Know Your School Bonds Issued

(That patrons may have better opportunity of really knowing their school this column will each week be given over to school news. It is the desire of the school executives that the patrons become better acquainted with the faculty, school methods and school aims.)

Almost any kind of a business organization prepares an annual budget as a means of controlling finance. To make such a budget requires an exhaustive study of that field of activity with especial regard to estimated expenditures. Cities operating on the city manager plan of government emphasize the need of budgetary control. The federal government has stressed this matter in the last 6 years.

More and more are schools seeing the need for scientific budgets. The customary practice has been the making at the end of the year a hit and miss guess as to supplies needed for the new year. Since the World War, the urgent demands of citizens concerning economy in the schools have forced administrators to study costs by departments, and hence to make accurate estimate of needs.

This year the entire Sanderson School faculty is busy making a detailed and thorough study of school needs and supplies for next year on an ideal basis. One basis for the making of a school budget is the careful analysis of present expenditures coupled with an arduous study of future conditions. The amount and kinds of expenditures for this year in each department will, no doubt, exert some influence on the material that goes into the 1930-1931 budget, but the ruling factor in its makeup will be the needs and costs for an ideal situation.

Every teacher of the Sanderson Schools is held responsible for a certain unit of the budget. This has occasioned a great deal of study and research.

After each teacher submits his part of the report, all the papers will be compiled and put in tabular form, making an extensive study with adequate explanatory material giving the purpose of the budget and the results that the budget is expected to accomplish.

Although the budget is now well under way it will not be completed ready for the approval of the local board of education until the middle of February.

The Commissioners Court authorized the issuance of the School Bonds at their meeting on Monday of this week. These bonds, which were voted this past October, will be for the building of a new high school building.

After a transcript has been made of the bonds and they have been printed they will then be sent to the Attorney General for his approval. Following their approval by the Attorney General the bonds will then be ready to be offered for sale.

An architectural drawing of the proposed new building may be seen at the office of Supt. Branman at the school building.

TO THE PEOPLE OF TERRELL COUNTY.

I wish to announce that I will be in the race for Sheriff and Tax Collector of Terrell County in the coming election, November 1930. All votes and influence will be appreciated.

If I am elected I will enforce the law to the very best of my ability.

Sanderson's Quota Filled

Sanderson registered one hundred percent this week when on Monday the quota assigned her was secured for membership in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is an organization that is organized to promote the best interests of Texas and especially the Western part. Its membership is made up of Chamber of Commerce and business firms in the towns located in this western section of Texas.

The following business firms joined the association for this year: Kerr Mercantile Company, Casner-McKnight Motor Co., Ferguson Motor Co., Texas-Louisiana Power Co., Sanderson Mercantile Co., Mrs. W. F. Bohlman Confectionery, Sanderson Drug Co., The Sanderson Times, Trans-Pecos Telephone Co., R. M. Crosby.

SERIOUSLY BURNED

Word was received Saturday by Mrs. J. B. Harrell from relatives in Barnhart telling of the serious burns received Friday by Clyde (Bubbles) Newberry. Just how he received the burns relatives here do not know. He is now in a San Angelo hospital and his cousin, Dr. Layton Cochran of San Antonio who attended him states that he has a very slim chance to recover. Bubbles' clothes were burned from his body and from the chest down he is badly burned as well as all the muscles of his arms.

Central Power & Light Company Granted Franchise

At the regular meeting of the County Commissioners Court which was held on Monday the Central Power & Light Company was granted a franchise to come into Terrell county. This matter which has been pending before the Commissioners for some time was granted without much delay or discussion.

The Power company will establish a plant at Dryden and furnish that city with electric lines.

Commissioners Court Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the County Commissioners was held this week with all the commissioners being in attendance.

There being not much business the commissioners were only in session the one day, Monday. The regular monthly bills were allowed at this time. They also granted a franchise to the Central Power & Light Company to come into this county; allowed $300 to build a dipping vat at the stock pen and to be built according to the requirements of the State Live Stock Sanitary Commission; and issued the school bonds.

The following commissioners were in attendance at this meeting: W. E. Stirman of precinct 1; Eugene Peoples of precinct 2; R. H. Corder of precinct 3, and M. H. Goode Sr., from precinct 4.

Sanderson to be Dipping Station

If present plans are carried out Sanderson will be headquarters and will be recognized as an official sheep dipping station.

J. H. Rasco, chief inspector of scabies eradication, and a member of the Livestock Sanitary Commission, has been working on the proposition and has been communicating with Joe Kerr and Judge Henshaw in regard to the matter. Mr. Rasco states that if the county, together with the help of the ranchmen, will put in a dipping vat to comply with the regulations and specifications of the State Livestock Sanitary Commission and as long as Terrell County co-operates with the commission in maintaining an inspector for the district as it has done in the past, Sanderson and Terrell County will be recognized as an official sheep dipping station.

At their meeting Monday the commissioners allowed $300 toward the building of the vat. It is to be hoped that sufficient funds can be raised to build the vat. This proposition is certainly one not to be turned down for it means so much to the town and county.

There is a probability and even an inducement should the vat be built we would have an offer whereby we could get this place to be headquarters for a livestock and sales show and the importers of the high grade and thoroughbred sheep could bring their stock here for show and sales.

A copy of the vat sketch and specifications has been sent to Mr. Kerr.

In all probability the vat will be built at the stockpens just west of town.

Los Angeles Boy Needed Help

Leroy Young, 1110 Georgia St., Los Angeles, is a "regular fellow," active in sports, and at the top in his classes at school. To look at him now, you'd think he never had a day's sickness but his mother says: "When Leroy was just a little fellow, we found his stomach and bowels were weak. He kept suffering from constipation. Nothing he ate agreed with him. He was fretful, feverish and puny."

"When we started giving him California Fig Syrup his condition improved quickly. His constipation and biliousness stopped and he has had no more trouble of that kind. I have since used California Fig Syrup with him for colds and upset spells. He likes it because it tastes so good and I like it because it helps him so wonderfully!" California Fig Syrup has been the trusted standby of mothers for over 50 years. Leading physicians recommend it. It is purely vegetable and works with Nature to regulate, tone and strengthen the stomach and bowels of children so they get full nourishment from their food and waste is eliminated in a normal way. Four million bottles used a year shows how mothers depend on it. Always look for the word "California" on the carton to be sure of getting the genuine.

New Road Test for Drivers

One of the most difficult and yet safest highways in the world has just been opened between Hangastol and Eldfjord, Norway. It is a masterpiece of engineering and is said to provide a thorough test of driving skill for autoists. High in the mountains, reached by long grades and through tunnels, a one-way road is controlled, eastbound autoists being compelled to start from certain points on the hour and half hour, and westbound machines must wait in designated places for their turn.

Texas Mother Has Healthiest Child

Mrs. Lena Rolling is perhaps the happiest mother in Houston, and it is all because her little son Boyce Lee finally got over a spell of sickness which pulled him down terribly. "His blood must have gotten very thin because he broke out so badly all over his little legs," said Mrs. Rolling in her home at 3011 Harrisburg Blvd. "From the time I started giving him Nature's Remedy Juniors it so thoroughly cleaned out his system that all the broken out places healed and others did not come back as they did before. Now he is in so much better health that I wish every mother could see him and see what those little chocolate candy NR Jrs can do for alling children." All drug stores which sell Nature's Remedy, the safe dependable laxative and corrective, also have NR Jrs. They are just 25c.

SYNOPSIS

Up the wild waters of the unknown Yellow-Leg, on a winter's night, journey Brock McCain and Gaspard Lecroix, his French-Cree comrade, with Flash, Brock's puppy and their dog team, Brock's father had warned him of the danger of his trip. After several battles with the stormy waters they arrive at a fork in the Yellow-Leg. Brock is severely injured in making a portage and Flash leads Gaspard to the unconscious youth. The trappers race desperately to reach their destination before winter sets in. Flash engages in a desperate fight with a wolf and kills him. Gaspard tells Brock of his determination to find out who killed his father. Tracks are discovered and the two boys separate for scouting purposes. Brock is jumped by two Indians and a white man and knocked unconscious. He is held prisoner. Gaspard rescues him while his captors sleep. Gaspard believes these men killed his father and is prevented from killing them by Brock. While out alone Gaspard is shot from ambush by an Indian and kills his would-be slayer. While out on his trap lines Brock is caught in a heavy snow storm. He is lost and his food gives out.

CHAPTER VIII

The Hate of the Long Snows

Dawn of the following morning overtook the two still heading north. The rabbit had put new life into the husky. Although thinner, as yet his thick coat shone with vitality, and he still carried his bushy tail jauntily curved above his back. But the days of starvation and grueling snowshoeing had stripped the flesh from the square frame of Brock McCain. His hollow eyes glowed with the light that comes from toll without food. That morning, as he traveled, his eyes began to play him tricks. He found it difficult to focus on objects. Distant hills danced upon the horizon. Black spots and pinpoints of light blurred his vision. Suddenly, like the chill of cold steel, the thought that he could not sight his gun on game stopped him dead in his tracks. Raising his rifle, he tried to line the sights on a jack-pine, but the bead on the muzzle wavered in and out of the rear sight slot which appeared, then faded, then appeared, as if mocking him.

"I guess I'm done for," he groaned. For a space black despair lived in the heart of the boy caught in the pitiless grip of the long snows. Then, as he stood brooding, a moist nose touched the bare hand holding the rifle. The caress of a warm tongue roused him. He glanced down at the eager brown eyes which spoke worship of the loyal heart which beat in that shaggy chest.

"What you think, Flash, is the river over those hills? Can we make it, boy?" For answer the dog whined, rubbing against Brock's legs, as the boy's hand rested on the massive skull.

"You're strong, boy, yet. Maybe, if we hit the river soon, you can pull me up to the lake. My legs won't last much longer. I can't feel 'em any more." Then at the thought of his father's words the boy pulled himself together. "Flash, we've got the nerve, you and I. If we are young, and shy on bush-craft. Tomorrow, we're going through to the river—over that ridge!"

So Brock plodded on, hoping against hope for the sight of game. But the strange ill luck which often pursues those whose need is greatest, followed the footsteps of the starving trapper. Trails of fox and lynx, rabbit tracks, and the network paths of grouse and ptarmigan, he crossed, but for hours his peering eyes saw no game—met no floundering trail of caribou. They had left the country.

Again dusk fell. Again there were no rabbit runways in which to set snares. Again boy and dog sat in silence by a fire. Over the fire hung a pall in which water boiled. In the water were strips of the pelts of two rabbits and small pieces of rawhide thong. The eyes of the boy, bright with starvation, hungrily watched the nauseous stew.

"It won't help much, Flash," muttered the boy. "But it'll warm us up—warm us up. My feet are cold—are yours? I can't feel my toes—the fire's no good."

With shaking hand the boy stirred the pitiful supper in the pail. "We're lost—and starved out, Flash. My legs are good for one day more—then I guess I'm through."

The starving pail finished the stew, then side by side lay before the fire. "Of course, Flash," wandered the semidelirious Brock, "I could shoot my pup—and get back. Lots of meat on your old bones—yet right through the ears, eh? You'd never know what Brock did to you—and then he'd see home again—the family. What d'yah say?"

With a low whimper, the husky beside him nuzzled into the boy's face, buried in his hood under the robes. "Don't want Brock to do it, do you?"

As if sensing the ghastly meaning of the words, the dog again thrust his nose into the hood. For an instant his hairy muzzle touched the lean cheek of his master. Then with a throaty rumble it was withdrawn.

"You old fool!" cried the aroused youth, sitting up in his blankets, stung by the dog's caress. "You think Brock was serious? Crawl out by shootin' his pup—like a dirty Indian?" Impulsively the boy drew the massive head of the husky to his breast. "You fool dog! Brock shoot his Flash to save his own hide!" And the boy crooned incoherently into a hairy ear. As the great plume of a tall waved to and fro, the deep throat of Flash rumbled in ecstasy.

Dawn—and a dazed voyager, seeking the valley of the frozen Yellow-Leg, shuffled on unsteady legs through the spruce into the north—at his heels a bony husky drawing a small toboggan. Through the morning went the pair, stopping frequently to rest. Lenn from lack of food though he was, the husky, owing to his marvelous vitality, still retained much of his strength. For the Ungava, like a wolf, starves slowly. But the master who reeled over the white floor of forest and barren, neared the end of his stamina. Two—three miles more, and the numbed legs would crumple under him—the snow-shoes which slide mechanically, driven by the dogged will, cease to move.

Then, of a sudden, as the uncertain eyes of the boy, whom hope had deserted, peered ahead for the wild-break which would shelter his last camp, his heart gave a great throb, then checked, to pound again furiously as he swayed on his feet at what he saw.

"Deer trail!" he gasped. "Deer trail, Flash! Made this morning! He can't travel far in this! We'll hang to him, Flash—hang to him!"

Then the boy shivered as stark fear gripped him. Could he aim his gun? Could he hit the game?

But there was no place for doubt here. He had to hit him. It was his last chance. Leading Flash on a rawhide thong, to prevent him bolting with the sled when they saw their game, Brock followed the trail. Hope now drove his stiffened legs—hope of red meat, food—life. And here, at last, the careful training of months proved itself. On a leash Flash had been trained to silence.

The trail led through a stand of scrub spruce and out over the packed snow of icy shell of a brook. Here Brock suddenly stopped, his jaw dropping in amazement.

"Moose!" he gasped. "Moose, up here on the Yellow-Leg!"

Instead of the familiar, round-toed tracks of a caribou, stamped into the hard footing, like the thrust of a die in wax, were the long, pointed, cow-like tracks of a moose.

Following the trail which led in the direction of a heavy stand of black spruce and cedar, under a ridge, Brock led his plunging dog.

"Shut up, Flash! Steady boy!" he ordered in low tones. "He's there, in that bush!"

The animal had traveled up wind—he would not smell them; so it was safe to hold to the trail. Slipping off the dog's harness, leaving the sled, Brock led him by the thong. As they entered the cover of the timber, ears and eyes tense, the heart of the boy shook him as an engine shakes a launch. Somewhere ahead in the spruce was food—life. If only he did not miss!

Modern Japan

Not much longer will Japan be the land of quaint medieval scenes and customs for the accidental traveler. The Osaka municipality has completed all the geological investigations and other necessary arrangements for the construction of a high speed tramcar service. The system will consist of underground and overhead lines, to be completed at an estimated cost of $50,000,000.

First to Be Cremated

The body of the first person to be cremated in the United States was that of Baron de Pallin at Washington, Pa., in 1876.

Lesson for January 19 JESUS BEGINS HIS MINISTRY

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 4:12-25. GOLDEN TEXT—Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Chooses Some Helpers. JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Begins His Ministry. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Jesus Began His Ministry. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Comprehensive Program of Jesus.

Jesus began His official work as Messiah at Jerusalem where He presented Himself to the men of the Jewish nation.

I. The King His Own Herald (vv. 12-17).

1. The reason for this (v. 12). The news of the imprisonment of John the Baptist caused Jesus to forsake Judea and go into Galilee. The fate of John was accepted as foreshadowing His own. The rejection of the forerunner meant the rejection of the King, whose advent he proclaimed. Because of this He withdrew from the metropolis and went to the remote regions where His work would attract less attention.

2. To whom the proclamation was made (vv. 13-16).

It was to the people at Capernaum in fulfillment of Isaiah's prophecy (9:1, 2). These people were not blessed with such privileges as those in and around Jerusalem. Thus we see that the darkest and most corrupt of the provinces was getting the light first. In this we see a foreshadowing of the present age, when the gospel of the grace of God is being preached to the Gentiles.

3. His message (v. 17).

"Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." This is the same kingdom which John the Baptist and the Old Testament prophets proclaimed. It means the Messianic earth rule of Jesus Christ. It is for this we pray when we intelligently say, "Thy kingdom come." At that time the light will break forth which shall illumine the whole earth.

II. The King Calling to Himself Assistants (vv. 18-22).

1. His command of authority (v. 18, 19).

He did not endeavor to persuade them, and He did not use arguments but issued the mandate. To command is the King's prerogative—not to argue or entreat.

2. The station of the servants called (v. 18, 21).

They were men of lowly birth and occupation—fishermen. God chooses the foolish things of this world to confound the wise and the weak things to confound the things which are mighty (1 Cor. 1:26).

3. They were called to definite service (v. 19).

"I will make you fishers of men." He had previously called them to be disciples (John 1:36-42). He now called them to service. This call therefore was not the gospel call to sinners which is "believe on me," but the call to service of those who have already heeded His call to discipleship. The qualities which made for good fishers—patience, bravery to face the storm and the night, the perseverance which tolled all night though no fish were caught—would make for good fishers of men.

4. Their prompt obedience (v. 20, 22).

They put their trust in Him who called, believing that He was able to supply their needs. There is no time for delay when the King commands.

III. The King's Triumphant Progress (vv. 23-25).

He went the whole round of Galilee, teaching the Scriptures, preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom, and healing all manner of diseases. He did a three-fold work:

1. Teaching the Scriptures in the synagogues (v. 23).

The revelation of God needed to be explained. This is what He was doing in Nazareth (Luke 4:16-22). Such is the primary business of every minister.

2. Preaching the glad tidings of the kingdom (v. 23).

The King who was present and was heralding His own mission, was ready to establish His kingdom if they would have been willing to receive Him.

3. Healing all manner of diseases (vv. 23-25).

"His fame went throughout all Syria, and they brought unto Him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatic, and those that had the palsy; and He healed them."

What God Has to Tell Us

If we think no more of ourselves than we ought to think, if we seek not our own but others' welfare, if we are prepared to take all things as God's dealings with us, then we may have a chance of catching from time to time what God has to tell us.

MEMORIAL PLANNED

Plans on Foot to Erect Monument to Late Land Commissioner.

Soon after the death of the late land commissioner, J. T.
 Robinson, a movement was started by his friends over the State and particularly his staunch friends in West Texas to erect in honor and memory a suitable monument. Hon. J. T. Robinson is one of the most beloved officials, who stood by West Texas and its subjects during times when they needed a friend and died fighting the battles of the people of this section of the State in particular.

A communication from B. M.
 Halbert and others has been received and we are printing this communication as we know that our citizens are interested in this movement.

"We are calling a meeting of the friends of the late Mr. J. T.
 Robinson, who are interested in building a suitable monument to his memory, somewhere in West Texas, to meet with us on Wednesday, February 1, at 2:00 p. m., at the Hilton Hotel in San An-to, Texas; to form a Robinson Memorial Association, elect officers for same, appoint committees and make plans, devise ways and means to build the Memorial honoring our late friend.

"Yours truly,
B. M. HALBERT,
W. L. ALDWELL,
"SOE MAYER"

NAME OF SARGON IS NOW SPREADING OVER WORLD

People of This Country Sending Famous Medicine to Relatives and Friends in England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Canal Zone, Norway, Sweden, Cuba, and Many Other Distant Lands.

If you had found a medicine that was of such benefit to you that you would go to the trouble of sending it to relatives and friends in distant countries, you would have to be convinced in your own mind that it possessed real merit, wouldn't you?

That's just what thousands of people throughout the United States have been doing with Sargon

From all over America and wherever Sargon has been introduced, thousands of letters have been received from grateful users telling of the gratifying results that have been accomplished by this celebrated medicine.

THOUSANDS EXPRESS GRATITUDE

On November 27th, a letter dated November 23rd, was received at the Sargon offices advising that in one week one drug firm alone had received orders for Sargon to be shipped to Cavite, Philippine Islands; Coca Solo, Canal Zone; Belebrook, Ireland; and Paris, France.

Only recently a well known resident of Denver, Colorado, who had been restored to health by Sargon, sent a full treatment to London, England, to his sister, who is the wife of an executive of one of the greatest retail drug firms in the British Empire.

During the past month there appeared in the Toronto papers the statement of a well known World War veteran whose health had been greatly impaired while in the service, who stated among other things, that he owed his restoration to health to two bottles of Sargon sent him by a friend in Minneapolis.

LETTERS RECEIVED FROM THE NORTHWEST

From the Northwest, many letters of this kind have been received advising that users of Sargon are sending it to relatives back in their old countries of Norway and Sweden.

Many such letters and endorsements have been received from men of prominence including former governors, business and professional men, mayors, state officials, and even ministers of the gospel have deemed it their duty to come forward and tell what Sargon has done for them.

These are only a few of thousands of such cases and not a day nor a week passes that does not bring hundreds of statements from the people concerning the good this medicine is doing, and reciting case after case that would convince the most skeptical.

Sargon's fame is built on actual results not empty promises, and only those who have put it to the test know its real powers.

Sargon's aim is not mere temporary relief, but new and abundant health. No wonder it is now called the medicine with a million friends.

For hours they had been together on her front porch. The moon cast its tender gleam down on the young and handsome couple who sat strangely far apart. He sighed. She sighed. Finally:
"I wish I had money, dear," he said. "I'd travel."
Impulsively, she slipped her hand into his; then, rising swiftly, she sped into the house.
Altogether, he looked at his hand. In the palm lay a nickel.

CUT CROSS COUNTRY
TRIP TO 12 HOURS

Mystery Ship Expected to Lower Record.

Atlanta, Ga.—Some time next spring when the elements between Los Angeles and New York return to nor- mality, Doug Davis, crack Atlanta pi- lot, expects to fly the distance in about twelve hours.

The record, now held by Capt. Frank Hawks, is close to seventeen hours. But that fact apparently offers little obstacle to the man who recently clipped three hours from the record of the trip from New York to Atlanta.

He used a Travelair "Mystery" ship—a bullet-like monoplane which looks like a bumble bee upside down but which functions with unprecedented efficiency.

Would Fly Straight Up.
Davis won the cup for America's most meritorious flyer of 1929 in the same projectilelike craft at the Cleve- land air races. He was in New York early in November and wanted to en- ter it in an air-race in Atlanta.

So he took breakfast in Gotham and lunch in Georgia, actually flying the 800 miles in four hours and thirty minutes through rain and fog. The entire trip required five hours, with two stops of fifteen minutes each for fuel.

Davis believes his "Mystery" ship has greater possibilities than any sim- ilar craft extant, believes its highly developed maneuver ability and ex- cessive speed would make it an in- vulnerable fighting unit in time of war.

He recently said that shortly he ex- pected to open his throttle somewhere in the vicinity of the ground, point its nose "absolutely straight up," and cut swiftly heavenward for one solid mile at an angle of 180 degrees.

Fastest Climbing Plane.
Already he has climbed to 3,000 feet in that manner after a 250-mile-an- hour start. Present equipment of the plane, he said, does not permit more altitude because of gas tank adjust- ment, which he expects to alter.

The plane can take off at an angle greater than 45 degrees and hold it "all the way to the ceiling," Davis said. "I believe it is unquestionably the fastest climbing plane ever built."

It is an open cockpit affair and re- sponds so swiftly to the controls that a sudden change of direction will pro- duce temporary blindness for the pi- lot. That happened in the Cleveland races, Davis said, when he rounded a pylon too abruptly.

A nine-cylinder motor of 300 horse power twirls the plane's 22 degree pitch propeller 2,300 revolutions per minute and propels the whole craft more than 250 miles an hour.

"A novice is out of place at its con- trols, but it is perfectly safe in the hands of an experienced pilot," he said.

Plans Airplane Capable of 2,000 Miles an Hour

New York.—Within a few years Fritz von Opel, German inventor of the rocket powered car, hopes to have perfected a practical airplane capable of speed of 2,000 miles an hour. The machine, he said, would be driven by a new fluid explosive which his en- gineers are now testing.

This fluid is produced by combining two other high-powered explosives according to a secret formula, and by next year, Von Opel said, he expects to have built a rocket driven plane with which he will attempt a flight across the English channel.

Herr Von Opel, who is only thirty, arrived in New York recently aboard the North German Lyod liner Colum- bus with his wife. He is to remain in the United States for a year, study- ing the motor industry, and also will confer with navy officials at Washing- ton.

The young inventor ridiculed the idea of shooting a rocket to the moon, and especially that of a man travel- ing to the moon in a rocket driven car. His rockets have far more prac- tical use, he believes.

Tax Irrks Chinese

Shanghai.—Angry at a new 30 per cent "superstition tax" which the local Chinese municipality has ordered levied against religious incense and candles, shopkeepers affected have joined to resist the duty and threaten to declare a strike unless the order is rescinded.

Millions of Children in China Illiterate

Peking, China.—Three mil- lion Chinese children in Hopei province alone are unable to read or write in their own or any other language, the depart- ment of education of the province reports.

The department urges institu- tion of compulsory education for all children as soon as possible, but estimates that such a pro- gram would require $30,000,000 at the start, and as the province has been barely able to meet ordinary administrative ex- penses, it is not believed that a real beginning can be made in the near future.

As a temporary measure, the department suggests that com- pulsory education be started first in large cities, where the people may be able to afford it.

Needless Pain!

Nowadays, people take Bayer Aspirin for many little aches and pains, and as often as they encounter any pain.

Why not? It is a proven anti- dote for pain. It works! And Bayer Aspirin tablets are utterly harmless. You have the medical profession's word for that; they do not depress the heart.

So, don't let a cold "run its course." Don't wait for a head- ache to "wear off." Or regard neuralgia, neuritis, or even rheu- matism as something you must en- dure. Only a physician can cope with the cause of such pain, but you can always turn to Bayer Aspirin for relief. Bayer Aspirin is always avail- able, and it always helps. Famil- iarize yourself with its many uses, and avoid a lot of needless suffering.

JOHN J. WHITEHEAD, explorer and lecturer, has just returned from eight months in the jungles of South America, where he was search- ing for traces of the lost Colonel Fawcett and his son.

Dangerous as he found the jungle, he encountered a worse danger at home. But let him tell it.

"One of the great problems of a trip of this kind is keeping in healthy condition. When we started, some of the members of the party had laxa- tives with them, but made wise by experience I carried Nujol. All too quickly my stock ran out. Soon I was in bad shape—what with a diet of rice and beans, lacking vitamins and green vegetables.

"When we finally got back to civiliza- tion, entertained first in Brazil and later in the United States, I became positively ill. Severe stomach pains and poor elimination made me realize that Nujol would again prove the reliable, trusty keeper of health. Sure enough, with the first bottle the trouble disappeared.

Don't think Nujol is a medicine. It is as tasteless and colorless as clear water. It brings you, however, what your body needs like any other ma- chine—lubrication. Just as a good bath washes our bodies clean, Nujol

COMMON head colds often "settle" in throat and chest where they may become dangerous—rub Musterole on these parts at the first sniffle—it will relieve congestion by stimulating blood circulation.

But don't be satisfied with the notice- able relief you should experience from the first Musterole rub—apply it every hour for five hours and you'll be amazed at the result! Working like the trained hands of a masseur, this famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other helpful ingredients brings relief naturally. It penetrates and stimu- lates blood circulation and helps to draw out infection and pain. Used by millions for 20 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. Keep Musterole handy—jars and tubes. All druggists. To Mothers—Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

SCOUT COMMITTEE SENDS OUT INVITATION

Following a letter from E. K. Fawcett to the seventy-five members of the Southwest Texas Council, the local executive board members, Judge O. A. Mills, F. M. Getzendaner, D. W. Price, and W. F. Morgan, sent out the following letter:

Subject: Annual meeting called by President E. K. Fawcett. From: Local committee, Judge O. A. Mills, Chairman Court of Honor of Uvalde; F. M. Getzendaner, Commissioner; D. W. Price, Chairman Rural Scout ring; W. F. Morgan, Treasurer. To: All Council Members. Dear Sir:

We wish to urge your presence at the fourth annual meeting of the Council on January the 23rd, 7 p. m., Third Floor Uvalde County Court House.

You, with a number of other representative citizens, have made possible the Boy Scout program for Southwest Texas. We expect to apply for a charter, elect officers, and lay our plans to reach more effectively the boy life of the Area with the Scout Program.

Come early in the day, attend the U. S. No. 90 Highway Association Meeting, that will be in session from ten a. m. until four p. m. Meet the State Highway Commission. Enjoy the entertainment furnished by the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce and the barbecue lunch furnished by the people of Uvalde. Several prominent speakers from over the State will be present for both meetings.

Come to Uvalde January the 23rd in the interest of better boys and better roads.

Sincerely yours,

THE COMMITTEE.
The Scout officials are co-operating with the highway organization in making this a great day for both organizations. They will in no way conflict. The annual meeting of the Council will convene at Scout Headquarters at 7 p. m.

James P. Fitch, Regional Scout Executive of Dallas, a man who has been connected with the Scout Program since its organization in America in 1910, will address this meeting. He watched Scouting grow from a few boys to more than 800,000, and watched more than 4,000,000 boys go through this program, out to live in our great commonwealth, with good character and trained for good citizenship.

You, who are interested in Scouting, are welcome. Council members are urged to be present.
