Youth Kills Girl for "Breaking Up Home" of Parents

FATHER ADMITS BOY THREATENED TO MURDER GIRL

Gun Turned on Self After Slaying Nurse

EVIDENCE HEARD

Coroner's Jury Now Investigating Case

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 30.—(AP)—It developed at an inquest today that R. A. Oakes, Jr., Fort Worth, shot and killed Eleanor Robinson of Tuscaloosa, Alabama, because he believed that "she wrecked our home."

Oakes senior testified that when the son arrived here, he told his father, who was staying in the same hotel with the woman, "I am going to kill her because she wrecked our home."

Miss Robinson, 27, died in a local hospital early last night of a pistol wound in her stomach. Oakes, 19, was found shot to death in the barrow pit about 400 yards from the municipal airport by A. W. Strube, farmer, who notified airport officials who called an ambuance.

Oakes, truck salesman, told newspaper men and officers that he, his son and Miss Robinson had gone to the airport where the younger Oakes had been taking aviation lessons, to see about taking further instructions. They were at the airport about five minutes and then started back toward San Angelo.

About 400 yards from the airport, the son, according to the father's statement, asked that he stop the car and excused himself. He then walked back to the car, the father declared, opened the car door and fired one shot from a pistol into the woman's body.

"'Take her to town'," the father declared his son told him "and then he added 'I'll be seeing you'."

Oakes started to San Angelo with the woman and after entering the city stopped at a service station and asked that an ambulance be called.

Makes Statement

Miss Robinson rallied briefly just after a blood transfusion and just a few minutes before she died made a statement to Glenn R. Lewis, district attorney, in which she said the boy shot her. She said she did not know the boy was shot.

The youth was shot one time, the bullet going in his mouth under the chin, ranged upward and came out the top of his head. He died at once.

MISS HALE HOLDS COUNCIL'S LOAN

Home Demonstration Group Student Fund Goes To Club Girl

Miss Imogene Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Hale of the Stokes community and member of the 4-H girls club there, will leave Sunday for Denton where she will enroll in Texas State College for Women (CIA) as a freshman for the semester beginning Feb. 3. Miss Hale is holder of the home demonstration council's student loan which goes each year to the outstanding club girl of the county who makes application for it. She will live in a co-operative dormitory at the campus which was established primarily for 4-H club girls.

Miss Hale's narrative and record book placed third in a group of twelve for district six. This means that very likely she will be selected as a Gold Star girl for Texas, Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, county home demonstration agent, said. Mrs. Hollingsworth will take Miss Hale to Denton.

Girls who wish ultimately to take advantage of the loan fund are advised to keep in touch with Mrs. Hollingsworth so that she may inform them as to the food canning budget they should carry out.

1391 POLL TAXES PAID UP TO NOON

Office Will Remain Open Until Midnight on Friday

With only one more day remaining in which to pay poll taxes, the last-minute rush expected by officials was slowly materializing today. With only 1391 paid receipts made until noon today office employees are preparing to issue practically that many more this afternoon and tomorrow.

The office of the tax collector-assessor will be kept open Friday until the deadline for payment of the taxes is reached, at midnight tomorrow night.

Garden Club Seeks 1,000 Trees to Use In Highway Beautification Program

Will Be Planted on Highway Through The County

Under the sponsorship of the Gardn Club of the city, approximately 1,000 elm trees will be ordered within the next few days to be planted on the Broadway of America highway through Midland county.

The State Highway department is graciously agreeing to set out and plant all trees given for that purpose, and delivery of them is all that they are asking.

Many organizations have already purchased trees from the Garden Club and donated them for use. Beautification of the highway through the county is the only motive of the club in arranging for the sale of the trees through that organization, and they are appealing to the citizens of the county to place orders soon for the trees in order that they may be planted in the near future.

Only 55 cents is being charged for each of the trees and any one desiring to purchase one or more to be used in the beautification program can do so by calling the Reporter-Telegram, Chamber of Commerce or Miss Elma Graves at telephone number 19.

A list containing the names of the donors and the number of trees donated will be carried in the Reporter-Telegram each day until the campaign is completed.

Firms and citizens who have already made purchases are as follows:

Rotary Club, 50.
Fred Turner and wife, 10.
George Abell and wife, 10.
L. B. Lancaster and wife, 10.
Anonymous, 10.
Dick Cowden and wife, 5.

Singing With a Purpose

Millions of Americans will celebrate the 1936 Birthday Ball for the President, but probably none with more gusto than Joseph Lapima, shown above with Mary Lewis, opera singer. Joe, who for years has suffered from infantile paralysis, will make his first big public appearance on the night of the ball, Jan. 30th, when he sings before a swank supper gathering at the Central Park Casino, New York. Like thousands of other youths throughout the nation, Joe got his chance through the Birthday Ball, funds from which will be used to wage nation-wide war on infantile paralysis. Now studying under the guidance of Miss Lewis, critics say he is destined for a brilliant opera career.

BITING WEATHER HOLDS SWAY OVER ALL OF THE STATE

Life and Property Endangered by Bitter Cold

By Associated Press

Snow glistened under a Texas sun today, but the biting weather remained to endanger life and property. Temperatures in the state ranged from seven to 39. Snow was piled high in the north and west, and sleet and rain assaulted other regions.

Air traffic ceased after an American airlines passenger plane crashed into trees near Denton. The pilot, Ted Kincannon of Fort Worth was fatally injured and five passengers were bruised. Automobile mishaps in the state were many, and injuries suffered from them were mounting with the passing of each hour.

Plainview recorded the lowest temperature, seven, with nearly eight inches of snow. Borger recorded nine, Denton eight, and five inches of snow; Amarillo 11, two inches of snow, East Texas 12 to 24; Dallas 16, Corsicana 20, San Antonio freezing and the Rio Grande Valley slightly below 40.

The low temperature of 21 degrees which was maintained here throughout the night according to the Southern Ice company's recording was well above Midland's season low of 12 degrees some nights ago. At 1 o'clock this afternoon, the reading was 37 degrees with the snow melting rapidly. Precipitation, including the light snow, gauged .11 inch.

Although gauging only .08 inch precipitation, the army meteorological bureau at Sloan Field showed a wider range of temperature for last night and today than did the city readings. This morning at 6:10 o'clock the reading was 17.8 degrees while the temperature rose rapidly during the sunny morning to reach 40.6 degrees in the early afternoon.

WILL GIVE DINNER FOR OFFICIALS

West Texas Geologists Are To Honor Association Heads and Wives

A dinner will be given by the West Texas Geological Society Saturday evening in honor of A. I. Levorsen, president of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, E. C. Moncrief, secretary of the association, and their wives.

Following the dinner, which will be in the Crystal Ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel, a special meeting of the West Texas Geological Society will be held for the purpose of hearing an address delivered by Mr. Levorsen.

The talk is entitled "Time of Oil Accumulation," and is expected to be of great interest since it is upon a subject to which Mr. Levorsen has devoted much time and study.

RETURNS HOME

T. A. Golladay returned to his home this morning after a tonsillectomy undergone at a Midland hospital Wednesday.

OFFICIAL GAUGE IS TAKEN ON NEW ECTOR PRODUCER

Production of 266 Barrels in 24 Hrs. Recorded

By FRANK GARDNER

Potential test taken yesterday on Barnsdall Oil Co. No. 1 Foster, new Ector county pool opener, showed production of 266 barrels of oil in 24 hours pumped through 2 inch tubing.

Although it has been producing the 100 barrels of oil daily allotted to it as a new pool by the Railroad Commission, yesterday's was the first official gauge made on the well. The Barnsdall discovery is a mile north of the Addis pool in the east central part of the county. Two offsets are being started already; Stanolind's No. 1 Witcher, on the south and Barnsdall's No. 1-B Foster, on the east.

The discovery well is in the southeast corner of section 13, block 43, township 2 south.

W. H. Dunning et al No. 1 Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, interesting wildcat a mile and a half north of the Goldsmith pool in Ector, is shut down today after encountering a gas increase to nearly 30,000,000 cubic feet per day in drilling from 4055 to 4058 feet. It is reported that operators have called a Halliburton crew to the well for the purpose of killing the flow of gas before drilling ahead. The test is in section 33, block 44, township 1 north.

Drilling was resumed at eight o'clock this morning in the widely discussed Wahlenmaier, York & Harper No. 1 Ed Jones, Gaines county wildcat. The test had been inactive for two days at total depth of 5008 feet while geophysical data were recorded with geophone lowered into the hole.

It is understood that operators started running in the test again in order to avoid trouble from caving ordinarily encountered after indefinite delay in wells with as much open hole as the No. 1 Jones, some 1700 feet. Meanwhile, plans for carrying it deeper are said to be progressing satisfactorily.

The test was scheduled to be abandoned after going to contract depth of 5000 feet, but examination of samples taken from 4995 to 5008 feet seemed to indicate definitely that solid lime had been topped, arousing talk of drilling it deeper for additional geological information.

It is 17 miles northwest of Seminole, in section 414, block G, C. C. S. D. & R. G. N. G. survey.

The other Gaines test, W. T. Walsh and Harry Adams Corp. No. 1 Averitt, is shut down because of inclement weather. Tools blown up in the hole by gas at 3350 feet have not yet been recovered.

Gulf's deep discovery in the Tubb area of Crane, the No. 1 Waddell, is cleaning out at 6127 feet, with the hole reported muddy and caving badly. It swabbed 71 barrels in 3½ hours early today, indicating that the rate of increase obtained by shooting the upper section of Simpson is holding up. The well is bottomed at plugged-back depth of 6317 feet in Simpson, middle Ordovician, and was originally drilled to 6450 feet in Ellenberger limestone, lower Ordovician, where black sulphur water was picked up. Location is in section 4, block B-27, public school land.

RESTS AFTER OPERATION

Miss Lela Mae Miles was reported to be resting today after undergoing an operation at a Midland hospital Wednesday night.

Five Navy Planes Land at Airport

Five navy scout land planes made landings at Sloan Field today, one coming from the west, the others from the east.

First of the number was the plane piloted by Lieut. Briggs who came from El Paso and departed for Dallas at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The flight of the other four planes landed at about 1:45 o'clock this afternoon coming from Dallas.

1936 Short Course Will Open Earlier

Director H. H. Williamson of the extension service, College Station, has announced that the 1936 Farmers' Short Course will be held a week earlier than in previous years, starting Monday, July 20 and carrying through July 24, according to Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, county home demonstration agent.

In 1935 Midland county had seven home demonstration club women and two 4H club girls in attendance at the Short Course. The various groups are making plans to hold up the attendance at the meeting this year.

The 1935 Short Course showed an all-time high attendance record totaling 7,000.

MORE INTEREST IN SOCIAL WELFARE MARKS EDWARD'S LAST FEW YEARS

This is the sixth and last of a series of stories on Britain's new king, Edward VIII, written by Milton Bronner, NEA Service and Reporter - Telegram correspondent, who has spent the last 15 years in Europe.

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 30.—"If 'e wasn't a royal prince, 'e sure would be a Socialist. 'Is 'eart is always with the common people."

When a British labor leader makes a remark like that following an address by the man who has just become Edward VIII, you may know that here is an unusual monarch.

It is a good revelation of the increasing social consciousness of Edward in the years just before the beginning of his reign.

This phase of the former Prince of Wales' life has been noted with some apprehension among the diehard Tory ranks of the empire.

It began, perhaps, with the prince's interest in the British Legion and the problems of the exsoldiers, which started to be critical in England immediately after the World War. But it broadened until on Christmas night, 1928, radio listeners in Britain were astonished to hear the prince's voice on their loud speakers, saying:

"There are a quarter million miners, not only with no money now, but who for six months have had none. Everything is gone, and they have nothing left to sell. Because this distress is concentrated in special districts, do not let us take the line of least resistance and put out of mind what happens to be out of sight."

Plea Brings $2,000,000 to Swell Miners' Fund

The prince urged contributions to a fund for the miners.

"Do this tonight," he earnestly begged. "And I feel sure that for the remainder of the evening you will be animated more than you were before with the real spirit of Christmas."

In less than no time, $2,000,000 had poured in, and $100,000 of it came from admirers of the prince in still-prosperous America.

But the prince was still not satisfied with what he had done for the miners. He insisted on seeing for himself.

He knew a personal visit would draw England's eyes to the miners' plight. So in February, 1929, in some of the wildest winter weather of the year, for three days he toured 100 towns and villages of Durham and Northumberland. Sometimes he went by auto, sometimes he trudged through slush and snow.

He went everywhere, saw everything. He stopped in humble homes, had a cup of tea and a chat with miners and their wives. What he saw in those dirty, barren hovels was enough.

CASH TO PAY BABY BOND BONUS ASKED PRESIDENT TODAY

Demand for Funds Is Turned Over to Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's request for a $2,249,000,000 (billions) appropriation to pay the soldier bonus payments was made public today by Speaker Byrns who said that it had been referred to the appropriations committee.

"We're waiting for them to complete their studies," said Chairman Harrison of the senate finance committee, a leader in the successful senate drive for the payment of the bonus. "We have not been consulted yet and I don't know what the result will be."

Chairman Doughton, in whose committee such legislation would have to originate, said likewise that he could not predict the outcome.

After expressing himself similarly, Speaker Byrns added:

"I'm not going to oppose any tax bill that's necessary."

In answer to press conference questions, as to whether new levies would be needed to balance the budget, Byrns said that of course everyone wanted to see the budget balanced as soon as possible, but argued it was unfair to record emergency pending as ordinary government expense.

Midland Farmers Invited To Attend Waco Mass Meeting

Midland county has been called upon to send representatives to Waco Saturday for a mass meeting of farmers to take steps in the emergency created by need of a substitute for the AAA, according to F. C. Dale who received a telegram from H. G. Lucas of Brownwood, president of the Texas Agricultural Association.

"No satisfactory substitute for the AAA is possible unless farmers quickly realize the opposition has them licked at present," Lucas said. "United action is absolutely necessary."

The meeting is called for 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the Cotton Palace auditorium. Dale said today it was not likely there would be representatives sent unless some interested citizen or a number of them can be there and will be willing to represent the county. He requested any such citizens to get in touch with him as quickly as possible.

TICKET SALES TO BALL GO SLOWLY

Sponsors of Honorary Affair Disappointed in City's Reception of Plans

Only a desultory response is being accorded to the sellers of tickets to the President's' ball, which will be held in the Crystal ballroom of the Hotel Scharbauer tomorrow night, according to chairman Ulmer of the executive committee.

Sales men and ladies are canvassing the town in efforts to have a record crowd at the dance, but for many and various reasons a rapid sale of the tickets is not being made.

Chairman Ulmer today said that he wanted to repeat that all profits from the dance are used solely for one purpose, the rehabilitation of persons who have sufferd from the dread infantile paralysis. Seventy per cent of the profit will remain in the county for local use and the remaining 30 per cent will go to the Warm Springs foundation in Warm Springs, Georgia, all of which will be used only for the one purpose.

With this idea in mind sponsors of the dance are hoping that people will realize that ones selling tickets are not working for any personal gain, and will show a readier response when approached to buy tickets.

Dude Vance and his orchestra of Wichita Falls, featuring Virginia Lee, dancer and vocalist, will furnish the music for the ball and a full evening of entertainment is promised.

BALLANFONTE TRANSFERRED

Joseph Ballanfonte of the California company has been transferred to the company's Ward county camp. He and his family will live near Royalty. He will leave Midland within the next few days.

PENSION SEEKER THWARTED

TACOMA, Wash. (U.P.)—Mrs. Parmelia J. Ellis, 74, a widow, was told she would be ineligible for an old age pension if she kept her home, and deeded the property to a relative. Superior Judge W. O. Chapman set aside the deed, returned the home to her.

MIDLAND WOMEN HURT IN WRECK AT BROWNFIELD

Mrs. Haley, Daughter Escape Serious Injury

Mrs. J. A. Haley and daughter, Mrs. Frank T. Connor, narrowly escaped serious injury Wednesday morning when the car in which they were riding collided with a light truck in Brownfield. Both the women were severely shaken up and bruised and Mrs. Connor had to have stitches taken in her nose and chin as a result of some cuts.

Mrs. Connor was driving the car and explained that the accident was unavoidable by either of the cars. Attempting to make a sharp turn in Brownfield, both drivers lost control of their cars on the slippery pavement and collided head on before either could be righted. One man in the second car, a Plainview citizen, was bruised and shaken up but not seriously injured.

Only the fact that both drivers were going slow due to the glassy like surface of the road prevented the accident from being far more serious. Mrs. Connor's car was completely wrecked despite the slowness of her speed.

The two women were returned to Midland last night by R. R. Porterfield, a son-in-law of Mrs. Haley, and are receiving medical attention at the home of Mrs. Haley.

The two women were enroute to Lubbock where Mrs. Haley was to attend a meeting of the board of regents of Texas Tech.

FIRE DESTROYS HOUSE WEDNESDAY

Ranch House Nine Miles From City Is Totally Destroyed

Fire of undetermined origin Wednesday afternoon completely destroyed the ranch house on the Scharbauer Number 1 ranch nine miles southwest of the city.

Firemen made a run to the blaze but only smouldering ruins of the house were left by the time of their arrival. Connections were made with a water reservoir and the ruins of the building were extinguished.

Several articles of furniture were saved by residents after the fire was discovered but much other property was lost. The house was being occupied by Bill Huston. No insurance was being carried on it.

It was the second disastrous fire suffered by the Scharbauer Cattle Company in the last two weeks, a barn and a large amount of feed being destroyed at the ranch 35 miles south of town early last week.

COUNTY, PRECINCT ONE WILL VOTE ON LEGALIZED DRINK

Voters in City Will Cast Two Votes on The Question

SEE CLOSE RACE

Both Wets and Drys in County Confident Of Victory

Legalized sale of liquor for Midland county and for precinct No. 1 will be voted on February 8, it was announced today by county officials.

Concurrent elections will be held in the county and in precinct one, commissioners explaining that this was necessary before a precinct could be designated as wet. A local option election held in precinct one a short time ago was declared invalid by the attorney general of the state when he ruled that a dry county could not have a wet precinct in it. The last previous county-wide election on the liquor question was held in 1911 or '12 at which time the county voted dry.

Voters in precinct one will be allowed to cast their vote for a county-wide wet or dry status and also for the precinct.

An off year kept down to a smal number the votes cast in the election late last year, but with many more persons having paid their poll taxes for the ensuing year, double the amount of votes last time are expected. Interested parties are carrying on quiet campaigns at the present as the approaching election nears. Both drys and wets are claiming a victory and a spirited campaign is foreseen.

The precinct one election was called after the commissioners had been presented with a petition signed by the required number of names necessary to ask it.

In the event the county goes wet all precincts must not of a necessity be wet, commissioners explained, as dry precincts in wet counties are lawful and in accordance with laws of the state. Wet precincts in dry counties, however, are not permitted, and for that reason the last election here was ruled invalid.

TREE PROGRAM WORTHY ENTERPRISE

The highway tree program sponsored by the Garden club of Midland is an enterprise in which all Midlanders should be interested and in which every citizen should be interested from the standpoint of giving for the cause.

Midland county represents progress! We are on the Broadway of America and we are proud of it. To make tourists proud of it, we should do something about it! And to make ourselves proud of it, we should do something about it!

We have asked nothing of the government in our beautification program, while thousands of other cities have benefitted from the donations of the federal program of the last few years.

Elm trees are available at 55¢ each for highway beautification, and donors are asked to phone Elma Graves, any Garden club member, or The Reporter-Telegram and specify what they are willing to give.

The State Highway commission will plant and care for all the trees planted in Midland county outside of the city limit.

Politicians Cock Ears as Father Divine in Quest for "Righteous" Candidates in Harlem

Mysterious "Peace Mission" Now Looming As Large Election Force

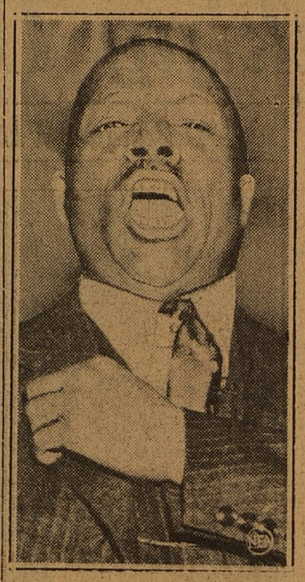

By WALTER C. PARKES
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

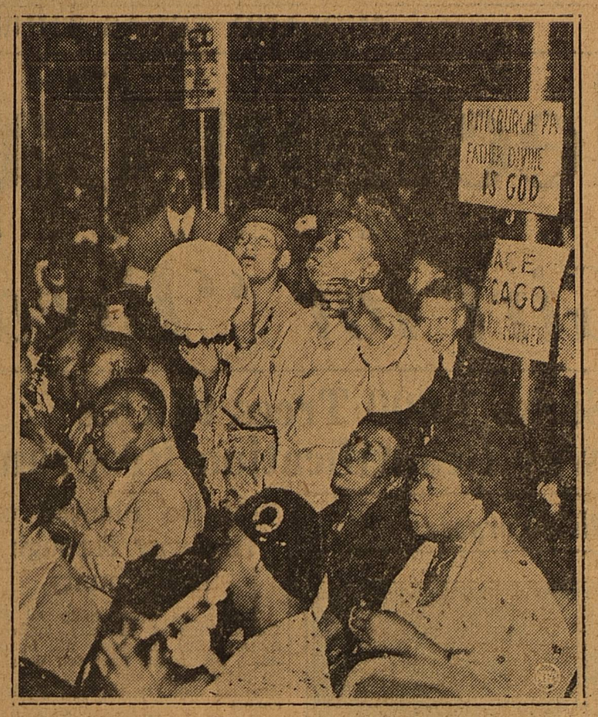

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Alert political henchmen of candidates for public office are beginning to beat a path through New York's darkest Harlem to a scabby-fronted, three-story building which once housed a nocturnal hot-spot but now, miraculously, has been transformed into "No. 1 Heaven."

Here they push through milling, enthusiastic, but amiable crowds toward wide, frosted-glass doors whose translucency silhouettes a crowded vestibule. A wide stairway rises, and against its shabby walls, lined one above the other like members of a mediaeval royal guard are long queues of men, women and children, their files reaching up the full three stories to the entrance of a small, unpretentious office.

In this room—goal of the politicians' pilgrimage—there sits a diminutive dark-skinned man whose adulation by thousands of persons of voting age throughout the country has heightened his national importance in an election year. He is the Rev. M. J. Divine, founder of "Father Divine's Peace Mission," philanthropist extraordinary, emotion-arousing evangelist and master of an undetermined number of followers throughout the world.

The recent adoption of a platform and campaign plan at a three-day "Righteous Government Convention" of his Peace Mission here has not gone unnoticed by leaders of the nation's political parties. For several years the Mission has been recognized as a vote-swinging power in New York. Now candidates all over the country are discovering a surprising number of Divinists among their constituents, and acting accordingly.

Combining dynamic oratory—he's pictured at left in full verbal swing—with intense religious appeal, Father M. J. Divine, negro evangelist and philanthropist, has become an important political figure. Above, delegates to a convention of his Peace Mission evince their frenzied belief that he is "God" tangiblized.

Called "Tangibilated" God

Father Divine's followers actually believe he is a Supreme Being, "tangibilated" on earth to lead them back to a life of righteousness that will do away with war, poverty and oppression. Others see him merely as George Baker, alias Major J. Divine, a negro spell-binder whose dynamic personality has undoubtedly influenced thousands of people, black and white, to worship him as the Messiah returned. It has proved difficult to winnow fact from fiction and legend concerning Father Divine. His origin is unknown. His birthplace, variously reported to have been Providence, R. I.; Washington, Philadelphia, Richmond and points north, south, east and west, has never been definitely located. Nor is his age known—and it is difficult to guess it from his appearance.

He is tiny in contrast to his influence—only four feet six inches tall. A completely bald head surmounts a black-mustached face now grave, now shining with the merriment in which he believes and preaches. His speech is soft and rapid, and his quick nervous movements suggest a great reservoir of energy.

Philanthropies Win Followers

Probably much of his following is attracted by his philanthropies, which are many, and undisputed. It is his boast that none of his adherents accept Government relief. He clothes, feeds and provides homes for them in his numerous "kingdoms"—whole tenement houses that he has bought outright or rented, and turned over to his disciples. He pays cash for everything, spending thousands and thousands of dollars every month. The one big mystery is where it comes from. He also lives well himself, spending freely from a hoard of unknown origin. Ask a Divinist where Father gets his money and get a chuckling answer: "Peace—'God' doesn't need to worry about money!" The most that Divine himself will say is that the funds come "out of his pocket."

One of his earliest appearances in the public prints was in 1931, when residents of Sayville, L. I., had him arrested for maintaining a nuisance at his "Heaven" there. He came to Sayville about 1919, and established a small free employment agency. He fed and housed unemployed, both black and white. His enterprise grew, and with it a rising crescendo of revival meetings. His fervid followers made the night noisy with their hallelujahs and their repetition of the Divine shibboleth: "Peace." But it seems that there was no peace within earshot of the Divine "Heaven," and he and his followers were finally evicted.

Political Power Grew Fast

Eventually he established himself in Harlem, where his preaching and bounty soon attracted more thousands. By 1933 his strength in New York was estimated at 10,000. Mayor John P. O'Brien and Fusion Candidate Fiorello La Guardia, accompanied by lesser lights in their respective parties, did not overlook the opportunity for addressing pre-city-election mass meetings of Divinists.

But Father Divine insisted then, as he declares now through his newly-formed Righteous Government Department, that he would not tie up with any party or candidate on a purely political basis. Arthur A. Madison, negro lawyer who is chairman of the Righteous Government Committee, expressed his leader's attitude by saying: "Persons mean nothing to Father. He is spirit, and the 'spirit of righteousness' is all he demands of any candidate."

Candidates Face Investigation

Part of the "Righteous Government" pronunciamento, which takes an hour and a half to read, declares that if a candidate's "public or private life have ever shown prejudice, bigotry or discrimination, vice, crime or opposition to the Reign of Christ" they don't want him, regardless of his promises. A Research Department has been established to ferret out the necessary information about candidates.

Congressman Thomas F. Ford, Democrat of Los Angeles, sponsor in the House of the Costigan Anti-lynching Bill, numbers many members of the Peace Mission among his constituents, and has attended their "banquet" meetings. He told this correspondent:

"I have found them a very fine group of people, genial, happy, contented, who seem to have a very liberal philosophy of life with which I, for one, certainly cannot quarrel. I believe that if the movement continues to grow, it will certainly be an important political factor."

Dr. Frank S. Hargrave, North Carolina-born Republican State Assemblyman of New Jersey, says there are from 8,000 to 10,000 members in Essex County, which he represents. He said: "If the movement continues to grow as it has in the past 18 months, and they all vote, it will surely be a factor in national affairs as it already is now in some sections." Other political leaders, both "on" and "off" the record, admit the Divinists have become a potent political influence.

"Peace" Is Password of Flock

The password to heaven of the Divinists is "Peace," which they use incessantly, substituting it for such commonplaces as "Hello" on the telephone, and "how do you do?" in introductions. It also means "please," "thank you" and "goodby." It symbolizes one of the strongest tenets in the Divine creed, which is opposition to war.

Last year Father Divine publicly denied a report circulated in Pravda, official Soviet newsorgan, that the Communists had taken over control of his lay affairs. James W. Ford, Communist leader in Harlem, nevertheless declared that inroads were being made into the Divine flock through the Soviet policy of infiltration in church, labor and fraternal groups.

Father Divine claims a membership of 22 millions throughout the world. This is impossible of verification, as the heavenly headquarters readily admits. However, some facts are available. From a single "No. 1 Heaven" in Harlem, the Divine benefactions have spread to comprise six lesser Heavens in New York, one of them consisting of a block of six houses. There are eight "extensions," including quarters for "Sisters" and a Divine Hotel. There are also a Divine Dress Shop, a barber shop and grocery store, where prices to the faithful are extremely low. Haircuts are ten cents. He also has garages for his fleet of cars, including the shiny Rolls-Royce in which he customarily visits his outlying kingdoms.

Kingdoms have been established in a great many States, and the movement is reported to be flourishing on the West Coast. Ross Humble, white Divine adherent, who for three years has shepherded parties of devout Divinists from the West Coast to view the "living person," states that 95 per cent of the West Coast membership is white. The official roster lists 24 Kingdoms in California alone. There are ten in Washington, one in Oregon and eight in Canada, seven of which are in British Columbia.

Other foreign connections claimed for the movement include five kingdoms in Switzerland, with about 1,000 members, two in Australia and one in Jamaica, B. W. I.

SKULL RECALLS TRAGEDY

JUNEAU, Alaska (U.P.)—A human skull, believed to be that of a victim of the Sophia tragedy in October, 1918, was found on the shore 30 miles north of here. It was uncovered near the spot where the Canadian liner sank and nearly 200 people drowned, 17 years ago.

METEOR TO BE EXCAVATED

WINNIPEG, Man. (U.P.)—Digging operations are under way near here to excavate a meteor believed to have sunk itself deep in the earth during an electrical storm. Residents heard a "great rushing noise" and later located a hole in the ground 12 inches in diameter.

CURRENT CROP HUGE

PALMER, Alaska (U.P.)—Matanuska Valley yielded 400 bushels of currants, or nearly 10 tons, to the acre this season, it is reported. This is said to be heavier than any yield in the United States and would bring more than $94 per acre at New York prices.

Enough about our own staff. It's high time I'm giving some information on the rest of the citizenship. I've been laying off of Pete Flanagan and others lately. Here I had him built up once to where he could have run for any office in the county and got elected, but he didn't take advantage of it. I used to keep Bob Blevins well before the public and he left town. Now that he's back, off and on, maybe I'd better start in on him again.

VICKS VAPORUB

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

Some one remarked last night that the night was beautiful and regarded as lamentable my lack of appreciation of the same. Somehow we just naturally like snow better when the sun is shining on it. And the temperature is going up instead of down.

We've just been reading a long account of the Valentines which are on display this year. It seems that there is a swing back to the old-fashioned idea of lace but that, as might be expected, a 1936 quirk is given by having the lace, in many instances, real. Even a small lace doily is sent in a Valentine if you wish your affections to take a usable form.

Also, there is said to be a trend toward Valentine messages that speak of "liking" instead of "loving." We wonder if that is in line with the modern desire not to be over-quick in showing the deeper feelings.

Despite the snow on the ground, we're certain it must be almost spring. A certain store in town has suspended huge colored kites from the ceiling, providing such temptation to small boys that a clerk tells us many were sold last Saturday.

When we note boys playing marbles or catch in th alleys and vacant lots after school, we'll know it is spring, no matter what the thermometer may say.

"Tough Guy"

Packed with excitement . . . crammed with action . . . with punch - smashing portrayals by Jackie Cooper and Joseph Calleia . . . and a performance you'll never forget contributed by the son of Rin-Tin-Tin, a new dog actor who measures up to his father's fame. It's all part of "Tough Guy," M-G-M's new drama about a rich man's kid and a gangster who form a strange friendship. The picture will play at the Yucca Theatre Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Dave Hemsell Reads Play at Club

Mrs. Dave Hemsell read "The Children's Hour," a sophisticated, modern drama, before members of the Play Readers club at their meeting with Mrs. Elliott Barron, 306 W. Ohio, Wednesday afternoon.

Guests were: Mrs. Tom Sealy, Hendricks, Frank Stacy, and E. W. Anguish.

Mrs. A. O. Thomas was voted into membership.

Members present were: Mmes. Wade Heath, Thos. B. Flood, Chas. Klapproth, J. Howard Hodge, Rawlins Clark, De Lo Douglas, R. D. Scruggs, Fred Wilcox, E. Hazen Woods, Glenn Bunson, R. W. Hamilton, Hemsell, Miss Leona McCormick, and the hostess.

San Souci Meets With Mrs. Hoffer

Mrs. Bates Hoffer entertained for the San Souci club with two tables of bridge at her home, 1110 W. Missouri, Wednesday afternoon.

Valentine tallies were used in the games for which Mrs. Geo. Barham scored high and Mrs. E. D. Richardson held high cut. Mrs. Barham and Mrs. Richardson were club guests.

At the tea hour, a party plate was served to the guests and the following club members: Mmes. Ed Cole, R. B. Cowden, Walter Cowden, J. G. Harper, Irby Watson, Rea Sindorf, and the hostess.

Museum Gets Soviet Papers

LONDON (U.P.)—Somewhat to its surprise, that highly respectable institution, the British Museum, has received an immense quantity of Soviet official newspapers, embracing the complete files from 1924 to 1933—the most important period of the Soviet regime—of "Izvestia," "Pravda," "Ekonomicheskaya Zhizn" and other periodicals.

The brontosaurus, prehistoric animal, consumed between 500 and 1,000 pounds of vegetation daily.

Twenty-five Attend Meeting of Robyn Club Wednesday

Despite the bad weather, 25 children responded to roll call and received gold stars for being promptly present at the meeting of the Robyn, junior music club of the Watson school of music, at the studio, 210 W. Ohio, Wednesday afternoon.

Birthday greetings were extended to Eileen Eiland and Lwis Wingo.

LONDON "TOPPERS" RETURN

LONDON (U.P.) — "Toppers" are coming back. Increased numbers of them may be seen in the city (business section of London) every day. It is even reported that two large banks have let it be known among their staffs that silk hats are the thing to wear for those who want to get ahead.

The good old name of Smith is said to be a British family name meaning "an iron worker or smith."

No Valentine is so pleasing as your Portrait. Prothro Studio, phone 363.

LET KIDNEYS FLUSH OUT 3 LBS. A DAY

Clean Out 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes

Nature put over 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters in your kidneys to strain the waste matter out of the blood. Kidneys should pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

When the passing of water is scanty, with smarting and burning, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your body may take up some of these poisons causing serious trouble. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and help the kidneys to flush out 3 pounds a day. Insist on Doan's Pills.

Edward VIII--

—— shame!" he cried to the accompanying newspapermen. "And you can say that I said so!" But none of them did, hesitating to attribute to the prince in print the lurid adjectives that had leaped hotly to his lips.

As one of the great London landlords, the prince found that some of the properties that had come down to him were miserable tenements, little btter than slums. He had them torn down, and then built model flat buildings in their place, where workmen could get decent homes at reasonable rents.

He began to take a deeper personal interest, as Duke of Cornwall, in the management of his vast properties. Today these include great properties in London and extensive farms and mines near Plymouth, Cornwall. Their conduct is a vast industrial enterprise grossing $1,600,000 a year and netting the prince some $350,000 in annual personal income.

Business men and financiers of London's "City" have noted in recent years the rise of the prince as an active proprietor and manager, acting, of course, through his agents.

Prince Sends Check To Aid Strike Fund

In 1932 the prince again made a tour of the distressed coal areas along the Tyne. He slipped away from his party, and with a single companion went into the homes of the most wretched of the unemployed of the area.

Then some remembered that during the coal strike of 1926 the prince's controller had sent a check to the Somerset Miners' Distress Fund.

"His Royal Highness necessarily cannot take sides in any dispute," said a note accompanying the check, "but we all owe a debt to the miners in the past, and every one must feel sympathy for the wives and children in these hours of distress.

"Besides, it would not be a satisfactory end to any dispute that one side should be forced to give in on account of suffering of its dependents . . . . " The spectacle of a king contributing to a strike fund is a rare one, indeed.

His interest in housing continued, and in 1933 the prince was asked to address the Association of Municipal Corporations at the Guildhall. The well-fed diners were relaxing in their chairs, expecting to hear again the old platitudes.

But they leaned forward in astonishment when the prince launched into a terrific tirade against the slums. He concluded in this vigorous fashion:

"Let us build a new Britain! Let our age be remembered as one in which we swept away this blot that disgraces our national life! Let us provide houses worthy of the dignity and greatness of our race!"

New King Has Close Contacts In America

Many Tories were shocked in England by the vigor of this attack, as many were shocked by the prince's recent proposal that German war veterans be brought to England and their visit be returned as a gesture of goodwill and evidence that wartime hatreds had been forgotten.

One interesting thing about the new king is his unusually close personal contacts with the United States. In addition to his trips to this country, he has met and talked to at least three presidents, Wilson, Coolidge, and F. D. Roosevelt, the latter when he was assistant secretary of the navy.

Many Americans in London are the prince's friends, and he is fond of many American things, notably jazz music.

Already the strong will of the new king has begun to manifest itself in the shattering of small unimportant traditions. It is likely that there will be more of this.

As prince, Edward had been heard by many friends to remark from time to time, "Things will be different when I am king."

It seems likely. His recent acts and speeches point to new meaning behind the motto he has borne since 1911 as Prince of Wales, "Ich Dien," or "I Serve."

HITLER ISSUES DEFY TO NATIONS

"Not a Defenseless Nation" He Tells an Audience In Berlin Today

BERLIN, Jan. 30. (AP). — Adolph Hitler, celebrating the third anniversary of his installation as chancellor, said today "whoever opposes us now does it not because we are Nazis but because we restored military independence in Germany." He said "we seek peace because we love it, but we insist on our honor. We are no longer defenseless slaves."

The first white man ever to hear the word "Tejas" was Father Manzinet who, with De Leon's expedition, came to Texas in 1689.

RODENT RIDDING PLANS ARE MADE

Merchants Formulate Plans To Open War in City Against Rats

Several merchants attended the meeting at the chamber of commerce office this morning and adopted a plan to rid the stores of the city of rats which are causing severe losses here each month.

J. E. Boog-Scott, member of the rodent control division of the U. S. Biological survey, will be here next Monday, and in co-operation with County Agent Debnam will start a poison campaign to exterminate the rodents.

The attendance at the meeting was disappointing because of its smallness, for if the campaign is to be a success the co-operation of all merchants is needed. Little good will be accomplished by cleaning out only a few of the infested spots, Debnam said.

Levity was introduced into the meeting when two proprietors of adjacent stores, one a grocery and the other a dry goods, complained that rat families of the two stores were so well organized that they all gathered in a body in the grocery store and ate all night, then slept all day in the woolen blankets and other goods of the dry goods store.

Owners of property on the edges of town are also invited to join in the campaign along with merchants of the city. According to Debnam, the cheapness of the campaign should be recommendation enough to get every merchant to enlist. An estimatd 50 cents for poison is the only expense that will have to be met.

Quemado Valley May Be Resettlement Base

EAGLE PASS, Jan. 29. — (AP) — Quemado Valley, the 13,000-acre irrigation district near here, which suffered flood and tornado damage in 1932 and 1934, may be taken over by the federal government and rehabilitated for resettlement of families from the dry sections of West Texas.

A group of leaders from here conferred at Dallas with E. P. Trent, resettlement administrator for Texas and Oklahoma, with the view of bringing several hundred farm families to live on 30-acre tracts. Each tract would have a modern five-room home and be furnished with a cow, chickens, sow and necessary farming implements for a live-at-home plan of agriculture.

The sandy loam of Quemado Valley with an average depth of 20 feet, is adapted to growth of vegetables and temperate semi-tropical fruits. Soon after the gravity irrigation system was inaugurated in 1932, it was weakened by a record-breaking flood and in 1934, the valley settlements were levelled by the first tornado known in Maverick county.

The irrigation system will be repaired this year and additional acreage made subject to irrigation by extending the canal 57 miles to the southern part of Maverick county. The public works administration has allotted $2,422,000 and the work, employing 1,000 men 18 months, is expected to begin Feb. 1.

ULMER, BARRON ROTARY SPEAKERS

Talks on Government in the City, County Given By Officials

Talks on city and county government were made at the Rotary club today by Mayor M. C. Ulmer and County Judge E. H. Barron, as part of a month's program on community service under direction of Dr. W. E. Ryan.

The club voted unanimously an amendment to its by-laws, creating a board of trustees to have jurisdiction over special funds now in existence or to be set up by the club. The board is composed of the president, the secretary, the two immediate past presidents and a fifth member to be elected each year by those four. Funds to be handled by the board at present include the student fund which has been in existence for almost eight years and the endorsements of Four-H calf club loans for boys of Midland and Martin counties, the latter project having been inaugurated last week.

Tom Sealy, newly married member of the club, was presented a bed spread, with Ralph T. Bucy making the presentation speech. Fred Wemple made a brief talk urging payments of poll taxes. Clint Lackey spoke on behalf of the President's ball ticket sale campaign. Wallace Wimberly played piano solos.

The addresses brought by Ulmer and Barron gave statistics on plans of operation of the city and county, outlined bond and tax figures and gave general information of interest to tax payers.
