elimination event will start at 6 p.m. Monday and last until Wednesday. All games will be played at both league fields located at Ruddick Park.

Price of admission to the tournament is $1. All games will be played at 6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

The Freshmen league champion Rangers (12-3), managed by Allan Ramage, Scott Cawthron and Bob Ramage will represent Colorado City. The champs picked-up Beau Rees of the Yankees, Ray Garcia of the Dodgers and Sammy Garcia of the Pirates to help strengthen their squad.

Other teams entered in the tourney are two teams from Sweetwater, Hawley, Loraine and Brady. The winner will advance to the state tournament to be held later on in Brownwood.

The Rangers are a balanced team with a lot of maturity. With the acquisition of Rees, Garcia and Rivera, the Rangers sport 10-12-year-olds, and their experience can possibly make a big difference in the outcome in the tournament.

The team leader of the Rangers has to be first baseman Mark Russell. Russell is called by Coach Ramage "my most consistent hitter." During the season, Russell led the team in batting and hit three homeruns. He is also a terror on the base paths, and can play almost any position, stated Ramage.

Pitching has been an important role in many of the Rangers' wins, and pitchers Mark Molina and Victor Luera are the main men. Both right handers possess a good fastball and good control, but Molina seems to have the ability to pitch six strong innings. "He is a good strike out pitcher and is very dependable," stated Ramage.

The Rangers also picked up three hurlers in Rees, Rivera and Garcia. Rees is a big, strong pitcher. When he has control down, he can be overpowering. Rees also plays first base and his bat will definitely help the Rangers. He is the two-time defending home run champ. This year he belted out eight.

He also received valuable experience from playing in the district tournament last year with the Yankees.

Rivera is strictly a breaking-ball pitcher, while Garcia mixes up his pitches well. Both players are capable of the long ball as Rivera hit four homers and Garcia two. All three pick-up players are right handed.

Outfielder Kyle Stewart is another long ball threat on the team, as he banged out two homers. He also has a good arm and range in the outfield. The other possible long ball threat is outfielder Michael Morales. Although he hit only one round-tripper this season, Ramage says in practice he has been hitting the ball well.

Other players include short stop Mark Alvidrez who is a good fielder, crafty base runner and a singles hitter. Second baseman Coley Ramage is also a good fielder, swift on the base paths and a very unselfish player.

Ramage says third baseman-outfielder Scotty Martin is the type of player that will hurt the opposition in the clutch. "He has had some big hits when we have needed them," said Ramage. Outfielder Cameron Barber is the lone 10-year-old on the squad. "He is a very promising player. He gets right in there against those fastball pitchers, and is a good RBI man," explained Ramage.

Other valuable players Ramage can call on are for good fielding and timely hitting are outfielders Jeremy Kemp, Jim McGill and infielders Bajvish Patel and Anthony Lady.

"I think we have an exceptionally good squad. I'm expecting a lot of them in the tournament," said Ramage as he summed up his feelings about the tournament.

At the time of deadline, it was not known who Colorado City's opponent would be or what time the contest would take place. But all mothers, dads and fans are encouraged to go out and support the home team, and let's see if we can help get them to the state tournament and make the Texas Freshmen League Playoffs a success.

ed managing the Braves, and it has been a love and success story all rolled into one. In 22 seasons, the Braves mentor has racked up a record that coaches dream about. Eighteen league championships, eight district championships for a record of 308-95, not a shabby record for 22 seasons of coaching one team. Few managers have even come close to a winning percentage that compares to Phillips.

Why is he so successful? "The main thing in trying to handle the kids is to get them to like you. If you can do that then you can get anything you want out of them. In fact, I don't think I've ever coached a kid that didn't like me. You also make the kids understand that you mean what you say. If you do that, everything will fall into place," he concluded.

Phillips feels another key to success is to drill the mental aspects of the game into the player's heads, and some-time work hard with the players individually.

"There have been times when I have had a player who needed to work on a particular phase of the game. After practice I would take him aside and work with him by himself, or sometimes I would get them on Saturday and go work with them on their problems."

Although Phillips has built up such a shining record, a state championship has always eluded him. The closest he came was in 1974 when his squad finished third in Conroe, and according to some former players on that squad the finish might have been higher if not for a couple of questionable calls by the umpires.

"That was the best team I have had. I might have had some teams with more talent, but none of them played as good together as this team. They stuck together, they all had good attitudes and were good sportsmen. It was a perfect team," he concluded.

A. W. says the best pitcher he ever coached was a tall right hander back in the mid 60's named Randy Parker. "He was a big, tall kid with an overpowering fastball. It wasn't anything for him to get 16 or 17 strike outs during a game."

The best hitter was Randy Erwin, a catcher who played for Phillips in the early 70's. "He was a strong power-hitter. I've seen him knock three homeruns in one game before," he said. The best outfielder was Phillips's son, Randy. "He was a center fielder and could cover a lot of ground and throw the ball a country mile."

But the long-time manager of the Braves stated that the best all around player he has coached and was a second baseman named Terry Brock who also played in the mid 60's. "He could hit, and I believe he could jump six feet off the ground flat-footed," he chuckled. "It was almost impossible to hit a ball by him."

Is the quality of today's player comparable to those of yesterday? "There is no comparison. We had some good ball players back then. Now days the kids don't have any interest in it. They would rather watch TV or go swimming. Back in those days you couldn't keep a boy from the ball park."

So the saga of A. W. Phillips goes on, and whether you call him "The Witty Manager," "Mr. Brave" or the "Father of Organized Baseball in Colorado City," he will go down as being one of the top coaches ever in Mitchell County.

It has been a good 31 years, and hopefully he will be around another 31 years—because baseball needs people like A. W. Phillips.

San Angelo is site for IRR convention

Ranchers from throughout the nation will gather at the Convention Center in San Angelo for the 3rd Annual International Ranchers Roundup (IRR) which begins August 1 for five days of educational sessions and ranch tours.

Over 100 internationally renowned speakers from 25 states and south Africa will be on hand to share their expertise.

Headline speakers who will address the opening day general session at 1 p.m. August 1 are Dub Waldrip, National Cattleman's Association president; U.S. Representative Tom Loeffler (D-Texas); Dr. Cas Maree, animal science department chairman, University of Pretoria, South Africa; Dr. Fee Busby, range science department chairman, University of Wyoming; and Dr. Arthur Hansen, chancellor of the Texas A&M University System.

Participants have their choice of any or all of seven different current sessions beginning at 8:45 a.m. August 2 continuing thru 5 p.m. August 5 in beef cattle, sheep and goats, ranch family business management, wildlife, grazing management, marketing and computerized ranching. Ranchers can attend talks in any of the sessions. Special registration rates favor ranchers and spouses. Several sessions will be repeated.

Perhaps the most important news to ranchers who have not yet made plans to attend is that IRR registration will be available in the Convention Center lobby throughout the week. The four ranch tours, however, are closed except for a few scattered seats which coordinators expect to fill early in the week. Registration information is available thru the San Angelo Convention Bureau (915-653-1206).

A special feature of the IRR will be panel and individual discussions concerning the much talked-about Savory Grazing Method, a grazing system that has attracted widespread attention throughout the Southwest.

The IRR's basic purpose is to offer the most practical comprehensive training available in all areas of ranch operation, according to coordinators Dr. LeRoy Hoermann and Dr. Larry White with the Texas A&M Agricultural Research and Extension Center in Uvalde and Robert H. Kensing, farm management specialist with the San Angelo A&M Center. All are affiliated with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the main IRR sponsor.

"Our objective is to bring together the finest minds in the ranching industry so that everyone can benefit from the assembled expertise and interchange of ideas," the coordinators explain. "Ranchers are urged to bring their wives, ranch managers or foremen because there's just too much information generated here for one person to absorb."

Many past participants have compared the two previous conferences with Texas A&M's animal science curriculum, which is recognized as one of the nation's best, for its superb instruction, versatile program, and outstanding speakers.

This year a special "discussion session" was created to allow participating ranchers to visit informally one-on-one with certain speakers for more in-depth discussions of specific problems.

City receives $6,044 dividend

City Manager Rick Crowley announced Wednesday, that the City of Colorado City has received a $6,044.00 dividend from the Texas Municipal League Worker's Compensation Joint Insurance Fund. The dividend represents the city's share of the fund's annual excess contribution return which this year totaled $3,433,894.

According to the city manager, the city is one of only 409 Texas cities to receive a dividend check. The league attributes this to the city's employee accident prevention practices as well as to the overall financial and operating success of the TML fund.

The fund is a unique legal arrangement wherein 635 participating members collectively provide workers' compensation insurance protection to their 88,000 municipal employees. Marvin Townsend, City Manager of Loredo and chairman of the Board of Trustees, expressed pride in the fact that the EML fund cities enjoy a better loss ratio than all Texas commercial policyholders combined. "The dividend check received by the City of Colorado City is clear documentation of the success experience by the city and the other 635 TML fund members." Last year's check to the city totaled $3,962.00.

Cost savings have been characteristic of the TML fund since its inception nine years ago. Cities receive an immediate 25 percent front-end discount from standard commercial premiums each year. Cash dividends follow at year end and reflect overall healthy operating results; dividends have amounted to more than $11 million in returns to Texas cities since 1974.

Marian's Memos

By Marian Morris

The human body cools itself in hot environments by circulating blood close to the skin surface to shed heat and by evaporation of sweat. However, these mechanisms can fail under excessive work in the heat and bring about several physical disorders.

Heat stroke is the most serious of these. It occurs when the human heat-regulating system simply breaks down under stress and sweating stops, robbing the body of its most effective means of shedding excess heat—evaporation of sweat. A heat stroke victim's skin is hot, dry and usually red or spotted. The person is confused, irritable and may complain of chills. If the person is not taken out of the hot environment at this early stage of heat stroke and cooled rapidly, more severe symptoms such as unconsciousness, delirium and convulsions may occur, leading to possible death. Physical fitness and heat acclimatization will increase heat tolerance but will not give immunity against heat stroke. Persons suffering from chronic disease, obesity or alcoholism are more susceptible. A person who has a history of heat illness is more prone to get it again.

Another common heat related illness is heat exhaustion. This is caused by either loss of fluid in sweating, loss of salt or by both. A worker with heat exhaustion still sweats but experiences extreme weakness or fatigue, giddiness, nausea or headache. In more serious cases of heat exhaustion, the victim may vomit or lose consciousness. The skin is clammy and moist, the complexion is pale or flushed, and the body temperature is normal or slightly higher. The unacclimatized, physically unfit and obese are more prone to heat exhaustion. Heat cramps, fainting and heat rash are other reactions of the body to excessive heat. Heat cramps are painful spasms of working muscles of persons who sweat profusely in heat, drink large quantities of water, but fail to replace salt. Drinking water dilutes extracellular fluids while the body continues to lose salt. Soon, low salt in the muscles causes painful cramps. Heat cramps can affect muscles in the arms, legs or abdomen. Tired muscles used in working are usually most susceptible.

Someone not used to hot environments who stands erect and immobile in the heat may also simply faint or black out. Blood may pool in enlarged blood vessels near the skin and in the lower part of the body rather than returning to the heart to be pumped to the brain, causing a black out. Once lying down, the individual should soon recover. Movement to prevent blood pooling should eliminate further fainting.

Heat rash, also known as prickly heat, is likely to occur in hot, humid environments where sweat does not evaporate easily. Sweat not removed may plug sweat ducts, inflaming sweat glands and causing a rash. Extensive or infected prickly heat can be so uncomfortable as to reduce a worker's performance.

Crownover to be honored with 90th birthday fete

Mrs. Fanny Jarratt Crownover will be honored with an early celebration on her 90th birthday on July 29th. Her actual birthday is January 28th but to avoid inclement weather it will be held earlier. Hosting the celebration will be her 21 nieces and nephews and it will take place at the Loraine First Methodist Church at 2 p.m. She has lived in or near Loraine since 1902 when she moved from Nolan County with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. William Amzy Jarratt and her sister the late Annie Jarratt. On April 20, 1939, Fanny married Frank Crownover the former County Commissioner. They live in Loraine and still operate some of their farming interests. She is a lifetime member of the Methodist Church and has been a member of the choir for 60 years, often giving special solos. She served as the secretary-treasurer of the WMU for which her faithful service recently gained her special recognition.

Fanny is not the only family member with musical talent. Curtis Jarratt graduated from Texas Tech University with a music degree and has taught high school band. His son Alan operates a music store in Billings, Montana. Margaret Jarratt Russell is an accomplished pianist. During the celebration, Curtis and Margaret will direct a musical program.

Other honor guests will be Mrs. Opal Jarratt Normal and Mrs. Lucille Jarratt Mahon who are sisters. Friends are invited to come and join in the celebration.

Draft for school prayer proposed

President Ronald Reagan proposed a new draft of a school prayer amendment to the Constitution Tuesday and told fundamentalist religious leaders he hoped it would satisfy doubts about the version now pending in the Senate Judiciary Committee. The latest draft would stick the administration's plan to give complete approval to voluntary prayer in schools and other public places but it would make clear that the prayer could not be composed by government officials.

The draft amendment states: "Nothing in the Constitution shall be construed to prohibit individual or group prayer in schools or other public institutions. 'No person shall be required by the United States or by any state to participate in prayer. 'Nor shall the United States or any state compose the words of any prayer to be said in public schools."
